

A DIGEST OF INDIAN LAW CASES

CONTAINING

HIGH COURT REPORTS

AND

PRIVY COUNCIL REPORTS OF APPEALS FROM INDIA,
FROM 1910 TO 1921, INCLUSIVE.

BEING A SUPPLEMENT TO THE CONSOLIDATED DIGEST OF INDIAN LAW CASES
1836 1909

COMPILED UNDER THE ORDERS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

BY

S WEBB JOHNSON, LL B (Hons)

SOLICITOR OF THE SUPREME COURT OF JUDICATURE AND ASSISTANT SOLICITOR TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

IN TWO VOLUMES

VOLUME II I—Z

CALCUTTA
SUPERINTENDENT GOVERNMENT PRINTING INDIA
1922

Price Ten Rupees

IN EUROPE

[illegible]

Thacker Spink & Co. Calcutta and P. Ma.
 Newman & Co. Calcutta.
 R. Cantley & Co. Calcutta.
 R. K. Lahiri & Co. Calcutta.
 B. Banerjee & Co. Calcutta.
 The Indian School Supply Depot, 219 Bow Bazar Street,
 Calcutta, and 2, 4, 6, and 7, Amoy Street, Singapore.
 Butterworth & Co. (India) Ltd., Calcutta.
 Bal M. P. Sanyal, Calcutta & 60-62 Northbrook Road, Calcutta.
 The Weldon Library 87 Park Street West, Calcutta.
 Standard Literature Co. Ltd. Calcutta.
 Lal Chaud & Sons Calcutta.
 Association Press Calcutta.
 Higginbotham & Co., Madras.
 V. Kalyanaswami Iyer & Co., Madras.
 G. A. Velamuri & Co., Madras.
 F. Murthy & Co. Madras.
 Thompson & Co. Madras.
 Temple & Co. Madras.
 F. B. Rama Iyer & Co. Madras.
 Vas & Co. Madras.
 E. M. Gopalakrishnan Kone Madras.
 Thacker & Co. Ltd. Bombay.
 D. N. Tarsaporewalla Sons & Co., Bombay.
 Mrs. Padahal, Atmaram Bazaar, Bombay.
 Sunder Fandarang Bombay.
 Gopal Narayan & Co. Bombay.
 Ram Chandra Govilal & Son, Kalbadevi, Bombay.

[illegible]

Agents for the sale of Legislative Department publications only 1 Cent for the sale of Archaeological publications only or

TABLE

HEADINGS AND SUB HEADINGS

The main headings, under which cases are digested, are printed in thick type

Identity	Inam Commissioner
IDOL	INAMDAR
Iddut	INAM LAND
Ignorance of Law	Incapacity
Ijara	Incestuous Adultery
IJARADAR.	Incidents of Tenancy
Ijmal Share	Incitement to Murder and Acts of Violence
ILLEGAL CESS	Income
Illegal Composition.	INCOME TAX
ILLEGAL CONSIDERATION	INCOME-TAX ACTS
Illegal or Immoral Debts	Income tax Collector
Illegality	Incorporated Company
Illegitimate Children	INCORPOREAL RIGHTS
ILLEGITIMATE SON	Incriminating Articles
Illicit Sale	Incriminating Statements in Cross-examination
ILLUSORY WAKF	INCOUMBRANCE
Illness	Incurability
Illustrations to Statutes	Indemnity
Image	INDEMNITY BOND
Imitation	Independent Advice
Immoral Custom	Indian Army Officer
Immoral or Illegal Debt	Indian Civil Service
Immoral Proposal	Indian Companies Act
IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY	Indian Councils Acts
IMPARTIBLE ESTATE	Indian Explosives Act
IMPERFECT GIFT	Indian High Courts Act
Imperfect Partition	Indian Insolvency Act
Import	Indian Legislature
Impossible Condition	Indian Marine Service
Impossibility of Performance	Indian Staff Corps
Impotency	Indigo
Imprisonment	Individual Community
Improvements	INFANT
Improvement Act Bombay	Inference
Improvement Trustees	Informant
Imputation of Criminal Offence	INFORMATION
Inadequacy of Price	Infringement
Inadvertence	Inherent Jurisdiction
Inalienability	Inherent Power
INAM.	Inheritance

INJUNCTION

Injunction in Personam

Injured Person

Injury

In Pari Delicto

Inquiry

Insanity

INSOLVENCYINSOLVENCY ACTS

Insolvency Court

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS

Insolvency Rules

INSOLVENT

Insolvent Plaintiff

Inspection of Document

INSTALMENTINSTALMENT BOND*INSTALMENT DECREE.

Instigation

INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNSEL

Instrument

Instruments of Gaming

Instrument of Title

Insurable Interest

INSURANCE

Insurance Company

Insurance Policy

Intangible Property

Intent and knowledge

Intention

Intention of Founder

Intention of Parties

Intention to Legitimise

Intercepted Letter

INTEREST

Interest Lost Diem

Interference

Interim Orders

Interim Receiver

Interlocutory Order

INTERMARRIAGE

International Law

Internment

INTERPLEADER

Interpretation

Interpretation of Statutes

INTERROGATORIES

Intestacy

Inundated Lands

INVENTIONS AND DESIGNS ACT

Inventory

Investigation

IRREGULARITY

Irrelevant Evidence

Irrigation

Irrigation by Percolation

IRRIGATION ACT 1879IRRIGATION CESS ACT 1860

Irrigation Cess Act 1900

Irrigation Channel

IRRIGATION WORKSISSUES*ISSUE*JACIP*JAIL CODE

Jail Rules

JAINS

Jainavalika

JALKAP

Jala

JEWISH LAW

Jiral Gant

Jodi

Joint and Several Causes of Action

JOINDER OF CHARGES

Joinder of Parties

Joint and Acquired Property

Joint Appeal

Joint Will

Joint Issues Joint Contra

JOINT CONVICTION

Joint Creditors

Joint Debts

Joint Debtors

Joint Decree

Joint Decree Officers

JOINT ESTATE

Joint Execution

Joint Family

JOINT FAMILY BUSINESS

Joint Family Property

JOINT HINDU FAMILY

Joint Holding

Joint Immovable Property

Joint Inquiry

JOINT JUDGMENT DEBTORS

Joint Magistrate

JOINT OWNERS

Joint Penalty

JOINT POSSESSION

Joint Probate

JOINT PROPERTY

Joint Proprietors

JOINT TENANCY

Joint Tort-feasors

Joint Trade

JOINT TRIAL

Joint Venture

Joehi Vatanfar

JUDGEJUDGMENT

Judgment Creditor

Judgment Debt

Judgment Debtor

Judgment of a Single Judge

Judi

Judicial Act

Judicial Commissioner

Judicial Committee

Judicial Decisions

JUDICIAL DISCRETION

Judicial Enquiry

Judicial Interpretation

Judicial Notice

Judicial Officer

Judicial Officers' Protection Act

Judicial Opinion

JUDICIAL PROCEEDING

Judicial Separation

JURISDICTION

Jurisdiction and Claim

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTSJURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS*JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS

Jurisdiction of District Court

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURTJURISDICTION OF INFERIOR COURT*JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

Jurisdiction of Revenue Court

JURISDICTION OF SMALL CAUSE COURT

Juror

JURY

Just Antecedent Debt

JUS TERTII

Justice Equity and Good Conscience

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Justification

JUTE TRADEKABULIYAT

Kacchi Adat

KADIM INAMDAR

Kahuts

Kaimi lease

Kalighat Temple

Kamathis

Kanganam

Kanom

Kanti Marriage

Kanungo

Karnam

Karnavan

Karamkari Tenure

Karta.

KASBATIS

Kazi

Kazis Act

Ketulah

Khairat

Khadianis

Khamar Land

Khana-damad

Khandesh District

Khanga Attached to Darga

Kharach i pandan

Khas Forfeccion

Khatedar

Khatib Inam Lands

KHOD KAST JOTESKHOJAS*KHORPOSH GRANT

Khot

KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT,

Khoti Takshim

Khoti Village

Khud kasht

Khurdah in Orissa.

KIDNAPPING

Kidnapping a Girl out of British India

Kiladari Estate

Kullajat Estates

King's Bench

King's Prerogative of Pardon

Kittima Adoption

Knowledge

Knowledge and Intent

Kobala

Kocher

Koli Caste

Konkani Mahomedans

Kowl

Kndiyaram

Kulachar

Kulkarni Vatan

Kumau

KUMAUN RULESKUNJPURA STATE OF

Kuzhikanam

Labourer

Lacher

LAKEHRAJ LAND

LAMBARDAR

LAMBARDAR AND CO-SHARERS

Land

LAND ACQUISITION

LAND ACQUISITION ACT, 1894

LAND ACQUISITION JUDGE.

Land Cess

Land Encroachment Act.

Land for Agricultural Purposes

Land Holder

LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT

Land Law in Bengal.

Landlord

LANDLORD AND TENANT

Abandonment

Adverse Possession.

Agricultural Lease

Alienation

Building, and residential Lease

Cesses

Covenants

Custom

Digwari Tenure

Dispossession by landlord

Ejectment

Encroachment.

Enhancement of Rent

Forfeiture

Grove Land

Hypothecation

Improvements

Inam

Injunction

Interest

Lease

Mineral Rights

Mukami Tenure

Notice to Quit

Occupancy Right

Permanent Tenancy

Relinquishment

Rent

Title

Transfer

Miscellaneous

Landlord and Tenant Act.

LANDLORD'S INTEREST

LAND REGISTRATION

LAND REGISTRATION ACT

Land Revenue

Land Revenue Code

LAND TENURE IN BENGAL

LAND TENURE IN MADRAS

Lands Clauses Consolidation Act

Lapse to Monastery

Larceny

Lathi Play

LAW

Lawful Apprehension

Leading Questions

LEASE.

Lease in Perpetuity

Leasehold Property

Leave of Court

LEAVE TO APPEAL.

Leave to Sue

Leave to withdraw

Legacy

Legal Interest.

Legal Justice

Legal Pleon in L.

Legal Necessity

Legal Owner

LEGAL PRACTITIONER

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACTS

Legal Proceedings

Legal Representation

Legal Representative

Legal Representatives Firms Act.

Legality

Legatee

Legislation

Legislature

Legitimacy

Legitimate Purpose

LENDER AND BORROWER.

Leprosy

LESSEE.

LESSOR AND LESSEE.

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

LETTERS PATENT

LETTERS PATENT APPEAL.

Letters Patent Jurisdiction

Lewa khanda

Level Crossing

Lex Fori

Lex Loc Contractus

Liability

LIBEL

LICENSE

Licensee

Licensor and Licensee

Lien

Lieutenant-Governor

Life Assurance Companies Act.

Life Estate

LIFE INSURANCE

Life Interest

LIGHT AND AIR

Lighters or Boats

LIMITATION

Limitation Act 1859

LIMITATION ACT 1871LIMITATION ACT 1877*LIMITATION ACT 1908

Limitation Amendment Act 1900

Limited Company

Limited Ground.

Lingayat Panch Kala Marriage

Liquidated Damages.

Liquidation.

LIQUIDATORLIS PENDENS.

List of Members.

Litigation.

Loan.

Local Boards Act

Local Booking Form

Local Customs

Local Fund Code.

Local Government

Local Inquiry

LOCAL INSPECTION

Local Limits

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT

Locus Delicti

Locus Poenitentiae

Locus Standi

LOCUSTS

Lorry

LOSS OF GOODS

Lottery

Love Potion

Lower Appellate Court

Luggage

LUNACYLUNACY ACT 1858*LUNACY ACT 1912*LUNATIC*LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS*MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT*MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT*MADRAS FOREST ACT

Madras General Clauses Act

MADRAS HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACTMADRAS HIGH COURT RULES

Madras Hindu Transfer of Bequests Act

Madras Inam Act

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACTMADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT*MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT*MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT

Madras Motor Vehicles Act

Madras Permanent Settlements

MADRAS PLANTERS LABOUR ACT

Madras Port Trust Act

MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VILLAGE SERVICE ACTMADRAS REGULATIONS

Madras Religious Endowments Act

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACTMADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT*MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT*MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCES ACT

Madras University

MADRAS VILLAGE COURTS ACTMADRAS WATER CESS ACT

Mañ

MAGISTRATE

(1) Change in Bench of

(2) Jurisdiction of

(3) Power of

(4) Transfer of

MAHA BRAHMINS

Mahad

Mahal

MAHANT

Mahar Vatan Land

MAHOMEDANMAHOMEDAN LAW

Adoption

Alienation

Bigamy

Conversion

Custom

Divorce

Dower

Endowment

Gift

Guardian

Husband and Wife

Inheritance

Joint Family

MACHINERYMADRAS ABKARI ACT

Madras Acts

MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT 1904MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT 1888*MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT 1873*MADRAS COURT OF WARDS ACT*MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT

MAHOMEDAN LAW—contd

Legitimacy
Maintenance
Marriage
Minor
Mutawalli
Pre-emption
Religious Office
Restitution of Conjugal Rights
Sale
Succession
Trust
Wakf
Widow Will Worship

Mahomedans

Mahratta Brahmin

Maiden & Property

Maiden & Stridhen

MAINTENANCEMAINTENANCE GRANT

Majority

MAJORITY ACT

Majur

Makan

Makbura

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT*MALABAR LAW*MALABAR MARRIAGE ACT

Malabar Tenants' Improvements Act

Male Heirs

Male Members

Malice

Malicious Arrest

MALICIOUS PROSECUTIONMALIKANA

Malik o-qabiz

Mamlatdar

MAMLATDARS' COURTS ACT

Management

Manager

Manager and Director of Newspaper Company

Manager under Court of Wards

Managing Agent

Managing Member

MANDADARI TENUREMANDAMUS

Mandatory Injunction

Manpan

Manufacture Sale or Possession

Manu Kyay

MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR

Maradan Receipt

Marine Insurance

Maritime Necessaries

Mark by Illiterate Executant

Market

MARKET FRANCHISE

Marketable Title

Market value

Marksman

MARRIAGE.

Marriage brokerage Agreement.

Marriage Customs

Marriage Expenses

Marriage Settlement

Marriage with Wife & Sister

Married Woman

MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT

Marshalling

Martial Law

MARTIAL LAW ORDINANCESMARUMAKHATTAYAM LAW

Mara ul Maut

Master

MASTER AND SERVANTMATADARS ACT

Maternal Irregularity

Maternal Prejudice

Maternal Uncle

Mate & Receipts

Math

Mathur, Bawra and Sadalwar

Matrimonial Causes Act

Matwalli

Maxims

Mavukha

Measure of Damages

MEASUREMENT OF LAND

Measure of Right

Medical Works

Medicinal Preparation

Mehr

Melvaram

Melvaramdar

Member

MEMONS

Memorandum of Agreement

Memorandum of Appeal

Memorandum of Association

Venue to Person and Property

Merchandise Marks Act

MERCHANT SEAMEN ACT

Merchant Shipping Act

MERGERMESNE PROFITS

Narkh Natan
 Nandi Sarharakar Tenure
 Negation
 Nizam Officer
MINES AND MINERALS
Mining Lease.
 Mining Rights.
 Must & Licensed to Solemnize Marriage
MINOR.
 Minor Co-partener
 Minor Heir-at-law
 Minor Widow
 Minority
 Miradad
 Miras Lease
 Miras Lease and Mortgage
MIRASI VILLAGE.
 Misappropriated Goods
 Misappropriated Money MISAPPROPRIATION MISCHIEF Misconduct.
 Misdelivery
MISDIRECTION
 Misjoinder
MISJOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION
MISJOINDER OF CHARGES
MISJOINDER OF PARTIES
 Misjoinder of Persons and Offences Misrepresentation.
MISTAKE.
 Mistake of Fact
 Mistake of Law
 Mitakshara.
 Mitakshara Family
 Muttadar or Zamindar
 Mixed Fund
 Mofusil Property
 Moghali Brahmmottar
MOGULI RENT
 Mohunt
 Mokarari
 Mokarari-lars
 Mokarari Lease
 Mombasa Migration to Money
 Money decree
MONEY HAD AND RECEIVED
 Money lender
 Money Order
 Money paid under Decree
 Moopu
 Mopla
 Morphia

MORTGAGE Assignment.
 Attachment.
 Attestation
 Consent Decree
 Consideration
 Consolidation
 Construction
 Contribution
 Deposit of Title Deeds.
 Discharge
 Estoppel
 Execution of Mortgage Decree
 Exoneration
 Female Representation of Foreclosure
 Fraud
 Guardian Mortgage by Interest
 Lost Bond
 Marshalling
 Minor Moveables Parties
 Partition
 Priority
 Redemption
 Registration
 Sale of Mortgaged Property
 Surrender of Mortgagees Interest Simple Mortgage
 Subrogation
 Transferee Mortgagee
 Usufructuary Mortgage
 Miscellaneous
MORTGAGE BOND
 Mortgage by Karmayan
MORTGAGE DEBT
MORTGAGE DECREE
 Mortgage Deed
MORTGAGE OR SALE
 Mortgage Sale
MORTGAGE SUIT
 Mortgaged Property
MORTGAGEE
 Mortgagor
MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE MOSQUE Mother
MOTOR VEHICLES
MOTOR VEHICLES ACT
MOURASI MOKURARI KABULIYAT
 Moveable Property
 Muafi

PASTURE LAND

Pasture Rent

PASTURAGE

Pastelki Service

Patent

Patents and Designs Act, 1911

Paternal Aunt

Patilki Vatan

Pat Hum Parganaa

PATNA HIGH COURTPATNA HIGH COURT RULES

Patni

Patni Lease

Patni Taluq

Pauper

Pauper Plaintiff

PAUPER SUIT

Pay and Pension

Payment

PAYMENT INTO COURT

Payment Towards Debt

Pecuniary Sufficiency

PEDIGREEPENAL ASSESSMENT*PENAL CODE 1860

Penal Provisions

Penal Statutes

PENALTY

Pension

PENSIONS ACT 1871

Performance

Pergana Register

Perils of the Sea

Period

PETURRY

Permanency of Rent

Permanent Agricultural Tenure

Permanent Hereditary Tenure

Permanent Improvements

Permanent Lease

Permanent Right of Occupancy

Permanent Settlement

PERMANENT TENANCY

Permanently Settled Estate

Perpetual Injunction

PERPETUITIES

Personæ Incertæ

PERSONAL ACTION

Personal Covenant

Personal Debt

Personal Decree

Personal Designata

Personal Inam

Personal Liability

PESHKHOOSH

Petition

Petition of Compromise

PETROLIUM ACT 1899

Pial

Picketing

Piecemeal Acquisition

Piecemeal Trial

Pilgrim Business

Pilgrimage

Piral Chela

Place of Examination

Place of Suing

PLAINT

Plaintiff

PLANTERS LABOUR ACT (MADRAS) 1903

Plea of Guilty

PLEADERPLEADER'S FEES

Pleaders Act 1846

Pleaders Mukhtears and Revenue Agents Act 1863

PLEADERSHIP EXAMINATION

Pleaders of Lower Provinces Act 1852

PLEADINGS

Pledge

Police

POLICE ACT 1861

Police Constable

POLICE DIARIESPOLICE JAGIRS*POLICE OFFICER

Police Pail

Police Regulations

Police Report

Policy of Insurance

Political Agent

POLITICAL AGENT AT SIKKIM COURT OF Political Officer

Political Resident at Aden

Polygamy

Poolbundi Charges

Poona Cantonment

Poramboke

Post Commissioners

POSSESSION

Possession by Fraud

Possessory Right

POSSESSORY SUIT

Possessory Title

Post nuptial Gifts

POST OFFICE ACT 1898

Posting of a Demand Draft

Postponement

POUNDAGE.
POWER OF ATTORNEY PRACTICE.
PRADHAN PRAGWAL.
Prayers.
Preamble
PRE-EMPTION

Contract.
Custom.
Formalities
Mortgage
Possession.
Pre-mortgage.
Price
Right of Pre-emption Wajib-ul Arz.
Miscellaneous.

PRE-EMPTION DECREE.

Pre-emptor Preference.
Preference shareholders Preferential Claim.
Preferential Heir Prejudice

PRELIMINARY DECREE.

Preliminary Inquiry
Preliminary Mortgage Decree
Preliminary Order
Preliminary Point.
Pre-mortgage Preparation Prerogative

PRESCRIPTION

PRESENTATION

PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATES

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1882

Presidency Small Cause Courts (Amendment)
Act 1893

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT 1903

Presiding Officer

Press

PRESS ACT, 1910

Presumption

Prevailing Rate

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS ACT 1890

Previous Acquittal

PREVIOUS CONVICTION

Previous Depositions

Previous Enjoyment

Price

Prices.

Primary Court

Primogeniture

Principal

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

Accounts

Authority of Agent

Fraudulent Representations by Agent

Liability of Agent

Liability of Principal

Notice

Miscellaneous

Principal and Interest

PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

Principal Contract

Printer and Publisher

PRINTING PRESS

PRINTING PRESS AND NEWSPAPERS ACT 1867

Prior Mortgagor

Prior Right

Prior Sale.

Priority

Priority of Title

Privacy

Private Award

Private Common Drain

PRIVATE DEFENCE

Private Ferry

PRIVATE FISHERIES ACT 1889

PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW

Private knowledge

Private Land

Private Partition

Private Pathway

Private Reference

Private Sales

Private Street

Private Tribunal

Privilege

Privilege of Counsel

Privilege of Witness

Privacy

Privacy of Contract

Privacy of Contract and Estate

Privacy of Estate

PRIVY COUNCIL

PRIVY COUNCIL APPEAL TO

PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF Prize

PRIZE COURT

PROBATE

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881

PROBATE DUTY

PROBATE PROCEEDINGSPROCEDURE

Proceedings

Process of Court

Procession

PROCLAMATION

Proclamation of Sale

Produce Rent

Profession

Professional Conduct of Counsel

Professional Etiquette

PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

Profits

PROFITS A PRENDRE

Pro Formâ Defendant

Progressive Rent

PROHIBITORY ORDER

Projection

Promise

Promisor

PROMISSORY NOTE

Prompt Dower

PROOF

Proof in Common Form

Proof of Document

Proof of Title

Propagation of Disease

Proper Court

Property

Property title

Proprietary Title

Proprietor

PROSECUTION

Prosecution Witnesses

Prosecutor

Prospective Legislation.

Prosecutor

Prostitute's Property

Prostitution

Protection

Protection of Judicial Officers

PROTECTION ORDER

Prothonotary

Protraction of Litigation.

Provident Fund Act 1897 as Amended by Act IV of 1903PROVIDENT INSURANCE

Provident Insurance Societies Act 1912

Provident Insurance Society

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1920*PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT 1887

Provisional Appointment

Proviso

Proxy

Public Authority

Public Body

PUBLIC CHARITY

Public Conveyance.

PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT (BENG OF 1895)

Public Document

PUBLIC DRAIN

Public Ferry

PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT, 1867

Public Good

PUBLIC NAVIGABLE RIVERPUBLIC NUISANCE

Public and Private Nuisance

Public Officer

PUBLIC PATHWAY

Public Policy

PUBLIC PROSECUTORPUBLIC RELIGIOUS TRUST*PUBLIC RIGHT OF WAY*PUBLIC SERVANT

Public Street

Public Temple

PUBLIC TRUSTPUBLIC WAY

Public Works Department

Publication

Publicity

Punitive Mortgage

Punjab

Punishment

PUNITIVE POLICE.

Punjab

Punjab Act

Punjab Alienation of Land Act 1900

Punjab Colonisation of Government Land

PUNJAB COURTS ACT 1914PUNJAB COURT OF WARDS ACT 1905*PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT 1887

Punjab Laws Act 1872

PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT 1911PUNJAB PRE-EMPTION ACT, 1913

Punjab Puhag Chiefs

Purchase

Purchase Money

Purchase of Arms

Purchaser

Purchaser for Value

Purchaser in Execution

Purchaser Pendente Lite

Purdanashin

Putative Father

PUTNI

PUTNIDAR.	Recognition
PUTNI LEASE.	Reconstruction
PUTNI REGULATION 1819	Reconversion
PUTNI RENT	Lease Conveyance
PUTNI SALE.	RECORD
PUTNI TALUK.	Recorded Tenant
Putni Taluk Regulation, 1819	RECORD OF RIGHTS
PUTNI TENURE.	Recording Officer
Putnidar	RECOUPMENT
Putnidars and Darpainidars.	Recruitment
PUTRA POUTRADIE.	RECTIFICATION
	Recurring Charge.
	REDEMPTION
	Redemption Decree
Qakulist.	REDEMPTION OF MORTGAGES (PUNJAB)
Qaili	ACT 1913
Quality Mark	Reduction of Rent
Quarries	Re-entry
Question of Fact	REFERENCE
Question of Law	Reference by Collector of Rangoon
Questions of Law and Fact	Reference to Arbitration
Quinquennial Register	Reference to Full Bench
	Reference to High Court
	REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT 1887
	Refund
PAPA TANKIDARS	REFUND OF COURT FEE.
Pailway	Refund of Purchase Money
RAILWAY COMPANY	Refusal by Judge
RAILWAY PASSENGER	Refusal to Grant Time
Railway Premises	Register of Births
RAILWAY RECEIPT	REGISTER OF DEATHS
Railway Rule	Register Rectification of
RAILWAY ACT 1890	Registered and Unregistered Documents
RAIYAT	Registered Bond
RAJINAMA AND KABULIYAT	Registered Company
Rajput Family	Registered Lease
Rape	REGISTRATION
Rash or Negligent Act	REGISTRATION ACT 1877
Rate Circular	REGISTRATION ACT 1908
RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION	REGISTRATION LAW FRAUD ON
Rateable Value	REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS
PATES AND TAXES	Registration Officer
Patification	Registration of Name
Pating of Property	Registry of Vessels
Rayati Lease	Right of Grant of Land
Reasonable Notice	REGULATIONS
Re Assessment of Premises	Re Hearing
RECEIPT	Re Imbursement
RECEIVER	Re Instatement
Receiving Stolen Property	Relationship
Reciprocal Promises	RELEASE
Precision of Contract	Relevancy
Recital	Relief
Recitals in Deeds	Religious Bequest Recitals

PROBATE PROCEEDINGSPROCEDURE

Proceedings

Process of Court

Procession

PROCLAMATION

Proclamation of Sale

Produce Rent

Profession

Professional Conduct of Counsel

Professional Etiquette

PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

Profits

PROFITS A PRENDRE

Pro Form & Defendant

Progressive Rent

PROHIBITORY ORDER

Rejection

Promise

Promisor

PROMISSORY NOTE

Promit Dower

PROOF

Proof in Common Form

Proof of Document

Proof of Title

Propagation of Disease

Proper Court

Property

Property title

Proprietary Title

Proprietor

PROSECUTION

Prosecution Witnesses

Prosecutor

Prospective Legislation.

Prosecutor

Prostitute & Property

Prostitution

Protection

Protection of Judicial Officers

PROTECTION ORDER

Prothonotary

Protraction of Litigation

Provident Fund Act 1897 as Amended by Act IV of 1903

PROVIDENT INSURANCE

Provident Insurance Societies Act 1910

Provident Insurance Society

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1920*PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT 1887

Provisional Appointment

Proviso

Proxy

Public Authority

Public Body

PUBLIC CHARITY

Public Conveyance.

PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT (BENGAL OF 1895)

Public Document

PUBLIC DRAIN

Public Ferry

PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT, 1867

Public Good

PUBLIC NAVIGABLE RIVERPUBLIC NUISANCE

Public and Private Nuisance

Public Officer

PUBLIC PATHWAY

Public Policy

PUBLIC PROSECUTORPUBLIC RELIGIOUS TRUST*PUBLIC RIGHT OF WAY*PUBLIC SERVANT

Public Street

Public Temple

PUBLIC TRUSTPUBLIC WAY

Public Works Department

Publication

Publicity

Putative Mortgage

Putari

Punishment

PUNITIVE POLICE

Punjab

Punjab Act

Punjab Alienation of Land Act 1900

Punjab Colonisation of Government Land

PUNJAB COURTS ACT, 1914PUNJAB COURT OF WARDS ACT 1905*PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT 1887

Punjab Laws Act 1872

PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT 1911PUNJAB PRE-EMPTION ACT 1913

Punjab Ruling Chiefs

Purchase

Purchase of Money

Purchase of Arms

Purchaser

Purchaser for Value

Purchaser in Execution

Purchaser Pendente Lite

Purdanashin

Putative Father

PUTNI

POTNIDAR.
POTNI LEASE.
POTNI REGULATION 1819
POTNI RENT
POTNI SALE.
POTNI TALUK
 Potni Taluk Regulation 1819
POTNI TENURE.
 Potnidar
 Potnidars and Dargahdars.
PUTEA POUTRADIE

Qabulist.
 Qila Quality Mark Quarries
 Question of Fact
 Question of Law
 Questions of Law and Fact Quinquennial Register

RAFA TANKIDARS Railway RAILWAY COMPANY
RAILWAY PASSENGER Railway Premises
RAILWAY RECEIPT Railway Rule
RAILWAY ACT 1890
RAIYAT
RAJINAMA AND KADULIYAT
 Rajput Family Rape
 Rash or Negligent Act
 Rate Circular
RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION
 Rateable Value
RATES AND TAXES
 Ratification
 Rating of Property
 Rayati Lease
 Reasonable Notice
 Re Assessment of Premises RECEIPT RECEIVER
 Receiving Stolen Property
 Reciprocal Promises
 Recision of Contract
 Recital
 Receipts in Deeds
 Receipts

Recognition Reconstruction
 Reconversion
 Re Conveyance RECORD
 Recorded Tenant RECORD OF RIGHTS
 Recording Officer
RECOUPMENT
 Recruitment RECTIFICATION
 Recurring Charge
REDEMPTION
 Redemption Decree
REDEMPTION OF MORTGAGES (PUNJAB)
ACT 1913
 Reduction of Rent
 Re entry REFERENCE
 Reference by Collector of Rangoon Reference to Arbitration
 Reference to Full Bench
 Reference to High Court
REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT 1897
 Refund
REFUND OF COURT FEE
 Refund of Purchase Money
 Refusal by Judge
 Refusal to Grant Time
 Register of Births
REGISTER OF DEATHS
 Register Rectification of Registered and Unregistered Documents
 Registered Bond
 Registered Company
 Registered Lease
REGISTRATION
REGISTRATION ACT 1877
REGISTRATION ACT 1908
REGISTRATION LAW FRAUD ON REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS
 Registration Officer
 Registration of Name
 Registry of Vessels
 Re Grant of Land REGULATIONS
 Re Hearing
 Re Imbursement
 Re Instatement Relationship RELEASE
 Relevancy Relief
 Religious Bequest

SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT

Seaworthiness

Sebat

SECOND APPEAL

Second Marriage

Second Mortgage.

Second Mortgagee.

Second Probate

Second Sale

Second Sanction.

Second Trial

Secondary Evidence

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

Secret Society

Securities Act 1886

Security

Security Bond

SECURITY FOR COSTSSECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR*SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE*SEDITION

Seditious Label.

Seigniorage Fees or Royalty

Seizure in Custom House

Self Acquired Property

Self Acquisition

Seller

Senate and Syndicate

SENTENCE

Separate Convictions.

Separate Offences

Separate Sentences.

Separate Trial

Separation

Servants' Quarters

SERVICE INAM

Service of Notice

Service of Suit

Service of Summons

Service Tenure

Servient Estate

Sessions Judge

SESSIONS TRIAL

Set Back

Set Forward.

SET-OFF

Setting Aside

SETTLEMENTSETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN ON TRUSTS

Settlement Court

Settlement Officer

Settlement of Accounts

Settlement of Rent

Settlement Reports

SETTLEMENT OF REVENUE

Settlement Proceedings sewer Pipe

Shafi

Shafii Mahomedans

Shafi I Khat

Shah Jog Mundi

Share

Share Capital.

Share Certificates

Shareholder

Share of Estate

SHARESSHAWLS MEANING OF*SHEBAIT

Shelaiti Lights

Shik Treasury Tribe of

Shendi's Right of Pundage

Shikandi Lands

Shias

Ship

Ship-Owner

Shipping

Shipping Documents

Shipping Orders

Shivrapana

Short Delivery

Shrotnemdar

Shudras

Sioka Pupces

Signature

Sikkim

SIMANADARS

Similarity of Names

Simple Interest

Simple Mortgage

Simultaneous Adoption

Single Judge

SIR LAND

Sister

Sister & Son

Slander

Slang Terms

Slaughtering Fees

Slavery Bond

Small Cause Case

SMALL CAUSE COURT

Small Cause Court Decree.

SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT

Society

Sohag Grant

Soldier

Solehnama

SOLICITOR.
 SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS
 Solvent Company
 Son
 SOUTHAL PARGANAS
 Southal Parganas Act, 1883
 Southal Parganas Justice Regulations, 1893
 SOUTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT
 REGULATION 1872.
 Sovereign Power
 Sovereign Rights
 SPECIAL APPEAL.
 Special Bench.
 Special Citation
 SPECIAL CONSTABLES
 SPECIAL COURT
 Special Damage
 Special Judge
 Special Leave to Appeal
 Special Procedure
 Special Tribunal.
 Specific Area.
 SPECIFIC MOVEABLE PROPERTY SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.
 SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877
 Speculative Purchaser.
 Spes Successionis
 Spiritual Welfare
 Spirituous and Fermented Liquors Spy or Detective
 Stables
 Stables
 Stakeholder Stamp
 STAMP ACT 1889
 STAMP DUTY
 STANDARD OF PROOF Standard Pent
 Standing Committee
 Stanl.
 Staple Food Price of Stare Decisis
 Statement
 Statement in Writing by Accused Statement on Information and Belief Status of Tenant Statute Law in England STATUTES STATUTE CONSTRUCTION OF Statutory Obligation Statutory Presumption Statutory Right
 STAY OF CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS STAY OF EXECUTION

Stay of Proceedings STAY OF SUIT
 Steamship Company
 Step-Brother
 STEP IN AID OF EXECUTION
 Step in the Proceedings
 Step-Mother
 Step-Sister & Son
 Still Head Duty Stipend
 STOCK EXCHANGE
 Stock Property
 STOPPAGE IN TRANSIT
 Straits Settlements Bankruptcy Ordinance
 Straits Settlements Ordinance 1896
 Straits Settlements Ordinance 1907
 Stranger Street
 STRIDHAN Structure (TEMPORARY) Student
 Sub-Divisional Magistrate
 Sub-Lessee
 Submission
 Sub Mortgage
 Subsequently Acquired Property
 Sub Tenancy
 Sub Tenant
 Subordinate Court Subordinate Judge Subordinate Officers
 SUBROGATION
 Subsequent Mortgage
 Subsequent Prosecution After Acquittal
 Sub Soil Rights
 Substantial Loss
 Substantial Question of Law SUBSTITUTED SERVICE SUBSTITUTION SUCCESSION
 SUCCESSION ACT 1865 SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE
 SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT, 1889 Succession (Property Protection Act 1841 Succession Duty
 Successive Adoption
 Successor
 Sudder Dewany Adawlat
 Sudder Nizamut Adawlat
 Sudras
 Sufficient Cause Suicide
 SUIT
 SUIT FOR CANCELLATION OF DOCUMENT

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT
1916

UNITED PROVINCES PREVENTION OF ADULTERATION ACT 1912

United Provinces Public Gambling Act 1912

United Provinces Rent Act 1931

United Provinces Tenancy Act 1901

Unity of Object

UNIVERSITIES ACT, 1904

UNIVERSITY LECTURESHIP

University of Madras

University Regulations

Unlawful Assembly

Unlawful Recruitment

Unliquidated Damages

Unnecessary Matter

UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Unreasonable Delay

Unrecorded Concessions

Unregistered Document

UNSETTLED PALAYAM

Usage

Usage of the Profession

Uter

Using False Trade Mark

USING FORGED DOCUMENT

USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

Usurious Interest

Usurious Loans Act 1918

Usury

UTTARAYAN

Vacation

VAKALATNAMA

VAKIL

Valatdiana Fatta

Validity of Wakt

Valuable Consideration

VALUABLE SECURITY

VALUATION OF APPEAL

Valuation of Land

VALUATION OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

VALUATION OF SUIT

Value of Property

Value Payable Post

VARTHAMANAM (OR LETTER)

VATAN

Vatandar

VATANDAR BARBERS

VATANDAR JOSHI

Vehicle

Vendes

Vendor

VENDOR AND PURCHASER

VENDOR AND SUB-VENDOR

Vendor's Lien

Vendor's Mark

Veneral Disease

Venue

Verbal Application

Verbal Notice

VERDICT OF JURY

Verification

Vernacular Government Gazette

Vested Interest

Vested Light

Waiting Order

Wager's Charge

View of Premises

VILLAGE

VILLAGE CHOUKIDARI ACT (BE' GAL)
1870

Village Community

Village Magistrate

Village Police Act

VILLAGE ROAD

Vinchar Court

Vin Major

Voidable Contract

Voluntary Liquidation

Voluntarily Obstructing Public Servants in the Discharge of Public Functions

Voluntary

VOLUNTARY PAYMENT

Voter

FRITTI

Vyavahara Matukha

Vyavaharika

WADHWAN CIVIL STATION

WAGERING

WAGERING CONTRACT

Waging War

WAIVER

WAJIB-UL-ARZ

WAKF

WAKF VALIDATING ACT 1913

Wali

Waqf-Nama

War

Warning of Fire

WARRANT

Warrent Case

WARRENT OF ARREST

WARPANT OF ATTACHMENT

Warrant of Attorney

Warrant Officer

Waste	Withdrawal of Pardon.
WASTE.	WITHDRAWAL OF PROSECUTION
Waste Lands	Withdrawal of Rights
WASTE LANDS ACT, 1863.	WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT
Watan	WITNESS
Wazidar	Women
Water	Words and Phrases
Water-Cress.	Work Calculated to Deprave Morals.
Water Connection	Workman
Water Duties	WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT
Water Course	1859
WATERFLOW	Worship.
Water-lanes	Wrist Watch Band
WATER PATE.	Writ
WATER RIGHTS	WRITTEN STATEMENT
WAL	Wrongful Acts
Weekly Sitting List.	Wrongful Attachment.
Weights and Measures	WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT
Well	WRONGFUL DISMISSAL
Whip	Wrongful Possession
WHIPPING ACT 1869	Wrongful Restraint
Willow	Wrongful seizure
Widow's Estate.
Will	Wajman
WILL	Wail
Construction
Willar
Demonstrative Legacy
Execution	Zaminder
Executor	Zamindar and Inamdar
Probate	Zamindar or Muttadar
Proof	Zamindari
Provocation	Zamindari Lands
Validity	zamindari Rights
WILL AND CODICIL	ZAMINDARI SALE
WINDING UP	Zamindars and Rajas
WINDING UP PETITION	Zerai
Wire Fence	Zina
Withdrawal of Case	ZURPESHGI LEASE

A DIGEST

OF

THE HIGH COURT REPORTS,

AND OF

THE PRIVY COUNCIL REPORTS OF APPEALS FROM INDIA, 1910-1921

I

IDENTITY

See PARTIES I L R 43 Calc 139

evidence of—

See COVERTACT I L R 41 Calc 754

of Transaction

See MISJOINDER OF CHARGES.
I L R 42 Calc 1153

proof of—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I L R 43 Calc 1128

IDOL

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 33 All 253

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

1. Suit against an idol—Description of defendant—Amendment of plaint—Limitation—Practice. Inasmuch as an idol is a juristic person capable of holding property a suit respecting property in which an idol is interested is properly brought or defended in the name of the idol although ex necessitate rei the proceedings in the suit must be carried on by some person who represents the idol usually the manager of the temple in which the idol is installed. Thakur Raghunathji Maharaj v Shah Lal Chand I L R 19 All 330 overruled. JODHI RAI v BASDEO PRASAD (1911) I L R 33 All 735

Property dedicated to an idol—Decree against manager—Execution sale—Purchase by defendant—Suit by succeeding manager to recover possession—Defendant's possession adverse to the idol. The plaintiff a manager of a temple brought a suit in the year 1908 to recover possession of certain endowed property in the possession of the defendant. The defence was that the property was purchased at a Court sale in 1870 in execution of a decree against the then manager and that the defendant's possession was adverse to the idol. Held dismissing the suit that the defendant's possession was adverse to the idol. Datta giri v Dattatraya I L R 27 Bom 363 referred to. PANDURANG BALAJI v DNYANU (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 135

IDUT

—reconversion—during period of—

See MAISONERAN LAW—BIGAMY
I L R 39 Calc 409

IGNORANCE OF LAW

—In extension of punishment—

See PENAL CODE s 494
I L P 1 Lah 440

IJARA

—beneficial to Estate—

See HINDU LAW ALIENATION
I L R 41 Calc 793

IJARADAR

Contract written of tenant with lessor alone—Co sharer of les or—Registration of name effect of—Rent suit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1855) s 50—Land Registration Act (Beng VII of 1876) ss 78 81—An ijaradar is entitled to maintain a suit for the entire rent upon a written contract which had been executed by the tenant in favour of his lessor alone and without reference to the latter a co sharer whose name had previously been registered in respect of an eight anna share. Surja Kanta Ghatal v Ananda Mohan Chatterjee 24 Ind cases 866 followed. Abdul Aziz v Kanthu Malik I L R 38 Calc 512 and Ismar Chandra Dera v Kals Charan Santra 27 C L J 474 distinguished. PRADODH CHANDRA MITTHER v HARISH CHANDRA NASKAR (1921) I L R 49 Calc 1078

IJMALI SHARE

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
I L R 42 Calc 897

ILLEGAL CESS

See ARWAB I L R 40 Calc 805

Abwab—Suit for arrears of rent—Consideration for grant of patna—Stipulation in kabuli to pay sum as mamuli for the idol Isswar Thakur—Recovery of—Rents Act (Beng V of 1859) s 10—Regulation VIII of 1793 ss 5^o 51—Regulation I of 1812 s 3 In a suit

A DIGEST

OF

THE HIGH COURT REPORTS,

AND OF

THE PRIVY COUNCIL REPORTS OF APPEALS FROM INDIA, 1910-1921

I

IDENTITY

See LARTIES I L R 45 Calc 159

— evidence of—

See COVENANT I L R 41 Calc 754

— of Transaction

See MISJOINDER OF CHARGES
I L R 42 Calc 1153

— proof of—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I L R 43 Calc 1128

IDOL

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 33 All 253

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

1 — Suit against an idol—Description of defendant—Amendment of plaint—Limitation—Practice Inasmuch as an idol is a juristic person capable of holding property a suit respecting property in which an idol is interested is properly brought or defended in the name of the idol although ex necessitate rei the proceedings in the suit must be carried on by some person who represents the idol usually the manager of the temple in which the idol is installed Thakur Baghunath v Maharaj v Shah Lal Chand I L R 29 All 330 overruled. Jodhi Rai v BADEO PRASAD (1911) I L R 33 All 735

— Property dedicated to an idol—Decree against manager—Execution sale—Purchase by defendant—Suit by succeeding manager to recover possession—Defendant's possession adverse to the idol The plaintiff a manager of a temple brought a suit in the year 1908 to recover possession of certain endowed property in the possession of the defendant The defence was that the property was purchased at a Court sale in 1870 in execution of a decree against the then manager and that the defendant's possession was adverse to the idol Held dismissing the suit that the defendant's possession was adverse to the idol Datta giri v Dattatraya I L R 27 Bom 363 referred to PANDURANG BALAJI v DATTATRAYA (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 135

IDDUT

—reconversion—during period of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—BIGAMY
I L R 39 Calc 409

IGNORANCE OF LAW

— In extenuation of punishment—

See PENAL CODE s 404
I L P 1 Lah 440

IJARA

— beneficial to Estate—

See HINDU LAW ALIENATION
I L R 41 Calc 793

IJARADAR

— Contract written of tenant with lessor alone—Co-sharer of lessor—Registration of name effect of—Fent suit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 50—Land Registration Act (Beng XII of 1876) ss 81—An ijaradar is entitled to maintain a suit for the entire rent upon a written contract which had been executed by the tenant in favour of his lessor alone and without reference to the latter's co-sharer whose name had previously been registered in respect of an eight anna share Surya Kanta Ghattal v Ananda Mohan Chatterjee 24 Ind cases 866 followed Abdul Aziz v Hanthu Mallik I L R 38 Calc 612 and Isuar Chandra Bera v Kals Charan Santra 27 C L J 474, distinguished PRABODH CHANDRA MITTER v HARISH CHANDRA NASKAR (1921) I L R 48 Calc 1078

IJMALI SHARE

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
I L R 42 Calc 897

ILLEGAL CESS

See ANWAR I L R 40 Calc 806

— Ibadat—Suit for arrears of rent—Consideration for grant of patta—Stipulation in kabuliat to pay sum as mamuli for the idol Isuar Thakur—Recovery of—Rents Act (Ben V of 1889) s 10—Regulation VIII of 1793 ss 52 54—Regulation V of 1812 s 3 In a suit to recover Rs 3330 4 0 in arrears of patta rent the defendants pleaded that Ps 15 had been claimed in excess and that this sum was in the nature of an advab and not recoverable. The labeliyat on which this suit was based provided that an annual rent of Ps 3315 4 0 should be paid by 12 monthly instalments. In a subsequent clause it stipulated that in the month of Bhadra every year a further sum of Rs 15 should be paid as mamuli for the Isicar Thakur at the lessor's house and then went on to state that if the lessee failed to pay the said sum of Rs 15 amicably the lessor should deduct the same from the money remitted by the lessee as rent or add for the amount along with or separately from the arrears of rent and the lessee would not take objections thereto. Held that the sum of Ps 15 was not intended by the parties to be part of the consideration for the use and occupation of the land or as part of the rent. It did not form part of the rent nor was it treated as part of the rent and was not recoverable. Held also that s 3 of Regulation V of 1812 referred only to the amount which was by the contract fixed as the rent payable to the landlord. Per SANDERSON C J. The rule which has been followed in this Court is that each case must depend upon the proper construction of the contract before the Court and if upon a fair interpretation of the contract it can be seen that a particular sum is specified in the contract or agreed to be paid as the lawful consideration for the use and occupation of the land or if it is really part of the rent although not described as such the landlord can recover it. Per CHATTERJEE J. It is only the rent and not any other sum though not indefinite and though agreed upon to be paid in the written engagement which can be recovered. In determining whether an item does or does not form part of the rent the fact that it has been stipulated to be paid separately from the rent and also the fact that it is not included in the instalments of rent have an important bearing on the question. Upendra Lal Gupta v Meharaj Bibi 21 C W N 103 explained. Bisoy Sirona Duddhuria v Krishna Behari Biswas (1917).

ILLEGAL CESS—contd

I L R 45 Cal 259

ILLEGAL COMPOSITION

— of non compoundable offence—

See UNDOZ INFLUENCE

I L R 42 Cal 286

ILLEGAL CONSIDERATION

Contract—Illegal consideration—apprehension of prosecution for non compoundable offence. Where the consideration for an agreement is a promise not to prosecute for an offence which is not compoundable the agreement is not enforceable by law but this limitation of freedom of contract should only be enforced where it is quite clear that the consideration for the agreement was such an illegal promise. When an agreement has been come to on a mere threat to prosecute or on an apprehension that prosecution would take place such threat or apprehension is not sufficient to vitiate the agreement. The distinction between the motive for coming to an agreement and the actual consideration for the agreement must be carefully kept in view and this care must be particularly exercised in a case where there is a civil liability already existing which is discharged or remitted by the agreement. SUKHDEO DAS v MANGAL CHAND 2 Pat. L J 630

ILLEGAL OR IMMORAL DEBTS

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 40 Cal 283

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

ILLEGALITY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

as 233 36 239 I L R 32 All 219

as 231 233 73 I L R 32 All 57

ILLEGITIMATE CHILDREN

See HINDU LAW

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

— Maintenance of—

See CL 703

I L R 2 Lab 243

— right of—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 38 Mad 1144

ILLEGITIMATE SON

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 40 Bom 369

I L R 48 Cal 643

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 2 Lab 207

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L P 24 Mad 277

— gift to—

See HINDU LAW

I L R 39 Mad 1029

— of a Sudra—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 39 Mad 130

I L R 23 Mad 886

Held that under the Bengal School of Law an illegitimate son of a Sudra is entitled to a share of the inheritance provided his mother was in continuous and exclusive keeping of his father. RAJANI NATH DAS AND OTHERS v NITAI CHANDRA DE AND ANOTHER 25 C W N 433

ILLEGAL SALE

See OTHUM

I L R 37 Cal 881

ILLNESS

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

14 C W N 573

ILLUSORY WAKE—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 47 Cal 866

ILLUSTRATIONS TO STATUTES

See EVIDENCE

L R 42 I A 256

IMAGE

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

— destruction of—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 41 Cal 57

IMITATION

See TRADE MARK I L R 35 Bom 425

IMMORAL CUSTOM of car's—

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 39 Bom 538

IMMORAL OR ILLEGAL DEBT

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 40 Cal 253

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

I L R 60 Cal 862

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

IMMORAL PROPOSAL

See LUKING HOUSE TRUSTS

I L R 44 Cal 338

IMMOVEABLE PROPERTYSee CHOTA NAGPUR UNCLIMBED STATES ACT APPLICATION OF

I L R 46 Cal 1

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 51
18 C W N 1146See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Sch I Arts
14 AND 144 C Pat L J 239

See SALE I L R 43 Cal 790

See SALE OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY

— english mortgage of—

See ADMINISTRATION

I L R 45 Cal 653

— restoration of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1899
s 42 I L R 39 Cal 1050

— restoration of to judgment debtor—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Sch I Arts
16, 181 I L R 38 All 339

— sale of—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

I L R 30 Bom 110

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O XXI R 80

I L R 38 Mad 775

— suit for—

See MISCELLANEOUS PROFITS

I L R 50 Cal 220

*Sale of in Court auction—Fraud sale vitiated by—Vendee benamidar of purchaser—Suit to cancel sale—Who can sue—Contract Act s 231 and 232 Where a sale of property is vitiated by fraud on the part of the vendor the person who bought the property at Court auction though only a benamidar can maintain an action to cancel the sale Pether Permal Chetty v Munandy Serran I L R 35
Cal 551 distinguished A benami transaction does not vest any title to immoveable property the subject of such transaction in the benamidar and therefore such a person cannot maintain a suit which is based on title namely a suit in ejectment
But where an agent of an undi closed principal enters into a contract for the purchase of land and the land is conveyed to him in pursuance of the contract he acquires rights and liabilities under the contract (see s 231 and 232 Contract Act of 1872) and can sue in respect thereof DATTA*

IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY—contdVENKATA SUPPANARAYANA JAGAPATHIRAJU v
GOLLIGERI BAPIRAJU (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 143

Order regarding possession of following acquired in case under 41, and 46 of the Local Code propriety of The accused were tried for offences under ss 41, and 46 Indian Local Code for having cut and removed some bamboos from a bamboo clump alleged by the complainant to be his The trying Magistrate acquitted the accused but directed that the complainant was to retain possession of the bamboo clump until ordered by the Civil Court The High Court set aside the order so far as it contained the direction about the bamboo clump PADMA KANTA GUIN v KANTHA GUIN (1910)

20 D W N 1802

IMPARTIBLE ESTATESee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1857 s
1740 I L R 36 Bom 53

See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 34 All 65

I L R 42 Cal 1179

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE
I L R 39 Mad 396See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
I L R 31 All 70

I L R 44 Mad 1

I L R 43 All 228

See HANOVERIA STATUTE
I L R 39 Cal 711See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I of 1909) s
7 & 10 a I L R 35 All 391See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE
I L P 33 Cal 182

*Impartible property—
Transfer whether subject to right of maintenance
A transfer of impartible property is not subject to rights of maintenance claimed by younger members of the family of the transferor until a family custom to that effect is established Thakur Debendra Nath Shah Deo v Deomanandan Singh
(1918) 3 Pat L J 648*

*Alienation beyond alienenors life time validity of—Custom of inalienability effect of—Regulation XVI of 1802 In the absence of proof of a special custom of inalienability the zamindar of an impartible zamina has power to alienate the zamina for a legitimate family or other necessary purpose beyond his life time
The estate held by him is not analogous to that of an estate tail as it originally stood upon the Statute de Donis (Statute of Westminster II (1285) 13 Edw I c 1) The law relating to estates held in impartible zamindaris reviewed Where the subject of a court sale was stated to be the right title and interest of the zamindar there is no presumption that what was intended to be sold was merely the life interest of the zamindar in the zamina MALAYALA NAICKER v MURUGAPPA CHETTIAR (1913) I L R 38 Mad 905*

Coyjuncenary estate An impartible zamindari is of custom and it is of its essence that it

INAM—contd

by the Nawab of the Carnatic in 1775 for the upkeep of a mosque the performance of services and ceremonies therein and the feeding of travellers and the poor was confirmed by the British Government permanently so long as the service was performed. Owing to persistent misappropriation of the income by the grantees successors and alienations by some of them of two of the villages included in the inam one on a usufructury mortgage in 1833 for thirty years and the other on a long lease of twelve years in 1861 for purposes not binding on the charity the Government resumed the inam in 1903 and credited the amount to its general revenues. It appeared however that the mosque was maintained in good repair services and ceremonies were regularly performed there though on a smaller scale. The present trustees disputing the power of the Government to resume the inam sued in 1913 the Secretary of State for India in Council for a declaration that the resumption was invalid and for recovery of possession of the inam villages the latter contended that the resumption was valid and that the suit was in any event barred by limitation under Art 14 of the Limitation Act. Held (1) that as the charity did not fail altogether the performance of the charity was not wholly discontinued and the alienations (mortgage and lease) did not permanently deprive the charity of the use of the property the Government was not authorized under the terms of the grant to resume the inam in the circumstances of this case and (2) that the resumption being a nullity and the suit being one for possession it was not barred by limitation as Art 141 and not Art 14 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. On a reasonable construction of the words of the grant any default in the performance of services of however minor a character would not entitle the Government to resume the grant but what was contemplated was that if the charity failed altogether or substantially as through the disappearance of the mosque or of persons who would resort to the institution for prayers etc. or if the charity was entirely discontinued then the Government would be entitled to resume the grant. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. GULAM MAHMOOD KHAN SAKIB (1919) 1 L R 42 Mad 673

In inam it not presumed that it is of Government revenue only—Reg XXI of 1807—Estate meaning of—Madras Rent Recovery Act (No I of 1903) s. 2 (d)—Kuduvaram and melvaram meaning of—Allegation by tenant of fraud and undue influence not substantiated by evidence. There is no presumption of law that the grant of an inam (in the absence of the inam grant under which it was held) was of the Royal share of the revenue only. In respect of an inam grant of 1373 the grant itself could not be produced but it was recorded in Mr Oake's Inam Register kept under s. 1 of Reg XXI of 1807. Held that this was conclusive evidence that the grant was not only of the revenue but of the soil of the village and was not an estate within s. 3 sub s. 2 (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908 Mad.). A grant of a village by or on behalf of the Crown under the British rule is in law to be presumed to be subject to such rights of occupancy if any as the cultivators at the time of the grant may have had. Kuduvaram literally signifies a culti-vator's share in the produce of land held by him as distinguished from the landlord's share of the produce received by him as rent sometimes designated melvaram. Where it was alleged that the documents under which tenants held land under temporary tenures were not willingly executed by them or their predecessors or with knowledge of their provisions Held that the allegations amounted to saying that the landlord had by fraud and the exercise of undue influence procured the execution by the tenants of the agreements of tenancy under which the latter held the lands occupied by them allegations which in the absence of any evidence to sustain that there was any foundation of truth for them must be dismissed from consideration as unfounded. ADUSUMILLI SETHUPATHY v. CHITTA POTHAIA (1919) 23 C W N 273

INAM—contd

Shrotriya—Construction of Min rali—Enfranchisement effect of—Quarries on quarried stone—Mad Act VIII of 1869. A village was granted as a shrotriya inam in A.D. 1700 by the Nawab of the Carnatic. The grant the terms of which appeared from a translation produced from a Government register provided that its purpose was that the grantees having appropriated to his own use the produce of the seasons each year might pay for the prosperity of the Empire and that he should pay a fixed yearly sum to the sarkar. The inam was enfranchised in 1869 there being given to the inamfars title deeds which purported to convert the tenure into a permanent freehold upon payment of a quit rent. After the enfranchisement the Madras Government requiring stones acquired part of the village from the shrotriyaamdars under the Land Acquisition Act. In or about 1903 the Madras Government imposed and levied upon the shrotriyaamdars royalties in respect of stone which they had quarried in the village. Held (1) that upon the true construction of the grant the full right to the quarries and minerals did not pass to the grantees (2) that terms of the grant being in evidence neither the inam title deeds nor the land acquisition proceedings were evidence as to its effect (3) that having regard to Madras Act VIII of 1869 the inam title deed could not rest in the inamfars a subject matter not vested in them by the grant (4) that consequently the Government was entitled to impose royalties on stone quarried in the village. An inam grant may be no more than an assignment of revenue and even where it is or includes a grant of land, what interest in the land passed must depend on the language of the instrument and the circumstances of the case. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. SRINIVASA CHARAN (1921) 1 L R 49 Mad 268
1 L R 41 Mad 471

Presumption of Law—Whether grant is of both melvaram and kuduvaram. Although their Lordships of the Privy Council do not expressly lay down in Suryanarayana v. Patanna (1913) 1 L R 41 Mad 1012 (PC) and Venkata Sastrulu v. Seetharamudu (1920) 1 L R 41 Mad 166 (PC) that there is a presumption in law that in inam grants both the melvaram and kuduvaram are included such an initial presumption is deducible from the grounds on which these judgments are based. MUTHU GONDAN v. PERUMAL IYER (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad 588

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1918)—contd

acquainted with the progress of the business and occasionally issues general instruction is not liable to be taxed under the Act where the income from such business is not remitted to British India. On a reference by the Board of Revenue under s. 51 of the Income tax Act the assessee and not the Board has the right to begin. BOARD OF REVENUE MADRAS v RAMAIAH CHETTY (1920)
I L R 43 Mad 75

ss. 4 and 2—Agricultural Income——Application under s. 51—Right to begin. In a reference by the Revenue Authorities under the Indian Income tax Act (VII of 1918) s. 51 sub s. (1) on a question whether the income from a tea garden, who's tea was grown and made ready for the market by mechanical process was assessable. Held that the income was to be apportioned and so much of it as was obtained by the manufacturing process was assessable. Commissioners of Inland Revenue v Barson (1918) 2 A B 703 and Commissioners of Inland Revenue v Marze (1919) 1 A B 61 followed. Held also that the counsel for the company was to begin. Margus of Chavda v Inland Revenue Commissioners 6 A B 454 followed. KELLY VALLEY TEA COMPANY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1920)

I L R 43 Cal 161

—ss. 5, 9 and 11—Income derived from the rent and Royalties of Collieries does not come within income derived from business within the meaning of s. 5 (iv) but within income from other sources of sub s. (vi) and in assessing such a income tax the amount paid in respect of Road Cess should not be deducted. In the matter of the RAJA JYOTI PRASAD SINGH DEO OF KATKRE
8 Pat. L J 62

—ss. 8, 9 and 11—Income tax—Amount of property assessable—Allowance in respect of annual value of business premises owned by firm—House property. Held by KHOJ and GOVIL PRASAD J J (Proctor J, dubitante) that as Act No VII of 1918 (the Indian Income tax Act) now stands the allowance on account of the annual value of business premises owned and occupied by a firm is not liable to assessment at all. Per Proctor J. Sed quare whether such business premises would not fall within the purview of section 8 of Act No VII of 1918 as being house property. In the matter of A. JOSH AND COMPANY
I L R 43 All 139

—s. 9 cl. 2 sub-cl. (ix)—Joint Stock Company—Increase of capital—Issue of new shares—Commission paid to underwriters whether allowable deduction—Assessment. Where a joint stock company increases its capital by the issue of new shares for which it pays commission to the underwriters of the shares the amount of the commission so paid cannot be allowed as an item of expenditure under section 9 clause 2 sub-clause (ix) of the Indian Income Tax Act (VII of 1918). TATA IRON AND STEEL COMPANY LIMITED v ST
I L R 45 Bom 1306

—ss. 24, 39 (d) 40 and 41—Failure to produce accounts—Prosecution under s. 39 (d)—Penal assessment—Lery of whether a bar to prosecution—Bar under s. 24 proviso 2 whether applicable. Section 24 proviso 2 of the Indian Income-tax Act, does not bar the prosecution of an agent for an offence under s. 39 (d) of the Act for failure to produce accounts when penal assessment had been levied on him under s. 41 in consequence of his making a false return of his income. HIND LAKHOTA & CO (19-0)

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1918)—contd

I L R 43 Mad 439

—ss. 31, 33 and 34—Agent for principal non resident in British India—Agent who is agent if must be in receipt of income on behalf of principal. The applicant Company was assessed to super tax as agent for six share holders in the Company all of whom were non residents of British India in regard to the dividends payable to them by the Company. Held per Woodroffe and GHAZAR J J That as 31 and 34 of the Indian Income tax Act are to be read together the latter section merely defining who may be included as an agent under s. 31. That being so the agent must be in receipt of income within the terms of s. 31 and the Company was not in receipt of income on behalf of the share holders within the meaning of s. 31. That even if the two sections be read disjointly the Company was not in the circumstances of the case an agent within the terms of the Act. That in this view no question as to the propriety of assessment to super tax as agent arose. THE IMPERIAL TOBACCO COMPANY OF INDIA LIMITED v THE SECRETARY OF STATE
80 C W N 745

—s. 43—Profits framed by Government of Madras under s. 43 (2)—Company s. incorporated in England with branches in India and elsewhere—Total profits—Whether income tax and excess profits duty payable in England and income tax payable elsewhere to be excluded. Rule 2 framed by the Government of Madras under s. 43 (2) (c) of the Income tax Act provides that the profits of the Indian Branch of a foreign company may be assumed for income-tax purposes to bear the same proportion to the total profits of the company as its receipts bear to the total receipts. A company incorporated in England with branches in India and elsewhere cannot in calculating the total profits for the purposes of this rule claim deduction of the excess profits duty and the income tax payable by it in England and elsewhere. CITE COMMISSIONER OF INCOME TAX MADRAS v THE EASTERN EXTENSION AUSTRALASIA AND CABLE TELEGRAPH CO LTD (19-1)
I L R 43 Mad 489

—S. 51—

See 4 I L R 48 Cal 160

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT 1919—

3 I L R 45 Bom 1064

1 I L R 45 Bom 681

—Held that interest which accrues due to a money lending firm in the year of account is not assessable under s. 11 as profits of business unless received or realised in the year of account. Secretary of State v Arundel Chetlar

I L R 44 Mad 65

—ss. 51 (1) 52 103 (2) of the Government of India Act 5 and 6 George I Chapter 61—S. 45 (A) of the Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877)—English decisions on English Income tax Act guides to interpret Indian Income tax Act (Where a person who was assessed to income tax appealed to the Board of Revenue and the Board while dismissing the appeal refused to refer the matter to the High Court under s. 51 of the Income-tax Act though required to do so Held that s. 103 (?) of the Government of India Act and s. 2 of the Income-tax Act prohibited the High Court from entertaining any application under s. 45 in the nature of a mandamus for the purpose of compelling the Revenue Board to refer the matter to the High Court under s. 51 of the Income Tax Act Spoorer v Juddon (1870) 1 M I 1 353 followed Issuing an order under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act in the nature of a mandamus is an exercise of original jurisdiction within s. 103 (?) of the Government of India Act In application under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act against the Board is a proceeding within s. 52 of the Income Tax Act In re Orward Building Society (1891) 2 Q B 463 applied Anything done in s. 52 includes anything omitted to be done. Jaffe v Wallis & Local Board (1873) L P 9 C 1 6^o followed English decisions are not decisions of Foreign Courts and as the Income Tax Act of India generally follows the lines of the English Income tax Act the decisions of English Courts on the latter Act are the best guides to the interpretation of the Indian Act The meaning of unnecessary in s. 51 of the Income tax Act considered CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF INCOME TAX v NORTH AVANTARA GOLD MINES LIMITED (1921) I L R 44 Mad 718

INCOME-TAX ACT (VII OF 1915)—continued

INCOME-TAX COLLECTOR

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s. 190 CLS (b) AND (c)
I L R 38 Bom 642

INCORPORATED COMPANY

See COMPANY
See SALE I L R 43 Calc 790

INCORPOREAL RIGHTS

See EASEMENTS

Incorporeal rights enjoyment of for less than the statutory period—Person in such enjoyment entitled to protection against trespassers It is well settled law that a trespasser in enjoyment of land for less than the statutory period, is entitled to be maintained in possession against all persons except the true owner The same principle is applicable to incorporeal rights such as rights to light and water courses A person in enjoyment of a water course for less than 20 years is entitled to protection in such enjoyment against persons who have no right to such water-course MONDAPA PAJAM NAIDU v DEVARAKONDA SURIYANARAYAN (1910)
I L R 34 Mad 173

Of EASEMENT I L P 38 Mad 280

INCRIMINATING ARTICLES

possession of—

See DACOITY I L R 41 Calc 350

INCRIMINATING STATEMENTS IN CROSS EXAMINATION

See FALSE EVIDENCE.
I L R 37 Calc 878

INCUMBRANCE

See BENVOAL TENANCY ACT s 86
14 C W N 229

See HOMETEAD LAND
I L R 42 Calc 638

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 39 Calc 138
I L R 45 Calc 758

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 923

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
14 C W N 677
I L R 43 Calc 779

— avoidance of—

See PRESENT SALE
I L R 37 Calc 559

— by non occupancy riyat—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L P 37 Calc 709

Putni Tenure—Customary right to cut and appropriate tree whether an incumbrance—I utni Regulation (VIII of 1819) s. 11—Right of an auction purchaser at a sale held under the Putni Regulation to avoid such incumbrance—Bond fide engagement made by the defaulting proprietor with resident and hereditary cultivators effect of A customary right to cut and appropriate trees is an incumbrance within the meaning of s. 11 of Regulation VIII of 1819 A purchaser of a putni taluq at a sale held under Regulation VIII of 1819 is not entitled to hold the property free from a customary right or a right recognised by usage which has grown up during the subsistence of the putni and under which occupancy riyats are entitled to appropriate and convert to their own use such trees as they have the right to cut down inasmuch as he is not entitled to cancel a bond fide engagement made by the defaulting proprietor with the resident and hereditary cultivators PRADYOTE KUMAR TAGORE v GOPI KRISHNA MANDAL (1910) I L R 37 Calc 822

Absolute sale—Unregistered purchaser of portion of putni tenure interest of whether an incumbrance—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1835) ss 161 167—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 98 Per JEVKINS C J and N R CHATTERJEE J (MULLICK J dissenting) The interest of an unregistered purchaser of a portion of a putni tenure is not an incumbrance within the meaning of s. 161 of the Bengal Tenancy Act Chundra Sakas v Kallu Prasanno Chuckerbutty I L R 23 Calc 264 distinguished A purchaser of a tenure at a sale held in execution of a rent decree is not therefore required to annul such an interest (i.e. of an unregistered purchaser of a portion of a putni) under the provisions of s. 167 in order to get a clear title ABDUL PAHMAN CHOWDHURY v AHMADAR PAHMAN (1915) I L R 43 Calc 558

INCURABILITY

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 38 Mad 250

INDEMNITY

See CONTRACT ACT s 124
See HINDU LAW (MITAKSHARA)
3 Pat L J 396

See SALE I L R 35 All 168

INDEMNITY—contd —

contract of—

See ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT
I L R 37 Mad 270

to Estate of sebast—

See PARTIES I L R 37 Calc 229

right to—

See EXECUTOR I L R 45 Calc 538

INDEMNITY BOND

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF
I L R 35 All 68

Suit to recover money payable under an indemnity bond—Decree passed against plaintiff but money not actually paid—Suit maintainable It is not necessary that before a suit on an indemnity bond can be filed the plaintiff should have already been compelled to make the payment in respect of which he is seeking to be indemnified It is sufficient that a decree has been passed against him for such payment British Union and National Insurance Co v Pawson [1916] 2 Ch D 476 and Tota Das v Babu Ganesh Prasad (unreported) Civil Decisions No 79 of 1907 decided on January 31st 1910 referred to CHITANJI LALL v NARAIN (1910) I L R 41 All 395

INDEPENDENT ADVICE

See GIFT (PUPDANASHY DOKOR)
I L R 39 Calc 933

See PAPDANASHY LADA
L R 46 I A 272

INDIAN ARMY OFFICER

attachment of pay of—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 38 Bom 667
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1909) s 60
I L R 39 All 308

INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE

salary derived from by member of Joint Family—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY
I L R 33 Lah 40

INDIAN COMPANIES ACT

See COMPANIES ACT

INDIAN COUNCILS ACT 1861 (24 & 25 VIC c 67)

s 22—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT
3 Pat L J 581

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY
I L R 37 Calc 467

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT
I L R 40 Calc 391

ss 22 and 42

See HINDU LAW—WILL
I L R 44 Mad 446

s 23—

See CONTRACT WITH ALIEN ENEMY
I L R 41 Bom 390

ss 42 and 44—

See BYE LAWS I L R 47 Calc 547

INDIAN COUNCILS ACT 1909 (9 EDW VII, c 4)

s 6—

See ELECTION I L R 41 Calc 384

INDIAN EXPLOSIVES ACT (IV OF 1884)

rule 3 (1) (b)—

See MAGISTRATE I L R 39 Calc 119

INDIAN HIGH COURTS ACT 1861 (24 & 25 VIC c 104)

See HIGH COURTS ACT

ss 9 11 13 & 15—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT
3 Pat L J 581

s 104—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT
3 Pat L J 537

INDIAN INSOLVENCY ACT 1848 (11 & 12 VIC c 21)

See INSOLVENCY I L R 32 Calc 72

See INSOLVENCY ACT

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907) s 2, 3, 121
I L R 37 Bom 464

INDIAN LEGISLATURE

powers of—

See PROCESSION I L R 40 Calc 470

INDIAN MARINE SERVICE

See SERVICE OF SUMMONS
I L R 42 Calc 67

INDIAN STAFF CORPS

See INDIAN ARMY OFFICERS

INDIGO cultivation of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Calc 432

INDIVIDUAL COMMUNITY

See PUBLIC ROAD RIGHT TO USE
I L R 34 Bom 571

INFANT

See EVIDENCE L R 43 I A 256

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE
I L R 42 Calc 351

See PROBATE 14 C W N 1068

In partnership concern—

See SALE OF GOODS
I L R 40 Calc 523

Golden Temple Amritsar—

I L R 1 Lah 511

Custody of—Mother parting with child under agreement not to take it back at loses her right to custody—Circumstances in which restoration will be refused It is well settled that a mother cannot be deprived of her natural right of absolute control over her own child by any agreement by which she makes over the child to another to be brought up as the latter's own even though she might have definitely stipulated never to claim back the child. But there may be circumstances in a particular case which would render it undesirable in the interests of the infant that she would resume her rights when she has once made over the child to another and associations or expectations have been created on the part of the infant. The mother of a posthumous boy made him over when two or three months old to her sister to be brought up as her own in order that she might go and have herself trained as a nurse and be thereby in a position to bring up her children of whom there were four others who were placed in various charitable institutions. When the boy whom the aunt was bringing up as her own child and for whom she had much affection was 7½ years old the mother being now in a position to maintain and bring up the child asked for the custody of the child. Hill—That in the circumstances of the case the child should be restored to the mother. LAWY LUMINE INTERVIEW EARNETT HENRY SHAVE 24 C W N 711 from facts which are not evidence—

INFANT—con

INFERENCE

See EVIDENCE ACT (1 of 1872) s 48
I L R 42 Bom 352

of Law—

See PENT I L R 38 Calc 278

INFORMANT

See FALSE INFORMATION TO POLICE
I L R 46 Calc 807

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 44 Calc 850

INFORMATION

Criminal Procedure Code s 200—Information means a charge of—Compensation—Order if can be made against servant for information given on behalf of master—
Information subsequent to the original complaint—
The question whether a servant can be held responsible under s 200 Criminal Procedure Code for an information lodged on behalf of his master is a question of fact and depends on the question whether the servant is merely the mouthpiece of the master and is merely giving expression to his master's accusation or whether he joins personally in the accusation himself. In the former case no order of compensation should be made against the servants under s 200 Criminal Procedure Code. Information referred to in s 200 Criminal Procedure Code need not necessarily be the information on which the case is instituted. Where a person making a complaint against an accused person subsequently gives information leading to the accusation of others in the case he may be dealt with under s 200 Criminal Procedure Code in respect of his subsequent information. The words from information received in s 107 Criminal Procedure Code refers to the information given in s 164 Criminal Procedure Code. JAGDAMI PERSHAD SINGH v. MANABHO KANDOO (1909) 1 O W N 328

INFRINGEMENT

See JUDGMENT I L R 40 Calc 978

See SEARCH WARRANT
I L R 47 Calc 184

of rules—

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION
I L R 47 Calc 524

of Trade-mark—

See TRADE MARK
I L R 37 All 204 and 448
I L R 38 Calc 110

INHERENT JURISDICTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 151
AND O ALI 19
I L R 45 Bom 648

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF See PUNJAB I L R 44 Calc 929

INHERENT POWER

See APPEAL I L R 42 Calc 433

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
s 144 I L R 35 Bom 255
141 and 141 I L R 1 Lah 339
O I P 8 I L R 1 Lah 580
O I P 10 I L R 35 Bom 393
O I P 8 AND O s 141
I L R 34 All 428

See DECREE AMENDMENT OF
I L R 39 Calc 265

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
14 C W N 836

See HIGH COURT POWER OF
See PRACTICE I L R 34 Bom 408

See STAY OF EXECUTION
I L R 40 Calc 955

criminal Court to release attachment—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898 s 140 AND 146 I L R 1 Lah 451

to amend decree—

See PRACTICE I L R 37 Calc 849

to restore application for execution dismissed for default—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 141
AND 151 I L R 2 Lah 66

INHERITANCE

See ALIYASANTANA LAW
I L R 39 Mad 12

See BURNISH LAW
I L R 41 Calc 887
I L R 44 Calc 379

See CUSTOM I L R 39 Calc 418
I L R 44 Calc 749
I L P 45 Calc 450

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
I L R 40 Calc 82
I L R 43 Calc 64

INHERITANCE—contd*See* MAHOMADAN LAW—INHERITANCE*See* OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 42 Calc 254

by mortgagor of decree for sale on prior mortgage—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 All 309

right of women to—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII n 3

I L R 38 Mad 850

Sudra ascetic right of to—

See HINDU LAW—ADoption

I L R 40 Mad 846

INJUNCTION*See* ARBITRATION 23 C W N 811*See* CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

s. 9 I L R 34 All 527

s. 11 I L R 36 Bom 223

s. 60 f I L R 37 Bom 246

s. 115 I L R 40 Bom 83

O XXXVIII n 5

I L R 37 All 423

O XXXIX n 1

I L R 35 All 425

I L R 33 All 70

I L R 42 All 134

I L R 43 All 382

1 Pat L J 560

O LXXIV n 2

I L R 38 Bom 381

O XL n 1 I L R 38 All 10

See CONSEQUENTIAL RELIEF PRAYER FOR

I L R 39 Calc 704

See CONTRACT ACT (IV OF 1872) s. 30

I L R 42 Bom 678

See DECREE FOR INJUNCTION*See* EASEMENTS I L R 36 Mad 11

I L R 44 Bom 496

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom. 466*See* HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 38 All 520

See INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS

3 Pat L J 456

See JURISDICTION

I L R 48 Calc 582

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 35 All 292

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) Sch

II Art 178 I L R 34 All 436

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—

Sch I Arts 120 141

I L R 42 Bom 373

Sch I Art 181

I L R 42 All 564

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT

I L R 33 Mad 366

See MINE 19 C W N 887*See* MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad. 6

INJUNCTION—contd*See* PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)— ss 186 275 3 Pat L J 106

s 188 I L R 40 Mad 543

See PERPETUAL INJUNCTION*See* PRAOWAL I L R 43 All 20*See* PUBLIC ROAD RIGHT TO USE

I L R 34 Bom 571

See PROSTRATION

I L R 45 Bom 170

See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHT

I L R 44 Bom 454

See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION*See* TORT I L R 43 Bom 164*See* TRADE MARK

I L R 35 Bom 425

I L R 37 Calc 204

See TRADE NAME

I L R 40 Calc 570

See VITI I L R 45 Bom 224 against person wrongfully collecting rent—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 105

I L R 38 Lah 252

and declaration—

See DECLARATION ETC

I L R 38 Mad 922

Court fees payable—

See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s. 7

I L R 45 Bom 567

interlocutory disobedience of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XLIII n 1 (r) AND O

LXXIX n 2 cl. (3)

I L R 39 Mad 907

notice whether necessary—

See PRINCIPAL TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT

III OF 1909 s. 38.

I L R 44 Bom 555

order for an account is not—

See PENAL CODE s. 180 225

3 Pat L J 106

prayer for—

See COURT FEE I L R 40 Calc 245 relief by—

See NUISANCE I L R 40 Bom 401

suit for—

See MAHATDARS COURTS ACT (BOM.

ACT II OF 1906) s. 23

I L R 27 Bom 595

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT

1909 ss 38 AND 52

I L R 44 Bom 555

See TRADE NAME INFRINGEMENT OF

I L R 41 Bom 49

tree branches projecting—

See EASEMENT I L R 44 Bom 605

I ———— Restraining execution of a decree obtained in a previous suit—Against the plaintiff—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) ss.

INJUNCTION—contd

31 of (6). Where the defendant has not invaded or threatened to invade the plaintiff's right to or enjoyment of any property and there is no apprehension of a multiplicity of judicial proceedings to which the plaintiff need be subjected for the purpose of establishing or safeguarding his right or for preventing the acquisition of rights of the defendant—Held that a bill of the Specific Relief Act constitutes a manifest bar in the way of the plaintiff's suit for a declaration that the defendant has no title to lands in suit and for perpetual injunction restraining the defendant from taking possession of the lands by executing his decree. Dharam Singh v Aggarwal 1 L P & C 340 followed in principle. Appar v Panna 1 L P & C 340 & 3 not followed. KARNAPUR HALDER v HARIPRAKASH ROY CHAUDHURI (1910) 1 L R 3rd Cal 31

32 of (6)—Cases where injunction might be granted—Plaintiff out of possession—Irreparable injury Where the plaintiff is out of possession and claims possession the Court will refuse to interfere by grant of injunction against the defendant in possession under a claim of right but where the threatened injury will be irreparable an injunction will lie at the instance of a complainant out of possession. No injunction should be granted in a case where there is no foundation for any suggestion that the defendants are about to commit an act in the nature of waste. Where the plaintiff has another adequate remedy and where if an injunction were granted it would be of the rarest description no injunction ought to be granted in such cases. KAZNO FRA AD BIGHI v SHIVIBASH PRASAD SINGH (1911) 1 L R 38 Cal 91

33 of (6)—Jurisdiction—Restraint of proceedings in a subordinate Court outside the jurisdiction of High Court—Injunction in personam The High Court can restrain proceedings in a Court outside its jurisdiction only if the party sought to be restrained is within its jurisdiction and it is not sufficient that the party should have property within the jurisdiction. Icon Iron Works v Dumbuthi & Podd 1 L P & C 230 followed. The Carron Iron Co v Macdonald 5 H L C 416 referred to. Mungle Chasi v Gopal Ram 1 L R 34 Cal 101 not followed. JUNKA DAS v HARCHARAN DAS (1910) 1 L R 38 Cal 405

34 of (6)—Suit against Secretary of State for India—Jurisdiction—Suit for—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1908) s 44—Notice—Injunction The plaintiff an inamdar of a village was called upon by the Collector to hand over the management of the village to Government officials on the ground that in the events that had happened the inam had become resumable by Government. The plaintiff thereupon without giving the notice required by s 424 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1908) filed a suit against the Secretary of State for India in Council for a declaration that he was entitled to hold the village inam and for a permanent injunction restraining the defendant from resumming the village. Held that the suit was bad in absence of notice required by s 424 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1908). The term act used in s 424 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 relates only to the public officers not to the Secretary of

INJUNCTION—contd

State. The expression no suit shall be instituted against the Secretary of State in Council is wide enough to include suits for every kind whether for injunction or otherwise. Per HEATON J—Where there is a serious injury so imminent that it can only be prevented by an immediate injunction a Court will not be debarred from entertaining the suit and issuing the injunction though the section requires previous notice. It is owing to the immediate need of the injunction that the plaintiff has come to the Court for relief before giving the required notice. Flower v Local Board of Law Leyton 8 Ch D 347 followed. SECRETARY OF STATE v CAJANAN KRISHNARAO (1911) 1 L R 38 Bom 362

35 of (6)—Temporary—Order by Revenue Court—Suit for setting aside—Competency of Civil Court to grant injunction—Temporary injunction It may be granted when perpetual injunction is sought for—Civil Procedure Code (Act IV of 1908) O XXIV s 2—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1855) s 11 Although a decree may have been passed by a Revenue Court when it is under execution in a Civil Court proceedings may be stayed by the Civil Court if a suit has been brought for a declaration that the decree was obtained by fraud or was made without jurisdiction and for a perpetual injunction to restrain the decree holder from executing the decree. In granting a temporary injunction the Court acts in aid of the legal right so that the property may be preserved in status quo. Where the plaintiffs sued for a declaration that a certain order by the Revenue Court was without jurisdiction but did not ask for a perpetual injunction it was not competent to them to ask for a temporary injunction during the pendency of the suit. JITAL SINGH v KAMALESWARI PRASAD (1912) 18 W N 92

36 of (6)—Wrongfully obtained—Suit for damages if lies—Limitation No suit lies for damages against a defendant for maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause obtaining a perpetual injunction which has been subsequently dissolved on appeal. A temporary injunction granted in such a suit is in toto dissolved by the Court's decree granting a perpetual injunction. In a suit for damages in respect of the temporary injunction limitation would therefore run from the date when the temporary injunction was dissolved by the decree granting perpetual injunction. Per FLETCHER J Nothing in the Limitation Act can give a party a right of suit unless such right exists independent of the Limitation Act. And Kumar Shaha v Gour Sunkur 13 W R 305 is questionable authority in so far as it decides that a plaintiff can maintain a suit for damages against a defendant for maliciously and without probable cause obtaining an interlocutory injunction. An allegation by the plaintiff that the defendants were actuated by malice and that their suit for perpetual injunction ultimately proved unsuccessful when the decree of the High Court in their favour was set aside by His Majesty in Council was not a sufficient allegation of want of reasonable and probable cause. Want of probable cause is not to be inferred because of mere evidence of malice. Turner v Ambler 10 Q B 252 referred to. Per RICHARDSON J S 95 Civil Procedure Code seems to contemplate the possibility of a suit being brought to recover compensation in respect of a temporary injunction applied for on insufficient grounds or in a suit instituted without reasonable or probable cause. It is at least doubtful whether such a suit is maintainable in the absence of an undertaking to pay compensation. A party is not liable in damages for procuring an erroneous decision. Dhurmo Narain v Greenwally Doss 18 W P 410 referred to. MOHNI MOHAN MISSEER

INJUNCTION—contd

1. SURPNDRA NARAYAN SINGH (1914)

I L R 42 Calc 550
18 C W N 1189

2. Temporary—Status quo main tenance of—Indian High Courts Act (24 and 5 Act 103) s 15—Jurisdiction of the High Court to interfere. The plaintiffs were some of superior landlords of the disputed property which consisted of two plots of land and claimed to have been in direct possession of about one third of the property. The defendants who were in occupation of the remainder being alleged to have obtained a permanent lease from some of the co-sharers of the plaintiffs commenced to dig the foundations for an extension of their factory house. The plaintiffs sued for partition and applied for a temporary injunction. The defendants notwithstanding notice of the application for injunction expedited the erection of the building. It appeared that on partition the plaintiffs could not conveniently be allowed any share of one of the plots but must be limited to an allotment out of the other plot. Held that there was a substantial question in controversy between the parties and pending its determination the status quo should be maintained to the necessary extent. That it was desirable that the plot a share of which only could be allotted to the plaintiff on partition should be retained in status quo so that the Court might be free to grant such relief as it might think proper and an injunction should be granted restraining the defendants from building on this plot for a period of one month during which the partition suit was to be tried out. That it was open to the High Court to give the necessary directions under s 15 of the Indian High Courts Act and in a case of this description it was essential that the High Court should interfere to prevent what might otherwise place one of the litigating parties in an unfairly advantaged position and thus turn out in the end to be the cause of an irredeemable injustice to the other.
HEMANTA KUMAR ROY v BARAVAGORE JUTE FACTORY CO (1914) 19 C W N 442

3. Temporary—In junction in mandatory form—Power of Indian Courts to grant under O XXXI r 2 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Courts in India can under O XXXIX r 2 Civil Procedure Code issue temporary injunctions in a mandatory form.
Iraail v Shamser Rahman I L R 41 Calc 436 and Champsey Bhimji & Co v Jamna Flour Mills & Co 16 Bom L R 566 referred to. The view of BEAMAN J in Rasul Korim v Pirubhai Amirbhai I L R 38 Bom 381 not followed.
KANDASWAMI v SUBRAMANYA (1917)
I L R 41 Mad 208

10. Mandatory and prohibitory injunctions—Decree for injunction—Mode of enforcement—Execution—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 47 O XXI r 3rd cls (1) (5)
—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 181 Arts 181 182. Where in a suit for declaration of title to land the plaintiff contended that the defendant

INJUNCTION—contd

by raising a wall had disobeyed a permanent injunction embodied in a decree dated September 1893 and prayed for the demolition of the wall so far as it was above the height limited by the aforesaid injunction—Held that the remedy lay by way of execution under O XXI s 32 and the enforcement of an injunction being a question relating to the execution discharge or satisfaction of the decree by which it was awarded a separate suit was prohibited under s 47 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. Salarial Jagantrais v Bai
Parrallibai I L R 26 Bom 283 Drga Das
Vand v Deenraj Agarwal I L R 33 Calc 306
Jamsetji Manekji v Hari Dayal I L R 3rd Bom
181 referred to. PER PICHARDSON J O XXI r 32 cls (1) and (5) clearly applied to injunctions both mandatory and prohibitory. The expression the act required to be done in cl (5) meant what had to be done to enforce the injunction.
SACHI PRASAD MCKHERJEE v AMARNATH ROY
CHOWDHURY (1918) I L R 46 Calc 103

11. Jurisdiction of single Judge of a High Court to issue—Necessity of—Disobedience to—Power of High Court to punish for contempt a person who is a party before it but does not reside within its jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code 1908 O XXXI s 2—Rules of Court of the 18th January 1895 rr 1 and 1. Held (1) that a Judge of the High Court sitting singly has jurisdiction to issue an injunction to a party before the Court restraining such party from alienating his property subject to certain conditions (2) that when such an injunction has been ordered in open Court in the presence of counsel for both parties it may be presumed that the Court's order was communicated to the party affected thereby and it is not sufficient excuse for disobedience thereto that a formal notice of the injunction has not been served upon him personally (3) that the High Court has power to punish disobedience to such an injunction whether under O XXXI r 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure or by virtue of its inherent jurisdiction to punish contempt of its own orders and this power where the order in question has been passed against a party to a proceeding before it is not confined to persons living within the limits of its territorial jurisdiction. Vungle Chand v Gopal Ram I L R 34 Calc 101 and Vulcan Iron Works v Bishambhar Prasad I L R
36 Calc 233 referred to. RAM PRASAD SINGH
1. THE BEHARS BANK LTD
I L R 42 All 111

12. Abitration pro ceedings—Declaration suit—Contract the subject matter of the arbitration denied—Competency of the Court to grant injunction—Question of competency raised for the first time on appeal—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 52 53 54 and 56. The Court of Appeal cannot avoid the decision of a pure question of law which does not depend on the determination of a question of fact and which goes to the root of the matter and raises the question whether the Court was competent to grant the injunction sought for by the plaintiffs. Meen
akshi Vaidoo v Subramaniam Sastri I L R
11 Mad 26 L R 14 I A 160 and Connecticut
Fire Insurance Company v Karanagh [1892]
1 O 473 referred to. Where there is a breach of an existing legal right which is vested in the applicants the breach thereof may be restrained

INJUNCTION—contd

Injunction—Impr of Cos I est and Coke Cycle v v Frodolet II L C 660 referred to. In a suit for declaration that a certain contract entered into between the plaintiffs and the defendants was not binding on the plaintiffs inasmuch as they did not enter into such a contract and that they were accordingly entitled to an injunction to restrain arbitration. Held that no injunction could be claimed under s 36 of the Specific Relief Act. Held also that the injunction claimed should not be granted in view of the provision of s (1) of s 3 which laid down that an injunction could not be granted when equally efficacious relief could certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding (except in case of breach of trust). Held also that if the plaintiffs' case that they did not enter into the alleged contract were well founded the arbitration proceedings before the Bengal Chamber of Commerce even if they resulted in an award could only terminate in an award which would be a nullity and could not possibly affect the rights of the plaintiffs if the arbitrators made an award in favour of the defendants (which itself was doubtful) the plaintiffs would have ample opportunity to protect themselves by an appropriate proceeding. Held also that s 54 and s 56 must be read together as supplementing each other and it would be an erroneous construction of the statute to hold that the right to an injunction should be determined independently of the provision of ss 54 and 56 by reference to the terms of s 3. I AM HENRY JOHNSON v LOONAN MILL (1920) I L R 47 Cal 733 13 ——— Device—Right as sole importer and seller—Misrepresentation effect of—Cycles sold as being made by a Company not in existence whether or not to misrepresentation—Injunction whether could be granted when there was misrepresentation. The Plaintiff (Respondent) who was the agent of the Veloce Limited of Birmingham for the sale of the Veloce Cycles arranged with them for the manufacture and sale in India of a cheap quality cycle and the name or transfer of Warrior Cycle was adopted. Letters were circulated by the plaintiff in India about December 1910 containing Warrior specification and were used in the name of Warrior Cycle Company Birmingham and described the Plaintiff as their agent in India. There was no warrior Cycle Company Birmingham but the name was adopted by the Veloce Limited to keep the two qualities separate. In December 1910 the Plaintiff also ordered the supply of Warrior Cycle with the same Warrior Transfer and specification from the Victoria Motor Cycle Company Limited Glasgow and these arrived in July 1911. In September 1911 the Plaintiff's agency with the Veloce Limited came to an end and the sole agency was placed with Levetus & Co. New lists were prepared upon which the Defendants (Appellants) were described as import agents. In October 1911 Veloce Limited registered in England the word Warrior as a trade mark in connection with cycles. The plaintiff claimed the exclusive use in India of the Warrior Transfer as being one employed by him and understood by the dealers and purchasers as indicating importation and sale by himself and asked for an injunction restraining the Defendants from passing off cycles not imported by the plaintiff with the same transfer on them for delivery of cycles in their custody and for other reliefs. Held—That the plaintiff had failed to prove that he was the owner of the mark or transfer or that he had a right to use the same alone in India. Held also—That as there was no Warrior Cycle Company in Birmingham there was a material misrepresentation on the part of the Plaintiff and he was not entitled to the relief asked for. See AND LANDIT: L S OAKES

INJUNCTION—contd

24 C W N 155

14 ——— For stay of suit—On the ground of suit relating to same matter in foreign Court—Injunction regulating such injunction—Suit in Calcutta by Plaintiff and suit by the Defendant against Plaintiff about same subject matter in a foreign Court—Plaintiff's application for injunction and principle regulating it. The very sound principle laid down in Hyman v Heim 24 Ch D 331 (1890) and Cardapulo v Cardapulo 25 F L R 515 (1909) is that a Defendant in a pending suit here should not be restrained from commencing and prosecuting proceedings in a foreign Court to enforce rights which he acquired within the jurisdiction of the foreign Court against the Plaintiff under the law of that foreign country should not be impaired. In an application for an injunction to restrain the Defendant in a pending suit from prosecuting an action in a foreign Court about the same subject matter it is an essential condition that it should be applied for very promptly and that it should not be applied for after a considerable amount of time and trouble has been expended in the foreign suit. TRUM CHAND SACTORECHAND v SACTORECHAND SINGH [24 C W N 735]

15 ——— To restrain defendant from officiating as priest—In certain houses main sanctity of. Where in a suit between priests for enforcement of a partition both of the family zajars and of the family birr the court granted the plaintiff an injunction restraining the defendants from trespassing on certain areas within which the plaintiffs were by the terms of the partition deed entitled to sole control over the jaymans held that neither the injunction nor an order directing the ascertainment of the defendants' earnings from the specified area during the three years prior to the suit could be maintained. LUFAN PANDEY v IRAYAO PANDEY (1918) 4 Pat L J 53

INJUNCTION IN PERSONAM

See INJUNCTION I L R 38 Cal 405

INJURED PERSON

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877) s 40 I L R 40 Mad 125

INJURY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 345 and 439 I L R 37 All 419

See TRADE NAME I L R 40 Cal 570

Irreparable—

See INJUNCTION I L R 38 Cal 791

to health—

See DIVORCE I L R 39 Cal 395

See NUISANCE I L R 35 Cal 286

INJURY—contd

to house—

See PROHIBITORY ORDER

I L R 38 Calc 876

IN PARI DELICTOSee KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT 1 of 1850) s 9 10

I L R 38 Bom 709

INQUIRYSee CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss
107 AND 117 I L R 37 All 30

See MAGISTRATE TRANSFER OF

I L R 37 Calc 812

by District Magistrate—

See CRIMINAL TRIBES

I L R 47 Calc 843

delegation of—

See SURETY I L R 46 Calc 1024 order passed without—

See LIMITATION ACT (LA OF 1909) s
18 ART 47 I L R 38 Mad 432INQUISITION

See LUNACY I L R 48 Calc 577

INSANITY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 14 15 154 161 etc

3 Pat L J 291

= 464 AND 465 I L R 42 All 127

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 38 Calc 700

INSOLVENCY

See BANKRUPTCY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 CH
X s 341 14 C W N 143

I L R 35 All 402

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XII r 10 I L R 39 Bom 568

See CONTRACT ACT s 247

I L R 42 All 515

See COSTS I L R 46 Calc 156

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 41 Calc 50

See FORFEITURE L L R 39 Calc 1048

See INDIAN INSOLVENCY ACT

See INSOLVENT

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877
SCH II ART 179

I L R 39 Bom 20

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 19

I L R 35 Bom 383

See MINOR I L R 42 Calc 225

See OFFICIAL RECEIVER

I L R 38 Calc 887

See PRESIDENTY TOWNS INSOLVENCY
ACT) 1909—See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III) OF
OF 1907—

See RECEIVER I L R 40 Calc 678

INSOLVENCY—contdSee TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 56 I L R 42 All 336

of Hindu in Singapore—

See BANKRUPTCY I L R 40 Mad 581

of partner—

See MINOR I L R 42 Calc 225

of purchaser—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 40 Calc 523

Rules (Calcutta)—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 47 Calc 721

transfer of petition for—

See PRESIDENTY TOWNS INSOLVENCY
ACT (III OF 1909) s 90

I L R 38 Mad 472

1 ——— Ad interim protection—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) s 4 and s 1 cl (c) 47 48 16 (b) 13 18—High Court if may grant interim protection and appoint receiver pending appeal—Interim jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) s 151 Where an appeal has been preferred against an order refusing the appellant's application to be declared an insolvent the High Court has power in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction as a Court of appeal to make an ad interim order for protection of the appellant and for the appointment of a receiver of his assets during the pendency of the appeal. Panchanan Singh v Durka Nath Poy 3 C L J 29 Sukum Chauli Daul v Kamalanand Singh 3 O I J 67 relied on as there appeared to be substantial points in controversy in the case which required consideration the High Court granted ad interim protection pending appeal to the appellant and also appointed a receiver of his assets. Ashtu Raju v Basiruddin Ahmed (1910) 14 C W N 588

2 ——— Punjab Laws Act (IV of 1872) s 27—Order of Insolvent Estates Court at Amritsar declaring debtors insolvents and appointing a Receiver—Subsequent order of High Court Bombay under 11 and 12 Act (Indian Insolvency Act) declaring some debtors insolvent and vesting their property in Official Assignee Bombay By the provisions of the Punjab Laws Act (IV of 1872) as to the property in the Punjab of debtors who have by an order under the Act been declared insolvents the Court is entrusted (by s 27) with merely administrative powers with regard to it and no transfer of the property takes place. Held therefore by the Judicial Committee (reversing the decision of the Chief Court) that where such an order had been made by the Insolvent Estates Court at Amritsar in respect of certain debtors carrying on business at (amongst other places) Amritsar and Bombay and a receiver of their property had been appointed by the Court a subsequent order of the High Court of Bombay in its Insolvency Jurisdiction made under the Indian Insolvency Act II (and 12 Vict c 21) declaring the same debtors insolvents and vesting their property in the Official Assignee of Bombay had the effect notwithstanding that it was of later date than the order of the Punjab Court of vesting all the property of the debtors including that in the Punjab in the Official Assignee of Bombay. The High Court had rightly held that the Insolvent debtor sections of the Civil Procedure Code (Act

INSOLVENCY—cont'd

XIV of 1855) were not applicable to the case
OFFICIAL ASIGNEE COMPANY v. INDIAN SMALL CAUSE COURT APPEAL (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 418

5. ————— Insolvency in foreign jurisdiction—Effect of a letter patent on discharge of debts—Insolvency does not operate as a discharge of debts in all jurisdictions. In the absence of authority that insolvency does not operate in a particular jurisdiction the Court is not entitled to assume in favour of a debtor that the debt is discharged by his insolvency in that jurisdiction. LANGA PRASAD PARAYATHI v. NARAYANA RAMI PADAYATHI (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 247

6. ————— Adjudication in England—Trustee in Bankruptcy—Effect on the Indian Court to act in aid and to be auxiliary to the English Court—Lombard v. Lloyds—Jurisdiction—Bankruptcy Act 1843 (46 and 47 Vict. c. 52) s. 114—In re J. J. J. Insolvency Act (111 of 1907) s. 16. The firm of L. King & Co. carrying on business in London as well as in Calcutta was adjudicated bankrupt in England and a Trustee in Bankruptcy of the property of the firm was appointed by the English Court. On an application of the Trustee in Bankruptcy to that Court it was ordered that the High Court of Judicature in Bengal be requested to act in aid and to be auxiliary to it. The Trustee in Bankruptcy thereupon petitioned the High Court in Bengal to grant the order of the English Court and seeking the assistance of the High Court in aid and to be auxiliary to it. He obtained an order that the High Court of Judicature in Bengal and its officers do act in aid and to be auxiliary to the High Court of Justice in England and further that James, the Manager in Calcutta of the firm of L. King & Co. do personally attend before this Court to be examined before it. L. J. James appearing on the date fixed for his examination and objecting that he ought not to be examined because the order ought not to have been made. Held that to get the jurisdiction to examine James as a witness there must be a request from the English Court to the High Court in aid and a letter of request from the one Court to the other ought to have been sent and that the order of the English Court presented by the Trustee in Bankruptcy was not sufficient to give this Court jurisdiction. In re J. J. J. & Co. Bankrupts (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 542

7. ————— Banker and customer—Money held by banker in suspense account—Fiduciary relationship—Certain monies were held by A. & Co. bankers in suspense on the claimant's account. Pending negotiations as to its investment the bankers failed. Held per MILLER & MUNRO JJ. (ABDUL RAHIM J. dissenting) that the money was not held in a fiduciary capacity and the relationship of banker and customer existed between the parties. Per MILLER J.—When a man pays money into a bank whether he is a customer or not the presumption is the absence of other evidence will be that he pay the money in to be held by the banker as bankers ordinarily hold the moneys of their customers. Official Assignee v. Smith I L R 32 Mad 68 followed. Per ABDUL RAHIM J.—Money held by a banker to a suspense account does not amount to payment to the bank. Commercial Bank of Australia

INSOLVENCY—cont'd

v. Official Assignee of the Estate of Wilson & Co (1905) I C 181 followed. OFFICIAL ASIGNEE OF MARRAS v. MHAITARANNAHAR SATTAYANA SAKAYA NIDHI (1910) I L R 34 Mad 125

8. ————— Insolvency in Presidency Towns—Appeal under the Letters Patent s. 15—Indian Insolvency Act II of 1907 Act 21—(H. J. Court Act 24 of 1907 Act 104)—Banker and customer relationship of—Fiduciary capacity—Money held in—A further appeal lies under s. 15 of the Letters Patent from the judgment of two Judges of the High Court who differ in opinion in an appeal from the Commissioner in Insolvency. Under s. 11 of the High Court Act 21 of 1907 Act 104 the Indian Insolvency Act s. 7 is not applicable to the High Court as being inconsistent with s. 15 of the Letters Patent. A customer instructed his banker to purchase a Government Promissory Note with money standing to his credit with the banker. Before doing so the banker failed. On a motion by the customer to have his amount paid in full. Held per MILLER J.—A mere direction by a customer to a banker to apply money at credit of the former's account in a particular way does not alter the relationship between banker and customer. Per MUNRO J. (dissenting from his judgment in the same case reported in I L R 33 Mad at p. 116). The mere undertaking of the banker to purchase a note could not have the effect of transferring the ownership of the sum of money necessary for the purchase from the banker to the customer. OFFICIAL ASIGNEE OF MARRAS v. SATTAYANA (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 121

9. ————— Effect of adjudication order—Property situate at Delhi attached by order of District Court of Delhi—Title of Official Assignee—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (111 of 1907) s. 16—Auxiliary Act—Provincial Insolvency Act (111 of 1907) s. 16—Under s. 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act on the making of an order of adjudication by this Court the property of the insolvent situate in every part of British India vests in the Official Assignee of Bengal. Official Assignee v. Lombay & Co. Proprietors Small Cause Court Appeal I L R 37 Cal 413

I L R 37 Cal 413 followed. Where prior to the order of adjudication by this Court certain properties at Delhi belonged to the insolvent were attached under decrees of the District Court of Delhi and the subsequent application of the Official Assignee of Bengal for realisation of the insolvent's assets so attached was refused by the District Judge and the properties were thereafter sold in execution and the sale proceeds brought into the District Court an order was made under s. 126 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act requiring the District Judge of Delhi to act in aid under s. 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act. In re JIWANDAS JHAWAR (1912)

I L R 40 Cal 78

10. ————— Title of official Assignee—Attachment under Mortgage decree and order for sale of mortgaged property—Fiduciary order under s. 7 of Insolvency Act (11 of 1907 Act 21) effect of—Sale after vesting order—Sale by Official Assignee to plaintiff—Title of purchaser from Official Assignee as against judgment creditor purchasing at sale in execution of his own decree—Notice—An attachment in execution of a money decree on a mortgage of land followed by an order for sale of the interest of the judgment debtor does not create any charge on the land Sarkies v Bundhoo Bacc 1 A W P 172 referred to. An attachment prevents and avoids any private alienation but does not invalidate an alienation by operation of law such as is effected by a vesting order under the Indian Insolvency Act (11 C. L. Vict. 21) and an order for sale though it binds the parties does not confer title. Previous to the 8th September 1904 a colliery leased to the judgment debtors was attached under a mortgage decree by the respondents (judgment creditors) and an order for sale on 11th September was made but at the request of the judgment debtors the sale was postponed until the 10th. On 8th September the judgment debtors filed their petition in the Insolvency Court in Calcutta and the usual vesting order was made on the same day. On 17th September the execution proceedings were stayed. After issue of notice on the application of the respondent to the Official Assignee to show cause why he should not be substituted in the place of the judgment debtors the Subordinate Judge on 10th January 1905, finding that the notice had been duly served made the order for substitution and fixed the sale for 6th March 1905, on which day the property was sold and purchased by the respondents who in June were put into possession. Meanwhile on 23rd May 1905 the Official Assignee with leave from the Insolvency Court in March 1903 sold the property to a purchaser who on 4th June 1903 sold it to the plaintiffs by whom on 16th July 1903 the present suit was brought for possession of the colliery. Hell (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the notice calling on the Official Assignee to show cause why he should not be substituted for the judgment debtors was not a proper notice under s. 248 of the Civil Procedure Code 1885. A notice under that section should have called on him to show cause why the decree should not be executed against him. But as under the notice to have been duly served (which was denied) the sale was altogether irregular and inoperative. The property having vested in the Official Assignee it was wrong to allow the sale to proceed at all. The judgment creditors had no charge on the land and the Court could not properly give them such a charge at the expense of the other creditors of the insolvents. In the second place no proper steps had been taken to bring the Official Assignee before the Court and obtain an order binding on him and accordingly he was not bound by anything which had been done. In the third place the judgment debtors had at the time of the sale no right title or interest which could be sold to or vested in a purchaser and consequently the respondents acquired no title to the property. Mallarjun v Narhari 1 L R 25 Bom 337 1 R 27 I A 216 distinguished. No proper notice was served under s. 248 of the Civil Procedure Code and the respondent had full notice and was responsible for the irregularities of the procedure adopted. RAGHU NATH DAS v SUNDAR DAS KHETRI (1914)

INSOLVENCY—contd

I L R 42 Cal 72

9 ——— Interim Receiver—Insolvent's money, attachment of before the adjudication order—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) s. 23 cl. (2) s. 36 cl. (2) s. 37 cl. (1)—Bankruptcy Act of 1883 (16 cl. 47 cl. 62) s. 40 An interim receiver is appointed for the protection of the estate of the debtor for the benefit of the entire body of creditors. Ex parte Fox L P 17 Q B D 3 referred to. Cl. (1) of s. 34 of the Provincial Insolvency Act restricts the operation of s. 16 cl. (6) thereof, A creditor who had attached a sum of money due to the insolvent before his estate vested in the receiver appointed after the adjudication order is entitled to apply it exclusively in satisfaction of his debt. MADHO SARDAR v KHITISH CHANDRA BAWERJE (1914)

INSOLVENCY—contd

I L R 42 Cal 289

10 ——— Practice—Insolvency—Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) s. 36 (4) (5) whether applicable to contentious matters S 36 (4) and (5) of the Insolvency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 is intended to provide a summary procedure for ordering payment of debts due and delivery of property belonging to an insolvent where there is no dispute it is not intended for contentious matters or for following property the subject of fraudulent preference or dishonest concealment. In re J. M. LUCAS AND ANOTHER (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 109

11 ——— Infant—Whether can be adjudicated an insolvent—An infant cannot be adjudicated an insolvent under any circumstances Ex parte Jones L R 18 Ch D 109 followed. SITAL PRASAD AND OTHERS 1 c (1916)

I L R 43 Cal 1157

12 ——— Security for costs—Appeal—Jurisdiction—Insolvency—Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) s. 8 (2) (b) Civil Procedure Code (1 cl. of 1908) ss. 117 151 and O. A. L. r. 10—Practice On an application to the Court of Appeal for security for costs in an appeal from an order of a Judge in insolvency—Held that the Court has jurisdiction to entertain the application under s. 117 and O. A. L. r. 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure read with s. 8 (2) (b) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. Sesha Ayyar v. Nagarathna Lala 1 F. J. 1, Mat 121 not followed. LAKSHMIYA DAS v. RAJAKISHORE DAS (1915)

I L R 43 Cal 243

13 ——— Application to wrong Court—Limitation Act (11 of 1908) s. 14 inapplicability of to insolvency proceedings—Appeal notice of only to interested parties S. 14 of the Limitation Act does not apply to proceedings under the Provincial Insolvency Act. Hence an application filed in a wrong Court to declare a debtor an insolvent and re-presented to a right Court can be said to be presented only on the date of its re-presentation and if on such date of its re-presentation the application is not maintainable for any reason such as that the act of fraudulent preference as in this case having occurred more than three months before the date of re-presentation it is liable to be rejected. In an appeal by a creditor in insolvency proceedings it is sufficient if notice is given of the appeal only to the parties directly affected by the order of the lower Court and not to all creditors who may have any remote or possible interest in the result of the appeal. TRASI DEVA RAO v. PARAMESWARAYA (1914)

I L R 39 Mad 74

14 ——— Debtor presenting his own petition—Application for discharge—Abuse of process of Court—Jurisdiction to annual adjudication—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) ss. 14 15 21 38—Rules of the Insolvency of execution of his decree before and after adjudication. In 1914 one B P attached in execution of his own decree a decree held by his judgment debtors against other parties. In the same year a petition in insolvency was filed against the judgment debtors and in 1915 an interim receiver was appointed. The judgment debtors deposited the amount due under the attached decree in Court to the credit of B P who proceeded to draw out a considerable part of it. After this the judgment debtors were declared insolvents and subsequently to the adjudication B P assumed his rights under the attached decree to one M S. Held that the receiver had no right to recover the money realized by B P prior to the adjudication but in respect of any balance of the decretal money remaining due after the date of the adjudication the assignee might prove his claim as against the insolvents. The assignee would however be bound to account for any part of the decretal money which he might have realized after the adjudication. Sri Chand v. Murari Lal (I L R 34 All 628) and Dambar Singh v. Munawar Ali Khan (I L R 40 All 88) referred to. MUHAMMAD SHARIF v. RADHA MOHAN (1918) I L R 41 All 274

INSOLVENCY—contd

23 ——— Jurisdiction—Order by Registrar. In oblique appeal from—Limitation—Reference under Sch II s 18 of Act III of 1909—Validity of mortgage question of—Consent of parties—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) ss 6 101 Sch II s 18—The Calcutta Insolvency Bill 1910 r 5. The period of limitation prescribed by s 101 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) for an appeal from an order made by the Registrar in Insolvency shall be computed not as from the date when the findings of the Registrar are signed or filed but as from the date when the report is signed by the Registrar and the matter is thereby completed. Upon application by certain persons claiming to be mortgagees of an insolvent's estate an order was made by the Court directing them to prove their mortgage before the Registrar in Insolvency under s 18 of the second schedule of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909). Held that under such reference to him the Registrar had no jurisdiction to deal with the question of the validity or otherwise of the mortgage even with the consent of the parties before him so as to affect the interest of infants adversely by his decision. LALBHAI SHAH IN re (1920) I L P 47 Calc 721

24 ——— Procedure and Practice—Contempt—Verbal order by the Official Assignee to attend—Disobedience of order—Motion to commit to gaol—Application—Service of affidavits—Irregularity—Warrant—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) s 33 (2) (c) (v) and (4)—Insolvency Rules Nos 36 and 37. Having regard to the terms of s 33 (2) (c) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act there is no need for the Official Assignee to apply to the Court for an order for the insolvent's attendance nor any need for the Court's order to be in writing or to be served personally on the insolvent and to contain a notice that unless the insolvent complied with it he would be committed for contempt. An order given by the Official Assignee to attend his office in pursuance of s 33 (2) (c) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act need not necessarily be in writing. If an order is given by him verbally it is valid and there is a duty upon the insolvent to comply therewith. Non compliance with such order will render the insolvent liable to be punished for contempt of Court. There is no express provision that affidavits in support of the application for contempt should be served at the same time as the notice of application. PER CURIAM. In future if the Official Assignee intends to apply for a committal order for contempt of Court he will be well advised to put his order into writing and have it served on the persons intended to be proceeded against with a notice that if the order is not complied with proceedings for contempt will be taken. Further it is eminently desirable from all points of view that the procedure laid down by the Rules should be strictly complied with. BUCHANAN BANKA v. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF BENGAL (1919)

INSOLVENCY—contd

I L R 47 Calc 50

25 ——— Appeal by a creditor—Receiver made party—Respondent—Appeal of incompetent because other creditors not made parties. In an appeal by one of the creditor against an order overruling his contention that he was in the position of a secured creditor the Appellant joined as party Respondent the Receiver. Two of the creditors appeared by leave to support the order appealed against but other creditors who did not appear to contest the Appellant's case in the lower Court were not made parties to the appeal. Held—That the appeal was competent and it was not necessary to make the last mentioned creditors parties to it. THE EAST INDIA CIGARETTE MANUFACTURING CO. LD v. ANANDA MOHAN BASAK 24 C W N 401

26 ——— Person who claims title to property attached by the Insolvency Court as belonging to the insolvent—Whether competent to bring a regular suit to establish his rights after the Insolvency Court has rejected his application to have the property released—Provincial Insolvency Act III of 1907—Punjab Laws Act IV of 1872. Held that the plaintiffs who claimed title to certain property attached by the Insolvency Court as belonging to an insolvent were competent to bring a regular suit to establish their rights and that the order of the Insolvency Court rejecting their application for the removal of the attachment was no bar to such suit whether the case was governed by the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act or of the Punjab Laws Act. Duni Chand v. Muhammad Hussain (22 P R 1917) Aqbal Chohan v. Official Assignee (I L P 35 Bom 473) Barlow v. Cochrane (2 Beng L R O C 56) Satya Kumar v. Manager Benares Bank Ltd (22 Calc W N 700) and Ishad Hussain v. Cops Nath (I L R 41 All 373) referred to. Abdul Latif v. Official Assignee of Madras (I L R 40 Mad 113) Official Assignee of Madras v. Mangayyar Karasu (47 Indian Cases 298) and Pita Ram v. Jyoti Singh (I L R 33 All 626) dissented from. I AM PRASAD v. PUSANA MAL

I L W 2 Lah 147

27 ——— Member of an agricultural tribe—Whether Insolvency Court can proceed against the land of the insolvent by making a temporary alienation without the intervention of the Collector—Provincial Insolvency Act III of 1907 ss 16 (2) (a) and 21 (2)—Punjab Alienation of Land Act XIII of 1900 s 15—Civil Procedure Code Act V of 1908 ss 60 and 72. Held that an Insolvency Court is competent to proceed against the land of an insolvent who is a member of an ancestral tribe and effect a temporary alienation and it is not necessary that the receiver or the Court should proceed through the Collector. Pudrappa v. I. R. 1013 (1913) referred to also Punjab Act of Land Act 16 and Provincial Insolvency Act 10 (2) (a) and 21. Provisions which turn on the usual jurisdiction of a Civil Court to execute its decrees or orders must be strictly construed. See also Devi v. I. R. 1013 (1913) and I. R. 1013 (1913) followed. Held also that a Court or receiver proceeding under the Insolvency Act should proceed as far as possible on the same lines as a Court acting in execution of a decree made under 21 (a) of the Provincial Insolvency Act—and that consequently a farm or mortgage sale of the insolvent's land should not be for a term exceeding 30 years and should be automatically redeemed by the profits the debt being in either case extinguished. Maharaj v. Giridhar Lal.

INSOLVENCY—contd

I L R 2 Lah 78

23 ———— Whether sons of deceased insolvent have locus standi—Insolvency proceedings—Residence of Insolvency Act (III of 1903) s. 4. On general principles as well as on the express provisions in s. 4 (3) read with the further provisions in s. 4 of the Provincial Insolvency Act it is incumbent on the Court to permit the representatives of the insolvent to appear at the enquiry held with a view to framing the schedule under s. 24 of the Act. Quære Whether the representatives of the insolvent have locus standi to submit a proposal for composition? Pratap Singh and Another v. Jagdish Prasad Tagore (1909).

I L R 48 Cal 87

24 ———— Application for examination of witnesses—Residency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1903) s. 4—Appeal. Under the rules of the High Court an application for examination of a witness under s. 4 of the Residency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1903) should be made ex parte. In re Kishorey Mohan Roy O C W N 116, referred to Albert Ellis v. P. Dana & Co. (1921).

I L R 48 Cal 1089

INSOLVENCY ACT (11 & 12 VICT c 21)

See INDIAN INSOLVENCY ACT

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Cal 72

See RESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT 1903 s. 4 I L R 37 Bom 464

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Cal 72

25 7 27 49—Salary earned by insolvent after vesting order and before discharge vests in Official Assignee who however must get an order under s. 27. The earnings of an insolvent including salary after his insolvency and before his discharge vest in the Official Assignee under s. 7 of the Insolvency Act. The effect of s. 27 of the Act is not to cut down the operation of s. 7 but to require the Official Assignee before obtaining payment of any salary due to insolvent to obtain an Order of Court as to the amount necessary for the maintenance of the insolvent. A judgment creditor of the insolvent who is aware of the insolvency and whose judgment debt is included in the schedule cannot attach such salary without the giving Official Assignee an opportunity of obtaining an order under s. 27. The insolvent debtor has the right to object to such attachment as it is open to him to show that property attached as his belongs to another. Ranganatha Rao v. Vanda Chariar (1910).

INSOLVENCY ACT—contd——— ss 7, 27 49—contd

I L R 31 Mad 193

——— s 24—

See TRUSTEE I L R 35 Mad 712

26 39—Set off—Right of set off exists against Official Assignee in respect of bills discounted before and dishonoured after insolvency. Under ss 39 and 40 of the Indian Insolvency Act anything can be set off in India which can be set off in England and the Bankruptcy law in force for the time being. Mutual credits, which may be set off include credits which have a natural tendency to terminate in debt and not merely credits which must terminate in debts. Claims in respect of bills discounted for the insolvent before insolvency and dishonoured by the makers after insolvency can be set off under s. 39 of the Indian Insolvency Act. Miller v. National Bank of India I L R 19 Cal 119 disented from Young v. Bank of Bengal I Moo 148 referred to and explained. Alayer v. Currie & Co. I L R 751 followed. In the matter of CANTON & Co. (1909).

I L R 33 Mad 53

27 39 40—Mutual credits—Relate to date of vesting order—Insolvency Small Cause Courts Act s. 69—Money deposited as security under section does not become the property of the decree holder—Right to set off claims for unliquidated damages. Money deposited in Court under s. 63 of the Small Cause Courts Acts does not become the property of the decree holder. Before the date of the vesting order an insolvent had obtained two decrees against a debtor. In the case of one of the decrees, the debtor applied for a reference under s. 69 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act and the amount deposited by him remained in Court on the date of the vesting order. The High Court declining to express an opinion on the reference the decree became absolute and the money was paid to the Official Assignee. Before the date of the vesting order the debtor had brought a suit against the insolvent and a decree was passed therein against the insolvent after the vesting order. Held that the debtor was entitled under s. 39 of the Insolvency Act to set off against the amount of the two decrees obtained against him the amount due by the insolvent under the decree obtained by the debtor. The decree in respect of which the deposit was made remained unsatisfied in law on the date of the vesting order and was an item of credit within the meaning of s. 39 on such date. The subsequent payment to the Official Assignee did not deprive the debtor of his right of set off. Per KRISHNASWAMY AYYAR J.—Claims for unliquidated damages cannot be the subject of set off as mutual credits under s. 39 of the Indian Insolvency Act. Such claims are however mutual dealings within s. 38 of the English Acts of 1869 and 1883 and can form the subject of set off under s. 40 of the Indian Insolvency Act which makes the provisions of the subsequent English Acts applicable to the proof of claims under the Indian Insolvency Act. Chinnayyaraya Mudaly v. The Official Assignee of Madras (1910).

I L R 33 Mad 467

INSOLVENCY ACT—contd

s 73—'Person aggrieved'—Who is—Official Assignee right of to appeal as person aggrieved—Fiduciary relationship—Effect of Demand by creditor in creating fiduciary relationship between him and debtor A person aggrieved within the meaning of a 73 of the Indian Insolvency Act is a person against whom a decision has been pronounced which has wrongly refused him something which he had a right to demand Where a debtor whose claim to be paid in full was rejected by the Official Assignee moved the Insolvency Court making the Official Assignee a party and obtained an order directing payment in full the Official Assignee is a person aggrieved within the meaning of a 73 of the Act and is entitled to appeal against such order Ex parte Sidebottom in re Sidebottom 14 Ch D 458 165 referred to in Lamb Ex parte Board of Trade, [1894] 2 O B 805 referred to The Official Assignee in refusing the creditors claim does not act judicially and the notice of motion to Court cannot be considered as an appeal against a judicial or quasi-judicial proceeding of the Assignee Where a person pays money into a Bank without giving any directions the money becomes the property of the Bank and the relation between the Bank and the person paying is that of debtor and creditor Per Mc Nair J—Where the person paying money without any directions makes a proper demand for payment after the money has become payable the debtor is bound to remit at once such money to the creditor and the debtor thereafter holds such money in a fiduciary capacity just as if the creditor had received payment and deposited it with directions to remit Per ADDUR RAHIM J—It is not competent to a creditor by making a demand upon his debtor to convert the latter into a trustee in respect of the amount due Such a change in the relationship can be brought about only by the debtor agreeing to accept the altered position and by his doing something towards effectuating the trust OFFICIAL ASSIGNER OF MADRAS = RAMACHANDRA IYER (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 134

s 86—Judgment entered up under the above section—Insolvent absent After due notice being served by the Official Assignee an insolvent failed to appear at the hearing Judgment was entered up against the insolvent under s 86 of the Indian Insolvents Act In re BALCHAND SUBBIA (1914)

19 C W N 433

INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)

See INSOLVENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT

INSOLVENCY COURT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

s 11 I L R 39 All 628

sanction of—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909) ss 17 103 and 104

I L R 55 Bom 63

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 19 (f) (c)

I L R 37 Mad 107

Attachment before judgment of sum due to debtor—Order directing payment

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS—contd

In decree holder—Injunction restraining payment validity of—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1909), ss 34 35 and 47—Assets realized—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) s 151 and O XXXI s 1—Injunction A instituted a suit against B in August 1916 and on 20th September 1916 attached in anticipation of judgment, a certain sum of money in the hands of the District Board which was due to B On the 12th April 1917 B filed an insolvency petition before the District Judge On the 21st June 1917 I got his decree and on the 6th the executing Court issued a precept to the District Board to pay to the decree holder the amount in deposit at the credit of B On the 17th B made an application to the District Judge asking for an injunction directing the District Board to stop payment The injunction was issued Held (1) that the District Judge had no power to issue an injunction upon the District Board as the District Board was not a party before him (2) That the District Judge had no power to issue an injunction on A as it did not appear that the conditions enumerated in O XXXI r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 existed (3) That the facts of the case did not indicate that justice equity and good conscience required that the decree holder who instituted his suit before the insolvency petition was filed should be kept out of his money (4) That the case was not affected by ss 34 and 35 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 as there had been no adjudication of insolvency and no receiver had been appointed (5) That from the 2nd June the amount in dispute became the decree holder's money and the District Board were merely trustees on his behalf (6) That in this case the assets were realized within the meaning of s 34 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 RAM SUDHAR RAI v RAM DYHTAN RAM (1918)

N Pat L J 458

Order disallowing a claim to goods seized by the Official Assignee after adjudication—Suit to set aside the order maintainability of No suit lies to set aside an order made by the Insolvent Court dismissing on the merits a claim to goods seized by the Official Assignee after adjudication. Followed in The Official Assignee of Madras v Mangayarkarasu Ammal I L R 40 Mad 117, ABDUL LATHEEF v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNER OF MADRAS (1912)

I L R 40 Mad 1173

Whether sons of deceased insolvent have locus standi in insolvency proceedings—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) s 21 27 47 On general principle as well as on the express provisions in s 21 (3) read with the further provisions in s 47 of the Provincial Insolvency Act it is incumbent on the Court to permit the representatives of the insolvent to appear at the enquiry held, with a view to framing the schedule under s 24 of the Act Quere Whether the representatives of the insolvent have locus standi to submit a proposal for composition? SHARAT SINGH AND ANOTHER v PRODYAT JUMAR TAGORE (1920)

I L R 48 Calc 87

INSOLVENCY RULES

rule 37—(Bom)

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909) ss 6 27 36 and 121

I L R 37 Bom 464

See FILE JERRY T was 194-9207
ACT III of 1942, at 1 1/2 and 1 1/2
L. L. B. 25 P. 42

execution of actions sale deed
by:-

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (111 &
1907) & 19 I L R 29 ALL 622

1. Second - The plaintiff is not entitled to an order of adjudication in respect of the amount claimed in excess of the amount proved in the Official Assignee's report. The plaintiff's claim is not a claim for the recovery of a sum due in respect of brokerage from the defendant and earned by him subsequent to his adjudication. The amount claimed being in excess of the amount of his debts provable in insolvency. The defendant applied for an order that the plaintiff be directed to give security for the costs of the suit. Held that the plaintiff was not a nominal plaintiff suing merely for the benefit of the Official Assignee and so no order for security for costs should be made. That the application is not covered by any provision in the Code of Civil Procedure but that Code is not exhaustive and it must be dealt with under the general law. That it is well settled in English law that a cause of action which accrues to a bankrupt subsequent to the adjudication in

[illegible]

B ----- I certainly know in and my Act (III of 1908) In his case it is the American Court will not sit as a court of appeal against another court's decision in a foreign court - For you must do so in relation of one day creditor - American applying to Court granting to have to restrain or enjoin creditor from proceeding with his suit or execution & etc - whether in the American Court to restrain process going on foreign Court - Or if of direct injury to funds in Court in Bond is not sitting on foreign Courts in the absence of reciprocity - In fact it does not restrain opponent creditor from taking pro-

INSOLVENT—contd

ings in a foreign State if the Official Assignee is unable to recover insolvent's property in that State—Equitable Jurisdiction to act in personam—Practice. On 27th November 1914 the appellant applied for insolvency in Bombay under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909. The respondent was one of the opposing creditors and his debt mentioned in the schedule was in respect of co's awarded to him by the High Court in a suit filed against him by the appellant. On 1st October 1918 the insolvency proceedings terminated and the appellant was granted his discharge. Thereafter the respondent sued the appellant for the amount of his debt in the Court of Sirohi State and obtained a decree for Rs 2834-10. The appellant thereupon took out a rule in the Insolvency Court at Bombay calling upon the respondent to show cause why he should not be restrained from proceeding in the suit filed against the appellant in the Sirohi Court and from executing the decree in the said suit. The respondent contended that the appellant had property in the Sirohi State which the State refused to hand over to the Official Assignee in Bombay and that under s 40 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act the Court had no jurisdiction to restrain the respondent from taking proceedings in the Sirohi State to recover his debt from the insolvent's property. The Trial Court discharged the rule on the respondent undertaking not to arrest the insolvent personally and to give notice to other creditors mentioned in the schedule of any property or money received in execution of the decrees to enable them to claim rateable distribution. On appeal aff'd confirming the order of the trial Court (1) that though an order of discharge granted by the Insolvency Court in Bombay would be recognised by all Courts in the British Empire still there would be no obligation on Courts outside British India to recognise the order of discharge as a complete release from debts mentioned in the order (2) that if the appellant insolvent has assets in the Sirohi State which the Official Assignee was unable to get hold of the respondent ought not to be restrained from taking proceedings in that State to recover his debt from any property of the insolvent situate in that State. Equitable jurisdiction of the Court to restrain a party before it from proceeding in an action in a foreign Court discussed. Per MacLEOD C J—It would be contrary to all ideas of equity that a party trading and incurring debts in Bombay and having property in foreign territory which the Official Assignee could not get hold of should be able to completely get rid of all his liabilities as regards his creditors inside British India and then proceed to enjoy his property outside British India free from all those liabilities. Yenechand v Lakhmichand Vanechchand (1919) 44 Bom 272 and Carron Iron Company v McLaren (1855) 5 H L C 416 referred to. LAHMIRAM KEVAL RAM v POONANCHAND PITAMBAH (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 550

Creditor causing seizure of property as that of an insolvent—Suit by real owner for damages—Liability of creditor. Where property is taken possession of as the property of an insolvent by the receiver in insolvency acting under orders of the court and loss is caused thereby to the real owner of the property it is not the receiver who is liable in respect of such loss but the person at whose instance the court directed the receiver to take possession of the property Abdul Rahim v Sual Prasad I L R 41 All 658 followed BINDA PRASAD v RAM CHANDAR I L R 45 All 452

INSOLVENT—contd

INSOLVENT PLAINTIFF

See Costs I L R 46 Calc 156

INSPECTION OF DOCUMENTS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1 OF 1908)

O XI R 14 14 C W N 147

See DISCOVERY I L R 38 Calc 428

See SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS

I L R 35 Bom 352

— made of—

See SUMMONS TO PRODUCE DOCUMENTS

I L R 47 Calc 647

INSTALMENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

O XXIV I L R 38 Bom 32

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

ACT (XIII of 1879) s. 15B

I L R 35 Bom 190 310

See LIMITATION ACT (19 OF 1908)

SCH I ART 70 I L R 35 All 455

I L R 41 All 104

ART 2 13

I L R 43 All 671

— default in payment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 48 I L P 39 Bom 256

— payment by—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

ACT (XVII of 1879) s. 15B

I L R 40 Bom 492

— power to grant—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

ACT (XVII of 1879) s. 20

I L R 37 Bom 488

Contract—Default in payment of instalments—Waiver—Effect of the waiver. The plaintiff agreed to sell certain lands to the defendants for Rs 1000 in 1901 and put the latter in possession thereof the same day. The material stipulations in the contract were as follows—(i) that the purchase money should be paid annually by instalments of Rs 100 each on a certain day fixed in the contract (ii) that in case of default in the payment of the first instalment on the due date the plaintiff should be entitled to recover it as rent and sue for possession of the lands (iii) that in case of default in the payment of any three or four subsequent instalments on the due dates the plaintiff should be entitled to recover possession of the lands and claim the unpaid instalments as rent and (iv) that on payment of all the instalments the title to the lands should be treated as having passed to the respondent by sale but that in the meanwhile the plaintiff should continue owner thereof. In 1908 the plaintiff filed the present suit to recover possession of the lands, alleging default in the payment of the instalments which became due in 1904 1905 and 1906. The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the providing that the plaintiff had waived the payment of the first two instalments and probable the third also. On appeal—Held confirming the decree that as to the first three instalments the plaintiff dealt with the defendant in such a way as to show that he did not insist on payment on the dates fixed in the contract that it referred after that course of conduct, he was not warranted in law in enforcing payment according to the strict terms of the contract without previous intimation to the defendant to that effect. Commissioner of Revenue (1911) 2 C.A. 274 (H.W.)

INSTALLMENT—cont'd

CINA AND SCKA VALAD BARZI (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 511

INSTALLMENT BOND

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 O
XXXV R. 14

I L R 44 Bom 881

See DECREE I L R. 44 Bom 840

See INTEREST I L R 44 Bom 775

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Mad 374

See LIMITATION ACT (1908)

s 75 I L R. 36 Mad 66

See I Art 24

See I Art 132 I L R 3 All 400
I L R 43 All 598

*Consent not to sue on failure to pay instalment if would amount to waiver—Limitation Act (1908) Sch. 2, 1st proviso is consent to dispense with or forego something to which a person is entitled. Where it was proved that demand was made in three successive years in respect of three instalments due upon an instalment bond but the plaintiff consented not to sue for the whole amount as he was entitled to do under the bond for default on the first two occasions but refused to consent on the third. Held that this amounted to a waiver of the payment of the two earlier instalments. When the instalment bond was executed on the 6th of November 1908 and provided payment of Rs. 10,000 by annual instalments of Rs. 400 commencing from the 30th of September 1909 and further that in case of default the whole amount payable on the bond was to fall due and the plaintiff waived the payment of the first two instalments as aforesaid and filed a suit for the recovery of the whole amount on the 12th of November 1914. Held that this suit was not barred by limitation and it was decreed for Rs. 9,000. *PAM CHUNDER BAYKA & PAWATMULL (1916)

1919 C W N 1172

INSTALLMENT DECREE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
XXXV R. 2 O XXXIV R. 4 s

I L R 39 All 532

See DECREE I L R 42 Bom 728

Penalty clause—Failure to pay two instalments making the whole decree payable at once—First instalment not paid on due date but paid up before the second one fell due—Second instalment not paid on due date—Penalty clause not becoming operative. A decree payable by instalments provided that the instalments were to be paid on certain fixed dates and that on failure to pay any two instalments at the period fixed, the whole amount of the decree remaining unsatisfied was to be paid up at once. The first instalment was not paid on the date fixed but was paid some time afterwards and before the second instalment fell due. On failure to pay the second instalment on the due date the decree holder applied for execution of the whole amount of the decree which remained unsatisfied. Held dismissing the application that the real intention of the parties was that before the penalty could be enforced two instalments must be in arrears together whereas in the present case only one instalment was in arrears. SUBRAYA VENKATRAO & SUBRAYA (1915)

INSTALLMENT DECREE—cont'd

I L R 42 Bom 304

INSTIGATION

See ARREST OF AN ARRESTMENT

I L R 46 Calc 607

INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNSEL

See BARRISTERS I L R 11 Calc 741

See COUNSEL I L R 47 Calc 828

Charges of misconduct by Counsel—Inconclusive grounds—Privilege against Court—Disciplinary action against Counsel The Court is entitled to ask counsel who during the conduct of a case makes charges of misconduct whether he makes the charges on instructions and if so on whom. It is not sufficient to plead in instruction Counsel have responsibility in the matter and are not justified in making serious charges of fraud and crime unless they are personally satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for putting them forward. Instructions to counsel are only privileged in the sense of being protected from disclosure to the opponent. There is no privilege as against the Court. The latter cannot use them as evidence in the case and for the purpose of the trial would have to treat them as confidential but they could be called for then and there and be used after the trial for determining whether disciplinary action should be taken against counsel by the Full Court. WESTON AND OTHERS & PEARL MOHAY DASS (1912)

I L R 40 Calc 898

INSTRUMENT

See ATTESTATION OF INSTRUMENT

I L R 37 All 850

INSTRUMENTS OF GAMING

See BOMBAY PREVENTION OF GAMBLING ACT (BOM IV OF 1887) s 3

I L R 40 Bom 263

See COTTON GAMBLING

I L R 39 Calc 968

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT 1867 ss 3 AND 10

I L R 42 All 470

INSTRUMENT OF TITLE

See RAILWAY RECEIPT

I L R 40 Bom 630

INSURABLE INTEREST

See INSURANCE I L R 36 Bom 484

INSURANCE

- See CONTRACT ACT (I of 1872) s. 28
I L R 38 Bom 344
- See JUTE I L R 44 Cal 98
- See LIFE INSURANCE
- See LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
- See MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT
(III of 1874) s. 6
I L R 37 Mad 483
- See SALE OF GOODS
I L R 40 Bom 11
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882 AS AMENDED BY ACT II of 1900)
s. 130 I L R 37 Bom 198

INSURANCE—contd

The term perils of the sea refers only to fortuitous accidents or casualties of the sea. The words do not cover every loss of which the sea is the immediate cause and so wear and tear do not come within the meaning of those words. There must be some casualty something which could not be foreseen as one of the necessary accidents of adventure. The Yantho L R 12 A C 503 followed. And soon v. Morice 10 Com. Pleas 58. Blackburn v. The Liverpool and Bristol River & Lake Steam Navigation Co [1902] 1 A. B. 220 distinguished. W. STEWART & THE NEW ZEALAND INSURANCE CO. LD (1912)
18 C W N 991

Fire—Damage by fire—Possession of Insurance Company and their acts after fire is extinguished—Damage to machinery of mill by water used to extinguish fire—Omission to protect or clean machinery—Arbitration—Evidence taken by arbitrators alleged to be outside scope of reference—Petition to Court to revoke submission—Arbitration Act (I V of 1890) s. 10 The provisions in virtue of which under the conditions of a policy an Insurance Company takes and holds possession of premises damaged by a fire are for the purpose of enabling it to minimise the damage. As it has to bear the loss it is more than anyone directly interested in doing everything for the best not as a duty to the insured but in its own interest. Its powers are of the nature of a privilege to do that which is most for its own benefit under the circumstances so as to reduce the loss. After a fire in October 1906 at the Victory Mills Bombay which then belonged to the appellant he sent in his claim to the respondents who took possession of the premises under powers reserved to them in that behalf in the policy and retained possession for a considerable period for salvage purposes. The assessment of the damages was disputed and the matter was in accordance with the terms of the policy referred to arbitration in the course of which the appellant tendered evidence to prove that the machinery was seriously damaged not only by the actual fire but owing to the water used to extinguish the fire being allowed to remain on it the injury in that way being progressive. The evidence was objected to on the ground that damage so caused to the machinery did not come within the loss insured against in the policy but that the liability for damage to the property ceased when the fire was extinguished. The arbitrators admitted the evidence whereupon the respondents petitioned the High Court to revoke the submission to arbitration on the ground that the arbitrators had exceeded their jurisdiction in admitting evidence which would only relate to damage from some tortious act of the respondents which was outside the reference to arbitration. The Judge of the High Court before whom the matter came made no order on the petition being of opinion that the arbitrators had decided nothing by admitting the evidence and that there was no reason to interfere with their action. The respondents appealed and the appeal was allowed the appellate Bench of the High Court expressing in its decree an opinion that the jurisdiction of the arbitrators extended only to the dispute relating to loss and damage from fire under the policy and not to the question of any loss or damage alleged to have arisen from the neglect of the respondents to take care of the machinery after the fire had been extinguished and the respondents to have

Marine insurance—Insurable interest of agent in goods of principal—Effect of a Mahajan's Mayur—Local custom when enforced—Duties and rights of insurer and policy holder in case of total loss The plaintiffs as commission agents shipped certain goods on behalf of constituents on board the ship Ali Madut in the year 1899. The plaintiffs were instructed by their principals to insure these goods and accordingly by a policy dated February 7th 1899 the plaintiffs insured the goods with the defendants subject as stated in the policy to the custom of the port of Cutch Mandvi. The ship Ali Madut was wrecked off the coast of German East Africa and the wreck and the remains of the cargo was sold by the local authorities and the proceeds handed over to the owner of the vessel. The plaintiffs sued the defendants to recover Rs 3,000 as the value of the goods. The defendants besides certain other objections to the plaint objected that the plaintiffs as agents had no insurable interest in the goods that by the custom of the port of Cutch Mandvi the claim of the plaintiffs could not be established without the production of a Mahajan's Mayur and that the defendants were in any event entitled to credit for the sale proceeds of the wreck and cargo. Held that an agent who has authority from his principals express implied or ratified, can effect insurances on the goods of his principals that the custom of the port of Cutch Mandvi must be construed in a reasonable manner and that under it a Mahajan's Mayur could not be required in the case of total loss that the policy holder's duty was only to give intimation of total loss at the earliest possible opportunity to the insurer and that it was for the insurer to protect his interest and to recover whatever was left as the net balance of the sale proceeds of the cargo. Panordas Bhogilal v. Kesarnag Mohan Lal 1 Bom H C 299 referred to. KANJI DWARKA DAS v. HARIDAS PURSHOTAM (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 484

Policy of Marine insurance—Perils of the sea—Wear and tear not included within the words Where a boat was insured against the perils of the sea and it was proved that it sank in fair weather and smooth water without any assignable cause and where it was not proved that the bottom plates had sprung a leak in consequence of the alleged bumping of the boat and where also there was some evidence of the boat having been deliberately scuttled, which if not accepted would lead to the inference that the bottom plates had corroded in consequence of age and ordinary wear and tear. Held that the case was not covered by the terms of the policy entered into possession of the premises. Hill (reversing the decision of the Appellate High Court and restoring that of the Original Court) that the finding that the loss was to be estimated from the condition of the machinery at the time the fire was extinguished, was erroneous. There was no question of tort on the part of the respondents. They may have thought it was not worthwhile to spend money in driving the machinery but right or wrong their neglect totally failed to power to take the course which in fact they did take. But having taken possession of the premises and done what in their opinion was wisest to minimize the damage they could not say that the actual damage done was not the natural and direct consequence of the fire. AMSTERDAM MARITIME & JOBBAY FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY I L R 37 Bom 183

INSURANCE—contd

Warning that premises would be set on fire—In insurance in consequence of warning—Duty of assured to disclose facts affecting risk and premium—Defective declaration under O XXX s 2 Civil Procedure Code its effect. It is the duty of a person who receives information or warning that his premises will be set on fire in consequence of which he insures his premises to disclose to the insurer the information so received. If he fails to do so the insurer is discharged from liability. Greet v Cullens Insurance Co Tupper & R (L C) 100 C A followed. Killy v Hoche lona Fire Insurance Co 24 L Can Jur 23 distinguished. Every circumstance which would influence or be likely to influence the judgment of a prudent insurer in fixing the premium and in determining whether he will take the risk or not, should be disclosed. There is a duty to disclose to the insurer all facts which bear upon their being a possibility of a fire greater than usual and which might indicate the motive of the assured in effecting the insurance. There is no obligation on an assured to disclose matters already known to the insurer. A suit need not be dismissed for incomplete disclosure of the names of partners according to the provisions of O XXX s 2 Civil Procedure Code. It is a defect which may be allowed to be corrected. Abrams & Co v Dunlop Pneumatic Tyre Co [1905] 1 K B 46 referred to IMPERIAL PRESSING CO v BRITISH CROWN ASSURANCE CORPORATION LTD (1913) I L R 41 Cal 581 Liability of Company for further loss. Per CHANDAVARKAR, J—The loss or damage by fire which is insured against in a policy of insurance cannot include loss caused by deterioration of the property insured consequent on neglect (if any) of the Insurance Companies to take care of it if they have taken possession. A loss so caused is not an inevitable or direct consequence of the mischief by fire. It is only where mischief arises from fire (in fire insurance cases) and from perils of the sea (in marine insurance cases) and the natural and almost inevitable consequence of that mischief is to create further mischievous results that underwriters become responsible for the further mischief so incurred. Montoya v London Assurance Company 6 Ex 451 458 referred to. Per BATCHELOR, J—The loss insured against is limited to the loss by fire (which includes the loss by water in extinguishing the fire) and cannot conveniently embrace all possible damages however remote which could by ingenuity be traced up to some connection with the fire as the ultimate causa sine qua non. It is impossible to hold that damages arising from the alleged negligence of Insurance Companies while in possession are properly claimable in pursuance of the contract of insurance for whereas this contract refers only to loss by fire those damages would arise from an error in totally different and wholly distinct and separable from the fire namely a neglect of some duty imposed on the companies after the loss by fire or water had become an accomplished fact. ATLAS INSURANCE COMPANY LIMITED v AMSTERDAM MARITIME (1908)

INSURANCE—contd

I L R 34 Bom 1

INSURANCE COMPANY

See TRADE NAME I L R 40 Cal 570

INSURANCE POLICYSee COMMON CARRIER, LIABILITIES OF
I L R 38 Cal 88INTANGIBLE PROPERTYSee PALMS OR TREES OF WOODS
I L R 42 Cal 455INTENT AND KNOWLEDGESee LEGAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1800)
s. 80 I L R 38 Mad 479INTENTIONSee CAUSE OF ACTION
I L R 41 Cal 825See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 37 Mad 480

See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Cal 466

See FRAUDULENT PREFERENCE
I L R 43 Cal 640

See HIGH COURT I L R 34 Bom 378

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS
I L R 44 Cal 358See PENAL CODE ACT (XLV OF 1800)
s. 266 I L R 40 All 84

ss. 300 and 325 I L R 35 All 329

s. 302 I L R 40 All 360

ss. 304 and 351 I L R 40 All 103

s. 456 I L R 38 All 517
I L R 47 All 395See PRINTING PRESS AND NEWSPAPERS
ACT (XLV OF 1807) ss. 4 and 11
I L R 35 Bom 55See SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE
I L R 43 Cal 671

evidence of—

See FORGERY I L R 43 Cal 783 materiality of—

See FORFEITURE I L R 47 Cal 190

necessity of—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I L R 43 Cal 591

of writer—

See PRESS ACT (I OF 1910) ss. 3 (1) 4 (1)
17 19 20 and 22
I L R 38 Mad 1085

to cause death—

See MURDER I L R 37 Cal 315

INTENTION—contd

to deceive—

See TRADE NAME I L R 48 Calc 570 to defraud—

See STAMP DUTY I L R 44 Calc 321

to mortgage—

See EVIDENCE I L R 44 I A 236

INTENTION OF FOUNDER

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 43 Calc 1085

INTENTION OF PARTIES

See MINES AND MINERALS

I L R 38 Calc 845

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 527

INTENTION TO LEGITIMISE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

I L R 46 Calc 259

INTERCEPTED LETTER

admissibility of—

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Calc 545

INTERESTSee BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1938) ss 297 301

I L R 43 Bom 181

See C I F CONTRACTS

I L P 42 Bom 473

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 34
O XXXIV RR 2 4

I L R 36 ALL 220

O XXIV PR 1 2 AND 3

I L R 40 ALL 125

s 151 I L R 41 Mad 316

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 257
14 C W N 146

s 257A. I L R 38 Bom 219

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) SCH III s 7 (1) (b) ss 69 70

I L R 37 Bom. 32

See CONTRACT ACT s 74

I L R 36 Bom. 164

See CONTRACT WITH ALIEN ENEMY

I L R 41 Bom. 390

See COMPROMISE 2 Pat L J 673

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT (VIII OF 1879)

I L R 35 Bom. 204

See DEMONSTRATIVE LEGACY

I L R 43 Calc 201

See EXORBITANT INTEREST

See HANDNOTE 14 C W N 1100

2 Pat L J 451

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R. 34 ALL 128

See HINDU LAW MINOR

2 Pat L J 212

See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE

I L R 41 ALL 571, 609

INTEREST—contd

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

20 C W N 1067

See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 326

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 20

I L R 35 ALL 378

I L R 41 ALL 111

See MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES
LARGE SERVICE ACT (II OF 1894) ss
5 AND 10 CL (?)

I L R 39 Mad 930

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 33 ALL 182

I L R 38 ALL 581

See MORTGAGE I L R 36 Calc 342

15 C W N 962

I L R 35 ALL 534

I L R 35 Bom 327

I L R 42 Calc 1148

I L R 46 Calc 448

I L R 45 Bom 523

See MORTGAGE AND MORTGAGEE

I L R 45 Bom. 523

See PENALTY I L R 44 Calc 162

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 41 ALL 254

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

I L R 44 Calc 978

See RES JUDICATA I L R 1 Lah 83

See SLAVEY BOND

I L R 42 Calc 742

See WILL I L R 43 Calc 401

I L R 43 Calc 401

—at Reduced rate—

See APPEAL I L R 48 Calc 1036

—award as to—

See ARBITRATION

I L R 46 Calc 534

—creditors right to apply payments in discharge of—

See DEBT 26 C W N 59

—grounds for reduction of—

See INDIAN CONTRACT ACT s 16

I L R 38 Mad 533

—liability of trustees for—

See TRUSTEE I L R 38 Mad. 71

—payment of—

See ARBITRATION ARBITMENT OF

I L R 47 Calc 914

—profits to be enjoyed in lieu of—

See MORTGAGE AND MORTGAGEE

I L R 45 Bom. 523

—on damages—

See TRUSTEE I L R 38 Mad. 71

—on ex parte decree—

See DECREE 6 Pat L J 676

—on enemy debt—

See DESTOR AND CREDITOR

I L R 44 Bom 1

—on our draft—

See BANKERS I L R 44 Bom 474

—postponing payment of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Calc 542

INTEREST—contd.

power of Court to grant—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 34

I L R. 2 Lah. 25

right to depend on contract or statute—

See FIRST COURTEL (PRACTICE)

I L R. 43 ALL 437

1 ————— Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s. 34—Int real award of— Set on of Court—Lard Acquisition Act (I of 1864)—Court d examining the amount of compensation—Payment of the amount to claimant—Subsequent reduction in amount on appeal—In case over the excess—Interest powers of the Court A sum of money by way of compensation awarded under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1864) and paid into Court was taken out by the claimant. Subsequently on appeal the H. H. Court reduced the amount of compensation payable to him but made no order as to interest. Government then applied to recover from the claimant interest over the excess drawn by the claimant from the Court. Held that if the interest claimed could be awarded inasmuch as the claimant had had the benefit of the money belonging to Government in excess of that to which the H. H. Court held him to be entitled and the benefit was represented not only by the excess wrong taken by the claimant from the District Court but also the amount of interest which the excess carried. Mooloo Lal I L R. 14 Cal. 481 486 Mahomed Sami Mohd I L R. 3 Bom. 40 referred to. COLLECTOR OF AHMEDABAD v. LATJI MEHJI (1911)

I L R. 35 Bom. 255

Interest right to claim (illgal) in or legal tender—Tender or agreement to waive it and must be of an ascertained sum—Valid tender must be unconditional. At common law where interest is payable by the terms of a contract it runs or accrues up to the date of payment. A valid tender must be an unconditional offer to pay a specific and ascertained sum. An offer to pay such amount as may be found due on a settlement of accounts if the price would execute an indemnity bond in accordance with law is not a valid tender. There can not be a tender or an agreement to waive tender of an unascertained sum. Garuda Paddi v. Gudi Janakanya Garu I Mad. H. C. R. 121 distinguished Indurang Kri Anaji and another v. Dodaabhoj Anuroji I L R. 26 Bom. 413 distinguished IAI BATCHA HANU v. APPOR NARAYASWAMI MEDALIAN (1914)

I L R. 34 Mad. 320

Usufructuary mortgage—Int real not stipulated for—Charge in the nature of mortgage must be in writing and registered. Where no interest is stipulated for in a mortgage bond no interest is recoverable. A charge in the nature of mortgage whether for principal or interest must be expressed in writing and registered and cannot be raised by implication. Kuttiamma v. Madhava Menon II Mad. L. J. 186 followed Indad Hasan v. Badri Prasad I L R. 20 All. 401 distinguished MAKBUZ ALI v. ALI AHMAD (1913)

I L R. 40 Cal. 514

Arrears of rent—Rate of interest—Evidence if admissible to explain kabulyat. Where a document recites that interest is to be paid by the tenant upon rent in arrears at the rate of one anna per rupee but does not expressly state whether interest at this rate is payable monthly or annually evidence is not admissible to show what was really intended. Monappa Nalk Chouthury v. Yabin Chandra Sangal II C. H. J. 1100 discussed Mahomed Sumoudin v. Moonshee Abdul Huz (1864) II P. 379 not followed. Evidence to construe the terms of a contract is not inadmissible in certain cases. PRATAP CHANDRA SHANNA v. MAHOMMED ALI SARKAR (1913)

INTEREST—contd.

I L R. 41 Cal. 342

Contract Act (IX of 1872) s. 36—Lawful influence presumption of—Excessiveness and usurious interest—Duty of the Court. Where there is ample security the exaction of excessive and usurious interest in itself raises a presumption of undue influence which it requires very little evidence to substantiate. The attempt to conceal the real rate of interest by describing it as one pice in the rupee per mensem or as in the present case 11 per mensem is evidence of an intention to get the better of the debtor. The law lays down that there must be a footing of complete equality between debtor and creditor and they must be so to speak at arms length to make a bargain which is in itself harsh and unconscionable enforceable at law. Carrington I L R. 1900 I A B. 79 In re a Debtor [1903] I A B. 705 referred to. Where there is ample security an excessive rate of interest has been held to be any thing over ten per cent. Where there is no security no rate of interest can be considered excessive. There can be no standard rate on personal loans and where the parties are reasonably on terms of equality a Judge cannot do better than adopt what they themselves have agreed on though of course when that is not the case he has to judge what is reasonable as best he can and under all the circumstances. Where the contract is for a temporary accommodation the stipulation that interest is to run at 12 per cent a month is one which necessitates the payment of interest not at 60 per cent per annum but at 12 in each month and a stipulation that in default of 12 months instalments of interest compound interest would begin to run is in the nature of a penalty. However technical this may be it is the duty of the Courts in India to enforce the letter of the law against obviously harsh and unconscionable bargains of this nature. The exploitation of the necessities of the careless and inexperienced is a trade to be extirpated in the interest of the whole community as contrary to individual morality as well as to public policy. Muthu Krishna Iyer v. Sankaralingam Pillai I L R. 36 Mad. 229 Samuel v. Newbold [1906] A C 461 Kesavulu Naidu v. Arivindal Annal I L R. 36 Mad. 533 referred to. ABDUL MAJEED v. KUTRODE CHANDRA PAI (1914)

I L R. 42 Cal. 690

Stipulation in mortgage bond for interest at 75 per cent per annum whether penalty—Liquidated damages—Undue Influence—Unconscionable bargain—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s. 16 74 illus. (j) as amended by Act VI of 1899 s. 4 (1)—Act XXVIII of 1855 s. 2 Per MOOREJEE J. (BEACROFT J. agreeing to as to penalty). Notwithstanding the small group of cases where a restricted view was taken of the authority of the Court to relieve against a penalty the tide has turned back and the more modern cases repudiate the doctrine that any rate of interest however exorbitant cannot be deemed penal Motoji v Sheik Hassan 6 Bom H C 8 Para v Govind 10 Bom H C 382 followed. Arjan Bidi v Asgar Ali 1 L R 13 Calc. 200 Gokul Chand v Akaya Ali (1890) Punj Rec 32 Sankaranarayana Vadhyar v Sankaranarayana Ayyar 1 L R 25 Mad 343 Chinna v Pedda 1 L R 26 Mad 445 Perasuams v Subramanian 14 Mad L J 146 not followed. This principle is fairly deducible from the modern decisions that the Court is competent to grant relief whenever the rate of interest appears to the Court to be penal. Mtajan Putari v Abdul Jubbar 10 C W N 1020 Velchand v Flagg 1 L R 36 Bom 164 14 Bom L R 18 Ganapathi v Sundara 22 Mad L J 354 Muthukrishna v Sankaralingam 1 L R 36 Mad 229 followed. Although s 74 of the Contract Act was originally framed to deal with the doctrine of penalty and liquidated damages as understood in the law of England it is in its present form comprehensive enough to include the type of cases before the Court because it covers all cases where the contract contains any stipulation by way of penalty. It is obvious that each case must be treated on its own circumstances. The test is was the agreement to pay damages for the breach of contract unconscionable and extravagant such as no Court ought to allow to be entered into. Webster v Bosanquet [1912] A C 394 referred to. You are to consider whether it is extravagant exorbitant or unconscionable at the time when the stipulation is made—that is to say in regard to any possible amount of damages which may be conceived to have been within the contemplation of the parties when they made the contract. Clydebank Engineering Co v Don Jose Castaneda [1905] A C 6 referred to. A stipulation for merely accelerating payment of the whole debt in default of payment of one or more instalments is not by itself by way of penalty. Ex parte Burden 16 Ch D 816 Sterne v Beck 1 DeG J & S 395 Wallingford v Mutual Society 5 App Cas 635 referred to. But when the entire sum which the creditor had agreed to receive in instalments without interest is not only repayable in one sum but is also made to carry interest at an unusual rate the Court may in view of all the circumstances of the case regard the stipulation for payment of interest at an exorbitant rate as penalty. When (on an account originally made up very largely of interest at an exorbitant rate) the stipulation was made in the mortgage bond (no interest being payable up to due date) that upon default of payment of one or two instalments not only would the whole balance due become forthwith payable, but would carry interest at the rate of 75 per cent per annum. Held that the covenant for payment of interest at this rate was a penalty i.e. it did not represent the damages which the creditors were likely to suffer by reason of the default of the debtors but was rather intended as an effective means to secure punctual performance of the contract. Per MOOREHEAD J. Where the facts make it clear that the creditors were in a position to take advantage of the em-barrasment of their debtors and the bargain they made was unconscionable there is a concurrence of the two elements which must combine to attract the operation of s 16 of the Contract Act. Davis v Maving Shi Koh 1 L R 35 Calc 505 1 L R 35 J A 1 Karubala Saidu v Arithulan Ammal 1 L R 36 Mad 433 followed. AKHAGARAM DAS v RAMBANKAR DAS [1914] 1 L R 42 Calc 652

INTEREST—contd

INTEREST—contd

Power of Court to grant relief where interest unconscionable—Creditor when his improper act or omission delays payment of debt. Where delay in the payment of the principal debt is caused by some improper act or omission of the creditors the accrual of interest will be suspended during such period as the debtor is so prevented. Edwards v Warden 1 App Cas 281 Merry v Ryles 1 Eden 1 Marborough v Strong 4 Brown P C 539 Cameron v Smith 2 B & Ald 305 Bann v Dalal Moo & M 228 Anderson v Arrowsmith 2 P & D 408 Laing v Stone 2 Man & Ry 561 Moo & M 229 London Chatham and Dover Railway Company v South Eastern Railway [1897] 1 Ch. 120 and Webster v British Empire Mutual Life Assurance Co 15 Ch D 169 referred to. A Court is competent to grant relief where the rate of interest appears to the Court to be of a penal character that is so unconscionable and extravagant that no Court should allow it. Akhagaram Das v Rambankar Das 1 L R 42 Calc 652 Abdul Majed v Khrode Chandra Pal 1 L R 42 Calc. 690 Bourang v Banga Behari Sen 22 C L J 311 20 C W N 408 referred to. GOPESHWAR SANA v JADAV CHANDRA CHANDRA (1915) 1 L R 43 Calc 632

Interest not contracted for and not recoverable under the Interest Act (XXXII of 1839) allowed as damages. AKHETRO MOHAN PODDAR v NISHI KUMAR SAMA (1917)

22 C W N 488

Compound interest—Court's power to give relief when money lender not shown to have taken undue advantage of his position. It is difficult for a Court of Justice to give relief on grounds of simply hardship in the absence of any evidence to show that the money lender had unduly taken advantage of his position even when the transaction appeared to be undoubtedly improvident. The opinion of the Chief Court affirming that of the Divisional Judge that the plaintiff in a redemption suit was bound by the mortgagor's contract to pay compound interest at 25 per cent per annum was upheld. Aziz Khan v DUVI CHAND (1918) 22 C W N 130

Bond—Consideration—Interest in advance added to principal—Total amount made payable by instalments—Scheme of the bond providing in effect for progressive increase in the rate of interest—Transaction substantially unfair within the meaning of the Usurious Loans Act (X of 1918) s 3 (1)—Jurisdiction of Court to consider the transaction in an ex parte suit. On the 7th September 1918 the defendant executed a bond for Rs 8400 in favour of the plaintiff a professional money lender. The consideration of the bond was a cash advance of Rs 5000 by the plaintiff and Rs 3400 interest thereon which was calculated in advance for thirty four months at the rate of 11 per cent per mensem. The total amount of Rs 8400 was made payable under the bond in thirty four instalments. The first three instalments had been recovered by the plaintiff by a suit instituted in the Court of Small Causes, Bombay. The defendant having made default in respect of the next six instalments from January to June 1919 the plaintiff sued to recover Rs 1500 the amount due under the same. The defendant did not appear. Held (1) that though the suit was ex parte the Court had under s 3 (1) of the Usu-

INTEREST—contd.

MONS LOANS ACT, 1914, judicial to consider the merits of the transaction between the parties; (") that inasmuch as the balance of the loan was that the interest on the whole sum of Rs. 1000 should be continued to be paid though the principal was being repaid by instalments, the interest charged in the loan was excessive and the transaction substantia unfair within the meaning of s. 3 (1) (a) and (1) of the MONS LOANS ACT, 1914; (3) that the plaintiff was not entitled to claim interest on sums which he actually received and which accordingly went towards satisfaction of the principal amount. Somai v. Newbold [1914] 1 C 442 referred to. HEPURN & PITCHARD & Co. v. BAYLEY (1913)

I L R. 44 Bom 775

Unimortgageable Loan—Contd. with a note reference of judicial interest. In a suit on a mortgage executed by a Hindu wife which provided for interest at 10 per cent. with quarterly rests the trial Court allowed interest at 10 per cent. up to date of suit only. Held—That unless it can be shown that unless a mortgage had been taken the Court could not come to the conclusion that the transaction was fair and unconscionable. In appeal the High Court allowed interest at the contract rate up to the date fixed for payment and thereafter at 6 per cent. BEJOY KUMAR ADDY v. SATISH CHANDRA CHOWH 24 C W N 444

General Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)

s. 67—Kabulyat rate of interest in land in purchase at on at of to pay in interest—Interest at the general and unconscionable. The purchaser of a raiyat holding at fixed rates in execution of his own mortgage decree buys it subject to the terms and conditions of the subsisting lease of which he had notice and is liable to pay interest at the rate and pay rent in accordance with the instalments provided for in the Kabulyat. Lal Coyal Dutt Chowdhury v. Manmatha Lal Dutt Chowdhury 1 L J 3 Cal 208 followed. Alim v. Saitul Cla Ira Chaturdurin 1 L P 24 Cal 27 distinguished. In the absence of evidence that any undue advantage was taken by the landlord of his position the rate of interest mentioned in the contract cannot be interfered with. Upendra Lal Gupta v. Mehraj Bibi 21 C W N 108 not followed. Lala Balla Mal v. Akad Shah 23 C W N 233 Asi Khan v. Dhuni Chand 23 C W N 130 and Bejoy Kumar Addya v. Satish Chandra Ghosh 24 C W N 411 referred to. BRUT NATH CHATTERJEE & PAMA NATH NASKAR (1920) I L R 48 Cal 92

INTEREST ACT (XXXII OF 1839)

Debt payable in kind—Interest allowable. A debt which is specially expressed as payable in certain fixed measures of grain and payable at a specified time is a debt certain within the meaning of Act XXXII of 1839 and interest is allowable on the same. Juggo mohun Ghose v. Manickchand 7 Moo J A 63 referred to. Narayan v. Nagappa 12 Bom L R 831 dissented from. GOVINDAN NAIR v. CHERAL (1913) I L R 38 Mad 464

Award of interest as damages apart from the Act. The Interest Act (XXXII of 1839) is not exhaustive of all cases where interest is allowable. The Act while specifically allowing interest in all cases of debts or some certain payable at a certain time or other wise saved by its proviso other cases in which it is legally allowable. Where the suit was for a sum of money which would be payable to the plaintiff (a Muhammadan lady) as for her share on taking accounts of the business which was carried on by her father while he was alive and which was continued by her brothers, the defendant, after his death wherein the amount due to the plaintiff was utilized by her brothers. Held (1) that the proviso in the Interest Act applied to the case and (2) that 6 per cent. interest was payable as damages on the amount due to the plaintiff. Miller v. Lirloc 1 L J 31 C C 33 and Hurro Ibraud Joy v. Shama Ibraud Joy 1 L J 3 Cal 61 followed. Amalammal v. Jeevanrao Laxman Laxman 1 L R 20 Mad 481 Prasanna Ayyar v. Subramania Ayyar and others 1 L P 31 Mad 250 and Kalyan Das v. May 1 Ahmad 1 L R 40 Ill 427 distinguished. ABDUL SATTAH ROWTHEN v. HAMIDA BINT AHMED (1919) I L R 42 Mad 661

INTEREST ACT (XXXII OF 1839)—contd

A principal is not entitled to interest on moneys detained by an agent on his behalf in the absence of a contract to its contrary. LALMAN & CHINTAMAN

I L R 41 All 254

INTEREST POST DIEM

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 All 534

INTERFERENCE

by High Court—

See PRACTICE I L R 40 Bom 220

INTERIM ORDERSSee PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1909) s. 20
I L R 35 Bom 47INTERIM RECEIVER

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Cal 289

INTERLOCUTORY INJUNCTION

breach of—

See EASEMENT I L R 39 Cal 50

INTERLOCUTORY ORDER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s. 47 I L R 34 All 530
s. 104 and 115
s. 109 I L R 42 All 174 176
s. 115 15 C W N 682 848
I L R 14 All 592
I L R 44 Bom 619
N Pat L J 550 400

O X I R 14 14 C W N 147

O X N 18 I L R 35 All 159

O XXXIX R. 7 15 C W N 353

See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Cal 926

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 38 Cal 230

INTER MARRIAGE

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 48 Cal 926

According to law and custom prevalent in Bengal a marriage between a Kayastha

INTER MARRIAGE—contd

and a Tante both belonging to sub division of the Sudra caste is valid in the absence of any special custom rendering such marriage invalid
Biswanath Dass Ghosh v Sreemati Sarasbala Dasi and others
 25 C W N 639

INTERNATIONAL LAW

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 80 I L R 38 Mad 635

See JURISDICTION I L R 39 Mad 661

INTERNMENT

— object of—

See ALIEN ENEMY SUIT AGAINST
 I L R 43 Calc 1140

— order for—

See HABEAS CORPUS
 I L R 44 Calc 459

INTERPLEADER

— An interpleader suit with a prayer for declaration of the titles of the several sets of defendants in the disputed land by the tenant against the landlords in who e favour he has executed separate kabulyats is not maintainable
SHELLEY BONNERJESTI PAT CHANDRA DUTTA
 I L R 37 Calc 552
 14 C W N 784

INTERPRETATION

See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES

— principle of—

See LIMITATION ACT IX OF 1908

See I ART 182

See PENAL I L R 39 Mad 923
 I L R 41 Cal 108

INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 11
 25 C W N 9

See COMPANY I L R 38 Mad 550

See CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 14
 3 Pat L J 281

S 54 5 Pat L J 321

See LAND ACQUISITION
 I L R 44 Calc 219

See RAILWAYS ACT 1890 s 75
 I L R 42 All 76

See NOV OCCUPANCY PAYAT
 I L R 44 Calc 267

See NOV OCCUPANCY RIGHT
 3 Pat L J 1

See PRESS ACT 1910 s 4
 I L R 42 All 233

4 Pat L J 174

— Rules effect of—

See REMAND I L R 41 Calc 108

— Heading of chapter may be looked at—

See NOV OCCUPANCY RIGHT
 I L R 44 Calc 267

— Illustrations cannot control the plain meaning—

See NOTE OF HAND 14 C W N 414

INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES—contd

— PROVISIO—

See PRE ACT, 1910 s 3
 I L R 39 Mad 1164

See LAND IMPOVEMENT ACT 1883
 I L R 41 Mad 691

— The word and may be read as or when necessary to carry out the obvious intention of the legislature
KUNHALOOR PUTHIA VEETEL PAYERAPPA v PASKURU PUVVI SEH KELAFA
 I L R 40 Mad 594

— When a particular section of an Act which has received judicial construction has been reenacted it must be treated as a legislation recognition of that construction
JOGEENDRA CHANDRA POI v SYAMDAS
 I L R 36 Calc 543

INTERROGATORIES

See DISCOVERY I L R 41 Calc 6

— Admissibility of interrogatories—Inadmissibility of certain questions as interrogatories though admissible in cross examination—Interrogatories obviously designed to assist in fishing up a case—Defence of wagering—Inadmissibility of interrogatories by the party raising defence of wagering as to the general business transactions of the opponent apart from the particular transactions in suit The mere fact that questions would be admissible in cross examination of a witness does not make them good as interrogatories Interrogatories must not be exhibited unreasonably or vexatiously nor be prolix oppressive unnecessary or scandalous Nor should interrogatories be allowed which are sought to be administered obviously for the purpose of fishing out a case The Court will in cases where the defence of wagering is set up refuse to allow the party setting up this defence to interrogate his opponent generally as to his business transactions apart from the particular transactions in suit on the ground that it is manifestly unfair to compel a man to disclose his general dealings on the chance that thereby his opponent may discover something that will support his case
BRAHMANNDAS PARASITHAN v BUR JOU PUTTOUJI (1912) I L R 37 Bom 347

— Method of administration—Disclosure of assets by affidavit in probate proceedings—How obtained—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O VI r 2—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1891) s 55 O VI of the present Code of Civil Procedure applies to proceedings in probate (vide s 5 of the Probate and Administration Act) Under that Order there are only two methods of discovery one by interrogatories and the other by an order directing discovery of documents in the possession of power of the other side An affidavit of assets actually received can therefore be obtained in probate proceedings by interrogatories only Under s 2 of O VI in India as in England the Judge has not any power to settle interrogatories but he can only decide what should be administered The dicta in English cases with regard to the more extensive powers of Courts in matters of probate seem to imply that the strict relevancy may not be required in interrogatories therein.
ANILBALA DASI v RAJENDRANATH DALAL (1915)
 I L R 43 Calc 303

IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1865)See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT

Conditions necessary to entitle Government to levy water-cess—Extent of right to water—Engagement by land holder with Government In this case the decision in Pra ad Row v The Secretary of State for India I L R 40 Mad 886 was followed on the admission of the respondent that the rights of the parties were governed by it AMBALAVANA PANDARA SANKADHI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

I L R 40 Mad 909

■ 1 (b)—Opinion of Collector that irrigation is beneficial not a judicial one reversible by Courts—Irrigation by percolation covers irrigation by sub-soil water Con trongs s 1 (b) of the Madras Irrigation Cess Act (VII of 1865) the Full Bench held—(a) that it is not obligatory on the Collector to certify under s 1 (b) of the Act that the irrigation is beneficial and (b) that the words irrigation by percolation mean not only irrigation by means of water flowing on the surface of the land irrigated, but cover also cases where sub-soil water is taken by the roots of trees. Held also that the opinion of the Collector that the irrigation in any particular case is beneficial to the land is not a judicial one capable of being revised by a Civil Court. Secretary of State for India v Swami Narayanaswami I L R 34 Mad 21 approved. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MAHADEVA SASTRIAL (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 58

■ 1 provs 1 and 2—As amended by Madras Act V of 1900—Right of Government to levy cess for irrigation purposes—Zamindaris settled at Permanent Settlement—Sanads construction of—Cultivation extended and crop grown not customary at date of sanad—Engagement by zamindar with Government—Right to flowing water—Madras Land Encroachment Act III of 1905 The appellants sought to recover from the Secretary of State for India the respondent sums of money paid under protest in respect of water cesses levied by the Government of India under Madras Act VII of 1865 (as amended by Madras Act V of 1900) the portions applicable to the case being s 1 and provs. 1 and 2. The lands in suit were contiguous to the river Vamsadhara and sometime prior to the Permanent Settlement extensive works had been carried out to supply the district with water from the river and the water was distributed through out the district by means of branch channels and subsidiary channels ending in many instances in village tanks and reservoirs. The Government carved out of the land four zamindaris on each of which they assessed a permanent revenue or jamma and had them put up to public auction, and each purchaser received a sanad. These sanads did not mention any water rights. They contained (inter alia) agreements by the zamindars to encourage their ryots to improve and extend the cultivation of the land. Subject to his observing the conditions of the sanad each zamindar was authorized to hold the zamindari in perpetuity for himself and his heirs. One of the four zamindaris (Lilam) was purchased by the appellant's predecessors in title at a sale for arrears of revenue and the other three were brought at various times by the Government. The sluices of only one of the channels were on the appellant's lands but he used for irrigation purposes water from the river through all the four channels. Held that the

IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1865)—contd■ 1 provs 1, and 2—contd

Permanent Settlement was an engagement with the Government within the meaning of pro 1 of s 1 of the Act VII of 1865. That the effect of the Permanent Settlement was to vest the channel with their head sluices and branch and subsidiary channels and the tanks or reservoirs in the zamindars through or within whose zamindaris the same respectively passed or were situate and to give the zamindar the right or easement of taking water from the river for irrigation purposes. That the zamindar on whose estate the head sluices and initial portions of each of the four channels in question were situate obtained under his sanad the right to take water from the river (assuming that it belonged to Government) and such rights was to be measured by the size of the channel, or the nature and extent of the sluices and weirs governing the amount of water which entered the channel and not by the purposes for which the grantor or his tenants had been accustomed to use water from the channel prior to the date of the grant. That after the water was lawfully taken into the channel the Government had no further rights in it except as owners of the other zamindaris. That the zamindaris in whose favour the sanads were made took subject to the customary rights of the ryot cultivators and the rights of all holders of sanads under existing inam grants and in other respects the right as inter se of the several zamindars under the sanads were analogous to the rights of upper and lower riparian owners on a natural stream. That there being no evidence that more water was being taken from the river than would be justified by the sanads as construed the cesses were wrongly levied on the appellants. The law of the Madras Presidency as to rivers and streams certainly differs in some respects from the English law and it is quite possible that it recognizes some proprietary rights on the part of Government in the water flowing in rivers and streams. PRASAD FOW v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

I L R 40 Mad 886IRRIGATION CESS AMENDMENT ACT (MAD V OF 1900)See IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1865) s 1* *PROVS 1 AND 2I L R 40 Mad 886*IRRIGATION CHANNEL —right to obstruct flow of rain water into—

*See ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD ACT I OF 1908) ss. 4, 27, 73 and 143I L R 40 Mad 840*IRRIGATION WORKS

Government liability of for not repairing irrigation works—No duty of Government to repair irrigation works In India the Government is under no obligation with regard to each individual ryot to repair irrigation works whenever they require repair. Madras Railway Company v Zamindar of Carvelnagaram, I L R 11 A 364 distinguished. The rule derivable from English cases is that where statutory powers have been conferred and statutory duties imposed on persons or corporations, no liability for non-feasance in regard to individuals arises in the absence of such liability under the common law.

IRRIGATION WORKS—contd

more's because such duty is imposed. The duty is to improve the land by expenditure of clear irrigation. Sankar Das v. Secretary of State for India, I L R 29 Cal 20 referred to. The right and duty of Government in regard to irrigation work in the province have to be ascertained from unrecorded custom and practice and no custom of practice recorded or unrecorded gives the right, in case of payment of compensation, may be the value of the crops lost by defects in irrigation works concerning a land area, from such non-repair. There is no contract between a ryot and the Government, by which the latter is bound to maintain a supply of water for the irrigation of lands belonging to the ryot. The irrigation rights of ryotwari owners are not rights per se, but rather partake of the nature of rights in rem. Chinnappa Madhavar v. Sikkil Naidu, I L R 26 Mad 66 doubted. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. METCALFE RAMA REDDY (1910) I L R 34 Mad 52

ISSUES

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), s. 11 I L R 37 Bom 563

See LABEL I L R 37 Cal 760

See PRELIMINARY DECREE

I L R 37 Bom 60

Issues arising of—

Practice. The practice of raising a number of issues which do not state the main questions in the suit but only various subsidiary matters of fact upon which there is not agreement between the parties is very embarrassing. Issues should be confined to questions of law arising on the pleadings and such questions of fact as it would be necessary for the Judge to frame for decision by the jury in a jury trial at nisi prius in England. WEST END WATCH COMPANY v. BERTA WATCH COMPANY (1910) I L R 35 Bom 425

Several issues should not be tried together. The practice of trying all the issues in a case together defeats the object of the law in requiring the various issues to be kept separate and distinct and cannot but lead to confusion. RAJANI HANT MUKERJEE v. RAM DULAL DAS (1912) 17 C W N 65

Not exactly framed but no surprise. Held that High Court was right in treating question in respect of which no express issue was framed as an issue upon which the parties had in fact gone to trial and was entitled to look at the evidence recorded. Held that the appointment by the head of a Mutt of a successor to avoid criminal prosecution was not bona fide and was invalid. NATARAJA TAMBARAY v. KALISAM PILLAI 25 C W N 145

ITIMAM

See ITIMAM REGULATION

25 C W N 857

Taluk uatimam reports— Mafabhar receipts if conclusively show tenure to be non transferable. Settlement Reports and District Gazetteer if admissible in evidence— Written instrument terms of inconclusive with ordinary implication of an expression effect of—Grant for an indefinite period nature of—Condition restraining alienation with no clause of re-entry—Transfer notwithstanding such condition if opera-

ITIMAM—contd

Transfer of Act II of 1904 s. 25. The word "itima" imports a permanent heritable and transferable tenure when applied to a tenure in the permanently settled parts of Chittagong. Mahabub Ali Choudhury v. Javed Choudhury 33 C W N 285 referred to. The word "itima" imports a permanent tenure. Sankar Das v. Secretary of State for India, I L R 29 Cal 20 and Chinnappa Madhavar v. Sikkil Naidu, I L R 26 Mad 66 referred to. The fact that rent has been granted as itima in the name of the grantee does not prove only that it is a itima but that it is a hereditary tenure. There can be no effect with respect to settlement reports or itima Chinnappa, whether there are any other speaking evidence or not and s. 3 of the Settlement Act Chinnappa s. 3 of s. 3 of Supplementary Act I L R 34 Cal 3 I L R 34 Cal 3 238 referred to. A grant limited to a man for an itima Chinnappa s. 3 of s. 3 of Supplementary Act I L R 34 Cal 3 238 referred to. It denotes, generally speaking, for his lifetime and passes no interest to his heirs, unless there are some words showing an intention to grant an hereditary interest. But that rule of construction does not apply if the term for which the grant is made is fixed or can be finally ascertained. Lakshmi v. Anandji Naidu I L R 3 Cal 210 I L R 3 Cal 210 referred to. A condition against transfer does not without more render an assignment or transfer of the lease inoperative. Such a condition is often inserted merely as a foundation for a claim to reversion (or premium). Ad Mahabub Ali v. Nazimuddin Siddiqi I L R 27 Cal 56 and Barakat Ali Khan v. Mansurji I L R 4 Cal 43 referred to, JODHIA CHAUDHARI v. MAHABUB ALI (1910)

I L R 47 Cal 979

JJAGIR

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT 18 s. 121 I L R 45 Bom 464

See JUDICIAL JAGIR 2 Pat L J 725

See SANAD I L R 38 Bom 639

See SETTLEMENT CONSTRUCTION OF I L R 39 Cal 1

—whether Land is held on Political Tenure—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT, 18 s. 2 I L R 45 Bom 464

—Sanad construction of——Tenure created by document—Custom—Life estate—Use of the words putra poutadi—Absolute and heritable estate—Regulation XXXII of 1793 s. 15

A grant of a jaagir is a grant for life only but in the absence of any custom to the contrary the addition of the words putra poutadi in the grant implies an absolute and heritable estate and passes an estate of inheritance. Under a sanad putra the ancestor of the plaintiff granted a jaagir in the district of Hazaribagh to the grantee and his putra poutadi. On the death of the grantee and of his sons without any male issue the plaintiff finding that the tenants of the jaagir stopped paying him the rents brought a suit for resumption of the jaagir on the ground that according to custom the grant was a service grant and resumable by the grantor and his representatives.

JAGIR—contd

on failure of male issue in the line of the grantee, and obtained a decree. On appeal to the High Court Held that the original grantee took an absolute heritable and alienable estate and that all his heirs were capable of inheriting it. Pam Lal Mookerjee v The Secretary of State for India, 1 L R 7 Calc 391 L R 8 I A 46 followed. Gulabdas Juggundar v The Collector of Surat 1 L R 3 Bom. 198 L R 6 I A 51 Bhujanga Rau v Ramayamma 1 L R 7 Mad 35 and Lalit Mohun Singh Roy v Chalkun Lal Roy 1 L R 21 Calc. 831 L R 21 I A 76 referred to. Perkash Lal v Pameshwar Nath Singh 1 L R 31 Calc. 561 and Poornath Konur v Juggunath Sahas Deo 6 D A 51 Ser Rep 155 distinguished. RAM SARAY LAL v PAM NABAYAN SINGH (1914) 1 L R 42 Calc 305

Construction of jagir —Life estate—Custom of succession in Chota Nagpur
—Construction of words putraputrads—Grant must be not ambiguous—Bengal Regulation XXXVII of 1893 s 15—Liability to resumption on failure of lineal male heirs A predecessor in title of the appellant granted a jagir of a village in Raj Parnagar Chota Nagpur in the following terms you with your putraputrads will continue to enjoy the same. The respondents were not the direct lineal heirs of the grantee but only collateral, the lineal male heirs having failed. The evidence showed that all jagirs granted in Raj Parnagar were by custom resumable on failure of lineal heirs in the male line of the original grantee. In a suit to resume the jagir—Held (reversing the decision of the High Court, and restoring that of the Subordinate Judge) that a jagir must be taken to be prima facie an estate for life only though it might possibly be granted in such terms as to make it hereditary. But the terms making the grant of a jagir a grant of an estate of inheritance must if they are to be considered alone be terms which are not ambiguous, and must clearly shew whether it was intended by the grantor that the right of inheritance should be general or should be confined to a particular class of heirs. In this case it was held on the evidence that the jagir was resumable by the heirs of the grantor on failure of male heirs in the direct line of descent. Pam Lal Mookerjee v Secretary of State for India 1 L R 7 Calc. 391 L R 8 I A 46 and Lalit Mohun Singh Roy v Chalkun Lal Roy 1 L R 21 Calc. 831 L R 21 I A 76 distinguished. RAM NARAYAN SINGH v RAM SARAY LAL (1918) 1 L R 48 Calc 683

JAIL CODE

—Rules in the Jail Code are framed by the Local Government and have the force of law when sanctioned by the Governor General in Council. PERRY MORRIS DICKINSON WESTON 18 W N 145

JAIL REGISTER

—extract from—
SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
1 L R 43 Calc 1128

JAGADGURU

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 9
1 L R 45 Bom 590

JAINS

See HINDU LAW

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

1 L R 32 All 247

1 L R 45 Bom. 754

25 C W N 273

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

1 L R 33 Mad 439

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

Jains are of Hindu Origin. They are Hindu dissenters and although generally adhering to Hindu Law (i.e.) the Law of their 3 superior castes they recognise no divine authority in the Veda, and do not practise the Shraddhs or ceremony for the dead but the Hindu rules of adoption are applied in the absence of customary usage. SHEOCHAPBAI v JEORJI (1920) 25 W N 273

JAJNAVALEKYA

—Ch II, Vers 117 145—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

1 L R 43 Calc 944

JALKAR

—right of—

See FISHERY 1 L R 42 Calc 489

Dispute concerning jalkar—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to institute proceedings under s 145 of the Code after an order binding down one of the parties to keep the peace—Order attaching the subject of dispute on being unable to determine the question of possession—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 107 145 146 The Magistrate has jurisdiction to take proceedings under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code, after an order under s. 107 of the Code binding down one of the parties to keep the peace, when the circumstances so require. Where there was a reasonable apprehension that several persons who were interested in the subject of dispute and had abconded at the time of the s. 107 proceeding might cause a breach of the peace with the first party who were fishermen, or that the latter might seek to enforce their rights against the second party who had been bound down, in which case the order binding them down would have the effect of ousting them from any possession they might have. Held that the Magistrate acted properly in instituting proceedings under s. 145 of the Code in order to determine which party was in actual possession of the disputed properties, and was justified in attaching the same, under s. 146 if he found himself unable to determine the question of possession. BAISYAR CHARAN MAJHI v GATT NATH MUKHERJI (1912) 1 L R 99 Calc 489

—Rights in a river—Bed of a river meaning of—Hunter's Statistical Accounts if can be referred to for establishing existence of private rights Per JENKINS, C J—Jalkar rights of a river extend to waters in the river bed though they are not connected with the waters of the flowing stream throughout the year Where the right of fishery is in a river the Court has to be satisfied on a consideration of all the material facts and conditions whether it can fairly and reasonably be said that the waters over which the fishery is claimed are a part of the river Per HARRINGTON J—The tract in dispute was the bed of the river because it was habitually and regularly covered by the river for a substantial portion of the year in the ordinary course of nature. Per MOOREHEAD J—The bed of a river is the whole of what contains its waters when not swollen in whatever time of the year without leaving its channel and over which its banks. The grant of a fishery right in the river is entitled to fish in all waters comprised within the banks of the river and the circumstance that a particular sheet of water may during part of the year be disconnected from the firm stream of permanent current does not affect this title of the grantee. ANKHORA BIRMA v TARA KANT GUPTA (1913) 1 C. W. N. 1173 —Shifting of bed of a river to a new course which becomes a part of the river only when it is shown that certain topographical sheets of water which hence formed the bed of the river Mahanadi are now surrounded by cultivated land is within the plaintiff's rights. The river has moved many miles away the topas are completely isolated, and are no longer part of the river bed and there is no connection of the topas with the river except when the whole country is inundated by the flood water of another river. Held that the defendant, who have gallies in the Mahanadi have no right of fishery in the topas which belong exclusively to the plaintiffs. SATI SANKAR ACHARYA v KUNJA MOHAN MORTHA (1917) 22 C. W. N. 63

JALKAR—contd

JATS

See CUSTOM 1 L. R. 44 Cal. 749

JEWISH LAW

*Marriage Custom—Ketuba legal effect of—Rights of wife. In a suit brought by a Jewish lady married in Calcutta, for the recovery from her deceased husband's estate of the sum mentioned in a Ketuba executed on the occasion of their marriage. Held that the Ketuba was a necessary but formal incident of the marriage contract and ceremonial and created no such right in favour of the widow. JOSHUA v ABRAHAM (1911) 1 L. R. 40 Cal. 266 CONFIRMING 1 L. R. 38 Cal. 708*

JIVAI GRANT

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION 1 L. R. 43 Bom. 778

JODI

See JUDL

JOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O II R. 2 1 L. R. 38 Bom. 444

JOINDER OF CHARGES

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 223 to 239

1. —Offences against different persons by the same accused—Legality of joint trial—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 234—Practice S 234 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not limited to the case of offences committed against the same person but applies also where they are committed against different persons. Manu Miya v Empress 1 L. R. 9 Cal. 371 and Sri Bhagwan Singh v Emperor 13 C. W. N. 507 followed. Empress v Murari 1 L. R. 4 All. 147 Nanda Kumar Sircar v Emperor 11 C. W. N. 1128 Ali Mahomed v Emperor 13

JOINDER OF CHARGES—contd

C. W. N. 418 disallowed from Queen Empress v Joo's Pro v 1 L. R. 411 disallowed. At the same time the powers under the section should be used with great care and caution where there are different complainants. SURESH ANNA v EMERSON (1913) 1 L. R. 43 Cal. 13

2. —*Joint commission in respect of different persons—Legality of joinder—Criminal Procedure Code ss 234 and 235—Practice. The words 'offences of the same kind' used in s 234 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and as defined by subcl. (2) of the said section do not imply that the offences should necessarily have been committed against the same person. Where there were six persons accused of having been jointly concerned in carrying on a systematic swindle and three joint charges were framed against all the accused. Held there was nothing illegal in the procedure. SAHIB KHAN v EMERSON 1 L. R. 43 Cal. 13 followed. Empress v Murari 1 L. R. 4 All. 14 disallowed from EMERSON v BRITISH LAYDE (1916) 1 L. R. 38 All. 457*

JOINDER OF PARTIES

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY 1 L. R. 37 Bom. 340

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT 1 L. R. 34 Bom. 13

See PARTIES JOINDER OF 1 L. R. 32 Bom. 57

JOINT AND ACQUIRED PROPERTY

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT 1 L. R. 34 Mad. 257

JOINT APPEAL

See COMPANIES 1 L. R. 1 Lah. 368

JOINT BOND

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1908) s 462 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 409

JOINT BUSINESS

See JOINT FAMILY BILLS 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 1099

JOINT CONTRACT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 462 1 L. R. 34 Mad. 314
1 L. R. 39 Mad. 409

See CONTRACT ACT s 43 to 45

JOINT CONVICTION

Joint Penalties—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng. III of 1899) ss 441 and 442—Disobedience of order under s 441 by two persons. The owner and an occupier of a house in Calcutta were jointly convicted of disobedience of an order under s 441 of the Calcutta Municipal Act and a joint penalty of fine was imposed upon them. Held that the joint conviction and the joint penalty were illegal each of the accused being guilty of a separate offence. BHARAT CHANDRA KOLAY v CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1910) 1 L. R. 37 Cal. 895

JOINT CREDITORS

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 50
Pat. L. J. 520

JOINT DEBTS

See ACCOUNTS SUIT FOR

I L R 44 Cal 1

JOINT DEBTORS

— suit for contribution between—]

See LIMITATION I L R 39 Mad 288

JOINT DECREE

— execution of—

See LIMITATION I L R 46 Cal 25

JOINT DECREE HOLDERS

— rights of inter se—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 33 All 563

JOINT ESTATE

— Private partition—Fraudumbrance by co sharer—Holding in severalty—Tenancy in common—Partition by Collector effect of—Estates Partition Acts (Beng Act V of 1897 s 99 and Beng Act VIII of 1876 s 123)—i ractice—Abandonment of plaintiff's case and adoption by him of defendant's S 99 of Beng Act V of 1897 applies only where the lands are held jointly by the proprietors and not in severalty in pursuance of a private arrangement between the parties Hridoy Nath v Mohobutnessa I L R 20 Cal 285 Amanaddi Patra v Nabin Chandra Gope 11 C L J 95 Syed Abdul Latif v Amanaddi Patra 15 C W N 426 followed. Joy Sankar Gupta v Bharat Chandra Bardhan I L R 26 Cal 431 distinguished. Where a section of an Act (here s 128 of Beng Act VIII of 1876) which was received a judicial construction [Hridoy Nath v Mohobutnessa] is re enacted in the same words such re enactment [here s 99 of Beng Act V of 1897] must be treated as a legislative recognition of that construction. Mansell v Regina 8 E and B 54 Ex parte Campbell L R 5 Ch App 703 followed. When on a partition by the Collector any land of an undivided joint estate which had been encumbered by any co sharer is allotted to another co sharer the latter takes it free from the encumbrance so created. Byjnath v Ramooden I R 11 A 106 followed. The decision in Sheikh Ahmedoolah v Sheikh Ashraf Hossein 13 W R 447 [where the lands were held in severalty] which was followed in Hridoy Nath v Mohobutnessa I L R 20 Cal 285 is not as assumed in Joy Sankar Gupta v Bharat Chandra Bardhan I L R 26 Cal 431 inconsistent with and has not consequently been overruled in effect by the decision of the Judicial Committee in Byjnath v Ramooden L P 11 A 106 [where the lands were held in common tenancy] Byjnath v Ramooden L P 11 A 106 Venkatrama v Feunsa I L R 33 Mad 479 Sheikh Aura v Baikuntanath Roy 21 C L J 526 Brojo Nath Saha v Dinesh Chandra Neogi 21 C L J 529 Tarakanath v Ishur Chandra 21 C L J 603 Joy Sankar Gupta v Bharat Chandra Bardhan I L R 26 Cal 431 distinguished as cases where land was held in common tenancy. A plaintiff cannot be allowed to abandon his own case adopt that of the defendant and claim relief on that footing Shibkrishna Sircar v Abd Hakeem I L R 8 Cal 672 Ramdayal v Jumanjoy I L R 14 Cal 31 Balmukund Kesurda v Phagvandas Kesurda 15 Bom L J 209 followed. But that does not prevent the defendant from contending that even on the facts found the plaintiff's claim [here for ejectment] cannot be sustained NAGENDRA MOHAN ROY v PYARI MOHAN SAHA (1915)

JOINT ESTATE—contd

I L R 43 Cal 103

JOINT EXECUTION

See ATTESTATION BY EXECUTANTS

I L R 37 Cal 526

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I L R 58 Mad 680

JOINT FAMILY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882

s 234 I L R 52 All 404

s 244 I L R 1 Lah 134

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 93

I L R 32 All 325

See JOINT HINDU FAMILY

See KHOSIAS I L R 38 Bom 449

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 44 Cal 524

JOINT FAMILY BUSINESS

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 39 Bom 715

See MURAKHADAN LAW

I L R 38 Mad 1099

—Dissolution and accounts—Private arbitration—Award operation of on moneys realised by member on behalf of family—Cash meaning of The members of a joint family business referred their disputes (in view of dissolution) to an arbitrator before whom on 31st July 1895 they stated inter alia that they had divided amongst themselves all the moveables consisting of cash and kind etc that a sum of Rs 5650 was payable to one of them B that they had understood the accounts among themselves and that now no co sharer has any right to demand accounts from another and the arbitrator made his award on 5th August 1895. At the date of the award there was an undischarged usufructuary mortgage executed on 16th June 1893 for 14 years by one M in favour of B as representing the family to be discharged by receipt of the usufruct. Held that the terms and intent of the award precluded the other co sharers from asking for an account of moneys realised previous to the date of the award. The word cash referred to all moneys received by the parties before the statement was made to the arbitrator. SHYO NARAY SINGH v BISHUNATH SINGH (1913) 18 C W N 426

JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901) s.

2 I L R 38 All 325

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 59 Mad 136

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE

ACT (II OF 1901) ss 107 111 112

I L R 35 All 548

— it exists in Mahomedan Law—

S MAHOMEDAN LAW—JOINT BUSINESS.

I L R 38 Mad 1099

JOINT OWNERS—contd

See EVIDENCE I L R 39 All 696

See NOTICE I L R 40 Cal 503

See PENAL CODE (ACT XXV of 1900) s 291 I L R 33 All 773

—suit by to recover rent—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IV of 1887) SCH II ART 31 I L R 40 All 666

Partition—Abadi not formally divided but separate portions thereof taken possession of by the various owners—Agreement amongst owners—Rights of owners as to portions in possession of each. A village was divided into three mahals with the exception of the abadi as to which it was found that it had not been divided between the mahals by declaration on the village map or on the spot but the owners of the mahals had been in separate possession of portions of it. Held that the only possible inference from this finding was that the parties had agreed among themselves as to their possession of the abadi and that so long as the agreement continued each party was entitled to use the portion in his possession in any way he pleased so long as such user or possession did not interfere with the user or possession of the owners of the other mahals. Mumundri Ma umdar v Pa il Lal Ma umdar 11 C P D 517 followed JAGAN NATH PRASAD v BAPRI PRASAD (1911) I L R 34 All 113

Their right—Ouster what amounts to—Cause of action. Each joint owner has the right to the possession of all the property held in common equal to the right of each of his companions in interest and superior to that of all other person. He has the same right to the use and enjoyment of the common property that he had to his sole property except in so far as it is limited by the equal right of his co-owners. Accordingly each co-owner may at all times reasonably enjoy every part of the common property that in he is entitled to such enjoyment as will not interfere with the like rights of the co-owners. It necessarily follows that one co-owner has no right to the exclusive possession and use of any particular portion of the joint property and if he exercises such rights and excludes his co-owners from participation in the possession he must account to his co-sharer for his interest in the part from which he is ousted even though he takes no more than his just share. But the co-sharer out of possession cannot complain of the mere possession of the co-owner so long as he refrains from setting up any claim to share in that possession. Hence in order to give rise to a cause of action against the co-sharer it must be proved that his act amounted to ouster or disavowal. It is not easy to frame a formula to cover all cases of ouster but it may generally be stated that where there is an actual turning out or keeping excluded the party entitled to the possession there is an ouster. Any resistance preventing a co-sharer from obtaining effective possession is an actual ouster. Such resistance must be clearly and affirmatively shown and is not presumed from equivocal acts which may or may not have been designed to operate as an exclusion. Jacob v Secord 1 I L R 464 referred to DEBENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v NARENDRA NARAYAN SINGH (1919) I L R 47 Cal 122

JOINT PENALTY

See JOINT CONVICTION

JOINT POSSESSION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI n 33 I L R 34 All 150

See COMMON LAW I L R 2 Lah 73

See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE I L R 38 Mad 1036

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 37 Cal 687

Suit for if lies when to ouster—When ouster proved partition if only remedy—Plea that partition proper remedy when to be taken. A suit for joint possession is not maintainable unless there is actual ouster. If it is stated by the defendant in possession that the plaintiff has no right and if he is refused leave to enter the land it is a case of actual ouster and a suit for joint possession will lie. SARAT CHANDRA MUKHO PADHIA v PANDRA LAL MITTA (1913) 18 C W N 420

JOINT PROBATE

See HINDU LAW—WILL I L R 39 Mad 365

JOINT PROPERTY

See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE I L R 38 Mad 1036

See LIMITATION ACT (IV of 1877) SCH I ART 127 I L R 37 Bom 64

See PARTITION I L R 37 All 155

—Suit for damages for ouster by co-owner—

See DEBENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v NARENDRA NARAYAN SINGH (1919) 23 C W N 900

Co-owners—Purchase of an undivided moiety—Occupation of the other moiety in virtue of a lease deed—Subsequent foreclosure—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 110 115 and 120. Arts 110 and 115 of the Limitation Act pre-empt the existence of a contract express or implied where there is no such contract or any relationship of landlord and tenant subsisting between the parties or no holding over as tenant but when the relationship is referable to right as co-owners a suit for recovery of the moiety of a house and rent for a period of six years is governed by art 120 of the Limitation Act. Peliet Hat on d Co Ltd v Rom Chand Dutt 1 I L R 23 Cal 790 applied. Quare Whether the fiction of tenancy by sufferance should be kept up after the passing of the Transfer of Property Act. Subhrata Ramiah v Gundala Romana 1 Mad W 145 referred to MADAR v HADEP MOJDEEN (1914) I L R 39 Mad 54

JOINT PROPRIETORS—liability of—

See THEATRICAL PERFORMANCE I L R 44 Cal 1025

JOINT TENANCY—

1 — Presumption of joint tenancy—Gift—Don or guardian for donee—Mansu et prosecution by—

JUDGE—contd

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 45 Calc 169

No privilege or protection attaches to the public acts of a Judge which exempts him from adverse comment CHANNING
APPOINTED EMPLOYER I L R 41 Calc 1023

JUDGMENT

See ARBITRATION

I L R 47 Calc 611

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O V L R 2 I L R 33 All 236

I L R 35 All 368

I L R 42 All 262

O V L R 11 I L R 37 Bom 610

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

s 110 I L R 38 All 393

s 307 AND 421

I L R 36 All 496

s 421 N Pat L J 695

See JUDGMENT OF A SINGLE JUDGE

See LETTERS PATENT 1885 Cj 15

I L R 39 Mad 235

I L R 34 Bom 1

I L R 42 Bom 260

I L R 45 Bom 377 & 428

See MISJOINDER OF PARTIES

I L R 45 Calc 111

S. P. ES JUDICATA

I L R 36 Mad 158

a nullity—

See JURISDICTION

I L R 38 Calc 639

affirmed on appeal—

See ESTOPPEL

I L R 44 I A 213

Foreign Judgment—Suit on—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 13

I L R 40 Mad 112

necessity of writing—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O V L R 11

I L R 36 Bom 116

not on the merits of the case—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT 1 OF 1908) s 13 (b)

I L R 40 Mad 112

of a single Judge—

See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL

I L R 43 Calc 90

of the previous Judge successor not bound to pronounce—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 30

I L R 40 Mad 108

relevancy of—

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Bom 1

JUDGMENT—contd

remarks against a person not a party or witness—

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

I L R 45 Bom 1127

setting aside a fo fraud—

See FRAUD I L R 28 Mad 203

1 Judgment binding nature of on succeeding Judge—Partition of property between co widows may be effected orally Where a Judge on appeal decides certain points and reminds the case his decision is binding on his successor before whom the case comes up again on appeal from the judgment on remand There is nothing in the Transfer of Property Act to prevent co widows effecting an absolute division of property orally LATCHUMMAL v. GANAMMAL (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 72

2 Personal knowledge of Judge

Materials not in evidence or improperly admitted as basis of judgment—Validity of such judgment A judgment which is based on materials which were not in evidence and which have been improperly admitted or on the personal knowledge of the Judge is not in accordance with law Val labha v. Madusudanani I L R 12 Mad 495 referred to DUGA PRASAD SINGH v. RAM DOYAL CHAUDHURI (1910)

I L R 38 Calc 153

Judgments and orders not inter partes—Res judicata—Estoppel—Evidence Relevancy Plaintiff purchased certain properties at a sale in execution of a money decree against A. A's mother B whose claim to the property under a kholas alleged to have been executed by the original owner D had been dismissed in execution proceedings and failed in a suit instituted by her against plaintiff and others under s 283 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 it having been found that B was really a benamidar for A. Plaintiff on proceeding to take possession was opposed by D. In a suit by the plaintiffs to recover the property from D Held that the orders and decrees in the previous litigation were relevant to the issue as to title and though not res judicata between the parties were admissible in evidence Ramamurti Dhora v. The Secretary of State for India I L R 36 Mad 141 referred to PRABH MOHAN SHARMA v. BURLABI DASSYA (1913)

28 C W N 954

Not pronounced—Record lost—Procedure

Where in a criminal case the accused was convicted and sentenced the records in the case being at the time lost Held that it was unnecessary for the High Court to order a retrial especially in the absence of an appeal by the accused person There is no provision of law which enacts that unless all the records of a case are in the court house at the time of conviction and sentence the conviction and sentence are void and should be quashed or that the Sessions Judge's trial has been held or the sentence passed without jurisdiction Where a judgment has been lost the appropriate course is for the Sessions Judge to rewrite it from memory and from the materials before him and place it on record Re KAMAK SHARMA (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 498

A judgment of one Judge of High Court read in Court by another when former on leave is valid SARAJ RANJAN CHOW DUTY v. FREEMAN CHODHURY (1917)

22 C W N 263

JUDGMENT—contd

Civil Procedure Code
(Act I of 1908) O XX r 1 3—Judgment
of the Judge is binding on the parties—Civil Procedure Code lays down that a judgment shall be declared and signed by the Judge in open Court at the time of pronouncing it and when once entered shall not afterward be altered or added to save as provided by s 12 or on review. The provisions of the law relating to the delivery of judgments may be deemed to have been framed for the benefit of the parties litigant and their convenience is an irregularity curable by consent or waiver. It is not a case of lack of inherent jurisdiction where the maxim applies that consent cannot give jurisdiction (Chand v. Chandhury Modhulal 21 J J 314 and Chand v. Chandhury Modhulal 21 J J 314 and Chand v. Chandhury Modhulal 21 J J 314). Nor is it a case of a man later proving a law the violation of which nullifies the entire proceeding (Abdul Kader v. Ibrahim 10 J L P 35 Cal 61 and TL Liverpool F.R. v. L. J. Turner 2 De G F and J 40). The infringement of the procedure prescribed by O XX r 123 constitutes an irregularity curable by consent or waiver. It affords no ground for reversal of the decree based on the judgment irregularly pronounced where the irregularity is waived by the parties and does not affect the merits of the case (Band v. Hamam Ramthani 4 City Jy Co J R 2 Q B 293 Malomed Akil v. London 4 I L R 18 P 1 Lockman Prasad v. Pooni 11 J P 3 111 20 Holmes v. Jones 1 J Doul 45 Garratt v. Hooper 1 Doul 5 Sulh v. Tara 10 J L 1 33 Cal 68 referred to 1087 GLOSTER JUTE MANUFACTURING CO v. CHANDRA KUMAR DAS (1919) 1 L R 46 Cal 978

Insufficient judgment
ground for interference in second appeal. A mere general statement that on a perusal of all the evidence in the case the Court is satisfied as to a certain state of facts is not a sufficient judgment within the meaning of the law. The High Court in second appeal will interfere with a finding of fact where it is shown that a miscarriage of justice has been occasioned by the lower Court's failure to weigh all the evidence before it (MOBARAK HUSSAI v. SYED SHAH HANID HUSSAIN 2 Pat L J 8)

Written and signed by one Judge and pronounced by his successor validity of—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) O XX r 1. Where the Judge who had heard the evidence and arguments in a case also wrote and signed the judgment and was then succeeded by another Judge who after giving notice to the parties pronounced the judgment and signed the decree Held that the judgment was valid. SRI MOTYA LAKSHMAN JIN v. LOKNATH DAS 5 Pat L J 147 of Appellate Court in Criminal case—What it must contain—Proper procedure—Where appellant is charged with an offence under section 228 of the Indian Penal Code—Criminal Procedure Code Act I of 1893 Sections 367 374 380 381. The petitioner was convicted by a Magistrate of the 3rd class of the offence of intentionally offering insult or causing interruption to a Court under section 228 of the Indian Penal Code and fined Rs 20. He appealed to the District Magistrate who dismissed the appeal recording the following order—'I have heard the evidence for the appellant. He has dealt with the points only which are already dealt with in the judgment. In my opinion the appellant has been rightly convicted.' Appeal rejected. Held that the judgment of the District Magistrate does not satisfy the requirements of section 367 Criminal Procedure Code the provision of which are applicable to the judgment of an Appellate Court—viz section 424 of the Code. An appellate Court is not required to write a long and elaborate judgment but it is clearly its duty not only to examine the evidence but also to write a judgment affording a clear indication that the appeal has been properly tried and that the points urged by the appellant have been duly considered and decided. An appellate Court which writes a judgment which the High Court is unable to follow without reference to the judgment of the trial Court obviously fails in the discharge of the duty imposed upon it by law. Held also that a Court taking action under section 480 Criminal Procedure Code is required to record particulars mentioned in section 481 and et cetera must record the facts constituting the offence and the record must also show the nature of the interruption or insult attributed to the accused. When the guilt or innocence of a person depends upon the exact word used by him it is obviously the duty of the Magistrate to record them with a reasonable degree of precision and his omission to record the nature of the insult constitute a grave defect of procedure. DALIR SINGH v. THE CROWN 1 L R 2 Lab 308

JUDGMENT—contd

Charges of unlawful assembly and of seditious intention—Statement of points for determination and findings thereon in such case—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1893) s 367 and 424. Under s 424 read with s 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code the judgment of a lower Appellate Court must among other matters contain the point or points for decision the decision thereon and the reasons for the decision. On a charge under s 143 of the Penal Code the judgment of such Court should contain as one of the points for determination a statement as to the existence of the elements constituting the unlawful assembly in the particular case and the decision thereon bearing in mind the provisions of s 141 of the Penal Code. The judgment on a charge under s 379 of the Penal Code should contain as one of the points the question as to the dishonest intention and a finding on it especially when the taking of property is admitted but a bona fide claim of right thereto is set up by the accused. RAM LAL SINGH v. HARI CHANDAN AHIR (1909) 1 L R 37 Cal 194

JUDGMENT CREDITOR

See INSOLVENCY 1 L R 42 Cal 72

JUDGMENT DEBT

—payment of a portion of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1908) O XXI P 49 (b)
1 L R 39 Mad 429

JUDGMENT DEBTOR

See A DEGREE OF A MONEY DECREE
1 L R 38 Mad 36

JUDGMENT DEBTOR—contdS CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 293

I L R 93 Mad 465

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

O XXI

R 89 I L R 40 Bom 557

R 91 I L R 25 Bom 29

See DEPOSIT IN COURT
I L R 43 Calc 100See PRELIMINARY I L R 34 Bom 567See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 34 I L R 37 All 452

—alienation by—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 44 Calc 662

—death of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (XIV OF 1882) ss 244 245 647
I L R 34 Bom 546See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 AND 50
I L R 38 Mad 1076See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 41 Calc 50

—disability of to mortgage—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1882 s 323A I L R 46 Calc 183

—examination of—

See PRACTICE I L R 43 Calc 285

—interest of—

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 44 Calc 524

—payment by as interest—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 43 Calc 207

—representative of—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 418

—security for default of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 145 O XXIV n 14
I L R 38 All 327JUDGMENT OF A SINGLE JUDGESee LETTERS PATENT APPEAL
I L R 43 Calc 90JUDISee ADVERSE POSSESSION
I L R 45 Bom 638See INAMDAR I L R 41 Bom 159
I L R 40 Mad 93

—payment of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 69
I L R 42 Bom 93JUDICIAL ACTSee SEARCH FOR ARMS
I L R 40 Calc 953JUDICIAL COMMISSIONERSee JURISDICTION
I L R 43 Calc 136See SECOND APPEAL
I L R 47 Calc 107JUDICIAL COMMITTEESee PRIVATE COUNCILSee PRACTICE

I L R 48 Calc 994

—functions of in criminal cases—

See PRIVATE COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF
I L R 41 Calc 1023

—Practice of—

See PLAINT I L R 48 Calc 110JUDICIAL DECISIONS

—application of—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 41 Calc 446

—suspicion not a ground for—

See BURDEN OF PROOF
I L R 34 All 511JUDICIAL DISCRETIONSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 118 AND 115 4 Pat L J 428

OVI R I 25 C W N 299

See COMMISSION AGENCY
I L R 45 Calc 126See LIMITATION I L R 44 I A 216

Decision not based on adequate finding power of High Court to reverse —Limitation—Negligence of servants Where it is left to the Court's discretion to act or to refuse to act in a particular way and it is found that the conclusions of fact at which the Court arrived and which formed the basis of its decision were not such as could possibly support that decision then the Court's discretion has not been exercised in a legal and proper manner and the High Court is entitled to reverse the decision arrived at In this case a discretion had been exercised because of the negligence of a party's servant which was not right and the High Court therefore interfered Where the law has provided a time limit within which any particular step is to be taken and a party waits until the last moment before beginning to take action he is not entitled to the Court's indulgence if an accident prevents the step from being taken within the time prescribed by law SETH JAHAR MAL v G M PRITCHARD (1919) 4 Pat L J 381

JUDICIAL ENQUIRYSee SURETY I L R 42 Calc 706JUDICIAL INTERPRETATIONSee BEHAL TEVARAY ACT s 169
2 Pat L J 722JUDICIAL NOTICESee MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR
I L R 40 Mad 1052See LILIT I L R 37 Calc 760JUDICIAL OFFICER

—suit against—

See JUDICIAL OFFICERS PROTECTION ACT (XVIII OF 1850) s 1
I L R 39 All 516

Libel—Pleader—Judge—Defamatory statement made by a Judge in the course of a suit—Discharge of judicial duty—Judge protected from being sued in a Civil Court The plaintiff

JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS—cont'd

if an execution proceeding is a judicial proceeding within the meaning of s 476 of the Code the definition in s 4 cl (m) being clearly not exhaustive. SHAKH BHADUR v SHAKH FRADATALLA (1010) I L R 37 Cal 642 14 C W N 789

2. Preliminary inquiry—Preliminary inquiry by an Assistant Settlement Officer to determine whether a prosecution shall be directed—Power to take evidence on oath in such inquiry—False evidence in the course of the inquiry—Criminal Procedure Code (1st of 1898) ss 4 (m) and 476—Indian Penal Code (1st XLI of 1860) s 193 and Explanation (a)—Oaths 1st (X of 1873) s 4—Government rule under the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) 1st 40—A Court holding a preliminary inquiry under s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code may lawfully take evidence on oath therein and the inquiry is therefore a judicial proceeding within the terms of s 4 (m) of the Code—Shroff v. Shroff, Asaf Singh I L R 17 Cal 51; and Emperor v. Gopal Barik I L R 31 Cal 4 referred to—Such an inquiry is also a stage of a judicial proceeding under Explanation 2 to s 193 of the Penal Code and a person giving false evidence in the course of it commits an offence under the section—Under s 4 of the Oaths Act and Rule 10 (a) of the Government Rules framed under the Bengal Tenancy Act a Settlement Officer has the power to receive evidence on oath and is competent to hold a preliminary inquiry under s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code.

ABDULLAH KHAN v. EMPEROR (1009)

I L R 37 Calc 52

5 TREURASS I L. H. 34 Calc 853

Allegation that defendant fabricated a false case against plaintiff - Rejection of plaintiff's suit for damages was filed again. A judicial officer the material allegations in the plaint being that the defendant had on account of enmity taken the plaintiff into custody and kept, through all feeling and dishonestly brought a false charge against him under s. 384 and 110. of the Indian Penal Code. Held that the plaint as framed could not be said to disclose a cause of action so as to justify its rejection in limine for which purpose it was necessary to consider the plaint only and nothing else but it was necessary to ascertain what facts the plaintiff could prove before it was possible to decide whether the case came within the purview of Act XVIII of 1850. IZZAT ALI v. MUHAMMAD SHARAFAT ULLAH KHAN (1917)

I L T 39 AD 516

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) s. 23

ILR 53 All 500

See ACQUITTAL I L R 55 Cal 703

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 44 Calc 890

See LOAN TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)—

14 I L R 39 AU 805

39 4 5 AND B I L E 43 All 445

56 AND 177 (c)

I L R 39 ALL ARE

S. 79

9 10	L L R 39 All 455
9 100	L L R 49 All 454

B 108 I L R 43 AD 454

S 177 I L R 43 AM JR

S 108 I L R 43 All 325

9 9J I L R 35 All 14

I L R 43 All 168

199 I L R 37 AU 14

SIC APPEAL

DECLARATION

I L R 43 Bom 1

I	L	47	Calc	29	752
---	---	----	------	----	-----

I L H 36 All 354
I L R 46 Feb 1950

See APPENDIX, p. CXXXV.

SEE APPLICATION BY COURT
I L R NR Cals 403

See ARBITRATION Act (IX) of 1996.

See AFFIDAVIT ACT (LA. of 1899)
§ 8 (1) (a) (b) (c) (d) and (2) B

I L R 43 Bom 809

— 10 —

- difference of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) ■ LXXIII p 5
I L R 41 Mad 620

See CHOTA NAAGPUR TEHANGU ACT 1908
s. 27 I L R 40 Cal 518

See COURT MEANING OF
I L R 37 Calc 642

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE § 476
I L R 33 AN 396

See DEFAMATION I L E 48 Calc 388

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT - 14
15 C W N 269

DEFINITIONAL CODE 3 133
I L E 45 Rom 834

— stage in a —

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I. L. R. 43 Calc 592

1 _____ Criminal Procedure Code s
47b— Judicial proc ding execution proceedings

JURISDICTION—contd

- See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT
I L R 45 Cal 780
- See BENGAL NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT (XII OF 1887)—
- s 8 & 20 I L R 34 All 383
- s 8 & 21 I L R 34 All 205
- s 21 I L R 32 All 222
- s 22(3) I L R 37 All 232
- See BENGAL REGULATION VI OF 1825
s 2 I L R 33 All 84
- See BOMBAY CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIV OF
1869) s 10 I L R 39 Bom 136
- See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT
1901 s 151 I L R 44 Bom 738
- See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT
BOMBAY III OF 1874 ss 2, 3 AND 30
- See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT ACT 1898
I L R 38 Bom 203
- See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE s 101
I L R 45 Bom 67
- See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
(X OF 1876) s 4 (a)
I L R 43 Bom 277
I L R 44 Bom 130 161
I L R 45 Bom 1191 1161
- See CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882—
- s 43 I L R 33 All 244
- s 2, 8 I L R 34 All 365
- s 539 I L R 36 Bom 29
- s 593 I L R 32 All 79
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
- s II I L R 32 All 527
I L R 37 All 313
I L R 45 Bom 590
- s 10 I L R 44 Bom 283
- 16 (a) and (d) I L R 41 All 513
- s 20 (c) I L R 34 All 49
I L R 36 All 563
I L R 37 All 189
I L R 39 All 607
I L R 45 Bom 1223
- s 24 I L R 34 Bom 411
I L R 39 All 214
I L R 40 All 525
I L R 1 Lah 158
- s 47 and 144 I L R 44 Bom 702
- s 54 I L R 42 Bom 689
- s 60 I L R 37 Bom 415
- 63 O XI s 100
I L R 37 Bom 488
- s 92 I L R 35 All 459
I L R 42 Bom 742
- s 110 I L R 36 Bom 105
I L R 39 All 101
I L R 42 All 18
I L R 42 Bom 119
3 Pat L J 376
- O 7 s 10 I L R 1 Lah 203
- O XI s 13 I L R 37 All 298

JURISDICTION—contd

- O IX s 8 AND 9 I L R 44 Bom 82
- O XI s 7 I L R 38 Bom 194
- XXIII s 1 I L R 37 Bom 682
- O XXIII s 1 I L R 44 Bom 598
- OO XXIII XLI s 11 I L R 35 Bom 261
- O XII s 22 I L R 1 Lah 396
- O XVII s 1 I L R 38 Bom 416
I L R 43 All 258
- See III ss 7 69 70 I L R 37 Bom 32
- See COLLECTOR I L R 40 Cal 465
- See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913) s 207
I L R 38 All 407
- See COMPANY I L R 45 Cal 486
- See COMPLAINT I L R 40 Cal 444
- See CONTEMPT OF COURT I L R 45 Cal 168
- See CONTRACT I L R 47 Cal 583
- See CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES ACT 1912
s 42 I L R 44 Bom 532
- See COPYRIGHT ACT (XX OF 1847)
ss 7 AND 12 I L R 33 All 24
- See COSTS I L R 46 Cal 1070
- See COURT FEE I L R 40 Cal 245
I L R 40 Cal 615
I L R 45 Cal 634
- See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s 17
I L R 36 Bom 628
- See COURT OF WARDS ACT (BOM ACT
I OF 1905) s 3 (c) I L R 37 Bom 313
- See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST
I L R 48 Cal 679
- See CRIMINAL JURISDICTION
I L R 37 Cal 714
- See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898)—
- ss 110 AND 526 I L R 37 All 20
- s 107 125 438 I L R 40 All 140
- s 110 I L R 36 Mad 98
I L R 39 All 139
- ss 112 167 I L R 36 All 262
- s 120 I L R 35 All 103
I L R 41 All 651
- s 123 I L R 38 All 209
- s 140 2 Pat L J 25
- ss 140 439 I L R 32 All 132
- ss 145 AND 435 I L R 36 All 233
- ss 145 AND 522 I L R 37 All 654
- s 145 I L R 39 All 612
I L R 40 All 364
- s 177 I L R 34 All 451
- s 179 I L R 34 All 457
I L R 35 All 29
- ss 179 AND 183 I L R 38 Mad 779
- ss 187 631 I L R 32 All 297

JURISDICTION—contd

- s 188 I L R 41 All 452
 s 190 I L R 44 Pcm 42
 191 I L R 39 All 657
 I L R 41 Bom 577
 I L R 34 All 197
 I L R 36 Mad 138
 19 46 I L R 34 All 602
 203 I L R 36 All 129
 s 370 I L R 37 All 231
 s 310 AND 430 I L R 37 All 418
 s 300 I L R 36 All 215
 I L R 49 All 307
 s 400 I L R 34 All 214
 s 430 I L R 36 All 53
 s 470 400 I L R 40 All 144
 s 400 I L R 39 All 91
 I L R 40 All 24 & 116
 I L R 43 All 180
 I L R 43 Bom 300
 s 510 500 I L R 35 All 374
 s 500 I L R 35 Bom 233
 I L R 42 Bom 664
 s 520 I L R 39 Calc 1050
 s 500 107 110 110 I L R 32 All 842
 s 500 I L R 32 All 635
 s DECREE I L R 39 Bom 31
 I L R 40 All 570
 See DIVORCE I L R 44 Bom 924
 I L R 45 Bom 547
 I L R 45 Calc 520
 See DECREE CONCERNING LAND I L R 46 Calc 1056
 See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1909)—
 s 2 4 7 AND 40 I L R 38 Bom 125
 s 11 I L R 32 All 203
 I L R 37 Bom 57
 See EVIDENCE I L R 38 Mad 160
 See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 44 I L R 34 All 143
 See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT I L R 39 Mad 842
 See EXECUTION OF DECREE I L R 38 All 306
 I L R 35 All 119
 I L R 38 All 33
 I L R 47 Calc 1100
 See EX PARTE DECREE I L R 48 Calc 153
 See EXTRADITION I L R 41 Calc 400
 See FOREIGN DECREE I L R 39 Mad 24
 See FORFEITURE I L R 42 Calc 730
 See FRAUD I L R 38 Calc 936
 See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (X OF 1897)
 s 3 (25) I L R 35 All 156
 See GUARDIANS AND WARDEN ACT 1890—

JURISDICTION—contd

- s I L R 34 Bom 121
 s 100 20 I L R 37 All 515
 See HABTA CORPUS I L R 44 Calc 78
 I L R 46 Calc 52
 See HIGH COURTS ACT (VI OF 1861) s 2 9 AND 13 I L R 30 Bom 604
 See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
 See HIGH SEAS I L R 42 Bom 234
 See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
 s Pat L J 164
 s HINDU LAW—ADoption I L R 48 Calc 1059
 s HOMESTEAD LAW I L R 42 Calc 638
 s IN SOLVENCY I L R 38 Calc 542
 I L R 43 Calc 243
 I L R 44 Calc 899
 I L R 45 Bom 550
 I L R 47 Calc 721
 See INTEREST I L R 44 Bom 75
 See JURISDICTION AND CLAIM
 See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS
 See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE
 COURT
 See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS
 See JURISDICTION OF DISTRICT COURT
 See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT
 See JURISDICTION OF INFANTRY COURT
 See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE
 See JURISDICTION OF SMALL CAUSE
 COURT
 See JURY I L R 37 Calc 467
 I L R 44 Calc 723
 See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 39 Calc 33
 See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—
 s 3 I L R 45 Bom 277
 s 18 I L R 35 Bom 146
 See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V
 OF 1849) s 80
 s LETTERS PATENT (BOMBAY) s 12 I L R 37 Bom 404
 See LETTERS PATENT (CAL) s 30
 2 Pat L J 684
 See LIMITATION ACT OF (IV OF 1909)—
 APT 180 I L R 34 All 482
 ARTS 181 180 I L R 42 Bom 309
 s LITIGATION I L R 48 Calc 577
 See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD
 III 1904) s 413 I L R 38 Mad 581 See MADRAS ESTATE LAND ACT (I OF
 1908) s 189 I L R 39 Mad 239
 See MAGISTRATE I L R 39 Calc 119
 See MAMLATDAR'S COURTS ACT (BOM ACT II OF 1906) s 23
 I L R 37 Bom 595

JURISDICTION—contd

- See MESNE PROFITS I L R 40 Calc 56
R Pat L J 394
- See MINOR—GUARDIAN
I L R 41 I A 314
- See MORTGAGE I L R 33 All 97
I L R 37 Mad 420
- See MORTGAGE DECREE
3 Fft L J 478
- See PARTITION I L R 45 Calc 873
- See PENAL CODE (Act XLV of 1860)
s 40j I L R 38 Mad 639
ss 102 AND 211 I L R 36 All 212
ss 463 471 I L R 36 Mad 387
- See PENSIONS ACT (XVIII of 1871)
s 4 I L R 37 Bom 91
I L R 42 Bom 257
I L R 45 Bom 196
- See PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATE
I L R 47 Calc 147
- See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT
I L R 38 Calc 425
- See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT—Act (V of 1882) s 38
I L R 42 Bom 80
I L R 39 Mad 219
- See PROHIBITORY ORDER
I L R 39 Calc 154
- See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
Act (IX of 1887)—
s 2j I L R 34 All 348
I L R 45 Bom 292
s 3j I L R 37 All 450
I L R 39 All 357
s 2 SCH II Art 41
I L R 41 All 51
SCH II Art 13
I L R 40 All 663
Art 31 3 Pat L J 423
Art 31 I L R 40 All 142 666
Art 31 I L R 40 All 52
Art 41 I L R 40 All 135
- See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III of 1867)
s 5 I L R 34 All 597
- See PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT 1887
s 119 I L R 1 Lah 387
- See RAILWAY ACT (IV of 1890) ss 120(a)
130 I L R 43 Bom 888
s 4 I L R 45 Bom 1324
- S RECEIVER I L R 46 Calc 70 352
4 Pat L J 642
- See REGISTRATION
I L R 41 Calc 972
- See REGULATION (V of 1886) ss 8j 141
I L R 37 All 220
- See REWARD I L R 46 Calc 738
- See REST I L R 45 Calc 769
- See INSTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS
I L R 34 Bom 236
- See REVENUE COURT—JURISDICTION OF

JURISDICTION—contd

- See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT—s 4 SUB s (a) I L R 34 Bom 232 ss 4 (c) 5 AND 6
I L R 37 Mad 542
- See REVIVOR I L R 43 Calc 903
- See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 41 Calc 590
- See SEA CUSTOMS ACT (VIII of 1878),
ss 107 (3) 187 188 191
I L R 43 Bom 221
- See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
- See SMALL CAUSE COURT
- See STAMP ACT (II of 1892) ss 40 57
I L R 40 All 128
- See SEAL OF SUIT I L R 43 Calc 144
- See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII of 1889) ss 19 26 I L R 34 All 148
- See THIRD PARTY NOTICE
I L R 45 Bom 1
- See TRADE MARK I L R 37 All 446
- See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III of 1901)—
4 I L R 43 All 45
s 18 I L R 39 All 297
ss 26 AND 86 I L R 43 All 422
s 233(1) I L R 39 All 469
- See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (I of 1900) s 147
I L R 32 All 620
- magistrate cannot invite District Magistrate's opinion—
I L R 37 Bom 144
- See PRACTICE I L R 37 Bom 144
- preliminary decrees—Duty of Court to draw up—
- See PRELIMINARY DECREE
I L R 37 Bom 90
- See VERDICT I L R 45 Bom 234
- See WAIVER I L R 44 Calc 10
- objection to not taken in first Court—
- See VALUATION OF SUIT
I L R 43 Bom 507
- dismissal of the suit for want of—
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11
I L R 37 Bom 583
- in suit for maintenance—
- See PARSIS I L R 38 Bom 615
- of Chief Presidency Magistrate—
- See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1898)—
s 514 I L R 42 Bom 400
- of Civil and Revenue Courts—
- See ANPA TEWANCY ACT (II of 1901)— ss 9j AND 167 I L R 38 All 48
s 167 I L R 39 All 675
- See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE
ACT (III of 1901) ss 203 TO 207
I L R 38 All 711

JURISDICTION—

- of foreign Court—
 F. I. & D. Act 1902
 I L R 39 Mad 24
- of Municipal Courts—
 C. C. Act 1902 (Act V of 1902)
 I L R 33 Mad 635
- of Registrar in Insolvency—
 I L R 31 Cal 631
- of subordinate Courts to take proceedings—
 I L R 31 Cal 1015
- of Civil Courts—
 I L R 39 Mad 21
- of Criminal Courts—
 I L R 33 Mad 733
- of High Court in a Revenue case—
 Agra Tenancy Act 1901 & 1902
 I L R 42 All 11
- submission to whether voluntary—
 S. 133 Cr. P. Code, 1903
 I L R 39 Mad 24
- to rehear—
 I L R 37 Cal 259
- to try offence committed on high seas—
 See Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1903)
 I L R 41 Bom 187
- voluntary submission to—
 S. 133 Cr. P. Code
 I L R 39 Mad 733

1 — Secretary of State for India in Council—Dwell or carry on business or professionally work for gain—Letters Patent 1873, s. 1. This Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit brought against the Secretary of State for India in Council where the cause of action arose wholly outside the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of this Court on the sole ground that the Secretary of State for India in Council dwelt or carried on business or professionally worked for gain within the local limits of Calcutta the capital of India at time of the institution of this suit. Dwaj Narayan Tewary v The Secretary of State for India I L R 14 Cal 206 followed. PODRICKS v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912).

I L R 40 Cal 308

2 — evidence taken by another Judge—Practice—Evidence in criminal case recorded by Assistant Session Judge—Judgment pronounced by Sessions Judge without relying on the evidence. Where a Sessions Judge decided a case upon evidence taken not before him but before an Assistant Sessions Judge it was held that the Sessions Judge's judgment was ultra vires and a fresh trial was ordered. EMERSON v BADRI PRASAD 1912.

I L R 35 All 63

3 — Sonthal Parganas—Suit to enforce Mortgage—Land partly in Sonthal Parganas—Usury—Sonthal Parganas Act (XXVII of 1855) s. 10

JURISDICTION—contd

—Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation (Bengal III of 1855) ss 5 and 6—Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation (Bengal I of 1893) Part II—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1857) s. 19. A suit was brought in 1901 in the Court of the Subordinate Judge at Bhagalpur to enforce a mortgage of land of which a portion was situated in the Sonthal Parganas (a part only of that land having been settled) and a portion in the Bhagalpur district. The mortgage provided that it might be enforced in the Bhagalpur Court. Held (i) that all suits in regard to land in the Sonthal Parganas so long as the land has not been settled and the settlement notified in the Calcutta Calcutta must be brought before the settlement officers or the Courts of officers appointed under the Sonthal Parganas Act 18 and the Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation 1893 and that the Bhagalpur Court had no jurisdiction in the present suit under the Civil Procedure Code s. 10 or otherwise (ii) that the Court exercising jurisdiction to enforce the mortgage was bound by the rules as to usury contained in s. 6 of the Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation 1852. MAHA PRASAD v RANJAN MOHAN SINGH (1911).

I L R 41 I A 197

4 — Concurrent Jurisdiction—Trial—High Court—In order to determine revenue when several Courts have concurrent local jurisdiction—Infringement of any of the High Court's such jurisdiction—Infringement of the ground of convenience only—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1857) s. 185. s. 185 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not warrant the High Court within the local limits of which a criminal jurisdiction is conferred a suit is in interference thereunder merely on the ground of convenience but only when a doubt arises as to the Court by which an offence should be enquired into or tried. Where therefore there is no doubt that two Courts are equally competent to exercise jurisdiction the High Court has no power under the section. PARAKI BEYODE CHAKRAVARTI v ALL INDIAN BANKING AND INSURANCE CO (1913).

I L R 41 Cal 305

5 — Additional Sessions Judge—Competency of to try suit under s. 92 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 if not directly empowered by Local Government—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 21-92—Bengal A. W. P. and Assam Civil Courts Act (VII of 1883) s. 8. An Additional District Judge who is not vested with the power of trying suits under s. 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure by the Local Government has no jurisdiction to try such suits and a transfer of such a suit by the District Judge to the Additional District Judge is not competent. Abdul Karim Abu Alied Khan v Mohan Sobhan Choudhury I L R 32 Cal 117 referred to. MAHOMED MOISA v ABUL HASAN KHAN (1914).

I L R 41 Cal 866

5(a) — Valuation—A plaintiff land lord sued for a declaration of title and an injunction to restrain from realising rents the defendant who had been ordered in settlement proceedings as entitled to realise rent from tenants. The value of the property was found to be Rs 4000 or Rs 5000 but the plaintiff valued the relief prayed by him at only Rs 500. Held the value of the suit ought to be the value of the property. KRIHVA DAS LALA v HARI CHURN BANERJEE

15 C W N 823

JURISDICTION—contd

6 ——— Execution of decree—Ejectment—Indian High Courts Act 1861 (74 of 1861) s 101 s 15—Bengal Assam Civil Courts Act (VII of 1887) s 21—Sonthal Parganas Civil Courts Statutory Rules paragraph 29—Sonthal Parganas Act (XXXVIII of 1885) s 1 cl (2) s 2—Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation (III of 1882) s 2—Sonthal Parganas Rent Regulation (II of 1882) s 3—Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation (I of 1893) s 7 9 12 13 15 27 Where the decree holder applied for execution of a rent decree by ejectment as previous applications for attachment and sale had failed and the Sub Deputy Collector of Deoghar ordered the ejectment of the judgment debtor from a portion of the holding but the Deputy Commissioner on the recommendation of the Sub Divisional Officer sanctioned eviction from the whole holding and as the suit for rent was valued at less than one thousand rupees though the market value of the land was more Held that the suit was rightly tried in the Court of the Sub Deputy Collector and the execution proceeding as properly commenced in the Court in which the suit had been brought and the decree made Held also that in relation to that Court the Court of the Commissioner was the High Court (112 of Regulation V of 1893) and not this High Court Though the same individual may be appointed to discharge the duties of Sub Divisional Officer and Subordinate Judge or Deputy Commissioner and District Judge and in one set of Courts be subject to the superintendence of this High Court still the two sets of Courts as institutions or tribunals were entirely distinct from each other Mul Karim v. The Municipal Officer Aden 1 L R 27 Bom 75 Municipal Officer Aden v. Ismail Hare Illma 1 L R 30 Bom 246 Rhimai v. Varman 1 L R 4 Bom 76 In the matter of John Thomson 6 B L R 120 24 B L R 5 distinguished Golan Nayak Mah v. Panchanan Gupta 19 C L J 297 followed Held further that s 20 of Regulation II of 1886 was framed for the protection of the raiyat If the execution Court determined that the decree was to be executed by ejectment that order was not to be carried out until it had been sanctioned by the Deputy Commissioner and even then there need be no ejectment if the decree was satisfied It could never have been intended that the scope of the order as made by the execution Court should be widened by the Deputy Commissioner as had been done in the present case and that without any notice to the raiyat Danbari Lankar v. Bhuri Poo (1814)

I L R 41 Cal 915

7 ——— Cantonment tax—Civil Courts—Taxes levied by cantonment authorities—Payment and receipt—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts to entertain and for recovery of payment Civil Courts have jurisdiction to entertain a suit to recover the amount of taxes levied by the cantonment authorities and paid under protest on the ground that the payment was illegal This may be the case though no application requiring return attend the Court If a return has been made on the plaintiff's application the Court has not been given to the latter to take a plea on the subject and when the return is made it shall be wholly disregarded the law is on this point as it has been seen and by analogy the rate upon the gross income of the plaintiff has been paid 1 L R 1 F 1 29

JURISDICTION—contd

Bom 294 followed SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. MAJOR HUGHES (1913)

I L R 38 Bom 293

8 ——— Transfer of venue from one Court to another after decree—Appellate forum The District Munsif of Madanapalle having jurisdiction over Kadiri passed a decree on 30th March 1911 in respect of a cause of action which arose in Kadiri on 1st April 1911 Kadiri was transferred to the territorial jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court at Pennucunda from which appeals lay to the District Court at Bellary whereas appeals from the District Munsif's Court at Madanapalle lay to the District Court at Cuddajah Held on the question as to the proper appellate forum in the case that the appeal from the decree lay to the District Court at Bellary as the transfer of territorial jurisdiction ipso facto effected a transfer of venue SUBBAYYA v. KACHAYYA (1914)

I L R 37 Mad 477

9 ——— Change of Court of Appeal owing to under valuation—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court—Judgment of Court having no jurisdiction a nullity—Effect of a judgment—Consent decrees to the prejudice of minor or any reversionary heirs not binding on him—Stranger introduction of into appeal without leave of Court A suit was intentionally undervalued The dependants raised no objection as regards valuation and the suit was tried The appeal was filed before the District Judge instead of before the High Court in consequence of the undervaluation and the District Judge decided the appeal by a consent decree Held that if a Court has no jurisdiction over the subject matter of the litigation its judgments and orders however precisely certain and technically correct are mere nullities and not only voidable they are void and have no effect either a estoppel or otherwise and may not only be set aside at any time by the court in which they are rendered but be declared void by every Court in which they may be presented These principles apply not only to Original Courts but also to Courts of Appeal Jurisdiction cannot be conferred upon a Court of Appeal by consent of parties and any waiver on their part cannot make up for the lack or defect of jurisdiction (Urdu Singh v. Chandrasat Singh 1 L R 38 Cal 193 Bair Nath Singh v. Gajraj Singh 7 All L J R 675 Coroor Pershad Roy v. Juggoburdo Ma under (1867) 11 P F R 15 Colab Sae v. Choudhury Madho Lal 9 O B L 96 Ledgar v. Bull 1 L R 9 All 191 L R 13 1 A 141 Munishi Vaidu v. Sarabamany Sa tri 1 L R 11 Mad 26 L R 141 A 160 Laurence v. Wilcock 11 A F L 941 The Queen v. The Judge of the country Court of Shropshire 20 Q B D 258 referred to Where a suit between a Hindu widow and a claimant to the estate of her husband a stranger who was not a party to the suit in the Original Court was made a party to the appeal without leave of the Court and a consent decree made the decree was not binding upon the reversionary heirs A Hindu widow who is a limited or qualified owner cannot confess judgment and be party to a consent decree so as to bind the inheritance in the hands of the reversionary heirs Antina Vaidya v. the Raja of Shuanganga 9 Moo L 4 539 Stapilton v. Stapilton 1 White and Ind St Ed 931 1 All 2 distinguished Imrai Koonar v. Poop Narain

JURISDICTION—cont'd

to Rs 60,000 antecedent to suit and pendente lite whether can be anticipated by Munsif—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1887) ss 50 211 212—Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887) s 7 cl (1) 18 When a plaintiff institutes his suit for possession and mesne profits antecedent to the suit in a Court of limited pecuniary jurisdiction he may be rightly deemed to have limited his claim to the maximum amount for which that Court can entertain a suit. In fact in such a case if the plaintiff subsequently put forward a claim in excess of the jurisdiction of the Court he may be justly required to remit the excess because he had with his eyes open brought his suit deliberately in a Court of limited pecuniary jurisdiction. Golap Singh v Indira Kumar Hara 13 C W N 493 9 C L J 367 followed. Sudarshan Dass v Pimpriat 7 All I J P 263 dissented from But mesne profits antecedent to the suit and mesne profits pendente lite stand on very different grounds. A Munsif cannot entertain an application for investigation of mesne profits pendente lite when the claim was laid over Rs 60,000. The proper course to follow was to direct the return of the plaint in so far as it embodied a prayer for a statement of mesne profits from the institution of the suit to the date of delivery of possession for presentation to the Court of competent pecuniary jurisdiction i.e. the Court of the Subordinate Judge. Pamcoor Mahton v Dihu Mahton 1 L R 21 Cal 550 distinguished. BRUPENDRA KUMAR CHAKRAVARTY v PUTTA CHANDRA BOSE (1916) 1 L R 43 Cal 650

18 ——— Ruling Prince or Chief—Consent of Local Government—Submission to jurisdiction—Waiver—International Law—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 86 construction of Where His Highness Rajah of Cochin was impleaded as a defendant in a suit in the capacity of a trustee of a temple without the consent of the Local Government under s 86 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) Held that the suit was not maintainable as against the Rajah of Cochin in the absence of consent of the Local Government under s 86 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Per O'DFIELD J.—The recognition of cases of waiver as excepted from the ordinary provision of International Law as understood in England cannot be imported into the clear language of the Indian Code. Chandulal v Avad bin Umar Sultan 1 L R 21 Bom 351 dissented from. Per SADA SIVA AYYAR J.—Objection to jurisdiction is enough to show that there was no voluntary submission by the defendant to the jurisdiction of the Court. Parry & Co v Appasami Pillai 1 L R 2 Mad 407 approved. Veeraraghavaiyer v Muga 54 I L R 39 Mad 93 referred to. VARADANATH MOORTHY v THE COCHIN SIKAR (1916) 1 L R 39 Mad 661

19 ——— Criminal misappropriation or breach of trust—Receipt of money and conversion—Head office of a company in Madras Presided by—Jury—Jurisdiction of Court at latter place to try the offence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 12 131(a) The jurisdiction of a Court to try the offences of criminal misappropriation or breach of trust is governed by s 131(a) and not s 131(b) of the Criminal Procedure Code. Loss of a normal result is not an ingredient of the offence of criminal misappropriation or breach of trust and not therefore a consequence within the meaning of s 179. A complaint of offences under ss 403 and 406 of the Penal Code against an official of an Insurance Company having its head office at B in the Madras Presidency where the money was received and the conversion took place cannot be tried by a Court at K where loss ensued to the complainant. Ganesh Lal v And Kishore 1 L R 34 All 187 and Pambilas v Emperor (1914) Mad W N 894 followed. Queen Empre v O'Brien 1 L R 19 All 111 and Lanaridge v Allins 1 L R 35 All 29 dissented from. Colville v Kristo Kishore Bose 1 L R 26 Cal 746. Emperor v Mahadeo 1 L R 32 All 397 distinguished. SIMHACHALAM v EMPEROR (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 912

JURISDICTION—cont'd

20 ——— Leave to withdraw suit by Appellate Court—Subsequent Suit—Res Judicata—Civil Procedure Code—(Act XIV of 1887) 373 (Act V of 1908) O XXXIII r 1 The plaintiff brought a suit for the declaration of his title in respect of certain rights and for other reliefs. This suit was dismissed by the Court of first instance on the merits after the evidence had been gone into. The plaintiff thereupon preferred an appeal. At the hearing of the appeal he made an application for leave to withdraw from the suit under s 373 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 on the grounds of a formal defect and of his inability to produce the necessary evidence in time and obtained an order in the presence of the defendants to the effect that the appeal be dismissed with costs and the plaintiff's suit be allowed to be withdrawn with leave for fresh action for the same subject matter if not barred. Subsequently the plaintiff brought a fresh suit against the same parties on the same cause of action as in the previous suit. Held that the ground on which the order was made by the Appellate Court was not a ground which was contemplated by s 373 of the Civil Procedure Code and that therefore the order was without jurisdiction. Kharda Coal Co Ltd v Durga Charan Chandra 11 C L J 45 and Mabulla Sardar v Hemangini Devi 11 C L J 512 referred to. HALI PRASAD SINGH v PANCHANAN NANDY (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 367

21 ——— Execution proceedings—Suits above Rs 5,000—Appeal from order in execution proceedings—Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887) s 21 sub s (2)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) 99 100 108 Where in execution proceedings in a mortgage suit the value of which exceeded Rs 5,000 an order was made by the Court of first instance which on appeal was modified by the District Judge. Held that the order of the District Judge was made without jurisdiction and was contrary to law. In such a suit an appeal against an order made in a proceeding arising out of the decree lay to the High Court and not to the Court of the District Judge under the provisions of s 21 sub s (2) of the Bengal Civil Courts Act 1882. Held also that as the order was passed on appeal by the District Judge a second appeal lay to the High Court under s 100 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. Ranjit Mehar v Pandit Singh 16 C L J 77 referred to. INDRANATH MOOKERJEE v PUTTA CHANDRA ROY (1916) 1 L R 45 Cal 926

22 ——— Deficit court fees whether recoverable by attachment of movables Where after the dismissal of a suit the Court ordered the deficit court fee to be paid by the

JURISDICTION—contd

September 1914 and the final decree was passed on 24th August 1917. On 20th June 1916 D purchased the right title and interest of A at an execution sale and in July 1918 D filed the present suit for a declaration that the decrees in the previous suit were without jurisdiction so far as they affected properties outside Calcutta and that the leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent was improperly obtained. GRAVES J held that the Court had jurisdiction to pass the decrees. Held that the decrees were without jurisdiction in so far as the immovable properties outside Calcutta were concerned and that leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent could not be granted. Held further that the question of jurisdiction could be raised in the present suit though it could have been and was not raised in the previous suit. Per MOOKERJEE J—It is an elementary principle that where a Court has no jurisdiction over the subject matter of the action in which an order is made such order is wholly void for jurisdiction cannot be conferred by consent of parties and no waiver or a quittance on their part can make up for the lack or defect of jurisdiction. Rajalakshmi v Kalyan 1 L R 33 Cal 609 (1910) Gurd o v Chandrika 1 L R 36 Cal 193 (1907) and Panjit v Parvadar 17 C W N 118 (1911) referred to. Held also there could not be res judicata inasmuch as the question of jurisdiction raised in this suit was neither raised nor decided in the previous suit. Per MOOKERJEE J—When a Court judicially considers and adjudicates the question of its jurisdiction and decides that the facts exist which are necessary to give it jurisdiction over the case the decision is conclusive till it is set aside in an appropriate proceeding. But when there has been no such adjudication the decree remains a decree without jurisdiction and cannot operate as res judicata. KRISHNA KISHORE DE v AMAR VATH KSHETTRY 24 C W N 633

JURISDICTION—contd

a Civil Court and that they had failed to discharge that onus. RAMJI LAL v MANJAL SINGH 1 L R 22 Lah 302

30 ——— Suit for money advanced and for specific performance of an agreement to mortgage land outside jurisdiction—Injunction to restrain disposal of land outside jurisdiction—Interest in land. In a suit instituted in the High Court in its original jurisdiction the plaintiff stated that the plaintiff firm advanced in Calcutta various sums of money secured by promissory notes as well as by the deposit of title deeds of property outside Calcutta to the defendant who resided outside the jurisdiction. It stated that the title deeds were with the plaintiff firm in respect of a previous regularly executed mortgage. It stated further that the defendant agreed to register and execute a regular mortgage whenever called upon to do so but that the defendant refused to return the money or execute the said mortgage and in breach of the agreement the defendant was attempting to transfer the property to others. The plaintiff firm prayed for leave under clause 12 of the Letters Patent and under Order II r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code to institute the suit in this Court. On an application for settlement of issues. Held that a suit for specific performance of an agreement to mortgage lands outside the jurisdiction even if the title is accepted is a suit for land within the meaning of clause 12 of the Charter and accordingly that leave cannot be given. Sreenath Roy v Gally Dass Ghose 1 L R 6 Cal 87 followed. RATACHAND DRABACHAND v GOVIND ALL DUTT (1921) 1 L R 48 Cal 882

JURISDICTION AND CLAIM

——— denial of—
See FOREIGN DECREE EXECUTION OF 1 L R 39 Mad 24

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS

See ADEQ SETTLEMENT REGULATION (VII of 1900) = 13

1 L R 40 Bom 446

See JURISDICTION

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 44 Cal 219

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V of 1879) = 9A 1 L R 55 Cal 72

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1908) s 8 1 L R 38 Mad 608

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII of 1871) ss 4 5 6 1 L R 37 All 338

See REGULATION II of 1827 1 L R 34 Bom 455

See RIGHT OF SUE 1 L R 40 Bom 200

See TITLE 1 L R 37 Cal 662

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III of 1901) s 233 (1) 1 L R 30 All 440

——— Caste question
See HINDU LAW—PILGRIM'S OFFICE 1 L R 36 Bom 94

See TRUSTS ACT (II of 188) ss 1 AND 6 1 L R 34 Bom 467

——— Civil or Revenue—suit for recovery of price of barley delivered to defendants by a Revenue Officer—whether competent—Punjab Land Revenue Act XVII of 1887 sections 141 188 (?) (XXI)—onus probandi. Defendants applied to the Revenue Officer for division and appraisement of the produce of a holding in which they were co-sharers with the plaintiffs. An appraisement was duly made but before the produce could be divided the plaintiffs removed it and stored it in a house. Thereupon the referee appointed by the Revenue Officer made over a whole khatta of barley to the defendants in lieu of their share of the produce. The plaintiffs after making an unsuccessful attempt to get redress through the Revenue Authority brought the present action for the price of the barley alleging that it belonged to them exclusively. Held that the question whether the barley is joint property or belongs exclusively to the plaintiffs is a question of title which cannot be determined by a Revenue Officer who is required only to divide the produce which is admittedly joint or to determine its value and then consequently the Civil Court has jurisdiction to entertain the present suit which does not come within the jurisdiction of sections 188 (?) (XXI) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act. Held also that the onus was on the defendants to satisfy the Court that the claim made by the plaintiffs is not valid in recognition of

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

provided that the Sub Committee should keep a record of the daily rates and on the last day of the raida should fix the taida rate (i.e. the market rate of the day) on the basis of which differences should be calculated which became payable in cases in which contracts were not carried out. The plaintiffs who were rice merchants in Rangoon were not members of the Association but they employed agents in Bombay who were members to purchase rice for them and on the 21st November 1906 these agents bought from the defendants 1340 bags of rice at Rs 9 per bag deliverable at the raida of Mangshur Sud 1903 (i.e. from the 15th November 1906 to 30th November 1906). The contract which was in the printed form framed under the rules as above mentioned contained the following clause—This contract is made subject to the rules of the Bombay United Rice Merchants Association. Each party is bound to act in accordance with the same. For delivery at this raida a large number of the members of the Association had made contracts of sale. The plaintiffs and a few others were purchasers and they were apprehensive that in settling the raida rate the interests of the buyers would be disregarded in favour of those of the sellers. They accordingly wrote to the President of the Association calling upon him to see that no interested person was allowed to act on the Sub-Committee for fixing the raida rate. In accordance with the practice a general meeting of the Association was held on the 30th November 1906 at which after discussion a special Sub Committee was appointed to fix the rate consisting only of three persons one of whom was not a member of the standing Sub-Committee and another of whom had large contracts of sale due at this raida. This Sub Committee fixed the rate at Rs. 8-11 0 per bag. The plaintiffs alleged that it should have been fixed at Rs. 9 2 0 or Rs. 9 4 0 per bag which was the real market rate of the day. That the rate fixed was dishonestly fixed in the interest of sellers. That the Sub Committee was not constituted according to the rules. Two members of it being ineligible one because he did not belong to the standing Sub-Committee and the other because he was interested in fixing a low rate and they contended that for these reasons (inter alia) they were not bound by the rate fixed. They had duly demanded delivery of the rice contracted for and the defendants failed to give delivery and the plaintiffs now sued for the difference between the contract price (Rs. 9) and the market price on the 30th November 1906. The sum claimed as damages was less than Rs. 1000. The defendants pleaded—(i) That having regard to a law of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XLV of 1882) and a rule of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882) the suit was not maintainable in the High Court. (ii) That certain alleged partners of the plaintiff not being parties to the suit it should be dismissed for non joinder. (iii) That having regard to the rules of the Association which provided a remedy in case of disputes among its members and that their going to law the plaintiffs were precluded from suing at law at all events until they had exhausted the remedies provided by the rules. (iv) That the plaintiffs were bound by the rate fixed by the Sub Committee appointed by the Association. Held (i) that the High Court had jurisdiction and that the suit should proceed subject to the provisions as to costs contained in s. 22 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

(XV of 1882) (ii) That the alleged partnership was proved but nevertheless the suit could not be dismissed for non joinder. (iii) That the plaintiffs were entitled to sue at law notwithstanding the provisions contained in the rules of the Association requiring all disputes to be submitted for decision to the Association and restricting the right of members to sue each other. (iv) That at the meeting of the Association held on the 30th November 1906 the plaintiffs (through their agents) had consented to the appointment of a Sub Committee of three persons to fix the raida rate and that they were therefore bound by the rate then fixed. Any stipulation that the award of an arbitrator shall be accepted as final restricts the rights of contracting parties to invoke the aid of the ordinary Courts and to that extent is void. The effect of s. 28 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) and s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) read with the related sections of the Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1909) and the Civil Procedure Code dealing with arbitration is that a person may not contract himself out of his right to have recourse to Courts of law but that in the event of any party having made a lawful agreement to refer a matter of difference to arbitration as a condition precedent to going to law about it the Courts will recognise the agreement and give effect to it by staying proceedings in the Courts. MULJI TRISTING & PARTNERS DEVRAS (1909) I L R 34 Bom 13

6 ——— Suit for share in produce of immovable property—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1897) ss 16 27 30 Sch II Cls (2) and (3)—Suit for the recovery of certain sum representing a share in the produce of immovable property—Cognizance by the Court of Small Causes—Decree final—Appeal. A suit for the recovery of Rs. 12 11 6 representing plaintiff's share in the produce of immovable property is a suit for money had and received to the plaintiff's use and is cognizable by the Court of Small Causes and the decree in such a suit is final under s. 27 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887). Notwithstanding its finality an appeal was preferred to the District Court of Ahmedabad which Court entertained the appeal and reversing the decree allowed the plaintiff's claim. The defendant thereupon, preferred a second appeal and at the hearing proved that the second appeal might be treated as an application for revision under s. 110 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1906) on the ground that the District Court acted without jurisdiction in entertaining the appeal. The respondent (plaintiff) urged that a second appeal lay and further that by reason of the conduct of the parties and the fact that the appellant (defendant) had not objected to the jurisdiction of the District Court it was too late in second appeal to take the point. Held that the District Court had no jurisdiction to try the case and the conduct of the parties could not give it jurisdiction. Lekha d v Bill L. R. 13 I 4 134 and Meenabai Navroo v Subramanya Sastry L. P. 11 I 1 169 referred to. Decree of the District Court reversed and that of the first Court restored. DAYALAKSHI (MAHARAYA SHRI) v KHACHAR HASTI MOH (1909) I L R 34 Bom 171

7 ——— Suit for declaration of title and injunction, valuation of—Jurisdiction—Court Fees Act (I II of 1870) s. 11 sub-s. (1) cl.

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

Sheo Narain Singh v Khurgo Koerry 10 C L R 337
Sant Kumar v Deo Saran 1 L P 8 All 36,
Jeram Laljee v Veerai 5 Bom. L P 385
Gobind Krishna Narain v Khunni Lal 1 L P 29 All 487
Mahad v Baldeo 1 L R 30 All 75
Poy Nadia Kissen v Nauratan Lall G C L J 490
Asharam Salhani v Chanda Churn Mukerjee 13 C W A 147 referred to A consent decree does not operate to the prejudice of persons not parties thereto Nicholas v Asphar 1 L R 21 Calc 218 In re South American and Mexican Company [1895] 1 Ch 37 and The Belconnin 10 P D 161 distinguished.
Huddersfield Banking Company Limited v Lister [1895] 2 Ch 273 followed.
RAJAKSHI DASEE v KATYAKANI DASEE (1910) 1 L R 35 Calc 639

11 ——— Suit for declaration regarding various alleged customary rights of zamindars mostly of the nature of cesses. A suit was filed by certain tenants of a village against the zamindars praying for a declaration that no custom existed in their village which entitled the zamindars to take certain fruits and wood, or to the use of a plough or to a number of other dues including sugarcane juice from some of the tenants poppy seed from the hoeries and various other matters of the same description. Held that the suit was properly filed in a Civil Court and was not excluded from the jurisdiction of such Court by anything contained in either the Agra Tenancy Act 1901 or the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901.
SHROFADAR ANUP v THE COLLECTOR OF AZAM GARH (1912) 1 L R 34 All 358

12 ——— Burma Town and Village Lands Act.—(Burma Act IV of 1893) s 41(b). Act taking away power of subject to sue Government to determine any right to land.—Power of Lieutenant Governor in Council to pass Act—Legislation ultra vires—India Councils Act 1891 (24 & 25 Vict c 61) s 22.—Constitution of India Act 1858 (21 & 22 Vict c 106) ss 65 66 67. Held (affirming the decision of the majority of a Full Bench of the Chief Court of Lower Burma) that s 41(b) of the Burma Town and Villages Lands Act (Burma Act IV of 1893) which enacted that no Civil Court shall have jurisdiction to do termine any claim to any right over land as against the Government was ultra vires of the Lieutenant Governor of Burma in Council and therefore invalid. S 22 of the India Councils Act 1891 (4 & 25 Vict c 61) provides that the Governor General in Council shall have no power to repeal or in any way effect (amongst other matters) any provision of the Government of India Act 1858 (21 & 22 Vict c 106). And the effect of s 65 of the latter Act which enacted that all persons shall and may have and take the same suits remedies and proceedings legal and equitable against the Secretary of State in Council of India as they could have done against the East India Company was to debar the Government of India from passing any Act which could prevent a subject from suing the Secretary of State in Council in a Civil Court in any case in which he could have similarly sued the East India Company. The Court could not be construed in any different sense without reaching into them a qualification which is not there and may well have been felt by the framers. The question was not one of procedure but of the power of the Government to take away by legislation the right to proceed in a suit in a Civil Court in a case involving a right to land and the suit in this case (for damages for interference with the respondent's property) was one which would have lain against the East India Company. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MOWATT (1912)

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS—contd

1 L R 40 Calc 391

13 ——— Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act—(Beng VI of 1908) s 139(3) cl (a). The plaintiffs brought a suit in the Civil Court against the defendant for recovery of arrears of bastu rent. The defendant contended that as crops were grown on a portion of the bastu lands this land was agricultural and suits in respect thereof were triable exclusively by the Pevnue Court under the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act. Held that the land in respect of which rent was claimed was bastu land and consequently the suit was maintainable in the Civil Court.
Ramdhun Khan v Haradhun Paramanik 12 W P 404
Kalee Kishen Biswas v Sreemulky Jankee 8 W R 250 and Kumood Narain Bhoop v Purna Chunder Roy 1 L R 4 Calc 547 referred to.
MIDNAPORE ZAMINDARI CO LD v MOKTAKESHI DAS (1912) 1 L R 40 Calc 402

14 ——— Agra Tenancy Act Ch X, and s 198.—Suit by rent free grantee against Zamindar for declaration of status and recovery of rent allowed in a Civil Court.
SHAM DAS v BANADUR SYRON 1 L R 43 All 825

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT §

See CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS

See JURISDICTION

See MIDNAPUR STATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 1 L R 38 Mad 608 843

— Occupancy holding.—One of two co owners of an occupancy holding upon the allegation that the other co owner was in fact cultivating more than his proper share of the holding sued him in a Civil Court asking for a decree for possession of his half share of the holding and for means profits. The court however granted him a decree for a declaration of his right to a half share and also for means profits. Held that there was no objection to such a decree being granted by a Civil Court. In such circumstances a Pevnue Court could not grant a decree for means profits.
Ashiq Hussain v Agha Begam 1 L P 30 All 90 referred to.
GANGA SARATHI BANSE 1 L R 42 All 64

— Civil and Revenue Courts.—Rent free grantee against zamindar.—To recover possession after alleged unlawful ejectment.—There is no section in the Agra Tenancy Act and no article in the schedule thereto which provides for a suit by a rent free grantee to recover possession as such in the event of his wrongful ejectment even though that ejectment may be the act of his zamindar.
Narain v Sri Thakur Maharaj 1 L R 41 All 37 distinguished.
GOVIND PATI v BANWARI LAL 1 L P 42 All 412

— Partition of trees.—As distinct from amindari propriety. Held that a suit for partition of trees which had been purchased by the plaintiff and others jointly from one of the zamindars of two villages but apart from any interest in the zamindari itself was a suit which would lie in a Civil and not in a Revenue Court SHO SAMPAT PANDY v THAKUR PRASAD

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS—contd

I L R 42 All 574

Civil and Revenue Court—Act (Local) No II of 1911 (Agar Tenancy Act) Chapter V and section 193 (1)—Pent free grant—suit against revenue for declaration of title and recovery of rent wrongfully levied by revenue officer from subtenant Plaintiff brought his suit in a Civil Court and asked for a declaration that he was the rent free grantee of certain land and that having occupied the land for a certain period he had thereby become the proprietor. Incidentally plaintiff also asked for the refund of a sum of money which the defendant a predecessor or in title had received as rent from a third party. Held that the suit as framed was within the cognizance of a Civil Court. Gobind Lal Binwars Lal I L R 42 All 41 referred to. SHAM DAS v BANADUR SINGH

I L R 43 All 325

Suit by a minor for a declaration that a partition of land effected by the Revenue Officers is not binding on him where no question of title is involved—whether cognisable by Civil Court—Punjab Land Revenue Act XVII of 1887 s 103 (1) and (2) (XII) The plaintiff a minor was one of the two sons of one S K who died in 1909 leaving inter alia the landed property in dispute. The defendant A H his half brother a major applied in 1911 to the Revenue authorities for partition which was completed in 1912. In the proceedings the plaintiff was represented by his mother who had been previously appointed by the District Court as his guardian. The plaintiff sued for a declaration that the land is still the joint property of himself and his half brother and that consequently the partition is not binding on him. He alleged that the partition was detrimental to him that the Revenue Officer had not taken account of the trees that he was not properly represented and that the sanction of the District Judge was necessary etc. Held that as there was no dispute as to title in the land partitioned the plaintiff's grievances arising solely out of the manner in which the land was actually allotted the Civil Court was debarred from taking cognizance of the suit and the plaintiff must pursue his remedy on the revenue side. s 158 (1) and (2) (XII) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act Gulab Singh v Musammam Sukhan (104 P R 1900) followed. Dasandi v Buta (74 P R 1913) distinguished. GHTLAM HADAR v AMIR HAIDAR

I L R 1 Lah 298

Civil suit for recovery of price of barley delivered to defendants by a Revenue Officer—Whether competent—Punjab Land Revenue Act XVII of 1887 sections 144 158 (2) (XIX)—onus probandi Defendants applied to the Revenue Officer for division and appraisement of the produce of a holding in which they were co-sharers with the plaintiffs. An appraisement was duly made but before the produce could be divided the plaintiffs removed it and stored in a house. Thereupon the referee appointed by the Revenue Officer made over a whole Khat of barley to the defendants in lieu of their share of the produce. The plaintiffs after making an unsuccessful attempt to get redress through the Revenue authorities brought the present action for the price of the barley alleging that it belonged to them exclusively. Held that the question whether the barley is joint property or belongs exclusively to the plaintiffs is a question of title which cannot be determined by a Revenue Officer who is required only to divide the produce which is admittedly joint or to determine its value and that consequently the Civil Court has jurisdiction to entertain the present suit which does not come within the purview of section 158 (2) (XIX) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act. Held also that the onus was on the defendants to satisfy the Court that the claim made by the plaintiffs is not within cognizance of a Civil Court and that they had failed to discharge that onus. RAMJI LAL v MANGAL SINGH

JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS—contd

I L R 3 Lah 392

JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS

See COGNIZANCE OF AN OFFENCE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 188 227 I L R 33 All 516

s 339 I L R 1 Lah 218

s 470 I L R 33 All 396

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

See EMIGRATION I L P 37 Cal 27

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Cal 467

See OFFERINGS TO DEITY

I L R 38 Cal 367

1 ——— Practice—Order directing prosecution for instituting a false case—False information to the police—Subsequent complaint before the Magistrate—Grounds of the exercise of such jurisdiction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 195 (b) and 476 5 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be read subject to the restrictions contained in s 195 (b) and does not therefore empower a Court to direct a prosecution for making a false charge before the police. Dhar madas Kaur v King Emperor I L J 373 followed. Lah Gope v Girdhari Chaudhury 5 C W N 106 referred to. In re Dary I L R 18 Bom 531 Akhil Chandra Dei Queen Empress I L R 23 Cal 1094 Abdul Rahman v Emperor I L J 371 and Habib Khan v Emperor I L R 33 Cal 30 distinguished. But if the informant upon the police reporting the information to be false subsequently petitions the Magistrate for a judicial inquiry he must be taken to have preferred a complaint and s 476 would then apply. Queen Empress v Sham Lal I L R 14 Cal 707 Queen Empress v Sheikh Bazar I L R 10 Mad 233 and Jogendra Nath Mookerjee v Emperor I L R 33 Cal 1 referred to. No sanction should be granted or prosecution directed unless there is a reasonable probability of conviction though the authority granting a sanction under s 195 or taking action under s 476 should not decide the question of guilt or innocence. Great care and caution are required before the Criminal law is set in motion and there must be a reasonable foundation for the charge in respect of which a prosecution is sanctioned or directed. Isari Prasad v Sham Lal I L R 7 All 871 Kali Charan Lal v Basudeo Narain Singh 12 C W N

JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS— contd

Emperor v C L J 371 and Queen Empress v A Norton and Moore a Ali I L R 9 Bom 288 referred to Recommendation for prosecution by a Police officer under s 211 of the Penal Code comes within the meaning of the word complaint as used in s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code as that section clearly contemplates prosecution at the instance of Police officers. DILAN SINGH v EMPEROR (1912) I L R 40 Cal 360

11 ——— Arrest of an Indian subject in railway land in the Gwalior State—Under a warrant issued by the District Magistrate of Montgomery for a non-extradited offence committed in British India—Government of India Notification No 5111 B dated 5th February 1907 Petitioner was arrested at the Railway Station at Calcutta by the Railway Police in pursuance of a telegram sent by the District Magistrate of Montgomery in the Punjab for an offence under s 161 Indian Penal Code alleged to have been committed in the Montgomery District. Held that the arrest was illegal as it could not be said that the Gwalior State had ceded to the British Government jurisdiction over railway lands in respect of offences not committed in those lands and having no connection with the railway administration, regard being had to the words in paragraph 3 of the Notification No 5111 B of the 5th February 1907 as having ceded to the British Government full jurisdiction or all the jurisdiction they had or the jurisdiction necessary for the administration of Railways and of Civil and Criminal justice in connection therewith. Mulammad Yusuf ud Din v Queen Empress I L R 30 Cal 60 6 P P (Cr) 1897 (PC) followed. RADHA KISHORE v CROWN I L R 1 Lah 408

JURISDICTION OF DISTRICT COURT

See GUARDIAN AND WARD ACT 1890
I L R 38 Mad 39
ss 1^o 13 17 19 21 25
I L R 40 Bom 600

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 s 167
I L R 42 All 83
See F IQUITABLE MORTGAGE
I L R 38 Cal 824
See EXTRADITION I L R 46 Cal 31
I L R 38 Cal 547
See HARBOR CORPUS
I L R 39 Cal 164
See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
I L R 40 Bom 473
See HINDI SITION
I L R 38 Cal 405
I L R 42 All 98
See INJUNCTION
I L R 38 Cal 405
I L R 42 All 98
See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 44 Cal 818

over conviction and sentences by New Agent—SCHEDULED DISTRICTS ACT (XIV of 1874) s 7
I L R 41 Bom 657

In revision—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 11
I L R 40 All 674
See EXISTING I L R 47 Cal 438

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT—contd

1 ——— Revision—Appal wrongly laid before Collector instead of District Judge—Procedure by Deputy Collector under s 109 of the Pent Recovery Act—Civil Procedure Code how far governs Act X of 1859—Act X of 1859 s 109—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) s 310A The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere with the orders of the Collectors and Deputy Collectors passed under Act X of 1859. Huro Mohun Moo krjee v Kedarnath Das s 5 W P Act X 25 commented on. Bhyrab Chunder Chunder v Shama Soonderee Deba G W R 1st X 68 Gobind Coomar Choudhry v Kisto Coomar Chow dhry 7 W P 20 Deanutoollah v Noubab Nazim Sudhee W v 1st Khan Bahadur 10 W P 341 Gudadhar Chatterjee v Kund Lal Mookerjee 12 W P 406 Greenmully Navar Jan v Akbar (Mo omdar 15 W R 118) Vilmoni Singh Deo v Taranath Mukerjee I L R 9 Cal 295 referred to. Mohant Gobind Ramnappa Das v Luthun Parida 11 G W R 117 explained. The jurisdiction of the Deputy Collector under Act X of 1859 being a limited one and the procedure under s 109 of the said Act not being strictly followed, a sale under s 109 must be held to be ultra vires. Deanutoollah v Noubab Nazim 10 W R 341 referred to. Except upon points expressly provided for by Act X of 1859 the procedure of the Perverue Courts must be governed by the Civil Procedure Code. The ratio decidendi of Vilmoni Singh Deo v Taranath Mukerjee I L R 9 Cal 295 followed. Harish Chandra Gho e v Ananta Charan Patra 2 O W R 127 doubted. Adhiram Aarain Kumari v Raghu Mohapatra I L R 12 Cal 50 approved. Padma Madhub Santra v Tulshi Varan Roy Choudhry I L R 21 Cal 478 and Molunda Bullav Kar v Bhogaban Chunder Das I L R 21 Cal 511 disapproved. Nogendra Nath Mullick v Mathura Mohun Parhi I L R 18 Cal 363 explained. Hare Krishna Mahant v Bishnu Chandra Mahant I L R 35 Cal 799 Ram Lochan Singh v Beni Prasad Kumri I L R 36 Cal 257 and Madho Pralash Singh v Murl Manohar I L R 5 All 406 referred to. Where a sale under Act X of 1859 is impeached as ultra vires and illegal or the sale is rightly sought to be set aside under s 310A of the Code of Civil Procedure (XIV of 1882) the proceedings of the Deputy Collector are amenable to the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court in either case. The fact that the original suit was valued at above Rs 100 and an appeal lay to the District Judge and not to the Collector before whom the appeal was in reality heard does not take away the right of the High Court to interfere in revision. CHAITANY PATWARI MAHAPATRA v KUNJA BHUPAT PATWARI (1911) I L R 38 Cal 832

2 ——— Power to revise an order of acquittal at the instance of a private party—Decision on a point of local jurisdiction and not on the merits—Criminal Procedure Code (Act X of 1859) s 43 439 (a)—Practice S 439 (5) of the Criminal Procedure Code does not bar the jurisdiction of the High Court to interfere with an order of acquittal on an application made at the instance of a private party. Where the Appellate Court set aside a conviction and sentence on the ground that the place of occurrence was outside the local limits of the train, Magistrate's jurisdiction overtook the provisions of s 431 of the Code the High Court set aside the order of acquittal and directed a re-hearing of the appeal.

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT—contd

What the Appellate Court has to find is whether the decree of which an appeal is brought has been made out not with reference to any dispute, to justify it, but on the merits and in accordance with the evidence. KANDALL SARDAR v. BABA CHAPAN BHATTACHARYA (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 786

High Court—Letters Patent—1862—J. P. The plaintiff Company's predecessor in title who held certain coal land known as Mouza Lohva in Manturam under a permanent lease granted as underlease of a bare right to S and it was agreed that the boundary should be demarcated between the plaintiff's land and the portion retained by the grantor, and that a barrier of 30 feet of coal shall be maintained between the two portions. The Mouza and that of the party concerned within the limit of the boundary line shall make good any loss sustained by the other party. No boundary was demarcated at the time. The permanent lease of the Mouza was subject to the underlease to S subsequently assigned to T and others and then after the boundary was laid down and marked by the respective Agents of T and others and of S and a plan showing the boundary was signed by both parties. Subsequent thereto T and others assigned their permanent lease of the mouza to the plaintiff company and S granted an underlease of his share in the mouza to H J who granted an underlease of the same to the defendant who there carried on a colliery. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant had wrongfully cut into and removed portions of coal from the 30 feet of barrier and beyond it that the trespass and conversion had taken place within two years and that the coal so removed had been sold and delivered to the plaintiff company under an agreement to purchase the output of the defendant's colliery and claimed damages for the value of the coal so removed and damages caused by the breach of contract in cutting through the barrier. The defendant denied that he had carried away any coal from the 30 feet barrier and stated that he had confined his operations well within the area underleased to him and that the plaintiff company had never been in possession of the area from which he had carried away coal. Held that the suit so far as it sought to recover damages for carrying away the plaintiff company's coal was founded on a case of trespass quare clausum fregit which necessitated the title in respect of that coal being gone into and was therefore a suit for land within the meaning of Cl 12 of the charter. Raj Mohan Bose v. East Indian Railway Company 10 B L R 211 distinguished. That so far as the agreement not to cut into the 30 feet of barrier was concerned there was no privity of contract or estate between the defendant and the plaintiff company and the defendant was not personally liable on any of the covenants in the underlease granted to S and that the plaintiff did not disclose any cause of action against the defendant based on the agreement. LONDA COLLIERY CO. LD. v. BIPIN BHABH BOSH I L R 39 Cal 439*

4. ————— "Dwelling" within the jurisdiction of the Court—Executor liability of—Revocation of will—Executor and trustee a lien up a license title to property disposed of by will—Stoppage—Removal of trustee and executor from office—Joint and seized property. This was a suit on the Original Side of the High Court by three of the executors and trustees of a will against the fourth executor and trustee (who was the son of the testator) for the removal of the defendant from his office and for administration of the estate by the Court. Irobste had been granted to the executors by the High Court at Madras and the assets realised under the grant had come into the possession of the defendant who subsequently repudiated the will and alleged that the property of the testator was joint elumed in this suit to be entitled to the estate by survivorship. The defendant was domiciled and resided in the State of Mysore, but some months previously to the institution of the suit he left his house there in charge of a servant and hired a house in Madras to which he brought his wife and family and apprenticed himself for a year to a vakil of the High Court with a view to become in due course enrolled as a vakil himself. He was in Madras on 30th April 1901 when the plaint was filed but left on 31st before the summons was served. The first Court made a decree removing the defendant from his office as executor and trustee which was affirmed by the High Court and both Courts decided that the cause of action arose partly within the jurisdiction of the Court and that the Court could therefore entertain the suit. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the defendant was at the time the suit was brought dwelling within the jurisdiction within cl. 12 of the Letters Patent of the High Court. Held also that no person who has accepted the position of a trustee and has acquired property in that capacity can be permitted to assert an adverse title on his own behalf until he has obtained a proper discharge from the trust with which he has clothed himself. On the question whether the property dealt with by the will was joint or acquired their Lordships of the Judicial Committee also agreed with the Courts below that on the evidence it was self acquired and that the testator therefore had power to dispose of it as he had done in the will. SRIYASA MOORTHY v. VEYKATA VARADA AYYANGAR (1911)

JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT—contd

I L R 34 Mad 257

5. ————— Practice—Civil Procedure Code (1st V of 1903) s 115 O XXIII r 1—Withdrawal of suit under O XXIII r 1—Notice to the other side if necessary—Judicial order—Practice. The High Court has power to set aside orders made under Order XXIII s 1 in the exercise of the powers vested in it by s 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Akarda Coal Co v. Durga Chandra 11 C L J 45 Mabulla v. Hemavarna 11 C L J 419 Ram Krishna v. Pam Kirpanath 9 All J 358 Umesh Chandra Palodhi v. Palhal Chandra Chatterjee 15 C W N 666 Buratia Guntia v. Thurlipatti 15 Cal L T 201 referred to. Though r 1 of O XXIII of the Code of Civil Procedure does not specifically require that notice of an application under it must be given to the opposite party still it is an elementary rule of universal application and founded upon the plainest principles of justice that a judicial order which may possibly affect or prejudice any party cannot be made unless he has been afforded an opportunity to be heard. Ayant Singh v. F. T. Christian 17 C W N 669 referred to. Bansu Singh v. Kishun Lal Thakur I L R 41 Cal 632 dissented from. RAJENDRA LAL SUR v. ATAL BEHARI SUR (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 454

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

was clearly erroneous the matter depending on a question of fact as to whether the confession was caused by any inducement threat or promise having reference to the charge against the accused Vazir Jharudar v The Emperor 9 C N 1473 and The Emperor v Jasha Beva 11 C N 904 referred to. That the salikh being summoned to consider the case which was being made against the accused she was before the salikh on that charge and the Sessions Judge was wrong in directing otherwise. That having regard to the inducement offered by the president and members of the salikh to the accused it is extremely doubtful whether the confession should have been allowed to be placed before the jury at all. It certainly ought not to have been placed before them without an explanation as to how they should value it having regard to the circumstances in which it was made. That the chemical analysis not disclosing how much arsenic was found in the powder there was no evidence on the record against the accused as to the amount of poison which was proposed to be administered and it was doubtful whether the case would come under s 302 or s 303 Indian Penal Code KING EMPEROR v ASHUTOSH BISHI (1915) 20 C W N 512

Forgery—Where in a case under s 465 Indian Penal Code the charge against the accused was that by personating A B the husband of one S he induced the Mahomedan Marriage Registrar to make an entry of the divorce of S by her husband to which entry he affixed his thumb impression and the Sessions Judge charged the jury as follows: If the person who put his thumb impression in the register as Mir Baksha was not really Mir Baksha it is clear that he made a false document within the meaning of s 364 and that his intention was that fraud should be committed also that injury should be caused to Mir Baksha. He therefore committed forgery. Held that the Sessions Judge misdirected the jury in not having left it to the jury to say whether on the evidence they found that the intention of the accused was dishonest or fraudulent. The High Court did not set aside the verdict holding that it was not erroneous in spite of the misdirection EMPEROR v NARAYADDI (1918) 22 C W N 572

Duty of Judge to place before jury as a prosecution and defence—Defective direction on a point of law—Propriety of delivering charge through interpreter. The appellants were charged under s 148 391/149 and 324 Indian Penal Code. In the record of the heads of the charge there was no clear statement of the cases for the prosecution and defence but the Sessions Judge stated that he placed the evidence of the witnesses before the jury reminding them of the nature of the offence and dealing with some of the principal points. As to the charge under s 324 the direction was certain persons are charged with causing certain wounds. If you find they gave those wounds they cannot plead right of private defence because they have not admitted giving those wounds. Held that it did not appear that the jury were made fully acquainted with the nature of the case for the prosecution and the nature of the case for the defence. That the mode in which the case was placed before the jury was defective and the verdict must be set aside and the case

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

retried by a new Judge. Per CHAUDHURI. That the jury are responsible for their verdict and are the sole judges of facts but the Judge's charge is not only for the purpose of stating the law and explaining it to them but also of helping the jury to find facts. He has to advise them as to the logical bearing of the evidence admitted upon the matters to be found by them. It is a privilege granted to Judges and a duty cast upon them. In a case of this character it is absolutely essential that the principal points should be clearly placed before the jury and it should appear from the Judge's charge that he directed the heads of charge to the jury how to be recognized. The propriety of delivering the charge through interpreters considered AFRIDI CHAUDHURI v KING EMPEROR (1919) 23 C W N

Citation of ruling in the charge to the jury—Right of private defence when trespassers have begun cutting crop. When trespassers begin cutting and carrying away crop grown by a person in possession reasonable apprehension of the property having already commenced the right of private defence of the latter is commenced at the same time and it was misdirection on the part of the Judge to leave it to the jury to say whether the fact that the plantation was only 6 miles off from the place of occurrence did not take away that right of reference in such circumstances to his civil remedies also amounted to misdirection. No rule or authorities should be cited by the Judge in his charge to the jury nor should they be asked to differentiate or form any opinion whatever on any authorities. Such procedure confuses the minds of the jury and constitutes misdirection EMPEROR v SARDAR : THE KING EMPEROR (1911) 16 C W N jurisdiction—Grievous heart—Accusation by conspiracy—Sent by Jury—Retrial—Jurisdiction Where there was evidence that certain persons conspired to eject the complainant from his land or in other words to commit criminal trespass and the Judge said that if the jury found that those persons conspired with the first accused to commit criminal trespass then they would if absent be guilty of abetment and being present they were guilty of the substantive offence. Held that the omission to mention that the substantive offence for which the accused were being tried was not one of criminal trespass but of voluntarily causing grievous bodily harm constituted misdirection. The jury have to return their verdict on the facts as a whole and not severally and they are not like the Judge charged of the entire case as a whole. Where an accused is to be retried he must be placed before the jury upon all the charges which were framed against him and the High Court has no jurisdiction to uphold the conviction under one section and to order him to be retried under another. JAMIRUDDI BISWAS v KING EMPEROR (1912) 16 C W N

Verdict by casting lots—Admissibility of the evidence of jurors and of admissions by jurors as to the mode of arriving at the verdict—Evidence of other persons in proof of the same admissibility of the sworn statement of jurors and evidence of admissions by them as to the modes in which their verdict had arrived at are inadmissible. But the evidence of the persons as to the same is receivable. Over v. Harrison 11 d P 366. Walker v. Graham 41 d B. J. Purge v. Langley 5 W d C. and Queen v. Murphy 11 = P c 335 referred to. The evidence of a witness that he saw one of the jurors put some piece of crumpled up paper in his sleeve to take them up and take them out is not sufficient to prove that the verdict was arrived at by casting lots. EMPEROR v. HAKIMAR PARNAN POI (1913)

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

I L R 40 Cal 893

Suggestion by the Judge of an alternative aspect of the case—not put forward by the prosecution or defence—direction to point out to the jury specifically the evidence against each accused and minute detail of the trial procedure (Code (11) (1914) s 303 (1) of 1907) Volcker v. J. J. — 11 d C 11 (11) of 1907

s 116 14—Admission of the force of a proceeding to keep the peace a part of the res gestae. Where it is common object all joined in the charge as framed was to take forcible possession of the complainant's land and hut and to assault him and others named and the prosecution and defence each averted exclusively to the possession and attack by the opposite party. Held that the Judge was not wrong in asking the jury to consider as a third alternative an intermediate state of facts in that the complainant a party went to turn the accused party out of possession was resisted and driven back and that the latter then followed after they assaulted the former. Panga Hadua v. King Emperor 11 C 1 J 20. Queen v. Sabid Ali 10 B R C r = and Masdar Khan v. Queen Empress 1 L R 21 Cal 350 distinguished. The word violence in s 146 of the Penal Code is not restricted to force used against persons only but extends also to force against inanimate objects. The omission to point out to the jury specifically the exact evidence against each accused is not a misdirection when the Judge has discussed the whole of it and has told them to be satisfied as to the guilt of and to return an independent verdict against each accused. SAMARUDDIN EMFEROR (1912)

I L R 40 Cal 387

Misdirection—Held that omission of Judge to give direction on point of law arising out of the plea in defence amounts to a misdirection. When a verdict is quashed it is in the discretion of the High Court to order acquittal instead of retrial. ABDUL RAHIM MIR v. THE KING EMPEROR

25 C W N 623

Misdirection—Civil Procedure Code s 297. When material witnesses named in the first information and the evidence were not examined at the trial and the Judge did not tell the jury they could draw an inference unfavourable to the prosecution and also did not draw their attention to discrepancies in evidence given in chief and cross examination the conviction and sentence passed on the accused were set aside. TENASAM MONDAL v. THE KING EMPEROR

25 C W N 142

Held that Judge was wrong in charging jury to the effect that if accused pleaded alibi he was bound to prove the plea and if he failed then that would arise a presumption against him. KING EMPEROR v. TARIBELLAH SUEIKH

25 C W N 682

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

Irregularity in procedure—ad hoc of proper charge. When evidence given by three police witnesses with preliminary enquiry was read over and treated as their examination in chief and two witnesses whom Public Prosecutor declined to call were called as Court witnesses and cross examined by both sides the Court putting no question and there was no examination of accused under s 342 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the heads of charge contained no indication as to how the evidence was summed up nor how the law of private defence which was material was explained to the Jury. Held that there were sufficient irregularities to justify the setting aside of an acquittal. GANDAR BHAR GOHAT v. EDWARD WILLIAM SIMON REED

25 C W N 600

Misdirection—Trial by Jury— Misdirection in charge to Jury—Questions of fact Judge's expression of opinion in dogmatic and unqualified terms—Material evidence omission to refer to—Citation precedent to using certain evidence and drawing adverse inference against accused omission to point out—Abandoning not inconsistent with innocence omission to point out—Per trial by a new Judge. Where the accused was convicted under ss 304 324 of the Penal Code for having administered arsenic mixed with sugar to two boys and thereby caused the death of one and hurt to the other and the Sessions Judge in his charge to the jury expressed his own opinion on the evidence in terms too dogmatic and unqualified although he informed them that on questions of fact they were not bound by any opinion of his and omitted to refer to some statements of one of the two boys before the Committing Magistrate and before the Sessions Judge and did not warn the jury that before drawing inferences against the accused they must first be satisfied that he knew of the presence of arsenic in the sugar and that the evidence negatived the possibility of accident or mistake and that before using the Chemical Examiner's report they must be satisfied on the evidence that the substances examined were in fact what they were said to be and in discussing the question of accused's absence from his village did not warn the Jury that even if they believed that he absconded absconding is not necessarily or invariably incompatible with innocence. Held that the charge to the jury was vitiated by misdirection. The High Court set aside the conviction and sentence and ordered a retrial by a new Judge on the ground that the trying Judge had formed a strong opinion on the case. OREL VOLLAR v. THE KING EMPEROR (1913)

18 C W N 180

Juryman communication with by stranger and by Clerk of the Crown. Police Officer's presence near jury room—Communication of deliberation by juryman before or after case is over—Habeas corpus writ of—Jurisdiction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 491—Letters Patent 1865 cl 25 and 26—Trial violation of—Practice Per Curiam. It is highly undesirable that a juror should have any communication with any body who is not a jurymen upon the subject matter of the trial. But the mere fact that one of them is addressed by a stranger to whom apparently the jurymen makes no reply or whose remarks the jurymen does not look upon as worthy of consideration cannot have the effect of invalidating a trial. A mere casual question (which evidently had nothing whatever to do with the case) by a jurymen to a Police Officer in charge of the jury it no even being alleged that the Police Officer spoke in reply to the jurymen cannot be any ground for invalidating the trial. Though it is undesirable that a police constable should be stationed in any position in which he can hear the deliberations of the jurymen still if the presence of the constable has not in any way affected the deliberations of the jurors either by interfering with or inconveniencing them the accused is not in any way prejudiced. The learned Judge was only doing his duty when he twice sent the Clerk of the Crown to the jury and asked them (in a cordance with the practice in the High Court) if he could give them further assistance on any of the many points which were for their consideration there being no less than 17 charges. The jury are all advised to talk with anybody except their fellow jurymen about the case. Whether the case is still going on or after the case is over the jury would be all advised to advise any communication with anybody except their fellow jurymen as to what happened in the jury room. The Queen v. Murphy, L. R. 2 P. C. 40 533 referred to Per Gauhati J. It is well established that a writ of habeas corpus is not granted to persons convicted or in execution under legal process including persons in execution of a legal sentence after conviction or indictment in the usual course. Ex parte Vee on 24 L. J. C. P. 148 referred to. When the law does not allow an appeal the accused cannot have one indirectly in this way. When there has been a miscarriage of justice as alleged in this case the proper course is to carry the matter to the Crown for remedy. Queen Empress v. O. P. For L. R. 10 B. M. 176 referred to. BYOMALINI GUPTA in the matter of (1916). J. J. I. L. R. 44 Cal. 723 ----- Appeal from unanimous verdict of conviction.—Power of High Court to interfere in the absence of misdirection with the civil criminal trial vid. n. King v. Simpson—Criminal Procedure Code (1st V of 1933) s. 473 (2). The High Court cannot in law on an appeal from the verdict of the jury interfere with it in the absence of a misdirection by the Judge when there is some circumstantial evidence of guilt such as a finger print of the accused found on a cash box broken open by the robbers during the occurrence of the offence. MOHINI MOHAN GHOSE v. EMERSON (1918).

JURY—TRIAL BY—

I. L. R. 46 Cal. 635

----- Expression of opinion by juror outside Court during trial. When after conclusion of the evidence one of the jurors expressed his opinion outside the Court as to guilt of accused and although Sessions Judge knew this proceeded but differed from verdict of the jury and referred case to High Court, the verdict was aside and case ordered to be tried by a fresh jury. KING I. SPOKOR v. NAZAR ALI BEG (1900). 25 C. W. N. 240

----- Right of trial by—Inference with the right of the General in Council powers of—Indian Councils Act (1st & 2nd V. c. 67) s. 23 proviso—European British subject rights of—War—Order of Local Government authorising complaint of certain offences—Commitment on charge for other offences—Jurisdiction want of—Local Government, powers of—Delegation of powers

JURY—TRIAL BY—

—Charges against members of a secret society—Mispoint—Same transaction—Confessions admissibility—Confessions made during police investigation and to Magistrate subsequently holding inquiry—Examination of a witness—Excluding statement by questions—Admissions to the police—Hearsay—Mode of proof of—Admission of Hearsay—Lying questions—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1933) s. 161 19, 23, 33 34 35 41 45 63—Enil no Act (1 of 1872) s. 21 2, 29 47 67 73—Wajing no—Conspiracy—Wajing no—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1857) s. 121 171A. The Criminal Procedure Code in so far as it interferes with the mode of trial by jury is not ultra vires and the proviso to s. 21 of the Indian Councils Act (24 & 25 V. c. 67). King Emperor v. Karik Chandra Dutt (1903) unreported followed in the matter of Amir Khatun B. L. R. 307 and 459 approved. An European British subject cannot relinquish his right to be dealt with as such. Where the Magistrate explained to such a person the nature of the charges against him and his rights under s. 417 and 419 and then asked him whether he claimed to be dealt with as such and the latter stated that he did not claim the right—Hall that he had relinquished his right. In re Queros I. L. R. 6 Cal. 81 Queen Empress v. Grant I. L. R. 17 B. M. 551 Queen Empress v. Barlett I. L. R. 16 Cal. 373 followed. Where an order under s. 193 of the Criminal Procedure Code authorized a particular police officer to prefer a complaint of offence under s. 121A 172 123 and 124 of the Penal Code or under any other section of the said Code which may be found applicable to the case and the examination of the complainant also referred to the same as was held that no complaint under s. 121 of the Penal Code was thereby authorized by the Local Government or in fact preferred that the Magistrate had no power to commit thereunder and that the defect was not cured by a subsequent order obtained while the case was before the Sessions Court authorizing a complaint under the section which was not in fact made thereafter not did s. 193 of the Criminal Procedure Code apply in such a case. Sham Khan's case (1897) Panj. R. Cr. J. No. 16 approved. Queen Empress v. Moron I. L. R. 9 B. M. 238 distinguished and Queen Empress v. Bal Ganyadhar Thakur I. L. R. 22 B. M. 112 distinguished. The Local Government cannot delegate to any other body of person the controlling power and discretion of determining whether cognizance shall be taken by the Court of an offence mentioned in s. 193 of the Criminal Procedure Code and its judgment must be specially directed to the particular section and no other under which the prosecution is to be carried on, and the order or authority should be preceded by a deliberate determination in this respect. An order authorizing a complaint under certain specified sections or under any other section is not applicable, if it means found by any one other than the Government involves a delegation which cannot be sustained. Where the accused were all alleged to have been members of a secret society with its headquarters in Manipal in the suburbs and its place of meeting in Calcutta and its where and to have joined in the unlawful enterprise and with others known and unknown to have conspired to wage war or to deprive the King of the sovereignty of British India and to have collected arms and ammunition with such intent and to have a tuilly war—

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

Held that the joint trial of the accused on charges under ss. 121 191A 122 and 123 of the Penal Code was not bad for the joinder of persons or charges. A confession under s. 161 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be made either in the course of an investigation under Chapter XII or after it has ceased and before the commencement of the inquiry or trial. The condition requiring the confession to be prior to the commencement of the inquiry or trial is only imposed when the investigation has ceased, and not when it is made in the course of the police investigation. Where a number of persons were arrested on the 1st Mar and the confessions of some of them were recorded on the 4th and 5th, while others were brought in subsequently and their confessions taken while the police investigation was then actually going on and on the 1th an order under s. 191 was obtained and the police report sent in, and on the next day the examination of the prosecutrix witnesses began.—Held that the Magistrate did not take cognizance under s. 190 of the Code nor did the inquiry commence on the 4th, and that the confessions were taken in the course of an investigation under Chapter XII. The fact that the Magistrate who has taken the confessions, afterwards holds the inquiry does not, under s. 161 constitute the recording of the confessions an examination of the accused in the course of it and at its commencement. Empress v Anuntram Singh, 1 L R 5 Cal 951 and Empress v Lakub Khan 1 L R 5 All 253 declared obsolete. Sai Yarrain Tewari v Emperor 1 L R 32 Cal 1035 distinguished. S. 161 includes confessions taken by a Magistrate who afterwards holds such inquiry or trial. Empress v Anuntram Singh 1 L R 5 Cal 951 and Reg v Bai Putan 10 Bom 11 C 166 declared obsolete on the point. Ss. 161 342 and 361 of the Code are not exhaustive and do not limit the generality of s. 21 of the Evidence Act as to the relevancy of admissions. Queen Empress v Narayn, (1893) Patel Lal Unrep Or C 679 referred to. The mere fact that a statement was elicited by a question does not make it irrelevant as a confession under s. 161 of the Criminal Procedure Code or s. 29 of the Evidence Act though such fact may be material on the question of its voluntariness. Methods of proving handwriting discussed. A document does not prove itself nor is an unproved signature proof of its having been written by the persons whose signature it purports to bear. § 73 of the Evidence Act does not sanction the comparison of any two documents but requires, first that the standard writing shall be admitted or proved to be that of the person to whom it is attributed, and secondly that the disputed writing must itself purport to have been written by the same person. A comparison of handwriting is at all times as a mode of proof hazardous and inconclusive and especially so when made by one not conversant with the subject and without guidance from the arguments of counsel and evidence of experts. Phoodte Bilee v Gound Chunder Roy 22 W R 272 referred to. The value of expert evidence of handwriting discussed. Reg v Harle, 11 Cox C O 546 referred to. To constitute an admission the document need not be written by the party against whom it is used, it is sufficient if it is found in his possession and his conduct thereto creates an inference that he was aware of its contents and admitted their accuracy, but unless this is done the document cannot be used against him as proof of its contents. What conduct would properly give rise to such inference depends on the facts of each case. The mere fact of possession of letters is not of much value unless it is shown that their contents were recognized and adopted by the replies elicited or the conduct imputed by them. The expression wages war in s. 121 of the Penal Code must be construed in its ordinary sense and a conspiracy to wage war or the collection of men arms and ammunition for that purpose is not waging war. An agreement between two or more persons to do all or any of the unlawful acts mentioned in s. 191A of the Penal Code is an offence and the fact of the purpose not being immediate is only material in connection with s. 93. No proof is necessary of direct meeting or combination nor need the persons be brought into each other's presence but the agreement may be inferred from circumstances raising a presumption of a common concerted plan to carry out the unlawful design. Nor is it necessary that all the accused should have joined in the scheme from its inception. Eliciting answers from witnesses while under examination in chief or re-examination by leading questions deprecated. Per Curvort J—Regard being had to the definition of proved in s. 3 of the Evidence Act moral conviction provided it is based exclusively on evidence that is admissible is not distinguishable from legal proof. Save when an accused person is being examined under s. 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code there is nothing to prevent a Magistrate from eliciting information from him by independent enquiry so long as the information is voluntarily given. A statement by an accused to the police which tells against him but does not amount to an admission of guilt is admissible in evidence. Each case must be decided as it arises with reference to the question whether the particular statement is or is not a confession. Queen v Macdonald 10 B L R App 2 Empress v Dabee Pershad 1 L R 6 Cal 559 Queen v Amir Khan 9 B L R 36 72 and Emperor v Mahomed Ebrahim 5 Bom L R 312 referred to. Queen v Hurnbols Chunder Ghose 1 L R 1 Cal 277 Queen Empress v Mathias 1 L R 10 Cal 1023 Queen Empress v Melgar 44 Mullik 1 L R 15 Cal 559 Impranath v Pundharinath 1 L R 6 Bom 31 and Queen Empress v Jasecharam 1 L R 19 Bom 363 discussed and distinguished. Handwriting may in addition to the usual methods be proved by circumstantial evidence under s. 67 of the Evidence Act which prescribes no particular kind of proof. Yes! Kanoo Pandit v Juggabundho Gho s. 12 B L R App 18 Abdool Ali v Abdool Rahman 21 W R 429 and Ibdulla Para v Gannabai 1 L R 11 Bom 699 referred to. BARINDA KUMAR GHOSH v EMPEROR (1909) 1 L R 37 Cal 487 —Trial by in Criminal case Onus of proof in—Penal Col (1st XLV of 1867) s. 417—Possession stolen property. In a criminal case the onus is on the prosecution to prove beyond reasonable doubt the guilt of the accused. That onus never changes. Where recent possession of stolen property by the prisoner is established and he offers an explanation which the jury thinks may be reasonably true though they are not convinced that it is true the prisoner is entitled to an acquittal because the Crown in such a case has not discharged the onus of proof that rested upon it. In a case under s. 411 Indian Penal Code in charging a jury it should be pointed out that the possession of stolen goods referred to must be possession soon after the theft or that the stolen goods must have been recently stolen HATHEN MOYDAL v KING EMPEROR 24 C W N 619

JURY—TRIAL BY—contd

JURY—TRIAL BY—cond

Misdirection—Omission to explain—When the Sessions Judge in his charge to the Jury did not clearly explain that the onus of proof was on the prosecution nor set out the points for decision and omitted to give proper direction on facts Held that it amounted to a misdirection which vitiated the verdict ABDUL GHAFFAR SIKAR v KING EMPEROR 26 C W N 972 to—Verdict when should be interfered with—Test whether misdirection occasioned failure of justice The accused were found not guilty by the unanimous verdict of the jury and acquitted by the Sessions Judge On the appeal by the Local Government against the acquittal on the ground of misdirection in the Judge's charge to the jury Held—That though there was misdirection this did not justify a reversal of the verdict of the jury unless the misdirection in fact occasioned a failure of justice The High Court not being prepared to hold that the jury's verdict was due to the misdirection in the charge and that apart from this they would not have come to the same conclusion the acquittal was not disturbed SUPERINTENDENT AND REMEMBRANCE OF LEGAL AFFAIRS v SHAYAM SUNDAR BHUYI 25 C W N 558

JUST ANTECEDENT DEBT

See CUSTOM (ALIENATION)

I L R 1 Lab 472

JUS TERTII

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)—

ss 102 AND 198 I L R 33 All 61

s 177 I L R 33 All 260

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11

EXPL VI I L R 33 All 493

Suit in ejectment Held that a defendant in ejectment might set up and prove jus tertii And is entitled to rely on the jus tertii appearing from the facts adduced by the plaintiff to defeat his claim SITARAM BHIMAJI v SADRU I L R 38 Bom 240

JUSTICE EQUITY AND GOOD CONSCIENCE

See JOINT JUDGMENT DEBTORS

I L R 39 Mad 548

See WILL

I L R 35 All 211

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT

I L R 39 Mad 942

Trials of European British subjects The powers of Magistrates of the first class who are Justices of the Peace and European British Subjects are the powers referred to in s 36 of the Code of Criminal Procedure of 1893 as hereinafter conferred upon them and specified in the third schedule and styled ordinary powers They do not include powers with which by virtue of s 24 of the Code a Magistrate of the first class may be invested by the authorities mentioned therein LOGAN v IOMER (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 344

JUSTIFICATION

See TORT

I L R 39 Mad 433

JUTE TRADE

See SHARES I L R 46 Cal 331 342

usage of—

See VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR.

I L R 33 Cal 127

Fairbairns—Trade usage at Chanipur—Passing of property on sale—Custody with purchaser merely as security for advances—Insurance of that interest benefit of—Contract Act (IX of 1879) s 81 When nothing remains to be done to the goods by the seller for the purpose of ascertaining the price then prima facie the property in them passes although they have not been weighed by the buyer Simmons v Swift 5 B C C 35; Turley v Bates 2 H L C 200 Shoshi Mohan Pal Choudhry v Nabo Krishna Poddar I L R 4 Cal 801 Martineau v Kitching L R 7 Q B 436 referred to It would be otherwise in England if the parties intended that property in the goods should not pass until the goods had been weighed The Indian Law is the same and the provisions of s 81 of the Contract Act do not exclude the question of intention which is laid down in the English cases as the determining factor Where according to the usage of trade at Chandpur the sale of jute by fairbairns is not complete until the goods are examined selected and weighed by the company (purchaser) although stored in the godowns of the company by whom advances have been made to the fairbairns against these goods — Held that the contract in the present case being in the first instance a contract for the sale of unascertained goods what remained to be done by the buyer to the goods appropriated to the contract by the seller was not merely for the purpose of ascertaining the price but was also for the purpose of placing the buyers in a position to say whether and to what extent they would for their part accept the goods offered to them That the position seemed to be that the buyer had a right to the custody of the jute as security for his advances and that in addition while the seller had no right to sell to others the buyer was under a corresponding obligation to buy as much of the jute as was of the requisite standard That (though the company had insured this jute as their own) the insurance appeared to have been intended for the protection of their own interest in the jute not for the protection of the seller's interest which they were not bound to insure That the defendants therefore were entitled to apply the whole amount which they received under the policies of insurance to indemnify themselves against the loss which they themselves had actually sustained and were not bound to apply any portion of it to the benefit of the plaintiff That there was no usage that the loss is borne entirely by the company in cases where the jute is not insured to the full extent ABDUL AZIZ BEPARI v JOGENDRA KRISHNA ROY (1916) I L R 44 Cal 98

KKABULIYAT

See INTEREST I L R 41 Cal 342

I L R 43 Cal 93

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 41 Cal 493

KABULIYAT—*contd*See RENT I L R 47 Calc 133See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 10
14 C W N 73

—containing false recitals—

See FABRICATING FALSE EVIDENCE.
I L R. 46 Calc 986

—construction of—

See KEY I L R 47 Calc 133

—stipulation in—

See ILLEGAL CR.
I L R. 43 Calc 259—Stipulation to pay same as mamuli for the idol—See ILLEGAL CR.
I L R 45 Calc 259

—Ha' buliyat construction of—Partly in money and partly in kind—Fixed rent—Evidentiary value of later documents between different parties in construing an earlier one Where the terms of a document clearly point to the fact that the rent is to be partly in money and partly in kind the rent cannot be regarded fixed in amount even though the kabuliyat is a molarari one and in the original deed the two items of rent in kind and rent in cash were lumped up and expressed as a consolidated money rent. An earlier document cannot be construed by reference to a later document which is not between the same parties. BAHSAWAR MUKHERJEE LINGEN CHANDRA CHAKRABARTI (1910) I L R 37 Calc 628

—Lease—Landlord and Tenant—Ha' buliyat without potliah if constitutes a lease—Transfer of Property Act (1908) s 105. ss 106 and 107—Amending Act (1911 of 1885) s 3—Registration Act (1908 of 1857) s 3 and (1908 of 1908) s 2(7) A registered kabuliyat signed by the lessee and accepted by the lessor is sufficient to constitute a lease within the meaning of s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act. Akram Ali v Durga Prasanna Roy (Calcutta) 11 C I J 614 referred to Hand Lal v Manuman Dass 1 L R 26 All 368 Kashi Qir v Jogendra Nath Chose 1 L R 27 All 136 Sheo Karam Singh v Maharaja Parbhu Narain Singh 1 L R 31 All 276 Turol Sahib v Esuf Sahib 1 L R 30 Mad 322 Kaki Subbanadri v Muthu Rangayya 1 L R 32 Mad 332 discussed Sayed Ajam Sahib v Madura Sree Menatchi Sundareswarar Detastanam 21 Mad L J 202 approved Nilmamad Sarkar v Boul Das 14 C W N 73 distinguished Rai Monti Dass v Mathura Mohan Dey (1912)

I L R 39 Calc 1016

—Stipulating to pay rent in kind a money value being given in the document—Landlord if may recover market value or the amount stated—Proof that amount was inserted for registration on purposes or to fix stamp duty if inadmissible—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s 99—Conflict of decision Where a tenant executed a kabuliyat promising to pay as rent Rs 4 in cash and 01 aris of paddy as the landlord's share of the produce and it was stipulated that on the tenant's failure to pay the said rent and share of paddy the landlord would be competent to realise the said rent and Rs 36 as price of the paddy Held that on the tenant making default in paying the landlord's share of the paddy the latter was not entitled to recover the market value of the paddy at the time but only the fixed amount of Rs 36 Per CHATTERJEE J—Contracts for payment of bhag paddy are very common and it was well known that middle class people specially of the badra logue class who cannot cultivate lands themselves let out their lands for getting paddy for the consumption of their family and in some cases the bhag paddy is the only means of subsistence of the family A certain value has to be fixed for the paddy in the kabuliyat not only for the ascertainment of the registration fee but also (and specially) for fixing the stamp duty payable though that is not expressly stated in the kabuliyat A distinction may perhaps be drawn between cases where there is no express stipulation to pay the sum mentioned in the kabuliyat as the value of the paddy in the event of its non delivery and where there is such a stipulation But even in the latter class of cases it has been held upon a construction of the contract in some cases that the value mentioned was the value of the paddy at the date of the contract or stated for purposes of registration while a contrary view has been taken in some other cases. The view taken in Ajfer Alorale v Prosunna Kumar 15 C W N 243 s.c. 12 C L J 633 (1910) and recent decisions is that it is not open to the Court to hold that the value of the paddy mentioned in the kabuliyat is applicable on the ground that it was so done for fixing the stamp duty or registration fee affects not only the cases where there is stipulation that the money value mentioned is to be paid on default but also where there is no such stipulation and it is desirable that the question should be settled by a full Bench GLR DAS DEY v GORINDA CHANDRA SINHA 24 C W N 85

KABULIYAT—contd

—Contract of tenancy whether kabuliyat amounts to—Where a tenant has been put into possession of land on the strength of a kabuliyat and has paid rent at the kabuliyat rates the kabuliyat having been confirmed by the conduct of the parties must be deemed to have been adopted as a contract of tenancy Sheikh Asim Ali v Sheikh Ahmad Ali 2 Pat L J 40

KACCHI ADATSee CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom 224KADIM INAMDAR

—Grantee of soil—Introduction of summary settlement into the alienated village—Mirasdari holding lands in the village to be before the alienation—Inamdar's right to enhance the rent—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act I) of 1879 s 217 A hadim Inamdar who is a grantee not merely of the Government share of rent and land revenue but a grantee out and out of soil in a village where a survey settlement has been introduced is entitled to enhance the rent of the Mirasdari whose tenancy dates from a time prior to the grant PANDU v PANCHANDRA GANESH (1917) I L R 42 Bom 112

KAHUTSSee CUSTOM I L R 11 Lah 170KAIMI LEASESee BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 40
5 Pat L J 437

KAIMI LEASE—contd

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 37 Cal 815

KALIGHAT TEMPLE

See PALAS OR TURNS OF WORSHIP
I L R 42 Cal 455

KAMATHIS

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 34 Bom 553

KANGANAM

—levy of legacy of—

See ESTATES LAND ACT (Mad Act I of 1903) ss 4 27 73 AND 143
I L R 40 Mad 640

KANOM

See MALABAR LAW I L R 44 Mad 344

KANTI MARRIAGE

See MARRIAGE 24 C W N 958

KANUNGO

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 23
I L R 11 All 51 58

KARNAM

*Nature of tenure—Land appurtenant to office and impartible—Enfranchisement and inam grant effect of—Law governing Palayams not applicable In Madras the Karnam of the village occupies his office not by hereditary or family right but as personal appointee though in certain cases that appointment is primarily exercised in favour of a suitable person who is member of a particular family. It follows that land appurtenant to the office so enjoyed should continue to go with that office and should accordingly be impartible. The enfranchisement of the Karnam lands in 1900 whereby the Inam was confirmed to V. his representatives and a right to hold and dispose of as he or they might think proper subject to the payment of quit rent etc and the reservation of minerals did not ensure for the benefit of the joint family of which V was a member but to him exclusively. Different considerations apply to the case of a Palayam for which a Palayam was abolished in so far as the duty of rendering military service was concerned the estate was continued with all its hereditary incidents to the Palayakar in the same manner as if possessed by a zamindar and the Full Court of Madras were in error in applying the law regarding Palayams by analogy to a Karnam case in Gnanayyan v Kamal in Ayar I L R 26 Mad 399. *MUSTI VENKATA JAGANNADHA SARMMA v VISAKHMA DEEBABHADRAYYA (Pl.)

26 C W N 301

KARTA

See HINDU LAW—MANAGER

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 43 Cal 459

—of Hindu joint family—

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILY

23 C W N 500—

—suit against—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ss 10 AND 20
25 C W N 358

KASBATIS

*History and status of Kasbatis in Gujarat—Ahmedabad Taluqdar's Act (Bombay Act VI of 1862)—Gujarat Taluqdar's Act (Bombay Act VI of 1883)—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act V of 1879) ss 68 73—Rights of Kasbatis after cession to and annexation by British Government—Rights of lessees from Bombay Government—Onus of proof on claimant of rights of permanent tenure—Lease implies no obligation to renew at end of term—Obligation to give up possession at end of lease. In this case their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held (reversing the judgments of the Courts below) that the respondent the descendant of a family of Kasbatis who were in possession of a village called Charodi in the district of Ahmedabad in Gujarat and the date of the cession of that district by the Peshwa to the British Government and whose predecessors in title held thereafter under leases from the Government where mere lessees of the Government of Bombay bound to give up at the end of each term of lease possession of the village and were never legally entitled as each lease terminated to have a new lease granted in the last lessee or representative and therefore never acquired permanent possession of the village. The only legal enforceable right the Kasbatis could have as against the British Government were those and those only which that Government by agreement express or implied or by legislation chose to confer upon them. The relation in which they stood to their native sovereign and the consideration of the existence nature and extent of their rights before the cession were only relevant matters for the purpose of determining whether and to what extent the British Sovereign had recognized their ante-cession rights and had elected or agreed to be bound by them. The burden of proving that they had any such rights which the Bombay Government consented to their continuing to enjoy rested upon the respondent. The principle laid down in The Secretary of State for India in Council v Kamackee Doye Sahaba 7 Moo I A 476 and Cool v Spragg [1899] A C 772 followed. The just and reasonable inferences to be drawn from the evidence were that the respondent had failed to discharge the onus on her that the Bombay Government had never by agreement express or implied conferred upon her or any of her ancestors the proprietary rights in or ownership of the village claimed by her. They never conferred upon any of the lessees of the village a legal right to insist at the termination of the lease upon a new lease being granted. They were never under a legal obligation to grant any lessee of the village and the granting or withholding of a*

KARNAVAN

See MALABAR LAW I L R 44 Mad 140

See MALABAR TARWAD

I L R 33 Mad 918

KARAMEKARI TENURE

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 36 Mad 580

KASBATI—contd

lease rested solely in their discretion. The mere repetition of acts of grace by the Government could not per se create a legal right to their continuance. Prima facie a lease for a term does not impart any right to a renewal of it on the contrary it prima facie implies that the lessor has a right to the premises ends with the term. There was no analogy between holdings of the Graxias and the Kasbatia they and the Mewasies were clearly distinguishable from the Kasbatia. The Ahmednagar Taluqdars Act (Bombay Act VI of 186) did not apply to Kasbatia. They never were Ahmednagar Taluqdars in the true sense they did not lose the ancient rights of ownership of land by taking leases as did the Graxias and therefore did not suffer the injustice which the statute was designed to remedy. The effect of ss 68 and 73 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act V of 1879) read with the Gujarat Taluqdars Act (Bombay Act VI of 1889) is that a lessee whether a true Taluqdar or a Thakur Mewasie Kasbatia or Naik is bound by the terms of his lease one term of which is that he shall only occupy for the term of years for which a lease for years is granted and prima facie no longer. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. BAI RAJBAI (1915)

I L R 39 Bom 625

KAZI

— alienation of inam lands granted for Kazi service

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT s 4 I L R 44 Bom 120

— discretion of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT I L R 43 Calc 1085

— sanction by—

See WAKF I L R 47 Calc 592

KAZIS ACT (XII OF 1890)

— ss 2 and 4—Kazis not entitled to any ex officio right to officiate as such. The appointment of a person as Kazi under the Kazis Act (XII of 1890) does not confer on the appointee any exclusive franchise or any exclusive right to perform the functions of his office. Where therefore the plaintiff a Kazi appointed under the Act sued the defendant to restrain him from officiating at marriages and for the recovery of sums of money received by the latter as fees for nikahs performed by him. Held that the suit must fail as the plaintiff had no right to restrain any person from his exercise of the functions of a Kazi. Mahomed Yussuf v. Sayed Ahmed 1 Bom H C R 400 18 distinguished. Sayed Hashim Sah v. Huseinsha I L R 13 Bom 429. Mira Mohidin v. Asan Mohidin 17 Mad J J 421. Bhikshu v. Syed Unwar Ulee (1859) V W P S D 4 197 and Zeenatullah Oa v. Yaqub Ali 1935 A B 1 S D 4 31 referred to. Sheik Umar v. Buday Khan (1914)

I L R 37 Mad 228

"KETUBAH"

See JEWISH LAW

I L R 40 Calc 266

KHAIRAT

See BEQUEST I L R 41 Bom 181

KHADIANIS

See MAHOMMADANS 2 Pat L J 108

KHAMAR LAND

See NON OCCUPANCY RAIYAT I L R 44 Calc 267

KHANA DAIAD

See CUSTOM I L R 44 Calc 749

KHANDESH DISTRICT

See PRE EMPTION I L R 40 Bom 358

KHANGA ATTACHED TO DARGA

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT I L R 36 Bom 308

KHARACH I PANDAN

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE I L R 32 AU 410

KHAS POSSESSION

See UNDER RAIYAT 23 C W N 435

— suit for—

See CHAWKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS I L R 37 Calc 57

KHATEDAR

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 74

I L R 41 Bom 170

— inamdar's name entered as—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) ss 3 (11) 217

I L R 34 Bom 686

KHATIR INAM LANDS

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT 1876 s 4 I L R 31 Bom 130

KHOD KAST JOTES

— Dowl Bandobust Kabuliyat—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 10 111 and 117—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92—Proof of custom—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 106. A suit lies to correct an entry in a finally published record of rights. The fact that an application under s 106 of Bengal Tenancy Act was withdrawn does not bar the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to deal with the matter. Troilalaya Nath Bose v. Ma leol I L R 23 Calc 28. Sashibhisan Ha ra v. Shikhi Eshabar 19 C W N 636 followed. Jogendra Nath Ray v. Krishna Pramada Das I L R 35 Calc 1013 dissented from. Gulab Meiser v. Kumar Kalanand Singh 14 C W N 884. Pandab Dwar Das v. Ananda Kisan Chakrabarty 14 C W N 897 referred to. With regard to Dowl kabulyats from the fact that the sons have been allowed to hold the tenancy it does not follow that it is heritable. Nor from the fact that the landlord accepted the mortgage of the tenancy from the sons can it be inferred that it is heritable. It is necessary to look into the express terms regarding the tenancy as appearing in the kabulyat. The evidence of custom in respect of tenancies is inadmissible where the custom allowed is contradictory to the terms of the written agreement. Therefore in an agreement where the tenancy was non transferable in express words no evidence can be given of the customary transferability of tenures in the locality Webb v Plummer 11 Barr Ald 746 Boraston v Green 16 East 71 Clarke v Royston 13 M W 762 and Brown v Byrne 3 El Bl 703 referred to. An interest in land created before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act is not subject to that Act Hiranani Dasya v Ananada Prosad Ghose 7 C I J 553 and Ananda Mohan Saha v Gobinda Chandra Poy Chaudhuri 20 C W N 320 referred to. But where it is found that a yearly tenancy commenced after the passing of the Act Held that such tenancy is an interest in land which can be transferred and could only be determined under s 111 of the Transfer of Property Act by a notice MAHAMMAD ALBUDDIN PROPYAT KUMAR TAGORE (1920) 1 I L R 48 Cal 359

KHOD KAST JOTES—contd

KHOJAS

See DOCTRINE OF SATISFACTION

I L N 37 Bom 211

Hindu law how far applicable to Khojas—Joint family—Presumption as to membership of joint family—Mahomedan law—Spec successions transfer of—Family arrangement in the nature of a partition reasonableness of—Limitation Act (X of 1908) Articles 91 and 127 In the year 1879 one D a Khoja was living at Malad in the Thana District where he carried on a small business together with inter alia his mother and unmarried daughter his sons A and I and A's wife and A's son J. In that year it was agreed that A should separate from the rest of the family and should receive what was considered to be his share in the family property. The family property was valued at Rs 4,000 and Rs 900 or the fifth part of it was made over to A or the members of his family at his bare namely Rs 400 in cash given to A ornaments of the value of Rs 200 given to A's wife and a house of the value of Rs 300 settled on J. The terms of this transaction were contained in a deed of release dated the 13th of February 1879 by which deed I released all claims of himself and his wife and son against the family and family property. Subsequently I by him self or assisted by his father D continued to carry on business and acquired a considerable amount of property. After the release A lived in the house given by the release to his son J and some 12 or 13 years after the release another son was born to A namely X. J and X at times lived with their grandfather D and their uncle I and received assistance from them in various ways in particular their marriage and other ceremonies being performed from D's house and at his expense. J and X were at times also employed by D and I in their business for wages. In the year 1902 D made a gift to I of his property at Malad reserving about Rs 7,000 to himself. J and I filed the present suit. In their plaint they stated that the release of the 13th of February 1879 was not valid or binding as having been obtained by fraud undue influence etc. and also be as it had not been acted upon. They prayed inter alia for a declaration that the above mentioned business and properties were the properties and business of an undivided family, that the rights of the plaintiffs and defendants therein might be ascertained and declared that the properties might be partitioned between the plaintiffs and defendants in accordance with their interest so ascertained and declared that all necessary accounts might be taken that a receiver might be appointed that D and I might be restrained by injunction from alienating the properties that it might be declared that the release of the 13th of February 1879 was not valid and binding on the plaintiffs and A and that it might be declared that the deed of gift of the 8th of October 1902 was void and of no effect as against the interests of the plaintiffs and other members of the joint family. D and I filed written statements denying the allegations as to fraud etc. and asserting that the release of the 13th of February 1879 had been acted on. It was assumed in the pleadings that the parties were governed by the Hindu law of the joint family. Held that as to the law governing Khojas the proper way to approach the question was as follows—(1) Where Mahomedans were concerned the invariable and general presumption was that they were governed by the Mahomedan law and usage and that it lay on a party setting up a custom in derogation of that law to prove it strictly. (2) But that in matter of simple succession and inheritance it was to be taken as established that succession and inheritance among Khojas and Memons were governed by Hindu law as applied to separate and self acquired property. Held accordingly that the plaint disclosed no cause of action at all unless the plaintiffs had alleged and were prepared to prove two or three salient features of the Hindu law of the joint family as customs adopted by the Khojas of Bombay as the question involved in the suit did not really arise on a plea of simple succession and inheritance and that there had been no allegation of custom and no attempt had been made to prove a custom and in any case many of the prayers in the plaint were on the face of them bad as the plaintiffs could not have the declaration asked for as to the nature of the property and their rights therein not sue for partition. Held further that assuming this to have been a joint family under Hindu law when A passed the release of the 13th of February 1879 he went out of the family and purported to take out of it his wife and infant son that the plaintiffs could not dispose of the release as void under Mahomedan law as the mere transfer of a spec succession as under Mahomedan law the plaintiffs had no cause of action and that I having been born after his father A had gone out of the family from the point of view of members of the joint family did not exist. Held further that it could not be inferred from the facts that their grandfather and uncle had kept the plaintiffs educated them and got them married etc. that the plaintiffs thus became members of a joint family that what was to be looked at in estimating the reasonableness of such family arrangements as the release of the 13th of February 1879 (under Hindu law) was not the state of the family fortune on the day it was called in question but at the time it was made and that if there was then an adequate motive the Court would not scrutinize too closely the adequateness of the consideration Ramdas v. Chabidas 12 Bom L R 671 applied Semle. Where the existence of a document if valid and binding on a party would defeat his suit to recover possession of any property he must sue under Article 91 of the Limitation Act for the cancellation of the document and that if he does not take steps in time to remove what else will be a bar to the success of his suit he cannot surmount that

KHOJAS—contd

KHOJAS—contd

117 during the trial by exactly the attack he ought to have made on it directly and within the shorter period allowed by the law of limitation. Semle Article 12th of the Limitation Act does not apply to Mahomedans as such or to Khojas and Memons except where the property is shown to have gone through one unimpaired descent and thereafter to have been held by the survivors as joint family property. Wantrao v. Anandrao 6 Bom L J 725 considered Semle also since no Khoja son can enforce a partition it follows that he can not be a co-sharer. Shvedbhoy Hub'hoys v. Cassimbhoy Ahmed'hoys 11 P 13 Bom 331 and Pani Saraj Awari v. Pani Deoraj Awari L P 151 A 51 considered JAY MAHOMED v. DATE JATTER (1913) 1 L R 38 Bom 449

Settlement—Settlor him self trust—No delivery of possession—Don born after settlement—Donor of settlor to revoke settlement—Settlor's intention not carried out owing to settlor's death—Power of Court to set aside defective execution—Suit by settlor's son to set aside settlement—Limitation Act (XX of 1908) s 10—Resulting trust back to him—Idem or possession on—Difference between Shvedbhoy and Jay Mahomed—Validity of gifts contained in deed containing offer gifts—Local usage cannot override Mahomedan Law—Registration—Is Major—By an indenture of settlement dated 7th January 1886 J P a Khoja Mahomedan, purported to convey certain immovable properties to trustees for the benefit of his family. The trusts were in effect for J P for life and after his death subject to certain rights of residence and maintenance to pay the net income of the trust properties to V M for his life and in the event (which subsequently occurred) of the death of V M without leaving male issue to divide the trust funds into ten equal parts to be held in favour of certain donees four tenths being given to charity. The indenture also reserved to the settlor power to revoke or vary any of the trusts contained therein. There was no surrender of the property in fact to any one except J P himself in his character as trustee for himself. The donor however opened an account in his books of this property as trust property. On the 26th October 1886 a second son the plaintiff was born to J P whereupon J P being desirous of providing for the second son desired to vary the terms of the deed of the 7th of January 1886 and to resettle the same so that his two sons should share equally. A draft deed of declaration of new trusts was accordingly prepared by J P's attorneys and on the 24th of July 1887 was finally settled and approved by J P. An engrossment was thereupon made and duly stamped but on signing the engrossment to J P for his execution on July 29th it was found that owing to an error of the engrossing clerk several pages of it were missing. Another engrossment was prepared forthwith, but on the same day before the new engrossment was ready J P died. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit to have it declared whether or not the deed of 1886 was a valid deed and 11 prayed that the defective execution of the second deed might be added by the Court and the provisions of the said second deed declared to be valid. Held (i) That the plaintiff was not time barred as against the trustees from bringing the action. (ii) That however restricted the gift was in form to J P it was in effect a gift absolute to him for life and that entirely irrespective of the power of revocation. (iii) That all the gifts in the trust settlement made contingent upon N M dying without issue were bad. (iv) That the portion of the instrument which purported to create a trust in respect of four tenths of the settled property was bad and void. (v) That the gift was bad for want of contemporaneous delivery of possession. (vi) That this was a case, if ever there was a case in which the Courts might act upon those principles which have always guided the Courts in Equity in England and aid defective execution of a power defective not through any fault on the part of the person intending to execute it but through reason of an act of God and that the unsigned deed ought to be effectuated by the Court to the extent of making it binding on that conscience of the trustees. Per CURHAM. It is only in the events of the trusts of some of them being bad that the question of limitation can arise. For if the trust deed in its entirety is good then of course effect must be given to it irrespective of any question of lapse of time. Where what purports to be a trust deed turns out to have been entirely void and therefore not to have passed the legal estate the position of those who took possession believing themelves to be trustees but not in law real trustees necessarily assumes the character of possession by trespass and is therefore from its inception in law adverse against all the world. Where however the trust deed in itself is good and valid to the extent of passing the legal estate but the trusts declared are in themselves wholly or partially bad then there is a resultant trust to the author of the trust and the possession of the trustees whatever they might think of it and however they might intend to use it for the purpose of carrying out the bad trusts could not in law be adverse to the cestui que trust that is to say the grantor. Widely different is the case of trustees who obtain the legal estate from the author of the trusts to apply the beneficial uses to specified objects which may or may not be good. For then from the beginning there is always a relation between the author of the trusts and the trustees in whom confidence has been reposed and there is always the legal possibility at least of another relation coming into existence between them where owing to the failure of the declared trusts there is a resultant trust back to the grantor who from that moment becomes in law the cestui que trust of the trustees. Where it was the intention that there should be an ultimate trust in favour of the grantor it is usual to express that on the face of the deed. A deed so framed as upon its very face to provide for the springing back of the trust fund or a part of it in certain events to the author of the trust does create what is at once an express and resultant trust. The current of authority seems to have set steadily against the extension of s 10 of the Limitation Act to all cases of resultant implied or constructive trusts. Where the ultimate resultant trust which is to spring back to the settlor is consistent with the discharge of the declared trusts then it may by loose use of language be said to be express on the face of the deed but when the extinction or failure of all the intended trusts is a condition precedent to the resultant trusts coming into being then the latter is clearly a true resultant trust and is not express and never can be expressed on the face of the deed. The answer to the question—What is the true position when declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust over to the settlor or his heirs—is to be found in the very elementary proposi-

KHOJAS—contd

KHOD-KAST JOTES—contd

the tenancy was non transferable in express words no evidence can be given of the customary transferability of tenures in the locality Webb v Plummer 2 Barn Ald 746 Barston v Green 16 East 71 Clarke v Royston 13 M W 752 and Brown v Byrne 3 El El 703 referred to an interest in land created before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act is not subject to that Act Hiramoh Dasya v Ananda Prosad Ghose 7 C L J 553 and Ananda Mohan Saha v Gobinda Chandra Roy Chaudhuri 20 C W A 320 referred to. But where it is found that a yearly tenancy commenced after the passing of the Act Held that such a tenancy is an interest in land which can be transferred and could only be determined under s 111 of the Transfer of Property Act by a notice MAHAMMAD ALEJUDDI v PROBYAT KUMAR TAGORE (1920) I L R 48 Cal 359

KHOJAS

See DOCTRINE OF SATISFACTION

I L R 37 Bom 211

Hindu law how far applicable to Khojas—Joint family—Presumption as to membership of joint family—Mahomedan law—Spec successions transfer of—Family arrangement in the nature of a partition reasonableness of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Articles 91 and 127
In the year 1819 one D a Khoja was living at Malad in the Thana District where he carried on a small business together with inter alia his mother and unmarried daughter his sons A and I and A's wife and A's son J. In that year it was agreed that A should separate from the rest of the family and should receive what was considered to be his share in the family property. The family property was valued at Rs 4500 and Rs 900 or the fifth part of it was made over to A or the members of his family at his share namely Rs 400 in cash given to A ornaments of the value of Rs 200 given to A's wife and a house of the value of Rs 300 settled on J. The terms of this transaction were contained in a deed of release dated the 13th of February 1879 by which deed A released all claims of himself and his wife and son against the family and family property. Subsequently I by himself or assisted by his father D continued to carry on business and acquired a considerable amount of property. After the release A lived in the house given by the release to his son J and some 12 or 13 years after the release another son was born to A namely X. J and X at times lived with their grandfather D and their uncle I and received assistance from them in various ways in particular their marriage and other ceremonies being performed from D's house and at his expense. J and X were at times also employed by D and I in their business for wages. In the year 1902 D made a gift to I of his property at Malad reserving about Rs 7000 to himself. J and X filed the present suit. In their plaint they stated that the release of the 13th of February 1879 was not valid or binding as having been obtained by fraud, undue influence etc. and also because it had not been acted upon. They prayed inter alia for a declaration that the above mentioned business and properties were the properties and business of an undivided family that the rights of the plaintiffs and defendants therein might be ascertained and declared that the properties might be partitioned between the plaintiffs and defendants in accordance with their interests so ascertained and declared that all necessary accounts might be taken that a receiver might be appointed that D and I might be restrained by injunction from alienating the properties that it might be declared that the release of the 13th of February 1879 was not valid and binding on the plaintiffs and A and that it might be declared that the deed of gift of the 8th of October 1902 was void and of no effect as against the interests of the plaintiffs and other members of the joint family. D and I filed written statements denying the allegations as to fraud etc. and asserting that the release of the 13th of February 1879 had been acted on. It was assumed in the pleadings that the parties were governed by the Hindu law of the joint family. Held that as to the law governing Khojas the proper way to approach the question was as follows—(i) Where Mahomedans were concerned the invariable and general presumption was that they were governed by the Mahomedan law and usage and that it lay on a party setting up a custom in derogation of that law to prove it strictly. (ii) But that in matter of simple succession and inheritance it was to be taken as established that succession and inheritance among Khojas and Memons were governed by Hindu law as applied to separate and self acquired property. Held accordingly that the plaintiff disclosed no cause of action at all unless the plaintiffs had alleged and were prepared to prove two or three salient features of the Hindu law of the joint family as customs adopted by the Khojas of Bombay as the question involved in the suit did not really arise on a plea of simple succession and inheritance and that there had been no allegation of custom and no attempt had been made to prove a custom and in any case many of the prayers in the plaint were on the face of them bad as the plaintiffs could not have the declaration asked for as to the nature of the property and their rights therein not sue for partition. Held further that assuming this to have been a joint family under Hindu law when A passed the release of the 13th of February 1879 he went out of the family and purported to take out of it his wife and infant son that the plaintiffs could not dispose of the release as void under Mahomedan law as the mere transfer of a spec succession as under Mahomedan law the plaintiffs had no cause of action and that X having been born after his father A had gone out of the family from the point of view of members of the joint family did not exist. Held further that it could not be inferred from the facts that their grandfather and uncle had kept the plaintiffs educated them and got them married etc. that the plaintiffs thus became members of a joint family that what was to be looked at in estimating the reasonableness of such family arrangements as the release of the 13th of February 1879 (under Hindu law) was not the state of the family fortune on the day it was called in question but at the time it was made and that if there was then an adequate motive the Court would not scrutinize too closely the adequateness of the consideration Ramdas v Chabildas 12 Bom L R 621 applied Sembie. Where the existence of a document if valid and binding on a party would defeat his suit to recover possession of any property he must sue under Article 91 of the Limitation Act for the cancellation of the document and that if he does not take steps in time to remove what else will be a bar to the success of his suit he cannot surmount that.

KHOJAS—contd

KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880)

—contd

—ss 9 and 10—contd

Adverse possession of land against the occupant—Effect of adverse possession against the Khoti—Ejectment by Khoti—Notice—Land Revenue Code (Bom Act I of 1879) section 81 An occupancy tenant of Khoti land having died in 1894 the defendant who was his remote relative took possession of the land and held it adversely. A first cousin of the deceased relinquished the holding in favour of the plaintiff Khoti in 1914. The plaintiff having sued to recover possession of the land—Held that the defendant's adverse possession against the heir of the occupancy tenant only extinguished the latter's right to the actual possession of the land and did not operate to annihilate the occupancy tenant's right which he would transfer to the plaintiff Khoti. Held further that the defendant on account of the resignation of the rightful occupancy tenant could claim to be a tenant under s 8 of the Khoti Settlement Act 1880 and in the absence of any specific agreement between himself and the Khoti he should be held to be a yearly tenant liable to pay rent to the Khoti at the rates prescribed and that he was accordingly entitled to the notice prescribed in the case of yearly tenants under section 84 of the Land Revenue Code 1879. VISHNU BHIKSHI v BARLA LAKHA (1920)

I L R 43 Bom 1001

—s 9—

See PEE JUDICATA

I L R 40 Bom 675

—ss 9 10—Khoti Takshim—Renunciation of occupancy rights—Transfer—Lease for a term of years—Expiration of the lease—Suit to recover possession—Impeachment of plaintiff's title—Consent of Khoti necessary for transfer—Resignation accompanied by co-consideration—Arises in pari delicto—Estoppel. The defendant resigned his occupancy rights in a Khoti takshim to the plaintiff who was one of the khots in the year 1905. Synchronously with this resignation a lease for a term of five years was executed and the defendant attorned to the plaintiff in respect of the lands. The defendant's resignation was accompanied by consideration. After the expiration of the term of the lease the plaintiff sued to recover possession of the lands and the defendant impugned the plaintiff's title. Held dismissing the suit for recovery of possession that the foundation of the plaintiff's title in 1905 was illegal; that the resignation and lease having been made at the same time and having formed part of what was virtually one transaction if the transfer which the resignation was held to amount to were tainted with any illegality as being in contravention of the statute law namely the Khoti Settlement Act (Bom Act I of 1880) the letting must go with it that under s 9 of the said Act the consent of the khots including the plaintiff was necessary to the validity of the transfer and it was not shown that such consent had been obtained that accordingly the conditions stated in s 9 being not complied with there was no transfer under that section nor could the transaction be regarded as a resignation under s 10 of the said Act because it was accompanied by consideration. Held further that in the case of a contract where both the parties were in pari

KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880)

—contd

—ss 9 10—contd

delicto the plaintiff was not entitled to estop the defendant from showing the illegality of his title, nor was there any estoppel against any Act of Parliament or in India against an Act of the Legislature. SURDHAR BALKRISHNA v BABAJI MULLA (1914) I L R 38 Bom 769

Occupancy tenants—

Transfer of occupancy rights—Possession—Right of Khoti to forfeit occupancy right Defendants Nos 2 to 6 were the occupancy tenants of the plaintiff Khoti. On the 14th January 1912 the defendants sold their occupancy rights to the defendant No 1 giving him possession. The plaintiff having sued for a declaration that by transfer the defendants had forfeited their occupancy rights and that therefore he was entitled to possession of the property. Held dismissing the suit that although the transfer to defendant No 1 was null and void as against the Khoti the defendants Nos 2 to 6 still remained his occupancy tenants. LESA BIN LAMA v SAKHARAM GOPAL (1905) 30 Bom. 290 followed. DAMODAR RAGHUNATH v VASUDEO PARASHURAM (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 267

—s 20—Entry in settlement register—

Occupancy tenant—The fact of tenancy not conclusively settled by the entry The rule of evidence laid down in s 20 of the Khoti Act that the entry in the settlement register purporting to record the fact that the interest of any occupancy tenant is not transferable shall be conclusive evidence cannot apply where according to a judgment inter partes the person relying on the action is not an occupancy tenant for the fact of the tenancy of the individual is not conclusively settled by the entry. CHINTO MANADEV v MANADEV LAMCHANDRA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 565

—s 21—Decision of the Recording

Officer—Finality—Mere entry in revenue records as occupant is not such decision—Scope of the section s 21 of the Khoti Settlement Act 1880 makes conclusive certain decisions of the Recording Officer. The mere entry of the name of some particular person as occupant is not such a decision. What are contemplated as conclusive are decisions as to the class of tenure and as complicated rights of the khots. BRIVA BHAIKA to the s BARU BALSALT (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 469

—ss 33 (c) 40 (a) Rules I III and VIII—Occupancy tenant—Lease payable to the Khoti—Appraisement under the provision of r VIII—Appraisement by the tenant. I VIII of the rules framed under s 40 (a) of the Khoti Settlement Act (Bom Act I of 1880) is intra vires and under the provisions of that rule the Khoti can recover from the occupancy tenant rent either on the basis of appraisement made under the provision of that rule or on the basis of appraisement made by the tenant himself. The Court is precluded from arriving at what it considers the reasonable amount of rent by the provision of the said rule. VINAYA BALKRISHNA v SITARAM JAYAPPA (1912)

I L R 57 Bom 284

KHOTI TAKSHIM

See KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880) ss 9 10

I L R 38 Bom 709

KHOTI VILLAGE

See BOMBAY SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT ACT 1865 ss 25 28 37 38

I L R 36 Bom 290

KHUD KASHT

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 120(2) 5 Pat L J 87

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 38 Calc 432

KHURDAH IN ORISSA

See SARBARAKARI TENURE I L R 46 Calc 378

KIDNAPPING

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 189 I L R 41 All 452

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s 90 I L R 38 Mad 453

s 361 I L R 42 All 148

ss 361 366 109 I L R 38 All 684

ss 361 363 AND 368 4 Pat L J 74

s 363 I L R 37 Mad 567

s 366 I L R 34 All 340

ss 366 AND 372 I L R 37 All 624

ss 366 AND 368 I L R 40 All 507

KIDNAPPING—contd

Ledlie v Ledlie I L R 18 Calc. 473 referred to BORTHWICK v BORTHWICK (1913) I L R 41 Calc 714

KIDNAPPING A GIRL OUT OF BRITISH INDIA

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), ss 366 360 90

I L R 42 Bom 391

KILLADARI ESTATE (ORISSA)

See CHOWKIDARI ACT s 1 15 C W N 300

KILLAJAT ESTATES (ORISSA)

See RPT I L R 38 Calc 278

KING'S BENCH COURT OF

See CONTEMPT OF COURT I L R 41 Calc 173

KING'S PREROGATIVE OF PARDON

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF I L R 42 Calc 738

KITTIMA ADOPTION

See BURNHSE LAW I L R 45 Calc 1

KNOWLEDGE

See ATTESTATION OF INSTRUMENT I L R 37 All 350

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION I L R 44 Calc 186

See PROBATE I L R 42 Calc 480

KNOWLEDGE AND INTENT

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s 86 I L R 38 Mad 479

s 302 I L R 40 All 380

KOBALA

See FARRIGATING FALSE DOCUMENT I L R 43 Calc 811

KOCHES

See HINDU LAW (INHERITANCE) 24 C W N 173

KOLI CASTE

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE I L R 37 Bom 295

Removal by the mother of her child from the custody of the father after decree nisi delivering custody in him—absence of prayer in divorce petition for custody and of subsequent application therefor—Ex parte decree—Submission of decree to High Court for confirmation—Order of custody part of the decree—Time of operation of order of custody—Divorce Act (IV of 1869) ss 17 43 57—Penal Code (Act XIV of 1860) s 363 Where the plaintiff in a divorce suit did not contain a prayer for custody of the child and there was no subsequent application therefor by the husband but the District Judge passed an ex parte decree nisi and included in it as one of its terms a direction without notice to the wife to deliver her child to the father and submitted the decree to the High Court for confirmation and where the father subsequently obtained custody of the child but she took it away from his house and was charged with kidnapping—Held that the Judge's direction as to the custody of the child was not intended to be an order nisi under 43 of the Divorce Act which was to take effect immediately but formed an integral part of the decree and did not operate till confirmation by the High Court and that she had therefore committed no offence punishable under the Penal Code.

KONKANI MAHOMEDANS

See CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom 499

KOWL

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM 1 OF 1879) s 3 CL (19)

I L R 35 Bom 462

KUDIYARAY

See LAND TENURE IN MADRAS

L R 46 I A 123

acquisition of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 (EXCEP)

I L R 38 Mad 843

ownership of—

See CIVIL COURTS.

I L R 39 Mad 21

right to—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 (EXCEP)

I L R 38 Mad 608 843

sale of—

See LIMITATION ACT (I OF 1908) s 2.

I L R 38 Mad 837

KULACHAR

See BABIANA GRANT

KULKARNI VATAN

See LOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT 1816 s 4

I L R 44 Bom 261

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 90

I L R 45 Bom 1207

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871) s 4

I L R 42 Bom 257

KUMAUN

land tenures of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 100

I L R 36 All 256

KUMAUN RULES (1894)

s 17—Final decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 2 (?)—Promissory note liability of maker of not disclosing name of principal Held that the definition of decree as given in s 2 cl (?) of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908) cannot be applied strictly in interpreting the term final decree as it occurs in the Kumaun Rules which were framed in 1894 Held also that where a person executes a pro-

KUMAUN RULES (1894)—contd

s 17—contd

mory note without either before or at the time of execution thereof disclosing the fact that he does so merely as an agent the executant is personally liable on the note Sadasuk Janki Das v Sir Ashraf Perahad I L R 46 Calc 663 referred to Nasir Ullah v KUNWAR ANAND SINGH I L R 42 All 642

KUNJPURA STATE OF

Succession to estates of Punjab Ruling Chiefs—Custom—Impartible estate—Jirmogeniture—Mahomedan law—Sust by junior members of Kunjpura family for shares in estate—Zemindari rights—Property appertaining to Chief ship up to 1819—Property subsequently acquired The question in this case was as to the rule of succession applicable to the Kunjpura State situate in the Cis Sutlej districts of the Punjab The riasat or rai was founded by Najabat Khan who in 1748 obtained a sanad from the Afghan Conqueror Ahmed Shah Abdali granting him an hereditary jagir of the villages of which he was then in possession which were declared to be revenue free and held subject to the obligation of maintaining order in his possessions In 1849 however the British Government withdrew from the Chief of Kunjpura the civil and criminal jurisdiction under which he had been until then exercising quasi sovereign power Held that it had been established beyond doubt that the Kunjpura Estate had ever since the time of Najabat Khan descended to his son, to her who had been recognised as the Chief of an impartible riasat and that attempts by junior members of the family to obtain shares in it had invariably failed The two instances relied on as showing the allotment of shares to junior members were in their Lordships opinion opposed to that contention and no other evidence had been referred to suggesting that there had ever been a division of the estate in accordance with Mahomedan Law The opinion of the Board of Administration in 1852 that the zamindari rights in the villages comprised in the jagir were the subject of inheritance according to the Mahomedan law and should be shared by all the members of the family became inoperative and was never acted upon in the course of the constant claims put forward by the junior members of the family to a share in the estate and later decisions on those claims laid down in explicit terms that the zamindari rights belonged to the riasat With regard to the property acquired after 1819 in which the Chief Court had decided that the plaintiffs (younger brothers of the defendant who had taken possession of all the property as the eldest son) were by the Mahomedan law entitled to shares Held (reversing that decision) that there was nothing to show that the Government in withdrawing the civil and criminal powers which the Chiefs had exercised prior to 1819 intended to make any alteration in their status or to vary the rule which had governed the succession to the estate IBRAHIM ALI KHAN v MUHAMMAD AHMEDULLAH KHAN (1912) I L R 39 Calc 711

KUZHIKANAM

See CUSTOMARY LAW

I L R 41 Mad. 118

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

the meaning of the provisions of s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act Where a portion of the debutter property was acquired under the Land Acquisition Act and the compensation money was invested in approved securities the shebait is entitled to withdraw a portion of the invested funds and apply the same to effect necessary repairs to the remainder of the debutter property As under s 32 of the Act the compensation money is placed in the custody of the Court jurisdiction is by implication conferred upon it to deal with all questions that may arise as to the application of the fund in its custody KAMINI DEBI v PRAMATHA NATH MOOKERJEE (1911)

I L P 39 Calc 93

See Also SHEBAIT I L R 40 Calc 895

Appportionment of Compensation money—Method of Assessment—Government as landlord share of In assessing the amount of compensation due to the landlord regard must be had to the question of how much the landlord is actually realising from the land The Government in its capacity as landlord is entitled as usual to a capitalisation of as much rent as may be found to be payable in respect of the proportion of the holding that is taken together with 15 per cent for compulsory acquisition and something more in respect of the possibility of the enhancement of the value of the land thereafter The Government is not entitled in law to a higher proportion on the ground that in similar cases it has frequently received a higher proportion either by consent of the parties or otherwise Where a raiyat's rent is fixed in perpetuity it would be enough in apportioning compensation to capitalize this rent according to the rule laid down in Dinendra Narain Poy v Tituram Mookerjee I L P 30 Cal 801 in order to arrive at the share due to the landlord but where that is not the case this rule will not be sufficient and some other means of calculation must be adopted MANMOHAN DUTT v COLLECTOR OF CHITTAGONG (1912)

I L R 40 Calc 64

17 C W N 1001

Bustee Land—Valuation—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng Act III of 1899) s 557 sub s (c) (d)—Market value—Inadmissibility of evidence with regard to sales of other lands in the neighbourhood—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 33 When land is compulsorily acquired any use to which the land may be put in future should not be taken into consideration in determining its value The valuation should be according to the market value at the time of the acquisition Sub s (c) of s 557 of the Municipal Act precludes evidence being given of other purposes to which bustee land can be put in future Evidence relating to the undertenants and rents paid by them is not relevant for the purpose of ascertaining the market value as defined by sub s (c) of s 557 of the Municipal Act Harish Chunder Veog v Secretary of State for India 11 C W N 87, followed MANENDRA CHANDRA NANDI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

I L P 41 Calc 967

Godowns used as servants residence whether part of house or building—Compensation of a godown alone is not sufficient—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 42 (1) 64—Practice—Appeal Godowns need not be used as residence for servants are part and parcel of a building within the meaning of s 43 (f) of the Land Acquisition Act]

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

being a most important part of that building for the purpose of letting it out to gentlemen as a place of residence The acquisition of such godowns would thus be an acquisition of a part of a house contrary to the provisions of the Act It has never been doubted that an appeal would lie in the case of such an order under that section Hasan Molla v Tasiruddin I L R 39 Calc 393 distinguished DALCHAND SINGH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)

I L R 43 Calc 665

Court if may determine question of title—Claims to compensation by Zemindar as against person holding under a lakhraj title—Onus of proof A purchaser of an entire estate sold for arrears of revenue suing to recover land claimed by the defendant as lakhraj must prove a prima facie case that his mal land has since 1790 been converted into lakhraj The fact that the lands are within the ambit of the estate is not sufficient to meet this burden Whether in a particular case the plaintiff has been able to prove such a prima facie case would depend upon its own circumstances Where the question of title to a plot of land arose between claimants to compensation money paid by Government on acquisition thereof under the Land Acquisition Act one being the purchaser of the estate at a sale for arrears of land revenue whilst the other was holding it as lakhraj Held that the former was in the position of the plaintiff and the burden of proof as stated above was on him Jarihar Mookerjee v Malab Chandra Babu 14 Moo I A 152 relied on A Land Acquisition Court has jurisdiction to determine a conflict of title between rival claimants KRISHNA KALYANI DAS v R BRAUNFELD (1915)

20 C W N 1028

Title by adverse possession—On the acquisition of a piece of land under the Land Acquisition Act it was found that the person in possession had taken possession of it on the death of the last male owner and held possession for more than 12 years without payment of rent He asserted that he held the land under another person and not under the rival claimant who was the reversionary heir of the last male owner Held that the person in such possession was entitled to the full compensation paid for its compulsory acquisition having acquired the right to hold the land rent free by twelve years adverse possession RAJBANS SARKAR v RAI MAHABIR PRASAD (1916)

20 C W N 828

Award meaning of—Appeal—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 49 51 A decision or determination under the Land Acquisition Act which has no reference to compensation in some form or other is not an award An order under s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act is not an award and is not appealable under s 51 of that Act Dalchand Singh v Secretary of State for India I L R 43 Calc 665 Mulraj Khadar v Collector of Poona 15 Bom L R 802 Seddon v Deputy Collector of Madras 17 Ind C 117 Balram Bharamatar Poy v Sham Sunder Narendra I L P 23 Calc 966 and Trinayan Das v Krishnadas De 17 C W N 933 referred to SARAT CHANDRA GHOSH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919) I L R 46 Calc 881

Timber compensation for—Division between Landlord and Tenant By custom of the country bamboos are used in building and there fore are Timber Held Landlord entitled to half compensation for the trees in this case MAHARAJA SRI PAMESWAR SINGH BHADUR v. BHADURA SINGH B Pat. L J 127

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

— Binding agreement can be made between parties fixing the amount of compensation—Ex p. the Collector has made his award—Offer and acceptance by letter—Contract—Specific performance of contract—Power of Municipal Corporation—Powers of Directors of Joint stock Company—Indian Contract Act (17 of 1872) ss 2 and 10—Land Acquisition Act (1 of 1894) ss 11 (1) and (2) 31 38 ss 31 48 and 51 (2)—The City of Bombay Municipal Act (111 of 1955) s 61 (vi) 68 69 77 90 91 97 96 and 517—Specific relief—Declaration form of In August 1916 the plaintiffs the Municipal Corporation for the City of Bombay wishing to acquire certain property belonging to the defendant Company for the purpose of widening a street entered into negotiations with the defendants in order to arrive at the price the defendants would accept for their property. No agreement having been arrived at, the plaintiffs applied to the Government to acquire the property for them by proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act. Thereafter on 19th July 1917 the defendants resumed negotiations with the plaintiffs. On 26th July 1917 the usual notification was published in the Government Gazette. On 12th September 1917 the Secretary of the defendant Company in pursuance of the previous correspondence between the parties and the interviews of their respective engineers wrote to the plaintiffs' engineer—The Company is willing to accept without prejudice the sum of Rs 145,000 inclusive of 10 per cent for compulsory acquisition. The amount will be subject to deductions of the capital ad dues to the Collector and of the easements of the neighbouring properties if any. The said letter was placed by the plaintiffs' engineer before the Municipal Commissioner who endorsed on it his approval of the acceptance of the offer. On the 14th September 1917 at a meeting before the Deputy Collector who held inquiry under the Land Acquisition Act the plaintiffs' solicitor produced the letter of 12th September 1917. The defendants' engineer stated at the meeting that the term without prejudice in their letter had no longer any force as the Municipality had accepted the proposal of the defendants. Thereupon the Deputy Collector recorded the agreement between the parties and adjourned the inquiry to determine the claims of owners of adjoining premises to easements of light and air. On the 22nd September 1917 the Directors of the Company passed a resolution approving of the letter of 19th September 1917 and noting that the said letter conveyed the acceptance of the plaintiffs' offer by the Secretary on behalf of the Company. On 23rd October 1917 the defendants through their solicitors intimated to the plaintiffs' engineer that they had withdrawn the offer made by them on the 19th September 1917. The plaintiffs' solicitors replied that there was a definite agreement concluded between the parties and that the defendants were not entitled to resile from the same. At an adjourned meeting before the Collector held on 29th January 1918 the defendants made a formal claim of Rs. 571,600 as compensation and the proceedings were adjourned by the Collector. The plaintiffs there upon sued for a declaration (1) that there was a contract binding on the defendants in terms of the letter of the 12th September 1917 which had been accepted by the plaintiffs (2) that the defendants were not entitled to claim in the proceedings before the Collector any sum for compensation other than or beyond Rs 145,517 and (3) that if Collector awarded more the excess belonged to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs also claimed them in question accordingly. The defendant contended that their letter was not an offer but an invitation or in the alternative that the agreement was void for want of mutuality or was made without authority or that Government could withdraw under s 48 of the Act. Held that the letter was an offer and not a mere invitation and that the offer and the acceptance thereof had been made by the duly authorised agents of the defendants and the plaintiff respectively. Held further that the offer and acceptance amounted to an agreement definitely fixing the compensation as between the parties themselves whatever sum may be ultimately awarded by the Collector and with an obligation on either party to refund any excess or make good any deficiency as the case might be and that this agreement was a contract within the meaning of ss 2 and 10 of the Indian Contract Act which was capable of being specifically enforced against the defendants. Held also that the agreement was not wanting in mutuality nor rendered nugatory as between the parties merely because power of withdrawal was reserved to the Government under s 48 of the Land Acquisition Act. The dicta of Bowen L. J in The Moorcock (1859) 11 P D 64 at p 68 referred to FORT PRESS CO LTD v. THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BOMBAY (1910)

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

I L R 44 Bom 797

— Application by owner for abandonment of acquisition in consideration of special payment—Application—Street scheme—Submission of scheme to Government for sanction—Building sites not demarcated—Scheme ultra vires—Calcutta Improvement Act (Beng V of 1911) ss 39 41 and 3—There is nothing in the Calcutta Improvement Act which compels the Trust to delineate on the plan the building sites before the scheme is submitted to Government for sanction. The owner of certain premises made an application to the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta under s 78 of the Calcutta Improvement Act for the abandonment of acquisition in consideration of special payment. Such application was subsequently rejected by the Board inasmuch as the disputed property was too small to form an independent building site on a 100 feet main thoroughfare and would not fit in with the lay out. Held that the Board came to the conclusion bona fide and as there was no evidence to show that the land was not required for the execution of the scheme within the meaning of sub s (1) of s 78 there was no basis for the application to the Trustees nor was there any ground for complaint in the suit for the fact that they made enquiries under sub s (2) of s 78 did not entitle them ultimately to reject the application on the ground that it did not come within sub s (1) of that section. BEPIN BEHARI SEY v. TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA (1920) 1 L R 47 Cal 604

— Recoupment—Calcutta Improvement Act (Beng V of 1911) ss 42 (a) 78-49 (2)

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

the meaning of the provisions of s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act. Where a portion of the debtor's property was acquired under the Land Acquisition Act and the compensation money was invested in approved securities the debtor is entitled to withdraw a portion of the invested funds and apply the same to effect necessary repairs to the remainder of the debtor's property. As under s 32 of the Act the compensation money is placed in the custody of the Court jurisdiction is by implication conferred upon it to deal with all questions that may arise as to the application of the fund in its custody. KANWAR DEVI v. PRADYATHA NATH MOOKERJEE (1911)

I L R 39 Calc 33

See Also STEWART I L R 40 Calc 895

Appportionment of Compensation-money—Method of Assessment—Government as landlord's share of. In ascertaining the amount of compensation due to the landlord regard must be had to the question of how much the landlord is actually realising from the land. The Government in its capacity as landlord is entitled as usual to a capitalisation of the much rent as may be found to be payable in respect of the proportion of the holding, that is taken together with 10 per cent for compulsory acquisition and something more in respect of the possibility of the enhancement of the value of the land thereafter. The Government is not entitled in law to a higher proportion on the ground that in similar cases it has frequently received a higher proportion either by consent of the parties or otherwise. Where a tenant's rent is fixed in perpetuity it would be enough in apportioning compensation to capitalize this rent according to the rule laid down in Dinendra Varma Roy v. Tituram Mookerjee I L R 30 Calc 801 in order to arrive at the share due to the landlord but where that is not the case this rule will not be sufficient and some other means of calculation must be adopted. MANMATHA DEVI v. COLLECTOR OF CHITTAGOON (1912)

I L R 40 Calc 64

17 C W N 1001

Bustee Land—Valuation—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng. Act III of 1899) s 50—sub s (c) (d)—Market value—Inadmissibility of evidence with regard to sales of other lands in the neighbourhood.—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) s 23. When land is compulsorily acquired any use to which the land may be put in future should not be taken into consideration in determining its value. The valuation should all be according to the market value at the time of the acquisition. Sub s (c) of s 507 of the Municipal Act precludes evidence being given of other purposes to which bustee land can be put in future. Evidence relating to the under tenants and rents paid by them is not relevant for the purpose of ascertaining the market value as defined by sub s (c) of s 507 of the Municipal Act. Hari k Chander Verma v. Secretary of State for India II C N A 375 followed. MANMATHA CHANDRA NATH v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

I L R 41 Calc 887

Codown used as servants residence. Whether part of house or building.—Acquisition of such codown alone is part of Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 49 (1) 64—Practice—Appeal. Codown necessary as residence for servants are part and parcel of a building (within the meaning of s 49 (1) of the Land Acquisition Act)

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

being a most important part of that building for the purpose of letting it out to gentlemen as a place of residence. The acquisition of such codowns would thus be an acquisition of a part of a house contrary to the provisions of the Act. It has never been doubted that an appeal would lie in the case of such an order under that section. Hasan Molla v. Pasrudin I L R 39 Cal 393 distinguished. DALCHAND SINGH v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)

I L R 43 Calc 665

Court if may determine question of title—Claims to compensation by Zemindar as owner of person holding under a lakhraj title—Onus of proof. A purchaser of an entire estate sold for arrears of revenue suing to recover land claimed by the defendant as lakhraj must prove a prima facie case that his mal land has since 1790 been converted into lakhraj. The fact that the lands are within the ambit of the estate is not sufficient to meet this burden. Whether in a particular case the plaintiff has been able to prove such a prima facie case would depend upon its own circumstances. Where the question of title to a plot of land arose between claimants to compensation money paid by Government on acquisition thereof under the Land Acquisition Act one being the purchaser of the estate at a sale for arrears of land revenue whilst the other was holding it as lakhraj. Held that the former was in the position of the plaintiff and the burden of proof as stated above was on him. Harikhar Moolerjee v. Madab Chandra Babu 14 Moo I A 152 relied on. A Land Acquisition Court has jurisdiction to determine a conflict of title between rival claimants. KRISHNA KALYANI DA v. R. BRAUNFELD (1915)

20 M W N 1028

Title by adverse possession—On the acquisition of a piece of land under the Land Acquisition Act it was found that the person in possession had taken possession of it on the death of the last male owner and held possession for more than 12 years without payment of rent. He asserted that he held the land under another person and not under the rival claimant who was the reversionary heir of the last male owner. Held that the person in such possession was entitled to the full compensation paid for its compulsory acquisition having acquired the right to hold the land rent free by twelve years adverse possession. RAJIBANS SAHAJ v. RAI MANABIS PRASAD (1916)

20 M W N 828

Award meaning of—Appeal—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 49 54. A decision or determination under the Land Acquisition Act which has no reference to compensation in some form or other is not an award. An order under s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act is not an award and is not appealable under s 54 of that Act. Dalchand Singh v. Secretary of State for India I L R 43 Cal 675. Mulraj Khatri v. Collector of Poona 12 Bom L R 402. Siddons v. Deputy Collector of Madras 17 Ind C 117. Balram Laxmanrao Raj v. Shama Sunder Aarendra I J R 23 Cal 576 and Trinayan Das v. Krishna Lal De 17 C W N 937 referred to. SARAT CHANDRA GHOSE v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919) I L R 46 Calc 861

Timber compensation for—Disposal. Between Landlord and Tenant. By custom of the country barabars are used in building and there

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

agreement was arrived at between the Municipality and plaintiff No. 2 whereby in consideration of the plaintiff No. 2 agreeing in et alia not to claim from the Municipal Corporation the compensation payable to himself and to pay the portion of compensation payable to two other claimants the Municipality agreed to convey to him the residue of the land acquired from him after retaining the portion necessary for the purpose of widening the street and to give in addition a certain strip of land which the Municipality were to get under an arrangement with a third party. The Collector thereupon published his award. Soon after the Collector's Surveyor wrote to the Acquisition Officer of the Municipality that plaintiff No. 2 had handed over to him charge of his properties and he further sent along with the letter a charge receipt for the properties and the same was signed by the Surveyor and the Acquisition Officer whereby it was recorded that they had respectively handed over and taken charge of the said properties. The Municipality there after served on 23rd December 1919 notices on the various defendants in the suits to vacate the premises in their occupation by the 31st December 1919 and on defendant's refusal to vacate filed suits against them in ejectment. Held that under s 16 of the Land Acquisition Act when the Collector made the award he could take possession of the land which thereupon vested absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances that the acquisition and the resulting vesting were equally effective and complete in the case of acquisition undertaken by Government on the application of the Municipal Commissioner under s 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act which pro tanto modified the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act so as to vest the property in the Corporation instead of in the Government on the payment of compensation awarded and that no transfer from Government to the Corporation was needed. Held further that the provisions of s 31 of the Land Acquisition Act did not apply in the case of acquisitions made by virtue of the provisions of s 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act and payment of the compensation amount by the Commissioner was enough. Held also that in the case of acquisitions under s 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act the taking of possession by the Collector and his handing over the same to the Municipality was not necessary inasmuch as the property vested directly in the Corporation without the intervention of the Government or the Collector and the Corporation became entitled to take possession and that if actual possession was required the same was given by the Collector to the Municipality as evidenced by the signing of the charge receipt. Held further (1) that the general provisions of the Pent Act could not be held by implication to repeal and override particular and special enactments like the Land Acquisition Act and the Municipal Act inasmuch as the whole object of such an enactment was to get the land immediately for useful public purposes and it would be defeating that object to lay down that the public body acquiring the land was not entitled to immediate possession and (2) that assuming the Pent Act applied the premises were required by the Municipality for a satisfactory cause in order to enable them to carry out the whole scheme and to fulfil their obligation under the agreement with plaintiff No. 2. Dodds v Shepherd 1 (1921) 1 F. R. 75

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

at p 79 followed. Held further that on compulsory acquisition of the premises the lease of D terminated and that on such determination the monthly tenancies of the defendants as under lease of D also came to an end with the result that the defendants thereafter remained on the premises merely as tenants on sufferance and were not entitled to a month's notice. PEP SETALVAD J—S 296 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act expressly empowers the Municipality to acquire in addition to the land actually required for widening any public street all such land and buildings outside the intended regular line of such street as it shall deem expedient and to sell such additional land. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER FOR THE CITY OF BOMBAY v M. DAMODAR BROTHERS (1920) 1 I. R. 45 Bom 725

LAND ACQUISITION ACT, I OF 1894)

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

1 I. R. 40 Cal 311

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1888 AS AMENDED BY BOM ACT V OF 1905) ss 297 299 301 1 I. L. P. 42 Bom 462

See INTEREST 1 I. L. R. 35 Bom 255

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ARTS. 170 171 141 and 144 3 Pat. L. J. 522

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1903) s 6 SUB S (6) AND 8 1 I. L. R. 39 Mad 944

See RAILWAY COMPANY

1 I. L. R. 43 I. A. 310

See RAILWAYS ACT (I OF 1890 AS AMENDED BY ACT I OF 1896) s 7 1 I. L. R. 41 Bom 291 award whether a decision—

See LITIGATORS PATENT CHS 15 30

1 I. L. R. 41 Mad 943

proceedings under—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

1 I. L. R. 40 Cal 21

1 ——— Compensation—Valuation of rent of property—Element to be considered—Evidence before Acquisition Officer—Practice The income of a property whether actual or imaginary is no doubt one of the recognised starting points for a valuation but it is a mistake to think that it is the only element to be taken into consideration. In the case of residential property to endeavour to arrive at the market value the basis of an hypothetical rent may work injustice to the owner. There are cases which may possess a value in the market the return they give on capital invested in advantages and enjoyment which as their possession. Residential property sense of property which a purchaser acquires for his own residence, is such. The first question to determine is who a demand, and if there is a cost it is the most important attention. It is the duty of legalising before the Acquisition Commission to arrive at a valuation by the information and materials in the matter of LAND MATTER OF GOVERNMENT AND 1 I. L.

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

122—Street scheme—Affecting many of On the construction of s 42 (a) of the Calcutta Improvement Act 1911 their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held that there was no limitation of severance either in that section or in s 78 and there was no ground for implying any limitation as affecting the authority of the Board of Trustees for the acquisition of land under s 42. The result in the opinion of their Lordships was that none of the suggested limitations to the usual and normal meaning of the word affected in s 42 was admissible and that there was no reason either in the general purpose of the Act or in the special context that the word should not be construed in its ordinary sense and that as so construed s 42 authorised the acquisition of the land of the respondent which was inserted in the scheme because in the opinion of the Board it would be enhanced in value by its execution. TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA v CHANDRA HARTI GHOSH (1919) I L R 47 Calc 500

OVER RULING I L R 44 Calc 219

Piecemeal acquisition—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 6 to 11 Where there is one holding there cannot be piecemeal acquisition as the Land Acquisition Act refers only to one notice one proceeding and one award to be given taken and made regarding one holding and one ownership. But when the Collector in obedience to the decision of a Court to which he was subject desisted pending an appeal from that decision from proceeding with the acquisition of the portion of the premises affected by that decision he is not thereby debarred from further proceeding with the acquisition when a Court superior to that which gave the decision declared the latter to be erroneous. R C SEN v THE TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA AND THE LAND ACQUISITION COLLECTOR OF CALCUTTA (1921) I L R 48 Calc 892

Calcutta Improvement Act—(Beng V of 1911)—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1873) ss 20 357 500—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 4(3) 5—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 4—Proceedings before Land Acquisition Collector—High Court power of restraining further proceedings—Specific Relief Act (I of 1907) s 15 (c) In an application under s 4 of the Specific Relief Act by the owner of certain premises to restrain the Corporation and the Improvement Trust from taking further steps in the proceedings then pending before the Acquisition Collector in the acquisition of the said premises by the Corporation under a Government notification in terms of s 11 of the Land Acquisition Act it was found having regard to the absence of a sanctioned project on the part of the Corporation or of a scheme on the part of the Trust and having regard to the fact that the Corporation was to acquire and the Trust was to pay that notwithstanding a Government notification under s 11 of the Land Acquisition Act the acquisition proceedings should not be continued. Held that though the notification under s 6 of the Land Acquisition Act is conclusive so far as s 4 of the Evidence Act concerned but the Court is entitled to enquire into the validity of the steps leading up to the recommendation and was competent to enquire into the legality or otherwise of the acts of the Corporation and the Trust. Held also that special powers of the Corporation for purposes of acquiring land cannot be used to enable another body to acquire land through them however estimable the purpose. The power to acquire is limited to cases where the Corporation itself undertakes the work. It was observed that it is to be assumed that the Local Government and the Land Acquisition authorities will stay their hands in view of a decision of the Court and not be parties to what may be held to be illegal and ultra vires action. MAHENDR CHAND MAHATA IN RE v THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA AND THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT TRUST (1921)

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

I L R 48 Calc 916

Assessment of compensation—Prospective user it may be taken into account—Land not capable of use as independent brickfield but wanted for inclusion in existing brick fields if may be valued as brick field land Tribunals assessing compensation must take into account not only the present purpose to which the land is applied but also any other more beneficial purpose to which in the course of events it might within a reasonable period be applied just as an owner might do if he were bargaining with a purchaser in the market. Where it appeared that the lands acquired could not profitably be used as independent brickfields but there was trustworthy evidence to show that if the acquired lands had been thrown into the market adjoining brick field owners would have come forward to purchase them or take leases of them for inclusion in their brick fields. Held—That the Court was justified in assessing the value of the lands as brick field land. Too much importance must not be attached to evidence of offers in a certifying the market value of land but the position is different when the question is whether there is a market at all for a tract of land for use for a specified purpose. MOHNI MOHAN BAYAJEE THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA 25 C W N 1002

City of Bombay Municipal Act (III of 1883) ss 91 and 296—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 16 and 31—Land acquired by the Government of Bombay at the instance of Municipality—Effect of acquisition—Festing of land in Municipality—Municipality empowered to acquire land in addition to that required for its scheme and to sell such additional land—Bombay Rent (War Restrictions) Act II of 1918 s 9—Bombay Rent Act does not override general provisions of the Land Acquisition Act or the Municipal Act—Sufficient Cause within the meaning of s 9 of the Rent Act—Leave for fixed period terminable on compulsory acquisition—Monthly tenancy under the original lease—Tenants on a licence not entitled to a month's notice—Ejectment in pursuance of a scheme for the widening of a street within the Fort the Municipal Corporation of the City of Bombay plaintiff No 1 moved the Government of Bombay to acquire certain buildings on behalf of the Corporation under the Land Acquisition Act. The Governor in Council thereupon issued the necessary notification for the acquisition of the said buildings. Plaintiff No 2 was the owner of the buildings in the five suits and he had leased them to D for a period of three years from 1st November 1917. D let out different portions of the buildings to the several defendants in the suits on monthly tenancy. By the time the proceedings before the Collector terminated but before the award was actually published an agreement was arrived at between the Municipality and plaintiff No. 2 whereby in consideration of the plaintiff No. 2 agreeing to allow not to claim from the Municipal Corporation the compensation payable to himself and to pay the portion of compensation payable to two other claimants the Municipality agreed to convey to him the residue of the land acquired from him after retaining the portion necessary for the purpose of widening the street and to give in addition a certain strip of land which the Municipality were to go under an arrangement with a third party. The Collector thereupon published his award. Soon after the Collector's Surveyor wrote to the Acquisition Officer of the Municipality that plaintiff No. 2 had handed over to him charge of his properties and he further sent along with the latter a charge receipt for the properties and the same was signed by the Surveyor and the Acquisition Officer whereby it was recorded that they had respectively handed over and taken charge of the said properties. The Municipality thereafter served on 23rd December 1919 notices on the various defendants in the suits to vacate the premises in their occupation by the 31st December 1919 and on defendant refusal to vacate filed suits against them in ejectment Hell that under s. 16 of the Land Acquisition Act when the Collector made the award he could take possession of the land which thereupon vested absolutely in the Government free from all incumbrances that the acquisition and the resulting vesting were equally effective and complete in the case of acquisition undertaken by Government on the application of the Municipal Commissioner under s. 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act which pro tanto modified the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act so as to vest the property in the Corporation instead of in the Government on the payment of compensation awarded and that no transfer from Government to the Corporation was needed. Hell further that the provisions of s. 31 of the Land Acquisition Act did not apply in the case of acquisitions made by virtue of the provisions of s. 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act and payment of the compensation amount by the Commissioner was enough. Hell also that in the case of acquisitions under s. 91 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act the taking of possession by the Collector and his handing over the same to the Municipality was not necessary inasmuch as the property vested directly in the Corporation without the intervention of the Government or the Collector and the Corporation became entitled to take possession and that if actual possession was required the same was given by the Collector to the Municipality as evidenced by the signing of the charge receipt. Hell further (1) that the general provisions of the Rent Act could not be held by implication to repeal and override particular and special enactments like the Land Acquisition Act and the Municipal Act inasmuch as the whole object of such an enactment was to get the land immediately for useful public purposes and it would be defeating that object to lay down that the public body acquiring the land was not entitled to immediate possession and (2) that assuming the Rent Act applied the premises were required by the Municipality for a satisfactory cause in order to enable them to carry out the whole scheme and to fulfil their obligation under the agreement with plaintiff No. 2. Dobbs v. Sheph = L (1971) 1 F.R. 75

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

LAND ACQUISITION—contd

at p. 75 followed. Hell further that on the compulsory acquisition of the premises the lease of D terminated and that on such determination the monthly tenancies of the defendants as under-lessees of D also came to an end with the result that the defendants thereafter remained on the premises merely as tenants on sufferance and were not entitled to a month's notice. 1 F.R. 75 SPTALVAD J —S. 296 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act expressly empowers the Municipality to acquire in addition to the land actually required for widening any public street all such land and buildings outside the intended regular line of such street as it shall deem expedient and to sell such additional land. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER FOR THE CITY OF BOMBAY v. M. DAMODAR BROTHERS (1901) I L R 45 Bom 725

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 40 Cal 21

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1889 AS AMENDED BY LOCAL ACT V OF 1901) s. 297

299 301 I L R 42 Bom 462

See INTEREST I L R 35 Bom 255

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SEC. 1 ARTS. 120 130 141 and 144 3 Pat L J 522

See MADRAS STATUTE LANDS ACT (I OF 1903) s. 6 SUBS. (6) AND 8

I L R 39 Mad 944

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 43 I A 310

See RAILWAYS ACT (I OF 1890 AS AMENDED BY ACT IX OF 1890) s. 7

I L R 41 Bom 291

award whether a decree—
See LETTERS PATENT S. 1 36

I L R 41 Mad 943

proceedings under—
See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 40 Cal 21

1 ——— Compensation—Valuation of residential property—Elm not to be considered—Evidence before Acquisition Officer—Practice The income of a property whether actual or imaginary is no doubt one of the recognised starting points for a valuation but it is a mistake to think that it is the only element to be taken into consideration. In the case of residential property to endeavour to arrive at the market value solely on the basis of an hypothetical rent may work grave injustice to the owner. There are commodities which may possess a value in the market not for the return they give on capital invested but for the advantages and enjoyment which accrue from their possession. Residential property in the sense of property which a purchaser wishes to acquire for his own residence is such a commodity. The first question to determine is whether there is a demand and if there is a demand the original cost is the most important element for consideration. It is the duty of legal practitioners before the Acquisition Officer to assist him arriving at a valuation by putting before him the information and materials at their disposal. In the matter of LAND ACQUISITION ACT matter of GOVERNMENT AND SRIKHAND I L R 34

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

2 — Land — Acquisition of out standing interest where Government owns fee simple Per CHANDAVARKAR J — To acquire a land [See under the Land Acquisition Act] is not necessarily the same thing as to purchase the right of fee simple to it but means the purchase of such interests as clog the right of Government to use it for any purpose they like. The definition given to the word land in s 3 (a) of the Act is not exhaustive. The use of the inclusive verb includes shows that the Legislature intended to lump together in one single expression — viz, land — several things or particulars such as the soil the buildings on it any charges on it and other interests in it all of which have a separate existence and are capable of being dealt with either in a mass or separately as the exigencies of each case arising under the Act may require. Per BACHELOR J — Government are not debarred from acquiring and paving for the only outstanding interests merely because the Act which primarily contemplates all interests as held outside Government directs that the entire compensation based upon the market value of the whole land must be distributed among the claimants. In such circumstances there is no insuperable objection to adopting the procedure to the case on the footing that the outstanding interests which are the only things to be acquired are the only things to be paid for. In the matter of the LAND ACQUISITION ACT THE GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY v ESUPALI SALEBHAI I L R 34 Bom 618

3 — Collector's award — Government directing Collector to publish his award on a lower valuation. When the Collector appointed under the Land Acquisition Act of 1894 once makes the enquiry prescribed by the Act and reaches his own conclusion as to the amount of compensation to be awarded to the claimant it is not competent to the Government to set aside the conclusion and to direct the Collector to substitute a smaller amount than that which as the result of his enquiry he has determined to offer. DONNABAI BEJANI v THE SPECIAL OFFICER SALSETTE BUILDING SITE (1912)

I L R 36 Bom 599

4 — Apportionment of compensation — Between amindar and occupancy ryot principles of — Value of trees on land acquired to be given to whom. In making an apportionment of compensation for land awarded under the Land Acquisition Act between a zamindar and his occupancy tenant several factors are to be taken into consideration for determining their respective rights in the land such as expenses of cultivation the fact that the cultivator has a home and a sphere for labour for him self and his family and the nature of the tenure. The principle of Appa samudral Mudali v Pangappa Nallan I L R 4 Mad 567 applied. This decision which apportioned on the facts of that case three fifths to the zamindar and two fifths to the ryots was not intended to lay down a general rule applicable to all cases. On the facts of this case their Lordships affirmed the decision of the lower Court which apportioned the compensation given for land in the ratio of three fifths to the ryots and two fifths to the zamindar. Paya Lemmadetara Venkatarasamma Raju v Lakshmi v Lakshman (Appeal No 119 of 1893) 84 Ma 1888. See also Govind v Iratoda Sundari Laxmi I L R 28 Cal 136. See also Nendra Nara Poy v Tirumali Mukerjee I L R

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

30 Cal 801 Rhupa Roy v Secretary of State 5 C L J 662 and Satis Chandra Chatterjee v Raj Bahadur Nath Choudhury 7 C I J 284 distinguished. On a consideration of the whole evidence in the case their Lordships affirmed the decision of the lower Court which gave to the ryots the whole value of the trees (fruit) trees that stood upon the land which was compulsorily acquired. Arasanna Pygar v Orr I L R 26 Mad 252 and Bodda Goddeppa v The Maharaja of Vizianagram I L R 30 Mad 155 distinguished. Per CURIA. Proceedings under part III of the Act are not by way of appeal and what is contemplated is a new enquiry by the District Judge. BAMADEV VERA VENKATANARASIMHA NAIDU v SUBBARAYUDU (1913) I L R 36 Mad 395

5 — Special adaptability of land for purpose required — Where a piece of land is compulsorily acquired by Government for quarrying purposes its special adaptability for quarrying is an element for consideration in fixing the amount of compensation. DATA KRISHNAI v ASSISTANT COLLECTOR SURAT (1913) I L R 36 Bom 37

6 — Noabad Mehal property — Acquisition of — Apportionment of compensation between Government and claimant — Basis of calculation of value of Government interest — Chance of enhancement of rent value of a Noabad Mehal held under Government implies a hereditary and transferable title in perpetuity subject to payment of rent for all lands under cultivation. Where certain properties included in a Noabad Mehal held under the Government were acquired under the Land Acquisition Act held that the mere fact that the rent was enhancible did not justify the Court awarding half the compensation money to Government as Government would not in ordinary course increase the assessment unless the assets of the property also increased. That the interest of the Government ought to be measured by capitalising the present rent at 60 years purchase. JUGESH CHANDRA RAY v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912)

18 C W N 531

7 — Objection to award by one of two claimants — Other claimant entitled to any portion of the excess amount allowed by Judge on reference. When in a proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act the tenants accepted the Collector's valuation but the landlord objected to it and asked for a reference and the Judge allowed an excess amount representing all the interests in the land held that the tenants were not entitled to any portion of the excess amount allowed by the Judge. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MANOHAR MUKHERJEE (1918)

23 C W N 720

8 — Acquisition of lands for building purposes — Wet lands in a zamindar's occupancy rights of tenants included — Valuation of lands made of — Interests of amindar and tenant too valued — Apportionment of compensation — Land whether to be valued merely as wet lands or as house site. Where wet lands in a zamindar are acquired by the Government under the Land Acquisition Act for extension of the village site the lands have to be valued in the first instance including all interests in it and the amount ascertained has then to be apportioned among the parties interested accord-into the interest. The proper way of valuing lands with occupancer rights is to ascertain what would be their market value if they were put to the most lucrative use having regard to their position and when they are acquired for public purposes, if it is to be valued as building sites and not merely as wet lands, the fact that neither the landlord nor the tenant can utilize the lands for building purposes without the concurrence of the other does not make any difference. Collector of District of Mysore v. P. S. P. & L. P. 65 and Collector of District of Mysore v. Bank of India Ltd. 113 of 1913 followed. 123 of 1913 See The Mysore District of Mysore v. P. S. P. & L. P. 65 and Collector of District of Mysore v. Bank of India Ltd. 113 of 1913 followed. Appeals Nos. 31 and 32 of 1916 (unreported) dismissed from P.A.J. of PATTANAM & THE DISTRICT COLLECTOR OFFICE, CHENNAI (1916). I L R 42 Mad 644

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

Compensation—

The Government acquired certain land containing gravel and laterite for the gravel for which it had been paying the owner at the rate of six annas per hundred feet. Compensation was awarded on the basis of the average income which had actually been obtained by the owner from lands of this description. On objection that the compensation should have been based upon the value of the entire quantity of gravel and laterite contained in the land at the rate of six annas per hundred cubic feet held that the basis upon which compensation had been awarded was correct. BHABHAR NARAYAN CHANDRA DUTT NARENDRA R. THE COLLECTOR 2 Pat. L. J. 247

12. ————— Acquisition of land for quarrying—Principle of compensation—Value of prospective gravel. When a piece of land is compulsorily acquired for quarrying purposes, a special adaptability for quarrying is an element for consideration in fixing the amount of compensation in spite of the fact that no one but the local authority for which the acquisition was made ever made any demand for the land as a quarry and it is not right to award compensation for it only as cultivable land. DISTRICT COLLECTOR SIKH (1914) I L R 39 Bom 37 followed. Judgment of MORTON L. J. in In re Lucas and Chestfield Gas and Water Board [1909] 1 K B 30 at 31 distinguished. The amount of compensation to be awarded is the present value of all the gravel that might be expected to be realized in the future. RAGHUVATHIA ROW & SONS, PROPRIETORS OF STATE FOR INDIA (1921). I L R 44 Mad 681

s 3 (a)—

Per CHANDRASEKHARAN

J. To acquire land is not necessarily the same thing as to purchase the right of the land simply in it but means the purchase of such interest as a clog the right of the Government to use it for any purpose they like. THE GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY v. THE SURAT HAT MERCHANTS I L R 34 Bom 618

Last para

ing. If right is in eminent domain limits—It is a legal right of the Government for building purposes and it is not a right of the Government to use it for any other purpose. THE GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY v. THE SURAT HAT MERCHANTS I L R 34 Bom 618

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)

s 3 (a)—contd

claim—Ad valorem Court fee on memo of appeal—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s 3. The claimant owned a bungalow which stood within the limits of Ahmedabad cantonment. The Government having acquired the bungalow under the Land Acquisition Act the claimant was awarded Rs 4500 as compensation for the superstructure of the bungalow and Rs 18631 were awarded to Government as compensation for the land on the footing that the land being within cantonment limits belonged to Government. The claimant appealed to the High Court contending first that the superstructure was undervalued and secondly that he was entitled to the full compensation for land also inasmuch as under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act the Court had no jurisdiction to try any question of title or apportionment between the claimant and Government. The memorandum of appeal bore a Court fee stamp of Rs. 2 only as the claim in appeal was treated as one of apportionment of compensation between the claimant and Government. A preliminary point having been raised whether the memorandum of appeal was properly stamped—Held by Shah and Harward JJ that the memorandum of appeal should bear Court fee stamp ad valorem on the value of the land claimed since what was styled as apportionment was really the determination of the amount payable by Government to claimant for the land. On the question whether proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act were proper to determine compensation when the land was claimed by Government—Held by Shah and Crump JJ that in a proceeding under the Land Acquisition Act it is competent to the Court to adjudicate on any question of title to the land acquired or to apportion the amount of compensation for it as between the claimant and Government. The Government of Bombay v. Peshwa Sulebs (1909) 31 Bom 618 approved. PER DUTTA J.—Under the Land Acquisition Act what is acquired is the land which includes all that is stated in clause (a) of s 3 of the Land Acquisition Act. But in the case of a land with superstructure thereon in which either the Government have an limited interest or wherein that interest is a matter of dispute between a claimant interested in the property and the Government it is open to the Government to acquire that property under the Act. When it comes to a question of determining the market value of the property acquired and the amount payable as compensation thereon the property is treated as the property having a limited interest in the property. It is not the interest of the Government which is treated as the interest of the claimant. The question of title to the land is really a matter of title to the land. The claimant is entitled to the market value of the land if the Government in the land acquired. MANJIVAN CHANDRA & THE ASSIS TANT COLLECTOR OF PUNE AHMEDABAD (1909). I L R 45 Bom 277 ss 3 (b) 11 and 31 (1) and (2)—

Compensation interest deposited in Court under s 31 (1)—Cl. 1 of Government to deduct postage and fees payable by Government on such deposit out of the money deposited—Per on interest in compensation money—Compensation money due to be apportioned among Government and claimant under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) to acquire a piece of land vested in the City of Bombay Im-

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

s 3 (b)—contd

Improvement Trust under Schedule C of Bombay Act IV of 1898 and in the occupation of one Pestonji Jehangir under an agreement with the Improvement Trust under which he had the right to obtain a lease of the land for 99 years when certain buildings had been erected in accordance with the terms of his agreement. The amount payable as compensation for the land was fixed by the Collector under s 11 of the Act and was apportioned under the same section between the Government the Improvement Trust and Pestonji Jehangir. The amount awarded to the Improvement Trust was deposited by the Collector in Court under s 31 (2) of the Act and poundage and fees thereon were paid by Government. Pestonji Jehangir raised objections to the basis on which his claim had been valued but this matter was settled by a consent decree. Government thereon claimed to deduct the amount of the poundage and fees paid by them from the amount deposited in Court. Held that the Court had only power to direct payment of the compensation money without any deduction to the person or persons interested therein and consequently had no power to direct that portion of such money should be refunded to Government as representing the poundage and fees paid by them when the money was deposited in Court. See also It is possible for a person to be interested in the compensation money within the meaning of cl 11 of the Act without having an interest in the land in the legal sense of the term and that the Collector and the Court should apportion the sum awarded among the persons interested as far as possible in proportion to the value of their interests the market value of which might afford some guide as to the amount to be apportioned in respect of that interest but only considered in relation to the total sum awarded as compensation. Pestonji Jehangir Modi in the matter of (1911)

I L R 27 Bom 76

s 3 (b), 18

Award of compensation by Revenue Divisional Officer—Application for reference to Court—Person claiming interest—Power of Collector to refuse to refer—Order refusing reference—Judicial or administrative order—Reference petition to High Court—Power of High Court to review—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—Government of India Act (5 & 6 Geo 7 Cap 61) s 107. An order passed by a Revenue Divisional Officer dismissing an application under s 18 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) for a reference to the Court regarding his award of compensation for certain lands is a judicial order and is subject to revision by the High Court. The Administrator General of Bengal v The Land Acquisition Collector 12 C W N 241 followed. East & Co v Deputy Collector of Medra 20 M L T 335 dismissed from s 18 (a) with s 3 (b) of the Act enables any person claiming an interest in the compensation who has not accepted the award to require a reference to the Court. It is no part of the Collector's duty to decide whether the claim is well founded and he is not authorized to refuse to make the reference merely because he may think the claim is not well founded. Parasurama Aiyar v Land Acquisition Collector 1 Aluhat (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 221

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

ss 3 (f), 6—

"Public Purpose" meaning of

The provision of a suitable house for Government Officers in Bombay held to be a public purpose. HAMABAI FRANKER v SECRETARY OF STATE

I L R 39 Bom 279

s 6—

See s 3

I L R 39 Bom 279

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 48 Cal 892 916

ss 11 (3) (7), 11 18 25 31 48 and 41 (2)—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 707

ss 9, 23 (1) (4) 24 (6) 48—

See RECOURTMENT

I L R 45 Cal 343

ss 6 23—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 41 Cal 967

s 7—

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1880) s 7

I L R 38 Bom 565

I L R 41 Bom 291

s 11—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 48 Cal 892

Procedure—Occupier of land ought to be compulsorily acquired—Notice under s 9 cl (3) of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 the occupier of land concerning which a public notice has been given under cl (1) of the section is entitled to such notice as will give him in the same manner as the persons mentioned in cl (2) fifteen days interval in which to state before the Collector the nature of his interest in the land and the particulars of his claim for compensation etc. Krishna Sar v The Collector of Bareilly (1917)

I L R 39 All 534

s 9 to 21 50 53—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L P 38 Cal 230

ss 9 18 25—Effect of omission of owner to state his claim under s 9—Interference under s 28—Limitation of powers of Judge. The facts that there had been previous negotiations between the Government and a person who a land the Government wished to acquire and that the Government was aware of the price which the owner had asked for the land would not afford a sufficient reason for the owner omitting to put in any claim under s 9 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 nor relieve the owner from the consequence of such omission as set forth in s 25. KARATI DAT v THE SUPERINTENDENT OF DEBRA DUK (1914)

I L P 37 All 69

ss 9 23—Omission to state claim in answer to notice—Owner not entitled to claim more than what was awarded by the acquisition officer. It is intended by s 9 cl (1) of the Land Acquisition Act that the owner of property about to be acquired should appear and state his claim in the manner provided by the clause as to enable the acquiretion officer to make a fair reasonable and proper award based upon a proper inquiry after the proper means have been placed before him for holding such inquiry S 25 cl (2) makes the refusal or omission to comply with the provisions of s 1 (2) without sufficient cause an absolute bar to the obtaining of a greater sum than that awarded by the Collector. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA = BISILAN DAT (1911) beyond time but no objection raised before Judge—Objection not entertainable in appeal In a case under the Land Acquisition Act the owner's claim was not filed until after the period prescribed therefor but no objection was taken on that score before the Collector. Held that it was too late to raise the objection when the case had come in appeal before the District Judge. LACHMAN PRASAD = SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL.

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd— ss 9 25—contd

I L R 33 All 376

I L R 48 All 652

When a claimant appeared before the Collector on the date specified in a notice under s 9 and probably made a verbal statement but filed his petition of claim next day held that this was sufficient compliance with the notice under s 9 or alternately sufficient reason under s 25. GYANENDRA NATH PAL = SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

25 C W N 71

ss 9 (3) and 45—Notice of award—Want of notice of acquisition proceedings The Collector's failure to serve notice of the intended acquisition on the occupier or owner as required by ss 9 (3) and 45 of the Land Acquisition Act does not make the subsequent proceedings such as the award void so as to entitle the owner or occupier to resist a suit in ejectment. Ganga Ram Marwari v Secretary of State for India (1903) I L P 30 Cal 576 followed. KASTURI PILLAI v MUNICIPAL COUNCIL, ERODE (1900).

I L R 43 Mad 280

— s 11

See s 3

I L R 37 Bom 76

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 797

I L R 48 Cal 892

15 C W N 87

Apportionment of compensation by Collector—S 18 and proviso to s 31 cl (2) maintainability of a separate suit by a person dissatisfied with the apportionment but who did not ask for reference to Court Some lands were acquired for a Railway and the Collector after serving notice under s 9 of the Land Acquisition Act on the zamindar and the putnidar apportioned the compensation half and half between them. Neither party applied for any reference to Court under s 18 of the Act and the putnidar withdrew the amount awarded to him. The zamindar thereupon brought a suit for recovery of the amount withdrawn by the putnidar on the ground that under the putnidar's loluhiyat the putnidar was not entitled to any portion of the compensation money. Held—That the zamindar having been served with notice under s 9 of the Act was bound to apply for a reference under s 18 when he was dissatisfied with the award and he cannot maintain a suit in the ordinary Civil Court to reopen the question. The Act creates a special jurisdiction and provides a special remedy. And ordinarily when jurisdiction has been conferred upon a special Court for the investigation of matters which may possibly be in controversy such jurisdiction is exclusive and the ordinary jurisdiction of the Civil Court is ousted. Under the third proviso to s 31 cl (2) a person who was a party to the apportionment proceedings cannot reopen the question by a regular suit. The proviso must be given a limited application and it applies only to cases where the person was under a disability or was not served with notice of the proceedings before the Collector. SAINESH CHANDRA SARKAR = SIR BEJOY CHAND MAHATAB BAHADUR.

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—

— s 11—contd

20 W N 506

— ss 11 and 12—A person in possession without payment of rent for 12 years preferred to collateral heir of last male owner. RAJ BUNSA SAHAY = MAHABIR PRASAD.

20 W N 828

— ss 11 12 18 31—

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT TRUST ACT (BOM ACT IV OF 1893) s 48 (11) I L R 42 Bom 54

— s 18—

See s 3

I L R 42 Mad 231

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT

I L R 34 Bom 436

S LAND ACQUISITION

I L P 38 Cal 220

I L R 44 Bom 797

1. Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) ss 10 and 13—Mahar's Vatan land—legislation by Government—Award—Compensation—Title by adverse possession against Vaandar—Collector's certificate—Jurisdiction Certain land with buildings thereon having been acquired by Government under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) the Assistant Collector passed an award whereby he awarded by way of compensation one sum to the owner of the buildings on the land and another to certain Mahar Vatanars on account of the land being Mahar's Vatan. The owner of the buildings having objected to award the Assistant Collector at the instance of the objector referred the matter to the District Court under s 18 of the Act. The District Judge found that the objector had acquired title to the land by adverse possession and thus became entitled to the compensation on account of the land as against the Mahar claimants. Subsequently the Collector forwarded to the District Court a certificate issued under s 10 of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) that the order for the payment of the compensation to the objector should be set aside in accordance with the provisions of ss 10 and 13 of the Act. Thereupon the District Judge holding that he had no jurisdiction to decide whether the property was Vatan or not in the face of the Collector's certificate cancelled his order. The objector having appealed against the said order Held restoring the award of the District Court that an award under the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) was not a decree or order capable of execution under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) and was therefore not within the purview of s. 10

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

ss 18—contd

of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) Held further that the award of the District Court which was the cause of the certificate made it clear that the Mahar's property had been acquired by the objector by adverse possession before the commencement of the proceedings for the acquisition of the land by Government Per curiam Even if it could be said that there was any danger of the passing of the ownership by virtue of an execution of a decree or order in the Land Acquisition proceedings it could not be said that that result was arrived at without the sanction of Government who set the machinery of the Act in motion for the acquisition of the land Alilanth v The Collector of Thana I L R 22 Bom 502 Collector of Thana v Bhaskar Malade I L R 8 Bom 264 Raghava v Amalgoda I L R Bom 283 referred to LADHNA EBBANIN and Co v THE ASSISTANT COLLECTOR POONA (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 146

Money paid out to one party before reference heard—Power of Court to entertain reference—Inherent power to recover the money The mere fact that the compensation money awarded under the Land Acquisition Act has been paid out to a party does not oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to entertain a reference duly made under s 18 of the Act Where the party to whom the money had been paid is found to have no title to receive it the Court to which the reference has been made has inherent power to recall it In this case the High Court directed that on failure of the party to restore the money within a time limited the other party would be entitled to recover it in execution JOGEESH CHANDRA RAY v YAKUB ALI (1912)

17 C W N 1057

Reference to Court for valuation—Duty of Court to see whether the evidence displaces Collector's award—Effort when evidence exaggerated and reckless Compensation payable for land acquired by Government cannot be ascertained with mathematical accuracy and the Court has to see whether the evidence adduced displaces the amount awarded by the Collector The valuation of the Collector is not displaced by evidence of value given by the claimant which is so exaggerated and reckless that no reliance can be placed thereon HINDRANI SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911)

22 C W N 659

Application by claimant for reference on the ground of inadequacy of award—Reference if bad because grounds not given in detail There is nothing in the Land Acquisition Act which requires a claimant to state the grounds in detail upon which in applying for a reference under s 19 of the Land Acquisition Act he claims a larger sum than that awarded by the Collector MAHATANDI PAL v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL

24 C W N 716

Proceedings under the Act on account to a new enquiry by the District Judge and not an appeal BOMMADEVENDRA VEI RATA v ATTORNEY GENERAL

I L P 36 Mad 395

ss 18 and 26—Whether the Court competent to consider the compensation as a whole or confine itself to any particular object on made Certain land belonging

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

ss 18 and 26—contd

to the appellants was acquired by Government for the new capital of India at Delhi The Special Land Acquisition Officer made a separate valuation for wells buildings trees and for the land the total of the various items with 15 per cent addition amounting to Rs 11 613 The appellants raised objections and a reference was made under s 18 of the Land Acquisition Act to the District Judge of Delhi who came to the conclusion that having regard to prices paid for lands in the immediate vicinity the market value of the property acquired was approximately Rs 10 000 and as that sum with 15 per cent addition amounted to slightly less than that awarded by the Land Acquisition Officer maintained the original award Against this decision the present appeal was presented and it was contended that the District Judge had no power to examine the compensation awarded as a whole but should have confined himself to a consideration of the valuation of the various parts into which it had been split up by the Land Acquisition Officer Held that when a case is referred under the Land Acquisition Act the whole case is referred subject to the limitation in s 26 of the Land Acquisition Act and not merely any particular objection and the District Judge was therefore right and indeed bound to consider the question of the compensation awarded in its entirety Gangadhara Sastri v Deputy Collector of Madras (16 Indian Cases 270) followed British India Steam Navigation Co v Secretary of State for India (I L R 38 Cal 230) not followed ZAT UD DIN v THE SECRETARY OF STATE

I L R 1 Lah 352

ss 18 30—

See MORTGAGE I L R 42 Cal 1146

s 23—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 41 Cal 967

Compensation—Market value of land—Valuation by belts The Government acquired land on the banks of the Hugly The owners objected to the Collector's award The Special Judge on reference determined the amount of compensation by bringing his calculations on a system of dividing the land into belts On appeal the High Court rejected the Special Judge's method of valuation and upon a careful consideration of previous awards and prices realised on sales of land in the neighbourhood and other matters increased the amount Held on the appeal of the Government to His Majesty in Council that the argument based on the great experience of the Special Judge in such cases amounted to a denial of the right of the High Court to review his findings The judgment of the High Court which gave due weight to the evidence in the case was affirmed SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v THE INDIA GENERAL STEAM NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO LD (1909)

I L R 36 Cal 967

14 C W N 134

Although in ascertaining the market value of land sought to be acquired under Act No I of 1894 the general principle to be applied is that the value of the land should be calculated with reference to the most lucrative and advantageous way in which the land might be used if it is apparent that the use of such land for some special purpose s.g. as building site would be permitted the land should not be valued as if it could be utilized for such purpose Steiburg v Metropolitan Board of Works L P C Q 1 37 referred to USAGAR LAL v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA I L R 33 All 733

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s 23—contd

Orchard land method of valuing In ascertaining the amount of compensation to be paid on the acquisition of orchard land regard should be had to the suitability of the land for orchard purposes. A calculation of the value of ordinary occupancy rights in neighbouring plots and of the value of the trees of which the orchard is composed is not a satisfactory method of arriving at the proper compensation for orchard land and should only be adopted when there is no possibility of a certain value of lands as orchard lands FLIA M CONEY v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL

s Pat L J 615

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 41 Cal 867

Market value of land definition of—How to determine market value whether with reference to commercial value or abstract legal rights—Tenancy at will valuation of In a Land Acquisition case there were two sets of claimants one was a tenure holder and the others were sub tenants in actual occupation of the land acquired. The Collector awarded to the tenure holder the capitalized value of the rent actually recovered by him from the sub tenants. It was contended on behalf of the tenure holder that the award was inadequate. On the other hand on behalf of the Secretary of State it was contended that at the time when the tenant in occupation transferred his interest in the land to the present occupant the rent being increased from Rs 24 to Rs 30 per bigha it was not probable that the rent could be further increased and consequently the capitalized value of this rent was more than adequate. Held—That when the rent was enhanced the landlord took premium and did not claim a higher rent as he might well have done if no premium had been paid. Consequently it was not sufficient to award to the tenure holder the capitalized value of the rent as then settled. Held also—That the market value means the price that an owner willing and not obliged to sell might reasonably expect to obtain from a willing purchaser with whom he was bargaining for the sale and purchase of the land. The Court below in concurrence with the Collector had not awarded any compensation to the sub tenants on the ground that their tenancies were of so precarious a nature that they could not be deemed to have any market value. It was found in evidence that they were tenants at will having no transferable interest in the land but that their interest in the land was frequently sold and substantial prices were paid by the purchasers who thereupon approached the landlord and got his consent to the sale. Held—That the sub tenants had an interest in land which had a market value inasmuch as such sales were common because purchasers were able in usual course to secure recognition from the landlord. Held also—That the question of market value is to be determined rather with reference to the commercial value than with reference to any abstract legal rights. Held further—That the view that the value of land should ordinarily be determined as a whole and the question of apportionment of the compensation awarded amongst claimants of different degrees should thereafter be taken into consideration has not always been accepted in practice. The procedure adopted in the present case namely that the market value of the interests claimed by persons who held interests of different degrees in the property acquired has been determined successively and independently of each other has been followed as a matter of convenience. GIRISH CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL 24 C W N 184

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s 23—contd

Circumstances to be considered by the Court in determining compensation discussed Special use of land (in this case for a Municipal drain) is an important factor and introduces the principle of reinstatement BARODA PRASAD DEY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1921) 25 C W N 677 ss 23 (2) and 32—Hindu widow—Position of widow under the law prevailing in Bikanir—Mode of calculating the 15 per cent extra allowed for compulsory acquisition A piece of land with some buildings and trees on it was taken up by Government under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act 1894. The land belonged to a Hindu widow but evidence was given on her behalf that her husband's native country was Bikanir and that according to his personal law his widow would take an absolute interest in the property left by him and not merely an ordinary Hindu widow's estate. Held that the widow was entitled to be paid the whole of the price awarded for the land and not merely to have it invested for her and to receive the interest during her life time. Held also that the 15 per cent which is to be added for compulsory acquisition was not to be calculated on the value of the land alone but on the combined value of the land building and timber. KRISHNA RAI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL I L R 42 All 555 ss 22 49—Principles of assessment of compensation—Land forming part of compound of house but actually in possession of tenants with occupancy rights The owner of a house with a compound attached to it let out a large part of the compound to agricultural tenants whom he allowed to acquire occupancy rights therein. Held on a question arising as to the principle of assessing compensation for this portion under the Land Acquisition Act 1894 that so far as the owner's interest was concerned compensation was properly calculated at so many years purchase of the annual profits actually received by the owner at the time of the sale. The owner could not in the circumstances be allowed to claim compensation for a building site. Bombay Improvement Trust v Jalbhoy Ardeshr I L R 33 Bom 483 referred to ORDER v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL (1918) I L R 40 All 367

s 25—

See 9

I L R 33 AU
25 C W N

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

ss 18—contd

of the Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) held further that the award of the District Court which was the cause of the certificate made it clear that the Mahar's property had been acquired by the objector by adverse possession before the commencement of the proceedings for the acquisition of the land by Government Per curiam. Even if it could be said that there was any danger of the passing of the ownership by virtue or in execution of a decree or order in the Land Acquisition proceedings it could not be said that that result was arrived at without the sanction of Government who set the machinery of the Act in motion for the acquisition of the land. Milkani v The Collector of Thana I L R 22 Bom 802. Collector of Thana v Bhaskar Mahadevi I L R 8 Bom 261. Rachapa v Amalgoda I L R 5 Bom 253 referred to. LADDA EBRAHIM AND CO v THE ASSISTANT COLLECTOR POONA (1910) 1 L R 35 Bom 146

2 Money paid out to one party before reference heard—Power of Court to entertain reference—Inherent power to recover the money. The mere fact that the compensation money awarded under the Land Acquisition Act has been paid out to a party does not oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to entertain a reference duly made under s 18 of the Act. Where the party to whom the money had been paid is found to have no title to receive it the Court to which the reference has been made has inherent power to recall it. In this case the High Court directed that on failure of the party to restore the money within a time limited the other party would be entitled to recover it in execution. JOGESH CHANDRA RAY v YAKUB ALI (1912) 17 C W N 1057

3 Reference to Court for valuation—Duty of Court to see whether the evidence displaces Collector's award—If it does evidence exaggerated and reckless. Compensation payable for land acquired by Government cannot be ascertained with mathematical accuracy and the Court has to see whether the evidence adduced displaces the amount awarded by the Collector. The valuation of the Collector is not displaced by evidence of value given by the claimant which is so exaggerated and reckless that no reliance can be placed thereon. MISSISSIPPI SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917) 22 C W N 659

4 Application by claimant for reference on the ground of inadequacy of award—If it is not the ground of inadequacy of award there is nothing in the Land Acquisition Act which requires a claimant to state the grounds in detail upon which in applying for a reference under s 18 of the Land Acquisition Act he claims a larger sum than that awarded by the Collector. MAHARAJA LAL v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL 23 C W N 716

Proceedings under the Act—Right to a new enquiry by the District Judge and not an appeal. BOMMADEPETA VEMURATHI v THE DISTRICT JUDGE 23 C W N 716

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

ss 18 and 26—contd

to the appellants was acquired by Government for the new capital of India at Delhi. The Special Land Acquisition Officer made a separate valuation for wells buildings trees and for the land the total of the various items with 15 per cent addition amounting to Rs 11 613. The appellants raised objections and a reference was made under s 18 of the Land Acquisition Act to the District Judge of Delhi who came to the conclusion that having regard to prices paid for lands in the immediate vicinity the market value of the property acquired was approximately Rs 10 000 and as that sum with 15 per cent addition amounted to slightly less than that awarded by the Land Acquisition Officer maintained the original award. Against this decision the present appeal was presented and it was contended that the District Judge had no power to examine the compensation awarded as a whole but should have confined himself to a consideration of the valuation of the various parts into which it had been split up by the Land Acquisition Officer. Held that when a case is referred under the Land Acquisition Act the whole case is referred subject to the limitation in s 26 of the Land Acquisition Act and not merely any particular objection and the District Judge was therefore right and indeed bound to consider the question of the compensation awarded in its entirety. Gangadhar Sastry v Deputy Collector of Madras (14 Indian Cases 270) followed. British India Steam Navigation Co v Secretary of State for India (1 L R 38 Cal 230) not followed. ZAR UD DIN v THE SECRETARY OF STATE 1 L R 1 Lah 359

ss 18 30—

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 42 Cal 1146

s 23—

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 41 Cal 967

Compensation—Market value of land—Valuation by belts. The Government acquired land on the banks of the Hugli. The owners objected to the Collector's award. The Special Judge on reference determined the amount of compensation by having his calculations on a system of dividing the land into belts. On appeal the High Court rejected the Special Judge's method of valuation and upon a careful consideration of previous awards and prices realised on sales of land in the neighbourhood and other matters increased the amount. Held on the appeal of the Government to His Majesty in Council that the argument based on the great experience of the Special Judge in such cases amounted to a denial of the right of the High Court to review his findings. The judgment of the High Court which gave due weight to the evidence in the case was affirmed. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v THE INDIA GENERAL STEAM NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO LD (1903) 1 L R 36 Cal 967

14 C W N 134

Although in ascertaining the market value of land sought to be acquired under Act No 1 of 1894 the general principle to be applied is that the value of the land should be calculated with reference to the most lucrative and advantageous way in which the land might be ss 18 and 26—Whether the Court is bound to consider the compensation as a whole or only as to any particular objection made. Certain land belonging cases where a Hindu widow inherits moveable property and the law applicable to the latter class does not apply to the former. Quare Whether the Land Acquisition Court could compel refund of the money improperly withdrawn in violation of s 32. Abin Kabi v Banakia 1 I L R 32 Cal 971. Cobaird Pans v Brinda Pans 1 L R 35 Cal 1101 at 12 C W N 1039 referred to. MAHARAJA DA I R ABINER CHANDRA DUTT (1910) 14 C W N 1024

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s 32—contd

Investment in the purchase of other lands—If includes erection of buildings. Some lands having been acquired for the Calcutta Improvement Trust a sum of Rs 244,000 was deposited with the President of the Calcutta Improvement Tribunal. The Trustees of the estate to which the lands belonged applied for delivery of the money to them in order that they might erect buildings on the emptied portion. The President refused. Held that s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act as amended by the Calcutta Improvement Act provides that the Tribunal shall order the money to be invested in the purchase of other land to be held on like conditions and having regard to the definition of land s 32 includes the erection of buildings. In re GANFNDRA MULLICK 23 C W N 597 ss 35 36 (2)—Compensation—Principle on which it should be awarded. Where cultural land in the hands of tenants was acquired temporarily for the purpose of digging kankar. Held that having regard to s 36 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 such portion of the compensation as might be awarded to the owner for the purpose of restoring the land to its original condition was not assessable until after the term of occupation had expired. In the circumstances of the case also this amount was not rightly assessed on the probable value of the kankar which might hypothetically be extracted from the land. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v ABDUL SALEEM KHAN (1915) 1 L R 37 All 347

s 45—

See s 9 1 L R 43 Mad 280

s 48—

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 44 Bom 497

ss 48 and 51—

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 44 Bom 297

s 49—

Question whether land under acquisition part of hoise—Reference to Court—Refusal by Collector—High Court if may interfere in revision. Where a Land Acquisition Collector refused to make a reference to the Civil Court under s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act the High Court in revision set aside his proceedings subsequent to the refusal and directed the Collector to proceed according to law. The Administrator General of Bengal v The Land Acquisition Deputy Collector 24 Parganahs 12 C W N 241 followed. British India Navigation Co v Secretary of State for India 12 C L I 505 s c 15 C W N 87 referred to. An application for a reference under the section

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s 49—contd

may be made at any time before the award is actually made. KISHNA DAS ROY v THE LAND ACQUISITION COLLECTOR OF LARNA (1911) 10 C W N 327

Acquisition of part of a house—reference to Civil Court duty of Deputy Collector to make—refusal to refer—High Court's power to interfere with order of refusal—Possession. The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere with an order refusing to refer to the civil court a question under the second proviso to sub s (1) of s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894. In making or refusing to make a reference under that proviso the Deputy Collector is a court. VARASWATTI PATTAK v THE LAND ACQUISITION DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF CHAMPARAY 11 Pat L J 204

s 49 (1) 54—

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 43 Cal 665

1 L R 46 Cal 881

s 52—

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 48 Cal 916

s 53—

See RECORDS POWER TO CALL FOR.

1 L R 43 Cal 239

The Court can enforce refund of compensation money taken from Court in certain instances. COLLECTOR OF AHMEDABAD v LARAJ MULJI 1 L R 35 Bom 255

Review whether District Judge may order—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XLVII. A District Judge is competent to review his own order apportioning the compensation money paid on compulsory acquisition of land between the parties entitled to it. Rangoon Lalaloung Co v Collector of Rangoon 1 L R 40 Cal 21 referred to. SHEER SAKTI NARAYAN SINGH v BIR SINGH 5 Pat L J 253

s 53 54—

See ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESERVATION ACT (VII OF 1901) ss 10 21

1 L R 42 Bom 100

Land—Compulsory acquisition—Compensation—Award by Assistant Judge—Appeal to the District Judge—Second appeal—Practice and procedure—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 96 100. Where an award is made by the Assistant Judge under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 and there has been an appeal to the District Judge no second appeal can lie from the appellate decision. NATHU BHAI NARAYAN v MANORDEO LALDAI (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom 360

s 54—

See APPEAL

1 L R 39 Cal 393

s LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 43

1 L P 46

1 L R 40

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

1 L R.

(2379)

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

ss 25 and 31—

See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 44 Bom 297

s 26—

Sees 18

I L R 1 Lah 352

s 30—Compensation—Mode of apportioning amount allotted as compensation between different interests Where land which is taken up under the Land Acquisition Act belongs to two or more persons the nature of whose interest therein differs the compensation allotted therefor must be apportioned according to the value of the interest of each person having rights therein so far as such value can be ascertained. HIRDE NABAIN V POWELL (1912) I L R 35 All 6

Reference to Civil Court

if lies after payment of compensation to one party by Collector—Order by Civil Court directing Government to pay compensation to party found entitled to it and to realise the amount wrongly paid from the other party—Facts to be proved by claimant in order to be entitled to compensation—Road cess return value of to show status as lakhtaj dar The appellant who was the first party claimed that he had a lakhtaj title to a land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act The second party claimed as putnidare and darpatindur The Collector made an award in favour of the first party and the amount of compensation was actually paid to him On a reference to the Civil Court under s 30 of the Act the Subordinate Judge found in favour of the second party and directed the Government to pay the compensation to them and to realise the amount previously paid to the first party from him Held that though the Land Acquisition Act clearly contemplates that when there is a dispute as to apportionment the reference to the Civil Court under s 31 should be made before any payment has been made still there is nothing in the Act that prohibits the Land Acquisition Collector from making the reference after payment of compensation to one of the parties When such a reference has been made it is undesirable that the party who succeeds in showing that the Collector's order was wrong should have to resort to a regular suit to compel the opposite party to refund the compensation to which he has been held not to be entitled nor can the rights of the opposite party be in any way prejudiced by the reduction of litigation That the omission of the appellant to file any road cess return with regard to the land went strongly against his claim to have ascertained a lakhtaj title to it The High Court varied the decree of the Subordinate Judge and ordered the first party to pay the amount of compensation received by him to the second party with interest at 6 per cent per annum from the date of withdrawal Held further that a claimant in a Land Acquisition proceeding cannot get no share of the compensation without establishing either title to or possession of the land acquired. SATISH CHANDRA GUPTA V ANANDA GOPAL DAS (1916) 20 C W N 816

s 31 cl (2)—

s 3

I L R 37 Bom 76

See NEWAY CITY IMPROVEMENT TRUST ACT 1894 s 49

I L R 42 Bom 51

s 4 SECRET

I L R 40 Cal 895

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

s 31 32—Debtor lands—Status of shebait—Order for deposit of compensation money there being no person competent to alienate the lands Where certain lands dedicated to an idol were acquired under the Land Acquisition Act and the application of the shebait for payment of the compensation money was rejected and an order for deposit thereof in Court was made Held that a shebait has no power to alienate the dedicated property in the general character of his rights and the order made was a proper order. RAM PRASAD NARAY ■ SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1913) 19 C W N 652

s 32—

See COURT FEE I L R 39 Cal 906

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 39 Cal 92

Bhagdar and Narva

dar Act (Bom Ac V of 1862) s 3—Unrecognised sub division of a narva holding—Compulsory acquisition The provisions of s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) cannot be made applicable to a case where the land compulsorily acquired is an unrecognised sub division of a narva holding. PER BACHELOR J The only case contemplated by the draftsman (in s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894) was the case where the legal estate was in a person possessing only a limited interest while outstanding rights were in a beneficiary or reversioner who upon the exhaustion of the limited estate would become in the words of the clause 'absolutely entitled to the land. ASANTANT COLLECTOR OF KAIRA V VITHAL DAS (1915)

I L R 40 Bom 254

Widows estate—Purhase of widow's estate if may withdraw compensation money—Refund of money withdrawn power of Court to order—Investment of compensation money A widow's estate in a property was sold without any legal necessity and purchased by the defendant Subsequently the land was acquired under the Land Acquisition Act and the defendant withdrew the compensation money In a suit by the reversioners for a declaration that they were not bound by the sale to the defendant and for a deposit of the money in Court for investment in Government securities Held that the defendant could be compelled to refund the money into Court for the purpose of investment and the Court has authority to give directions for proper investment of the money in the interest of the reversioners in accordance with the rules of justice equity and good conscience in the absence of any statutory power s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act applies to Hindu widows who hold possession of property as limited owners. Sheo Palan v Mohri I L R 21 All 354 Sheo Prasad v Jaleha I L R 24 All 139 followed Mahammad Ali v Ahamed 11 I L R 26 Mad 236 distinguished Till the money passes into the hands of a person absolutely entitled thereto there is constructive reconversion of it into land s 32 makes it reasonably clear that although an owner may be deprived of the land for the sake of public purposes the Legislature intended that the protection enjoyed by reversionary heir when land is in the hands of limited owners should not be reduced by the acquisition alone be completely withdrawn Cases of this kind where land has been compulsorily converted into money stand on a different footing from

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

s 32—contd

cases where a Hindu widow inherits moveable property and the law applicable to the latter case does not apply to the former. Quare Whether the Land Acquisition Court could compel refund of the money improperly withdrawn in violation of s 32. Abin Kati v Banalata I L R 32 Cal 371. Cobinda Pani v Branda Pani I L R 35 Cal 1101. s 32 C II \ 1039 referred to. MRINALINI DAI v ABYASH CHANDRA DUTT (1910) 14 C W N 1024

Investment in the purchase of other lands—If includes erection of building. Some lands having been acquired for the Calcutta Improvement Trust a sum of Rs 244,000 was deposited with the President of the Calcutta Improvement Tribunal. The Trustees of the estate to which the lands belonged applied for delivery of the money to them in order that they might erect buildings on the exempted portion. The President refused. Held that s 32 of the Land Acquisition Act as amended by the Calcutta Improvement Act provides that the Tribunal shall order the money to be invested in the purchase of other land to be held on like conditions and having regard to the definition of land s 32 includes the erection of buildings. In re GAYENDRA MULLICK 25 C W N 597 ss 35 36 (2)—Compensation—Principles on which it should be awarded. Where cultural land in the hands of tenants was acquired temporarily for the purpose of digging kankar. Held that having regard to s 36 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 such portion of the compensation as might be awarded to the owner for the purpose of restoring the land to its original condition was not assessable until after the term of occupation had expired. In the circumstances of the case also this amount was not rightly assessed on the probable value of the kankar which might hypothetically be extracted from the land. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v ABDUL SALAM KHAN (1915) I L R 37 All 347

s 45—

Sec 9 I L R 43 Mad 280

s 48—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 497

ss 48 and 51—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 297

s 49—

Question whether Land under acquisition part of house—Reference to Court—Refusal by Collector—High Court if may interfere in revision. Where a Land Acquisition Collector refused to make a reference to the Civil Court under s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act the High Court in revision set aside his proceedings subsequent to the refusal and directed the Collector to proceed according to law. The Administrator General of Bengal v The Land Acquisition Deputy Collector 21 Pargannah 12 C W N 241 followed. British India Navigation Co v Secretary of State for India 12 C L I 505 s 15 C W N 87 referred to. An application for a reference under the section

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—contd

s 49—contd

may be made at any time before the award is actually made. KRISHNA DAS POY v THE LAND ACQUISITION COLLECTOR OF LARNA (1911)

10 C W N 327

Acquisition of part of a house—reference to Civil Court duty of Deputy Collector to make—refusal to refer—High Court's power to interfere with order of refusal—Revision. The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere with an order refusing to refer to the civil court a question under the second proviso to sub s (1) of s 49 of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 in making or refusing to make a reference under that proviso. The Deputy Collector is a court. SARASWATI PATTAN v THE LAND ACQUISITION DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF CHAMPARAN 11 Pat L J 204

s 49 (1) 54—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 43 Cal 665

I L R 40 Cal 861

s 52—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 43 Cal 616

s 53—

See PRECINCTS POWER TO CALL FOR

I L R 43 Cal 239

The Court can enforce refund of compensation money taken from Court in certain instances. COLLECTOR OF ANNEPPOUR v LARAJI MULLAI I L R 25 Bom 255

Person whether District Judge may order—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O VIII A District Judge is competent to review his own order apportioning the compensation money paid on compulsory acquisition of and between the parties entitled to it. Pangon Bhatnagar v Collector of Jangam I L R 40 Cal 21 referred to. SHREE SAKTI NARAIN SINGH v BIR SINGH 5 Pat L J 253

s 53 54—

s 54 ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESERVATION ACT (VII OF 1904) ss 10 21

I L R 42 Bom 100

Land—Compulsory acquisition—Compensation—Award by Assistant Judge—Appeal to the District Judge—Second appeal—Practise and procedure—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 97 100. When an award is made by the Assistant Judge under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 and the award has been an appeal to the District Judge, a second appeal can lie from the appeal. SHREE SAKTI NARAIN SINGH v MANORCA LALIT 11 Pat L J 253

s 54—

See APPEAL

I L R 25 Cal 25

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 43 Cal 665

I L R 40 Cal 861

I L R 43 Cal 616

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 43 Cal 616

LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)—*contd*s 54—contd

High Court—Decision
by High Court on appeal—Appeal to Privy Council—Leave to appeal—Letters Patent 11 Cl 19 An appeal does not lie to His Majesty's Privy Council from the decision of the High Court on appeal under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)
Rangoon Pottery Company Ltd v The Collector
Rangoon 11 P 40 Cal 27 followed SPECIAL
OFFICER SALTETTE BUILDING SITES : DOSSABHAI
BEZONJI (1917) 1 L R 77 Bom 506

Order directing compensation to be invested in Government securities if appealable—Award 11 Cl 19 An order under s 31 of the Land Acquisition Act by which the sum awarded as compensation is directed to be invested in Government securities is an integral part of the award made in the case and is open to appeal under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act TRIVAYATI DAS v KRISHNA LAL
DEX (1910) 17 C W N 935

Bombay Civil Courts
Act (XIV of 1869) s 16—Civil Procedure Code (Act
V of 1908) s 96 (1)—Reference to Assistant Judge—Award not exceeding Rs 5000—Appeal to the District Judge—Second appeal to the High Court not maintainable A reference having been made in accordance with the provisions of the Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869) to the Assistant Judge he tried the reference and made an award which did not exceed Rs 5000 An appeal was presented against the said award to the District Judge and he having decided the appeal a second appeal was preferred to the High Court Held that under s 16 of the Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869) the Court authorized to hear appeals from the Assistant Judge's Court where the value of the subject matter was less than Rs 5000 was the District Court and not the High Court and no second appeal being expressly given by the Act the (second) appeal to the High Court was not maintainable AMBEDKAR HABIBHOY v WAMAN
DUDHOPUR (1913) 1 L R 38 Bom 337

Order allowing withdrawal of money deposited under s 31 of appealable Under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act there is no appeal against an order of the District Judge allowing a Hindu widow to withdraw the compensation money deposited by the Collector under s 31 of the Land Acquisition Act BISWA NATH SINGHA
v BIDHUNCHANDI DAS (1915) 19 C W N 1290

LAND ACQUISITION JUDGE

See LAND ACQUISITION
 1 L R 118 Cal 230

See MORTGAGE—INTEREST
 1 L R 42 Cal 1146

order of—

See COURT FEE ACT 1910 s 8
 1 L R 39 Cal 806

La Acquisition Judge
powers of—Order for discovery The Court of a Land Acquisition Judge is a Court of special jurisdiction the powers and duties of which are defined by statute and it cannot be legitimately invited to exercise inherent powers and assume jurisdiction over matters not intended by the Legislature

LAND ACQUISITION JUDGE—contd

to be comprehended within the scope of the enquiry before it Shyam Chander Maridraj v Secretary of State for India 11 R 35 Cal 575 Chandra Sahu
v Secretary of State for India 8 C L J 39 distinguished It was never contemplated by the statute to authorize the Land Acquisition Judge to review the award of the Collector to cancel it or to remit it to him to be recast modified or reduced The Court of the Land Acquisition Judge is restricted to an examination of the question which has been referred by the Collector for decision under s 18 and the scope of the enquiry cannot be enlarged at the instance of parties who have not obtained or cannot obtain any order of reference Pramotha
Nath Mitra v Ramlal Das Addy 11 C L J 490 followed An order for discovery can be made in a case under the Land Acquisition Act under O I R 12 Civil Procedure Code BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION CO v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA
(1910) 1 L R 58 Cal 230

LAND CESS

S e PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IX OF 1887) ART 30
 1 L R 36 Mad 18

LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (MAD III OF 1905)

See IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1865) s 1 PROVISOS 1 AND 2
 1 L R 40 Mad 886
See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT
 1905

LAND FOR AGRICULTURAL PURPOSES

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE s 48
 1 L R 34 Bom 239

LAND-HOLDER

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF
1908) 1 L R 38 Mad 33 1155
 1 L R 39 Mad 1018
 1 L R 44 Mad 677

engagement by with Government—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD ACT VII OF 1865)
 1 L R 40 Mad 886

LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT (XIX OF 1883)

s 7—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURIST RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879)
 1 L R 40 Bom 483

s 7 (1) (c)—Sale under—Loan a first charge on the land—Sale free of prior encum-brances—Improvements effected before receipt of loan effect of—How completion of improvements within time and extension of time effect of on further advance of loan—Proviso to a section use of to interpret the section A loan advanced under the Land Improvement Loans Act (XIX of 1883) is subject to proviso to s 7 (1) a first charge on the land for the improvement of which the loan is advanced hence a sale under s 7 (1) (c) of the Act to recover the loan is free of prior encumbrances

LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT (XIX OF 1883)—*contd§ 7 (1) (c)—*contd

Neither the fact that a portion of the improvement had been effected with the help of a private loan before the loan applied for was actually advanced nor the fact that the Government relaxed the rigour of its rules and allowed the borrower an extension of time to utilize the first instalment of the loan before the second was disbursed makes the loan any the less a loan under the Act. If in effect the loan was utilized for the purpose for which it was borrowed. Though a proviso to a section cannot be used to extend its operation yet in case of doubt or ambiguity as to the meaning of the substantive part of the section the proviso can be looked to to ascertain its proper interpretation. West Derby Union v Metropolitan Life Assurance Society [1897] 1 C 647 followed. Sankaran Nambudripad v Ramaswami Ayyar (1918).

I L R 41 Mad 691

LAND LAW IN BENGAL

See MINERALS I L R 44 I A 246

LANDLORD

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT ss 9 42

I L R 33 Mad 452

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 107

I L R III Bom 500

interest of—

See SALE I L R 45 Cal 294

right of—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LAND

I L R 37 Cal 598

LANDLORD AND TENANT

Cols

ABANDONMENT 2387

ADVERSE POSSESSION 2387

AGRICULTURAL LEASE 2388

ALIENATION 2389

BUILDING AND RESIDENTIAL LEASE 2390

CESSES 2390

COVENANTS 2391

CUSTOM 2393

DIOWARI TENURE 2393

DISPOSITION BY LANDLORD 2393

EJECTMENT 2394

ENCROACHMENT 2400

ENHANCEMENT OF RENT 2401

FORFEITURE 2402

GROVE LAND 2404

HYPOTHECATION 2404

IMPROVEMENTS 2404

INAM 2406

INJUNCTION 2406

INTEREST 2406

LEASE 2407

MINERAL RIGHTS 2415

MULGONI TENURE 2417

NOTICE TO QUIT 2417

OCCUPANCY RIGHT 2419

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

Cols

PERMANENT TENANCY 2419

PELQUISHMENT 2421

RENT 2421

TITLE 2433

TRANSFER 2436

MISCELLANEOUS 2436

See ABANDONMENT 2 Pat L J 225

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 38 Bom 53

I L R 87 Mad 373

See AGRICULTURAL ACT (II OF 1901)—

s 16 I L R 41 All 223

s 16 AND 38 I L R 43 All 608

s 28 29 30 AND 34

I L R 35 All 123

s 34 I L R 40 All 300

ss 74 75 AND 76

I L P 32 All 458

ss 79 AND 95 I L R III All 299

ss 102 AND 198 I L R III All 61

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1890

s 83 I L R 45 Bom 303 and 350

See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTION)

ACT 1918

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O

II R 2 I L R 38 Bom 444

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

I L R 37 Cal 57

See EJECTMENT

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 116

I L R 38 All 226

s 116 I L R 40 Mad 561

See FAZENDARI TENURE

I L R 39 Bom 316

See INTERPLEADER

I L R 37 Cal 552

See KABULIAT 2 Pat L J 40

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 45 Bom 725

See LEASE

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

See LIMITATION ACT (II OF 1908) SCH

I ARTS 120 AND 144

I L R 42 Bom 333

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (VAD

ACT I OF 1908) s 40 CL (3)

I L R 41 Mad 109

See MINERAL RIGHTS

I L R 38 Cal 845

See ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1913

2 Pat L J 46

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 341 109 I L R 43 Bom 531

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III

OF 1907) s 16 I L R 34 All 121

See RENT ACT (BOM ACT II OF 1918)

ss 2(c) 9 I L R 43 Bom 795

(337)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

See SPOOND APPEAL. I L R 39 Calc 241

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) — I L R 43 All 330

s. 103

I L R 42 Bom 195

s. 111

Adverse Possession—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

ch I Art 120 144

I L R 42 Bom 333

Denial of Title—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s. 112

I L R 35 All 145

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872

s. 110

I L R 40 Mad 516

ABANDONMENT

When a tenant having a non transferable occupancy right sells such right to a 3rd person and having obtained a sub lease remains in possession the landlord (in the absence of representation by the tenant of his landlord's title) is not entitled to receive possession as there has been no abandonment. SEPAROAN v ROJDER RAI 24 C W N 117

ADVERSE POSSESSION

Adverse possession against landlord—Transfer of non transferable occupancy holding in possession for over 12 years—Payment of rent by him as marfadar—Suit for ejectment—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 142 Where a person recorded in the record of rights as a trespasser was in possession of the land in dispute for more than 12 years but had once during that period paid rent to the landlord on behalf of the old tenant and taken a rent receipt in which he was described as a marfadar Held that the suit by the landlord for khas possession against the trespasser after 12 years was not barred by limitation. Ishan Chander v Ram Ranjan 2 C L J 125 and Ratoo Singh v Sudham Ahir 8 C L J 657 referred to JADU NATH BELZI v PAJ NARAIN MUKHERJEE (1912) 17 C W N 459

Adverse possession by tenant—Suit for declaration of title to jailor and injunction against defendants—Landlord's title based on durpumi lease—Defendants' possession as tenants for 12 years previous to lease—Knowledge of necessary to constitute possession adverse Where the plaintiff sued for a declaration of his title to a certain jailor and for an injunction prohibiting the defendants from catching fish in that jailor and it was admitted that the plaintiff was entitled to an eight annas share of the jailor and the plaintiff claimed the other eight annas share under a durp in lease granted to them by one P the putadar of the said jailor annas share who it was found had no possession at the time of granting the lease to the plaintiff and no knowledge as to who was in actual possession and the defendants proved possession as tenants for 12 years previous to the granting of the lease by P to the plaintiff. Held that the defendants by their possession gained title as against all the world and thus held good as against the person who was in fact their landlord though he did not know and the defendants' possession was a good answer to the plaintiff's claim which was equivalent to a claim for khas possession. Ishan Chandra v Ram Ranjan 2 C L J 125 Ichharam Singh v Dhimoney Bohida, I L R 35 Calc 740 s. 12 C W N 636 and Goyal Krishna v Jalharam 16 C W N 634, followed. KALI CHARAN SAHA v DABLUDDIN AHMED (1913) 18 C W N 654

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

ADVERSE POSSESSION—contd

Adverse possession—Title—Under tenant—Purchase of tenancy by auction purchaser—Incumbrance—Notice of annulment proceedings—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 161 167 When a person has by adverse possession against a sub tenant acquired a statutory title to a portion of the lands comprised in the sub tenancy he has an interest in the sub tenancy so that when on a sale of the superior tenancy for arrears of rent the purchaser seeks to annul the sub tenancy as an incumbrance such person stands in the position of an incumbrancer and is entitled to notice under s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. BRUSHAN CHANDRA GHOSE v SRI KANTA BAKERJEE (1916) I L R 45 Calc 756

Tenant setting up permanent right of tenancy by adverse possession—Specific notice of such right must be given to the landlord—Limitation If a person in occupation of land as a tenant wishes to set up a larger claim of permanent tenancy by adverse possession the landlord must have a specific notice of such a claim and until that is done time does not begin to run against the landlord. Budesab v Hanmanla (1896) 21 Bom 599 discussed. BABUSTO RAM CHANDRA v PANDU (1920) I L R 45 Bom 508

AGRICULTURAL LEASE

Agricultural lease—Days of grace for payment of rent—Forfeiture clause for non payment of rent after days of grace—Relief against forfeiture Courts in India have power to relieve against forfeiture for non payment of rent even in cases where a period of grace is allowed for payment by the lease deed and this rule applies equally to a lease (as in this case) for agricultural purposes. Whether relief against forfeiture should in any particular case be given depends on the facts of that case. Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J—It is open to Courts to look at legislative provisions regarding the liability of other lessees and tenants as embodying the principles of justice equity and good conscience. Per NARAYAN J—When the statute specifically excludes one transaction of the same class as that which is being dealt with from its purview the — cannot be applied. The Transfer of Property Act cannot be looked to for guidance in the matter of an agricultural lease. APPAYYA SRETTY v MANIAM MAD BEHARI (1915) I L R 39 Mad. 834

FLOODING BY SEA WATER—Land rendered unfit for cultivation—Right of leasee to abatement of rent—Duty to avoid loss in toto—Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1882) s 103 C B (e)—Principle of the action applicable If by an inundation of sea water a portion of lands leased for agricultural purposes becomes unfit for cultivation and the landlord brings a suit to recover the whole rent reserved in the let = the tenant can plead as a defence that he is entitled to a proportionate abatement and is not bound to have avoided it = lease in toto The principle of proportionate abatement was recognized in India prior to the Transfer of Property Act and is in accordance with natural justice Neither s 103 B (c) Transfer of Property Act nor its principle is applicable to cases of flooding by sea water of lands leased for agricultural purpose Sheikh Encasutollah v Sheikh Fakhreddin (1864) W R Gop (Act X Pulwaga) 47 followed SUBRAMANIAM PATTAR v KATTAMBALLI P. MA (1920)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdAGRICULTURAL LEASE—contd

I L R 43 Mad. 132

Annual tenancy—Tenant building on a portion of the land to the knowledge of landlord—Suit in ejectment—Tenant bound to vacate—Landlord bound to compensate in equity for tenant's building The defendant was for a number of years in occupation of plaintiff's land as an annual tenant On a portion of the land the defendant in 1892 erected a building to the knowledge of the plaintiff The plaintiff after giving notice sued to eject the defendant in 1914 and prayed that the land be restored to him by removing the defendant's building The trial Court ordered the plaintiff to get possession on paying Rs. 2,000 to the defendant The appellate Court reversed the decree on the ground that the defendant being allowed without objection to build on a portion of the land the agricultural lease for a year had become a building lease On appeal to the High Court held restoring the decree of the trial Court that the plaintiff was entitled to get vacant possession at the expiration of the defendant's term of tenancy but on the facts of the case he was in equity bound to compensate the defendant for retaining his building PAM CHATDEA RAGUNATH v VISNU BABAJI (1920)

I L R 44 Bom. 950

Hut built by tenant—On Lands demised for agricultural purposes—Conversion of the hut into a substantial building—Use of the building by the tenant for agricultural purposes—Conversion allowed A tenant permanent or otherwise of lands used for agricultural purposes is entitled to erect even a substantial building for himself to live in and for agricultural purposes BHAU MAHABU v VITHAL DATTATRAYA (1919)

I L R 44 Bom. 609

ALIENATIONSee SUB HEADING LEASE

21 C W N 117

Portion of landlord purchasing riyat's interest The position of the landlord purchasing the riyat's interest under a private alienation and of the landlord purchasing himself at a sale for arrears of rent distinguished. JANAKIVATH HORE v PRABHAKVI DASI (1915)

19 C W N 1077

When the landlord purchases at a sale held in execution of a decree possession is delivered to him by the Court as auction purchaser &c on the footing that there is no longer any relation of landlord and tenant between him and the tenant and the possession of the landlord as purchaser cannot be challenged

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdALIENATION—contd

so long as the sale is not set aside or declared ineffective against the tenants In the case of private purchase such as the present there is no relation of landlord and tenant between the Plaintiff and the Defendants and the mere fact that he obtained a lobali from one of the heirs of the original tenants cannot take the case out of the purview of Art 3 Sch III NABIN CHANDRA SAHA v SURENDR WAJID 24 C W N 38

BUILDING AND RESIDENTIAL LEASE

Building and Residential Lease—Heritability—Transferability—Transfer of Property Act (14 of 1882) s 108 (j) Where there is a lease for building and residential purpose and the absence of any intention to the contrary indicated either in the terms of the grant or in the nature of the tenancy the leasehold interest is heritable and the tenancy does not determine by the death of the lessee but vests in his legal personal representatives who are entitled to give or receive the usual notice to quit Such a tenancy in the absence and any custom or contract to the contrary is governed by the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act and is consequently prima facie transferable under s 108 (j) of that Act MAHENDRA LAL POT CHOWDHURY v KALSHRYA KAMINI CHOWDHURY (1910) I L R 37 Calc 37

CESSSES

1—Cesses—Inclusion of in patta—Payment of cesses for a long time—Effect on legality and enforceability of—Rules for determining whether cesses are legal and enforceable—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) s 14—Usage—Contract—Cesses called kanyanam kulavettu tiruppani etc nature and legality of Cesses paid for a long time by the tenant without objection are not necessarily legal and recoverable by the landlord Such of them as have a direct or proximate bearing on the purposes for which the land was let are prima facie legal while those having no such bearing are only recoverable under a contract supported by consideration or under a usage proved or presumed from the nature of the case and long course of payments Held accordingly on the facts of the case and the nature of the cesses in question that the cesses called kanyanam kulavettu melaram urai kudavaram urai and swatantram which were paid for a long series of years out of the gross produce before division thereof between the landlord and the tenant were legal and recoverable by the landlord that the cesses called kanyanam and tiruppani paid out of the kudavaram for a long time were not legally recoverable and that the cess for the use of the thrashing floor was recoverable unless the tenant had a thrashing floor in which case the cess ought not to be levied Rules for determining whether cesses paid for a series of years are legal and enforceable pointed out VADAMALAI THIRUVANATHA SEVGA PANDIAR THEVAR v SANKARANMORTHIN NAIDU (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 197

Legal—Charge for taking landlord's water rent within s 3 (II) Estates Land Act (I of 1908)—Res judicata—Competent to try such suit equivalent to s 11 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) meaning of The words competent to try

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

CFSSCS—contd

subsequent suit in s 11 Civil Procedure Code, refer to the competency of the Court which tried the previous suit to entertain the later suit at the time of the institution of the previous suit and the fact that it was deprived of jurisdiction to try suits of the nature of the later suit after the institution but some time before pronouncing judgment in the previous suit does not make its decision any the less res judicata. Hence the decision of a Munsif's Court in a prior suit for rent operates res judicata in respect of a later suit for rent though by reason of the Estates Land Act the Munsif's Court was deprived of jurisdiction to try such suits after the institution but some time before pronouncement of judgment in the prior suit. Kunji Amma v Paman Menon I L R 15 Mad 494 explained Gopi Nath Chabey v Bhagwant Perhad I L R 10 Cal 607 and Paghunath Panjah v Issur Chunder Choudhry I L R 11 Cal 153 followed. A judgment does not cease to have the force of res judicata simply because in other suits between the same parties the decision on the same point was different. A charge for taking water belonging to the landlord is rent within s 3 (II) Estates Land Act and it is not an enhancement of rent even if not consolidated with the rent proper. Thayammal v Mutia I L R 10 Mad 29 followed. Where such water is taken with the permission of the landlord only a suit for rent therefore can be brought and no suit for compensation for taking it will lie. Where for water so taken even for dry crops the landlord was for long time levying and the tenant was paying the same rent as for water taken for paddy cultivation (arasaari) it is reasonable to charge rent at that rate whenever water is taken for dry crops. A landlord is entitled to levy only such cesses as have a direct or proximate bearing on the purposes for which a land is let and mere length of payment will not give a cess which is purely voluntary or illegal a binding character. eg Mahimani a cess for payment to a village temple. Sripapapu Ramanna v Malikarjuna Iruada Vaidu I L R 17 Mad 43 and Vadu v ilai Thiruvannatha Seinga Pandia Thevar v Sankarasmoothi Vaidu I L R 42 Mad 197 followed. Cesses for purposes which are beneficial to both the landlord and tenant can be deducted out of the gross produce such as kulavettu (a cess for repair of irrigation sources) and Pala santantram (a cess for payment to village artisans and servants). No cess for superintending a harvest (Ka ganna) can be claimed where the landlord is entitled to get a fixed rent irrespective of the produce. VENKATACHALAM CHETTY v ANANTPERUMAL TEVAR (1919)

I L R 42 Mad 702

COVENANTS

S LANDLORD AND TENANT (LEIS)

S 4 LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 48 Cal 176

Breach of

See THE CAL TENANCY ACT 1923

s 13

19 C W N 1196

No right to renewal implied

S 4 KANDYATTA

I L R 39 Bom 625

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

COVENANTS—contd

A purchaser at an execution sale of a right title and interest of a tenant's holding under tenure not transferable to anyone but the landlord and containing no covenant against involuntary alienation or for reentry acquires a good title by his purchase. PROMODO RANGAL GHOSH v ASHWATI KUMAR NAO

18 C W N 1133

Landlord and tenant

—Renewal covenant of—Dosara bundbust meaning of—Where a labuliyat stated that after the expiry of the term of the tenancy the tenant would take a dosara bundbust and on his failure to take the same the landlord would be competent to grant titlement thereof to any other tenant. Held that the covenant was one for renewal on the same terms as the previous tenancy. GERU PROSANTA BHATTACHARJEE v MADHUSUDAN CHAUDHURY

26 C W N 901

Permanent lease of Agricultural land—Covenant against alienation voluntary as well as involuntary with proviso for re entry if enforceable—Purchaser if must be notified by lessor of intention to determine lease before suit—Bengal tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 155 Sch III cl (1) if applies—Limitation—Mortgage by lessee sale in execution purchase by mortgagee—Mortgagee if trespasser. A permanent lease of agricultural land contained a covenant against sale gift mortgage etc by the lessees with a proviso for re entry in case the land was transferred or sold by auction. The lessees having mortgaged the land the mortgagees sued on his mortgage and in execution of the decree obtained thereon had the holding sold or purchased it himself and got possession through Court on 23rd November 1898. The original lessees continued in possession of a portion of the land under a sub lease from the purchaser. Plaintiffs who proved their right to a 12 annas share in the interest of the landlord sued the purchaser and the original lessees for ejectment on 20th March 1908. The lower courts having decreed the suit the purchaser only preferred this second appeal. Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover (joint) possession to the extent of their 12 annas interest the defendant being a trespasser and the suit which was governed by Art 14 of Sch I of the Limitation Act having been instituted within time. DWARAKA NATH ROY v MATHURA NATH POY

21 C W N 117

Covenant against sub letting—Tenant sub letting at higher rent—Breach of covenant—Claim for damages—Damage must be proved. The defendants tenants of the plaintiff sub let the premises at a much higher rent in contravention of the terms of their lease. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit claiming arrears of rent and also damages for breach of the terms of the lease. Held that the mere fact that sub letting resulted in a profit to the tenant would not cause damage to the landlord and the plaintiff not having proved that he had suffered any damage by reason of the breach of the covenant was entitled only to nominal damages. CURUSHANTAPPA v MALIYIA

I L R 45 Bom 119

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

CUSTOM.

Rights of tenant occupying a house in the abad—Custom—Evidence—Nature of evidence requisite to prove custom—Second appeal. The High Court in second appeal has jurisdiction to consider the evidence given in support of an alleged custom and to determine whether or not that evidence is sufficient in point of law to establish the custom set up. Hashim Ali v Abdul Pkhan I L R 33 All 698 and Ram Bilas v Lal Bahadur I L R 30 All 311 followed. GERRA SINGH v HARMOYND SAKHAI (1909) I L R 22 All 125

DIGWARI TENURE

See DIGWARI TENURE

Landlord and Tenant
—Digwari Tenure is Manbhumi—Grant of Coal Mines by Digwar—Grant of Mohirwar lease—Mine rights right to under the soil—Suit by zemindar claiming mineral rights—Parties to suit—Government—Digwar appoints and liable to dismissal by Government. Though the Digwari tenures in Manbhumi are similar in some respects to Ghatwari tenures in Birbhum as having been originally granted in consideration of the performance of military service to which police duties were attached, and as being hereditary and inalienable the two kinds of tenure are not analogous the Ghatwari had special rights under Regulation XIX of 1814 and as to minerals under Act V of 1869 and paid rent direct to Government and not to the zamindar. The Digwar of Tazra in Manbhumi appointed and liable to dismissal by Government was the holder of two mouzabs at a fixed rent payable to the plaintiff (appellant) in whose zamindari they were situated. He granted a perpetual lease of the coal mines underlying the two mouzabs to a coal company. He took possession and raised and sold a large quantity of coal. In a suit for a declaration of the zamindar's right to the minerals under the soil and for an account and an injunction—Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that there having been at the time of the permanent settlement no separate settlement with the Digwar of Tazra (if the Digwari tenure then existed which was doubtful and the mineral rights not being vested in him at that time the presumption was that the mineral rights remained in the zamindar in the absence of proof that he had parted with them. Hari Narayan Singh Deo v Brijram Chakra vti I L R 37 Calc 723 I L R 37 I 136 followed. Held also that it was not necessary to make the Government a party to the suit. They had never claimed the minerals under the mouzabs in suit nor put forward any claim inconsistent with the rights asserted by the zamindar and the rights of the Government would not be prejudiced or affected by the result of a suit to which they were not a party. DEEPA IRASAD SINGH v BRAJA NATH BOSE (1912) I L R 39 Calc 698

DISPOSSESSION BY LANDLORD

Suit by tenant against landlord for recovery of land—Rules of limitation—general and special onus of proof as to—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 142—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1882) Sch III Art 3 as 184 550 —Character of tenancy presumption as to—

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

DISPOSSESSION BY LANDLORD—contd

Area less than 100 bighas. In a suit by a tenant for the recovery of land of which he had been dispossessed by the landlord the tenant claimed the land as tenure holder and the defendants contended that it was an occupancy holding. Neither the character of a tenure holder nor that of an occupancy raiyat was established by positive evidence. The question being what period of limitation was applicable to the case. Held that in the circumstances of the case there was no statutory presumption either way. That the general rule of limitation in suits for recovery of possession of property was twelve years and that it was upon the party claiming the benefit of a shorter period of limitation to establish that the case fell within the special rule limiting the period to a shorter time. The defendants having failed to establish the occupancy character of the holding so as to bring it within the special rule of limitation under the Bengal Tenancy Act and plaintiffs suit being within time by the general rule the suit was not barred by limitation. A suit by a tenant to recover lands from the landlord of which he alleges he has been dispossessed is not a proceeding under the Bengal Tenancy Act within the meaning of cl (7) of s 20 of the Act. There is no provision in cl (5) of s 5 of the Bengal Tenancy Act that when the area held by a tenant is less than 100 bighas the tenant is to be presumed a raiyat until the contrary is shown. TARA NATH CHAKRAVERTY v ISWAR CHANDRA DAS BARKAR (1911) 16 W N 399

EJECTMENT

See EJECTMENT

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (FORFEITURE)

See WAIVER 2 Pat L J 595

Suit for ejectment
—Denial of landlord's title—Forfeiture. Where defendant in a suit for rent by the plaintiff his landlord had denied his title and claimed to hold under a third party. Held that in a suit by the landlord for ejectment of the defendant as a trespasser the defendant was debarred from pleading his tenancy and claiming to hold possession on that ground. Ailmadhab Bose v Ananta Pam Bagdi 20 W N 755 Fazl Dhal v Aftabuddin Sirdar 60 W N 575 Rangai Mohurur v Pranhati Seal 3 C L J 201 Phaler Mistri v Sadruddi Khan I L R 34 Calc 922 followed. Malika Dassi v Makham Lal Choudhry 9 C W N 923 distinguished. SHEIK MAIDHAR v PAJANI KANTA PAKI (1909) 14 C W N 339

Co sharers—Notice to quit. A notice to quit by some only of the co sharers is not sufficient to determine a tenancy. Gopal Ram v Dhakeswar I L R 35 Calc 807 followed. Dad Asin v Simmcratt I B & A 135 not followed. SURENDRA NATH ROY v KRISHNA SAKHI DAS (1910) 15 C W N 239

Presumption as to land holders right in the abad agricultural village—House site occupied by a person on an agricultural nor one of the customary village servant of artisans—Adverse possession. In a village which was not a purely agricultural village but in which on the contrary some two thirds of the inhabitants

(2335)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd
EJECTMENT—contd

were non agriculturists certain persons father and son were in possession of a house site in the abadi. They carried on the occupation of inn keepers and sellers of tobacco and there was no evidence of the origin of their possession or that they ever paid rent to the zamindar or acknowledged his title in any way. The site was sold by the son and some time after such sale the house or shop thereon having fallen down the zamindar sued to eject the purchasers. Held that in the circumstances of the case the defendants and their predecessors in interest were properly held to have acquired a title to the site by adverse possession. Chajju Singh v Kanthia Ali Heely Notes (1981) 114 and Bhaddar v Khairuddin Husain L R 29 All 133 referred to. INCHA PAM v BANDI ALI KHAN (1911) I L R 33 All 757

Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 11 13 22 cis (2) and (3)—Deeds not inter partes admissibility—Description of boundaries in sales and mortgages of adjoining plots—Statements against pecuniary interest In a suit to eject the defendants as trespassers the latter set up title as tenants in occupation of the land. Held that recitals of boundaries in deeds of sales and mortgages executed by owners of adjoining plots of land and describing the disputed land as the tenanted land of the defendants or their predecessors were relevant s 32 (3) of the Evidence Act though not under s 32 (2) or 11 or 13 of that Act. Shorandan Singh v Jorandan Duxadh 13 C W N 71 Vinayana v Bharmappa I L R 20 Bom 63 Haji Bibi v Agri Khan II Bom L R 409 Abdal Ali v Ibrahim I L R 31 Cal 98 referred to. ABDULLAH v KHAN BIKARI LAL (1911) 16 M W N 252

Suit for Ejectment—Tenant's claim to hold more land than included in lease—Limitation—Onus—Limitation Act (VI of 1877) Sch II Art 142 In a suit by the zamindars for ejectment the defendants claimed to hold seven paras of land as a mokurari chah under a sanad of 1740 renewed in 1815 which purported to grant only two paras. The defendants also pleaded limitation. The boundaries of the mokurari chah on three sides were specified in the sanad and were identifiable but the other boundary was described as an ail. The plaintiffs failed to prove that they or their predecessors ever had possession of any portion of the seven paras since the sanad was originally granted and they also failed to show what was the eastern boundary. If it was not the ail pointed out by the defendants which if accepted would make the land seven paras. Held that the plaintiffs having failed to prove that the land in suit were not covered by the sanad and that they had been dispossessed or that their possession had been discontinued within 12 years before the suit it was properly dismissed. It lay upon the plaintiffs to prove not only title as against the defendants to the possession but to prove that the plaintiffs had been dispossessed or had discontinued to be in possession of the lands within 12 years of the commencement of the suit. DHAKAN KANTA LAHURI CHOWDHURY v PARAP ALI KHAN (1912) 17 C W N 320

Tenant's removal of property by notice to quit—Tenancy out of Transfer of Property Act (1908) s 115 Effect of notice to quit

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd
EJECTMENT—contd

Service by registered post—Proof—Endorsement of tender and refusal by postal officers if sufficient—Permanency of tenure question when one of law—Second Appeal The rule which has generally been applied to cases outside the Transfer of Property Act in connection with the sufficiency of a notice to quit is that the notice must be a reasonable notice. The tender to and refusal by the defendant of a cover sent by registered post and containing the notice to quit was sufficiently proved by the endorsement on the cover or envelope stating the defendant's refusal to receive the document. Jogendra Chander Ghose v Dwarika Nath Karmakar I L R 15 Cal 681 followed. A finding of the lower Appellate Court that a tenure is not permanent if and when open to Second Appeal discussed. DURGA NATH PARAMANIOK v RAJENDRA NARAYAN SAHA (1913)

17 C W N 1078

Ejectment—Purchaser of non transferable occupancy holding possession for more than 12 years—Rent payment as markfadar—Tenant recognition by landlord—Possession of adverse—Limitation if would extinguish right or create limited interest and tenancy A plaintiff suing in ejectment a purchaser of a non transferable occupancy holding cannot succeed (unless he makes out a case under s 18 of the Limitation Act) where his right to possession accrued long before 12 years of the commencement of the suit. Where the defendant had paid rent for more than 30 years and the rent had been received by the landlord from the defendant as markfadar of the original tenant who had no transferable right a Court would be slow to hold that a complete extinguishment of the plaintiff's right took place by adverse possession and prefer to hold that the statute of limitation created a limited interest and tenancy. The mere fact that in rent receipts the word markfadar is used is not conclusive to show that there was not recognition and the Courts should determine in each case whether on a consideration of all the facts not merely by giving undue weight to words used a legal inference is or is not to be drawn that there has been a recognition establishing a relationship of landlord and tenant between one who has paid and another who has received rent for a number of years. PRABHABATI DASSI v TAIBATUNNESSA CHOWDHURANI (1913) 17 C W N 1088

Landlord and tenant—Right of lessee after expiry of lease to eject a trespasser Where a lessee whose lease had expired prior to suit sued for possession of the land leased to him from a trespasser. Held that the expiration of the lease did not necessarily imply the expiration of the lessee's right of possession and the lessee was entitled to a decree for possession against trespassers a fortiori where the landlord acquiesced in plaintiff getting a decree. Gibbins v Buckland I L R 22 Exch 106 and Knight v Clarke 15 Q B D 34 referred to. VENKAYYA v SATTEYA (1914) I L R 37 Mad 281

What was held in Rajendra Kumar Bose v Mohim Chandra Ghose I L R 33 Cal 63 was that when a tenant has been in possession of land ostensibly as part of an admitted tenure it lies upon the landlord in a suit in ejectment to prove in the first instance that the land is his khas property. It is not the law that because a defendant is found to be a tenant of some land under the plaintiff the burden is thereby cast upon the plaintiff to establish that the land he seeks to recover is outside the tenancy of the defendant. The burden would ordinarily be on the defendant to prove the tenancy under which he claims to hold. Uda Lal Goswami v Jayneswar Baidar 6 C N 105 and Sheodan Poy v Cha'erbhuy Poy 12 C L J 376 referred to. PROFAR CHATRA ROY v JEDHISTER DAS (1914)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdEJECTMENT—contd

19 C W N 143

Onus of on landlord or on tenant to prove tenancy The mere fact that the defendant holds some land under the plaintiff as tenant would not be sufficient to throw upon the plaintiff the burden of showing that in respect of any other land in the zamindari which the defendant may be found to be in possession of he has no right as tenant. The burden of proof in a case like this is on the tenant. The principle laid down in Rhidy Arala Mistr's (see 12 C L R 407) throwing the onus on the plaintiff should be held applicable to cases where the land sought to be recovered is admitted by the plaintiff to be contiguous to the holding of the defendant or that it has come to his possessions by encroachment. GORINI DEBI v RAM TABAZ TZWARY (1911)

19 C W N 140

Suit for—Lease of land for residential purposes—Law before the Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882)—Onus to prove transferability—Presumption of transferability if arises from long continued possession The effect of the recent decisions is that when a landlord sues a person on the allegation that he is a trespasser and that person sets up a transfer from a tenant it is for the latter to prove first of all the tenancy and secondly the validity of the transfer. With regard to tenancies of homestead land created before the Transfer of Property Act the tendency of these decisions has been to establish that in the absence of evidence to the contrary the burden of proof being upon the tenant these tenancies are non-transferable. Dence Madhab v Soukissen 12 N R 490 and Durga Perahad Mistr v Bindaban Doolal 10 W P 274 referred to and doubted. The only exception made to the above rule is when there has been an erection of pucca buildings or a standing by on the part of the landlord while the tenant spends a large sum upon the land. Madhu Sudan Sen v Kamini Kant Sen 1 L R 32 Cal 1023 = c 9 C W N 895 and Nabu Mandal v Cholim Mulhi 1 L R 25 Cal 896 = c 2 C W 405 relied on. Mere long continued possession cannot give rise to a presumption of transferability. AMBICA PRASAD SINGH v BALDEOLAL (1916)

20 C W N 1113

Suit for ejectment—Notice to quit—Tenancy reserving an annual rent—What notice a tenant holding an annual tenancy is entitled to—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) ss 106 107 The defendant's brother one Chandu by a registered kabuliyat took a lease of 2 cottahs of land from the landlord at an annual rental of Rs 12 for residential purpose. On the death of Chandu his heirs including the defendant continued to live on the land and subsequently the defendant's name was substituted in the landlord's shereeta as tenant in respect of 2

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdEJECTMENT—contd

cottahs of land at an annual rental of Rs 15. Thereafter the landlord executed a registered patta and let out one bigha or his lands including the defendant's portion for a period of 99 years to one Sheikh Fasulla who accepted the defendant as tenant of a portion of it. Fasulla then transferred his interest to one Mamsa who subsequently sold the same to the plaintiff. On the defendant's failure to pay rent for the 24 cottahs of land the plaintiff on the 10th Kartick 1318 corresponding with the 24th October 1911 served the defendant with a notice to vacate the land within the 30th Kartick 1318 corresponding with the 16th November 1911. The defendant failed to comply with this notice. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit for ejectment and has possession and for arrears of rent. Held that the rent being an annual rent and there being nothing to rebut the presumption in such a case that the tenancy was of a character corresponding thereto the presumption ought to be drawn that the tenancy was to be an annual tenancy. Durga Vilasini v Gobardhan Doo 20 C L J 448 referred to. Held also that inasmuch as there was a contract of tenancy between the plaintiff and the defendant but there was no registered instrument as required by s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act this case came within s 106 of that Act. Held further that inasmuch as this was a lease of immovable property and not for agricultural or manufacturing purposes but for some other purpose it must be deemed to be a lease from month to month terminable on the part of either lessor or lessee by 15 days notice expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy. SHEIKH AKLOO v SHEIKH IMAMAN (1916)

L L P 44 Cal 403

Taluka patta if imports permanency—Covenant by tenant to relinquish land on grantor personally requiring it if runs with the land—Grant to be construed against grantor—Rule explained—Land encroached upon by tenant and treated by landlord as part of permanent tenancy—Tenant if may be ejected therefrom. If there be nothing either in the surrounding circumstances or in the instrument which creates the interest to show that it was intended to be otherwise the inference is that a tenancy called taluka constitutes a permanent tenure. Where in a contract of tenancy prima facie purporting to be a permanent tenancy there was a covenant that if the grantor had a personal necessity the grantee would relinquish the land. Held that the covenant was in favour of the grantor personally and was not enforceable after his death by his heir. Scope of the rule that a covenant is to be construed most strongly against the grantor and most beneficially in favour of the grantee explained. The tenant aforesaid having encroached upon land belonging to the landlord the landlord did not within the statutory period from the date of encroachment institute a suit to eject the tenant on the ground that he could not without his consent acquire the status of a tenant on the land encroached upon but on the other hand treated it as part of the permanent tenancy. Held in a suit for ejectment by the heir of the grantor that the land originally leased as well as the encroached land stood on the same footing and the tenant could not be ejected from

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

EJECTMENT—contd

either of them SARODA KRIPA LAHA & AKHIL
BANDHU BISWAS (1917) 21 C W N 903

Ejection of tenant effect of—Suspension of rent The eviction of the tenant whether from part of the demised premises or from the whole entails a suspension of the entire rent while the eviction lasts whether the tenant remains in possession of the residue or not the tenancy however is not thereby terminated nor is the tenant discharged from the performance of his covenants other than payment of the rent such as a covenant to repair. It is not necessary for the application of the rule to find from how much land the tenant has been dispossessed if it is found that he has been dispossessed from some land. To constitute an eviction it is not necessary that there should be an actual physical expulsion by force or violence from any part of the premises. Any act of a permanent character done by the landlord or his agent with the intention of depriving the tenant of the enjoyment of the demised premises or any part thereof operates as an eviction. Therefore whether the tenant is expelled by violence or is obliged from the exigencies of the situation to submit quietly to the high handed act of the powerful landlord the result in either case is suspension of rent. DWIJENDRO NATH RAY & AFTABUDDI SARDAR (1916)

21 C W N 492

Tenancy residential house with fruit bearing trees If governed by the Transfer of Property Act—Ejectment—Tenant at will—Question as to applicability of Bengal Tenancy Act or Transfer of Property Act—Land with house and used for residential purposes with fruit bearing trees—Nature of tenancy—Presumption of permanency when can be drawn—Dakhilas stating tenant to be tenant at will value of the fact that a portion of a holding used for residential purposes is planted with fruit bearing trees does not alter the character of the holding, and the case is governed by the Transfer of Property Act. Where in a suit for ejectment the Plaintiff produced dakhilas shewing that the predecessors in interest of the Defendant were tenants at will and it was found that the tenancy held by the Defendant existed in 1894 and there was nothing to shew that it existed before that year and the Defendant urged that under the circumstances there was a presumption that the tenancy was much older and in its origin it was intended to be permanent. Held—That the evidence afforded by the dakhilas was not to be regarded as conclusive but the lower Appellate Court was right in holding that the Defendant's tenancy was created after the passing of the Transfer of Property Act and that quite apart from the entries in the dakhilas the circumstances of the case did not warrant the presumption that the tenancy was in its origin of a permanent character. S. M. Datta Nath Poo & Dwarakanath Chakravarti 21 C W N 1 (1919) referred to Molaram Chappal & Telamuddin Khan 16 C W N 567 (1911) distinguished. SRIMATI SACHIDALA DEBI & SRIMATI AMALA DEBI 25 C W N 378

When the Kabulyat provides ejectment as a remedy for a breach of its conditions that is not the only remedy and damages can be claimed. KRISHNA DAS POY & MOHENDRA CHANDRA 25 C W N 930

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

ENCROACHMENT

By tenant ensure for the benefit of the tenant during his tenancy and afterwards for the benefit of the landlord—Adverse possession Possession by a person will be presumed to be held in his own right and adversely to the true owner. This presumption will not apply when a special relationship exists between the parties as tenants in common or members of an undivided family. The presumption in such cases will be that possession is held on behalf of all the co-owners or members of the family and it will lie on the possessor to prove that he held exclusive possession to the knowledge of those whose right he seeks to affect by such possession. Where a tenant taking advantage of his position as such takes possession of lands belonging to his landlord not included in his holding the presumption is that such lands are added to the tenure and form part thereof for the benefit of the tenant so long as the holding continues and afterwards for the benefit of his landlord unless it clearly appeared by some act done at the time that the tenant made the encroachment for his own benefit. GOROO DOSS ROY & ISSUR CHUNDER BOSE 22 W R 246 approved. It is not necessary that the tenant trespasser should prove that his trespass was known to his landlord to justify such presumption. MUTHURAKROO THEVAR & ORR (1912) 1 L R 35 Mad. 618

Encroachment by tenant—Adverse possession of encroached land as tenant if creates title—Landlord's right to recover possession when barred—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec. 14 Art. 144—Interest acquired by tenant While a tenant is bound to treat that which is an encroachment on his landlord's land as held by him under his landlord the landlord is not bound to treat the land on which his tenant encroaches as held under a tenancy. But the landlord's right to recover possession of the land encroached upon may be lost by the tenant having adversely to the landlord asserted his title as tenant to the land for more than twelve years. Under Art. 144 of the Limitation Act there may be adverse possession not only of immoveable property but of any interest therein and tenant may claim to have been in adverse possession for 12 years of a limited interest in encroached land; a tenancy commensurate with that in the admitted lease between the parties. COPAL KRISHNA JANA & LAKHIRAM SARDAR (1912) 16 C W N 639

Encroachment by tenant upon land not his landlord's—Tenant if may keep land in a suit by owner to recover—Bona fide possession under a de facto landlord what amounts to—Possession by de facto landlord and settlement of encroached land with tenant to be proved. The principle of the Full Bench decision in Binad Tal Palrashi & Kalu Pranam 1 L R 20 Cal 703 only applies where rayats are settled upon land by a person in de facto possession as landlord, who is afterwards found to have no title. It is not applicable in every boundary dispute or in every case where a question of parcel and no parcel arises. Where in a suit by the owner B to recover land from C who held other lands as A a tenant it was not found that the disputed land was ever in A's possession or that it was included in the area settled by A with C but C appeared to have encroached upon the land in such circumstances as to raise a presumption that the encroachment should enure to A's benefit and become an accretion to C's holding under A. Held that though A might perhaps be described as C's de facto landlord it could not be said that the land was settled with C by A and there is nothing in the Full Bench decision to prevent B from suing to recover possession from A and O. TEPU MAHAMMAD v TEPAYET MAHAMMAD (1915)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

ENCROACHMENT—contd

19 C W N 772

ENHANCEMENT OF RENT

Waiver—Enhancement of rent—

Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 43 108—Chur lands—Right of Occupancy A took a lease of a certain Government khās melā and executed a labuliat in favour of the Collector by which he (1) covenanted not to raise the rents of rayats beyond the amounts mentioned in the settlement yamabandi. The tenants however subsequently agreed to pay rent at an enhanced rate on the ground that the fertility of the land had been increased. Upon a suit for arrears of rent at the enhanced rate against the tenants the defence was that A was bound by the labuliat executed in favour of the Collector and as such he was not entitled to a decree at the rate claimed. Held that inasmuch as the tenants voluntarily agreed to an enhancement of rent they deliberately waived the benefit of the said covenant and they could not impeach the validity of their own agreement on this particular ground. Zamir Mandal v Gopi Sundari Das I L R 37 Cal 463 (note) referred to Under s 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act a rayat holding a chur land but who has not acquired a right of occupancy is liable to pay such rent for his holding as may be agreed on between him and his landlord irrespective of the provisions of s 43 of the Act. JAHANDAR BAKSH MALLIK v PAM LAL HAZRAH (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 449

Rent in kind—Enhancement of rent by addition of s 1 in kind—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 29 N 29 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applies even where a money rent is enhanced by the addition of a rent in kind. KISHORI MONU BOSE v SNEHEN UJJE (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 610

Prevailing rate of rent—Occupancy rayats—Enhancement of rent—Proof of rise in price of staple food crops how ascertained and Court's duty in the matter—Prevailing rate for similar land in same or neighbouring villages with same advantages—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 29 30 31 32 In a suit for enhancement of rent under s 30 of the Bengal Tenancy Act it is the duty of the Court to refer to the price lists prepared under s 31 whether the parties to the suit produce the same or not. It is right and proper that the Civil Court is directing a local investigation under s 31 (b) should indicate to the officer holding the investigation what it is that the Court precisely requires. Where the Court is satisfied that all the rent in the village should be excluded from consideration in finding out the prevailing rate in the village because it is fixed in a mode which contravenes the provisions of s 29 of the Bengal Tenancy Act then an enquiry should be directed which will bring to light the prevailing rate of rent paid by occupancy rayats for lands of a similar

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—contd

description and with similar advantages in the neighbouring villages. WABIN CHANDRA SHANAI v KULA CHANDRA DHAR (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 742

Contract between landlord and tenant—Right to enhance rent—Expression putni taluk whether imports fixity of rent—Hereditary tenure whether implies fixity of rent—Evidence of conduct when admissible In a lease granted in 1873 there was a clause as follows—“I (tenant) shall pay the annual rent of Rs 173 8 as 12 gds year by year and month by month as per dowl in the khās taluk. In another clause it was stated I shall continue to be in enjoyment down to my sons grandsons etc on receipt of the talukdars rents according to custom on account of tanks bheries etc lying in the village. The landlord in a proceeding under s 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act alleged that the rent was enhanceable while the tenants contended that the tenure was not merely hereditary but was held on a rent fixed in perpetuity. Held—That unless the landlord is precluded from the exercise of the right of enhancing rent by a contract binding on him or the lands in question can be brought within one of the exemptions recognized by Bengal Reg VIII of 1793 he may be presumed to have the right of enhancing rents. Bama Sundari v Radhika Chowdhrai 13 M I A 248 (1869) followed. Held—The expression putni taluk in the contract did not import that the tenure was not merely hereditary but was held on a rent fixed in perpetuity. The mere fact that a tenure is hereditary does not show that rent of the tenure has been fixed in perpetuity. In the present case although there were expressions which showed that the tenure was maurast there was nothing to show it was intended to be makurisi. Tarines v Watson 12 W R 413 (1869) and The Port Canning and Land Improvement Co Ltd v B M Kalyayani Deb I I R 47 Cal 230 s 240 N A 369 (P C) (1919) distinguished. Held also—If the terms of the contract are ambiguous the rights of the parties may be determined with reference to the conduct of the parties but in any case where the terms are unambiguous no evidence can be given of the conduct of the parties in contravention of the terms of the contract. Hubbert v Purchas L R 3 P C 605 (600) (1871) and A E Railway v Hastings [1900] A C 260 (263) referred to. CHANDRA CHANDRA SINGH v HARIBAR CHAKRA VARTI 24 C W N 874

In a suit for rent at an enhanced rate on the ground of additional lands it is sufficient if the landlord can establish that since the creation of the tenancy rent has been assessed and when last assessed it was on the basis of a certain area and that defendants are in possession of land on which no rent was assessed at the time. DEFGA PRITA CHOUDHURY v NAZKA GAIN AND ORS 25 C W N 204

FOPFEITUPE

See BOMBAY PENT ACT 1918 s 3 9 AND 12 I L R 45 Bom 525

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (TITLE)

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT

Forfeiture clause contained in a decree—Execution proceeding—Power

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

EJECTMENT—contd

either of them SARODA KRIPA LALA & AKHIL
BANDHU BISWAS (1917) 21 C W N 903

Ejection of tenant effect of—Suspension of rent The eviction of the tenant whether from part of the demised premises or from the whole entails a suspension of the entire rent while the eviction lasts whether the tenant remains in possession of the residue or not the tenancy however is not thereby terminated nor is the tenant discharged from the performance of his covenants other than payment of the rent such as a covenant to repair It is not necessary for the application of the rule to find from how much land the tenant has been dispossessed if it is found that he has been dispossessed from some land To constitute an eviction it is not necessary that there should be an actual physical expulsion by force or violence from any part of the premises Any act of a permanent character done by the landlord or his agent with the intention of depriving the tenant of the enjoyment of the demised premises or any part thereof operates as an eviction Therefore whether the tenant is expelled by violence or is obliged from the exigencies of the situation to submit quietly to the high handed act of the powerful landlord the result in either case is suspension of rent DWIJENDRO NATH LAL & AFTABUDDIN SARDAR (1916)
21 C W N 492

Tenancy residential house with fruit bearing trees is governed by De Gai Tenancy Act or Transfer of Property Act—Plaintiff's claim—Tenant at will—Question as to applicability of De Gai Tenancy Act or Transfer of Property Act
—Land with house and used for residential purposes with fruit bearing trees—Nature of tenancy—Presumption of permanency when can be drawn—Dakhilas state is tenant to be tenant at will value of The fact that a portion of a holding used for residential purposes is planted with fruit bearing trees does not alter the character of the holding and the case is governed by the Transfer of Property Act Where in a suit for ejectment the Plaintiff produced dakhilas showing that the predecessors in interest of the Defendant were tenants at will and it was found that the tenancy held by the Defendant existed in 1894 and there was nothing to show that it existed before that year and the Defendant urged that under the circumstances there was a presumption that the tenancy was much older and in its origin it was intended to be permanent Held—That the evidence afforded by the dakhilas was not to be relied on as conclusive but the lower Appellate Court was right in holding that the Defendant's tenancy was created after the passing of the Transfer of Property Act and that quite apart from the entries in the dakhila the circumstances of the case did not warrant the presumption that the tenancy was in its origin of a permanent character See Durga Nath Poy v Dwarka Nath Chakravarti—I L R 11 (1913) referred to Molaram Chappara v Telamiddin Khan 16 C W N 567 (1911) distinguished Srinmati Basibhala Dedi v Srinmati Anala Dedi 25 C W N 378

When the Kabulyat provide ejectment as a remedy for a breach of its conditions that is not the only remedy and damages can be claimed KRISHNA DAS ROY & MOHENDRA CHANDRA 25 C W N 930

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

ENCROACHMENT

By tenant ensure for the benefit of the tenant during his tenancy and afterwards for the benefit of the landlord—Adverse possession Possession by a person will be presumed to be held in his own right and adversely to the true owner This presumption will not apply when a special relationship exists between the parties as tenants in common or members of an undivided family The presumption in such cases will be that possession is held on behalf of all the co owners or members of the family and it will lie on the possessor to prove that he held exclusive possession to the knowledge of those whose right he seeks to affect by such possession Where a tenant taking advantage of his position as such takes possession of lands belonging to his landlord not included in his holding the presumption is that such lands are added to the tenure and form part thereof for the benefit of the tenant so long as the holding continues and afterwards for the benefit of his landlord unless it clearly appeared by some act done at the time that the tenant made the encroachment for his own benefit Gooroo Dass Poy v Issur Chunder Bose 22 W R 246 approved It is not necessary that the tenant trespasser should prove that his trespass was known to his landlord to justify such presumption MUTHURAKKOO THEVAR & ORR (1912) I L R 35 Mad. 618

Encroachment by tenant —Adverse possession of encroached land as tenant if creates title—Landlord's right to recover possession when barred—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 144—Interest acquired by tenant While a tenant is bound to treat that which is an encroachment on his landlord's land as held by him under his landlord the landlord is not bound to treat the land on which his tenant encroaches as held under a tenancy But the landlord's right to recover possession of the land encroached upon may be lost by the tenant having adversely to the landlord asserted his title as tenant to the land for more than twelve years Under Act 144 of the Limitation Act there may be adverse possession not only of immovable property but of any interest therein and tenant may claim to have been in adverse possession for 12 years of a limited interest in encroached land if a tenancy commensurate with that in the admitted lease between the parties GOPAL KRISHNA JANA & LAKHIRAM SARDAR (1912) 10 W N 634

Encroachment by tenant upon land not his landlord's—Tenant if may keep land in a suit by owner in recovery—Bona fide possession under a de facto landlord what amounts to—Possession by de facto landlord and settlement of encroached land with tenant to be proved The principle of the Full Bench decision in Bhind Lal Palrashi v Kalu Pramanik I L R 20 Cal 703 only applies where rayats are settled upon land by a person in de facto possession as landlord who is afterwards found to have no title It is not applicable in every boundary dispute or in every case where a question of parcel and no parcel arises Where in a suit by the owner B to recover land from C who held other lands as A a tenant it was not found that the disputed land was ever in A's possession or that it was included in the area settled by A with C but C appeared to have encroached upon the land in such circumstances as to raise a presumption that the encroachment would enure to A's benefit and become an accretion to C's holding under A. Held that though A might perhaps be described as C's de facto landlord it could not be said that the land was settled with C by A and there is nothing in the Full Bench decision to prevent it from suing to recover possession from A and C. TEPU MAHAMMAD v TEPALET MAHAMMAD (1916)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdENCROACHMENT—contd

19 C W N 772

ENHANCEMENT OF RENTWaiver—Enhancement of rent—

Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 43 103—Chur lands—Right of Occupancy A took a lease of a certain Government khos melah and executed a labuliat in favour of the Collector by which he (A) covenanted not to raise the rents of rayats beyond the amounts mentioned in the settlement jamabandi. The tenant however subsequently agreed to pay rent at an enhanced rate on the ground that the fertility of the land had been increased. Upon a suit for arrears of rent at the enhanced rate against the tenants the defence was that A was bound by the labuliat executed in favour of the Collector and as such he was not entitled to a decree at the rate claimed. Held that inasmuch as the tenants voluntarily agreed to an enhancement of rent they deliberately waived the benefit of the said covenant and they could not impeach the validity of their own agreement on this particular ground. Zamir Mandal v Gopi Sundari Das I L R 37 Cal 463 (note) referred to. Under a 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act a rayat holding a chur land but who has not acquired a right of occupancy is liable to pay such rent for his holding as may be agreed on between him and his landlord irrespective of the provisions of s 43 of the Act. JAHANDAR BAKSH MALLIK v PAM LAL HAZRAH (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 449

Rent in kind—Enhancement of rent by addition of a rent in kind—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 29 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applies even where a money rent is enhanced by the addition of a rent in kind. KISHORI MONIY DASE v SNEIKH UJJI (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 610

Prevailing rate of rent—Occupancy rayats—Enhancement of rent—Proof of rise in price of staple food crops how ascertained and Court's duty in the matter—Prevailing rate for similar land in same or neighbouring villages with same advantages—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 29 30 32 33 In a suit for enhancement of rent under s 30 of the Bengal Tenancy Act it is the duty of the Court to refer to the price lists prepared under s 33 whether the parties to the suit produce these or not. It is right and proper that the Civil Court in directing a local investigation under s 31 (b) should indicate to the officer holding the investigation what it is that the Court precisely requires. Where the Court is satisfied that all the rent in the village should be excluded from consideration in finding out the prevailing rate in the village because it is fixed in a mode which contravenes the provisions of s 29 of the Bengal Tenancy Act then an enquiry should be directed which will bring to light the prevailing rate of rent paid by occupancy rayats for lands of a similar

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdENHANCEMENT OF RENT—contd

description and with similar advantages in the neighbouring villages. NABIN CHANDRA SHANAI v KULA CHANDRA DHAR (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 742

Contract between landlord and tenant—Right to enhance rent—Expression putni taluk whether imports fixity of rent—Hereditary tenure whether implies fixity of rent—Evidence of conduct when admissible In a lease granted in 1823 there was a clause as follows—

I (tenant) shall pay the annual rent of Rs 173 8 as 12 gds year by year and month by month as per dowl in the khos taluk. In another clause it was stated I shall continue to be in enjoyment down to my sons grandsons etc on receipt of the talukdars rents according to custom on account of tanks bheries etc lying in the village. The landlord in a proceeding under s 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act alleged that the rent was enhanceable while the tenants contended that the tenure was not merely hereditary but was held on a rent fixed in perpetuity. Held—That unless the landlord is precluded from the exercise of the right of enhancing rent by a contract binding on him or the lands in question can be brought within one of the exemptions recognized by Bengal Peg VIII of 1893 he may be presumed to have the right of enhancing rents. Dama Sundari v Radhika Chowdhrahi 13 M I A 248 (1869) followed. Held—

The expression putni taluk in the contract did not import that the tenure was not merely hereditary but was held on a rent fixed in perpetuity. The mere fact that a tenure is hereditary does not show that rent of the tenure has been fixed in perpetuity. In the present case although there were expressions which showed that the tenure was maurashi there was nothing to show it was intended to be maurashi. Tarinee v Watson 12 W R 413 (1869) and The Port Canning and Land Improvement Co Ltd v S M Kalyani Debti I L R 47 Cal 230 s e 24 C W N 309 (P C) (1919) distinguished. Held also—If the terms of the contract are ambiguous the rights of the parties may be determined with reference to the conduct of the parties but in any case where the terms are unambiguous no evidence can be given of the conduct of the parties in contravention of the terms of the contract. Helbert v Purchas L R 3 P O 605 (650) (1871) and N E Railway v Hastings [1900] A C 260 (1903) referred to. BRUPENDRA CHANDRA SINGH v HAPIHAR CHAKRA VARTI 24 C W N 874

In a suit for rent at an enhanced rate on the ground of additional lands it is sufficient if the landlord can establish that since the creation of the tenancy rent has been assessed and when last assessed it was on the basis of a certain area and that defendants are in possession of land on which no rent was assessed at the time. DURGA PRISA CHOUDHURI v NAZRA GAIN AND ORS 25 C W N 204

FORFEITURE

See BOMBAY RENT ACT 1918 ss 3 9 AND 12 I L R 45 Bom 535

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (TITLE)

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT

Forfeiture clause contained in a decree—Execution proceeding—Power

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

FORFEITURE—contd

of the Court to grant relief The principle that Courts of equity will not forego their power to grant relief against forfeiture in the case of non payment of rent where the relations of the parties are those of landlord and tenant merely on the ground that the agreement between them is embodied in a decree of the Court applies alike to a suit to enforce a decree and to proceedings in execution Krishnabai v Hari I L R 31 Bom 15 explained BALAMBHAT v VINAYAK GANPATRAY (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 239

*Lease before Transfer of Property Act IV of 1882 forfeiture of—Suit for ejectment by landlord maintainability of—Waiver—Claim for rent in suit for ejectment does not amount to waiver Under the law applicable to leases before the Transfer of Property Act forfeiture is incurred when the denial of title occurs any subsequent act of the landlord electing to take advantage of the forfeiture is not a condition precedent to the right of action for ejectment The bringing by the landlord of a suit for ejectment is simply a mode of manifesting his election Where a tenant holding under a lease prior to the Transfer of Property Act denies the title of his landlord the landlord can maintain a suit for ejectment without having done prior to the suit any act evincing his intention to determine the lease A claim for rent in the suit for ejectment will not amount to a waiver of the forfeiture The election to forfeit is complete and irrevocable when the suit for ejectment is instituted Venkataramana Bhatta v Govindaraja I L R 31 Mad 403 considered *PADMANABHAYA v RANGA (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 161

*Relationship of Landlord and tenant denied in previous rent suit if can be urged in subsequent suit—Res judicata—Forfeiture of tenancy for denial of landlord's title under Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) Where in a suit for rent the defendants denied the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant and got an adjudication to that effect in a suit subsequently brought by the landlord for his possession of the land on a declaration of his title Held that the question as to the relationship of landlord and tenant between the parties was res judicata and the defendant could not assert his title as tenant in such suit Deb ruddi v Abdur Rahim I L R 17 Calc 196 Dhora Kaur v Ram Jewan I L R 20 Calc 101 Malika Dassi v Malkham Lal Chowdhry 9 C W N 923 distinguished Saikh Moadhar v Rojani Kanta 14 C W N 339 referred to *EKABBAR SHEIKH v HARA BEWA (1910)

15 C W N 335

Landlord and Tenant—Ejectment—Recorded Tenant—Effect of denial of tenancy by him on his unrecorded co-sharer—Forfeiture In a suit for ejectment based on the ground of forfeiture by reason of the denial of the landlord's title it was found that the denial was by the recorded tenant and not by his unrecorded co-sharer in the tenancy Held that a person representing the tenancy in the books of the landlord was entitled to bind his co-sharers for the purposes of the tenancy but when he repudiated the tenancy he must be taken to have acted beyond the scope of his authority his disclaimer

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

FORFEITURE—contd

consequently could not operate as a forfeiture of the tenancy BIRENDRA KISHORE MANIKYA v BHUBANESWARI (1912) I L R 39 Cal 903

In order that a denial of landlord's title should work a forfeiture three things are necessary (1) the tenant must set up title either in himself or a third party inconsistent with their mutual relationship (2) the denial must be direct and unequivocal and not casual and (3) it must be made to the knowledge of the landlord KIZHAKKEKATH KEMALOOTI v PULICKALAKATH MAHAMED I L R 41 Mad 629

*Forfeiture of lease by non payment of rent—Relief against forfeiture only on payment of all arrears of rent though barred by limitation—Transfer of Property Act s 114 Under s 114 of the Transfer of Property Act a tenant can be relieved against forfeiture of lease incurred by non payment of rent only on payment of all arrears of rent including such as may be barred by limitation together with such interest as might be legally due thereon Semle The arrears of rent so payable will probably be limited to twelve years *VASUDEVA UDPA v KRISHNA UDPA (1921)

I L R 44 Mad. 629

A permanent tenancy governed by the transfer of Property Act 1882 is determinable by denial of the landlord's title BIDLA NATH v KRIKHINDA KOER

I Pat L J 157

GROVE LAND

See GROVE LAND

*Rights of tenants with regard to groves—Custom—Wajib ul-ar—Construction of document—Malik The Wajib ul ar. of a village contained the following provision as to grove land — Persons who have planted a grove and who are in possession of a grove have the rights of an owner (shikhtiyar malikana) If any trees fall down they can plant fresh trees without the permission of the zamindar When the land becomes denuded of all trees the planter of the grove will have the first right to cultivate the land Held that the provisions implied a right of transfer in the possessor of grove land *MUHAMMAD YASIN v ILAKI PAKHSH (1912)

I L R 34 All 545

HYPOTHECATION

*Tenant in possession without a patta—Suit to enforce hypothecation of property as security for rent Held that a hypothecation of other property by certain tenants as security for their rent was none the less enforceable because though the tenants had executed a qabuliat in respect of the land held by them no patta had been executed by the landlords in their favour Sheo Karan Singh v Mahara a Parbhu Varain Singh I L R 31 All 276 referred to *SRI KISHAN DAS v YAKHT KHAN (1917)

I L R 35 All 505

* IMPROVEMENTS

Tenancy determination—Improvement non removal of during tenancy—Right to them or their value after determination of tenancy—Transfer of Property Act (IV of

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*IMPROVEMENTS—contd

1883) & 108 (A) The plaintiff's husband took a house site on lease from the predecessors or in title of the first defendant in 1883. After 1883 and before 1st May 1898 the plaintiff built a house thereon to the knowledge of the landlord and the lease was renewed by the first defendant on 1st May 1898 in plaintiff's favour who thereby agreed to vacate the land on a month's notice. While the plaintiff was in possession under that lease the first defendant filed a suit in ejectment in the Small Cause Court Madras and though the present plaintiff then set up the claim now advanced viz a right to the superstructure built by her or its value she was ordered without the determination of the right set up by her to deliver possession of the land on or before the 26th February 1907 and on her failure to do so the first defendant was put in possession on that date. On the 1st August following the first defendant gave the plaintiff notice to remove the superstructure within a fortnight. She did not do so but in 1908 instituted the present suit for (a) a declaration that she was the owner of the house built by her and for its possession or (b) in the alternative to be paid compensation for it or (c) if that was not granted to be allowed to remove the superstructure. WALLIS J holding that the plaintiff was not entitled to any of the reliefs dismissed the suit. Held on appeal confirming the judgment of WALLIS J (SANKARAN NAIR J dissenting) that the plaintiff was not entitled to any of the reliefs asked for. Held by the Court that the landlord was not estopped from disputing the plaintiff's right if any by the mere fact that the house was erected with his knowledge and without any protest by him. Held (WHITE C J dissenting) that the tenant was for the purpose of removing her superstructure entitled to a reasonable time after the determination of the tenancy whether it is by act of parties or by the order of Court. Held by MILLER J that the tenant having been given ample time to remove the building after giving up possession through the Court she was not entitled to any further time. Per WHITE C J—S 108 clause (h) of the Transfer of Property Act governed the case and the tenant was not entitled to remove the buildings after the termination of the tenancy. Per SANKARAN NAIR J—S 108 of the Transfer of Property Act is only an enabling section and it did not take away the pre-existing right of the tenant to compensation or to remove building even after the termination of the tenancy if he is not given compensation. The new lease having recognised the tenant's ownership in the house the plaintiff's ownership thereto cannot be defeated by her failure to remove the house within a reasonable time and as such failure cannot effect a transfer of ownership all that the landlord was entitled to was an option to retain the building and pay compensation for it or to restore the land to its old condition by removing the building and claim damages. Per MILLER J. The recognition by the landlord for the period of the new tenancy of the tenant's property in the building has no other necessary effect than to prevent the landlord from treating the building as having been surrendered to him at the end of the previous term and it was only a piece of evidence of a contract to allow the removable fixture to remain as such upon the land for the new term. Jamaal Khan Roushan v. Azarali Sahib I L R

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*IMPROVEMENTS—contd

27 Mad 211 referred to English and Indian Case Law on the subject considered. ANGAMMAL v. ASLAM SAHIB (1913) I L R 38 Mad 710

INAM LANDS

Inam Register—Object of mentioning the tax payable for the land—Inam authorities duties of—Right of melvaramdar to trees in case of lands which were ryots at the Inam Settlement. In cases where the holding of a tenant was at the time of the Inam Settlement and has subsequently been a ryot consisting of trees the melvaramdar has a right to a portion of the value of the trees and the ryot is not entitled to cut them down for his sole appropriation the portion due to melvaramdar being determinable according to the evidence. The incidents of the tenure of a tenant under an inamdar are governed by the law applicable to landlord and tenant and not by the Inam patta or the Inam Register whose object in mentioning the tax payable by the tenant was only to enable the Inam authorities to fix the quit rent payable to Government by the inamdar. Bodda Goddeppa v. The Maharaja of Vizianagaram I L R 30 Mad 155. Rangayya Appa Rao v. Adiyala Patnam I L R 13 Mad 243. Apparao v. Narayana I L R 16 Mad 47. Narayana Ayyangar v. Orr I L R 26 Mad 252 and Kalarla Abayya v. Pajala Venkata Papayya Rao I L R 29 Mad 24 distinguished. SRI RAJAGOPALASWAMI TEMPLE v. JAGANNADHA PANDIARAJA (1913) I L R 33 Mad 155

INJUNCTION

Well sunk by tenant inside his house—Mandatory injunction—Discretion of Court. In this the High Court refused to grant a mandatory injunction at the suit of the zamindar for the removal of a well recently constructed inside their house by tenants of a house in a town the position of the tenants being that they and their predecessors in title had paid no rent for generations and were only liable to ejectment in the event of the site occupied by them being cleared of buildings. BHAGWAN DAS v. MUHAMMAD YAHIA (1913) I L R 35 All 292

INTEREST

Kabuliyat containing stipulation to pay excessive rate of interest—Assurance by landlord at the time of execution of Kabuliyat that covenant will not be enforced—Effect of on the documents—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92 prov 1. A Kabuliyat for a period of one year provided that on default of payment of rent the arrears would carry interest at 7½ per cent per annum. The tenant held over after one year. On a suit for rent on the basis of the Kabuliyat the tenant pleaded that before the Kabuliyat was executed by him the landlord assured him that the covenant for payment of interest at 7½ per cent would not be enforced. This allegation was found to be true. Held that under the circumstances the Kabuliyat was not the real agreement between the parties having been induced by fraudulent misrepresentation and the tenant was not liable to pay interest claimed on the basis of the Kabuliyat. S 92 Prov 1 of the Evidence Act referred to. NADIA CHAND SANA v. BIRENDRA CHANDRA DUTT (1915)

20 C W N 1067

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd LEASE

1 ———— Trees—Kaimi lease—Lease created before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Trees planted after lease—Right of removal of trees by tenant—Fixtures doctrine of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 23—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 2 108 (h) In the absence of any special provision in a lease granted before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) came into force the property in the trees planted by the lessee after a kaimi lease had been granted does not vest in the landlord. The rule laid down in s 108 cl (h) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) has no application to such a case. The lease in the present case not being for agricultural or horticultural purpose s 23 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has no application. The doctrine of the English Law of Fixtures cannot be appropriately extended to this country on equitable grounds. Bain v Brand 1 App Cas 762 Mears v Callender [1901] 2 Ch 388 Elwes v Maw 2 Smith & Leasing Cases 189 3 East 38 Less v Pacard 2 Peters 137 referred to. The law of Fixtures is not recognized under the Hindu or Mahomedan laws. Thakoor Chunder Paramanik v Ramdhona Bhattacharye 6 W R 323 B L R F B 595 Secretary of State v Charlesworth Pilling & Co 1 L R 26 Bom 1 Rhodes v Serna v Trilochan 1 Mac Sel Rep 35 Jankee Singh v Buihoore Singh (1856) Beng S D A 761 Pogose v Anantoolah (1858) Beng S D A 1517 Brij Bhokun v Dabee Dyal (1863) 2 Agr S D A 480 Kalee Per had Dutt v Gourie Pershad Dutt 5 W R 108 relied upon. Before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act the doctrine of the English Law of Fixtures did not prevail in this country and the provisions of that Act substantially reproduced the law on this subject as recognised by Hindu and Mahomedan jurisprudence. Imam Kani Poshan v Naorali Sahib 1 L R 27 Mad 211 referred to. Moriz Speiken v Rasik Lal Ghose (1910) 1 L R 37 Cal 815

2 ———— Sarbarakari jamai lease—Construction—Intermediate tenure if can be created between proprietary and putni interests Where a pottah recited that a sarbarakari jamai settlement had been taken from the zemindar at a certain annual rental and continued. I hereby confer upon you all the powers I had to realise the rents etc payable by the putnidars. By virtue of these powers you shall be competent to sue those putnidars in my behalf and using my name. I have executed am ulusey namahs in your favour lest your applications be not accepted by the Collector. Held upon a construction of the pottah that it did not create any interest in land as that of a tenure holder but only a personal obligation between the grantor and the grantee. Semle A zemindar cannot create a permanent tenure between his own interest and putni taluk of the first degree. Bibi Jarao Khatun Sarada v Haniffuddin Akand (1909) 14 C W N 359

3 ———— Mokurari pottah, construction of—Conflict between area and boundaries—Landlord and tenant It is only when the boundaries of a land can be ascertained with perfect certainty that an intention to convey all lands comprised within those boundaries can be inferred. If the boundaries are uncertain the intention should be taken to be to convey the specified quantity of land within those boundaries. Held upon a construction of the pottah in the case that the dimensions specified were an essential part of the description of the land conveyed and not a cumulative description of it which was to be governed by the boundaries. Held further that in the circumstances of the case the intention should be inferred to have been to pass the specified quantity of land only. Daniel Herrick v Garret Sizby L R 1 P C A 436 Mellor v Walmeley [1905] 2 Ch 164 referred to. KUMAR RAMESHAR MAJIA v RAM TARAK HAZRAH (1909) 14 C W N 268

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd LEASE—contd

4 ———— Rent in kind and in default a fixed price—Payable if landlord can recover more than price specified—Money value put down for purposes of registration—Object if may be proved—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 62—Oral agreement to vary written contract is admissible Where a kabuliyat provided for the payment of rent partly in money and partly in kind and further provided that if the tenant neglected to pay the rent the landlord would be entitled to receive a certain sum as the price of paddy deliverable. Held that upon a true construction of the kabuliyat the landlords would be entitled to realise only the amount stated in the kabuliyat as the price of the paddy on the failure of the tenants to deliver it. Evidence to show that the money value was put in only for the purpose of registration and that thus the real intention of the parties was to realise the current price of paddy would be evidence of an oral agreement to contradict or substantially vary the terms of a written contract which is not admissible under s 92 of the Evidence Act. Lakhotullu Sheikh v Bisuambhar Roy 6 Ind Cas 577 2 Ind Cas 180 referred to. Sohebut Ali v Abdool Ali 3 C W A 151 Dipra Charan v Suchand Roy 14 C W N 600 Hanessur Mukherjee v Umesh Chandra Chakravarti 14 C W N 610 not followed. Saikh Isahaf v Gopal Chandra Das 14 C W N 620 referred to. AFARI SURJA KUMAR GHOSE (1910) 15 C W N 249

5 ———— Raiyati zurpeshgi and others—Cultivation of Indigo—Acquisition for right of occupancy—Nature of holding—Zeraat khudkaht and private land of landlord—Notice to quit on expiry of lease—Suit to recover land—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 5 cl (5) and s 116—Raiyat—Tenure holder The appellants (plaintiffs) were the proprietors of the village of Ballipura Parsam and the owners of the Hathorn Indigo Concern (the predecessors in title of the respondent defendant) and the respondent himself had been their tenants under various leases (raiayati zurpeshgi and others) since 1801 for the cultivation of indigo. To a suit brought to recover two areas of land of 1.6 bighas and 25 bighas respectively on the ground that the latest leases (of 21st October 1891 and 10th February 1892) under which they were respectively held had expired the respondent pleaded as to the larger area that he had acquired occupancy right and that even assuming he had not acquired such right a notice to quit was necessary under s 4 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) before he could be ejected. The latter defence alone was set up as to the smaller area. The Subordinate Judge held on the construction of the various leases that the larger area was the appellants' private land in respect of which therefore (within the meaning of s 116 of the Bengal Tenancy Act) the respondent could not acquire a right of occupancy and (acting on the presumption under s 11 cl (5) of the Act and on an admission that the smaller area was the private land of the appellants) he decided that the respondent was a tenure holder and not a raiyat in respect of all the land in suit and that he could be ejected without notice to quit. The High Court on appeal reversed that decision holding as to the larger area that the presumption under s 11 cl (5) of the Act had been rebutted and that respondent was a raiyat and not a tenure holder and (notwithstanding the admission) came to a similar conclusion as to the smaller area and decided that the respondent had acquired rights of occupancy in both areas of land and a notice to quit was necessary before ejectment. Held (by the Judicial Committee) that on the construction of the leases and under the circumstances of the case the High Court had rightly decided as to the larger area but were wrong in going behind the admission made as to the smaller area. Bengal Indigo Company v Roghobur Das 1 L R 24 Cal 972 23 I A 155 distinguished on the ground that in that case there was no finding of fact to rebut the presumption under s 11 cl (5) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. DANODAR NARAYAN CHOWDHURI v DALGLISH (1911) 1 L R 38 Cal 432

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*LEASE—contd

6 ——— Sub-lease—Avoidance of lease—Vacant possession—Holding over—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 103 The plaintiffs were lessees of a godown for one year from 1st April 1908 at a monthly rent. From 1st May 1908 they sublet it on the same terms for the remainder of their lease to the defendant who used it for storing bags of sugar. On 25th December the godown was partially destroyed by fire and a quantity of sugar therein considerably damaged. The defendant's insurers came in to take charge of the salvage but soon after sold the remains of the sugar to G M and the latter then took possession and continued in possession sorting the sugar until 16th February 1909. Meanwhile on 10th December the plaintiff had written to the landlord advising him of the fire and of the termination of the lease in consequence. The landlord however insisted on their liability to pay rent until such time as vacant possession should be given to him. The defendant in answer to a bill for rent wrote to the plaintiffs to the effect that he had terminated his lease on account of the fire and would not pay more than the proportionate rent for the first 5 days of December. As however vacant possession was not given until 16th February (on which day G M went out of possession) the plaintiffs sued the defendant for rent and for use and occupation. Held that the plaintiffs could not exercise their option to terminate the lease until they put the landlord into possession. If the avoidance of the lease under s 103 (e) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) was effectual without surrender of vacant possession the plaintiffs by failing to give vacant possession were holding over after the termination of their lease and were liable for rent under an implied monthly tenancy on the same terms as before. If the avoidance was ineffectual the lease continued until put an end to by mutual consent. Held further that the abandonment to the insurers by the defendant was effected for his benefit and in the absence of evidence that the insurers and their vendee G M kept the sugar in the godown in spite of protests by the defendants the latter (as between the plaintiffs and the defendant) must be taken to have been in occupation either under his original tenancy or under a similar one resulting from his holding over. SIDICK HASI HOOSAIN v BRUEL & Co (1910) 1 L R 35 Bom 333

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*LEASE—contd

7 ——— Amalnamah—Construction of—A present demise or an agreement to make a future demise a question of intention—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 10 78 155 178 sub s (1) cl 8—Waste land—Notice if necessary to terminate a lease of—Lessee of waste lands if may be ejected except in execution of decree—Pegs inserted lease omission of the landlord to give if effects tenants position The question whether an instrument made a present or merely an agreement to make a future demise must depend upon the paramount intention of the parties. Parmanan Das v Dharsey Virji 1 L R 10 Bom 101 Jones v Reynolds L R 1 Q B 606 516 Chapman v Turner 6 M & W 100 101 referred to. Where an amalnamah granted in 1313 recited that the defendant had applied for a mouvasi mohurari chuldari lease from the plaintiff and that in anticipation of the execution of a proper lease the plaintiff had agreed to place the defendant in possession of the land on certain conditions: that out of Rs 2000 payable as premium Rs 500 would be paid in Magh 1311 and the remainder by three equal annual instalments that in default of such payment the amalnamah would stand cancelled and cease to be operative and that in 1312 and 1313 the lands should be held rent free and that rent at specified rates would be payable in respect of the lands in subsequent years and the instrument further provided that in 1312 the defendant would bring under cultivation 200 bighas of land and that the whole would be brought under cultivation in 1313 and that in the event of a failure to cultivate the lands in 1312 and 1313 the grantor would be at liberty to re-enter and settle the land with other tenants. Held that there was a present demise by the amalnamah and not an agreement to make a future demise. Semle The position of the tenant under such circumstance would not in substance be affected by the failure of the landlords to execute a registered lease in favour of the tenant. Bibi Jawahir Kumari v Chatterpuri Singh 2 C L J 343 Singheeram v Bhagbat Chander 11 C L J 543 referred to. Held that s 178 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not operate to make s 155 of the Act inapplicable to the case of a tenant of waste land who cannot therefore be ejected without notice under s 155 being served on him. Held further that under s 178 sub s (1) cl (3) read with s 89 and s 10 the landlord had no right to eject the tenant in the circumstances of the case except in execution of a decree. CHAMPALATIKA MITRA v RAJAP CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHURY (1910) 11 C W N 636

8 ——— Protected interests—In cumbrance—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 160 (g) The plaintiffs had under a sub-lease granted by G who held under a permanent lease granted by B B again holding under a permanent lease granted by I. The lease given by P to B authorized B to grant sub-leases. Held that the right and interest of G and therefore of the plaintiffs are protected interests and are not such as can be interfered with by a purchaser under the Bengal Tenancy Act. AFAZUDDI KHAN v PRASANNA GAIN (1911) I L R 39 Cal 138

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*LEASE—contd

9 — Mistake in Lease—Landlord and Tenant Where a comparatively small portion of the demised lands was found to have originally belonged to the lessee and to have been included in the lease by mutual mistake. Held that the whole lease should not be set aside but that there should be an apportionment of rent for the remaining land. RAIMONI DASSI v MATHURA MOHON DEY (1912) 16 C W N 806

10 — Denial of Title—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 116—Estoppel A purporting to be dharmakata of a temple gave a lease of the temple properties to B. During the tenancy C and not A was declared in a separate suit to be the rightful dharmakarta. B had not attorned to nor been evicted by C. Held that the tenancy had not been determined and that in a suit by A for rent B was estopped by s 116 Indian Evidence Act from denying A's title. DEVALAJU v MAHAMED JAFFER SAIB (1913) I L R 36 Mad 53

11 — Tenancy at will—Lease until lessee requires or wishes—Tenancy at will on both sides A lease by which the lessee is to hold for such time as they require or wish is a tenancy at the will of the lessee which in law is a tenancy at the will of the lessor also. Coke on Littleton page 50 (a) and Halsbury's Laws of England Vol 18 page 434 referred to. MANIKAV CHINNAPPA (1913) I L R 36 Mad 557

12 — Lease of land for mining coal—Description in kabuliyat given in bighas and boundaries specified in schedule—Area of land delivered found less than area stated in kabuliyat—Claim to abatement of rent in respect of deficiency—Onus on tenant to prove right to reduction of rent—Construction of kabuliyat—Negotiations leading to contract and other extraneous evidence inadmissible in evidence This appeal arose out of a suit for Rs 23,868 as arrears of rent cesses and interest under a *molarari mauzari *kabuliyat dated 3rd December 1894 (1301) executed by the respondent on behalf of himself and his co-sharers (the other respondents) in favour of the predecessor in title of the appellant for the right of coal mining under 400 bighas of land in mauzah Dobari in Manabhum (the boundaries of the area leased being specified in a schedule to the kabuliyat) at a rental of Rs 2,800 a year which the kabuliyat stated shall never on any account be varied. The land within the boundaries specified in the schedule was not measured at any time or if measured it was not shown what the measurement was in bighas. The defence so far as material was mainly that the respondents had been given possession of the mining rights under an area less than 400 bighas of land and were therefore entitled to an abatement of the rent in respect of the deficiency. That by an injunction made in 1902 in a suit brought by the appellant the rights of the respondents to work coal underneath the land leased to them was restricted to an area of 275 bighas and they tendered rent at a reduced rate which the appellant refused to accept. The rent had been reduced in 1893 (1303) by the original lessor on the ground that the coal taken out was of inferior quality and rent had been paid at the reduced rate for 2 years. But the document witnessing the reduction had not been registered and was therefore inadmissible in evidence. On the construction of the kabuliyat the appellant contended that the respondents were entitled only to the coal underneath such quantity of land as was contained within the boundaries given in the schedule and the contention of the respondents was that they were entitled to the coal underneath the full quantity of 400 bighas of land. Both Courts below found that 400 bighas of land had been demised but the Subordinate Judge while finding that the respondents were in possession of only 346 bighas held that they were not entitled to any abatement of rent in respect of the deficiency. The High Court disregarded the description of the land by boundaries but found on the evidence in the former suit that the respondents had only been in possession of 275 bighas and held that they were entitled to a proportionate abatement of the rent fixed by the kabuliyat. Held (reversing the decrees of the Courts in India) that the question as to what had been demised in 1894 turned on the true construction of the kabuliyat which could not be varied by extraneous evidence as to the negotiations which led up to the contract or by evidence showing that within the boundaries specified in the kabuliyat there was not 400 bighas of land. Held further that there was no reliable and admissible evidence to prove that the original lessor ever bound himself permanently to accept a reduced rent and the fact that he did so for some years was consistent with the reduction having been a mere voluntary and temporary abatement. It was for the respondents to make out a case for the abatement of the rent but they had not proved how many bighas were contained in the area of mauzah Dobari within the boundaries specified in the schedule to the kabuliyat nor had they proved the area in bighas within those boundaries of which they were put in possession. They had not proved otherwise than by the action of the Subordinate Judge on the former suit in granting an injunction in the form in which it was granted and by their neglect to appeal from that decree that they had been deprived of the right to work any coal which otherwise they would have been entitled to work under the demise and the injunction as granted gave them no right which they could enforce by suit or of which they could avail themselves as a defence to a suit for the fixed rent. They had in fact wholly failed to prove any facts which would entitle them to any abatement of the rent fixed by the kabuliyat. The tenders based on a reduced rent were therefore not good and were ineffective and the appellant was entitled to a decree for the amount sued for less the costs of the former suit. DURGA PRASAD SINGH v RAJENDRA NARAYAN BAGCHI (1913) I L R 41 Cal 493

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*LEASE—contd

13 — Clause allowing removal of fixture—After expiry of lease if a renewal clause—Notice of a lease—Notice of terms of a lease—Estoppel—Onus Terms in a lease giving the lessee if unwilling at the end of the term to take a fresh settlement the right to take away the fixtures put on the land cannot operate as a covenant under which the lessee could comp

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdLEASE—contd

the les. or to grant a fresh term SARAT CHANDRA MUKHOPADHYAY v RAJENDRA LAL MITRA (1913)
18 C W N 420

14 ——— Nim howla lease—Stipulation in against voluntary alienation by tenant to person other than landlord—Purchase of tenure by stranger at sale in execution of money decree—Purchaser if acquires good title—Landlord if can sue original tenants for rent and obtain decree binding on tenure The plaintiff purchased at an execution sale the right title and interest of the tenants in a nim howla tenure Notwithstanding the purchase by the plaintiff which was duly notified to the landlord the latter brought a suit for rent against the tenants and obtained a decree The plaintiff brought a suit for declaration that this decree was not binding on him and that the tenure in his hands was not liable to be sold in execution thereof The lease which created the nim howla provided as follows Let it be known that if you find it necessary to transfer the nim howla tenure you will transfer it to me for proper price You will not be at liberty to transfer it to any person other than myself If you transfer it to any other person such transfer will be invalid Held that there being no covenant against involuntary alienations and no covenant for re entry the plaintiff acquired a good title by his purchase and consequently it was not open to the landlord to sue the original tenants with a view to obtain a decree whereby he could proceed against the tenure in the hands of the plaintiff PROMOD K. RANJAN GHOSH v ASWINI KUMAR NAIK (1914)

18 C W N 1138

15 ——— Covenant against alienation—Permanent lease of agricultural land—Covenant against alienation—voluntary as well as involuntary with proviso for re entry if enforceable—Purchaser if must be notified by lessor of intention to determine lease before suit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886) s 155 Sch III cl (1) if applies—Limitation—Mortgage by lessee sole in execution purchase by mortgagee—Mortgagee if trespasser A permanent lease of agricultural land contained a covenant against sale gift mortgage etc by the lessee with a proviso for re entry in case the land was transferred or sold by auction The lessee having mortgaged the land the mortgagee sued on his mortgage and in execution of the decree obtained therein had the holding sold and purchased it himself and got possession through Court on 23rd November 1898 The original lessee continued in possession of a portion of the land under a sub lease from the purchaser Plaintiffs who proved their right to a 12 annas share in the interest of the landlord sued the purchaser and the original lessee for ejectment on 20th March 1903 The lower Courts having decreed the suit the purchaser only preferred this second appeal Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover (joint) possession to the extent of their 12 annas interest the defendant being a trespasser and the suit which was governed by Art 142 of Sch I of the Limitation Act having been instituted within time Per SANDERSON C J—The assignment was not ad initium as the execution sale was directly due to the voluntary act of the lessee Per MOOKERJEE J—A covenant for re entry by the landlord upon an involuntary sale is valid in

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdLEASE—contd

India as in England Per CURRIE—That in the absence of any act of the Plaintiffs recognising the purchaser as a tenant he was in the position of a trespasser and neither s 165 nor cl (1) to Sch III of the Bengal Tenancy Act applied to the case Per MOOKERJEE J—Where a covenant against alienation is coupled with a proviso for re entry the landlord is not limited to the reliefs by injunction or damages That as the tenancy was of agricultural lands s 111 Transfer of Property Act did not apply and the suit was not bad because the plaintiffs did not previously notify their election to enforce the proviso The institution of the suit itself was a sufficient manifestation of the option to treat the lease as determined DWARKA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY v MATHURA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY (1916)

21 C W N 117

16 ——— Option of renewal—Written notice in exercise of option to be given within time specified in Indenture—Oral arrangement—Modification or rescission of covenant for renewal—Admissibility of evidence—Waiver—Estoppel—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 91 92 (proviso 4) 116 An Indenture of lease contained a covenant for renewal of the lease whereby if the lessee desired to renew the lease he should give 3 months notice in writing of his intention to do so The lessee however failed to observe this covenant and relied on an oral statement or agreement between himself and his lessors for renewal of the lease Held that there was no waiver Held also that the oral statement or agreement amounted to either a modification or a rescission within the meaning of s 92 proviso 4 of the Evidence Act and evidence of such oral statement or agreement was not admissible Held also that there was no representation of a thing within the meaning of s 115 of the Evidence Act and consequently no estoppel MARK D'CRUZ v JITENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE (1919)

I L R 46 Cal 1077

17 ——— Non delivery of possession of entire land demised—Rent suspension of for non delivery Where the landlord having let out a portion of a land to an earlier lessee lets it out again with other lands to a subsequent lessee and fails to deliver to the subsequent lessee possession of the entire land leased to him the entire rent is suspended Adele v Macleanne 1 M & W 747 46 R R 418 and Smith v Raleigh 3 Camp 513 14 R R 899 followed Stokes v Cooper 3 Camp 514n 14 R R 829n, and Annada Prasad Mukhopadhyaya v Mathura Nath Roy Madanram 13 C N 4 702 distinguished MATYINDRA CHANDRA NARAYAN v NARENDRA CHANDRA LALIT (1919)

I L R 46 Cal 956

18 ——— Right of pre-emption—of leasehold right—Clause of forfeiture of lease and right to re enter on breach of covenant—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 74 applicability of—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) ss 111 (g) and 117 applicability of—Relief against forfeiture whether grantable Where a vulgar lease provided for previous notice to the lessor in case of any intended sale or mortgage of the leasehold interest by the lessee and for forfeiture of lease and re entry on breach of the covenant Held that s 74 of the Indian Contract Act did not apply that Courts had no power to relieve

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

LEASE—contd

against the forfeiture and that the les or was entitled to possession on breach of the covenant. Held further that by reason of the prohibition in s 117 of the Transfer of Property Act s 111 (g) of the Act did not in terms apply but that the principles of the Courts of Equity embodied in s 111 (g) applied to the case. KRISHNA SRETTI v GILBERT PINTO (1919)

I L R 42 Mad 654

MINERAL RIGHTS

Agricultural character—Underground rights not mentioned in lease—Minerals under surface of land—Rights of Zemindar—Onus of proof—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 108 117 The question for decision in this case whether certain Goswamis the servants of an idol and lessees of a village in the zamindari of the appellant the Rajah of Pachete had under their lease which had been granted by a predecessor in title of the appellant about 60 years ago acquired any rights to the minerals beneath the surface of the village which they could have transmitted to the respondents who claimed to hold under them. There was no document or evidence defining the terms of the lease to the Goswamis. Two decrees in favour of the Rajah for the payment of an annual rent of Rs 22 15 0 by the Goswamis were put in in one of which they were described as cultivators and in the other as brutti holders. There was no evidence whatever that the Rajah had ever granted mineral rights in the village to the Goswamis or to any other person. Both the Courts in India found that the village was a mai (rent paying) village of the zamindari of the Rajah and that no prescriptive right had been proved by the respondents to any underground rights in the village. The High Court held that the zemindar had created a permanent tenure of an agricultural character and that the tenure holder would possess all underground rights in the absence of express reservation by the zemindar. Held by the Judicial Committee (reversing that decision) that the title of the zemindar Rajah to the village being established he must be presumed to the owner of the underground rights appertaining thereto in the absence of evidence that he had parted with them and no such evidence had been produced. Field's Bengal Regulations Introduction page 36 referred to. In the case of leases under the existing law of 1882 (the Transfer of Property Act IV of 1882 s 108) no right arises for a lessee to work mines not open when the lease was granted. HARI NARAYAN SINGH DEO v SRIRAM CHAKRAVARTI (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 723

Mineral rights—Permanent tenures grant of if conveys underground rights—Mogals Brahmin grants—Proof of permanency—Original tenure split up—Character of tenancy if altered When certain tenures which were described as Mogals Brahmin were shown to have existed since before the permanent settlement and it appeared that the same rents had always been paid for them and that they were freely transferable. Held that the tenures were at least permanent tenures. That it was not correct to view such tenure holders as owners of the land subject to a rent charge. The holder of a permanent tenure in the absence of all evidence of the terms of the lease should not be presumed to own the underground rights. Abhiram v Shyam Charan I L R 36 Cal 1003 14 C W N 1 Shyam Chand v Ram Kana 15 C W N 417 Shama Charan v Abhiram I L R 33 Cal 511 10 C W N 733 Megh Lal v Raj Kumar I L R 34 Cal 358 11 C W N 527 Brojanath Bose v Durga Prasad I L R 34 Cal 753 12 C W N 193 Sriram v Hari Narain I L R 33 Cal 54 10 C W N 495 referred to. Where the original grant was that of a permanent tenure the fact that subsequently the tenure was merely split up into more than one would not affect the permanent character of the tenancies. Uday Chandra Kari v Arispendra Narayan Bhup I L R 36 Cal 237 33 C W N 410 distinguished. JYOTI PROSHAD SINGH DEV v GEORGE MATTHEW DAREY (1911)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

MINERAL RIGHTS—contd

16 W N 241

The grant of a permanent or heritable tenure at fixed rent or rent free from a Zamindar is not entitled to the minerals in the absence of express provision to that effect. RAGHUNATH POY v RAJA OF JHERIA

23 C W N 914

Mining lease construction—Provision for payment of royalties—Power to lessee to surrender lease on six months notice without definite time fixed—Condition of surrender all royalties to be paid before lessee's right arose—Waiver of condition by lessor by his asking for surrender by deed on receiving notice from lessee of intention to surrender and delay caused thereby A lease for 999 years was granted by the appellant in favour of the respondent company of coal land and mining rights in certain mouzas in his zamindari. By cl 1 of the lease certain royalties were fixed for each ton of coal and cl 2 provided that such royalties should be payable quarterly. By cl 3 an annual minimum royalty was fixed until the expiration of the term with a provision that if the royalties paid were found at the end of the Bengali year to be less than the minimum royalty the lessees should be bound to make up the loss and pay the minimum royalty in full within the first two months of the following year. By cl 4 the lessees were given power to take the necessary surface land for the purpose of carrying on the colliery business at a fixed rent per bigha to become payable at the end of each Bengali year. Cl 5 gave the lessees a right to surrender any or all of the mouzas hereby leased to you by giving me six months written notice and paying the minimum royalty for the said six months, i.e. a half of the annual minimum royalty. But I shall not accept any surrender for a portion or any of the mouzas neither shall you be entitled to surrender so long as any rent or royalty remains unpaid. The respondent Company on 11th May 1912 sent to the appellant a registered letter giving him six months notice of their intention to relinquish the mouzas the appellant handed the notice to his manager who requested the respondent Company to execute a formal deed of surrender. Admittedly no deed was tendered for execution nor was any amount ascertained as being payable for royalties before the expiration of the six months' notice. The respondent Company on 23rd May 1913 paid the amount they calculated to be due but the appellant objected that there had been no effectual surrender,

LANDLORD AND TENANT—cont'd

MULGENI RIGHTS—concl'd

ina much as the notice did not expire at the end of the Benarasi year and no tender of the amount due had been made. In a suit brought by the appellant treating the lease as being still in force—Held that there was nothing in the terms of the lease to fix the notice as one that must be given at any definite period and therefore under cl 9 it had been rightly given that cl 10 did not make it necessary to tender the amount due for royalties at the time when the notice was served that at when the manager asserted that the surrender should be by deed it was not obligatory to pay the money until the deed was tendered and that the lease was no longer subsisting on the expiry of the six months and therefore the suit was not maintainable. DEOJA PRASAD SINGH v. TATA IRON AND STEEL COMPANY (1918) I L R 46 Calc 552 L R 45 I A 275

MULGENI TENURE

Landlord and Tenant—

Mulgeni tenure—Revenue assessment who to pay—Revenue Recovery Act II of 1861 as 1 and 35—Principles apart from Act Under s 30 Revenue Recovery Act a mulgenidar who pays revenue due on land held by him as a mulgeni tenant is entitled to recover the same from his landlord the mulgar by deducting the amounts so paid from any rent then or afterwards due from him to the mulgar. The fact that the mulgar's revenue assessment has been increased by Government does not make him the less liable to pay the whole assessment although the amount so to be paid may be in excess of or out of proportion to the rent to be received by him. To hold otherwise would be to deprive the mulgenidar of the right secured to him by s 30 of the Revenue Recovery Act. Per BRADSON J—Apart however from the Revenue Recovery Act which thus indirectly and as it were unintentionally imposes the whole burden on the pattadar it cannot be held that where an increased revenue assessment has not been contemplated in the mulgeni chit either the mulgar or the mulgenidar is bound to pay the whole of the increase in assessment imposed by Government. Assessment is a burden imposed by Government on the land and where the rent has been fixed by contract and the imposition of a higher assessment by Government is a matter outside the terms of the contract altogether and is not provided for in it either expressly or impliedly it ought in accordance with principle to be shared by the mulgar and the mulgenidar in proportion to the benefit which each derives from the land. VIDYAPURNA THIRTHASWAMI v. UDOGANU (1910) I L R 34 Mad 231

The rights of mulgenidar do not escheat to Government on the death of the last owner dying without heirs but revert to the mulgar for whom the mulgeni was acquired—a mulgeni differs from a permanent lease. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. SHITARAM APPA I L R 42 Mad. 327

NOTICE TO QUIT

—Principles to be observed in construing notices to quit—Inaccuracies in notice may be immaterial—Test of sufficiency though inaccurate—Interpretation affected by the fact that the persons on whom they are served are conversant with all the facts and circumstances of the tenancy it is desired to terminate—Maxim Ut res magis valeat quam pereat—Mode of service—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 106 The principles on which notices to quit containing errors honestly but mistakenly or inadvertently made are to be construed are entirely inapplicable to notices containing inaccuracies deliberately inserted for fraudulent purposes. The principles laid down by the English authorities are equally applicable to cases arising in India. They establish that notices to quit though not strictly accurate or consistent in the statements embodied in them may still be good and effective in law that the test of their sufficiency is not what they would mean to a stranger ignorant of all the facts and circumstances touching the holding to which they purport to relate but what they would mean to tenants presumably conversant with all those facts and circumstances and further that they are to be construed not with a desire to find faults in them which would render them defective but in accordance with the maxim Ut res magis valeat quam pereat. Deo d. Huntingtower v. Cullford 4 Doie & Ry 248 Doe d. Williams v. Smith 5 Ad. & F. 350 Hyde v. Dyer [1900] 1 Q. B. 23 and Deo v. Archer 13 East 245 referred to. Applying these principles to the present case in their pleadings to which the defendants attributed fraudulent intentions to the plaintiffs—Held that the plaintiffs were not actuated by a desire to effect any fraudulent purposes in connection with the notice to quit or in bringing the suit from all their action and on the evidence a contrary view was to be inferred that the earlier portion of the notice to quit correctly and clearly described the identity of the land it was intended to cover which the defendants admittedly knew was 2 bighas 2½ cottahs and the erroneous statement in the schedule as to the area of the land being 6 cottahs did not predominate over the description of it already given in the notice but was merely an immaterial inaccuracy and that the pleadings and evidence in the case showed that the defendants were conversant with all the circumstances and facts relating to the land. The notice was sufficient to cover the entire area held by the defendants from the plaintiffs and was therefore a good notice. Held further that the notice to quit had been duly served on all the tenants and the conditions laid down in s 106 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) were complied with. Service on one joint tenant is prima facie evidence that it has reached the other joint tenants. Mccartney v. Crick 5 Esp 196 Doe d. Bradford v. Wakins 7 East 551 and Pollock v. Kelly 6 Ir C. L. R. 367 referred to. Service through the post was sufficient. Gresham House Estate Co v. Rosa Grande Gold Mining Co (1870) W. L. R. 119 and the presumption that the notice so served has been received is greater when the letter is registered as in the present case and is not rebutted but strengthened by the fact that a receipt for it is produced signed on behalf of the addressee by some person other than the addressee himself. Tanham v. Nicholson L. R. 5 H. L. 561 referred to. HARINAR BAKERJI v. RAMSHASHI ROY (1918) I L R 46 Calc 458

LANDLORD AND TENANT—cont'd

NOTICE TO QUIT—cont'd

LANDLORD AND TENANT—cont'd

OCCUPANCY RIGHT

See OCCUPANCY RIGHT

Occupancy right extinguishment of—New occupancy right in the same holding—Acquisition of adverse rights in two capacities—Non occupancy raiyat if he can sub let and create incumbrance—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 2 cl (2) 159 160 cl (9) When an occupancy right is extinguished by the operation of ss 2 cl (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act a new occupancy right cannot be acquired in the same tenancy by the co-sharer proprietor by whose action the occupancy right has ceased to exist. The owner of a holding cannot acquire a right adversely to himself in his other character as co proprietor. A non occupancy raiyat is a raiyat and the land held by him is a holding ss 159 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applies to non occupancy holdings also. A non occupancy raiyat is not prohibited from sub letting and may have an under raiyat under him and may create a protected interest under s 100 cl (2) if his landlord allows him so to do. An incumbrance may be created by a non occupancy raiyat on his holding in limitation of his own interest however limited by way of sub lease. RAM LAL SINGH v. BUNLA GAZI (1910) I L R 37 Cal 709

Purchase of raiyats in interest by sole Landlord—Occupancy holding and occupancy right—Transferability—Merger—Under raiyat—Notice to quit—Ejectment—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) as amended by Bengal Act I of 1907 ss 22 cl (2) 49 85 and 167. The raiyats of certain lands in dispute executed a mortgage of their lands and put the mortgagee in possession. Subsequently the mortgagee sold the lands with under raiyats. The superior landlord then brought a suit for rent against his raiyats and purchased the holding at a sale for arrears of rent. Thereafter the landlord sold the permanent raiyats to one Meajan who after having taken a lease from the landlord and after having redeemed the mortgage sold the same to the present plaintiffs. The plaintiffs thereupon brought a suit to eject the under raiyats. Held that the occupancy still continued to exist after the purchase by the landlord. AHHI CHANDRA BISWAS v. HASAN ALI SADOGAR 19 C B N 216 followed. Held also that the landlord was able to transfer the holding to Meajan through whom it came to the plaintiffs. Held also that the under raiyats continued to be under raiyats and were duly served with notice to quit and must be ejected. YAKUB ALI v. MEJAN (1915) I L R 43 Cal 164

PERMANENT TENANCY

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879 ss 63 216 I L R 44 Bom 566

Evidence of permanent tenancy—Contention that no permanent tenancy can exist in the Punjab as there is no Permanent Settlement as there is in Bengal. In this case the land in dispute was situated in a suburb of Delhi and was covered by buildings of masonry occupied by the respondents. It was admitted that their predecessors were invited to occupy the land for building purposes by the predecessors of the appellants in 1839. No document showing the terms of occupancy is extant nor is there any reliable evidence of what passed at that time. But the facts found (as to which there was no dispute) were that from 1839 onwards a uniform and fixed rent had been paid that in some of the receipts given by the landlord the term permanent as applied to the rent was used that the respondents and their predecessors in title have erected substantial buildings without the landlord's objection that they have dealt with these properties by way of sale and mortgage and that the properties has passed by succession. Held that the evidence sufficiently showed that the respondents had a permanent tenancy and the fact that there was no permanent settlement in the Punjab was not material as affecting this conclusion. AFZAL U DIN v. ABDUL KARIM (1919) I L R 47 Cal 1

LANDLORD AND TENANT—cont'd

PERMANENT TENANCY—cont'd

Permanent heritable and transferable tenure—Liability to enhancement—Contract for rent at progressive rates—Inference when highest rate is reached and there is no further enhancement by law—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 29 30. The defendant in this case was the tenant of the plaintiffs (appellants) and the tenure was admittedly permanent heritable and transferable. The only question was whether the rent was fixed as the defendant alleged or was liable to enhancement. Ordinarily the admitted characteristics would create a presumption in favour of the tenant and throw on the plaintiffs the onus of showing that the tenure was wanting in the characteristics of fixity of rent but held that even if the onus lay on the defendant she had fully discharged it. In the books of the plaintiff Company it was expressly stated that the tenure should not be liable to rent for the first four years. After that it carried rent on a progressive scale until in 1298 it reached one rupee one anna per bigha. The contract as to progressive rent thus came to an end in 1298 and there was no further enhancement by operation of law. The clear inference from those facts was that the maximum rent reached in 1298 was the fixed rent of the tenure as long as it lasted. GOLAM ALI v. GOPAL LALL THAKOOR & Co in Privy Council. Soorasonderly Dabee v. Golam Ali 15 B L R 1254 9 Suth W R 65 Dhunput Singh v. Gooman Singh 11 Moo I A 435 and Huro Prasad Roy Chowdhry v. Chandee Churn Roychowdhry 1 L R 9 Cal 505 referred to. PORT CANNING LAND IMPROVEMENT CORPORATION v. KATYANI DEBI (1919) I L R 47 Cal 280

Raiyats holding created in 1845 and held at fixed rent—Recognised as heritable and transferable—Inference that holding permanent—Rent receipts stating tenant to be tenant at will value of. In a suit to eject the Defendants from a raiyati holding situated within the Calcutta Municipality it was found upon the evidence that the holding was created somewhere in 1845 that it had been held over since at a fixed permanent rent and that the Plaintiff landlord had in the benams of another person taken a mortgage of the holding treating it as a permanent transferable heritable holding. Held—That the District Judge was right in holding that the holding was a permanent heritable one and in refusing to attach any importance to a statement in the rent receipts granted to the tenants that they were tenants at will when there was nothing to show that the tenants consented to the insertion of these words in the receipts or were even aware of it SREEDHAR NATH IOT v DWARKANATH CHAKRA

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

PERMANENT TENANCY—contd

 VARTI 24 C W N 1

RELINQUISHMENT

Joint tenants surrender by one of her share if operative against the other—Relinquishment to take effect at a future date if inoperative A relinquishment made in favour of the landlord by one of two co tenants so as to effect her share is valid A relinquishment is not inoperative because it was to take effect at a subsequent date KUSHI MOHINI v BAIKUNTA
 CHANDRA SHARMA (1910) 15 C W N 680

Occupancy tenant—Usufructuary mortgage—Relinquishment of tenancy during the term of the mortgage Held that an occupancy tenant who has made a usufruc-tuary mortgage of his holding and put the mortgagee in possession cannot during the subsistence of such mortgage relinquish his holding to the prejudice of the mortgagee's rights Rannu
 Rai v Rafiuddin 1 L R 27 All 82 followed
CHHOTU LAL v SREOPAL SINGH (1900.)

1 L R 33 All 335

RENT

1 ——— Presumption of permanency of rent—Record of Rights—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) as amended by Bengal Acts III of 1898 and I of 1903 as 50 103 115 When an application is made under s 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act as amended by Bengal Acts III of 1898 and I of 1903 for settlement of rent after the final publication of the record of rights the tenant is entitled in view of the provisions of s 110 of the Bengal Tenancy Act to the benefit of the presumption under s 50 of the same Act Radhakrishna
 Manikya v Umed Ali 12 C W N 904 approved
Secretary of State for India v Koyamuddin 1 L R
 26 Calc 617 distinguished PRITHWIRAJ LAL
 CHOWDHRY v BASARAT ALI (1909)

1 L R 57 Calc 30

2 ——— One suit for rent of different tenancies if maintainable—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) as 20 29 cls (a) and (b)— Presumption under s 20 when arises—Effect of division of tenancy When there are several tenures held by the same tenant the landlord may institute one suit for the rent of all the tenures but if he does so he cannot put the tenancies to sale in execution of the decree so as to enable the purchaser to avoid incumbrances Hriday Nath Das v Krishna Prasad Sircar 1 L R 31 Calc 298 s c 6 C L J
 153 11 C W N 497 Balkanta Nath Roy v
 Thakur Debendra Nath Saha 11 C W N 676
Nanda Lal v Sadhu Charan 7 C L J 96 Bipra
 Das v Rajaram 13 C W N 650 referred to No inflexible rule of law can be laid down that the division of a tenancy creates or does not create a new tenancy Whether it does or does not is a question of the intention of the parties to be decided on the evidence Uday Chandra v Nripendra Narayan 13 C W N 410 Radhu Mala v Alfa-zuddi 13 C W N 96^o referred to HULIYK
 CHAND DASS v SATISH CHANDRA JAS (1909)

14 C W N 375

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

RENT—contd

3 ——— Denial of lessor's right to sue—Esloppe Held that a tenant who had taken a lease from one of several trustees was not competent to deny his lessor's right to sue alone for the rent Musammam Purnia v Torab Ally 3 Hyman 14 and Jainarayan Bose v Hadinbani Das 7 B L R 73 referred to KESHO DAS
 v MAHESWAR DAS (1910) 1 L R 32 All 213

4 ——— Suspension of rent—Substantial interference by landlord with enjoyment of holding by tenant—Tenant when entitled to suspension of rent —Bona fide interference what is Where there is substantial interference by the landlord with the tenant's enjoyment of his tenure even though there is no complete eviction the tenant is entitled to suspension of rent for the period during which there was such interference Adami Das v
 Kashi Nath Biswas 13 B R 338 Dhyanpal
 Singh v Kashi Nath Biswas 1 L R 24 Calc 296
Haro Kumar v Purna Chandra 1 L R 28 Calc
 185 Lalia Sundari v Surnomoyee Das 5 C W N 353 discussed J auction purchased a durpui with power to annual incumbrances and served notice to quit on the sepuindars who refused to yield possession On J attempting to take forcible possession criminal proceedings ensued as a result of which the sepuindars were attached under s 146 of the Criminal Procedure Code on the 3rd October 1902 The land attached was subsequently let out to gyaradar who paid rent to the putindar and deposited certain sums as gyara rent in the Collectorate
 Some of these sums deposited were withdrawn by J as dur putindar In 1906 the sepuindars obtained a decree establishing their sepuini title and in pursuance of that decree withdrew some of the gyara rent that was deposited in the Collectorate
 In a suit for rent by J against the sepuindars for the period during which the property was under attachment Held that the circumstances constituted substantial interference by the landlord with the tenant's enjoyment of his tenure such as disentitled him to recover rent for that period Held on the facts of the case that it was not such bona fide interference without prejudice to the tenant as would entitle the landlord to receive rent
Ranee Surnomoyee v Shookhee Mookhee 12 Moo
 1 A 244 distinguished MAHOMED JAULLIA
 MEH v SUREKANNESHA BIDI (1910)

14 C W N 446

5 ——— Co owners—Receipt for rent collected by one co owner—Rights of the others to sue tenant and remaining co owner for rent W and others were co owners of a shop which was let to U The other co owners suspecting W's good faith gave notice to U forbidding him to pay rent to W They then commenced proceedings for partition of the shop Subsequently W executed in favour of U a receipt for arrears of rent and for a further sum alleged to represent rent paid in advance Held that in the above circumstances the co owners other than W were entitled to sue the tenant and W for their proportionate share of the rent their allegation being that the receipt referred to above was fictitious and collusive Doorga Charan Surma v Jampa Dasree 12 B L R 289 referred to ZIA UD DIN v MUHAMMAD UMAR (1910)

1 L R 33 All 303

6 ——— Joint promise—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 11—Joint and several liability when

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

RENT—contd

*arises—Joint tenants of original tenant if jointly and severally liable—Where suit for rent dismissed against two of three joint tenants who did not admit the rate of rent if landlord can recover entire rent from one who admits rate of rent Whether a promise is joint or several or joint and several is a question of construction depending upon the intention of the parties to a contract In cases of joint and several promises in addition to several persons joining in a promise to another there is a promise by each to the others and of each of them separately to the promisee It cannot therefore be affirmed as an inflexible rule that in every case where A lets out land jointly to B and C there is a promise that each of them will be responsible for the entire rent so that the landlord may recover against any one of them At any rate where several persons jointly inherit a tenancy any one of the heirs cannot be made separately liable for the entire rent Where out of three joint tenants who were representatives of one original tenant there was an admission by one in favour of the rate of rent claimed by the landlord but the admission was held to be inadmissible against the other tenants and the suit against the other two was dismissed—Held that the landlord could not recover the entire rent from the tenant who admitted his rate of rent The suit was dismissed as against him also Quære Whether a landlord may make one of several joint tenants responsible for the whole rent KASI KUNAR SEN v SATYENDRA NATH BHADRA (1910)*

15 C W N 191

7 ———— *Transfer of tenure—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886) ss 12 13 167—Suit for rent—Unregistered tran feree of permanent tenure who has paid landlord's fee if necessary partly—Sale in execution of rent decree obtained against recorded tenant only—Decree of money decree only—Benamidars if necessary parties—Notice to annul incumbrances signed by Deputy Collector—Validity The transfer of a permanent tenure is completed upon payment of the landlord's fee prescribed by s 12 irrespective of its acceptance by the landlord and thereupon the landlord is bound to look to the transferee for payment of rent accruing due since that date It is not necessary in such a case that the transferor himself should have had his name registered in the landlord's books Where the landlord sues for such arrears of rent without making the transferee a defendant the decree obtained in the suit only operates as a decree for money The landlord is not bound to join in his suit for rent as parties defendants persons who are merely benamidars GIRIS CHANDRA GUHA v KHACENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE (1911)*

16 C W N 64

8 ———— *Failure of tenant to raise crop—damages in rent—Suit by landlord for recovery of value of his share if les in Small Cause Court—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) s 11 Art 8—Rent—Damages for use and occupation Where a landlord brought a suit against his tenant claiming damages for wilfully omitting to raise crops whereby the plaintiff was deprived of his share thereof Held that inasmuch as the share of the produce to be received by the landlord was ascertained before the commencement of the suit and the term for which the land was let out had not terminated the claim was in* substance one for recovery of rent and the suit would not lie in the Small Cause Court IAJAY LALDAY v BIPRAHMO LALDAY (1911)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

RENT—contd

16 C W N 89

See also post

2 Pat L J 97

9 ———— *Redit decreo one decree for two different tenures—Consolidation of tenures Where there are two different dargulins tenures in respect of 13 as and 3 as respectively of a plot with different payments of rent held by the same tenant though it is competent to a landlord to bring one suit for both the tenures the mere fact that the total rent of the two tenures is claimed in the same suit cannot have the effect of consolidating the two tenures into one A decree obtained for arrears of rent in respect of two or more separate tenures cannot be executed as a rent decree under the Bengal Tenancy Act but must be executed as a money decree under the Civil Procedure Code PASH MOHINI DAS v DEBENDRA NATH SENHA (1911)*

16 C W N 395

10 ———— *Tenant holding on after expiry of term—Amount of rent payable When a tenant holds on after expiration of his lease he does so on the terms of the lease and at the same rate and on the same stipulations as are mentioned in the lease unless the parties come to a fresh settlement The mere fact that the rent for some years has been received at a reduced rate does not bind the lessor to accept rent at that rate Durga Prasad Singh v Rajendra Narain Deychi 10 C L J 570 followed Quære Whether variation of the labuliyat rent when the tenant is holding over can be established by oral evidence Sheikh Enayoolah v Sheikh Llahee bulah [1863] 11 P Act 14 and Sayaji bin Habaji v Umaji bin Sadaji 3 Bom II C A C J 27 followed Mulund Chandra Sarma v Arpan Ali 2 C N A 47 explained BAJNATH PROSAD SAHU v RAGHUNATH RAI (1911)*

16 C W N 496

See also post

20 C W N 347

11 ———— *Denial of relationship of landlord and tenant—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886)—Suit for rent dismissed of—Appeal by landlord withdrawal of—Suit for ejectment if maintainable Mere denial of the relationship of landlord and tenant does not in case to which the Bengal Tenancy Act applies work any forfeiture unless the denial has been given effect to by a decree of the Court Where the landlord after the dismissal of his suit for rent upon the tenant's denial of the relationship of landlord and tenant appealed and pending the appeal withdrew the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit and then brought an action to eject the tenant on the ground of such denial by the tenant Held that the only decree that could be relied on here was a decree which ceased to exist owing to the withdrawal of the suit by the landlord and so the denial of the relationship of landlord and tenant by the tenant would not work any forfeiture suit was not given effect to by a decree of the Court PRAN LAL HALDAR v HEM CHANDRA SARKAR (1912)*

16 C W N 730

12 ———— Settled raiyat—Settlement proceedings tenant setting up rent free title in—Tenant entered as settled raiyat in Record of Rights as final

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

published—Suit to have rent as as ed—Limitation
Where more than 12 years before the landlord's suit for assessment of rent the tenant in the course of settlement proceedings set up a title to hold the land rent free but no actual decision of the question by the Settlement Officer was proved though the record of rights which was finally published within 12 years of the suit showed that the tenant was entered as a settled raiyat in the village Held that it was open to the landlord to rely upon the entry in the record of rights as a tacit recognition of his right to have rent assessed at any rate within 12 years of the date of final publication and the suit therefore was not barred by limitation Saharaja v. Sreendra Kishore Manikya Bahadur v. Purna 15 C L J 303 s c 16 C N 1 931 distinguished Amal Cazi v. Birendra Kishore Manikya Bahadur (1912)

16 C W N 929

13 ——— Assessment of rent—A suit for assessment of rent brought more than 12 years after an adverse title had been set up is barred by limitation Birendra Kishore Manikya Bahadur v. Purna (1912)

I L R 39 Calc 453

16 C W N 931

14 ——— Fixed rate tenants—Liability—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 43 Held that the liability of joint holders of a fixed rate tenancy of payment of rent is joint and several and not joint only. The failure therefore of the plaintiff in a suit for rent against several fixed rate tenants jointly to bring upon the record the representatives of a deceased defendant is no bar to the continuance of the suit against the remaining defendants. Joy Gobind Laha v. Monmotha Nath Banerji 1 I P 33 Calc 530 followed Muhammad Askar v. Radha Ram Singh I L R 22 All 307 referred to Abdul Aziz v. Basdeo Singh (1912)

I L R 34 All 604

15 ——— Denial of landlord's title—Landlord if entitled to rent for use and occupation where no such alternative claim is made in the plaint In a suit for rent where no alternative claim is made for compensation for use and occupation no rent can be decreed on that footing. Where in a suit for rent the defendant denied the landlord's title and the plaintiff failed to prove an alleged settlement with him and no alternative claim was made in the plaint for compensation for use and occupation Held that the landlord was not entitled to compensation for use and occupation Lukhee Kant Doss v. Sumetooooda Luskar 13 B L R 243 Sreendra Varan v. Bhai Lal I L R 22 Calc 752 Rachha Singh v. Upendra Chandra I L R 27 Calc 239 and Gobinda Sundar v. Srikrishna 10 C L J 538 followed Gurnomjer v. Dino Nath I L R 9 Calc 908 and Am Sirdar v. Pamlol I L R 25 Calc 374 discussed Eshen Chandra Singh v. Shama Charn Bhatta II Moo I A 7 20 referred to Bhukhi Hoer v. Ram Khelwaz Peshad (1912)

17 C W N 311

III ——— Ex parte decrees for it operates as res judicata—Notice under s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1835) of bars suit for rent An ex parte decree in a suit for rent operates as res judicata upon the question of relation of landlord and tenant Bir Chander

LANDLORD AND TENANT—*contd*RENT—contd

v. Harish Chander I L R 3 Calc 833 referred to Vadhu Sudan v. Brae I L R 16 Calc 300 discussed and distinguished. Where a suit was decided in the presence of the defendant's pleader Held that the decree could not be called an ex parte one merely because the defendant did not adduce evidence or submit any argument at the trial. Held also that the ex parte decree did not lose its conclusive character because it was not executed. The relation of landlord and tenant being once established the mere fact of non payment of rent is not sufficient to show that the relationship has ceased. If a landlord elects to treat the defendant as a tenant the mere fact of his having served a notice on him under s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not bar a suit for rent Raj Kumar Roy Chowdhury v. Alimuddi (1912)

17 C W N 627

17 ——— Agreement to deliver agricultural produce—Over and above cash rent—Gess—Agreement opposed to public policy Certain tenants holding under a registered gabuhai agreed therein to deliver to their landlord over and above the sum specified as a money rent certain agricultural produce and further to supply the landlord with a cart and bullocks when necessary and in default the landlord might claim the cash value of the said dues along with rent. Held on suit by the landlord to recover the cash equivalent of such dues for several years that the covenant in question was for various reasons unenforceable. Abdul Hai v. Nathua 1 All L J 537 Sadanand Pandey Ali Jan I L R 32 All 193 and Sheoambar Ahir v. The Collector of Azamgarh I L R 34 All 353 referred to Sis Pamt v. Asghar Ali (1912)

I L R 35 All 19

See also U P Land Revenue Act 1901 s 56

I L R 38 All 288

18 ——— Patni lease—Diluvion caused by tidal river—Fight to abatement of rent under patni lease—Diluviated land part of taluk reforming in situ—Claim by zamindars and patnidar—Bengal Act VIII of 1869 s 19—Limitation by adverse possession—Failure to show relinquishment of submerged land by patnidar The appellants were owner of a zamindari within which was a patni taluk created in 1837 by one of the predecessors in title of the appellants. This taluk was owned by the first respondent as patnidar and a strong tidal river flowed close to the boundaries of the taluk. The patni lease covenanted that if the land be found to be more in measurement by tal prevalent according to the custom of the pargana I shall separately pay the rent thereof at this rate if it be found to be less I shall get remission therefor. In 1843 the appellants obtained a decree in the Revenue Court for increased rent on the ground that additional land was found on measurement to be in the patnidars possession. In 1859 part of the taluk having been washed away by the river the respondent obtained a proportionate abatement of the rent. Subsequently the land so diluviated reformed in situ whereupon both parties claimed it and each party attempted to exercise rights of ownership as evidence of adverse possession against the other but it was found that neither party had proved sufficient adverse possession to give him a title. In 1906 the appellants sued for a declaration of their title to khas possession of the land reformed on the ground that it was part of their zamindari or in the alternative were entitled to receive a proper rent for it. The respondents pleaded that the land was an accretion to their taluk and that the appellants were only entitled to rent and not to khas possession. Held that the High Court whilst rightly holding that the land reformed did not come within the provisions of s 4 of Regulation XI of 1825 and that it could not be claimed by either party as an accretion to his lands had laid too much stress on the terms of the lease and the evidence of intention deducible from the proceedings in respect of additional rent and abatement of rent. There was nothing to show that by claiming or accepting remission of rent in respect of land washed away from time to time by the action of the river the respondent abandoned or agreed to abandon his rights to such land on its reformation in situ. The alluviated land formed part of a permanent heritable and transferable tenure and until it could be established that the holder of the tenure had abandoned his right to the submerged land it remained intact. Hennah Dutt v Ashgar Sindr I L R 4 Cal 894 discredited from Maharaj v Rampat Singh I L R 18 All 230 followed. ARUN CHANDRA SINGH v RAMJI KUMAR (1913) I L R 41 Cal 683

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdRENT—contd

19 ——— Execution of decree for rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 65 66 148(h)—Bengal Regulation (VIII of 1819) ss 8 11 13 23 24 25 () and (4)—Right to bring tenure to sale in execution of decree for arrears of rent—Assignees of decree. A zamindar having parted with all his interest in the zamindari brought a suit for arrears of rent against the patni dar and obtained a decree. Further arrears became due to recover which the purchaser of the zamindari took proceedings under Bengal Regulation VIII of 1819 (relating to patni tenures) and the darpatindar deposited the amount of the arrears under s 13 of the Regulation and was put into possession of the patni tenure. In a suit brought by him for a declaration that he had a first charge on the patni for the sum deposited by him and for an injunction to restrain the defendants (persons to whom the ex zamindar had assigned amongst other property the decree for arrears of rent) from executing the decree Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the decree was not one for rent within the meaning of s 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act ss 65 and 66 taken together cover practically the remedies provided by law for the landlord to recover arrears of rent. One section is the exact corollary of the other. The right to proceed to sale in one case in the other to eject is dependent on the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant at the time when the remedy provided by law is sought to be enforced. By s 148(h) of the Act the right to apply for the execution of a decree for arrears of rent was attached to the status of decree holder qua landlord. The prohibition contained in that section is referred to decrees obtained by the landlord under s 65 and the right to bring the tenure to sale exists only so long as the relationship of landlord and tenant exists and appertains exclusively to the landlord. A person therefore to whom rents are due and who obtains a decree for them after he has parted with the property in which the tenancy is situate has no such right. Akshra Pal Singh v Kartarthamon Dassi, I L R 35 Cal 566 distinguished. Held also that the plaintiff by his deposit of the arrears for which the patni tenure was advertised for sale at the instance of the purchaser of the zamindari, acquired the special lien expressly created by Regulation VIII of 1819 arising not under any implication of law but under the express directions and declarations contained in ss 8 11 13 and 13 subs (2) of the Regulation, and the Bengal Tenancy Act is declared by s 19 of that Act not to affect any enactment relating to patni tenures so far as it relates to those tenures. FORDS v MAHARAJ BAHAI L R SINGH (1914) I L R 41 Cal 926

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdRENT—contd

20 ——— Abatement of Rent—Onus—Tenant deprived of a portion of land by form of injunction erroneously decreed in landlord's suit to restrain encroachment by tenant on khas lands—Agreement to take reduced rent not registered if admissible—Want of consideration. The receipt by the landlord of a reduced rent for some years in the absence of reliable and admissible evidence to prove such an agreement was held to be consistent with the reduction having been a mere voluntary and temporary abatement. Where after a permanent lease had been executed the landlord sued the tenant for alleged wrongful entry upon his khas land by the tenant and prayed for an injunction to restrain the tenant from committing such trespass but the Court in stead of granting the injunction as prayed decreed that the tenant be restrained from dealing with property lying outside the demised mouzah as delineated in the map prepared by the Civil Court Amin and the tenant preferred no appeal against the decree. Held that it was not intended by that decree to reduce the area of the land which the tenant was entitled to deal with under his lease and in a suit for arrears of rent he could not claim an abatement of the rent if in fact the injunction which was granted in wide terms than were called for had that effect as he did not avail himself of his remedy by way of appeal and submitted to the decree. Where the tenant tendered a reduced amount of rent and interest on the plea that owing to his having not been given possession of the entire area demised he was entitled to an abatement of rent but no ground was made out by the tenant for such abatement the tender was not a good tender. It is for the tenant to make out a case if he has one for an abatement of the fixed rent. DURG PRASAD SINGH v RAJENDRA NARAYAN BACCHI (1913) IN C W N 66

21 ——— Eviction by title paramount—If good defence to rent suit—Tenant induced to attorn to superior landlord by offer of reduced rent. Eviction by title paramount would be a good defence to a suit for rent if the party evicted having a good title the tenant quitted against his will. The same result would follow where the party seeking to evict should claim the rent and the tenant on such notice attorn to him. Hill v Saunders 4 B & C 529 followed. This doctrine of quasi eviction should apply in this country but it does not apply to a case where the tenant is induced to attorn to the superior landlord by an offer to accept reduced rent. NOORJAN SARDAR v BIMOJA SUNBARI GUPTA (1902)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdRENT—contd

22. — Abatement of Rent—Consuetudine of labuliyat In a pulni labuliyat there was the following provision for abatement of rent. If you obtain remission in the sudder jama from the Government in respect of lands taken up for culverts embankments or roads I shall also get from you reduction of jama on account of all the said remissions in the jama of this pulni. Held on a construction of the agreement that the pulnidar was to get the same amount of remission which the zamindar would get in the Government revenue. Held also that the words culverts embankments or roads in the agreement were illustrative and not exhaustive. HIRENDRA NATH DUTY v. HARI MOHAN CHOSH (1914) 18 C W N 860

23. — Adjustment of account—Between landlord and tenant—Hasl bali—Portion of amount due on adjustment left in deposit with tenant for payment to superior landlord—Such amount if continues to be rent and if recoverable as such—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 115 The plaintiff was the landlord and the defendant the tenant. There was an adjustment of accounts between them as regards rent in 1312 F S the adjustment being embodied in a wasl bali; and the defendant was found liable to pay as certain amount out of which Rs 136.2 was left with the defendant as a deposit for payment to the superior landlord on account of rent payable by the plaintiff to the latter and the balance was stated as payable to the plaintiff. The defendant did not make the payment to the superior landlord who sued the plaintiff and obtained a decree against him for the amount due from him. The plaintiff thereupon sued the defendant to recover the rent for the years 1313 to 1315 and the amount which he had to pay to the superior landlord with interest. Held that the wasl bali showing that the amount which was to be paid to the superior landlord was left in deposit with the defendant it must be held that there was a discharge for this portion of the rent. The assignee was no party to the contract but if as the contract showed the amount was left in deposit with the defendant for payment to a third party and it amounted to a discharge so far as that portion of the rent was concerned, the amount so kept in deposit ceased to be rent and recoverable as such and Art 115 of the Limitation Act was applicable to the case. LUNGU MISSIN v. DEOKI KUAN (1913) 19 C W N 174

24. — Tenant never put in possession of entirety of demised land—Acquiescence—Payment of full rent—Suit for rent—Plea of suspension of rent if sustainable—Abatement—Apportionment Where a tenant who had not been put in actual possession of a portion of the demised land nevertheless went on paying the full rent agreed to in the lease in a suit for recovery of arrears of rent by the landlord. Held that the tenant cannot in such circumstances claim suspension of rent but the rent payable to the landlord was liable to abatement. ANNADA PRASAD v. MAHURANATH 13 C W N 707 followed SARADA PRASAD BHATTACHARJEE v. RAI MOYMATRA NATH MITTER (1914) 19 C W N 870

25. — Non-occupancy rayat—Lease for a term—Suspension of portion of rent during the term—Stipulation for payment of rent at full rate after expiry of term—Agreement if invalid—Acceptance of rent at reduced rate after expiry of the term if deprives landlord of his right to claim rent at the stipulated rate—Waiver—Intention of parties. Where in a labuliyat for a term executed by a non occupancy rayat a certain rent was settled out of which a portion was kept in suspension and the balance was stated to be the rent payable for the term and it was further stipulated that if after expiry of the term of rayat continued in occupation without taking a fresh settlement he would be liable to pay rent at the full rate and after the expiry of the term the rayat remained in occupation without taking a fresh settlement and rent was then realised from the tenant at the reduced rate for a few years and there upon the landlord sued for rent at the full rate. Held that the agreement did not contravene the provisions relating to non occupancy rayats and was not invalid. Held also that the landlord by accepting rent at the reduced rate was not deprived of his right to claim rent at the rate stipulated in the labuliyat and was entitled to receive rent at the full rate. DURGAPRASAD SINGH v. RAJENDRA VARAYAN BAGCHI 1 L R 41 Calc 493 s s 18 C W N 66 and BAJANATH PRASAD v. RAGHUNATH PAI 16 C W N 490 followed. Held further that evidence that a once the execution of the labuliyat the tenant paid rent at a lower rate than that stated in the labuliyat was admissible to shew the intention of the parties that the labuliyat was not intended to be ended upon or that there had been a waiver of the terms of the lease. RENU MADHAB GORANI v. LALMOJI DAS 18 C W N 242 followed. KAILASH CHANDRA SARA v. DARBARIA SHEIKH (1913) 20 C W N 347

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdRENT—contd

25. — Suit for Rent calculated on area under cultivation—On the basis of labuliyat by one co sharer only making the other co sharer a defendant if maintainable—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 5^o 188 The plaintiffs as fractional owners sued to recover rent on a labuliyat making their co sharer who refused to join them a pro forma defendant. The land was at the time of letting waste and jungle and was not measured but a certain area was stated by guess and it was provided that the tenants would pay rent at a fixed rate per bigha when the lands would be reclaimed or the surrounding lands brought under cultivation. Held that although as a general rule all to contractees ought to be joined as plaintiffs a suit by one would not be bad if the others were joined as defendants and if there was good reason for not joining them as plaintiffs and one of several joint contractees may sue to enforce his share of the obligation if the other co contractees are joined as defendants. That the present suit was not one for additional rent for extra land within the meaning of s 12 Bengal Tenancy Act and was maintainable by the plaintiffs upon the labuliyat under the general law and the provisions of s 188 are not applicable to the suit. BHOJAI v. AMIBUDDIY (1916) 21 C W N 371

27. — Presumption of permanency of rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) as amended by Bengal Acts of 1898 and I of 1903 ss 31A 50 (2) 113 and 115—Effect of ss 31 and 113 of the Bengal Tenancy Act—Prevailing rate—Ground for enhancement of rent Where a Record, of Rights has been finally published in view of s 115 of the Bengal Tenancy Act the presumption under s 60 (2) of the Act does not arise where the tenants have been recorded as occupancy riyats and not riyats holding at fixed rents Radda Kishore Maniyya v Umed Ali 12 C B N 905 not followed Prithickand Lall Choudhry v Nasarat Ali 1 L R 37 Cal 30 13 C B N 1149 relied upon By enacting s 71 of the Bengal Tenancy Act the Legislature never intended to alter the pre-existing law in districts to which that section has no application Where each tenant holds at a different rate there is no prevailing rate Even on the ground of prevailing rate there can be no enhancement of rent for 10 years under s 113 of the Bengal Tenancy Act where rent has been settled under Chap V of the Act HANNAH PERSHAD BASPATI v AJUB MIAH (1913)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdRFNT—contd

I L R 45 Cal 830

28 ——— Conditions for rendering services when called upon—Denial of title and refusal to render services—Services a subsidiary consideration and of a ceremonial nature—Forfeiture and resumption right The suit which gave rise to this appeal was brought in 1906 by the appellant the Maharaja of Jeypore against the husband of the respondent (now deceased and represented by his widow) for the possession and arrears of rent of a pargana called Baramcuttak on the allegation that it was part of the appellant's zamindari and had been held by the predecessors in title of the defendant under grants or leases on conditions of payment of khatuladi or rent and of rendering services to the Maharaja The latest was a patta dated 1st August 1877 under which the possession of the defendant's father had been renewed by the then Maharaja on payment of an annual khatuladi of Rs 15,000 and the rendering of services stated in the plaint as just as your father used to attend at Dasara for service so now you should also present your self with 500 palika for service whenever directed to do so In 1903 when directed to render such services the defendant had not so attended the Dasara darbar nor had he paid the proper amount of rent for that year or for 1901 but had asserted that the pargana was not held as a service tenure and had set up a title in himself to the pargana as a nandpendant zamindari and subject only to a payment of Rs 2,700 to the Maharaja which sum he then paid as rent but denied his liability as a tenure holder under the appellant He wrote a letter to the appellant dated 26th November 1901 which was alleged to be a contumacious refusal to render services and to amount to a denial of the appellant's title causing forfeiture of his tenants holding which the appellant claimed to be entitled to resume Held that denial of title in the suit would not work a forfeiture of which advantage could be taken in that suit because the forfeiture must have accrued before the suit was instituted and there was no denial by matter of record previous to the institution of the suit Nizamuddin v Mamlookuddin 1 L R 28 Cal 135 and Pranmatha Shaha v Madhu Khatu 1 L R 13 Cal 36 referred to Held also that here there was no such renunciation by the tenant of his character as such as to work a forfeiture Held further that in this case the rent received was the principal matter and the rest was subsidiary and that under the circumstances the refusal to render the services contracted for did not operate to create a forfeiture or give occasion for resumption MAHARAJA OF JEYPORE v RUMMIE PATTANABHAI (1919)

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contdRFNT—contd

I L R 42 Mad 589

29 ——— Letting for cultivation of dry land at fixed rate—Improved cultivation thereafter effected solely at tenant's expense—Payment of higher rate of rent for a series of years—Presumption of consideration for and contract for payment of higher rate from such payment Where a tenant to whom dry lands were let for cultivation at a fixed rate and who cultivated them for a certain time dug wells on the land at his own expense and thereafter raised garden crops for which he paid for a long number of years at rates higher than the dry rate Held by the full Bench (LYING and GESHAGINI AYYAN JJ dissenting) that a Court can presume a contract to pay the higher rate and a legal origin and consideration therefor from such long continued payment of higher rate if that be the only evidence in the case to prove the rate payable but that if there be other evidence a Court cannot make any such presumption from such payment alone Per LYING and GESHAGINI AYYAN JJ—With reference to this case the reason and origin of the payment of higher rate are known to be due to the raising of better crops by the aid of tenants' wells to which the landlord contributed nothing there is no consideration moving from the landlord and no scope for raising any presumption of a legal origin for the contract from the mere fact of a long course of payment of the higher rate PERAKATUPPA MUR KAYDAN v PAJAJ RAJESWARI SETHUPATHI (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 475

30 ——— Stipulation in kabulyat as to payment of rent in kind Where a tenant executed a kabulyat promising to pay as rent Rs 4 in cash and 91 aris as the landlord's share of produce and it was stipulated that on the tenants failure to pay the said rent and share of paddy the landlord would be competent to realise the said rent and Rs 36 as price of the paddy Held that on the tenant making default in paying the landlord's share of paddy the latter was not entitled to recover the market value paddy at the time but only the fixed amount of Rs 30 GURUDAS SEV v GOBINDO CHANDRA SIVIA

24 C W N 88

31 ——— Permanent Tenure rent—Reclamation lease providing for progressive increase of rent up to a limit—Further enhancement if may be made—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s 17—Lease not registered but possession given—Entry subsequently made of terms in landlord's book if admissible When a tenure is found to be permanent heritable and transferable there is a presumption in favour of the tenant that the rent is fixed and the onus is on the landlord to show that it is otherwise Where the contract in respect of a reclamation lease of 1291 B was that the tenure should not be liable to rent for the first four years after which it was to carry rent on a progressive scale until 1298 when it reached 17 annas per bigha and there was no reference to further enhancement by operation of law Held—That the clear inference from these facts was that the maximum rent reached in 1298 was the fixed rent

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

RENT—contd

of the tenure so long as it is held. THE PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT CO. v. SREWATI KATIAIAN DEVI 24 C W N 369

35 See also against redemption of lease and occupation where the tenant is a tenant. Where in a suit by a landlord for damages for use and occupation of land the defendant claimed to be a tenant and the plaintiff admitted that he was a permissive occupant held that the relationship between the parties was indistinguishable from the relationship of landlord and tenant and that the suit was therefore one for rent and was not cognizable by a Small Cause Court. MAHARAO RAO v. MAHARAJA KESHO PRASAD SINGH BAHADUR 2 Pat L J 97

36 Suit for rent—plaintiff in possession under revenue title—sued for a decree which the plaintiff would recover from tenants. Where the plaintiff's purchase of an equal share of an estate was subsequently set aside on appeal held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover rent from the tenants so long as he remained in possession until the original proprietors succeeded in recovering possession of the equal share. MUSHTI ABDER RAZZAQ RAO BAHADUR RAJWATHI COZYKA 2 Pat L J 383

TITLE

S LANDLORD AND TENANT (LEASE) (TRANSFER)

Fidopel—Tenant admitted into possession if may deny landlord's title and set up a different title derived from stranger. A tenant who has been let into possession cannot deny his landlord's title however defective it may be so long as he has not openly restored possession by surrender to his landlord. BILAS KUTWAR v. DESRAJ PANDIT SINGH (1914) 1 L R 37 All 557 19 C W N 1207

Onus of proof—Zerai See also of proving disputed land—has land other than zerai—Tenure or holding—has to be proved to the satisfaction of the court. See also of land outside teccu of adverser to landlord. The owner of a teccu is entitled to recover possession of lands within it unless the defendants whom he sues can prove a subordinate interest that derogates from his title. The fact that he has failed to prove certain specific titles which he in addition asserted in the disputed lands does not deprive him of this initial presumption in his favour. The onus which is on the defendants must be discharged by them. The fact that the defendants were rayats holding other lands of the village would make them settled rayats of the disputed lands if they proved that these lands were held by them as rayats but not if they fail to prove this. Rajendra Kuar v. Mohim Chand 3 C B A 76 did not apply to this case in which the defendants held a number of separate holdings and did not claim to hold the land in suit as part of any specific holding. Where a ticcadar of a lease of lands for exceeding 100 bighas in area to cultivate by sowing miligo or other crops either by means of klas cultivation or through tenant. Held that it was a tenure. A tenure holder does not become a rayat with respect to all land that comes into his direct possession because the lease is authorized him to cultivate the lands. A proprietor may hold other lands besides erat lands in klas possession and because he recovers possession of lands on the basis of the presumption arising from his proprietorship it does not follow that the land is erat nor does the fact that he fails to prove the land to be erat prevent him from claiming the land if the defendant fails to establish a subordinate interest in it. Where the proprietors having purchased certain holdings suffer them without any arrangement to be taken possession of by their ticcadars the ticcadars possession of such holdings does not become adverse to the proprietors. WARRERS v. HARIBHAR KOER (1914) 19 C W N 149

LANDLORD AND TENANT—contd

TITLE—contd

Denial of landlord's title when entails forfeiture—Power of Court to relieve forfeiture. In order that a denial of landlord's title should work a forfeiture of the tenancy three things are necessary: (a) the tenant must set up title either in himself or in a third party inconsistent with their mutual relationship; (b) the denial must be direct and unequivocal and not casual; and (c) it must be made to the knowledge of the landlord. A casual statement uncommunicated to the landlord made by a tenant in a sale deed executed by him in favour of a third party in respect of other properties to the effect that the executant is the owner of the properties leased does not amount to a disclaimer of the landlord's title. PER SETHURAM IYAN J. OBIER A disclaimer of the landlord's title effects a forfeiture even if the tenure be for a specific term and Courts have no power to relieve against it unless the disclaimer was occasioned by the fraud, mistake or accident of the landlord and the tenant was neither careless nor negligent. KEVAICOOTI v. MUHAMMED (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad 829

Sarkhat—executed by tenant in favour of a person with an imperfect title—Notice of ejectment—Tenant not competent to deny the title of person to whom he had given the sarkhat. In execution of a decree against one of two joint owners of a house the decree holder caused the entire house to be sold. Whilst the house was under attachment the other joint owner filed his suit for partition and obtained a preliminary decree but the sale took place before this decree was made final. One M P who was a tenant of both the original owners then executed a sarkhat or acknowledgment of his tenancy in favour of the auction purchaser admitting that he was a tenant of the auction purchaser and liable to ejectment by him under the conditions stated therein. Held that it was not open to M P to challenge the auction purchaser's right to eject him according to the terms of the sarkhat and to set up the jus tertii of the co-owners. Lal Mohamed v. Kallaus 1 L P 11 Cal 519 dismissed. MATHURA PRASAD v. COOKL PHASAI (1919) 1 L R 41 All 654

Denial of landlord's title—Forfeiture of tenancy—Does not that landlord's title was a binding—Adverser possession—Kudima ten nature of—Part of the service—Presumption of lands—Right to eject or denial of title. A denial by the tenant of his landlord's title must in order to work a forfeiture of the tenancy be brought home to the knowledge of the landlord and it must be unequivocal and clear. The

LAND REGISTRATION ACT (BENG VII OF 1876)

ss 42 53 85—

See 1 ALSE EVIDENCE

I L R 38 Calc 368

s 78—Presumed clausidari chakran land—Effect of transfer to a son—Non registration under the Land Registration Act of bar to suit for rent—Village Chaudidars Act (Beng I of 1870) s 51 Where the plaintiff remitted claimed rent for land which was originally chaudi dari chakran and was upon resumption settled with his predecessor in interest and the defendant resisted the claim on the ground that the name of the plaintiff was not registered in the book s of the Collector under s 78 of the Land Registration Act of 1876 Held that under s 51 of the Village Chaudidars Act of 1870 the effect of transfer of resumed chakran lands to the zemindar was not to impart to such land the character of an estate for all purposes and s 78 of the Land Registration Act was no bar to the plaintiff's suit TINKARI BIKERJEE v SATYA NARANJAN CHAKRABARTY (1913) 18 C W N 158

Suit for rent—Dismissal for non registration of plaintiffs names under the Act—Registration pending appeal effect of—Costs Where a suit failed by reason of non registration of the plaintiffs names under Act VII of 1876 s 78 but registration was obtained during the pendency of the plaintiffs appeal the High Court on second appeal directed the case to be disposed of by the Trial Court on the merits it appearing that no portion of the claim was barred on the day when the land registration was really taken The plaintiffs were directed to pay the costs of the defendants of the original trial and were not allowed costs of either Court of Appeal CHULLAN SINGH v MADRO SINGH (1910) 19 C W N 794

ss 78 81—

See ISARADAR

I L R 48 Calc 1078

See LAND REGISTRATION

I L R 38 Calc 512

LAND REVENUE

assignment for the office of Kul karni—

See PENSIONS ACT (VIII OF 1871)

s 4 I L E 42 Bom 257

LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879)

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE

LAND TENURE IN BENGAL

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT

Enhancement of Rent—Extermination of Progressive Rent—Interference—Penguin Tenancy Act (VIII of 188) s 30 When the agreement creating a permanent tenure provides that for a certain number of years the land shall be held rent free and that for a certain number of years subsequently a progressively increasing rent be paid the inference is that the maximum rent so provided was to remain the fixed rent and was not to be liable to enhancement LOUT CHUNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY v KATYANI DEBI (1919) L E 46 I A 279

LAND TENURE IN BENGAL—contd

Sarlatankars

Khurda—Absence of heritable or transferable Rights—Inability to disclaim for misconduct Sarlatankars in Khurda have no heritable or transferable right in their office or in the Sarlatankari jagir lands They are liable to dismissal for misconduct and upon dismissal all their rights in the jagir lands Saddinanda Maity v Noverattan Maity 3 I L J 260 discussed LARINA MADDA DAS GOYAL v KRISHNENDU ROY (1918) I L E 46 Calc 378

L R 45 I A 248

Char acquired in 1833—Purpose of letting—Tenure holder—No accrued right as Rayat—Penguin Tenancy Act (VIII of 188) s 19 The appellant's predecessors in 1833 acquired from the Government extensive Char lands in Bengal for the purpose of reclaiming them and then letting them at a profit to cultivators There was some evidence that on occasions prior to 185, the Board of Revenue and its subordinates had regarded the holding as rayati Held that the appellants were tenure holders within s 1 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 185 and that s 19 which saves occupant's rights accrued to rayats prior to the Act did not apply as neither the appellants nor their predecessors had held a rayati interest in the land RAJANI KANYA CHOW v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) L R 45 I A 190

LAND TENURE IN MADRAS

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT

Inam Grant—Kudraram—Absence of Presumption—Fetals—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908 Mad) s 3 sub s 2 (d) In determining whether an inam village is an estate within s 3 sub s (2) (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act 1908 there is no presumption of law that an inam grant even if it was made to a Brahmin did not include the Kudraram Each case must be determined upon the terms of the grant and all the circumstances so far as they can be ascertained In 1733 in confirmation of a grant in 1748 which was not in evidence a village to ether with gardens holy shrines wells and tanks was granted as a saria agharam to be cultivated and enjoyed by the grantees hereditarily the grantees was referred to in a document of 1788 as being resident in the place The documents in evidence including inam registers extending to 1865 and the subsequent dealings with the property were inconsistent with any person other than the inamdars having rights of permanent occupancy In 1907 the inamdar let to tenants lands which at the time of the grant had been waste lands of the village and upon the terms expiring in 1903 sued to eject them Held that the lands in suit were not an estate within the Madras Estates Land Act 1903 and that the appellant could eject the tenants by suits in the Civil Courts Suryanarayana v Polanna L P 45 I A 209 followed UPADRASHTA VENKATA SA THELU v DIVI SEETHARAMUDU (1910) L P 46 I A 123

Occupancy Right—Permanently Settled Estate—Partial substitution of other land—Estate—Madras Estates Land Act (Mad Act I of 1903) s 3 6 7 By s 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act 1903 an estate for the purpose of that Act includes any permanently settled estate or temporarily settled zamindari. Land forming part of a permanently settled estate in Madras was taken by the Government under the Land Acquisition Act 1880 and the revenue attributed to it ascertained. The Zamindar petitioned that in case of a corresponding reduction being made in the revenue for the estate he should receive as compensation other land which he already held under a Government ryoti patta. That land accordingly was transferred to him in 1893. In 1901 he let it to tenants who upon the terms expiring after the Act of 1903 came into force refused to give up possession. Held that the land so transferred was not part of an estate within the Act and that a suit to eject the tenants could be maintained in a Civil Court. ZAMINDAR OF SANIVARA PIPET v. ZAMINDAR OF SOUTH VALLUR (1918)

LAND TENURE IN MADRAS—con 1

I L R 46 I A 38

LANDS CLAUSES CONSOLIDATION ACT (8 & 11 VICT C 18)

ss 63 68—

See RECOUPMENT

I L R 45 Cal 348

LAPSE TO MONASTERY

custom of—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

14 C W N 191

LARCENY

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 379 I L R 34 All 89

LATHI PLAY

See PENAL CODE s 121A

16 C W N 1105

association for seditions—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

I L R 38 Cal 559

16 C W N 1105

LAW

in part Repugnant—

See GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL

I L R 1 Lah 326

question of—Decision that there is no evidence to support finding. A decision that there is no evidence to support a finding is a decision of law. HARENDRA LAL POY CHOWDHURI v. HARI DAST DEBI (1914)

18 C W N 817

LAWFUL APPREHENSION

resistance to—

See RESCUE FROM LAWFUL CUSTODY

I L R 33 Cal 1161

LEADING QUESTIONS

See CHARGE I L R 42 Cal 957

See JURY I L R 37 Cal 467

LEASE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 28 Bom 53

See BENIADI PATTI 21st L J 180

LEASE—cont 1

See BOMBAY PENT ACT 1918

ss 3 9 12 I L R 45 Bom 535

See BISTER LAND

I L R 41 Cal 164

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O II R 2

I L R 38 Bom 444

See CONTRACT I L R 46 Cal 771

See CUSTOMARY LAW OF SOUTH KANARA

I L R 41 Mad 118

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879) s 3 CL (1) AND s 10A

I L R 40 Bom 397

See FSTOFFEL I L R 39 Cal 513

See HABULIAT

I L R 39 Cal 1010

See KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1880) ss 9 10

I L R 35 Bom 709

See LAMBARDAR AND CO SHAREP

I L F 33 All 17

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 45 Bom 725

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (LEASE)

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM V OF 1879) s 3 (19)

I L R 35 Bom 463

See LEASEHOLD PROPERTY

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I ARTS 92 93 I L R 40 Bom 22

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 42 CL (a) AND (b) AND 2

I L R 38 Mad 524

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MADRAS I OF 1900) s 19

I L R 40 Mad 603

See MINERAL RIGHTS

I L R 38 Cal 845

See MINOR

3 Pat L J 518

See MINING LEASE

See MOKARARI LEASE

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 371

See MUGGERY LEASE

See OCCUPANCY FAIZAT

I L R 40 All 228

See PERMANENT LEASE

See REGISTRATION LEASE

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908) s 17

I L R 41 Bom 458

I L R 45 Bom 8

See PENT I L F 41 Cal 347

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 37 Bom 224

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1879) s 30 CL (1) ART 35 CL (a) 36 CL (iii)

I L R 37 Bom

LEASE—contd

See STATE DUTY

I L R 37 Cal 629

I L R 46 Cal 804

See SURVEYS AND BOUNDARIES ACT s 12

I L P 34 Mad 108

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1899)—

s 10 I L R 38 Mad 867

s 103 14 C W N 73

s 107 I L R 28 Bom 500

s 103 10 I L R 38 All 178

s 103 (j) I L R 37 All 144

— Agreement to not admissible if unregistered—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 49
26 C W N 329

— agreement to renew—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I L P 40 Cal 565

— by Collector—

See EMBANKMENT
I L R 46 Cal 825

— by Mahomedan co heirs—

See TENANTS IN COMMON
I L R 39 Mad 1049

— by wife, repudiation of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1892) s 10 I L R 38 Mad 867

— construction of—

See RESCRIPTION
I L R 39 Bom 279

— determination of—

See EJECTMENT I L R 45 Cal 469

— determined by one lessor—

See TENANTS IN COMMON
I L R 39 Mad 1049

— document varying terms of—

See REGISTRATION
I L R 39 Cal 284

— Ejectment of Tenant in arrear with rent—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 1
I L R 39 Lah 300

— for a term—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE
I L P 39 Mad 1042

— for a term of years construction of—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DEED
I L R 40 Bom 74

— forfeiture of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) O III P 10
I L R 39 Bom 568

See EJECTMENT I L R 45 Cal 469

— From future date—

See REGISTRATION
I L R 45 Bom 8LEASE—contd

— Intention to determine—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1892) s 111 cl (i)

I L R 42 Bom 195

— of mutt properties—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOWMENT
I L R 40 Mad 709

— of palmyra juice—

See REGISTRATION ACT (III of 1877) s 17 (1) FC I L R 38 Mad 893

— registration of—

See TENANCY AT WILL
I L R 44 Cal 214

— repudiation of—

See REGISTRATION ACT (III of 1877) SCH II ART 91 I L R 38 Mad 321

— surrender of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 46 Cal 552

— Taraga Lease for reclamation—

See MALABAR LAW
I L R 44 Mad 509

— Unregistered lease for six months—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 s 4 I L R 44 Mad 55

— variation in the terms of—

See REGISTRATION
I L R 39 Cal 284

1 ————— Solehnama—Unregistered Solehnama admissible in evidence of—Registration Act (III of 1877) s 17 cl (d) and (3) A solehnama by which no immediate interest in immovable property is created and whereby there has been no demise does not amount to a lease within the meaning of clause (d) of s 17 of the Registration Act and is merely an agreement to create a lease on a future day. Such a document falls within clause (f) of s 17 of the Indian Registration Act and is admissible in evidence without registration. PANCHANAN HOSEI CHANDI CHAPAN MISRA (1910) I L R 37 Cal 808

2 ————— Multifarious document—One lease with several parties concurring to it—Stamp Act (II of 1899) ss 5 23 (3) 35 57 (1) The concurrence of several parties to one and the same lease does not make it a multifarious document within the meaning of s 5 of the Stamp Act. The stamp duty on such a lease is the same as on a conveyance for a consideration equal to the amount or value of the fine or premium for which the lease is granted. In re FARISEA COLLEGES LTD (1910) I L R 37 Cal 629

3 ————— Letter containing all the elements of a lease whether admissible in evidence without registration—Payment of rent at a reduced rate on the basis of that letter effect of—Conflicting descriptions of the subject matter of a grant—Lessee not put in possession of specific area mentioned in the lease effect of—Mistake of fact—Abatement of rent In a suit for rent at a certain rate the lessee pleaded that by virtue of a letter addressed to him by the lessor the latter was entitled to get rent only at a reduced rate. The letter contained a definition of the reduced rental rented the area of the land demised under the

LEASE—cont'd

le see the nature of the interest granted by the lessor and the interest in which rents were payable. Held that the letter leasing a non-taxable interest in current which purported to limit in future a reduced interest of the value of Pipe No one hundred and upwards in immovable projects was no admissible evidence without being referred to in Schreyer v. Dwyer & Keady, 107 N.H.R. 1 L.P. 101 at 1910 referred to. Held also that the fact that rent for some years had been received at the reduced rate did not bind the lessee or accept rent at that rate in future in a similar case even if the letter had been treated as an agreement for reduction of rent it was not enforceable in law having been made without consideration. Where there are two conflicting descriptions of the subject matter of a grant, two conflicting parts of the deed describing it which are more certain and tall and the least likely to have been mistaken or to have been entered inadvertently must prevail if sufficiently identifies the subject matter. Vescom v. Pryor's Lessee 7 Wheaton U.S. 7 referred to. But where the two elements—the boundaries and the quantity—are equally certain and exactly defined or the boundaries are as precise and definite as the quantity, a specific exact and there is gross discrepancy between the quantity specified and the quantity found to be included within the defined boundaries preference should be given to that element of the description of the subject matter which is more consistent with the intention of the parties to be collected from the other parts of the deed illuminated by reference to the surrounding circumstances and the subsequent conduct of the parties. Lord's The Commr. over the City of Sydney 12 Moo P.C. 43 13 Erg. p. 991 Fiske v. Lining J.L. 115 Croghan v. Nelson 3 H. & C. 187 and Holmes v. Jesuit - Pitt 1911 referred to. Where a lease is taken of a specific quantity of land within definite boundaries both the lessor and the lessee being under a common mistake that such quantity exists within the boundaries while in fact it is much less than so valid contract and the parties are entitled to rescission thereof but the defendant has the option to affirm the contract and hold the lease for the lesser quantity with proportionate abatement of rent. Pagitt v. Marshall 28 Ch.D. 25; Harris v. Peppercorn 5 Eq. 1 and Gerrard v. Frankel 40 Beav. 160 referred to. DEBRA FRASER SINGH v. RAJENDRA NAIRIN BAOGHI (1909)

4 ————— Tarward—Lease by senior member alone—Validity of A lease by the senior member of a tarward alone is valid Karoth Amman Kutti v Perungottai Appu Nambiar I I P 29 Mad 22 explained and distinguished CHAKKANTY TITA CHAI KAN ABULLA v THAZHIN CHEER KOTHI (1916) I L R 34 Mad 245

5 ————— Oral agreement to lease—Petition of compromise—Hatte's estate is the the suit in which the petition of compromise was filed—Succo performance—Abuch By a petition of compromise which was filed in a previous suit between the parties concerning certain lands the plaintiffs undertook to recognize the defendant as their tenant in respect of lands not included in that suit and they further gave up their claim of claims for the recognition on the defendant agreeing to pay an additional sum to what was payable by the original tenant Upon a suit

LEASE—contd

brought in by the plaintiffs for recovery of arrears of rent on the basis of this compromise defence was that the petition of compromise was not admissible in evidence for want of registration. Held that although the petition of compromise in so far as it related to properties which were not the subject matter of the suit in which the decree was made was not operative to affect such properties it was admissible in evidence as indicating the existence of an oral agreement to grant a lease which was specifically enforceable and the position of the parties was the same as if a proper document had been executed and registered and that therefore the plaintiff was entitled to a decree. Birbhadra Path v Kalspataru Ponia 1 C L J 358 and Girdes Singh v Chandrikah Singh 1 L J 30 (Cal 1905) referred to. The principle of Wick v Lonsdale 1 Ch D 9 applied. Held further that the sum agreed to be paid by the defendant being in consideration of the land occupied by him and also in view of the remission of the arrears was not an avaricious. SARAT CHANDRA CHOSE v SHYAM CHAND SINGH POK (1912)

6 — — — Unexpired term of lease bequeathed to widow—Widow holding over on expiry of lease—Grant by Government to widow of property the subject of the lease—Nature of estate taken by widow—A lease of a village in Kumaon was granted by the Government in 1844 for a period of twenty years. The lessee died in 1859 having left his interest in the village (without clearly specifying what it amounted to) to his widow for life and after her to her daughter for life with a reversion in favour of a certain temple. The widow however continued in possession of the village down to 1871 when the Government granted her proprietary interest in it which she subsequently sold. His son sues for possession after the death of the widow and her daughter by a person claiming as reversioner to the original lessee that the estate which the widow acquired in 1871 as the grantee of the Government was her own personal estate and not merely an enlargement of the leasehold estate of her husband and that the plaintiff had consequently no right to succeed. F A J HISHORE DAS & I L R 36 ALL 237

JAINI SINGH

7. Maximum fixed - Rent if enhanceable beyond the purpose of reclamation to be effected by the lessees at their expense though the lessees also undertook to make a contribution thereto, and was to be held for the first four years without rent which was thereafter to be progressive till a maximum was reached and there was no provision for a further rise the reasonable inference to draw from these circumstances was that the parties intended that when the specified maximum was reached there would be no further increase.

8 Istemari mazarani — Meaning of the expression in geographical and circumstantial sense and its use of proper Meaning of words as derived from self or fact or law — Rule of propriety to a commoner does not per se confer either privilege by way of custom, or right of inheritance — Istemari in various parts noted absence of words indicative of heritability such as ba farandan naslan bad naslan or al aulad may indicate a perpetual grant if the other terms of the instrument the circumstances under which it was made or the subsequent conduct of the parties show such an intention with sufficient certainty. Clauses in a lease which impose a restraint on transfer or cutting down of fruit bearing or income yielding trees &c. &c. are not consistent with the theory of a perpetual lease. Clauses which throw the cost of improvement on the lessee indicate some measure of continuity but not necessarily perpetuity. A lease in favour of two persons points to the conclusion that though some measure of continuity was desired perpetuity was not intended. A substantial premium for a lease is one of the surest indications of a permanent grant. Tulshi Pershad Singh v Immarnan Singh I L R 12 Cal 117 I R 12 I A 200 analysed and followed. *Tulmarnan Sahu v Piboo Modnarain Singh (1818) S D A 722 10 I D (O 5) 532 Amerannan Bequm v Hetnarnan Singh (1853) S D A 618 The Government of Bengal v Nabab Jafur Hossein v Moo J I 167 Warburton Singh v Raja Mohendranarain Singh (1860) S D A 577 Raja Illanand Singh Bahadur v Thakur Munoranjun Singh I B I P 124 I R 51 P 101 181 Sht Pershad Singh v Kally Dasi Singh I L R 3 Cal 513 Bhasmoni Das v Raja Sht Pershad Singh I L R 3 Cal 664 L R 9 I A 33 Brm Pershad Keor v Dudhnath Roy I L R 27 Cal 156 I R 96 I A 216 Agni Bindu Upadhyay v Mohan Bikram Sht I I P 30 Cal 90 Varsingh Dyal Sahu v Ram Varain Singh I I R 30 Cal 933 and Choudhri Gridhari Singh v Maharaj Ram Narain Singh 10 C II A 1212 followed. *Munoranjun Singh v Rajah Lelanand Singh 3 II R 81 Telait Manoraj Singh v Raj Lelanand Singh 3 B L P 1 C 121 Rajah Lelanand Singh v Thakoor Munoranjun Singh 5 II P 101 Lalit Kowar v Roy Hari Krishna Singh 3 II P 1 C 226 12 II P 1 and Karunakar Vahni v Nalidhro Choudhry 3 B L P 602 14 II R 10 overruled. Watson v Mahesh Varain Roy 2 II R 16 referred to. The meaning of words in a document is a question of fact though the effect of words is a question of law. Chatenay v British India Marine Telegraph Company (1891) 1 Q B 79 followed. The rights of parties to a contract are to be judged by that law by which they may justly be presumed to have bound themselves. Lloyd v Guibert 6 B A S 100 122 E R 1131 and Abdul Azi Khan v Ippayamma Vakil I L R 27 Mad 131 L P 31 I A 1 followed. Where a lease is in favour of two persons and the lease would not terminate till the death of the survivor or of the two lessees no question of limitation can arise before the death of both the lessees. Quare. Whether the mode in which registration of a lease is effected is relevant to an enquiry as to the nature of the lease. Anisulla Yulla v Yur Mista I L R 7 Cal 190 Jagadhar Narain Prasad v Brown I L R 33 Cal 1133 and Indira Bibi v Jan Sarfar Ali I I P 35 Cal 81 Sarfar Kiani v Deoraj Kiani I L R 10 All 27 L R 15 I A 51 referred to. *RAM NARAI SINGH v CHOTI NAORUR PARKING ASSOCIATION (1915) I L R 43 Cal 332

LEASE—contd

9. Limitation—lease of Government land in writing registered—Possession of part not given from inception of lease—Suit for damages—Time from which limitation begins to run—Limitation Act (VI of 1877) Art 116—Failure to give possession whether a continuing breach—Equivocal or ambiguous acknowledgment whether a breach one under s 19 of the Limitation Act (VI of 1877)—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) applicability of to Crown grant. The plaintiff obtained in March 1896 from the defendant the Collector of Coimbatore district acting as Agent to the Government a lease in writing registered for five years of a piece of land whose probable extent was described as "77 acres. The plaintiff was given possession of only 68 acres and an acre fully demanded possession of the rest in July 1896. After some correspondence the Tahsildar in 1895 communicated to the plaintiff the Collector's order that pending the disposal of the dispute the collection of one third of the lusi (rent) should be stopped and the remaining sum collected. The plaintiff brought this suit in 1903 for damages for non delivery of possession of 109 acres. Held (a) that the cause of action for breach of the covenant to give possession occurred at the inception of the lease i.e. in March 1896 and that as more than six years had elapsed from that date the suit was barred under Art 116 of the Limitation Act and (b) that breach of a covenant to give possession is not a continuing breach and such a covenant is not part of a covenant for quiet enjoyment which is a continuing covenant. Held further that the Tahsildar's communication which was as consistent with a temporary suspension or an ex gratia remission of a claim for rent as with an acknowledgment of liability was not such an unequivocal acknowledgment as is required by s 19 of the Limitation Act. Held also that though the Transfer of Property Act is not applicable to Crown grants like the one in question the principle of its provision as to leases e.g. 108 etc. is applicable to them. Quare. Whether the Tahsildar or Collector had authority to acknowledge. Per SRIYAS AYAN GAR J—The plaintiff was barred even if limitation be reckoned from July 1896 when he demanded and failed to obtain possession from the Government. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v YERKATAYIA (1915) I L R 40 Mad 910

LEASE—contd

10. Assignment of a lease—Repudiation of lessor's title—By the original lessee—Forfeiture. A mere repudiation by the original lessee of the lessor's title will not work a forfeiture against the assignee of the lease. Per HEATON J. The Transfer of Property Act does not recognize that his interest in the property may be transferred by a lease to an assignee and thus may be done without the consent of the lessor and if that can be done it seems to me to follow as a matter of reason that when the entire interest is transferred by the lease to the assignee then the assignee is not responsible for acts done by the lessee. GOPAL JAYANT v SHRINIVAS VITHAL (1918) 1 L R 42 Bom 734

11. Mokarari Lease—Grant of Land with hak hukul (with all rights)—Mineral and other sub-surface rights—Rights not expressly included in terms of lease. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the expression hak hukul (with all rights) in a mokarari lease of land did not add to the true scope of the grant nor cause mineral rights to be included within it. The essential characteristic of a lease is that the subject of it is one which is occupied and enjoyed and the corpus of which does not in the nature of things and by reason of the user disappear. Unless there be by the terms of the lease an express or plainly implied grant of mineral rights they remain reserved to the zemindar there being no evidence of his having parted with them. Hari Narain Singh Doe v Sirram Chakravarti 1 L R 37 Cal 3 L R 37 1 1st Darga Ira ad Singh v Braja Nath Bose 1 L R 39 Cal 696 L R 39 1 1 133 and Sahib Bhan Vissra v Jyoti Prasad Singh Doe 1 L R 44 Cal 585 L R 44 1 1 46 followed. Megh Lal Pandey v Fazlumar Thakur 1 L R 34 Cal 305 overruled. By the terms of the lease the trees on the land were expressly transferred to the grantee but mineral rights were not so included in its terms and the pre-emption was therefore that the zemindar had not intended to transfer them and they did not pass under the lease. RAJ KUMAR THAKUR GIP DHARI SINGH v MEGH LAL PANDEY (1917)

LEASE—contd

1 L R 45 Cal 87

12 ——— Darpoons—Conditions in—Bengal Tenancy Act (1885) ss 159 cl (b) 179—Transfer of Property Act (1882) s 10—Receiver—Appointment of Receiver in administration suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1889) ss 503 505 A a palindar created a darpoons in 1886 in favour of B which contained the following terms like yourself we shall have full rights to grant leases or make settlements of land in the mofta sil but if these darpoons mahals be sold at auction for arrears of mahkama (rent) due to you then all agreements entered into by us shall be extinct (and annulled). The common manager of B's estate granted to the defendants a permanent under tenure in 1901 B having defaulted to pay rent to A the latter in execution of a decree for arrears of rent purchased B's interest on the 21st September 1904 the sale was confirmed in due course on the 20th March 1905. The Receiver of the estate of A appointed by a decree in an administration suit without permission from the District Judge granted a darpoons to the plaintiff in 1906. Held that A and B were competent to enter into a contract of permanent tenancy subject to the restriction actually imposed which was one of the incidents of the under tenure and ran with the land so as to be operative not only between the grantors and grantees but also their representatives in interest and the holders of derivative titles from them. Held also that the condition in the lease not being an absolute restraint on alienation and being for the benefit of the lessor neither the provisions of s 159 of the Bengal Tenancy Act nor s 10 of the Transfer of Property Act had any application. Held further that the Receiver not being appointed under s 503 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 but by a decree in an administration suit the provision of s 503 requiring permission of the District Judge did not apply and the darpoons granted by such Receiver was valid and enforceable. MIDHAT ZEMINDARI COY v MIDHAT ZEMINDARI COY (1917)

1 L R 45 Cal 640

13 ——— Lease given the option of purchasing the land leased—Within a certain time for a fixed price—Assignment of the lease—Legal assignee of the lessee entitled to the benefit of the option to purchase—Conveyance—Vendor and purchaser—Purchaser to accept such title as the vendor possessed—Pecuniary about the title—Original

LEASE—contd

summen—Estoppel. By an Indenture dated 1st March 1913 the defendants leased to one B a plot of land for a term of ninety nine years. Under cl 7 of the Indenture the lessee obtained a right to purchase the premises demised at a price named within eighteen years from the date of the lease the purchaser accepting such title as the vendors had. By an Indenture of Assignment dated 2nd May 1916 the lessee assigned the lease for the then residue of the said term to the plaintiff. The plaintiff intimated to the defendants by a notice in writing his intention of purchasing the said plot under the provisions of cl 7. The defendants called upon the plaintiff to submit for their approval a draft conveyance of the said plot. The draft conveyance forwarded by the plaintiff to the defendant contained certain recitals tracing the title of the vendors from the last purchaser of the property. The defendants objected to the insertion of the said recitals and sought on the part to incorporate certain covenants in the draft. Correspondence between the parties showed that the dispute between them was so closely confined to the insertion of the recitals and the covenants. The plaintiff took out an originating summons for the determination of the question whether the recitals and the covenants proposed by the respective parties should be embodied in the conveyance. The summons was a jointed into Court for hearing. At the trial the defendants conceded that they could not at that stage insist on the covenants set out by them. The defendants however contended that the plaintiff was not entitled to the benefit of the option to purchase as he was not the original lessee but only an assignee of the lease and as the option to purchase was a personal covenant and not a covenant which ran with the land it did not ensure to the benefit of the assignee. Held (1) that the plaintiff being bound to accept such title as the vendors had the recitals set out by him in the proposed conveyance were unnecessary and should be struck out. (2) that as the plaintiff was the legal assignee of the residue of the term of lease he was entitled to the benefit of the option to purchase. (3) that as the correspondence between the parties proceeded on the assumption that the plaintiff though an assignee of the lease was entitled to exercise the option of purchase under the lease the defendants having acquiesced in the same were estopped from disputing it. Woodill v Clifton 92 L T 999 2d tin guished Ernst Hildred and Healeys Breweries Limited v Snelton [1895] 1 Ch 86 reversed. LADHABAI LAKHMI v SIR JAYSETTI JIJIBHOY (1917)

1 L R 42 Bom 103

14 ——— Surrender or relinquishment of—If square a defective contract work in me—The other—In a remedy—Legal rights or partition—Equity A surrender or relinquishment of a lease does not require to be in writing but can be inferred from the act of the parties. In the absence of proof of actual cession or destruction of property one co-sharer cannot demand accounts from another co-sharer for minerals taken by him out of joint property unless it is shown that he had worked more than his fair share. No claim for account is maintainable where the co-sharer knowing that the other co-sharer had been spending large sums of money to develop the mines acquiesced. His remedy is by a suit for partition in which the other co-sharer should be joined. He is a tenant in possession of the portion

LEGACY

- See LIMITATION ACT 1877 Sec II Art
123 I L R 30 Bom 111
See WILL I L R 40 Calc 192

— depending on uncertain event—

- See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1865)
I L R 37 Bom 644

— vesting of—

- See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1865) s 19
I L R 38 Mad 474

LEGAL INTEREST

- See DECLARATORY DECREE SUIT FOR
I L R 43 Calc 694

LEGAL JUSTICE

— as opposed to moral—

- See CONTRACT I L R 37 Mad 365

LEGAL MISCONDUCT

- See ARBITRATION I L R 41 Calc 313

LEGAL NECESSITY

- See HINDU LAW—ALIVELAND
See HINDU LAW—DEBT I L R 33 All 242 255
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 34 All 4 126 135
See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY
See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE
I L R 41 All 571 609

LEGAL OWNER

- See MAROMEDAN LAW (EVDOWMENT)
I L R 47 Calc 266

LEGAL PRACTITIONER

- See BARRISTER I L R 44 Calc 741
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O III
R 4 2 Pat L J 259
See HIGH COURT DISCIPLINARY JURISDICTION
I L R 44 Bom 418
See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898
See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACTS
See LETTERS PATENT (ALL) s 8
I L R 42 All 450

See PLEADER

— duty of—

- See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1894)
I L R 34 Bom 486

— Lien of—

- See COSTS I L R 46 Calc 1070

— admission by—As against client discuss ed DIGEST OF CASES 44 I L R 156
17 C W N 156

— Compromise by—Without authority discuss ed HANCOCK & JODHA OODA
I L R 34 Bom 408

LEGAL PRACTITIONER—contd

— Counsel to be instructed by attorney—
—Customan I acquit to be ruled In re an Advoca-cate I L R 44 Calc 741

— Misconduct of—Cheating client out of the subject matter of suit—Inclt—Personal from practice—Suganann Where it was found by the Chief Court before whom the appellant acted as a pleader that he had taken advantage of his position of trust in order to cheat his client out of the subject matter of the suit and obtain it for himself and on the appellant's application for a review of the finding he instead of proving it deliberately admitted the charge made against him in the sense in which the charges were understood by the Judges Held that the Chief Court was amply justified in passing orders removing the appellant permanently from the list of pleaders on the ground of his conduct and the subsequent order of the Court upon the application for review reducing the penalty to suspension from practice for three years went as far in the direction of mercy as it properly could go In the matter of CHANDRA SINGH (1910)
14 C W N 521

— Legal Practitioner dismissed for misconduct if unable to be admitted Where a legal practitioner has been dismissed for misconduct of any description it is open to the High Court to re-admit him afterward if he satisfies the Court that in the interval he has borne an unimpeachable character and may with propriety be allowed to return to practice The test to be applied to such cases is whether the sentence of exclusion has had the salutary effect of awakening in the delinquent a higher sense of honour and duty and whether in the interval his conduct had been so irreproachable that he might be safely entrusted with the affairs of his clients and admitted to the profession without the profession suffering degradation Where therefore a mukhtear was dismissed upon conviction for a grave offence and it appeared that in a closely connected transaction he had sworn a false affidavit and where in the petition for re-admission he had not made a full disclosure of his previous history the Court in the exercise of its discretion refused the application In re ABIRUDDIN AHMED (1910)
I L R 58 Calc 309
15 C W N 357

— Legal practitioner
dismissed for misconduct—Reinstatement on proof of good conduct Case in which a legal practitioner who when yet a comparatively young man had been dismissed from the rolls for misconduct was after five years reinstated on his furnishing certificates showing that during the interval his conduct has been so irreproachable that notwithstanding his previous delinquency he could be entrusted with the affairs of clients and admitted to an honourable profession without that profession suffering degradation In re ABIRUDDIN 15 C W N 357 s c 12 C L J 67 followed In re
TARA KUMAR CHATTERJEE (1911)
16 C W N 237

— Witness—Whether can appear for accused per on The rule as to the exclusion of witnesses from Court until they have been examined does not extend to counsel or accused who is cited as a prosecution witness
There may be circumstances which may make it

LEGAL PRACTITIONER—contd

de rable for counsel not to appear in a case in which he is a witness but they would not tender his appearance illegal. In re BABU REDDI (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad 916

Improperly if counsel who appeared for one party appearing in subsequent proceedings for the other—Disqualification It is improper on the part of a legal practitioner who has acted for one party in a dispute to act for the other party in subsequent litigation between them relating to or arising out of that dispute. It is a matter which concerns the honour of the profession. HIRA DEVI v. DHIRAJ SINGH (1911) 21 C W N 1137

Rules of Court of the 10th August 1901 pt II r 96—Professional misconduct—Entering into trade or business Held on a construction of r 96 pt II of the Rules of Court of the 10th August 1901 that the carrying on by a vakil of occasional speculations in grain and other commodities whilst he was practising as a vakil did not amount to entering into a trade or business within the meaning of the rule so as to render him amenable to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the High Court. In the matter of TIKARAM VAKIL 1 L R 42 All 125

Negligence—Refusal to argue when an application for adjournment has been rejected Refusal by a vakil to argue a case when an application has been rejected amounts to gross neglect of his client's interests. SRI RANGA BHABH LAL v. PACHYA LAL 1 Pat L J 55

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (1 OF 1846)

ss 4 12—

See PLEADER 1 L R 44 Calc 290

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XX OF 1853)

See PLEADER 1 L R 44 Calc 290

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1879)

s 6—

See PLEADER 1 L R 44 Calc 290

s 12—Pleader guilty of keeping a common gaming house—Suspension of pleader—Procedure for cases under s 12 The conviction of a pleader under s 6 of the Madras Towns and Sanctions Act (III of 1899) for keeping a common gaming house implies a defect of character which unfits him to be a pleader within s 11 of the Legal Practitioners Act for which the pleader may be suspended by the High Court. The procedure prescribed for enquiring into charges mentioned in s 13 and 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act need not be pursued in cases coming under s 12 of the Act. IN THE MATTER OF A SECOND GRADE PLEADER (1915) 1 L R 42 Mad 111

s 12 14—Vakils—Conduct on application—Inability to suspend from practice—Conclusion if conclusive Two mukhtars who were parties to a proceeding under s 14 of the Criminal Procedure Code in the course of which a chur the subject of the proceeding was attached under s 116 and placed in charge of a receiver collected a number of armed men who formed an unlawful assembly with a view to take forcible possession of the chur. Held that having regard to the character of the offence an order under s 12 of the Legal Practitioners Act could properly be passed against them. That in such a proceeding it was not open to them to go behind their conviction by the Criminal Court and invite the Court to examine the facts with a view to showing that the conviction was erroneous. In re Rajendra Nath Mukerjee 61 I L J 12 s C I L R 2 All 49 3 C W N 36 followed. But the Court in such a case will look into all the facts as found to determine the position of the persons concerned. In re KALI KRASANTHOSU CHAUDHURY (1910) 14 C W N 1073

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVII OF 1879)—contdss 1st 14—contd

Rule 20 of the rules of the High Court made under the Legal Practitioners Act laying down that with his application for the renewal of his certificate a pleader should file a certificate of character from the presiding officer of the court in which he practises is inconsistent with s 12 to 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act unless the expression "certificate of character" is construed as meaning nothing more than a certificate that the presiding officer of the Court is not aware of any misconduct of the pleader justifying action under those sections. Held—That the District Judge had no authority to refuse to renew the certificate of a pleader practising in the Munif's Court merely because he had formed an unfavourable opinion of his character in the course of the trial of a case in which the pleader was a party when the pleader produced with his application for renewal a certificate from the Munif to the effect that he knew nothing against the pleader's character. In the matter of JADAB CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY PLEADER 13 C W N 415

s 13—

See PLEADER

1 L R 35 Mad 543

Conduct by practitioner as for Jurisdiction of courts to deal with professional misconduct—Conduct by a legal practitioner as a suitor cannot be investigated under the Act There is ample jurisdiction in a court to investigate cases of moral turpitude unconnected with the discharge by a practitioner of his professional duties and the court has complete jurisdiction to remove and suspend pleaders and mukhtars for causes rendering them unfit for the continued exercise of their profession. In the case of a suitor stands on a different footing though the suitor be a pleader or mukhtar. NARAYANA NATH DAS v. SIVA KUMAR JHA 5 Pat L J 601

Whether appeal lies to His Majesty in Council—Letters Patent of the Pat a High Court cl 3 to 31 There is no provision in the Legal Practitioners Act 1879 conferring a right of appeal to His Majesty in Council from an order passed by the High Court under s 12. The right of appeal to His Majesty in Council is confined to appeals from judgments decrees and orders passed in exercise of one or other of the classes of jurisdiction conferred by cls 9 to 27 of the Letters Patent and not to the administrative or disciplinary powers conferred on the court by earlier clauses or by statute. BHISHORI L OY & HING LARIOR

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—contd

s 13—contd

4 Pat L J 423

Cross misconduct—

Willful neglect of pleader to appear after recd of full fees—Actionable claim—Purchase of by a pleader—Transfer of Property Act (13 of 1882) ss 3 and 136—Pleader engaging in trade without intimating to the High Court—127 of the Rules under Legal Practitioners Act Held by the full Bench the judgment and evidence given in a civil suit filed by a party against his pleader for refund of fees on account of non appearance of the pleader are admissible as evidence in an enquiry instituted for the purpose against the pleader under the Legal Practitioners Act but they are not conclusive proof in the enquiry. Willful neglect by a pleader to appear without any justification whatever and conduct a case after receipt of full fees is unprofessional conduct for which the pleader could be punished under s 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act. MUNI KEDDI & VENKATA POW (1914) 1 L R 37 Mad 238

Pleader refusing to appear in Court in pursuance of a resolution of the Bar Association to boycott that Court propriety of—Duties and obligations of pleaders—Proper course for pleaders when ill treated by any Court Some pleaders refused to appear in a certain Court in pursuance of a resolution of the Bar Association to boycott that Court as a protest against its ill treatment of pleaders. Proceedings under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act were drawn up against several pleaders for failure to appear in Court in matters which had been entrusted to them by their clients. The pleaders concerned having intimated their unqualified protest to the High Court for the course adopted by them—Held—That having regard to their unqualified expression of regret the proceedings should be dropped. In the matter of TARATI MOHAN BARARI

26 O W N 580

s 13 (b)—Gross negligence—appearance for both sides The conduct of a pleader in acting for both sides in the same case is grossly improper conduct within the meaning of s 13 (b) of the Legal Practitioners Act 1879. When a pleader negligently or intentionally disobeys the rules of his profession he is guilty of grossly improper conduct and it is no excuse that his action does not involve a moral stigma or that it has not resulted in actual injury to his client. IN THE MATTER OF BHISHORI LAL PLEADER

3 Pat L J 390

s 13 (t)—Mukhtar—Conduct rendering legal practitioner amenable to disciplinary powers of the Court—Writing insulting letters to an officer A mukhtar practising in the Criminal and Revenue Courts of a sub division addressed certain grossly insulting letters to the Sub divisional Officer in his character as officer in charge of the copyin department. Held that such conduct on the part of a mukhtar fell within the purview of s 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act 1879 and rendered the writer amenable to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the High Court. IN THE MATTER OF A MUKHTAR

1 L R 42 All 11

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—contd

s 13 (t)—contd

Interpretation of clause

—Words of other reasonable cause explain d. Ejusdem generis The words for any other reasonable cause in cl (f) of s 13 of Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879) include general misconduct and are not restricted to professional misconduct. Where two legal practitioners were the President and a Director respectively of a so called Provident Society which was in no way a Provident Society but a means of furnishing profit to the Directors by enabling those who desired to gamble in the lives of parties who were willing to become applicants to the society—Held that there was reasonable cause under s 13 (f) for an order being made against the legal practitioner PER MILLER J—The principle of ejusdem generis cannot be applied to the words any other reasonable cause since the general professional misconduct is not large enough to include the case of s 12 (where pleader may be suspended or dismissed for having committed criminal offence implying a defect of character which unfits him to be a pleader. TILMANN & CO v. KANSFORD LTD (1908) 2 K B 373, followed. The intention of the Legislature was to give to the High Court powers of control over pleaders and mukhtars as extensive as those which are given by the Letters Patent s 10 over advocates and vailis. PER KRISHNASWAMI ARYAN J—Cl (f) of s 13 is not confined to professional misconduct but may be interpreted so as to include any dishonest or dishonourable conduct whether or not in discharge of professional duty. It is difficult to limit cl (f) to professional misconduct because cl (f) deals with grossly improper conduct in the discharge of professional duty and it is not possible to name any species of professional misconduct which does not fall within cl (f) itself. The fact that the Legislature has restricted the power of subordinate Courts under s 14 of the Act is no reason for fettering the power of the High Court. IN RE GHANB LALAN MUKHTAR 7 B L R 179 approved IN RE SECOND GRADE LEADERS (1911)

1 L R 34 Mad. 21

ss 10 14—

See INFRACTION 1 L R 37 Cal 178

See UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

1 L R 43 Cal 688

Mukhtar acting as go-between for bringing police in punishable under cl (f)—Enquiry commenced under cl (b) but ultimately being act coming within cl (f) irregular—S 14, cl (f) enquiry under cl can be made by subordinate Court Where a mukhtar was found to have received a sum of money from a person against whom some police cases were pending for the purpose of bribing the police and acted as a go-between. Held that his action furnished reasonable cause for punishment under s 13 cl (f) of the Legal Practitioners Act. A subordinate Court can take proceedings under s 13 cl (f) of the Legal Practitioners Act and even if the High Court be the only Court which can order such an enquiry it is open to the High Court to avail itself of the inquiry already made by a subordinate Court and proceed to deal with

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—contd

s 13 14—contd

the case. Id. An enquiry by the lower Court is not irregular on the ground that the act disclosed as the result of the enquiry is found to come under s 13 cl. (f) and not under s 13 cl. (l). Per HARI LAKSHMAN MURTHI (1917) 21 C W N 516

Specific charge

under s 13 (b) see also re Taling instruction from unauthorised persons—Conduct improper In a reference under the Legal Practitioners' Act the High Court confines itself to the charge framed by the Primary Court. The finding that the pleader was guilty of the fraudulent or grossly improper conduct in the discharge of his professional duty within the meaning of s 13 (b) of the Legal Practitioners' Act was disregarded as the pleader was not charged with that. Where a pleader was found to have received instructions from a person about whom he made no enquiries as to his right to instruct him on behalf of certain minors or their mother and also that he filed a written statement which was not prepared by him and that he accepted the vakalatnama at the instance of another party in the suit and that he filed a receipt which on the face of it was not genuine without even examining it it was held that his conduct was most improper although no injury resulted from it. The pleader was suspended for nine months. In the matter of Jugal Chandra Mazumdar (1916) 40 C W N 1018

In a case which arose out of certain Pleaders observing a bartial their status was fully discussed also the effect of filing a Vakalatnama King Emperor v. Rajani Kant Bora 28 C W N 589

Mukhtear abusing

Court's Officer if liable to disciplinary action—Contempt—Object of punishment—Subordinate Court if may start enquiry under s 14 in case other than under cl. (a) and (b) to s 14—High Court if may adopt a report made by subordinate Court in a proceeding wrongfully initiated but properly conducted b 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act invests a Subordinate Court with authority to inquire into any case of misconduct alleged against a pleader or Mukhtear practising before it covered by s 13 of the Act as amended by Act XI of 1896 and not merely cases covered by cl. (a) and (b) of s 13. In the matter of Southekal Jishna Rao L P 14 I A 151 s c I L R 15 Cal 1 explained. In re Purna Chandra Pal I I P 27 Cal 1073 s c 4 C W N 389 commented on. Whether an enquiry is made by or under the orders of the High Court under s 13 or is instituted by the Subordinate Court of its own motion the final order can be passed only by the High Court. The law does not require an inquiry ordered under s 13 to be conducted directly by the High Court. Therefore even if it were incompetent for a Subordinate Court to initiate an inquiry into certain kinds of charges of misconduct if such an inquiry has been properly held after notice then is nothing to prevent the High Court from adopting it as one which could be directed under s 13. The Court at least when in session is present in every part of the place set apart for its own use and for the use of its officers jurors and witnesses and dis-

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—contd

ss 13 14—contd

orderly conduct anywhere in such place amounts to a contempt of Court. The power of suspension or removal is distinct from the power to punish for contempt but a contempt may be of such character as to warrant the exercise of the disciplinary powers of the Court. When the Court takes notice of a misconduct which consists in the obstruction of or an interference with one of its officers the object of the discipline enforced is not so much to vindicate the dignity of the Court or the person of the officer as to prevent undue interference with the administration of justice. Where a mukhtear in the course of an altercation with the Court's accountant in the latter's office used abusive language which was heard by the Munsif from his Court. Held that for such conduct the Court could take disciplinary action against the mukhtear. In re matter of PASIR TAL NAR (1916) I L R 44 Cal 639 20 C W N 1284

It is incumbent upon a Mukhtear to take his instructions directly from his client. If he takes them from an agent he must ascertain that the agent is duly empowered. A Mukhtear is liable to be punished when he has acted in violation of his duty in circumstances which show gross negligence on his part even though he may not be guilty of fraud. In re LEAKET HUSSAIN MUKHTAR 2 Pat L J 36

s 14—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 111 r 2

2 Pat L J 259

See PLEADER I L R 47 Cal 1115

Transfer of enquiry under s 14—Nature of proceedings under the Act. The procedure provided by the Legal Practitioners' Act 1879 is self contained. It is neither criminal nor civil but purely designed for the purpose of discipline in controlling the procedure and the conduct of practitioners practising in the subordinate Court. The enquiry provided for by s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act 1879 cannot be delegated or transferred to another officer who is not the presiding officer of the Court in which the malpractices complained of were committed. Disciplinary proceedings taken under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act 1879 are not proceedings in a Court of Civil Jurisdiction. The Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is not applicable to enquiries under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act 1879. s 141 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is controlled in its operation and effect by the concluding words of the section which limit its application to proceedings in Courts exercising Civil Jurisdiction. s 10 of the Government of India Act 1915 does not alter the position. In the matter of JADAV KISHORE ARINASH AND OTHERS 1 Pat L J 576

Reference arising out of criminal charge against mukhtear—Procedure under the Act should be distinct from criminal proceedings—Procedure for enquiry to be strictly followed. Where in the course of criminal proceedings against the mukhtear a reference purporting to be made under the Legal Practitioners' Act was made against him to the High Court. Held that the procedure prescribed in s 14 of the Act should have been strictly followed from first to last and that not having been done the Reference was bad. Held further that the proceeding under the Act must be separate and distinct and cannot be made part of the criminal proceedings. In re LAZAR RAKAMAH (1914) 15 C W N 761

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—cont'd

s 14—cont'd

Mukhtear—Suspension
by District Magistrate before report to High Court—Right to be heard before suspension—Order for prosecution—Criminal Procedure Code (1st V of 1898) s 476 A legal practitioner cannot be provisionally suspended pending investigation (under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act) of a charge of misconduct brought against him with out being heard in defence under s 40 of the Act and before a report has been submitted to the High Court in terms of s 14 The investigation referred to in the section is investigation by the High Court Where upon a reference by the Sub Divisional Officer relating to the conduct of a mukhtear in a case tried before that officer the District Magistrate suspended the mukhtear and on a perusal of the records directed his prosecution under s 182 Penal Code Held that the order of suspension was without jurisdiction. Per WOODROFFE J—That the order for prosecution could not be passed by the District Magistrate under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code as the proceeding not being properly before him was not a judicial proceeding. Per CARYLUFF J—The District Magistrate was not acting in the course of a judicial proceeding. In re BAJRANGI SAHAI (1911) 15 C W N 259

Talalatnama altered after execution by inserting name of mukhtear actually engaged at the request of party's agent—conduct if grossly improper A written talalatnama for the purpose of engaging certain pleaders to conduct an appeal on behalf of a prisoner was taken by his maternal uncle to the prisoner in jail where it was executed by the prisoner by affixing his mark in the presence of a jail officer and was handed over to the maternal uncle who brought it to the petitioner a mukhtear and instructed him to appear in the appeal The petitioner pointed out to the uncle of the prisoner that he could not appear as his name was not mentioned in the talalatnama and then at the request of the latter inserted his own and other names in it and made certain other alterations Held that although the petitioner certainly acted improperly in altering the talalatnama the alterations were not made from improper motives and his conduct was not grossly improper within the meaning of s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act In the matter of PURNA CHANDRA HATTERRI (1912) 17 C W N 328

Legal practitioner—Prohibition order—Certificate not to be cancelled until result of prosecution is known—Practice Where a District Judge having the alternative to take action against a pleader practising in his jurisdiction under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act 1879 or to initiate criminal proceedings against him takes the latter he ought to wait until the result of the criminal proceedings is known before refusing to renew the pleader's certificate In the matter of A PFADER (1916) 1 I L R 38 All 182

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS' ACT (XVIII OF 1879)—cont'd

s 14—cont'd

Cross contempt of a Subordinate Court by a second grade pleader by unjustly attacking its impartiality in the discharge of its duties—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Courts to take proceedings under s 14 for all cases coming under s 13 cl (f) not ejusdem generis In the course of an enquiry before a District Munsif a second grade pleader who appeared for one of the parties to the enquiry swore an affidavit and filed the same in Court requesting that Court should not proceed with the enquiry The affidavit contained unjust aspersions imputations and insinuations couched in insulting language charging the District Munsif with rancour and prejudice against the pleader and with a desire to injure him both as a pleader and also as a public man The Munsif thereupon took the proceedings under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act (XVIII of 1879) charging the pleader under s 13 cl (f) of the Act with contempt of Court Held (1) that Subordinate Courts have jurisdiction to take proceedings not only under cl (a) and (c) of s 13 but also under all the other clauses of the sections (2) that cl (f) is not confined to misconduct ejusdem generis as the one referred to in the previous clauses and (3) that the pleader was guilty of misconduct by his outrageous attack upon the Court in the exercise of its function Their Lordships accordingly suspended the pleader from practice for a period of four months The decision of HOOT J in the matter of the petition of Mahomed Abdul Hai I I J 29 All 61 and in the matter of a pleader I I R 96 Mad 418 followed THE DISTRICT JUDGE KISTNA, HANUMANULU (1911) 1 I L R 39 Mad 1045 ss 27 28—Pleader and client—Fees agreement for payment of not in writing and no filed in Court if may be enforced—Pleader's lien on moneys realised on behalf of client—Quantum meruit An agreement by a client to pay certain amount to his pleader as fees for professional service cannot be enforced by the latter when it has not been embodied in writing signed by the client and filed in the proper court in the manner provided by s 28 of the Legal Practitioners' Act even when the amount agreed to be paid is not in excess of that prescribed under the rules framed under s 27 of the Act for payment by any party to his opponent in respect of the fees of the pleader employed by his adversary The language of s 28 is comprehensive enough to include every agreement between a pleader and his client for the payment of fees for professional service and cannot be restricted by reference to s 27 which does not apply to such agreement Quære Whether in the absence of a written agreement a pleader can claim reasonable compensation for his services KAMINI DEBI KHETRA MOHAN GANGLY (1911) 17 C W N 45 ss 28—Pleader and client—Lien on client's moneys for fees agreed upon if enforceable when agreement not in accordance with s 28 Legal Practitioners' Act (XVIII of 1879) An agreement between a pleader and his client in regard to fees for professional service which the pleader cannot sue on owing to its not conforming to the provisions of s 28 of the Legal Practitioners' Act cannot also be relied upon in defence to an action by the client to recover moneys deposited in Court

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1873)—contd

s 28—contd

by the client and withdrawn by the pleader. The plea of the pleader that he had a lien on the money to the extent of the fees agreed upon could not therefore be entertained. Quære Whether the pleader should claim reasonable remuneration for his services in view of s 29 of the Legal Practitioners Act. HAANI DEBI v. ANJETA MOHAY GANGLI (1910) 15 C W N 681

See ALSO ANTE

17 C W N 45

Order of suit for fee upon oral agreement of maintenance Where a suit by a Pleader for fees against his client is based on an agreement he cannot succeed unless the agreement is both in writing signed by the party to be charged and filed as provided in s 28 of the Legal Practitioners Act. Consequently no suit upon an oral agreement can succeed under the section. BEACIARAM LAHARI v. SUDDEBI DAS 26 M W N 709

s 35 36—Tout orde declaring a person—Evidence to justify Where a witness merely proved that a person declared by the District Magistrate to be a tout had been seen in Court looking after one or more witnesses only saying that he had heard that the mukhtars regarded him as a tout. Held that the evidence was clearly insufficient to justify the order of the District Magistrate. SUNDAR UPADHAY v. THE PRESIDENT OF THE MUKHTARS ASSOCIATION CHAPRA (1911) 15 C W N 1000

s 36—Tests—Procedure to be followed by a Court failing action under s 36—Return—Statute 5 & 6 Geo 4 Ch 61 s 107—Fiducie—Criminal Procedure Code s 117 (3) It is competent to the High Court to entertain an application in revision against an order passed by a District and Sessions Judge under s 36 of the Legal Practitioners Act 1873 and thus without involving the aid of the Government of India Act 1911 s 107. In the matter of the petition of Madho Ram I L R 91 All 181 In the matter of the petition of Kedar Nath I L R 31 All 59 In the matter of the District Judge of Madura I L R 28 Mad 99 and Hari Charan Sarcar v. the District Judge of Dacca 11 O I J 113 referred to. In a proceeding under s 36 of the Legal Practitioners Act 1873 the Court may properly apply as regards the nature of the evidence admissible the provisions of s 117 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Where a person's name has once been included in a list framed under s 36 the mere fact that the exhibition of such list in any particular court room is discontinued has no effect on the validity of the original order. In the matter of the petition of HALKA AND OTHERS (1917) I L R 40 All 153

An order under s 36 declaring a person to be a tout can be made only by one of the authorities specified in that Section and upon evidence taken by such authority himself. In the matter of NAVAR CHANDRA MANDAL 24 C W N 1074

s 40—

See s 14

15 C W N 269

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

See AGREEMENT I L R 37 Mad 408

LEGAL REMEMBRANCE

See CONTENT OF COURT

I L R 41 Calc 173

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

I L R 41 Calc 425

I L R 40 Calc 544

LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 11 Mad 406

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 Sch

III Art 6 14 C W N 971

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1859) ss 244 252 647

I L R 34 Bom 546

s 373 I L R 38 Mad 643

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —

ss 2 (11) 53 I L R 42 Bom 504

s 2 (11) O XXI R 1

I L R 39 Mad 382

s 2 (11) O XXI R 22

I L R 45 Bom 1186

ss 47 and 50 I L R 38 Mad 1076

O XXI R 3 5

I L R 43 Bom 168

See DEFENDANT DEATH OF

I L R 38 Mad 682

See GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT 1890

ss 34 35 AND 36

I L R 44 Bom 852

See HINDU LAW—PERVERSION

I L R 33 All 15

See MAHAMMADAN LAW

I L R 42 All 497

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

I L R 41 All 515

— of the receiver—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1903) O XL R 4

I L R 39 Mad 584

LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES' SUITS ACT 1855

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXI R 1

I L R 44 Mad 357

LEGALITY

See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 45 Calc 905

LEGATED

See ESTOPPEL I M P 44 Calc 145

See RESIDENCY LEGATEE

I L R 41 Calc 271

— disclaimer by—

See SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1860) s 187

I L R 38 Mad 474

— right of, to sue—

See WILL I L R 38 Calc 327

— suit for maintenance against—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I L R 39 Mad 396

LEGISLATION

— when retrospective—

See ASSESSMENT I L R 43 Cal 973

— ultra vires—

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT I L R 40 Cal 391*LEGISLATURE

— object of—

See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 44 Cal 219

— Whether can oust jurisdiction of Civil Court—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT 1876 & 4 I L R 45 Bom 1161*LEGITIMACYSee ADMISSION OF LEGITIMACYSee DIVORCE I L R 38 Mad 466See HINDU LAW—LEGITIMACYSee HINDU LAW (MARRIAGE) I L R 48 Cal 926See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT I L R 38 All 627See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY I L R 48 Cal 259See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE I L R 48 Cal 356See MARRIAGE I L R 41 Bom 485See MARRIAGE 16 C W N 494

— acknowledgment of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF SONSHIP I L R 40 Bom 28 I L N 1 Lah 229

— presumption as to—

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE I L R 38 Cal 700

— Son by wife of another man—

See HINDU LAW—LEGITIMACY I L R 3 Lah 207*LEGITIMATE PURPOSESee MORTGAGE—CONSTRUCTION OF I L R 40 Cal 342*LENDER AND BORROWER

— Suit on promissory note
 — Undue influence and want of consideration pleaded in defence—Indian Contract Act not principles of English equity to be applied—Federal loan with capital and interest at intervals when unconscionable—Excessive amount becoming due from debtor's failure to pay is to be regarded as oppressive—Contract Act (18 of 1872) s. 11—Ours—Where in a suit brought on certain promissory note the defendant pleaded that he had received no consideration that the notes were procured by the exercise by the plaintiff upon him of undue influence and that the whole transaction was an unconscionable bargain made with the defendant as an expectant heir Held that the questions raised were to be decided on the provisions of the Indian Contract Act and on those alone the principles upon which English Courts of Equity deal with similar questions being entirely inappli-

LENDER AND BORROWER—contd

cable A borrower who obtains a loan secured by a promissory note on a quite reasonable basis by neglecting to pay the note at maturity further neglecting to pay the accruing interest for the several years following and then giving a renewal note for the original debt plus the capital and interest could produce a result which might at first sight appear oppressive and yet there would be nothing harsh or unconscionable in the creditor's demand since the added interest only accumulated while he forebore to enforce the payment of the sums from time to time due to him On the other hand it would be quite possible for a money lender by making loans for short period on apparently fair terms and then investing on capitalization the interest immediately on its becoming payable to pile up compound interest on the initial debt at such a rate as would make the result after a few years most oppressive and unconscionable But there is nothing inherently wrong or oppressive in a lender's securing for himself compound interest after the borrower has for a considerable time neglected to pay the debt he owes or the interest accrued due upon it which he has contracted to pay The borrower cannot acquire merit simply by breaking his contract The promissory notes in this case so far from being renewed with undue frequency were frequently allowed to remain overdue for periods of from two and a half to four and a half years before the renewal was taken and the overdue interest capitalised in some instances the renewal being given after the period of limitation had run out Held that the transactions between the parties were not on the face of them unconscionable contracts within the meaning of s. 16 of the Contract Act as amended by the Act of 1899 To prove the unconscionable character of the bargain evidence was given to show that the defendant (who undoubtedly was a spendthrift of depraved and licentious habits) was heavily indebted to several other creditors during the years covered by his transaction with the plaintiff Held that it was legitimate to prove these facts in order to establish that the defendant was a person of weak and debauched character unable to resist the pressure of creditors if applied or to resist the temptation to borrow money recklessly to gratify his lusts but it was wholly illegitimate to give any evidence as to the terms on which he succeeded in compromising with creditors other than the plaintiff's Held on the evidence agreeing with the District Judge (that assuming that the plaintiff was in a position to dominate the will of the defendant the latter had utterly failed to prove further that the plaintiff had in fact exercised undue influence upon him in any of the transaction out of which his liability for the debt sued for arose) and that if the defendant having been an expectant heir the plaintiff was in consequence in a position to dominate his will and therefore bound to prove that he had not used that position to obtain an unfair advantage over him the plaintiff had discharged that burden PAULA MAL v. AHAD SHAH (1918)

16 C W N 233LEPROSYSee HINDU LAW—LEPROSY

— in anaesthetic form

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE*I L R 38 Mad 259

LESSEE

See LAND LORD AND TENANT

See LEASE.

See LE. OR AND LESSEE

See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ACT
(I OF 1876) s 2

I L R 38 Mad 1128

See MADRAS ESTATE LAND ACT

I L R 59 Mad 1018

See TENANTS IN COMMON

I L R 118 Mad 1049

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF
1882) s 10

I L R 38 Mad 867

s 108 (J)

I L R 40 Mad 1111

s 6

I L R 43 Bom 28

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

I L R 40 All 429

dispossession of—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 39 Mad 1042

for years or for life—

See MINERAL RIGHT

I L R 88 Cal 845

from Bombay Government—

See KANAKIS

I L R 39 Bom 625

from Government in Ferozepore—whether land is ancestral—

S CUSTOM

I L R 2 Lah 195

in perpetuity—

See MINERAL RIGHTS

I L R 38 Cal 845

interest of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SECTION I
ARTS 91 AND 120

I L R 35 All 149

liability of—

See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM.
ACT III OF 1863) s 30

I L R 34 Bom 593

right of to eject trespasser—

S EJECTMENT

I L R 37 Mad 281

right of—to give monthly tenant notice to quit—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 100 & 109

I L R 1 Lah 241

right of to improvements—

See MADRAS TENANTS IMPROVEMENT
ACT (MAD I OF 1900) ss 1 AND 2

I L R 58 Mad 954

right of to relief against forfeiture—

See TENANTS IN COMMON

I L R 39 Mad 1049

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 1

I L R 43 Bom 28

Transfer by lessee—

Liability of lessee to pay rent after transfer—Privilege of sale—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 109The duration of liability of a lessee to pay rent to the lessor lasts as long as his estate remains in his possession and no longer and after an

LESSEE—contd

assignment of the lease the privity of estate between him and the lessor ceases and the assignee becomes liable for the rent METHA : GADADHAR RAI (1910) I L R 37 Cal 683

Assignment by lessee—

I assign a right to apportionment as against les or—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 36 and 103—Apportionment in English law under Statute Law in England and under the English Common Law—Rent—Interest accrues de die in diem English Statute Law principle of law be followed in India—No Statute Law in India—Apportionment as between lessor and lessee assignee An assignee from a lessee is entitled to claim as against the lessor apportionment of rent accruing due after the date of assignment to him up to the time of a transfer (if any) of his interest as a lessee to a third person

There is privity of estate between the lessor and the assignee and the latter is bound to perform the covenants of the lease after the assignment. The assignee is not the ground of his liability but the privity of estate which is created by the assignment itself. It is settled law that the privity of estate between the lessor and the lessee assignee is terminated by an assignment by the latter of his interest to a third person. On principle there seems to be no reason why an assignee should not be entitled to apportionment as between him self and the lessor and why rent should not be deemed to accrue due from day to day as between them. In England the Law of apportionment has long been regulated by statutes and all rents etc are like interest in money lent considered as accruing from day to day and apportionable in respect of time accordingly. In India there is no reason for not applying to rent the principle adopted in England in the case of interest KUNHI SOU : MULLICK CHATRI (1910)

I L R 38 Mad 86

LESSOR AND LESSEE

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

See LESSEE

Forfeiture for non payment of rent—Joint lessors—Separation of their ownership in the lands—Receipt by one of the joint lessors of his share of rent from the lessee—Right of the other joint lessor to enforce the forfeiture—No act done by the lessor previous to the institution of the suit to determine the lease—Ejection prior to suit not necessary—Waiver—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 111 (g)—Right of re entry under the old English common law. One of several joint lessors who have become separately entitled to his share of the lands leased is entitled to enforce the forfeiture clause in the lease deed separately as regards his share of the lands. Sr Paja Simhadri Appa Rao : Prathigali Ramayya I L R 29 Mad 9 followed Gopal Ram Mohori v Dhakeswar Perlat I L R 33 Cal 807 disentitled from mere breach by the lessee of a covenant involving forfeiture contained in a lease of lands executed for agricultural purposes gives a sufficient cause of action to the lessor to bring the suit in ejectment and it is not necessary that the lessor should do some act showing his intention to determine the lease before he brings his suit in ejectment Venkata ramaya Bhatta v Gundarayya I L R 31 Mad 403 distinguished Padmanabhayya v Panga

LESSOR AND LESSEE—contd

I I R 31 Mad 161 followed Per SABASIYA AYYAR J As the breach of the condition gives rise to a cause of action at once there is strictly no question of election between two different rights but there is only an election whether the lessor is to retain the right created by the breach or to give up the right. The retention requires no definite physical act while the waiver does.

KOPPALU v NARAYANA (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 445

Lease for a term—Dispossession of lessee within term by trespassers—Right of suit of lessor for actual possession—Lessee joined as defendant—Decree—Declaration of title—If formal possession can be given

A lessor whose lessee is dispossessed by a stranger can maintain a suit against the stranger during the term of the lease and obtain a decree not only declaring his title to the reversion but also awarding him formal possession of the land as provided by O XXI r 36 Civil Procedure Code. Biswas v Dabee v Baroda Kanta Roy Choudry I L R 10 Cal. 1076 and Sita Ram v Ram Lal I L R 18 All 410 followed. THIRUVAGADA KOVAN v VETKATACHALA KONON (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 1042

Suit for rent—Unliquidated claim for damages which has become barred—Equitable set off whether available if possession disturbed in a suit by the lessor for rent It is not open to the lessee to set up by way of equitable set off an unliquidated claim for damages which was barred at the date of the suit. English case law reviewed. VARAVAN CHETTY v SRINATH DEIVASTIKAMANI NATARAJA DEVIKAR (1910)

I L R 39 Mad 938

Lesser agreeing in the lease deed to pay a debt of lessor—Non payment by lessee—Suit by lessee to recover possession of lands demised—Subsequent usufructuary mortgage by lessor for discharge of debt—Right of lessee to possession under lease—Transfer and executory contract distinction between—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 39 applicability of to leases—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 35 whether applicable to default after lease Where a lessee having agreed in the lease deed to discharge a debt of the lessor secured on the demised lands failed to pay the debt and the lessor being sued by the mortgagee executed a usufructuary mortgage to other persons and with the proceeds thereof paid off the debt and thereupon the lessee sued to recover possession of the demised lands from the lessor and the usufructuary mortgagees who pleaded that the former was not entitled to recover possession under his lease on account of his default in not discharging the debt as agreed to in the lease deed. Held that the lessee was entitled to recover possession of the lands under his lease though he had not paid the debt as agreed to in the lease deed. A lease is an executory contract. It is a transfer of property or of an interest in property and all the considerations which apply to the enforcement of mere contracts do not necessarily apply to a transfer consequently the doctrine regarding mutual promises contained in s 39 of the Indian Contract Act has no application to a lease. S 35 of the Specific Relief Act did not apply to the case as the plea did not relate to any facts which vitiated the contract.

LESSOR AND LESSEE—concld culminating in the lease but to something which happened after the grant of the lease namely non payment of the debt mentioned in the lease deed. CHOLU RAI v Baldeo Shu I L R 31 All 659 disented from. Subba Rao v Devu Shetti I L R 18 Mad 126 distinguished. KANDASAMI ILLAI v PAMASAMI MANADI (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 203

Suit in ejectment from part of a holding maintainable if—Right of suit of lessor or of assignee of part of the reversion—Payment of compensation for tenant's improvements—Payment for improvements whether on the whole or part of the holding necessitates—Malabar compensation for Tenants Improvements Act (I of 1900) ss 5 and 6—Holding construction of Held by the Full Bench (SESHAGIRI AYYAR J dissenting) that a lessor is not entitled to eject a tenant from a part only of the holding but the assignee of the reversion in part of the demised premises is entitled to eject a tenant for due cause from such part on payment of the value of the improvements in that part and that this rule applies to tenancies in Malabar. Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J—Neither the lessor nor the assignee of a part of the premises can evict a tenant from a part of the premises during the continuance of tenancy in the case of a terminated tenancy the Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act does not contemplate the possibility of a partial eviction on payment of the value of improvements on a part of the holding. KANNAN BIDUVAN v ALIKUTTI (1919)*

I L R 42 Mad 603

If by an inundation of sea water part of land leased for agricultural purposes becomes unfit for cultivation and the lessor brings suit to recover the whole rent reserved the lessee can claim abatement s 108 B of Transfer of Property Act not being applicable. SHAIKH FAYZULLAH v SHAIKH FIHREBUKH 1864, W R Oup (Act X rulings 42 followed. SUBBANAIA PATTAR v KATTANBALLY RAMA (1920)*

I L R 43 Mad 132

Assignment of lease—Consent not to be unreasonably withheld—Assignment to a limited company—Refusal to consent—Procedure The plaintiff took out an originating summons for the determination of the following questions namely whether upon the true construction of the Indenture of lease mentioned in the plaint herein relating to premises No 4 Madge Lane in the town of Calcutta commonly known as the Grand Opera House and in the circumstances mentioned in the plaint the plaintiff is entitled to a sign the remainder of the term under the said lease to the Lyons Limited without the consent of the defendant I M D Cohen and whether the defendant should pay the costs of and incidental to these proceedings. Held that the procedure adopted by the plaintiff was entirely correct. Young v Ashley Gardens Properties Ltd 1903 2 Ch 112 Pe Sparr v Lease (1905) 1 Ch 456 Evans v Levis (1910) 1 Ch 452 and Wills v Cannon Brewery Co Ltd 3F L R 513 followed. Held further that in the circumstances of the present case the defendant's refusal to consent to the assignment was unreasonable and capricious and that the questions must be answered in the affirmative. DUGGESS v COHEN (1920)

I L R 48 Cal 176

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

See ADMINISTRATION FUND

I L R 39 Calc 563

See ADMINISTRATOR GENERALS ACT (II OF 1874) s 20 (2 AND 3)

I L R 38 Mad. 1134

See COURT FEES ACT s 19

I L R 33 Mad 93

I L R 40 All 279

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 37 Calc 214

See PROBATE

I L R 37 Calc 224

I L R 40 Bom 668

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT s 30

I L R 37 All 380

See SUCCESSION ACT (I OF 1865) s 190

I L R 38 Bom 618

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1859) s 4

I L R 38 All 474

— application for—

See PARTIES I L R 45 Calc 362

Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 93 64—Hindu death of leaving widow who survived over 30 years—Application for letters of administration when no estate left to be administered. It is no doubt not necessary for the Probate Court to decide what assets are likely to come to the hands of a petitioner for letters of administration but it is also the duty of the Court in granting letters of administration to consider whether there is any estate whatever to be administered. In the goods of Narsing Chander Bysack 3 C W N 635 Lakshmi Narain v Danda Pami 9 C F J 116 relied on Raghu Nath v Pate Aor 6 C W N 345 disingued. Where the object of the litigation appeared to be not to administer the estate of the deceased (a Hindu who had died so long ago as 1875 and was survived by his widow in possession till 1907) but really to obtain a declaration of heirship so as to fortify the successful party in any regular suit that may be instituted. Held that no grant should be made although objection on this ground was taken for the first time upon appeal from the order of the District Court granting letters of administration. Lalit Chandra Chowdhury v Batekutha Nath Chowdhury (1910) 14 C W N 463

Prerogative Insolvency Act (III of 1909) s 108—Letters of administration application by creditor—Debtor dying in insolvent circumstances. Letters of administration may be granted to a creditor although the liabilities of the deceased debtor appear to be in excess of the assets. Application in the Insolvency Court is not the creditor's only remedy. In the goods of MAHARAJ LAL CHATTERJEE (1911) 15 C W N 350

Retraction—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 50 Expl (4)—Just cause—Useless or inoperative meaning of—Disagreement between administrators whether a just cause for annulling letters of administration. A mere disagreement between administrators is not a just cause for annulling the letters of administration under s 50 expl (4) of the Probate and Administration Act. The words "becomes useless and inoperative" in 50

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION—contd

expl (4) of the Probate and Administration Act imply the discovery of something which if known at the date of the grant would have been a ground for refusing it e.g. the discovery of a later will or codicil or subsequent discovery that the will was forged or that the alleged testator is still living. Bal Gangadhar Tiwal v Sakharai 1 L R 96 Bom 792 and Annoda Prasad Chatterjee v Kalkri hna Chatterjee 1 L R 94 Calc 95 followed. GOUR CHANDRA DAS v SARAT SUNDARI DASSI (1912) I L R 40 Calc 50

Practice—Colonial Probate Act (55 & 56 Vict c 6)—Power of attorney contraction of The Colonial Probates Act and the procedure therein indicated as to send an exemplification of the probate granted in any part of the United Kingdom to be resealed by the Court to which it is sent has not been extended to British India where the practice is to require administration with will annexed to the estate of deceased British subject leaving property there. Authority in a power of attorney granted by the executrix of a will which has been confirmed in Scotland to produce to the Supreme Court in India in the probate jurisdiction at Calcutta or elsewhere in India the said confirmation and to procure the same to be sealed with the seal of the Supreme Court in India in accordance with the laws thereof does not authorise the donee to obtain grant of Letters of Administration in the goods of WILLIAM RENNIE (1912) I L R 40 Calc 74

*Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 16—General citation issue of—Special citation to executor to accept or renounce not valid—Will validity of—Proper procedure. In a proceeding under the Probate and Administration Act general citation was issued to the executor to attend and watch the proceeding but no appearance was entered by him and letters of administration with a copy of the will annexed was granted to the applicant. Held that the validity of the will was established but letter of administration should not have been granted without calling upon the executor by a special citation under s 16 of the Act to accept or renounce his executorship. *BAROJAN DAS v PAJLAKSHMI DAS (1920) I L R 47 Calc 838

Whether grant of in respect of part of estate is valid—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 50—Compromise of probate proceedings which is binding on minors—Equitable—toppel. Although an executor who has been appointed by the testator for the administration of a particular fund is competent to take out probate limited to that particular fund yet where there is no direction as to any particular fund and where the applicants for letters of administration apply in their capacity as heirs there is no provision of law which empowers the court to refuse administration of the whole estate and to limit it to a fractional undivided portion thereof. The only issue before a Probate Court is whether the Will has been proved to be genuine and duly executed and the court has no concern with the devolution of property. Although it can record a contract or agreement made between the applicant for administration and a caretaker in consideration of the withdrawal of the latter's objection

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION—concl'd

the court is wholly powerless to enforce such contract or agreement SARADA PRASAD TRAI v. TRIGUNA CHAMAN ROY 5 Pat L J 415

Justice—whether Court should go into question of—paramount title—Probate and Administration Act (v of 1881) ss 23 64 69 70 and 73 The question as to whether an estate exists for the administration of which letters of administration can be granted must be decided upon the allegations in the petition. To entitle an applicant to a grant of letters of administration it is sufficient if the petition shows that the applicant is according to the rules for the distribution of the estate of the deceased entitled to the whole or a part of the property and alleges the fact that there is no party of that nature. A Court of Probate is bound to enter into questions of title if it is necessary to decide that question in order to determine which of the two contesting parties is entitled to a grant of letters of administration but is not entitled to do so where one of the contesting parties asserts that no one is entitled to such a grant e.g. where such party objects to a grant being made to his opponents on the ground that he has himself taken the entire estate of the deceased by survivorship as his adopted son. In such a case the question of the factum of the adoption would become relevant to the inquiry only if the alleged adopted son claimed to be presently entitled to the grant of letters of administration. DEBENDRA PRASAD SHUKLA v. SUBBENDRA PRASAD SHUKLA 5 Pat L J 107

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11, 15 O W N 848

— cl 10—

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT I L R 41 Cal 113

Appeal—from a dissentient judgment in an appeal under s 10—Pre-emption—Waajib ul arz—Custom or contract—Partition of village—No new waajib ul arz framed—Construction of document—Hissadar deh Held that an appeal will lie under s 10 of the Letters Patent from the judgment of a Judge who has differed from his colleague in an appeal under the same section. The waajib ul arz of an undivided village gave a right of pre-emption first to a near co-sharer (hissadar karib) and then to a co-sharer in the village (hissadar deh). Subsequently the village was divided by perfect partition into two mahals. No new waajib ul arz was prepared in a suit for pre-emption by the co-sharers in one of the mahals consequent upon a sale of property situated in another mahal to a stranger. Held that the right might be enforced notwithstanding the partition. The meaning of the words deh and mahel discussed by KARAMAT HUSSAIN J Dalgam Singh v. Halka Singh I I L 22 All 1 and Darya Jivan Ram I L J 3 Ill 265 referred to. JIVAN RAM TONK SING (1911) I L R 34 All 13

— cl 10 39—

See ATTORNEY GENERAL'S COUNCIL

I L R 41 Cal 734
I L R 39 Mad 128

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—concl'd

— cl 12—

See ARBITRATION I L R 47 Cal 611

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) s 11 I L R 37 Bom 563

See CONTRACT I L R 47 Cal 583

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE I L R 38 Cal 524

See HUNDI SUIT ON I L R 40 Bom 473

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT I L R 34 Mad 257

See JURISDICTION I L R 39 Cal 739
I L R 40 Cal 308
I L R 42 Cal 942
24 C W N 583

I L R 48 Cal 882

See LETTERS PATENT (BOM)

See MORTGAGE 24 C W N 633

See THIRD PARTY NOTICE I L R 45 Bom 24

See WAIVER I L R 44 Cal 10

State Railway suit for damages against by servant if may be brought against the Secretary of State for India in Council—Jurisdiction of High Court—Cl 17 Sellers Patent Calcutta High Court 1865 leave to file plaint under if defendant may question properly when once granted—Secretary of State for India in Council if a Body Corporate and if represents Government of India in all suits maintainable against Government—9 65 of 21 and 22 Vict c 106—Government carrying on business for State purposes where may be sued—Railway Company if a person carrying on business and where suit may be brought against it—Decision of a Bench of two Judges sitting on Original Side if binding on a single Judge. A servant of the Eastern Bengal State Railway was prosecuted at Rungpur on a charge of criminal breach of trust which resulted in his acquittal. He thereupon filed a plaint claiming damages for false and malicious prosecution against the Secretary of State for India in Council in the Calcutta High Court in which he craved leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent of the High Court 1865 for the institution of the suit in the said Court and the Court granted such leave. Held that as the cause of action had arisen wholly outside the jurisdiction of the Calcutta High Court the leave was not properly granted and that the fact of the leave having been granted did not preclude the defendant from questioning the jurisdiction of the Court at the trial. Under s 6 of 21 and 22 Vict c 106 the Secretary of State in Council is a Body Corporate for purposes of a suit and as such represents the Government of India in such suits as may be maintained against the Government. By 21 and 22 Vict c 106 such right of suit as individuals had against the East India Company were continued as against the Secretary of State. A Railway Company is a person carrying on business within the meaning of s 12 of the Letters Patent and it may be sued at the place of its principal office where the directors meet and the general business of the company is transacted or the brain power of the business is a Government may be presumed to dwell in its own capital and a Govern ment engaged in trade though it may be for purpose of the State early on business there Devi Varan Tewari v Secretary of State for India I L R 11 C 35 cited from The judgment of Proctor J in Proctor v Secretary of State for India I L R 11 C 67 approved Held that the Proctor being the decision of two Judges sitting on the Original Side is unimpeachable upon a reference by one of the Judges sitting singly on the Original Side the decision is binding on a single Judge sitting RODRICKS v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912)

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—contd

—cl 12—contd

18 C W N 747

*I accept for grant of a Regis. of Letters Patent for a Court—Leave of may be granted as if granted on the date of the trial of the plaintiff—Leave of object—Leave of defendant—Costs of unsuccess—Application—Where leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent is granted for in the plaintiff was granted by the Judge, subject to its ratification by Court but it did not appear that the plaintiff was ever placed before a Judge Held on the matter being brought before the Judge on a later date after defendant had filed written statement and taken several other steps toward the trial and had entered on the cross examination of the plaintiff who was being examined on commission that the granting of leave was a judicial act performed only by the Judge and leave could not now be enforced on the plaintiff as given on the date on which the plaintiff was presented before the Registrar J. H. S. v. I. R. 33 C 19 67 12 C W N 649 followed Plaintiff's steps they had taken in the suit defendant had waived objection as to want of leave J. H. S. v. I. R. 33 C 19 67 12 C W N 649. The application in this case was made by the plaintiff was ordered to pay defendant's costs VARASWATI DA v. L. R. 33 C 19 67 12 C W N 649. The application in this case was made by the plaintiff was ordered to pay defendant's costs VARASWATI DA v. L. R. 33 C 19 67 12 C W N 649.*

17 C W N 512

cl 12 14—*Costs of action—Partly within jurisdiction—Filing of action—Time of application—An application under cl 14 of the Letters Patent to join a further cause of action arising wholly outside the jurisdiction can be made in a case in which leave to sue has to be obtained under cl 12 nor is there anything in cl 14 to show that this application must be made before the plaintiff is filed. There is nothing to prevent the plaintiff making the application at any time before the hearing but it would certainly be advisable for him to make it at the time the plaintiff presented *JOHN GEORGE DORR v. THE HAMBURG MILLS LTD (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 564

—cls 12 and 18—

See PRESIDENTIAL TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III) (1909) 89 7 36 AND 90

I L R 40 Mad 810

—cls 13 16 20—

See APPEAL I L R 47 Cal 1104

See MINOR I L R 41 I A 314

—cl 16 27 and 44—

See OFFICE OF INDIA ACT 1910 s 4

B Pat L J 537

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)

—contd

—cl 15—

See AMENDED LETTERS PATENT

I L R 42 Bom 260

See APPEAL I L R 42 Mad 352

I L R 45 Cal 502 818

I L R 42 Cal 735

I L R 44 Cal 804

See ARBITRATION—RIGHT OF APPEAL

I L R 30 Cal 822

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1895—

—cl 15 AND 478

I L P 43 Mad 361

See 435 440 AND 133

I L R 39 Mad 537

See 468

I L P 30 Mad 472

See LETTERS PATENT (BOM)

I L R 44 Bom 272

See MISJOINDER I L R 45 Cal 111

See EVILW I L R 40 Mad 651

*Order of a single Judge in revision against order to give remedy to keep the peace—No appeal—Criminal trial meaning of proceedings taken for binding over persons to keep the peace under Ch VIII Criminal Procedure Code are criminal trials within the meaning of s 15 of the Letters Patent and hence there is no appeal from the judgment of a single Judge disposing of a Revision Petition presented against an order of a Magistrate under s 118 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. In the matter of Pamaamy City I L R 39 Mad 670 followed *Re DE IKACHARI (1910)

I L R 39 Mad 539

*Order of Judge refusing to decide whether arbitrators are going beyond scope of their authority—Judgment—Appeal—Construction of submission to arbitrate—An order of a Judge dismissing a petition to revoke a submission to arbitration on the ground that the arbitrators are going beyond the scope of the reference is a judgment within the meaning of cl 15 of the Letters Patent and as such is appealable. Such an order compels a party to submit to the jurisdiction of arbitrators though he complains that no such jurisdiction exists. It decides a question of right namely whether or not he is by the terms of reference to arbitration deprived of his right at common law to have the dispute decided in the ordinary way in a Court of law. It goes to jurisdiction and is not passed as an exercise of discretion *ATLAS ASSURANCE COMPANY LIMITED v. AHMEDABAD HARBOR (1908)

I L R 34 Bom 1

See ARBITRATION I L R 34 Bom 354

*Judgment—Order of single Judge refusing to frame an issue not appealable as a judgment—An order of a single Judge on the Original Side refusing to frame an issue asked for by one of the parties is not a judgment within cl 15 of the Letters Patent and is not appealable Per ANAND WHITT v. J—An adjudication is a judgment within the meaning of the clause if its effect whatever its form may be and whatever may be the nature of the application in which it is made is to put an end to the suit or proceeding so far as the*

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1865)—*contd*cls 15 36—contd

maintainable—s 98 (2) Civil Procedure Code (1 of 1908) and cl (36) Letters Patent applicability of to appeals in Land Acquisition cases—R 2 of Appellate Side Rules applicability of to such appeals. The decision of the High Court in a Land Acquisition appeal is not a judgment within cl (15) of the Letters Patent so as to enable a party to file a further appeal to the High Court under that article. Rangoon Latatoung Co Ltd v The Collector Rangoon 1 L R 40 Calc 21, and The Special Officer Salverty Building Sites v Desabhai Basanj Motwala 17 C W N 121 followed. S 98 of the Civil Procedure Code applies to Land Acquisition appeals and if a bench of two Judges hearing an appeal differ as to the amount of additional compensation awardable the proper order to pass on the appeal is to confirm the award of the lower Court under that section and not to give a decree up to the lower limit of additional compensation. Kishen Dayal v Irshad Ali 22 C I J 50 distinguished. An award is a decree or order of a Civil Court within r 2 of the Appellate Side Rules of the High Court. Per Seshagiri Aiyar J S 98 Civil Procedure Code is not strictly applicable to the facts of the case. MAHAKRAMAN TRICHALPAD v THE COLLECTOR OF THE NILGIRIS (1918)

1 L R 41 Mad 943

cls 15 36, 39—

See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL

1 L R 43 Calc 90

cls 15 44—

See APPEAL 1 L R 43 Calc 857

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ARTS 11 AND 13 1 L R 39 Mad 1186

cl 24—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 17 187 526 AND 531 1 L R 42 Mad 791

cls 22 28—

See EVIDENCE 1 L R 47 Calc 671

See JURY TRIAL BY 1 L R 44 Calc 723

cl 28—

See COUNTING FIT COIN

1 L P 44 Calc 477

Review of criminal case decided by High Court in Original Criminal Jurisdiction on certificate of Advocate General. KING EMEROR v UPENDRA NATH DASS (1914)

19 C W N 653

Advocate General of has power to grant fiat regarding jurisdiction on point of fact. On a conviction of kidnapping in the Criminal Sessions of the High Court the Advocate General granted a fiat under s 26 of the Letters Patent that the question whether the direction to the jury was a sufficient direction and whether certain alleged omissions to direct the jury did not amount to a misdirection should be further considered by the High Court. At the hearing objection was taken to the competency of the fact. Held (on a consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case) that there was no misdirection and in that view it was not necessary to decide as to the competency of the fiat. Duty of prosecuting counsel in Sessions trials in the High Court to take notes of the Judge's charge to the jury pointed out. KING EMEROR v IFARU AND LAKSHI PESHKAR (1919)

LETTERS PATENT (HIGH COURT 1965)—*concld*cl 26—concld

23 C W N 426

cls 27 28—

See CONTENT OF COURT

1 L R 41 Calc 178

cl 30—

See DEFAMATION 1 L R 48 Calc 388

cl 32—

See ARREST OF SHIP

1 L R 42 Calc 85

cl 36—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 98 1 L R 43 Bom 438

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

1 L R 40 Calc 955

Procedure—Bombay

High Court—Original Civil Jurisdiction—Appeal—Disagreement of Judges—Code of Civil Procedure (V of 1908) as s 4 and 98 sub s 2 Section 36 of the Letters Patent of the Bombay High Court which provides that if the Judges composing a division bench are equally divided in opinion the opinion of the senior Judge is to prevail is not affected by s 98 sub s 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 which provides a different procedure in these circumstances. The Judicial Committee allowed an appeal where the procedure of s 98 sub s 2 had erroneously been followed without objection by the appellant but their Lordships being in a position to dispose of the appeal on its merits reserved for the ultimate decision the question whether the appellant should not be ordered to pay the whole of the costs since the date when the mistake was first made. Decree of the High Court reversed. BRADIDAS SRINIVAS v BAI CULAB (1921) 1 L R 45 Bom 718

See REVISION 1 L R 47 Calc 438

cl 39—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

1 L R 40 Calc 685

1 L R 41 Calc 734

1 L R 39 Mad 128

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 115

15 C W N 848

cls 30 44—

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

1 L R 42 Calc 35

cl 140—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)

s 4 1 L R 37 Bom 506

LETTERS PATENT (ALL)

cl 8—

Legal practitioner—

Disciplinary powers of High Court—Professional misconduct—Fiat on me entered by a vakil purporting to be the petition of his clients but which was in fact entirely the invention of the vakil and contained statements made recklessly and without any reasonable grounds of belief. A vakil was retained to defend in the Court of Session certain persons accused of murder. In the course of such engagement he prepared and put before the Sessions Judge a statement which purported to be a petition signed from his clients and drafted on their instruction whereas in truth and in fact it was a petition which originated with him and in respect of which he had received no instructions from his clients and he put therein allegations which were made recklessly and without any reasonable grounds of belief. Held that the vakil was guilty of professional misconduct and in exercise of the powers conferred by s. 8 of the Letters Patent the vakil was suspended from practising his profession. In the matter of A VAKIL I L R 42 All 450

LETTERS PATENT (ALL)—contd

— cl. 8—contd

— cl. 10—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

ss. 104 AND 41 R 1

I L R 39 All 191

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s. 19.

I L R 80 All 147

LETTERS PATENT (BOM)

See LETTERS PATENT BM

— cl. 11 and 38—

See HIGH COURT ACT (24 & 25 Vict. cl. 104) I L R 80 Bom 604

— cl. 12—

See HUNDI SUIT ON

I L R 40 Bom 473

See THIRD PARTY NOTICE

I L R 45 Bom 24

Or any civil jurisdiction of the Bombay High Court—Suits for land and other immovable property—Title deeds—Suits to compel the delivery of title deeds to land—Title deeds—Ordinary civil jurisdiction of the Bombay High Court. In a suit to enforce the delivery to the plaintiff of the title deeds of certain immovable property situated outside the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the Bombay High Court where it appeared on the pleadings that the substantial point to be decided in the suit was the title of the plaintiff to the property to which the title deeds related. Held that the suit, in so far as it related to such title deeds, was a suit for land or other immovable property and that the Bombay High Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the same. 7 CLEXABAI & EBRAHIM HAJI VEDINA (1913) I L R 37 Bom 494 — cl. 15—Inherent meaning of—Order refusing injunction to restrain prosecution of suit in a foreign Court not a judgment—No appeal lies against such order—Jurisdiction—Union. An order refusing to grant injunction to restrain the defendant from prosecuting a suit filed by him in the Court of a Native State is not a judgment within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent and no appeal lies against that order. The Justices of the Peace for Calcutta v. The Oriental Gas Co. (1873) 11 L R 1 433 referred to Sonabai v. Trilokchand (1903) 31 Bom 60. distinguished WANCHAND & LAKHMICHAND MANERCHAND (1913) I L R 44 Bom 272

LETTERS PATENT (BOM)—contd

— cl. 35—

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) ss. 2 & 7 AND 40 I L R 38 Bom 125

LETTERS PATENT (CAL)

See LETTERS PATENT 181

LETTERS PATENT (MAD)

See LETTERS PATENT 1805

LETTERS PATENT (N-W P)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

s. 104 O VIII R 1 O VIII R 90 I L R 80 All 191

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 19. I L R 39 All 147

See HIGH COURT MISCONDUCT I L R 40 Mad 69

LETTERS PATENT (PAT)

— cl. 9 to 34—

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT 1870 s. 13 4 Pat L J 423

— cl. 10—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT s. 7 3 Pat L J 581

Point not argued before single Judge if may be urged in appeal. The conduct of a case before a single Judge of High Court must not be regarded as a preliminary matter in which the parties and their legal advisers are not called upon to exert themselves. Ordinarily a point which had not been taken before a single Judge would not be allowed to be taken in appeal under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent. Saminatha Ajjar v. Venkataswamy Ayyer I L R 27 Mad 11 and Ishab Chaud v. Harmulji Patil I L R 34 All 1 referred to The Tanjore Palace Estate and Panchnalis I L R 309 dis. sented from Bani Madhab v. Mahanujani I L R 13 Cal 101 and Dechi v. Ishmailullah Ali I L R 12 All 161 referred to DEBI CHARAN TALUKDER v. SHEIKH MEHDI HUSSAIN (1916) 20 C W N 1303

Rules of the Patna High Court 1910 Ch VIII rr. 3 and 4 and 16 Ch VIII rr. 3 and 4 Letters Patent of the Patna High Court cl. 10—Appeal from decision of single Judge—procedure. The procedure in appeals under cl. 10 of the Letters Patent is laid down in Ch VIII rr. 2 and 16 and Ch VIII rr. 3 and 4 which provide that the appeal must first be presented to the Registrar whose duty it is to lay it before a Divisional Bench. The Bench hears the appellants and either it dismisses the appeal or causes notice to be served upon the respondent. In dismissing an appeal under these rules without issuing notice upon the respondent the High Court does not act without jurisdiction. JAGDIS CHANDRA DAS v. CHANDRA MOHAN DAS 4 Pat L J 695

Single Judge when question not raised before can be raised before Division Bench. The plaintiff obtained a decree on the 27th September 1913. The decree was prepared and signed on the same day. The Court was closed from the 28th September to the 31st by law Held per MOOKERJEE J—The language of exceptions 7 and 9 to s 499 Penal Code do not import such absolute immunity as is recognised by English law but in civil suits for damages for defamation the Court is not fettered by any statutory provisions and the principle recognised in England that neither party witness counsel jury nor Judge can be put to answer civilly or criminally for words spoken in office should not be dissented from Per BEACHROIT J—Witnesses and parties stand on a different footing and a party making a defamatory statement in the course of a judicial proceeding does not enjoy the absolute privilege of immunity from prosecution accorded by the English law CROWDY v L O PETTLY (1912) 17 C W N 554

LIBEL—contd

Resolution of panchayat of Hindu caste community affecting member of community adversely—Question of its validity by Hindus—Implicit exclusion from caste—Publication by Chaudhri to other caste people under rules of the community—Privilege—Absence of proof of express malice In an action for libel brought by the appellant against the respondent both of whom were members of the Agarwala Vajhya caste of Hindus the latter was sued as chaudhri and chairman of the panchayat in one section of that community. The libel was contained in the following resolution passed on the 19th of June 1910 by the panchayat of the community—It was settled by the panches that since B Gobind Das B Bhagwan Das published circulated among the biradris and the non biradris a pamphlet about the biradris against the practices of the biradris and did not attend the panchayat on being called to do so these facts show that the gentlemen circulated the pamphlet simply to disgrace the biradris and their not signing the chilla shows that their views are against the panchayat therefore it is ordered that until B Govind Das and B Bhagwan Das clear themselves the family of B Madho Das be bartan band. This resolution was admittedly communicated by the respondent in his capacity of chaudhri to the chaudhri of another section of the community and to others of the caste people generally by which action it was alleged that the appellant and his brother were put in the position of being virtually declared to be outcastes. The defence was that the publication was part of the duty of the respondent as chaudhri and was therefore privileged. Held by the Judicial Committee that the onus of establishing the fact that the respondent's conduct was the outcome of some improper motive or private spite was on the appellant and he had not discharged it. The respondent had acted in good faith in the execution of his duty and in the absence of express malice the communication of the resolution of the panchayat was privileged. The members of the appellant's family had notice of the meeting at which it was passed and some of them could have attended the panchayat but if the appellant himself could not do so they were all affected by the resolution passed. In good v Sperry 1 C W N 181 London Association for the Retraction of Trade v Greenleaf [1916] 1 C W N 40 and Adams v Ward [1911] 1 C W N 309 referred to as enunciating the accepted rule as to privilege. To defeat or rebut privilege the law does not recognize anything short of actual or express malice in the publication of the matter which is charged to be libellous

LIBEL—contd

There was no ground for supposing that there was any duty imposed on the respondent beyond properly and duly giving effect to the rules of the panchayat Govind Das v Bishambhar Das (1917) 1 L R 29 All 561

Defamation—Privilege—Civil liability of petitioner for statement made by him in a petition presented to Criminal Court A person presenting a petition to a Criminal Court is not liable in a civil suit for damage in respect of statements made therein which may be defamatory of the person complained against. In the absence of Statute law in India regarding civil liability for libel there is no reason why the English law applicable thereto should not be followed according to the ruling of the Privy Council in Waghela Pajsanji v Shikl Masuluddin 1 L R 141 A 39 Abul Hakim v Tej Chandra Mukari 1 L R 40 All 815 overruled Awada Ram Shaha v Nema Chand Shaha 1 L R 23 Cal 867 disapproved from Chunni Lal v Narain Das (1917) 1 L R 40 All 341

Letter written by one member of the Bohra caste to another member of the same caste accusing a third person of having been instrumental in breaking off a betrothal A member of the Bohra caste residing in Jodhpur wrote a letter to a caste fellow of his at Aligarh informing him that one N D another member of the caste had been instrumental in breaking off a certain betrothal and in getting the betrothed girl married to another person. It was in evidence that the breaking off of a betrothal was regarded in the caste as a very bad or improper act. The writer and the recipient of this letter were made defendants to a libel action by the person therein referred to and the writer pleaded that the person referred to in the letter was not the plaintiff but a different person bearing a similar name. No plea of privilege in a matter regarding the caste was raised or if adumbrated was not substantiated. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for substantial damages against the writer of the letter in question and that the recipient who had shown the letter to another member of the caste was also liable though to a lesser degree. Narain Das v Bada Ram (1919) 1 L R 41 All 329

Fair comment—Privilege—Malice—One of a class—Public document The plaintiff was a member of Champaran Agrarian Enquiry Committee and as such settled some questions of rent between the indigo planters and the tenants. The defendant an indigo planter in a series of three letters to the Press made certain allegations against the plaintiff suggesting that his consent to the settlement was obtained by misrepresentation. Held that the cumulative effect of the letters was libellous. It was not a fair comment on a matter of public interest and the defendant was not entitled to any privilege. Mervale v Carron 20 Q B D 245 Jefroy v Burns 1 L R 418 556 Dunn v Sleystone 11 A C 187 Adam v Ward [1917] 1 C W N 309 London Association v Greenleaf [1916] 1 C W N 40 Poyal Aquarium Society v Parkinson [1892] 1 Q B 431 referred to Mangena v Wright [1909] 2 K B 248 distinguished Jain v Rani (1900) 1 L R 48 Cal 304 25 W N 150

LICENSE

See ARMS ACT (VI of 1878) ss 17
19(c) I L R 37 Bom 181

See BENGAL FACTORY ACT 1898 s 10,
15 C W N 169

See BOMBAY ARRARI ACT (BOM ACT V
of 1878)

ss 16 43 I L R 37 Bom 300

ss 3, 6 I L R 37 Bom 101

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 23
I L R 40 Bom 64

See CONTRACT WITH FARMY
I L R 41 Bom 390

See EASEMENTS ACT (V of 1882)—

ss 59 AND 60 I L R 37 All 91

s. 60 I L R 39 All 621

See EXCHANGEABLE ARTICLES
I L R 39 Calc 1053

See FOREST ACT (VII of 1878) s 2,
CL (i) s 3 (a) I L R 42 Bom 406

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1909) Sec
I Apts 190 144

I L R 42 Bom 333

See RAILWAYS ACT s 7
I L R 34 Bom 252

See TRADE MARK I L R 42 Calc 262

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 108 (j) I L R 37 All 144⁸

ss 105 AND 107 I L R 38 All 17⁸

For erection of stables—

See NUISANCE I L R 40 Bom 401

for sale of drugs—

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT
1910 s 40 I L R 39 All 10⁷

to carry on trade—

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
ACT 1916 s 208

I L R 42 All 994

under Motor Vehicles Act—

See MOTOR VEHICLES ACT (VIII of 1914) s 8 I L R 43 All 123

Calcutta Municipal Act (Deng III of 1899) ss 193 198 166—Trade Licenses—License for keeping animals and license for the use of premises for keeping animals for hire—Hire under s 106 (1) of the Act A company carrying goods by means of horse and wagon to and from stations under contracts with Railway Companies for a fixed monthly sum keep horses for hire within the meaning of s 466 (7) of the Calcutta Municipal Act License should be taken out not only for the trade under s 108 and for keeping animals under s 193 but also for the use of premises for keeping animals for hire under s 400 of the Act S N BASFRIER v THE MANAGER W LEWIS & Co (1900)

I L R 47 Calc 809

Prohibition to sell the privilege without permission—Taking partner without permission legality of—Loan to such

LICENSEE—contd partnership with knowledge of prohibition—Onus on lender to prove legality of partnership—Right of lender to recover loan from licensee Where a licensee to sell arrack contained the condition that the privilege of supplying and vending shall not without the permission of the Collector previously obtained be sold, exchanged or sub-leased nor if the Collector has ordered can an agent be appointed without his permission previously obtained for exercise of any such privilege held that it was illegal for the licensee to take a partner in the business without obtaining permission and that the plaintiff must be taken to have had notice of the illegality but he was allowed to recover half the loan BRAHMAIA v PAMIAH

I L R 43 Mad 141

Storage of oils without license It is no defence to a prosecution for storing oils without a license to say that the Commissioner wrongfully refused to grant a license
EMPEROR v NARAYANA

I L R 45 Bom 1076

LICENSEE

See NEOLIGNE I L R 38 Bom 552

liability of—

See PETROLEUM I L R 40 Calc 356 suit to recover possession from—

See TITTY I L R 41 All 669

LICENSOR AND LICENSEE

See TRADE MARK I L R 40 Calc 814

LIEN

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 282
287 I L R 35 Bom 275

See SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS

declaration of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 45 Calc 530

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

See BAIL I L R 37 Calc 412

power of to pass Act—

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT
I L R 40 Calc 391

LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1912)

See TRADE MARK I L R 40 Calc 570

LIFE ESTATE

See JAILIN I L R 42 Calc 305
I L R 48 Calc 637

See WALK I L R 37 Bom 447

See WILL I L R 38 Bom 697

LIFE INSURANCE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF
1900) s 60 I L R 37 Bom 471

LIFE INSURANCE—contd

See MARRIED WOMAN'S PROPERTY ACT
1874 ss 4 AND 6

18 C W N 1335-

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1892 AS AMENDED BY ACT II OF
1900) s 130 I L R 37 Bom 198

money payable under—Policy of Life Insurance—Money payable under—Such money forms part of estate of assured and is recoverable by his representatives Where the assured does not, in his life time create any trust in respect of the money payable under a policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of his wife and children such money in cases where the provisions of the Married Woman's Property Act do not apply forms part of his estate and is recoverable by his legal representatives The contract between the Company and the assured gives no right of action to the beneficiaries named Where the Company refuses payment on the death of the assured the legal representatives and not the beneficiary will be entitled to enforce the contract
The Company will be bound to pay the amount to a person who has obtained a Succession certificate under s 16 of the succession Certificate Act Oliver v Mutual Reserve Fund Life Assura- tion [1897] 1 Q B 147 referred to ORIENTAL GOVERNMENT SECURITY LIFE ASSURANCE LTD
v VANTEDDU AMMIRAJU (1911)

I L R 35 Mad 162

Policy holder—Alteration of rules—Effect on policy effected before alteration—Refund of premia paid A policy holder in a Life Insurance Company is not bound by any alterations in the rules made after the contract between himself and the company had become concluded If a policy holder who is permitted by the rules of an Insurance Company to discontinue payment of premia after stipulated period does so after that period the policy does not lapse and the company is liable to refund the sums actually paid TANJORE LIFE ASSURANCE
Co v KUPPANA PAU (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 333

Agent—Dismissal of agent—Commission—Renewals meaning of—Premia paid by policy holder subsequent to dismissal of agent—Right of agent to commission on renewals or subsequent premia paid after dismissal—Express contract for such commission necessary for In the absence of a definite agreement to that effect an agent of a Life Insurance Company who has secured policy holders for the Company and who duties as agent do not cease with the first introduction of the customer has no right to commission on renewals that is subsequent premia paid in by such policy holders after he ceased to be its agent In re The Albert Life Assurance Assurance (Irvine's Case) 12 S J 803 Pond v Waters
(1893) 11 F L P 443 Orinval v de Appel No
42 of 1892 and Civil suit No 175 of 1903 followed Empire of India Life Assurance Co Ltd v
NANU ALIYAR (1901) I L R 44 Mad 170

LIFE INTEREST

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 42 Calc 561

LIGHT AND AIR

See EASEMENT

I L R 39 Calc 59

I L R 42 Calc 46

LIGHT AND AIR—contd

Damages for infringement of light and air—Injunction when to be granted A mandatory injunction will be granted to remove an obstruction of an easement to light and air where the character of the obstruction is such that its consequence is to darken the plaintiff's house so as to make it uncomfortable and in part useless In such a case damages would not be an adequate remedy MUTHU
KRISHNA ALIYAR v SOMALINGA MUNINAGAN
DRIER (1913) I L R 88 Mad 11

LIGHTERS OR BOATS

See BILL OF LADING

I L P 58 Mad 941

LIMITATION

See ARKARI ACT (BOM ACT V OF 1878)
ss 32 67 I L R 37 Bom 101

See ACCOUNT SUIT FOR

I L R 40 Calc 108

ACCOUNTS

26 C W N 61

See ADMINISTRATION

I L R 40 I A 236

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L P 32 All 369

I L R 45 Bom 661

I L R 88 All 224 229 463

I L R 38 Bom 227

I L R 44 Calc 425

See ALIEN ENEMY

I L P 46 Calc 528

See AMFENDED LETTERS PATENT CL 15

I L R 42 Bom 260

See AMENDMENT

I L R 48 Calc 110

See AMENDMENT OF PLAINT

I L R 36 All 370

See APPEALS ORIGINAL

I L R 1 Lab 508

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 89 Calc 760

See ASSESSMENT I L R 43 Calc 973

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885—

s. 69 AND 70 s Pat L J 24

s 111 A I Pat L J 73

See BENGAL REGULATION (XV OF 1793)

I L R 84 All 261

See BENGAL ALLUVION REGULATION
1823 s Pat L J 632

See BILL OF COSTS

I L R 46 Calc 249

I L R 48 Calc 817

See BOMBAY DISTRICT POLICE ACT (BOM
IV OF 1890) ss 63 (b) 80 (c)

I L R 41 Bom 737

See BOYD I L R 43 All 38

See CHEQUE PAYMENT BY

I L R 42 Calc 1043

See CHAUDHARI CHAKRAN LAWS

I L R 46 Calc 173

LIMITATION—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1899)—

s 43 I L R 53 All 244

s 54 14 C W N 582

s 230 I L R 37 Mad 186

I L R 52 All 136

I L R 54 All 396

ss 230 AND 230 I L R 33 All 517

s 315 I L R 35 All 419

s 325 A I L R 46 Calc 183

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 47 O ALI R 1

I L R 40 All 12

s 48 I L R 40 All 198

I L R 37 All 633

I L R 36 Bom 368

I L R 34 All 20

s 48 SCH I O ALI

I L R 55 Bom 103

s 48 SCH III I L R 42 All 118

s 60 I L R 33 All 529

s 92 I L R 40 Mad 212

s 115 3 Pat L J 376

s 122 I L R 40 All 1

O 1 N. 9 O 31 P 11 Pat L J 408

O XXI—

s 2 I L R 38 All 204

s 50 I L R 40 All 325

I L R 41 All 623

ss 84 89 AND 92

I L R 35 All 65

ss 97 AND 103 I L R 1 Lah 57

O XXII—

s 4 I L R 39 All 551

s 7 I L R 2 Lah 164

s 8 I L R 38 All 621

O XXXIII R 5

I L R 41 Mad 620

O XXXIV—

ss 4 5 AND 10 I L R 41 All 473

s 5 I L R 38 All 21

I L R 39 All 641

I L R 40 All 203

s 6 I L R 40 All 553

I L R 41 All 581

O XXXIX R 1

I L R 43 All 383

SCH II CLS 17 AND 20

I L R 38 All 85

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 188)—

s 169 I L R 33 All 641

I L R 35 All 177

See COMPANY I L R 36 All 412

See CONTRACT I L R 34 All 429

I L R 80 Mad 509

See CONTRACT ACT 1880 ss 126 AND 140

I L R 42 All 70

See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 484

LIMITATION—contd

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—

s 190 I L R 42 Bom 281

I L R 1 Lah 602

s 476 I L R 37 All 344

See DECREE I L R 40 Bom 504

I L R 42 Bom 728

I L R 44 Bom 227 540

See DECREE ASSIGNMENT OF

I L R 43 Calc 990

See DECREE DIST I L R 80 Bom 175

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

ACT—

ss 39 48 I L R 36 Bom 183

s 48 I L R 42 Bom 367

See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1901)—

ss 2 46 AND 167

I L R 39 Bom 600

See EJECTMENT SUIT IN

I L R 41 Mad 641

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 35 All 178

I L R 38 All 482

I L R 37 All 827

I L R 39 All 193

I L R 40 All 211

I L R 38 All 268

I L R 43 All 520

1 Pat L J 359

3 Pat L J 571

See EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS

I L R 37 All 518

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 39 Calc 506

See GUJRAT TALUKDAR'S ACT s 29E

I L R 35 Bom 324

s 31

I L R 37 Bom 380

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 40 Calc 966

I L R 43 Calc 417

See HINDU LAW—CONVERSION

I L R 33 All 356

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

L R 46 I A 204

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 42 Calc 384

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PRO-

PERTY I L R 38 All 196

I L R 47 Calc 274

See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE

I L R 42 Calc 1068

See HINDU LAW—PERSERVER

I L R 41 All 492

I L R 43 Bom 869

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 38 All 117

I L R 1 Lah 554

See HUSBAND AND WIFE

I L R 37 Bom 393

See IDOL I L R 33 All 735

I L R 36 Bom 1 5

LIMITATION—contd

- See INJUNCTION I L R 42 Calc 550
 See INSOLVENCY I L R 47 Calc 721
 See JUDICIAL DISCRETION
 4 Pat L J 381
 See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 45 Bom 508
 See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)
 See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—
 See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT
 (III OF 1905) I L R 38 Mad 674
 ss 4 5 6 7 AND 14
 I L R 39 Mad 727
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—(ALIENATION)
 I L R 34 All 213
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—(ENDOWMENT)
 I L R 47 Calc 866
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—(WIDOW)
 I L R 43 All 127
 See MAINTENANCE GRANT
 I L R 37 Calc 674
 See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 790
 I L R 38 Calc 342
 I L R 34 All 620
 I L R 38 All 93 540
 I L R 40 All 467
 I L R 42 All 575
 I L R 47 Calc 125
 I L R 43 All 539
 See MORTGAGE DECREE 3 Pat L J 478
 See MUTT I L R 41 Mad 121
 See NEGLIGENCE 5 Pat L J 359
 See NEW CASE
 I L R 48 Calc 832
 See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND ODISH MUNICIPALITY ACT (XV OF
 1883) s 10 I L R 35 All 308
 See POSSESSION 2 Pat L J 280
 See PRELIMINARY DECREE
 I L R 37 Bom 60
 See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
 I L R 41 All 635
 I L R 43 Calc 248
 See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY
 I L R 44 Calc 978
 See PRIVY COUNCIL—LEAVE TO APPEAL
 TO I L R 39 Calc 510
 See PROBATE I L R 41 Calc 819
 See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III
 OF 1907)—
 ss 22 30 AND 52
 I L R 35 All 410
 s 46 (4) I L R 33 All 733
 I L R 34 All 498
 See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
 ACT (VII OF 1887)
 s 25 I L R 38 All 690
 See PUBLIC DEBTS AND RECOVERY ACT
 s 10 14 C W N 607
 See PUNJAB COURTS ACT 1914
 I L R 1 Lah 245
 See RECORD OF RIGHTS 2 Pat L J 537

LIMITATION—contd

- See REGISTRATION ACT III OF 1908—
 ss 72 (1) 76 AND 77
 I L R 40 Mad 759
 s 77 24 C W N 4 23 301
 See RESIDUARY LEGATEE
 I L R 41 Calc 271
 See REVIVOR I L R 43 Calc 903
 See SALE I L R 46 Calc 975
 See SALES OF ARREARS OF PENALTY
 I L R 43 Calc 779
 I L R 44 Calc 412
 See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
 I L R 40 Calc 237 534
 See SECOND APPEAL
 I L R 2 Lah 227
 See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1897)
 s 30 I L R 34 All 43
 See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT 1890
 s 4 I L R 43 All 440
 See SUIT I L R 45 Calc 934
 See TRANSFER I L R 40 Calc 259
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)—
 s 82 AND 100 I L R 33 All 708
 s 90 I L R 34 Bom 540
 See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE
 ACT (III OF 1901) s 121
 I L R 35 All 541
 See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
 ACT II OF 1916
 s 376 I L R 42 All 207
 See VATAN I L R 37 Bom 81
 See WASTE LANDS I L R 43 I A 303
 See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT
 I L R 44 Bom 939
 ————— by adverse possession—
 See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 41 Calc 683
 ————— for declaratory suit—
 See REGISTRATION ACT 1908
 I L R 2 Lah 5
 ————— for Second appeal—
 See SECOND APPEAL I L R 2 Lah 1
 ————— instalment decree—
 See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART 181
 I L R 2 Lah 155
 ————— suit between co-majdars of a Khankah—
 See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 120
 134 AND 144 I L R 1 Lah 66
 ————— question of—
 See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
 I L R 39 Calc 473
 ————— recording adjustment of decree—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
 XXI R. 2 I L R 45 Bom 91
 ————— respecting claim for rent—See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF
 1903) I L R 37 Mad 540

LIMITATION—contd

— suit to set aside compromise by guardian—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXI
P 7 I L R 2 Lah 164

— None for recording payment of decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
O XXI r 2 I L R 45 Bom 91

— Suit to recover excess paid for redemption—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Art 83
I L R 2 Lah 316

— Suit to recover money under an award—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Art 10
I L R 2 Lah 320

— tenant claiming adverse possession against landlord—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 45 Bom 508

— whether suspended by arbitration—

See GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT 1890
6 Pat L J 273

— whether time can be extended or ground not shown in plaint—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1908 O
VII r 6 I L R 2 Lah 13

— whether plea of—can be raised at trial for first time—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879
ss 68 AND 69 I L R 45 Bom 920

1 — Endowment—Adverse possession —Dispute between senior and junior chelas as to succession in Hindu maths—Ekrarnama allotting one math to senior chela in perpetuity and the other to junior chela as adhisikari—Suit instituted within twelve years from senior chela's death but 27 years from date of ekrarnama—Hindu Law The Mohant of the temple of a Hindu idol who was in possession of two maths one at Bhadrak and the other at Bibisarai died leaving two chelas or disciples between whom a controversy arose as to the right of succession to the maths and the property annexed to them. The dispute was settled by an arrangement embodied in an ekrarnama dated 3rd of November 1874 executed by the senior chela in favour of the junior chela by which the math at Bhadrak was allotted in perpetuity to the senior chela and his successors while the math at Bibisarai and the properties annexed to it were allotted to the junior chela (described therein as an adhisikari) and his successors for the purposes connected with his math subject to an annual payment of Rs 15 towards the expenses of the Bhadrak math. Less than twelve years after the death of the senior chela but considerably more than that period after the date of the ekrarnama the appellant the successor of the senior chela brought a suit against the junior chela to recover possession of the properties annexed to the Bibisarai math on the allegation that they were debutter property dedicated to the worship and service of the plaintiff's idol and held by the respondent (representing the junior chela) as an adhisikari in charge of the Bibisarai math and

LIMITATION—contd

as asserting it to be a math subordinate to the Bhadrak math—Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the property dealt with by the ekrarnama was prior to its date to be regarded as vested not in the Mohant but in the idol the Mohant being only its representative and manager and consequently that from the date of the ekrarnama the possession of the junior chela by virtue of its terms was adverse to the right of the idol and of the senior chela as representing that idol and that the suit was barred by limitation DAMO DAE DAS v LAKHAY DAS (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 885

2 — Adverse possession against Crown—Party relying on title by adverse possession against Crown must prove sixty years adverse possession—Burden of proof shifted on Crown by proof of adverse possession for shorter period A party who rests his title on possession adverse to the Crown must prove such possession for sixty years Secretary of State for India v Fera Rayan I L P 9 Mad 175 explained Where lands have been notified as a reserved forest under the Madras Forest Act a claimant desirous of establishing his title against the Crown by adverse possession must prove adverse possession for sixty years before the notification Where adverse possession for a shorter period is proved it lies on Government to show that it has a subsisting title by showing that such possession commenced within sixty years before such date In this part of India it is a well established rule of common law that waste land not being the property of an individual or community belongs to Government Islands formed within 3 miles of the mainland vest in the Crown CHELIKANI PAMA RAU v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1909)

I L R 38 Mad 1

2 (a) — Acknowledgment What is sufficient—When an insolvent has written down a debt in his schedule as owing that debt to a person named and has signed the Schedule that is a sufficient acknowledgment under s 10 of the Limitation Act to extend the period of limitation CHOEY SRI GOPAL CHIRANJIAL v DHANALAL GHASHIRAM

I L R 35 Bom 383

2 (b) — Courts of Wards—Act 1879 does not contain any express power authorising the Court to execute Promissory Notes But there can be no doubt on the authorities that the Court has power to give an acknowledgment so as to give a new period of limitation IASUBHARY LAL MANDAR v ANAND RAO

I L R 43 Cal 211

3 — Adverse possession—Pent free tank—Setting up hostile title to the knowledge of the landlord—Lakuraj title In a suit for recovery of possession of a tank with its banks by establishment of plaintiff's zamindari title thereto and in the alternative an assessment of rent the defendant pleaded that the tank was rent free and that the suit was barred by limitation It appeared that the defendant more than twelve years ago in the settlement proceedings claimed the tank as rent free without any reference to any sanad and the plaintiff's agent denied the claim Held that inasmuch as a complete hostile right was claimed by the defendant to the knowledge of the plaintiff and as no suit was brought until more than twelve years after the suit as framed was barred by limitation BIPENDRA KISHORE MANIYA v ROSHAN ALI (1912)

LIMITATION—contd

I L R 39 Calc 453

4 ———— Symbolical possession—Court sale

Symbolical possession by purchaser—Judgment debtor remaining in actual possession—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss 263 264 318 and 319—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1918) O XXI r 5 (2) Merely formal possession of immovable property by a purchaser at a Court sale cannot prevent limitation running in favour of the judgment debtor where the latter remains in actual possession and the property is not in the occupancy of a tenant or other person entitled to occupy the same. Symbolical possession is not real possession nor is it equivalent to real possession under Civil Procedure Code except where the Code expressly or by implication provides that it shall have that effect. Gopal v Kri Anarao I L R 25 Bom 275 and Mahadeo v Parashram Bhaunrhand I L R 25 Bom 358 overruled. MAHADEV SAKHARAM v JANU NANJI HATLY (1912) I L R 26 Bom 373

5 ———— Conciliation—Delhan Agricultural Relief Act (XVII of 1879) ss 33 48—

Time taken up in conciliation proceedings—Exclusion of time The plaintiff sued on a promissory note dated the 12th of June 1905. He first applied on the 23rd May 1908 for a conciliator's certificate under s 39 of the Delhan Agricultural Relief Act 1879 and obtained it on the 31st August 1908 then on the 10th September 1908 both he and the defendant made a joint application for conciliation. The conciliator held that the first certificate that he had granted had become useless and gave a fresh certificate on the 3rd December 1908. The suit was brought on the 11th December 1908. It was contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that the suit was within time inasmuch as the whole proceeding from the 23rd of May 1908 to the 3rd of December 1908 was one and continuous and that period should be excluded under s 48 of the Act. DEVINAS v VITHALDAS (1911) I L R 36 Bom 183

6 ———— Suit for sale on mortgage—

Period of limitation changed with provision for pending suits at passing of Act—Limitation Act (XV of 1908) Sec 11 Arts 132 14 Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 31 sub s (1)—Ord v His Majesty in Council holding applicable—Shorter period of limitation than provided by Act subsequently passed The Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which came into force on 7th August of that year after providing by s 31 sub s 1 for a suit for sale by a mortgagee a period of sixty years from the date when the money secured by the mortgage became due enacts that no suit instituted within the said period of sixty years and pending at the date of the passing of the Act shall be deemed on the ground that a twelve years rule of limitation is applicable. In a suit for sale on a mortgage dated 22nd September 1887 instituted on 2nd September 1899 the defence was limitation which the plaintiff avoided by alleging payment of interest and settlement of accounts. The first Court found that part of the claim was barred by the twelve years period of limitation provided by Act 1908. Sec 11 of the Limitation Act 1862. The High

LIMITATION—contd

Court in appeal held that the suit was governed by Art 147 which allowed a period of sixty years and that no part of it was barred. On appeal to His Majesty in Council the decision of the High Court was reversed and by an order in Council it was declared that Art 132 is the article which provided the period of limitation applicable and the case was remitted to the High Court to be disposed of in accordance with such declaration. So remitted the case came before the High Court on 16th August 1908 after the passing of the Limitation Act IX of 1908 and that Court holding that s 31 of that Act applied disposed of the suit as they had previously done in favour of the plaintiff. Held by the Judicial Committee (affirming that decision) that the suit was pending at the time of the passing of Act IX of 1908. The judgment remitting the case did not end the suit nor finally determine it. It was remitted for further procedure and enquiry on allegations of fact and at the passing of Act IX of 1908 that procedure was not concluded and the enquiry not entered upon. The suit in fact was neither adjudged upon nor ready for judgment. VASUDEVA MUDALIAR v SADAGOPA MUDALIAR (1912)

I L R 35 Mad 181

7 ———— delay in filing process fee—

The question of granting time is always one of discretion and that discretion cannot be properly exercised until the general conduct of the party applying for time has been scrutinised. When a date is fixed for a case it is the business of a litigant to see that the processes for the attendance of witnesses are placed in the hands of the Court within reasonable time for the securing of their attendance upon the date fixed. If he files process fees only two days before the date fixed for hearing an order passed by the Court for the issue of those processes must be understood to have been issued at the risk of the party in fault and the Court will not grant an adjournment when the case comes on for hearing. JAGABANDHU CHOWDHURY v GOUREY LALL CHOWDHURY 1 Pat L J 173

8 ———— Hindu Deities—Suit for removal of Hindu Deities from one custody to another—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec 11 Arts 41 120 145 A suit by Thakurs (deities) themselves for removing themselves from the custody of the defendants to the custody of the plaintiffs other than themselves is not a suit for a moveable property. It would be a suit for which no provision is made in the Limitation Act and would therefore naturally come under Art 120 of Sch II of the Act unless any other article also applied. Art 49 has no application to such cases. BALI PANDA v JIDUMANI ANTRA (1910)

I L R 38 Calc 284

9 ———— Agreement between joint trustees—If one of several joint trustees barred the others also barred—Agreement between joint owners or trustees effect of Two joint trustees A and B entered into an agreement which recited that the families of A and B were entitled to the management of the trust and further provided that A's right shall after his death be exercised by his heirs and B's right shall after his death be exercised by his heirs. Held that the effect of the agreement was to constitute the heirs of A and B joint trustees and not to create a right in severalty between the two branches. Where an adult joint trustee takes no steps to protect the trust and his right to take steps becomes time barred the right of other joint trustees even though minors become time barred. THIRU GARAJA PILLAI v. PATNASABATHI PILLAI (1910)

LIMITATION—contd

I L R 34 Mad 284

10 ——— Execution of joint decree—

Decree set aside as against one of several joint judgment debtors against whom it had been ex parte—Decree passed subsequently against the exempted party—Civil Procedure Code 1852 s 108—Order on former application whether res judicata A decree for sale on a mortgage was passed against several defendants jointly on the 25th August 1900 and made absolute on the 21st December 1901. As against one defendant however the decree was ex parte and it was set aside as against her on appeal on the 11th March 1902. Subsequently a decree was passed on the merits against this defendant on the 10th August 1902 and her appeal was dismissed by the High Court on the 16th November 1904 and as against her that decree was made absolute on the 27th November 1905. An application for execution was made against all the defendants on the 21st December 1905 based on the decrees of the 25th August 1900 the 16th August 1902 the 16th November 1904 and the 21st December 1901 and the 27th November 1905. The defendants filed an objection to the application on the 7th February 1906 alleging that they were no parties to the decrees of the 16th August 1902 and the 27th November 1905 and that as to the decrees of the 25th August 1900 and the 21st December 1901 they were time barred. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the decrees of the 25th August 1900 and the 16th November 1904 were steps in granting the plaintiff the relief to which he was entitled. The latter decree supplemented and completed the former and for the first time justified the plaintiff in applying for the joint execution of the decree. Time under the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) began to run from the date of the latter decree or rather from the date it was made absolute—the 27th November 1905, and consequently the application was not barred. Held also that the plaintiff was not estopped in the present proceedings by the order of the 27th November 1905 dismissing his former application for execution of the 16th February 1905 which was based on the decrees of the 10th August 1902 alone whereas the present application was based on the joint effect of the two orders absolute of the 21st December 1901 and the 27th November 1905 which were in effect one decree of the latter date. The applications therefore were different and the former did not operate as a res judicata. ASHFAQ HUSAIN v. GUPTI SAHAI (1911)

I L R 33 All 264

11 ——— Suit by an auction purchaser to recover the purchase money—from a person who attached money in deposit in Court as representing the surplus sale proceeds belonging to the judgment debtor—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch. II Art 170 Limitation applicable to a suit brought by an auction purchaser to recover a certain sum of money from one who had after the sale and the deposit of money in Court attested that sum in execution of his decree against the judgment debtor as representing the surplus sale proceeds belonging to the original judgment debtor after satisfaction of the decree obtained against the debtor by the decree holder is that provided by Art 120 Sch II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). Nilkanta v. Imam Sahib I L R 16 Mad 361 relied on, Hanuman Ramat v. Hanuman Maider I L R 19 Calc 193 and Ram Kumar Shaha v. Pam Go v. Saha I L R 37 Calc 67 distinguished. AMRITA LAL BAGCHI v. JOGENDRA LAL CHOWDHURY (1912)

LIMITATION—contd

I L R 40 Calc 187

12 ——— Suit for Conspiracy to maliciously prosecute—Conspiracy as a cause of action—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 3 114 ill (g) 125—Standard of proof—Claim of privilege whether adverse inference can be drawn from—Disclosure of source of information by privileged person duty of Court regarding—Presumption as to possession of article found in common room of joint family dwelling house—Arrest and Search—Professional conduct of counsel—Counsel making charges of misconduct powers of Court regarding—Counsel's instructions no privilege as against Court—Professional Etiquette affecting counsel—Bar Council resolutions of—Counsel accepting retainer when likely to be witness—Counsel engaged in case propriety of appearing as witness—Adverse inference where counsel not called as witness—Inspection by counsel of book produced by witness during cross examination—Preference to medical works by Court without knowledge of parties—Tort Per WOODROFFE AND COX JJ On the question of the standard of proof there is but one rule of evidence which in India applies to both civil and criminal trials and that is contained in the definition of proved and disproved in s 3 of the Evidence Act. The test in each is would a prudent man after considering the matters before him (which vary with each case) deem the fact in issue proved or disproved? The Court can never be bound by any rule but that which comes from itself dictates a conscientious and prudent exercise of its judgment. There is a presumption against crime and misconduct and the more heinous and improbable a crime is the greater is the force of the evidence required to overcome such presumption. The English rule in these matters does not as such apply in India. Jarai Kumari Dassi v. Dissanayak Dutt I L R 39 Calc 445 explained. Where a document is privileged from production no adverse inference can be drawn from its non production. This rule applies as regards the party claiming privilege and a fortiori it applies where the privilege is claimed by a third party. Although s 125 of the Evidence Act does not in express terms prohibit a witness if he be willing from saying whence he got his information the protection afforded by that section does not depend upon a claim of privilege being made but it is the duty of the Court apart from objection taken to exclude such evidence. A fortiori where privilege is claimed no adverse inference can be drawn therefrom. Where articles are found in a part of a house to which several persons living in the house have access such as a batikha there is no presumption that they are in the possession or control of any person other than the larta or head of the house. Queen Empress v. Sangam Lall I L R 15 All 179 approved. Semble It is immaterial in an action for malicious arrest under what section of an Act an arrest is made if in fact the circumstances are such that the Act justified arrest and a person making a search is entitled to call in aid any statute which justifies his action,

LIMITATION—could quite irrespective of whether it was present or not to his mind when he made the search. The Court is entitled to ask counsel who during the conduct of a case makes charges of misconduct whether he makes the charges on instructions and if so on whom. It is not sufficient to plead instructions. Counsel have a responsibility in the matter and are not justified in making serious charges of fraud and crime unless they are personally satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for putting them forward. Instructions to counsel are only privileged in the sense of being protected from disclosure to the opponent. There is no privilege as against the Court. The latter cannot use them as evidence in the case and for the purpose of the trial would have to treat them as confidential but they could be called for then and there and be used after the trial for determining whether disciplinary action should be taken against counsel by the Full Court. Whenever a Court relies on a book of reference such as a work on medical jurisprudence it should be made known at the trial to the parties so that they may have an opportunity of adducing evidence or argument on the point. Durga Prasad Singh v Ram Doyal Chaudhury 1 L R 38 Cal 153 referred to. The following resolutions of the Bar Council approved—(a) If counsel knows or has reason to believe that he will be an important witness in a case he ought not to accept a retainer therein. (b) If he accepts a retainer not knowing or having reason to believe that he will be such a witness but at the opening or at any subsequent stage before evidence is concluded it becomes apparent that he is a witness on a material question of fact he ought not to continue to appear in the case unless he cannot retire without jeopardising the interests of his client. (c) If counsel knows or has reason to believe that his own professional conduct on matters out of which the action arises is likely to be impugned in the case he ought not to accept a retainer. (d) If he accepts a retainer not knowing or having reason to believe that this own professional conduct in such matters is likely to be impugned but finds in the course of the case that it is so impugned he ought to adopt the same course of conduct as is mentioned in clause (b) ante. (e) In either of the cases mentioned in clauses (b) and (d) there is no rule of professional ethics which debars counsel if he continues to act as counsel in the case from going into the witness box and being cross examined. Although the resolutions of the Bar Council are not binding on the Court the Bar Council is the recognised authority on matters of professional conduct and etiquette affecting counsel and its opinion is of the greatest weight and value. There is nothing necessarily unprofessional in counsel giving evidence in a case in which he appears as such. Sethna v Mir A Mahomed Shirazi 9 Bom L R 1011 Cobbett v Hudson 1 E and B 11 Stones v Byron 4 Dougl and L 393 Deane v Packwood 4 Dougl and L 394 Corra v Lewis [1909] A C 549 14 C W A 86 Jundo Lal Post v Natarani Dass 1 L R 27 Cal 428 referred to. Curry v Walter 1 Esp 456 distinguished. As a general practice however it is undesirable when the matter to which counsel deposes is other than formal that they should testify either for or against the party whose case they are conducting. Under s 118 of the Evidence Act counsel although they may be engaged in the case are competent to testify whether the facts in respect of which they give their evidence occur before or after their retainer. Cobbett v Hudson 1 E and B 11 referred to. The rule laid down in s 114 ill (g) of the Evidence Act that the Court may presume that evidence which could be and is not produced would if produced be unfavourable to the party who withholds it was held to apply to the case of counsel engaged in a suit who should not have been under the circumstances counsel but should have been called as a witness. It is unprofessional for counsel to cross-examine a witness as to facts within his personal knowledge. In the matter of certain Counsel 4th August 1908 (unreported) approved. Where counsel during the hearing of a case calls for the production of a book which is produced and handed to him by his opponent with certain pages marked as those only to which he may refer in respect of the subject matter of his cross-examination it is improper for counsel who calls for the book to inspect any of the other pages. If a suit on a tort is barred as against one person the period of limitation cannot be extended because it happens to be against three persons who are alleged to have committed the tort in conspiracy. The same set of facts cannot constitute separate causes of action both for a tort and for a conspiracy to cause damage. Where there is a joint tort the proper action is on the tort against the joint tortfeasors and not on a cause of action to recover special damage by reason of a conspiracy to cause damage. A suit for damages for false imprisonment or malicious prosecution against joint tortfeasors is governed by the one year rule under Arts 19 and 23 of the Limitation Act. There are instances in which two or more persons can render themselves liable to civil proceedings by combining to injure the plaintiff although if one of them did the same act by himself and without any preconcert with others he would escape liability. An action on such a conspiracy would lie in this country. In an action on conspiracy special damage must be proved. Per CHATTERJEE J. There is no authority for holding that a tort when committed by several persons acting in concert is different from the same tort committed by a single individual. The combination in such cases may be an element of aggravation in the assessment of damages but does not suffice to make it a different tort. Quinn v Leatham [1901] A C 495 referred to. Conspiracy or wrongful combination is not a material element in the constitution of a wrong. Giblin v National Amalgamated Labourers Union [1903] 1 A B 600 referred to. WESTON AND OTHERS v PEARY MOHAN DASS (1912)

LIMITATION—could

1 L R 40 Cal 898

13 ——— Land to support religious service—Lease—Adverse possession. In the case of a lease for a term of years by the holder for the time being of lands assigned to support services rendered to a Mekan and religious community by successive holders time begins to run not from the commencement of the tenancy of the person claiming to hold as a tenant but from the date when the claims of the parties became openly and undoubtedly adverse. Tekait Jam Chander Singh v Srimati Madho Kumari 1 L R 12 I A 197 and Tribhamb Ramchandra v Sheikh Gulam Zilani 1 L R 37 Bom 39 referred to. MAHA MADGACS v PAJABAKSHA (1912)

1 L R 37 Bom 224

LIMITATION—contd

14 ——— Adverse possession—Till —
*Bombay Regulation I of 1871 s 1—Rule of positive law—Limitation Act (XIV of 1871) s 2—Limitation Act (IX of 1871) s 2—Repeal of s 1 of Purnag Regulation I of 1871—Effect of repeal—On extinction of title—Pile of positive law not affected by law of limitation—Endowment of a village for the purpose of performing Karpur Mangalarat—Trustee—Denial by trustee—Adverse possession by alienee. In 1678 a village was given in nam to the then Swami of the Uttaradhi Math for the purpose of meeting the expenses of a religious service called the Karpur Mangalarat at the temple of the Math. A successor of the Swami gave away the village in gift (i.e. as Kri Narpana) to the defendants' predecessors on title who went into possession as proprietor. At first they paid judi on the land at the rate of Rs 20 per year but after 1840 this payment was stopped. The defendants continued to hold the village as before. In 1911 the present Swami of the math sued to obtain a declaration that the village belonged to him and to recover its possession from the defendants. The plea of the defendants was that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that inasmuch as the original grant vested the legal property in the Swami and the equitable estate in the juridical person the idol the original grantee took as a trustee and his successors held by the same title. Hardoon v Behlor [1901] 4 C 118 L.J. followed. Held further that since the defendants went into possession of the village in 1840 their title ripened in 1860 into ownership under the provisions of s 1 of the Bombay Regulation V of 1827. Held also that the operation of s 1 of the Bombay Regulation V of 1827 was not affected by the enactment of s 2 of the Limitation Act (XIV of 1871) first because the Act did not come into force till the 1st January 1862 and secondly because it being a statute of limitation did not affect s 1 of the Bombay Regulation V of 1827 which was an enactment of positive prescription. Sitaram Vasudev v Khanderav Bulkrshna I L R 1 Bom 286 and Rambhai Ajnoli v The Collector of Puna I L R 1 Bom 59 followed. Where a later Act of Legislature does not purport or affect to supersede an earlier Act the Court will endeavour to read the two enactments together and to avoid conflict if possible. RANUACHARYA v DISACRAFTA (1919) 1 L R 37 Bom 231*

15 ——— Redemption of mortgage made in 1793—Act XIV of 1859 s 1 cl 1 s 4—Act IX of 1871 s 20 and Sch II Art 143—Act IX of 1877 s 19 and Sch II Art 148—Acknowledgment of title—Receipt by mortgagees—Interest after date of suit—Damages—Discretion as to award or not of interest—A sumed exercise of discretion not interfered with. A suit was brought by the predecessors in title of the respondents for redemption of a mortgage dated 4th November 1793 in favour of the predecessors in title of the appellants. The deed mortgaged with possession a certain desaigiri dastur and certain pasada lands situate in the district of Broach and after that district finally came under British rule the desaigiri dastur was commuted into a fixed money allowance payable from the treasury since which settlement the appellants had received that allowance in lieu of the desaigiri dastur. The defence was that the suit was barred by the Indian Statutes of Limitation which provide a period of sixty years for redemption and that more than that time had elapsed since the date of the mortgage. The respondents however put in evidence documents signed by the mortgagees by which they contended the period of limitation had been extended. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that an entry in a receipt book relating to the payment on 8th June 1843 of the fixed allowance from the treasury in respect of the year ending 1st May 1843 was an acknowledgement under the Indian Act of Limitation (XIV of 1859 s 1 cl 15 Act IX of 1871 s 20 and Act IX of 1877 s 19) made within the period of limitation and sufficient to prevent the suit from being barred. The rights of the mortgagees were then vested in somewhat unequal shares in two persons named in the receipt whose names had in the ordinary course been entered in the Collector's books as mortgagees under the mortgage in suit as being entitled to the payment of the annual allowance into which the original rights had been commuted. The entry in the book of the Government agent entrusted with the payment stated that it was made to the two persons named. The amounts of the shares of each of them was set against their names and against those shares the mortgagees had written their respective names in acknowledgement of the receipt of their shares. This acknowledgment created a new period of limitation from 8th June 1843 and consequently the suit was not barred. The appellants claimed to be allowed interest on the redemption money for the period between the date of suit and the actual date of redemption. Admittedly the rule of damdapat applied and therefore the amount of arrears of interest to be allowed was limited to an amount equal to the capital sum. The District Judge gave no interest from the date of suit. There was nothing to show that he had done so by an oversight or mistake. The High Court treated the matter as if the District Judge had exercised his discretion and had declined to give interest and they thought that it had not been an unreasonable exercise of his discretion. No application was ever made to the District Judge to amend his alleged omission to give interest and their Lordships agreed with the High Court decision and the grounds on which it rested. HIRALAL KIRHALAL v HIRALAL CHATUR BHUJAS (1913) 1 L R 37 Bom 326

LIMITATION—contd

16 ——— Suit filed after limitation in wrong Court—Petition for presentation to proper Court—Bar of limitation in spite of Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s 14. If a plaintiff is returned for presentation to the proper Court on the ground of absence of jurisdiction in the Court to which it was originally presented the suit when presented to the new Court is a new suit and cannot be regarded as a continuation of the infructuous suit in the wrong Court. This is the basis of s 14 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). Hence if the suit when originally filed in the wrong Court would have been ordinarily barred by limitation as by being barred during the holidays of that Court after which alone it was filed the suit when filed in the new Court must be held to be barred in spite of s 14 of the Limitation Act. Mohd v Pather v Vallaperumal Pillai 21 Mad L J 1800 followed. Taluroodien Mahomed Esaham Chaudry v Kurimoor Chaudry 3 B L Cr 20 Akelat Chandar Gho v Nuchunn u

LIMITATION—contd

the agreement which gave him the benefit of the Provision SITARAMA & KRISHNASWAMI (1913)

I L N 38 Mad 374

25 ——— Hereditary office of shebat—Successor of shebat when bound by decree against predecessor—Decree holder and purchaser at sale in execution who by reason of low caste is not competent to hold office of shebat—Adverse misappropriation of temple income by trespasser incompetent to be shebat—Worshipful session not constituting wrongful holder shebat—Res judicata This was an appeal from the decision of the High Court in the case of Jharula Das v Jalandhar Thakur I L R 39 Cal 887 in which the widow of the shebat of a temple (the shebats of which were Brahmin Pandas) who succeeded her deceased husband in that office mortgaged land together with her interest in the income of the temple to the defendant (who was not a Brahmin). The defendant obtained a decree on his mortgage on 24th September 1880 in execution of which he put up for sale the share of the temple income purchased by himself and got delivery of possession in 1892. The widow died in May 1900. In a suit brought on 28th January 1910 for the land and mesne profits and for a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to receive the share of the temple income as it was inalienable, the defence was that the suit so far as it related to the temple income was barred as being res judicata and by limitation. Held by the Judicial Committee (reversing the decision of the High Court) that Art 129 of the Limitation Act was not applicable. The suit was not one for an hereditary office which could not be held by a person who was not a Brahmin and the defendant was therefore not competent to hold the office of shebat and had not taken possession of it. By adversely taking and appropriating to his own use a share of the surplus daily income from the offerings the defendant acquired no title and no right to a share of that income. On each occasion on which he received and wrongfully appropriated to his own use a share of the income to which the shebat was entitled the defendant committed a fresh actionable wrong in respect of which a suit could be brought against him by the shebat, but it did not constitute him the shebat for the time being or affect in any way the title to the office. Held also that the defence (which had been upheld by the High Court) that the suit was barred as res judicata by the decision in a former suit brought by the widow to set aside the sale of the temple income was not maintainable. JALANDHAR THAKUR v JHARULA DAS (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 244

26 ——— Mortgage suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXXI rr 3 and 6—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 181—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 90—Personal covenant. The plaintiff in a mortgage suit who has his personal remedy at the date of the institution of the suit would not lose his personal right by reason of his not having made the application for personal decree under O XXXI r 6 within three years of the date of the confirmation of the mortgage sale since applications under O XXXI r 6 are not governed by Art 181 of the Limitation Act any more than an application for order absolute under O XXXI r 6. Fahmat Karim v Abdul Karim I L R 44 Cal 62 and

LIMITATION—contd

Madhabmoni Dan v Pamela Lambert 12 C L J 328 referred to Biswanath Shah v PAM SUNDAR KAIRAPPA (1914) I L N 42 Cal 294

27 ——— Suits under special Acts—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 15 (a) applicability of—Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864) s 39 suits under E 10 cl (2) of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which excludes from the computation of the period of limitation the time occupied by the notice legally necessary to be issued before instituting certain actions is applicable to suits brought under s 59 of the Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864). Venkata v Chengadu I L R 12 Mad 168 and Isuara Patil v Karuppan 3 Mad L J 255 followed. Abu Baker Sahib v Secretary of State for India I L R 34 Mad 505 distinguished. The question whether the general provisions of the Limitation Act should be applied to cases where a special period of limitation is prescribed by a special or local Act depends on whether the provisions of such Act should be regarded as enacting a complete body of provisions with regard to limitations of suits coming within the purview of the Act. In other words the question is whether the special or local Act should be construed as excluding the applicability of the general provisions of the Limitation Act. SRINIVASA AYYANGAR v SECRETARY OF STATE (1912)

I L R 38 Mad. 92

28 ——— Madras Estates Land Act—(I of 1908) ss 210 211 cl (2) Art 8 of Sch Part A—Suit for rent under registered agreement more than three years but less than six years of the Act coming into force—Statutes—Construct on—Retrospective operation when—Limitation Act (IX of 1877) Art 116 applicability of suits for rent in a Revenue Court. A suit to enforce an inamdar's right to rent under a registered agreement which accrued due more than three years but less than six years before the Estates Land Act came into force is not barred by the Limitation of three years enacted by its provisions but is governed by Art 116 of the Limitation Act. S 210 and art 8 of Part A to the schedule of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) have no application to cases where the period of three years thereby provided had expired before the 1st July 1908 when the Act came into force and where to apply them would be to deprive the plaintiff of a right of action which was then vested in him. The rule regarding vested rights is not confined to substantive rights but extends equally to remedial rights or rights of action including rights of appeal. Retrospective operation of statutes considered. Colonial Sugar Refining Company v Irving (1906) A C 369 applied. RAMAKRISHNA CHETTY v SUBBARAYA IYER (1912) I L R 38 Mad. 161

29 ——— Preliminary Mortgage decree—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 180 183—Application for sale of mortgaged property under decree—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 85 to 88—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXXI rr 4 & 5. In this case their Lordships of the Judicial Committee affirmed the decision of the High Court in Amool Chund Parrack v Saral Chunder Muljey I L R 38 Cal 913 that an application for an order absolute for sale under a mortgage decree is an application to enforce a judgment or decree within the meaning of Art 183 of Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and is therefore barred if not made within the period prescribed by that Article. MUNNA LAL I APRACK v SARAT CHANDER MUKERJI (1914) I L R 42 Cal 776

LIMITATION—contd

30 ——— Registration Act—(XXI of 1908) s 77—Thirty days after passing of decree under—Computation s for the purpose of that Act—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XX r 7 For the purposes of s 77 of the Registration Act (XXI of 1908) the period of thirty days within which a document has to be presented for registration after the passing of a decree of Court directing its registration is to be reckoned not from the date the decree bears but from the time it was actually drawn up and signed by the Judge. PERCHIAM It is desirable that in decrees of this nature the Judge should put the date on which they are signed by him under O XX r 7 Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) MUTHIA CHETTI v SUFFAN SERVAI (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 291

31 ——— Court of Wards—Competency of acknowledging debt—Effect of acknowledgment of pre-existing debt by the Court as regards limitation—Court of Wards Act (Beng IX of 1879) s 18—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 19 The Court of Wards Act 1879 does not contain any express power authorizing the Court to execute promissory notes. But there can be no doubt on the authorities that the Court has power to give an acknowledgment so as to give a new period of limitation under s 19 of the Limitation Act. Beis Maharani v Collector of Etawah I L R 17 All 198 Pam Charan Das v Gaya Prasad I L R 30 All 490 and Kondamolu Linga Reddi v Alluri Sarvarayudu I L R 34 Mad 221 applied RASEBHARY LAL MANDAR v ANAND PAM (1916) I L R 43 Cal 211

32 ——— Executor—Accrual of right to sue—Testator domiciled abroad—Probate—Capability of instituting suit—Devolution of interest—Substitution of plaintiff—Straits Settlements Ordinance No II of 1896 ss 17, 22—Straits Settlements Ordinance No 31 of 1907 ss 133, 196 Straits Settlements Ordinance No II of 1896(1) which deals with the limitation of suits provides as follows—s 17 sub s (1) When a person who would, if he were living have a right to institute a suit or make an application dies before the right accrues the period of limitation shall be computed from the time when there is a legal representative of the deceased capable of instituting or making such suit or application. S 22 When after the institution of a suit a new plaintiff or defendant is substituted or added the suit shall as regards him be deemed to have been instituted when he was so made a party.

Held (1) that the executor of a will capable of probate in the Straits Settlements is a legal representative capable of instituting a suit within the meaning of s 1 sub s (1) from the date of the testator's death and not only from the date when he obtains probate. Quare as to an executor who renounces probate (ii) that according to the English practice (which is made applicable in the Straits Settlements in the absence of any other provision) the will of a testator domiciled in British India or elsewhere outside the Straits Settlement although not proved in the place of the testator's domicile is capable of probate in the Straits Settlements if (a) it is valid according to the law of the testator's place of domicile and (b) if there are assets of the testator in the Straits Settlements. (iii) that a 22 contempt plates cases in which a suit is defective by reason of the right persons not having been made parties but not cases in which the suit was originally properly constituted but has become defective owing to a devolution of interest in the latter circumstances a carrying on order should be made under s 169 of the Civil Procedure Ordinance No 31 of 1907 MEYAPPA CHETTI v SUPRAMANIAM CHETTI I L R 43 I A 113 20 C W N 833

LIMITATION—contd

33 ——— Suspension of cause of action—Limitation Act (Act of 1877) s 14—In this appeal the Lordships of the Judicial Committee affirmed on the question of limitation the decision of the High Court in the case of Lalhan Chandra Sen v Madhusudan Sen which is reported in I L R 30 Cal 99 KRISHANONI DASSI v LALHAN CHANDRA SEN (1916) I L R 43 Cal 660

34 ——— Valuable Consideration and Transfer—If grant of permanent lease so—Suit to recover possession of property from lessee if maintainable without making mortgagee of same property party—Limitation Acts (Act of 1877) s 10 Sch II Art 134 and (IX of 1908) s 10 30 Sch I Art 134 In a suit by a shewait to recover possession of debutter property vested in the shewait in trust for the deity which had been transferred more than 12 years before the institution of the suit by the plaintiff's predecessor in title who had granted a putni lease of the property for consideration of a considerable fixed annual rent but without receipt of any bonus—Held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 134 of Sch I of Act IX of 1908 Abhram Goswami v Shyma Charan Kundu I L R 36 Cal 1003 I L R 36 I A 148 Ishtwar Shyam Chand Jiu v Pam Kanai Glose I L R 38 Cal 56 I L R 38 I A 76 and Damodar Das v Lalhan Das I L R 37 Cal 835 I L R 37 I A 147 distinguished Held further that the grant of the permanent lease in the case was a transfer for valuable consideration. Currie v Misoa I L R 10 Exch 103 followed Held also that no period of limitation was prescribed for a suit of the present nature under the Act of 1877 and therefore s 30 of the Act of 1908 has no application in this case. Where in this case the plaintiff had granted a valid usufructuary mortgage of the property in suit to a third person for a term which did not expire before the institution of the suit it is not open to him to determine the lease to the defendant the benefit of which had been expressly assigned by the plaintiff to the mortgagee. PANESWAR MALIA v SRI SRI JIU THAKUR (1915) I L R 43 Cal 24

35 ——— Adverse possession—Claim by person to lands notified by Government as reserved forest lands under Madras Forest Act (Madras Act V of 185.)—Onus of proof—Islands formed in bed of sea at mouth of tidal navigable river—Right of the Crown to such Islands—Limitation Act (Act of 1877) Arts 144 and 149—Right of appeal to High Court from decision of District Court under Madras Forest Act—Provisions under general provisions as to appeals in Civil Procedure Code In this appeal the question for determination was whether the Secretary of State in Council (appellant) was entitled to incorporate the lands in dispute into a reserved forest under the Madras Forest Act (Madras Act V of 1832) such lands being islands formed in the bed of the sea near the mouth or delta of the river Godavari a tidal navigable river and within 11 miles of the mainland Held that such islands were the property of the Crown which was not bounded in its dominion of the bed of the sea by the rise or fall of the tide. The Crown is the owner and the owner in property of islands arising in the sea within the territorial limits of the Indian Empire. The onus of establishing title to property by reason of possession for a certain requisite period lies on the person asserting such possession. Objectors to afforestation preferring claims under the Forest Act against the Secretary of State for India are in the same position as persons bringing a suit in an ordinary Court for a declaration of right to which Art 144 of Sch II of the Limitation Act 1877, is applicable the period of twelve years however being extended to sixty years by Art 149 and the onus of establishing possession for the required period is upon the claimants Radha Gobind Roy v English 7 C L P 364 followed Secretary of State for India v Vira Rayan 1 L R 9 Mad 175 distinguished. In this case held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that on the evidence the claimants had not proved adverse possession for a period sufficient to establish a right against the Crown. Though an appeal from the District Judge to the High Court is not provided for in the Madras Forest Act in a claim to lands which have been notified as reserved forest lands under the Act such an appeal will lie under the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. Where in such proceedings the District Court is reached, that Court is appealed to as one of the ordinary Courts of the country with regard to whose procedure orders and decrees the rules of the Civil Procedure Code are applicable. In such a case the ordinary incidents of litigation could only be excluded by specific provisions to that effect Kamaraju v Secretary of State for India 1 L P 11 Mad 309 approved Pangoon Boatfaring Company v Collector of Rangoon 1 L R 40 Cal 31 L P 391 A 197 distinguished SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v CHELIKANI RAMA RAO (1910) 1 L R 39 Mad. 617

LIMITATION—contd

35 ———— Suit for contribution—Between joint debtors—Exoneration of defendant by the decree on ground of limitation—Plaintiff paying the whole decree—Cause of action for contribution only after payment. The plaintiff and the defendant having each borrowed a certain sum of money from a stranger executed a joint promissory note in 1903 for the total amount in favour of the stranger. After receiving some amounts from both the promisors the promisee sued them both in 1911 but the decree was for the balance due only against the present plaintiff the present defendant being exonerated on his plea of limitation. After paying the decree amount in March 1912 the plaintiff immediately sued the defendant for contribution Held (i) that the right to sue for contribution arose on plaintiff's payment (ii) that the defendant was liable to contribute in spite of the fact that he was exonerated under the previous decree on the ground of limitation and (iii) that the suit was not barred by limitation the cause of action having arisen only on the date of plaintiff's payment Gardner v Brookes 2 Ir R 6 and Woolmersharsen v Gwillik 1893] 2 Ch 514 followed. The liability to contribute is based on an equity arising out of the co-debtor's payment and it has no reference to the original liability to the common promisee. The obiter dictum in page 311 Subramania Aiyar v Gopala Aiyar 1 L R 33 Mad 308 not followed. ABRAHAM SERVAT v PAPATHI MUTHUPAN (1914) 1 L R 29 Mad 288

LIMITATION—contd

37 ———— Appeal—admitting when time barred—Judicial Discretion—Abolition application for review—Settled Rule of Procedure—Abatement of suit—Ex parte order—Substitution of Party on Interlocutory Appeal—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 5—Civil Procedure Code (XII of 1882) ss 366-368 371. The judicial discretion given by s 5 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 to admit an appeal after the prescribed period of limitation should be exercised if the appeal has been prosecuted with due diligence the time occupied by an application in good faith for review although made upon a mistaken view of the law should be deemed as added to the period allowed for presenting the appeal. The above rule being one of procedure laid down by full Bench decisions in India and acted on for many years their Lordships will not interfere with it. When in the exercise of a judicial discretion a judge fails to apply a rule laid down for its exercise the Appellate Court should either remit the case or itself exercise the discretion. The remedy by revision given by s 371 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 when a suit has been ordered to abate applies whether the abatement has been ordered under s 366 consequent upon the death of the plaintiff or under s 368 consequent upon the death of the defendant. An order for abatement should not be made ex parte and without notice to the plaintiff. The substitution of a new plaintiff or defendant for one stage of a suit for instance upon an appeal as to an interlocutory order is effective for all future stages of the suit. BRIS INDAR SINGH v KANSHI RAM (1917) 1 L R 45 Cal 94 [L R 44 I A 218]

38 ———— Suit for Royalties—Due under a registered lease of land with the right to dig coal—Point not allowed to be taken which was not raised in the lower Courts nor in ground of appeal to High Court or Privy Council—Form of decree where a party has refused to join as a plaintiff and has been made a defendant—Power to allow a decree without an appeal. In a suit for royalties due under a registered lease of certain land with the right to dig coal, Art 116 of Sch II of the Limitation Act 1877 for compensation for breach of a contract in writing registered and providing a six years period of limitation, and not Art 110 for a suit for arrears of rent and giving only three years, was held to be applicable. There is a long established distinction in the Limitation Acts in favour of registered instruments and a long course of decisions in the Indian Courts in support of this interpretation of the Acts. Pam Narain v Kamta Singh 1 L R 26 All 138 dissented from. A point that as the royalty for one year was in any case barred the amount of the decree should be reduced was held not to be open to the appellant to take it not having been raised in either of the lower Courts nor in the grounds of either the appeal to the High Court or that to the Privy Council. One of the parties on refusing to join as a plaintiff was made the second defendant and included in his defence a claim for a decree against his co-defendant which the first Court gave him separately from the decree in favour of the plaintiffs. The High Court on appeal altered the form of the decree by giving a decree for the entire amount in favour of the plaintiffs and declaring that for a named portion it was for their share and as to the residue it was for the share of the second defendant. The second defendant did not appeal but the principal defendant by his appeal brought the entire decree before the High Court disputing it in toto. Held that in the absence of any provision in the Civil Procedure Code or in any other enactment which showed clearly that the High Court had no power to make the decree it had passed and the whole decree being before it, the High Court had jurisdiction to make the decree which should have been made by the first Court. TRICOMDAS COOVERJI BHOJA v GOPINATH JIV THAKUR (1916) I L R 44 Cal 759

LIMITATION—contd

39 ——— Suit to recover Land diluviated and reformed in situ—Dispossession—Adverse possession—Continuation of possession of land while diluviated—Definition s 3 of Limitation Act—Continuous possession of successive owners when it cannot be combined. The appellants sued to recover khas possession of a 10 anna share with meagre profits in portions of certain mauzas which after being diluviated had reformed in situ. The question was whether the land in suit belonged to the plaintiffs mahal or to the principal respondents (defendants) mahal. The suit was brought on 6th September 1904. The Subordinate Judge found in favour of the plaintiffs title and that the suit was not barred by limitation. It was common ground that the period of limitation applicable was twelve years the main contest being as to whether Art 142 of Sch II of the Limitation Act 1877 was applicable or Art 144. The High Court decided the case on limitation alone holding that the suit was barred by Art 142. Held by the Judicial Committee (upholding the decision of the first Court both on title and limitation) that there had not been down to September 1892 any dispossession of the plaintiffs within the meaning of Art 142. An owner of land does not discontinue his possession of it whilst it is diluviated. Constructively it continues until he is dispossessed and upon the cessation of the dispossession before the statutory period of limitation has elapsed constructively it survives. Leigh v Jack L P 5 Excl D 61 per CORROD L J followed. It seemed to follow that there can be no continuance of adverse possession when the land is not capable of use and enjoyment so long as such adverse possession must rest on de facto use and occupation. Secretary of State for India v Krishnamoorti Gupta I L R 29 Cal 518 I R 99 I A 104 approved. In the present case beyond temporary uplands cultivation there was nothing down to 1892 to show an exclusion of the plaintiffs by the Revenue authorities whether the land cultivated was the same each year or not does not appear at any rate it was annually submerged and there were no circumstances to link to other various portions of ground

LIMITATION—contd

so as to make the possession of a part as it emerged amount constructively to the possession of the whole. Mohini Mohan Roy v Pro moda Nath Roy I L R 21 Cal 96 referred to. No dispossession having occurred (except possibly within twelve years of the commencement of the suit) Art 144 and not Art 142 was the article applicable. Whether or not in the circumstances of the case conduct which was insufficient to evidence dispossession can be used to evidence adverse possession available to the defendants they failed on the ground that the period of time necessary to bring them under the protection of Art 144 could not be made out unless to the period during which they were in possession there was added out of the prior period when it is contended the Revenue authorities had possession, a number of years going back to 1892 and that could not be done in this case for the reason shown in the definition s 3 that the defendants did not derive their liability to be sued from or through the Revenue authorities in any sense of the words. They had in fact advanced a claim adverse to those authorities and had succeeded in it. BASANTA KUMAR ROY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917) I L R 44 Cal 858

40 ——— Payments towards debt—Court if it can find out whether it is for principal or interest—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 20. Where payments are made towards a debt but there is nothing to show whether they had been made in respect of principal or interest the Court is entitled to find out on the evidence for what purpose the payments were made. HEM CHANDRA BISWAS v PURVA CHANDRA MUKHERJI (1916) I L R 44 Cal 567

41 ——— Attachment in execution—Claim proceeding—Claim rejected for default and without investigation—Subsequent title suit—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 11—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 141 rr 53 and 63. Where a claim is preferred under O XXI r 58 of the Civil Procedure Code and an order is passed either allowing or rejecting the party against whom the order is made may irrespective of whether any investigation took place or not bring a suit in the language of O XXI r 63 to establish the right which he claims to the property in dispute or in the language of Art 11 of Sch I of the Limitation Act 1908 to establish the right which he claims to the property comprised in the order and the suit must be brought within the year allowed by Art 11. Sardhars Tal v Ambika Pershad I L R 15 Cal 521 I P 15 I A 123 Jugul Kishore Marwari v Ambika Dbi 16 C W N 85 and Umacharan Chatterjee v Heron Moyee Dbi 18 C W N 70, referred to. Narasimha Chetti v Vijayalakshmi 27 Ind Cas 944 and Ponnusami Pillai v Somu Ammal 31 Mad L J 21 approved. MAHENDRA LAL CHOWDHURY v PAKI BHUSAN DAS (1918) I L R 45 Cal 25

42 ——— Bengal Tenancy Act 1885—s 194H—Scope of s 194H—Limitation governing suit under s 194H—Pleas outside s 194H but within proviso to s 194A. s 194H of the Bengal Tenancy Act only refers to suits by a person aggrieved by an entry of rent settled in a Settlement Panel roll prepared under s 194F to 194H or by an owner to settle such a rent and suits falling under that section are governed by the special limitation provided in that section. Where reliefs claimed are outside the scope of s. 104H and fall within the provision of s. 111A the limitation applicable is that provided by Art. 10 of the second schedule to the Limitation Act. Ironkshi Nath Roy v. Anuradha Mani Lal 15 C B N 395 followed. RAJANI KANTA MOOKERJEE v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917) I L R 45 Cal 645

LIMITATION—contd

43 ——— Admission of appeal—Period of limitation expired without notice to respondent—Power of Court to grant reconsideration of order admitting appeal in case of respondent—Practice of Courts in India—Suggestion by Privy Council that such practice should be altered by the Indian Courts with the view of a curing final determination of any question of limitation at time of admission of appeal—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) ss 4 and 5. The admission of an appeal after the period of limitation has expired deprives the respondent of a valuable right by putting in peril the finality of the order in his favour. When an order admitting an appeal has been made in the absence of the respondent and without notice to him to preclude him from questioning its propriety would amount to a denial of justice. Such an order so made should therefore be treated as open to reconsideration at the instance of the respondent. This view is sanctioned by the practice of the Courts in India. Held also that the Court was not exceeding its jurisdiction in permitting the question of limitation to be reopened when the appeal came before it for hearing and under the circumstances it had power to reconsider the sufficiency of the cause shown for the delay. That practice was not peculiar to Madras but prevailed in other Courts in India. Such a practice however was in their Lordships' opinion open to grave objection and it was urgently expedient that in place of such a practice a procedure should be adopted by Courts in India which would secure at the stage of the admission of an appeal the final determination (after due notice to all parties) of any question of limitation affecting the competence of the appeal. KRISHNASWAMI PAKIRONDAR v. RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR (1917) I L R 41 Mad 412

44 ——— Execution of money decrees—Part payment—Uncertified payment or adjustment—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 2 sub r (3) Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 21 Sch I Art 18. Where a decree for money was made on the 24th November 1909 and an application for execution of the same was presented on the 7th June 1916 and where two payments were alleged to have been made in 1912 and 1913 respectively neither of which was certified to the Court. Held that the application was prima facie barred by limitation under Art 182 of the Limitation Act. Held also that an uncertified payment or adjustment could not operate to prolong the period of limitation for an application for the execution of a decree under the Limitation Act. Held further that under the Hindu Law in the absence of the father the mother was entitled to be the guardian of her infant sons in preference to their brother and was the lawful guardian under s 21 of the Limitation Act. Jogendra Nath Sarkar v. Prooth Nath Chatterjee 19 C L J 126 Kulu bu lah Sarkar v. Durga Charan Palra 13 I C

LIMITATION—contd

45 ——— Application for execution—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 18 and 17 cl (7)—Application in accordance with law—Properties specified in the list furnished under O XXI r 13 not competent to be proceeded with in execution—Filing of supplementary list of properties to be taken as part of the original application under the provisions of O XXI r 17 (7)—Fresh application for execution if necessary—Such application to be treated as made in continuation of the original application for execution. A decree was passed on the 25th November 1911 and on the 23rd November 1914 an application for execution was made which on the face of it was in accordance with law. Subsequently on the objection of the judgment debtor it was discovered that against the properties specified in the list furnished under O XXI r 13 proceedings could not be taken and accordingly on the 14th January 1916 the decree holder made an application to the Court for acceptance of a further list of properties with a prayer that the execution should proceed by attachment and sale of the same properties and the lower Appellate Court disallowed the prayer and held that the application for execution having been admitted and registered the proposed amendment could not be accepted and the decree holder was to make a fresh application in execution. Held that the supplementary list should be taken as part of the original application under the provisions of O XXI r 17 (7) or if a fresh application were at all necessary then the subsequent application furnishing a supplementary list of properties should be treated as one made in continuation of the application first presented on the 23rd November 1914 that in this view no question of limitation arose and that the decree holder would be at liberty to proceed in execution as on his application dated 23rd November 1914. GRANENDRA KUMAR POY CHOUDHRY v. RISHENDRAKUMAR ROY CHOUDHRY (1918) 22 C W N 540

46 ——— Acknowledgment after attachment—Effect of as against auction purchaser. An acknowledgment by the judgment debtor may save limitation against the auction purchaser but such acknowledgment if made after the attachment cannot prevail against the auction purchaser who is entitled to have the property purchased by him in the condition in which it was at the time of attachment. RAJESWARI DAS v. BIKODA SUNDARI DAS (1916) 22 C W N 278

47 ——— Adverse possession—Hindu Widow—Public Assertion of Ownership—Concurrent Findings—Inference from Documents—Limitation Act (IX of 1877) Sch II Art 111. Concurrent opinions of the Courts in India that the possession of properties by a Hindu widow was merely in lieu of maintenance and not adverse to the plaintiffs reversed on the grounds that the question being one of inference from documents not one of fact a wrong conclusion had been arrived at. The widow of one of two joint Hindu brothers after the death of the surviving brother and his widow succeeded fully applied for mutation of names in respect of property of which she was in possession alleging that she was owner of it as heir to her husband's separate property. Subsequently she put forward the same claim in written statements in suits she also made in gift of part of the property to religious uses. Held that the abovementioned acts were public assertions by the widow of a right to exclusive possession and ownership and made her possession adverse within Sch II Art 144 of the Indian Limitation Act 1877. CHAUDHRI SATGUR DAS ADI KISHORE LAL (1919)

LIMITATION—contd

I L R 46 I A 197

48 ——— Adverse possession—Gift—Unregistered Document—Evidence—Owner—Subsequent Joint Ownership—Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1859) s 193—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 144 (i) A petition by which the petitioners recited that they had made a gift of two villages and prayed that the villages might be transferred into the name of the donee is admissible as evidence that the subsequent receipt of the rents by the donee was in the character of owner of the property so as to make her possession adverse to that of the petitioners although by reason of the Transfer of Property Act 1859 s 123 and the Indian Evidence Act 1872 s 91 the petition is not admissible to prove a gift. (ii) Where a person has had such possession of land as to amount to an ouster of the two owners each being owner of a moiety and before the expiration of the statutory period of limitation succeeds to one moiety upon the death of its owner his possession continues to be adverse to the owner of the other moiety although he has become jointly interested with that other. Quare whether the rule that the possession of one of several joint tenants or tenants in common is not adverse to the others applies to joint owners in a village who are not members of a joint Hindu family. VARATHA PILLAI v JEEVARATHAMMAL (1918)

L R 46 I A 285

49 ——— Bengal Tenancy Act—104H cl (2) suit under—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Part II III ss 3 to 25 29 (1) (b)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 80 A instituted a suit under s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act against the Secretary of State for India in Council. The latter pleaded limitation. The Courts below overruled this plea on the ground that A was entitled under s 10 of cl (2) of the Limitation Act to a deduction of two months in respect of notice which s 80 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 required. Held that the Bengal Tenancy Act being a Local Act the saving clause in s 29 (b) of the Limitation Act applied and s 17 cl (c) thereof did not extend the limitation period of six months provided under s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Secretary of State for India v Gangadhar Vanda I L R 45 Calc 974 followed. Dropani v Hira Lal I L R 44 All 495 distinguished. Held also that the provisions of Part III of the Limitation Act did affect periods of limitation prescribed in the Act itself by s 3 which was the first and enacting section in Part III. Held further that the language of s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act was not ambiguous and in interpreting the words of a positive enactment such as this any suggestion of hardship was out of place. SECRET

LIMITATION—contd

TARI OF STATE FOR INDIA v SHIR NARAIN HAJRA (1918) I L R 46 Calc 199

50 ——— Part payments in satisfaction of Execution of decree—Within three years of date of decree—Application for execution within three years of such part payments if within time—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 182 (u) Application for execution of decree within three years of the date of part payments in satisfaction of the decree if the part payments were within three years of the date of the decree is within time within the meaning of Art 182 (5) of the first schedule of the Limitation Act. Rakhai Das Ma umdar v Jogendra Narain Ma umdar 10 C L J 467 Lakhs Narain Ganguli v Fedamoni Das 29 C L O 131 and Khairunnas Bibi v Saichia Lal Nahata 20 O W N 270 referred to. JATINDRA KUMAR DAS v CAJAN CHANDRA LAL (1918) I L R 46 Calc 22

51 ——— Execution of Joint decree—Decree set aside against one of several joint debtors if it gives a fresh starting point of limitation against others—A joint ex parte decree against several judgment debtors if set aside against only one of them without notice to others will not give a fresh starting point of limitation against others. Kharajmal v Doss I L R 32 Calc 296 L R 32 I A 23 Suresh Chunder Wam Chowdhry v Jugut Chunder Deb I L R 14 Calc 294 and Hanuman Prasad v Muhammad Isha I L R 23 All 137 followed. Mallarjun v Harhari I L R 25 Bom 337 L R 27 I A 216 Kali Prasanno Basu Roy v Lal Mohun Guha Roy I L R 25 Calc 258 Amar Chandra Kundu v Anand Ali Khan I L R 32 Calc 993 Gopal Chunder Manna v Gossain Das Koley I L R 25 Calc 594 Abdul Khadir v Alamuddin Shaiva Ravulhar I L R 35 Mad 670 Vidyavantha Aiyar v Subramanna Patter I L R 36 Mad 104 and Ashfaq Hussain v Gauri Sahni I L R 33 All 264 L R 33 I A 37 distinguished. UPENDRA CHANDRA ROY v AKRUR CHANDRA SYEDAR (1918) I L R 46 Calc 25

52 ——— Account suit—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 7—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 71—O XVIII r I less under—In a suit for the recovery of money alleged to be due on accounts between the parties Art 78 of the Limitation Act has no application. Paman v Firozian I L R 7 Mad 390 distinguished. Where a plaintiff sought to recover a sum of money upon certain allegations which were found untrue by the Trial Court and on appeal the District Judge came to the same conclusion but held that the plaintiff might be permitted to abandon his claim with liberty to institute a fresh suit under O XVIII r I of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. Held that in such circumstances the order under r 1 of O XVIII should not have been made. Where in second appeal the plaintiff respondent applied for leave to amend his plaint the object being to abandon the claim deliberately put forward in the Trial Court and persistently reiterated in the Appeal Court below. Held that such application could not be entertained. Kokila Devi v Mohant Padmasundar Goswami 15 C L J 527 referred to. PARMA LOCHAN PATAR v GURISH CHANDRA MIT (1917) I L R 46 Calc 168

53 ——— Court of Wards—Limitation Act (1908) Sch I Arts 144—Fate of dis

LIMITATION—contd

qualified proprietor under management of Court of Wards—Suit by progenitor to recover possession of property sold by Collector during Court of Wards management—Court of Wards Act (Beng 11 of 1879)—Purchaser's possession became adverse when obtained. On 20th July the appellant was declared to be a disqualified proprietor and her estate was taken charge of by the Court of Wards under Bengal Act 11 of 1879. By a deed of transfer dated 11th June 1890 part of the estate was sold by the Collector as manager to the father and predecessor in title of the respondent and the purchaser obtained possession on 30th April 1891. On 1st August 1911 the Court of Wards withdrew from the management of the estate. In a suit brought by the appellant on 12th May 1912 to recover possession of the portion sold—Held that before the transfer and until the respondent acquired possession the estate was in possession of the appellant notwithstanding it was in the charge of the Court of Wards limitation therefore ran against her not from the release of the estate from management by the Court of Wards but from the date when the respondent obtained possession adversely to the appellant and the suit consequently became barred after twelve years of such adverse possession. MAHESINGH MANDHATA v. NARAYAN BHADUR OF MUMBAIDABAD (1918) 1 L R 48 Calc 694 L R 46 I A 60

54 ——— Mortgage—Limitation Act (11 of 1908) Sch 1, Art 145—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1880) ss 95, 100. A and C mortgaged a taluk in 1887 to B. Thereafter in 1890 Z purchased the taluk in execution of a decree against A and B and subsequently in 1892 redeemed the mortgage of B and obtained possession of the same through Court. In 1893 Z obtained from the superior landlord a settlement of the whole taluk in his favour. In 1900 Z's sons granted a raiyati lease to G and in 1907 sold the superior right to B. In 1907 A purchased the right of C which did not pass at the sale in execution and in 1911 instituted a suit claiming the right to redeem F and recover possession of the lands. Held that as the Transfer of Property Act drew a clear distinction between a charge and a mortgage and the suit having been brought more than twelve years after both from the date when the charge came into existence and also when exclusive possession had been obtained by Z the provisions of Art 145 of the Limitation Act did not apply and the suit was barred by limitation. Pandey Bhikay v. Balay Krishna 1 L R 26 Bom 500 followed. Ashfaq Ahmad v. Wazir Ali 1 L R 14 All 1. Khalid Pam v. Tark Ram 1 L R 33 All 540 discussed. PURNA CHANDRA PAL v. BARADA PROSADNA BHATTACHARYA (1918) 1 L R 46 Calc 111

55 ——— Pala or turn of worship—Whether movable or immovable property—Limitation Act (11 of 1908) s 3 Sch 1 Arts 120, 132. A pala or turn of worship is not an interest in immovable property and consequently governed by Art 120 and not by Art 132 or the first Schedule to the Limitation Act. Eshan Chander Roy v. Monmohini Dassi 1 L R 4 Calc 683. Jais Kar v. Mukunda Deb 1 L R 39 Calc 227 referred to. NARASINGHA BAN GOSWAMI v. PROLHADMAN TEWARI (1918)

1 L R 46 Calc 455

LIMITATION—contd

56 ——— Premature rent—Suit effect of—Limitation Act (11 of 1908) s 14—Decree for rent claimed by landlord whether a mortgage decree—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1880) s 60—Construction of amlenama decision on whether a question of law. While the Court refused to entertain a claim for rent because it was premature in a subsequent suit for the same rent the plaintiff cannot rely upon the provisions of s 14 of the Limitation Act and say that time did not run against him while the proceedings were being prosecuted. The decision in Fabian v. Mahabir Lalaur Singh 1 L R 41 Calc 126 did not decide anything more than that by virtue of the provisions of s 14 of the Bengal Tenancy Act a person who had ceased to be the zemindar at the time he sued for rent could not enforce his decree in accordance with the provisions of s 60 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. A decree obtained by a landlord against the tenants who had ceased to be tenants cannot be called a decree for rent. A question of the construction of a amlenama must be of the legal effect of the terms and provisions of the amlenama and is a decision on a question of law. DWAR KANATH CHAKRAVARTI v. ATUL CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI (1919) 1 L R 48 Calc 870

57 ——— Money paid consideration which fails—Suit by purchaser at sale for arrears of rent of patni taluq which is subsequently set aside by darpatnadar—Sale under Bengal Patni Taluq Regulation (VIII of 1910) s 18—Right of purchaser to indemnity—Duty of Court on reversal of sale to see if purchaser has sustained loss—Limitation Act 1977 Sch II Art 67. The appellant on 14th September 1908 brought a suit against a zamindar to recover certain sums he had had to pay (inter alia the amount of arrears of rent due and paid by the Collector to the zamindar out of the purchase money) as purchaser of the patni taluq of a defaulting patnidar at a sale for arrears of rent under the Bengal Patni Taluq Regulation (VIII of 1910) the sale having been subsequently set aside in suits by the darpatnidars under s 14 of the Regulation to which the appellant was a party by decrees of the District Judge on 24th August 1905 which were affirmed by the High Court on 3rd August 1906. No indemnity under s 14 was given to the appellant in those suits. On August 5th 1906 the appellant gave up possession of the taluq to the darpatnidars. The appellant's suit was throughout treated as governed by Art 97 of Sch II of the Limitation Act 1977 is a suit for money paid on an existing consideration which afterwards fails and both Courts below had held that it was barred by that article as having been brought more than three years from 24th August 1905 the date of the decree of the District Court setting aside the sale at which time it was found the consideration failed. The appellant contended that limitation only ran from the decree of the High Court of 3rd August 1906 or from 28th August 1906 when possession was given up and the suit was therefore not barred. Held that owing to the particular course the litigation had taken and the way the suit had been treated here the case ought to be dealt with on the assumption made for the purpose of this present appeal alone but without affirming its correctness that the present suit is competent and that it comes within the terms of Art 97 and that it is barred by lapse of time S 14 of the Regulation authorises a suit against the zamindar for the reversal of a sale under it and provides that the purchaser shall be made a party in such suit and on decree passing for the reversal of the sale the Court shall be careful to indemnify him against all loss at the charge of the zamindar or person at whose suit the sale may have been made. Held the provision was unambiguous and imperative and imposes a duty on the Court without qualification. To discharge such duty a distinct issue should be framed as between the purchaser and the person chargeable under the section whether in case the sale is reversed the purchaser has suffered any and what loss against which he ought to be indemnified by that person. On that issue there ought to be a finding and a decision subject to such right of appeal as there might be. Whether and if so how far the remedy provided by s 14 in a purchaser's favour excludes all other remedies was not decided. Radhakrishna Samanta v Sasti Ram Sen I L R 26 Calc 896 and Brojo Kishore Rukht v Basu Mandal 21 Sult W R 252 referred to. JUSCORA BOIR v FIRTHCHAND LAL CHOWDHURY (1918) I L R 46 Calc 670 L R 46 I A 52

LIMITATION—contd

53 ——— Timber Rights—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 116—Bengal Tenancy Act (V III of 1885) ss 184 193 Sch III Part I Art 3—Payment by authorised agent through messenger but entry made by agent if good under Limitation Act s 20—Punyaha payment if for arrears or for new year—Setting off of barred claims by Court if legal—Interest pendente lite Court's discretion as to—Under a registered document the plaintiff Bhawal Raj granted to the defendant the right to fell remove and sell all trees of specified kinds growing within certain local limits in so far as he might be able to do so within a period of five year and the grantee was further given the right to sublet and in certain eventualities to re enter and make other arrangements for the remainder of the term setting off the sums thereby realised against the sums due from the lessee but if the trees were not cut down or being cut down were not removed before the expiration of the term the grantee was to have no rights or interests or were to be divested of any such rights. Held that the grant in this case was of forest rights within the meaning of the Bengal Tenancy Act and the rule of limitation applicable to a suit to recover the Raj's dues under it is governed under ss 184 and 193 of the Bengal Tenancy Act by the special rule of three years limitation provided by Art II Part I to Sch III of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The General Manager of the defendants having general authority to make payments made a payment of Rs 15 through a Mohurrir and followed it up by an entry of such payment with his own hand in his account book. Held that the Mohurrir merely acted as a messenger and the payment being by the Manager out of monies in his hand the Manager should be regarded as the person who made the payment for the purposes of s 20 of the Limitation Act. A payment made on the punyaha was made not on account of a general arrear balance but on account of a special kist or instalment that: the kist of the newly opened year. The Raj and the defendant having both sued upon the terms of the grant the former for rent and the latter for damages it was found that the Raj's demand for arrears was to a large extent barred by limitation and that the dues of the Defendant for damages fell far short of the arrears barred. Held that the defendant having thus recouped himself the lower Court was right in refusing to make a decree for damages in his favour. Though interest pending suit is in the discretion of the Court such discretion should be exercised on sound judicial principles. SARAJUTALA DYBI CHOWDHURANI v SARADA NATH BHATTACHARJEE (1918) 23 C W N 336

LIMITATION—contd

59 ——— Appeal—Time to file an appeal from an order—Time requisite for obtaining a copy of the order—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) ss 5 12 Art 151—Application to obtain copy after the expiry of the period effect of—Duty of drawing up the order—Calcutta High Court Original Side Rules Ch XI I r 27 Ch XXXII r 22 (1)—Memorandum of Appeal filed without a copy of the order effect of—Laches on the part of the appellant—Sufficient cause. An ex parte decree was made on the 14th of February 1918 as the defendant (appellant) failed to comply with an order of the Court. On the 23rd of March an order was made on the application of the defendant that on the defendant's giving security for the amount of the claim within a certain date the ex parte decree would be set aside. The defendant failed to give security though the time to supply the same was extended from time to time. On the 26th of July the defendant again applied for further extension of time and to have the ex parte decree set aside which was refused on that day. On the 5th of August the plaintiff (respondent) applied to have the order drawn up. On the 7th of August the defendant was served with the order which was returned approved by his solicitor on the 16th of August. On the 30th of August (which was the last day of the term) the Memorandum of Appeal was filed without a copy of the order of the 26th of July. On the 3rd of September the order was filed by the plaintiff. On the 9th of September the defendant applied for a copy of the order and the copy was supplied to him on the 12th of September. Held that the time to file the Memorandum of Appeal expired on the 15th of August and as the defendant had failed to satisfy the Court that the period from the 15th of August to the 30th of August was requisite for obtaining a copy of the order appealed from the appeal was barred by the law of limitation. Held also that the appeal could not be admitted under s 5 of the Limitation Act as there was no sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within the prescribed period. PER CHURCH J— On principle an appellant who has not within the period of limitation applied for a copy of the order appealed from and who has within that period taken no steps whatever towards procuring such copy cannot be allowed after the period of limitation has run out to claim exclusion of time requisite for procuring such copy. PRAMATHA NATH POY v W A. LEE (1919) 23 C W N 553

60 ——— Uncertified payments—If can save limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Art I of 1908) O XXI r 2 (3) O XXI r 2 (3) of the Code of Civil Procedure expressly provides that the executive Court shall not recognise any payment that has not been certified. The decree-holder can certify the payments made at any time but the certification must take place within such time as is required to serve the application for execution from being barred by limitation. BAHJI BALAJIJI ROY v JOGENDRA CHANDRA BANERJEE (1918) 23 C W N 320

LIMITATION—cont'd

61 — Execution of decrees—Application for execution of original decree—Commencement of period of limitation whether date of original decree or of appellate decree—Execution against judgment left not joined in the appeal Where an appeal has been preferred against a decree the period of limitation for an application to execute the original decree runs from the date of the appellate decree though the appeal was against one defendant and the application for execution was against the other. Haridam Chauri v Manqammal 1 L P 96 Vol 91 and T S Ari Chetty v Theerthamalai Chetty 34 Ind Cas 791 followed Lav v Benarashi Prosad Choudhury 19 C N 28; Lokenath Singh v Gugu Singh 20 C N 18; Umesh Chandra Roy v Akur Chandra Sutar 1 L R 46 Cal 25 and Hur Prosad Roy v Foyet Hossein 2 C L P 471 distinguished. Gopal Chunder Janna v Gosain Das Kalay 1 J 1 95 Cal 94 and Abdul Rahaman v Madun Sarda 1 L R 22 Bom 500 referred to SATISH CHANDRA CHOWDHURI v GURISH CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTY (1909) 1 L R 47 Cal 813

62 — Mortgage—Order absolute for sale—Application to enforce the order more than twelve years after the date of the order—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 153 A suit was brought in 1901 for the enforcement of a mortgage security. The usual preliminary decree under s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 was made on the 30th June 1904 and on the 22nd March 1901 the decree holder applied for and obtained an order absolute for sale under the provisions of s 89 of the same Act. The order was drawn up and signed on the 25th May 1907 but was not otherwise completed and no steps whatever had been taken under it. The present application was made on the 19th May 1919 by the representative of the decree holder (who had died in the meantime) asking that the representatives of the parties deceased be substituted on the record, and that thereupon the order absolute for sale may be completed and the sale proceeded with. Held that a present right to enforce the judgment or order having accrued to the decree holder on the 22nd March 1907 when the order absolute for sale was pronounced the present application to enforce the said order is barred by Article 183 Sch I of the Limitation Act 1908. ARURIA KRISHNA SETH v RASHI BHARAI DUTT (1920) 1 L R 47 Cal 746

63 — Suit instituted in wrong Court—in time but in proper Court beyond time—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s 77—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 14 29 (b) The provisions of s 14 of the Limitation Act 1908 cannot be applied in computing the period prescribed under s 77 of the Registration Act 1908. Abdul Hakim v Latifunnessa Khatun 1 L R 40 Cal 53 approved Nagendra Nath Mullick v Mathura Mohun Parhi 1 L R 18 Cal 368 referred to Khetur Mohun Chakraborty v Dinabashy Shaha 1 L R 19 Cal 965 overruled KALIMUDDIN MOLLAH v SAREBUDDIN MOLLAH (1919) 1 L R 47 Cal 300

LIMITATION—cont'd

64 — Accord and satisfaction—Annulment of satisfaction on the ground of coercion effect of—Fresh cause of action for original claim on annulment A debtor who satisfied by payment his creditor a claim for balance of money due sued to annul the satisfaction on the ground of coercion and obtained a decree for refund. Held that the annulment gave the creditor a fresh cause of action upon the original claim and time began to run from the date of annulment. Mussumt Rance Sarno Mayer v Sarsker Mookhee Jarmunia (1868) 12 M L A 211 and Huro Perhal Loj v Gopal Das Dui (1893) 1 L P 9 Cal 255 at 257 (1 C) followed. VEERAPPA CHETTY v ADARAKIA CHETTY (1900) 1 L R 43 M.L. 845

65 — Attorney's claim and set off—69 Cl 56 of the High Court Rules (Calcutta) is technically free from limitation—Defendant can prosecute a set off if the claim is not barred at time of issue of plaint. PAJAN NARENDRA LAL KHAN v TARBALA DAS 25 C W N 800

66 — Suit started on insufficient court fee—Balance paid after expiration of period of limitation Where a suit was instituted on the last day of limitation on an insufficiently stamped plaint and the balance of court fee was subsequently paid after the period of limitation had expired and the court accepted such payment held that the suit was not barred by limitation. GAYA LOAN OFFICE LTD v LADWAN BHARAI LALL 1 Pat L J 420

67 — Adverse possession—Gift invalidity of as not following the requirements of s 123 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Evidence as to possession only under it not of the gift—Joint ownership following intended gift—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 141—Outset The suit from which this appeal arose was brought to establish the title of the appellants to a moiety of a mita or estate consisting of two villages which belonged at one time to the ancestor of the parties and eventually became vested in G and P his two younger sons. On the death of G in 1879 his share vested in his widow R and he left also a daughter D. P died in 1897 leaving a will which the High Court held gave an absolute interest in the moiety to his widow A and their Lordships of the Judicial Committee upheld that construction. On 10th October 1893 R and A who were then the registered owners of the two moieties of the mita presented to the Collector a petition which after reciting that they had on 8th October given the two villages of which the mita consisted to D prayed that an order be made transferring the villages into her name. On the same date (10th October) D presented a similar petition to the Collector reciting the gift of the villages to her and asked for the transfer of them to her on the register and the Collector thereupon on 8th May 1896 registered the two villages (being the whole mita) in the name of D to hold and enjoy them with power to alienate them by way of gift mortgage sale etc and from that date D retained possession until her death in 1911 after which the mita descended to the respondent as her successor. Held that the gift was invalid as not being made by a registered deed as required by s 123 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) that the recitals in the petitions could not be used as evidence of a gift but might be referred to as explaining the nature and character of the possession thenceforth held by D and that the evidence proved that she in fact took possession of the mitta in her own right when it was transferred into her name and retained such possession with receipt of the rents until her death when the plaintiff's claim was barred by more than twelve years adverse possession. Even if the rule of English law that the possession of one of several co-parceners joint tenant or tenants in common is the possession of the others so as to prevent limitation affecting them was applicable to havers in an unpartitioned agricultural village in India not holding as members of a joint family which is doubtful it had on the facts of the case no application. Held therefore that during the life of R the possession of D was adverse to both the co-owners R and A and this being so when on P's death she became legally entitled to a moiety of the mitta the character of her possession of the other moiety as against A was not changed. There having been an ouster of A before R's death this ouster continued after her death and the possession of D was adverse to A throughout. VARADA PILLAI v JEEVARATNAMMAL (1920) I L R 43 Mad 844

LIMITATION—contd

68 ———— End of adverse possession by the passing of decree Possession prior to decree cannot be tacked to possession after decree—Partly wishing to acquire good title by adverse possession must start afresh after the decree—Execution time barred—Right to recover possession not barred The defendants had brought Suit No 96 of 1893 against the plaintiff for a declaration that they were entitled to a half share in the right to manage a Devasthan property. The plaintiffs then pleaded that they were solely entitled to the management as they were in adverse possession for over twelve years prior to the suit. It was however held that the plaintiffs' adverse possession commenced only from 1885 and a decree declaring the joint management of the plaintiffs and the defendants was passed on the 7th July 1896. After the decree the plaintiffs remained in possession and the defendants took no active step to execute the decree in their favour until they were let into possession by the Collector's order dated the 1st August 1903. The plaintiffs thereupon brought a suit in 1912 to establish their sole right to manage the Devasthan property all along hereditary right and ancient and immemorial custom and contended that by non-execution of the decree in Suit No 96 of 1893 they became entitled to tack on the period of adverse possession before the date of that decree to the period after the decree thereby acquiring an absolute title by adverse possession. Held (1) that the decree in Suit No 96 of 1893 put an end to adverse possession on 7th July 1896. (2) that although the execution of that decree was barred the right remained and therefore the plaintiff could not get absolute title by a liver o possession. ETLA v ABRAHAM (1920) 11 Bom L R 1093 relied on. The period of adverse possession is calculated for the benefit of the party setting up adverse possession and if he loses then there is an end of that period and he must if he wishes to acquire a good title by adverse possession start afresh after the decree. MIR IKRARALI v ABDUL AZIZ (1920) I L R 44 Bom 934

LIMITATION—contd

69 ———— Rent suit—Suspension of the period of limitation—Pendency of a suit for ejectment It is established as a general principle that the right to demand the rent which falls due during the pendency of a suit for ejectment is not in suspense during the pendency of a litigation. SURNAMOYEE'S CASE 11 W R 6 (P C) was one of exception to this general rule. NAGEYDRA NATH SEN v SADHU RAM MANDAL (1920) I L R 48 Cal 65

70 ———— Contribution by co-mortgagors—One paying off mortgage decree in excess of his share Held that the position of such co-mortgagor was that of an assignee of the original security and therefore the period of limitation is that within which the original mortgagee could have brought his suit on the mortgage had he not been redeemed and that the suit having been brought more than twelve years after the due date of the original mortgage under Art 132 of the Limitation Act and having been brought more than six years after the dates of payments was barred whether Art 80 or 99 or 120 applied. SREENATHI RAJ KUMAR DEBI v MUKUNDALAL BANDOPADHYAYA (1920) 25 C W N 283

71 ———— Letters Patent Appeal—Whether any extension of time can be granted under Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 4 et seq An appeal was filed on the 27th August 1920 from the judgment of a Single Judge dated 5th July 1920. The vacation of the Court began on 17th July 1920 and ended on the 27th September. Under the rules framed by this Court an appeal under s 10 of the Letters Patent cannot be entertained if presented after the expiration of thirty days from the date of the judgment appealed from unless the Division Bench in their discretion for good cause shown extend the said period. Held that the Letters Patent together with the rules framed thereunder as to limitation for filing appeals are a complete Code in themselves and therefore the general provisions of the Limitation Act including s 4 do not apply to appeals filed under s 10 of the Letters Patent. Letters Patent Appeal No 107 of 1920 (unpublished) followed. S 29 of the Limitation Act referred to. Held also that the fact that appellant was under the impression that the limitation was ninety days and the holidays could be deducted was no reason for extending the period and that the appeal was consequently barred by limitation. DYAL SINGH v BUDHA SINGH I L P 2 Lah 127

72 ———— Execution application for—Objection on the ground that decree had been satisfied out of Court—Objection and application both dismissed for default—Subsequent application for execution of an continuator of previous application A decree holder after applying for execution filed process and process fees as directed by the Court. Thereafter the judgment debtor objected to the issue of execution on the allegation that the decree had been satisfied out of Court. On a subsequent date on which both the application for execution and the objection had been fixed for hearing the latter case was dismissed for default and the Court recorded the further order the decree holder has no objection to his case being dismissed provided he gets his costs. The execution case is dismissed for default. The decree holder will get his costs. Held that the order dismissing the execution case must be treated as equivalent to an order for striking off the ss or removing it from the file for the convenience of the Court and a subsequent application for execution made more than three years after the date of the first application was therefore to be regarded as one in continuation or revival of the previous application. CHOWDHURY AJODHYA NATH FARMAN v CHOWDHURY S C PAMAR 110 U W N 328

LIMITATION—concl'd

73 ——— Adverse possession—In plaintiff proving title—Both parties having uncertain possession—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sec I article 141 Adverser possession in order to bar by limitation a suit for the possession of land must be adequate in continuity in publicity and extent so as to show that it is possession adverse to the competitor. When a person establishes his title to land and proves that he has been exercising during the currency of his title various acts of possession then the quality of the exercise even though they might have failed to constitute a continuous possession against another may be abundantly sufficient to destroy that adequacy and interrupt that exclusiveness and continuity which is required from any person challenging by possession the rightful title. Radhamoni Debi v The Collector of Khulna (1900) 1 L R 97 Cal 943 (P C). L P 271 A 140 and Secretary of State for India v Chellikani Rama Rao (1916) 11 P 9 Mad 61 (P C). L P 431 A 190 applied [Judgment of the High Court reversed]. KUTNALI MOOTHIAIAR v KUTTHARAN KUTTI (1912) 1 L R 44 Mad (P C) 883

74 ——— Suit to recover value of paddy charged upon immovable property nature of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 130 A suit to recover value of paddy charged upon immovable property is a suit to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property within the meaning of Art 132 of the Limitation Act. RAMCHAND SUR v ISWAR CHANDRA GIRI (1920) 1 L R 48 Cal 625

LIMITATION ACTS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1852) s 230 1 L R 37 Mad 188

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION 1 L R 40 Mad 846

LIMITATION ACT (XIV OF 1859)

— s 1 (12)—

See BENGAL REGULATION XV OF 1793 1 L R 34 All 261

— s 1 (15)—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) s 19 SCH II ARTS 120 AND 148 1 L R 32 All 33

— ss 1 (15) and 4—

See LIMITATION (14) 1 L R 37 Bom 231

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1871)

— s 20 and Sch II Art 148—

See LIMITATION 1 L R 37 Bom 231

— s 21—Act No IX of 1908 s 31 —Limitation—Mortgage with possession—Realization of rents and profits equivalent to receipt of interest as such under the terms of the mortgage

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1871)—cont'd

— s 21—cont'd

Under the terms of a mortgage deed executed in 1850 the mortgagee was to take possession of the mortgaged property and appropriate the rents and profits in lieu of interest. The mortgagee remained in possession up to 1889 when he was dispossessed. In 1910 he brought a suit for sale. Held that the realization of rents and profits in lieu of interest was equivalent to the receipt of interest as such under the terms of the mortgage and therefore under s 21 of Act IX of 1871 the mortgagee was entitled to compute limitation from the year 1889. Act IX of 1877 having by that time come into operation the plaintiff was in 1910 entitled to bring his suit within the limitation provided by s 31 of Act IX of 1908. INDARJIT v CAJADHAR SANAT (1913) 1 L R 35 All 270

— Art 129 and s 29—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION 1 L R 40 Mad 846

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION 1 L R 40 Mad 846

— s 2, Sch II, Art 35—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 20 1 L R 94 All 412

— s 3 Sch II, Arts 13 14—Civil Procedure Code 1852 s 310 A—Execution of decree—Suit involving the cancellation of an order setting aside a sale—Limitation. A Civil Court acting under s 310 A of the Code of Civil Procedure 1852 set aside a sale on an application made about 14 months after the sale. The auction purchaser more than a year after this order sued for possession of the property and for a declaration that the order under s 310 A was passed without jurisdiction. Held that the order whether passed rightly or wrongly was not a nullity and that the order having been passed in a proceeding other than a suit Art 13 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1877 barred the present suit inasmuch as the plaintiff could not obtain a decree for possession without first having the order set aside. KISHORI LAL v KUBAR SINGH (1910) 1 L R 111 All 93

— s 4 Sch II, Art 179 (2)—Limitation

—Application of execution of decree—Practice of Privy Council—Order of dismissal for want of prosecution of appeals to Privy Council—Order of 15th June 1853 v V—Dismissal of appeal for want of prosecution without order made in the appeal. Under r V of the Order in Council of 15th June 1853 (1) where for a period specified in the order the appellant to His Majesty in Council or his agent has not taken any effectual steps for the prosecution of the appeal it stands dismissed without further order. Such a dismissal for want of prosecution is not the final decree of an Appellate Court within the meaning of Art 179 cl 2 of Sch II of the Indian Limitation Act 1877 from which a period of limitation can be reckoned under that article in support of an application for execution of a decree. In this case the application for execution having been made more than three years after the decree of the High Court was therefore barred by lapse of time and should have been dismissed on that ground under s 4 of the Limitation Act RAJEEV NATH v. MUKTI DEVI (1914) I L R 36 All 284

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd— s 4 Sch II Art 179 (2)—contd

— s 5—Suit for order directing registration of document—3 days expiring during a Court holiday—Suit instituted on an opening day is barred. The provisions of s 5 of the Limitation Act apply to suits under s 77 of the Registration Act (III of 1877). When therefore the period of limitation provided in that section for a suit for an order directing the registration of a document expired during the Christmas holidays Held that the suit if instituted on the day the Court reopened would not be barred by limitation Ayabatoollah v. Hossain Ali I L R 8 Cal 910 followed MATAB DAS MOLLAR v. SASI BHUSAN GHATAK (1911) 16 C W N 20

— ss 5 and 7—Application to file an appeal in forma pauperis—Delay in making the application—Minor applicant—Excuse of delay—Probate—Grant of probate—Question of title not affected by the grant—Res judicata—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11. A suit filed in forma pauperis was decided on the 10th February 1908. An application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis was presented to the High Court on the 13th April 1908, but as it was beyond time it was rejected. On an application to excuse the delay it was excused on the ground that the applicant having been a minor s 7 of the Limitation Act 1877 applied. At the hearing it was objected that the application for permission to appeal in forma pauperis must be treated as an appeal and that s 5 and not s 7 of the Limitation Act applied to it. Held overruling the contention that whether the application was treated as falling under s 5 or under s 7 of the Limitation Act 1877 the result was the same. If it fell under s 5 as an appeal, then under the second paragraph of that section which applied to appeal the Court had jurisdiction to excuse delay after the period of limitation prescribed for the presentation of an appeal had expired. If on the other hand it be treated as an application and fell under s 7 of the Limitation Act it was clearly within time and there was no need of excusing delay because the section provided that a minor could apply after he had attained the age of majority within a certain period. The probate is conclusive only as to the appointment of executors and the validity and the contents of the will and on the application for probate it is not the province of the Court to go into the question of title with reference to the property of which the will purports to dispose or the validity of such disposition CHINTAMAN YANKATRAO v. RANCHANDRA YANKATRAO (1910) I L R 34 Bom 589

— ss 6 12—Appeals under Indian Forest Act (V of 1882)—In calculating period of limitation for appeals under the Indian Forest Act time for obtaining copy of judgment not to be excluded. The provision in s 12 of the Limitation Act of 1877 that in computing the period of limitation prescribed for an appeal the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the order appealed against should be excluded does not apply to appeals under s 10 of the Madras Forest Act, 1882. The express power given to the Governor in Council by s 10 of the Forest Act to extend the time for appeal under this section shows that the Legislature did not intend that the general provisions of the Limitation Act should apply to such cases. The Madras Forest Act is a special and local enactment and the application of s 12 of the Limitation Act to appeals under that Act affects the period prescribed by that Act within the meaning of s 11 of the Limitation Act. The provisions of s 11 of the Limitation Act exclude the applicability of s 12 of the Act in the case of appeals under s 10 of the Madras Forest Act. Reference under the Madras Forest Act 1882 I L R 10 Mad 210 dissenting from Veeramma v. Abdulah I L R 18 Mad 99 followed VATTA KULAKARAN SOWDAKER ABDU BACKER SAMIB v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1909) I L R 11 Mad 505

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd— s 12—contd

— ss 7 and 8 and Art 44—Alienation by guardian of the property of two words members of an undivided Hindu family—Suit by both more than three years after elder's majority but within three years of the younger attaining majority—Limitation. According to ss 7 and 8 and Art 44 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) a suit brought by two brothers of an undivided Hindu family to set aside an alienation by their guardian more than three years after the elder attained majority is barred by limitation not only as regards the elder brother's share but also in respect of the younger brother's though the latter attained his majority within three years prior to the institution of the suit DORASAMI SETHUMADAN v. NONDASAMI SALUVAN (1912) I L R 38 Mad 118

— s 8—Putni Regulation (Reg VIII of 1819) s 14—Suit to set aside sale—All co-sharers if must sue jointly—Parties—Right of minor co-owner to sue separately—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s 8 Sch II Art 12—Ground of exemption from limitation if must be specified in plaint when plaintiff minor—Amendment—Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1857) s 54. The decision in Jogeshwar Roy v. Raj Narain Mitter I L R 31 Cal 195 a c 80 W N 163 did not lay down that under s 50 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) a plaintiff could not take advantage of any ground of exemption not set up in the plaint. Nor did it lay down that in no circumstances should the plaintiff who has omitted to set up such a ground be allowed to amend his plaint. When the plaintiff or all the plaintiffs is or are a minor or minors it is not usual for them to plead exemption from the law of limitation as prescribed by that section. So too where one or more of several plaintiffs is or are a minor or minor if the provisions of s 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) apply time would not have commenced to run against any of them and it would not be necessary to expressly claim exemption. One of several co-owners of a putni taluk can alone institute a suit to set aside a putni sale as contemplated by s 14 of Reg VIII of 1819 provided the purchaser is made a party and the whole sale is sought to be set aside. Annoad Perad Roy v. Erastine 12 B L R 30 referred to. S 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) has no application to such a suit and a minor co-owner would be entitled to bring such a suit even though the adult co-owners have allowed their right to be time barred. GANOADHAR SARKAR v. KHAFI ABDUL AJIZ NAWAB FAIZULLA BAKHAT (1909) 14 C W N 128

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

— s 8 Sch II, Art 179, expl I—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 7—Minor decree holders—Applications for execution by guardian—Attainment of majority by one decree holder—Application by guardian takes effect in favour of all—Right of the major decree holder to give discharge to the judgment debtor in respect of the judgment-debt Two minor sisters who were born in the years 1881 and 1887 obtained a decree against the defendants in May 1900. The minor decree holders were represented by a guardian appointed by the Court. The said decree was confirmed by the High Court in appeal in March 1901. Subsequently the guardian presented applications for the execution of the decree in 1904, 1905 and 1906 and while the last application was pending the guardian died. Thereupon the decree holder presented an application for execution as majors in 1908. The defendants contended that as the elder decree holder had attained majority the application by the guardian was as to her unauthorized and the execution of the decree was barred as against her. It was further contended that as the elder decree holder could from the time of her attaining majority make an application and give a good discharge to the judgment debtor to the decretal debt without the concurrence of the minor time had therefore run against both under s 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) or s 7 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Held that by reason of the first explanation of Art 179 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) an application made by a representative of one of joint decree holders takes effect in favour of all. Therefore though the elder decree holder had attained majority the applications made by the guardian as the next friend of the minor decree holder took effect in favour of both. Held further that the contention under s 8 of the Limitation Act of 1877 or s 7 of the Limitation Act of 1908 was inconsistent with the decisions in Goindram v Taha 1 L R 20 Bom 333 and Zamir Hasan v Sundar 1 L R 20 All 789 the applicability of which had not ceased owing to any change in the words of s 7 of the Limitation Act of 1908. MAHABHAI CHAND PAVACHAND v JESARI (1910)
1 L R 34 Bom 672

— s 9—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) s III
AND SCH II Art 148

1 L R 35 All 227

— s 10—Will—Trustees—Suit by testator's sister for declaration of her share and ownership of the residue of testator's estate—Resulting trust arising by operation of law—Limitation One Jethabhai died on the 17th December 1889 after having made a will dated the 20th February 1889. The will gave certain legacies including one of Rs 300 to the plaintiff testator's sister. Under the will five trustees were appointed and it provided as follows:—Out of these five (trustees) Dave Gaurishankar Kushaly and my nephew (plaintiff's son) Desai Mojilal Premnand should both join and take possession of my properties after my death in accordance with the above will and with the consent of the remaining trustees they are to dispose of the properties in accordance with what is written in the above will and should any outstandings have to be recovered for giving effect to the said dispositions they are to do the same and I do by this will give them power to do whatever also they may have to do to carry out the will. In the year 1906 the plaintiff having brought a suit for the declaration that she was the heir of the testator her brother and as such owner of the residue remaining after administering his property under the will and for the recovery of the residue a question arose as to whether the suit was time barred on the ground that there was no trust declared with regard to the residue and no direction given to distribute it among heirs at law. Held that the suit was not time barred and that once the testator's property was vested in the trustees for a specific purpose it was not necessary that any resulting trust of the residue which necessarily arose by operation of law should be specified in words in the will in order to bring it within the scope of s 10 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). MOJILAL PREMANAND v GAVRISHANKAR KUSHALI (1910)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

— s 10—contd

1 L R 35 Bom 49

— s 10 Sch II Art 134—

See LIMITATION 1 L R 43 Cal 434

— s 12—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) ss 4 & 1st—Appeal—Exclusion of time for taking copies—Decree signed after application—High Court—Practice—Rule treated as appeal An appellant is entitled to the deduction of the time between the delivery of the judgment and the signing of the decree. Where the intending appellant having applied for certified copies of the judgment and decree the copy of the judgment was delivered to him and at the same time an unused folio and the Court fee filed for the copy of the decree were also returned because the decree had not been signed and the applicant had to make a fresh application for a copy of the decree after it had been signed. Held that the first application for a copy of the decree should be treated as pending all the time so that the applicant would be entitled to a deduction of the time between the signing of the decree and the date when the copy of the decree was ready to delivery. When application for copy is made before the decree is signed the applicant is not entitled to a deduction of the time between the date of the application and the signing of the decree twice over when the same has been already excluded by reason of the decree not having been ready. Bens Madhub Mitter v Matungini Dasai, 1 L R 13 Cal 104 followed. Kali Sanlar Bajpai v Baidanta Nath Sen 7 C N 109 and Dulali Bera v Sarada Kinnar Palit 3 C N 55 referred to. The rule in this case was treated as an appeal subject to the condition that the order passed would take effect on payment by the successful applicant of proper Court fees. Mahomed Weliduddin v Hakimani 1 L R 20 Cal 757 referred to. TANABATI KOER v LALA JAGDEO NARAIN (1911)
15 C W N 787

— s 12 Sch II, Art 152—Party applying for portions of the record entitled to deduct time spent in obtaining them. Where a party appealing from the decree of a lower Court applies for copies of the judgment and decree at different times the time which he is entitled to exclude in computing the period of limitation for such appeal is the aggregate of the periods required to grant the copies after the applications were made. Raman Chetty v Kodiredu 8 Mad L J 118

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd— s 12 Sec II Art 152—*contd*referred to and approved SILAMBAN CHETTI v PAMANADHAN CHETTI (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 256

— s 1c—

See LIMITATION I L R 43 Cal 660

I L R 36 Mad 482

1 ——— Court—Interpretation—Court in British India—Court in a Native State in India not included—The word Court as used in s 14 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) means a Court in British India and not a Court in a Native State of India CHANNALATA CHENBA v APA v ABDUL VAHAB (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 139

2 ——— Plaintiff returned for presentation in proper Court—Power of Court to fix a period of time for such presentation—Exclusion of time For the purposes of determining limitation as governed by the provisions of s 14 of Act XV of 1877 the date of instituting the suit must be held to be the date on which the plaint was filed in the Court having jurisdiction to try it excluding only for the purpose of calculating limitation the period excluded under s 14 Where a plaint which had been presented on the last day of the period of limitation was subsequently returned by the Court for presentation within a week in the proper Court and was so presented five days later Held that the suit when so presented was barred by limitation as only the period during which the suit was pending in the Court without jurisdiction would be excluded under s 14 of the Limitation Act HARI DAS RAY v SARAT CHANDAP DEY (1913) 17 C W N 515

— s 19—

See LEASE

I L R 40 Mad 910

1 ——— Acknowledgment—Step in aid of execution—Compromise to have part of decree executed at a later date Whereupon a previous application for execution the case was compromised by a joint petition stating that a part of the decree had been satisfied and that the rest will be satisfied at a future date Held that this was an acknowledgment of the judgment debtor's liability which gave a fresh start to limitation under s 19 of the Indian Limitation Act Held further that s 19 of the Limitation Act applies to applications for executions of decrees Palkhal Chander Tewari v Hemaraj Deb 3 O L J 317 Pam Kumar Kur v Jakur Ali I L R 8 Cal 716 and Torae Mahomed v Mahomed Malbood I L R 9 Cal 730 referred to Quere Whether a compromise made upon an application for execution reciting that the decree has been executed in part and that the rest of it would be satisfied hereafter and containing no reference to any further proceedings to be taken in execution is not a step in aid of execution Ghansham v Yulk I L R 3 All 30 referred to BRINDES WAFI KOER v AWADH BEHARI LALL (1910)

15 C W N 82

2 ——— Acknowledgment of debt by Collector or Deputy Collector as agent for Court of Wards save limitation under—Regulation I of 1901 s 2, Collector's powers under—Court of Wards powers of Under Regulation V of 1901 as amended by Madras Act IV of 1899 the duties of the Court of Wards are not limited to the educa- tion of the minor but include the due preservation of the estate The Court of Wards has power to make an acknowledgment of a debt which would bind the ward and give a new starting point for limitation within the meaning of the Indian Limitation Act IX of 1877 s 19 By the power of delegation given in s 2 of Regulation V of 1894 the Collector has power to give such an acknowledgment as agent of the Court of Wards Surya narayana v Narendra Thattar I L R 19 Mad 255 distinguished Beti Maharani v The Collector of Etawah I L R 17 All 109 commented on No distinction can be drawn between the powers of a Collector and those of Deputy Collector KONDAMODALI LINGA REDDI v ALLURI SARAVATUDU (1910) I L R 33 Mad 221

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

3 ——— Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 208 and 209—Suit to recover money—Acknowledgment by defendant's Gumasta (agent) after his death—Death of the defendant not known to plaintiff—Limitation Plaintiffs firm had dealings with one Haji Usman from the 5th January 1901 till the 25th October 1903 Haji Usman's business was managed by a gumasta (agent) Haji Usman died in or about March 1903 and the plaintiffs had no knowledge of his death On the 2nd June 1903 the gumasta wrote to the plaintiffs a post card stating you mention that there are moneys due as to that I admit whatever may be found on proper accounts to be owing by me you need not entertain any anxiety On the 30th May 1906 the plaintiffs brought a suit against the managers of Haji Usman's estate to recover a certain sum of money on an account stated The defendants pleaded the bar of limitation on the ground that there was no acknowledgment of the debt by a competent person Held that the suit was not time barred The gumasta's letter of the 2nd June 1903 was an acknowledgment within the meaning of s 19 of Limitation Act (XV of 1877) The case fell within the provisions of ss 208 and 209 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872) The termination of the gumasta's authority if it did terminate did not take place before the 2nd June 1903 as the plaintiffs did not know of the principal's death and the gumasta was bound under s 209 to take on behalf of his late principal all reasonable steps for the protection and preservation of the interests entrusted to him EBRAHIM HAJI YAKUB v CHUNILAL LALCHAND (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 302

4 ——— Acknowledgment—Judgment debt acknowledgment of—Debt specified in insolvency petition An application for execution of a decree was not time barred though made more than three years after a previous application where it appeared that the judgment debtor had in the meanwhile filed a petition of insolvency in which the judgment debt in question was specified The petition though it might not have been addressed to the creditors was nevertheless an acknowledgment within s 19 of the Limitation Act Mansaram Sett v Seth Rupchand I L R 33 Cal 1017 10 C W N 374 relied on PAMPAL SINGH v NAND LAL MAHWARI 16 C W N 346

5 ——— Mortgage—Pe demization—Limitation—Acknowledgment Held that an acknowledgment of the title of the mortgagor made by only one of two mortgagees would not avail to save the mortgagor's right to redeem being barred by limitation where the mortgage was a joint mortgage and incapable of being redeemed piecemeal Dharma v Balmukand I L P 18 All 438 followed JWALA PRASAD v ACHHEY LAL (1912) I L R 34 All 371

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Acknowledgment

Suit for redemption—Admission in plaint that a certain person had a right to redeem as a co mortgagor Where in a suit for redemption of a mortgage the plaintiffs who were purchasers of a portion of the mortgaged property admitted in their plaint the right of a representative of one of the original mortgagors to redeem it was held that this was a good acknowledgment within the meaning of s 19 of the Indian Limitation Act 1877, and enured in favour of the representatives of the person so mentioned Sukhamoni Choudhary v Ishan Chunder Roy I L R 25 Cal 311 I R 25 I A 95 referred to BALESHWAR v RAM DEO (1914) I L R 36 All 408

Limitation—Ac

Knowledge—Authority of managing partner to acknowledge a debt as due by the firm—Pecunia Held that the manager of a firm who has power to borrow and repay money on behalf of the firm has power also to acknowledge a debt by either immediately giving a promissory note or subsequently upon an adjustment of accounts or in any other way in the course of business making bond file admissions in writing Held also that where in the course of a suit for dissolution of partnership a receiver has been appointed to discharge the debts and liabilities of the firm the mere fact that a claim which was within time when made is not adjudicated upon by the Court until after the expiration of more than three years does not render the claim a bad claim against the partnership assets LALTA PRASAD v BABU PRASAD (1909) I L R 32 All 51

ss 19 20—

See EXECUTION OF DECREES

I L R 43 Cal 207

ss 19 20 21—

Acknowledgment by one partner binding on others—The mere fact that one of the partners of a going concern is in charge of a branch of such concern cannot lead to the inference that such partner has authority to bind the firm by an acknowledgment when pressed for payment A letter by one of two partners to a creditor acknowledging the debt due and asking such creditor to correspond with and supply goods to the other partner on behalf of the firm cannot be construed as authorizing such other partner to make an acknowledgment which will bind the firm for the purposes of limitation SHAKH MOHI DEEV SAIB v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1911) I L R 35 Mad 142

s 19 Sch II Arts 120 and 148—

Acknowledgment by widow in possession of husband's estate not binding on reversioners—Limitation—Act No XIV of 1859 (Limitation)—s 1 cl 15 Held that the widow and daughter of a mortgagor in possession as such of the mortgaged property are not competent to give an acknowledgment of the title of the mortgagor so as to save limitation within the meaning of the Indian Limitation Act 1877 in respect of a suit for redemption brought by the representative in interest of the original mortgagor against the reversioners Dhagwantha v Sukhi I L R 22 All 33 and Chudlu

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

—s 19 Sch II Arts 120 and 148—
contd

Singh v Durga Dei I L P 22 All 352 referred to Held also that unless there is a distinct provision to the contrary the validity of an acknowledgment set up by a plaintiff as saving limitation in his favour must be decided with reference to the law in force when the suit is brought and not with reference to that in force when the acknowledgment was made Gurupadapa Dasappa v Virbha drapa Iraaganga I L P 7 Bom 459 referred to SRI SUDHAKAR LAL v SONI RAM (1909)

I L R 32 All 33

—s 19 Sch II Art 148—

• See LIMITATION (1a)

*I L R 37 Bom 326Acknowledgment effect of—Acknowledgment by widow in possession of husband's estate—Suspension of limitation—Act No XIV of 1859—s 2—Act XIV of 1859 s 1 cl 15—Res judicata—Contentions raised for the first time on appeal to His Majesty in Council—Practice of Privy Council In a suit brought by the appellant on the 4th of March 1907 against the respondents for the redemption of a mortgage dated the 2nd of January 1842 made between the respective predecessors in title of the parties and in which no date for redemption was specified acknowledgments of the mortgagor's right had been made by the widow and daughter of a former mortgagor a predecessor in title of the respondents which the appellant contended extended the period of limitation Held that the law of limitation applicable to the case was not Act XIV of 1859 the law in force at the date of the acknowledgments but Act XIV of 1877 which was in force at the time of the institution of the suit Under Art 148 of Sch II to that Act the period of limitation prescribed for a suit to redeem a mortgage was 60 years from the time when the right to redeem accrued and by s 19 an acknowledgment to be effective must be signed by the party against whom such right is claimed or by some person through whom he claims title Held that the respondents derived title through the last male owner and not through his widow and daughter who were therefore not competent under s 19 to make an acknowledgment of the right of redemption so as to bind any interests except their own To hold otherwise would be to extend the power of a Hindu female in possession of a limited interest to bind the estate to an extent which was not sanctioned by authority An acknowledgment of liability only extends the period of limitation within which the suit must be brought and does not confer title and with reference to s 2 of Act XIV of 1877 was not a thing done within the meaning of s 11 of the General Clauses Consolidation Act (I of 1863) There was nothing in Art 148 of Sch II of Act XV of 1877 to justify a holding that by reason of the fusion of the interests of the mortgagor and mortgagee (which it was alleged took place between the years 1883 and 1898) the period of limitation which began to run on the 3rd of January 1842 was suspended which would be deciding contrary to s 11 of the Act this suit not being one to which the proviso to that section applied Burrell v Earl of Egre mont 7 Beav 205 distinguished. The present suit was not barred as res judicata by a former suit in 1904 With regard to contentions raised on this appeal which had not been raised before at any stage of the case and consequently had not been considered by any of the Courts below nor were even suggested in the reasons in the case of the appellant to England their Lordships adhered to the established practice of the Board not to allow new cases to be made for the first time on appeal to His Majesty in Council. SONI RAM v. KANHAIYA LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 227

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*cont'd*s 10 Sch II Art 143—cont'd

s 20—Payment of interest on behalf of minor by manager of a joint Hindu family effect of—Duly authorised Agent A payment of interest by the manager of a joint Hindu family consisting of himself and his minor brothers is a payment by the duly authorised agent of the minors within the meaning of s 20 of the Limitation Act 1877. SARADA CHARAN CHAKRAVARTI v. DURGA RAM DE SINGHA (1910) I L R 37 Cal 461

s 22—

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Cal 342

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT

I L R 33 Mad 115

See PARTIES I L R 37 Cal 229

I L R 33 All 272

Assignment of original plaintiff's rights—Addition of assignee as plaintiff—S 22 inapplicable—Jungle or forest lands in zamindars—I resumption of ownership of kudataram in the zamindar—Onus of proving contrary on ryots The presumption as regards waste land jungle or forest land in a zamindar is that the zamindar is the owner not only of the meluaram but also of the kudataram and the onus is on the ryots to show that the kudataram right is vested in them. S 22 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) does not apply to a case where a plaintiff is added in the course of a suit in consequence of assignment of rights from the original plaintiff but is confined to cases where the new plaintiff is added or substituted in his own right so that he may himself be considered to be instituting a suit to enable him to litigate a right for himself independently of the rights of the original plaintiff. ARUNA CHELLA AMBALAM v. ORR (1914) I L R 40 Mad 722 ss 22, 28—Civil Procedure Code

(Act XIV of 1882) s 31—Civil Procedure Code (Act

V of 1908) O I r 9—Lands attached to ratan—

Joint owners—Lease—Lease good till the death of the surviving joint owner—Gordon Settlement of 1864—Suit by representatives of one joint owner to recover possession—Representatives of the other joint owner joined as co-defendants with the representatives of the lessee—Plaintiff's claim allowed to the extent of their share—Appeal by plaintiffs and co-defendants claiming their share—Limitation—

Treatment of co-defendants as co-plaintiffs—Amendment of plaint and decree Certain lands attached to a ratan belonged jointly to two brothers F and

D. In the year 1872 the lands were let by F under a perpetual lease which was attested by

D. D. predeceased F. In the year 1905 within twelve years from the death of F his representatives brought a suit for the recovery of the lands let by F. They sought to recover the entire lands on the ground of eldership. The suit was brought against defendants J, B and C as the heirs of the

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*cont'd*ss 22, 28—cont'd

mortgage of the lessee (the original 1st defendant) against defendants 2 and 3 as the heirs of the lessee and against defendants 4 and 5 as the heirs of D. The heirs of defendant 1 and defendants 2 and 3 defended the suit on the ground inter alia of limitation the suit not having been brought within twelve years from the date of the lease. Defendants 4 and 5 did not contest the plaintiff's claim. The first Court allowed the plaintiff's claim to the extent of their share namely a moiety on the ground that their claim to that extent was not time barred. On appeal by the plaintiffs and defendants 4 and 5 the latter of whom in appeal claimed their share namely the other moiety the Appellate Court awarded the other moiety to defendants 4 and 5. On second appeal by the heirs of the mortgagee held affirming the decree that the whole claim was within time. A vatan-dar is entitled to alienate vatan lands for the term of his natural life and his children although not separate in interest from him have no right to object to such alienation until after his death. Where a lease of vatan property is effected by one joint owner with the consent of the other joint owner the time for the recovery of the vatan property from the lessee runs from the date of the death of the survivor of the joint lessors. Defendants 4 and 5 having sought to recover in appeal their share which they had not asked for in the first Court held allowing their claim that they being parties to the suit instituted within the twelve years during which their right to a share in the vatan property could be effectually determined the Court must deal with the matter in controversy so far as regards the rights and interests of the parties actually brought before it by the institution of the suit. A party transferred to the side of the plaintiff from the side of the defendant is not a new plaintiff to whom the provisions of s 22 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) apply. NAGENDRABALA DEBYA v. TARAPADA ACHARJEE I L R 35 Cal 1065 concurred in. Plaintiff and decree of the lower Appellate Court amended by entering defendants 4 and 5 as co-plaintiffs. HARSHOH v. MANA ENKATRAO (1909) I L R 34 Bom 91

s 23 Sch II Parts III 115, 118—

Transfer of Property Act s 76 92—Mortgagor's right to compensation for property not delivered to him is based on a continuing obligation and time does not run till redemption—Time runs under Art 35 of Limitation Act from date of tort and not from date of knowledge Under s 92 of the Transfer of Property Act the mortgagor on paying the mortgage debt is entitled to be put in possession of the mortgaged properties and the obligation to do so is a continuing obligation on the mortgagee which cannot cease so long as the right of redemption is not barred. The right of the mortgagor under s 76 of the Transfer of Property Act to have accounts taken and to debit the mortgagee with the loss caused to the mortgaged property is cumulative and does not take away the remedy under s 92 of the Act. Where the mortgagee in possession who is bound by the terms of the mortgage deed to pay the Government revenue due on the land neglects to do so and the mortgaged land is sold a suit for compensation by the mortgagor brought more than six years after such sale and less than six years from the date of the decree in the redemption suit brought by the mortgagor is not barred under Arts 111 and 116 of the Limitation Act read with s 23 of the Act. The express covenant in the mortgage deed by the mortgagee to pay to Government revenue only states in words the liability of the mortgagee under s 76 of the Act and does not curtail the general obligation of the mortgagee under the Act. In suits for compensation for tort to immovable property the period of limitation prescribed in Art 36 of Schedule II of the Limitation Act runs from the date of the tort and not from the time when the plaintiff has knowledge of such tortious Act. SIVACHITANBARA MUDALIAR v KAMATCHI AMMAL (1909) I L R 33 Mad 71

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

—contd s 23, Sch II, Parts 115 116

s 26—
See FISHER I L R 39 Cal 53

s 28 Sch II, Arts 124 144—
See RELIGIOUS FOUNDATION I L R 35 Mad 92

Sch II Arts 2 61 62 120—

Limitation—Sut to recover from a Municipal Board money alleged to have been illegally levied as octroi duty—Municipal Board's powers of taxation. A Municipal Board in disregard of certain lawful orders of the Government of India levied upon a Company trading within the municipal limits certain sums by way of octroi duty over and above what they were legally entitled to levy. Held on suit by the Company to recover from the Board the sums so levied that (i) the suit would lie and (ii) that the suit was one for money had and received to the use of the defendant within the meaning of Art 62 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1877. Morgan v Palmer 2 B & C 720 26 F R 537 and Neale v Harding 6 Trch 349 56 P R 323 referred to. Seth Karimji v Sardar Karpal Singh Punj Rec 1886 983 distinguished from PAJUTANA MALWA RAILWAY CO OPERATIVE STORES LD v THE AJMER MUNICIPAL BOARD (1910)

I L R 32 All 491
Sch II Art 11—Civil Procedure Code Act XLV of 1882 ss 278 281 283—Art 11 of the Limitation Act not applicable where judgment debtor no party to proceedings under s 273 of the Civil Procedure Code. Where in a claim proceeding under s 278 of the Civil Procedure Code the judgment debtor has not appeared and there has been no adjudication between him and the claimant the period of limitation prescribed by Art 11 of Sch II of the Limitation Act will not apply to a suit brought by the defeated claimant to establish his right against the judgment debtor. SADANA PILLAI v AMORTHATHACHY (1910)

I L P 34 Mad 533

Sch II, Art 12—

See MUTT HEAD OF I L R 98 Mad 356

Sch II Art 14—Order—Suit to set aside order—Collector—Order ultra vires—Land Revenue Code (Bom Act F of 1879) s 37 Art 14 of the Second Schedule of the Indian Limitation Act only applies to orders passed by a Government Officer in his official capacity. The article does not apply to orders which are ultra vires of the officer passing them. When a Collector passes an order under the provisions of s 37 of the Land Revenue Code (Bom Act F of 1879)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Sch II, Art 14—contd

with reference to land which is prima facie the property of an individual who has been in peaceful possession thereof and not of the Government, he is not dealing with that land in his official capacity but is acting ultra vires. MALEJAPPA v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911)

I L R 38 Bom 395

Sch II Art. 35—

See HUSBAND AND WIFE

I L R 37 Bom 393

Restitution of conjugal rights, suit for—Where after demand and refusal differences are made up time will not run until there is a fresh demand and refusal—Agreement between husband and wife providing for future separation how far valid under Hindu and English law—The Madras Civil Courts Act III of 1873 s 16. Where after demand by the husband and refusal by the wife to return to cohabitation the parties make up their differences limitation will not run under Art 35 of Sch II of the Limitation Act of 1877 until there is a fresh demand and refusal. A Hindu Brahmin after refusal by his wife B to return brought a suit for restitution of conjugal rights in 1903. The suit terminated in a compromise between A and B in July 1904 by which it was agreed that B should return and live with A and that if at any time thereafter she should desire to live apart from A she was to be paid Rs 300 by A. B never returned to live with A who on 6th July 1907 brought a suit for restitution alleging a demand and refusal in February 1907. Held that the suit was not barred under Art 35 of Sch II of the Limitation Act and that the demand and refusal prior to 1903 did not furnish the starting point for limitation—Held also that the agreement between A and B in July 1904 providing for a future separation was invalid. It was forbidden by the Hindu Law which ought to be applied in determining the marital obligations between the parties. Tekant Mon Mohini Jemdat v Basanta Kumar Singh I L R 28 Cal 751 referred to. Such agreement must also be considered as opposed to public policy and unenforceable. Mitharaj v Sakarikanoobai 7 Bom L R 602 referred to. Even under the English law the agreement providing for a future separation was invalid and would not operate as a bar to a suit for restitution of conjugal rights. KRISHNA AYYAR v BALANVAL (1910) I L R 34 Mad 398

Sch II Arts 36 115 and 120—Contract to sell another's goods without authority breach of—Cause of action only in contract and not in tort as on misrepresentation—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 235. A suit against a person for breach of contract to sell to the plaintiff certain goods of another on the implied representation that he had authority from his principal to sell them when in fact he had done is not one arising out of or independent of contract but one arising out of and incident to a contract and is governed by Art 115 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) and not by Art 36 or 120. s 235 of the Contract Act discussed. VAIRAYAN v AICHIA (1913)

I L R 38 Mad. 275

Sch II Arts 39 109—Art 109 not applicable where profits not recovered by defendant—Claim for means profits when plaintiff kept out of possession as a suit for damages and falls within Art 39—Judgment for possession effect of A suit for net net profits by a plaintiff who had been kept out of possession by the defendant does not for purposes of limitation fall within Art 109 of Sch II of the Limitation Act when no profits have been actually received by defendant. Such a suit is one for damages for trespass on immovable property and falls under Art 39 of Sch II. Albas v Fasalud Din 24 Calc 463 not followed. A judgment for possession against a defendant must be deemed to decide that the defendant was in possession at least at the date of judgment. Rama Bai Peddi v Atayi Lakshmi Ammal (1909)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd— Sch II, Arts 39 109—contd

I L R 34 Mad 502

— Sch II, Arts 44 91—

See EXECUTOR DE SON OEST

I L R 36 Mad 575

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIMINATION

I L R 34 All 213

— Sch II, Arts 48 49—Illegal distraint and consequent removal and misappropriation of crops—Suits for damages Where an execution of an illegal distraint the defendant cut the crop standing on plaintiff's land and removed the same. Held that a suit by the plaintiff for damages in respect of these acts was a suit in respect of specific moveable property within one or other of the two Art 48 and 49 of Sch II of Act XV of 1877. Hari Charan v Hari Kar 9 C W N 36. I L R 32 Calc 459 distinguished. Sripoti Sarkar v Hari Kar 10 C W N 1090 reversed. Jadu Nath Dandapat v Hari Kar (1913)

1 C W N 308

— Sch II, Art 49—

See LIMITATION (8)

I L R 38 Calc 284

— Sch II, Arts 49 120 145—

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Calc 284

— Sch II, Arts 49 145—Where depository refuses on demand to return thing deposited Art 145 and not Art 49 applies. Where moveable property is deposited and the depository on demand by the depositor refuses to return the thing deposited the period of limitation applicable to a suit to recover such property is that provided in Art 145 and not that in Art 49 of the Limitation Act. The fact that the possession after demand and refusal is wrongful does not make Art 49 applicable. Olster Where a thing is deposited for safe custody the depositor has the right to demand the return of the thing at any time although the deposit might have been for a term. GANGANNI KONDIAH v COTTIPATI PEDDA KONDAPPA NAIDU (1909)

I L P 33 Mad 56

— Sch II, Arts 61 83 116 120—Contract Act 12 of 1872 as to 22—Suits by agent against principal to recover moneys spent by him fall under Art 61 of Sch II of the Limitation Act and not under Art 116 or 120. The duty of the principal under s 202 of the Contract Act to indemnify the agent is an obligation imposed by law and is attached to the relation of principal and agent constituted by act of parties. Where a registered contract of agency does not provide for such indemnity such obligation cannot be treated as a term or part of such contract and a suit by the agent for recovering moneys spent by him on account of his principal will not for purposes of limitation fall within Art 116 of Sch II of the Indian Limitation Act. Art 83 of Limitation Act will not apply and even if it did limitation would begin to run from the date of such payment not from the termination of the agency. That the agent has under s 217 a right of recovery of sums received on account of his principal and a right of lien under s 171 will not justify the right of action until the termination of the agency. The right of the agent to recover conferred by s 20 of the Contract Act and s 171 is nothing to prevent his making his claim immediately after he expended his own moneys. The article applicable to such cases is Art 61 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. That article is confined to cases where the defendant is under a legal liability to make the payment but is not applicable to cases falling under s 70 of the Contract Act. KANDASWAMI PILLAI v AYAYAN (1910)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

— Sch II, Arts 61 83 116

—contd

I L R 34 Mad

— Sch II, Arts 62 97—

See LIMITATION I L P 46 Calc

— Sch II, Art 85—Limitation—Current mutual account Held that a mutual account within the meaning of Art 85 of second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1877 is an account of dealings between two parties which are such as to create independent obligations in favour of one party against the other. Gyanu I L P 2—Bom 608 and Pam I L R v Harbans Singh 6 C I J 153 followed. Bhawan Singh v Tula Ram All Weekly L (1896) 156 referred to. CHITTAR MAL v BHALAL (1909)

I L R 32 All

— *Mutual account to which the course of dealing between A and B that A should finance B and that B should be secured in respect of such advances by commitments of coffee of a value equal to his indebtedness to the account between A and B though current account is not mutual within the meaning of Art 85 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. Although the balance may shift from one side to the other such shifting balance is not conclusive as to mutuality. Payments made on account by one party and credited by the other whether in money or goods do not render the account mutual. There must be independent obligations on both sides to make the account mutual. Hirada Easwari v Gadigi Muddappa 6 Mad H C R 140 referred to. SINI GOWDA v PERANDES (1910)*

I L R 34 Mad

— Sch II, Art 89 s E—

See ACCOUNTS SUIT FOR

I L R 44 Calc

— Sch II, Arts 69 115—Suits—Accounts against collecting agent—No express stipulation to account yearly In the absence of express contract that account should be rendered at the end of each year a suit by a landlord against his collecting agent is governed by Art 69 of Sch II of the Limitation Act (of 1877). Moti Lal Etc v Arun Choudhary 1 C I J 211 distinguished. Jorav Nath v Deb Nath 3 C I J 110 and Srinivas

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

—Sch II Arts 87 115—contd

v Chandra Varan I L P 32 Calc 719 followed DENDRA NATH GHOSH v SURESH ESHA HUQ
MISTR (1908) 14 C W N 121

—Sch II Arts 89 115 116 132—
Suit against gomasta for account—Hypothecation of immovable property to secure agent's liability —Limitation—Registered contract—Stipulation to furnish periodical accounts Ordinarily speaking a suit by a principal against his agent for an account is governed by Art 89 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) and the period in three years from either the demand for and refusal of such account or the termination of the agency. Where however there is a definite contract to account at the end of each year the appropriate Art would be 116 as the contract would be broken by the failure of the agent to account at the end of each year. In either case if the contract be registered Art 116 applies and the period is 6 years. Mah
Lal Bose v Amin Chand Chaitopadhyay I C L J 211 relied on. The fact that the agent had executed a tabulyant whereby he had hypothecated certain immovable properties to secure his liability would not affect the nature of the suit so as to make Art 132 of same Schedule applicable.
JOSEPH CHANDRA v BENODE LAL ROY CHOW
DHURY (1909) 14 C W N 122

BUT See I PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 43 Calc 248

—Sch II Art 91—Undue influence—
Lease suit to set aside on the ground of—Applicability of the Article—Suit for possession—Whether setting aside lease by decree of Court necessary—Rejudication of lease by the plaintiff if sufficient—Suit for setting aside lease if barred suit for possession also barred—Trusts Act (II of 1887) ss 86 89 90 91 and 96—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 126—Contract Act (I of 1872) ss 64 and 66—Custom of inalienability in a zamindari onus of proof as to—Evidence nature of Where the plaintiff sued in 1904 to recover possession of certain lands which had been leased by his deceased father under two registered lease deeds dated 5th November 1889 and 2nd June 1893 respectively to the deceased father of the defendants on the ground that the leases were obtained by undue influence exercised by the father of the defendants on the plaintiff's father and the father of the defendants had died in 1899 Held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 91 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). A transfer which is voidable and which can be effected only by a registered instrument can be avoided only by a formal re transfer or by a decree of Court. Janki Kunwar v Ajit Singh I L R 15 Calc 58 explained and applied. § 86 of the Indian Trusts Act even if it were applicable to the case is not available to the plaintiff because there was no allegation in the plaint that a notice of rescission was given to the defendants or their father before the suit and the suit itself can operate as a notice to the defendants only when a copy of the plaint was served on them after the suit was duly meticulated. The defendants therefore were not trustees as the date of the suit and the right to immediate possession had not then vested in the plaintiff by virtue of the said section. §§ 86 and 89 of the Indian Trusts Act are not applicable because § 96 of the said Act will operate to prevent their

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

—Sch II Art 91—contd

application as it enacts that no obligations under Chapter IX of the Trusts Act (which contains as 86 and 89) can be created in evasion of the provisions of any law. The onus of proving inalienability in the case of a zamindari lies on the person who alleges it. Sundaram v Sulammal
I L P 16 Mad 311 dissented from. A perpetual lease reserving no rent to the Zamindar except a sum which was payable wholly to the Government towards the revenue due on the leased lands is really an absolute conveyance of the properties.
 The case law on the subjects reviewed. RAJA
RAJESWARA DORAI v ARUNACHALAN CHETTIAR
(1913) 7 L R 38 Mad 321

—Sch II Arts 91 141—Limitation —Suit to recover property sold by guardian during minority of plaintiff—Cancellation of sale deed ancillary—Decree for possession conditional upon restoring such portion of the consideration as was for the minor's benefit Held that in the case of a suit to set aside an alienation of the plaintiff's property made during his minority by his guardian the limitation applicable is that prescribed by Art 141 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1877. Unni v Kunchi Amma I L P
14 Mad 26 followed. Abdul Fakhar v Sukh
doyal Singh I L R 23 All 30 Jiamman Kunwar
v Tildai I L R 25 All 435 and Ram Das Kun- war v Abu Jafar I L R 27 All 494 referred to.
 When however such a sale is in part for the benefit of the plaintiff he is in equity liable to make good to the purchasers the portion of the consideration by which he benefited and he would be entitled to recover the property only on condition of his paying to the purchasers that portion of the consideration. Gobind Singh v Baldeo Singh I L
R 25 All 330 referred to. BACHCHAN SINGH v
KANTA PRASAD (1910) I L R 32 All 392

—Sch II Art 95—

See I PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 37 Calc 81

—Sch II Arts 95 141—

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER

I L R 45 Calc 590

—Sch II Art 98—

See HINDU LAW—DEBTS

I L R 38 Mad 308

—Sch II Art 104—Muhammadan law
 —Dower—Wife put into possession of husband's prop- erty in his lifetime and subsequently dispossessed—Suit by her heir for balance of dower debt—Limitation Held that Art 104 of Sch II of the Indian Limitation Act 1877 (Art 104 Sch I Act IX of 1908) does not apply to a suit by one of the heirs of a Muhammadan widow who having been put into possession of her husband's property during his life time in lieu of her dower is dispossessed thereof subsequently to his death. HAMID ULLAH KHAN v NAJJO (1911)

I L R 33 All 568

—Sch II Art 106—Suit for partnership account—Presumption of dissolution of partnership from facts of case—Cessation of annual accounts rendered yearly for many years and rendering of final account showing division of capital and revenue. The question in this appeal which arose out of a suit brought in 1902 for a partnership account and to recover the plaintiff's share in the

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch II Art 106—contd

Properties of a business earned on by them and the defendant was whether the suit was barred by limitation the defendants contending that there had been a dissolution of the partnership in 1891 which the plaintiffs denied. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that when annual accounts of the partnership business which had been rendered year by year from 1868 to 1891 ceased in the latter year and on 12th April 1891 a final account showing the division of both capital and revenue was made out the defendants afterwards carrying on the business without any interference from the plaintiffs the presumption was in favour of the dissolution of the partnership as at the definite date of the year when the account was thus closed. And their Lordships were of opinion that these facts taken with the other acts and conduct of the parties and the whole circumstances of the case which greatly strengthened the presumption made the inference in favour of the dissolution having occurred at the above date substantially conclusive. The suit therefore not having been brought within three years from that date was barred by Art 106 of Sch II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). JOOPUDY SARAYYA v LAKSHMANASWAMY (1913)

I L R 50 Mad [P C] 185

Sch II, Art 109—Suit for mesne profits of putni taluk sold under Reg VIII of 1819 Art 109 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) which prescribes a three years rule of limitation is applicable to a suit for mesne profits where possession of the property in suit or a putni taluk was obtained by the defendant under a sale held under Reg VIII of 1819 which was subsequently set aside. SARAJ PANJAN CHOUHDURY v FREEMOND CHOUHDURY (1917)

22 C W N 263

Sch II, Art 110—When arrears become due—Limitation runs under Art 110 only from date when rent is ascertained by proceedings under Rent Recovery Act. In the case of rents recoverable under the provisions of the Rent Recovery Act such rents become ascertained only when they have been ascertained by means of the procedure provided by the Act. In a suit brought by the tenants against their landlord for a declaration that the latter was not entitled to vary the terms of previous patta judgments in favour of the tenants was given by the High Court in August 1902. Prior to that date the landlord had instituted summary suits under the Rent Recovery Act against the tenants to enforce acceptance of pattas by them in respect of the same lands and the decision in those cases was given by the Sub Collector in May 1904. The landlord tendered pattas as directed in the summary suits and brought suits for rent within three years from the date of the summary decisions but more than three years from the date of the High Court judgment. Held in the circumstances that the rent was ascertained and the arrears became due within the meaning of Art 110 of Sch. II of the Limitation on the date of the judgment in the summary suits and not on the date of the Act on judgment of the High Court. Arunachalam Chettiar v Kader Routhen I L R 9 Mad 558 distinguished. Rangayya Appa Rao v Eobbi Srinamulu I L R 27 Mad 143 referred to. SYED GULAM GHOSSE SHA SAHIB v SHUJI MOHAMMAD PILLAI (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 433

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Sch II, Arts 110-116—

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Calc 759

Suit to recover rent on a registered lease—Limitation. Held that a suit for the recovery of rent based upon a registered lease is governed as to limitation not by Art 110 but by Art 110 of the Limitation Act 1877. Pam Narsain v Kamta Singh I L R 26 All 133 followed. JAGGI LAL v SRI RAM (1912)

I L R 34 All 464

Sch II Arts 113-144—

See CHACKIDAPPA CHAKRAN LAL

I L R 46 Calc 173

Sch II, Art 116—

See CONTRACT I L R 34 All 429

See LEASE I L R 40 Mad 910

Sch II, Art 118—

See CUSTOMS I L P 100 Calc 418

Sch II Art 120—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 103

I L R 100 Mad 31

See LIMITATION (8)

I L R 38 Calc 284

See LIMITATION (11)

I L R 40 Calc 187

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 37 Calc 263

Vatan—Suit by reversioner for declaration as nearest heir—Widow of the last male holder—Vested right. The right to sue for a declaration of heirship to a vatan does not accrue until the death of the widow of the last male holder of the vatan the widow having a vested interest in it as the nearest heir. RAVI VALAD MAHADU v SAKUJI VALAD KALOZI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 321

Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 100-103—Suit by widow of Mahomedan for share against son who got order for grant of letters of administration but did not take out same—Representative—Time from which limitation runs. Where on the death of a deceased Mahomedan a contest amongst his heirs as to who should take out letters of administration was decided in favour of the defendant No 1 but he did not furnish security and the order for grant of letters of administration was thus never completed. Held that if Art 120 of Sch II of the Limitation Act applied to a suit by one of the other heirs to recover her share from the defendant No 1 who was in possession limitation ran at the earliest from the date of the decision of the Appellate Court affirming his right to take out letters of administration. Quare. The other members of the family of the deceased having also been joined as defendants whether defendant No 1 could be allowed to obtain for himself any advantage by urging that he never in fact became the legal representative of the deceased within Art 123 of Sch. II of the Act not having actually taken out letters of administration. FATEZ ALI KHAN v SITARA BEGUM (1910) 15 C W N 10

Attachment of wrong man's property—No suit filed—Subsequent sale of property under attachment—Fresh cause of action

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Sch II Art 120—contd

from date of sale—Art 120 applicable—Absence of suit questioning attachment no bar to subsequent suit on sale Though attachment of a person's land as if it belonged to another gives the owner a cause of action on which he could have brought a suit but did not yet the sale of the same at a later date is a fresh and greater invasion of his right and gives him a fresh cause of action on which he could sue within six years from the date of sale under Art 120 of the Limitation Act Though he might have sued after the attachment he was not bound to sue The sale though held in pursuance of the attachment was not a necessary consequence of it Robert Skinner v Shankar Lal I L R 31 All 10 (note) followed Per CUNHAM The attachment gives the judgment creditor certain rights in execution but the title to the property continues in the owner notwithstanding the attachment and it so continues even if the owner's objection to the attachment be disallowed Varasirha Pau v Gangaram 18 Mad L J 390 referred to WANTHARAO v NARAYANARAO (1913) I L R 38 Mad 383

Suit by an ex trustee for reimbursement not governed by—Rights of bond fide de facto trustees for bond fide expenses A trustee of a public trust has a first charge on the trust properties for the purpose of reimbursing himself advances properly made for the trust and Art 120 and not Art 132 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) is the one applicable to a suit for recovery of monies so spent and the right to sue does not accrue before the date on which he judicially declared to be no longer a lawful trustee (though it may well be that it does not accrue till he is dispossessed of the trust estate in pursuance of the judicial declaration) Pearry Mohun Muljee v Varendra Nath Muljee I L R 37 Cal 229 followed The expenses of a suit in which a person posing himself to be a trustee unsuccessfully resists another's right to be the trustee cannot be allowed as a proper charge on the trust property Obser The time occupied in defending such a suit is the rightful trustee when no counter claim is made therein for reimbursement of the expenses made by him but only a claim to remain in possession for such expenses cannot be deducted in his favour under s 14 of the Limitation Act Maha Rajah Jayakundur Bannaree v Din Dayal Chatterjee I W R 309 followed ABEYASAMIE v SORAY BIVU SAIDA ANNAL (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 260

Sch II Arts 120 123 144—Period of Limitation applicable to suit by Muhammadan to recover his share of his deceased wife's estate Art 123 of Sch II of the Limitation Act of 1877 applies only when the suit is for a share of an estate which it is the legal duty of the defendant to distribute Umardara Ali Khan v Melayat Ali Khan I L R 19 All 169 followed Where a Muhammadan dies intestate his estate at once vests in his heirs as tenants in common and there is no one charged by law with its distribution In a suit by one of the heirs to recover his share Art 123 of the Limitation Act does not apply Kasmi v Ayshamma I L R 16 Mad 69 dissented from Art 144 will apply in the case of immovables and Art 120 when the property sought to be recovered is moveable Khadessa Hajeer Baffu v Puthay Vettill Ayissa Umman (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 511

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Sch II Arts 120 125—Applicability of—Sut by one adopted later to set aside his maternal grandmother's alienation after her death—Attestation and ratification by next presumptive reversioners to a female's alienation effect of A Hindu widow sold the suit properties in 1881 and 1889 and died in 1899 Her daughter adopted the plaintiff in 1903 and he sued in 1907 to set aside the sales during the life time of his adoptive mother Held that (a) the suit was not barred (b) Art 120 and not 125 of the Limitation Act was applicable and (c) the cause of action for the plaintiff to question sales arose only from the date of his adoption when alone he became a reversioner Of the two sales in this case the first was assented to by the daughters and attested by the next male reversioner the second was acquiesced in by the daughters and in 1894 ratified by the then presumptive male reversioner Held that the plaintiff was stopped under the circumstances from questioning the sales as a reversioner For the application of Art 125 of the Limitation Act (a) the suit must be one brought during the life time of the alienating female and (b) the plaintiff must be the person entitled to the possession of the land if the female died at the date of the institution of the suit Chiruvolu Punnamma v Chiruvolu Ierra v I L R 29 Mad 390 explained and distinguished Gajjala Vetrappa v Gajjala Gangamma 1912 Mad W 912 Abinash Chandra Marumdar v Harinath Shah I L R 32 Cal 69 I and Gounda Pillai v Thayammal I L R 28 Mad 47 followed Per SADASTHA ARIAR J Consent to an alienation by the next reversioner and a ratification of past alienations stand on the same footing Effect of attestation by a reversioner to a female's alienation considered NARAYANA v PAMA (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 396

Sch II, Arts 120 131—Right of tenant to sue in respect of excess collections arises on every occasion when excess collection is made—Art 120 and not Art 131 of Sch II of the Limitation Act applies to such suits A landlord had been collecting excess rents from his tenant from 1872 In respect of the excess collection made in October 1898 the tenant brought a suit in December 1909 for a declaration that the landlord was not entitled to collect such excess—Held that the right to sue for such declaration arose on each occasion the excess was collected that the period of limitation was six years from the date of collection under Art 120 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act and that Art 31 of the schedule did not apply to such suits SREMAN MADHABUSRI ACHAMMA v GURISETTI NARAYANASWAMI NAIDU (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 17

Sch II Arts 120 132—

See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE.

I L R 42 Cal 1088

Second mortgagee for surplus proceeds after sale by first mortgagee—Sale proceeds wrongfully withdrawn from Court in execution of decree on later mortgage suit for money—Sut to enforce mortgage—Civil Procedure Code 1882 ss 244 and 295 cl (c) Certain immovable property was mortgaged on 21st May 1887 to the appellants and on 13th September 1887 the same property was mortgaged by the same mortgagor to the respondents (the mortgage money being repayable on the 18th November 1888) and again on 19th July 1889 to the appellants. On 8th October 1890 the appellants in a suit in which the respondents though made parties did not appear obtained a decree on their mortgage of 21st May 1887 in execution of which the mortgaged property was sold and after satisfying the decree the sale proceeds were deposited in Court. On 14th January 1891 the appellants obtained a decree on their mortgage of 19th July 1889 in a suit to which they did not make the respondents parties and in execution of that decree without giving any notice to the respondent they drew out of Court the surplus proceeds of the former sale though they were aware of the respondents mortgage of 19th September 1887 and of its priority to their own. In a suit brought on 17th November 1900 by the respondents against the appellants for the surplus sale proceeds it was contended that the suit was one for money governed by Art 120 of Sch II of the Limitation Act of 1877 and barred as not having been brought within 6 years from the 18th November 1889 when the money became due. Held (affirming the decision of a majority of a Bench of the High Court) that the suit was one to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property within the meaning of Art 132 of Sch II of the Act and having been brought within 12 years from the date when the money became payable was not barred by limitation. The surplus sale proceeds represented the security which the respondents had under their mortgage of 19th September 1887 and did not cease to represent that security by the fact of the appellants having wrongfully withdrawn the surplus sale proceeds from the Court where they were deposited. Under the circumstances of the case s 290 cl (c) of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 was not applicable. BARNAMDEO PRASAD v. TARA CHAND (1913)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Arts 120-132—contd

I L R 41 Cal 654

Sch II Arts 120-144—Suit by Mahomedan for partition of immovable property governed by Art 144 and not 120 Where a Mahomedan sues for partition of moveables and immoveables his claim as regards immoveables falls within Art 144 and not 120 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. SYED NOORDEEN SAHIB v. SYED ISRAHIM SAHIB (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 74

Sch II Art 123—Suit to recover legacy—Legacy not assented to by executor—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 112—Mahomedan Law—Shiah—Walf—Request for Gadi ul Izzum feast—Fattiah dinners—Valid bequest—Cypres Art 123 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act 1877 applies to a suit where the substantial claim is to recover a legacy even though not assented to by the executor and whether or not the suit involves the administration of the whole estate. A Shiah Mahomedan directed his executors by his will to spend a portion of the income of his property upon the following charitable or religious objects: (i) the Gadi ul Izzum feast at Mecca (ii) The Gadi feast at Pehmanpura in Surat and (iii) a Fattiah dinner on the testator's and his wife's account. The Gadi feasts were to celebrate the appointment of Ali as successor of the Prophet. Held that the first two bequests were valid but the validity of the third bequest was doubtful. Kaleeloda Sahib v. Ameerudeen Sahib I L R 18 Mad 201 Zoolaka Biba v. Zynul Abedin I L R 6 Bom. L R 1055 and

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Art 123—contd

Bida Jan v. Kalb Hussain I L R 31 All 136 followed. Where the testator has indicated a general charitable intention in the bequest made by him and if these bequests fail the Court can devote the property to religious or charitable purposes according to the cypres doctrine. SALEBHAI ABDUL KADER v. BAI SAFIARU (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 111

Sch II Art 124—See SIEBART I L R 80 Cal 887See LIMITATION (2)

I L R 42 Cal 244

Sch II Art 126—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY I L R 38 All 126*Sch II, Art 127—Joint property

—Exclusion of a co-parcener—Knowledge of exclusion—Decree by another excluded co-parcener for share by partition does not prevent time from running Certain joint family property was in the possession of some of the co-parceners (defendants Nos 1 to 3) who began to hold it adversely to the remaining co-parceners from 1890. In 1895 defendant No 5 one of the excluded co-parceners sued all the co-parceners to recover his share in the property by partition. His share which was one sixth in the property was decreed to him in 1903 and he recovered possession of it in due course. In 1907 another of the excluded co-parceners brought a suit to recover his share by partition of the property. He sought to bring his suit within time by alleging that the possession of defendants Nos 1 to 3 became adverse only after 1893. The lower Courts held that the plaintiff was excluded to his knowledge from enjoyment of the property from 1890 and that his suit was barred under Art 127 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. On appeal—Held by CHANDAVAREKAR J. that the decree of 1893 gave a sixth share to defendant No 5 and left the remaining five sixths untouched: the mutual relations of the defendants in the first suit with reference to their five sixths having been left to continue as before the property in their hands remained joint and that the judgment and decree of 1893 did not disturb as between them the previous state of things and stop the limitation that had begun to run as against the plaintiff from 1890. Held by BATCHELOR J. concurring that the finding of fact against the plaintiff that he was excluded to his knowledge from enjoyment of joint property by defendants Nos 1 to 3 from 1890 was wholly independent of and unaffected by the decree of 1893 which only decided that the family and the property were joint and that the property was consequently partible. BARAJI AKORA v. DATTU LAXMAN (1912)

I L R 37 Bom 64

Sch II Arts 127-142—4 co-parceners in possession of joint lands on behalf of all co-parceners—Alienation by the co-parceners without knowledge of the rest—Adverse possession of his vendor Certain lands belonging to the joint family of plaintiffs and defendant No 1 were in the possession of defendant No 1 on behalf of the family. In 1890 he alienated them to defendant No 2 but remained in possession on executing a rent note in favour of the vendee. The plaintiffs brought a suit in 1906 to recover by partition their share in the lands. The defendant No 2 pleaded in defence his adverse possession of the lands from 1880. Held that the possession by defendant No 1 before the alienation being for himself and his co parceners and being thus of a fiduciary character it could not begin to be adverse to the co parceners in the absence of intimation conveyed by him to them that he intended to exclude them. MALEKAPPA v NUDKAPPA (1912)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch II Arts 127 142—contd

I L R 37 Bom 84

Sch II Arts 132 147—

See LIMITATION I L R 35 Mad 191

Sch II Arts 131 162—Cash allowance—Tastik—Arrears of cash allowance suit to recover. The plaintiff the manager of the temple of Shri Laxmi Narayan Dev at Hulekal sued to recover from the defendants the managers of the temple of Shree Madhukeshwar at Banawasi a sum of Rs 96 as arrears of a cash allowance (tastik) which the former was entitled to receive from the property of the latter. The defendants admitted the title of the plaintiff to the allowance but pleaded limitation as to the arrears for two out of the six years. The lower Courts applied Art 131 of the Limitation Act 1877 and allowed the whole of the claim. On appeal Held that the claim was properly allowed. A cash allowance of the nature as in the present case is according to Hindu law sidandha or immoveable property where it is annually payable the right to payment gives to the person entitled a periodically recurring right as against the person liable to pay. The right to any amount which has become payable stands as to such person on the same footing as the aggregate of rights to amounts which are to become payable and which have become actually due. But where there are more than one person entitled to the payment as co sharer and the payment is made to one of them by the person liable to pay the co sharer receiving the amount holds it minus his share on behalf of the rest as money had and received for their use though as to him with reference to the aggregate of rights it is sidandha or immoveable property in the nature of a periodically recurring right. The important question is who is the person sued and what is it that is sued for? If what is sued for is the establishment of a title to the right itself then Art 131 applies whether the defendant is the person originally liable to pay or is a co sharer who has received payment from that person. If on the other hand what is sued for is the amount of arrears which has become actually payable to the plaintiff then there is a distinction between the person originally liable to pay and a co sharer of the plaintiff who has actually received payment from that person. Art 131 applies in that case to the person originally liable to pay and Art 62 applies to the co sharer who has received the payment. SAKHARAM HARI v LAXMIKHYA TIRTHA SWAMI (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 349

Sch III Art 132—

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Cal 527

Sch II Arts 132 134 148—

See MORTGAGE 14 C W N 439

Sch II Arts 132 144—Mortgage—

Third person redeeming the mortgage at mortgagor's

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch II Arts 132 144—contd

deuere—Sale by mortgagor of his rights—Sale deed unregistered—Sale deed could be looked at for evidence of payment of money—Suit by mortgagor to redeem ignoring sale—Lienor's rights—Adverse possession by lienor—Registration Act (111 of 1877) s 17—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s 91. The plaintiff mortgaged certain property with possession with defendant No 1 for Rs 601 on the 4th April 1873. On the 25th November 1878 defendants Nos 2 to 4 at the request of the plaintiff paid off the mortgage to defendant No 1 and for the sum so paid and for a further payment of Rs 50 the plaintiff sold the property to defendants Nos 2 to 4. The document as to the sale was not registered but ever since the purchase the defendants Nos 2 to 4 were in possession as owners. In 1907 the plaintiff filed a suit to redeem the mortgage of 1873. The defendants Nos 2 to 4 set up in reply the sale of 1878 and contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that the sale deed being unregistered could not be looked at for proving the sale but it could be looked at as evidence of payment of money. MAHADNAPPA bin DANAPPA v DARI bin BALA (1878) P J 299 and Waman Ramchandra v Dhondiba Krishnay I L R 4 Bom 126 followed. Held further that the redemption having been made by the defendants for the plaintiff with his knowledge and consent they became entitled to hold the property as lienors and the plaintiff could not recover it from them without paying the amount of Rs 601. MAHOMED SHUMSOOL v SHAWULRAM L R 2 I A 17 followed. Held further that the defendant's lien was alive for twelve years after 1878 that is up to the year 1890 (Art 132 of the Limitation Act of 1877) that when that period expired the lien was gone and their possession after that was without any right and that their title by adverse possession was perfected in 1902. Ramchandra Yeshwant Sirpoidar v Sadashiv Abaji Sirpoidar I L R 11 Bom 422 explained. Held therefore that the plaintiff's suit was barred by limitation. SAMBHU BIN HAKHMANTA v NANA DIN NARAYAN (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 438

Sch II, Art 134—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 38 Cal 526

Sch II Arts 134 148—*Mortgage—Redemption by one mortgagor—Nature of possession—Subsequent sale under another mortgage decree—Suit by another representative of mortgagor for redemption—Limitation G in 1850 mortgaged certain property and died leaving a son a daughter and a widow. The son obtained a decree for redemption of the whole which was sold to M H G M and A who redeemed the mortgage. After the passing of this decree G's son and widow mortgaged certain shares in the villages affected by the original mortgage and in 1891 these shares were sold in execution of a decree for sale and purchased by M H and the representatives of G M and A. Held on suit by the representative of G's daughter to redeem her share that Art 148 and not Art 135 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1877 applied and the suit was not time barred. SAID UD DIN KHAN v RATAN LAL (1909)

I L R 32 All 160

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contd

Sch II, Arts 137 142 144—Adverse possession—Defendant—Successor but independent trespassers—Plaintiffs purchased certain property at an execution sale on the 20th November 1891 the property being at the time of purchase in the possession of trespassers and formal possession was given to them on the 25th November 1892. In 1897 other person also trespassers obtained possession of the property against and not through the persons originally in possession. In 1900 the plaintiffs sued the second set of trespassers for possession. Held that Art 144 of the second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1877 applied and the suit was not time barred. Ram Prasad Janra v Lalki Varan Pradhan I L P 12 Cal 197 followed RAM LAKHAN PAI v GAJADHAR PAI (1910)

I L P 33 All 224

Sch II, Art 139—

See GRANT I L M 37 Cal 674

Lense of endowed land for a term by Mohunt—No rent paid for over 12 years after the expiry of lease—Successor of Mohunt if may sue to recover possession. The Mohunt of a math granted a lease of land belonging to the math for a term which expired in 1880. It was found that no rent was ever paid since the expiration of the lease more than 12 years after which the succeeding mohunt sued to recover the land from the successors of the lessee. Held that the High Court was right in holding that the suit was barred under Art 139 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act of 1877. MORUNT BHAGWAN PAMAJI DAS v PAM KRISHNA BOSZ [P C] 26 C W N 722

Sch II, Arts 139 144—Suits against representatives of deceased tenant governed by Art 139 and not 144. A suit against the representatives of a tenant after the determination of the tenancy to recover the property leased is governed by Art 139 and not by Art 144 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. Such a suit would be barred against the representatives if it would be barred against the tenant if alive. Jodappalli Narasimham v Dronamraju Sesharaya Murthy I L R 31 Mad 16 167 doubted SUBRAVETI RAMIAH v GUNDALA PAMAYNA (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 260

Sch II, Art 141—Hindu law—Suit by reversioner for possession—Adverse possession by widow of predeceased son of last male owner—Limitation. A separated Hindu died leaving him surviving two widows and a daughter in law the widow of his predeceased son. Upon the death of the survivor of the two widows the daughter in law took possession of the property and remained in possession thereof for more than twelve years adversely to the reversioners. Held on suit by the reversioners to recover possession that their claim was time barred their cause of action having commenced from the death of the survivor of the two widows of the last owner. Sham Koer v Dah Koer L R 29 I A 132 referred to GAJADHAR PANDY v PARBATI (1910)

I L R 33 All 312

Sch II Arts 142 144—

See LIMITATION (39)

I L R 55 Cal 558

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—*contd*Sch II Arts 142 144—contd

See MUTT HEAD OF

I L R 55 Mad 346

Suit to recover possession—Dispossession—Discontinuance of possession—Possession as an agent of minors—Decree by the minors on attaining majority against the agent for possession of the property—Decree not executed and barred by limitation—Agent wrongfully dispossessed by a third person—Money decree against the original owners—Decree holder seeking to attach property—Adverse possession—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1882) s 283. A died in 1819 leaving behind him two minor sons R and D and a mistress A. The latter looked after the minors and managed their property. When they arrived at the age of majority they found that A claimed the property in her own right. In 1891 R and D sued A for the possession of the lands and obtained a decree on the 30th of August 1892 which was confirmed on appeal on the 15th June 1894. This decree was sought to be executed on the 20th June 1897 but the application was dismissed as barred by limitation. A was then wrongfully deprived of the possession of the property by V who sold it to B in 1898. B mortgaged the property to E in 1900. In the same year the plaintiff obtained a money decree against R and D and in execution of it he had an attachment placed on the property but the attachment was removed in 1904 at the instance of B and E. In 1905 the plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration that the property was liable to be attached and sold in execution of his decree against R and D. The defendants B and E contended that the suit was barred under Art 144 of the Limitation Act 1877 inasmuch as neither the plaintiff nor his predecessors in title R and D were in possession of the property within twelve years preceding the suit. Held that the suit having been brought by the plaintiff under 283 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 to establish his right to attach and sell the property in dispute as that of his judgment debtors R and D in execution of his money decree all that he had to prove was that on the date of attachment the judgment debtors had a subsisting right to the property and that the suit must therefore be tried as if it were a suit for possession by the judgment debtor. Held also that as A's possession must be deemed to have begun in 1879 as that of bailiff or agent for the minors R and D and to have continued as such until after they had arrived at the age of majority and as there had never been any dispossession by A of R and D while they had been in possession in a suit against A her plea of limitation would be decided by the application not of Art 142 but of Art 144 of the Limitation Act 1877. Morgan v Morgan I All 459 followed Taylor v Hildebrandt I L R 11 (10th Edn) 644 645 followed Lalubhai Papubhai v Jankubhai I L R 2 Bom 338 at p 413 followed and Dadoba v Krishna I L R 7 Bom 31 followed. Held further that though the decree for possession obtained by R and D against A had become incapable of execution by reason of their failure to apply to the Court for its execution within the period prescribed by the law of limitation the right established by it remained and though that right could not be enforced as against A by execution through the Court the decree holders could enter by ousting any trespasser. A included Bandu v Aca I L P 15 Bom 238 followed.

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Arts 142 144—contd

Held therefore that there having been no allegation of possession in R and D lost by dispossession or discontinuance of possession but the case put forward having been a title in them established by their decree against A and a wrongful possession obtained from her after the decree by F under whom B and E claimed the limitation applicable to the suit was that provided by Art 144 not Art 142 of the Indian Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Fakir Abdulla v Babaji Gungaji 1 L R 14 Bom 458 followed and Gangaayal Vagu Karal Mhatra v Vago Dhaqa Mhatra (1851) P J 212 followed Vasudeo Arambam Joshi v Ekath Bala Krishna Thir (1910) another under mistake to hold joint possession for more than 12 years—Suit to recover exclusive possession—Limitation—Consent—Act—quiescence—Stoppage—Mistake—Co-sharers adverse possession as between—Unity of possession of tenants in common consequences of Where A is the owner of an estate in which the disputed land is situated and A and B are joint owners in an adjoining state and the land in dispute has been held by A and B by mutual consent as part of their joint estate for a period of more than 12 years before suit in ignorance of their rights limitation arises either by discontinuance of possession by A under Art 142 or by adverse possession of B under Art 144 of the Limitation Act Vasudera v Moguni 1 L R 24 Mad 387 referred to Per Jeyaraj C J—The mere fact of consent does not prevent possession being adverse. The test is whether the person who sets up adverse possession is able to show that he held for himself and if he did the mere fact that there was acquiescence or consent on the part of the other person concerned would in circumstances like these make no difference Purshottam v Sagay 1 L R 28 Bom 87 referred to Per CHAPMAN J—Art 142 rather than Art 144 of the Limitation Act applied to the case Dwarika Nath Chowdhury v Atul Shri Baverjee (1913) 17 C W N 595

1 L R 35 Bom 79

Sch II, Art 144—

See HINDU LAW 1 L R 34 Mad 402

See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 I A 187

1 L R 39 Mad 617

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877 s 17 AND

49 1 L R 47 Cal 238

Summary Cases—In

here—in immovable property The right to levy summary cess whether it originated in agreement or in unlawful exaction is an interest in immovable property and is governed by twelve years limitation under Art 144 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Panchalisingi v Mahasankar (1911)

1 L R 36 Bom 174

Adverse possession—

Possession of the defendant meaning of if incl des possession of—Defendant a lessor—Nature of adverse possession which can be set up—Effect of s 3 The words possession of the defendant in Art 144 cannot by reference to the definition in s 3 be held to include the possession of another person, a co defendant still in possession under a different title Padayira v Ram Rao 1 L R 13 Bom 169 distinguished. The adverse posses sion of a defendant must be of the same nature as that sought by the plaintiff and the defendant cannot set up his possession as a permanent lessee as adverse in a suit by the plaintiff for possession as proprietor Unruvessa v Ma Yar Khan 1 F R 3 All 24 followed Where the plaintiff brought a suit for possession of certain property purchased by him at an auction sale within 12 years from the date of sale but after the expiry of 12 years brought the defendant appellant on the record on the ground that subsequent to the plaintiff's purchase he had been granted a permanent lease of the property by the original defendants the previous owners who had wrongfully retained possession since the plaintiff's purchase Held that the defendant appellant was not entitled to add the period of his lease as adverse possession to his own in answer to the plaintiff's suit Lakshmi Bibee v Bejoy Chandra Marathe (1913) 17 C W N 784

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch. II, Art 144—contd

Possession of Hindu widow—Assertion in public documents of ownership—Questions decided on inferences from documents—Nature of possession of widow whether in lieu of maintenance or adverse Where a question as to the nature and effect of the possession of property by a Hindu widow is whether the possession is only in lieu of her maintenance and not adverse possession is one decided by legal inferences drawn from documents opinions of the courts though concurrent are not findings of fact and where wrong conclusions from such inferences have been formed they are open to be reversed by the Judicial Committee on appeal. When the widow asserted that she was entitled as full heir to the separate share held by her husband when in a written statement in a suit brought against her she asserted that she and her co widow were the heirs of their husband and had all along been in possession and it was only as an alternative pleading that she set up a title to possession as a right to maintenance when in an application to the court she made an assertion publicly that she and her co widow were the heirs and the only heirs to the property from which assertion mutation of it to her name followed and when the widow made an absolute gift of part of the property—when she made such public assertion of a right to exclusive possession from 1859 to her death in 1895—the true inference was that her possession was adverse and the plaintiff's (respondent's) title was barred by limitation under Art 144 of Sch II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Satgur Prasad v Paj Kishore Lal 1 L R 42 All 152

Sch II, Art 146 A—

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

1 L R 38 Mad. 6

Sch II Art 148—Limitation—Suit for redemption—Mortgage by conditional sale—Specified period for redemption—Payment of mortgage debt within specified time—Accrual of cause of action Ordinarily and in the absence of a special condition entitling the mortgagor to redeem during the term for which the mortgage is created the right of redemption can only arise on the expiration of the specified period. But there is nothing in law to prevent the parties from making a provision that the mortgagor may discharge the debt within the specified period and take back the property. Such a provision is usually to the advantage of the mortgagor. The father of the plaintiff executed a mortgage by way of conditional sale on the 6th of January 1830 in respect of 12 villages in favour of the predecessor in title of the principal defendant and there was at the time of execution a contemporaneous agreement that the sale would be cancelled on payment of the amount of consideration in nine years. In a suit brought on the 6th of January 1890 for redemption the High Court held on the construction of the contract that the suit was not barred as the right to redeem only arose on the expiry of the nine years. Held by the Judicial Committee that the case must be decided not on the construction of the contract but on the case made by the plaintiff on the pleadings which was that she was entitled under the agreement to redeem the property within the period of nine years and by the statement of account produced with the plaint which showed that the mortgage debt was actually satisfied under the contract on the 4th of September 1838 and that being so the right to redeem then accrued and the whole suit was therefore barred not having been brought within 60 years from that date (Art 148 of Sch II of the Limitation Act XV of 1877) BAKHAWAR BEGANI v. HUSAINI KHANUM (1914)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Art 148—contd

I L R 36 All 195

Sch II Art 164—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 39 Cal 506

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH

I ART 164 I L R 37 All 597

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE

I L R 118 Cal 394

Sch II Art 170—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 234

I L R 32 All 404

Sch II Art 178—

Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 15—Execution of decree—Limitation—Execution stayed by injunction. In execution of a decree certain property was attached by the decree holder by means of an application made on the 8th of July 1904. Objection was taken to the attachment which was disallowed on the 10th of March 1908. This was followed up on the 5th of April 1909 by a declaratory suit against the decree holder. An injunction was also granted on the 6th of April 1909 whereby the sale of the property in suit was stayed. The suit terminated on the 26th of June 1909 but the injunction lasted until January 1909. The next application for execution was made on the 14th of April 1910. Held that this last application was within time whether the Limitation Act of 1877 or that of 1908 applied. It was not relevant that the decree holder might possibly have obtained execution of the decree against other property of his judgment debtor. Behari Lal Misir v. Jagannath Prasad I L R 38 All 651 followed. GHULAM NASIR UD DIX v. HARDEO PRASAD (1912)

I L R 34 All 436

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Arts 178 179—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 88 89

I L R 30 Bom 321

Article 179 applies to initiate proceedings—Previous orders in execution effect of as res judicata—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) attachment under when ceases a question of intention—Erroneous order on a question of law when res judicata. Previous orders passed in execution and allowing execution on a construction of a decree as to mesne profits or as to interest or the like have the force of res judicata though the later application be in respect of a different subject matter. Thus if under the old Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) attachment of several properties had been made and more than three years after such attachment sale of some of those properties was ordered the supposition that the attachment was then subsisting that order to sell will act as res judicata when a subsequent application for sale is made within three years thereafter to sell other properties originally attached. Under the old Civil Procedure Code the question whether a particular attachment subsists at a certain time was a question of intention. Ram Kripal v. Rup Kuar I L R 6 All 269. Venkatanarasimha Naidoo v. Papammah I L R 19 Mad 54 and Subbarama Ayyar v. Nagammal I L R 24 Mad 683 followed. The rule that an erroneous decision on a question of law has not the force of res judicata does not apply to such a case. Palamippa Chettiar v. Sarani Naidoo 18 Mad L J 548 and Mangala thammal v. Narayanasami Ayyar I L R 30 Mad 461 distinguished. It is well established that an application intended to revive and carry through a pending execution is not covered by Art 179 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) as it is not an application to initiate a new execution. Qamar ud din Ahmed v. Jauchir Lal I L R 27 All 334 and Suppa Reddiar v. Avda Ammal I L R 28 Mad 50 followed. The right to apply to continue execution in such cases accrues from day to day and will not be barred until three years have elapsed after the proceedings have ceased to be pending. So the application is not barred under Art 178 either. Chalavadi Kotiah v. Poloori Al melammah I L R 31 Mad 71 followed. SUBBA CHARLAR v. MUTHUVERA PILLAI (1913)

I L R 100 Mad 553

Sch II, Art 179—

See LIMITATION I L R 33 All 264

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 All 407

1. —Application against one judgment debtor if saves limitation against other—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 45. An application for execution which conforms to the requirements specified in s 45 236 237 and 238 of the Civil Procedure Code and on which the Court permits execution is an application in accordance with law within the meaning of Art 179 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act 1877. Where a decree was for possession against one set of defendants, for possession through tenants against another set of defendants and for costs and mesne profits against all the defendants and an application was made for execution of so much of the decree as related to costs against some of the defendants but not against the others Held that a subsequent application for execution of the unsatisfied portion of the decree against those defendants against whom the previous application was not directed is not barred if made within three years of the previous application. BARODA LINKER CROW DHURI & NABIN CHANDRA DUTTA (1909)

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Art 179—contd

14 C W N 465

2 ——— Application for execution in accordance with law—Decree—Execution—Execution made conditional upon payment of Court fees—Application for execution without payment—Dismissal—Second application with payment A decree was passed on the 30th June 1900 whereby partition of immoveable property was ordered but the execution of the decree was made conditional on the payment of the proper Court fees On the 29th June 1903 an application to execute the decree was made but it was dismissed as it was not accompanied by payment A second application to execute the decree was presented on the 27th June 1906 it was accompanied by payment The lower Courts dismissed it on the ground that it was time barred inasmuch as the first application made in 1903 was not one in accordance with law as required by Art 179 of Sch II to the Limitation Act 1877 Held that the first application was made in accordance with law for upon that application it was competent for the Court to order that the execution should begin on the Court fees being paid within a certain date Held further that the second application was within time Per CURLIAM An application for execution of a decree to be in accordance with law must ask for something within the decree and not outside it NATHUBHAI KASANDAS & PRANJIVAN LALCHAND (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 189

3 ——— Application for execution returned for amendment of formal defect—Application amended but not refiled within time allowed and registered—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 179 Where an application for execution of a decree made in proper form under s 235 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) was returned by the Court for supplying within 10 days the necessary extracts from the Collector's register under s 238 regarding certain shares of a revenue paying mouzah and a correct valuation of this and other properties sought to be attached but the application was not refiled till long after the expiry of the 10 days and some days after the period of limitation expired and the decree holder along with the application filed a petition explaining the delay and it was registered Held that the previous application which was returned was a step taken in aid of execution such as would save the amended application from being barred by limitation Gopal Shah & Janki Koer I L R 23 Cal 217 distinguished and explained. Asgar Ali & Troilakhy Nath Ghose I L R 17 Cal 631 Kajfayal Ali & Ram Singh I L R 7 All 359 Jawal Dube & Lakshmi Charan Ram I L R 20 All 478 Gopal Chandra Manu & Gosain Das Koley I L R 25 Cal 594 referred to That the decree holder's application to the Collector for the extracts from the Collector's register was itself a step in aid of execution. Proper scope of s 245 of the Code indicated MATHURA PRASAD & ANURAGO KOZE (1910)

14 C W N 481

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Art 179—contd

4 ——— Rejected application for adjournment to prove service of notice—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 248 An application for adjournment to enable decree holder to adduce evidence of service of notice under s 248 Civil Procedure Code is an application made in order to obtain from the Court an order in furtherance of the execution of the decree Such an application even though it is refused is a step in aid of execution MOWAR NARASINGH DAYAL SINGH & MOWAR KALI CHARAN SINGH (1909)

14 C W N 486

5 ——— Applications for execution presented by assignee of decree-holder—Dismissal of the application for non production of assignment deed A decree was passed on the 12th October 1894 and an application to execute it was made by the decree holder on the 16th August 1897 The process fee not having been paid the application was struck off The second application to execute the decree was presented on the 16th August 1900 by the assignee of the decree holder but as he did not produce the assignment the application was struck off on the 27th October 1900 The third application was presented by a mukhtear of the assignee on the 11th August 1903 but as neither the assignment nor the mukhtearnama was produced it was struck off on the 9th October 1903 The same mukhtear presented a fourth application on the 19th December 1900 A notice was issued to the judgment debtor under s 248 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) and the application was disposed of the decree holder agreeing to accept a payment of Rs 45 from the judgment debtor On the 11th December 1906 the fifth application to execute the decree was filed. The lower Courts holding that the second and third applications could not be regarded as applications for execution made in accordance with law dismissed the fifth application as barred by the law of limitation — Held that the present application was not barred for the non production of the mukhtearnama and the assignment did not prove that they did not exist in fact Abdul Majid & Muhammad Farukh 13 All 39 followed VENAYAK VAMAN & ANANDA VALAD RAMJI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 68

6 ——— Application to certify payment made out of Court—Although a decree under s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 may not be capable of adjustment under s 257A of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 yet where the parties had professed to make such adjustment and the judgment debtor having paid certain instalments of the decretal money the decree holder had applied to the Court to have such payments certified under s 253 of the Code, it was held that such applications operated to keep the decree alive although at the time there might have been no application for execution actually pending Sujan Singh & Hira Singh I L R 12 All 599 followed Tarun Das Bandopadhyay & Bishtoo Lal Mukhopadaya I L R 12 Cal 608 referred to CHHOTAY SINGH & IHWARI (1910)

I L R 32 All 257

7 ——— Withdrawal of informal application if is—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss 232 235—Transfer of assigned decree to decree holder Where a decree holder

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Art 179—contd

applied for execution of a decree and withdrew the application on the objection of the judgment debtors that the decree had been transferred to a third person who had retransferred it to the decree holder and that therefore the execution could not proceed—Held that the application was a step in aid of execution and saved limitation Gopal Sah v Janaki Koer I L R 23 Calc 217 distinguished MUSARAF ALI v AMIR JAN BIBEZ (1910) 15 C W N 71

8—Applications when not “in accordance with law”—The plaintiff obtained a decree against the defendants. He sought to execute the decree by filing six darhasts all within time. The lower Court held that the sixth darhast was not filed in time for the first five darhasts it could not be taken into consideration for purposes of limitation as they were not in accordance with law because every one of them sought relief or reliefs which on considering the merits of the darhasts the Court could not have granted. On appeal Held that the darhast in question was in time for the first five darhasts were in accordance with law as each one of them claimed relief granted by and therefore within the decree and the question whether on a consideration of all the facts the Court could in the events that had happened grant the relief was only a question for trial on the merits BANDU KRISHNA v NARA SIMHA (1912) I L R 37 Bom 42

9—Application for time to obtain copies—required by s. 238 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882). In the course of proceedings to execute a decree the decree holder filed an application for time to obtain certified copies of extracts required by s. 238 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882. The second application to execute a decree was filed more than three years after the date of the first application though it was within three years of the date of the application for time. It was sought to bring the second application within time by relying on the application for time as a step in aid of execution. Held that the second application to execute the decree was presented in time for the application for time to obtain certified copies required by s. 238 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 was a step in aid of execution SHESHADASACHARYA v BHIMACHARYA (1912) I L R 37 Bom 317

10—Mortgagor's petition for declaration of insolvency—Opposition by mortgagee judgment creditor—Step in aid of execution—Limitation. An application by mortgagee judgment creditor in execution of his decree opposing the insolvency proceeding of the mortgagor judgment debtor is a step in aid of execution under Art. 179 Sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) and Art. 182 Sch. I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) LAXMINAR LALLUBHAI v BALA SHANKAR VENKIRAN (1914) I L R 39 Bom 20

11—Application, oral for adjournment. An application to take a step in aid of execution under Art. 179 of the Limitation Act need not be in writing. Amar Singh v Tula I L R 3 All 139 and Monellal Jagann v Vasu Radha I L R 15 Bom 405 followed. An application by the decree holder for an adjournment to enable him to produce records or evidence necessary to effectively conduct the execution proceedings further is an application to get an order in aid of execution Shekhadasacharya v Bhimacharya 14 Bom L R 1204 Haridas Vana dhas v Vishaldas Kisanadas I L R 36 Bom 638 Pitam Singh v Tota Singh I L R 29 All 301 and Kunhi v Seshagiri I L R 5 Mad 141 referred to ABDUL KADER ROWTHER v KRISH NAN MALAVAI NAIR (1913) I L R 38 Mad 695

LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—contdSch II Art 179—contd

Sch II Arts 179-180—

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

I L R 36 All 350

See PETITION I L R 40 Calc 903

1—Sch II Art 180—An order in Privy Council affirming a decree of the High Court includes the directions in such decree an application to enforce any such direction is in point of law an application to execute the order to the whole of which Art. 180 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act is applicable KAMTAI DEBI v ACHORE NATH MUKHERJEE (1900) 14 C W N 357

2—“Revival” of decree what is—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) s. 248 notice under—No revival where notice not issued. Where on an application for execution of a decree more than one year old, order for execution was issued without the notice to the judgment debtor required by s. 248 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 such order for execution does not revive the judgment within the meaning of Art. 180 of Sch. II of the Limitation Act of 1877. It is only where such notice has been issued that the judgment or decree is revived. DESSOO VEN KATESA PERUMAL CHETTY v SRIVINASA RANGA ROW (1909) I L R 33 Mad 187

3—Execution of decree—Limitation—Terminus a quo—Order of His Majesty in Council dismissing an appeal for want of prosecution an affirmation of the decree appealed from. An order of His Majesty in the Privy Council dismissing an appeal for whatever cause is in effect an affirmation of the Court below and is the only order in the litigation capable of enforcement. Where therefore an appeal to His Majesty in Council from a decree passed by the High Court for sale on a mortgage was dismissed for want of prosecution, it was held that limitation in respect of an application by the decree holder for an order absolute for sale was governed by Art. 180 of the Second Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1877 time running from the date of the order of His Majesty in Council. Tassaduq Rasul Khan v Kashi Pam I L R 25 All 109 and Oudh Behari Lal v Nagelkar Lal I L R 13 All 278 referred to Dipiro Dass Goswami v Chunder Seekur Bhullacharye 7 W R 621 distinguished. ABDUL MAJID v JAWAHIR LAL (1910) I L R 33 All 154

LIMITATION ACTS XV OF 1877 AND IX OF 1908—Comparative Statement.—

The sections of the 1877 Act correspond to the same sections in the 1908 Act except the following—Section of the 1908 Act. Corresponding section in the 1877 Act

2	3
3	4
4	5 para. I
5	5 para. II & A
6	-
7	8

LIMITATION ACTS (XV OF 1877 AND IX OF 1908)—*concl'dComparative Statement—*cont'd

Section of the 1908 Act	Corresponding section in the 1877 Act
8	7 last clause
21 (1)
21 (2)	21
29 (1) (a)	2 latter part
29 (1) (b)	6
29 (2)	1 (a)
29 (3) 30 31
32

Article in the First Schedule of the 1908 Act	Corresponding Article in the Second Schedule of the 1877 Act
11 (1)	11
11 (2)
11 A	11
33
34	33
35
161	160 A
172	171
174	173 A
176	175 A
177	175 B 175 C
178	176
179	177
181	178
182	179
182 cl (4) in the third column
183	180

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)See HINDU LAW—ADoption

I L R 40 Mad 846

— inapplicability of, to insolvency proceedings—See INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS IN

I L R 89 Mad 74

— Cause of action No thing in the Limitation Act can give rise to a cause of action unless a right to sue exists independently of its provisions BIRHUN SARKAR v A W N WYATT (1911) 16 C W N 540

— s 2—See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) Sch I Art 124 I L R 41 Mad 4— ss 2 and 5—See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 484— s 2 (8) Sch I, Art 144—See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 40 Cal 173

— s 3—See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 28

I L R 35 Bom 344

— Limitation—Amendment of plaint after expiry of limitation—Zamindari property—Incorrect statement of extent of share claimed In a suit for pre-emption under the Muhammadan law of a zamindari share it was found that the necessary conditions of the Muhammadan law had been fulfilled but there being some doubt as to the exact share sold the plaintiff

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont'd— s 3—*cont'd

had specified it in his plaint as 15 biswasas when in fact it amounted to 17 biswasas Held that it was within the competence of the Court to allow the plaintiff to amend his plaint so as to claim the larger share even after the period of limitation for the suit had expired MHAMMAD SADIQ v ABDUL MAJID (1911) I L R 33 All 616

— Question of limitation if may be considered for the first time in appeal The Court can under s 3 take notice of the question of limitation although it has not been taken up in the Courts below NAPASINGHA BANA GOSWAMI v PPOLEADMAN TEORAI (1918) 22 C W N 994

— ss 4 and 14—Filing suit in a wrong Court on the day of its re opening after recess—Expiry of limitation during recess effect of—Meaning of prosecution in s 14—Court in s 4 meaning of According to s 14 of the Limitation Act it is only the period during which a suit is actually prosecuted in a wrong Court that can be excluded in favour of a plaintiff but not the period before the filing of the suit though the Court was then closed for recess So if the period of limitation for the suit expired during the period of recess of the wrong Court wherein the suit was filed on the day of its re opening the suit must be held to be barred. It is only the period of closing of proper Court in which the suit must be instituted that can be taken account of under s 4 Abhaya Churn Chuckerbutty v Gour Mohun Dutt 24 N P 26 followed Per SEAGER J—Although the word Court in s 4 is not qualified by the adjective proper as it is in other parts of the Act it would not be reasonable to take account of the closing and re opening of any other Court in which the suit was rightly instituted Per CHALMERS According to s 3 the concessions awarded by the different sections of the Limitation Act are in dependent and cumulative MIRA MOHIDE ROW THER v NALLAPERUMAL PILLAI (1913) I L R 36 Mad 131

— ss 3 to 25 29 (1) (b)—See LIMITATION I L R 46 Cal 199

— ss 3 7 Sch I Art 142—Minor—Representative—Death of the minor after majority but pending disability—Right of personal representative to sue—Limitation Where a minor acquired a cause of action to sue for possession of property and died within three years after attaining majority his personal representative can although twelve years have expired since the cause of action accrued institute a suit on the same cause of action at any time within the three years period which had already commenced in the life time of deceased In such a suit the deceased must be included in the term plaintiff for the purpose of Art 142 for according to s 3 of the Limitation Act plaintiff includes any person from or through whom the plaintiff derives his right to sue ANJAY PAMJI v RAMABAI (1916) I L R 40 Bom 564

— s 3 Arts 120 132—See LIMITATION I L R 46 Cal 455— s 3 Art 177—See APPEAL, ABATEMENT OF I L R 35 Mad 292

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

s 4—

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Bom 656
I L R 2 Lah 127

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1909) s 192 I L R 58 Mad 295

General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s 10—Pre-emption—Time for payment of pre-emptive price not to be extended beyond period fixed by decree Held that neither s 4 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 nor s 10 of the General Clauses Act 1897 applies to the payment of money payable by the successful plaintiff under a decree for pre-emption HIRDE NARAIN v ALAM SINGH (1918) I L R 41 All 47

ss 4 and 5—

See LIMITATION (43)
I L R 41 Mad 412

ss 4 and 28—

See MORTGAGE DECREE
3 Pat L J 478

ss 4 and 14—Suit for dower—Period of limitation expiring during Christmas holidays—Suit filed in a Subordinate Judge's Court on its Small Cause side on the re-opening day—plaint returned for want of jurisdiction on the Small Cause side—Plaint presented as an Original Suit in the same Court on its regular side—Limitation bar of Where the period limited for the institution of a suit for dower expired on a day when the Court was closed for the Christmas holidays and the suit was instituted on the re-opening day as a Small Cause suit in the Court of a Subordinate Judge on its Small Cause side and on the plaint being returned after some days for want of jurisdiction it was filed on the next day in the same Court as an original suit and the defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation Held that the time during which the suit was pending on the Small Cause side of the Court and which the plaintiff was allowed to deduct under s 14 of the Limitation Act could not be tacked on to the period during which the Court was closed under s 4 of the Act so as to save the bar of limitation UMMATRU v PATHUMMA (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 817

s 4 Arts 74 75 80 and 120—

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Mad 374
I L R 41 Mad 412

s 4 and seq—

not applicable to Letters Patent appeals—

See LIMITATION I L R 2 Lah 127

s 5—

6 Pat L J 625
See APPEAL I L R 1 Lah 508

I L R 42 Calc 433

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
O XXII r 9 I L R 42 All 540

XXI r 1 I L R 43 All 660

See COURT FEES ACT ss 4 & 23
3 Pat L J 74

See LIMITATION L R 44 I A 218
I L R 45 Calc 94

I L R 41 Mad 412

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*s 5—contd

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907) s 22 36 and 52

I L E 35 All 410

See SECOND APPEAL I L R s Lah 1

1 ——— Miscalculation of time by pleader—Appeal rejected—Discretion exercise of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 2—Decree meaning of A bona fide mistake committed by a pleader in calculating the period of limitation may constitute a sufficient cause within the meaning of s 5 of the Limitation Act Whether the miscalculation does constitute a sufficient cause in any particular case must be decided by the Court having regard to all the facts and circumstances of that case Where the Appellate Court refused to admit an appeal presented out of time because according to its view of the authorities a miscalculation by a pleader of the period of limitation was not a sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal in time within the meaning of s 5 of the Limitation Act Held that the decision could be reviewed on appeal as there was no exercise of discretion by the Court It is neither necessary nor desirable that any attempt should be made to find precisely and exhaustively the meaning of the expression sufficient cause which should receive a liberal construction so as to advance substantial justice when no negligence nor inaction nor want of bona fides is imputable to the appellant RAGHAI CHANDRA GHOSH v ASHUTOSH GHOSH (1913)

17 C W N 807

2 ——— Provisional admission to file in the absence of respondent—Preliminary objection taken by the respondent at the hearing—Entertainment of the question—Appeal dismissed with all costs—Second appeal A time barred appeal having been provisionally admitted to the file in the absence of the respondent and at the hearing the respondent having taken a preliminary objection that the appeal was presented beyond time the Court allowed the objection and dismissed the appeal with all costs on the appellant On further appeal by the appellant Held that there being no sufficient cause as a matter of law for extending the time under s 5 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) there was no objection to the question being entertained after the provisional admission of the appeal to the file in the absence of the respondent Held further that the appeal against the order dismissing the appeal was a second appeal and not a first appeal because it was an appeal against the decree of an Appellate Court RAJJI v KRISHNAIAH (1914)

I L R 38 Bom. 813

3 ——— Application for substitution of names filed beyond time—Procedure s 5 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 does not apply to an application made under O XXII r 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure Where therefore, such an application is made after time the suit or appeal must be declared to have abated and the remedy for the plaintiff or appellant is to proceed by application under O XXII r 9 SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v JAWAHAR LAL (1914)

I L R 36 All 235

4. ——— Death of party pending judgment—Legal representative not brought on record—Minority of one of the appellants—Verdiction of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

section of a decree the section does not apply to such an application MIDNAPUR ZIMINDARY CO v THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF MANBUH

3 Pat L J 132

— ss 5-18—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 148 and 115 4 Pat L J 428

— s 5 and Art 156—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (1885) ss 105 and 107 5 Pat L J 472

— s 6—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) s 330 I L R 37 Mad 186

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 48 I L R 37 All 638

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT s 6 CL (c) 15 C W N 845

— Purchaser from minor if gets rights of minor. The view that the plaintiff having purchased the property from a minor has got by the assignment the rights of a person under disability under s 6 of the Indian Limitation Act cannot be supported after the decision of the Full Bench in the case of Putra Canka v Nobokissore I L R 9 Cal 663 BRAOABAY CHANDRA KAIRANTA DAS v ISHAN CHANDRA KAIRANTA DAS (1918) 22 C W N 831

— ss 6 7—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXIV RF 4 5 AND 10

I L R 41 All 473

— ss 6 7 9 15—

See ALIEN ENEMY I L R 46 Cal 526

— ss 6, 8 9—Disqualification saving limitation—Management of estate by Court of Wards if saves limitation Under the Limitation Act 1908 no other cause of disqualification than those mentioned in the Act can be admitted to save limitation and the only disqualifications that ss 6 8 and 9 of the Act recognise are minority in sanity and idiosyncrasy and the suit as regards the properties comprised in the lobals of 1890 was barred by limitation under Arts 91 and 142 of the Act. The fact that the plaintiff was a disqualified proprietor who estate was under the charge of the Court of Wards did not prevent the running of time against her during the period the Court remained in charge HUARMONY SINGHA v WASIR ALI MEERZA (1916) 19 C W N 1113

— s 6 10—Receipt of interest by a mortgagee from a trustee knowing mortgage to be in breach of trust—Suit by beneficiary for such interest against mortgagee—Applicability of s 10 to such suit—Cause of action for beneficiary to recover such interest—No new cause of action on beneficiary attaining majority Interest received by a mortgagee from a trustee in respect of a mortgage executed by the latter in breach of trust to the knowledge of the mortgagee is not property vested in the mortgagee in trust for any specific purpose within s 10 of the Limitation Act. If on the date of payment of interest the beneficiary be a minor his cause of action to recover the same arises from such date and if he sues for the recovery of such interest after attaining majority he is bound to sue within the time limited by s 6 of the Act and he does not get a fresh cause of action on attaining majority RAJA OF RAJNAD v PONNUSAMI TEVAR (1921) I L R 44 Mad 277

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

— ss 6 14, 15 and 19—Assignee of a debt due to a minor—Suit by assignee—Limitation for such suit whether saved in right of minor assignor—Attachment of debt prior to sale—Time till sale whether can be deducted in computation—Causes of action for attachment and suit whether same—Acknowledgment in a deposition—Denial of a subsisting debt—Sufficiency of acknowledgment Where a decree holder having attached in 1913 a book debt due in 1911 to a minor judgment debtor sold it in auction and purchased it himself in February 1915 sued in March 1915 to recover it from the defendant who pleaded the bar of limitation Held (i) that the assignee of a debt due to a minor could not avail himself of the privilege of the extension of limitation given by s 6 of the Limitation Act Rudra Kant Surma Sarkar v Nabo Kishore Surma Biswas I L R 9 Cal 663 followed (ii) that s 15 of the Act did not operate to save limitation during the time the attachment was in force Shid Singh v Sila Pam I L R 13 All 76 followed and Beti Maharan v The Collector of Fatawa I L R 27 All 298 referred to (iii) that s 14 of the same Act was also inapplicable as the attachment proceedings were not based on the same cause of action as the suit to recover the debt (iv) that on its appearing that the defendant stated in a deposition that there was once a debt but that he had discharged it the statement did not amount to an acknowledgment within s 19 explanation I of the Act Bollaparagada Ramamurthy v Tammana Gopayya 31 M L J 231 followed and (v) that the suit was consequently barred by limitation RAJASANI CHETTI v THANGAVELU CHETTI (1919)

I L R 42 Mad 637

— s 6 and Art 120—Suit for declaration by after born sons One H B sold his occupancy rights on 27th August 1900 On 6th May 1918 his four sons instituted the present suit for a declaration that the sale should not affect their reversionary rights The four plaintiffs were born in 1891 1904 1909 and 1911 respectively As regards the eldest son L D he being over 21 years of age when the suit was lodged it was admitted that the suit was barred by limitation The other three sons who were born after the alienation were minors at the time when the suit was instituted and it was claimed that so far as they were concerned the suit was in time having regard to the provisions of s 6 of the Limitation Act inasmuch as two of them were born before their eldest brother had attained the age of 18 and the period of limitation only began to run from that date Held that the three minor plaintiffs not having been in existence at the time when the right to sue accrued could not take advantage of the provisions of s 6 of the Limitation Act and that the suit was consequently barred by limitation Ramkishore v Jaynarayan I L R 40 Cal 966 979 (P C) distinguished LACHMAN DAS v SUNDAR DAS I L R 2 Lah 538

— s 6 and Art 125—Widow's alienation—Right of several reversioners independent—Not questioned by deceased father's twelve years—

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Right of minor son to question after twelve years but within three years of attaining majority For the purpose of questioning an alienation made by a Hindu female possessing a limited estate one reversioner does not claim through another and consequently laches on the part of a father who died without instituting a suit within twelve years from the date of the alienation does not disentitle his son from filing a suit for the purpose even after twelve years after the alienation if he was a minor at the time and files the suit within three years of attaining majority S 6 and Art 125 of Limitation Act considered Govinda Pillai v Thayammal I L R 28 Mad 57 Bhagwanta v Sukhi I L R 22 All 33 Abinash Chandra Majumdar v Hari Nath Saha I C W N 25 Sakyahani Ingle Rao Sahib v Bhowani Bai Sahib I L R 27 Mad 588 and Chinna Veerayya v Lakshminarasimha 92 Mad L J 375 followed Mullapudi Batnam v Mullapudi Ramayya I L R 25 Mad 731 and Chhaganram Ashkram v Bai Motigaeri I L R 14 Bom 512 not followed Chirudolu Punnamma v Chirudolu Perayya I L R 29 Mad 390 referred to Krishnav Lakshminammal 18 Mad L J 275 distinguished VEERAYYA v GANGAMMA (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 570

ss 7 and Art 144—Mortgage—Mahomedan family—Sale by one co her—Suit for redemption by other heirs—One of the plaintiffs a minor—Suit not barred M a Mahomedan mortgaged the property in suit to J in 1895. M died in 1901 and his widow sold the equity of redemption to J who obtained possession of the property under the sale. In 1914 M's son G and daughters S and K sued for redemption of the mortgage of 1895 and for possession. Of these plaintiffs G and A had attained majority three years before suit while plaintiff S attained majority in July 1913. The lower Court held the suit barred as regards plaintiffs G and A under Art 144 read with s 6 of the Limitation Act on the ground that the possession of J became adverse in 1901. Held that the suit having been brought within three years of the date when the youngest plaintiff S attained majority was not barred by limitation under s 7 of the Limitation Act because the right to redeem was indivisible and neither of the plaintiffs M and A was qualified to discharge or release the equity of redemption GULAM GOVS v SHIRIRAM PANDURANG (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 487

s 6 Art 164—Application to set aside ex parte decree made after coming into force of Act governed by Art 164—S 7 of old Act XV of 1871 does not apply—S 6 of General Clauses Act (X of 1897) does not make the new Act inapplicable A decree was passed ex parte against A a minor on the 4th September 1894. A became a major on 16th January 1909 and applied on 20th January 1909 to set aside the decree. Held that the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which came into force on 1st January 1909 applied and the application was barred under Art 164 of the Act. Under s 6 of the Act the plea of minority was available only in the case of suits and applications for execution. S 6 of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897) had not the effect of making the new

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Act inapplicable Kali Amma v Palappakkara Manakal 20 Mad L J 347 followed CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY v KARUPPAN CHETTY (1912)

I L R 35 Mad 678

s 6 and Art 168—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 151 AND O XII I L R 45 Bom 648

ss 6 and 1 Arts 182 183—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908 s 144 I L R 41 Bom 625

ss 6 7 and 15—

See ALIEY FERNY I L R 46 Cal 526

s 7—

1—Minor decree holders—Applications for execution by guardian—Attainment of majority by one decree holder—Application by guardian takes effect in favour of all—Right of the major decree holder to give discharge to the judgment debtor in respect of the judgment debt Two minor sisters who were born in the years 1881 and 1887 obtained a decree against the defendants in May 1900. The minor decree holders were represented by a guardian appointed by the Court. The said decree was confirmed by the High Court in appeal in March 1901. Subsequently the guardian presented applications for the execution of the decree in 1904 1905 and 1906 and while the last application was pending the guardian died. Thereupon the decree holders presented an application for execution as majors in 1908. The defendants contended that as the elder decree holder had attained majority the application by the guardian was as to her unauthorized and the execution of the decrees was barred against her. It was further contended that as the elder decree holder could from the time of her attaining majority make an application and give a good discharge to the judgment debtor for the decretal debt without the concurrence of the minor time had, therefore run against both under s 8 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1871) or s 7 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Held that by reason of the first explanation of Art 179 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1871) an application made by a representative of one of joint decree holders takes effect in favour of all. Therefore though the elder decree holder had attained majority the applications made by the guardian as the next friend of the minor decree holder took effect in favour of both. Held further that the contention under s 8 of the Limitation Act of 1871 or s 7 of the Limitation Act of 1908 was inconsistent with the decisions in Govindram v Toha I L R 20 Bom 383 and Zamir Havan v Sundar I L R 92 All 199 the applicability of which had not ceased owing to any change in the words of s 6 of the Limitation Act of 1908. MACHANDRAN PANCHAYD v KESARI (1910)

I L R 24 Bom. 672

2—Receiver—If can give discharge of debt—Minor owner A receiver upon whom the Court had conferred all the powers of realisation that an owner has can himself give a discharge in respect of a debt. He is not fettered by the restrictions which are laid upon any one of several joint creditors or upon a next friend. Where a decree on a bond was passed on 5th August 1904 in favour of the plaintiffs some of whom were minors the suit having been filed on 21st June 1904 through their manager and ammu tear who was appointed Receiver by the District Judge on 15th September 1905 in a suit between the plaintiffs and was put in charge of the whole business of the plaintiffs with all its pending and impending litigation and a Receiver was in charge from that time onwards and no steps were taken in execution of the decree until 11th May 1910 when one of the minors applied for execution alleging that he had attained majority on 5th June 1907 Held that the application for execution was barred by limitation That the decretal debt vested in the Receiver when he was appointed on 15th September 1905 and from that date on wards he was competent to give a discharge when once the debt had vested in him the minority of one or more of the decree holders ceased to have any importance for the rights of the minor no less than the rights of the majors were all absorbed by the Receiver Jagat Tarini Dass v Aoba Gopal Chaki 1 L R 34 Cal 305 referred to GIRJA NANDAN SINGH v KANHAYA PRASAD SARU (1913) 18 C W N 138

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

3 ————— Suit to recover arrears of Deshpandegiri cash allowance—Three years arrears can be recovered The plaintiffs one of whom was a minor being jointly entitled to a Deshpandegiri cash allowance sued to recover arrears for six years prior to the suit Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the arrears for three years only for the minority of the second plaintiff could not help the plaintiffs inasmuch as the adult plaintiff was in a position to give a discharge on behalf of himself as well as the minor (Anpat v Sheshgiri 6 Bom L R 667 distinguished HUCEPAO TIMMAJI v BHIDIRAO GURURAO (1917) 1 L R 42 Bom 277

4 ————— Death of decree holder—Persons entitled to execute decree being the decree holder's two sons one of age the other not—Application for substitution and death of elder son A decree absolute for sale on a mortgage was obtained on the 19th of December 1906 The decree holder applied for execution on the 23rd of September 1909 but during the pendency of these proceedings he died leaving two sons—J of full age and R a minor On the 29th of September 1910 application for substitution was made by J and R J purporting to act as next friend to his brother and asking the Court to appoint him as such Before the date fixed for hearing however J died and the application was dismissed on the date fixed no one appearing on behalf of the decree holder On the 16th of July 1917 R who had attained majority earlier in the same year applied for execution praying that his application might be regarded as a continuation of the original application of 1909 Held that this application was time barred It could not be regarded as a continuation of the application of 1909 and inasmuch as J could as head of the joint family consisting of himself and R have given valid discharge on behalf of R as well as himself R could not claim the benefit of s 7 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 RATY RAY v NIADAR (1919) 1 L R 41 All 435

5 ————— Joint Hindu family—Eldest brother competent to give a valid discharge as manager of the family—Suit by minor brothers barred In 1915 three brothers members of a joint Hindu family sued to recover possession of property after setting aside a sale deed passed by their mother during their minority on the 28th July 1905 Plaintiffs Nos 1 and 2 were minors and plaintiff No 3 was more than twenty one years of age at the date of the suit The suit was held barred as against plaintiff No 3 but a question having arisen whether it was barred as against plaintiffs Nos 1 and 2 under s 7 of the Limitation Act 1908 Held that it was barred as against plaintiffs Nos 1 and 2 also inasmuch as plaintiff No 3 on his attaining majority became the manager of the joint family and as such could give a valid discharge and acquittance of all claims against the defendants without the concurrence of the minor plaintiffs Per FAWCETT J—The main object of the Legislature in s 7 (of the Indian Limitation Act IX of 1908) is to limit the indulgence which is otherwise given to minors so that if there are several minors who can claim the benefit of s 6 that concession does not extend to cover the whole period of time up to the youngest of the minors becoming a major but can only be availed of by the eldest of them Dorassami Serumadan v Nondasami Salutan (1912) 38 Mad 118 followed BAFU TATYA v BALA RAJU (1920) 1 L R 45 Bom 446

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

————— s 7 Sch I Art 44—Joint Hindu family consisting of minors and widows—Manager—Mukhtarnama executed by manager—Management by the mukhtar during the life time and after the death of the manager—Sale by the mukhtar after the death of the manager—Binding effect—Minor—Limitation to set aside s 6 K the manager of a joint Hindu family consisting of minors and widows executed a mukhtarnama providing for the management of the family estate including settlement of money debts and pecuniary claims both during his life time and after his death until his eldest minor son attained majority The mukhtar was empowered to manage the estate as he thought fit including the power of sale and settle claims as K himself could have done during his life time In connection with the registration of the mukhtarnama the Sub Registrar examined the widows in the family including the widow of K the manager who had died in the meanwhile and the deed was registered as the widows admitted the same Subsequently the mukhtar sold mulgani (leasehold) rights of the family in certain lands for valuable consideration K's eldest son having attained majority on the 10th December 1894 he with his minor brother brought a suit on the 17th May 1899 to recover possession of the property alleging that the sale of the mulgani (leasehold) rights was void ab initio The lower Courts having dismissed the suit on second appeal by the plaintiffs Held that (i) the sale by the mukhtar was binding on plaintiffs as having been within the authority conferred by the mukhtarnama (ii) The sale could not be treated as a nullity inasmuch as a dying adult Hindu might appoint a manager and trustee for the minors themselves without interfering with the succession to the property Raj Lukhee Dabee v Gokool Chander Chowdhury 13 Moo I A 209 and Soobah Doorgah Lal Jha v Rajah Neelkund Singh 7 W P 74 referred to (iii) The right of plaintiff I if any to challenge the sale was barred at the date of the suit under Art 44 Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) by reason of his failure to sue within three years of his attaining majority (iv) Plaintiff 2 a minor was also barred under s 7 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) inasmuch as plaintiff 1 after attaining majority could have bound the minor plaintiff if he had chosen to give a discharge and acquittance of all claims to the defendants in respect of mufgana (leasehold) interests as manager MAHARISHYAR KRISHNA PPA v RAMCHANDRA MANGESH (1913)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

I L R 38 Bom 94

— s 7 and Art 44—Sale by a Hindu mother as guardian of her only son—Second son in the womb at the time of sale—Subsequent sale by both the sons to another—First purchaser disposed by the latter—Suit in ejectment—Limitation The plaintiff claimed under a sale deed executed by a Hindu widow as guardian of her only son at a time when she had another son in the womb The plaintiff was afterwards forcibly ejected by the appellant who had obtained a later sale deed from the elder son who executed it both on behalf of himself and his minor brother The plaintiff sued in ejectment more than three years after the first sons attaining majority but within three years of the attainment of majority by the second Held that no suit having been brought by the first son within the period prescribed by Art 44 of the Limitation Act to set aside the sale the plaintiff's right to the share of the first son became absolute and that as the mother did not execute the sale deed as guardian of the second son his share in the suit land did not pass to the plaintiff Held also that as the causes of action for the two sons were different s 7 of the Limitation Act had no application to the facts of the case Doraisami Serumadan v Vondisami Salusan I L R 33 Mad 118 distinguished Kandasami v Irusappa (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 102

— ss 8 and 9—

See s 6 19 C W N 1113

— s 9—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 48
I L R 3^d Bom 498See LIMITATION ACT 1877 s 19 ART
148 I L R 35 All 227

The 12 years prescribed by s 48 of the Civil Procedure Code must be computed from the day on which it begins to run and is not suspended during minority succeeding to Father who died after decree passed Bhagwant RANCHANDRA v RAJI MAHOMED ABBAS

I L R 36 Bom 493

— ss 9 15—

See ALIEN ENEMY
I L R 40 Cal 526

— s 10

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF
1908) ss 92 AND 93
I L R 33 Mad 1064See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION
2 Pat L J 587See HINDU LAW—WILL
I L R 39 Mad 365See MAHOMEDA'S
I L R 36 Bom 214See TRUSTS PROPERTY
24 C W N 52

See WAKF I L R 37 Bom 447

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Whether applicable to suits in respect of property which has not been received by a trustee The insertion in s 10 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 of the words or the proceeds thereof or for an account of such property or proceeds has not had the effect of exempting from the ordinary rules of limitation suits against trustees for failure to reduce the trust property into possession New Fleming Spinning and Weaving Company Limited v Kessouji Dail I L R 9 Bom 373 399 followed THOLASINGAM CHETTI v VEDACHILLA AYYAR (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 319

— Straits

Settlements Ordinance No 6 of 1896 s 10— Specific purpose meaning of A specific purpose within the meaning of s 10 of the (Limitation) Ordinance No 6 of 1896 of the Straits Settlements (which in term corresponds to s 10 of the Indian Limitation Act) must be a purpose that is either actually or specifically defined in the terms of the Will or settlement or a purpose which from the specified terms can be certainly affirmed The statement in Baluani Rao v Puran Mal I L R 6 All that the purpose of following the property in the hands of the trustees referred to at the end of the section must be the purpose of restoring it to the trust which is specified in the earlier part of the section provides a sound and critical test by which to consider whether or not any particular trust is within the provision of the section KHAN SIDI TEK v GHUAK HOOI G'OH NEOH (P C)

26 C W N 405.

— ss 10 and 20—

1 — Suits against Karia—S 10 does not apply to suits against a Karia That section requires that the property must be vested in the trustees for a specific purpose but it cannot be said that a Karia is vested with the property belonging to a joint family The 6 year limitation under Art 120 applies to such suits BISWAMBAR HALDAR v GIRIBALA DAS

25 C W N 355

2 — Trustees de son tort — Suit for account A trustee de son tort stands in the same position as an express trustee The claim for accounts 6 years prior to the institution of the suit would be saved by Art 120 the obligation of the trustee being continuous Under the 1908 Article there is no limit to a suit for accounts against a trustee DEANPAT SINGH v MOHESH NATH TEWARI

22 C W N 752

— s 10 Sch I Arts 14 120—Deposit — Order of the Collector refusing payme & vested in trust—Specific purpose—No bar of time for recovery In 1835 C an ancestor of the plaintiffs had his immovable property sold to satisfy his debt by the then Maharaja of Satara Out of the sale proceeds the debt was paid off and the balance of Rs 1 93 05 was credited in the Government Treasury in the name of C Subsequently when the Satara principality ceased in the year 1843 the said amount came to be credited in C's name in the British Treasury In 1890 C's descendants applied to the British Government for a refund of the amount when it was ordered that the amount be refunded after production of heirship certificate by the applicants and the order was communicated to the then applicants. Subsequently for a number of years there were litigations in Civil Court between C's descendants and the purchasers of C's property as regards the validity of sale. Ultimately in 1906 if the father of the plaintiffs made an application to the District Court for a certificate of heirship and an order for the issue of a certificate was passed on the 23rd March 1907. If then made an application on 16th October 1907 to the Collector of Satara requesting for a refund of the amount of Rs 1793 0 5 standing credited in C's name. This application was decided against the plaintiff by the Collector on 6th March 1911. The plaintiffs then appealed to the Commissioner and the appeal was rejected on 17th July 1911. A further appeal to the Government met with a similar fate. Plaintiff therefore on 15th June 1912 filed a suit against the defendant as trustee for the recovery of the amount alleging that the cause of action arose on 17th July 1911 the date when the Commissioner's order was received by the plaintiffs. The defendant contended that the cause of action arose on 6th March 1911 when the Collector rejected the plaintiff's application and the suit was barred under Arts 14 and 120 of Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). The Lower Court being of opinion that the money was at most held by the defendant on an implied trust held that s 10 of the Limitation Act did not apply to the case and that the plaintiff's claim could only be decreed on the ground that it was within time under Art 120 of the Limitation Act. The defendant having appealed to the High Court held that the money being vested in the Government when it took over the Satara Treasury in 1848 and the purpose of the credit in the name of C being specific s 10 of the Limitation Act did apply. Held further that the plaintiffs were entitled to succeed on the ground not only that their claim did not fall within Art 14 and would be within time if it fell within Art 120 but that it was one to which the bar of limitation could not be pleaded. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. BAPUJI MAHADEO (1915) I L R 39 Bom 572

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

ss 10 30 Sch I Art 134—

See LIMITATION I L R 43 Cal 34

s 10 Sch I Art 120—

See ADMINISTRATOR 8 Pat L J 642

s 10 Sch I Arts 124 134 and 144—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS
3 Pat L J 327

s 12—

See s 5 20 C W N 1303

See ARBITRATION
I L R 46 Cal 721

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
I L R 39 Cal 766

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1909)
s 122 I L R 40 All 1

See DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR
I L R 39 Mad 1031

See LEAVE TO APPEAL
I L R 42 Cal 35

See LIMITATION (67) 22 C W N 553

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT s 496

I L R 44 All 46

I L R 39 Mad 593

See PATNA HIGH COURT RULES OF 1916

5 Pat L J 701

1 ———— Time requisite for obtaining copy—Application for copy made on date the Court closed for annual vacation—Notice posted during the vacation—Copy received after vacation. Where an application for copies of a judgment and decree was made on the day when the Court rose for its annual vacation it was held that the applicant was entitled to the benefit of the whole period of the vacation notwithstanding that the copying department was kept open for some days and a notice posted during the vacation that the applicants' copies were ready. HABIB CHAND v. HARMUKH (1911) I L R 34 All 41

2 ———— Application for leave to appeal to Privy Council—Time taken for obtaining copy of decree if may be excluded—Indian Statute permitting exclusion of ultra vires—Order in Council of 1858—Government of India Act of 1858 s 64—Letters Patent cl 39 41—Privy Council Appeals Act (VI of 1874). An application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council is not time barred if excluding the time taken for obtaining a copy of the decree appealed from it is found to have been made within 6 months. 8 12 of the Limitation Act of 1903 is within the legislative powers of the Government of India in permitting such exclusion. ABDULLAH HUSAIN CHODHURY v. ANANDA CHANDRA PAT (1914)

18 C W N 1068

3 ———— High Court judgment—Application for review—Limitation if runs from before the signing of decree. In computing the period of limitation for an application for review of a judgment of the High Court the party applying for review is entitled to have excluded under s 12 of the Limitation Act the time requisite for taking a copy of the decree and the period of limitation cannot in such a case commence to run until at all events the day the decree was signed by the Judges. GANGADHAR KARMAKAR v. SEKHAR BASINJI DASTA (1916) 20 C W N 967

4 ———— Appeal limitation for presenting—Copies of judgment and decree applied for at different times—Both periods if to be excluded—Rule when periods overlap. Under s 12 cl (2) and (3) of the Limitation Act the appellant is entitled to a deduction of the time requisite as well for obtaining a copy of the decree as for obtaining a copy of the judgment and if he has applied for copies of the judgment and decree at different times both these periods should be excluded in computing the periods of limitation allowed for presenting the appeal unless the two periods overlap partially or entirely in which case the appellant is not entitled to have a deduction of the same time twice over. PAJANI KANTA KAPALI v. KALI MOHAN DAS KAPALI (1916)

21 C W N 217

5 ———— Appellant filing a copy of decree appealed from obtained by another party—Deduction of time taken to get the copy. An appellant who is required to file with his memorandum of appeal a copy of the decree appealed from may file a copy obtained by another party and under s 12 (2) of the Limitation Act he is entitled to a deduction of time taken to obtain that copy Ram Kishan Shastari v Kashi Bai (1907) 1 L R 29 All 264 followed. Ramamurthi Ayyar v Subramania Ayyar (1902) 12 M L J 355 dissented from AMIN UD DIN SAHIB v PIRAI BI (19 0) 1 L R 43 Mad 633

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

■ Christmas holidays—Deduction of in computing time for appeal The defendant against whom a judgment and decree were passed on 21st December 1919 s e on the first day of the Christmas vacation applied for copies of the same on the 7th January 1920 s e some days after the reopening Held that in computing the time for appeal the defendant was not entitled to deduct the period of the Christmas vacation as time requisite for obtaining copies within section 12 of the Limitation Act SUBRAHMANYA v NARASIMHAM (1920)

1 L R 43 Mad 640

7 Limitation—Exclusion of time necessary for obtaining essential copies—Application for copies made after period of limitation had expired In order to obtain the benefit of s 12 of the Indian Limitation Act an appellant must apply once and for all for copies of all essential documents before the period of limitation for appeal has run out He cannot seek in aid the extended period if he finds later that an essential document has been omitted MULRAY v NIADAR MAL 1 L R 42 All 260

8 The time requisite for attaining a copy of the decrees within the meaning of this section does not begin until the actual application for a copy has been made JYOTINDRANATH SARKAR v THE LODHA COLLIERY Co LTD 6 Pat L J 350

9 Appeal—Exclusion of time between delivery of judgment and signing of decree—Delay in filing folios—Practice. Under s 12 of the Limitation Act 1908 an appellant is entitled to deduct the time between the delivery of judgment and the signing of the decree in computing the period of limitation prescribed for an appeal An applicant for a certified copy should deposit the required number of folios not later than the first day on which the office of the Court is open after that on which the number of folios was notified to him and in calculating the time required for obtaining a copy the applicant is not entitled to deduct the days during which the preparation of the copy was delayed by his own neglect to furnish folios. RAM ASRAY SINGH v SHEO NARAYAN SINGH 1 Pat L J 573

■ 12 29—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1901) s 46 (4)

1 L R 33 All 38
1 L P 34 All 496

s 12 Sch I Art 19—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 10
Sch I Art 19

1 L R 39 Cal 510

Limitation—Application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council—Exclusion of time requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree Held that s 12 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 applies to applications for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council The appellant is therefore entitled to exclude the day upon which the judgment complained of was pronounced and the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the decree from the period of limitation prescribed PAM SABUP v JASWANT RAI (1915)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

1 L R 38 All 82

■ 13—Dissolution of partnership—Partnership business carried on out side British India—Absence of defendant out of British India—Suit for dissolution in British Indian Court—Exclusion of time—Cause of action—Jurisdiction of Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 20 A partnership consisting of plaintiff defendant No 1 and one S carried on business at Delagoa in South Africa and was managed by defendant No 1 who lived there In June 1902 defendant No 1 returned to British India in July 1903 and was there till November 1910 when he returned to Delagoa Thereafter in October 1915 he came back and settled in British India In April 1916 the plaintiff sued in a British Indian Court for dissolution of partnership The question of limitation arising—Held that the suit was in time for the periods during which defendant No 1 was absent from British India should be excluded from the period of limitation under section 13 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 Atul Krishna Bose v Lvon & Co (1887) 14 Cal 437 followed Where the parties to a suit reside within the jurisdiction of a British Indian Court one of them can sue the other for dissolution of partnership in that Court even although that partnership commenced and was carried on in foreign territory ISMAIL v ISMAIL ABDEL 1 L R 45 Bom 1228

■ ss 13 19 and 20—Loan to a partner—One of the partners absent from British India—Suit for loan more than three years after loan but within three years after return of partner whether barred and against whom—Release by some partners of a partnership debt whether binding on legal representative of a deceased partner—Entries in debtor's accounts whether payment of interest or acknowledgment The plaintiff's father was a partner along with the third the sixth and eighth defendants of a firm at E which advanced certain loans in 1903 and 1904 to a firm at S of which the first defendant and the former defendants were partners The first defendant was out of British India from 1903 to 1908 The plaintiff sued in 1909 to recover his share of the loans from the partners of the firm at S The defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation the plaintiff relied in bar of limitation on s 13 of the Limitation Act and also on certain unsworn entries in defendants' account books in which the interest accruing due were added to principal from time to time the first defendant further pleaded a release by defendants Nos 3 6 and 8 of the claim against him as binding on the plaintiffs Held that the suit was not barred by limitation against the first defendant as the plaintiff was entitled to a deduction of the time during which the first defendant was out of British India but was barred against the other defendants under s 13 of the Limitation Act that the entries in the debtor's accounts could not be treated as payments of interest under s 20 of the Limitation Act or as acknowledgments under s 19 of the Act as they were not signed by the debtors Held also that a partner can release a partnership claim, and after the death of a partner the surviving partners have a right to release such a claim that if a release by any of the partners is fraudulent the other partners can avoid it and seek to recover their share of the released debt but the legal representative of a deceased partner is not entitled to avoid it as the right to do so is personal to the partners. Held (on the facts) that the release of the first defendant by the third sixth and eighth defendants was bona fide and binding on the plaintiff. PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR v VERAAPPA CHETTIAR (1917) I L R 41 Mad 446

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*ss 13 19 and 20—contd

s 14—

See s 4 I L R 44 Mad 817

See s 5 I L R 42 Bom 295

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47
I L R 44 Bom 97

See INSOLVENCY I L R 39 Mad 74

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Calc 94

See LIMITATION (54)
I L R 46 Calc 870See LIMITATION (72)
I L R 47 Calc 300See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) Sec I ARTS 02 120 I L R 39 Mad 62See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 77
24 O W N 4 & 29See RENT SUIT (PREMATURE)
I L R 46 Calc 870

1 ——— *Plaint filed on last day ordered to be returned for presentation in another Court on a later date—Plaint actually returned later—Interval between bars suit* Where a plaintiff which was filed in a wrong Court on the last day of limitation was subsequently ordered to be returned for presentation to the proper Court but was not actually returned till three days later and was filed in the proper Court the day following Held that the suit was not barred by limitation. Where the final order is promulgated on a later date than that on which it was signed the date of promulgation should be held to be the day on which the proceedings ended within the meaning of expl 1 of s 14 of the Limitation Act. Abhoya Charan Chakrabarti v Gour Mohun Dutt 24 W R 28 distinguished MOHAR DRA PRASAD SINGH v NANDA PRASAD SINGH (1913) 17 C W N 1043

2 ——— Withdrawal of suit—Fresh suit filing of whether saved by S 14 of the (Indian) Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies only to cases where a Court itself decides that it is unable to entertain a suit for want of jurisdiction or other cause of a like nature and has no application to a case where the plaintiff himself with draws his suit on discovery of some technical defect which would involve a failure Venajal v Shomeswar I L R 29 Bom 219 and Uppendurath Nag Choudhury v Suryakanta Pay Choudhury 20 I C 205 followed. ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v LAKSHMANA AYYAR (1915) I L R 39 Mad 936

3 ——— *Exclusion of time from period of limitation—Time taken up in proceedings bona fide before a Court—Proceedings before Collector under s 11A of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act (Bombay Act III of 1874)—Time cannot* be excluded The time taken up in prosecuting an application before the Collector under s 11A of the Bombay Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1874) cannot be excluded from the period of limitation under s 14 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. LAXMAN GANESH v KESHAV GOVIND (1916) I L R 43 Bom 201

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*s 14—contd

4 ——— Plaint—Return of plaint—Proceedings do not end until the party gets back his plaint—Suit filed on the opening date after vacation—Presentation of plaint into another Court—Exclusion of time—Calculation should be made as if the second Court had been closed for vacation When a party is ordered to take back his plaint and present it in the proper Court the proceedings do not end until the party gets back his plaint within the meaning of Expl 1 to s 14 of the Limitation Act 1908. The plaintiff sued to recover a sum due on account of dealings with the defendant between 20th May 1913 and 3rd June 1913. The suit was filed in the Haveli Court on the 7th June 1916 the date the Court re opened after the vacation and was then in time. On defendant's pleading that he was an agriculturist the plaint was ordered on the 15th January 1917 to be returned for presentation to the proper Court. The plaintiff took away the plaint on the 20th January 1917 and presented it on the same day in the Haveli Court. It was contended that even if the period from 7th June 1916 to 20th January 1917 was excluded the suit filed in the Haveli Court would still be four days out of time as the period which was allowed to be excluded owing to the Haveli Court being closed for the vacation when the plaint was filed in that Court could no longer be taken advantage of after the order had been made to take back the plaint and file it in another Court. Held that the suit in the Haveli Court was in time as the plaintiff was entitled to take advantage of those days during which the Haveli Court was closed for the vacation and the calculation should be made in the same way as if the second Court had been closed for the vacation. Mira Mohidin Rauter v Vallaperumal Pillai (1911) 46 Mad 131 not followed. BAVADAPPA v KRISHNADAS (1920) I L R 45 Bom 413

5 ——— Applicability of when the parties in the two proceedings are not the same—Arts 6 and 97 which applies where an execution purchaser of a putni paid rent to the zemindar after the setting aside of the sale by the first Court and during the pendency of the first appeal—Existing consideration meaning of Plaintiff purchased a putni at a sale held under Peg VIII of 1819 in May 1903. In October 1910 the purchaser paid rent to the zemindar after the sale was set aside by the Court of first instance in May 1910 and during the pendency of an appeal by the zemindar which was ultimately dismissed. There were certain proceedings for assessment of mesne profits between the purchaser and the original putniholder on the basis of the decree for cancellation of the sale. Thereafter the said purchaser in February 1916 sued for recovery of the money paid as rent to the zemindar. Held that the suit was barred. In view of the provisions of s 14 of the Limitation Act the Plaintiff was not entitled to a deduction of the time during which the mesne profits proceedings were going on as the zemindar was not a party therein nor was there

LIMITATION, ACT (IX OF 1908)—could

■ 14—cold

since October 1910 any period of time when the right of the Plaintiff to sue was suspended by reason of events over which he had no control.
 That Art 6 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. The fact that there was failure of consideration at the time the payment was made in October 1910 attracted the operation of the bar imposed by Art. 6. Art. 97 did not apply because at the time when the money was paid there was no accounting.
 Consideration JANAKI NATH SINGH & BEJOT
 CHAND MAHATRA 26 C W 4 271

not constitute Other causes of a like nature within the meaning of s 14 of the Limitation Act 1908 BRAJA CHALUKY v. TARA CHAND MARYAM 6 Pat L J 593

s. 14 and 15—

See s 6 I L P 42 Md 637

14 and 29--

SELECTION I L P 47 Calc 300

15-

See 3 Pat L J 132
CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1905) s 43
I L P 40 All 198

SE LIMITATION (2nd)

1 L R 38 Ind 92

S I I STRATIO ACT 18 CH II
Apr 18 I L P 24 ALL 428

S LIMITATIO ACT 1908 ss 6 AND 15
v Pat L J 132

See SCIT I J R 15 C-1c B-4

1. Period during which execution of decree stayed to be excluded from period of limitation. On the 8th August 1909 an application to execute a decree was made. The court by its direct order the execution to be stayed until the 1st day of the judgment debt was paid. The court then made an order and pending the application the decree was stayed from the 1st day of January to the 1st day of February 1909. On the 12th August 1911 the decree holder applied again to execute the decree. The Lower Court held that the second application was barred by limitation as having been made more than three years after the date of the first application. On second appeal - Held that the second application was filed within time for the applicant was entitled to exclude the period during which the execution of the decree was stayed in computing the period of limitation for the second application.
Baird v. Baird (1911) 111

2 _____ in attachment before judgment is not an injunction or order within the meaning of s. 13 of the Limitation Act 1908 or Art. 113 of the Russian Decree, 1917.

§ —E t of a liquidation—Sub sequen t annu it—Suing for limitation for suits—Idem cannot be r a d i c a t e d of suits—Obtaining of leave to sue from Court—Condition precedent to sue if significant to see limitation—Federal Insolvency Act (III of 193) s 15 c l 2 In computing the period of limitation for suits in trust again t a

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont'd

■ 15—cc clh

p= on after an order adjudicating him an insolvent was annulled s 15 of the Limitation Act does not permit the deduction of time during which the order was in force as unrl 16 cl 2 of the Provincial Insolvency Act an order of adjudication does not effect an absolute s of suits against the insolvent but only makes it nece ary that leave to sue should be obtained f om Court befo e a suit could be filed = un t him while the adjudication was in force Sons Pam v Kantaya Lal I L R 35 Ill 2, and Dorasami Padaya chi v Iyalahai I L R 30 M L J 16 referred to Shriram v Moodeen I L R 8 Mad 1009 dt tuncu hed P NATHAN PILLAI v GOVINDASAMI NAIR ET AL (1915)

4

Execution of

decree—Order debaring security pending appeal—Security not furnished—Appeal was quickly dismissed where prior between order for security and dismissal of appeal to be excluded in calculating limitation for a second application for execution—Code of Civil Procedure (Act 10 of 1908) O A P rr 10 11 13 and 14 Judgment debtor applied to the High Court for leave to appeal to the Privy Council and petitioned the Court to stay execution of the decree—an application for which I had been to the Lower Court on the 13th December 1913 pending the disposal of the appeal by the Privy Council It was alleged that the decree holder was a man of no substance The High Court accepted the allegation and by an order dated the 27th January 1914 allowed the decree to be executed only on condition that the decree holder furnished security The Lower Court fixed the security at Rs 30,000 and the decree holder being unable to furnish the amount dismissed the application for execution On the 14th October 1916 the judgment debtor applied to the Privy Council was dismissed for lack thereof and on the 14th April 1918 the decree holder applied for execution of the decree The judgment debtor objected that more than three years have elapsed since the date when the debt was taken as the 13th December 1913 exceeds one of the decrees was barred by limitation II' that the Court's order of the 27th January 1914 was in effect an order staying execution within the meaning of s 15 of the Limitations Act 1908 In view of the decree holder's mitigation position he has now demanded and that therefore the decree holder was entitled to exclude the period between the 2nd July 1914 and 1st October 1916

PANDAY
SATEO NARAIN SINGH ATTORNEY AT LAW

5 Pat L J 29

1C—of inclusion of the sale in the period of limitation. That the word "period" in Article 10 of the Limitation Act is not restricted to an application for setting aside a sale but comprehends enough to include a suit as well as an application and the obvious intention of the Legislature was to allow an exclusion of the period during which the validity of the sale was in controversy whether the sale was impeached by a suit or by an application. PROMOTER NATH POY v. HISORE LAL SHARMA (1916) 21 C.W.N. 204

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

— s 17—Unlike cases governed by the Indian Succession Act and the Hindu Wills Act in a case governed by the Probate and Administration Act 1881 the obtaining of Probate is not necessary to clothe the executor with the right to sue for debts due to the estate within the meaning of s 17 and therefore time begins to run from the date of Testator's death as the obtaining of a succession certificate is not a condition precedent for filing a suit but only for getting a decree
BALAKRISHNADU v NARAYANASWAMY CHETTY
I L R 37 Mad 175

— s 18—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 95
I L R 37 Bom 158

See SALE IN EXECUTION
15 C W N 965

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT 1889
s 4 I L R 43 All 440

1 ——— Sale application made after time to set aside—Fraud antecedent to sale if may be proved Where upon an application by a judgment debtor to set aside a sale on the ground of fraud made more than 30 days after the sale the Court refused to admit evidence of fraud antecedent to the sale on the ground that such fraud was not material for the purposes of s 18 of the Limitation Act Held that although proof of fraud antecedent to the sale does not necessarily indicate the continuance of that fraud subsequent to the sale it may have an important bearing in the determination of the question whether there was fraud subsequent to the sale sufficient for the purposes of s 18 The question of fraud should be considered as a whole
MOXI DAS v DWARKA NATH DPADA (1912)
17 C W N 478

2 ——— Conditions to be fulfilled before invoking section—Application for setting aside sale on the ground of fraud—Fraud subsequent to sale if necessary to be established S 18 of the Limitation Act provides that where a person having a right to make an application has by means of fraud been kept from the knowledge of such right of the title on which it is founded the time limited for making the application against the person guilty of the fraud or accessory thereto shall be computed from the time when the fraud first became known to the person injuriously affected thereby Consequently whoever desires to avail himself of s 18 has to establish in the first place that there has been fraud and in the second place that by means of this fraud he has been kept from the knowledge of his right to make an application but it is not essential to prove that there has been fraud subsequent to the date of sale
JOTINDRA MOHAN RAI CHOUDHURI v BROJENDRA KUMAR DUTTA (1914)
19 C W N 553

215— s 18 20 21 Sch I Arts 65 739

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY
I L R 44 Cal 978

s 18 Sch I Arts 62 115 116—

See CONTRACT I L R 41 Mad 488

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

— s 19—

See s 11 I L R 42 Mad 637

See s 21 I L R 41 Mad 427

See ACKNOWLEDGMENT
I L R 49 Cal 789

See ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF DEBT
I L R 48 Cal 1046

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 2
I L R 42 Mad 52

I L R 41 Lah 13

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 25
1 Pat L J 121

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
1 Pat L J 214

See HATCHETTA I L R 48 Cal 746

See LIMITATION I L R 43 Cal 211

See LIMITATION, 1877 s 19
I L R 47 Cal 300

See LIMITATION I L R 35 Bom 383
I L R 43 Cal 211

1 ——— Debt entered in schedule filed by Insolvent—Acknowledgment—Limitation Where an insolvent has written down a debt in his schedule as owing that debt to a named person and has signed the schedule that is a sufficient acknowledgment under s 19 of the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) to extend the period of limitation
CHONEY SRIGOPAL CHIRANJIAL v DRANALAL GHASIRAM (1910)
I L R 35 Bom 383

2 ——— Acknowledgment—Joint judgment debtors—Acknowledgment by one portion of debt—Effect Acknowledgment of a judgment debt by one of several judgment debtors keeps alive the decree against such judgment debtor alone and not against the others
Richardson v Younge, L R 6 Ch Ap 418
Bhoglal v Amritlal I L R 17 Bom 173
Dharma v Balmukund I L R 13 All 438 distinguished Narayana v Venkata I L R 25 Mad 220
Vala Subramania Pallas v Ramanatha Chettiar I L R 39 Mad 421
Ahsanullah v Dalchini Din I L R 27 All 575 relied on If a part only of the debt is acknowledged it is kept alive to that extent only CHANDRA KUMAR DHAR v PANDIT PODDAR (1912)
18 C W N 493

3 ——— Limitation—Acknowledgment by agent—Law to be applied to test the validity of an acknowledgment Held that the criterion to be applied to test the validity of an acknowledgment of liability put forward by a plaintiff as extending the period of limitation in his favour is the law in force at the time when the plaintiff's suit would otherwise have been time barred and not that in force at the time when the acknowledgment relied upon was made
Vohesh Lal v Bunsit Kumar I L R 6 Cal 340
Rahman Bibi v Halasa Kuar I L R 1 All 640 and Hanuman Prasad v Raghunandan Singh I All L J 355 referred to Zaid un Nissa Bibi v THE MAHARAJA OF BAYATES (1911)
I L R 34 All 109

4 ——— Acknowledgment of liability The following two letters were sent by first and second defendants respectively to plaintiff's vakil (s) Sir 10th June 1908 With reference to your letter of the 2nd instant I request

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*s 19—contd

you to be so good as to furnish me with a copy of a statement of accounts (u) Dear Sir 18th June 1908 With reference to your letter of the 2nd instant on behalf of landing contractor Madras I have to inform you that I wish to examine the accounts as my account does not show such an amount mentioned in your letter I therefore request you will please forward the copy of the account or to instruct your client to send his gumastah with his account books Held that neither of the letters amounted to an acknowledgment of liability under the Limitation Act s 19 ANDIAPPA CHETTY v ALASINGA NAIDU (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 68

5

Acknowledgment—Requisites for valid acknowledgment at Held that an acknowledgment of a debt to be a valid acknowledgment within the meaning of s 19 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 need not be addressed to the creditor but may be made to some other person as eg by means of deposition in Court Held also that a statement in the form the whole of Janki Prasad's mortgage money owing there being in existence at the time two mortgages held by Janki Prasad, must be taken to apply to both in the absence of evidence indicating a different signification Moniram Seth v Seth Rupchand I L R 33 Cal 1047 and Mylapore Iyasaamy Vayapoori Moodliar v Yeo Kay I L R 14 Cal 801 referred to Mizon Raj v MATHURA DAS (1913)

I L R 35 All 437

6

Acknowledgment of debt A letter to the effect that the writers after looking into the account will sign it is not an acknowledgment of liability on an account stated within the meaning of s 19 of the Limitation Act HEIRO PRASAD v GOJADHAR PRASAD SAKU (1914)

19 B W N 170

7

Acknowledgment of plaintiff's title in statement of boundary of neighbouring land in kabulyat executed by defendant in favour of third party Where in stating the boundaries of lands included in a kabulyat executed by the defendant in favour of a third party he described the land in suit as plaintiff's Held that the statement amounted to an acknowledgment within the meaning of s 19 of the Limitation Act It is now settled that an acknowledgment to whomsoever made if it be an acknowledgment pointing with reasonable certainty to the liability in dispute or the right out of which that liability arises as a legal consequence is an acknowledgment of liability within the meaning of that section Moniram Seth v Seth Rupchand 10 C B N 874 s c I L R 31 Cal 1047 Majumdar Hera Lal v Desai Narasail 17 C B N 573 Imam Ali v Baiy Nath I L R 33 Cal 613 and Mylapore Iyasaamy Moodliar v Yeo Kay I L R 14 Cal 801 considered GURU CH SAKA v SURENDRA KRISHNA RAI CHOWDERY (1913)

19 C W N 263

8

Letter of acknowledgment construction of—Conditional acknowledgment operation of—Performance of condition necessary for—Contract not to plead limitation legality of—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 23—Stopple against statute of limitation The plaintiff filed a suit on the 19th September 1912 to recover damages for breach of an oral contract by the defendant of which performance was due in 1903

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*s 19—contd

and relied on a letter dated 20th September 1909 written by the defendant to the plaintiff as saving the bar of limitation The letter was to the effect that if certain arbitrators should decide that the defendant should pay any amount he would immediately pay but that if the arbitrators failed to decide the plaintiff might sue and that the defendant would not plead limitation The arbitration failed The plaintiff sued as afore said on the 19th September 1912 but the defendant pleaded limitation in bar of the suit Held (i) that the letter amounted only to a conditional acknowledgment (u) that where there is a promise to pay on a condition that condition in order that the promise may operate as an acknowledgment must be fulfilled In re River Steamer Company L R 3 Ch 177 822 Maniram Seth v Seth Rupchand I L R 33 Cal 1047 and Arum chella Rou v Rangiah Appa Row I L R 29 Mad 519 referred to (ii) that the plaintiff was not entitled to a deduction of time which elapsed between the date of the agreement to refer to arbitration and the date of the failure of the arbitration (iv) that an agreement by a debtor not to raise the plea of limitation is void under s 23 of the Contract Act as it would defeat the provisions of the Limitation Act and (v) that parties cannot estop themselves from pleading the provisions of the statute of limitation Sitha ramay v Krishnasami I L R 33 Mad 374 referred to RAMAMURTHY v GOPAYYA (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 701

9

Parties referring unadjusted accounts for adjustment by arbitrators—Acknowledgment if need be addressed to any one and if should be by one willing to pay Where the parties to an abichalnama acknowledged that accounts remained unadjusted which the arbitrators were to adjust and each party distinctly agreed that he should have to pay such amount as might be found due from him on adjustment of accounts Held that this was sufficient acknowledgment within s 19 of the Limitation Act Under that section it is not necessary that the acknowledgment should be addressed to any particular person and it is a sufficient acknowledgment even if it be accompanied by a refusal to pay JANARDAY SHAMA PODDAR v RADHA BULLAR SHAMA (1919)

23 C W N 921

10

Acknowledgment—Court of Wards Act (Bom Act I of 1905) s 16 Proviso—Offer made by Collector in settlement of claim—Whether the offer can be used as an acknowledgment of debt In 1886 the defendant's family passed in favour of the plaintiff simple mortgage bond for Rs 9500 for a period of ten years The defendant was a minor and a ward of the Collector under the Court of Wards Act (I om Act I of 1904) In 1916 the plaintiff sued to recover the amount due on the bond of 1886 Interest on the bond was paid regularly till 1903 On the 24th May 1915 the Collector wrote a letter to the plaintiff by which the Collector offered to pay Rs 17000 in instalments in satisfaction of the whole of the amount due to the plaintiff The plaintiff relied upon this letter as an acknowledgment of debt to save the bar of limitation On behalf of the defendant it was contended that under the proviso to s 16 of the Court of Wards Act the letter could not be proved Held that the proviso did not plaintiff from using the letter

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

— s 19 and Sch Art 64—concl'd items are set off one against the other and a balance is struck in favour of one of the parties. In such a case the law implies a new promise by the party from whom the balance is found to be due to pay such balance in consideration not merely of past debts but also in consideration of the extinguishment of the old debts on each side and hence it is not necessary that the balance would be struck within the period of limitation applicable to any of the items in the account. Where the defendant was in the habit of taking loans from the plaintiff and an account of what was due from the former to the latter was made up after the last item in the account was time barred and the defendant signed the plaintiff's account book acknowledging the amount due on that date held that the account was not an account stated and that a suit to recover the amount was not barred by the defendant's acknowledgment. Horgoval v Abdul 9 Bom H O R followed SURAJ PRASAD PANDAY v W W BOUCKE 5 Pat L J 371

— s 19 and Sch I Art 135—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O II R 6

I L R 2 Lah 13

— s 19 Sch I Art 148—

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 All 540

— s 19 and Sch Art 181—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss. 2 47 I L R 42 Mad. 52

— s 19 Sch I Art 182 cl 5—
Written acknowledgment—Application made for certifying payments on the decree acknowledging the decree as an outstanding decree—Step in and of execution. The plaintiff obtained a decree on the 3rd July 1900 whereby he was required to pay a sum of Rs 600 by annual instalment of Rs 50 and to redeem the mortgaged land. The decree also provided that on failure to pay any two instalments the plaintiff's right to redeem was to be foreclosed and the defendant was to be placed in possession of the land. The instalments for 1901 and 1902 were duly paid, while the one for 1903 was only paid in part. No other payments were made. On the 20th July 1905 the plaintiff made an application to the Court which was consented to by the defendant for certifying the above payments in satisfaction of the decree. This application referred to the decree as an outstanding decree. On the 14th December 1907 the defendant applied to foreclose the decree but the application was dismissed for want of prosecution. He applied again on the 29th March 1909 for the purpose but his application was dismissed as barred by limitation. The defendant having appealed—Held that the application was within time for the application of 1905 was sufficient to give a fresh starting point for limitation either as an acknowledgment within the meaning of s 19 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) or as a step in and of execution under Art 182 cl 5 of the First Schedule to the Act. BACHARAJ NATHALALPANDY v BABAJI TUKARAM (1913) I L R 38 Bom 47

— s 20—

See s 10

25 C W N 356

See s 21

I L R 41 Mad 427

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

— s 20—contd

See CHEQUE (PAYMENT BY)

I L R 42 Calc 1043

See CONTRACT ACT s 60

1 Pat L J 474

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

1 Pat L J 214

See EXECUTION OF PETITION

I L R 41 Mad 251

See LIMITATION (40)

I L R 44 Calc 567

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT 1882, s 69 I L R 38 Mad 438

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

I L R 44 Calc 979

1 ————— Limitation—
Interest—Payment of part of interest due—Suit for foreclosure. The word interest in s 20 of the Limitation Act means interest or any part of the interest due. Kollu v Hall, I L R 18 All 95 and Anwar Hussain v Lalpur Khan I L R 26 All 167 distinguished ABDUL AHAD v MARTAB BEBI (1913) I L R 35 All 378

2 ————— Part payment—
Payment—recorded by endorsement in the hand writing of the person receiving—Endorsements only signed by the debtor whether sufficient acknowledgment. To save the suit from being barred by limitation the plaintiff relied on part payments made by the defendant. The part payments were recorded by endorsements which the plaintiff admitted were in his handwriting but he contended that the endorsement being signed by the defendant was a sufficient acknowledgment within s 20 of the Limitation Act 1908. Held that the fact of payment recorded being not in the handwriting of the person making the payment the provisions of the section were not satisfied. Saniushwar Mahanta v Lakshmana Mahanta I L R 35 Calc 813 applied NIWAZKHAN NATHANKHAN v DADABHAI (1916) I L R 41 Bom 166

3 ————— Execution of decree bearing no interest—Payment saving limitation. Where on an application for execution of a decree which did not bear any interest made more than three years after the date of the previous application the decree holder relied on a payment which the judgment debtor was found to have made to the decree holder within three years of the first application for execution but there was nothing to show that it was paid by way of interest. Held that though the decree holder might either apply to certify the payment before execution or might do so in his application for execution of the decree the provisions of s 20 of the Limitation Act would in no way be affected by it. The decree not bearing any interest any payment made by the judgment debtor must be taken to have been made in part payment of the principal and such part payment must appear in the handwriting of the judgment debtor or of his agent duly authorized in this behalf in order that limitation might get a fresh start. HARENDRA CHANDRA BHATTACHARYA v GAGAN CHANDRA DAS (1916) 22 C W N 325

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*s 20—contd

4 ——— Mortgage—Suit for sale—Limitation—Payment of interest as such—Effect of such payment as against purchaser of part of mortgaged property. A payment made on account of interest as such due on a mortgage debt takes effect under s 20 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 as much against a person interested in the mortgage as a purchaser of part of the mortgaged property as against the mortgagor himself who makes the payment. Krishna Chandra Saha v Bhairab Chandra Saha 1 L P 32 Cal 1077 and Doms Lal Sahu v Roshan Dobby 1 L P 33 Cal 1973 referred to Surya ram Marwari v Barhamdeo Persad 1 C L J 337 distinguished. ROSHAN LAL v KANHAIYA LAL (1918) 1 L R 41 All 111

5 ——— Endorsement of payment in handwriting of payer—Requirement of section where paper illiterate. In the case of an illiterate person if the payer affixes his mark beneath the endorsement written by some one else it is sufficient to satisfy the proviso to s 20 sub s (1) of the Limitation Act but where no such mark is affixed the provision of law has not been complied with. BALEBRAM KOKER v SOBHA SHEIKH (1918) 23 C W N 930

6 ——— Part payment—Handwriting in respect of part payment—Part payment must appear in the handwriting of the person making payment. The defendant purchased certain goods from the plaintiff on the 10th September 1912 for which he owed Rs 1350. He also owed another debt of Rs 301 to the plaintiff. On the 4th and 5th July 1913 the defendant paid two sums of Rs 500 and Rs 235 accompanied by a letter which ran thus—“I have sent currency notes of Rs 500 and a Hundi for Rs 235 in all Rs 735. Credit them. The plaintiff applied the sum in wiping out the smaller debt and credited the balance as part payment of Rs 1350. On the 14th October 1915 the plaintiff sued to recover the unpaid balance of Rs 1350 with interest and sought to bring his claim in time by relying on the part payment in 1913. Held that the plaintiff's claim was in time for the requirements of s 20 of the Indian Limitation Act were satisfied as the fact of the payment appeared in the handwriting of the person making the same and it appeared that the payment was in part satisfaction of the principal of the debt. SAKHARAM MANCHAND v KEVAL PADAM (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom 292

7 ——— Execution of decree for sale—Part of the hypotheca taken up under the Land Acquisition Act—Compensation paid into Court—Payment of amount to decree holder through Court—Paper showing payment signed by Judge—Judge whether an agent of judgment debtor—Signature of Judge whether sufficient under s 20. After a decree for sale on a mortgage was passed in 1911 a part of the hypothecated property was taken up under the Land Acquisition Act and the Government paid the amount of compensation into Court to the credit of the suit and the same was paid out to the decree holder on the 11th August 1914. When the payment was made the Judge signed a paper showing that payment was made in his presence and through Court. On the decree holder filing an application for execution of the decree on the 10th August 1917 the judgment-debtor pleaded the bar of limitation. Held that the Judge should be deemed to have been an agent duly authorized by the judgment-debtor to make the payment and that the signature of the Judge on the paper showing the payment satisfied the condition that the fact of payment should appear in the handwriting of the person making it as required by s 20 of the Limitation Act and that consequently the application for execution was not barred. Chinnery v Evans (1884) 11 H L Cas 115 applied. Lakshmanan Chetty v Sadatappa Chetty (1918) 35 J L J 511 referred to. COVINDASAMI PILLAI v DASAI GOUNDA (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad 971

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*s 20—concld

8 ——— Mortgage decree against mortgagor and purchaser of the equity of redemption—Payment of interest as such by the purchaser effect of. A purchaser of the equity of redemption is a person liable to pay the mortgage debt within s 20 of the Limitation Act hence if under a mortgage decree for sale of the mortgage property to which he is a party though exempted from personal liability he pays interest as such such payment gives a fresh period of limitation for execution of the decree. Bolding v Lane (1863) 1 De G J & Sm 127 and Chinnery v Evans (1884) 11 H L Cas 115 at 135 followed. ANKARAN SOWCAR v VENKATASWAMI NAIDU (1911) 1 L R 44 Mad 544

9 ——— Uncertified payment of an instalment decree of sales limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) Or 91 r 2—Certification of payment if can be made at any time. After the passing of an instalment decree some instalments were paid within three years of the date of the decree. The payments were not certified to the Court before the application for execution but were certified by a petition presented after the application for execution was made and made a part of the said application. The said application for execution was made more than three years after the date of the decree but within three years from the dates of the said payments. Held that the payments which were evidenced by letter written and signed by the judgment debtor having been made within three years of the decree and within three years of the present application for execution and then having been certified by a petition which was made a part of the application for execution the application for execution was not barred by limitation. MADAN MOHAN BANIKIA v HARULAL KUNDU (1920) C W N 534

ss 20 and 21—

See PRINCIPAL AND SECRET

1 L R 44 Cal 978

ss 20 57 Sch 1 Art 5—Suit for money payable for money lent—Payment of interest saving limitation—Creditor's discretion to apply money received to oldest debt—Second appeal—Tender of evidence (bahu khata) at hearing. The plaintiff brought a suit on the 14th May 1909 for money due on an adjustment of accounts. The plaintiff alleged that the last adjustment took place within three years from the date of the institution of the suit when the defendant promised to pay. The Courts below dismissed the suit. The District Judge in appeal however found that the defendant took a loan of Rs 50 from the plaintiff on 21st June 1906 but he refused

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

s 23—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1903) s 192 I L R RE Mad 655

s 23 and 26—

See RIPARIAN RIGHTS

3 Pat L J 51

s 26—

See BENGAL FERRIES ACT 1883

5 Pat L J 500

See EASEMENT I L R 39 Calc 59
I L R 1 Lah 206

Suit for declaration of right of way—Necessity of proving that enjoyment of the right ended within two years before suit—Affirmative proof of actual user of necessary—Distinction between enjoyment of a right of easement and actual exercise of the right Plaintiff brought a suit for declaration of a right of way and for removal of an obstruction thereto. The right was enjoyed for more than 20 years peaceably and openly without interruption as an easement and as of right. There was no discontinuance of the enjoyment by reason of the obstruction by the Defendant till within a few days previous to the institution of the suit and there was no suggestion that the Plaintiff voluntarily abandoned or discontinued the exercise of the right at any time before such date. Held that it was not necessary for the Plaintiff to prove affirmatively actual user of the way down to a date within two years before the suit. A person may without violence to language be said to be in enjoyment of a right of way during a period of time though he does not actually use the way every moment. Continuation of user does not necessarily mean abeyance in enjoyment. GORAL CHANDRA SEN v BAKSHI BEHARI ROY

20 C W N 121

s 28—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 44 Calc 425

See ATTACHMENT

I L R 45 Bom 1020

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 92

I L R 38 Mad 1064

See LIMITATION I L R 39 Mad 617

See MORTGAGE DEEDS

s Pat L J 478

See SAPANJAMBAR

I L R 45 Bom 694

Several daughters of a Hindu jointly succeeding to their father's estate—Exclusive possession of one for more than twelve years—Right of survivorship on her death to the estate by survivorship Where on the death of a Hindu his daughters jointly succeeded to his estate but one of them excluded the others from the enjoyment of the estate for more than twelve years and then died after alienating some of the properties. Held in a suit by a surviving daughter against the son of the deceased and the alienees to succeed to the estate by right of survivorship that with the extinction of the right to joint possession under s 28 of the Limitation Act the right of survivorship which is only an accre-

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*s 28—contd

tion to the right to joint possession was also lost. Kalam v Vachnar v Rajah of Shivaganga (1863) 9 M I A 539 at page 611 and Sachindran v Kishore Dey v Rajani Kant Chuckerbutty (1915) 27 I C 250 followed. ATCHANNIA v PATTAN (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 131

*s 28 Art 47—Suit to recover possession of lands—Magistrate order of under Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 145—Order passed without proper inquiry—Notice not legally served on the plaintiff—Plaintiff aware of proceedings—Order not without jurisdiction—Applicability of Art 47—Tenant for a term—Landlord treating tenant as a trespasser after the expiry of the term—Subsequent registered notice to quit—Cause of action when Art 47 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) is applicable to a suit for recovery of possession of lands in respect of which an order had been passed by a Magistrate acting under s 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure although the Magistrate might not have made the proper inquiries which he ought to have made before he passed the order if the plaintiff had notice of the proceedings though the notice was not served on the plaintiff in accordance with law. Gangadhar Aiyar v Sankarappa Aiyar 9 Mad L T 91 followed. Where the defendants were tenants for a term under the plaintiff and continued in possession of the lands after the expiry of the term but the plaintiff did not treat the defendants as tenants holding over but as trespassers after the date of the expiry of the term and the magistrate order under s 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure was passed in the defendant's favour subsequent to the said date. Held that the suit for recovery of possession of the lands brought by plaintiff more than three years after the said order was barred under Art 47 of the Limitation Act. Tukaram v Hari I L R 28 Bom 601. Bapu bin Mahadaji v Mahadaji Vasdeo I L R 8 Bom 348 and Wise v Amerunissa Akhrom L R 7 I A 73 referred to. Balaji Chand Ghosal v Samiruddin Mandal I L R 19 Calc 645 distinguished. PAB SURAMAYYA v PAMACHANDRUDU (1913)*

I L R 38 Mad 432

s 28 Arts 124 144—Religious endowment—Idere possession of sarbarakar—Suit by descendant of original dedicator to oust son of sarbarakar Where a person had been appointed in 1899 by a Revenue Court sarbarakar of certain endowed property and had remained in possession until 1914 when he died it was held that a suit brought in 1915 by a descendant of the original dedicator to evict the son of the appointee of 1899 and to have herself declared sarbarakar of the endowed property was barred by limitation. Unanambanda Pandara Sannadi v Golu Landaram I L R 23 Mad 411 followed. PAM PARI v NAND LAL (1917)

I L R 39 All 636

s 28 Art 144—Right recurring at uncertain intervals—Right to take wood from trees when fallen or cut—Idere possession The father of the plaintiffs in 1867 obtained leave from the Collector to plant trees along a road on land belonging to Government. He expressed his willingness to do so at his own expense and to tend them and the only right he asked for was to get the fallen dry wood from the trees. Subsequently the village passed out of the possession of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

s 28, Art 144—contd

the plaintiffs father and on two occasions in 1900 and in 1910 the defendant who had purchased the village got the proceeds of the sale of such wood. The plaintiffs on both occasions asserted their claim to wood or the price thereof but were unsuccessful. Within six years from the date of the last sale they brought a suit for a declaration of their right to get the dry wood by virtue of the agreement of 1867. The defendant pleaded adverse possession. Held that the right being one which could only be exercised on uncertain occasions and not a right recurring at fixed periods and as there had been disputes as to the right between the parties on two previous occasions it could not be said that defendant had acquired a title by adverse possession. Q. are Whether s 28 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 applies at all to a case like this DEVI PRASAD v. BADRI PRASAD (1918)

I L R 40 All 461

s 29—

See LIMITATION I L R 47 Calc 300

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT s 46

CL (3) I L R 80 Mad 593

s 46 CL (4) I L R 33 All 738

I L R 34 All 496

1—Limitation Act (IX of 1877) s 2 Sch II Art 30—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Limitation. The plaintiff in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights filed in 1910 alleged that his wife had been taken away by two of the defendants under a promise that she should return to him shortly but subsequently they denied all knowledge of her whereabouts. In 1909 he alleged he was informed that she was living at a certain place with one of the defendants. Held that the plaintiff's suit was not barred by limitation. Binda v. Kaushtika I L R 13 All 27 referred to. ATESHA v. FARAZ HUSAIN (1912) I L R 34 All 412

2—Effect meaning of—Applicability of the Act to affect periods of limitation prescribed by Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907). Held by the Full Bench that recourse cannot be had to the general provisions of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) in dealing with the admission of petitions and appeals presented after the time prescribed under the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) as such recourse would affect the specially prescribed period of limitation within s 29 (i) (b) of the Limitation Act. Abu Backer Sahib v. The Secretary of State for India I L P 34 Mad 105 followed. LINGAYYA v. CHINNA NARAYANA (1917) I L R 41 Mad 189

3—The effect of s 29 (1) (b) of the Limitation Act is to make both parts II and III of the Act inapplicable to a special period of limitation prescribed by a special or local law. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. SHIB NARAIN HAZRA (1918) 22 C W N 502

s 29 14—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 24 C W N 29

ss 29 15 (2)—

See SUIT I L R 45 Calc 934

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

s 30—

See LIMITATION I L R 43 Calc 34

Mortgage decree against mortgagor and purchaser of the equity of redemption—Payment of interest as such by the purchaser effect of a purchaser of the equity of redemption is a person liable to pay the mortgage debt within s 20 of the Limitation Act hence if under a mortgage decree for sale of the mortgage property to which he is a party though exempted from personal liability he pays interest as such such payment gives a fresh period of limitation for execution of the decree Bolding v. Lane (1863) 1 De G J & Sm 192 and Chinnery v. Evans (1864) 11 H L Cas 115 at 135 followed. ASKA RAM SOWKAR v. VENKATASWAMI NAIDU (1921) I L R 44 Mad 544

s 31—

See LIMITATION I L R 35 Mad 191

1—Mortgage—Suit for sale—Limitation—General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s 10 The special period of limitation for suits for foreclosure or for sale by a mortgagee prescribed by s 31 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 namely two years from the date of the passing of the Act expired on a Sunday. Held that a suit for sale to which s 31 applied instituted upon the following Monday was within time. Sheddas Daulatram Marudai v. Narayan Lalad Asaji 13 Bom 1153 dissented from. HIRA SINGH v. MOHAMMAD AMARTI (1912) I L R 34 All 375

2—Period of two years for filing suits—Period not prescribed—Last day Sunday—Suit filed on Monday next—Limitation A question having arisen as to whether a suit for which provision is made under s 31 (1) of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) if instituted on a Monday one day after the period of two years from the date of the passing of the Act has expired can be taken to have been instituted within the period of two years. Held that the suit could not be taken to have been instituted within the period of two years and that two years specified in s 31 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) was not the period of limitation prescribed. SURENDAS DAULATRAM v. NARAYAN (1911) I L R 30 Bom 263

3—Limitation—Mortgage—Suit on mortgage barred under Limitation Act of 1871—Mortgagee's rights not revived by present act Held that s 31 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 cannot be construed as reviving rights already barred under the Limitation Act of 1871. JAY SINGH PRASAD v. SURJA SINGH (1913) I L R 35 All 167

—Sch I Art 2—Execution of decree—Sale in execution—Tender of decretal amount by judgment debtor—Refusal of sale-officer to accept tender—Suit for damages—Limitation The plaintiff sued for damages against a Court Amin under the following circumstances. The plaintiff alleged that in execution of a simple money decree certain immovable property belonging to him had been advertised for sale. On the day fixed for the sale and before it had commenced the plaintiff tendered the decretal amount to the defendant.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Art 2—contd

who was the officer deputed to conduct the sale. The defendant however wrongfully refused to accept the money offered to him and went on with the sale and the plaintiff was subsequently obliged to let the sale set aside under O XXI r 59 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The suit was instituted some nineteen months after the alleged cause of action assuming that to be the refusal of the Amm to accept the money tendered or his continuing the sale after the tender had been made had been held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 2 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Ranclordis Moore v The Municipal Commissioner for the City of Bombay I L R 35 Bom 557 referred to MURAT LIL : COFAL SORUP (1915) I L R 41 All 219

Sch I Art 2 62 10—Limitation

Suit for refund of octroi duty allowed to be decreed. The plaintiff sued a municipal board to a refund of octroi duty. He did not allege that the duty had in fact been levied on him from him. He alleged that he had paid the duty and it became entitled to a refund. The suit was governed by Art 10 and not by Art 62 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Pappalaya Ma v Municipality Coorg 1908 11 Mys 111. Municipal Board v L P 2 All 491 Guru Das v Ram Narain I L R 10 Cal 60 and Hanuman v Hanuman I L R 19 Cal 129 referred to Municipal Board v Gazi 1914 I L R 35 All 505

Sch I Art 110 126—

See PARANPERSHI 10 C 1 352

Sch I Art 4 7 101 102 129—

Hereditary archaka of a temple—Sole owner by trust—Sue by archakas for perquisites and damages against trustees—Limitation for suit—Eraniel Simil C v Courts 1st (1957) 58 All 123—Sue by temple cognizable by a small court—Eraniel Simil C v Courts 1st (1957) 58 All 123. The plaintiff's suit was her share archakas in the temple was suspended from their office in June 1911. By the trustees of the temple the order was passed on the 19th June 1911 and the suspension lasted till 19th July 1911. The plaintiffs alleged that the suspension was illegal and urged that on the 19th June 1911 to recover their pay and perquisites as well as damages for mental distress, loss of dignity etc for an amount below Rs 100 as a grant the trustees the perquisites of the temple and the person who performed the duties of the office during their suspension. The lower appellate Court having held the suit was not barred by limitation as regards perquisites and awarded the cash to the Court of first instance the order of the trustees performed an appeal against the order of remand contending that the suit was barred. The respondents filed objection that the suit was incompetent as the suit was of a small nature. Held that an appeal lay to the High Court against the order of remand as the suit was not barred by limitation. Court that Art 102 of the Limitation Act applied to the suit as against the trustees as regards the pay and the perquisites if payable by the temple and the suit was not barred as regards such claims that Art 36 applied to the claim for perquisites if payable by third persons as well as to the claim for damages and the claims were barred and that as against the plaintiff there was either no cause of action or it was barred under Art 36 of the Limitation Act. BARADWAJ MUDALIAR v ANUNACHALA CHETTIAR (1917)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Arts 4 7 101 102 120—contd

I L R 41 Mad 528

Sch I Art 11—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act XIV of 1908) ss 28 282 283 AND 287
I L R 41 Lon 61

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—

O XXI r 53 I L R 41 All 525
I L R 45 Bom 531
I L R 41 All 623
I L R 41 Mad 585

O XXI r 97 I L R 41 All 57

O XXI r 100 I L R 41 All 652

See LIMITATION I L R 41 All 755

Delhi 1914
Transfer of Property Act (XII of 1879) s 17 and 48—
Transfer of Property Act (XII of 1879) s 48—
Agriculturist Mortgagee—Sue (Conciliator's certificate)—Mortgagee necessary party along with other persons interested—Exclusion of time spent in obtaining Conciliator's certificate—Limitation Defendants 1 and 2 brought a suit on a mortgage against defendants 3 and while the suit was pending defendant 3 mortgaged the same property namely a house along with other properties to the plaintiffs. Defendants 1 and 2 having obtained a decree they applied for execution and sought to recover the decretal debt by sale of the house. Thereupon the plaintiffs intervened and applied that the house should be sold subject to their mortgage lien. The plaintiffs' application being allowed they brought a suit against defendants 1 and 2 to establish their right founded on their mortgage. The suit was brought within one year of the order rejecting their application after the expiry of the time taken up in obtaining the Conciliator's certificate under ss 47 and 48 of the Delhi Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) defendant 3 being described in their mortgage as an agriculturist. Defendants 1 and 2 contended that defendant 3 being not a necessary party the Conciliator's certificate was unnecessary and the suit was time barred. Held that under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act (XII of 1879) defendant 3 was a necessary party to the suit which was brought on the strength of the mortgage and he being an agriculturist the Conciliator's certificate was necessary and the suit was therefore not time barred. ERANIL SIMIL C v COURTS (1911)

I L R 33 Bom 621

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Art 11 and s 22—

Applicability of discussed

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O XXI, ER 58 60 25 C W N 544

Sch I Art 12—

See DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR.
I L R 111 Mad 1031

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882

s 456 I L R 1 Lah 27

When in an execution of a decree against a father of a joint family property has been sold, the sons cannot claim to redeem without setting aside the sale within the time prescribed by this section. BHOLA JHA v KELI PRASAD I Pat L J 180

Sch I Art 12A and s 28 and 28—Arrears of revenue—Sale by Revenue Court—Judgment debtor remaining in possession of property

Suit by purchaser for possession—Defence by judgment debtor that the sale was invalid—Judgment debtor not precluded from raising the defence—Revenue sales to be treated differently from sales by Civil Courts—Purchaser's plea of want of notice of judgment debtor's title not valid. The defendants who owned plaint land in a khoti village brought a suit against the khoti for a declaration that they held the land free of assessment. The suit was dismissed by the lower Courts but on appeal to the High Court it was held in 1900 that the defendants had the right to hold the land free of assessment. While the appeal proceedings were pending the land was sold by the Revenue Court under the provisions of the Land Revenue Code for arrears of assessment due from the defendants and it was purchased by the plaintiff's vendor. The sale was confirmed on the 6th August 1904. After the sale the defendants continued to remain in possession of the property. In 1916 the plaintiff sued to recover possession of the property. The defendants resisted the claim on the ground that the sale was invalid. It was urged on plaintiff's behalf that as he was a purchaser at a revenue sale without notice of defendants' title his title was good as against the defendants. The lower Courts decreed the plaintiff's claim holding that as the defendants did not sue to set aside the sale within one year their right to impugn the sale was barred under Art 12A of the Limitation Act. Held (reversing the decrees of the lower Courts) that the defendants could raise the defence that the sale was invalid though a suit by them would have been barred by limitation and s Art 12A of the Limitation Act. Held also that the plaintiff as a purchaser at a revenue sale could not succeed on the ground that he was a purchaser without notice inasmuch as the sale held by the Revenue Court for arrears of assessment while proceedings were pending in a Civil Court became invalid when it was declared that the defendants were entitled to hold the land free of assessment. Unless a suit falls under s 26 or s 27 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 there is no bar of limitation to a defence. When a decree is passed against a defendant in a civil suit and his property is put up for sale in execution proceedings and he does not ask for a stay of execution the purchaser at the execution sale acquires a good title although it may happen that eventually the decree against the defendant is set aside in appeal. But there is a great distinction between sales in execution of Civil Court decrees and sales by the Revenue Courts for arrears of assessment. It is a matter of fact the defendant in the revenue proceedings is entitled to hold the lands free of assessments any sale which takes place on the footing that he is bound to pay assessment is invalid and the purchaser at such a sale cannot acquire a good title except by adverse possession. Venkatarahalapathi Ayyar v Robert Fischer (1907) 30 Mad 444 followed. Shival Bhagwan v Shambhuprasad (1905) 29 Bom 435 distinguished. Balkrishen Das v Simpson (1893) L R 25 I A 151 referred to. MAHADEV v SADASHIV (1920)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Art 12A and ss 28 and 28—contd

I L R 45 Bom 45

Sch I Arts 12 ss 166—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 AND 50

I L R 38 Mad 1078

Sch I, Art 12 or 144—

See INAM I L R 42 Mad 673

Sch I Art 13—

See s 11 I L R 44 Mad 902

Attachment of property before judgment—Order raising the attachment—Decree in the suit—Subsequent suit for a declaration that the property is liable to be attached for the decree—Existence of the order whether bar to such suit. An order releasing certain properties from attachment before judgment is no bar to a subsequent suit for a declaration that they are liable to attachment in execution of the decrees in the prior suit and such suit is not governed by Art 13 of the Limitation Act. Bisheshwar Das v Ambika Prasad I L R 37 AU 675 not followed. RAMANAMIA v KANARAJU (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 211

Sch I Art 14—

See s 10 I L R 111 Bom 572

See s 22 I L R 111 Bom 729

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879 ss 63 AND 70

I L R 45 Bom 820

See INAM I L R 42 Mad 673

Possession of land as owner for fifty years—User of land as graveyard and also as timber depot—Order by Government for discontinuing the user as timber depot—Order ultra vires—Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1879) ss 65 66. The plaintiffs were in possession of the land in dispute as owners ever since 1800 and used a portion of it as a graveyard and on another portion of it they built a shed which was used as a timber shop. In 1871 Government assessed the land and entered it in the Revenue registers as Government waste land. The plaintiffs

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Art 14—contd
 paid no assessment on the land in 1908 the District Deputy Collector passed an order directing the Mamlatdar to remove the building and the wood to be removed forthwith from the said land. The order was finally confirmed by the Commissioner on the 24th April 1909. The plaintiffs filed the present suit on the 2nd February 1910 to obtain a declaration that they were absolute owners of the land to have set aside the order of 1909 and to get a permanent injunction restraining Government from disturbing the plaintiffs in their possession of the land. The lower Court dismissed the suit holding that the plaintiffs were not absolute owners but occupants only and that the suits were barred under Art 14 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act 1908. The plaintiffs having appealed Held that as the land in dispute was not used for the purpose of agriculture neither s 60 nor s 66 of the Land Revenue Code (Bomb Act V of 1879) applied to the case and the orders passed by the Revenue Authorities to evict the plaintiffs were ultra vires. Held further that the suits were not barred by Art 14 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) inasmuch as it was not necessary for the plaintiffs to have the order set aside. RASUL KHAN HAMADKHAN v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) I L R 39 Bom 494

Official order—Held as—Held that Art 14 only applies to orders passed by a Government officer in his official capacity and not to order which are ultra vires and that where a Collector passed orders under s 37 of the Bombay Land Revenue Act 1879 with reference to land prima facie the property of an individual in peaceful possession he is dealing with the land in official capacity but acting ultra vires. MALKAN PILLAI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA I L R 39 Bom 325

Collector's Order—
Forfeiture—Appeal—Exclusion of time—Limitation—Revenue Jurisdiction Act (V of 1876) s 11
 On the 6th May 1911 an order was made by the Collector declaring that a survey number belonging to the plaintiff be forfeited to Government for arrears due on the khata. Against the order of forfeiture the plaintiff preferred an appeal to the Commissioner. The appeal being dismissed, the plaintiff filed a suit on the 14th October 1915 to get the order of forfeiture set aside as illegal and ultra vires. It was contended that the time taken up in appealing to Revenue authorities be excluded in reckoning the period of limitation. Held overruling the contention that the suit not being brought within one year from the date of the order of forfeiture was barred by limitation under Art 14 of the Limitation Act 1908. GAYENI SHESHO v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919) I L R 44 Bom 451

Sch I Arts 14 and 91—Suit for a declaration of rights as Vatandar—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (V OF 1876) s 4(a)

I L R 44 Bom 261

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Arts 19 23—

See LIMITATION (12)

I L R 40 Calc 898

Sch I Art. 22—

See Art 11 25 D W N 544

See Arts 25 26

See Art 12 I L R 45 Bom 45

See Arts 26 and 8

See Art 14 I L R 45 Bom 45

Sch I Arts 62 and 120—Attachment of debt—Wrongful seizure of moveable property—Suit by claimant to the debt against the decree holder—Article applicable Neither attachment of a debt nor voluntary payment of it into Court constitutes seizure of moveable property under legal process within the meaning of Art 20 of the Limitation Act. A suit by a claimant to the debt attached against the decree holder to whom the amount of the debt was paid is governed by either Art 62 or 120. Narasimha Rao v Ganagaraju I L R 31 Mad 431 distinguished. YELLAMMAL v AYYAPPA NAICK (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 972

Sch I Arts 29 36—Execution of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 73—Money rateably distributed amongst decree holders to which they were subsequently declared not to be entitled—Suit to recover money so distributed—Limitation One S brought a suit for money against Y and B and attached before judgment a quantity of grain in their possession. There upon one Y from whom the grain had been purchased objected to the attachment setting up a lien on the grain for unpaid purchase money. The Court allowed M's objection holding that M had a lien to the extent of Rs 2000 where upon S brought a suit for a declaration that M had no lien at all. The property being of a perishable nature was sold by the Court and the proceeds were deposited in Court. The suit of S against M was decreed by the Court of first instance on the 25th of June 1912. Thereafter certain other decree holders of Y and B applied for rateable distribution under s 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure and the Court made the order asked for and paid the sale proceeds of the grain rateably to the decree holders and S on dates between the 19th and the 26th of September 1912. But the declaratory decree obtained by S was reversed on appeal on the 24th of September 1912 and the decree of the lower Appellate Court was affirmed in second appeal on the 30th of April 1914. In June and July 1915 M's son brought suits to recover by virtue of his lien the amounts paid to the various decree holders. Held that the suits were not barred by limitation and that neither Art 29 nor Art 36 of the first Schedule to the Limitation Act was applicable to the suits. Yellammal v Ayyappa Naick Mad L J 519. Rajputana Malwa Railway Co-operative Stores Limited v The Amere Municipal Board I L R 32 All 491 and Ward & Co v Wallis (1900) 1 Q B 615 referred to by WALSH J RAM NARAYAN v BHUJ BANSER LAL (1917) I L R 39 All. 322

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont

Sch I Arts 29 36 39—

See ARREST OF SUIT

I L R 42 Calc 25

Sch I Arts 30 31 115—

See LOSS OF GOODS.

I L R 44 Cal 16

Sch I, Art 31—Limitation—Suits by consignee for damage on account of non delivery of goods—Effect of offer to compromise claim on the part of the railway Company. On the 16th of January 1913 the plaintiff left at the Pannagar station on the Rohilhand and Kumaun Railway a bundle of gunny bag to be delivered to the Salt Superintendent Sambhar on the Bombay Baroda and Central India Railway. The bundle was not delivered. The plaintiff was subsequently informed that it was lying in the local property office of the latter Railway and that the plaintiff might have recovered it if he liked. On the 17th of March 1914 the Bombay Baroda and Central India Railway wrote to the plaintiff and offered him Rs 20 as compensation. The plaintiff did not accept the offer but on the 7th of July 1919 sued the Railway Company for Rs 20 damage for non delivery of the bundle of gunny bags. Held that Art 31 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 applied and the plaintiff was barred by limitation. The plaintiff could not pray in aid the Railway Company's letter of the 17th of March 1914 as it was written long after the expiry of the period of limitation and could not be construed as a promise to pay anything. It was at best an offer made without prejudice to compromise the plaintiff's claim. (Ct Indian Peninsula Railway Co v Central India I L R 40 All 511) Haji Ismail v Coochin Hossein & Company and Private Stationary and Printing Co I L R 46 Bom 1 referred to. Mulla Sadi Lal v Bombay Baroda and Central India Railway Company I L R 42 All 220

Sch I Art 31 40 115—

See SPECIFIC JOVABLE PROPERTY

I L R 39 Mad 1

Sch I, Arts 31 and 42—Indian Act (Limitation) (IX of 1908) s 55—Suits by consignee of goods for surplus sale proceeds—Suits against the Company—Effect of offer to compromise claim on the part of the railway company on the part of the consignee—Suits for compensation or damages from suit for surplus sale proceeds—Money paid and received—Application of Art 31 or 42. Limitation Act. A suit by the consignee of goods by a railway company for the recovery of the surplus sale proceeds realized by the company by sale of the goods under s 55 of the Indian Railways Act is governed by Art 31 and not Art 31 of the Limitation Act. (K. S. M. P. Co Ltd v H. S. P. M. Co Ltd (1915) I L R 41 Mad 81 referred to. Tarapore v M. T. S. M. P. Co Ltd (1915) I L R 41 Mad 823

Sch I Art 32—

See HINDI LAW JURY FRY

I Pa L J 43

See MORTGAGE I L R 4 Calc 125

Effect of a suit on the part of the tenant under the Pannagar Railway Act for recovery of compensation was also claimed. Held that this claim

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont

Art 32—cont

was governed by Art 32 of the Limitation Act. Lal Bahadur Das Poon and another v Mohendra Chandra 25 C W N 900

Sch I Arts 32 147—*Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1850) s 155—Suits to eject tenant under—Limitation Act 3. and not 143 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act governed a suit by a landlord brought under s 155 of the Bengal Tenancy Act to eject a tenant who had allowed a portion of his holding to be encroached upon by a tenant and had exchanged another plot of land of the tenant with the stranger in contravention of the terms of his Indulhu Sharoo Pass Monid v Jangpur Joy Choudhury I L R 26 Cal 661 and 30 C W N 481 filed on *Tarapore v M. T. S. M. P. Co Ltd (1915) 20 C W N 651

Sch I Art 38—

I L R 29 All 822

I L R 40 Cal 25

Sch I Art 38—

I L R 29 All 822

I L R 29 All 822

Sch I Art 42—

I L R 42 Cal 500

Sch I Art 42—

I L R 41 Mad 112

I L R 28 Bom 22

Sch I Art 42—

I L R 42 Cal 500

Sch I Art 42—

I L R 33 Mad 112

I L R 39 Mad 118

Sch I Art 42—

I L R 41 Mad 102

Sch I Art 42—

I L R 23 C W N 208

Sch I Art 42—Limitation Act 31—Suits by a person more than one year after the death of a person. The mother and natural guardian of a minor having old the minors property a suit to set aside the sale was brought more than three years after the minor attained majority. Held that the suit was barred under Art 44 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Salappa v Chandraappa I L R 111 and 112 and 113 referred to. Laxman v Pachappa (1915) I L R 42 Bom 628

Sch I Art 42—Limitation Act 31—Suits by a person more than one year after the death of a person. A Hindu widow having a natural guardian during his minority with a suit to set aside the transfer within the period of limitation was barred by Art 44 of the Limitation Act. (K. S. M. P. Co Ltd v H. S. P. M. Co Ltd (1915) I L R 41 Mad 81 referred to. Tarapore v M. T. S. M. P. Co Ltd (1915) I L R 41 Mad 823

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—co 1dSch I, Art 44—contd

In 1910 the plaintiff the next reversioner sued to redeem the mortgage—Held that the suit was barred under Art 44 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 for the son sues to have sued to set aside the alienation within three years of his attaining majority. Per Swan J—The scope of Art 44 is not limited to sale by guardians who are appointed under testaments or by the Court. The language of the Article is general and wide enough to include sales by natural guardians who may have some authority however limited to alienate the property of the minor that in sales which are not wholly void but are voidable at the instance of the person interested in the property. Blagwant Govind v Kondsvalad Maladu (1912) 14 Bom 23 Dalappa v (Khandappa) (1910) 1 Bom L R 1134 and Anandappa v Tolappa (1911) 1 Bom L R 113 a overruled. Mallikarjun v Vartari (1900) 95 Bom 337 Mata Din v Almad Ali (1911) 34 All 913 Mahabaleshwar Krihnappa v Panchandra Mangsh (1913) 38 Bom 91 and Laxmata v Panchappa (1914) 42 Bom 676 referred to. FAKIRAPPA LIMAYYA v LUMAYYA bin MANADE (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 742

Suit to recover property transferred by natural guardian on behalf of minor
A suit for the recovery of property transferred during the minority of the plaintiff by his natural guardian must under Art 44 of Sch I to the Limitation Act be brought within three years of attaining majority such a transfer being voidable and not void. PROJAYDRA CHANDRA SARMA v PROHONYO KUNAR DHAR 24 C W N 1016

Sch I, Arts 44 91—Suit to set aside a compromise decree—

Se EXECUTOR

I L R 33 Mad 575

Sch I Arts 44 91 95 120—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
O XXII r 7 I L R 3 Lah 161

Sch I, Arts 44 144—

Se HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN

I L R 38 Mad 1125

Alienation by mother as guardian of the sons—Decree against the sons represented by the mother as guardian ad litem—Sale in execution—Decree and sale whether nullities—Suit by minors to recover possession—Limitation—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) O XXXII r 4 (1) Where a mother acting as the guardian of her minor sons mortgaged their property and a decree on the mortgage was passed against the minors represented by the mother as guardian ad litem and properties sold in execution and subsequently the sons sued to recover possession of the properties more than three years after the elder of them attained majority but within twelve years of the sale alleging that their mother was not competent to represent them in the previous suit as her interest was adverse to theirs. Held that the decree against the minors was not a nullity and had to be set aside and that the suit was consequently barred by limitation. KUR PRASAMI AYYANGAR v RAMALAKSHMAL (1910)

I L R 33 Mad 842

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—co 1dSch I, Art 4—

See s 23

I L R 38 Mad 432

Suit for recovery of land previously declared to be in defendant's possession under s 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code (I of 1908)—Limitation—Order not ultra vires because defective—jurisdiction—meaning of In a proceeding under s 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code regularly initiated by a preliminary order under sub s (3) the parties filed written statements. The first party to the proceedings after some witnesses had been examined on his behalf applied to withdraw from the proceedings stating that he would conduct the case in Civil Court and would not enter upon the land till the matter should have been settled by the Civil Court. The Magistrate reciting the above facts declared the second party to be in possession by an order passed on 21st August 1906. The first party instituted the present suit to recover possession on the 2th January 1912 and contended that the suit was not barred by Art 47 of the Limitation Act because the order of the Magistrate was without jurisdiction. Held that the suit was barred by Art 47 of the Limitation Act. LAR MAHAMED BHANA v HEYAT MAHAMED SAHA (1917) 22 B W N 342

Decree by Mamladars

Mamladars Courts Act (Bombay Act 11 of 1906) Order by Magistrate—Criminal Procedure Code (I of 1908) s 145—Suit for possession—Limitation In 1913 the plaintiff filed a suit under the Bombay Mamladars Courts Act 1906 and obtained an injunction restraining the defendant from disturbing his possession. The District Deputy Collector having purported to interfere in revision the plaintiff applied in 1914 for an order under s 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code but the Magistrate decided against him and allowed possession to the defendant. In 1917 the plaintiff sued to recover possession. Held that the order of the District Deputy Collector who had no jurisdiction to interfere should be considered as a nullity and that the suit being filed within three years from the order of the Magistrate was not barred under Article 47 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. VEERATESH KEVAL v BHUVU VEERATESH I L R 45 Bom 1135

Arts 48 and 49—

Suit for goods misappropriated—Indian Contract Act (I of 1872) ss 108 and 178 One K took a jewel of the plaintiff in May 1907 to find a purchaser for it stating that he would settle the price in the presence of the plaintiff but instead of doing so K in June 1907 pledged it with the third defendant who boni fide lent on its security Rs 175. Plaintiff came to know of K's conversion in 1909 and sued in 1911 for the jewel or its value the third defendant and the widow and son of K who died at the end of 1907. Held that Art 48 and not 19 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) was applicable and that the suit was not barred by limitation. Held also that the boni fides of the third defendant does not preclude the plaintiff from recovering the jewel without paying the third defendant the amount of loan. Effect of ss 108 and 178 of the Indian Contract Act considered. SESHAPPAIYER v SUBRAMANIAM CHETTIAR (1914)

I L R 38 Mad.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd— Arts 48 and 49—concl'd.

Suit for goods misappropriated—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 108 and 178 A commission agent employed to sell a jewel belonging to the plaintiff wrongfully pledged it in 1907 for Rs 175 to the defendant who lent the amount bona fide without any knowledge of the plaintiff's ownership Plaintiff coming to know of the wrongful pledge in 1909 sued in 1911 for the recovery of the jewel or its value Held (i) that the suit was in time and Art 48 and not Art 49 of the Limitation Act was applicable and time began to run from 1903 when the plaintiff came to know in whose possession the jewel was and (ii) that as the defendant was a pawnee in good faith from one who had judicial possession of the jewel the plaintiff was not entitled to recover the jewel without paying the defendant the amount due to him on the pledge Possession in s 178 of Contract Act (IX of 1872) means judicial possession and not custody Rameshar Chaudhary v Mata Bhikk I L R 5 All 341 Ram Lal v Ghulam Hussain I L R 29 All 579 and the observations of BACHELOR J in Nandlal Thaksey v The Bank of Bombay 12 Bom L R 316 335 followed Seshappaier v Subramania Chettiar (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 678

— Sch I Art 49—

See ARREST OF SHIP

I L R 42 Cal 35

See ART 31

I L R 39 Mad 1

See CONTRACT Act s 162

26 C W N 772

Limitation begins to run upon refusal to return property detained Where a person to whom moveable property is entrusted to be returned on the fulfilment of certain conditions retains such property after such conditions are fulfilled, he will be deemed to be in possession on behalf of the person entitled, until he refuses delivery mere silence on demand being made will not constitute such refusal The period of limitation for a suit to recover the property thus detained will under Art 49 of Sch. I of the Limitation Act run from the date when the defendant refuses to deliver such property Gopalasami Ayyar v Subramania Sastri (1912)

I L R 35 Mad 636

In a suit for recovery of property deposited for safe custody with defendant limitation does not begin to run against plaintiff until the return of the property has been demanded and refused Laddo Brogan v Jamal To Day

I L R 42 All 45

— Sch I Arts 49 60 61 62, 81 89 120 and 145—Specific moveable property meaning of in Art 49—Whether includes money—Residual article when to be applied—Money had and received to the plaintiff's use Where the karnavan of a Malabar taluk sued a junior for recovery of a sum of lawful money received by the latter but withheld by him in denial of the plaintiff's right to the same Held that the case was governed by Art 81 as the defendant had received monies belonging to the plaintiff which ex rebus sic utantibus he was bound to refund, and the cause of action was for money had and received to the plaintiff's use, and arose on the date of the receipt, and not on the date of the denial of the

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd— Sch I Arts 49 60 61 62 81 89 120 and 145—concl'd plaintiff's right to the money Mahomed Wahib v Mahomed Ameer I L R 320 Cal 527 referred to Specific moveable property in Art 49 does not include money though money is moveable property within Art 89 Specific property is property which is recovered in specie i.e. the very property itself not any equivalent or reparation The residuary Art 120 should be applied only as a last resort if no other article is applicable Sharoop Dass Mondal v Jorgessur Roy Chowdhry I L R 26 Cal 564 referred to SATKUNNI & GOVINDA (1914)

I L R 37 Mad 381

— Sch I Arts 49 60 145—Limitation—Breach—Suit to recover property bailed—Contract or tort The plaintiff sued for the return of certain property which had been deposited with two persons as follows namely four hundred gold mohurs with Musammatt Chun Kunwar and some pictures and manuscripts with Sobhag Mal Held that the limitation applicable to the former suit was that prescribed by Art 60 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 and to the latter that prescribed by Art 145 or if the suit was looked upon as one in tort Art 49 would apply the period beginning to run from the date when the return of the property was demanded Kalyan Lal v Kishan Chand (1919)

I L R 41 All 843

— Sch I Arts 49 115 145—Gold deposited with goldsmith to be made into ornaments—Suit to recover—Limitation Where the allegation was that nearly eleven years ago the plaintiff had made over a loka of gold to defendant to be made into ornaments but no time was fixed and the latter put him off from time to time until being pressed by plaintiff on 24th March 1914 he promised to make and deliver the ornaments within 15 days but failed to do so Held that Art 145 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act applied to a suit for recovery of the gold deposited. Art 145 applies even when the property is not recoverable in specie and does not cease to be applicable merely because the defendant refuses to return the property Such refusal does not bring into operation Art 49 or 49 Even if Art 49 applied limitation would begin running from 8th April 1914 before which there was no refusal If Art 115 applied limitation would run from the same date when the contract was broken Ganahari Chakravarti v Nabin Chandra Banerjee (1915)

20 U W N 232

— Sch I, Art 51—

See s 19

I L R Lah 337

— Sch I, Arts 52 53 115 120—Limitation—suit for recovery of money due on account of materials supplied and work done for constructing a floor and a contract fixing a consolidated rate for both—Claim as land in plaintiff an indivisible one—Variance of compensation in Art 115 and in Indian Contract Act IX of 1872 s 73 The defendant who had taken a contract to construct a building at Lahore employed the plaintiff as a sub contractor to do the work of flooring in the building The plaintiff was to supply Italian marble and other stones required for the flooring and was also to do all the work necessary for constructing the floor and was to be paid a certain sum of money for every square foot of the flooring done by him which rate included both the price of the materials supplied and the work done by the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued for the balance of the money due to him on the basis of this contract and the plaintiff made no mention of the price of the materials as distinct from the price of the work. The only question before the Full Bench was what article of the Limitation Act was applicable to the suit. Held that the claim as laid in the plaint was an indivisible one and could not be split up into two portions and consequently neither article 52 nor article 56 of the Limitation Act was applicable but that the suit was governed by article 115 and not by article 120. Padma Anken v Basant Lal (103 P R 1913) overruled in this respect. Article 115 is a general provision applying to all actions ex contractu not specially provided for otherwise. The word compensation in that article as well as in article 116 has the same meaning as it has in section 73 of the Indian Contract Act and denotes a sum of money payable to a person on account of loss or damage caused to him by the breach of a contract. Vobecomar Mookhopadhyaya v Siru Mullick (I L R 6 Cal 94) and Husein Ali Khan v Hafiz Ali Khan (I L R 34 60 F B) followed. MAHOMED GHAFI v SIBRAID DIX

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch I, Arts 52, 56 115 120—contd.

I L R 11 Lah 376

Sch I, Arts 59 60—Loan or deposit—Money left with a trader not being a banker if loan or deposit—Deposit in Art 60 meaning of Under Art 60 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) money left in the hands of a trader who is not a banker will be a deposit in circumstances such as would make it money of a customer where the deposit is a banker. Art 60 and not Art 59 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to a suit to recover money so deposited even though it is payable on demand. The word deposit in Art 60 is used in a non legal sense. Official Assignee of Madras v Smith I L R 32 Mad 68. Perundentayar Ammal v Nammalvar Chetti I L R 18 Mad 350 and Ishar v Khuder Bhadur v Jibun Kumari Bibi I L R 16 Cal 25 followed. Dharam Das v Ganga Devi I L R 29 All 773 and Ichha Dhany v Yatha I L R 13 Bom 338 dissented from. Sinclair v Brougham (Birbeck Bank Case) (1914) A C 393 referred to. SUBBAMANIAN CHETTIAR v KADIRESWARI CHETTIAR (1916)
I L R 39 Mad. 1081

Sch I Arts 60 145—See ART 49 I L R 41 All 643

Limitation—Suit to recover money deposited with banking firm. There is no doubt since the passing of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 that a suit for the recovery of money deposited with a banker and repayable on demand is governed by Art 60 and not by Art 59 of the first schedule to the Act. Dharam Das v Ganga Devi I L R 29 All 773 referred to. JUGOT LAL v KISHAN LAL (1915)
I L R 37 All 292

Sch I Arts 60 61 62—See ART 49 I L R 37 Mad 381

Sch I Arts 60 63—Interest due on the various transactions with Nattukottai Chettis—Hindu widow—Interest in her husband's assets—Acquiescence in treating it as part of her husband's estate—Effect on her death. If a Hindu widow acquiesces in treating the interest on the investments of her husband's assets as part of her husband's estate it will descend on her death to her husband's heirs. If money is deposited with Nattukottai Chettis on Thavanas with the understanding that at the end of each Thavanas period the interest for that period is not payable but is to be added to the principal and both are to be treated as a fresh deposit. Art 60 of the Limitation Act is applicable to the recovery of such interest and it becomes payable only on demand. Art 63 does not apply. NATAYANAN CHETTI v SUFFIAN CHETTI (19-0)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.

Sch I Arts 60 63—contd.

I L R 43 Mad 629

Sch I Art 61—

Revenue paid by person in possession under an order which is subsequently reversed on appeal—Suit to recover revenue so paid from successful compeller—Limitation. A obtained possession of certain revenue paying property under an order passed in mutation proceedings and whilst in possession paid the revenue due in respect of the property. But the order in favour of A was subsequently set aside and B obtained possession under the order of the appellate court. Held that A's claim to recover the revenue which he had paid during the period of his possession was a claim for money payable to the plaintiff for money paid for the defendant and the limitation applicable was that prescribed by Art 61 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. ALAYAR KHAN v BIRI KUNWAR

I L R 42 All 61

Sch I Arts 61 99 120—Contribution suit—Limitation when begins to run—Date of payment. One P B deposited a certain sum of money in a Bank owned by R and his two brothers S and G. P B brought a suit and obtained a decree for the money deposited against R and the representatives of his brothers S and G. On appeal the High Court exempted G's representatives from liability under the decree in so far as they inherited the share of the family property from G. R B executed his decree against R and advertised some properties exclusively belonging to R for sale. On the 8th December 1900 one Paja S as the purchaser of certain mehals belonging to R and his son (the plaintiff) paid in the decretal amount and the execution case was finally struck off. R put in an application stating that the petition filed by the decree holder stating satisfaction of the decree was without his knowledge and that the negotiations between Raja S and himself regarding the sale of the properties had not been concluded. Raja S sued R for specific performance of the contract to sell and ultimately the High Court held that he could not get a decree for specific performance but was only entitled to get back the money advanced with interest from the 8th December 1900. On 11th January 1906 Raja S in execution of this decree sold certain properties belonging to the plaintiff the sale being confirmed on 21st June 1906 when Raja S obtained payment. On 3rd February 1908 the plaintiff instituted a suit for contribution against the legal representatives of R's brother S. Held that it was doubtful whether Arts 61 and 99 Sch I of the Limitation Act were applicable to the present case and under Art 120 the period of limitation was six years from the time when the right to sue accrued. The date of payment by Raja S was not the date of payment by R within the meaning of Art 99 of the Limitation Act. The plaintiff's right to sue accrued when the decree obtained by Raja S was satisfied by sale of plaintiff's property and the suit being brought within two years from the date of that payment was not barred by limitation. JANKI KOEP v DOMI LAL (1913) 18 C W N 439

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I Arts 61 & 120—concl'd

Arts 61 and 116—Well jointly owned by parties—Registered agreement for effecting repairs of well jointly—Repairs made at plaintiff's costs—Suit for contribution of expenses—Claim not for compensation for breach of a contract in writing registered—Limitation three years. The plaintiff and the defendant jointly owned a well. They entered into a registered agreement to the effect that the repairs of the well were to be made by them jointly. The repairs were effected by the Municipality at the instance of the plaintiff who paid a certain amount to the Municipality in 1911. The plaintiff having sued the defendant in 1916 for the contribution claimable in respect of the repairs of the well it was contended that the suit being covered by Art 116 of the Limitation Act 1908 was not barred by limitation. Held that the suit being in fact a suit for contribution in which the right of action did not rest upon the registered contract was time barred after three years. SUBAJPRASAD DWARKADAS v KARMAJI ABDULMITA (1916) I L P 44 Bom 591

Art 62—

See ART 2 I L M 26 All 555

See ART 31 I L R 44 Mad 823

See BHAGAL ZAMINDARI REVENUE ACT I Pat L J 374

See BHAGDARI AND HARWADARI TREASURES ACT (BOM V of 1802) s 3

I L R 39 Bom 358

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 11 I L P 40 Bom 614

See CONTRACT I L R 41 Mad 488

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Art 62—concl'd suit was barred by Art 62 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Mahomed Wahid v Mahomed Ameer I L R 32 Cal 597 followed. Umaradara. Ali Khan v Wilayat Ali Khan I L R 19 All 169 and Mahomed Riasat Ali v Hassan Hanu I L R 21 Cal 157 referred to. AMINA BIBI v NAJM U D DISSA (1915) I L R 37 All 233

3 ———— Limitation—Suit for money had and received—Suit by heir to recover share of inheritance from person appointed to wind up estate. Where pending arbitration in respect of the distribution of the estate of a deceased person amongst his heirs the estate was by their consent put in charge of a third party who was to realize the assets and pay the debts it was held that a suit by one of the heirs to recover from such person her share by inheritance was a suit for money had and received and was governed by Art 62 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. MASIN UD DIN v IMTIAZ UD NESSA BIBI (1914) I L P 37 All 40

4 ———— Limitation—Succession certificate obtained by one of the heirs of a deceased person—Suit by remaining heir for recovery of her share. A certain Mahomedan in the year 1903 obtained a succession certificate to realize debts due to his deceased uncle and realised some of those debts. In the year 1913 the widow of his brother who had died subsequent to the death of his uncle brought the present suit for her husband's share of the money realised. Held that Art 62 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 governed the suit and as no money had been realised by the holder of the succession certificate within three years of the suit it was barred by limitation. AMINA BIBI v NAJM U D DISSA BIBI I L R 37 All 233. Parasram Rao Tania v Radha Bai I L R 31 All 318. Mashid ud din v Imtia. un nissa Bibi I L R 37 All 40. Mahomed Wahid v Mahomed Ameer I L R 32 Cal 597 followed. Umaradara. Ali Khan v Wilayat Ali Khan I L R 19 All 169 distinguished. ABDUL GHAFAR v NUR JAHAN BEGUM (1915) I L R 37 All 434

5 ———— Suit for refund of consideration money where there is total failure of consideration. When there is total failure of consideration with regard to a lease a claim to a refund of the consideration money is governed by Art 62 of the First Schedule of the Limitation Act. BISWANATH GORAI v SORENDRA MOHAY GHOSH (1913) 18 C W N 120

6 ———— Suit for money taken in execution of a decree—Compensation—Suit for money had and received. In execution of a decree certain rents due to the judgment debtor from his tenants were attached prior to the passing of this decree the judgment debtor had sold the property to a third party. The decree holder got the court a writ to realize the rent due from the tenants and they were deposited in Court and ultimately paid over to the decree holder. The purchaser brought the present suit against the decree holder for the recovery of the money within three years of the payment to him. Held that the suit was money had and received within the meaning of art 62 of the I L R the Indian Limitation Act. Jagjivan Jafardas v

1 ———— Payment by cheque. In case of payment by a cheque limitation runs not from the date of the delivery of the cheque but from the date of the receipt of the money by the payee. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v MAJOR HIGGINS (1913) I L R 38 Bom 293

2 ———— Limitation—Debt due to all the heirs of a deceased recovered by some of them—Suit by remaining heir for recovery of her share. Some of the heirs of a deceased Muhammadan brought a suit upon a mortgage in his favour impleading as a defendant the remaining heir. The plaintiffs obtained a decree and in execution thereof brought the mortgaged property to sale on the 1st of May 1906 and purchased it at a price for the sum slightly in excess of the amount of the decree and costs. The decree holders and purchasers paid in the excess and filed a suit. On the 1st of June 1911 the remaining heir applied to recover her share in the property and in the alternative a share in the property released. Held that the plaintiff had no cause of action so far as the property was concerned and that as to the money her

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Art 62—co cit

Gulam Jilani Chowdhury I L R 8 Bom 17
disentled from NADAR SINGH & GANGA DRI
(1916) I L R 38 All 6-6

Arts 88 and 89—Hindu joint family—

Part tie of immovable properties—C's securities left joint—Manager failing to account—Suit for account—Manager holding as an agent—Limita tion Plaintiff and his two brothers lived jointly.
They divided their immovable estate in 1893 but kept joint certain cash securities as they were all in the name of their elder brother I am ing.
At the time of the partition it was orally agreed that I am ing should realize the securities and divide the proceeds among the three brother.
Ramsing did not divide the proceed nor gave any account. He died on the 6th January 1914 thereafter plaintiff demanded an account from Ramsing's son but he having refused a suit was filed by the plaintiff for an account on the 3rd January 1917. Both the lower Courts dismissed the suit as being barred under Art 1 of the Limitation Act 1908. On appeal to the High Court. Held that the suit was not barred as it was governed by Art 89 of the Limitation Act inasmuch as Ramsing must be considered as an agent of his brothers and time would not begin to run until the account was demanded and refused.
Litico Tewary v Doona Tewary (1896) 24 Calc 309 doubted (ACB v JIRU (10 0)

I L R 45 Bom 313

Sch I Arts 62 and 97

Ss LIMITATION I L R 86 Calc 670

Sale of land by one having a voidable title and putting purchaser in possession thereunder—Dispossession by person entitled to avoid—Cause of action for return of purchase money only on dispossession A who had a title to certain immovable property void-able at the option of C sold it to B and put B in possession thereof. C then brought a suit against A and B got a decree and obtained possession thereof in execution. Held that B's cause of action for the return of the purchase money arose not on the date of the sale but on the date of his dispossession when alone there was a failure of consideration and that the article applicable was Art 97 of the Limitation Act. Cases on the subject reviewed SUBBARAO & RAJAGOPALA

(1914) I L R 88 Mad. 887

Arts 62 102—

S ART 2 I L R 36 All 555

Sch. I, Arts 62, 120—

Ss ART 20 I L R 38 Mad 972

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 315

I L R 35 All 419

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I Arts 62 120—contd

family and the property of all was managed for a series of years by one member of the family acting as if he were the larta of a joint Hindu family. Held on suit by the widow of one of the members of the family to recover from the manager her deceased husband's share of money received by the defendant as manager but owned by all the three members of the family in equal shares that the suit was not a suit for money had and received but was one to which Art 120 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act applied. PARSOTAM RAO TANTIA v
RADHA BAI (1914) I L R 37 All 318

2 Suit for money on the ground of wrongful rateable distribution governed by Art 62 and not by Art 120 of the Limitation Act—S 14 of the Limitation Act—Time taken to file and to prosecute a revision petition against order of wrongful distribution not to be deducted under s 14
A suit for money under s 73 cl (2) Civil Pro cedure Code on the ground that the plaintiff and not the defendant was entitled to receive the same in proceedings in execution of a decree for rateable distribution governed by Art 62 and not by Art 120 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) the cause of action arising on the date of wrongful payment to the defendant. In com puting the period of limitation for the filing of such a suit the plaintiff is not entitled to deduct under s 14 of the Limitation Act the period of time taken by him to file a revision petition in the High Court or the time during which the plaintiff was prosecuting the revision petition against the order of wrongful distribution. Vishnu Bhikaji Phadke v Achut Jogannath Ghate I L R
15 Bom 433 followed Ramaswamy Chetty v Hanrikishna Chetty 21 Mad L J 705 not followed BAIKYNATH LALA & RAMADASS (1914)
I L R 38 Mad 62

3 Civil Procedure
Code (Act V of 1908) O XXII rr 11 and 9—Withdrawal of surplus sale proceeds belonging to the plaintiff by defendant—Suit instituted more than three years from date of withdrawal. Where an application for substitution was made more than six months after the appellant's death before the Registrar and the respondents did not put in any objection before the Registrar to the hearing of the appeal the application for substitution was treated as an application for the restoration of the appeal after abatement. The plaintiff a pur chaser at auction sale of a revenue paying estate made default in the payment of Government revenue and the estate was sold and the surplus sale proceeds were withdrawn by the defendants the original proprietors whose names still remained in the register and a suit was instituted by the plaintiff for the recovery of the money so with drawn more than three years after the date of withdrawal. Held that Art 62 of the Limitation Act applied and the suit was barred by Limitation
Muhammad Wahib v Muhammad Ameer I L R
32 Calc 577 and Lachmi Narain Singh v Dhanu dhari Prasad Singh 17 Ind Cas 351 referred to Money paid to one party with the implied intention that it should finally reach the hands of the party to whom it actually belongs is money within the meaning of Art 62 paid to that party for the use of the actual person in whom the right to receive it vests. HARIHAR MISSEER & SYED MOHAMMED
(1916) 20 C W N 933

1 Separate Hindu family—Property managed by one member—Receipt of money by that member—Suit for partition. Three brothers who had been living with their father as a joint Hindu family obtained under the will of their father in whose hands it was separate property a considerable amount of movable and immovable property. The property bequeathed was divided by the will into three lots but the legatees still continued to live as a joint Hindu

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I Arts 62 120—contd

4 ————— Suit by one part owner of a jaghir against another who was also manager—Suit for account and recovery of income—Nature of suit—Suit in a District Munsif's Court for one year's income—Plaint returned for presentation to proper Court—Plaint not represented—Subsequent suit in a District Court for income due for previous years—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O II s 2 suit if barred under The plaintiff and the defendant were co sharers in a jaghir of which the latter was appointed by the Government as manager The former sued the latter in a District Munsif's Court for his share of the net income due for the year 1912 but the plaint was returned for presentation to the proper Court as the valuation of the suit exceeded the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the said Court the plaintiff did not represent the plaint in any Court but subsequently instituted the present suit in 1913 in the District Court for an account and recovery of his share of income due for the years 1900 to 1907 The defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation and by O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code Held that the suit was one for an account which was governed by Art 120 and not Art 62 of the Limitation Act and that the suit was not barred by limitation Muhammad Habibullah Khan v Safdar Husain Khan I L R 7 All 20 followed Held also that the suit was not barred under O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code FURBA RAO v PAMA RAO (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 291

5 ————— Money paid to one party with the implied intention that it should finally reach the hands of the party to whom it actually belongs to within Art 62 HARIZAR MANSAR v SIED MOHAMED

1 Pat L J 374

Sch I Arts 62 120 122—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT ss 82 100 I L R 33 All 708

Sch I Art 63—

S: Art 60 I L R 43 Mad 629

Sch I, Art 64—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 10 AND ART 64 5 Pat. L J 371

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE

I L R 38 Cal 394

Sch I Arts 64 69 115—Suit by principal against agent for recovery of money found due on adjustment of account—Limitation A suit contemplated by Art 89 of Sch I of the Limitation Act is a suit in which accounts have to be taken Where an account has been rendered Art 69 has no application Where an account has been taken and adjusted and a specific sum has been found due from the agent to the principal the principal becomes entitled to sue forthwith for recovery of that money and the position is not altered even if the agent continues thereafter to hold his office as agent of that principal Butler v Butler (1891) applies to such a suit KESHO PRASAD SINGH v BAWAN LAL (1910)

21 C W N 591

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Art 65—

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

I L R 44 Cal 978

Sch I Art 66—

See ART 116 I L R 38 Bom 177

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXIV, s 6 I L R 41 All 581

Sch I Arts 66 115 145—Deposit of money repayable at a fixed date—Art 66 and 115 applicable Art 145 not applicable—Deposit in Art 145 meaning of—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881)—Title of executor to sue even without Probate or Letters—Limitation Act s 17—Same word re enacted in a repealing Act—Construction same meaning as in the repealed Act Art 145 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) is not applicable to deposits of money Deposit in Art 145 means only deposit of goods to be returned in specie when wanted it is the sort of bailment known to lawyers under that name in the Roman Law of Bailments which was accepted by Bracton and afterwards by Lord Holt in Copps v Barnard (1703) 5 M L O 173 s c 2 Rayn 299 as fit to be enforced in England Jehur Chand v Bhaduri v Jibun Kumar Bibi I L R 16 Cal 25 and Perundeviyalar Ammal v Nam malwar Chetty I L R 18 Mad 390 followed Administrator General Bengal v Kristo Kamini Dassee I L R 31 Cal 619 and Lala Gobind Prasad v Chairman of Patna Municipality 6 C L J 555 not followed A loan repayable at a fixed date is governed by Art 66 and is not by Art 115 Unlike cases governed by the Indian Succession Act and the Hindu Wills Act in a case governed by the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) the obtaining of probate is not necessary to clothe the executor with the right to sue for debts due to the testator and the estate is represented by the executor even in the absence of probate within the meaning of s 17 of the Limitation Act and time begins to run from death of the testator's death as the obtaining of a succession certificate is not a condition precedent to the filing of a suit but is only necessary before getting a decree Where a word which is used in one sense in one Act is re enacted in a subsequent Act which repeals the former then unless there is some strong reason to the contrary it must be read in the same sense in the subsequent Act in which it is re enacted Mayor of Portsmouth v Smith I R 10 A C 361 s 1 referred to Testatrix lent money to the defendant on 15th August 1900 and died on 16th January 1901 The will was governed by the Probate and Administration Act Held that a suit by the executor in 1910 was barred by limitation either under Art 66 or 115 of the Limitation Act BALAKRISHNAN v NARAYANA WAI CHETIA (1914)

I L R 37 Mad 175

Sch I Art 73—Limitation—Promissory note—Writing restraining or postponing the right to sue Defendant borrowed money from a bank and executed a promissory note in favour of the bank on the 13th of June 1913. But on the same date he also wrote to the bank a letter in which he stated—The sum of Rs. 700 which I have borrowed from the Bank to day I undertake to pay principal and interest within one year If I cannot pay in within the time specified then they (the Bank) may realize (the money) in any way they please. Held that this letter amounted to a writing restraining or postponing the right to sue within the meaning of Art. 73 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 and limitation accordingly did not begin to run against the Bank until the period of one year from the date of the note had expired. JWALA PRASAD v SHAMA CHARAN I L R 42 All 55

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contdSch. I Art 73—*concl'd

Sch. I, Art 74 75 80 and 120—See LIMITATION

I L R 38 Mad 374

I L R 41 Mad 412

Sch I Art 75—See CONTRACT

3 Pct L J 412

1 Bond—Option of suing for whole amount due in default of payment of instalments—Limitation A bond payable by instalments gave to the creditor the option of suing for the whole amount due on default in payment of any instalment or of suing for the instalments separately. Two instalments were paid the third was not and more than six years after default in payment of this instalment nothing further having been paid on the bond the creditor sought to recover the whole amount due stating that the cause of action arose on the date when the third instalment became due. Held that the suit was time barred. Ajudhia v Kunjal I L R 30 Ill 123 distinguished. AMOLAK CHAND v BAIJNATH (1913) I L R 35 All 455

2 Limitation—Bond—Instalment—Power to sue for whole amount on default of payment of any instalment—Terminus a quo Where a bond payable by instalments provides that the creditor shall have power to sue for the whole amount of the bond upon default being made in payment of any one instalment this does not mean that the creditor is obliged to sue for the whole within the period of limitation from the first default made. He may if he so chooses waive this right and sue for such instalments as remain due and are not barred by limitation. Ajudhia v Kunjal I L R 30 All 123 followed. Amolak Chand v Baijnath I L R 35 All 455 and Chandan Singh v Bidhya Dhar 16 Indian Cases 806 distinguished. MOHAN LAL v TIRA RAM (1918) I L R 41 All 104

3 Bond repayable by instalments the whole to become payable on demand on default in paying one instalment—Meaning of on demand—Water A bond repayable by instalments contained the following stipulation—In default of our making such payment also the amount that may be found due for all future drawings shall be paid in a lump on your demand. Held that the cause of action for recovery of all the instalments would not arise until demand is made by the obligee in terms of the stipulation and that in consequence the whole amount did not become due merely on failure to pay an instalment. Hanmantram Sadharam v Arthur Douglas I L R 8 Bom 561 followed. The words on your demand mean when you require. Failure to make the demand will constitute a waiver of the right stipulated for. Hurri Pershad Choudhry v Nand Singh I L R 21 Cal 542 547 and Jadab Chandra Bakshi v

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contdSch I, Art 75—*concl'd

Bhaurab Chandra Chuckerbutty I L R 31 Cal 297 dissented from. KABUNAKARAN NAIR v KRISHNA MENON (1913) I L R 56 Mad 60

Sch I, Art 78—See LIMITATION (53)

I L R 46 Cal 168

Sch I Art 80—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ARTS 73 AND 80 I L R 42 All 55

Promissory note payable on demand—Agreement fixing time for payment—Suit by payee—Limitation from the expiry of the period fixed Art 80 of the Limitation Act is the article applicable to a suit by the payee on a promissory note payable on demand but accompanied by an agreement fixing a period for payment and time begins to run from the expiry of the period fixed in the accompanying agreement. Simon v Hakim Mahomed Sherif I L R 19 Mad 368 and Somasundaram Chettiar v Narasimha Chariar I L R 29 Mad 212 overruled. ANNAMALAI CHETTI v VELAYUDA NADAR (1915) I L R 39 Mad. 129

Sch I, Arts 81 89—

See ART 49 I L R 37 Mad 381

Sch I Art 83—Limitation—Suit upon a covenant in a registered deed of sale to recover excess money paid for redemption of a mortgage on the property sold One S B on 20th May 1899 sold certain immovable property. The sale deed was registered the consideration money being Rs 3900 out of which Rs 2000 was to be paid by the vendee to a mortgagee and in the event of the mortgage money being in excess of Rs 2000 S B was to liable for such excess. The vendee was forced to sue the mortgagee for redemption and obtained a decree on 21st July 1911 on payment of Rs 3176 90. This payment was made on the 5th December 1911 and on 20th July 1916 the vendee brought the present suit against the heirs of S B (who had since died) for recovery of Rs 1176 90 and Rs 383 70 costs of the redemption suit. Held that the combined effect of article 116 read with article 83 of the Limitation Act gave the period of 6 years for the suit time running from the date when the plaintiffs were actually damaged i.e. the 5th December 1911 when the payment was actually made by the plaintiffs and that the suit was therefore within time. Srinivasa Raghavar v Ramaswami (I L R 31 Mad 452) and Iam Borai Singh v Mohardra Feroz Singh (16 Indian Cases 73) followed. Paghubar Dial v Madan Mohan (I L R 16 All 3) not followed. Hari Tiwari v Paghunath Tiwari (I L R 11 All 20) distinguished. Shree Narain v Beni Madho (I L R 23 All 285) Evidip Dube v Mahaul Dube (I L R 34 All 43) Bhajakari Saha v Behary Lal (I L R 33 Cal 831) and 27 Mad. L J notes 46 referred to. ABDUL AZIZ KHAN v MUHAMMAD BAKSHI I L R 2 Lah 316

Sch. I, Art 84—See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT

I L R 40 Cal 249

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Art 85—

Limitation—Mutual open and current account, where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties Held that an account with a bank which commenced by the custom of borrowing money from the bank and which at no time showed a balance in favour of the customer was not a mutual open and current account where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties within the meaning of Art 85 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 Ram Pershad v Harbans Singh 6 C L J 155 and Hajee Syul Mahomed v Ashraf-un-nissa 1 L R 6 Calc 7-9 referred to BAKER OF MUTTAI LIMITED v KAMTA PRASAD (1916) 1 L R 30 All 33

Limitation—suit for balance due on a current account where last item is within time but that item was advanced more than three years after the close of the year in which the last preceding item was entered Held that where the last item in a mutual open and current account was advanced to defendants within limitation, but this item was advanced more than three years after the close of the year in which the last preceding item was entered the suit is barred by limitation in respect of the previous account—vide Art 85 of the Limitation Act. RUSTOMJI'S LAW OF LIMITATION II Edition page 303 referred to GOVIND RAM v JAWALA RAM 1 L R 1 Lah 12

Sch I Art 89—

See ACCOUNT SUIT FOR

1 L R 43 Calc 108

1. Death of principal—Agent continuing in service of firm—Old agency if subsists—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 209 253—Demand of accounts—Agent failing to comply of refusal—Agent not responding to demand for explanation of account papers submitted if refusal—Obligation to explain papers The death of the principal terminates the agency Where on the death of the principal the agent continued in the service of his successors in interest Held—That a new agency not governed by the original contract was created Where under such new arrangement parties agreed that account should be submitted from year to year a suit against the agent would not be governed by Art 115 but by Art 89 of Sch I of the Limitation Act. Feroze v Baroda Kishore 11 C L J 43 not followed. Shih Chandra Ruy v Chandra Narain Mukerjee 1 L R 32 Calc 719 s c 1 C L J 23^a and Anghar Ali Khan v Khurshed Ali Khan 1 L R 24 All 27 relied on. If there has been a demand for accounts and the agent has not responded to the call there is by implication a refusal within the meaning of Art 89 This is the case also where the agent has submitted accounts but has failed to respond to the principals demand to explain them Chandra Madhab Barua v Nabin Chandra Barua 1 L P 40 Calc 103 not followed. MADHUSUDAN SEV v RAKHAL CHANDRA DAS BASAK (1915) 19 C W N 1070 1 L R 43 Calc 248

2. Agent liability of to principal suit on—Limitation—Agency termination of—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) Money is moveable property within the meaning of Art 89 of the Limitation Act Ashgar Ali

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Art 89—contd

Khan v Khurshed Ali Khan 1 L P 21 All 27 followed Art 89 applies to suits by a principal against an agent for moveable property received by the latter and not accounted for and time begins to run when the account is during the continuance of the agency demanded and refused or when no such demand is made when the agency terminates An agency is determined when the agent ceases to represent the principal though his liability in respect of acts done by him as agent may continue Libu Ram v Jim Dayal 1 L P 17 All 511 and Fint v Bullock Das 1 L P 16 Calc 75 disented from Joge h Chandra Chose v Bode Lal Jai 11 C W N 1 not followed VENKATACHALAM v NARAYAN (1914) 1 L R 30 Mad 3-6

Dismissal to render accounts when amounts to a refusal A rent collector employed under a registered agreement was called upon to render accounts up to 12th April on or before the 13th May 1914 No accounts were rendered as demanded and on 11th October 1914 the said rent collector was dismissed and ordered to render accounts up to date Subsequently a suit for accounts was instituted on the 27th August 1915 Held that Arts 115 and 116 of the Limitation Act did not apply to the case. In order to make them applicable it must be shown that the suit was not specifically provided for in the schedule Art 89 applied to the case as the term moveable property includes money and consequently excludes the operation of Arts 115 and 116 That there having been a demand for accounts non-compliance with the demand amounted to a refusal and the suit in so far as it claimed accounts up to 12th April 1914 must be deemed barred by limitation as it was instituted after the lapse of three years from the date of refusal s c 13th May 1914 Madhusudan v Pakhal (1) Nabin v Chandra (2) and Mahabir v Sheikh Bahadur (3) and other cases referred to That the agency having been terminated by the dismissal on the 11th October 1915 and the suit having been brought within three years from that date the plaintiff was entitled to accounts from the defendant other than the accounts demanded in April 1914 The suit was thus in time for the accounts from 13th April 1914 to 11th October 1915

PANDIT RAM RAM MOHAPATRA v JAGADISH NATH ROY

28 C W N 91

Sch I Arts 88 115—

s c Art 64 21 C W N 591

Sch I Arts 89 115 and 120—

See LAMBHAR 4 Pat L J 304

Sch I Arts 89 115 132—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
1 L R 43 Calc 248
1 L R 41 Mad 1

Sch I Art 91—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 ART 91

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE
1 L R 39 Mad 456

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I, Art 91—contd

See Art 14 I L R 44 Bom 261

See Art 44 I L R 2 Lah 164

See KNOJA I L R 33 Bom 419

Held that in a suit to set aside an alienation of the Plaintiff's property made during his minority by his guardian the limitation applicable to Art 141 of Sch II of the Limitation Act 1877 BACHCHAN SINGH v KANTA PRASAD I L R 32 All 392

Alienation by Hindu widow—S if by reversioner to recover possession of property alienated—Alienation joint to be sham—Limitation A Hindu widow having alienated a property of her husband the reversioners sued more than three years after the date of alienation to recover possession of the property. It was found that the alienation was merely a sham. The lower Courts held that Art. 91 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act 1908 did not apply and decreed the suit. The defendant having appealed Held that Art 91 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act had no application for the apparent obstacle presented by the mortgage proved usual and ineffectual MAN CHHABAI v LAKSHMI LALLUBHAI (1910)

I L R 40 Bom 51

Sale deed executed by a minor—Void instrument—Suit to recover possession—Suit for cancellation of sale deed whether necessary Art 91 Sch. I of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 does not apply to a suit for possession where the plaintiff alleges and proves that a sale-deed is void because it was executed by him whilst a minor but does not claim expressly to have it cancelled or set aside NARAYAN GOLYDA v CHAWAGOLYDA (1918)

I L R 42 Bom 638

Plaintiff fraudulently made to execute a deed of a different nature from that agreed upon—Suit to recover property affected—Limitation—Void or voidable Where it is established that the plaintiff by defendants' misrepresentation was got to execute a deed of sale believing the same to have been a deed of a different kind the transaction is void and not voidable only and Art 91 of the Limitation Act has no application to his suit to recover the property SAYNI LIBI v SIDDIK HUSAN MUMSHI (1918)

23 C W N 93

Sch I Arts 91 120—Limitation—Suit for declaration that nominal lessee is not the beneficial lessee but merely benamidar or the plaintiff Held that a suit for declaration that the defendant whose name appeared in a certain lease as lessee had no interest under the lease and that the person really interested in the lease was the plaintiff was governed as to limitation by Art 170 and not by Art 91 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 the cause of action accruing to the plaintiff when his position as a lessee was challenged BASANT LAL v CHHIDANI LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 149

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Arts 91 120—Suit to set aside a mortgage—Mortgage deed executed without consideration and not intended to be operative—Cause of action A suit to set aside a mortgage deed was brought nine years after its execution on the ground that the defendant only recently threatened to bring a suit on the basis of it though when it was executed it was never intended to be acted upon no consideration having passed for it. Held that the suit was barred by limitation no matter whether Art 91 or Art 120 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act applied to the suit the fact entitling the plaintiff to have the documents set aside having been known to him from the very outset Singarappa v Talaru Sanyappa I L R 28 Mad 349 and Vithai v Hari I L R 25 Bom 78 referred to QASIM BEG v MUHAMMAD ZIA BEG (1910)

I L R 37 All 640

Sch I Arts 91, 100 and 120—Suit or setting aside or cancelling a written instrument on the ground of fraud and declaration of title—Deed if need be set aside when instrument void ab initio Plaintiff prayed inter alia (1) for a declaration that a deed of gift was void and inoperative in that the donor signed the deed believing owing to the fraud and misrepresentation of the donee that it was only a power of attorney and (2) for a declaration of title in certain Government Promissory Note the subject of the deed of gift. The deed was signed on the 12th July 1908 and the donor came to know of the fraud on the 23rd January 1915 and the suit was instituted on the 22nd December 1919. Held that the three years limitation provided by Arts 91 and 120 of the Limitation Act did apply to the suit inasmuch as the principle laid down in Foster v Mackinnon (1) that the alleged deed is no deed was applicable so that the deed being void ab initio did not require to be set aside or cancelled. Held further with reference to the relief sought for in cl (2) of the prayer that Art 120 of the Act would apply and that Sec 18 would prevent the period of limitation from running until the fraud became known SARAT CHANDRA GUPTA v KANAI LAL CHAKRABARTY 26 C W N 48

Sch I Arts 91 and 124

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE

I L R 39 Mad 456

Sch I Arts 92 93—Suit to declare the forgery of an instrument—Attempt—Lease—Attempt to record a lease under the Record of Rights Act (Bom Act 14 of 1903) is not an attempt to enforce. The defendant applied to the Mamlatdar to record under the Record of Rights Act 1903 a lease under which he claimed to be entitled to a rent of 400 cocoanuts from the plaintiff. The application was made on the 4th August 1908 but the plaintiff having complained that the document was a forgery the Mamlatdar declined to record it. The defendant then applied to the Collector who on the 11th August 1909 ordered that the lease should be recorded. On the strength of the record the defendant sued in the Mamlatdar's Court for the enforcement of the terms of the lease and recovered in April and July 1912 cocoanuts of the value of upwards of Rs 40. Within three years of the recovery of these cocoanuts the plaintiff brought the suit to recover back the value of the cocoanuts on the footing of the alleged lease being a forgery. The defen dant contended that the suit was barred under Art 93 of the Limitation Act on the ground that it was filed more than three years after the 4th August 1908 the date of an attempt to enforce it against the plaintiff. Held that the suit was not barred under Art 93 of the Limitation Act 1908 as the first real attempt to enforce the lease took place when the defendant attempted to recover the rent under the lease and that attempt was made within three years of the institution of the suit. The attempt to get the lease recorded under the Record of Rights Act could not be put higher than an unsuccessful attempt to have a document registered in a case in which registration was necessary (Art 92) and that such an attempt was not an attempt to enforce the lease. ACHUT PATAPE & GOPAL SUBBAYA (1916)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contdSch I Arts 92, 93—*contd

I L R 40 Bom 22

Sch I Art 95—

See ART 12 I L R 38 Mad 1076

See ART 91 26 C W N 480

Sch I Art 95—Relief not claimed distinctly on the ground of fraud—Executor—Suit without probate—Decree—Limitation from the date of testator's death—Fraud in the performance of contract no ground for rescission—Partnership—Fresh agreement—Devotion—Suit for an account on the footing of continuance of original partnership—Suit not maintainable Art 95 Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) has no application where on the face of the plaint no equitable relief is claimed on the ground of fraud. Abdul Hakim v Karpam Dayal I L J 18 Bom 186 and Gour Mohun Gouli v Dinanath Karmolar I L R 25 Cal 49 referred to. An executor is capable of instituting a suit without obtaining a probate although he might not be able to proceed as far as decree without obtaining a probate. Fraud in the performance of a contract apart from its making is no ground for rescission and restoration of the parties to the position in which they were before the contract was entered into. A testator appointed his widow as the guardian of his minor children and executrix (by tenor) of his will. On his death the widow consented to the retention of the testator's share in a partnership business by the surviving partners and subsequently to a transfer of the same to another business. In an action brought by one of the testator's sons as administrator against the surviving partners for an account of all the assets of the testator at the time of his death retained and employed by the defendants in their business. Held dismissing the suit that the testator's widow was perfectly competent as his executrix to enter into the arrangement which was a novatio with the surviving partners so as to bind the estate and the suit against the partners on the footing of a continuance of the original partnership was not maintainable. JAMSETJI NASSAR WANJI v HIRJIBHAI NAGROJI (1912)

1 L E 37 Bom 158

Sch I Arts 95, 120—

See ART 44 I L R 2 Lah 164

Sch I Art 96—Mistake—Discovery of mistake when first Court's decree was passed—Appeal—Dismissal of appeal—Time begins to run from the date of the first Court's decree In 1903

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contdSch I Art 96—*contd

plaintiff No 2 obtained a decree for partition against the defendant his father and plaintiff No 1. In execution of that decree a compromise was effected between the parties and certain properties including a mortgage debt due to the family were allotted to plaintiffs Nos 1 and 2. The plaintiffs sued the mortgagors in 1910 to recover the mortgage amount but the suit was dismissed as it was held that the consideration for the mortgage had been paid off. The decree of the trial Court was passed in 1912. The plaintiffs appealed but the appeal was dismissed on the 11th July 1914. On the 28th June 1917 the plaintiffs sued to recover from the defendant their share of the loss. The Subordinate Judge found that it was a case of mutual mistake under which all the parties considered that the mortgage was a perfectly good asset and therefore held the defendant liable to contribute to the loss. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that the suit was barred under Art 96 of the Limitation Act as the discovery of the mistake dated not later than the first Court's decree which was passed in 1912 and time began to run against the plaintiff from that date. Hulunchand v Pirichand (1914) 21 Bom J 1 637 relied on. Under Indian law an original decree is not suspended by presentation of an appeal nor is its operation interrupted where the decree on appeal is one of dismissal. MARTAND MAHADEV v DUORDO MORESHWAR (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 582

Sch I Art 97—

See ART 6 I L R 38 Mad 587

Money due on an existing consideration which afterwards fails—Limitation Defendant No 1 agreed with the plaintiff in September 1908 for a price to procure from defendant No 2 a re-conveyance of a house to the plaintiff. In November 1908 defendant No 2 conveyed the house to F. In 1910 F sued to recover possession of the house from the plaintiff and obtained a decree in July 1911. The plaintiff sued in January 1912 to recover the consideration money. The lower Courts held that the suit was within time under Art 97 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908). On appeal Held that the suit was time barred even under Art 97 for after the sale to F defendant No 1 could not have had anything to do with the house and the possession which the plaintiff was allowed to retain must have been on F's sufferance. GULARCHAND BALARAM v NARAYAN (1916)

I L H 41 Bom 31

Failure of consideration suit on—Sale by a member of joint Hindu family—Mitakshara law—Suit by vendee for 200 sessions—Previous sale by manager—Suit dismissed finally by High Court on Second Appeal—Subsequent suit for refund of price and costs of litigation—Suit within three years of decree of High Court whether barred—Failure of consideration when—Costs of litigation whether recoverable—Courts of review in High Court whether recoverable. Where a purchaser of the share in certain lands of a member of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara law sued to recover possession of the same from another who had previ ously purchased the entire lands from the managing member of the family succeeded in the Original Court but failed in the lower Appellate Court on appeal and in the High Court on Second Appeal and in the review therein and where he brought another suit within three years of the decree in the High Court for refund of the price paid by him and for the cost of the litigation against his vendor who pleaded the bar of limitation Held that the suit was not barred by limitation under Art 97 of the Limitation Act as the consideration failed only when it was finally determined by the High Court in Second Appeal that the sale by the plaintiff's vendor could not take effect against the prior sale by the manager and that the costs of litigation were legally recoverable except the costs of review which was a luxury indulged in by the plaintiff Hanuman Kamat v Hanuman Mandur I L P 19 Calc 199 distinguished Subaroya v Rajagopala I L R 33 Mad 887 and Venkataramayya v Lanka Pam Brahman 35 M L J 194 followed SAEYOTHANA RAO v CHINNASAMI PILLAI (1918)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Art 97—contd

I L R 42 Mad. 507

Sch I Arts 97 62—Failure of consideration—Sale of land—purchaser stepping into possession—Loss of possession at the suit of a third party the real owner—Suit to recover purchase money from vendor—Limitation In 1903 the defendant sold certain land to the plaintiff under the bond vide belief that he was entitled to do so and placed the plaintiff in possession In 1909 the true owner of the land recovered possession thereof from the plaintiff In a suit by the plaintiff to recover the purchase money from the defendant the Court of the first instance held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 62 of the First Schedule to the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) for the purchase money paid to the defendant was money had and received to the plaintiff's use On appeal it was held that the claim was within time under Art 97 of the Act On appeal to the High Court Held that the suit was governed by Art 97 inasmuch as possession given under the purchase to the plaintiff was an existing consideration as long as it lasted Hanuman Kamat v Hanuman Mandur I L P 19 Calc 193 followed NARSING SHIVAKAS v PACHU PAMBAKAS (1913)

I L R 37 Bom 538

Arts 97 116—Breach of contract

Damages suit to recover—Limitation In 1911 the plaintiffs bought two lands under a registered sale deed and went into possession One of the lands was let to a tenant The tenant claimed the land as his own and established his title to the land in 1913 the decree was confirmed by the High Court In 1917 the plaintiffs sued their vendors for cancellation of the sale of 1911 and to recover the consideration money together with the amount spent by them in improving the land and the costs incurred by them in defending the suit brought by the tenant The trial Court held that the consideration for the sale failed in 1913 when the tenant established his claim in a Court of law and that the suit was barred by Art 97 of the Indian Limitation Act On plaintiff's appeal Held that though the cause of action arose in 1913 the contract of sale having been registered the suit was governed by Art 116 of the Indian Limitation Act and was in time Subbaroya v Rajagopala (1914) 38 Mad 887 Hukumchand v Prithchand (1918) 21 Bom L R 632 and Martand Mahadev v Dhondo Morchkar (1920) 45 Bom 589 followed Per MacLEOD C J—It must specially be noted that it is not the case that the seller had no title at all so that it could be said that he was selling nothing and that therefore the transaction was void ab initio nor is it a case where the purchaser got no possession Here undoubtedly at the time the sale deed was passed it was considered that the defendants had a good title to convey the free hold and it was only in 1913 when (the tenant) filed his suit that it was discovered that there was a claimant who asked to be allowed to redeem and his claim eventually proved successful Per LAWCETT J—A distinction should be made between cases where from the inception the vendor had no title to convey and the vendee has not been put in possession of the property and other case, such as the present one where the sale is only voidable on the objection of third parties and possession is taken under the sale I think it is only in the first class of cases that the starting point of limitation will be the date of sale MULTAKMAL v BUDHIMAL (1920)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdArts 97 116—contd

I L R 45 Bom 955

Sch I Arts 90 120—

See ART 61 I R C W N 480

Sch I Arts 101 102—

See ART 4 I L R 41 Mad 528

Sch I Art 102—

See ART 2 I L R 58 All 555

Sch I Art 106—Suit for partnership accounts—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 106—Specific assets realised within period of limitation If a suit for general partnership accounts and a share in partnership profits is itself barred the plaintiff in such a suit cannot be allowed to proceed speculatively against any and every partnership asset which may have been realised by the defendant after dissolution and within the period of limitation Mercurys, Hornmays v Pustoms, Burjors I L P 6 Bom 698 distinguished ARMED SULEMAN v BHAGWANDAS VISRAM AND Co (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 515

Sch I Arts 106 and 120—

See s 19 22 C W N 104

Question as to what amount to a dissolution of a partnership dissolved and which article was applicable to the case HARANDHAN PODDAR and others v SODARSON PODDAR

25 M W N 847

Sch I Art 109—Usufruct or mortgage—Suit by mortgagee for possession and mere profits—Limitation Where a usufructuary mortgage is wrongfully kept out of possession of the mortgaged property his proper remedy is a suit for possession and for mere profits As regards the latter remedy the period of limitation applicable is that prescribed by Art 109 of the First schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 RAM SAKUR v HARPAL (1916)

I L R 39 All 200

Suit on mortgage—Profits received by transferee—pendent lite—Suit by purchaser at mortgage sale to recover same—Pro

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.Sch I, Art 109—*concl'd

filed if wrongfully received The words wrongfully received in Art 109 of the Limitation Act include receipts of profits that cannot be legally substantiated. It was held in a suit between the purchaser at a mortgage sale and the holder of a usufructuary mortgage granted by the mortgagor after the passing of the mortgage decree that the usufructuary mortgage was void as against the purchaser owing to the application of the doctrine of lis pendens. The purchaser having sued the usufructuary mortgagee to recover rents realised by the latter from certain tenants of the property before the Plaintiff obtained possession under his purchase. Held That Art 109 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. NAGENDRA NATH LAL v. SAPAT KAMINI DAS 11 B C W N 336

Sch I Art 110—

See BENGAL TENANTS ACT 1883 Sch

III Art 2 1 Pat L J 506

See CONTRACT ACT ss. 23 AND 27

1 Pat L J 37

See LIMITATION (38)

1 L R 44 Calc 759

Madras Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865) as 9 and 10—When rent ascertained and payable Rent is payable within the meaning of Art 110 of Sch I of the Limitation Act only when it is ascertained. When proceedings are taken by the landlord under s. 9 of the Madras Rent Recovery Act after the end of the faisla to enforce acceptance of a patta tendered within the faisla the landlord has to await an adjudication under s. 10 of the Act and limitation begins to run in respect of a suit for rent only from the date of such adjudication as it was only then that it can be said that the rent for the suit faisla was ascertained. Pangnyya Appa Rao v. Bobba Srinamulu 1 L R 27 Mad 143 followed. SINGAPAM PHILLAI v. SYED GOLAN GHOUSE SHA (1913) 1 L R 100 Mad 438

Sch I Arts 110 116—Registered lease—Suit to recover arrears of rent—Limitation Art 116 Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to suits for debts or sums certain due upon registered instruments. LALCHAND NANCHAND v. NARAYAN HARI (1913)

1 L R 37 Bom 656

Sch I, Arts 110 115 120—

See JOINT PROPERTY

1 L R 39 Mad 44

Sch I Art 113—

See ART 83 1 L R 2 Lah 316

See BENGAL AGRA AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT 4 Pat L J 447

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKARAN LAWS

1 L R 46 Calc 173

Contract between two parties that on payment of a specified sum by one to the other the latter would transfer a decree in his favour to a third party—Suit by such third party for specific performance of the contract—Limitation—Starting point A agreed with B that on the latter paying him a specified sum of money he would transfer a decree in his favour to C. In a suit by C against A for the specific performance of the contract by the execution of a deed of transfer

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd.Sch I Art 113—*concl'd.

Held that the suit was governed by the second part of Art 113 and time began to run from the date on which C had notice that performance was refused and not from the date of payment to A by B of the sum agreed in the contract. Applicability of the doctrine of certum est quod certum reddi potest to third parties considered. VENKAY NA v. VENKATAKRISHNAIA (1917)

1 L R 41 Mad 18

Sch I Arts 113 116 120—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s. 30

1 L R 34 All 43

Sch I Arts 113 143—Deed of exchange—Express covenant—Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1882) s. 119—Implied covenant—Breach of covenant—Disposition of plaintiff's suit for recovery of possession of plaintiff's lands—Suit filed more than the 3 years after but within twelve years of disposition whether barred Where a deed of exchange executed in 1903 between the plaintiff's father and some of the defendant contained a covenant which only limited the option provided by s. 119 of the Transfer of Property Act and was otherwise of the same nature as one that would be implied under that section and the plaintiff being disposed of in 1908 of the lands given by the defendants sued in 1916 to recover the lands given by his father under the exchange and the defendants pleaded the bar of limitation. Held that Art 143 and not Art 113 of the Limitation Act applied to the case and that the suit was in time. BRECHINASA ATIANGAR v. JOHNSA POWTHER (1919)

1 L R 42 Mad 690

Sch I Art 114—

See HINDU LAW—(CUSTOM)

5 Pat L J 164

Sch I Art 115—

See ART 83 26 B W N 61

1 L R 43 Calc 248

See ART 140 1 Pat L J 80

See LAMBARDAR 4 Pat L J 304

See JOINT PROPERTY 1 L R 39 Mad 44

See PARTNERSHIP 15 C W N 852

See PROCEDURE 1 L R 48 Calc 832

See LODS OF GOODS 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY 1 L R 44 Calc 16

LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908)—contdSch I, Art 115—contd

recover commission due to him. Held that the suit was one for compensation under a contract for services rendered which for purposes of limitation was governed by Art 115 of Sch I to the Indian Limitation Act and was not one for wages within the meaning of Art 102 of the said Act. Ganesha Krishna v Madhavani Patil I L P 6 Bom 15 Parbhatty Nath Poy Choudhry v Maitho Puro I L P 3 Cal 26 Nalacoomar Mookhopadhyay v Suru Mullick I L P 6 Cal 94 and Vithala Debi v Chandu Das Deb I L P 43 referred to. See HIL CHANDRA DAS v CAUTI SHANKAR (1916)

I L R 39 All 81

2. ————— To a suit against a surety guaranteeing a promissory note payable on demand Art 115 and not Art 63 applies. GREENATH ROY v PEARL MOHAN MOOKERJEE (1899) 21 C W N 479

Arts 115 and 116—

See CONTRACT I L R 41 Mad 488

Arts 115 126—

See PARTNERSHIP 15 C W N 882

Arts 115 145—

See ART 6 I L R 37 Mad 175

Sch I Art 116—

See ART I L P 44 Bom 500

See ART 01 I L R 44 Bom 591

See ART 83 I L P 2 Lah 216

See ART 9 I L R 45 Bom 955

See ART 110 I L R 37 Bom 656

See LIMITATION 23 C W N 336

I L R 33 Mad 101

See LIMITATION ACT ART 113

I L R 34 All 43

See SALE DEED I L R 118 Mad 1171

1. ————— Bond executed by defendant alone and accepted by plaintiff and subsequently registered suit upon—Limitation Art 116 of the Limitation Act applies to a suit brought by the plaintiff to enforce a debt due upon a bond executed by the defendant alone and accepted by the plaintiff and subsequently registered. CHELLAPEROO CHOWDHARI v BANCA BEHARI SEV (1915) 20 C W N 408

2. ————— Principal and agent—Agent bound to render accounts at stated periods—Suit for accounts against heir of agent—Limitation An agent for the management of zamindari property was appointed by a registered mukhtarnama one of the conditions of the appointment being that the agent should render accounts every six months. The agent died and the principal sued his heirs to recover a sum of money alleged to be due in respect of a period from 1891 to 1911. Held that Art 116 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act 1908 applied and that the plaintiff was not entitled to get accounts for a period longer than six years before suit. Jhapa Jhanessa Bibi v Dama Sundari Chaudhary 16 C W N 104 followed. MATHURA NATH v CHEDDU (1917) I L R 39 All 355

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Art 116—contd

3. ————— Company registered under the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882)—Suit for dividend by a shareholder governed by Art 116—Registered in Art 116 meaning of a suit by a shareholder against a company registered under the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) to recover dividends duly declared by the company is governed by Art 116 of the Limitation Act as the right to a dividend arises out of the contract between the shareholders contained in the registered memorandum and articles of association. Registered in Art 116 means registered not only under the Indian Registration Act (III of 1877) but also under special Acts such as the Indian Companies Act which requires the memorandum and articles of association of a company to be registered. A dividend is a debt on a contract in writing registered within Art 116 of the Limitation Act. Piron Press and Sagar Mill Co Ltd v NANA VEN KATARAMA CHETTI (1918) I L R 42 D 33

Sch I Arts 116 110

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Cal 220

Sch I Arts 116 120—

See ART 113 I L R 34 All 43

Sch I Arts 116 132—

See MORTGAGE I L R 46 Cal 448

Sch I Arts 116 120 131 132—

————— Suit to recover arrear of annuity charged on immovable property—Claim for personal decree only—Limitation Held that Art 131 of the first Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act is applicable only to suits in which the plaintiff claims to recover money charged upon immovable property to raise it out of that property and not to a claim in which merely personal decree is asked for. Ramdin v Kalka Prasad I L P 7 All 500 followed. Held also that the words of Art 131 to establish a periodically recurring right are altogether inapplicable to a suit to recover arrears of payments due under a registered contract. Dost Muhammad Khan v Sohan Singh Punj Rec 1906 p 303 followed. A suit of such a nature is governed by either Art 116 or Art 120 of the first Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act. LACHVI NARAIN v TURAB UN NISSA (1911) I L R 34 All 246

————— Sch I Arts 116 66 s 19—Pegged bond—Suit to recover money due on the bond—Period of limitation—Acknowledgment contained in promissory notes On the 17th June 1897 the defendant passed a registered mortgage bond in favour of the plaintiff. It was attested by one witness and made the mortgage amount repayable in three instalments the last one becoming due on the 24th June 1900. On the 24th Aug 1903 the defendant passed a promissory note in favour of the plaintiffs wherein he stated: "An account is taken to day and the amount due under the mortgage deed is set apart. Again on the 11th Aug 1906 he passed another promissory note which recited: "Besides this the mortgage debt is distinct. The plaintiff sued on the 6th Aug 1910 to recover the money due under the bond. Held that the words used in the two promissory notes amounted to acknowledgments within the meaning of s 19 of the Limitation Act. Held further that the suit was governed by Art

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Arts 118 66 s 19—concl'd

116 and not by Art 66 of the Limitation Act for though the suit was in form a suit for money due on a bond it was in substance a suit for compensation for breach of a contract Ramdin v Kalla Pershad L R 12 I 1 12 and Bulakh Ganu Shet v Tukarambhat I L R 14 Bom 377 commented on DEKAR HARI v CHHAGATLAL NAPSIDAS (1913) I L R 38 Bom 177

Sch I Art 118—

S c HINDU LAW (CUSTOM)

5 Pat L J 164

Hindu Law—Adoption—Suit questioning the validity of adoption—Limitation—Adoption of an orphan—Entries in Revenue register A suit questioning the validity of an adoption would be time barred if not brought within six years under Art 118 Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Srinivas v Hanumanth I L R 21 Bom 260 followed Thakur Tirbhukan Bahadur Singh v Raja Pameshar Bahad Singh L P 33 I 1 156 and Umar Khan v Yazuddin Khan L P 39 I 1 19 explained and distinguished. The adoption of an orphan is not valid in law. The Collector's Register is purely for the purposes of Government Revenue and its entries are not evidence of title. Srinivas Sarjeyav v Balwant Venkatesh (1913) I L R 37 Bom 518

Adoption—Death of adopter—Adopting mother making a second adoption during widow's lifetime—Adopter in possession of the property to the knowledge of the plaintiff—Suit by reversioner of first adopted son to recover property challenging the second adoption brought after six years—Suit barred by limitation One D a holder of Vatan and non Vatan property having died without leaving a son. M his senior widow adopted a son A. A died a minor in 1892 leaving a widow. In 1901 U adopted defendant No 1 a son to D and from the date of his adoption defendant No 1 remained in possession of the whole estate to the knowledge of the plaintiff. In 1904 A's widow died. In 1912 the plaintiff claiming as the reversionary heir of A sued to recover possession of the property challenging the adoption of defendant No 1. Defendant No 1 pleaded limitation and adverse possession. Held that there had been no adverse possession sufficient to bar the plaintiff's suit but it was barred under Art 118 of the Limitation Act 1908 as it was not brought within six years from plaintiff's knowledge of defendant No 1's adoption. Held also that though the adoption of defendant No 1 might be invalid by Hindu Law and M's power of adoption might have been already exhausted nevertheless the law of limitation would effectively defeat the plaintiff's claim. Mohesh Narain Moonshi v Taruck Nath Motra L R 20 I 4 30 followed. Held further that defendant No 1's adoption to D who was not the last male holder affected the plaintiff for the property in dispute was an ancestral estate and that D as well as A were ancestors of the plaintiff. CHANDRASAPPA v KALIANDAPPA (1917) I L R 41 Bom 728

Limitation—Sale—Covenant to make good loss in case of tender being compelled to pay money in excess of sale consideration—

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Art 118—concl'd.

Breach of covenant—Suit against vendors on covenant of indemnity Where vendees are suing their vendors on a covenant of indemnity contained in their sale deed having been obliged to redeem a prior mortgage the existence of which the vendors did not disclose limitation runs not from the date of the sale deed but from the date when the plaintiffs suffered actual loss by reason of their being compelled to pay off the prior mortgage charge. Hari Tiwari v Jagannath Tiwari I L R 11 All 27 referred to PAM DELATY v HARDWARE LAL (1918) I L R 40 All 605

Art 118 and s 0—Suit for declaration that an adoption is untrue or invalid—Nearest reversioner's consent to adoption for a bride—No suit by nearest reversioner—Suit by remote reversioner more than six years after adoption came to knowledge of the nearest reversioner—Plaintiff born after adoption and before suit barred—Bar of limitation A suit for a declaration that an alleged adoption is untrue or invalid instituted by a remote reversioner more than six years after the adoption came to the knowledge of the nearest reversioner is barred under art 118 of the Limitation Act. Neither the fact that the nearest reversioner did not himself bring such a suit because he had been bribed to give his consent to the adoption nor the fact that the remote reversioner who sued was born after the alleged adoption and before the suit became barred under art 118 gives the latter any fresh cause of action or stops time running which had begun to run against the whole body of reversioners from the date of adoption. VIVEKA SIVATTA v ADHYA (1921) I L R 44 Mad 218

Sch I Art 119—Suit for declaration that an adoption was valid—Limitation A decree was passed in 1900 on the basis that there was no adoption. In 1901 the adoption of plaintiff was denied by defendant No 1 still the plaintiff did nothing till 1913 when he filed a suit to have it declared that the decree of 1900 was invalid and not binding on him. Held that the plaintiff's adoption having been challenged in 1901 the present suit was barred under art 119 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Srinivas v Hanumanth I L R 24 Bom 260 followed. SHARMA v BALARAM SAHEBAN (1918) I L R 43 Bom 63

I L R 43 Bom 63

Art 120—

See s 8 I L R 1 Lah 558
See s 10 I L R 39 Bom 572
See Art 4 I L R 41 Mad 528
See Art 52 I L R 2 Lah 376
See Art 91 I L R 35 All 149
See Art 109 I L R 37 All 640
See ADMINISTRATOR 2 Pat L J 642
See ARREARS OF REVENUE I L R 47 Cal 331

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY—Pat L J 497

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW I L R 1 Lah 984
I L R 44 Mad 951

See JOINT PROPERTY I L R 39 Mad 111

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Art 120—contd

See LAMBARDA. 4 Pat L J 304

See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Cal 455

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 113
I L R 34 All 43

See MINERAL RIGHTS. 5 Pat. L J 273

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND ODISH MUNICIPALITIES ACT
I L R 35 All 368

See RECORD OF RIGHTS. 3 Pat L J 36

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
S. 109
I L R 33 All 708

Suit to enforce an award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 11
SCH II r 20 I L R 45 Bom 329

1 ———— Suit for declaration of title—Previous unsuccessful application for correct entry in village papers—Cause of action—Limitation In 1875 the owners of certain zamindari property sold their interest in it with the exception of 26 bighas. In 1888 the vendors were recorded as exproprietary tenants of these 26 bighas. In 1903 the representatives of the vendors applied to have the village papers corrected, but their application was dismissed and they were told to go to the Civil Court. In 1910 the representatives of the purchasers applied to have rent assessed on the 26 bighas and obtained an order in their favour. The representatives of the vendors thereupon brought the present suit in the Civil Court for a declaration that they were proprietors. Held that whatever cause of action the plaintiffs might have had before the proceedings of 1910 the order passed in those proceedings gave them a fresh cause of action and their suit was not barred by limitation. Legge v Ramfaran Singh I L R 20 All 35. Albar Khan v Turaban I L R 31 All 9. Sheopher Singh v Deonarayan Singh 10 All L J 413. Purshottam v Parmanand & Co No 279 of 1908 and Skinner v Shanker Lal S A No 963 of 1907 referred to. ALLAH JILAI v UMPAO HUSAIN (1914) I L R 38 All 492

2 ———— Pre-emption right of —Knowledge of sale when essential for the article to apply In a suit by an otidar to enforce his right of pre-emption the right to sue cannot be said to arise unless the plaintiff has the necessary knowledge of the sale. Such a right can only be exercised when the otidar knows first of all that the property is sold or attempted to be sold to another person and what the terms on which it is proposed to be sold. Without such knowledge he is not in a position to elect. Ramasami Pillai v Chinnar Asari I L R 24 Mad 449 and Kurri Veerardas v Kurri Bapireddi I L R 29 Mad 336 distinguished. Chenna Krishnan v Vishnu I L R 6 Mad 198. Varaderon v Keshavan I L R 7 Mad 399 and Ammottis Ilayi v Kunhayan Kutti I L R 15 Mad 480 commented on. MAHIMALI v KUNHITAKKI HAJI (1912) I L R 33 All 67

3 ———— Hypothecation of movable property—Suit to recover money lent by sale of the hypothecated property—Limitation Where a plaintiff who has lent money on the security of movable property seeks to recover the money by sale of the hypothecated property and does not ask for a personal decree against the debtor the limitation applicable is that provided for by Art 170 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Madan Mohan Lal v Kanhai Lal I L R 17 All 284. Am Chand Baboo v Jagabundhu Ghose I L R 22 Cal 21 and Mahalinga Nadar v Ganayathi Subbari I L R 27 Mad 598 followed. DEOKINANANDAN v GAPIA (1918) I L R 40 All 512

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

4 ———— A suit to enforce a mortgage of a turn of workshop is not governed by Art 132 but by Art 120 of the Limitation Act. VARASINGHA BANA GOSWAMI v PROLNADIAN TEOKARI (1918) 22 W N 994

5 ———— Suit for declaration of title—Cause of action—Limitation In the settlement records of 1887 a certain plot of land was recorded as the separate property of the defendants. In 1914 the defendants applied for partition and claimed that this plot belonged to them in severalty was in their separate possession and should be assigned to their mahal. The plaintiffs traversed this statement alleging that the settlement record was wrong and that the plot in question was in fact part of the inhabited site and belonged to all the co-sharers jointly. The court required the plaintiffs to institute a suit in the Civil Court to have the question of title to the plot in dispute decided. Held that such suit was not barred by limitation. The proceedings taken in the partition court whereby the plaintiffs found themselves if their statements of fact were true for the first time in danger of being actually dispossessed of their joint ownership of the plot gave rise to a fresh cause of action altogether independent of any cause of action which might have been furnished to them by the settlement entry made in the year 1887. Akbar Khan v Turaban I L R 31 All 9. Rahmat Ullah v Shamsuddin 11 A L J 877 and Allah Jilai v Umrao Hussain I L R 38 All 492 referred to. HALI PRASAD MISHR v HARBANS MISHR (1919) I L R 41 All 509

6 ———— Though attachment of a mans lands as if it belonged to another gives the owner a cause of action on which he could have brought a suit but did not yet the sale of same at a later date is a fresh and greater invasion of his right and gives him a fresh cause of action on which he could sue within six years from the date of sale. ANANTHANA RAO v NARAYANARAO I L R 36 Mad 285

7 ———— Suit to declare entry in record of rights incorrect—Limitation whether runs from date of signing of certificate of final publication—Prayer for confirmation of possession under no allegation of disturbance of position—Limitation The period of limitation applicable to a suit to declare an entry in a record of rights to be incorrect is that provided by Art 120 of Sch. I to the Limitation Act and it commences running from the date of the final publication and not from the date of the signing of the certificate of final publication of the record of rights. Where in such a suit the plaintiff added a prayer for confirmation of possession without however alleging that his possession had in any way been disturbed or threatened to be disturbed by the defendant. Held that the Court of first instance was right in treating the prayer as one for declaration of possession and Art 120 applied to the suit. RAJANI VATH PRAMANIK v MONARAM MANDAL (1919) 23 C W N 883

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

§ ———— Held that in a sale in contravention of s 93 of the Transfer of Property Act and purchase by mortgagee—Suit by mortgagor for recovering property governed by Art 120. UTTAM CHANDRA DAW v RAJ KRISHNA DALAL 24 C W N 229

§ ———— Mortgage—Subrogation—One of the mortgagors paying off the mortgage amount—Payment creating a charge in favour of the creditor—Creditor not entitled to sell the property until declaratory decree obtained—Limitation In 1887 a mortgage of the plant property was executed in favour of four brothers. On the 22nd August 1901 the plaintiff one of the mortgagors advanced a sum of money to enable the mortgagor to pay what was required to make the last payment on account of the mortgage of 1887 on the understanding that a further mortgage would be executed by the mortgagor in favour of the plaintiff. The mortgage was executed but it proved ineffectual for want of proper attestation. The plaintiff therefore brought a suit in 1914 for sale of the mortgaged property on the ground that the payment made by him in 1901 created a charge on the property to the extent of the money advanced. Held that the payment made in 1901 enabled the plaintiff to establish his right to a charge on the property but mere payment would not give the plaintiff any right against the property either to go into possession or sell it. He was bound to ask for a declaratory decree that a charge was created before the Court could have jurisdiction over the property. Held further that the plaintiff's claim to get a declaratory decree was governed by Art 120 of the Limitation Act and was therefore barred as not having been brought within six years from the date of payment in 1901. BULLER v PIC 1910 Ck 277 referred to. CHHOTULAL HASBANDAS v VISHNU CANESH (1909) I L N 43 Bom 597

10 ———— Limitation—Suit to recover money under an award—money originally recovered by plaintiff under a decree passed on the award—but refunded on the decree being set aside on appeal—date when the right to sue accrues—fresh cause of action Plaintiff and defendant in 1909 submitted a dispute to arbitration. An award was duly made and a decree passed in terms of it on the 19th October 1909. In execution of the decree plaintiff realised Rs 4,000 on 14th January 1911. The decree was set aside on appeal to the Chief Court on 4th August 1913 and on 4th May 1914 the Rs 4,000 were refunded to the defendant. On 20th February 1919 plaintiff brought the present suit claiming the Rs 4,000 and interest as due to him under the award. The question was whether the suit was barred by limitation. Held that on the annulment of the satisfaction a fresh cause of action arose and that the claim was therefore within time under article 120 of the Indian Limitation Act. Muthuveerappa Chetty v Adavakappa Chetty (I L R 43 Mad 846) followed. Pance v Surnomoyee v Shoshnee Mookhee (10 Moo I A 244) referred to.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Soni Ram v Kanhaya Lal (I L R 30 All 227 P C) distinguished. KARTAR SINGH v BHAGAT SINGH I L R 2 Lah 320

——— Sch I, Arts 120 115 A suit by some of the co-sharers in a ferry against others for recovery of their share of profits is governed by Art 120 and not 115. KISHOR DEVAL SINGH v KISHOR

DEO JHA 1 Pat L J 60

——— Sch I Arts 120 125—

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER

I L R 41 All 497

——— Limitation—suit by reversioners for a declaration in respect of a mortgage made by a Hindu widow who has a daughter living—sch I and 1 in art 193 includes a house On 24th January 1908 Musammal A D widow of C R mortgaged a house to one U C. On 12th August 1916 the plaintiffs collateral of U P sued for a declaration that the mortgage should not affect their reversionary rights. Musammal A D had a daughter living who admittedly was entitled to possession on her mother's death though with limited interest. Held that the suit is governed by art 120 (and not by art 193) of the Limitation Act and that the starting point of limitation is the date of the mortgage. Perammam v Gopaladasayya (I L R 41 Mad 653 (F B)) and rulings cited in Fa-tumja's Limitation Act 2nd Edition page 391 referred to. Abinath Chandra v Majumdar (9 Cal 118 25) and Gowda Pillai v Thayammal (14 Mad 1 J 209) distinguished. Semble that land in art 125 includes a house and its site. Isha Ram v Sher Singh (5 Indian Cas 812). Sant Ram v Ganga Ram (32 P R 1904) and Musammal Ralli v Sunder Singh (103 P R 1912) referred to. D v Raj v Shiv Ram (70 P R 1914) distinguished. SOMAN SINGH v UTTAM CHAND

I L R 1 Lah 69

——— Hindu law—Hindu widow—Suit for declaration that alienation by widow enures only for her life P reversioners—Right of suit Held that although the existence of nearer reversioners may be a bar to a more remote reversioner suing for a declaration that an alienation made by a Hindu widow does not enure for a longer period than the life time of the widow yet Pe is not entitled to wait until limitation has expired in respect of all the nearer reversioners for such a suit is under Art 125 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1909 twelve years from the date of the alienation for nearer and more remote reversioners alike. KUNWAR BAHADUR v BIKDRAHAN (1914) I L N 37 All 195

——— Sch I Arts 120 and 131—

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT

2 Pat L J 124

——— Sch I Arts 120 132 141 and 144— Immoveable property whether proceeds of sale of it or any interest therein—General Clause A 1 X of 1897 s 3 (25)—Benefit to arise out of land

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Arts 120 132, 141 and 144
—contd

—Land acquisition Act (I of 1894) A claim for the proceeds of what was once immovable property but which has been substituted for movable property is not a claim for immovable property or any interest therein or any benefit arising out of land. Where therefore certain property was compulsorily acquired under the Land Acquisition Act 1894 and the plaintiff sued the vendor for the value of the property so acquired held that the period of limitation for the suit was 6 not 12 years. I AL PADIA KUTEN I ALI v NALPATAN LALJI 3 Pat L J 522

—Sch I Arts 120 142—

See Art. 82 I L R 88 All 708

Hypothecation decree—movable property—Movable property converted into immovable property—Substituted security—Mortgage as a part of the mortgaged property—Merger A hypothecation decree is not a mortgage and a mortgage decree is not a mortgage. A mortgage which is converted into movable property and a mortgage which is converted into immovable property has become converted into immovable property. The mortgage becomes entitled to the substituted security and also to the larger period of limitation prescribed by Art 130 of the first Schedule to the said Act. It does not necessarily follow that because a person in the position of a mortgagee purchases a portion of the mortgaged property the mortgage thereby becomes pro tanto extinguished. Everything depends upon the terms of the sale and unless it is stipulated that the mortgage is to be extinguished or unless there are circumstances from which an intention to extinguish the mortgage in whole or part may be inferred it cannot be held that the mortgage merges in the purchase. Gova Malani v Kharas Ali Kharas I L R 93 Cal 56 Jua Ali Beg v Sasa Mal I L R 9 All 128 referred to JANTA DEVI v LALA PAM (1916)

I L R 39 All 74

—Sch I Arts 120 124 144—

See MUTT I L R 41 Mad 124

Limitation for suit by one of several mortgagees of a Khankah for recovery of joint possession of a site belonging to the Khankah wrongfully alienated by one of his co mortgagees Held that the limitation for a suit by one of several mortgagees of a Khankah to recover joint possession of a site belonging to the Khankah wrongfully mortgaged with possession by one of his co mortgagees is 12 years under either art 134 or art 144 of the Limitation Act. Samble that a suit by a worshipper of a religious institution for declaration that an alienation by the trustee thereof is void and that the alienee be ejected is governed by art 120. See Ram v Paras Ram (9 P R 1904) referred to 1st that a suit brought by the successors or of a trustee of such an institution against the alienee of the property for value to recover the property for and on behalf of the trust is governed by art 134 and the term terminus a quo is not the date when the successor succeeds to the office but the date of the alienation. Har Gian Das v Baldeo Das (10 P R

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Arts 120 134 144—contd

1908) (F B) Sajeel Pura v Cour Mohan Das (I L R 24 Cal 415) Sagun Balkrishnashet v Hays Husein (I I P 7 Bom 500) referred to SHADI v ABDUL RAHMAN

I L R 1 Lah 66

—Sch I Arts 120 142—*Dispossession and discontinuance of possession—Meaning of—Suit to determine rights of parties to order under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code—Period of limitation for—Suit of lies against Magistrate—Magistrate a stakeholder—Declaratory suit against rival claimants—Continuing wrong—The defendants attempted to interfere with the plaintiff's possession of the disputed property and a breach of the peace becoming imminent proceedings under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code were instituted and resulted in an order of attachment under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code. The plaintiff sued for declaration of his title and for recovery of possession. Held that though deprived of possession the plaintiff was not dispossessed or had continued possession within the meaning of Art 140 of the Limitation Act. Meaning of dispossession and discontinuance of possession explained. That no cause of action against the Magistrate the suit could be brought only against the defendants. Gowans v Gindran I L R 90 All 170 dissented from Paja of Venkataraj v Itakazh I L R 26 Mad 410 followed on this point. Klogerda Achari v Marquis I L R 17 Cal 514 819 and Pama Suomy v Mulu Suomy I I R 30 Mad 10 referred to. That plaintiff having proved his title the suit must be treated as a suit for declaration of title under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act. That it was a case of continuing wrong independent of contract and accordingly under s 3 of the Limitation Act a fresh period of limitation under Art 140 began to run at every moment of the time the wrong continued. Continuing wrong defined. Paja of Venkataraj v Itakazh I L R 26 Mad 410 dissented from Mafabharat v Abdul Hamid I C L J 73 Binda v Kausala I L R 13 All 196 Ananda v Veyyanna I L R 15 Mad 492 and Jugal Kishore v Lakshman Das I L R 23 Bom 659 referred to BROJENDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHURY v SABO JINI RAY (1915)*

20 C W N 481

—Sch I Arts 120 142 144—

See UNSETTLED PALAYAM

I L R 41 Mad 749

—Sch I Arts 120 144—Landlord and tenant—Tenant building on the land adjacent to the landlord's house—Staircase of the tenant's house supported by a pillar on the landlord's land—Injunction to remove the staircase—Trespass—Adverse possession—License In the year 1893 the defendant while a tenant of the house of which the plaintiff had taken a permanent lease in 1905 built his own house on the adjoining land and put up a staircase supported by a pillar. The plaintiff contended that the land on which the pillar rested belonged to him and that the pillar was put up by his predecessor or in title nine years before suit. In 1912 he asked the defendant to pull down the staircase but the latter having refused filed a suit on July 21 1913 praying for a mandatory injunction directing the defendant to remove the staircase. The Subordinate Judge found that the land under the staircase belonged to the plaintiff

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Arts 120 144—contd

off but dismissed the plaintiff's suit on the ground that the pillar existed on the land for nineteen years. The Assistant Judge held that as the plot belonged to the plaintiff he was entitled to get the staircase removed. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the staircase was standing on the land either by the license of the plaintiff's predecessor in title or adversely to them but in any case the plaintiff's suit was barred under Art 120 or 144 of the Limitation Act 1908. Held (i) that the plaintiff's suit was barred under Art 120 of the Limitation Act 1908 as it was not brought within six years from 1893 when the license to construct the staircase could have been granted (ii) That the plaintiff's claim was also barred by adverse possession as the lower Courts having found that the staircase was put up nineteen years before suit the presumption was that from that date the defendant's possession was adverse. HANUMAN KISHOREN v SHIVABAS RANCHAND (1916) I L R 42 Bom 333

Sch I Arts 121 to 144—See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.

I L R 43 Cal 59

I L R 43 Cal 412

Sch I Arts 121 and 142—

A suit for recovery of possession brought with 12 years from the date on which the Collector gave symbolical possession to the purchaser is within time coming under Art 142 not 121. MOHUN CHANDRA DES v PEYARI LAL DAS I L R 44 Cal 412

Sch I Arts 121, 142 144—In a suit for Khas possession and mesne profits of land purchased by plaintiffs at a sale for arrears of Government Revenue the Defendant contended that they had been in adverse possession for a long time and that their occupation was in the nature of an incumbrance and plaintiffs were not entitled to avoid same. Held that the interest which defendants acquired was an incumbrance within Art 121 and the suit was barred. PRASANKA KUMAR DUTT v JANENDRA KUMAR DUTT

I L R 43 Cal 79

Sch I, Art 123—See BURNING LAW

I L R 44 Cal 279

See RESIDUARY ESTATE

I L R 41 Cal 971

See WILL CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 43 Bom 845

Sch I Arts 123 144—

Mahomedan law Joint property—Property devolving on sons on father's death—One of the sons selling his share to a third person—Suit for partition—Property held by sons as tenants in common—Time to run when one co-tenant excludes the other from joint property. Two mahomedan brothers M and S succeeded to their father's property according to Mahomedan law. G mortgaged his share in the property to the plaintiffs and eventually sold the equity of redemption to them. The plaintiffs sued to recover possession of G's share by partition. The trial Court dismissed the suit as time barred under Art 123 of the Indian Limitation Act 1918. Held that the proper Article applicable would be Art 144

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—con dSch I Arts 123 144—contd

of the Limitation Act as the plaintiff's suit was in terms a suit to have partitioned property which the two persons were holding as tenants in common. KALLARGOWDA v BIRISHAYA (1920)

I L R 44 Bom. 943

A Mahomedan dying in testate—Estate undivided—Heirs holding as tenants in common—Suit by a heir to recover his share—Adverse possession—Where members of a mahomedan family continue to live as tenants in common without dividing the estate of a deceased ancestor limitation will not run from the time of his death and a suit for a distributive share of the deceased's estate will not be governed by Art 123 but by Art 144 of the Limitation Act, 1908. Kallargowda v Birishaya (1920) 41 Bom. 943 followed. ABUDIN HANBUDA v BU UMBAO (1920) I L R 45 Bom 519

Art 124—See LIMITATION c (25)

I L R 42 Cal 244

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

I Pat L J 327

Slams in Malabar constituted trustee of a temple and its properties—Absolute transfer by the slams of the trusteeship and temple properties to defendant's predecessor—Effect of adverse possession for over statutory period on succeeding slams—S 2 (d) of Limitation Act definition of plaintiff in—According to the customary law of Malabar a slamom is descendible from one slam to another in a peculiar line of succession. A suit by a slam to recover a hereditary office of trustee of a temple and its properties attached to the slamom is governed by Art 124 of the Limitation Act and adverse possession for over the statutory period of the office of trustee and the properties of the trust as against a prior slam is a bar to a suit by the successor to recover the same. Though the successor gets his title not by any act of his predecessor but by succession according to the law of the land he derives his right to sue only from or through his predecessor within a 2 cl (3) of the Limitation Act. Gnanasambarda Pandara Sannadhi v Velu Pandaran, I L R 23 Mad 217 231 applied RAJA OF PALGHAT v RAMAN UNNI (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 4

Sch I Arts 124 140—See LIMITATION (18) L R 41 I A 267*Sch I Arts 124 144—

See s 23 I L R 38 All 636

Sch I Art 125—

See s 6 I L R 36 Mad 570

See ART 120 I L R 41 All 492

Held that although the existence of nearer reversioner may be a bar to a more remote reversioner suing for a declaration regarding an alienation by a Hindu Widow yet he is not entitled to wait until limitation has expired in respect of all the nearer reversioners before bringing his suit. KUTWAR BAHADUR v HINDRA BAN

I L R 37 All 195

Alienation by a Hindu widow—Failure of existing reversioner to sue to set aside within twelve years effect of on

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Art 125—co 17

Future reversioners—Representative character of the suit. A suit by a reversioner to set aside an alienation by a Hindu widow is a representative suit on behalf of all her reversioners then existing or thereafter to be born and all of them have but a single cause of action which arises on the date of the alienation. Hence if by failing to sue within twelve years allowed by Art 125 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) the existing reversioners become barred by limitation reversioners thereafter born are equally barred. See Kataravayra Pillai v Sullammal I L R 33 Mad 406 Jarakammal v Narayanaswami Ayyar I L R 33 Mad 731 followed Gorinda Pillai v Thayammal I L R 28 Mad 57 Veerayya v Gargamma I L R 36 Mad 50 Narayana v Pama I L R 33 Mad 396 and Penkala Row v Tularam Poo (1917) Mad W N 30 overruled Senye. A decision one way or other in a suit by one of them binds all of them. Per M. HAGIRI ARJAN J. See That Art 125 does not apply to persons not born at the date of the alienation but that the right to declaratory relief of this nature is only conferred on persons alive at the date of the alienation. VARADACHARI v GORALA DA. ATYA (1918) I L R 41 Mad 659

Sch I Art 126

See PARTNERHIP 15 C W N 882

Sch I, Art 126 144, 148—Sale of equity of redemption by one of two mortgagors—Redemption by vendee—Possession of property by vendee for more than twelve years—Sale by the other co mortgagor to another—Suit by latter to redeem his half share—Suit more than twelve years after first vendee took possession on redemption whether barred The first defendant and his father G mortgaged with possession the suit lands to the second defendant in 1892 in 1897 G sold the equity of redemption to the third defendant who redeemed the lands and obtained possession in 1898 The first defendant sold his interest in the lands in 1910 to the plaintiff who instituted a suit in 1912 to redeem his half share in the property on payment of half the mortgage debt The third defendant pleaded that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that Art 148 of the Limitation Act was not applicable to the case and the suit was barred by limitation as the case fell within Art 126 See The suit was also barred under Art 144 Jai Kishen Joshi v Budhanand Joshi I L R 33 All 138 Bhaty Shamrao v Hayimya Mahomed 14 Bom L R 314 followed and Ramaswami Ayyar v Vanaramala Ayyar I L R 23 Bom 137 s c 26 I C 873 Vasudeva Mudaly v Srinivasa Pillai I L R 30 Mad 496, explained MURIA GOUNDAN v PANASWAMI CHETTY (1918) I L R 41 Mad 650

Sch I Art 127—

See CRIMINAL MEMOS

I L R 41 Bom 18

See KNOJAS I L R 38 Bom 449

See LIMITATION ACT 16 7 SCH II ARTS 129 AND 144

I L R 47 Bom 64 & 84

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R 38 Mad 1099

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Art 127—contd

Applicability of the Article to Mahomedan—Suit to recover share in joint family property The following question was referred to a Full Bench—Whether Art 127 of the Second Schedule of Act XV of 1877 can apply to the property of a Mahomedan (or any other person not being a Hindu) and not having been proved to have adopted as a custom the Hindu law of the joint family. Held (SHAN J dissenting) that it did not. ISAF AHMED v ANHRAJ AHMAJJI (1917) I L R 41 Bom 588

Sch I Art 128—Execution of decree—Limitation—Step in aid of execution—Application for transfer of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1882) s 223 Held that an application made to the Court passing a decree to transfer it for execution to another Court in an application to take a step in aid of execution within the meaning of Art 182 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Chandra Nath Goswami v Guroo Prosunno Ghose I L R 92 Cal 378 followed TODAR MAL v PHOLA KUTWAR (1913) I L R 35 All 889

Sch I Art 130—

See SARANJAN I L R 40 Bom 606

See SARFARJANDAR I L R 45 Bom 694

Land entered in record of rights as liable to assessment—Suit to assess rent—Limitation—Suit if maintainable by a co-sharer landlord—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 183 and 103B Defendant's lands having in 1910 been entered in the record of rights as liable to be assessed with rent the recorded landlord brought the present suit for assessment of rent. The District Judge held that the right to have the rent assessed having accrued to the plaintiff more than twelve years before the suit it was barred by limitation under Art 130 of the Limitation Act and dismissed the suit disagreeing with the Munsif's finding that the suit having been brought within twelve years of the publications of the record of rights was within time. Held that the Munsif was wrong in taking the entry in the record of rights as the starting point for limitation as such an entry confers no title. That the suit was not one for resumption or a cessment of rent free land within the meaning of Art 130 but a suit for the assessment of land presumably liable to be assessed. That the fact rent has not in fact been paid more than twelve years before suit is not per se sufficient to support a decree for dismissal of such a suit for the right to have rent assessed must continue so long as the relationship continues of landlord and tenant of land liable to be assessed. That such a relationship and liability were to be presumed from the record of rights and it was for the defendant to rebut this presumption by evidence. A suit to assess rent is consistent with and arises out of the general law and the land revenue system of the country and is not one which the landlord is required or authorized to do under the Bengal Tenancy Act within the meaning of s 148 of that Act. A co-sharer landlord is therefore entitled to institute such a suit. That had s 183 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applied, the fact that the plaintiff had joined his co-sharers as defendants would not have justified the Court in entertaining the suit on grounds of justice and equity. DHARMANJOY BANERJEE v UPENDRA NATH DEB (1918) 22 C V 5 655

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont'd

Sch I Art 131—

See Art 120

1 Pat L J 124

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 45 Bom 638

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT

2 Pat L J 124

See INADAM

I L R 41 Bom 169

See LIMITATION ACT 1903 Art 116

I L R 34 All 246

Suit to recover sums due under periodically recurring right governed by Art 131 of sch II of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to suits to recover sums due under a periodically recurring right whether there is a prayer for a declaration of plaintiff's right or not. Held therefore that a suit to recover arrears of adama allowance for a period of eight years was not barred as to any portion of it. TAJIBUDDIN OF CALCUTTA v. ACHUTHA MENON (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 916

Sch I Arts 131 132—

See Art 116

I L P 34 All 246

Arts 131 and 141—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 45 Bom 638

Sch I Art 132—

See Art 89

I L R 43 Calc 248

See Art 116

I L R 46 Calc 448

See Art 120

I L P 39 All 74

See LIMITATION

I L R 41 Calc 654

I L R 42 Calc 244

I L R 48 Calc 625

1 — Limitation—Mahikana—

Suit for mahikana—Decree asked for against property charged? Where a plaintiff sued for the recovery of mahikana for 11 years and claimed a decree against the property on which the Mahikana was charged it was held that the suit was within time having regard to Art 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Kallar Roy v. Ganga Pershad Singh I L R 33 Calc 938 distinguished SHARMA AIR v. PAULLO (1913)

I L R 25 All 185

■ Limitation—Suit

to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property—Installment bond—Meaning of be comes due? A mortgage deed executed on the 16th July 1890 provided that the mortgagors pay the principal amount secured in ten years by instalments of Rs 625 yearly and that interest should be paid monthly. There was this further clause—If we fail to pay the interest aforesaid in any month on the principal by the stipulated period as specified above or no payment is made in a year the mortgage shall under all those circumstances be at liberty to realise the entire amount with the interest aforesaid in a lump sum through the court by means of a suit from the mortgaged and other moveable and immovable property and the person of us the executors. There was also this further provision—If the mortgagees in order to get interest do not bring a suit in default of any instalment and we are unable to pay the money the interest should continue up to the stipulated period of ten years and after it up to the date of realization. No payment was ever made of either principal or interest and the mortgagees ultimately brought a suit on the mortgage on the 17th June 1912. Held by PICHARD C J and TUNBALL J (BANERJI J dissenting) that the suit was barred under art 132 of sch I to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 the mortgage money having become due when the first default was made. Isaudeva Mudaliar v. Srinivasa Pillai I L P 39 Mad 496 Ker v. Bulcher 2 Q B D 509 Siah Chand Natar v. Hardar Mallu I L P 1 Calc 231, and Perumal Ayyan v. Magiram Bhupanthar I L R 29 Mad 215 referred to. Nelloorappa Goundan v. Kumara Sams Goundan I L P 72 Mad 90 Maharaj of Benares v. Nand Ram I L R 29 All 431 Shankar Prasad v. Jalpa Prasad I L P 16 All 371 Ayudhia v. Kurnul I L P 30 All 193 and Jineer Das v. Mahabhar Singh I L P 1 Calc 167 distinguished. Per BANERJI J Having regard to the second of the provisions above cited the suit was not barred by limitation. Where a creditor is authorised to wait for the full period stipulated for repayment the money does not become due within the meaning of art 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 until that period expires. GAYA DIX v. JEWAKAN LAL (1914)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont'd

Sch I Art 132—con 1

I L P 37 All 400

3 — Account—suit for against agent—Stipulation to render accounts—Limitation. A suit by the principal against his agent for recovery of sums to be found due upon adjustment of accounts by sale of immovable properties hypothecated by the agent is a suit to enforce a charge on immovable property within the meaning of Art 132 of the Indian Limitation Act. Hafizuddin Mandal v. Jadu Nath Saha I L R 35 Calc 293 followed. Jogesh Chandra v. Benode Lal Poy 14 C W N 199 not followed. MADHUSUDAN SEN v. PARUL CHANDRA DAS (1915)

I L R 11 Calc 248

19 C W N 1070

4 — Suit for the recovery of mahikana—Limitation—Distinction between personal claim and claim against property charged. Where a plaintiff sued for the recovery of mahikana for eleven years and claimed a decree against the property on which the mahikana was charged it was held that the suit was within time having regard to Art 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Shida Ali v. Phulio I L P 35 All 185 followed. Ram Din v. Kala Prasad I L R 7 All 502 referred to. NATHU v. GHANSHAM SINGH (1918)

I L R 41 All 259

5 — Loan of paddy secured on land—Suit to recover—Limitation. Where a mortgage bond to secure a loan of paddy provided that in default of payment of the paddy and the interest which was also provided to be paid in paddy the mortgagees would be entitled to attach and sell the mortgaged property and realise the dues and if that was insufficient would be entitled to realise them also from other moveable and immovable property of the mortgagor and from his person. Held that it was clear that upon failure to deliver the paddy the mortgagees were entitled to recover money and not to claim specific paddy and hence the mortgagees a suit to enforce the bond was governed by Art 132

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Art 132—contd

of Sch. I of the Limitation Act JOGENDRA NATH SINGH v MOHAN LAL KHAN (1919)

23 C W N 951

6 Loan of paddy charged on land—Suit to recover—Limitation A mortgagor borrowed a quantity of paddy from the mortgagee (valued in the bond at Rs 192) agreeing to repay the paddy with interest at a certain date failing which the mortgagee was to be entitled to recover the price of the paddy with interest by sale of the mortgaged land Held distinguishing Pash Behari Das v Kunja Bihari Patra 24 C L J 313 that Art 132 of the Limitation Act applied to a suit by the mortgagee to enforce the bond INDRA NARAYAN SHAO v DINABAR SAMANTA (1919) 23 C W N 949

7 Suit to recover the value of paddy charged upon immovable property is a suit to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property within the meaning of Art 132 of the Act RAJCHAND SUR v ISWARCHANDRA GURI AND OTHERS (1920)

25 C W N 57

8 Limitation—Bond payable by instalments—Stipulation empowering creditor to sue for whole amount in default of payment of interest—Terminus a quo A mortgage bond provided a period for repayment but also provided that if the borrower made default in the payment of any instalment of interest the creditor could sue for the whole amount due Held that limitation under article 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 began to run from the date of the first default that being the date when according to the terms of the bond the whole money became due Mata Tahal v Bhagwan Singh 19 A L J 406 not followed NATHI v TUBSI 1 L H 43 All 671

9 Mortgage—Bond payable by instalments—Total amount due exigible on default of payment of any instalment—Limitation—Terminus a quo In a mortgage bond dated the 21st of February 1903 it was stipulated that the mortgage debt would be payable at the end of twelve years. It was further stipulated that the mortgagors would pay Rs 500 annually in payment mostly of interest and that if default was made in such annual payment the mortgagees were to have power without waiting for the expiry of the stipulated period to set aside all the stipulations embodied in the document and to bring a suit in court to realize the entire principal together with interest and costs from the persons of the mortgagors and from the hypothecated property. No annual instalment was ever paid. The mortgagees brought a suit on their bond on the 21st of February 1911 that is to say on the last day of a period of twelve years from the time that the mortgage money was expressed to be payable. Held that article 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 applied and the suit was barred Caya Din v Jumman Lal I L R 37 Ill 400, followed PANCHAM ANWAR HUSAIN 1 L R 43 All 596

Sch I Arts 132, 75—Mortgage bond—Interest payable annually—Principal payable on a future date—Principal and interest payable immediately on default—Option to mortgagee to enforce payment—Suit after twelve years from default of barred—Gift by a Hindu widow of a mortgage bond due to her husband—gift if valid and to what extent—Suit by widow complicity of transferee in continuance—Decree nature of Suits for money due on hypothecation bonds though containing stipulations for payment in instalments are governed by Art 132 and not by Art 75 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and there is no warrant for importing into the former the words of the latter article A hypothecatee is not bound to take advantage of a clause in his bond which in case of default in payments of interest enables him (a) to demand the principal before its due date and (b) also claim a higher rate of interest from the date of default. Hence a suit restricted to a claim to recover the principal and interest at the original rate brought within twelve years from the date originally fixed for payment of the principal though beyond twelve years from the date of first default in respect of interest is not barred by limitation Attalakaruppa Goundan v Kumarasami Goundan I L R 22 Mad 22 Ately v Earl of Essex 18 Eq 290 and Governors of Magdalen Hospital v Knolls 5 Ch D 175 followed Perumal Appan v Alagarasami Bhagavathar I L R 20 Mad 245 explained. A gift by a Hindu widow of a mortgage bond executed to her in discharge of a debt due to her husband is valid to the extent of the interest that had accrued due at the date of the gift and the transferee is competent after her death to prefer a second appeal in a suit filed by her on the bond and obtain a decree for recovery of interest only due thereon VARNA v ASHMANI ARMA (1916)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Arts 132 75—contd

1 L R 89 Mad 981

Sch I Arts 132 144—Limitation Mortgage—Suit for sale on a mortgage impleading defendants alleged to be in adverse possession of the mortgage property Held that a suit for sale on a mortgage can always be brought under art 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 against all persons in possession whose possession is subsequent to the date of the mortgage provided that the suit is brought within twelve years from the time at which the money became due. Such a suit does not become a suit for possession governed by art 144 because it may be necessary to implead persons who are in possession and claim a title by possession adverse to the mortgagor Karan Singh v Bakar Ali Khan I L R 6 All 1 distinguished Nandan Singh v Jumman I L R 34 All 610 and Amrinder Mandal v Mahan Lal Dey I L R 33 Calc 1015 referred to RAJ NATH v NARAYAN DAS (1914)

1 L R 36 All 567

Sch I Art 134—See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

1 L R 33 Calc 526

1 L R 40 Mad 745

See LIMITATION I L P 43 Calc 54

S. MUTT—HEAD OF

1 L R 38 Mad 356

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

1 L R 47 Calc 866

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW

1 L R 43 All 127

S. PELICIOUS ENDOWMENTS

3 Pat L J 327

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I Art 134—contd

1 ———— Mortgage—Sale by mortgagee—Suit for redemption by mortgagee against mortgagee and vendee—Plea of purchase for consideration—Omission of the words in good faith in Art 134 The omission of the words in good faith from the Art 134 of the first schedule to the Limitation Act of 1908 does not entitle a person who purchases with full knowledge that his vendor's title is merely that of mortgagee to the benefit of article DUCRAL SIKH v KALLU (1911) I L R 37 All 660

2 ———— Puñs lease granted by deed as transfer for valuable consideration—Non payment of premium for creation of lease if alters nature of transfer—Suit by deed for recovery of possession—Limitation—S 30 when applies The grant of a puñs lease of a property belonging to an idol by the deed is a transfer for valuable consideration within the meaning of Art 134. Sch I of the Limitation Act whether or not and premium was paid for the creation of the lease and a suit brought more than 12 years after the date of the lease by the then deedholder to recover possession of the property is barred under Art 134 S 30 of the Limitation Act only applies when there is a period of limitation prescribed both by the Act of 1877 and the Act of 1908 RAMESHAR MALIA v RAM CHANDRA ACHARIA GOSWAMI (1918) 19 C W N 1032

3 ———— Transfer with possession by mortgagee—Transferee taking possession of some items later than date of transfer effect of—Transferee not taking possession at all of some other items effect of—Limitation from what date date of transfer or date of possession Transfer in Art 134 meaning of—Question referable to a Full Bench when—High Court Appellate Side Rules n 9 Held by the Full Bench (WALLIS O J and COURTS TROTTER J contra) that Art 134 of the Limitation Act does not apply to a transfer from a trustee or mortgagee under which possession is not taken by the transferee Per WALLIS O J, and COURTS TROTTER J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act applies to a transfer from a trustee or mortgagee under which possession is not taken by the transferee Where possession is taken under the transfer not on the date of the transfer but some time later Held (a) Per WALLIS O J and COURTS TROTTER J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act applies and time begins to run from the date of transfer and not from the date of taking possession (b) Per ABDUR RAHIM and SESHAIAH ARIAR J J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act applies but time begins to run not from the date of transfer but from the date of taking possession and (c) Per SRINIVASA AYYANGAR J—Art 134 of the Limitation Act is not applicable to the case It applies only in cases where the transferee takes possession on the date of transfer and where the mortgagee is entitled even on the date of transfer to sue the transferee for possession Per SRINIVASA AYYANGAR J—Obiter Transfer in Art 134 means transfer of title and not transfer of possession. Held by the Full Bench—Under r 2 of the Rules of the High Court Appellate Side only a question of law involved in the determination of the case may be referred to a Full Bench and that the third question referred to them did not so arise in the case SLEET KUTTI v KUSHI PATRUSIMA (1917)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I, Art 134—contd

I L R 40 Mad. 1040

4 ———— Mortgagor and mortgagee—Redemption—Purchase by mortgagee at a Court sale—Transfer by mortgagee to third persons—Mortgagee re purchasing from the transferee—Mortgagor entitled to redeem the property repurchased The properties in suit were mortgaged with possession in 1882 by two persons S and D In 1885 in execution of a money decree against the mortgagors the properties were sold and the interest of the mortgagor S alone was purchased by the mortgagee at a Court sale In 1892 three of these properties Survey Nos 11 54 and 87 were sold by the mortgagee to third persons and in 1893 the mortgagee bought back Survey Nos. 54 and 87 from the vendees The plaintiffs mortgagors sued for redemption of all the properties in 1910 The lower appellate Court held that D alone was entitled to redeem all the properties in suit except Survey Nos 11 54 and 87 in respect of which the claim to redeem was barred under Art 134 of the Limitation Act 1908 and that D could have no right to claim compensation on account of these lands. On appeal to the High Court by D Held that D's claim for redemption and compensation in respect of Survey No 11 was rightly disallowed but that he was entitled to redeem Survey Nos 54 and 87 as these properties having come back into the possession of the defendant he must be treated as mortgagee and not as an innocent transferee without notice HALU DEVTA v PURCHAND KISONDAS (1910)

I L R 44 Bom 648

5 ———— Suit by Mahal to recover possession of Waf property mortgaged by previous Mahal—Date from which limitation to be reckoned was held to be 12 years from the date of the mortgage NARAIN DAS v BAZI ABDUR RAHIM

24 C W N 690

6 ———— Mortgage—Transfer by mortgagee—Rights of the transferee—Redemption—Construction of statute—Legislative exposition The plaintiffs sued in the year 1906 to redeem a mortgage effected prior to the year 1854. The representatives in title of the mortgagee claiming to be absolutely entitled mortgaged the land with possession to A in 1891 and he sold his rights to defendant B The suit having been brought more than 12 years after the alienation to A defendant B claimed as against the plaintiffs the interest of a mortgagee by virtue of his adverse possession under Art 134 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Held that it was obligatory on the plaintiffs to redeem defendant B before they could recover possession of the property Yesu Pamy, Kalnath v Balkrishna Lakshman I L R 15 Bom 583 Malvi v Fakirchand I L R 2 Bom 225 and Ramchandra v Sheikh Mohidin I L R 23 Bom 614 followed Abharam Gopuram v Shyama Charan Bhandi I R 36 I A 143 and Ithar Shyam Chand Jiu v Ram Kanai Ghose I L R 38 Cal 596 explained The alteration in the language of Art 134 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) was a legislative recognition of the soundness of the view that the Article was intended to give protection to all transferees for value including mortgagees. Swift v Jewsbury L R 9 Q B

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Art 134—contd

312 and Morgan v London General Omnibus Company 12 Q B D 201 referred to: BAGAS UMARJI v NATHARHAI UTAMRAM (1911)

I L R. 36 Bom 148

Neither under Muka medan nor Hindu Law is property conveyed to a Shebait or Mutwals on dedication—They are not trustees in the English sense but of specific property is specifically entrusted to such a person for specific purposes he might be regarded as trustee with regard to that property. Where the head of a Mutt gave a permanent lease of property which had been granted for the general purposes of the Mutt and no necessity for the alienation was established Held That Art 134 of the Limitation Act which is controlled by s 10 of the Act did not apply to the case as the property in question was not property specifically conveyed to the Matasthipathe in trust.

Also that the rent received in the lease was not valuable consideration within the meaning of the article Held further that as according to the well settled law of India a Mohant is incompetent to create any interest in respect of Mutt property to endure beyond his life the possession of the lessee did not become adverse within the meaning of Art 144 of the Limitation Act until he died and the acceptance of rent by his successor being properly referable only to a new tenancy created by himself which it was within his power to continue during his life the possession of the lessee did not become adverse again until his death. The legal position of Mohants shebaites sayyadanashins and mutwallas discussed. Ordinarily speaking the sayyadanashin has a larger right in the surplus income than a mutwali for so long as he does not spend it in wicked living or in objects wholly alien to his office he like the Mohant of a Hindu Mutt has full power of disposition over it. SIR VIDYA VARUTHI THIRTHA SWAMIGAL v ALKASANI ATTAR

26 C W N 538

Sch I Arts 134, 144—

See ART 120 I L R. 1 Lah 168

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R. 30 Mad 879

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

I L R. 44 Mad 831

Suit for redemption by co mortgagor—Property already redeemed re mortgaged and finally sold in second mortgage—Limitation—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 95 In 1860 the father of a family of four sons mortgaged some of the family property. In 1877 after the death of the father one of the sons again mortgaged the property and with the money borrowed on the second mortgage paid off the first mortgage. The second mortgagee or his son remained in possession of the property as mortgagee until 1893 when the second mortgagor sold it to the son of the second mortgagee. In 1912 a grandson of the original mortgagor sued for redemption of the mortgage of 1860 Held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 144 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 whatever might have been the position of the members of the family (which was not clear) as regards jointness or separation Art 134 does not apply to a person who being interested in part of a mortgage redeems the whole such person being merely a charge holder and not a mortgagee Ashfaq Ahmad v Wazir Ali I L R 14 All 1 distinguished. JAI KISHAN JOSHI v BUDHANAND JOSHI (1915) I L R 38 All. 138

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Arts 134 144—contd

Hindu Law—Reter

soner—Suit by reversioner to recover possession after death of daughter of the last male owner—Lands mortgaged usufructually by last male owner in 1866—Sale in 1900 by mortgagee after male owner's death during daughter's lifetime—Death of daughter in 1908—Suit in 1914 by reversioner against vendee for possession of lands—Bar of limitation A Hindu reversioner instituted a suit in 1914 to recover possession of certain lands which has been usufructually mortgaged by the last male owner in 1866 and had been sold for consideration by the mortgagee in 1900 after the death of the last male owner and during the lifetime of his daughter who had inherited his estates and died in 1906. The vendees who were unpleaded in the suit pleaded inter alia the bar of limitation Held that article 134 and not article 141 of the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applied to the case and that the suit was barred by limitation SESHA NAIDU v PERIASAMI ODAYAR (1921) I L R. 44 Mad. 951

Sch I Arts 134 144 and 148—Mortgage—Mortgagee in possession dealing with mortgaged property as full owner—Adverse possession A mortgagee in possession professing himself to be the full owner and not merely a mortgagee mortgaged the property to a third party who claims having brought a suit on their mortgage and obtained a decree put up the property for sale and purchased it themselves. Subsequently they sold by private contract the property which they had so purchased. The representatives of the original mortgagor then sued for redemption Held that neither article 134 nor article 148 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 applied to the suit but article 144 and the suit was barred. The ultimate purchasers the defendants were entitled to add to the period of their possession the period of possession of the auction purchasers their predecessors Husain Khan v Husain Khan I L R 29 All 471 Seeti Kulkarni v Kumbhar Pathumma I L R 40 Mad 1040 Ammu v Rama Krishna Sastry I L R 2 Mad 296 Chinto v Janki I L R 18 Bom 51 Ahamed Kulkarni v Paman Vambudri I L R 25 Mad 99 Bhagwan Sahai v Bhagwan Din I L R 9 All 97 Shro Nath Singh v Malpat Singh - A L J 234 referred to Babu Ram v Danke Behar Lal A L J 424 followed RAM PIARI v BUDH SEN I L R 43 All 164

Sch I Arts 134 and 148—Mortgage —Transfer from mortgagee—Suit for redemption—Mortgagee's right of redemption not defeated by reason of mortgagee's transfer In 1882 certain lands were mortgaged with possession by the plaintiff's father. In 1883 the mortgagee mortgaged the lands to the predecessor in title of the defendants representing himself as absolute owner. In 1916 the plaintiff having sued for redemption the defendants contended that the suit was barred under Art 134 of the Limitation Act 1908 Held that the suit was not barred as on the facts the proper Article applicable to the case was Art 143 not Art 134 of Sch. I of the Limitation Act 1

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Arts 134 and 148—contd

Per MACLEOD C J—A suit to recover possession is not the same thing as a suit to redeem a mortgagor's right to redeem the period of limitation for which is 60 years under Art 148 will not be defeated merely because his mortgagee transfers the mortgage to another person
TATRAMITA v SHRIDELISAR (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 614

Sch I Art 135—

See CONTRACT ACT ss 126 AND 140

I L R 42 All 70

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 All 97

Sch I Art 137—

See POSSESSION 4 Pat L J 463

Sch I Arts 137, 139 142—Suit for possession by auction purchaser—Onus on plaintiff to prove judgment debtor's possession at date of sale or that judgment-debtor became entitled to possession within 12 years of suit The plaintiff an auction purchaser of certain lands sued to recover possession on declaration of title His case was that the judgment-debtor was in possession at the date of the sale and subsequently and when he went to take possession on their vacating the land he was met by the defendant who alleged that they had been in possession from before the execution sale and contended that the suit was barred Held that the suit was governed either by Art 137 or Art 139 or Art 142 of the Limitation Act and the onus was entirely on the plaintiff to prove not only that he had a title but a subsisting title which he had not lost by the prescriptive sections of the Limitation Act ie he must show which Article of the Limitation Act saved his suit from the bar of limitation and the lower Court erred in law in throwing the burden of proof on the defendants to show that they had been in adverse possession for over 12 years
DOKARI JODDAR v NILMAVI KUNDU (1916)

22 C W N 319

Sch I Art 138—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47

I L R 35 Bom 452

See POSSESSION 4 Pat L J 463

Date when sale becomes absolute significance of—Arts 137 138 and 144 which applies when an execution purchaser obtains symbolical possession but is kept out of actual possession—S 16 if applies to a suit for possession by such an execution purchaser A tenure was purchased at an execution sale which was confirmed in August 1902 Symbolical possession was delivered to the purchaser in January 1904 An application for setting aside the sale was made in June 1906 and was rejected in April 1906 Being kept out of actual possession the purchaser brought a suit for possession in July 1914 and added some Defendants in March 1916 ie more than 12 years from the date on which the sale became absolute as well as from the date when symbolical possession was delivered to the execution purchaser Held that the sale became absolute on the confirmation of the sale in August 1902 and not in April 1906 when the application for setting aside the sale was dismissed. The confirmation of a sale cannot be kept in abeyance (when no proceedings are taken to set aside the sale before the confirmation) in order to enable the judgment debtor to take such proceedings afterwards So if Art 138 of the Limitation Act applied the suit would be barred even deducting the time during which the application for setting aside the sale was pending Art 137 did not apply as the judgment debtor was in possession at the date of the sale Art 138 too was not the proper article applicable to the case The purchaser obtained symbolical possession which was as effective as actual possession against the judgment debtor and if the latter continued in possession it was adverse against the purchaser from the very day on which he got symbolical possession The purchaser therefore had a fresh cause of action for instituting the suit for possession against the judgment debtor In such a case Art 138 does not apply but Art 144 applies Gopal v Krishna Rao I L R 25 Bom 275 referred to Where Art 144 applies no deduction of time under s 16 of the Limitation Act or under the general principles of equity is allowable and the suit was therefore barred

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Art 138—contd

BRJENDRA KUMAR ROY CHOWDHURY v ASHUTOSH POY

28 C W N 364

Sch I Arts 138 144—

Execution of decree—Successive purchasers of same property—Suit by subsequent purchaser to recover from earlier purchaser—Limitation Art 139 of the Limitation Act only applies to suits in which the auction purchaser is the plaintiff and the judgment debtor or some one claiming through him is the defendant
Ram Laxman Rai v Gayadhar Rai I L R 34 All 224 and Khiroda Kant Roy v Krishna Das Laha 12 C L J 378 referred to BRAGWANT SINGH v BHOLI SINGH (1913)

I L R 35 All 432

Limitation—Suit for joint possession—Purchase of undivided share—Effect of an order for formal possession against the judgment debtor On the 20th of March 1900 plaintiff purchased at an auction sale in execution of a decree an undivided one-third share in certain mauz land On the 20th of September 1900 plaintiff obtained under s 319 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1881 formal possession of the property purchased On the 18th of September 1912 plaintiff filed a suit for recovery of joint possession of the share Held that the suit was within time
Mangal Prasad v Devi Din I L R 19 All 499 Jagan Nath v Milap Chand I L R 28 All 720 Narain Das v Lalla Persad I L R 21 All 269 and Rahim Bahash v Muhammad Hafiz 10 Indian Cases 319 referred to RAJEN DRA KISHORE SINGH v BHAGWAN SINGH (1917)

I L R 39 All 480

Sch I Arts 139 142—

See ART 137

22 C W N 319

Sch I Art 140—

See LIMITATION (18) L R 41 I A 267

Sch I Arts 140 141—Suit by a reversioner—Mortgage—Redemption—Widow's disappearance of—Presumption of death—Onus of proof—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 103 One S died leaving him surviving his widowed daughter in law R In 1860 R passed a mortgage bond in favour of the 1st defendant's father. In 1805 R disappeared and was not heard of since 1870. In 1911 the plaintiff as the reversioner of S sued to recover possession of the property alienated by R. The defendants pleaded limitation. The first Court decided in plaintiff's favour on the ground that under s 103 of the Indian Evidence Act the Court must presume that R died at the time of the suit and therefore the claim was in time. The lower Appellate Court reversed the decree and dismissed the suit holding that the presumption of R's death at the time of the suit could not be drawn and that the onus probandi which lay heavily on the plaintiff to show when P died was not discharged. The plaintiff, having appealed, Held that it lay on the plaintiff to show affirmatively that he had brought his suit within twelve years from the actual death of R. Veeman v Deod Knight 2 H & W 544 followed. Art 141 of the Limitation Act is merely an extension of Art 140 with special reference to persons succeeding to an estate as reversioners upon the cessation of the peculiar estate of a Hindu widow. But the plaintiff's case under each Article rests upon the same principle. The doctrine of non-adverse possession does not obtain in regard to such suits and the plaintiff suing in ejectment must prove whether it be that he sues as remainderman in the English sense or as a reversioner in the Hindu sense that he sues within twelve years of the estate falling into possession and that onus is in no way removed by any presumption which can be drawn according to the terms of s 103 of the Evidence Act 182. JAYAWANT JIVANRAO v RANCHANDRA NARAYAN (1915)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Arts 140 141—contd

I L R 40 Bom 239

Sch I, Art 141—

See ART 131 I L R 45 Bom 638

5 HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 43 Mad 665

5c HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

I L R 47 Calc 274

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 98 All 117

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 43 Mad 855

Disposition in life time of full owner—Adverse possession against limited owner before Limitation Act of 1871 effect of—Thak and survey maps as evidence of title and possession. Art 141 only applies to cases where it is proved that the last full owner was in possession at the time of his death. If he himself was dispossessed and time began to run against him the fact that on his death he was succeeded by his widow daughter or mother would not arrest the operation of the law of limitation. Under the law as it stood before the Limitation Act of 1871 came into operation adverse possession which extinguished the title of the female heir also extinguished the title of the reversioner and once the title was extinguished while the Limitation Act of 1809 or Reg. III of 1793 or Pcg. II of 1805 was in force it could not be revived by the introduction of the Limitation Act of 1871. MOREN DRA NATH BISWAS v SHANMUGISSA KHATUN (1914)

19 C W N 1280

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Arts 141 142, 144—*See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 42 Bom 69

Sch I Arts 141 144—Alienation by a widow—Death of the widow—Property taken by surviving co widow—On her death property resting in the daughter as reversionary heir—Suit by daughter's son to recover possession—Adverse possession. One D died leaving two widows K and R and daughters S and T. In 1897 the senior widow K sold the property in suit to defendant No 1. In July 1902 A died. Thereupon R as the surviving co widow took the property for a widow's estate. R died on January 17 1903. On her death the daughters S and T inherited the property. S died in 1907 and T in 1911. On January 13 1915 S's son brought a suit to recover possession of the property sold by A. Both the lower Courts held that the suit was barred by limitation under Art 144 of the Limitation Act 1908. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the suit was governed by Art 141 of the Limitation Act 1908 and if not in any case it was not barred by adverse possession under Art 144. Held that Art 141 of the Limitation Act 1908 did not apply as that Article was restricted to suits by a plaintiff whose right and title to sue for possession occurred upon the death of a female holding the limited woman's estate. The suit was however not barred under Art 144 of the Limitation Act 1908 as no adverse possession began to run against the plaintiff until the death of R on January 17 1903. MAKARJUN MAHADAO v AMRITA TUKARAM (1918)

Art 142—

See ART 120 20 C W N 481

See ART 121 I L R 44 Calc 412

See BENGAL SURVEY ACT 1805 s 41

H Pa' L J 51

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 38 Mad 684

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 121

I L R 43 Calc 779

See POSSESSION 1 Pat L J 146

Suit for possession—De facto possession with defendant—Burden of proof. Where the plaintiff alleges possession of land and it is found that part of the land is de facto in possession of the defendant the case falls under Art 142 and not Art 144 of Sch. II to the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Every suit for possession of immovable property in which the plaintiff alleges that he has had possession must fall under Art 142. It is only where the plaintiff does not allege that he has ever been in possession that the case will fall under Art 144. In the former class of cases the plaintiff is bound to show that the disposssession or discontinuance of possession which gives rise to the starting point of limitation was within twelve years of the date of the suit. SCRAPPA v VENKAPPA (1914)

I L R 39 Bom 335

In cases under Art 142 of the Limitation Act although the Plaintiff's title is proved the onus is not upon the Defendant to show that the Plaintiff lost his title

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Art 152—contd

day of limitation Held that the Judge had jurisdiction to accept the memorandum of appeal so presented although he was not obliged to do so Sai Anar v Herra Lal T N W P H C Rep 5 overruled THAKUR DIN RAM v HARI DAS (1912) I L R 34 All 482

I presentation of appeal beyond the prescribed period of limitation—Proper order to endorse on such memorandum of appeal—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) s 8—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s 7 sub s (4) cl (c)—Bombay Civil Courts Act (Bom Act XIV of 1869) ss 8 and 26—Partly following mistaken advice as to proper Court to which to appeal—Sufficient cause for not presenting appeal in proper time—Power of Desai in Belgaum District to alienate hereditary property of the Vatan as against his widow his adopted son and the servants of the Vatan—Bombay Population XII of 1927—Bombay Act II of 1863 Where a memorandum of appeal is presented beyond the prescribed period of limitation the proper order which the Court should endorse on it would be that it was presented for admission on the date when the memorandum of appeal was handed into the office of the Court and that notice of the order and its dates should be given to the respondent Krishnasami Panikondar v Ramsami Chettiar I L R 41 Mad 412 I L R 45 I A 25 followed. An appeal from a Subordinate Judge which from its nature should rightly have been presented to the District Court and not to the High Court was not presented to either Court until after the period of 30 days prescribed by the Limitation Act 1908 Sch I Art 152 had expired for an appeal to the District Court. It was then on 19th July 1910 presented to the High Court well within the 90 days allowed for such an appeal but the High Court directed it to be presented to the District Court which made an order admitting it without prejudice to any objection that may be taken by the respondent as to its being barred by limitation. It appeared that the District Judge had when Legal Remembrancer advised that the appeal rightly lay to the High Court when it was presented to that Court on 19th July 1910. After the District Judge had admitted the appeal it was by order of the High Court removed to that Court and after hearing the parties and considering the affidavits which were filed an order was made by the High Court admitting the appeal on the ground that they were satisfied that there had been sufficient cause shown for not having preferred the appeal to the District Court within the prescribed period of limitation. Held that the appeal was not barred by limitation the fact that the defendants had acted on mistaken advice as to the law in appealing to the High Court in 1910 did not preclude them from showing that it was owing to their reliance on that advice that they had not presented the appeal to the Court of the District Judge within the proper period. Brij Indar Singh v Kanshi Ram I L R 40 Cal 94 I L R 44 I A 218 referred to. On the question whether a Desai in the Belgaum District could dispose by will of the hereditary lands of the Vatan as against his widow his son adopted by the widow and the hereditary servants interested in the Vatan property their Lordships of the Judicial Committee agreed with the High Court in holding that such property was not alienable. Only the testator's private property was alienable. Surya Debarai v THE COLLECTOR OF BELGAUM (1918) I L R 43 Bom 376

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd.Sch I, Art 152—contd

Sch I Art 154—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 40 Cal 239

I L R 39 Mad 750

Sch I Art 155—Applicability of 19 appeals under Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) Art 155 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applies to appeals filed under s 54 of the Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) Agar Muhammad Hamadhani v Cohen (1886) I L R 13 Cal 221 referred to RAMASAMI PILLAI v DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF MADURA (1920) I L R 43 Mad 51

Sch I Art 158—

See ARBITRATION I L R 40 Cal 721

Arbitration—Award—Application to set aside—Form of—Practice The form which an application to set aside an award under the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code should take is nowhere prescribed or indicated. It is sufficient if some notice is given to the proper office that the party objects to the award and the date on which such notice is given is for the purpose of the Indian Limitation Act the date on which the application is made. GOPALJI KALLIANJI v CHHAGANLAL VITHALJI I L R 45 Bom 1071

Art 161 read with s 17 Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887)—Application for review of judgment made on the last day of limitation without the required deposit of security is barred—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 5 s 5 empowers the Court to grant extension of time for the deposit after the application was made in time. An application for review of judgment in a Small Cause Court suit was made on the last day of the period prescribed for limitation, but without deposit of the amount of costs or security for the same as required by s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. On the following day the Court allowed the applicant time for making the deposit which was eventually made and the application for review was granted. Held that as the application failed to comply with the provisions of s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act the application for review was not a proper application in time and it was barred under Art 161 of the Limitation Act. It was doubtful whether s 5 of the Limitation Act applied to the case at all as the application for review was made within time. ABDUL SHEKH v MAHAMMAD AYUB 24 C W N 380

Sch I Art 161—

See LIMITATION (67) 23 C W N 553

Sch I Art 164—

See s 6 I L R 35 Mad 678

See EX PARTE DEGREE

I L R 35 Cal 506

See PROBATE I L R 41 Cal 519

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I, Art 164—contd

Limitation Act (XI of 1877) s 14 and Sch II Art 164 and (IX of 1908) s 14 and Sch I Art 164 applicability of—Application to set aside ex parte decree passed before Amending Act—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (VI of 1882) s 17—Deposit of security after application—Power of Court to extend time—Fraud knowledge of onus of proof as to— Scoble Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree is made after the Limitation Act of 1908 came into operation although the decree was passed before it came into force the provisions of the Act of 1908 and not those of the Act of 1877 would apply. An ex parte decree was obtained in a Small Cause Court on the 7th August 1908 and on the 14th December 1908 a fraudulent entry was obtained in the records of the Court that the decree had been partially executed by attachment of moveables. On the 26th February 1909 the judgment debtor first became aware of the existence of an ex parte decree against him. On the 10th March he applied before another Court to have the ex parte decree set aside. Subsequently the application was returned for presentation to the Court which passed the decree. On the application being refused in that Court it was registered as an ordinary application to set aside an ex parte money decree. On the 7th August 1909 it was discovered that the decree was a Small Cause Court decree and an order was made giving the petitioner time to deposit the amount of the decree under s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. The time having subsequently been extended the amount was ultimately deposited on the 28th August 1908. Held that in the circumstances whether the Limitation Act of 1877 or that of 1908 applied the application was not liable to be rejected as time barred as under s 14 of the Limitation Act the judgment debtor would be entitled to a deduction of time from the 15th March to the 7th August when he was prosecuting another legal proceeding in good faith also in the circumstance he must be deemed to have first become aware of the decree as a decree of the Small Cause Court on the 7th August 1909. That regarding the application as having been filed on the 7th August 1909 no question as to the deposit being made out of time as prescribed by s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act arises. The provisions of s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act are mandatory where an application under that section is filed without security but where the security is deposited within the time allowed by law for the application the applicant has a right to have his application heard on the merits. Where an application is made by a party on the allegation that an entry in a judicial record is fraudulent there is nothing to prevent the application being entertained without a preliminary enquiry into the truth of the allegation. Bhobunesary v Jadbendra Narain Mullick I L R B Calc 869 distinguished and doubted. Where a fraud has been committed by a person who has obtained property thereby the party defrauding can resist the application of the injured party on the ground of limitation only if he can show that the injured complainant had clear and definite knowledge of the facts constituting the fraud at a time too remote for the suit to be brought and the mere suggestion of being defrauded is not sufficient for the purpose. Fahim

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—*contd*Sch I, Art 164—contd

Shoy v Turner I L R 17 Bom 341 followed Basiruddin Mandai v Sonaula Mandai (1910)
 15 C W N 102

Application to set aside an ex parte decree passed when Act No XI of 1877 was in force—Limitation. The plaintiff obtained an ex parte decree on the 20th of November 1904 which was made absolute on the 24th of August 1907. The proclamation of sale was brought to the village on the 10th of December 1912. The defendant on the 9th of January 1913 applied to have the ex parte decree set aside. The plaintiff contended that the defendant had knowledge of the decree prior to 1910 and therefore her application was barred by Art 164 of the Indian Limitation Act of 1908. The defendant contended that Art 164 of the Limitation Act of 1877 applied to her case. Held that the defendant's application was barred by Art 184 of Act IX of 1908. Hope Mills Limited v Vukhal das Pranjyandas 12 Bom I L R 730 referred to. Jia Bibi v Ilahi Baksh (1915)

I L R 37 All 597

Arts 164 and 181—Ex parte decree setting aside of—Defendant dead after decree—Executor not brought on the record—Executor application by to set aside ex parte decree—Application made more than thirty days after decree—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) s 146. Where a decree was passed ex parte against a defendant who died seven days after the decree and an application to set it aside was made by the executor of the deceased defendant more than thirty days after the passing of the decree. Held that Art 164 and not Art 181 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) applied to the case and that the application was barred. On the true construction of Art 164 of the Limitation Act read with s 146 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) the word defendant in the said Art 164 is wide enough to indicate the executor of the original defendant though the executor may not have been brought on the record when the application was made. Ganoda Prasad Roy v Shib Narain Mukherjee I L R 29 Calc 33 referred to. VENKATASUBBAYYER v KRISHNAMURTHI (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 442

See also COMPANIES ACT 1882 ss 160 AND 169 I L R 1 Lah 187

Sch I Arts 185 181—

Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 47—Execution of decree—Limitation—Application by judgment debtor to be restored to possession of immoveable property taken by the decree holder in excess of that decreed. Held that the application of a judgment debtor for restoration of immoveable property seized by the decree holder in excess of what has been decreed is governed by Art 181 of Sch I to the Indian Limitation Act. Fatnam Ayyar v Krishna Dass Vistal Dass I L R 21 Mad 494 Har Din Singh v Lochman Singh I L R 25 All 313 distinguished from ABDUL KARIM v ISLAMUN-NISSA BIBI (1916)

I L R 38 All 339

Execution of decree for possession of immoveable property—Delivery to decree holder of lands in excess of the decree—Application by judgment-debtor for restoration of excess

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Arts 165 181—contd

lands—Limitation for such applications—Applicability of Arts 165 or 181 of the Limitation Act Art 181 and not Art 165 of Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) governs an application made by a judgment debtor for restoration of immoveable property delivered to the decree holder in execution proceedings in excess of what had been decreed Ratnam Ayyar v Krishna Doss Vetal Doss 1 L R 21 Mad 494 overruled Abdul Kharim v Islamunnissa Bibi 1 I R 38 All 339 followed VACHALI ROHINI v KOMBALIASSAN (1919) 1 L R 42 Mad. 753

Sch I Art 166—

See ART 12 1 L R 38 Mad 1076

See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT 1908 s 231 1 Pat L J 493

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47 O XXIV P 14

1 L R 45 Bom 174

See HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULARS

1 L R 45 Bom 1132

Sch I Arts 166 181—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 6

14 C W N 1096

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss 47 141 15 1 L R 43 Bom 235

See SALE 1 L R 48 Calc 975

Exonerated defendants

—Sale of properties including share of exonerated defendants—Application to set aside sale—Limitation In a decree awarding maintenance a charge was created on the shares of some of the defendants in lands belonging jointly to them and the appellants but the shares of the latter were expressly exonerated. In execution of the decree however the lands were sold by Court auction including the shares of the appellants therein. On an application by them a year and seven months later to set aside the sale of their share Held that art 181 and not art 166 of the Limitation Act applied and that the application was not barred SESHAGIRI PAO v SRINIVASA RAO (19.0) 1 L R 43 Mad. 311

Sch I, Art 168—

See s 4 1 L R 45 Bom 648

—Application for realisation of an appeal dismissed in default—Inherent powers of Court—Civil Procedure Code Act V of 1908 s 151 This application for restoration of an appeal dismissed in default was filed on the 17th November 1919 the order dismissing the appeal was made on the 27th January 1919. The applicant urged that he was not to blame for his non-appearance and did not discover for several months that the appeal had been dismissed. Held that the application is barred by limitation under art 168 of the Limitation Act. Held also that the inherent powers of the Court under s 151 of the Code of Civil Procedure cannot be invoked in breach of the clear provisions of the Limitation Act. Devi Palsh Singh v Habib Singh (1 L R 30 All 331 P O) distinguished BISWA MAL v KESAR SINGH

1 L R 1 Lah 363

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I Art 171—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O I P 10 1 L R 35 Bom 393

Sch I Art 178—

See ARBITRATION 4 Pat L J 394

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 SCH II CLS 1st AND 20

1 L R 38 All 85

Sch I Art 179—

See APPEAL TO PRINCY COUNCIL

1 L R 99 Calc 785

See s 12

1 L R 59 Calc 510

1 L R 38 All 82

—Decree—Execution proceedings—Application for time to obtain copies of decree and judgment—Step in aid of execution An application for time to enable the applicant to obtain copies of decree and judgment made after presenting a darkhast to execute a decree is a step in aid of execution. Kunhi v Sheshagiri 1 L R 5 Mal 141 followed Kartick Nath Pandey v Juggernath Ram Marwari 1 L P 27 Calc 255 dissented from HARIDAS NAWABHAI v VITHALDAI KESAN DAS (1912) 1 L R 80 Bom 638

—Sch I Art 180—Application by decree holder for possession of properties purchased in Court auction—Application filed more than three years after confirmation of sale—Proceedings to set aside sale effect of—Suspension of cause of action After a Court sale had been confirmed without opposition on 20th April 1913 an application was made on 3rd January 1914 to set it aside on the ground of fraud and it was set aside on 27th June 1915 as to part of the properties sold. The auction purchaser having applied on 17th February 1917 for delivery of the remaining properties on a reference to a Full Bench Held (Per ABHAY PANTH OFFG C J SADASTHA AYYAR J SESHAGIRI AYYAR J and BURY J) that the application was not barred under art 180 of the Limitation Act as time should be computed from the date of the order disallowing the petition to set aside the sale on the ground of fraud and not from the date of the first confirmation. Bairnath Sahai v Ramgout Singh (1896) 1 L R 23 Calc 775 (P O) followed Per OLD FIELD J.—As the question referred was not when the cause of action arose on the facts of the case but whether the existing cause of action became suspended the answer is that when once a cause of action has arisen it is not suspended by later events. Per SADASTHA AYYAR J.—The cause of action was suspended during the interval. MUTHU KORAKKAI CHETTY v MADAR ANNAL (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad 185

Sch I Arts 180 183—

See LIMITATION 1 L R 42 Calc 778

Sch I Art 181—

See s 19 1 L P 42 Mad 52

See ART 164 1 L R 28 Mad 442

See ART 165 1 L P 38 All 339

See ART 166 14 C W N 1096

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O

XXI B 2 O XXIV B 4 5

1 L R 39 All 532

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I, Art 181—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
O XXI r 59-92 2-2 C W N 3

O XXIV r 5

I L R 39 All 641

I L R 38 All 21

I L R 40 All 203

25 C W N 376

r 6 I L R 40 All 551

S & COMPANIES ACT 188... 100 AND
109 I L R 1 Lah 187

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L R 35 All 178

3 Pat L J 103

See LIMITATION I L R 42 Calc 294

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 786

See MORTGAGE DECREE.

4 Pat L J 213 & 523

See PRESCRIPTION 3 Pat L J 367

Filing affidavit to prove service of notice under O XXI r 59 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) step in aid of execution. Filing an affidavit to prove service on judgment-debtor of notice issued under O XXI r 22 of the Civil Procedure Code was equivalent in this case to applying to the Court to take a step in aid of execution. Pratapa Das v Pratap Chandra Daloi (1917)

[21 C W N 423]

Mortgage—Suit for sale

—Application for final decree—Limitation—An application for final decree in a suit for sale on a mortgage being an application in the suit and not an application in execution the fact that one such application has been made within the prescribed period of limitation does not operate to extend the period of limitation in favour of a second application the first having been dismissed for default. Itmad Khan v Ismail Gatra (1917)

I L P 40 All 235

Execution of decree—

Limitation—Execution tempo arily suspended by an injunction. While an application for execution of a final decree in a mortgage suit was pending a suit was brought for a declaration that the decree itself had been obtained by fraud and on the 9th of December 1914 an order staying execution was passed. On the 26th of April 1915 this suit was dismissed. An appeal was filed but it too was dismissed on the 10th of April 1917. The next application for execution of the mortgage decree was made on the 11th of June 1918. Held that the application was time barred. Ruddar Singh v Dhanpal Singh I L P 26 All 156 followed. Yonud-din Khan v Chayya Singh 2 A L J 76 and Qamaruddin Ahmad v Jauhar Lal, I L R 27 All 331 distinguished. Balwanth Singh v Budeh Singh I L R 42 All 564

Consent decree—In tol

ments—Application for decree absolute for sale—

Limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)

O XXXI. An application for a decree absolute for sale of a mortgage charge under the terms of a consent decree which provided for satisfaction of the decretal debt by instalments is an application under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Art 181—contd

1908) O XXIV and is governed by Art 181 Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Such application must be made within 3 years from the time the right to apply accrues. Datto Atmaran v Shavekar Dattatraya (1913)

I L R 38 Bom 32

Limitation—Execution

of decree payable by instalments with option of getting possession of land in case of default of payment—application for possession more than 3 years after first default. In 1909 the appellant obtained a decree against the respondents for Rs 370 payable by annual instalments of Rs 25 which provided that in default of payment of the whole or part the judgment debtors would put the decree holder in proprietary possession of 5 bighas 4 biswas of land. In April 1918 the decree holder applied to be put in possession of the land and failed to prove that any instalment had been paid under the decree. The lower appellate Court held that the claim for possession was time barred more than three years having elapsed since the date to the first default. The decree holder appealed to the High Court. Held that it was not intended that the option given to the decree holder of obtaining possession of the land on a default being made in payment was to be exercised only on the occurrence of the first default. The decree holder was entitled to apply for delivery of possession on the occurrence of any subsequent default and the present application was consequently within time under art 181 of the 1st Schedule of the Limitation Act. Muhammad Islam v Muhammad Ahsan (I L R 16 All 237) and Shankar Prasad v Jalpa Prasad (I L R 16 All 371) followed. Musammal Kirja Devi v Das aundhi Pam (3 P R 117) not followed. HAR GOPAL v RAM RACHHEAL I L R 2 Lah 145

182—Application to execute decree—Limitation—Decree against property of deceased debtor in the hands of his brother not a decree against the estate of the deceased generally—Time does not run until brother gets possession of estate. Pending the trial of a suit for money against J J died whereupon the Plaintiff P had J's brother E substituted on the records in the place of J and got a decree on 27th July 1906 which did not provide that E was to be personally liable but declared that the decretal amount was to be realised by the sale of the property belonging to J and left in E's possession. There was no decree against the estate of J in the possession of any one also. All J's property was at that time in the possession of the widow of J. E brought a suit to recover that property from J which was decreed by the trial Court on 15th August 1908 but the High Court on Appeal (having stayed execution in the meantime) reversed this judgment on 2nd August 1909. This decision of the High Court again having been reversed by the Privy Council decreeing E's suit on appeal on 22nd July 1914 P applied for execution of the decree on December 1914. Held that the application was not barred by limitation. In order to make the provision of Art 182 of the schedule to the Limitation Act applicable the decree sought to be enforced must have been in such a form as to render it capable in the circumstances of being enforced. Shahid Kavaruddin Ahmed v Jauhar Lal L P 32 I A 102 (1905) referred to. That the application for execution could not have been executed until E had come into possession of the property of J and by Art 181 of the Limitation Act the period of limitation for making the applications was three years from the time when the right to apply accrued. MAHARAJA SRI RAMESHWAR SINGH v HOMESWAR SINGH (I C)

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

25 C W N 337

Limitation—decree for sale.—Appeal A preliminary decree in a suit on a mortgage declared the liability of each of the properties against which the mortgage was sought to be enforced and also that each would be liable for a proportionate part of the amount found to be due on the mortgage. The amounts and property liable therefore were specified in the decree. Against his decree some only of the defendant appealed and as against them only the decree was set aside. More than 3 years after the decree of the first Court though within three years of the appellate decision the decree holders applied for a final decree against the defendant who had not appealed. Held that the application was time barred. GRAN SINGH v ATA HUSAIN

I L R 43 All 320

Appeal against preliminary decree for sale in a mortgage suit.—Application for final decree under O XXXII r 5 Civil Procedure Code—Article applicable and starting point of limitation An application for a final decree for sale under O XXXIV r 5 Civil Procedure Code is governed by art 181 of the Limitation Act and the starting point in cases where there has been an appeal from the preliminary decree is the date of the appellate decree whether the latter confirmed or varied the preliminary decree. Bhup Indar Bahadur Singh v Brij Bahadur Singh (1901) I L P 23 All 152 (P C) applied. Juscurn Boid v Pritichand Lal Chowdhury (1919) I L R 46 Calc 670 (P C) explained. Vishwanatha Sastri v Sitaleshwari Ammal (1921) 13 L W 37 distinguished. VENKAYYA v SATHIRAJU (1921) I L W 44 Mad 714

Sch I Arts 181 182—

See INJUNCTION I L R 46 Calc 103

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 48—Decree—Execution—Amendment of the decree—Date of judgment the date of the amended decree—Right to apply to make the decree final under Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXIV s 6—Limitation—Starting point—Procedure On the 17th November 1897 a decree on an award was passed. The decree did not embody the terms of the award. Plaintiff applied for execution of the decree. It was opposed by the defendants on the ground that the decree did not specify the relief that was granted and was on that account incapable of execution. The Court then directed the plaintiff to obtain an amendment. On January 28 1899 the decree was amended so as to bring it into consonance with the directions of the award and was dated 28th January 1899. Several applications for execution were made the last of which was dated 2nd December 1909. The lower Court held the application in time and allowed execution to proceed. On appeal it was contended (1) that the application was barred so far as it related to two sums of Rs 875 and 1 s 6 000 which under the decree were to be paid forthwith that is 17th November 1897 the date on which the decree was passed and which must be taken as the starting point for limitation. (2) that the application as a whole was barred by limitation as the application must be treated as an application for a decree final for sale under O XXXIV r 5 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 and as such it was barred under Art 181 of the Limitation Act 1908 for the right to apply accrued when default in payment was made and that was found to have been in 1902. Held (1) that the recovery of the two sums was barred as the decree was to be referred to 17th November 1897 the date of the judgment and not to 28th January 1899 the date of the amended decree. (2) that the application was not barred as the right to apply under O XXXIV, r 5 never accrued to the plaintiff until the Code of 1908 conferred it upon him the plaintiff was therefore entitled to claim that under Art 181 of the Limitation Act 1908 he would have a period of three years from 1st January 1909 when the new Code of Civil Procedure came into force. Amlook Chand Parrock v Sarai Chunder Mukerjee I L R 38 Cal 913 distinguished. NARAYAN KACHAR INANIDAR v BANDO KRISHNA (1918) I L R 42 Bom 309

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Redemption of mortgage—Decree for redemption—Application for time to pay the mortgage amount into Court and recover possession—Limitation—Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) s 15B On the 17th January 1907 the plaintiff obtained a decree in a redemption suit brought under the provisions of the Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879. The decree remained unexecuted. In 1915 the rights under the decree were assigned by the plaintiff to the respondent who applied to the Court on the 27th September 1915 to be allowed to pay the mortgage amount into Court and get possession of the property under the decree. The lower Courts held the application was in time and ordered warrant for possession to issue. On appeal to the High Court HEATON and PRATT JJ having differed in opinion referred the following point of law to a third Judge—Is the application or is it not time barred under Art 181 of the Schedule to the Limitation Act the application being regarded as one to extend time for the payment of the mortgage debt. Held by SNAIL J (agreeing with HEATON J but differing from PRATT J) that treating the application as one to extend time for the payment of mortgage debt it was barred under Art 181 of the Limitation Act. Held further by SNAIL J that even if the application was treated as one not merely for the extension of time for the payment of the mortgage debt but for the recovery of possession of the property as in terms it purported to be it was an application for the execution of the decree and as such it was time barred under Art 182 of the Limitation Act. VASUDEVA VENKUNATH R GOPAL PARASHAM (1919) I L R 43 Fcm 689

Sch I Arts 181 182—

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 913

See MORTGAGE DECREE

I L R 39 Mad 544

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont'dSch I Art 182—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss. 38 "9 41 AND 50 ETC
I L R 37 Mad 231
I L R 39 Bom 250

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 76 All 482
I L R 37 All 527
3 Pat L J 235

See LIMITATION (44)

I L R 45 Calc 630

See LIMITATION ACT (V OF 1877) SCH II ART 140

I L R 39 Bom 20

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 20

4 Pat L J 365

See MORTGAGE DECREE

I L R 39 Mad 544

1 ——— Suit for account—

Court fee paid months after date of judgment—
Starting point of limitation—Step in aid of execution For the purpose of Art 182 of the first schedule of the Limitation Act the date on which the Court passed its judgment is the date of the decree and the fact that the Court fee required to be paid in order to validate the decree (which was passed in a suit for account) was not put in till some months later did not give a different starting point for computing the period of limitation. The payment of the Court fee did not constitute a step in aid of execution within the provisions of the Limitation Act BRADJAN BENJARY SHARMA v GURISH CHANDRA SHARMA (1913)

17 C W N 959

2 ——— Execution of decree

of Presidency Small Cause Court—S 48 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) not applicable to such Court—Transfer to City Civil Court for execution of a decree more than 12 years old—S 182 applicable—S 48 applicable to City Civil Court not for Although a decree may be transferred by the Court which passed it to another Court for execution the law of limitation applicable for its execution is that applicable to the decrees of the former Court i.e. of the Court which passed them A different rule will lead to anomalous consequences A decree of the Presidency Small Cause Court (Madras) passed in 1898 was transferred for execution to the City Civil Court S 48 Civil Procedure Code not being applicable to the Court of Small Causes Held that an application for the execution presented to the City Civil Court in 1910 was not barred the article applicable to the cause being Article 182 of the Limitation Act that the fact that s 48 of the Civil Procedure Code was applicable to the City Civil Court was immaterial Sambasiva Mudaliar v Ponchanadu Pillai 17 Mad L J 441 I L R 31 Mad 74 Tinsoree Dawn v Debendra Nath Mookerjee I L R 17 Cal 491 and Jogemaya Dassi v Thackumani Dassi I L R 24 Cal 473 followed Her Highness Ruckmaboye v Luloodhoy Motichand 5 Moo L A 234 not applicable Per CURTIS A transfer of a decree by the Court which passed it to another Court does not make the decree one passed by the latter Court Even after transfer the control of the execution is still left in several respects in the hands of the Court which passed the decree eg recognition of a signment application for execution against legal representative stay of execution issuing precepts and certificate of non execution or partial execution etc SEE KRISHNA DOSS v ALUMBI AMMAL (1913) I L R 30 Mad 108

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—cont'd

Part of a decree containing unascertained amount—Execution of whole decree three years after ascertainment—No bar—Policy of Limitation Act as to period of limitation for execution of decree For the purposes of limitation regarding execution of a decree the decree must be taken as a whole and ordinarily when a portion of the decree is not executable by reason of the fact that the amount due under that portion is left to be determined at a future time limitation begins to run as regards execution of the whole decree only from the time of ascertainment of the amount left undetermined even though it might have been open to the party to have executed the other portions earlier Haji Ishfaq Hussain di Lala Gouri Sahai 13 C L J 351 I L R 33 All 764 Patnachalari Ayyar v Venkatarama Ayyar I L R 29 Mad 46 and Krishnan v Nylakardian I L R 8 Mad 137 followed Gopal Chandra Manna v Govind Lasa Kalay I L R 25 Cal 594 Krishnama Chari v Mangammal I L R 26 Mad 91 Abdul Faki man v Maidin Saiba I L R 92 Lcm 60 and Gouri Sahai v Ashraf Hussain I L R 29 All 673 applied Subramanya Chettiar v Alagappa Chettiar I L R 30 Mad 268 and Neral Chandra Sodooklan v Amaria Lall Sodookhan I L R 76 Cal 888 referred to C M A No 74 of 1913 (unreported) not followed A decree in a second appeal dated 30th July 1906 was as follows—

Appellant (defendant) do pay respondent (plaintiff) Rs 64 11 4 for his costs in this second appeal Rs 78 3 7 for his costs in the memorandum of objections and also his costs in the lower Appellate Court which will be ascertained and taxed by that Court The costs in the lower Appellate Court were ascertained by that Court on 1st December 1906 The application for the execution of the whole decree was made on 7th August 1909 i.e.
more than three years after the decree in second appeal but within three years after ascertainment
by the lower Appellate Court Held that the execution of the decree was not barred The policy of the Limitation Act in the case of execution of decrees is to lay down a simple rule and to treat the decree as a whole except when the decree itself directs that different portions of the relief granted are to be rendered by the defendant to the decree holder at different times Per CURTIS Under Art 182 there is only a single starting point where there has been an appeal review or amendment although it might be open for a decree holder to apply for the execution of a part of the decree before proceedings in appeal review
or amendment have terminated VEDANATHA
AIYAR v SUBRAMANIA PATTAY (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 104

Part of a decree containing unascertained amount—Execution of whole decree three years after ascertainment—No bar—Policy of Limitation Act as to period of limitation for execution of decree For the purposes of limitation regarding execution of a decree the decree must be taken as a whole and ordinarily when a portion of the decree is not executable by reason of the fact that the amount due under that portion is left to be determined at a future time limitation begins to run as regards execution of the whole decree only from the time of ascertainment of the amount left undetermined even though it might have been open to the party to have executed the other portions earlier Haji Ishfaq Hussain di Lala Gouri Sahai 13 C L J 351 I L R 33 All 764 Patnachalari Ayyar v Venkatarama Ayyar I L R 29 Mad 46 and Krishnan v Nylakardian I L R 8 Mad 137 followed Gopal Chandra Manna v Govind Lasa Kalay I L R 25 Cal 594 Krishnama Chari v Mangammal I L R 26 Mad 91 Abdul Faki man v Maidin Saiba I L R 92 Lcm 60 and Gouri Sahai v Ashraf Hussain I L R 29 All 673 applied Subramanya Chettiar v Alagappa Chettiar I L R 30 Mad 268 and Neral Chandra Sodooklan v Amaria Lall Sodookhan I L R 76 Cal 888 referred to C M A No 74 of 1913 (unreported) not followed A decree in a second appeal dated 30th July 1906 was as follows—

Appellant (defendant) do pay respondent (plaintiff) Rs 64 11 4 for his costs in this second appeal Rs 78 3 7 for his costs in the memorandum of objections and also his costs in the lower Appellate Court which will be ascertained and taxed by that Court The costs in the lower Appellate Court
were ascertained by that Court on 1st December 1906 The application for the execution of the whole decree was made on 7th August 1909 i.e.
more than three years after the decree in second appeal but within three years after ascertainment
by the lower Appellate Court Held that the execution of the decree was not barred The policy of the Limitation Act in the case of execution of decrees is to lay down a simple rule and to treat
the decree as a whole except when the decree
itself directs that different portions of the relief granted are to be rendered by the defendant to
the decree holder at different times Per CURTIS
Under Art 182 there is only a single starting point where there has been an appeal review or amendment although it might be open for a decree holder to apply for the execution of a part of the decree before proceedings in appeal review
or amendment have terminated VEDANATHA
AIYAR v SUBRAMANIA PATTAY (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 104

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Roy v Mahanta Balbhadra Das (1917) 3 P L J 367, dissenting from HAMIDALLI & AHMEDALLI I L R 15 Bom 1137

Sch I Art 182 (2)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 145 I L R 44 Bom 34

Revision to the High Court—Order in not giving any fresh starting point for execution of original decree—Effect of reversal or modification in revision—Appeal meaning of in Limitation Act—Letters patent appeal from revisions: no appeal. An order of the High Court passed in the exercise of its revisional powers is not an order on an appeal within the meaning of Art 182 sub cl (2) so as to create a fresh starting point for the calculation of limitation. PER CURIAM Unlike the word appeal in ss 15 and 39 of the Letters Patent the word appeal in the Limitation Act is used in the narrower sense so as to exclude a revision: this is clear from the three classifications in the Limitation Act: suits appeals and applications which last include applications for revision. If the High Court interferes on revision either there is a decree passed by the High Court which may be executed under the first clause of Art 182 or the case is sent down with a direction to the lower Court to amend its decree. The latter appears to be the regular course and in such event there is no room to employ any sub clause other than sub cl (1) or the new sub cl (4). Where a revision petition is simply dismissed no fresh starting point of limitation arises. When the order appealed against cannot give any fresh starting point (viz the order in the revision petition) an order in a Letters Patent appeal therefrom cannot give one as if it were an appeal within the meaning of Art 182. Chappan v Moidin Kutti I L R 22 Mad 68 Secretary of State for India in Council v British India Steam Navigation Company 15 O W N 848 and Harish Chandra Acharya v Nawab Bahadur of Murshidabad 15 O W N 879 distinguished. Judgment of WALLIS J confirmed. SUBRAMANIAM PILLAI & SEETHAI ARNAL (1913) I L R 38 Mad 125

Mortgage suit decreed against some defendants and dismissed against others who were allowed costs against plaintiffs—Appeal by the defendants against whom suit decreed effect of an application by the other defendants for execution of decree for costs against plaintiffs. The appellant was the plaintiff in a mortgage suit and obtained a decree except against two of the defendants whose property was exempted from liability and whose costs the plaintiff was directed to pay. The defendants against whom the suit was decreed appealed. The two other defendants applied for execution of their decree for costs against the appellant. The lower Court held that limitation ran from the date of the decision of the appeal preferred by the defendants against whom the suit had been decreed. Held that in dealing with the question of limitation in these cases the Court should see whether the original decree was really one decree or an incorporation of several decrees and whether the appeal against it imperilled the whole decree or not for the execution of which the application is made. That the order dismissing the plaintiff's suit with costs as against two of the defendants and the order decreeing it with costs as against the other defendants were not one and the same decree because they were embodied in one formal order. There was no appeal against the decree by which the plaintiff was directed to pay costs to two of the defendants and the fact that there was an appeal against an entirely different decree which was recorded in the same document did not affect the question of limitation when no order that could have been passed in that appeal could possibly have affected the decree sought to be executed. LAW & BENARASHI PRASHAD CHOWDHURY (1914) 19 C W N 287

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Suit for ejectment—
Decree against some defendants on consent and against others on contest—Appeal by contesting defendants—Dismissal of appeal—Execution of decree application for within three years of dismissal of appeal but more than three years after the first Court's decree is barred as against consenting defendants. A suit for ejectment brought against two sets of defendants A and B was decreed on 17th September 1903 against set A upon consent and against set B upon contest the result being embodied in one decree which did not define the respective shares of the two sets of defendants. An appeal preferred by set B alone in which they did not make set A parties was not disposed of until 8th May 1908. On 7th May 1910 application was made for execution of the decree against both sets of defendants. Held that the application was not time barred as against set A, even though set A did not and could not appeal against the decree of 17th September 1903 inasmuch as the appeal of set B was of necessity against the entire decree—there being no chance or risk of the Appellate Court modifying the decree even as against set A. That on appeal by the contesting defendants the whole matter was reopened and the decree holders were entitled to the benefit of Art 182 cl 3 cl (2) of Sch I of the Limitation Act. Baful Nath v Menon Des I L R 36 All 350 s c 18 O W N 740 and Ashraf Hossein v Gouri Sahai L P 78 I A 37 s c 15 O W N 370 and Lau v Benarashi Prashad 19 C W N 287 referred to. Quare Whether time runs against the decree holder from the date of the final decree in the appeal irrespective of the question whether the appeal did or did not imperil the decree whereof execution was ultimately sought. IORENATH SINGH v GURU SAGAR (1915) 20 C W N 178

Decree modified by High Court in revision if gives new start to limitation. A decree was passed on consent by the High Court directing that the plaintiffs do pay to the defendant the price to be ascertained by the first Court of a certain property within one month from the date of the valuation being made and that upon such payment the defendant do convey the property to the plaintiff. The first Court made the valuation and embodied it in a supplementary decree. An appeal from this decree was rejected by the High Court but in revision the said Court on 14th June 1909 held that no supplementary decree should have been passed and that the decree of the High Court became capable of execution one month after the making of the valuation viz on 12th January 1905. The defendant applied for execution of the decree on 23rd August

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contdSch I, Art 182 (2)—contd

1911 Held that under cl (2) of Art. 182 of the Limitation Act limitation ran from the order in revision passed by the High Court on 14th June 1903 which modified the decree of the first Court and the application was within time CHELAPADA HALDAR v TARIT BHUSAN RAY CHOUDHURY (1915) 22 C W N 158

4 final decree or order—abatement of appeal—date from which limitation runs—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) s 111 et seq (3) and 11 Art 182 (2) of the Limitation Act 1908 which provides that limitation shall run from the date of the final decree or order of the appellate court does not apply where the appeal has abated by operation of law and not on account of any final decree or order of the appellate court e.g. where the appeal abates by reason of non substitution of any of the parties but there is no order of the appellate court declaring the appeal to have abated—TIKAIT KRI HNA PRASAD SINGH v RAJA WAJIF NABAIN SINGH 5 Pat L J 731

Appeal filed in wrong Court—Order of Court returning appeal for presentation to proper Court—Appellate Court meaning of—Time for executing decree Where a Court decides that an appeal has been wrongly presented to it and orders a return of it for presentation to the proper Court such an order is neither a final order of the Appellate Court nor a withdrawal of the appeal within art 182 (2) of the Limitation Act Appellate Court in the article means an Appellate Court having jurisdiction to hear the appeal Per OLFIELD J (SESHAGIRI ATYAR J doubting)—A mortgagor in whose favour a decree for redemption has been passed can execute the decree by sale of the mortgaged properties Govinda Narayan v Iccaran (1913) 1 L P 38 Mad 3rd followed ABDUL KADIR v SAMFANDIA TEVAR (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad 835

Limitation—Appral—Appral filed though no appeal lay—Terminus a quo—Civil Procedure Code 1908 s 48 Where an appeal has been filed the twelve years period of limitation referred to in s 48 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 begins to run from the date of the decree in appeal not withstanding that the decree in appeal may be merely a decree dismissing the appeal on the ground that no appeal lies Akshay Kumar v Chunder Mohan I L P 16 Cal 250 and Faruk Rahman v Shah Muhammad Khan I L R 30 All 385 referred to RUP NARAY v SHRO PRAKASH I L R 43 All 405

(Sub cls 2 and 3)—Application for rehearing of suit dismissed for default dismissal of appeal—where there has been appeal—Re view The words where there has been an appeal in cl (2) of art 182 of Sch I to the Limitation Act 1908 mean where there has been an appeal against a decree in the suit and do not include an appeal against an order made on an application to set aside that decree An order dismissing an application for rehearing a suit which has been dismissed for default is not a review of judgment within the meaning of cl (3) of art 18th KARUPAN ZAMINDAR v RAI BEJRAJ v NARAYAN LAL 3 Pat L J 119

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Application for ascertainment of mesne profits—Application for execution Civil Procedure Code (XII of 1882) s 211 212 and 11 In application for ascertainment of mesne profits is an application for execution of a decree and is governed by Art 18th of the Limitation Act 1908 Uttamram v Kishordas (1899) 24 Bom 149 and Ramana v Balu (1912) 37 Mad 186 approved Puran Chand v Roy Radha Kishen (1921) 19 Cal 13th disapproved GANGADHAR v BALKRISHNA SOJRI 1 I L R 45 Bom 819

Sch I Art 182 cl (5)—

See 10 I L R 36 Bom 47

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 37 38 39 150 I L N 42 Mad 821

See EXECUTION I L R 40 Mad 1069

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1888) s 29 II I L N 43 Bom 44

See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Calc 22

1—Execution of decree—Step in aid of execution—Substituted service Held that an application by a decree holder seeking to execute his decree for substituted service on the judgment debtor is an application to take some step in aid of execution within the meaning of art 182 (5) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 Pitamb Singh v Tala Singh I L R 29 All 301 referred to ANINA BIRI v BANARSI PRASAD (1914) 1 L R 38 All 439

2—Execution of decree—Limitation—Step in aid of execution—Application by decree holder to be put into possession of property purchased by him in execution of his decree Held that an application by a decree holder to be put in possession of property which he has purchased in execution of his decree is an application to take a step in aid of execution of the decree within the meaning of Art 182 (5) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 Moti Lal v Motilal Singh I L R 19 All 477 and Bhagwati v Banwari Lal I L R 31 All 82 referred to BABU PAM v PARI LAL (1919) 1 L N 41 All 479

3—Application by decree holder purchaser for delivery of possession if a step in aid of execution Per NEWBOLD J (CUMING J contra)—An application by a decree holder to be put in possession of property purchased by him at a sale in execution of his decree is an application to the Court to take a step in aid of execution within the meaning of cl 5 of art 18th of the First Schedule of the Limitation Act Per CUMING J All steps in execution of a decree which can save limitation must be taken by the decree holder as decree holder and not as auction purchaser ANNADA PROSONNA SEN v SOMODDHI MIRDHA (1919) C W N 926

4—Application for execution of decree by transferee—Injunction against transferee—Subsequent application by persons entitled to execute decree—Limitation—Bar whether saved by previous application An application for execution of a decree made by a transferee of the decree after he has been restrained by injunction

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Execution of decree—
Notice on decree holder issued by executing Court forwarded to another for service—Date from which limitation to commence—Filing of affidavit by identifier of step in aid of execution—Limitation if runs from date of application or date of disposal thereof
 Where the notice for the execution of a decree is forwarded by the Court to another Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the judgment debtor resides the period of limitation under cl II of Art 182 of the Limitation Act begins to run from the date when the notice actually left the Court of execution and the fact that in the Court of service it was made over to the person on a later date cannot extend the period of limitation Ratan Chand Osual v Deb Nath Barua 10 C W N 303 (1906) distinguished. The date on which an application for execution of a decree is disposed of is not the date from which the period of limitation runs. It commences on the date on which the application was actually made. The mere filing by the decree holder's identifier of an affidavit of service unaccompanied by any application oral or written does not give a fresh start to limitation.
Pran Krishna Das v Pratap Chandra Datta 21 C W N 423 (1917) distinguished.
ANNAPURNA THAKURANI Shebati KRISHNA PRASAD MISHRA v DHIRENDRA NATH CHAKRABARTY
 24 C W N 55

Execution of decree—
Step in aid of execution—Order to issue notice—Actual issue of notice—Time runs from the actual issue
 Cl 6 of Art 182 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 makes the time run not from the date when the Court passes an order to issue the notice but from the date on which the notice is actually issued.
MILKANTH LAKSHAN v RAGHU DIN MAHADEU (1918)
 I L R 42 Bom 553

Execution of decree—
Date of issue of notice—Minority—Superiority of a minority after limitation has commenced to run Held on a construction of art 182 (6) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 that the expression the date of issue of notice must be taken as the date on which the order of the Court directing that notice be issued to the judgment debtor is passed. Held also that when the decree holders are all of full age at the time of a passing of the decree execution of which is sought and limitation has already commenced to run the subsequent intervention of a minority does not entitle the decree holders to the benefit of s 7 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908.
Bhagat ois 7 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908
Bihari Lal v Bam Nath I L R 21 All 704 referred to.
Zamir Hasan v Sundar I L R 22 All 199 distinguished.
KALKA BAKISH SAGHI v RAM CHAMAN (1918)
 I L R 40 All 630

Sch I Art 182 Sub cl 7—

See s 20 4 Pat L J 365
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXI R 2 I L R 38 All 204

Execution of decree—
Decree payable by instalments—Whole decree executable on failure to pay any one instalment—Limitation
 When a decree payable by instalments provides that the decree holder shall have discretion or power on default being made in payment of any one instalment to realize the full amount of the decree with interest without waiting for any future instalment to become due. Held that this does not mean that the decree holder is bound to execute the decree for the whole amount remaining due when default is made but he may still continue to execute the decree by instalments as they become due.

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Gaya Din v Jhumman Lal I L R 37 All 400 and Chatar Singh v Amur Singh I L R 38 All 701 distinguished.
Shankar Prasad v Jaiya Prasad I L R 16 All 371 referred to.
IACHIMI NARAIN v SARJU PRASAD (1916)
 I L R 30 All 230

Sch I Art 182 Expl I—Execution of decree—Limitation—Execution of decree of first Court and of decree of Appellate Court for costs carried out separately
 In execution of a decree against S D attached a decree held by S against himself and others for possession of certain property and costs. This decree had been the subject of an appeal by D and one other of the judgment debtors which had resulted in a decree for costs against the two appellants only. The last application for execution of this decree was made in 1907. As to the lower Court's decree D made various applications for execution and succeeded in realizing all that was due under it. S became insolvent and the receiver sold to one M what ever rights S may have had under either decree but on application for execution made by the purchaser it was held that there was nothing more to realize under the original decree and that execution of the appellate decree was barred by limitation.
GHULAM MUHAMMUD DIN KHAN v DANBAR SINGH (1918)
 I L R 40 All 206

Sch I Art 182(5)—Expl II—Proper Court interpretation of—Execution proceedings before Sangli Courts are proceedings before proper Courts—Intermediate application barred by limitation—Subsequent application if made in time and not objected to are not barred
 On the 10th September 1907 a decree was passed by the Sangli Court. An application was made to that Court to execute the decree but it proved infructuous. On the 11th November 1907 a second Darkhast was made to that Court but it was transferred to the Shapur Court on the 14th idem. It resulted in recovery of Rs 11 412 odd on the 24th March 1915. The third Darkhast was presented to the Sangli Court on the 9th August 1915 but it was disposed of on the 10th November of the same year. The next Darkhast was made to the Belgaum Court but it was disposed of on the 16th May 1917. The present Darkhast which was filed in the same Court on the 27th August 1917 was objected to as having been barred by limitation on two grounds: (1) the proceedings from November 1907 to November 1915 not being before proper Courts did not save limitation; (2) the third Darkhast which was filed more than three years after the date of the second Darkhast having been barred by limitation. The subsequent Darkhasts also were similarly barred. Held (overruling the objections) that the proceedings before the Sangli Court operated to save limitation because those Courts were proper Courts within the meaning of Art 182 cl 5 Expl II of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Held further that as much that the third Darkhast was barred by limitation yet inasmuch as proceedings were taken thereunder until the disposal of the Darkhast

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

they provided a new starting point for limitation and the subsequent Darkhasts which were in time and not objected to were not affected by the bar of limitation Abdullah Fa irbah v Dayabhas Amuliah (1916) 40 Bom 394 distinguished Desaiappa v Dundappa (1919) 44 Bom 227 followed. PARBUTLING APPA v GURUNTH BALAJI (1940) I L R 45 Bom 453

Sch I Arts 182 183—

See s 6 I L R 41 Bom 625

See REVIVOR I L R 43 Calc 903

Sch I Art 183—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 45 a. 15 I Fa' L J 335

See LIMITATION I L R 47 Calc 746
I L R 42 Calc 776

Revivor of decrees of Original Side of the High Court—Revivor of decree on notice to one only of two judgment-debtors not operating as revival against the other. A revivor of a decree of the Original Side of the High Court made on an application for execution against one only of two judgment debtors in the case does not keep the decree alive so as to enable the decree holder to execute it against the other judgment debtor after twelve years from the date of the decree McLAREN v VEERIAH NAIDU (1915) I L R 38 Mad 1102

Application to enforce

Privy Council order—Revivor meaning of. On 22nd January 1915 an application for execution of an Order of Her late Majesty in Council dated the 28th November 1899 was made to a Subordinate Judge to whom the execution proceedings were transferred. Held that the application was governed by Art 183 of the 1st Schedule of the Limitation Act 1908 according to which an application to enforce an Order of the Sovereign in Council must be made within 12 years from the date on which a pre-ent right to enforce the order accrued to some person capable of releasing the right providing inter alia that where the Order has been revived 12 years shall be computed from the date of such revivor. Where on an application for execution notice is issued under s 216 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1877 or s 248 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 and the Court has decided that the decree is still capable of execution and makes an order for execution there has been a revivor within the meaning of the article. Where an Order in Council is transmitted to a subordinate Court for execution without any notice being given to the judgment debtors it would not be a revivor of the Order. TRIBHUKAN DEO NARAYAN SINGH v BADRI MISSEK (1916) 20 C W N 1051

20 C W N 1051

Decree of Original—

Side of High Court against two persons jointly—Revivor of decree on notice to one only under s 248 of Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) whether a revivor against the other also. On the Original Side of the High Court an order of revivor under s 248 Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) of a decree against two persons jointly when made on an application for execution against only one of them does not keep the decree alive as against the other so as to enable the decree holder to execute it against that other judgment-debtor more than twelve years from the date of the decree. Art 183 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) which is applicable to execution of decrees passed on the Original Side of the High Court differs in this respect from Art 182. KRISHNAIAH v GAJENDRA NAIDU (1917) I L R 40 Mad 1127

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

LIMITATION AMENDMENT ACT (XI OF 1909)

See MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV of 1884) s 168

I L R 58 Mad 456

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad 6

LIMITED COMPANY

See PUTNI LE SEE

I L R 42 Calc 1029

assignment of lease to—

See LESSOR OR LEASE

I L R 48 Calc 176

LIMITED GROUND

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 406

LINGAYET PANCH KALAS MARRIAGE

See VATANDAN JOSHI

I L R 40 Bom 112

LIQUIDATED DAMAGES

See INTEREST I L R 42 Calc 652

LIQUIDATION

See COMPANIES ACT (VI of 1882) ss 58 147 I L R 40 Bom 134

See COMPANY

I L R 42 Bom 159 264

LIQUIDATOR

appointment of—

See COMPANIES ACT (VII of 1913) ss 207 (a) 208 I L R 38 All 412 charges created by—

See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 215

in possession—

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 810

Release of—

See COMPANY I L R 47 Calc 620

Registered company—

Property of the company vesting of—Official Assignee.—Distribution of proceeds in Court when governed by Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908)—Release.—Companies Act (VII of 1913) ss 13 (3) 3 (3) 271 215 232. The Liquidator of a registered company differs in this respect from the Official Assignee in that the property of the company does not vest in him. The distribution of the proceeds which had come into Court before an application was made (to the High Court) to pass an order in favour of the liquidator must be governed by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. AMRITA LAL KUNDU v ANKUL CHANDRA DAS (1915) I L R 43 Calc 588

I L R 43 Calc 588

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Execution of decree—
Notice on decree holder issued by executing Court forwarded to another for service—Date from which limitation to commence—Filing of affidavit by identifier if step in aid of execution—Limitation if runs from date of application or date of disposal thereof Where the notice for the execution of a decree is forwarded by the Court to another Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the judgment debtor resides the period of limitation under cl 6 of Art 182 of the Limitation Act begins to run from the date when the notice actually left the Court of execution and the fact that in the Court of service it was made over to the peon on a later date cannot extend the period of limitation Ratan Chand Oswal v Deb Nath Barua 10 C W N 303 (1906) distinguished The date on which an application for execution of a decree is disposed of is not the date from which the period of limitation runs It commences on the date on which the application was actually made The mere filing by the decree holder's identifier of an affidavit of service unaccompanied by any application oral or written does not give a fresh start to limitation Pran Krishna Das v Protap Chandra Dalal 21 C W N 423 (1917) distinguished ANAPURNA THAKURANI Shobai KBI HNA PROSAD MOTRA v DEHENDRA NATH CHAKRABARTY 24 C W N 55

Execution of decree—
Step in aid of execution—Order to issue notice—Actual issue of notice—Time runs from the actual issue Cl 6 of Art 182 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 makes the time run not from the date when the Court passes an order to issue the notice but from the date on which the notice is actually issued MILKANTH LAXMAN v RAGHU DIN MAHADEV (1918) 1 L R 42 Bom 553

Execution of decree—
Date of issue of notice—Minority—Superintention of a minority after limitation has commenced to run Held on a construction of art 182 (6) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 that the expression the date of issue of notice must be taken as the date on which the order of the Court directing that notice be issued to the judgment debtor is passed Held also that when the decree holders are all of full age at the time of a passing of the decree execution of which is sought and limitation has already commenced to run the subsequent intervention of a minority does not entitle the decree holders to the benefit of s 7 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 Bhagat Bihari Lal v Dam Nath I L R 27 All 704 referred to Zamir Hasan v Sundar I L R 22 All 199 distinguished KALKA BAKHSH SINGH v RAM CHABAN (1918) 1 L R 40 All 630

Sch I Art 182 Sub cl 7—

See s 20 4 Pat L J 365

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O

XXI R 1 I L R 38 All 204

Execution of decree—
Decree payable by instalments—Whole decree executable on failure to pay any one instalment—Limitation When a decree payable by instalments provides that the decree holder shall have discretion or power on default being made in payment of any one instalment to realize the full amount of the decree with interest without waiting for any future instalment to become due Held that this does not mean that the decree holder is bound to execute the decree for the whole amount remaining due when default is made but he may still continue to execute the decree by instalments as they become due Goga Din v Jhummam Lal I L R 37 All 470 and Chatar Singh v Amir Singh I L R 38 All 201 distinguished Stanley Prasad v Jaiya Prasad I L R 16 All 371 referred to LACHMI NARAIN v SAREJU PRASAD (1916) 1 L R 39 All 230

LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—contd

Sch I Art 182 Expl I—Execution of decree—Limitation—Execution of decree of first Court and of decree of Appellate Court for costs carried out separately In execution of a decree against S D attached a decree held by S against himself and others for possession of certain property and costs This decree had been the subject of an appeal by D and one other of the judgment debtors which had resulted in a decree for costs against the two appellants only The last application for execution of this decree was made in 1907 As to the lower Court a decree D made various applications for execution and succeeded in realizing all that was due under it S became insolvent and the receiver sold to one M what ever rights S may have had under either decree but on application for execution made by the purchaser it was held that there was nothing more to realize under the original decree and that execution of the appellate decree was barred by limitation (MULAN MURTHU DIN KHAN v DAVIDAR SINGH (1918) 1 L R 40 All 208

Sch I Art 182(5)—Expl II—Proper Court interpretation of—Execution proceedings before Sangli Courts are proceedings before proper Courts

—Intermediate application barred by limitation—
Subsequent application if made in time and not objected to are not barred On the 10th September 1907 a decree was passed by the Sangli Court An application was made to that Court to execute the decree but it proved infructuous On the 11th November 1907 a second Darkhast was made to that Court but it was transferred to the Shahu par Court on the 14th idem It resulted in recovery of Rs 11 412 odd on the 24th March 1910 The third Darkhast was presented to the Sangli Court on the 4th August 1915 but it was disposed of on the 10th November of the same year The next Darkhast was made to the Belgaum Court but it was disposed of on the 16th May 1917 The present Darkhast which was filed in the same Court on the 27th August 1917 was objected to as having been barred by limitation on two grounds (1) the proceedings from November 1907 to November 1915 not being before proper Courts did not save limitation (2) the third Darkhast which was filed more than three years after the date of the second Darkhast having been barred by limitation the subsequent Darkhasts also were similarly barred Held (overruling the objections) that the proceedings before the Sangli Court operated to save limitation, because those Courts were "proper Courts" within the meaning of Art 182 cl 5 Expl II of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 Held further that as much as the third Darkhast was barred by limitation yet inasmuch as proceedings were taken thereunder until the disposal of the Darkhast to set aside a mortgage made by B to C also as invalid, the plea of B and C that both the sale and mortgage were good was upheld. Pending the suit D bought B's rights in a Court auction. In a subsequent suit by C to enforce the mortgage. Held that D's purchase was not affected by lis pendens as there was no contest between B and C in the previous suit as to the validity of the mortgage and that D was entitled to plead that the mortgage was invalid as having no consideration. KRISHNAYA v MALLYA (1911)

LIS PENDENS—contd

I L P 41 Mad 458

Suit to set aside gift of immovable property—Amendment of plaint—Change of description of property—Amendment not necessarily relating back to date of suit—Mahomedan law—Gift—Circumstances in which a gift becomes irrevocable In 1908 a Mahomedian lady executed a deed of gift transferring seven items of house property to her daughter in law S. In February 1910 the donor instituted a suit for revocation of the gift and summons was served upon the defendant in March 1912. In the plaint it was alleged that the gift had in fact been cancelled as regards items 1 and 7 of the property comprised in the deed of gift as the result of a decree in litigation between an heir of the donor's husband and the donee and the plaintiff sued for cancellation of the gift in respect of the remaining items including Nos 2 and 5. On the 16th of May 1912 item No 6 (a house) was sold by the donee to T for Rs 1000. On the 21st of May 1912 the plaintiff asked for and obtained leave to amend her plaint by substituting item 6 for item 5. Subsequently to this the defendant added a plea to her written statement to the effect that item No 6 had been sold by her to T on the 16th of May 1912. Nevertheless no steps were taken by the plaintiff to bring T on to the record as a defendant. In this suit a decree was passed in favour of the plaintiff. In 1911 T the vendee of item No 6 sued for possession of the property sold to her impleading as defendants the original donor and B her niece to whom the house had been transferred by a deed of gift in April 1914. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed. The claim was not barred by the doctrine of lis pendens inasmuch as an amendment of a plaint such as that obtained by the donor in her suit for revocation of the gift made by her would not relate back to the date of the filing of the suit. Moreover according to the Mahomedan law the gift in favour of S became irrevocable on the execution of the sale by the donee in favour of T. WALI BANDI PIRI v TABEYA HIRI (1919)
I L R 41 All 534

Alienee made a party to the litigation—Compromise between original parties behind the back of the alienee—Whether binding on the alienee An alienee pendente lite who has been added as a party to the litigation is entitled to object to a decree being passed in terms of a compromise arrived at between his alienor and the opposite party. VEERARAGHAVA REDDI v SUBBA REDDI (1910)
I L R 43 Mad 37

LIST OF MEMBERS

See COMPANY I L R 45 Calc 480

LITIGATION

protection of—

See GRANT I L R 44 Calc 585

LOAN

See CONTRACT ACT s 74

I L R 36 Bom 164

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Arts 59 60
I L R 39 Mad 1081

LOCAL BOARDS ACT (V OF 1884)

— s 54 144 to 147—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (V OF 1881) ss 11 AND 6
I L R 43 Mad 816

LOCAL BOOKING FORM

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 47 Calc 6

LOCAL CUSTOMS

See RAILWAY RECEIPT

I L R 38 Mad 664

LOCAL FUND CODE

— r 549—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (V OF 1881) ss 5 AND 11
I L R 43 Mad 818

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

delegation of power to—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) ss 183 AND 209
I L R 38 Mad 602

order of authorising complaint—

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Calc 467

powers of—

See BYE LAWS I L R 47 Calc 547

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Calc 467

ratification by—

See SECRETARY OF STATE

I L R 37 Mad 55

Rules of—

See MUNICIPALITY

I L P 47 Calc 426

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) ss 188 AND 209
I L R 38 Mad 602

LOCAL INQUIRY

See COMPLAINT I L R 46 Calc 834

See LOCAL INSPECTION

LIS PENDENS

See ASSIGNEE OF A MONEY DECREE
I L R 38 Mad 36

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XAI, p 63
I L R 38 Mad 535

See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 215

See RES JUDICATA.
I L R 35 Bom 189

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
14 C W N 677

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 5.

Misdescription of Property—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT s 31
26 C W N 36

Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 248 311 313—Non service of notice of an irregularity—Sale of putni mahals for arrears of rent—Purchase of putni mahal by executor of deceased dar putnadar's estate in his personal capacity—Application under s 311 for setting aside sale by executor as such and under s 313 by purchaser in personal capacity D the zamindar of a putni mahal sold his interest in the property and then brought a suit against C the putnadar for the arrears of the putni rent that had accrued prior to the sale and obtained a decree Shortly afterwards D died after having assigned all his properties including this decree to certain trustees for the payment of his debts The putni was then put to sale under Reg VIII of 1819 for non payment of rent and F who was the executor to the estate of his deceased father who was dar putnadar under C deposited the arrears for saving the dar putni interest from the effect of the sale and obtained possession as mortgagor The putnadar's interest in the putni was then sold in execution of a money decree and purchased by S The trustees appointed by D took out execution and the putni was fixed for sale F instituted a regular suit for a declaration that the decree under execution was not a rent decree and for a perpetual injunction upon the decree holders not to execute the same against the putni mahal The suit was decreed by the first Court but dismissed by the High Court on the 8th April 1908 F applied for leave to appeal to the Privy Council which was granted on the 30th June 1908 The trustees applied for the sale of the putni mahal and they impleaded O alone as judgment debtor The sale took place on the 6th July 1908 and the property was purchased by F in his personal capacity For setting aside the sale an application under s 311 Civil Procedure Code was made by S also by F as executor to the estate of his deceased father F also made an application in his personal capacity under s 313 Civil Procedure Code The District Judge allowed these applications and set aside the sale The judgment of the Privy Council was subsequently delivered on the 4th March 1914 and it was held that the suit instituted by F should have been decreed Held that the facts were sufficient to attract the application of the doctrine of lis pendens and the act of the decree holders in bringing about the sale could not prejudice F and make the judgment of the Privy Council nugatory

LIS PENDENS—cont'd.

Shital v Shambhu I L R 29 Bom 435 distinguished That although C the former putnadar, had no subsisting interest in the property the decree holders having chosen to treat him alone as the judgment debtor were bound to serve him with notice of the sale though they were not bound to issue notice on S the purchaser of the putni interest whose suit failed whom they were not willing to treat as the legal representative of C and against whom they did not want to execute the decree That non service of notice under s 249 Civil Procedure Code was not a mere irregularity and vitiated the sale Paghnath Das v Sunder Das 18 C W N 1038 followed That the auction purchase of the putni was made by F in his personal capacity and he was not debarred from applying under s 313 Civil Procedure Code for setting aside the sale MONARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v SURENDRA NARAIN SINGH 1914) 19 C W N 152

*Mortgage suit settled ment of land by mortgagor with tenants pending suit and before suit—Tenants if acquire rayats title—Mortgagor's power to grant leases binding on mortgagee Where pending a mortgage suit the mortgagor settled a number of persons on different portions of the land and the latter got their names entered in the record of rights as tenants in occupation Held in a suit by the plaintiff in the mortgage suit who had purchased the mortgaged property in execution of his own decree to recover possession from the tenants that the plaintiff should recover The principle of Benad Lal Pakrashi v Kalu Pramanick I L R 20 Cal 708 should not be extended so as to affect the application of the doctrine of lis pendens But tenants who were settled on the land by the mortgagor before the mortgage suit but after the mortgage could keep their lands against the plaintiff upon proof (the burden where of would be upon them) that the leases in their favour were granted on the usual terms in the ordinary course of management The mortgagor has not anything like a general authority to deal with or affect the mortgaged property during his possession thereof The true position is that he may make a lease conformable to usage in the ordinary course of management *MAHAN MOHAN SINGH v RAJ KISHORI KUMARI (1912)

21 C W N 68

*Act (IV of 1882) s 52—No contest between defendants—Alienation by one defendant to a stranger pending suit whether affected by lis pendens The rule of lis pendens enunciated in s 52 of the Transfer of Property Act does not differ from the English rule and it protects parties to litigation against alienations by their opponents pending suit and the prohibition contained in the section is like res judicata applicable between parties to the suit who are ranged on the same side and between whom there is no issue for adjudication Any other party in s 52 means any other party between whom and the party alienating there is an issue for decision which might be prejudiced by the alienation Bellamy v Sabine (1857) De O & J 666 and Fayaz Husain Khan v Prag Narain I L R 29 All 339 345 applied In a previous suit by A to set aside a sale made by him to B as void and invalid and consequently*

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT (BENG III OF 1853)

S 11 (2)—District Board of Manbhum bye laws framed by—Encroachment hanging verandah of ss A hanging verandah would be an encroachment if it amounted to an unlawful gaining upon the right of user by the public. That right extends to all forms of traffic which have been usual or customary and all such that are reasonably similar or incidental thereto. The question whether a hanging verandah amounted to an encroachment would depend in each case upon the question whether in the particular circumstances it constituted an invasion of the public right of user as described above. The public have a right of user not merely on the roadway but also on the side lands attached to the road. HIRAJI BALDEO v. MANBHUM DISTRICT BOARD (1913)

18 C W N 1120

LOCUS DELICTISee EMIGRATION I L R 37 Calc 27LOCUS POENITENTIAESee SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I L R 43 Calc 1128LOCUS STANDI

to maintain suit—

See UNDER TENURE SALE OF
I L R 37 Calc 823LOCUSTS

Locusts owner's right to drive away from land—Liability to neighbour owner on whose land they alight for injury done. Visitations of locust even where unpleasantly frequent are in the nature of extraordinary and incalculable events rather than a normal incident like the rise of a river in a rainy season. The principles of law laid down preserving or regulating the settled course of a river on which depend many of the rights and benefits of adjacent owners are not necessarily appropriate to the course of an insect pest which has no settled course and which it is the interest of every one concerned to repel or destroy. An owner may therefore protect his land from such a visitation and turn away the pest without being responsible for the consequences to neighbouring owners. Even if such visitations be regarded as a normal incident of agricultural industry the owner would be entitled as an agricultural operation to drive away the swarm just as he would be entitled to scare crows without regard to the direction they may take in leaving. GREY v. STEYN & HATTINGH (1911)

15 C W N 589

LORRY (HAND DRAWN)See PUBLIC CONVEYANCES ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1893) s 1
I L R 37 Bom 374LOSS OF GOODSSee CARRIERS I L R 30 Calc 311
I L R 41 Calc 89
I L R 47 Calc 1027See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 72
21 C W N 1125See RAILWAY COMPANY
16 C W N 766
I L R 41 Calc 576
I L R 47 Calc 5See SHAWL MEANING OF
I L R 39 Calc 1029

Notice—Railway administration—Railways Act (IX of 1890) ss 3(6) 77 140—Scope of s 140—Notice to Government through Collector—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 30 31 115—Contract—Breach of contract for non delivery S 140 of the Railway Act has not the effect of cutting down the connotation of the words railway administration as contained in s 3(6). It only provides for the convenience of the party aggrieved that if he wants to serve the notice on the Manager of the State Railway or the Agent of the Railway Company he must do so in one of the ways mentioned there. If the party chooses to give notice to the Government or the Native States or the Railway Company, there is nothing in the Act to prevent his doing so; the latter alternative may enhance his trouble but it cannot take away his rights. Secretary of State for India v. Dip Chand Poddar, I L R 24 Calc 306 Great Indian Peninsula Railway Co v. Chandra Bai I L R 23 All 552 Janaki Das v. Bengal Nagpur Railway Co 16 C W N 356 Periannan Chelli v. South Indian Railway I L R 22 Mad 137 Nadiah Chand Shaha v. Wood I L R 35 Calc 194 referred to Per CHATTERJEE J. Notice served upon the Government through the Collector with months is sufficient to satisfy the requirement of s 77 of the Act. Art 30 of the 1st to the Limitation Act does not apply; plaintiff's case is not for the loss of and where the defendant does not plead any loss. Per CHATTERJEE J. Art to suits against a carrier for non delivery of or delay in delivering the time for suit is one year from the time the goods ought to be delivered. Contemplates a suit by the consignee; it casts upon the carrier the onus of showing the goods should have been delivered. CHATTERJEE J. When there is a written contract Art 115 of the Sched to the case Mofa Singh Chauhan v. H I L R 7 Bom 473 Danmull v. B Steam Navigation Co I L R 12 C 12 referred to RADHA SHYAM BASAK v. GOVT OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910) I L R 4 NO C

Damages—Liability to deliver goods—Cal Act (Beng III of 1890) ss 112 113 Sole real meaning of In an action against a consignee against the Portioners of Calcutta for non delivery landed by them—Held that the prov

LOCAL INQUIRY—contd

— order based on—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 46 Calc 1056

LOCAL INSPECTION AND INVESTIGATION

See PRACTICE

I L R 35 Bom 317

— by Judge—

See RIGHT OF SUIT

I L R 30 Mad 501

*Power of Magistrate to make such inspection during a trial to understand the evidence and to determine the creditability of witnesses—Importing into judgment facts observed on such inspection—Disqualification of Magistrate—Illegality of conviction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 148 202 293 294 556 Explanation A Magistrate may inspect the place of the occurrence of an offence in cases where he cannot follow or understand the evidence without seeing the features of the land and he does not merely by doing so disqualify himself from trying the case. But every possible precaution should be taken that the inspection is only a view of the local features and an immediate report of what he has seen should be placed on the record and laid open to the scrutiny of the parties. The Magistrate can use the testimony of his own senses to test the veracity of the witnesses before him as regards the features of the locality but he cannot import into the case other matters of facts which he has himself observed. Where the Magistrate did not merely view the place of occurrence for the purpose of following or understanding the evidence and testing it in respect of the features of the locality but imported into his judgment matters of opinion and inference based on circumstances not on the record and did not place thereon the results of his local inspection—Held that he had committed an error of jurisdiction which may have materially prejudiced the accused and that the conviction was therefore bad in law. The Explanation to s 506 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not directly authorize a Magistrate to make a local inspection but saves his jurisdiction to try a case notwithstanding his having made such inspection or investigation and does not do away with the restrictions under which they should be made. Girish Chunder Ghose v Queen Empress I L R 20 Calc 857 Hari Kishore Mitra v Abdul Baki Miah I L R 21 Calc 970 Queen Empress v Manikam I L R 19 Mad 963 In re Lalji I L R 19 All 30. Saifur Dulali v Empress 3 C W N 607 Andam Mondal v Itabara Sircar 9 C W N 2000. Lal Behari Saha v Dejoy Sarkar Sirdar 10 C W N 181 referred to. RABSON SHEIK v EMPEROR (1910) I L R 37 Calc 340*

Results of inspection not recorded at the time but embodied in the trying Magistrate's judgment—Effect of omission of contemporaneous record—Facts so found not impugned before the Appellate Court—Legality of the conviction—Prejudice A Magistrate trying a case may view the place of occurrence in order to follow or understand the evidence but he should be careful not to allow any one on either side to say anything to him which might prejudice his mind one way or the other In re Lalji I L R 19 All 30 approved of. There is nothing in the Criminal Procedure Code to prevent a Magistrate from holding a local investigation for the purpose of elucidating any matter in dispute and in so far as it conforms to the provisions of the law of evidence it cannot be excluded. He should place on record the results of the local investigation but it is not a positive rule of law that a note thereof must be made on the spot. Where the facts established by the local investigation are impugned and there is no contemporaneous record of them the Appellate Court cannot act on them but if they are not impugned the Court cannot exclude them from consideration because there is no such record when the accused is not prejudiced by the irregularity. Joy Coomar v Gundhoo Lall I L R 9 Calc 303 followed. Baiton Sheikh v Emperor I L R 37 Calc 340 Giri Chunder Ghose v Queen Empress I L R 20 Calc 857 distinguished. Where the defence suggested that the alleged place of occurrence a mound of earth was not scalable nor large enough to accommodate the number of assailants said to have been present upon which the trying Magistrate suspected the locality and found the facts against the accused but made no separate note thereof on the record of the time though he embodied them in his judgment and they were not impugned before the Appellate Court but it was sought to exclude them on the ground of the omission of such note. Held that the omission of the Magistrate to record a note of the results of the local inspection at the time had not prejudiced the accused and that the conviction was not bad on that ground. ATTAR RAI v EMPEROR (1912) I L R 39 Calc 476

LOCAL INSPECTION AND INVESTIGATION

—contd

Irregularity whether vitiates trial Where in the course of a trial the Court sent out a Sub Deputy Magistrate to hold a local investigation and examine him as a witness after he had made the investigation. Held that the sending out of the Sub Deputy Magistrate was at most an irregularity and unless it prejudiced the accused the trial was not vitiated thereby. That under the circumstances of the trial the irregularity did not prejudice the defence. RADHA MADHAB PAIKRA v EMPEROR (1910)

15 C W N 414

Proper mode of conducting local investigations—Practice Great care ought to be taken by a Magistrate who holds a local investigation to see that he is not approached by an outsider and that he does not allow his mind to be affected by outside matters. The proper thing for him to do is to be attended by a representative of either side for the purpose of identifying the points which are material in the case on the one side or the other and he ought not to allow himself to enter into general conversation with the people of the neighbourhood about the case. CHANDRA KUMAR GHOSE v MAHENDRA KUMAR GHOSE (1910)

I L R 44 Calc 711

LOCAL LIMITS

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 46 Calc 215

LOCAL SELF GOVERNMENT ACT (BENG III OF 1885)

S 2 (2)—District Board of Manbhum by laws framed by—Encroachment hanging verandah is a hanging verandah would be an encroachment if it amounted to an unlawful gaining upon the right of user by the public. That right extends to all forms of traffic which have been usual or customary and all that are reasonably similar or incidental thereto. The question whether a hanging verandah amounted to an encroachment would depend in each case upon the question whether in the particular circumstances it constituted an invasion of the public right of user as described above. The public have a right of user not merely on the roadway but also on the side lands attached to the road. HIRAJI BALDEO v. MANBHUM DISTRICT BOARD (1913) 18 C W N 1120

LOCUS DELICTI

See EMIGRATION I L R 37 Calc 27

LOCUS POENITENTIAE

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I L R 43 Calc 1128

LOCUS STANDI

to maintain suit—

See UNDER TENURE SALE OF
I L R 37 Calc 823

LOCUSTS

Locust owner's right to drive away from land—Liability to neighbour ing owner on whose land they alight for injury done. Visitations of locusts even where unpleasantly frequent are in the nature of extraordinary and incalculable events rather than a normal incident like the rise of a river in a rainy season. The principles of law laid down preventing or regulating the settled course of a river on which depend many of the rights and benefits of adjacent owners are not necessarily appropriate to the course of an insect pest which has no settled course and which it is the interest of every one concerned to repel or destroy. An owner may therefore protect his land from such a visitation and turn away the pest with out being responsible for the consequences to neighbouring owners. Even if such visitations be regarded as a normal incident of agricultural industry the owner would be entitled as an agricultural operation to drive away the swarm just as he would be entitled to scare crows without regard to the direction they may take in leaving. GREYVON STEYN v. HATTINGH (1911) 15 C W N 569

LORRY (HAND DRAWN)

See PUBLIC CONVEYANCES ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1863) s 1
I L R 37 Bom 374

LOSS OF GOODS

See CARRIERS I L R 39 Calc 311
I L R 41 Calc 80
I L R 47 Calc 1027

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 72
21 C W N 1125

See RAILWAY COMPANY
16 B W N 766
I L R 41 Calc 576
I L R 47 Calc 11

See SHAWLS MEANING OF
I L R 39 Calc 1029

Notice—Railway administration—Railways Act (IX of 1890) ss 3(6) 77 140—Scope of s 140—Notice to Government through Collector—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 30 31 115—Contract—Breach of contract for non delivery S 140 of the Railway Act has not the effect of cutting down the connotation of the words railway administration as contained in s 3 (6). It only provides for the convenience of the party aggrieved that if he wants to serve the notice on the Manager of the State Railway or the Agent of the Railway Company he must do so in one of the ways mentioned there. If the party chooses to give notice to the Government or the Native States or the Railway Company there is nothing in the Act to prevent his doing so; the latter alternative may enhance his trouble but it cannot take away his rights. Secretary of State for India v. Dip Chand Poddar I L R 24 Calc 396. Great Indian Peninsula Railway Co v. Chandra Bai I L R 28 All 552. Janak Das v. Bengal Nagpur Railway Co 15 C W N 356. Periannan Chellu v. South Indian Railway I L R 22 Mad 147. Nadiah Chand Shaha v. Wood I L R 35 Calc 194 referred to. Per CHATTERJEE J. Notice served upon the Government through the Collector within six months is sufficient to satisfy the requirements of s 7 of the Act. Art 30 of the 1st Schedule to the Limitation Act does not apply where the plaintiff's case is not for the loss of the goods and where the defendant does not plead or prove any loss. Per CHATTERJEE J. Art 31 applies to suits against a carrier for compensation for non delivery of or delay in delivering goods and the time for suit is one year from the time when the goods ought to be delivered. This Article contemplates a suit by the consignee and further it casts upon the carrier the onus of proving when the goods should have been delivered. Per CHATTERJEE J. When there is breach of a written contract Art 115 of the Schedule governs the case. Mohan Singh Chawan v. Henry Condor I L R 7 Bom 478. Danmull v. British India Steam Navigation Co I L P L Calc 477 referred to. RADHA SHYAM MAJAK v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) I L R 44 Calc 10
20 C W N 790

Damages—Port Commissioner's liability to deliver goods—Calcutta Port Act (Beng III of 1890) ss 112 113 and 114—Sole risk meaning of In an action for damages by a consignee against the Port Commissioners of Calcutta for non delivery of goods landed by them—Held that the provisions of

LOSS OF GOODS—contd

s 113 of the Calcutta Port Act (Beng III of 1890) protected the Port Commissioner and the Port Commissioners were in the absence of any default on their part after the expiration of three days from the date of landing free from liability in respect of the goods PURNA CHANDRA HUNDU v THE PORT COMMISSIONERS OF CALCUTTA (1918) 1 L R 46 Cal 56

LOTTERY

See CONTRACT ACT (IV of 1872) s 30
1 L R 42 Bom 676

LOVE POTION

See CAUSING DEATH BY RASH OR REGLI-GENT ACT 1 L R 39 Cal 855

LOWER APPELLATE COURT

power of—

See PENALTY 1 L R 43 Cal 148

LUGGAGE

undisclosed—

See CARRIERS 1 L P 41 Cal 80

LUNACY

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
1 L R 33 All 117

See LUNACY ACT 1912 Ch V
1 L R 42 All 504

*Jurisdiction of Court as to inquisition—Reside meaning of—Lunacy Act (IV of 1912) s 37 38 and 62 D a member of a family having its ancestral abode in the district of Pabna ordinarily lived in Calcutta. A his wife took him to Pabna and after some time instituted proceedings for his inquisition in lunacy in the Court of the District Judge of Pabna. Held that D had two places of residence one in Calcutta and the other in Pabna, that as resident in Calcutta he was subject to the jurisdiction of the High Court under s 38 of the Indian Lunacy Act (IV of 1912) and the District Court of Pabna had no jurisdiction to entertain the proceedings instituted by A. Orde v Skinner 1 L R 3 All 91. Srinivasa v Venkata 1 L R 34 Mad 257 relied on. ANILKALA CHOWDHURANI v DHIRENDRA NATH SARKAR (1920) 1 L R 48 Cal 577 24 C W N 178*

LUNACY ACT (XXXV OF 1858)

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
1 L R 40 Mad 660

Scope of enquiry under—Pa darshan in J document executed by under circumstances rendering it inoperative—Suit relating to lunatic's property how to be brought. The Lunacy Act contemplates only the question of lunacy or sanity at the time of the enquiry there is no provision in it that the enquiry shall extend to the ascertainment of the period at which the alleged lunatic first became of unsound mind and

LUNACY ACT (XXXV OF 1858)—contd

the finding of the District Judge in the lunacy proceedings did not carry things back further than the enquiry which commenced in November 1906 and notwithstanding the result of that enquiry the burden still rested on the plaintiffs of showing that N was of unsound mind on the 16th September 1906—the date of the execution of the lease. That A being of unsound mind at the time of the execution of the lease it created no title in the defendant which barred the plaintiffs right to possession. That even if lunacy at the date of the execution of the lease was not established the transaction could not stand as it did not appear that the lease was explained to N a pardanashin lady of weak intellect and was understood by her. Held (as to the contention that apart from lunacy the transaction would be voidable and not void and could not be avoided by any one but N and in a suit to which her manager was a party) that the Poojaries were competent plaintiffs even if the lease was not void but voidable. That even if a lunatic's manager can sue still there is no established rule of practice in the Calcutta High Court that requires suits relating to the lunatic's property to be brought by him and not by the lunatic. On the contrary the Code of Civil Procedure contemplates suits by persons of unsound mind whether so adjudged or not. It is true that a person so incapacitated has to sue by a next friend but a next friend is not a party and the absence of a next friend in the present suit was immaterial. That in any case the objection did not affect the merits of the decision of the lower Court under s 90 Civil Procedure Code it was not a ground for reversal of that decision. CASSIDEE MAHMOODI v K. B. DUTT (1914) 19 All W N 45

*Lunacy proceedings under Act XXXV of 1858 orders reports and statement in evidence—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 11 13 40 41 42 and 145 Where the question was whether proceedings in lunacy held under Act XXXV of 1858 are admissible in evidence in a subsequent suit to show that the Defendant was a lunatic at a particular time it was held that the orders and report made under the Act by the Judge before whom the lunacy proceedings were had were admissible in evidence. Hill v Clifford 1 L R (1907) 2 Ch 236 and Harvey v King 1 L R (1901) A C 601 referred to. SRIJATI PADMARATI DASGI v BORO MALI SPAL 24 C W N 378*

§ 14—

*Guardian of lunatic powers of—Lease unauthorized for more than five years if void or voidable—Avoiding a lease suit if must be brought for A lease for more than five years granted by the guardian of a lunatic without the authority of the Court as required by s 14 of the Lunacy Act is voidable and not void. It is not necessary that a suit should be brought to avoid the lease and when the plaintiff on becoming sui juris brought a suit for damages in respect of occupation of the land leased electing to treat the lease as a nullity. Held that there was sufficient avoidance of the lease. TARINI KANTA BHATTACHARYEE v BHABANI NATH DEY SARKAR (1912) 16 C W N 762*

LUNACY ACT (XXXV OF 1858)—*contd*s 14—contd

Sale by Manager with out obtaining order of Court—void—Pre-emption—compromise in suit for land—whether a sale—Transfer of Property Act 11 of 1902 s 54 One J D was judicially decreed in and his wife Musammat K. N. was appointed his Manager. On 19th January 1883 she sold part of her husband's estate to N. R. father of present defendant respondent M. P. without obtaining an order of the Court. The property sold was already in possession of N. R. as mortgagee and the mortgage money was part of the consideration for the sale. On 10th May 1883 Musammat K. N. was removed from the Managership and M. D. the brother of the lunatic was appointed in her place and N. R. was informed that the sale was invalid but nothing further was apparently done. In July 1890 there was a dispute in mutation proceedings in connection with the sale but mutation was granted mainly on account of the vendee's possession. On 3rd March 1909 the lunatic J. D. died and on 29th February 1912 his sons who had attained majority instituted a suit against the representatives of M. P. for the possession of the land sold by their mother on the ground that the sale was void and also for redemption on payment of P. 200. The defendants pleaded that the plaintiffs were governed by Muhammadan Law and that the mother was herself a sharer that the suit was barred by limitation and acquiescence that plaintiffs were estopped that they had gained a title by adverse possession and that plaintiffs had benefited by the purchase money. But before any evidence was recorded the suit was compromised the plaintiffs giving up all their claims on payment of Rs 500 and the suit was accordingly dismissed. In August 1913 a cousin of J. D. instituted the present suit for pre-emption on the basis that the compromise was a sale of the land. Held that under the provisions of s 14 of Act XXXV of 1858 the sale by Musammat P. N. was void and as such could not be ratified. Held also that by the compromise the sons of J. D. did not sell the land they merely abandoned in consideration of Rs 500 their rights to obtain a decision of the Court in a case which was genuinely contested and therefore no claim for pre-emption was competent. Janki v. Gurja Dal (1 L. R. 7 All 482 F. B.) Gul Muhammad Khan v. Khan Ahmad Shah (29 P. R. 1893) Tikara Ram v. Dharam Chand (45 P. R. 1895) Ashana Tanhai v. Alta Shetti Patil (1 L. R. 34 Bom. 139) Rani Meera d. Kuwar v. Rani Hulas Kuwar (L. R. 11 A. 157 166 P. O.) Abdul Wahid Khan v. Shalaki Bibi (1 L. R. 21 Calc. 496 P. C.) Raj Bahadur v. Jagrup Pandey (42 Indian Cases 37) Mirza Muhammad Ali v. A. Qise (9 O. C. 86) Khurshaid Ali v. Rashid Hussain (9 D. C. 331) Laj Singh v. Harnam (70 Indian Cases 351) Miles v. New Zealand Alfred Estate Co (32 Ch. D. 266 291) referred to also Pollock and Mulla's Indian Contract Act 3rd Edition p. 152. MASIHUDDIN v. MATU RAM
I L R 1 Lah 109

LUNACY ACT (IV OF 1912)

Procedure—Inquisition as to person alleged to be a lunatic—Court not competent to delegate its judicial functions to an arbitrator or commissioner—Expert evidence. It is not competent to a Judge who has to conduct an inquisition under the Indian Lunacy Act 1912 into the state of mind of an alleged lunatic to abrogate his own judicial functions and appoint some person by way of an arbitrator or commissioner to make a report on the state of mind of the alleged lunatic. If a Judge in these or similar circumstances finds it necessary to have expert opinions as to him it is his duty to call such persons as may be able to give the evidence needed and examine them upon oath. MUHAMMAD PANDI v. LACHMI PANDI

LUNACY ACT (IV OF 1912)—contd

I L R 43 All 459

ss 37 38 and 62—

See LUNACY

I L R 48 Calc 577

Before a District Court can institute inquisition under s 62 as to a person possessed of property it must be established not merely that such person is residing with its jurisdiction but also that he is not subject to the jurisdiction of the High Court mentioned in s 37 as the jurisdiction of the two Courts is not concurrent. SRINATH ANILADALA CHODHURANI v. DHIRENDRA NATH CHOWDHURY
I L R 48 Calc 577
25 O W N 178

s 56—Guardian of lunatic obtaining District Judge's permission to take out compensation money in deposit with Land Acquisition Judge—Later if may refuse to pay. Where the natural guardian of a lunatic in whose name a sum of money representing his share of compensation money paid by the Land Acquisition Collector was in deposit in the Court of the Land Acquisition Judge obtained an order from the District Judge under s 56 of Act IV of 1912 for payment to him of a portion thereof for the maintenance of the lunatic the Land Acquisition Judge had no jurisdiction to refuse the guardian's application for withdrawing the money. SATYENDRA NATH DEY v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)
20 O W N 975

s 62 63—Relative in s 63 meaning of—Wife's brother if a relative—Inquisition proceedings if may be started on verified petition only without medical certificates. The brother of the wife is a relative within the meaning of cl 11 of s 63 of the Lunacy Act competent to apply to the Court for the initiation of proceedings for inquisition. A District Judge is competent to take action for inquisition on a verified petition unaccompanied by medical certificates which under the rules of the High Court must be filed in such proceedings in the Original Side of that Court. MANI LAL SIL v. NEPAL CHANDRA PAL (1917)
22 C W J 547

s 72—Lunatic—Appointment of guardian of person of lunatic—Wife of lunatic not necessarily excluded by s 72. s 72 of the Lunacy Act is a kind of warning that particular care should be exercised by the court where a person is entitled to inherit part of the property of a lunatic and is therefore benefited by his death to see that the appointment of such person as guardian of the person of the lunatic is a beneficial one. The section however does not absolutely pre-

LUNACY ACT (IV OF 1912)—contd

s 72—contd.

clude such an appointment and in some cases the appointment of for instance the wife of the lunatic may be the most suitable notwithstanding that she is one of the heirs Fazal Rab v Khatun Bibi I L R 15 All 29 distinguished AMIR KAZIM v MUSI IMRAN (1916),

I L R 99 All 158

Chap V—Lunacy—Requisition as to mental condition of alleged lunatic—Procedure

An inquiry under Chap V of the Indian Lunacy Act once started must be prosecuted to the end. Before such an inquiry is ordered there ought to be a careful and thorough preliminary inquiry and the Judge ought to satisfy himself that there is a real ground for an inquiry. An application for an inquiry should ordinarily be supported by affidavit or by examination on oath of the applicant and by a medical certificate of some doctor as to the condition of the alleged lunatic. It would also be desirable in many cases that the Judge should seek some personal interview with the alleged lunatic with a view to satisfy himself that there is a real ground for supposing the existence of an abnormal mental condition which might bring the person within the Lunacy Act. MUHAMMAD YAQUB v NAJIB AHMAD

I L R 42 All 504

LUNATIC

See COSTS I L R 34 Bom 374

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 471

I L R 43 Bom 134

See DECREE I L R 44 Calc 627

See GUARDIAN AD LITEM

[14 C W N 258]

See LUNACY ACT

adoption by—

See LUNACY ACT (XXXV OF 1858)

I L R 40 Mad 660

Lunatic suit against—

Ex parte decrees against unrepresented lunatic—Ignorance of Court as to fact of lunacy—Jurisdiction of Court—Fraudulent purchase by de facto manager of lunatic—Rights of purchasers from such fraudulent purchaser One N was a lunatic not adjudged as such. During his lunacy a suit for rent was brought by the landlord for two plots of land belonging to the lunatic and two rent decrees were obtained ex parte against the lunatic who was not at all represented in the suit. The fact of the lunacy was not brought to the notice of the Court. At the auction sales in execution of the decrees the properties were purchased by a person who was the lunatic's de facto manager who again sold them to other persons who purchased with full knowledge of the lunacy. Held that as the lunatic or his estate was not represented in the rent suit the sales under the decrees of the Court therein obtained were nullities and the purchaser acquired no title by his purchase. The purchaser being besides a fraudulent purchaser who had acted deliberately in breach of his trust as de facto manager of the lunatic could not in any case be allowed to take advantage of the Court sales even if they had been made with jurisdiction. As he had no title whatever the purchasers from him also acquired no title. Pasik Lal Datta v Bidhumukh Dass, I L R 33 Calc 1094 relied on Khavraj Mal v Daim I L R 32 Calc 296 315 doubted. HAKIMULLA v NABIN CHANDRA BARUA (1914)

LUNATIC—contd

18 C W N 1329

LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 406 I L R 37 All 395

I L R 38 All 517

See PENAL CODE s 443 and 444

Theft—Penal Code (Act

XLV of 1860) ss 456 457 350—Trial for house trespass and theft under ss 457 350 Penal Code—Disbelief of story of theft—Finding of intention to make immoral proposals—Conviction under s 456 legality of—Prejudice—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 238—Necessity of charging intention in cases under s 456—Intention how determined—Rule of construction of decided cases On a trial for offences under ss 457 and 380 of the Penal Code although the alleged intention to commit theft has failed the Court can under s 238 of the Criminal Procedure Code convict the accused of a minor offence under s 456 of the Penal Code if he has not been prejudiced thereby. Where on an allegation that the accused entered the room of a widow at night and committed theft he was tried summarily for offences under ss 457 and 380 and set up the defence of previous intrigue and entry with such intent at her invitation but the Court disbelieved the stories of theft and intrigue and found the entry to have been without her consent and in order to make immoral proposals to her annoyance. Held that that the conviction under s 456 of the Penal Code was legal and that the accused had not been prejudiced in the circumstances. Jharu Sheikh v King Emperor 16 O W N 696 distinguished. Kailash Chandra Ghakrobarty v Queen Empress I L R 16 Calc 657. Balmaland Ram v Ghansamram I L R 22 Calc 391. Premarundo Shaha v Brindabun Chung I L R 22 Calc 994. Emperor v Ishri I L R 29 All 46. Sher Singh v Empress (1883). Punjab Rec 14 Loh Ram v Queen Empress (1898). Punjab Rec 12 Ranrang v King Emperor (1902). Punjab Rec 18 Queen Empress v Bolu (1886). Ratan unrep Cr C 293 approved. In determining the question of prejudice the nature of the case made at the trial the evidence given and the line of defence of the accused are matters to be taken into consideration. Reg v Goindas Haridas 11 Bom H O 96 referred to. To sustain a conviction under s 456 of the Penal Code it is not necessary to specify the criminal intention in the charge. It is sufficient if a guilty intention may be determined from direct evidence or from the conduct of the accused and the attendant circumstances of the case. Balmaland Ram v Ghansamram I L R 22 Calc 391. Rex v Dixon 3 All 481 referred to. Every judgment must be read as applicable to the particular facts proved or assumed to be proved. Quinn v Leathem (1901). A O 495 followed. KARALI PRASAD GURU v EMPEROR (1910) I L R 44 Calc 358

X 2 1 1 1

M

MACHINERY

hire of—

See HIRE PURCHASE AGREEMENT

I L P 44 Calc 72

Overhead to 1 of Calcutta Corporation of machinery—Machinery attached to land if can be taken to assess assessing value of land—Local Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884) s 6 (5) 101 (proviso) J BEACHCROFT J. It cannot be properly said that everything which is contained in a system comes within the description of Machinery. It may be because mechanical contrivances are employed in the working of some parts of that system. The test to be applied with reference to any particular parts of the system is whether it is essential to or assists in the working of the mechanical contrivance. The overhead tank of the Calcutta Corporation is nothing more than a building for the storage of water the water so stored being used when the need arises to supplement the amount of water pumped into the mains from the underground reservoir. It forms part of the system for supplying Calcutta with water and is filled from the same pumps which pump the supply of water into the mains. Held by the majority (FLETCHER J dissenting) on the above finding that the tank was not machinery within the third proviso to s 101 of the Local Municipal Act 1884 Chamberlayne v Collins
"O L T & S 21, Re Mulley and Finn (1891)
W N 64 Kirby v Hindustan Union Association Committee [1906] A C 43 and Messrs Dock and Harbour Board v Assessment Committee of the Birkhead Union [1901] A C 176 referred to COSSIGOR CHITPORA MUNICIPALITY v THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1919)

I L R 46 Calc 910

MADRAS ABKARI ACT (MAD ACT I OF 1886)

s 56 64—Offence under section 56 not by license but by his d pot writer—Conviction legality of ss 56 and 64 of the Abkari Act (Madras Act I of 1886) should be read together and not only the licensee but also the actual offender is liable to prosecution for offences under s 56 of the Act. Re Sudalamuthu I Veer v Cr R 617 followed Re MUTHAYYA (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 895

MADRAS ACTS

1859—XXIV

See MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT

1863—X

See MADRAS RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT

1864—II

See MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT

1865—VII

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT

See MADRAS WATER CESS ACT

1877

1877

1877

XXI

See MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT

1881—II

See MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT

V

See MADRAS LOCAL POLICE ACT

1884—I

See MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT

1884—L

See MADRAS COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS
IMPROVEMENTS ACT

1888—III

See MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT

1889—L

See MADRAS VILLAGE CEMENTS ACT

1889—III

See MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCE ACT

1891—I

See MADRAS GENERAL CLAUSES ACT

1891—II

See MADRAS PROPRIETARY VILLAGE SERVICE ACT

1895—III

See (MADRAS) HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT

1896—IV

See MADRAS MARRIAGE ACT

1897—IV

See MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT

1900—I

See MADRAS COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS
IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MADRAS)See MADRAS TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT

1900—V

See IRRIGATION CESS AMENDMENT ACT

1902—I

See MADRAS COURT OF WARDS ACT

1903—I

See MADRAS PLANTERS LABOUR

MADRAS ACTS—cont'd

1904—III

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPALITY ACT

1905—II

See MADRAS PORT TRUST ACT

1905—III

See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT

1907—I

See MADRAS MOTOR VEHICLES ACT

1908—I

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT

1914—I

See HINDU TRANSFERS AND BEQUESTS ACT MADRASMADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD III OF 1904)

s 120—Exercising a trade that amounts to—Where a person has a servant at A who purchases piece goods there and forwards them to B where they are sold and the profits are earned such person exercises his trade within the meaning of s 120 of the Madras City Municipal Act at B and not at A. There may be kinds of business in which the buying of goods is the most important part of the business and in such cases it cannot be said that the profits are earned elsewhere. HAJEE SHAH MEERA ROWTHER v THE PRESIDENT OF THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS (1909) I L R 53 Mad. 82 ss 121 125 172 and 177—Right of appeal—Scope of revision assessment finally of order of when no objection made within 15 days. Petitioner's name appeared in the classification made under s 121 Madras City Municipal Act of 1904 and he was served with a notice to pay profession tax under s 125 of the Act. He did not pay the tax nor did he apply for revision within fifteen days of the notice. Held that under s 177 the assessment was final and that no appeal lay. Profession tax is a matter within the scope of s 172. The first clause of s 172 of the Act of 1904 is wider than the corresponding clause of s 190 of Act I of 1884. s 172 of the Act of 1904 must be construed to mean that all complaints against any tax or toll leviable under Part IV and all applications for revision in respect of any such tax or toll are cognisable by the President and two Commissioners. It should not be read so as to limit the complaints and the applications for revision as to the question of classification. Muthuswamy Ayyar J in Daries v President of the Madras Municipal Commission I L R 14 Mad 140 141 not followed. Municipal Council of Cocanada v The Standard Life Assurance Company I L R 74 Mad 205 distinguished. VEERABHADRAN v THE PRESIDENT OF THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS (1910)

I L R 31 Mad. 130

s 150—Kept meaning of—A vehicle under repair is one kept and taxable. Even a vehicle that is under repair and therefore unfit for immediate use is a vehicle kept within the meaning of s 150 (1) of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904) and so becomes liable to be taxed under that section. The word kept is not qualified by the words for hire. It is not necessary that the owner should have possession of the vehicle in order to make it taxable. KRISHNA POW v MADRAS MUNICIPAL CORPORATION (1916) I L R 40 Mad. 545

MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD III OF 1904)—cont'd

s 150—cont'd

s 172 177—

See S 121

I L R 34 Mad 130

ss 262 and 420—Re-construction of pandal whether within the section. The re-construction of an old pandal with inflammable materials without the written permission of the President of the Corporation is prohibited by s 262 and is an offence punishable under s 420 of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904). s 262 of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904) was intended to reproduce s 264 of the Madras City Municipal Act (I of 1884). CORPORATION OF MADRAS v VAPADACHARI (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 7

s 287—Final meaning of in s 287 (3)—Standing Committee whether special tribunal or independent body—New additions to building—Whether mandamus or injunction appropriate—Remedy to remove them. The plaintiff as the owner of house and premises No 36 in Sargama Chetty Street in the City of Madras obtained permission from the Municipality of Madras City to execute certain repairs therein. The President being of opinion that under cover of the permission granted she had made considerable additions and alterations made a provisional order under s 287 cl (1) of the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1904) directing their removal and subsequently confirmed that order under cl (2) of s 287. Any appeal by the plaintiff to the Standing Committee having proved ineffectual she filed a suit in the City Civil Court for the issue of a perpetual injunction restraining the Corporation from enforcing the alleged addition. Held that when a right and an infringement thereof are alleged a cause of action is disclosed and unless there is a bar to the entertainment of a suit the ordinary Civil Court are bound to entertain the claim and that a suit for injunction will therefore lie. Held further that the Standing Committee cannot be held to be an independent body or a special tribunal authorized to settle finally disputes as between the tax payers or house owners and the Corporation of which they are the members. Instance of Special Tribunal pointed out. Elas Sankar v The Municipal Corporation of Bombay I L R 31 Bom 604 referred to. Held also that the word "Final" in s 287 refers to proceedings before the Corporation and is intended to bar an appeal from the Standing Committee to the general body of Commissioners but not to shut out the jurisdiction of the courts. The suit was properly brought against the President as he was acting on behalf of the Corporation. Bhaskaran Choudhury v Corporation of Calcutta I L R 36 Cal 61 distinguished. VALLI ANNAL v THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS (1912) I L R 33 Mad 41 s 366—Order by Health Officer to remove is patient to isolation hospital—Removal to old house—Disobedience of order—Charge under s 269 Indian Penal Code whether sustainable—Duty of prosecution—Essentials of offence—Illegality and unlawfulness distinction between. A person who was directed by the Health Officer acting under s 366 of the Madras City Municipal

MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (MAD III OF 1901)—con tid

s. 366—contd

Act to remove his son to an isolation hospital removed him to an isolated house Held that he was not guilty of an offence under s. 260 Indian Penal Code. Although under s. 366 cl (3) of the Madras City Municipal Act a person disobeying an order under the section is to be deemed to have committed an offence under s. 260 Indian Penal Code the prosecution must prove not only that there has been disobedience to the order but also that he had unlawfully or negligently done an act which he knew or had reason to believe would spread infectious disease Celestine v Matthews (1887) 1 L R 21 Cal. 491 referred to KAVIA SWAMY MUDALIAR v KING EMPEROR (1906)
I L R 43 Mad 344

s. 403 (Etc Laws under)— bye law 169—Export of sale of wholesome drink (aerated water)—Food in by law not covered by drink The word food in bye law 169 framed under the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1901) which prohibits the carrying or keeping for sale any article intended for human food which is unwholesome or unfit for human consumption does not include drinks such as aerated water The Crown Prosecutor v CHANDAPATHI IYER (1914)

I L R 39 Mad. 362

s. 413 (Rule made by)—Presidency Magistrate holding an inquiry under rules framed under vol a Court under Charter Act (1852) s. 104 s. 104 s. 15—Jurisdiction—The Indian High Courts Act (1861) s. 104 s. 104 s. 15 The High Court has no jurisdiction to review an order passed by a Presidency Magistrate in an inquiry held by virtue of the rules framed by Government under the Madras City Municipal Act (III of 1901) whereby a Magistrate may decide as to the competency or otherwise of a card date for a municipal election. The Magistrate is not a Court subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court within the meaning of that word in s. 15 of the Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict c 104) He is in the position of a referee between the President of the Municipal Corporation and the candidate VJJI RAGHAYLU PILLAI v THEAGORAYA CHETTI (1914)
I L R 38 Mad 581

s. 420—

See s. 202

I L R 42 Mad 7

MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1888)

s. 75—

1—Place of public resort—Madras harbour is a place of public resort—Disorderly behaviour in harbour gives rise of an offence under s. 75—Public place meaning of—Right of public to go if necessary—Madras Port Trust Act (II of 1905) bye law 99 meaning of The Madras harbour is a place of public resort within the terms of s. 75 of the Madras City Police Act. Though the bye laws passed under the Port Trust Act provide for the prosecution of trespassers of persons who enter the harbour premises without having business there or with the ships lying in the harbour yet the bye laws were not intended to exclude respectable members of the public who have been freely allowed to enter the harbour premises. A legal right of access by the public is not necessary to constitute a public place. A public place is one where the public go no matter whether they have a right to go or not The Queen v Willard 14 Q B D 63 followed Kiston v Ayle (1859) 1 Q J 145 referred to THE CROWN PROSECUTOR v GOVINDARAJULU (1915)

MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1888)

—*contd*s. 75—contd

I L R 39 Mad 886

—Arack shop is a place of public resort within the section—The public have a right under the terms of the license granted to arack shopkeepers to sit out on such shops and such shops are places of public resort within the meaning of s. 75 of the Madras City Police Act III of 1888 THE CROWN PROSECUTOR v MOONOO SANY (1906)
I L R 33 Mad 83

s. 76—Effect of condition of license by servants of license holder—Corruption not only of the holder but of servants also prohibited by Under s. 76 of the Madras City Police Act only a licensee under the Act is liable to punishment for a breach of the conditions of the license whether committed by himself or his servants. But the section does not contemplate proceedings against the servant or agent of the licensee MASTANA SITALI v KING EMPEROR (1910)
I L R 43 Mad 438

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873)

—s. 12, 13—*Court Fees Act (III of 1873) s. 7 (12)—Suits Valuation Act (III of 1887)—Suits to redeem—Suits in subordinate Court—Valuation for purposes of jurisdiction and court fees same—Court fees payable only on principal debt secured by the suit—Lien on order of subordinate Court to pay court fees on appeal—No jurisdiction to the High Court but to the District Court in a suit for redemption of a mortgage instituted in the subordinate Judge's Court the amount of the principal of the debt was Rs 380 and odd the plaintiffs paid court fees on that amount but the subordinate Judge erroneously ordered the plaintiffs to pay court fees on the total amount payable on redemption Rs 7018 and odd and the plaintiffs paid the deficient court fees. The subordinate Judge passed a decree in the suit in favour of the plaintiffs. The defendants preferred an appeal to the High Court. The respondents objected that the appeal did not lie to the High Court but to the District Court. Held that the amount of the principal debt must be taken as determining the jurisdiction under the Civil Courts Act and consequently that the suit lay in the Subordinate Judge's Court and that the appeal lay to the District Court and not to the High Court. The authority of the Full Bench decision in Zamir v Collector of Madras 1 L R 3 Mad 284 is unaffected by the Suits Valuation Act (III of 1887). The order of the subordinate Judge and the court fees on the total amount payable on redemption cannot deprive the District Court of jurisdiction to hear the appeal and confer it on the High Court. Fauzdar v Madhava 1 L R 16 Mad 326 followed Jayappa Muttan v Chandra Mohan Parryer 1 L R of Cal 954 distinguished Jayappa Muttan v Chandra Mohan Parryer (1910)
I L R 39 Mad 447*

s. 12—

See APPEAL

I L R 40 Mad. 4

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873)

—contd

s 14—

See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s 7

I L R 39 Mad 873

See JURISDICTION I L R 38 Mad 795

Court Fees Act (VII of 1887) s 7, (v) and (vi)—Suit for pre-emption—Valuation of suit for purposes of jurisdiction—Suit originally filed in District Munsif's Court—Return of plaint as beyond its jurisdiction—Presentation of plaint in a Subordinate Judge's Court—Plaint again returned by latter Court—Appeal to District Court against order of District Munsif whether competent—Election of remedies—Civil Procedure Code O XLV r 1 The plaintiff instituted the suit in a District Munsif's Court to enforce his right of pre-emption in respect of the suit lands which had been mortgaged to him on 10th for Rs 3 190 and were sold to some of the defendants for Rs 4 500. The District Munsif returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court holding that the suit was beyond his pecuniary jurisdiction. On the plaint being presented in a Subordinate Judge's Court it was returned again by that Court which held that the former Court had jurisdiction. The plaintiff thereupon preferred an appeal to the District Court against the order of the District Munsif. The defendants raised a preliminary objection that the appeal was incompetent and also contended that the District Munsif had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Held that the appeal to the District Court was maintainable although the plaintiff had filed the plaint in the Subordinate Judge's Court in pursuance of the order of the District Munsif. Held also that the proper valuation of a suit for pre-emption is for purposes of jurisdiction in accordance with s 14 of the Madras Civil Courts Act that fixed in the manner provided by the Court Fees Act s 7 (b) and that so valued the present suit was within the jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court. NARAYANAN NAIR v CHELIA KATHIRI KUTTY (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 721

s 16—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ART 35

I L R 34 Mad 399

See MAPPELLAS OF NORTH MALABAR

I L R 38 Mad 1052

Marriage—Hindu Law—Validity of marriage of Hindu with Christian women converted to Hindu religion—Such marriage valid if recognised by the usage of the particular caste though opposed to orthodox Hindu tenets—Suit abatement of—Suit by reversioner for declaration on behalf of all reversioners does not abate on death of plaintiff A marriage contracted according to Hindu rites by a Hindu with a Christian woman who before marriage is converted to Hinduism is valid when such marriages are common among and recognised as valid by the custom of the caste to which the man belongs although such marriage may not be in strict accordance with the orthodox Hindu religion. Under the Hindu system of Law clear proof of usage will outweigh the written text of the Law. Under s 16 of Madras Act III of 1873 any proved custom concerning marriage must be upheld. Apart from custom such a marriage between parties who do not belong to the twice born classes is valid under Hindu Law. It is only

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873)

—contd

s 16—contd

persons who belong to the twice born classes that are enjoined to marry in their own class. All other persons must be treated as Sudras and marriages between members of different classes of Sudras are valid. Where a caste accepts a marriage as valid and treats the parties thereto as members of the caste the Court will not declare such a marriage null and void. A declaratory suit by a reversioner brought not only on his own behalf but on behalf of the body of reversioners does not abate on the death of the plaintiff. MUTHUSAMI MUDALIAR v MASILAMANI (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 342

s 17—Original suit tried partly by a District Munsif—Subsequent appointment as Subordinate Judge—Decree passed by successor in the Munsif's Court—Appeal from the decree—Competency of the Subordinate Judge to hear the appeal—Disqualification under the common law and a statutory law nature of—Objection when to be taken—Waiver—Mere bias or prejudice ground of disqualification, when—Appropriate remedy Where a District Munsif tried an original suit in part and was promoted to be a Subordinate Judge and his successor in office as a District Munsif completed the trial of the suit and passed a decree therein and an appeal preferred against the decree was heard and disposed of without objection by the Subordinate Judge who had tried the original suit in part. Held that the disposal of the appeal by the Subordinate Judge was not legally invalid and ought not to be set aside by the Appellate Court. S 17 of the Madras Civil Courts Act introduces a statutory disqualification as regards District and Subordinate Judges but is confined to the case where the appeal to be heard in the Appellate Court is against the decree or order passed by the District or Subordinate Judge himself in another capacity. S 17 of the Madras Civil Courts Act does not make any distinction between the Judge being a nominal party or a really interested party. The interest which disqualifies a Judge must be pecuniary interest or one which involves some individual right or privilege or it must be an interest arising out of the near relationship of the Judge to a party to the cause. Mere bias or prejudice on the part of a Judge does not disqualify him in the absence of a statutory provision. Even as regards relationship to a party to the cause a Judge was not under the common law disqualified by such relationship and it is only by statute law that such a disqualification could be imposed on a Judge. Under the common law there is no disqualification imposed on a Judge to sit in his own Court in review of his own decision (it is so under the statute law also) or even to review it on appeal in the Appellate Court if he become an Appellate Judge having appellate jurisdiction over the tribunal in which he decided the cause as Original Judge. Where there is no statutory or common law disqualification in the Judge of the Court below an Appellate Court should not set aside the judgment of the Lower Court on the mere ground that it might have been swayed by bias or prejudice. Even in such a case unless objection was taken before the Judge of the Lower Court itself at or during the trial of the cause to his hearing the suit or appeal the Appellate Court should not interfere except in a strong or clear case of failure of justice in the Lower Court through bias or

MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873)—
—*concl'ds 17—*concl'd

prejudice. The appropriate remedy in such cases was for the party to have applied to the proper superior Court to have the case transferred to another Court. VENKATAPATHI NAYANIPUR v MAHOMED SAHIB (1913) 1 L R 38 Mad 571

MADRAS COURT OF WARDS ACT (MAD I OF 1902)s 35—

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS

1 L R 40 Mad 871

ss 41 37—Non notification of pecuniary claims as required by s 37 effect of—Cessation of interest whether final—postponement of payment of notified claims to notified claimant after cessation of Court of Wards management. The direction contained in s 41 of the Madras Court of Wards Act (II of 1902) to postpone payment of pecuniary claims against a ward of the Court which are not notified to claims notified to the Collector as required by s 37 of the Act applies only to the Court of Wards and not to others authorised to execute decrees under the Civil Procedure Code and that to others in respect of unsecured claims and the direction is not operative after the ward's estate ceases to be under the Court of Wards. Hence a mortgage decree against a person which the decree holder failed to notify to the Collector while the person was under the Court of Wards is executable in Civil Courts without any liability to postponement to notified claims after the Court of Wards management ceases. But non notification of existence of the claim as required by s 37 entails a final cessation of interest from six months after the notification prescribed in s 37 of the Act except in the event specified in s 37 (f). Depuru Kalappa Peddy v Umada Rajah 1 Mad W 75 considered. PUNGA ROW v RAJAH OF KARVETTAH (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad 503

s 49—(1)—Notice of suit—Suit for money is a suit relating to property of a ward. A suit for money is a suit relating to the property of a ward within the meaning of sub s (f) of s 49 of Madras Act I of 1902 (Madras Court of Wards Act) and requires a notice of suit under that section. A mere demand for payment is not a notice of suit. VENKATACHALAPATHY v SRI RAJAH D S v SIVA RAO NAIDU BAHADUR (1912) 1 L R 37 Mad 283

MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884)

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

1 L R 38 Mad 6

s 10—

See RIGHT OF STREET

1 L R 36 Mad 120

s 53—Shipping Company—Ships calling at ports to load and unload goods—Calling at Cocanada for loading goods—Agent at Madras—Sub Agent at Cocanada—Contracts with shippers entered into only by agent at Madras—Company whether trading or carrying on business at Cocanada—Company whether liable to be taxed in Cocanada. Where a shipping company which earned profits by carriage of goods by sea and in the course of its business called at several ports in various parts of the world was in the habit of loading and un-

MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884)—*concl'ds 53—*concl'd loading goods at Cocanada and it appeared that the Company had its principal Agent at Madras who employed a Sub Agent at Cocanada but that all contracts with shippers could be and were entered into only by the Agent at Madras and the Company was assessed by the Municipality of Cocanada to pay tax under s 53 of the District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) for exercising its trade and carrying on business in Cocanada. Held that the Company was not exercising any trade or carrying on business in Cocanada so as to be liable to be taxed under s 53 of the Madras District Municipalities Act because the freight earning contracts with the shippers were not entered into at the port of Cocanada. Granger v Gough [1896] A C 325 and Lovell and Christmas Limited v Commissioner of Taxes [1908] A C 46 followed. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF COCANADA v THE CLAN LINE STEAMER LIMITED (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 455 ss 53 and 60—Holds office meaning of M a District and Sessions Judge whose usual place of business was within the Municipality of C resided for sixty days within the Municipality of K during the annual recess and during that period did some administrative but no judicial work. Held (a) that M held his office during that period within the Municipality of K within the meaning of s 53 of the District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) and (b) that a payment by him of profession tax for the half year covering the sixty days to the Municipality of K was a lawful payment which would exempt him under s 60 of the Act from liability to pay the tax again for the same half year to the Municipality of C. Chairman Ongole Municipality v Moinsay 1 L R 17 Mad 403 distinguished. MOORELY v THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF CUDDALORE (1914) 1 L R 38 Mad 879 ss 72 and 73—Theatre unfit for use and unused owing to removal of part of roofing—Exemption from tax. A building cannot be held to be completely demolished or destroyed within section 3 (c) of the Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) so as to be completely exempt from liability to tax simply because part of its roof is removed for the purpose of effecting repairs and the building is thus rendered unfit for use. As a building actually unused it is liable for half the usual tax under section 72 of the Act. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF TANJORE v KRISHNA PILLAI (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad 354

s 103—

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 38 Mad 18

s 168—

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

1 L R 38 Mad 6

Adverse possession against Municipality—Lawful encroachment meaning of—Right of Municipality to remove encroachments etc after title barred—Limitation Act (XV of 1877)—Limitation Amendment Act (VI of 1900). Adverse possession by a person for twelve years before the Limitation Amendment Act of 1900 came into force of some portion of a street vested in a Municipality is sufficient to give the person a clear title as against the Municipality.

MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884)—contd

— s 163—contd

Under s 168 of the District Municipalities Act the Municipal Council is not entitled to remove the projections and encroachments made by a person who has acquired full title to them and to the site on which the encroachments stand by adverse possession for the statutory period. Basmeswara Swami v Bellary Municipal Council I L R 38 Mad 111 = c 23 Mad I J 478 distinguished. CHAIRMAN MUNICIPAL COUNCIL SRIRANGAM, v SUBBA PANDIT IAP (1913) I L R 38 Mad 456

— ss 172 and 173—

See TORTS I L R 41 Mad 538

— ss 188 cl (5) and 189—Application for license to boil paddy—Refusal of license more than thirty days after application—Boiling paddy subsequent to refusal—Charge under s 189 of the Act—Conviction if legal Where a petitioner applied to the Chairman of a municipality for the continuance of a license for boiling paddy at a certain place during the next financial year but the license was refused more than thirty days after the receipt of the application by the Chairman and the applicant used the place for boiling paddy notwithstanding the refusal. Held that the petitioner was not guilty of an offence under s 189 of the District Municipalities Act as the place in question should be held to be duly licensed for the financial year for which the license was sought under s 188 cl (5) of the Act. RE VENKATASUBBAYIA (1916) I L R 40 Mad 589

— s 191—No right to farm slaughtering fees—Contract of farming such fees void and unenforceable—Contract Act ss 11 and 23—Powers of Corporations to contract Farming out by a municipality of its right to collect fees on the slaughter of animals which the municipality is entitled to levy under s 191 of Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) is unauthorized and ultra vires. A contract of lease which has the effect of farming out such a right is void and unenforceable under ss 11 and 23 of the Contract Act (V of 1882) as being beyond the competency of the Municipal Corporation to enter into and therefore prohibited. Held that any amount due to the municipality under such a contract cannot be recovered. Decision of WALLIS J. in Corporation of Madras v Muthan Sani (C S No 244 of 1907) 21 Mad L J 788 and Murudamilli Illam v Pargassam Moopan I L R 21 Mad 401 applied. Malabury's Laws of England Vol VIII article 80: Corporations Title referred to Abdulla v Mammod I L R 26 Mad 156 distinguished. PER CHAMBERLAIN. The right of farming out is not necessary to the exercise of the right of levying such fees may be naturally and easily collected by Municipal subordinates. The fact that the Corporation has power to farm out tolls negatives an implied power to farm out other kinds of fees. The fact that the Municipal Act in Code contains provisions for the farming out of slaughtering fees and other taxes less tolls is no guide to the interpretation of the Act in this respect. Q are Whether s 11 of the Contract Act is not exhaustive and does not deal with the competency of a corporation to contract? MUNICIPAL COUNCIL KUMBHAKONAM v ABRAHAM SATHI (1913) I L R 38 Mad 113

MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884)—contd

— ss 207 and 246 A—Non-compliance with notice to provide latrines in houses—Duty of Municipality to call upon owners to provide movable receptacles or itself construct latrines before prosecution whether any It is not obligatory on a Municipality under the Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) either to call upon a house owner to provide movable receptacles under s 217 of the Act or to construct a latrine itself before prosecuting the house owner under s 261 A for non-compliance with a notice to construct a latrine. An owner cannot be convicted of not providing a latrine in the backyard of his house when there is no backward to his house. THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v NARAYANA REDDI AND OTHERS (1918) I L R 42 Mad 57

— ss 207 264 (a) 278—Erection of a latrine by a house owner—Nuisance to neighbours—Nuisance avoidable—Injunction—Damages whether sole remedy The fact that a municipality governed by the Madras District Municipalities Act which is empowered to see that house owners provide latrines in their houses ordered the erection of a latrine in a certain house does not enable the house owner to erect a latrine at a place where it would be a nuisance to his neighbour. If he could erect it at any other place where it would not be a nuisance he can be restrained by an injunction to abate the nuisance. Award of damages as provided for by s 278 of the Act is not the only remedy. RAMA IYER v MARTIA SEQUEIRA (1919) I L R 42 Mad 706 — ss 216 to 221—Duty of Municipality to carry night soil from houses to Municipal depots—No rights in the municipality to levy fees from house owners A Municipality constituted under the Madras District Municipalities Act (V of 1884) has no power to levy fees from owners or occupiers of houses and buildings within the Municipality for carrying night soil and other offensive matter accumulating on their premises from inside those premises to the municipal depots wherever situated such duty being cast on the Municipality by the Act. SOUTH INDIAN RAILWAY v MUNICIPAL COUNCIL TRICHINOPOLY (1920) I L R 43 Mad 805

— s 279—

See RIGHT OF SUE

I L R 30 Mad 373

— s 287—Held that the word final in s 287 refers to proceedings before the Corporation and is intended to bar an appeal from the Standing Committee to the Commissioners but not to shut out the jurisdiction of the Courts. VALLE ARNAL v THE CORPORATION OF MADRAS I L R 38 Mad 41

MADRAS DISTRICT POLICE ACT (XIV OF 1879)

See UNSETTLED PALATAM

I L R 41 Mad 749

— s 40—Threatening of—Demand by a police constable of money or customary payment in which an offence under the section A demand by a police constable of a maulm customary payment made to obtain his favour is a threat within s 48 of the Police Act (XIV of 1879) and obtaining money by such a threat is an offence under the section. TAK KINO EN ENOR v I L RAGH (1917) I L R 41 Mad 485

MADRAS ESTATE LAND ACT (I OF 1908)See LAND TENURE IN MADRAS

Tender of patta not necessary to recover rent though accrued due prior to the Act—Limitation when begins to run in respect of claim for rent In a suit for recovery of rent time runs from the time the rent became due according to the terms of the tenancy. Asachalam Chettiar v. Kadir Parthan 1 L P 23 Mad 556 applied Chinnampalam Pannampalackar v. Lakshmi Doss 1 L J 27 Mad 241 and Parappanappa Iyer v. Bolba Sriramulu 1 L R 9 Mad 113 referred to. Tender of patta is not a condition precedent to the maintainability of a suit under the Estates Land Act for the recovery of arrears of rent though such rent may have accrued due before the Act came into force. Perabhadra Raja v. Annamalai 27 Mad L J 451 followed. Even under the Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865) the tender of patta was not necessary to complete the landlord's right to rent but was only a condition to be fulfilled if legal proceedings had to be instituted for the enforcement of the landlord's rights. Appa Rao v. Raimam 1 L R 13 Mad 249 followed. Venkata Varaswami Naidu v. Sellaiah 9 Mad L T 231 and Jarammal Jitmal v. Muktabai 1 L P 14 Bom 516 distinguished. Gopalaswamy Mudali v. Muttiah Gopalier 7 Mad L C 312 referred to. KAJITHAMATHA v. METTARAJU (1912) 1 L P 37 Mad 540

Lessee who term has expired whether a landlord under the Act—No power to distrain holding after expiry of lease The provisions of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1903) do not empower a person who was a lessee of an estate to take proceedings after the expiry of his lease to sell the tenant's holding for arrears of rent due for a falli covered by the period of his lease. Forbes v. Maharaja Bahadur Singh 1 L R 41 Cal 976 referred to. PER SEVENGER J.—his only remedy is to sue the tenant on his contract for rent. PER SE JAGIS AYYAR J.—(i) A person to whom arrears are due is a landlord notwithstanding the fact that his estate has terminated. (ii) The law does not give him a first charge on the holding or the crops thereon. (iii) He can distrain the moveable property or the trees in the holding of the defaulter. (iv) He is not entitled to attach the holding. SUNDARAM AYYAR v. KULATHU AYYAR (1915) 1 L R 39 Mad 1018

Arrears of rent—Transfer of interest in the estate—Suit for recovery of arrears—Revenue or Civil Court—Jurisdiction The Revenue Court alone has jurisdiction to try a suit for arrears of rent which accrued due to a landlord under the Madras Estates Land Act even though before the date of the filing of the suit plaintiff's interest in the estate had been transferred. Forbes v. Maharaja Bahadur Singh (1914) 1 L R 41 Cal 976 (P.C.) distinguished. PER SADASIVA AYYAR J.—Even a bare assignee of the arrears of rent from the owner of an estate or a part thereof is a landlord within the meaning of the Act for the purpose of pursuing the remedies of a landlord under the Act. VENKATA LAKSHMANA CARL v. ANURUPPI (1911) 1 L R 44 Mad 1143

Appellant obtained from respondent a lease of certain lands for 3 years at an annual rent—The latter shewed that the parties anticipated cultivation of the land and there was no clause forbidding sub letting. It was further stipulated that at the conclusion of the term the lands were to be dealt with according to the pleasure of the Estate authorities without obtaining any release from the lessees. After obtaining the lease the Appellants did not cultivate the lands themselves but sub leased them to cultivating tenants. On the termination of the lease the Appellants were served with a notice to quit. The Appellants contending that inasmuch as they were cultivating the lands as rayats when the Madras Estates Act of 1908 came into operation the contract of tenancy was entirely superseded by that statute in a suit against the Respondents for determination of a fair and equitable rent for the holding leased to them and for a decree directing the Respondents to grant to them a patta in proper terms. Held that the object of the Madras Estates Act 1908 was to improve the condition and confer new rights and privileges especially upon the occupying cultivators of rayati lands and it would be quite opposed to its policy to confer on middlemen who sub let to occupying and cultivating tenants rights and privileges at all resembling those conferred on occupying cultivators and indeed would result in depriving the latter class of the benefits intended to be conferred upon them. The words adar and farmer of rent in sub s 1 s 6 are not synonymous. They denote two classes of persons. If adars and farmers of rent are rayats at all they are as appears from s 40 non occupying rayats and cannot be converted into rayats with a permanent right of occupancy. SIRISETTI BUCHAYYA v. SRI PAVAN PARTHA SARATHI APPA ROW 26 W N 785

MADRAS ESTATE LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

s 3 cl (2) (c) (d) & 5—Landholder—Grantee of a portion of meliaram in an estate a landlord—Cultivating tenant under the grantee a ryot An alienee of a part of the meliaram due from the lands which form a part of an estate's ryoti lands is a landlord within the meaning of s 3 cl v of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1903) though what he thus owns may not be an estate under the Act and the tenant holding ryoti land under him for purposes of agriculture is a ryot under the Act hence a suit to eject such a tenant can be brought only in a Revenue Court and Civil Courts have no jurisdiction. Brundaranachandra Horisachandra Raja v. Ramayya 26 Mad L J 600 followed. VENKATMA v. SRI PAJA PATA ROW (1914) 1 L R 38 Mad 1155

s 3 cl (2) (d) s 8 except—Grant of village as iram—Village composed of cultivated lands and waste lands—Grant of meliaram—Tenant of waste lands without occupancy right—Village an estate—Surrender by tenant—No acquisition of kidiaram by namdar—Suit in reimment—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts A village granted as an iram in A.D. 1742 was comprised at the time of the grant partly of lands under cultivation and partly of waste lands. The waste lands were subsequently given by the namdar for cultivation from time to time to different sets of tenants without occupancy right. The namdar brought the present suit in the Civil Court to eject the tenant whose period of tenancy had expired prior to the suit. The defendant contended that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd—

Held that the village as a whole must be considered to be an estate within the definition of s 3 cl (2) (v) of the Estates Land Act. Surrender by a tenant is not one of the modes in which the kudivaram right can be acquired by an inamdar within the terms of the exception to s 8 of the Estates Land Act. An inamdar cannot acquire the kudivaram right by surrender from a tenant who had himself no occupancy right in the holding. Held consequently that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. VENKATA SASTIPULU v SITARANUDU (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 801

The provisions of the Madras Estates Land Act 1908 do not empower a person who was a lessee of an estate to take proceedings after the expiry of his lease to set the tenant's holding for arrears of rent due for a fall covered by the period of his lease. SUNDARAM AYYAR v KULATHU AYYAR

I L R 40 Mad 1018

s 3 (2) (c) and 8—Meaning of an unsettled jagir as distinguished from ordinary inams —Jurisdiction of Civil Courts. A personal grant for subsistence in no way differing from an ordinary inam is not an unsettled jagir within the meaning of s 3 (2) (c) of the Estates Land Act but an inam. When the inamdar subsequently to the grant acquires the kudivaram interest the case comes under the exception in s 8 of the Act and the Civil Courts have jurisdiction in ejectment. BAM v RAMALINGA MUDALIAR (1916)

I L R 40 Mad. 664

s 3 (2) (d) —

Tanjore Palace Estate whether an estate —Inam—Reclaimability not a test. After the annexation of the Tanjore by the British Government made an irrevocable grant in inam in 1862 to the widows of the last Raja of Tanjore of the revenue due on certain villages commonly called the Tanjore Palace Estate the kudivaram in which was vested in other persons namely the actual cultivating tenants of the village. Held by the Full Bench that the Tanjore Palace Estate was an estate within s 3 (2) (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908). Semble A grant to be an inam need not be resumable. Sundaram Ayyar v Deva Santhara Bhat Second Appeal No 2661 of 1913 overruled. SUNDARAM AYYAR v RAMA GUANDRA AYYAR (1917) I L R 40 Mad. 389

Grant in inam of an agrazharam by an ancient king—Presumption as to rights conveyed—Agraharam granted whether an estate —Right of agrazharamdar to sue in ejectment in Civil Court. There is no presumption in law that the grant of an inam by a Native ruler prior to British rule conveyed only the melvaram (revenue due to the State). Held accordingly that a grant of an agrazharam in inam made by a Reddi king of Nellore more than 400 years ago and validated under s 15 of Madras Regulation XXXI of 1802 conveyed both the melvaram and kudivaram rights. Held further that the agrazharam was not an estate within s 3 (2) (d) of the Madras Estates Land Act and the agrazharamdar was entitled to sue the tenants in ejectment in a Civil Court. SURYANARAYANA v IYANATHA (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 1012

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd—

s 3 (2) (d) and 8—One of several inamdar acquiring the entire kudivaram right in an inam village—Lease of lands by such inamdar—Suit for rent in Civil Court—Jurisdiction of Civil or Revenue Court—Exception to s 8 applicability of its cl 1 or 2 of s 8—Strict construction—Necessity for. Where one of several inamdar in an inam village having acquired by gift the kudivaram right in the whole village and leased fifty cents of land out of the whole village sued to recover rent in a Civil Court on the basis of the lease. Held that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit and that the plaint should be returned for presentation to a Revenue Court having jurisdiction. The expression the inamdar in the exception to s 8 of the Estates Land Act should be read in its strict sense as equivalent only to the owner of the entire interest in the inam and the exception should be treated as governing only sub s (1) and not sub s (2) of s 8 of the Act. RAJACHARI v TRIVUNGUR DEVASTANAM (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 724

s 3 cl (d) and s 8—Whole inam village—Minor inams there—Sarva inam of the temple whole village described as—Landholder meaning of in s 6 of the Act s 3 sub s (2) cl (d) of the Estates Land Act excludes from the definition of estate minor inams i.e. particular extents of lands in a particular village as contrasted with the grant of the whole village by its boundaries. A whole inam village though containing such minor inams is an estate within the meaning of cl (d) of the above section. Where a village is described as arva or rent free agrazharam of a deity it means that the whole village has been granted to the deity as inam. The term landholder in s 6 of the Act need not be a beneficial owner of the estate and includes a receiver appointed to manage the estate. NARA YANASWAMI NATUDU v SUBBAMANYAM (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 683

s 3 (2) (d) and 153—Inam village if estate—Grant whether carries melvaram only or kudivaram also—Kudivaram meaning of. The word Kudivaram literally signifying a cultivator's share in the produce of land as distinguished from the landlord's share which is sometimes designated melvaram is a species of tenant right or right of permanent occupancy. In a suit by an inamdar of a village holding under a grant made to his ancestor in 1748 to eject tenants who had entered in 1907 under a tenancy agreement which had expired in 1903 the District Judge held that the inam village was an estate within the definition in s 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act so that the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. The decision having been affirmed by the High Court. Held by the Judicial Committee that there is no presumption of law that an inam grant of a village particularly if made to a Brahmin is prima facie a grant of melvaram right only and does not include the kudivaram. Adusumilli Suryanarayana v Achula Polihanna L R 45 I 1 209 s c 23 C W N 273 (1918) followed. Held on the evidence, that the inam grant in this case carried not the land revenue alone but the whole proprietary interest in the property. S 1-3 of the Madras Estates Land Act I of 1908 as amended by s. 8 of Act IV of 1909 had no application to the case. UPADHARATHA VENKATA SASTRULU v DIVI SREETHARAMUDU

24 C W N 128

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

—s. 3 (2) (d) and 180.—Grant of ryot village.—Lea et by varamdar to tena et—Claim by tena et to rights of occupancy.—Presumption as to transfer of land.—Suits in Civil Court for ejectment.—Estate v. Estates Land Act—No evidence of any permanent occupancy rights.—Jurisdiction.—The appellant was the inamdar of a village consisting of both cultivated and waste lands and he held it under a grant made to his ancestor in 1749 and since confirmed and recognized by the British Government. To suit in the Civil Court for ejectment against tenants of waste lands, the defence was that the respondents had permanent rights of occupancy and that as the inam village was an estate under s. 3 sub. a. (2) cl. (5) of the Madras Estates Land Act 1909 the Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suits. Held that since the decision of the Lord in S. v. S. v. Patanna (1916) 1 L P 41 Mad 1012 (P C) which was decided subsequently to the judgment now appealed from there was no presumption of law that an inam grant of a village did not include the land varam. Each case must be considered on its own facts and in order to ascertain the effect of the grant resort must be had to the terms of the grant and to the whole circumstances so far as they could now be ascertained. Held having regard to the facts the terms of the grant the history of the estate and the conclusions to be drawn from the other documentary evidence in the case they were all inconsistent with the existence of any permanent occupancy rights and lead to the conclusion that the inam grant carried not the land revenue alone but the whole proprietary interest in the property. The lands in suit therefore were not an estate within the meaning of the Act and s. 180 did not apply. The Civil Court consequently had jurisdiction to entertain the suits. Venkata Sastulu v. Seetharamudu (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 168

—s. 2 (d) (c) and 5 and s. 180.—Inamdar and ryot—Suit for rent in a Petition Court.—Retention Court jurisdiction.—Landholder under s. 3 cl. (5)—Estate—s. 3 cl. (2) (d) and (e)—s. 180 and sch. 1 to 8.—Landholders wider than owner of an estate.—An inamdar of a portion of a village where the inam consists only of some of the lands in a village granted by a Zamindar after the permanent settlement is a landholder under s. 3 cl. (5) of the Madras Estates Land Act though the inam may not be an estate under s. 3 cl. (2) (d) and (e) of the said Act. A suit brought by such an inamdar for arrears of rent against a ryot is cognisable by a Revenue Court under the said Act. The test which is decisive on the question of jurisdiction is whether the plaintiffs are landholders under the Act. The term 'landholder' is wider than the expression 'the owner of an estate' and includes every person entitled to collect the rents of any portion of an estate by virtue of any transfer. Appalarasu v. Sanyasi (1919)

I L R 38 Mad. 23

—Minor inamdar.—Lands granted by zamindar after settlement in permanently settled estate.—Whether inamdar a landholder.—Whether tenants under him have occupancy rights.—Where a zamindar made post settlement inam grant of a portion of a village with both the warams on a permanent kottabadi. Held (1) MAHARAJA SASTRI J. dissenting) such minor inamdar is a

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

landholder within the meaning of s. 3 cl. (5) of the Estates Land Act and the tenants have permanent rights of occupancy. GADAGHARA DIS. BAVATI v. BURYANARAYANA IYANAR (1911)

I L R 44 Mad 677

—s. 3 (5) 192 205—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O XVIII r II

I L R 42 Mad 76

—s. 3 (7) and 6.—Final decree in s. 3 cl. (7) meaning of. Held by the Full Bench as follows—where an appeal from a decree in ejectment passed under the old law is heard after the commencement of Madras Act 1 of 1908 (Estates Land Act) the defendant being a ryot in possession of ryot land on such date he is entitled to claim a right of occupancy under s. 3 cl. (1) of the Act notwithstanding the original decree. The words final decree in the 1st sub clause of s. 3 cl. (7) mean a decree which is not under appeal or liable to be set aside or modified on appeal. Obiter CHIEF JUSTICE.—It is clear that where a landlord obtains a decree in ejectment before the commencement of the Act and executes it before the commencement of the Act the ryot could not claim the benefit of the first part of s. 3. Obiter KRISHNA SWAMI AYYAR J.—The final decree of a competent civil court referred to in the definition of old waste in s. 3 cl. (7) is a decree obtained in a proceeding independent of that in which the question of occupancy right is dealt with under s. 3 cl. (1) or the presumption under s. 23 is made. The presumption under s. 23 applies to all suits or appeals whether pending at the date of the commencement of the Act or instituted thereafter. KANAKAYYA v. JAYABHARATHA PADNI (1913)

I L P 36 Mad 439

—s. 3 (7) (1) and 6 (1).—Definition of old waste.—At the time of partition moving of in a suit in 1910 by a landholder against a tenant who was holding over for ejectment and damages under s. 157 of the Estates Land Act it appeared that the land in question was not cultivated before 1901 that it was then leased to a stranger for cultivation for five years ending with June 1906 and that it was thereafter leased by the plaintiff to the defendants for three years ending with June 1909. The defendants contended that they had acquired occupancy rights under s. 3 cl. (1) of the Estates Land Act. Held (1) that the land was ryot's land other than old waste within s. 3 cl. (1) and (2) that the defendants had acquired occupancy rights under s. 3 cl. (1) of the Estates Land Act and were not liable to be ejected. Held further that the words at the time of letting in the definition of old waste in s. 3 (7) (1) refer to the creation of the tenure which is in dispute. VENKATARAMAN v. SRI RAJAH APPA RAO BANDA DURE (1916)

I L R 40 Mad. 529

—Suit for redemption by a landholder against ryots.—First Court's decree before the Act in favour of the landholder.—Act coming into force during appeal effect of.—Whether Estates Land Act s. 3 retrospective.—Final decree in s. 3 (1) meaning of.—Amaram tenure v. umallo.—Right of redemption when exercised.—Notice to quit.—Prescription.—No tolling by receipt of rent.—Imprecations when tenant entitled to value of.—Transfer of property Act (I of 1857) ss 51 and 105 (k). Appeal No 174 of 1901. If a tenant knowing that he has not a permanent occupancy right in the land in his possession makes improvements without any hope or expectation in him if ejected or encouraged by the landlord he cannot claim compensation for the value of such improvements. Even if the landlord knew that the tenant was making the improvements under a mistaken belief that he had occupancy rights in the land and merely kept quiet without interfering, there will be no estoppel against the landlord. Thimmaiah v. Dixon I L R 11 129 and Beni Ram v. Kunlan Lal I L R 26 111 191 followed. Mahalingam Thimmal v. Pillai Chetti 3 Mad 11 C 215 doubted. A 61 of the Transfer of Property Act will not apply to the case of a tenant as it cannot be said that he is a person believing in good faith to be entitled to the land. Neither a 104 cl (h) of Transfer of Property Act nor the Hindu Mahomedan law nor Common Law of India is applicable to a case where the tenant without removing the fixtures in the one case or the building erected by him in the other case wants to recover compensation for the improvements effected by him. [Where there has been a periodical raising of the rent due by the tenants and periodical resumption of the tenants' lands by the landlords both of which were submitted to by the tenants without any contest it may be concluded that the tenants have no occupancy rights. Lands held under Amaram tenure have generally been held to be resumable. So far as this Presidency is concerned it would seem to be well settled that a person who has lawfully come into possession as a tenant from year to year or a term of years cannot by setting up however notoriously during the continuance of such relation any title adverse to that of the landlord inconsistent with the legal relation between them acquire by limitation title as owner of any other title inconsistent with that under which he was let into possession. Seshamma Shettai v. Chikaya Hegad I L R 25 Mad 577 followed. This doctrine is of doubtful applicability in a case where the landlord has shown by an unequivocal act that he intends to exercise his option and determine the tenancy even though he may not have succeeded in doing so. Srinivasa Ayyar v. Muthuvaras Pillai I L R 24 Mad 216 referred to. It is also well established in this Presidency that if after the determination of the tenancy the tenant remains in possession as a trespasser for the statutory period he will by prescription acquire a right as owner of such limited estate as he might prescribe for. A receipt of rent subsequent to a notice to determine the tenancy is consistent with the case of either party on the question as to the existence of occupancy right as in any event there would be a liability to pay rent and it is therefore doubtful if such a receipt could be relied on as a waiver of the plaintiff's right to resume. Held on the facts of the present case that there was a determination of the tenancy by a reasonable notice and that there was no assertion of an adverse title for twelve years before the suit so as to entitle the defendants to claim a prescriptive title.] (The views enclosed in rectangular brackets were also stated but are no longer law as a Full Bench composed of the C J, KRISHNACHARI, ARYAN and ARYAN JJ., decided the contrary in Kanakappa v. Janardhana Decided I L

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

I of 1908 439 on 14th November 1910. This case is now reported for the other points decided in the case which are noted below.] [Where during the pendency of an appeal filed by the defendant in a suit brought by a zamindar to eject his tenants the Madras Estates Land Act of 1908 came into force the tenants who were ordered by the decree of the first court to be ejected cannot take advantage of a 6 of the Act even if that section be assumed to be retrospective as the ryots' lands in respect of which they claimed permanent occupancy in this would be old waste as defined by s 3 cl (1) of that Act in respect of which before the passing of the Act the zamindar had obtained a final decree of a competent civil court negating the occupancy right.] The words "final decree" occurring in s 3 cl (7) mean final with reference to the court which passes the decree, a decree is none the less final for the purposes of the section because an appeal was pending when the Act came into operation. Quære Whether an appeal: a clearing of the suit within the meaning of the Civil Procedure Code as under the rules under the English Judicature Act so as to give retrospective effect to a statute passed after the decree of the first court and during the pendency of the appeal. Quære Whether a 6 of the Madras Estates Land Act 1908 is in terms retrospective. VARADACHARI J. J. J. OF VIKRATAGIRI (1910)

I L R 37 Mad 1

— ss 3 (7) 6 23 163 and 167—Old waste ejection from—Onus of proving old waste on landlord. A landholder claiming to eject a tenant under s 163 and 167 of Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) on the ground that he is a non-occupancy ryot of old waste is by s 23 of the Act bound to prove that the land is old waste within the meaning of s 3 cl (7) of the Act. If neither sub-cl (1) nor the latter part of sub-cl (2) of the definition of old waste would apply to the facts of the case the first part of sub-cl (2) cannot be used to prove that the land is old waste as that refers to a state of facts subsequent to the passing of the Act and as a 6 of the Act vested in the tenant in possession occupancy right from the date of the passing of the Act in all ryots' lands not being old waste. SARAIARAJU v. VENKATARAJU (1913) I L R 38 Mad 459

— ss 3 (7) 153 and 167—Proviso to s 153 effect of—Old waste transfer of—Ejection from grounds of. The combined effect of a 153 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) even as added to by s 157 of Madras Act IV of 1909 and of s 157 of the Estates Land Act is that a ryot of old waste cannot be ejected on the ground of expiry of a term of lease contained in a contract entered into before the Act came into force. ATCHAPPAIAH v. RAJAH VELUGOTI GOVINDA KRISHNACHARI DRULAYARU (1913) I L R 38 Mad 163

— ss 3 (10) 8 165—Private land conversion of ryots into—Proof. I refer to s 165 nature of PER WALKER C J—S 8 of the Estates Land Act does not impose respectively an absolute prohibition of the conversion of ryots into private land not to be found in the definition or in the section specially dealing with evidence as to what is private land. Such a conversion should be proved by every clear and satisfactory evidence. The acquisition of Ludiarani right in certain lands by the landlord and his letting them out as kambattam lands on terms not giving occupancy right with a view to prevent the portion of such right is not sufficient to convert them into private lands within the meaning of the definition. Per VESHAJEE AYYAR J.—Land originally ori cannot become the private land of the landholder except in the one instance mentioned in the proviso to s 15 of the Act. The proviso is not in the nature of an exception but enacts a rule of substantive law. Mulins v Treasurer of Surur 4 Q B D 173 and Maha Prasad Singh v Juma v Mohan Singh Mad L J 457 followed. 7AMINDAR OF CHELLAPALLE v SOMAYA (1914)

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd—

I L R 33 Mad. 341

—ss 3 (10 and 15) and 6—Sub (i) and explanation added by amending Act (Madras Act I of 1909) s 3 and s 18, proviso—Conversion of ryots into private land—Held in an earlier case possession. The respondents held certain lands under a muchilika dated 29th July 1900 given to them by the appellant by which they agreed to hold the lands described as kambattam or private lands until 30th April 1903 for the purpose of cultivation the document expressly providing that it should itself operate as a surrender of the lands at the end of that term. The respondents however held over after the expiration of the lease not only without the consent of the appellant but contrary to his wishes and intention and contrary also to the terms of the muchilika and were so holding the lands on and after 1st July 1908 when the Madras Estates Land Act (Mad Act I of 1908) came into force. In a suit by the appellant to eject the respondents and recover possession of the lands which he claimed as his private land within the meaning of Madras Act I of 1908 the defence was that they were ryots lands in which the respondents had occupancy rights under s 3 sub (i) of the Act and explanation thereto added by the amending Act (Mad Act IV of 1909). There were concurrent findings of fact by the Courts below that the lands were ryots and that the appellant had not proved that they were his private lands within the proviso of s 185 of the Act of 1900. Held that assuming that the respondents had not any permanent rights of occupancy in the lands in suit before the coming into force of Madras Act I of 1908 they obtained such permanent rights of occupancy by the operation of s 3 sub (i) as amended by s 3 of Madras Act IV of 1909 and the suit was rightly dismissed by the Courts in India. Gottur Parama Gururu v Botlaiah Dandasi Paddi 20 M L J 598 approved. Kanalayya v Janardhana Iadhi I L R 36 Mad 439 referred to. YERLAGODDA MALI KARJUNA PRASAD NAYUDU v SOMAYA (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 400

—s 3 (10) 19 189—

See RENT

I L R 46 Mad. 7

—s 3 (11)—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 42 Mad. 702

—ss 3 (11) 58 189 and Sch A Art 8—Suit for cost local cess village cess by an ijaradar—Maintainability only in Revenue Court—Exchange of patta and muchilika not necessary for recovery of rent by suit under Estates Land Act—

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd—

Ijaradar and Pent d frissions of—Article 13 of schedule of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IV of 1887) A suit by an ijaradar of a share of a village governed by the Estates Land Act (Mad Act I of 1908) for recovery of cost local cess and village cess due by a ryot is cognisable in virtue of s 189 and s 18 of the Act only by a Revenue Court and not by a Small Cause Court as all the above items sought to be recovered are by s 3 of the Act included in the term rent and an ijaradar is according to s 3 (a) of the Act a landlord being entitled to collect rent in virtue of a transfer from the owner. No exchange of patta and muchilika is necessary under the Estates Land Act for recovery of rent by suit the same being necessary according to s 63 only in case where the landholder wishes to disclaim or sell the ryot's moiety or his holding. It is wrong to hold that Art 13 of the schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IV of 1887) applies to a suit for land cess or village cess under the above circumstances. Second Appeal No 660 of 1910 (unreported) followed. IRIPAJU CANU v SUBBARAYUDU (1913) I L R 40 Mad 126

—s 3 (15 & 16)—Ryot land—Ryot land—Pature land not ryot land—Rent for pasture not rent under the Act—ss 189 and 77 of the Act—Suit for ejiction and recovery of pasture rent cognisable only by Civil Courts—Land usually fit only for pasturing cattle and not for cultivation is ploughing and raising agricultural crops is not ryot land though it may have been old waste and a tenant of such land is not a ryot and any amount agreed to be paid for pasturing cattle is not rent within the definition of s 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) hence a suit to eject such a tenant from the land or to recover the amount due for pasture is cognisable only by a Civil Court and not by a Revenue Court as the jurisdiction of Civil Courts exists in all cases where it has not been expressly taken away. RAYA v VENKATAGIRI v AYYAPAREDDI (1913)

I L R 39 Mad 738

—ss 4 27 73 143—Levy of fee (langa nam) for superintendence of harvest legality of—Right of landlord to enter land and make experimental harvest—Liability of tenant to pay compensation for loss of crops by theft or cattle—Liability to pay rent for fallow lands in the absence of custom—Right of tenant to obstruct flow of rain water into the landlord's irrigation channel—Liability to pay rent rate when water insufficient—Pecuniary value of rent legal right to—Where the landlord is entitled to a share of the produce the levy of a fee (called langanama) by the landlord on the tenant for superintending the harvest in order to protect his interests is not illegal and it is not opposed to s 73 or 143 of the Estates Land Act. Devuray v Jaghannatha Poo (1913) Mad W A 886 and Karri Paddi Reddy v J center of Andavale and Medur Estate 18 Mad L T 171 followed. A landholder entitled to a specific share of the produce is not entitled to enter upon the land and make an experimental harvest of the small portion of the land with a view to th the tenant the burden of proving that the other portions were not equal to experimental harvest. Landlord is to levy a fee (called Panchamati) as for the loss caused to the crop by th. as the loss not a crop

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

Right of landholder to reliefs under s 141—Pengal Tenancy Act (I of 1885) s 23 S 151 of the Madras Estates Land Act gives the landholder a right to sue for any of the reliefs mentioned in cls 1 and 2 thereof only when the holding as a whole was used substantially unfit for agricultural purposes; but the acts of the riot committed on the whole or any part of the holding Hari Mohan Jh v Surendra Narayan Singh I L R 31 Cal 715 followed Laxmi v Arunachalam (1915) I L R 39 Mad 673

—s 13 cl (3)—Improvements at tenants' sole expense—Payment of higher rent in return for sixty years—Termination of a binding contract to pay at a higher rate under the Rent Recovery Act—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) s 13—Siddharat and Mathur Kumar v not illegal cesses within s 143 of the Act Held by DATTER and KUMARASWAMI ASTRIPYAR JJ (SADASIVA AYYAR J dissenting) that—(i) s 13 cl (3) (Madras Estates Land Act) does not enable a tenant to claim exemption from liability to pay a higher rate of rent for crops raised with the help of improvements made at the tenant's sole expense where the improvements had been effected before the Act came in force and where there had been a binding contract entered into between the landlord and the tenant before the passing of the Act for the payment of such enhanced rent (ii) the section applies only to contracts and improvements made after the Madras Estates Land Act came into force (iii) the right to levy increased assessments in consequence of improvements effected before the Act being a vested right in the landholder the section cannot be construed so as to operate retrospectively and to defeat the same especially when there is no indication in the section that it is to operate retrospectively and (iv) the rule embodied in s 28 of the Act applies to the increased assessment and makes it binding between the parties Per SADASIVA AYYAR and DATTER JJ—Where the higher rate was regularly paid for sixty years even in respect of the improvements effected at the tenants' sole expense the Courts could presume a lawful origin for a contract to pay like that under the Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1865) Per SADASIVA AYYAR J—Saddulcar (charge for stationery) and Mathur Kumar (straw rent) which were being customarily paid along with the rent for a long number of years form part of the rent and are not additional illegal cesses within s 143 of the Madras Estates Land Act VENKATA PERUMAL RAJA v RAMUDU (1914) I L R 39 Mad 84

—s 19—

See REV

I L R 38 Mad 7

—s 23—

See S 3

I L R 38 Mad 459

—s 26—Suit in a Revenue Court—Contract between previous landholder and tenant as to rate of rent—Rate less than the lawful rate whether binding on successor—Validity of contract—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court to decide A Revenue Court exercises jurisdiction under the Madras Estates Land Act is competent to decide all incidental questions the determination of which is necessary for the disposal of the main question arising in the case and in a suit filed to contest

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

—contd

the right to sell a holding for arrears of rent under the Act the Revenue Court can decide on the validity of a contract between the landholder's predecessor in title and the tenant as to the rate of rent although the object on to its validity is based on grounds other than those specified in s 26 of the Act Paya of Illapora v Serrama Chetty (1911) Mad W 30 explained SERUPAMA AYYANGI v SETHIAH ILLAI (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 121

—s 27—

See S 4

I L R 40 Mad 640

—s 28—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 13 CL (3)

I L R 39 Mad 24

—s 40 cl (3)—Years in meaning of—Swami bhojam whether rent or cess within s 3 cl (11)—Agreement between landlord and tenant for a consolidated grain rent enforceability of In s 40 cl (3) (a) of the Madras Estates Land Act preceding ten years means the ten years preceding the year in which the Collector determines the amount of the commuted rent and not the ten years preceding the year in which the suit is instituted and year means the year of the kase that is the year for which the landlord is entitled either by custom or contract to claim rent and not the fiscal or the calendar year Swami bhojam is rent within s 3 cl (12) and is not a cess Where a fixed grain pattam (rent) has been agreed to the arrangement is binding on both the parties and it is not open to the tenant to reopen the same on the ground that certain illegal cesses were included therein When the Revenue Court refuses commutation an appeal lies under Sch A cl 4 of the Act only to the District Collector and not to the District Court and hence no second appeal lies to the High Court from such order of refusal Jeetoolah Jaramanick v Jugadindro Narain Poy 22 W R 12 followed SIVANU PANDIA THEVAR v ZAMINDAR OF URKAD (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 109

—s 42 cl (1) (a) and (b) of (2)—Enhancement or alteration of rent—Lease deed—Provision as to payment of rent in excess of area of lands found on measurement—Enhancement or alteration of rent—Previous order of Collector not required—Pengal Tenancy Act (I of 1885) ss 62 and 188 The proviso found in cl 2 of s 42 of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) which requires the order of a Collector before enhancement of rent can be allowed does not apply to the claim of a landholder who sues to recover arrears of excess trita due under a lease deed which contained a provision for payment of trita at a specified rate on the excess lands found on measurement over the areas specified in the lease deed It is only where the landlord wants to enhance the rent basing his claim on the right granted and declared by s 42 cls 1 (a) and (b) that he should obtain under cl 2 the order of the Collector for such alteration of rent before he could claim the altered rent Dattaraj Das v L P D Broughton 3 C W N 20 and Rama Chunder Chockraborty v Giridhar Dutt I L R 19 Cal 75 followed MANAGER TO THE LESSEES OF THE SIVANGAIA ZAMINDARY v CHIDAMPARAM CHETTI (1913)

I L R 33 Mad 524

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd

s 46—

See S 1

28 C W N 785

Application to Receiver of an estate for conferring occupancy right validity of an application by a non occupancy ryot under s 46 of the Madras Estates Land Act for the acquisition of occupancy right in an estate can be made only to or against the owner of the estate and not to a Receiver in charge of the estate
SWAMINATHA UNAYAR v SUNDARAM UNAYAR
 I L R 44 Mad 274

s 52(3)—

See PROCEDURE

I L R 44 Mad 203

s 53—

See S 3

I L R 36 Mad 126

Distrain for a higher rent than legally due good for the amount legally due s 3 (?) of the (Madras) Estates Land Act (I of 1903) enables a Collector in a suit to set aside a distraint to the extent of the amount legally due to the landlord by the tenant under the patta tendered by the landlord. The application of the clause is not confined to the enforceability of the proper amount of rent in suits for rent only.
PAGUNATHA POW SANIB v VELLANOONJI GOUNDAW (1914)
 I L R 38 Mad 1140

ss 54 and 78, cl (2)—Tender of patta by a landlord to his tenant at his house—Tenant refusal by—Subsequent affixture of patta to the tenant's house not to his land—Tender validity of—Methods of tender under the Act—Delivery of patta meaning of—Essentials of a valid tender under the Act Where a patta was offered by a landlord to his tenant at his house but the tenant refused to receive it and thereupon the patta was affixed to the tenant's house but not to the land in his holding. Held that there was no valid tender of patta to the tenant as required by ss 54 and 78 cl (2) of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1903). An offer of a patta to the ryot is not delivery to him. When once an offer of patta is made and refused the tender by delivery cannot be effected and it then becomes necessary to affix the patta to the land in the ryot's holding. If this is not done there is no valid tender of patta. Meaning of tender and deliver considered.

CHINNATHANDIAR v MICHAEL (1913)
 I L R 38 Mad 629

ss 55 and 146—Purchaser of occupancy right—Suit for patta in a Revenue Court—Duty of Revenue Court to decide as to title of plaintiff—Plaintiff claimant of such right previously recognized by landlord as transferee—Power and duty of Court to decide in the suit—Proceedings under s 146 effect of—Non joinder of parties—Dismissal of suit—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) O I s 10 cl (2) The power and duty of a Revenue Court in a suit under section 55 of the Madras Estates Land Act to deal with the rights of the parties before it are not affected by the provisions of s 146 of the Act. Where a suit is instituted in a Revenue Court under section 55 of the Act by the purchaser of land from a ryot against the landlord to obtain patta the Court is bound to decide whether the plaintiff is entitled to patta or not if his title is disputed although the landlord might have previously recognized a rival claimant

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd

as transferee and issued patta to him on the joint application of the transferor and the transferee. In such a suit the rival claimant: only a desirable and not a necessary party even if he were a necessary party the Court should not dismiss the suit for non joinder of such claimant but add him as a party if it thought fit to do so under Order I rule 10 clause (2) Civil Procedure Code which is made applicable to Revenue Courts by s 192 of the Act
RAMANATHAN CHETTY v ARUNACHIPAN CHETTIAR (1921)
 I L R 44 Mad 43

s 73—

See S 4

I L R 40 Mad 640

s 77—

See S 5

I L R 42 Mad 114

See S 189

I L R 39 Mad 239

Madras Local Boards Act (I of 1881) ss 3 and 4—Right of land holder to distrain property of intermediate tenure holder for cess paid Neither s 77 of the Madras Estates Land Act nor ss 73 and 74 of the Madras Local Boards Act authorizes a land holder to levy distraint against an intermediate tenure holder for recovering any portion of cess collected from the land holder.
LAKSHMINARASINIAM PANTULU v RAMACHANDRA MARDARAJA DEO (1912)
 I L R 37 Mad 319

ss 77 and 189—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 102—

I L R 44 Mad 697

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 3
 I L R 38 Mad 738

s 78—

See S 54

I L R 38 Mad 629

s 91—

See S 189

I L R 39 Mad 239

ss 111 and 118—Civil Procedure Code O XXI rr 90 and 92—Sale of ryot's holding for arrear of rent—Irregularity in conduct of sale—Application to Revenue Court by landholder to set aside sale—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court—Order setting aside sale—Suit by purchaser in Civil Court for declaration that order is ultra vires and void whether maintainable. When summary proceedings under ss 111 and 118 of the Madras Estates Land Act have been instituted by a landholder for recovery of rent by the sale of a ryot's holding and property has been sold the Revenue Court has no jurisdiction on an application by the landholder to set aside the sale on the ground of irregularity in the publication or conduct of the sale and if such an order is passed the purchaser can institute a suit in a Civil Court for a declaration that the order is ultra vires and void. O XXI, 160
SATTANARAYANA VARAPRASADA PAO
 I L R

s 111 et seq—Sale of —Suit for declaration of in a Civil Court. A suit

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1938)

—contd

sale of a holding under s 111 et seq of the Madras Estates Land Act was void in consequence of the landholder's failure to supply for sale within forty five days as prescribed by s 115 of the Act is maintainable in a Civil Court Gouse Mohideen Sahib v Muthialu Chettiar (1914) Mad N A 55 followed Doraimy Pillai v Muthusamy Mooppan 1 L R 27 Mad 91 and Zemindar of Pitya puram v Sankarappa Reddai 1 L R 27 Mad 153 referred to s 189 of the Act commented on. (HIDAMDARAN PILLAI v MUTHAIMMAL (1914) 1 L R 38 Mad 1042

— s 125—

See S E 1 L R 42 Mad 114

ss 131 192, 205—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 115—Application to Deputy Collector to set aside rent sale on the thirtieth day—Deputy Collector absent on leave—Deposit made two days later—Sale set aside by Deputy Collector without notice to purchaser—Revision petitions to District Collector and Board of Revenue dismissed—Revision petition to High Court competency of—Discretion in exercise of revisional powers—Absence of notice before setting aside sale effect of—General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s 10—In application to set aside a sale held for arrears of rent was made to the Deputy Collector under s 131 of the Madras Estates Land Act and the deposit therein required tendered on the last day allowed by that section the Deputy Collector being absent on leave the petitioner was asked by the clerk to come two days later on which day the Deputy Collector received the deposit and set aside the sale without giving notice to the purchaser. The latter presented petitions to the District Collector and the Board of Revenue respectively to revise the order under s 205 of the Act the petitions being dismissed the purchaser filed a revision petition to the High Court. The respondent objected that no revision lay to the High Court and that as the sale was properly set aside the High Court should not interfere in revision. Held that the revision petition to the High Court was competent because s 192 of the Madras Estates Land Act renders s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code applicable to all suits appeals and other proceedings under the Act even though s 205 thereof gave a power of revision to the Board of Revenue and the District Collector but where the petitioner had previously applied to the revenue authorities and failed the High Court would decline to exercise its discretionary power in revision unless it was imperatively called upon to do so to prevent miscarriage of justice—that as the deposit was not made within time owing to the absence of the Deputy Collector and not the default of the petitioner it was competent to the former to receive the deposit on the next open day under general principles of law embodied in s 10 of the General Clauses Act and set aside the sale. Shooshee Bhushan Rudro v Gound Chunder Poy 1 L R 18 Cal 231 followed that assuming that the failure to give notice to the purchaser vitiated the whole proceedings the High Court will not exercise its revisional powers on that ground alone and that the order setting aside the sale was proper as no valid objection was or could be raised by the petitioner even when opportunity was given to him. PANASAMI GOUNDAN v KALI GOUNDAN (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 310

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (II OF 1903)

—contd

— s 132—

See S E 1 L R 42 Mad 114
1 L R 43 Mad 788

— s 133—

See S E 1 L R 42 Mad 114

— s 134—

See S 189 1 L R 39 Mad 239

— s 143—

See S 4 1 L R 40 Mad 610

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L R 42 Mad 197

— s 146—

See S 3 1 L R 44 Mad 43

Second crop of paddy raised by ryot with landlord's consent—Landlord's right to extra rent—Usage or contract disentitling landlord to extra rent—Proof of—Burden of proof on tenant—Heir of registered pattadar—Right to be recognized as ryot—Defaulter under the Act meaning of—Mere receipt of rent from a person whether landlord bound to accept as ryot. The landlord is prima facie entitled to claim extra rent for second crop of paddy raised with the landlord's water by the tenant on his wet holding in the absence of proof of an established usage or an express or implied contract disentitling the landlord to the same the burden of proving such usage or contract being on the tenant. The landlord is bound to recognize the heir of the registered pattadar as the ryot under the Madras Estates Land Act in the place of the deceased pattadar and if a suit under the Act is instituted by a person claiming as heir to be recognized as the ryot the question whether he is the heir or not must be determined by the Court and if the heirship is established or admitted the suit must be held to be competent. Mere receipt by the landlord of the rent due upon the holding from any person cannot bind him to recognize the latter as the ryot. A defaulter in the Estates Land Act denotes only the man who is the registered pattadar or his heir or the person whom the landholder has become bound to recognize as the ryot under s 140 of the Act. MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARY CO LTD v MUTHAFUDATAN (1921)

1 L R 44 Mad 534

— s 151—

See S 9 1 L R 37 Mad 432

See S 11 1 L R 39 Mad 673

— s 153—

See S 3 1 L R 39 Mad 163 453
E C W N 129

See S 8 1 L R 39 Mad 843

ss 153 and 157—Suit in Revenue Court to eject non occupancy ryot of old waste on expiry of registered lease for more than five years granted before the Estates Land Act—Jurisdiction—Mere profits jurisdiction of Revenue Court to grant a suit is maintainable in a Revenue Court under ss 153 and 157 of Madras Estates Land Act to eject a non occupancy ryot of old waste on the expiry of the term of a registered lease or more than five years though granted before the commencement of the Estates Land Act. Atchutaraju

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd

v. Rajah F. K. Krishnayachandran Iyer 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 193 not followed. A Revenue Court can award mesne profits to a person in unlawful possession of lands holding over beyond the period of their lease. JANAKA GOMADU v. ZAMINDAR OF MIRZAPURAM (1918) 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 315 — ss 155 and 182 (e)—Set-off of money allowances against claim for rent Except in the case provided for by s. 155 a tenant has no right under the Madras Estates Land Act to set off amounts due to him from the landlord against a demand for rent. IJA OF RAMNAD v. KATA RAMA AYYAR (1920) 1 L. R. 43 Mad. 69

— s 157—

See S 3 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 163 459

See S 8 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 843

See S 9 1 L. R. 37 Mad. 432

— s 163—

See S 8 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 843

— ss 164 to 167—Officer preparing record of rights under—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 476 not a Court within the meaning of A Revenue Officer preparing a record of rights under ss 164-167 of the Madras Estates Land Act is only discharging an executive function of Government and is not a Court within the meaning of s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Ac HANUMANTHA PAO (1915) 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 414

— s 185—

See S 3

See EVIDENCE 1 L. R. 36 Mad. 168

— s 189—

See S 3 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 7 126

1 L. R. 38 Mad. 33 738

1 L. R. 43 Mad. 166

— Civil Procedure Code

{ of 1908) s 11—Res Judicata—Suit to enforce acceptance of patta—Decision by Revenue Court—Decision as to occupancy right or title to land claimed as part of the holding—Subsequent suit in a Civil Court for ejectment of tenant as trespasser—Decision of Revenue Court whether binding as res judicata in the suit in Civil Court ss 189 (3) of the Madras Estates Land Act does not constitute the decisions of the Revenue Courts on an issue as to title to land or occupancy rights therein arising incidentally in suits to enforce the acceptance of pattas which are cognizable exclusively by such Courts res judicata in a subsequent suit in a Civil Court instituted by the landlord for ejectment of the tenant from such land. APPA RAO v. GURURAO (1920) 1 L. R. 43 Mad. 859

— s 189 and cl (12) of Part A of Schedule—Suit to recover lands under the Act for non payment of rent non maintainability of in Civil Courts ss 189 and cl (12) of Part A of schedule to the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) preclude a Civil Court from taking cognizance of a suit by a ryot to recover possession of a holding sold under the Madras Estates Land Act for non payment of rent on the ground that the landholder had no right to sell the holding. Cl (12) is not confined to a suit to question an intended sale of the holding. Ghouse Monden Saib v. Muthialy

MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)—contd

C. Jethar 26 Mad. L. J 36 distinguished. RAMA KATHAN v. RAMASWAMI (1914)

1 L. R. 39 Mad. 60

— ss 189 213, 134 BI and 77—1st ryot was landowner—Illegal distraint—Suit for damages—Jurisdiction—Revenue Court—Malras Rent Recovery Act (I III of 1865) ss 49 and 78 A suit by the tenant of a ryotwari landowner or of any subtenant of such for damages for illegal distraint of moveable property growing crops of the produce of land or trees in the defaulter's holding is solely cognizable by the Revenue Court. Per WALLIS C. J.—Sub ss (2) and (3) of s 213 of the Madras Estates Land Act are in the nature of provisos and it would not be legitimate to cut down the operative portion of s 189 to which these provisos do not in terms apply merely because otherwise the provisos would be meaningless and even senseless. West Derby Union v. Metropolitan Life Assurance Society [1897] A. C. 617 referred to Sub ss (2) and (3) which were drafted in place of ss 49 and 78 of the Rent Recovery Act were probably retained by inadvertence after the jurisdiction of the Civil Court had been taken away by s 189 in its present form. Obiter Suits under s 91 of the Madras Estates Land Act are exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Civil Court. Per SADASIVA AYYAR and SRINIVASA AYYANGAR JJ.—Cl (2) of s 213 saves the Civil Court's jurisdiction only where the suit is not brought for the relief of pecuniary damages for proceedings taken under colour of the Act that is where it is brought for other remedies such as injunction declaration possession etc. Per SADASIVA AYYAR J.—The proviso forming cl (3) of s 213 takes away the jurisdiction of the Civil Court even in respect of cases claiming other redress than pecuniary damages if the redress of damages had been already claimed by the plaintiff in a suit filed before the Collector under cl (1) of s 213. Quære Whether the remedy by a suit in the Collector's Court to set aside a distress under s 90 can be availed of by a Government ryot's tenant whose moveables have been distrained under s 77 and whether assuming that he could do so the jurisdiction is an exclusive one in the Revenue Court. NARAYANA SWAMY v. VENKATARAMANA (1915)

1 L. R. 39 Mad. 239

— s 192—

See S 131 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 310

See S 150 1 L. R. 43 Mad. 69

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

O XXII p. 5 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 76

O XLIII p. 1 AND S 115

1 L. R. 41 Mad. 554

— Presentation of plaint to Head Clerk not authorized to receive—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 4—Court not closed if the officer on tour only and not on leave—R 11 of Civil Rules of Practice Plaints under the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) cannot be said to be validly presented if presented to the Head Clerk of the Collector unless the Collector has appointed him to receive them. A Court cannot be said to be closed within the meaning of s

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

By the Madras Irrigation Cess Act (VII of 1865) as amended by Madras Act V of 1900 s 1 when ever water is supplied or used for purposes of irrigation from any river stream channel tank or work belonging to or constructed by Government a separate cess for such water may be levied on the land so irrigated provided (inter alia) that where a zamindar or riyasat is by virtue of engagements with the Government entitled to irrigation free of separate charge no cess under this Act shall be imposed for water supplied to the extent of this right and no more. At the permanent settlement the Government settled in four zamindars lands contiguous to a river together with four artificial irrigation channels and sluices connecting them with the river. The zamindars did not refer to the channels or sluices. The appellants were the present holders of one of the four zamindars the sluices of one only of the channels being upon their lands. The other three zamindars had been purchased by the Government. The appellants used for irrigation water derived from the river through all four channels. The Government claimed to be entitled to levy cess under the above Act upon the appellants lands for the irrigation so far as it included crops not customary at the time of the permanent settlement. Held assuming but not deciding that the river belonged to the Government (i) that the settlement was an engagement with the Government within the meaning of the proviso (ii) that under the sands the zamindar in whose estate the sluices of each of the channels were situated acquired the right to take from the river for irrigation an amount of water limited by the then size of the channels and nature of the sluices but not limited by the irrigation then customary (iii) that after the water had passed into the channels the Government had no rights in respect of it save as owners of the three zamindars (iv) that the rights of the owners inter se in the water flowing in the channels were analogous to those of the riparian owners in a natural stream (b) that there being no evidence that more water was being taken from the river than was justified by the sands the appellants were not liable to pay cess. The law of the Madras Presidency as to rivers and streams differs in some respects from English law and it is quite possible that the former law recognises some proprietary right of the Government in water flowing in them. KANDAKURI BALASUBRA Row SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

I L R 40 Mad 886

L R 44 I A 166

Artificial Channel—

Essement—Forfeiture of derivative Estate—Engagement with the Government—Madras Act VII of 1865 and V of 1900 In 1814 a zamindar who before the permanent settlement had constructed an artificial channel through the estate now enjoyed by the respondent admitted the right of the then holder to take water therefrom for the irrigation of a village and from that date until 1907 the respondent's predecessors and the respondent exercised that right without any claim to payment. In 1833 the estate of the zamindar who had constructed the channel was forfeited to the Crown. In 1907 the Government imposed upon the respondent in respect of the village an irrigation cess under the Madras Irrigation Cess Act (VII of 1865) as amended by Madras Act V of 1900. Held that there was to be inferred from the circumstances an engagement to the Government within the meaning of the proviso of Madras Act VII of 1865 as amended and that the respondent consequently was not liable to pay the cess. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA: MANARAJA DE BOBELL (1910) L R 46 I A 302

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

See CRANT CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 38 Mad 424

s 1—Article

I L R 40 Mad 886

L R 46 I A 302

See IRRIGATION CESS ACT

I L R 40 Mad 886

Held that it was not obligatory under s 1(b) for the Collector to certify that the irrigation is beneficial and that the words "irrigation by percolation" mean not only irrigation by means of water flowing on the surface but cover cases where sub soil is taken by roots of trees. SECRETARY OF STATE: MANARAJA SASTHRIAL I L R 40 Mad (F B) 58

Engagements contracted by Government to supply water for wet lands free of charge—Engagements at the time of the Permanent Settlement—Subsequent engagements express or implied if included under the cession—Unauthorized acts of subordinate officers how far binding on Government—Ratification essential of communication of to the other party if necessary—When complete—Government Orders for ratifications—Indian Contract Act I (X of 1872) ss 196 to 200 and 3 to 6 In all cases of permanently settled estates where the incomes derivable from wet lands have been taken into consideration in settling the peshkash payable to Government there is an implied undertaking of the nature of an enforceable contract on the part of the Government to allow the use of Government water to such wet lands without charge and this implied undertaking amounts to an engagement within the meaning of the Act. There is a similar implied engagement as regards drains. The word engagements in s 1 of Act VII of 1865 is not qualified in any way and is not limited to the cases of engagements deductible from the circumstances under which the peshkash for quitrent in the case of an inam was determined at the time of the Permanent Settlement but includes all engagements between the Government and the landholder that might have been made or be deductible from the circumstances at any time after the Permanent Settlement. PERAYILKO J—Held (on a construction of the Government Orders and other proceedings) that no implied engagement of the latter kind or a ratification thereof by the Government was established. An express ratification by one party within the meaning of s 197 of the Indian Contract Act cannot become complete until it is communicated to the other party. Till then it is liable to revocation. This is in accordance with the principles embodied in the provisions of s 3 to 6 of the Act which deal with proposals, acceptances and revocations. An order of Government which stated that an unauthorised act of a subordinate officer should not be repudiated must be treated as an incomplete ratification before communication to

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)
—contd

_____ ss 1 and 4—contd

wari settlements is by virtue of an engagement with the Government entitled to irrigation free of separate charge no cess shall under this Act be imposed for water supplied to the extent of this right and no more. Held that an engagement with the Government had been created within the meaning of the proviso to the Act by the transaction of the zamindari having passed to the Government and had been accepted by them as binding the parties for a period of between 80 and 90 years during which (including 40 years since the Act was passed) the respondent zamindari had been enjoyed without any question or doubt that the respondent held under a tenure which gave him the benefit of the proviso in Act VII of 1895. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL. MAHARAJAH OF BOBHILI (1920)

I L R 43 Mad (P C) 529

_____ 1 2

1 Ownership of bed of channel—Owner of channel bed not on it at account alone entitled to water free of cess—Engagement to supply water free of charge—You proved—Nature of engagement to be inferred from permanent settlement—Act III of 1905 s 2—Stream what is—Voluntary payment—Money paid on a decree and under Act III of 1864 not voluntary Where in a grant by Government of land no reservation is made of channel beds and nothing is proved to show that the Government must have intended to reserve them and it is shown that the grantees exercised full control over the channel it must be presumed that the bed of the channel was included in the grant The ownership of the bed will not however carry with it the right to use the water of the channel free of charge under Act III of 1865 If water from a Government channel or river is distributed through channels provided by a private person such irrigation is not free of cess S 2 of Act III of 1905 is declaratory and effect must be given to the clear declaration without confining its operation to the matter of encroachments on land The channel or river is the flowing body of water Under s 2 of Act III of 1905 where it is not shown to belong to a private person it belongs to Government although private persons may be proprietors of the bed The riparian proprietors have easement rights but they are not on that account owners of the channel and they cannot use water which belongs to Government free of cess in the absence of an engagement with Government to that effect The abstention of Government from charging water cess for a number of years and the fact that the Government and the zamindar apportioned the cost of the upkeep of the channel according to the extent of zamindari and ryotwari land under it do not raise a presumption of any such engagement The only engagement which can be inferred from the Permanent Settlement is that the peshkush being fixed with reference to the area of land then under irrigation no further charge for the use of water should be made in respect of that area The burden of proving that any of crop is exempt from water cess lies zamindar Maria Susan Mudaliyar v Secretary of State for India in Council 14 Mad Where capacity to grow a second crop is taken account in fixing the peshkush no separate

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

s 2—contd.

can be made for the second crop. Money paid on a demand by Government and enforceable by attachment under Act II of 1861 is not a voluntary payment. KANDUKURI MAHALAKSHMANNA GARU v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 29.

2 *Condition necessary to entitle Government to levy water cess—Government may also source what is—Engagement nature of to be implied from title deed—Extent of water right how ascertained—Cultivation of larger area without increase of rent not liable to cess—Injunction granting of The essential conditions for the levy of water cess under Madras Act VII of 1865 are—(i) The irrigation must be effected by means of the water of a river stream tank or channel or work belonging to or constructed by Government (ii) If the water from such a source is received by indirect flow or used after storage in an intermediate reservoir the irrigation must in the opinion of the Collector (subject to the control of the Board of Revenue and Government) be beneficial to and sufficient for the requirement of the crops (iii) The charge must not be contrary to any engagement between the landholder and Government whereby the latter is entitled to irrigation free of charge. Where water from two hills—one belonging to Government and the other to a private party—combine and flow in a channel between Government and private lands and through Government and private lands alternatively and as a result are drawn for irrigation through channels owned by private parties such irrigation is effected by means of water drawn from a Government source within the meaning of s 2 of Act VII of 1865. Proprietor v The Secretary of State for India I L R 34 Mad 295 followed. Where Government waters mingle with those of another stream the combined water must be treated as Government water and the fact that it is drawn for use through private channels is immaterial. The question whether the irrigation is beneficial and sufficient must be decided by the Collector and his decision when not impeached by the Board of Revenue or Government cannot be questioned by the Civil Courts. The only undertaking which may be implied from a grant of land by Government is an undertaking to supply water free of charge to the extent of the accustomed flow at the time of the grant. Where the quantity of the customary flow cannot be ascertained the area irrigated will be presumed to be the measure of the quantity of water used at the time of the grant. Where a larger area is irrigated subsequent to the grant it will be open to the landholder to show that the increase is not due to the use of a larger quantity of water but to a more economical use of it in which case no cess can be levied for the increased extent. Maria Sivasudhan v The Secretary of State for India I L R 34 Mad 354 referred to. An injunction ought not to be granted when there are no sufficient data for determining whether an infringement of it has taken place. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v AMBALAVANA PANDARA SANKH (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 366

3 River belonging to Government meaning of—Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) effect of a river which after rising in certain Government hills flows through ryotwari tracts and then through a zamindar

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd.

s 2—contd.

dar and lastly through a Government village is not a river belonging to Government within s 2 of Madras Act VII of 1865 at the place where it passes through the zamindari wherein both the banks and the bed of the river belong to the zamindar and a ryot of the zamindar taking water from the river within the limits of the zamindari for irrigation is not liable to pay water cess to Government under the Act. Madras Act III of 1905 has not taken away pre-existing natural and easement rights of private proprietors in flowing waters of natural streams. CHINNAPPAN CHETTI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 239

s 4—

Sec 1

I L R 43 Mad 529

*Levy of cess what is—Effect of levy not retrospective—Arrears in s 2 of the Act means payments which become due and remain unpaid after levy. Under Madras Act VII of 1865 Government have the right to levy at pleasure a separate cess for water. The liability to pay water cess is not incurred in each fall by the mere fact of taking Government water but only when Government indicates its intention to charge the cess. The cess must be imposed during the fall. Arrears in s 2 of the Act means payments which have become due and remain unpaid after the levy was made. An arrear under the Act presupposes an engagement to pay and the mere use of water implies no such engagement. The Government cannot by the mere act of levying water cess in a subsequent fall indicate an intention to claim rent for previous fall. PASRI CHANDRA APPA ROW v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911)

I L R 35 Mad 187

*Water cess—Zamindar's lands—Excess area whether liable to pay water cess—Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) effect of. Where a right to take water is proved even though no express agreement on behalf of Government not to levy any charge is proved an engagement under Act VII of 1865 will be implied and no cess can be levied. Pir Sankaran Nair v J Act III of 1905 did not take away any rights that existed at the time the Act was passed and the Government are not by reason of that Act coupled with Act VII of 1865 entitled to impose any cess upon those landholders who were before the Act not liable to pay cess for their use of the water. Kandukuri Mahalakshamma Garu v The Secretary of State for India I L R 34 Mad 295 and Venkataratnammah v Secretary of State I L R 37 Mad 356 followed. SRI RAJAH SINGAR PAI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

I L R 39 Mad 57

*Inam lands irrigated by water coming from Government source—Water cess liable to be levied on where inamdar has no option to refuse use—Phrase used for the purpose of irrigation meaning of. Certain dry inam lands were submerged by water flowing from a Government source and by reason thereof the inamdar was compelled to raise wet crops with the help of the water which he enclosed in his adjoining land out of the flood water. Held that under Madras Act VII of 1865 he was liable to pay water cess. Madras Act VII of 1865 is not based upon any

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd

s 4—contd

theory of the ownership of the bed of a tank or water course being the foundation of a right to use the water free of charge. The fact that before irrigating the inamdar a lands the water had flowed through two fifths of a sheet of water included in the inam does not make it any the less water from a Government source. Held further the fact that rain water had got mixed with the flood water is no ground for getting rid of the liability. Secretary of State for India in Council v Perumal Pillai 1 L R 24 Mad 39 distinguished Maria Susan Mudali v The Secretary of State for India 14 Mad L J 350 distinguished SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v SWAMI VARATHESWARAN (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 21

Madras Act II 1864—

Defaulter who is—Person liable to pay cess under Act II of 1865—The amindar and not the tenant in occupation liable. Where water cess is leviable on zamindari land under the provisions of Madras Act VII of 1865, the person bound to pay such cess is the zamindar and not the tenant in occupation of such land. Aynappan Serrai v Secretary of State Mad N A 322 dissented from Subramanya Chetty v Mahalingasami Sivan 1 L R 33 Mad 41 followed. The zamindar is the proprietor and landholder within the meaning of Act II of 1864. He is the defaulter whose right and interest passes by the sale under s 39 of the Act. The security for the public revenue and for the cess which is recoverable as such revenue is the full proprietary right and not the right of the tenant. KOTILINGA SETHU POKER ZAMINDAR OF URKAD v SAKASHANAMA IYER (1911)

I L R 34 Mad 520

River belonging to Government meaning of—Zamindars and Rajas rights of to waters of rivers passing through their lands—Water proprietary rights in discussed—Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) effect of upon such rights. Per MILLER J—In a suit for the recovery from Government water cess illegally levied the cause of action arises on each occasion on which the cess is demanded and Art 131 of Schedule II of the Limitation Act does not apply. The High Court having held in Kandukuri Mahala kshammamma Garu Proprietrix of Utlam v Secretary of State for India 1 L R 34 Mad 295 on facts similar to those relied upon in the present case that the Vamsadhara river is a river belonging to Government such finding was a matter of law which should be followed until overruled by a Full Bench or a higher Court. I followed accordingly. Per SANKARAN NAID J Under the customary law of the country water belonged to the owner of the estate through which it passes so long as the water remained on the land subject to the claims of the proprietors below. The members of the village community and the zamindars or poligars were entitled to the water which flowed through their lands. If Government are the proprietors of the land they are the owners of the water thereon and those rivers and streams of which they own the bed and the banks belong to Government. It was the policy of the East India Company in granting the permanent sanads to recognize private proprietary rights and to divest themselves of such rights which may have been vested in them. It is against the policy and the spirit of the permanent settlement regulation to hold that the Government reserved to themselves any power to increase the revenue on the zamindari or to levy any assessment for the use of water. The permanent sanads granted to Rajas and chieftains did not interfere with their use of the waters of natural streams for the cultivation of all lands within the ayacut (i.e. the area of land that can be irrigated according to the customary methods) subject to the claims of the ryots. The new zamindars created by the East India Company were placed on the same footing as the old. Speaking generally whenever the Government contend that these zamindars are not entitled to exercise any of the rights which are capable of private ownership and that such rights are vested in the Crown it lies on the Government to prove that such zamindars were deprived of them either expressly or by necessary implication under the sanads granted under that Regulation (Regulation XXV of 1802) the new zamindars were placed on the same footing. The sanads referred to are those which were granted by Lord Clive a copy of which will be found in the earlier editions of the Standing Orders of the Board of Revenue. Under the Regulation of 1802 the Government did not enter into any engagements with the landholders to supply water. The circumstances under which the permanent sanads were granted preclude any such engagement. In the case of new zamindars created there may be cases in which the Government reserved to themselves the control of water courses. Act VII of 1865 was intended by the Legislature to refer to all rivers and streams in those ryotwari districts where no mirasi or any corresponding right prevailed and the words rivers belonging to Government do not apply to rivers running through or by zamindars. The Act was not intended to effect any change in the substantive law but to enable Government to levy a cess on account of the large expenditure incurred by Government in the construction and improvement of irrigation works. The ryotwari lands were assumed to be Government property and all rivers running through ryotwari lands were accordingly treated as belonging to Government. But it does not enable the Government to levy a water cess where the landowners use the waters of rivers in accordance with the rights they had before. The exemption clause in s 1 of the Act—Where a zamindar or inamdar by virtue of engagements with the Government is entitled to irrigation free of separate charge no cess under this Act shall be imposed for water supplied to the extent of such right and no more—does not apply to those zamindars and proprietors who themselves take and are entitled to take the water for irrigation from the rivers and streams in their zamindaris without its being supplied to them by Government. Even if the section with the exemption clause applied the engagement to be implied is one to allow the proprietors to irrigate all their lands within the ayacut which could be irrigated without any fee and without any charge. As Act III of 1905 does not interfere with vested right it cannot be used to interpret Act VII of 1865 to take away such rights. Therefore under Act VI of 1865 (standing unaffected by subsequent legislation) it was not competent to the Government to levy any cess for any water taken from the Vamsadhara river with out the aid of Government works [See the end of the judgment for a summary of the conclusions] SECRETARY OF STATE v JANAKIRAMANAYYA (1912) I L R 37 Mad. 322

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—contd

s 4—contd

MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)—concl'd

— ss 4—concl'd

MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (MAD III OF 1895)

— ss 1 and 2—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)

— ss 3 5 and 14—Penal assessment

levy of—Suit for declaration of title and recovery of penal assessment—Suit brought after six months from date of notice and levy of penal assessment—Suit barred—Limitation Where the plaintiff brought a suit against the Secretary of State for a declaration of his title to certain immovable property and for recovery of penal assessment levied from him by Government under s 5 of the Madras Act III of 1905 more than six months after the issue of notice and levy of the assessment from him Held that the suit for declaration of title as well as for recovery of penal assessment was barred under s 14 of the Madras Act III of 1905 BHASKARADU v SUBBARAYUDU (1913) I L R 38 Mad 874

— ss 5 6 7 and 14—Notice under s 7

—Levy of penal assessment—Suit for declaration—Cause of action—Limitation A notice under s 7 of the Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) was issued to the plaintiff and penal assessment was thereafter levied from him More than six months after such levy the plaintiff brought this suit for a declaration of his title to the land in question and for the refund of the assessment levied Held that the notice under s 7 of the Madras Land Encroachment Act calling on the person in occupation to show cause why he should not be proceeded against under s 5 or 6 of the Act does not give rise to a cause of action but that the suit was barred having been filed more than six months after the levy of assessment Narayana Pillai v Secretary of State 22 Mad L J 189 approved BHASKARADU v SUBBARAYUDU I L R 38 Mad 874 considered THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v ASSAN (1915) I L R 39 Mad 727

— ss 6 7 14—Levied in s 14 means levy of—Levy of penal assessment—Suit for refund of penal assessment declaration of title to property and injunction—Limitation In a suit under s 14 of Madras Land Encroachment Act (III of 1905) for (a) refund of penal assessment levied from the plaintiff (b) declaration of the plaintiff's title to the property in respect of which penal assessment was levied and (c) an injunction restraining Government from interfering with the plaintiff's possession the cause of action for the refund arises not from the date of imposition of the penal assessment but from the date on which it was actually collected and the cause of action for the declaration and injunction arises not from the date when the Collector issues his order for the eviction but from the date on which some steps are taken under s 6 of the Act to evict the plaintiff Levied in s 14 means collected and not merely imposed THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v ASSAN I L R 39 Mad 727 explained and distinguished KESAVA

MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (MAD III OF 1905)—concl'd

— ss 6 7 14—concl'd

CREDIT v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918) I L R 42 Mad 451

MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT (MAD I OF 1876)

Partly driven to sue for separate registration not entitled to damages for refusal to render—Action for money had and received—Request when implied The alienation of a portion of an estate who is driven to a civil suit to enforce separate registry under Act I of 1876 all the parties to the alienation not consenting to the transfer is entitled to recover only the costs of such suit and not any further damages In an action to recover money paid by plaintiff for the defendant at his request a request will generally be implied where the defendant has notice of the payment being made for him and does not dissent Where the circumstances show that the owner of property which is saved by another party knew that the other party was laying out his money in the expectation of being repaid the inference of an understanding between the parties amounting in law to an implied contract will unhesitatingly be drawn FALKE v Scottish Imperial Insurance Company 34 CA D 219 referred to Where a portion of an estate is alienated and the vendor and vendee agree that the vendee should pay the vendor a certain amount as the vendee's share of peelash on the portion alienated which amount is in excess of the amount ascertained on separate registry to be due on such portion the vendor is interested in paying the peelash as he makes a profit in doing so and he can recover the amount so paid NARAYANASWAMI NAIDU v VELLANKI SREENIVASA JAGAN MADHA RAO (1909) I L R 33 Mad 189

— ss 2—Owner under meaning of—

Permanent lessee not an owner—No liability to separate registration and assessment—Proprietor or owner under Regulation (XXI) of 1802—Madras Hereditary Village Offices (Act III of 1895) Grantees holding under perpetual grants subject to payment to the zamindar (the grantor) of a small rent under the name of jodi kattubadi or poruppu are not liable to have their lands separately registered and to have separate assessment imposed upon them under the provisions of the Madras Act I of 1876 A permanent lessee is not a proprietor or owner under Regulation XXI of 1802 or the Madras Hereditary Village Offices Act (III of 1895) Venkateswara Iettiappaiah Naicker v Alagoo Moottoo Seroogaren 8 Moo I A 327 Hari Narayan Singh v Sriram Chakravarthi L R 37 I A 136 Durga Prasad Singh v Brojo Nath Bose L F 39 I A 133 and Kshetrabaro Bissoyi v Sohanapuram Hari Krishna Narudu I J R 33 Mad 341 followed Robert Fisher v The Secretary of State for India I L F 2, Mad 270 distinguished Komalammal v Raju Naicker I L R 19 Mad 308 distinguished MAHARAJA of VIZIANAGRAM v THE COLLECTOR OF VIZAGAPATAN (1914) I L R 38 Mad 1128

MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT (MAD V OF 1884)

— ss 33 98 (1) and (2)—Delegation of duty to give notice of removal of obstruction to a

MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT (MAD V OF 1884)—contd

ss 33, 93 (1) and (2)—contd

public road by the president of a Taluk Board to a chairman of a union validity of—Other person duly authorized by him as afore—in s 93 (2) meaning of S 33 of the Madras Local Boards Act (V of 1884) does not restrict the specific delegations of duty allowed to the president of a Taluk Board by other sections of the Act. The words "other person duly authorized by him as afore" said in s 93 cl (2) mean any person duly authorized by him in that behalf as the one mentioned in s 93 cl (1) and do not mean only the vice president of the Taluk Board. Hence a notice to remove an obstruction to a public road given by the chairman of a union to whom the president of the Taluk Board within which the union was situated delegated the power to give such notice is a legally valid notice and disobedience to the notice is an offence under the Act. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v SANKARALINGA MOOPAN (1910) I L R 42 Mad 787

s 51—

See CHARITABLE TRUST

I L R 34 Mad 375

Taluk Board taking over management of charity not bound to keep account accessible to all persons when they take the place of trustees who are under an obligation to do so—Power of Taluk Board to transfer management—Madras Regulation VII of 1817 ss 2, 5, 7, 8, 13—Under s 51 of Act V of 1884 the Taluk Board is vested with powers of supervision and management and not with the power of appointing trustees conferred on the Board of Revenue. Where a Taluk Board under s 51 of Madras Act V of 1884 takes the place of trustees appointed by a will, which directs the trustees to keep accounts accessible to all persons such Board will not in the absence of a charge of mismanagement be under an obligation to keep such accounts. The management being transferred by a special law to a statutory body we must look to that law and not to the will to determine the duties incidental to such management. The Board is not bound to give inspection of accounts when no charge of mismanagement is made. The Taluk Board which has taken over the management under s 51 of the Act cannot appoint an independent trustee so as to divest itself of the duty of management. The power and duties of the Board of Revenue which devolve on the Taluk Board under s 51 of the Act do not include the power to appoint trustee vested in the Board under s 13 of Reg VII of 1817. NELAYATHAKSHI AMMAL v THE TALUK BOARD MAYAVARAM (1910) I L R 34 Mad 333

ss 51, 144 to 147—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT 1881

ss 5 AND 6 I L R 43 Mad 816

ss 63 AND 73—

See MUTT HEAD OF

I L R 38 Mad 356

s 73—Mortgagee with possession who then intermediate holder—His right to recover rent A mortgagee with possession is an intermediate tenure holder within the meaning of s 73 of the Local Boards Act (V of 1884) and is entitled to recover rent by summary process. The tenant's liability to pay him is not abrogated by a contract

MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT (MAD V OF 1884)—contd

s 73—contd

to which he was not a party JAGANNATHKULU v MANAGER OF NANDIGAM ESTATE (1914)

I L R 39 Mad 269

ss 73 74—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 77 I L R 37 Mad 319

s 95—Taluk Board—Planting of trees along a road—Statutory duty—Branches of trees overhanging plaintiff's land—Omission to remove if actionable—Non-feasance—Absence of negligence—Cause of action—English and Indian Law. Where a Taluk Board acting under s 95 of the Local Boards Act (V of 1884) planted on the sides of a road certain trees whose branches spread over the land of the plaintiff who thereupon sued for an injunction directing the Board to lop off the branches. Held that the suit was not sustainable as (i) the Taluk Board in the discharge of its statutory duties had not acted carelessly or negligently and (ii) the omission to remove the branches even if it ought to have been done is only a non-feasance for which no action at the instance of a private individual would lie. English and Indian Cases on the subject reviewed. KRISHNAMOORTHY AIYAR v THE TALUK BOARD OF MAYAVARAM (1916) I L R 42 Mad 331

s 100—Order of a Taluk Board to an owner to fill up a tank without regard to attendant circumstances—validity of. A Taluk Board passed an order under s 100 of the Madras Local Boards Act (V of 1884) asking the owner of certain tanks to fill them up on the ground that they were in an insanitary condition without taking into consideration (1) that such condition was brought about not by any act of the owner but by the Taluk Board allowing drainage water to escape into the tanks and (2) that filling up the tank was far more expensive than raising a bund all round the tanks which would have equally served the purpose. Held that the power conferred by s 100 of the Local Boards Act though a very wide power must not be exercised for ulterior purpose or in a capricious wanton and arbitrary manner and if so used can be controlled by the Civil Courts and that the order passed by the Board in this case was one that should be set aside. TALUK BOARD BANDRA v ZEMINDAR OF CHELLAPALLI (1921) I L R 44 Mad 166

MADRAS MOTOR VEHICLES ACT (MAD I OF 1907)

See TORTS I L R 41 Mad 538

MADRAS PERMANENT SETTLEMENTS

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CEAS ACT 1863

I L R 40 Mad 886

See MADRAS REGULATION XXX OF 1802

MADRAS PLANTERS LABOUR ACT (I OF 1903)

See PLANTERS LABOUR ACT (MAD)

I L R 36 Mad 467

ss 21 and 35—Breach of contract by master or labourer—Prosecution of master—Successive prosecutions and convictions if permitted under the Act—Directions by the Magistrate to complete performance.—Successive directions if permitted by the Act Under a 3 of the Madras Planters Labour Act (I of 1903) the Magistrate has power to issue successive directions to a mistry labourer to complete the performance of his contract Re Panga Mistry I L R 36 Mad 497 dissented from Successive prosecutions can be instituted and convictions obtained against a mistry in respect of successive defaults made by him under s 21 cls (a) (b) and (c) of the Act Unwin v Clarke L R 1 Q B 417 and Culler v Turner 9 Q B 50 followed Whitton v MAM MAD MAISTRY (1015) I L R 39 Mad 889

MADRAS PLANTERS' LABOUR ACT (I OF 1903)—cont'dss 21 and 3—cont'd

MADRAS PORT TRUST ACT (II OF 1905)—by law 22—

See MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1889) s 75 I L R 39 Mad 886

MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VILLAGE SERVICE ACT (II OF 1874)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 s 47

I L R 41 Mad 418

ss 5 and 10 cl (2)—Service inam—

Emolument its partition of whether prohibited—Alienation validity of—Subsequent suit for ejectment—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 43—Ancestral property—Property inherited by maternal grandsons—Interest nature of The enfranchisement of a service inam under a 10 cl (2) of the Madras Proprietary Estates Village Service Act (II of 1891) does not destroy the rights of any member of a joint family who has a hereditary interest in it The alienation of a service inam is void and though it is subsequently enfranchised the alienance cannot invoke the aid of s 43 of the Transfer of Property Act in his favour Ramaswami Naick v Azmaswami Chetty I L R 30 Mai 705 Narahara Sahu v Siva Narathan Naidu (1913) Mai W N 415 and Bchu Ramayya v Pharasanthi (1913) Mai W N 999 referred to Property which descends on daughter's sons from their maternal grandfather is ancestral property in which the grandsons take an interest by birth according to the Mitakshara law Cases reviewed RAMAYYA v JAGANNADHAN (1015) I L R 39 Mad 930

MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1802)See IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

I L R 36 Mad 325

See MADRAS IRRIGATION LESS ACT 1865

I L R 40 Mad 886

See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT (I OF 1876) s 2

I L R 38 Mad 1128

See MADRAS PERMANENT SETTLEMENTSee UNSETTLED PATAKANI

I L R 41 Mad 749

See REGULATION

17 C W N 1291

ss 3 and 4—Zamindar—Permanent Settlement—Sanad—Construction of Sanad—Right of Government to resume inam lands A sanad issued by the Government on August 24th 1802 to a zamindar in the Presidency of Madras (Arcot) stated that in consideration of the relief which the

MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1802)—cont'dss 3 and 4—cont'd

zamindar's finances would derive from the relinquishment of his military services and of the Government charging itself with the duty of protecting his territories the British Government has fixed your annual contribution including equivalent for military service and the established perkulush for every year at the sum of star pagodas 11 059 which said amount shall never be liable to changes under any circumstances Cl (5) reserved to the Government the revenue derived from salt and saltpetre and certain other subjects without making any mention of lakhiraj or inam lands It appeared from other documents that the assessment had been fixed on the whole zamindari irrespective of the assets derived from each particular unit of property within II Madras Regulation XXV of 1802 which was passed on July 13th 1802 provided by s 3 that in all cases of disputed assessment reference was to be had to the sanads and Labuliyats executed and by s 4 that the Government having reserved to itself certain articles of revenue including lakhiraj lands (or lands exempt from the payment of Government revenue) and of all other lands paying only favourable quit rents the permanent assessment of the land tax shall be made exclusively of the said articles now recited At the time of issue of the sanad there were in the zamindari certain religious and charitable inams and lakhiraj lands granted by the zamindar or his predecessors Held that having regard to the terms of the sanad and the circumstances in which it was issued the Government was not entitled to resume them or assess them to the public revenue Judgment of the High Court affirmed SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v RAJA OF VEYATATOGRI (1021)

I L R 44 Mad (PC) 864

s 4—Pre settlement inams—Lands held on service tenure in addition to payment of quit rent—Service to Zamindar—Service quasi public before settlements—Its discontinuance thereafter—Presumption by Government right of—Presumption—Onus of proof as to exclusion prior to Settlement—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 106 and 114 ill (g) Where land in a Zamindari were pre settlement inams granted on condition of rendering personal service to the zamindar and paying a favourable quit rent and the Government resumed such inams on the ground of discontinuance of such services Held that as the grant was for services purely personal to the zamindar prima facie the inams formed part of the assets of the zamindari and the zamindar and not the Government was entitled to resume Held also that where such service was rendered in addition to quit rent the proviso to s 4, Regulation XXV of 1802 has no application The onus of proving that such lands were excluded from the assets of the zamindari and that the Government had the right to resume lay on them. Per TYABJI J.—The Government having special means of knowledge as to exclusion or otherwise of the lands at the settlement from the Zamindari the burden was upon them according to s 106 of the Evidence Act and the necessary presumption against the non production of the records in their possession should be drawn against them SRI RAJA PARTHASARATHY APPA PAO BAHADUR v SECRETARY OF STATE (1913)

I L R 45 Mad 820

MADRAS REGULATION (XXXI OF 1802)

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT s 3

I L R 41 Mad 1012

MADRAS REGULATION (XI OF 1816)

s 10—

Village Magistrate

—Power to sentence confinement—Village choultry—
Confinement to be only in village choultry and nowhere else—Sentence of confinement before a temple legality of Under s 10 of Madras Regulation XI of 1816 the village magistrate has power to pass sentence of confinement only in the village choultry and not in front of a temple although a public place Criminal Revision Petition 190 of 1898 I Weir 924 referred to PONTYSAWI ILLAI In re (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 113

MADRAS REGULATION (VII OF 1817)

See CHARITABLE TRUST

I L R 54 Mad 375

See MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT 1884

I L R 34 Mad 333

MADRAS REGULATION (VI OF 1831)

See EMISSIONS ACT 1811 s 4

I L R 36 Mad 559

See SERVICE INAM

I L R 35 Mad 705

MADRAS REGULATION (X OF 1831)

See MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT

I L R 41 Mad 733

MADRAS RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (X OF 1883)

See CHARITABLE TRUST

I L R 34 Mad 375

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1865)

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1918) s 13 CL (3)

I L R 39 Mad 84

Tenant who is—Trans fer puts an end to holding without notice to landlord—Tenant at the beginning of fasli is tenant for the fasli notwithstanding subsequent transfer A transfer of the holding by the tenant puts an end to the tenancy without notice to the landlord unless the tenant under certain circumstances is estopped from denying its continuance There is nothing in the Rent Recovery Act to warrant a contrary view A tenant who is a tenant at the beginning of the fasli continues to be the tenant for the fasli notwithstanding a subsequent transfer of the holding and is liable to be proceeded against under the Rent Recovery Act PAVASWAMI AYYANGAR v SHUNMUGAN PILLAI (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 179

—Implied contract by ryot to pay enhanced rent—Consideration—Zemindar refraining from raising a hopeless dispute is valid consideration—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 2—Payment of increased rent for several years is estoppel ryot from challenging it—Auc plea not entertained by Privy Council Where the contract of tenancy between zemindar and ryot was that the ryot was to hold the lands at the uniform panya rate of 4 fanams a guli and was to remain in occupancy so long as circumstances affecting the hold ing remained unchanged otherwise than by the labour and outlay of the ryot himself and the land lord pleaded that the tenant having subsequently (by making a well or tank at his own expense) resorted to garden cultivation thenceforward agreed to pay rent at 8 as per guli and that this contract to pay enhanced rent was to be implied from the fact of the zemindar having demanded and received such rent for several years thereafter Held that the term implied contract as used in the Madras Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865) which governed the case was an English term of art and must be so construed That there was no consideration for the promise to pay increased rent and the implied contract was not therefore enforceable That the fact if proved of the zemindar having consented not to raise a hopeless and groundless dispute as to the right of the tenants to hold the lands at the 4 fanams rate would not be a valid consideration for the tenant's promise to pay enhanced rent That in the absence of evidence showing an implied representation by the ryot of some existing fact on the faith of which the zemindar had changed his position there was no estoppel in pais which would bind the ryot to pay the enhanced rent The Judicial Committee refused to entertain new pleas for the first time raised before it and held the Appellant to the position taken up in the lower Courts JAGAVEERA RAO v VENKATESWARA ETTAPPA v ALAWARASA ASARI (1918) 23 C W N 225

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1865)—contd

—ss 3 11—Varam rate—Pate of rent ascertaining of—Right of landlord to varam rate on wet crop raised on dry lands when no contract for the rent chargeable By agreement between the landlord and tenant a permanent money rent was fixed for dry cultivation and the agreement provided for extra charge for wet and garden crops without however stating the amount of such charge The land was subsequently cultivated with wet crop without any assistance from the landlord and the tenant took objection to the varam rate claimed by the landlord Held that the landlord had the right to claim the varam rate as there was no contract in regard to the rent payable for wet cultivation The contract having left the rate for wet cultivation undetermined was not a contract within the meaning of s 11 of the Act Where under the circumstances the landlord became entitled to varam rate under s 11 of the Rent Recovery Act his claim to such rate cannot be objected to on the ground that the rent is thereby increased and it is not necessary to obtain the sanction of the Collector In the absence of contract or survey rates the landlord is entitled to varam rate under cl 3 of the section An enquiry to determine the rate according to local usage is not necessary to enable the landlord to claim varam rates SRI RAJA BOMMADEVARA VENKATA VARASINHA NAY DU v KASARAVEVI CHINNA RAOY (1909)

I L R 23 Mad 12

—Right of landlord to enhance rent on dry land cultivated with garden crop by wells dug at tenant's cost—Auc such right in the absence of a contract supported by considerations Dry lands liable to pay a fixed rent were cultivated with garden crop by the tenant by means of wells excavated at his cost with the consent of the landlord The landlord claimed and the tenant for some years paid an enhanced rate of rent for the crop so raised. In a suit by the tenant to compel the landlord to grant pattas at the usual dry rate it was contended for the landlord that a contract to pay the enhanced rate must be implied from the payment for a number of years of such rate and that such contract was supported by consideration as the landlord had consented to the digging of wells and as he had forborne from claiming the varam rate which he had a right to do under s 11 cl. 3 of the Rent Recovery Act. There was no evidence that rent was chargeable according to the nature of the crop raised. Held (i) that the word contract in s 11 cannot be construed as a mere agreement but as an enforceable contract supported by consideration (ii) that the consent of the landlord not being necessary to entitle the tenant to sink the well such consent was no legal consideration for an agreement to pay the enhanced rate (iii) that payment of a fixed rate of rent prior to the sinking of the wells was evidence of an implied contract to pay rent at that rate and in the absence of evidence to show that the rate was fixed not on the holding but on the nature of the crop and was liable to be altered with a variation in the crop raised that the existence of such a contract barred the landlord's claim to varam rates under s 11 cl. 3 of the Rent Recovery Act. The promise not to press such an unenforceable claim was no legal consideration. ARUNGOBI CHETTY v. RAJA JAGAJEERA RAMA VENKATESWARA ETTAPPA MAHARAJA AYYAR (1910)

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1865)—contd

— s 3, 11—contd

1 L R 35 Mad 184

— s 4 5 18—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

1 L R 40 Cal 623

— s 7—Distrain for larger amount than is legally due not good even for the amount due. Where after tender by landlord and refusal by the tenant of a patta providing for a larger rent than is really due the landlord distrains property of the tenant for such larger amount such distrain will not hold good even for the amount properly claimable. VENKATA NARASIMHA NAIDU BHADUR v. SAGGA S MAYA (1911) 1 L R 35 Mad 129

— s 9—Tender of Pattas on produce sharing system—Allegation by tenants that money system prevailed—Prevalence of money rent for series of years—Alleged express contract to make prevailing rate permanent—Implied contract presumption of—Evidence in considering usage prevailing—Demand of cases for determination of proper rate when no contract exists. The appellant a zamindar brought suits against the respondents the tenants in a village on his estate under s 9 of the Madras Rent Recovery Act (Madras Act VIII of 1865) to enforce pattas tendered by him and the execution of corresponding muchulkas. The pattas tendered were under the Asara or produce sharing system which the respondents denied was in force in their village money rate as they alleged being the proper form of rent. It appeared that in 1899 (1855) different rates of rent prevailed in the village some being higher than Rs 5 and others lower than that in that year a uniform rate of Rs per acre was introduced by mutual agreement between the appellant and respondents and leases were exchanged on that basis for a term of 6 years. The respondents alleged that the appellant at that time expressly agreed that the rate of Rs should be permanent. The High Court did not uphold the express agreement but found there was an implied contract to be inferred from the fact that rents at the same rate were paid and received for four years after the expiration of the term fixed by the leases of 1299 the presumption being that such rate of rent should continue the same in perpetuity. Held by the Judicial Committee that there was along side of the express contract embodied in the leases exchanged between the parties no proof of any such collateral implied agreement relating to fixity of rent. Any understanding of the kind was denied by the appellant and no credible explanation was given by the respondents why it existed such an important arrangement was not reduced to writing. Held agreeing with the High Court that it was not open to Courts to imply from the mere circumstance that the rent had been paid in money for a series of years an agreement to pay money rent their Lordships saw no reason why the fact that money rent had prevailed in a particular locality for a considerable number of years might not form an element in the consideration of usage. The real question between the parties not having been decided namely whether the pattas tendered by the appellant were such as he was entitled to impose on the respondents a question which it having been found that there was no express or implied contract must be decided in accordance with the rules contained in cl. (iii) of s 11 of Act VIII of 1865 which dealt with the mode of determining the rate when no contract exists their Lordships remanded the cases to the proper Court in India to determine under the provisions the rates the appellant was entitled to receive. VARADACHARI APPA ROW v. CHENNAI VENKATA NARASIMHA (1910)

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1865)—contd

— s 9—contd

1 L R 33 Mad 177

— s 9 and 10—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH II Art 110 1 L R 36 Mad 438

— s 11—

See s 3 1 L R 43 Mad 1074
See PATTAS

1 L R 36 Mad 4

— Payment of enhanced rent—Implied contract—Absence of consideration. The Madras Rent Recovery Act 1865 s 11 among rules to be observed in the decision of suits regarding rates of rent provides all contracts for rent express or implied shall be enforced. A tenant of dry lands sank a well at his own cost and there after cultivated the land with garden crops. Prior to the sinking of the well the tenant had always paid a uniform rent on a dry basis subsequently the landlord claimed and the tenant for some years paid an enhanced rent namely at the garden crop rate. In a suit by the tenant to obtain pattas at the usual dry rate. Held that there was an implied contract to pay rent at the dry rate and that there was no consideration to support an implied contract to pay at the enhanced rate further that to construe the original contract as a contract to pay at the dry rate only so long as the land remained dry having the subsequent rent to depend upon the produce would be repugnant to the Act JAGAVEKKA IAMA ETYAPPA v ARIMU GAM CHETTI (1918) L R 45 I A 195

MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT (VIII OF 1863)—contds 11—contd

ss III 35 39 and 40—

See LIMITATION ACT (I of 1908) s 29
I L R 38 Mad 837

s 49—8—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) 13 CL (3)
I L R 39 Mad 239

s 69—

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL
I L R 37 Mad 443

MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT (MAD II OF 1864)

ss 1 42—Sale for arrears of water-cess due under Madras Act II of 1864—Discharge of encumbrances Under s 42 of Madras Act II of 1864 (Revenue Recovery Act) a sale for arrears of water cess due under Madras Act II of 1864 conveys a title to the purchaser free of encumbrances water cess being included in the term public revenue as per s 1 of Madras Act II of 1864 Cases relating to sales for arrears of income tax and abkari revenue have no bearing on this question VELLAPPAYAL AMBALAM v HARTFILLIAN PILLAI (1911) I L R 37 Mad 49 ss 2 5 42—Provisions of s 42 not confined to land on which the arrears become due—Land mortgaged by defaulter does not cease to be his property Land belonging to the defaulter does not become mortgaged by him, ceases to be his property within the meaning of s 5 of Act II of 1864 there is nothing in s 2 or 5 to restrict the land that may be sold thereunder to the land in which the arrears of revenue have accrued When therefore land belonging to the defaulter is sold for arrears accruing due on their lands belonging to him the sale under s 42 of the Act is free of all encumbrances SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v RASIRATI BUN KARAYYA (1910) I L R 34 Mad 493 ss II to 5 28—Defaulter who is—Registered proprietor is defaulter in respect of arrears accrued before registry The Madras Revenue Recovery Act lays the obligation to pay the revenue including all the arrears on every land holder irrespective of the time when he becomes the holder and if he does not do so he becomes a defaulter A person on being registered as the holder becomes a defaulter in respect of arrears accrued before the registry as if he were the registered owner when the arrears fell due KOTA SUBBAYA KUPPA GARU v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912) I L R 35 Mad 555 ss 3 35—Defaulter who is—Defaulter means registered possessor—Contract Act s 69 Where one person is the real owner of a share in land and another is the registered proprietor of the whole the latter and not the former is the defaulter within the meaning of the Revenue Recovery Act and where the latter is mortgagee of a share of the land not owned by the former has paid the arrears of revenue due on the whole land and the former has paid the revenue of his share he cannot being himself the defaulter,

MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT (MAD II OF 1864)—contdss 3 35—contd

recover the amount from the former under s 35 of the Revenue Recovery Act The latter cannot recover under s 69 of the Contract Act as the former is not bound by law to pay the money which the latter has paid SUNDARAMIA CHETTI v MAHALINGABAI BIVAN (1905)

I L R 53 Mad 41

ss 32 and 42—

See NEXT HEAD OF

I L R 88 Mad 856

ss 37(A) 38 and 50—Sale for arrears of revenue—Limitation—Material irregularity—Dismissal by Deputy Collector and Collector—Confirmation of sale whether final—Application to Board of Revenue—Power of general supervision of Board of Revenue—Power to direct Collector to cancel sale—Cancellation by Collector—Validity of—Title of purchaser whether affected—Suit by purchaser for possession—Limitation—Material irregularity—Proof of substantial loss—Madras Regulation I II of 1863 and III of 1864 The plaintiff purchased the suit lands in a revenue auction sale held under the Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864) A petition to set aside the sale under s 14 (A) of the Act was filed by the defaulter before the Deputy Collector and was dismissed another petition under s 38 (1) of the Act was also dismissed by the Deputy Collector who confirmed the sale the District Collector also confirmed the sale the first defendant then filed a petition before the Board of Revenue to set aside the sale The Board of Revenue in the exercise of their powers of general supervision directed the Collector to cancel the sale which was accordingly cancelled by him The plaintiff thereupon instituted this suit to recover possession of the suit lands more than six months after the order cancelling the sale The first defendant pleaded that the sale was validly cancelled by the Collector that the suit was barred by limitation under s 69 of Act II of 1864 and that the sale should have been set aside on account of material irregularity Held that when a Collector is empowered by a statute to pass a certain order it is not open to the Board of Revenue having only general powers of supervision over him to direct him to pass a special order contrary to that he had already passed that the order cancelling the sale though purporting to be passed by the Collector was really the order of the Board of Revenue who had no power under Act II of 1864 to pass such an order that after an order under s 38 (3) was issued by the Deputy Collector and confirmed by the Collector it became final under that section and neither of them had power under the Act to pass any further order that the suit was not barred by limitation s 69 of Act II of 1864 was not applicable for the reason that the order complained of was passed wholly without jurisdiction and not under any power conferred by the Act and that on the merits the sale should not have been set aside as no substantial loss was proved to be due to the irregularity SUNDARAM AYYAN GARU v RAMASWAMI AYYANAR (1914)

I L R 41 Mad 95

s 59—

See LIMITATION I L R 33 Mad

MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT (MAD IV OF 1861)—contd

s 59—contd

See MULT HEAD OF

I L R 38 Mad 358

Sale of a minor's ryotwari land holder's lands for arrears of revenue validity of—Madras Regulation (V of 1831) s 2—Wrong entry of minor's mother as pattadar instead of minor effect of—Suit to set aside revenue sale more than six months after sale whether barred by limitation On the death of a ryotwari landholder the Revenue authorities erroneously registered his widow as the pattadar instead of the plaintiff his minor adopted son Default in payment of revenue having occurred the lands were sold for arrears of revenue during plaintiff's minority and he then sued to set aside the revenue sale and recover the lands within twelve years of the sale but more than six months after attaining majority Held by the Full Bench (a) that s 2 of Madras Regulation V of 1831 which prohibits the sale for arrears of revenue of minor's properties applies to all lands of minors whether permanently settled or only ryotwari whether the lands be considerable or so small as not to be taken charge of by the Court of Wards (b) that the sale being ultra vires the special period of limitation of six months prescribed by s 59 of the Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1861) did not apply to the suit and (c) that the fact that the Revenue authorities mistakenly registered the plaintiff's adoptive mother as pattadar did not in any way affect him Arishna v Melam Peruma I L R 10 Mad 41 considered Subramania Chetty v Mahalingam Sivan I L R 33 Mad 41 distinguished Secretary of State v Ashtamurthi I L R 13 Mad 89 followed Swami NATHA AYYAR v GOVINDASAWAMI PADAYACHI (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 733

MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT (MAD IV OF 1897)

s 11—Decision of Survey Officer on dispute as to boundary not set aside on appeal or by suit within one year effect of—Continued possession of unsuccessful party effect of A decision of a Survey Officer passed under s 11 of the Madras Survey and Boundaries Act (IV of 1897) on a dispute arising between two parties as to the boundary of a certain property is final and conclusive as to the rights of the parties if not set aside either on appeal or by a suit brought within one year and it is none the less so because the unsuccessful party who was in possession on the date of the order was not subsequently ousted from possession Krishnamma v Achayya I L R 2 Mad 306 distinguished MUTHULANDI POOSARI v SETHURAM AIYAR (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 425

s 12—Land with shifting boundaries—Damages—Lease—Lessee's rights of Where the boundaries of land to be leased are of a shifting character the prospective lessee is entitled to rely upon the area stated in the lease and to be put into possession of an area which approximates to that which is mentioned in the lease Raja Durga Prasad Singh v Rajendra Narayan Bagchi 10 C L J 70 applied Where the lessor is unable to put the lessee into possession of the area stipulated in the lease he is liable to compensate the lessee by way of damages Where the alteration to the land takes place after the lessee has been

MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT (MAD IV OF 1897)—contd

s 12—contd

put into possession the rule would be different PERUMARAZU VENKIAH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 108

s 12 and 13—Decision of a Survey officer—Finality of decision—Decision whether final for all or for what purposes—Effect of word final in s 12 sub s (3) The effect of s 12 sub s (3) of the Survey and Boundaries Act is to make the orders of a Survey officer in cases falling under that section final for the purposes of the survey but it does not go so far as to preclude the land owners altogether from afterwards disputing its correctness in a Court of Law unless there was a dispute before the Survey officer and the order is one to which s 13 of the Act applies Muthulandi Poosari v Sethuram Aiyar (1919) I L R 41 Mad 425 (F.B.) explained CHITRA VENKATRAYUDH v RAMANJAN (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 34

MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCES ACT (MAD III OF 1889)

Held that a Public Place was one where the Public go whether they have a right to do so or not It is sufficient to constitute a place a public one even if only a section of the general public goes there In this case the compound of a Hindu Temple known as EMPEROR'S MUSA

I L R 40 Mad 557

s 3 (10)—Gaming and public place meaning of The accused in this case held for stakes a game called Ring in an open space in the compound of a Hindu temple In convicting the accused under s 3 (10) of the Madras Towns Nuisance Act (III of 1889) on the grounds that the place was a public place and the game was a game within the meaning of the above section as it was played for stakes Held (a) Gaming generally and in s 3 (10) means playing for stakes (b) a public place is one where the public go whether they have a right to or not it is sufficient to constitute a place a public one even if only a section of the general public such as Hindus have a right to go to it and (c) the character of the game as one of skill or chance is not material under the section Hari Singh v Jadu Aandan Singh I L R 31 Cal 512 followed HERO LAKSHMI v Mrs. A (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 556

s 4 and 7—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 517

I L R 41 Mad 644

MADRAS UNIVERSITY

Regulation 64—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s 45 I L R 40 Mad 125

MADRAS VILLAGE COURTS ACT (I OF 1889)

s 2A—Order of Deputy Collector debarring one from appearing as wali for parties in village Courts ultra vires—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42—Suits for declaration of invalidity of order maintainability of Under s 24 of the Madras Village Courts Act (I of 1889) any person holding a vakalatnama from a party may appear and plead in a village court and there is no provi sion in the Act for debarring any one from this privilege. The power of removing su pending and dismissing village munsifs conferred on Divisional officers does not include the power of debarring a person from acting as vakil for a party in village courts. A suit for a declaration that an order debarring one from acting as vakil for another in village courts is void is maintainable though it may not be covered by s 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1874). RAMACHANDRA RAO v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1913)

MADRAS VILLAGE COURTS ACT (I OF 1889)

—contd

s 24—contd

I L R 89 Mad 808

MADRAS WATER CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)

Where a right to take water is proved even though no express agreement on behalf of Government not to levy a charge is proved an engagement under Act VII of 1865 will be implied and no cess can be levied. SRI RAJAH SETHUPATHI RAJU v SECRETARY OF STATE

I L R 39 Mad 67

MAFI

not rent—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 153

I Pat L J 504

MAGISTRATESee CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

S 520 I L R 35 Bom 253

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTSee JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATES

—acting in two capacities—

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

I L R 37 Cal 221

—an executive officer—

See PRESS ACT (I of 1910) s 3 (1) pro viso I L R 89 Mad 1164

—compelling attendance of witness—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 38 Cal 24

—deciding question whether he has jurisdiction—

See INACTICE

I L R 37 Bom 144

—duty of—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 40 Cal 105See COMMITMENT I L R 42 Cal 608See COMPROMISE I L R 45 Cal 816See SURETY I L R 43 Cal 1024

—inquiry by—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V

OF 1898) s 209 I L R 35 Bom 163

—in insolvency—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT

(III OF 1909) s 17 103 AND 101

I L P 35 Bom 63

—Jurisdiction of—

See COSTS I L R 47 Cal 974See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 183

I L R 41 Bom 667

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 40 Cal 982

MAGISTRATE—contd

—Jurisdiction of—contd

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 39 Cal 164

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) ss

126 (a) 130 I L R 43 Bom 588

—power and duties of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s 206 I L R 37 All 355

s 144 I L R 37 All 654

See MAGISTRATE (POWER OF)See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 47 Cal 164 597

—offering bribe to—

See DETENTION OF AN ABSENTMENT

I L R 48 Cal 607

—on tour—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 41 Cal 806

—order of forfeiture passed by—

See RIGHT OF SUIT

I L R 40 Bom 200

—Power of—

See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 47 Cal 597

I CHANGE IN BENCH OF DURING TRIAL.

Magistrate convicting was has not heard at the evidence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 530 Where the trial of the accused was commenced before a Bench of four Magistrates who heard part of the evidence and continued before the same four Magistrates and another who had joined as the fifth and all the five Magistrates deliver judgment convicting the accused. Held that the conviction was vitiated and that there must be a retrial. Re SUBRAMANIAM ATTAR (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 304

II JURISDICTION OF

1. Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 100 552—Jurisdiction of first class Magistrate upon an application under s 552 of the Code to issue a search warrant under s 100 on a fresh complaint of facts alleging wrongful confinement—Warrant under s 100 drawn upon a printed form used under s 93 with the necessary alterations—Presumption that such alterations were made—Destruction of original warrant by the accused—Peristance to execution of such warrant and assault on the police—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 147 and 339 Where on an application made under s 552 of the Criminal Procedure Code to a Magistrate of the first class he examined the applicant on oath recorded a statement of facts alleging wrongful detention of his wife and directed the issue of a search warrant under s 100. Held that he had jurisdiction to do so. A search warrant under s 100 of the Code drawn up in the absence of a printed form of warrant there under on a printed form used under s 93 with the necessary alterations is not illegal. Bisu Halder v Probhat Chunder Chuckerbutty 6 C L J 127 di. tingushed Where the original warrant was in such a case not produced at the trial owing to its destruction by the accused at the time of its execution Held that it must be taken that it contained the substance of s 100 and that the necessary alterations were made GORA MIAN v. ABDUL MARY (1911)

MAGISTRATE—contd

I L R 39 Cal 403

2 ————— *Duty Magistrate in charge of the office of the District Magistrate at headquarters—Subordination of the Sub Divisional Magistrate to such Deputy Magistrate—Power of latter after taking cognizance and examining the complainant on oath to direct a local investigation by the former—Irregularity effect of—Power of the same to dismiss the complaint and order the prosecution of the complainant on evidence taken at the investigation and on the report of the Sub Divisional Officer—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) ss 12 202 204 476 and 579 (f) A Sub divisional Magistrate is not under s 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code subordinate to a Deputy Magistrate appointed to act in the district without definition of the local limits of his jurisdiction who was in charge of the office of the District Magistrate at headquarters during the latter's absence on tour in each Deputy Magistrate cannot therefore after taking cognizance of an offence committed in the sub division and examining the complainant on oath direct a local investigation by the Sub Divisional Magistrate nor can he thereafter dismiss the complaint and order the prosecution of the complainant under s 476 of the Code on such report and the evidence taken at the investigation Section 579 (f) does not in the circumstances confer jurisdiction on the Deputy Magistrate to make such orders of dismissal and prosecution but vests the Sub Divisional Magistrate with some of the case and the latter alone can inquire into it and pass final orders HEMU HOSSAIN v. EMILOR (1912)

I L R 39 Cal 1041

3 ————— *Where a complaint was filed by a Sub Inspector of Police before the Sub Divisional Magistrate of an offence under s 399 of the Penal Code and the facts disclosed also an offence under s 1 (b) of the Explosive Substances Act (V of 1909) of which the Magistrate could not then take cognizance for want of the consent of Government under s 7 and a complaint was subsequently filed by the Superintendent of Police with such consent before the Additional District Magistrate Held that the latter had jurisdiction to take cognizance of the offence and that the initiation and continuation of the proceedings by him were lawful notwithstanding that he had not withdrawn the original case to his own file Held also that in any case having regard to ss 523 to 531 of the Criminal Procedure Code unless it appeared that the proceedings wrongly held in fact occasioned a failure of justice they could not be set aside and that s 30 requires opinions of assessors to be given orally LALIT CHANDRA CROWDHURY v. EMILOR

I L R 39 Cal 119

III POWERS OF

District Magistrate power of to can a bond for keeping the peace or for good behaviour—Order directing prosecution for a forged receipt receipt is a proceeding before a Sub Divisional Magistrate for keeping the peace and for abatement the receipt—Judicial proceeding—

MAGISTRATE—contd

*Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) ss 4 (m) 195 476 Section 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code gives the District Magistrate the power to cancel a bond for keeping the peace for reasons which appear to him sufficient but not the right to hear an appeal from an order in a proceeding under s 107 passed by a subordinate Magistrate A District Magistrate has no jurisdiction under s 476 of the Code to direct a prosecution for dishonestly using a forged document and for abatement in respect of rent receipts filed before a subordinate Magistrate in a case under s 107 of the Code which has been disposed of by him under s 127 the proceeding under which is not a judicial proceeding DATANATH TRAKUR v. EMILOR (1909)

I L R 37 Cal 72

4 ————— *Magistrate may on taking cognizance of a complaint issue either a summons under s 94 or a search warrant under s 96 of the Criminal Procedure Code but is not competent to pass an order directing the police to take possession of account books forming the subject of the charge If the Magistrate after first having examined the complainant under s 200 is not satisfied that process should issue he can under s 202 either hold an inquiry and take evidence himself or direct a local investigation by a subordinate officer After ordering a police investigation he may if dissatisfied with the materials personally make a further inquiry and take evidence or direct a further local investigation but not an inquiry and report by another Magistrate If he thinks it proper to send the case to a Magistrate for inquiry other than a local investigation he should transfer it under s 192 to the latter for disposal and not for a report Where the complainant made no specific allegations of facts in the complaint but stated in his examination on investigation under s 202 that when the jadda books were first opened the title pages contained the name of his son as a partner and that he later discovered that a substitution of names had been made showing the name of his father in law as a partner and the statements in the complaint and such examination were not consistent as to the names originally entered and he was contradicted by his only witness in several particulars and his story was not supported by the original deed of partnership or the payment of the contributions it was held that the proceedings must be quashed as the materials before the Magistrate disclosed no offence Criminal Revision No 833 of 1910 against the order of D Swinhoe Officiating Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta dated June 7 1910 Jagat Chandra Mukundar v. Queen Empress (1) Chota Lal Das v. Anant Pershad Misser (2) and Chandi Pershad v. Abdur Rahman (3) referred to Semble A title page in an account book containing the names of the partners and the amount of the capital contributed by each is signed by them as a valuable security within s 30 of the Penal Code HARI CHARAN GORAI v. GIRISH CHANDRA SADHUKHAN**

I L R 35 Cal 69

IV TRANSFER OF

*Inquiry—Continuance of inquiry by another Magistrate without the revocation of the substantia de novo—Criminal Procedure Code Act (V of 1895) ss 145 30 S 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code applies to an inquiry*

MAGISTRATE—contd

under s 11: Where a Magistrate who has commenced such an inquiry is transferred and the District Magistrate has made over the case to another Magistrate the latter has power under s 70 of the Code, to proceed with it with out examining the witnesses de novo ANL SUFFIAN v EMPEROR (1910) I L R 37 Cal 812

MAHA BRAHMINS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 60
I L R 41 All 636

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IX OF 1855) s 53 I L R 39 All 196

Agreement as to distribution of offerings—Construction of agreement
The members of a family of Maha Brahmans entered into an agreement amongst themselves whereby certain members of the family were to take the offerings made on certain days of the month and the other members of the family the offerings made on the other days Held by BANNERJI and LYALL JJ (RICHARDS C J dissenting) that the effect of such an agreement was that if an offering was made to a member of the family on a day which belonged to the other branch he was bound to account for it to the branch to which the day belonged Per RICHARDS C J—Such an agreement as above described would not prevent a person who wished to do so from making a special individual gift to a member of the family even on a day which was appropriated by the agreement to the other branch DOORJA PRASAD v BUDREE G N W P H C 189 191 and Oochi v Ujjai I L R 20 All 931 referred to SOYA DEVI v FAKIR CHAND (1913) I L R 35 All 412

Right of to receive alms apart from the possession of specific property—Suit for declaration and injunction—Cause of action—Article 1 of 1877 (Specific Relief Act) s 12 and 15
Certain Maha Brahman all going that the collection of alms by them at a particular spot on the banks of the Ganges had been interrupted with by the defendants who were Gangapitras sued the Gangapitras claiming first a declaration of their right to receive offerings at the particular place named and secondly an injunction restraining the defendants from interfering with their so doing Held that as the giving of such offerings was a purely voluntary act and the receipt thereof was not claimed in virtue of the possession by the plaintiffs of any temple or other holy place to which people were in the habit of resorting the plaintiffs had no cause of action which would support their suit BANSI v HAN HAIYA I L R 43 All 159

MAHAD

See HINDU LAW—MITAKSHARA
I L R 40 Bom 621

MAHAL

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901) s 3 (d)
I L R 38 All 231

MAHANT

S AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901) s 11 et seq I L R 35 All 474

MAHANT—contdSee HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 37 All 298
I L R 43 Cal 707

Held that a Mahant is entitled to grant a lease of Math Land in the ordinary course of management MAHANT JAI KRISHNA LAL v BUKHAL GORE

8 Pat L J 639

MAHAP WATAN LAND

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876) s 4 (a)

I L R 43 Bom 277

See HEREDITARY OFFICERS ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1841) s 10 AND 13

I L R 35 Bom 146

MAHOMEDAN

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SECTION 1 ACT 127 I L R 41 Bom 588

Ahmadis and Khadianis—Disputes right of to worship in a mosque used by orthodox Muhammadans—whether disbelievers are entitled to choose their own Imam
The sect known as Ahmadis or Khadianis are Muhammadans notwithstanding their pronounced dissent on several important matters from the orthodox Muhammadan faith. The Khadianis are entitled to enter a mosque if they please and to offer up prayers with the regular congregation behind the recognized Imam but they are not entitled to pray at a separate congregation behind an Imam of their own in a mosque which has always been used by orthodox Muhammadans HAKIM KHALIL AHMAD v MALIK ISRAFI 2 Pat L J 108

MAHOMEDAN FAMILY

See DECREE I L R 43 Bom 412

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 6 7 AND 13 141

I L R 43 Bom 487

S v MORTGAGE I L R 40 Cal 378

— Breach of promise of marriage—
See CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom 499

MAHOMEDAN LAW

See ADMINISTRATION OF SUCCESSION

I L R 45 Bom 75

— Death—presumption as to—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 109

I L R 43 All 672

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF SONSHIP

COLS 83

ADOPTION

83

ALIENATION

84

BOMBAY

86 CONVERSION

186

CUSTOM

2786

DIVORCE

187

DOWER

89

ENDOWMENT

2193

GIFT

801

GUARDIAN

2807

HUSBAND AND WIFE

808

MAHOMEDAN LAW—contd

	COLS
INHERITANCE	2809
JOINT FAMILY	2809
LEGITIMACY	2810
MAINTENANCE	2811
MARRIAGE	2812
MINOR	2817
MUTAWALLI	2918
PRE-EMPTION	2819
RELIGIOUS OFFICE	2823
RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS	2824
SALE	2826
SUCCESSION	2827
TRUST	2827
WAKF	2830
WIDOW	2839
WILL	2841
WORSHIP	2843

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF SONSHIP

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

Acknowledgment of legitimate sonship—Inference of acknowledgment A Mahomedan cannot legally acknowledge as his son a person who is shown to be the son of another man. The acknowledgment must be not merely of sonship but of legitimate sonship but the fact that the acknowledgment was of legitimacy as well as of sonship may be inferred from circumstances justifying that inference. USMANIYA v VALI MAHOMED (1915) I L R 40 Bom 28

Acknowledgment as son what is necessary to its validity—Valid acknowledgment operates as declaration of legitimacy and not as legitimization—Presumption of fact rebuttable by proof of impossibility of marriage or no marriage—Concurrent findings of fact In Mahomedan law the acknowledgment by one person of another as his legitimate son is of no avail in the face of a finding that there was no marriage. In Mahomedan law such an acknowledgment is a declaration of legitimacy and not a legitimization—a declaration which though it cannot be withdrawn may be contradicted. SYED HABIBUR RAHMAN CHOWDHURY v SYED ALTAU ALI CHOWDHURY

28 W N 81

Acknowledgment by a father of a son by a female slave legitimises the boy in the absence of direct proof that no marriage had taken place. The law requires to declare a man a bastard except on the clearest evidence IBRAHIM ALI KHAN v MIST MUHARAK BFGAM

I L P I Lah 229

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION

S c CUSTOM I L R 39 Calc 418

Adoption by a convert from Hinduism—Custom of adoption—Burden of proof The Mahomedan Law does not recognize adoption. Hence where a Hindu is converted to Mahomedanism the presumption is that as a necessary consequence of conversion the law of adoption recognized by Hindu Law has been abandoned by him. He who alleges that the usage and law in question had been retained must prove it. BAI MACHIBAI v BAI MIRBAI (1911)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ADOPTION—contd

I L R 35 Bom 284

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIANSee MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINORSee MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 45 Calc 878

Minor—Right to sell minor's property—Necessity—Bond fide purchaser without notice By a deed of conveyance dated 19th January 1904 one V purported to convey on behalf of herself and her minor son the plaintiff certain immovable property to the defendant for the consideration of ₹7000. On the same day A passed an indemnity bond in favour of the defendant indemnifying him against the claim of the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued to have the said deed of conveyance declared void and for a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to the whole of the property purported to be conveyed. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed on the grounds (i) there was absolutely no evidence that the sale was in any way necessary for the maintenance of the minor (ii) the purchaser was not a bond fide purchaser without notice of the plaintiff's rights. The purchaser of an estate who takes with notice of a breach of trust is in the same position as the vendor who committed the breach of trust. FAKIRUDIN v ABDUL HOSSEN (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 217

Guardian—Construction of will—Alienation of property of minor by his brothers acting as executors of will and guardians of minor—Sale not binding on minor—Right of suit to redeem mortgage—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Schedule II Articles 41 and 144 A Mahomedan testator by his will left all his property to his four grandsons (brothers) but did not expressly appoint any executors of his will or guardians of such of his grand children as might be minors at his death nor was there in the will any intention to entrust the administration of the property to any particular individuals. The testator died in 1887 and on the 15th of June 1899 the three elder grandson on their own behalf and purporting to act also as the guardians of the fourth grandson the respondent (plaintiff) then a minor sold some of the property to the appellant (defendant). The appellant was a mortgagee of two villages on the estate under two mortgages executed by the testator on the 2nd of December 1880 and the 7th of August 1886 for ten years and seven years respectively and the effect of the sale had been to pay off the later mortgage on the smaller village and other debts by selling the larger village to the mortgagee. The respondent attained his majority in 1892 or 1893 and treating the sale of the 15th of June 1899 as nullity and the mortgage as still subsisting he tendered to the appellant the amount of mortgage money necessary to redeem the larger village and on the appellant refusing to accept it brought a suit for redemption on the 14th of September 1905. Held that the elder brothers were not authorized either by the will or by the Mahomedan Law to act as guardians of the minor and that he was entitled on attaining his majority to treat the transaction of the 11th of June 1892 as being void as against him. Hill also held that the position of the appellant did not become adverse to the respondent until the expiry of the term of the mortgage of 1892, namely the 2nd of December 1899, and therefore the suit was not barred by the 12 years period provided by Article 144 of Schedule II of the Limitation Act (XX of 1877). Article 44 Schedule II of the same Act was not applicable as the sale was made not by a guardian but by an unauthorized person. MATA DIXIT v. ANAND (1912) I L R 34 All 213

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION—contd

Per sale by one of several heirs of a deceased Mahomedan in possession of the estate for discharging a debt binding on the estate not binding on co-heirs or creditors of the deceased. When one of the co-heirs of a deceased Mahomedan in possession of the whole or part of the estate of the deceased sells property in his possession forming part of the estate for discharging the debts of the deceased such sale is not binding on the other co-heirs or creditors of the deceased. Pathummal v. Fattil mmachali I L R 26 Mad 734 overruled. Hassan Ali v. Mehdi Hussain I L R 1 All 533 (1902) sented from Quere. Whether a decree against one of the heirs of a deceased Mahomedan binds the others. ABDUL MAJEED v. KRISHNAMACHARIAR (1916) I L R 40 Mad 243

Unlawful alienation of endowed property by mutawalli of mosque—All mahajid a daily worshipper may sue for declaration that alienation void without special damage—Representative suit is lie under Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O 1 r 8—S 9 of the Code or s 14 of Act XV of 1863 is bars suit. A suit brought by two worshippers of a mosque for themselves and as representing other worshippers in the locality for a declaration that a permanent lease granted by the mutawalli is void and inoperative is maintainable the requirements of O 1 r 8 having been complied with by the plaintiffs. No special damage need be alleged or proved for the maintainability of such a suit since worshippers living in the vicinity of a mosque have rights as daily worshippers to it over and above those possessed by the Mahomedan public and have a more direct interest in its maintenance and in the proper administration of the properties endowed for its benefit. s 14 of Act XV of 1863 contemplates a suit instituted primarily against the Trustee, Manager or Superintendent of a mosque, temple or religious establishment or the members of any committee appointed under that Act and the only relief that can be asked for in such a suit is a decree directing the specific performance of any act by such Trustee, Manager etc., a decree for damages and costs against them and a decree directing their removal. A suit under s 9 of the Civil Procedure Code is primarily a suit against a Trustee and can only be instituted either on the ground that there has been a breach of trust or that direction of the Court is necessary for the administration of the trust. In the present case the mere fact that the Trustee was a defendant in the suit did not attract the application of s 9 of the Civil Procedure Code. Hence no relief was claimed against him nor was the Court asked to give any direction for the administration of the trust. ASHRAF ALI v. MAHOMMAD ALPOJOMIA (1918) 23 C W N 115

MAHOMEDAN LAW—BIGAMY

Effect of nolo facere of husband after marriage and conversion to Islam during the period of iddat—Second marriage of the wife with another man during such period—Held void—Hendal Cole (Act VII of 1860) s 494 and 444. Under the Mahomedan Law the marriage of a man who subsequently embraces Christianity becomes ipso facto void notwithstanding his conversion to Islam during the period of iddat and the wife in contracting a second marriage during such period does not commit bigamy under s 494 of the Penal Code. Per HOLMEWOOD J.—A second marriage contracted by the wife during the period of her iddat is not void by reason of its taking place during the life of the first husband but by reason of a special doctrine of the Mahomedan Law with which the Penal Code has nothing to do. Where the parties have acted in good faith or what they believe to be a sound interpretation of a very difficult point of Mahomedan Law even though they are mistaken the consequences cannot be visited upon them in a Criminal Court in a trial for bigamy. ABDUL GHANI v. AZIZUL HOQ (1911) I L R 39 Cal 409

MAHOMEDAN LAW—CONVERSION

See JURISDICTION

I L R 35 Bom 264

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—BIGAMY

I L R 39 Cal 409

Marriage—Conversion of wife to Christianity—Dissolution of marriage—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights. Under the Mahomedan Law a wife's conversion from Islam to Christianity effects a complete dissolution of marriage with her Mahomedan husband. The fact of such a conversion is therefore a bar to a suit by the husband for restitution of conjugal rights. Zuburdut Khan v. His wife I L R 11 C R p 30 and Imamudin v. Hassan Bhai (1906) 309 followed. AMIN BHU v. SAMAN (1910) I L R 33 All 90

MAHOMEDAN LAW—CUSTOM

See CUSTOM

See CUSTOM MEMORANDUM

I L R 41 Bom 181

Exclusion of daughters—

See CUSTOM

I L R 45 Cal 450

of Pre-emption—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION

*Customs of Combaratore district—Right of succession—Exclusion of females—Custom—Pre-emption of rule of Hindu Law—Application of Custom standard of—Females excluded from the Combaratore district who are Hindu converts to Mahomedanism in a custom prevails under which they retain the rule of Hindu Law which excludes females from the right of succession. Mirabai v. Vellayana I L R 1 All 463 and Kundawli v. Kalantari Mad J 156 referred to. It is open to them to abandon the custom and follow the ordinary rule of Mahomedan Law. Rajasthan Singh v. Pampoo Surt Moooomdar I L R 1 Cal 186 referred to. Per SRINIVASA AYYANGAR J.—Custom in its legal sense means a rule except*

MAHOMEDAN LAW—CUSTOM—contd

tional to the general rule of law. In India in many cases it is impossible to say that any particular usage which is pleaded is in derogation of a general law consequently the inquiry in many cases is as to what is the law and not what is the usage at variance with law. Nature of custom and standard of proof thereof required in England and in India compared. Hirbai v Gorhai 12 Bom H C R 291 Raichan v Perachi 1 I R 15 Mad 281 Kunhi Raman v Kunhi Parvathi (1910) Mad H A 64. and Fanindra Deb v Rajeswar Das L 1 12 I A 72 referred to. SHAIKH v MUHAMMAD (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 664

Proof of custom in derogation of if permissible—Standard of proof—Onus—Lubhai Mahomedans of Coimbatore—Custom excluding females from succession. The parties to the litigation were Lubhai Mahomedans of the Sunni sect residing in the District of Coimbatore in the Madras Presidency, the question was whether succession to the estate of a deceased member of the sect was governed by Mahomedan Law or by a rule of descent excluding females. Held that in view of s 10 of the Madras Civil Courts Act III of 1873 prima facie all questions of succession amongst the parties who were Mahomedans were to be decided according to Mahomedan Law but it is now well established that in India a custom at variance even with the rules of Mahomedan Law governing the succession in a particular community of Mahomedans may be proved. The onus of proof is on the party alleging the custom. The custom should be ancient and invariable and established to be so by clear and unambiguous evidence. Ramalakshmi Ammal v Sivananatha Perumal Sethuram (4) and Abdul Hussein Khan v Bibi Sona Dero (3) referred to. Held that the evidence fell short of the standard proof requisite to establish a custom. (3) L R 40 I A 10 s c I L P 45 Cal 460 22 C W N 353 (1917) (4) 14 M I A 570 (1872) MOMAMED ISRAHIM ROWTHEN v SHAIKH ISRAHIM

22 C W N 793

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE

Hanafi Law—Divorce—Talak need not be addressed directly to the wife to constitute a valid divorce. According to the Hanafi Law it is not necessary that the Talak or words of repudiation should be addressed directly to the wife to constitute a valid divorce. The expressions mentioned in the Hedaya as constituting express divorce are not exhaustive but merely illustrative of the different forms in which the Talak may be pronounced. The incidents of marriage and divorce under the Muhammadan Law fully discussed. Fur and Hossein v Jani Bibi 1 I L R 4 Cal 588 doubted. ASHA BIBI v KADIR ISRAHIM ROWTHEN (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 22

Sunnis sec—Divorce—Evidence—Burden of proof. No special form of formula is prescribed for a divorce under the Hanafi law. All that the law requires is to see that the words of divorce pronounced by a husband should show a clear intention on his part to dissolve the contract of marriage. Where the wife deposes that a divorce was effected in their presence it is for the party alleging the contrary to prove by cross-examination that the words used by the husband when pronouncing the divorce were insufficient and incomplete to support a valid divorce. WAHID KHAN v ZAINAB BIBI (1914)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE—contd

I L R 36 All 458

Kabinnamah—Condition that husband should live with wife in wife's father's house as khandamad and for divorce upon breach of talak. A condition in a kabinnamah that the husband shall live with the wife in her father's house and that if he broke this condition she would be entitled to divorce him is invalid under the Mahomedan Law and her claim for deferred dower following upon such a divorce must fail. IMAN ALI IATWARI v ARFATUNNESSA (1913)

18 C W N 693

Divorce—Revocation

Validity of the bedai form of divorce. Held that it is not every kind of divorce which is revocable according to the Mahomedan Law but only those made in certain forms. The bedai form of divorce is a perfectly legal form and is irrevocable. In re Abdul Ali Ismail 1 I L R 7 Bom 180 followed. AMIR UD DIN v KHATUN BIBI (1917)

I L R 39 All 371

Post nuptial agreement by husband not to take another wife and delegation to wife of power of divorce on breach—Validity—Breach of agreement followed by husband's suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Divorce given after suit by wife if valid. A post nuptial delegation of the power of divorce is valid under Mahomedan Law. Where by a kabinnamah executed after the marriage the husband undertook not to take a second wife without the wife's permission and delegated to her the power of giving three talaks in cases of violation of the said amongst other condition whenever she chose and afterwards having taken a second wife without the first wife's permission used the latter for restitution of conjugal rights whereupon she gave herself the three divorces according to Mahomedan Law. Held that the authority to divorce was validity given and exercised and the suit must fail. SANUDDIN v LATIFUNNESSA BIBI (1918) I L R 46 Cal 141

22 C W N 924

Talaknama—Registration of the deed—Neither Ka nor wife present at the time of the execution of the deed—Deed not immediately communicated to wife—If wife's knowledge of the deed within a reasonable time—Validity of Talaknama. A Mahomedan executed a talaknama (deed of divorce) in the presence of witnesses and got it duly registered under the Indian Registration Act 1908. Neither the Kazi nor the wife was present at the time the deed was executed. The deed was not immediately communicated to the wife but it came to her knowledge within a reasonable time. Held that the talaknama was valid according to Mahomedan law. RAJASAHIB RASULHAHIB In re (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 44

Marriage—Suit for dissolution—False charge of adultery made by the husband a ground for dissolution of marriage. A Mahomedan wife is entitled to bring a suit for divorce and obtain a decree for dissolution of marriage on the ground that her husband has falsely charged her with adultery. Jann v Beparee 3 W R 58 doubted. ZAFAR HUSAIN v UMMAIAT UR RAHMAN (1919)

I L R 41 All 278

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE—concl'd

Divorce by writing—Pregnancy followed by miscarriage—Divorce in khula form—Date on which period of iddat commences—Circumstances by which iddat may be terminated earlier. A Mahomedan husband executed and registered a deed of divorce in favour of the wife and a few days later saw her pronounced the legal formulas made over the document to her and went away. Subsequently she went through ceremonies of marriage with two persons one after the other the marriage with the Plaintiff taking place last. In a suit for restitution of conjugal rights by the Plaintiff on the allegation that the first marriage after the divorce took place within the period of iddat and as such was void the defence set up was that the period of iddat commenced on the date of the execution of the document and expired before the first marriage after the divorce took place that the lady was pregnant at the time of the divorce and miscarried and this had the effect of terminating the period of iddat and that the divorce was in khula form. Held that the divorce took effect from the date of the writing and not from the date of its receipt by the wife unless there were words in the instrument showing a different intention. MOHAM VALLA v. BABU BIBI.

26 C W N 251

Divorce for consideration—Khulanama—Whether invalidated by non payment of consideration. The plaintiff sued her husband the defendant for a declaration that she had been divorced by him and was no longer his wife. It was found that the defendant made a written deed of divorce (khulanama) in consideration of Rs 150 which amount had however not been paid to him and the document had not been delivered to the wife. The first Court found that the non payment of the Rs 150 did not invalidate the divorce. On appeal the District Judge held that the transaction was a mere promise to divorce if his wife paid him Rs 150. Held that it must be presumed that prior to the writing of the deed the wife offered and the husband accepted Rs 150 as compensation for the release of his marital rights the deed (khulanama) was then written securing to the husband the stipulated consideration but it did not constitute a divorce if assumed it and was founded upon it. Consequently there was a complete and irrevocable divorce which was not invalidated by the non payment of the consideration. Moor kee Baidul Raleem v. Lateef ul Ann 1188 (8 Moo I A 319 396 P C) followed. Mulla v. Muhammadan Law 5th Edition page 179 Wilson's Digest of Anglo Muhammadan Law 3rd Edition page 144 Articles 69 and 70 and page 143 Article 143 and Tyabji's Principles of Muhammadan Law page 144 paragraph 143 referred to. MUSAMMAT SADDAT v. FAIZ BAKI SH.

I L P 1 Lah 402

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

See HEDA BIL-EWAZ 24 C W N 926

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L H 42 Calc 261

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE.

I L P 32 All 477

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

I L R 1 Lah 597

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—concl'd

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—

SS 2 AND 4 I L R 33 All 327

S 4 I L R 43 All 341 493

SS 4 AND 7 I L R 32 All 335

1 ———— Durham value of—Dower. The money value of ten dirhams in India is something between three and four rupees. Sughra Bibi v. Uda Bibi I L R 2 All 573 referred to. ASMA BIBI v. ABDUL SAMAD KHAN (1909) I L R 32 All 167

2 ———— Jurisdiction—Marriage—Dower—Act No XVIII of 1876 (Oudh Laws Act). Held that the mere fact that a marriage was celebrated in Lucknow the parties being afterwards domiciled in the province of Agra was not sufficient to authorize a Court in the province of Agra to apply to a suit brought by the wife against the heirs of her deceased husband for recovery of her dower the provisions of the Oudh Laws Act 1876. Zakeri Begum v. Sakina Begum I L R 19 Calc 639 followed. RUKIA BEGUM v. MUHAMMAD NAZIM (1910) I L R 32 All 477

3 ———— Prompt dower—Payment of—Restitution of conjugal right—Consummation of marriage—Suit for prompt dower not premature before consummation. Under Mahomedan Law the Court may hold that the whole of the dower is exigible in cases where no specific amounts of the dower has been declared exigible and there has been no evidence of what is customary. Faima v. Sadrudin 2 Bom H C P 291 followed. Prompt dower (ie muajjal) is payable immediately on the marriage taking place and it must be paid on demand. It is only by payment of the prompt dower that the husband is entitled to consummate the marriage or enforce his conjugal rights. Therefore the right to restitution so far from being a condition precedent to the prompt dower arises only after the dower has been paid. Ranee Ahe joorunnis v. Pante Pycesunissa 13 W R 371 followed. MUSSEERHAN SARDARKHAN v. GULAB KHANMUT (1911) I L R 35 Bom 358

4 ———— Liability of widow in possession to account for profits—Dower—Interest. Held by the Full Bench that a Mahomedan widow who has been put in possession by her husband of his estate in lieu of her dower debt is entitled when called upon by her husband's heirs other than herself to account for rents and profits received by her during the time of her possession to claim interest at the rate payable upon her dower debt. The liability of the heirs of the husband not being personal the heir who sues the widow for possession of his share is only liable to pay the proportionate part of the dower debt. Asdul Iymin v. Maghulan I I P 30 All 315 Sooma Khatoon v. Ataffoo nua Khatoun 2 Hay 210 Woomatool Fatima Begum v. Meer un nisa Khanum 9 W R 318 Bakrudin v. Ammatul Fatima 3 C L P 511 Mu Jan v. Bibyan 5 B L P 500 and Claudhrs Wa Ahmad v. Musammat Maina Bibi F A No 65 of 1901 decided 3rd July 1906 referred to. HAIRA BIBI v. UBAIDA BIBI (1910) I L R 33 All 182

5 ———— Presumption—Sums—Dower—No determination at marriage whether dower is to be prompt or deferred—Civil Procedure Code 1905 O II r 2—Effect. In the case of Mahomedans of the Sunni persuasion where it is not settled at the time of the marriage whether the wife's dower is to be prompt or deferred part will be prompt and part deferred the proportion referable to each category being regulated by custom or in the absence of custom by the status of the parties and the amount of the dower settled. Fulan v Ma har Husain I L R 1 All 483 and Taufi ur nisa v Ghulam Kamba I L R 1 All 501 followed. A suit therefore brought by the wife during the lifetime of her husband for the recovery of the prompt portion of her dower will be no bar to a subsequent suit for the recovery of the deferred portion. UNAD BEGAM v MUHAMMADI BEGAM (1910)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—contd

I L R 33 All 291

8 ——— Agreement between husband and wife as to satisfaction of wife's dower—Construction of document—Mortgage—Mahabat A Mahomedan made over to his wife to whom a dower of Rs 125,000 was due certain property. In the deed of transfer it was stipulated (i) that the wife was to take possession of the property in lieu of her dower and enjoy the usufruct (ii) that the property was to revert to the husband if the wife predeceased him the dower debt being deemed to have been discharged (iii) that if the husband predeceased the wife the property was to become hers absolutely. Held that the transaction was neither a mortgage by conditional sale nor a mahabat but the wife obtained a right to enjoy the usufruct during her husband's lifetime with the possibility of the interest developing into full ownership if the husband predeceased her. MUDANAH UN NISSA v MANSAH HASAN KHAN (1911)

I L R 33 All 421

7 ——— Compromise—Suit for dower—Family arrangement—Transfer of expectancy—Transfer of Property Act (I) of 1882 s 6 (a) A Mahomedan wife brought a suit for dower against her husband which resulted in a compromise the terms being that the wife was given possession of some property in lieu of her dower and the husband retained possession of some other property for life which life interest in case of urgent necessity he was authorized to sell or hypothecate and it was agreed that on the death of the wife the persons who should be the heirs of both would be the owners of the properties. The wife predeceased her husband who then transferred certain properties in his own right and as heir of his wife. Held that the compromise was in the nature of a family settlement under which the husband was not competent to dispose of more than the life interest in certain property therein named. The relinquishment by the husband of his right to succeed as heir to his wife was not obnoxious to the prohibition contained in s 6 (a) of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. Musammal Hurmat ul nissa Begam v Allahdia Khan 17 W R 108 Situms ud din Glulam Hussein v Abdul Husain Kalim ud din I L R 31 Bom 165 Kennel v Mard v Kunkh Moidin I L R 19 Mad 176 and Pam Virunjun Singh v Prayag Singh I L R 8 Cal 138 referred to. NASIR UL-HAQ v FAIZAT UL PAHAN (1911)

I L R 33 All 457

8 ——— Right of widow to retain husband's property until dower debt is paid—Possession Under the Mahomedan Law when a widow is in possession of the undivided property of her deceased husband such possession having been obtained lawfully and without force or fraud and her dower or any part of it is due and unpaid she is entitled as against the other heirs of her husband to retain such possession until her dower debt is paid. The possession need not necessarily be possession obtained by an agreement with her husband or his heirs. Bibi Tasliman v Bibi Tasliman 17 C L J 581 and Amanat un nissa v Bashir un nissa I L R 17 All 77 cited from BAHER JAH BEWA v ANSARUDDIN (1911)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—contd

I L R 38 Cal 475

9 ——— Dower—Right of widow to remain in possession of her husband's property in lieu of dower The right of a Mahomedan widow to whom dower is due and who has got into possession of property of her husband in lieu thereof to remain in possession until her dower is paid may perhaps be descendible to her heirs but no right to possession is descendible in a case where the widow herself never got possession at all. Ali Balh's v Allahdad Khan I L R 32 All 551 and Bebee Bachun v Sheikh Hamid Hossein 14 Moo I A 377 referred to. TAMBUK NISSA BIBI v NAWAB HASAN (1912)

I L R 36 All 558

10 ——— Marriage—Dower widow's claim for charge on estate left by husband—Widow in possession of estate if can obtain a decree for dower without placing Court in possession of assets—Proper procedure administration suit Under the Mahomedan Law when a widow is in possession of the undistributed property of her deceased husband and her dower or any part of it is due and unpaid she is entitled as against the other heirs of her husband to retain such possession until her dower debt is paid provided that her possession was obtained lawfully and without force or fraud. The widow in such a case may be required to account for the profits received by her but she would be entitled to have set off against the sum received by her the income she might have made from her dower money if it had been paid to her immediately on the death of her husband. The claim for dower is a debt due from the entire estate of the deceased and ranks equally and rateably with the claims of other creditors. Consequently the share taken by the widow by right of inheritance is liable proportionately for the satisfaction of her dower debt in the same way as the shares taken by the other heirs and the liability of each heir is limited to the extent of the assets in his or her hands. Where the widow has obtained and retained possession of the entire estate she has no cause of action for a money decree against the other heirs. In such a case if the widow desires to have the question of her dower settled the proper course for her to follow is to institute an administration suit in which the property can be placed in the hands of the Court the amount of her claim if disputed investigated and appropriate directions given for the satisfaction of her claim. In the case of the assets or otherwise. In a case in which the widow is in possession of no portion of the estate she may sue the persons in possession to enforce her claim obtain a decree for the entire amount and realise the sum due out of the assets in their hands. In a case where the widow is in possession of a portion of the estate and the other heirs have possession of the remainder she can seek to recover her dower by way of an administration suit or by a suit against the other heirs provided she offers to surrender possession of the property in her hands. If she adopts the latter alternative the litigation really assumes the character of an administration suit. SHARFAT BAHADUR v. SULTAN BEGUM (1914)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—could

19 C W N 562

11 ——— Fight to retain property in lieu of dower—Heritable right The right which a Mahomedan widow having a claim to dower acquires on obtaining possession of her husband's property is a heritable right. It is a substantial right and if she wrongfully dispossessed she can maintain a suit to recover possession. MAJIDULAH BANUWAN v. BISHAHAR JAIN (1915) I L R 40 Com 34

12 ——— Interest on unpaid dower—Claim for by widow allowed to take possession of her husband's estate to satisfy her dower debt—Liability of widow in possession to account for profits of estate—Recognition by Mahomedan Law of equitable principles in such a case Where a Mahomedan widow was allowed to take possession of her husband's estate in order to satisfy her dower debt with the income of it and there was no agreement express or implied that she should not be entitled to claim any sum in excess of her actual dower. Held that on equitable considerations she was entitled to some reasonable compensation not only for the labour and responsibility imposed on her for the proper preservation and management of the estate but also for bearing to insist on her strict legal rights to exact payment of her dower on the death of her husband and such compensation for forbearance to enforce a money payment was best calculated on the basis of an equitable rate of interest. That appeared to be consistent with Mahomedan Law (see the Chapter on the Duties (Adab) of the Razi) in the principal works on that law which clearly showed that the rules of equity and equitable considerations commonly recognised in the courts of Chancery in England are not foreign to the Musalman system but are in fact often referred to and invoked in the adjudication of cases. The decision in Boomalool Fatima Begum v. Meerunmunnis Khanum 9 B P 318 that it would be inequitable to make the widow account for the profits except on the terms of allowing her reasonable interest of the dower debt was approved. In suits brought by the other heirs against the widow for the taking of accounts for a decree to the plaintiffs of their respective shares in case the dower debt was shown to have been discharged and for a decree for any sum received by the defendant in excess of her dower the defendant set up a claim for interest on the unpaid dower debt and it being found that a portion of it remained unpaid interest at six per cent per annum was allowed on that amount. HAFIZA BIBI v. ZUBAIDA BIBI (1916)

I L M 38 All 581

13 ——— Widow in possession of husband's property in lieu of her dower—Suit by heirs of husband dismissed on non payment by the plaintiff of the dower then found to be due—Alienation of property by widow and subsequent suit for its recovery by the heirs—Free judgments—Nature of widow's possession A Mahomedan widow being in possession of her husband's property in lieu of her dower debt some of the husband's heirs sued for possession of a portion of the property and obtained a decree conditional on their paying the defendant a certain sum which was then found to be due to her in respect of her dower debt. The sum then adjudged to be due was not paid and the suit was in consequence dismissed. After this suit had been decided the widow alienated the property in question by means of two separate deeds of gift but she did not turn for her right to payment of her dower debt. Some years subsequently to the making of these gifts certain of the heirs of the husband who had been parties to the former suit instituted a fresh suit for the recovery of the same property or part of it against the widow and her donees professing their readiness to pay if it were held to be necessary whatever portion of the widow's dower debt might then remain outstanding. Held (1) that the second suit was not barred by the principle of res judicata and (2) that inasmuch as the widow had relinquished possession of her husband's property and had thereby given up her lien the plaintiffs although they might ultimately be liable for payment of a proportionate share of the dower debt were not bound to discharge that liability as a condition precedent to their getting possession of the property which the widow was not lawfully entitled to alienate. The legal position of a Mahomedan widow in lawful possession of her husband's property in lieu of her dower debt discussed. MARFA BIBI v. WASI AHMAD (1919)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—could

I L R 41 All 58

14 ——— Dower—Widow in lawful possession of her husband's property—Right of widow to retain possession of her husband's heirs till dower is satisfied—Necessity for consent of or agreement with her husband or his heirs—Sale by widow for payment of dower—Validity of sale—Right of vendee to retain possession until dower is satisfied A Muhammadan widow whose dower remains unpaid is entitled to remain in possession of the properties of her husband which he obtained lawfully without force or fraud but without the consent of or any agreement with the husband or his heirs as to the payment of her dower nor can such properties be divided among the heirs until the dower debt has been satisfied. HAFIZA BIBI v. ZUBAIDA BIBI (1916) I L P 55 All 581 (P C) discussed. Though the sale by such widow to satisfy the dower debt is not binding on the other heirs of her husband the vendee is entitled to retain possession of the property sold to him against the other heirs until the dower debt is satisfied. LEGU DEE v. SURU MOORTHY SAHEB (1920) I L P 43 Mad (FB) 214

15 ——— Relinquishment by a Mahomedan woman of 15—whether valid—Indian Majority Act (IX of 1875)—act in the matter of dower meaning of—Indian Contract Act s 11 A relinquishment of her right to dower by a Mahomedan woman who is a minor under the Indian Majority Act is invalid under the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1875). To relinquish dower is not to act in the matter of dower within s 2 of the Indian Majority Act. ALI DHANJAN BIBI v. MUHAMMAD FATHI UDDIN (1917)

I L P 41 Mad 1026

16 ——— Sunnis—No determination of marriage whether dower is to be prompt—Ordained—Presumption amongst Sunni Muslims—where there is no express agreement as to

MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER—concl'd

how much of the wife's dower is to be prompt it is to be presumed that a reasonable proportion thereof will be prompt. A proportion of 7½ per cent is certainly reasonable. Umda Begum v. Muhammad Begum 1 L R 38 All 991 followed. Mirza Bedar Bukht Muhammad Ali Bahadur v. Mirza Khurram Bukht Isha Ali Khan Bahadur 19 N R 315 distinguished. MUHAMMAD SUBHAN ULLAH v. SAGHIR UY NISSA (1919)

I L R 41 All 562

17 ——— Sunnis—Prompt dower—payment of—Marriage of a pregnant woman but pregnancy not known to husband—Consummation of marriage—Husband turning away wife on her pregnancy coming to his knowledge—Divorce not given—Wife's right to claim dower. At the time of her marriage the plaintiff a Sunni Mahomedan woman, was pregnant but her pregnancy was not known to her husband (defendant). The marriage was duly consummated. Within five months of the marriage the plaintiff gave birth to a fully developed child whereupon the defendant turned her out of his house but did not divorce her. The plaintiff having sued to recover her prompt dower from the defendant—Held that the defendant was liable on the suit by the plaintiff for her prompt dower since the concealment of pregnancy by the plaintiff at the time of her marriage did not render the marriage invalid. Per MACLEOD C J. Where concealment of pregnancy is not by itself a ground for cancelling the marriage the husband has remedy by divorce. KUTLACUNJI v. ABDUL KADIR (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 181

18 ——— Reinquisition of dower during the funeral ceremony—Of the husband's validity. Where a Mahomedan lady when overwhelmed with grief at the death of her husband orally reinquished her right to dower on the suggestion of her mother and sister—Held that under the circumstances of the case there was no exercise of free and deliberate judgment and the reinquisition made was invalid. Surannees v. Khanum v. Khayy Mahomed Sakroo (1919) 1 L R 47 Cal 47

I L R 47 Cal 537

19 ——— Interest when may be decreed on dower—appellant's Burden. In every appeal it is incumbent upon the appellant to show some reason why the judgment appealed from should be disturbed. In decreeing a widow's suit for dower against the heirs of the deceased husband the committee allowed 6 per cent not strictly as interest but as a means of preventing her position being adversely prejudiced by the unsuccesful controversy raised by the heirs as to her rights. MUHAMMAD FAKRUNISSA v. MOULVI IZARIS SADIK 25 C W N 867

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTUWALI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

1 ——— Mortgage—Wakf—Mortgage of wakf property by Mutuwalli for necessity of urgent character whether valid—Effect of obtaining permission of Cadi after the mortgaging—Loan by a trustee at a high rate of interest. Under the Mahomedan Law mortgage of wakf property by the mutuwalli in case where necessity is established is valid even if the permission of the Cadi is obtained subsequent to the mortgage. Where therefore a Court found that a mortgage by a mutuwalli of wakf properties was for urgent necessity and that the mortgage was proper if the mortgage is valid in law inasmuch as it might be taken to have been retrospectively approved by the Court. A loan by a trustee of endowed property at the rate of interest at 12 per cent per annum with quarterly rests could not be considered beneficial to the endowment although the principal sum itself might have been urgently raised for the protection of the endowment and in such a case the Court is justified in allowing interest at a reduced rate. MIRAJ CHAND ADDA v. GOLAM HOSSEIN (1900)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—concl'd

I L R 37 Cal 179

2 ——— Mutuwalli suit for office of—Wakf—Direction of founder Court's power to disregard—Surrender of the office of Mutuwalli and appointment of a successor by a person who is not a general trustee—Effect of Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec II Art 190. In appointing a mutuwalli a Court will not disregard the directions of the founder except for the manifest benefit of the endowment. In re Ten pest J R 1 Ch App 485 14 L T 685 referred to. A created a wakf on the 22nd April 1904 by the naqshamah he appointed himself the first mutuwalli and also gave directions as to the appointment of his successor. The deed further provided that after the death of the founder his widow would remain in possession of the endowed property and the mutuwalli would act under her order. During the lifetime of the founder the person who was nominated as the successor or in the office of mutuwalli died subsequently on the founder's death in 1868 his widow obtained certificate and undertook the performance of the duties of mutuwalli and continued to do so till the 29th of January 1877 when she executed a tauhidnamah by virtue of which she surrendered the office of mutuwalli and appointed a third party as her successor in that office who accordingly took possession of the endowed properties. Upon a suit by the plaintiff as one of the representatives of the founder for declaration of his rights as mutuwalli and for recovery of possession of the endowed properties—Held that inasmuch as the widow of the founder was in no sense a general trustee and that she had no authority express or implied to modify in any way the terms of the trust deed nor she had the authority to renounce the office and appoint a successor or her acts were illegal under the Mahomedan Law and that Art 120 of Sec II of the Limitation Act applied to the case and the plaintiff's suit was barred by limitation. KUTLACUNJI v. ABDUL KADIR M. MUSTAFA (1909)

I L R 37 Cal 263

3 ——— Declaration of wakf suit for—Right of Muhammadan entitled to sue such property to sue for a declaration that property is wakf. The plaintiff Mahomedan resident in the city of Kanauj sued for a declaration that a certain idgah and the land adjoining it situated in a village in pargana Kanauj was wakf property. Held that as Muhammadans who had a right to sue the idgah they were entitled to sue and that no special permission was required to enable them to do so. Zafarab Ali v. Dattatray Singh 1 L R 5 All 497 and Jawaira v. Akbar Hussain 1 I P 7 All 178 followed. Wand Ali Shah v. Deewan Iltat Beg 1 I P 8 All 171 distinguished. MUHAMMAD ALAM v. AKBAR HUSSAIN (1910)

I L R 32 All 631

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

4 ——— Subject of wakf—Wakf—Right to recover money under a decree cannot be made the subject of Wakf—Right to recover money under a decree cannot be made the subject of wakf in the absence of a custom authorising such appropriation Iulson Bilce v Giam Ho ein Cassira Ariff 10 C L J 449 494 referred to and followed. Kilecola Sahib v Nuseerdeen Sahib I L R 18 Jai 201 209 referred to KADIR IMRAN FOWTHER v MAHOMED RAHIMADULLA FOWTHER (1909) I L R 33 Mad 118

5 ——— Sale of wakf property—Sanction to sell Jurisdiction—Practice—Trusts Act (XVIII of 1866) s 3—Trusts and Mortgage Powers Act (XVIII of 1867) s 45—Cases to which English law is applicable—On an application made by the mutawalis to a wakf for sanction to sell wakf property—Held that there being no statute authorising such an application such sanction could only be obtained by means of a suit. In the matter of Moo at nne v Libee I L R 36 Cal 21 not followed. Although a Judge of the High Court exercises the functions of a kalā when administering Mahomedan law the procedure to be adopted is to be regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure and the Rules and Orders of the High Court. Shama Churn Roy v Abdul Karber 3 C W J 158 and Nemai Chand Aditya v Goolam Hussein I L R 31 Cal 179 referred to. Such an application does not come within the purview of Acts XXVII and XXVIII of 1866 these Acts govern only such trusts as are in the form of an English trust and are constituted by persons of purely English domicile or persons governed by the Indian Succession Act. In re Halandas Narrandas I L R Bom 154 and In re Naimoney Dey Sarkar I L R 32 Cal 143 not followed. In re HALIMA KHATUN (1910) I L R 37 Cal 870

6 ——— Agreement by Hindu to dedicate property for maintenance of mosque—Mahomedan Law—Voluntary Agreement interfering with work of Peshcar—An agreement by a Hindu to dedicate property for maintenance of a mosque is not enforceable according to Mahomedan Law. FLEUR PAHAMAN v ANATH BANOUL PAL (1911) 16 C V N 114

7 ——— Khanga attached to Darga—Religious institution—Right of management—Exclusion of females—Revolving usage—Usage as indication of the direction of the founder—The right of management of a religious institution such as a Khanga attached to Dargahs is to be decided according to the prevailing usage that usage being taken as indication of the direction of the founder. Even in cases where appointments have been regularly made by the last holders an inquiry into the usage governing such appointments has been considered relevant. Shah Giam Rahimtulla Sahib v Mahomed Akbar Sahib 3 Mad H C 63. Sajad Abdulla Edrus v Sajad Za N Sajad Ha v Ldrn I L R 13 Bom 505. Sajad Muhammad v Fatt Muhammad I L R O I 14 referred to. ISMAILMIA v WABADANI BELGAN (1911) I L R 36 Bom 308

8 ——— Endowment—Wakf by dedication or user—Graveyard land used as a reservation of ancient origin of shrine and burial place—Punjab Land Revenue Act (XII of 188) s 41—Entry scanner shi in record of rights at settlement. In this case the

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

Judicial Committee (affirming the decision of the Chief Court of the Punjab) held on the evidence that the land in suit (known as the Mai Pak Daman graveyard) which had been used from time immemorial by the Mahomedan community of Bul tan for the purpose of burying their dead formed part of a graveyard set apart for the Mahomedan community and that by user if not by dedication the land was wakf. In the record of rights of the last settlement an area of land which comprised the land in suit was entered as in the possession of Mahomedan and was described as labristan or ghair mutakin labristan (graveyard or unculturable land forming portion of a graveyard) and in the ownership column the name of the defendant (now represented by the Court of Wards) was entered as owner. Their Lordships said: It would seem that he was properly entered as owner being trustee and custodian of the shrine of the saint Mai Pak Danan and being or claiming to be the recognised head of the Mahomedan community in Multan and held that under s 44 of the Punjab Land Revenue Act (XII of 1887) the entry not having been disproved must be presumed to be correct. COURT OF WARDS v ILAH BAKSHI (1912) I L R 40 Cal 207

9 ——— Public Mosque—Right of management—Civil Procedure Code 1882 s 539—Suit for appointment of Trustees and for settlement of a scheme of management—Community composed of Sunnis—Mahomedans from various districts and places—Trust deed giving managements exclusively to Rhanderias—Discretion of Kalā under Mahomedan Law—Discretion of Court—Obligation to adhere to intentions of founder and objects of Trust—Right to vary details of management in accordance with changing conditions and circumstances—This appeal which arose out of a suit brought under s 539 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 for the appointment of Trustees and the settlement of a scheme of management related to the Sunni Jumma Masjid at Lanoon which was admittedly a public mosque dedicated to the performance of religious worship by all Sunnis Mahomedans without restriction as to place of origin. The land on which the mosque was built had been granted by the Government on trust for that purpose in 1860 and it was together with other land adjoining purchased in 1871 from the Government by five members of the Sunni Mahomedan community who by a deed of trust in March 1872 dedicated it and the mosque erected thereon for the purpose of divine worship by all Sunnis Mahomedans and vested the control and management of the mosque solely in Phanderias (Sunnis Mahomedan from Phander near Sirat) held that the transaction which took place in 1871 and 1872 in no way affected the origin and then existing trust and that the trust deed did not create a new dedication but the trustees maintained as before a public mosque dedicated to the performance of worship by all Sunnis Mahomedans as originally founded. With respect to the public religious trust as distinguished from a private trust the discretion under the Mahomedan Law of the Kazi (a discretion now exercised by the Civil Court) was very wide for though he could not depart from the intentions of the founder made in the founder as to the objects of the benefaction yet as regards its management which must be governed by circumstance he had complete discretion his primary duty being to consider the interests of the general body of the public for whose benefit the trust is created. In his judicial discretion he might vary any rule of management which he finds either not practicable or not in the best interests of the institution. Held therefore that in settling a scheme of management the question was not one involving the determination of conflicting rights but the consideration of the best method for fully and effectively carrying out the purposes of the trust. S 539 vested a very wide discretion in the Court and in giving effect to its provisions and appointing new trustees and settling a scheme the Court was entitled to take into consideration not merely the wishes of the founder so far as they can be ascertained but also the past history of the institution and the way in which the management has been carried on heretofore in conjunction with other existing conditions that might have grown up since its foundation. The Court also had the power of giving any directions and laying down any rules which might facilitate the work of management and if necessary the appointment of trustees in the future. Held also that on the facts and in the circumstances of this case the Rhandaria section of the worshippers all other conditions being equal were preferentially entitled to the management of the mosque. Ibrahim Esamiz v Abdool Karrim Peermamode [1905] A C 596 L R 30 I A 151 distinguished. The case was accordingly remitted to the Chief Court to form a scheme by which the appointment of future trustees should be entrusted to a committee of the worshippers the composition of which should be in the discretion of the Court with due regard to local needs and conditions subject to the provision that so long as circumstances do not vary a majority of such Committee should be Phanderias and that in settling the scheme the Court should lay down rules for the guidance of the committee in the discharge of any supervisory functions that it may be necessary to confide to them and for filling up vacancies on their body subject to its control. MAHOMED ISMAIL ARIFF v AHMED MOOLLA DAWOOD (1910) I L R 43 Cal 1085

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

10 ————— Wakfnama executed by purdasha lady—Charge of fraud undue influence and inability to understand document—Onus—Concurrent findings on issues of fact—Substantial dedication to charity—Held—That the wakfnama in question should be upheld as there was a substantial dedication of property to charitable and religious purposes and no legal objection to the dedication had been established. On the question whether the wakfnama was obtained by fraud and undue influence and the executant a purdasha lady understood the document. Held—That the onus of proof having been properly placed there were concurrent findings on issues of fact which it was impossible for the Appellants to displace. SYED AMATUL LATIFA BIBI v DRWAZ ABDUL ALIM KHAN 24 C W V 491

11 ————— Mortgage—Transfer—Possession—Limitation—Trust—Trustee alienates his share of endowment property—Suit by mutawalli to recover mortgage of wakfs property mortgaged by former mortgagee—Held—Act (IX of 1905) Art 131—Transfer from A to B with date of transfer or date of possession—Transfer in Art 131—Act of B not a gift—Held—See Art 131 transfer of trust property—Title of purdasha for value and with notice—Registration of endowment to notice—Mutawalli position of—Legal owner of property dedicated to public charitable purposes—Discretion of District Judge as to appointment of mutawallis from among strangers—Wakf principle of—Test whether deed is valid as wakf or is illusory—Gift substantially to charity—Property settled partly for benefit of members of the family—Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1899) s 41 Held (HUBA J dubitante) that the date of transfer contemplated in Article 131 of the Limitation Act 1905 is the date on which property or title was transferred and not the date on which transfer is followed by possession. Alimnary Singh v Jagabandhu Roy I L R 23 Cal 536 Ram Kanan Ghosh v Hari Narayan Singh Deo 2 C L J 640 Bhargava Lal v Muhammad Mulla I I R 20 All 489 Masarikraman Ettan Thiruvaram 4 Ann I L J 23 Mad 471 and Mulla Veetil Sethi Kuttu v Kunhi Pathumma I L F 40 Mad 1040 per Wallis C J and Coutts Trotter J followed. Ramchandra Lalal Rajadhisra v Mohidin I L F 23 Bom 614 dissentient from Dattatraya v Dattatraya Krihna Sirde I I R 27 Bom 363 Malik v Fairchand I L R 27 Bom 225 and Husain Khanam v Husain Khan I L F 29 All 471 distinguished. Bakhtawar Perani v Husain Khanum I L R 36 All 195 L R 41 I A 84 referred to. Where the position of the trustee is that of a mere manager under a duty constituted trust it is immaterial under the present law whether the transferee takes with notice or without notice of the trust. Under the older Acts of Limitation the transferee with notice was not protected by the twelve years rule. Raddanath Das v Elliott 6 B L R 50 14 Moo I A 14 and Lutejan v Begu Jan 3 Moo I A 500 referred to. Where the transferee is a mere manager he is not the ostensible owner nor has the transferee anything corresponding to the English legal estate to set over against the prior equity of the beneficial owner. Varadn Behl Sam v Luckpathy Royce Lallah 5 W R 120 and Golud Das v Eastern Mortgage and Agency Co I I R 33 Cal 410 referred to. A mutawalli of a wakf estate is not the ostensible owner of the estate. He is a mere manager and in the case of public charitable endowment the legal ownership of the property dedicated is in the Divine Being or in the charity created in his name. Registration in a public registry office affords protection to intending purchasers and minimizes the hardship of transfers without notice. The appointment of a mutawalli of a public trust where the intention of the founder of the trust is not capable of execution is entirely within the discretion of the District Judge at law. Mahomed Ismail Ariff v Ahmed Moolla Dawood I L F 43 Cal 1085 I R 40 I A 127 followed. Where property is dedicated in substance to charitable uses a valid wakf is created and the mere fact that the founder reserved to himself during his own lifetime an absolute discretion over the disposal of the income but depriving himself of the power to dispose of the corpus—without leaving such discretion to his successors—does not make the endowment invalid. Mujibunnisa v Abdur Rahim I L R 23 All 273 L F 28 I A 10 Jamanandan Chettiar v Vasa Lemas Mookayar I L R 40 Mad 116 L R 41 I A 21 Mahomed Ihsanull Choudhry v Amarchand I undu I L R

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—condid

17 C 10 498 L P 17 I 4 28 and Mu hurool Huq v Puhary Dularry Mohapatra 13 W R 235 followed Per SHAMS UL HUDA J The onus to prove that a suit by a mutualis to recover possession of wali property is within time : on the plaintiff it is for him to show that mortgage was not followed by possession NARAY DAS AROPA v HAJI ABDUR RAHIM (19-0) I L R 47 Cal 866

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 185 ss 13 and 44 I L R 35 Bom 297

See LIS PENDENS I L R 41 All 531

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAFQ

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1892) ss 123 129

I L R 38 All 212

1 ——— Offerings at a shrine—Gift of a fixed share of offering made at a shrine—Possession of subject of gift Held that a gift of the right to receive a certain share of the offerings which might be made at a particular shrine was a valid gift and not repugnant to the doctrines of the Mahomedan Law Amul Nissa Begum v Mir Nurudin Husain Khan I I R 27 Bom 499 distinguished AMMAD UDDIN v ILAKI BAKSHI (1912) I L R 34 All 465

2 ——— Hanafi Law—Gift—Construction of document—Condition in derogation of the grant invalid A deed of gift of certain property provided as follows — My son Naki Khan will remain owner (malik) of the remaining two thirds and of the said two thirds Naki Khan will remain full and absolute owner of one third (malik kamil kalai) and he shall have the powers of an owner with respect to it and Naki Khan will be owner (malik) of the other third also and his name shall be entered in the khewat but the income of it is given for the maintenance of my minor grand son Muhammad Shafi Khan on of Muhyim mad Taqi Khan deceased Accorded to law Naki Khan is guardian of Shafi Khan he must give the income of that one third for the maintenance of the minor and Naki Khan will not have the power of transfer over that one third during the life of the minor Held on a construction of the deed that the condition against alienation was invalid but the condition as to the payment of one third of the income to Muhammad Shafi Khan was valid and attached to the property in the hands of a transferee who was found to have notice thereof Nasab Umyad Ally Khan v Muhammad Mohimdee Beg in 11 Moo I A 517 followed LALI JAN v MUHAMMAD SHAFI KHAN (1912) I L R 34 All 478

3 ——— Possession—Gift validity of—Transfer of possession to an unnee or —Possession of donor necessary to valid gift To make a valid gift under Mahomedan Law the donee should be put in possession But where the donee is a minor at the time of the gift and the donor renounces in possession of the property as guardian of the donee on his behalf the gift would be valid under Mahomedan Law unless the subject matter of a gift is in the possession of a trustee or agent of the donor who is custody regarded in law as the custody of the donor The owner of a property if not in possession cannot make a valid gift of it or rather a gift made by him will not pass the ownership of the property to the donee until the donee takes possession by the donor consent FATIR NINAF MUHAMMAD POWTHER v KANDASA WAMA KULATHU VANDAN (1911) I L R 86 Mad 120

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—condid

4 ——— Mushaa—Gift—Share in eman dars prop rtj—Gift by some co sharers to the others —Possession delivery of if necessary—Gift to adult and minor jointly—Gift by mother to minor son —Delivery of possession if necessary Hiba bil mushaa (gift of undivided joint property) is not void but only invalid and possession remedies the defect When persons own a property jointly any sharer may make a gift of his share in that property to any other sharer without the formality of delivery of possession There is no inherent illegality in a joint gift to an adult and a minor When the interest of the two are sufficiently specified so that there can be no apprehension of any confusion or dispute the gift is unobjectionable Where one of the co sharers of a zemindari property simultaneously made over their undivided share to the remaining co sharer the doctrine of mushaa did not apply In the case of a gift by a parent who is the de facto guardian of a minor to such minor a formal delivery of possession is not necessary JABEDANE SIBBI v NATIBAL ISLAM MOLLA (1910) 15 C W N 328

5 ——— Gift—Mushaa Where the defendant made a gift of a four anna share in a talami raiyati holding to the plaintiff his nephew by marriage and admitted him to joint possession with him self and recognised the plaintiff as being in such possession for 14 years Held that he could not be allowed to say that there had been no valid gift The doctrine of mushaa is not applicable to such a case Ibrahim Goolim Ariff v Saiboo I I R 35 Cal 1 Imnabai v Hajuralas I L R 13 Bom 359 Jivan Paksh v Imtia Begam I L R 2 All 93 Mulammad Nisla Ahmad v Zula fan I I R 11 All 460 referred to ABDUL AZIZ v IATEH MAHMOED HAZI (1911) I L R 38 Cal 518

6 ——— Gift to a Mopla—Governed by Mahomedan Law on marriage not void on his wife's death or divorce—No reverter to donor Under the Mahomedan Law a girl when married passes over to her husband's family and there is no obligation on the members of her natural family to maintain her after her marriage even if she is divorced So in the absence of any usage among Moplas governed by Mahomedan Law a gift made to the husband of a Mopla girl does not become void and does not revert to the members of her natural family when the girl dies or is divorced The rule is otherwise among people governed by Marumakkattaram Law Mariom v Abdulla [Second Appeal No 1746 of 1895 (unreported)] referred to PAKICH v KUNA CHA (1913) I L R 36 Mad 325

7 ——— Shias—Gift—Marz ul ma'at—In case of more than one year's duration Under the Shia law a gift made in marz ul ma'at holds good to the extent of only one third of the donor's estate in spite of delivery of possession prior to his death Under the Shia law if a person dies of a disease of more than one year's duration such disease is not considered a death illness But there is this condition attached to it that if the illness increases to such an extent as to

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

had complete discretion his primary duty being to consider the interests of the general body of the public for whose benefit the trust is created. In his judicial discretion he might vary any rule of management which he finds either not practicable or not in the best interest of the institution. Held therefore that in settling a scheme of management the question was not one involving the determination of conflicting rights but the consideration of the best method for fully and effectually carrying out the purposes of the trust. S 539 vested a very wide discretion in the Court and in giving effect to its provisions and appointing new trustees and settling a scheme the Court was entitled to take into consideration not merely the wishes of the founder so far as they can be ascertained but also the past history of the institution and the way in which the management has been carried on heretofore in conjunction with other existing conditions that might have grown up since its foundation. The Court also had the power of giving any directions and laying down any rules which might facilitate the work of management and if necessary the appointment of trustees in the future. Held also that on the fact and in the circumstances of this case the Phundia section of the worshippers all other conditions being equal were preferentially entitled to the management of the mosque. Ibrahim Damsel v. Abdul Kariem Piermar (1905) 4 C 526 L R 55 I A 151 distinguished. The case was accordingly remitted to the Chief Court to form a scheme by which the appointment of future trustees should be entrusted to a committee of the worshippers the composition of which should be in the discretion of the Court with due regard to local needs and conditions subject to the provision that so long as circumstances do not vary a majority of such Committee should be Hindus and that in settling the scheme the Court should lay down rules for the guidance of the committee in the discharge of any supervisory functions that it may be necessary to confide to them and for filling up vacancies on their body subject to its control. MAHOMED ISMAIL AFIFF v. MOOLLA DAWOOD (1916) I L R 43 Cal 1085

10 ——— Wakfnama executed by parda nashin lady—Charge of fraud undue influence and inability to understand document—Onus—Concurrent findings on issues of fact—Substantial dedication to charity. Held—That the wakfnama in question should be upheld as there was a substantial dedication of property to charitable and religious purposes and no legal objection to the dedication had been established. On the question whether the wakfnama was obtained by fraud and undue influence and the contentant a parda nashin lady understood the document. Held—That the onus of proof having been properly placed there were concurrent findings on issues of fact which it was impossible for the Appellants to displace. SHED AZIZUL FATMA BIBI v. DR. KAM ABDUL ALAM SAHEB 24 N P N 494

11 ——— Mortgage—Transfer—Possession—Limitation—Trust—Trustee's intentions by mouth of property—Suit by mortgagor to recover possession of property mortgaged by former owner. Held—That on facts (1905) 113 I L R 131 I A 177 followed. Where the intention of the mortgagor in transferring the property was to create a mortgage and not a sale, the mortgagee's possession is not barred by limitation. See Art 131 of trust property—Title of purchasers for value and with notice—Pegistration of instrument to notice—Mutawalli position—Legal owner of property dedicated to public charitable purpose—Discretion of District Judge as to appointment of mutawallis from among strangers—Wakf principle of—Tei whether deed is valid as wakf or is illusory—Gift substantially to charity—Property vested partly for benefit of members of the family—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 11. Held (Hindu J. dubi- tate) that the date of transfer contemplated in Article 131 of the Limitation Act 1908 is the date on which property or title was transferred and not the date on which transfer is followed by possession. *Alimohy Singh v. Jagabandhu Roy I L R 23 Cal 536 Ram Kanas Ghosh v. Hari Narayan Singh Dec 2 C I J 540 Behari Lal v. Muhammad Yullahi I L R 20 All 48 Manikraman Eltan Thunburam v. Ammu I L R 24 Mad 471 and Mulla Yellu Seeti Jothi v. Kunhu Pathamma I L R 40 Mad 1040 per Wallis C J and Conitts Trotter J followed. Ramchandra Lalal Pajadhiksha v. Mohidin I L R 23 Bom 614 dissented from. Dattagiri v. Dattatraya Krishna Sunde I I R 27 Bom 383 Valsu v. Palrechand I L R 23 Bom 25 and Husan Khanam v. Husan Khan I L R 29 All 471 distinguished. Balkrishna Beem v. Husein Khan I L R 36 All 190 L P 41 I 1 84 referred to. Where the possession of the trustee is that of a mere manager under a duty constituted trust it is immaterial under the present law whether the transferee takes with notice or without notice of the trust. Under the older Acts of Limitation the transferee with notice was not protected by the twelve years rule. Radhanath Das v. Elliott 6 B L R 550 14 Moo I A 14 and Lutefant v. Begu Jan 9 Moo I A 303 referred to. Where the transferee is a mere manager he is not the ostensible owner nor has the transferee anything corresponding to the English legal estate to set over against the prior equity of the beneficial owner. Jarden Seth Sam v. Lakshmy Rowee Lallah 6 W R 120 and Gopal Das v. Eastern Mortgage and Agency Co I I R 33 Cal 410 referred to. A mutawalli of a wakf estate is not the ostensible owner of the estate. He is a mere manager and in the case of public charitable endowment the legal ownership of the property dedicated is in the Divine Being or in the charity created in his name. Pegistration in a public registry office affords protection to intending purchasers and minimizes the hardship of transfers without notice. The appointment of a mutawalli of a public trust where the intention of the founder of the trust is not capable of execution is entirely within the discretion of the District Judge at Azam Mahomed I mail Affir v. I mail Moolla Dawood I L P 43 Cal 1085 I L R 13 I A 177 followed. Where property is dedicated in substance to charitable uses a valid wakf is created and the mere fact that the founder reserved to himself during his own lifetime an absolute discretion over the disposal of the income but depriving himself of the power to dispose of the corpus—without leaving such discretion to his successors—does not make the endowment invalid. *Mujibunnisa v. Abder Rahim I L R 23 All 233 L P 28 I A 10 Pamavandan Chettiar v. Vasa Leman Varachar I L R 40 Mad 116 L R 44 I 42 Mahomed Akhsanulla Choudhry v. Amarchand I undu I L R

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—contd

MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—concl'd

17 Cae 498 L P 1, 1 25 and Muhammad Hujar Puhay Ditaru Mcapallur 13 W R 35 followed Per SIAMS v. HUDA. The onus to prove that a suit by a muhrath to recover possession of waqf property is within time is on the plaintiff it is for him to show that mortgaze was not followed by possession. NABIN DAS AROPA v. HAJI ABDUL RAHIM (190)

I L R 47 Cal 888

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 13 and 44 I L R 35 Bom 29

See LIS PENDENS I L R 41 All 531

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAQF

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (11 OF 1882) ss 193 129

I L R 38 All 212

1 ——— Offerings at a shrine—Gift of a fixed share of offerings made at a shrine—Possession of subject of gift Held that a gift of the right to receive a certain share of the offerings which might be made at a particular shrine was a valid gift and not repugnant to the doctrines of the Mahomedan Law. Amul v. B. Gum v. Mir Nurudin Husain Khan I L R 3 Bom 459 distinguished AMMAD UDDIN v. ILAMI PARSAN (1912)

I L R 34 All 465

2 ——— Hanafi law—Gift—Construction of document—Condition in derogation of the grant invalid A deed of gift of certain property provided as follows—My son Naki Khan will remain owner (malik) of the remaining two thirds and of the said two thirds Naki Khan will remain full and absolute owner of one third (malik kamil kalam) and he shall have the powers of an owner with respect to it and Naki Khan will be owner (malik) of the other third also and his name will be entered in the khawat but the income of it is given for the maintenance of my minor grandson Muhammad Shafi Khan son of Muhammad Taqi Khan deceased According to law Naki Khan is guardian of Shafi Khan he must give the income of that one third for the maintenance of the minor and Naki Khan will not have the power of transfer over that one third during the life of the minor Held on a construction of the deed that the condition against alienation was invalid but the condition as to the payment of one third of the income to Muhammad Shafi Khan was valid and attached to the property in the hands of a trustee who was found to have notice thereof. Nawal Uzzud Ali Khan v. Musammat Mohimdee Begum 11 Moo I A 517 followed I ALI JAM v. MUHAMMAD SHAFI KHAN (1912)

I L R 34 All 478

3 ——— Possession—Gift validity of—Transfer of possession when unnecessary—Possession of donor necessary to valid gift To make a valid gift under Mahomedan Law the donee should be put in possession But where the donee is a minor at the time of the gift and the donor remains in possession of the property as guardian of the donee on his behalf the gift would be valid under Mahomedan Law unless the subject matter of a gift is the possession of a trustee or a rent of the donor who is entitled to regard in law as the custody of the donor The owner of a property if not in possession cannot make a valid gift of it

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—concl'd or rather a gift made by him will not pass to the owner hip of the property to the donee until the donee takes possession by the donor's consent. FATMA NISAR MUHAMMAD LOWTHI v. KANDAS WAMU KUTATHU VANDAN (1911)

I L R 55 Mad 120

4 ——— Mushaa—Gift—Share in common property—Gift by some co-sharers to the others—Possession delivery of necessary—Gift to adult and minor jointly—Gift by mother to minor son—Delivery of possession if necessary Hafizul Mushaa (gift of undivided joint property) is not void but only invalid and possession remedies the defect When per one own a property jointly by any sharer may make a gift of his share in that property to any other sharer without the formality of a delivery of possession There is no inherent illegality in a joint gift to an adult and a minor When the interest of the two are sufficiently specified so that there can be no apprehension of any confusion or dispute the gift is unobjectionable Where some of the co-sharers of a remainder property simultaneously made over their undivided share to the remaining co-sharers the doctrine of mushaa did not apply In the case of a gift by a parent who is the de facto guardian of a minor to such minor a formal delivery of possession is not necessary. JAFIDAN TASA JIPI v. NAZIBAL ISLAM MOLLA (1910) 15 O W N 328

5 ——— Gift—Mushaa

Where the defendant made a gift of a four annas share in a hauz raiyati holding to the plaintiff his nephew by marriage and admitted him to joint possession with him self and recognised the plaintiff as being in such possession for 14 years Held that he could not be allowed to say that there had been no valid gift The doctrine of mushaa is not applicable to such a case. Ibrahim Goolam Ariff v. Saiboo I L R 35 Cal 1 Emnabai v. Hingralai I L R 13 Bom 359 Jivan Baksh v. Jmilia Begam I L R 2 All 93 Muhammad Nymia Almad v. Zubaida Jan I L R 11 All 460 referred to ABDUL AZIZ v. FATEH MAHOMED HAZI (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 518

6 ——— Gift to a Mopla—Govern I by Mahomedan Law on his marriage not void on his wife's death or divorce—No reverter to donor Under the Mahomedan Law a girl when married passes over to her husband's family and there is no obligation on the members of her natural family to maintain her after her marriage even if she is divorced So in the absence of any usage among Moplas governed by Mahomedan Law a gift made to the husband of a Mopla girl does not become void and does not revert to the members of her natural family when the girl dies or is divorced The rule is otherwise among people governed by Marumakkattavam Law. Mariyam v. Abdulla [Second Appeal] No 146 of 1892 (unreported) referred to PAKICH v. KACHA CHA (1913)

I L R 55 Mad 320

7 ——— Shias—Gift—Marriage of husband—In case of more than one wife duration Under the Shia law a gift made in marriage is good to the extent of only one third of the donor's estate in spite of delivery of possession after his death Under the Shia law if a gift of a share of more than one wife is made such share is not considered But there is this condition attached to such to

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—contd

cause or another supervenes which cause an apprehension of death in the mind of the donor the increase or the new disease is a death illness. The nature of the gift does not change even if the donor had intended prior to death to transfer the property to the donee. KHURSHED HUSAIN v. FAIZABAD HUSAIN (1914) 1 L R 36 All 283

8 ——— Revocation—Substantial alteration of subject matter—Partition Held that a Revenue Court partition of villages the subject of a deed of gift does not amount to such a substantial alteration of the subject matter in the hands of the donee as would under the Mahomedan law render the gift irrevocable by the donor. MAQBUT HUSAIN v. GHAFUR UN NISSA (1914) 1 L R 36 All 353

9 ——— In lieu of dower—Nature of such gift The provision of the Mahomedan Law applicable to gifts made by persons labouring under a fatal disease do not apply to a gift made in lieu of a dower debt which is really of the nature of a sale. GHULAM VUJAJA v. HURMAT 1 L R 2 All 854 followed. IBRAHIM v. KARIM DAFHAK 13 O W 160 and BIBI JANDI v. HARATH SAIB 21 Mad L J 908 referred to. ISAHAQ CHOWDHURY v. ABDUL KASIM BIRI (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 361

10 ——— Registration—Of gift, Mahomedan in lieu of dower with delivery of possession Under s 129 of the Transfer of Property Act the registration of a deed of gift in accordance with s 123 cannot make up for the want of delivery of possession required by the rules of Mahomedan Law. FORIM BUKH MANDAL v. SHAJAD AHMAD CHAUDHURY (1914) 19 C W N 1311

11 ——— By deed of trust—Oudh Laws Act (XVII of 1876) —Meaning of gifts—Delivery and acceptance of subject of gift not proved—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Trusts Act—(II of 1882) Oudh Land Revenue Act (XVIII of 1876) s 61 et seq—Legitimacy proof of—Admission—Enforcement by Judge of documents admitted in evidence—Civil Procedure Code 1877 and 1882 s 141 1908 O VIII r 4—Undue prolongation of litigation—Cross examination of witnesses In s 3 of the Oudh Laws Act (XVII of 1876) which indicates the cases in which among Mahomedans the Mahomedan Law is to be applied the word gifts includes a gift made to a beneficiary through a trustee. A Mahomedan made a settlement the parties to which were himself to the first part his wife of the second part and his wife and her father of the third part (the trustees) which after settling that 8,000 was due by the settlor to his wife for the balance of her dower and that it had been agreed between the parties that the settlement should be in full satisfaction of the dower debt witnessed that for the consideration stated the settlor granted certain properties to the trustees upon trust to pay the net incomes of the properties to his wife for her life and after her death upon trust for all the children of the settlor and his wife living at the time of his decease. The deed was never executed by the wife and there was no evidence independent of the deed to show that any agreement was ever entered into between the settlor and his wife that she would accept the provision made for her in the settlement in satisfaction of her charge of the unpaid balance of her dower and she never elected in her life time to take the benefits conferred on her by the deed in lieu of it. Held that the conveyance to the trustee was a purely voluntary gift and was void by Mahomedan Law unless accompanied by a delivery of possession such as the subject of the gift was susceptible of. Subsequent election could not be held to be a substitute for the original consideration. Claydon v. Mehdi Hasan v. Muhammad Hasan 1 L R 23 All 439 449 1 P 33 1 A 68 76 and Khayat v. Roushan Jahan 1 L R 2 Cal 184 1 J 3 1 A 90 followed. The rule of law laid down by those authorities was not altered or qualified by the combined provisions of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) and the Indian Trusts Act (II of 1882) so as to make registration a substitute for delivery of possession. Both of those Acts were passed long before the first of those authorities was decided. In a suit to enforce a mortgage executed by the widow of the settlor of property dealt with by the settlement. Held that during the life of the donor the evidence did not show that anything was done by him which amounted to delivery of possession of the properties nor was anything done by the trustees or the wife alone amounting to proof of the acceptance of the gift or of an election to take under the deed. All her conduct and actions were entirely inconsistent with any such intention on her part. The trustees never entered under and by virtue of the trust deed into the receipt of the rent or income of the property comprised in the mortgage and consequently there was no satisfactory proof that the possession of that portion of the property the subject of the gift was ever delivered by the settlor to the trustees. That being so the gift according to the Mahomedan Law was void and the mortgage sued upon was therefore a valid and binding instrument and a good security. The statements made in documents signed by the wife she must be taken to have known the purport and effect of it being a part of the administrative duties or a quasi-judicial character imposed by the Oudh Land Revenue Act (XVII of 1876) upon the public officials before whom the documents came to see that she as a pardanashin lady had that knowledge and the maxim Omnia pro unumfur recte is applicable. On a question as to the legitimacy of one of the settlor's sons. Held on the evidence that he was the legitimate son of the settlor and was acknowledged by him to be so as the son of a nika marriage. The Mahomedan Law as to acknowledgment laid down in Muhammed Allahabad Khan v. Muhammed Ismail Khan 1 L R 10 All 289 and Muhammed Ali Khan v. Lall Begum 1 L R 8 Cal 477 1 R 9 1 A 8 and that as to evidence of repute from statement made in document by a member of the family in Anjuman Ara Begum v. Adil Ali Khan—Oudh Cases 110 and Baqar Ali Khan v. Anjuman Ara Begum 1 L R 9 All 286 1 P 30 1 A 95 followed. Their Lordships commented upon the long duration of this litigation remarking that such delays were due creditable to any judicial system and there was no reason to think that they were due to a large extent avoidable. Also upon the undue prolongation of the cross-examination of witnesses by breaking it up into detached portions than which no better system could be devised to expose either to the risk of being tampered with and to promote the fabrication of false evidence. A preliminary judge could endorse with his own hand a statement that a document proved or admitted in evidence was proved again or admitted by the person against whom it was used as laid down in s 141 of the Civil Procedure Codes of 1877 and 1885 and practically re-enacted in O XIII r 4 in the rules and orders passed under the Civil Procedure Code 1908. With a view of insisting on the observance of the wholesome provisions of the Statutes their Lordships will in order to prevent injustice be obliged in future on the hearing of Indian appeal to refuse to read or permit to be used any document not endorsed in the manner required. SADIK HUSSAIN KHAN v. HASMATH ALI KHAN (1916)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—contd

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—contd

I L R 38 All 627

12 ———— Deed a gift with a condition attached—Obligation in the nature of trust—Construction of document A Mahomedan woman made a deed of gift in favour of three persons Mirza Yazar Beg, Imatij Begum and Chaggaan Bibi in the following terms: The lands have been given to you three as gift. All my rights of ownership are transferred to you. The revenue or management of the lands should be made by one of you three namely Yazar Beg and after paying Government dues Rs 40 should be paid out of the residue of the income annually to the Imatij Begum and the remainder should be divided equally between Mirza Yazar Beg and Chaggaan Bibi. Mirza Yazar Beg should have revenue and give income according to their share to the two. They have no right of claiming division of the lands from Mirza Beg but only a right of claiming income every year. A suit was brought by Imatij Begum to enforce her right under the deed of gift. The second defendant transferee of Mirza Beg a interest in the property contended that the deed of gift in so far as it conferred benefit on the two women mentioned therein was void and that he was absolutely entitled. Held that the gift was good and complete under the Mahomedan Law and the deed could be supported in favour of the plaintiff. TAVAKALBHAI v. IMATIJ BEGUM (1916)

I L R 41 Bom 572

13 ———— Gift made during his last illness by a son to his mother—Was ulmaut—Application of doctrine On a question of the application of the doctrine of was ulmaut to a disposition of property made by a Mahomedan during his last illness if the transaction is a sale the doctrine would not apply at all if the transaction is a waqf it would be valid to the extent of on third while if it is a gift it would not be valid at all. In the case before the Court the particular transaction was held on the facts to be really a gift to one of the heirs (the mother of the donor) and therefore invalid although in form it purported to be a sale. TAZIL AHMAD v. FAHIM BIBI (1917)

I L R 40 All 38

14 ———— Heba bil wa—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1885) s 11 The ordinary rule applicable to gift applies to the Mahomedan Law like any other system of law and a gift under a Heba bil wa is not invalidated by an invalid condition being attached to it. MAHABUBUL A BIBI v. HO SEYEDDIN NAZIR (1918)

22 C W N 512

15 ———— Heba bil wa—Valid without passing of consideration—A Mahomedan executed a Heba bil wa in favour of a son or daughter of his predecessor son. In a suit for enforcing the gift no evidence was adduced about the passing of any consideration. Held that if the document failed as a Heba bil wa it could take effect as a simple gift (Heba) if it satisfied the conditions of a deed of gift. SIR ALADDIN HALDEY v. ISMA HALDEY

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—contd

25 C W N 835

16 ———— Perpetual Property—Held that non tangible property can be given by any appropriate method of transfer other than actual delivery of possession. SAYEED NAHAR BIBI v. MOHAMMAD NAHAR AHMAD

25 C W N 310

17 ———— Gift by mortgagee of property in the possession of mortgagee—Held Where a Mahomedan mortgaged some lands to a third person putting the mortgagee in possession and while the mortgage was in possession A made an oral gift to Defendant No 1 and immediately after got Defendant No 1's name recorded in the Settlement Record and put him also in physical possession of one of the properties namely the homestead. Held that the gift was valid in law. In order to properly appreciate the judicial idea of gift as conceived by Mahomedan jurists it is to be borne in mind that gift is considered a class of contracts but as it is a voluntary contract without consideration it is not enforceable unless accompanied by possession in which case the devolution or transfer of right to the property becomes complete. By possession in connection with the law of gift meant such possession as the nature of the subject of the gift is capable of. Choudhri Mehd Hasan v. Mohamed Hasan L R 331 A 63 s c 10 C W N 766 (1906) relied on as possession through a tenant may be constructive possession capable of being delivered so as to validate a gift of such property so property in the possession of the mortgagee would likewise be considered to be in the constructive possession of the mortgagor as in both cases some kind of right to property is left in the owner. The right of equity of redemption and such similar rights are termed incorporeal rights may in view of the exigencies and necessities of modern conditions and conceptions of legal rights of property be subject of a valid gift the mode of delivery of possession varying according to the nature of the right conveyed. TARA PROBYN v. SHAADI BIBI

25 C W N 761

18 ———— Gift—Donor in possession of half of gifted land—Delivery of possession to donee—Offer half mortgaged and possession not actually delivered to donee—Gift of the latter valid under Mahomedan law A Mahomedan male who owned his lands made a gift of them to the plaintiff's father. At the date of the gift he had possession of only two-thirds and a moiety of the third land. He immediately put in possession of the donee. Thereafter the lenders had been mortgaged to the defendant who retained their possession under the mortgage. In a suit by the plaintiff the defendants contended that the gift of the mortgaged land was invalid not having been perfected by delivery of possession. Held overruling the contention that the deed of gift must be looked at as a whole and that only the gift of the equity or redemption coupled with the completed gift of the remaining land.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT—condid

was a valid gift in law CHANDSABER KA HUM SABER v CANGABAI I L R 45 Bom 1296

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIAN

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
O XXIV BP 4 5 AND 10

I L R 41 AH 473
See GUARDIANSHIP AND WARDSHIP ACT (VIII of 1890) = 2 12 and 21

I L R 39 Mad 608

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 45 Cal 878

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR

See MORTGAGE

1 ———— Guardian powers of—Agreement not to divide spes successions validity of—Agreement for management effect of on outstanding lamom interest A Mahomedan father with children some of whom were minors executed a settlement whereby he gave B one of his adult children the right of managing all his properties during his B's lifetime. The deed also provided that there was to be no division of A's properties during the lifetime of B. The deed was signed by all the adult children and by A on his own behalf and as guardian of his minor children. One of the properties mentioned in the deed was outstanding on lamom at the date of the deed. After A's death C one of his adult children who had signed the deed redeemed the lamom B sued to recover possession of the property on the ground that under the deed he was entitled to the exclusive management thereof for his life. Held that C was entitled to redeem the lamom and that B had only a right to sue for partition of the property. Although agreements between co-owners not to divide for a reasonable time are valid such agreements are not valid when they relate to mere spes successions. The property outstanding on lamom at the date of the deed was then a mere spes successions and the agreement was invalid in respect of such property. The agreement was not binding on the minor sons of A. Under the Mahomedan Law the acts of a guardian will bind the ward only when urgent necessity or clear benefit to the ward are shown. THORNTON KOTILAN ALIYUSMA v KUNHAM JAD (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 527

2 ———— Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s 9 and 39—Application for appointment as guardian of minor girl—Q absolutions for applicant Held that the husband of a minor girl's sister is not under the Mahomedan Law entitled to be appointed a guardian of the person or property of the minor. Held also that the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 contemplates that an applicant for guardianship should reside within the jurisdiction of the Court to which he makes the application. ASGHAR ALI v AMINA BEGAM (1914)

I L R 35 All 282

3 ———— Shia sect—Guardian and minor—Right to guardianship of female minor According to the Mahomedan Law applicable to the Shia sect the right to the guardianship of a female minor rests primarily with the mother and in the event of her death with the father and only on the death of either of them the right passes to the maternal and paternal and other ascendants. BAKI v LAL SAADAT HUSAI (1914)

I L R 36 All 466

MAHOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIAN—contd

4 ———— Guardianship—Mahomedan infant—Mahomedan Law—Maternal uncle if a proper guardian—Sister's husband if qualified—Prohibited degrees of relationship—Adverse interest—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) Under the Mahomedan Law no male has a right to the custody of a female child unless he is a Mahram that is one who stands to her within the prohibited degrees of relationship and cannot under any circumstances marry her. A maternal uncle may be appointed as a guardian to a Mahomedan minor girl. When the girl was married to a person below her station in life the Court ordered a governess to be appointed to stay with her until puberty the husband not to have access to her meanwhile so that the girl might have liberty to repudiate the marriage if she liked just on the attainment of puberty. RUKUNESSA BIBI v the matter of (1913)

18 C W N 853

5 ———— Under Mahomedan Law the general rule is that the dealings of a de facto guardian with the minor's property do not ipso facto bind the minor AYDERMAI KUTTI v SYED ALI

I L R 37 Mad 514

6 ———— Power of mother a de facto guardian of minor to enter into agreement to refer dispute as to immoveable property to the arbitration of arbitrators so as to bind the minor The mother as the de facto guardian of minors is not competent under the Mahomedan Law to enter on their behalf into an agreement to refer to arbitration any dispute even where there is no de jure guardian of the minors such agreement being one which will necessarily if acted upon involve dealings with the immoveable properties of the minor. Imambandi v Mutanadi I L R 45 Cal 878 L R 45 A 70 referred to. MOH SUDHAN AHMED v K AHMED (1920)

I L R 47 Cal 713

7 ———— A mother has no authority as de facto guardian to alienate property of her infant children and they can contest it within 12 years of attaining majority LALOO KAPTAIR & OTHERS v JAGAT CHANDRA SARTI & OTHERS

11 C W N 258

MAHOMEDAN LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 25

I L R 37 Bom 280

8 ———— Shias—Dispute between husband and wife as to usufruct—Arbitration—Award transferring property of husband to wife—Further conveyance unnecessary A Mahomedan husband and wife of the Shia persuasion referred a dispute relating to the wife's dower to an arbitrator who under a registered award transferred the absolute ownership of the husband's property in presents to the wife reserved possession of it to the husband for life with control over the income and provided that in the event of the wife predeceasing her husband he should continue in possession for life while in the event of the husband dying before the wife she should be owner and the heirs of the husband could not interfere. Mutation of names followed in favour of the wife who executed a mukhtarnama in favour of her husband for the management of the property conveyed to her under the award. Held that the award was sufficient to transfer the ownership of the property covered by it in presents to the wife and no

MAHOMEDAN LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE—contd

conveyance need have been executed Pam Bah v Moylini Alawani I I P 6 All 966 followed Quare Whether an award is governed by Mahomedan Law MURAVI TALIB HUSAIN v INAYATI JAN (1911) I L R 33 All 683

MAHOMEDAN LAW—INHERITANCE

—Family custom at variance with the law if may be proved—Bengal N W P and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887) s 3 Where in a suit by a Mahomedan lady against her brothers for recovery of her share in their father's property the defendants having set up the plea that according to family custom female descendant could not inherit in the presence of male descendants the Courts in India refused to admit evidence in support of the alleged custom on the ground that evidence of custom at variance with the ordinary rules of Mahomedan Law was inadmissible in regard to matters mentioned in s 37 of the Bengal N W P and Assam Civil Courts Act Held reversing the Courts below that evidence with respect to the issue as to family custom should be admitted ISMAIL KHAN v SKEOMUKH RAY (1919) 17 C W N 97

—Contingent right to inheritance Contingent right to inheritance of whether prohibited A transfer or renunciation of a contingent right of inheritance is prohibited under Mahomedan Law Musammatt Kharum Jan v Musammatt Jan Bee Bee (1927) 4 S D A 210 followed Kunhi Vamod v Kunhi Vaidin I I R 19 Mad 176 considered Musammatt Hurremt Ool Nissa Begam v Allahdia Khan Hayee Hidayat 17 W P (PC) 198 explained ASA BREVET KARUPPAN CHETTY (1917) I L R 41 Mad 365

MAHOMEDAN LAW—JOINT PROPERTY

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 13 AND 144 I L R 44 Bom 943

—Joint business of two brothers—Death of one of them—Suit by survivor and sons of the deceased—Properties purchased out of profits of joint business—Money collected by survivor—Suit by heirs of the deceased for their share—Nature of suit—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 106 107 and 110—Joint family property if exists in Mahomedan Law—Exclusion proof of necessity Two Mahomedan brothers carried on a joint business and one of them died nineteen years before suit leaving three sons and three daughters. Some properties were purchased out of the profits of the joint business in the name of the surviving brothers the latter subsequently carried on several other businesses along with two of the sons of the deceased brother and with a stranger who died more than three years before suit. The heirs of the deceased brother brought the present suit against the surviving brother and others to recover their share of the properties acquired out of the profits derived from the several businesses and their share of the money collected in the same. Held that the suit was one for an account and a share of the profit of a dissolved partnership and was barred under Art 106 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908). Under the Mahomedan Law there is no such thing as joint family property. If the members of a Mahomedan family succeed to property on the death of a relation each of them takes a share of each

MAHOMEDAN LAW—JOINT PROPERTY——contd

item of the property and a suit by such a member for a share is governed by Art 13 and not Art 127 of the Limitation Act Abdul Kader v Ikhama I L R 16 Mad 61 distinguished Mohr Deen Bee v Syed Vali Sahib (1910) I L R 38 Mad 1099

MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDGMENT I L R 40 Bom 28

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 38 All 627

—Acknowledgment of child as son—Illegitimate son—Zina—Son by adulterous intercourse cannot be legitimated Under Mahomedan Law a person can acknowledge a child as a son when there is no proof of the latter's legitimate or illegitimate birth and his paternity is unknown in the sense that no specific person is shown to have been his father. It is not permissible to acknowledge a child born of incest, fornication, adultery or incest. Muhammad Mahdad Khan v Mustafa I I R 19 All 959 followed MADANSAHEB v RAJAB SAHEB (1909) I L R 34 Bom 111

—Acknowledgment—Status of son born of a concubine—Admission in document—Conduct—Intention to legitimize—Presumption of marriage Where a child is proved to be illegitimate by reason of the marriage of his parents being disproved such a child cannot be rendered legitimate by any acknowledgment or recognition of legitimacy. Where an acknowledgment is alleged it may be shown that there was no acknowledgment either in fact or law that is that there was never an acknowledgment at all. Put an acknowledgment once made and proved cannot be rebutted. It cannot even be repudiated by the man who made it. There is no valid acknowledgment where it has been proved that there was a legal bar to the marriage of the acknowledged and the woman whose son the claimant of the legitimacy is said to be. Where there is no valid acknowledgment in the sense of an intention to confer legitimacy then the onus lies on the plaintiff who claims legitimacy to prove the marriage. On the other hand if acknowledgment is valid then the onus lies on the defendants denying the legitimacy to disprove not only marriage but also emulgence of marriage. If the marriage is proved there is no need to have recourse to the acknowledgment. If a marriage or an emulgence of marriage is disproved so as to establish that the plaintiff's use of ma then the alleged acknowledgment is not valid. If on the evidence the marriage and legitimacy are left in doubt then a valid acknowledgment is conclusive. Ikhlaful doul I I R 1 v Hyter Hossein 11 Moo 1 1 91 Muhammad Mahdad Khan v Muhammad Ismail Khan I I P 10 All 39 Muhammad Ali Khan v Lall Lejun I L R 1 S Cal 47 Dhan Loh v Loken Deb I L R 1 Cal 501 Mir a Siddik Hussain Khan v Hashim Ali Khan I L R 38 All 67 I C W 1 10 Atunna Sa v Karimu Sa I L R 2 Cal 130 Lagaat Ali Karim Sa I L R 15 All 396 Sadakat Hossein v Malomet Yusuf I L R 10 Cal 663 referred to HABIBI PANDAN CHOWDHURY v ALTAF ALI CHOWDHURY (1918) I L R 46 Cal 259

MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY—contd

Acknowledgment & Presumption—Proof of illegitimacy—Concurrent findings Under Mahomedan law no tatement made by a man that another is owed to be illegitimate is his son can make that other legitimate. If an acknowledgment is of legitimate sonship and that relation is possible in fact and law it gives rise to a rebuttable presumption that there was a marriage between the parents. Where a trial Judge gives his judgment upon a finding of fact and two of three Judges constituting the Appellate Court agree with the finding and conclusion the third Judge arriving at the same result upon a different finding of fact there are concurrent findings to which the rule of practice of the Board applies. HABIBUR RAHMAN CHOWDHURY v. ALTAUF ALI CHOWDHURY (1911)

I L R 48 Cal 836

Acknowledgment by father of a son & a female slave—Want of proof that no marriage had taken place between the parents The only question before this Court was whether or not the defendant S. K. was the legitimate son of one M. H. K. by Muhammadan Law. The facts found were that the mother of S. K. was a female or female slave purchased by the father of M. H. K. the marriage between her and M. H. K. was therefore improbable and not proved by the evidence. M. H. K. had however in March 1904 made an acknowledgment before the District Judge of Barisal to the effect that he had a son not by his real wife but by a female slave with whom he had gone through a ceremony of marriage and he asserted that on failure of issue from his real wife the issue of the aforesaid female slave would be entitled to succeed him. It had been admitted by the plaintiff that S. K. was the child of M. H. K. by the female slave. Held that the acknowledgment so made invited the son with a legitimate status with all the consequences which that imports and this could be disproved only by positive proof that no marriage took place between the parents and as there was no such proof S. K. was entitled to succeed to his father. M. H. K. Sadik Husain Khan v. Ha him Ali Khan (I L R 38 All 60, 651) (P C) followed. Muhammud Alahadad Khan v. Muhammad Ismail Khan (I L R 10 All 32) and Wil on a Digest of Muhammadan Law par 170 referred to. BERNARD ALI KHAN v. MUHAMMAD ALI BAKAR BEGUM

I L R 1 Lah 229

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MAINTENANCE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—CITY

I L R 88 M.L.J. 383

Case's Memo—Minor son right of to sue father for maintenance—Extent of maintenance & property granted where the custody of the minor child is with the father Maintenance is to be charged on property belonging to the father from his father's Cutchi. Minor son can claim no direct interest in his father's property. The plaintiff a minor under the age of seven years sued his father for maintenance and prayed that such maintenance should be a charge on the defendant's share in certain property left by the defendant's father. The plaintiff was the defendant's son by a wife divorced at the date of the suit. The parties were Cutchi. Ben on. Held that the right to sue the father must be determined by Mahomedan Law and that under Mahomedan Law a minor son was entitled to sue his father for maintenance even though the father was not entitled to claim the custody of the child and such custody was withheld from him. Held however that such maintenance should amount only to bare subsistence for the son and not to maintenance according to the condition in life of the father. Such maintenance could not be made a charge on the property left by the defendant's father as the parties being Cutchi Memons were governed by Mahomedan Law except with regard to inheritance and succession. MAHOMED JUSAN v. HAJI ADI (1911) I L R 37 Bom 71

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MAINTENANCE—contd

Shafi School—Maintenance arrears of—Whether recoverable in the absence of a decree or agreement to pay According to the Shafi School of Mahomedan Law maintenance is a debt and the wife is entitled to recover from her husband arrears of maintenance though there be no decree of Court or mutual agreement in respect of such maintenance. The distinction in this respect between Shafi and Hanafi school pointed out. Mahomedan Law Texts examined. MALANED HAJI v. BALINBI (1917)

I L R 41 Mad. 211

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

See MARRIAGE

Whether suit lies for breach of Contract of—

See CONTRACT

I L R 42 Bom 499

Restraint on marriage of a girl sui juris—

See CUSTOM—MARRIAGE

I L R 1 Lah 574

Whether Conversion to Islam dissolves marriage with a Chamar—

See PENAL CODE s 401

I L R 1 Lah 440

Dower—Marriage—Act 15 of 1860 (Oudh Laws Act) Held that the mere fact that a marriage was celebrated in Lucknow the parties being afterwards domiciled in the province of Agra was not sufficient to authorize a court in the province of Agra to apply to a suit brought by the wife against the heirs of her deceased husband for recovery of her dower the provisions of the Oudh Laws Act 15 of 1860. Za ker Begum v. Salina Begum I L R 19 Cal 659 followed. PATELA BEAM v. MUHAMMAD KAZIM (1910)*

I L R 32 All 477

2 Allowance to bride—Agreement by father in law of bride to pay annuity to her in consideration of her marrying to his son—Kharch-i-pandan—Pin money—Gift to sue of persons not party to agreement—Agreement on behalf of minors—Refusal to live with husband—Second tional agreement to pay allowance In accordance with an arrangement made between the defendant and the father of the plaintiff (then a minor) on the occasion and in consideration of her marriage with the defendant's son (also a minor) the defendant executed a document whereby he agreed to continue to pay the sum of Rs. 500 a month in perpetuity to the plaintiff for her pardan (bedel nut) expenses etc.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

from the date of the marriage &c from the date of her reception and rule the payment of the allowance a charge on certain immovable property specified in the agreement. The plaintiff's reception into her husband's house took place in 1863. The husband and wife lived together till 1896 when owing to differences she left her husband's home and resided elsewhere when the defendant stopped the payments. In a suit to recover arrears of the allowance Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the plaintiff though not a party to the agreement was entitled in equity to enforce her claim. The Allah Adin on 1 B C S 333 It was held in an action of assumpsit and decided on a rule of common law inapplicable to the circumstances of the present case in which the agreement was orally charged immovable property with the payment of the allowance and the plaintiff was the only person beneficially entitled under it. In India and among Mohammedans among whom marriages were contracted for minors by parents and guardians serious injustice might be occasioned if the common law doctrine were applied to agreements or arrangements entered into in connection with such contracts. Held also that the allowance for Mahr & pindar though having some analogy in its nature to the English pin money stood on a different legal footing arising from difference in social institutions. It was a personal allowance to the wife over the application of which the husband had little or no control nor were there obligations attached to it as was the case with pin money in England. On the terms of the agreement here the payment of the allowance was unconditional and under the circumstances the fact that the plaintiff had left her husband's house and refused to live with him did not bar her from recovering it. KHWAJA MUHAMMAD KHALIL HUSAIN BEGUM (1910)

I L R 32 All 410

Presumption of marriage—

Absence of direct evidence of marriage—Legal conclusion—Effect of such a presumption if alleged to be having been a prostitute when brought to alleged husband's house—Knowledge of woman as to fact—Marriages of girls in respectable men. In this case the appellant's success depended on his proving his status as the legitimate son of his parents. Held by the Judicial Committee (upholding the decision of the Judicial Commissioners Court) that there was no evidence of marriage between them and the presumption of marriage which might have arisen from their prolonged cohabitation did not apply because the mother bore she was brought to the father's house was admittedly a prostitute. Instances of alleged acknowledgment by the father of the mother as his wife said the fact that two of the appellant's sisters who were in the same case as to their legitimacy as he was were married to respectable men with due formalities were held under the circumstances in sufficient to affect the question favourably for the appellant. GHAZANFAR ALI KHAN v. KHANZ LALIMA (1910)

I L R 32 All 315

Marriage not performed through vakils—Requisites—Proposal and acceptance. In the case of a marriage amongst Mahomedan adults not performed through vakils it is essential that words of proposal and acceptance must be uttered by the contracting parties in each other's presence and hearing and in the presence of two male or one male and two female witnesses who must be male and adult Mohammedans and the whole transaction must be completed at one meeting. SABABI BIBI v. KANARUDIN SARTAR (1911)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

15 C W N 991

5 ——— Minor ward—Guardian for marriage necessity of consent of Court—Functions of Court in such case—Procedure to be followed by the guardian for marriage of Mahomedan infant—Guardian and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s 4 (2) (a) & 26 (1) sub s (1) cl (d) 42 sub s (1) cl (a)—Practice—Order of District Judge not applicable. In the case of Mahomedans the words disposal in marriage cannot be treated as included in the general words such other matters as the law to which the word is subject requires occurring in s 4 of the Guardians and Wards Act. In the absence of express statutory provision to this effect it cannot reasonably be held that the Mahomedan Law on the subject of guardianship in marriage has been abrogated by implication by s 24 of the Guardians and Wards Act. Where the District Judge of Birbhum in the matter of the disposal in marriage of a Mahomedan female minor in respect of whose person and property guardians had been appointed by him proceeded to select a suitable husband for the minor from the preliminary list of possible candidates prepared by his Hindu Nazir (the guardian of the property) in opposition to the selection of the guardian of the person (her mother) and of the guardian for marriage (her father's step brother) both of whom had initiated the proceedings Held that the proceedings before the District Judge had been throughout irregular. It was not the function of the District Judge to act as match maker. But a ward of Court could not marry without the consent of the Court. Eyre v. Shaftesbury 2 P Wms 104 Jeffreys v. Janes (last cited) Lynn Ch 141 Tomes v. Elers 1 D C 83 Subd dra Koer v. Dajadhar Goswami L C L R J 137 followed. Fai Didi v. Vot Karson 1 F R 27 Bora 109 disapproved. Held further (after laying down the proper procedure to be followed in cases of this description) that the choice had to be made in the first instance by the guardian for marriage and if on the materials before the District Judge he was satisfied that the marriage was not unsuitable he was to sanction it. Held also that the order of the District Judge was not open to appeal as s 47 cl (a) of the Guardians and Wards Act read with s 43 sub s (1) and ss 24 25 and 26 did not cover the case. MAHJAN BIBI v. DISTRICT JUDGE BIRBHUM (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 351

Shahs—Muta and nikah marriage different consequences—Proof of marriage —Cohabitation—Declaration by the man—Oppreciation of evidence in Trial and Appellate Courts when neither has seen the other—Circumstances of such cases call for special scrutiny—Examination of evidence by Judge of Commission—Deference to expert testimony—The right of a man to be married—Licence for a man only for plaintiff and for the balance for defendant. A muta marriage is according to the law which prevails among Shahs a temporary marriage its duration being fixed by agreement between the parties. It does not confer on the wife any right or claim to her husband's property but children conceived while it exists are legitimate and capable of inheriting from their father. A nikah marriage is a religious ceremony and confers on the woman the full status of wife and children born after it are legitimate. The term of a mula marriage may from time to time be extended by agreement. Where it was alleged by the plaintiff who claimed to be the only legitimate child and sole heir of M a Shiah Mahomedan that her (the plaintiff's) father M and mother A had lived together as man and wife for many years but that they were married in nikah from only 1½ years before her birth and it was urged in defence that she was illegitimate and that if she was legitimate so were two other daughters of M and A born before the plaintiff and that in the latter case plaintiff could recover one third only of the inheritance the claim of her sisters being time barred and in evidence the plaintiff tendered a deed of dower executed by the father at the time he was alleged to have contracted the nikah marriage in which however M had expressly declared that he had contracted mula with A in the beginning but now for reasons stated in the deed had married her in nikah form and examined witnesses who deposed to the marriage ceremony taking place on the same date and the Subordinate Judge (who however had not seen the witnesses examined) disbelieved the witnesses and held the deed to be a forgery but on appeal the High Court having before it additional evidence of considerable importance held that the deed was genuine and that the nikah marriage had been performed as deposed to by the witnesses. Held by the Judicial Committee after a careful consideration of the evidence that they ought not to reverse the High Court's findings, though they thought there were good reasons why both the deed itself and the evidence of the witnesses in question ought to be looked upon with suspicion and scrutinised with great care. The Judges of the High Court who came to these findings had necessarily a large experience in matters of this nature and the Subordinate Judge had no more opportunity than they of seeing and observing the demeanour of the witnesses and they on the other hand had evidence before them which was not before the Subordinate Judge. Held also on the evidence that if the deed were treated as valid and the plaintiff's witnesses as reliable there was considerable evidence that cohabitation of M and A commenced in a mula marriage and that in the absence of evidence to the contrary such marriage must be taken to have subsisted throughout the period which covered the conception and birth of plaintiff's sisters. That their claim as such being statute barred the expiration of the period of limitation would secure for the benefit of the defendant and not for the benefit of the plaintiff. SHOHIBAT SYED v. JAFRI BIBI (1914)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

19 C W N 225

7 ——— Marriage of a woman's natural son with her foster daughter—If valid. The prohibition of Mahomedan Law to the marriage of a woman's natural son with her foster daughter is absolute and not conditional upon the birth of a son and the suckling of the other occurring within a limited period. The principle of filio in utero is not in law a bona fide marriage which is not in law to be held as such.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—contd

Padma Mohun v. Hardai Bibi I J R 22 Mad 328 followed JAYAB ALI MIA v. NA ANADIN (1915) 19 C W N 897

8 ——— Marriage with a wife's sister during the continuance of first marriage—Whether invalid or wholly void—Legitimacy of the issue of such marriage. Under the Mahomedan Law the marriage with a wife's sister during the subsistence of the first marriage is only faisd (invalid) and not batal (void). The issue of such marriage is legitimate and can inherit. IZHARUSSA KHATOON v. KARIMUDDIN KHATOON I L R 25 Cal 130 dissented from JAFRI v. MOWLA KHAN (1917) I L R 41 Bom 485

9 ——— Marriage of girl of below the age of 15 after death of her parents—Uncle or grandmother is entitled to consent—Proof that she had attained puberty and consent to marriage in the absence of guardian's consent essential—Burden of proof—Legal evidence—Hearsay evidence objection to admission of—Hearsay statements recorded by Commissioner if should be allowed to be read in Court. According to Mahomedan Law a girl becomes a major on the happening of either of two events first the completion of her fifteenth year and second on her attainment of a state of puberty at an earlier period. The burden of proving that a girl has in either of these ways reached her majority rests upon those who allege it and rely upon it. And this must be done by legal evidence. The evil consequence of the admission of hearsay evidence is not merely that it prolongs litigation and increases its cost but that it may unconsciously be regarded by judicial minds as corroboration of some piece of evidence legally admissible and thereby obtain for the latter quite undue weight and significance. The reading of undoubtedly hearsay evidence recorded by a Commissioner who is not empowered to rule out evidence on the ground of inadmissibility disapproved. ATEKA BEGUM v. IBAHIM PASHID (1916) 21 C W N 345

10 ——— Validity of Marriage—Guardianship of minor—Power of mother as de facto guardian to alienate her minor children's interests in immovable property so as to bind the infants—Absence of entries in account books as evidence against validity of marriage where regular payments to other wives or shown by other entries—Production at first hearing of suit of documentary evidence relied on by parties—Civil Procedure Code 1908 O XIII r 1—Practice of Indian Courts in citing decisions of Foreign Courts. A wealthy Mahomedan died leaving widows two admittedly his lawful wives and children by each of them and a third one Z who claimed to be his married wife but the validity of whose marriage was disputed. She had two minor children and by a deed of 10th June 1906 without having been legally appointed their guardian she purported to transfer the shares of both herself and her children in the property of the deceased to the plaintiffs who used for a declaration of the title and status of their vendor and for a decree for possession of the shares covered by the deed of sale. As to the validity of the marriage of Z entries in the books of account of the deceased tendered in evidence by the contesting defendants (the sharers other than Z and her children) showed regular payments to the admittedly lawful wives but the books contained no entries of payments to

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE—cond

Z They were not admitted in evidence by the lower Court Held by the Judicial Committee (who held the books of account admissible) that there was clear evidence of a reliable character regarding the acknowledgment by the deceased of the children of Z as his legitimate issue which gave rise to a legal presumption of her marriage and that such presumption was not displaced by the mere inferences the contesting defendants sought to draw from the absence of entries in her favour in the account books. The marriage was therefore valid under the decision in Malatola Bidee v Haleemcozaman 10 G. L. P. 100 and Z and her children were entitled to their shares in the inheritance. Held also that Z had no power to deal with the minors' shares as she had done and that only her own shares passed under the deed of sale. By Mahomedan Law the mother is entitled only to the custody of the person of her minor child up to a certain age according to the sex of the child. But she is not the natural guardian the father alone or if he be dead his executor (under the Sunni law) is the legal guardian. Mala Din v Ahmed Ali 1 L. P. 34 Ali 213 L. R. 39 I. A. 49 referred to and discussed. On a review of the provisions and principles of the Mahomedan Law on the question of how far and under what circumstances a mother's dealings with the property of her minor child are binding on the infant. Held that one who has charge of the person or property of a minor without being his legal guardian and who may therefore be conveniently called a de facto guardian has no power to convey to another any right or interest in immovable property which the transferee can enforce against the infant nor can such transferee if let into possession of the property under such unauthorised transfer resist an action in ejectment on behalf of the infant as a trespasser. It follows that being himself without title he cannot seek to recover property in the possession of another equally without title. Ayderman Kulti v Syed Ali 1 L. P. 37 Mad 514 referred to and commented on. O XIII r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 requires the parties or their pleaders to produce at the first hearing of the suit all the documentary evidence of every description in their possession or power on which they intend to rely. But it does not exclude the discretion of the Court to receive any such documentary evidence at any subsequent stage. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee deprecated the practice in some of the Indian Courts referring largely to decisions of Foreign Courts to which Indian practitioners could not be expected to have access which were often based on consideration and conditions totally differing from those applicable to or prevailing in India and are only likely to confuse the administration of justice. IMAMRAHIM v MUTSADDI (1919) 1 L. R. 45 Cal 878

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIMENTATION
GUARDIAN—MARRIAGE

Minor—De facto guardian's powers over minor's property—Sale by mother for expenses of minors' education—marriage or for the discharge of proper family debts not binding. Under the Mahomedan Law the general rule is that the dealings of a de facto guardian of a minor with the minor's properties do not ipso facto bind the minor. The rule is however

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MINOR—cond

subject to exceptions. In cases of urgent and imperative necessity or where the transaction from its nature must necessarily be beneficial to the minor a de facto guardian can alienate the property of the minor whether moveable or immovable. According to Mahomedan Law sale of a minor's property by an unauthorized guardian even if it was not made for a valid cause is neither void nor voidable in the ordinary sense of the terms but is regarded as mangus or dependent that is in a state of suspense its validity or invalidity being determined by the minor adopting or not adopting after he has attained majority though the effect of his decision will relate back to the date of inception of the transaction. A person who chooses to buy a minor's property from a person who has no power to deal with it however bona fide his action may have been cannot invoke any principles of justice and good conscience to support the transaction itself though such considerations may be a good ground for the Court refusing to give relief to the minor except on condition of his restituting whatever benefit he has derived from the transaction. A sale by a mother of the minor's property for finding money for the marriage expenses of the minor's sisters or for the discharge of family debts and for other family purposes is not binding on the minor. AYDERMAN KULTI v SYED ALI (1912) 1 L. R. 37 Mad 514

Sale of minor's property by mother. The mother of a Mahomedan minor is not the natural guardian of the minor and if she is not his authorised guardian a sale of the minor's property by her not shown to be for his benefit or advantage is void.

1 Pat L J 188

Right to call minor's property—Necessity—Bona fide purchaser without notice. By a deed of conveyance dated 19th January 1901 one purported to convey on behalf of herself and her minor son the plaintiff certain immovable property to the defendant for the consideration of Rs 7000. On the same day N passed an indemnity bond in favour of the defendant indemnifying him against the claim of the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued to have the said deed of conveyance declared void and for the declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to the whole of the property to be conveyed. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed on the grounds that (1) there was absolutely no evidence that the sale was in any way necessary for the maintenance of the minor (2) the purchaser was not a bona fide purchaser without notice of the plaintiff's rights. The purchaser of an estate who takes with notice of a breach of trust is in the same position as the vendor who committed the breach of trust. LAKHBUDDIN v ABDUL HUSSAIN

1 L. R. 35 Bom 217

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT—WAKF

Mutawallihip of property annexed to a mosque—Right to succeed by principle of hereditary—Proof and validity of such right. Held on the facts of the case that the plaintiff who claimed to be the mutawalli of the plaintiff mosque by right of hereditary had not established by clear proof that that was the method of succession to the office and that he was there fore the lawful mutawalli. Held also as a valid appointment of a mutawalli could be made only in one of three modes viz (a) by the original author of the waqf or by some person expressly authorized by him or (b) by the executor of the author or (c) lastly by the Court any person claiming to be a mutawalli by hereditary must show by strict proof of precedents that that mode of appointment was one which must be necessarily deemed to have been sanctioned by the author of the trust. It is frequently provided that each mutawalli should have the power to appoint his successor where there has been a long established practice for the mutawallis to nominate his successor it is assumed (unless the contrary is proved) that power to do so was given by the founder of the waqf. But where from past practice it is sought to be established that the mutawalliship is to devolve hereditarily there must be something from which a rule of hereditary succession sufficiently precise or definite may be deduced and the mere fact that for some time prior to 1874 three persons from the family of the plaintiff were successively mutawallis does not show that mutawalliship devolved by hereditary in the absence of proof that they were not appointed or nominated by somebody. Sayad Abdula Edrus v Sayad Zain Sayad Hasan Edrus I L R 13 Bom 555 562 referred to. Per SADA SYA ATYAR J. Hereditary as a principle of succession to any office is highly objectionable. PHAT NABI v HAZI MUSA SAHIB (1913).

MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI—contd

I L R 38 Mad. 491

Mortgage of the office of a mutawalli of valid and enforceable in law—Such office is alienable at all. One Ahadali a priest of Peer Sahab mortgaged his right in the office to three persons and subsequently one of the mortgagees brought a suit against Ahadali a minor son to enforce the mortgage by sale of the mortgaged turn of worship. The latter too brought a suit for getting the mortgage set aside. Held that the office of a priest in such cases is not alienable and therefore the mortgage cannot be enforced. SAHED BUKSH v GOLAK NABI KRANDEAR (1918).

22 W N 996

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION

See PRE EMPTION

In Bulshar district—

See PRE EMPTION I L R 44 Bom 887

Sale by Mahomedan to Hindu—

See PRE EMPTION I L R 45 Bom 1056

Shafi sharik—Shafi i khalit—

Shafi i yar—Effect of perfect partition. When a mahal has been perfectly partitioned no right of pre-emption under the Mahomedan Law subsists in favour of the owner of one of the new mahals in respect of the other new mahal or any portion of it on the ground of vicinage alone. Mahadeo Singh v Mussamat Ze nun v nussa II W P 169 Sheikh Mahomed Hossein v Shaw Mohan Ali III L R 41 and Abdul Rahim Khan v Kharg Singh I L R 15 All 101 referred to. Nor will the fact that a village chaupal has remained undivided give the owner of either of the new mahals a right of pre-emption against the owner of the other as a shafi i khalit. Rahab Singh v Tahal Mus v 10 W R 314 and Sheikh Karim D Khan v Kamr ud-deen Ahmad 6 W P H C 377 distinguished. Abdul Rahim Khan v Kharg

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION—contd

Singh I L R 11 All 101 and Lalla Purag Dutt v Shaukh Bunde Hossein 15 W P 225 referred to. But a right of pre-emption as shafi i sharik may subsist in relation to villages in large estates equally with houses gardens and small plots of ground. Sheikh Mahomed Hossein v Shaw Mohan Ali 6 B L R 41 and Shaukh Karim Bulsh v Kamr ud-deen Ahmad 6 W P H C 377 referred to. MUNA LAL v HAJIRA JAN (1910) I L R 33 All 28

2 ———— Hindus in Bihar—Pre-emption—Customary right—Right of pre-emption—Co-sharers—Assertion of right of pre-emption—Delay in making—Power to perform ceremonies of assertion—Manager appointed by Court of Wards of estate of disqualified proprietor' under the Court of Wards Act (Ben Act IX of 1879)—Powers and duties of manager under section 40 of Act—Bans of right of pre-emption among co-sharers in undivided mahal—Sanction of Court of Wards—The Mahomedan Law of pre-emption has long been judicially recognised as existing among the Hindus in Bihar to which the district of Champaran appertains. Fakir Raut v Emambakh B L R Sup Vol 35 W R F D 143 followed. In a suit for pre-emption in respect of certain undivided shares in a number of villages comprised in a mahal the estate of the plaintiff was in charge of the Court of Wards as that of a disqualified proprietor under Bengal Act IX of 1879 s 40 of which provides that the manager shall manage the property diligently and faithfully for the benefit of the proprietor and shall in every case act to the best of his judgment for the ward's interest as if the property were his own. Held that the manager appointed by the Court of Wards was independently of the provisions of section of the Court of Wards Act competent on behalf of the plaintiff to perform the preliminaries essential to the assertion of the right to pre-emption though if in that case the validity of his action depended on the sanction of the Court of Wards their Lordships were of opinion that s 40 gave him full authority to act as he had done and in that view the adoption of his acts by the Court of Wards became unnecessary. A mahal is a unit of property and though all the villages of which it consists may be separately assessed for revenue purposes and each of the sharers may not have an interest in them all the sharers are all co-sharers in the whole mahal and jointly liable for the Government revenue. Each co-sharer therefore has a right of pre-emption against the other in respect of any part of the mahal sold by any of them to a stranger. After partition by the Revenue authorities each share so partitioned becomes a unit of property. JADU LAL SARKI v JANKI KOER (1912) I L R 33 Cal 915

3 ———— Survival of the action to executors and administrators on the pre-emptor's death—Personal action—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 89—Action personalis moritur cum persona. The right of pre-emption under Mahomedan Law does not abate at the pre-emptor's death but survives to his executors and administrators under s 89 of the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881). SYAD JAUUL HUSSAN v SITARAM BHAI (1911) I L R 36 Bom 144

4 ———— Shafi, right of—Delay in assertion—Waters—Right of pre-emption accrual of—General law to govern the incident of sale in apply

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION—contd

ing the law of pre-emption and not the pure Mahomedan Law Per CARNDUFF J The right of shafa cannot arise until there has been a sale to a third party for the right of shafa recognised by the Mahomedan Law is not the right of pre-emption known to the Roman Law that is to say the right arising out of an obligation on the part of an intending vendor to sell preferentially to the obligor if he offers as good conditions as any intended vendee but rather the obligation attached to a particular status which binds the purchaser from the person obliged to hand over the subject matter to the other party to the obligation on receiving the price paid by him for it The right accrues only when the property has passed from the original owner to a purchaser The general law which is paramount and has superseded the Mahomedan Law should govern the incident of sale in applying the law of pre-emption. Per RICHARDSON J Where possession is not given and the price is not paid till registration the right of pre-emption arises upon registration and not before Jadu Lal Sahu v Janaki Kori 1 L R 30 Calc 575 referred to Begum v Muhammad Yakub 1 L R 16 All 344 Ladun v Bhayro Ram 8 W R 255 Vajm un nissa v Ayub Ali Khan 1 L R 22 All 343 Ojessonwa Begam v Rustam Ali (1864) W R 219 Torul Komhar v Mussarut Achhee 18 W R 401 Kooldeep v Ram Deen Singh 24 W R 193 Sheo Tahul v Ramkoor (1864) W R 411 Brojo Kishore v Kirtee Chunder 15 W R 247 Jehanyir v Lala Bhikari 6 B L R 42 note Kanhai Lal v Kalla Prasad 1 L R 27 All 670 discussed BUDHAI SARDAR v SOVAULLAR MIRDHA (1914)

1 L R 41 Calc 943

5 ———— Hindus—Adoption of pre-emption as usage—Burden of proof—Ancient and invariable custom—Pre-emption a personal right not descendible to heirs—A custom cannot be proved by the admission of parties or their counsel In litigation between Hindus where one party alleges the adoption of a whole branch of the Mahomedan Law such as that of pre-emption and the other party repudiates the application of the foreign law it lies very heavily on the party alleging to prove that that law has been adopted as a usage and could be proved to have been so adopted by proof of ancient and invariable custom Such a party must stand or fall by the strict Mahomedan Law of pre-emption Generally speaking the right of pre-emption is a personal right which under the Mahomedan Law would not descend to heirs Per MACLEOD J A custom must be proved by evidence in the first instance and once it is proved the Courts are entitled to recognize its existence A custom cannot be proved by the admission of the parties or their counsel before the Court DARTABHAI MOTIRAM v CHUNILAL KESHORDAS (1913)

1 L R 38 Bom 183

6 ———— Sale—Demands—Assignment in lieu of dower debt If at the time of talab a maucasi but the pre-emptor has an opportunity of involving witnesses in the presence of the seller or the purchaser or on the premises to attest the immediate demand it would suffice for both the demands and there would be no necessity for the second demand. Yundo Prasad Thakur v Gopal Thakur 1 L R 10 Calc 1008 referred to HdL further that when property is sold by a husband to his wife in lieu of dower a suit for pre-emption can be maintained by a person entitled to a preferential

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION—contd.

right to purchase that property Fida Ali v Muza ffar Ali 1 L R 5 All 65 followed NATIRU v SHAHI (1915)

1 L R 37 All 522

7 ———— Question of law at what stage of case can be raised—Decree of nature—When Court should give notice of events happening after institution of suit A person who seeks the assistance of a Court with a view to enforce a right of pre-emption is bound to establish that the right existed at the date of the sale at the date of the institution of the suit and also at the date of the decree of the primary Court Ram Gopal v Piar Lal 1 L R 1 All 441 and Tafazzil Husain v Than Singh 1 L R 32 All 567 followed When a question of law is raised for the first time in a Court of last resort upon the construction of a document or upon facts either admitted or proved beyond controversy it is not only competent but expedient in the interests of justice to entertain the plea Connecticut Fire Insurance Co v Kavanagh (1899) A C 413 followed Ordinarily the decree in a suit should accord with the rights of the parties as they stand at the date of its institution But where it is shown that the original relief claimed has by reason of subsequent change of circumstances become inappropriate or that it is necessary to have the decision of the Court on the altered circumstances in order to shorten litigation or to do complete justice between the parties it is incumbent upon a Court of justice to take notice of events which have happened since the institution of the suit and to mould its decree according to the circumstances as they stand at the time the decree is made Ras Charan Mandal v Bano Nath Mandal 90 C L J 107 referred to NUBI MIAN v AMRICA SINGH (1918)

1 L P 44 Calc 47

8 ———— Kolaba District—A co-sharer selling his share to a Hindu purchaser—Applicability of the law of pre-emption by agreement of parties—Observance of the formalities of Talab, Mowca-bat and Talab—Ishlal before the completion of sale whether premature—Right of an administrator to continue the suit on the death of the pre-emptor pendente lite—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1911) s 89 S a Mahomedan owner of an undivided one-fourth share in certain Inam villages in Kolaba District entered into an agreement with the defendants on the 14th October 1908 for the sale of his share for P 30,000 the terms of the agreement being that if the owner of the three-fourths share (i.e. the plaintiff) was willing to purchase S's share and if S agreed to the purchase he should immediately return the amount received from the defendants On the same day a notice was accordingly served on the plaintiff by S asking him if he was anxious to pre-empt the quarter share On receipt of this notice the plaintiff on the 14th October performed the Talab & Mowca-bat On the 14th October the plaintiff through his attorneys wrote a letter to S declaring his intention to exercise the right of pre-emption and at the same time performed Talab & Ishlal The copies of S's notice and plaintiff's solicitor's reply of the 14th October were duly forwarded to the defendants and whilst the correspondence between S and the plaintiff was going on the former received the full amount of the purchase money from the defendants and executed a sale deed in their favour The plaintiff thereupon sued to recover the share by right of pre-emption. The defendants con-

MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE-EMPTION—could tended inter alia that the right of pre-emption could not be exercised against them as they were Hindus, that the property over which it was claimed was not a small one that the law of pre-emption was not made applicable to Kolaba District that the talabs performed before the completion of the sale were premature. On these facts Held (i) that the defendants were bound to comply with the plaintiff's demand for a transfer of the quarter share in the villages to him since it was clear from the contract and the subsequent correspondence that the defendants agreed with the vendor that the law of pre-emption applying between the vendor and his co-sharer should be applicable to the defendant's purchase (ii) that the action of the plaintiff in performing the talabs was not premature as the intention of the parties as to the date when the bargain was to be considered as concluded was the date of the contract itself (iii) that there was no limit to the size of the property of which pre-emption might be claimed by a co-sharer though there was a limit in the case of those who based their claim on vicinage. A question being raised as to whether on the death of a pre-emptor pendente lite a suit can be proceeded with by his administrator under s. 89 of the Probate and Administration Act 1831 Held that the suit could be proceeded with by the administrator as the relief sought namely conveyance of a share could be enjoyed by a personal representative after the death of the pre-emptor inasmuch as it added the property in suit to the estate of the deceased. SITARAM BHADRAO v. SAYAD SIFAJUL (1917) I L F 41 Bom 630

9 — Sale disguised as a lease—In order to defeat pre-emption—Device not permissible under the Mahomedan Law. In a suit for pre-emption whether the right is claimed under the Mahomedan Law or by virtue of a custom of pre-emption it is the duty of the Court if the question is raised to consider and decide whether the transaction in respect of which the claim is brought is or is not in substance a sale though it may be disguised in some other form as for instance in that of a lease. There is no rule of Mahomedan Law which renders it permissible for a transaction of sale to be framed as a lease so as to avoid claims for pre-emption. MUHAMMAD HAZ KHAN v. MUHAMMAD IDRIS KHAN (1919) I L R 40 All 322

10 — Though the Hindustan Surat have adopted the Mahomedan Law of pre-emption by a long established custom with regard to houses it is an open question whether they have adopted the law with regard to agricultural land. JAGJIVAN HARIBHAI v. KALIDAS MULJI I L R 45 Bom 604

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI

*Astar—Mutanur—Permissions office—Competency of women to hold or assist in such office—Right to perform fatwa—Rule of Mahomedan Law.* A religious office can be held by a woman under the Mahomedan Law unless the care duties of a religious nature attached to the office which she cannot perform in person or by deputy and the burial of establishing that a woman is precluded from holding a particular office is on those who plead the exclusion. Though there is no general rule of Mahomedan Law prohibiting a woman from holding a religious office prohibition may arise by local usage or custom. Imam Bee v. Molla Khasim Sahib (1916) 5 L W 296 followed. Salco Banco v. Aga Mahomed Jaffer Birdanum I L F 31 Cal 178 referred to. Held (on the facts of the case) that a woman was competent to succeed to the office of Head Mijver of the suit Astar. MUTAWALLI BEGAN SAHIB v. MIR MAHAPALLI SHAHIB (1918) I L F 41 Mad 1033

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE—contd

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Defence to suit—Cruciality. In a suit by a Mahomedan husband against his wife for restitution of conjugal rights it was found on issues remitted by the High Court that there was no very satisfactory evidence of actual physical cruelty but that the parties were on the worst possible terms and the reasonable presumption was that the suit was brought for the purpose of getting possession of the defendant's property. There had been a good deal of ill-treatment short of physical cruelty and the court was of opinion that by a return to her husband a custody of the defendant's health and safety would be endangered. In the circumstances the High Court refused to interfere with the decree of the Court below dismissing the suit. Armour v. Armour I A L J 318 referred to. HANID HUSSAIN v. KUTRA BEGAN (1916) I L R 40 All 332

Suit by husband for restitution of conjugal rights where he had entered into agreement that his wife should live permanently in the house of her parents—payment of dower—discretion of Court. The plaintiff sued his wife for restitution of conjugal rights and for an injunction against her parents and friends who were alleged to prevent her from living with him. On their marriage the plaintiff had agreed to the dower being fixed at Rs 500 without specifying what part of it was prompt or deferred and also that the girl should live for the whole of her life with her parents. Defendants pleaded that in the face of those agreements plaintiff was not entitled to restitution of conjugal rights till he had paid the dower of Rs 500 and could not claim that his wife should live with him at his house and not at her parents'. The first Court decreed plaintiff's suit and the Lower Appellate Court upheld the decree of the first Court with the condition that plaintiff before applying for execution shall pay 1/5th part of the dower fixed at Rs 100. The defendants appealed to this Court. It was found as a fact that the wife did live with her husband for a time at his residence and there gave birth to a child. Held that the agreement that the wife should live with her parents was not legal and could not be utilized to defeat the husband's claim for restitution of conjugal rights and that in any case the wife by living with her husband for a time away from her parents' house had waived the right if any, acquired under the agreement. Imam Ali Patwari v. Asfahanne sa (18 Cal W A 623) followed. Hamid un Nisa Bibi v. Zohr ul Din (I L R 17 Cal 670) referred to also. Ameer Ali v. Muhammad Law Volume II 1917 Edition pages 369 and 48-50. Tyabji v. Muhammad Law II Edition (1919) page 109 disapproved. Held also that the Lower Appellate Court in its discretionary power having fixed the part of the dower to be paid by plaintiff this Court was not prepared to hold that it had not exercised its discretion properly. Muhammad Fatima Bili v. Nur Muhammad I L R 11 Lah 597

MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS—contd

Direction by Court that conjugal rights should be exercised at the residence of the wife's parents is invalid. A Mahomedan husband executed a kabilnama in which the wife was given the right to leave her husband's house in case of ill treatment. There was ill treatment by the husband and the wife went to her parents' house. The husband sued for restitution and got a decree with a direction that such rights must be exercised in the house of the wife's parents. Held that the kabilnama was good but the condition of the decree bad. SABED KHAN v. BRATUNESSA Baji 25 C W N 588

MAHOMEDAN LAW—SALE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION

Whether complete without Registration—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 54 I Pa' L J 174

Sale of minors property by widow valid. The mother of a Muhammadan minor is not the natural guardian of the minor and if she is not his authorised guardian either a sale of the minor's property by her not shown to be for his benefit or advantage is void. SHAIKH PALA ALI v. SHAIKH WAZIR ALI I Pat L J 188

MAHOMEDAN LAW—SUCCESSION

See CUSTOM I L R 39 All 574

I L R 45 Cal 450

See KHOSLA I L R 38 Bom 449

See KUNJUPURA STATE OF

I L R 39 Cal 711

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889) ss 4 AND 7

I L R 32 All 235

Heirs holding as tenants in common—Suit by a heir to recover his share—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) Sec 1 ARTS 193 AND 144

I L R 45 Bom 519

Heir entitled to bring a suit to account and administration not bound to file a suit for partition—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 45 Bom 75

Succession by a Christian to the sons of a convert to Islam—

See ACT XIX OF 1850

I L R 1 Lah 376

Exclusion of female heirs—Custom excluding females from succession in Oudh—Limitation—Relinquishment—Stopped. If a Mahomedan of Oudh died leaving two widows B and I and his mother his estate passed first to his mother and on her death to his widows in equal shares. After B's death on 24th January 1889 I retained possession of the whole estate until her death in 1894. When mutation was effected in favour of the sons of the brothers of B and I a sister of B instituted two suits for recovery of her share. In the first suit the Subordinate Judge held that the succession was governed by the Mahomedan Law and that the custom of excluding female heirs was not proved and decreed the suit. The Judicial Commissioners affirmed their findings. Held that the concurrent findings of fact were fatal to the appeal. The second suit was instituted on 11th February 1903. The dispute related to the estate left by the plaintiff's brother Mularah who died on 7th February 1891 including in that estate the property he had inherited from B and his father. Held that limitation began to run against the plaintiff at once from the death of I and that therefore the suit was not barred. Held further that the plaintiff had not relinquished her claim nor was she estopped from presenting it. MUHAMMAD HAMID v. MUHAMMAD INTICHA FATIMA (1909) 14 C W N 59

MAHOMEDA I LAW—SUCCESSION—contd

Acquisitio per actum. Acquisition by member of family if to be presumed as acquired out of joint family funds—Appel. Two sons of a deceased Mahomedan and his widow inherited 4000 Rs. 4000 Rs. and 1200 Rs. respectively of his properties. The properties were however partitioned between them later on in equal halves by an arbitration award to which the widow was no party. The award specifically stating that the properties dealt with were the whole properties which were subject to division and that nothing more fell to be divided and provision being made for the grant by the sons of a maintenance allowance in money to the widow. After the death of the widow whom one of the sons predeceased Plaintiff the surviving son inter alia claimed his share in certain items of property which were excluded from the award and which had been acquired in the name of his deceased brother after their father's death as the property of his father and the widow's share in certain other items of property dealt with by the award and divided half and half between the brothers by the award as the widow's heir. Held—That the succession of a Mahomedan being an individual succession there is no presumption in the case of a Mahomedan such as exists in the case of a Hindu joint family that property purchased in the name of a member of the family was purchased out of joint undivided property. That prima facie therefore the property bought in the name of the deceased brother was bought with his money and the statement in the award established that it was. That the Plaintiff was estopped by his own proceeding in the arbitration wherein he received his full half of the properties belonging to his father upon the footing of the exclusion of the mother from claiming a share therein through his mother. MUHAMMAD WALI KHAN v. MUHAMMAD MOHTA DUT KHAN 24 C W N 321

Where one of the co-heirs of a deceased Mahomedan in possession of the whole or part of the estate of the deceased sells property in his possession forming part of the estate for discharge of debts of the deceased which sale is not binding on the other co-heirs or creditors of the deceased. ABDUL MAJEED v. KHEIR HANMACHARIAR

I L R. 40 Mad. 243

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST

1 ————— Revocation of trust—Wakf-Gift—Essential elements for validity—Power of revocation—General principles—Tested remainder
 In 1902 a Shia Mahomedan by deed conveyed certain immovable property to himself and other trustees for him, self for life and after his death for the payment of annuities to his widow and daughter and the balance to certain charities. Further clauses provided that on the death of his widow her annuity was to go to certain other charities and that on the death of his daughter a lump sum was to be given to her son. A further provision reserved power to the settlor at any time to revoke all or any of the above trusts. In 1908 he revoked the trust and executed a mortgage of the property. In 1909 he died and receivers of his estate were appointed. His daughter then filed a suit for a declaration inter alia that the revocation and subsequent mortgage were invalid and that the original trusts subsisted. Held that the conveyance in 1902 was invalid. Looked at from the standpoint of the Mahomedan law giver a private trust would be no more than a private gift inter vivos through the medium of the third party and therefore subject to all the conditions of a valid gift but quære whether private trusts were known to Mahomedan law. Enano Begum v. Mir Abed Ali I L R 32 Bom 110 discussed and distinguished. JAMABAI v. R D SETHAJI (1910) 1 L R 34 Bom 604

2 ————— Khoja Mahomedans—Settlement—Settlor himself trustee—No delivery of possession—Son born after Settlement—Power of Settlor to revoke settlement—Settlor's intention not carried out owing to Settlor's death—Power of Court in aid defective execution—Suit by after-born son to set aside settlement—Limitation Act (IX of 1905) s. 10—Pursuing trust back to Settlor—Adverse possession—Difference between estoppel and res judicata—Validity of Wakf contained in deed containing other gifts—Local usage cannot override Mahomedan Law—Pregnation—Vis Major—By an Indenture of settlement dated 7th January 1886 J P a Khoja Mahomedan purported to convey certain immovable properties to trustees for the benefit of his family. The trusts were in effect for J P for life and after his death subject to certain rights of residence and maintenance to pay the net income of the trust properties to N M for his life and in the event (which subsequently occurred) of the death of N M without leaving male issue to divide the trust funds into ten equal parts to be held in favour of certain donees, four tenths being given to himself. The Indenture also reserved to the settlor power to revoke or vary any of the trusts contained therein. There was no surrender of the property in fact to anyone except J P himself in his character as trustee for himself. The donor however opened an account in his books of the property as trust property. On the 26th October 1911 a record on the plaintiff was born to J P in response to J P being desirous of providing for the dependants and to vary the terms of the deed of the 7th of January 1886 and to re settle the same so that his two sons should share equally. A draft deed of declaration of new trusts was accordingly prepared by J P's attorneys and on the 24th of July 1911 was finally settled and approved by J P. An engrossment was thereupon made and duly stamped but on taking the engrossment to J P for his execution on July 20th it was found that owing to an error of the engrossingle several pages of it were missing. Another engrossment was prepared forthwith but on the same day before the new engrossment was ready J P died. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit to have it declared whether or not the deed of 1886 was a valid deed and prayed that the defective execution of the second deed might be aided by the Court and the provisions of the said second deed declared to be valid. Held (i) That the plaintiff was not time barred as against the trustees from bringing the action. (ii) That however retracted the gift was in form to J P it was in effect a gift absolute to him for life and that entirely irrespective of the power of revocation. (iii) That all the gifts in the trust settlement made contingent upon N M dying without issue were bad. (iv) That that portion of the instrument which purported to create a wakf in respect of four tenths of the settled property was bad and void. (v) That the gift was bad for want of contemporaneous delivery of possession. (vi) That this was a case if ever there was a case in which the Courts might act upon those principles which have always guided the Court of Equity in England and aid defective execution of a power defective not through any fault on the part of the person intending to execute it but by reason of an act of God and that the unsigned deed ought to be effectuated by the Court to the extent of making it binding on the conscience of the trustees Per Curiam. It is only in the event of the trusts or some of them being bad that the question of limitation can arise. For if a trust deed in its entirety is good then of course effect must be given to it irrespective of any question of lapse of time. Where what purports to be a trust deed turns out to have been entirely void and therefore not to have passed the legal estate the position of those who took possession believing themselves to be trustees but not in law real trustees necessarily assumes the character of possession by trespass and is therefore from its inception on in law adverse against all the world. Where however the trust-deed in itself is good and valid to the extent of passing the legal estate but the trusts declared are in themselves wholly or partially bad then there is a resultant trust to the author of the trust and the possession of the trustees whatever they might think of it and however they might intend to use it for the purpose of carrying out the bad trusts could not in law be adverse to the cestui à trust that is to say the grantor. Widely different is the case of trustees who obtain the legal estate from the author of the trusts to apply the beneficial uses to specified objects which may or may not be good. For then from the beginning there is always a relation between the author of the trusts and the trustees in whom his confidence has been reposed and there is always the legal possibility of a lex of another relation coming into existence between them where owing to the failure of the declared trusts there is a resultant trust back to the grantor who from that moment becomes in law the cestui à trust of the trustees. Where it was the intention that there should be an ultimate trust in favour of the grantor it is usual to express that on the face of the deed. A deed so framed as upon its very face to provide for the springing back of the trust fund or a part of it in certain events to the author of the trust does create what in all cases an express and resultant trust. The current of authority seems to have set steadily against the extension of section 10 of the Limitation Act to all cases of resultant implied or constructive trust. Where the ultimate resultant trust which is to spring back to the settlor is consistent with the discharge of the declared trust then it may by local use of language be said to be expressed on the face of the deed but when the extinction or failure of all the intended trusts is a condition precedent to the resultant trusts coming into being then the latter are clearly a true resultant trust and is not expressed and never can be expressed on the face of the deed. The answer to the question—What is the true position when declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust over to the settlor or his heirs—is to be found in the very elementary proposition that the possession of the trustee is always that of cestui que trust and therefore however he may think or wish to be holding as trustee for trust which have failed in the eye of the law he is really holding when the trusts failed as trustee for the settlor. Then the position is simply this so long as he retains and professes to retain the character of a good and legal trustee he is holding the legal estate as stakeholder for two claimants the intended beneficiaries of the declared trusts which have failed and the resultant trustee that is the settlor. And no length of possession by a trustee can be adverse to his cestui que trust as soon as that legal person is discovered and ascertained. So long as a trustee occupies the position of a trustee as soon as declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust in favour of the settlor the trustee's possession is essentially that of his cestui que trust and can only be changed into adverse possession by a conscious and deliberate act that is to say that he must repudiate all intention of holding for the resultant cestui que trust and he must assert his intention of continuing to apply the trust fund to uses which the Court has declared or which are known to him to have failed. Then his possession might become adverse to his legal cestui que trust and if that person did not take steps within twelve years he might not be able to avail himself under the Indian authorities of the provision of section 10 of the Limitation Act. Estoppel and res judicata are entirely distinct. Res judicata precludes a man averring the same thing twice over in successive litigations while estoppel prevents him saying one thing at one time and the opposite at another. It is consistent with the Mahomedan Law that a Mahomedan may devote his property in waqf and yet reserve to him self and his descendants in a very indefinite manner the usufruct of property. Jaira Bai v R D Sethna I L R 34 Bom 604 considered. The power of revocation is inherent in the donor of every gift so that expressing it as is usually done by English draftsmen in the voluntary settlements is merely surplusage and so far from invalidating the gift as a whole would necessarily be implied in it were it not expressed. Under the Mahomedan Law where a gift is conditioned by a power restricting alienation the gift is absolute and the condition is void. A gift to the donor him self for his life and then over to others could not be reconciled with any recognised principle of the Mahomedan Law of gift and must necessarily therefore so far as the remotest donees are concerned be had ab initio. Jaira Bai v R D Sethna I L R 34 Bom 604 followed. A vested remainder in the strict sense of the English words and a fortiori a contingent remainder could not possibly by any stretch of ingenuity be made the subject of a valid Mahomedan gift in cr vires consistently with the requirements of the Mahomedan Law on that head and for this very simple reason that no man can give possession in praesenti of that which may never come into possession at all. It is of the essence of a Mahomedan gift inter vivos that the donor should divest him self of the actual possession of the thing given and transfer it to the donee and if the donee does not take physical possession of it at the time of making the gift then till he does the gift is revocable. There is no authority to be found anywhere in the Mahomedan Law books then selves for the proposition that a man giving inter vivos may give an estate first to himself and then to A for life and then to B absolutely. It is undoubtedly a rule of the Mahomedan Law that where a donor makes a gift and accepts in exchange something whether that something be independent of or part of the original gift then the rest of the gift is irrevocable. No gift in futuro can be made by a Mahomedan inter vivos in order to validate such a gift there must be an actual delivery of seisin to the donee there must be a transfer of possession and that transfer of possession must be from the donor to the donee. While the Mahomedan Law insists that a gift to private persons should be free of all pious and religious purposes this does not necessarily prohibit the making of the gift to waqf which may be contained in a deed which makes other gifts at the same time to private persons. It appears to be the Mahomedan Law that a donor may give his property in waqf that is to say appropriate and dedicate the corpus to the service of God while reserving for him self a life interest in the usufruct. But as in the case of gifts to private individuals the Mahomedan Law never contemplated and will not allow a merely contingent gift in waqf. This necessarily flows from the juristic conception of a waqf which is the immediate appropriation and consecration of specified property to the service of God and the reservation of the donor's life interest in that property does not in any way clash with that conception for the corpus is there and then definitely and finally appropriated to its intended purpose. But it is plain otherwise while the gift is conditioned upon the happening of some future uncertain event. There can in such circumstances be no appropriation synchronizing with the declaration because should the future events happen it is neither the donor's intention then nor after the happening of that event that the property ever should be appropriated to the service of God. It would be passing the limits of the application of the maxim Lex et contractum vincunt legem if it were ought to be shown that the Mahojirs are allowed by local usage to override the Mahomedan Law which prohibits any Moslem from disposing of more than one third of his property by will (CAVALIER JAFARHATIR SIK CHURCHMAN LERAMIN (1911)).

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST—contd

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST—contd

MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST—contd

I L R 34 Bom 214

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAQF

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 190, s 92
(1) I L R 35 AJ 98

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL

I L R 43 ALL 508

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

See MUSSALMAN WAKF VALIDATING ACT
(VI OF 1913) s 3

I L R 39 Bom 563

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

6 Pat L J 218

See WAKF

1 ——— Valid wakf—Charitable object—Expenses of fatwa of execution—Burning lamps in mosque—Salary of Hafiz Held by BANERJI J (STANLEY C J dubitante) that a wakf by which a substantial portion of the income of the endowed property was appropriated for (i) expenses of the annual fatwa of the wakf of her husband and members of her family (ii) the annual expenses of burning lamps in a mosque and (iii) the salary of Hafiz and readers of the Quran was a valid wakf and that there was a substantial dedication of the property to religious or charitable purposes. Mahomed Ak. annulla Choudhri v Amar Chand Kundu I L R 17 Cal 498 Luchmitpat v Amir Alim I L R 9 Cal 176 Phul Chand v Akbar Yar Khan I L R 19 All 211 and Biba Jan v Asaf Hussain 6 All L J 110 I L R 31 All 136 referred to. Alaidoola Sahib v Nu-er-uddeen I L R 18 Mad 201 and Fahar ud-din Shah v Kiyasat ullah 7 All L J 1095 doubted. Per STANLEY C J—The general dedication of villages in the name of God is not sufficient to render the wakf valid in respect of so much of the property as has been dedicated expressly for specific objects which are not proper objects of wakf fatwa ceremonies and the reading of the Quran in private do not seem to be such objects. Mazhar Hussain Khan v Abdul Hadi Khan (1911)

I L R 33 All 400

2 ——— Performance of fatwa when a valid object of wakf—Wakf when illusory—Rule to be adopted when one of the purposes of the wakf fails—Provision for heirs invalid as a wakf—Validity of direction to accumulate in a wakf—The performance of fatwa (distribution of alms to the poor accompanied with prayers for the welfare of the souls of deceased persons) which so far as it involves the expenditure of any money, consists in feeding the poor is a valid object of wakf. A gift for the benefit of a man's own family or descendants will not be valid as a wakf and a gift really for such a purpose though ostensibly one for valid charitable purposes will be bad as only an illusory wakf. It can be no objection to the validity of a wakf that some provision is made for the donor's family, provided such provisions are not inconsistent with the gift being one substantially for charity. If however such provisions in a deed purporting to be by way of wakf exhausts the bulk of the income or are to last for an indefinite period the wakf will be bad as illusory. The fact that the donor did so direct the proportions in which the income should be divided between the charities and his heirs who were appointed trustees will not raise the presumption that he intended the heirs to take the whole. It must be presumed that he intended the charities and his heirs to benefit equally. Where a donor mentions several purposes as objects of charity, and one of such purposes fails then if a general intention can be gathered of dedicating the property to charity, the entire property will be devoted to the lawful objects if any mentioned in the deed and in the absence of any such to the poor whether or not any definite portion of the income has been set apart for the purpose which fails. A gift by way of wakf partly for valid charitable purposes and partly for the donor's heirs will not be void because the latter is not a legal purpose of a wakf. The wakf will be valid and the whole income will be devoted for the valid purposes. A provision for accumulation which will ensure solely for the benefit of charitable purposes will not be bad as offending the law of perpetuities. RAMANADHAM CHETTIAR v VADA LEVYAI MARAKAYAR (1910)

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

I L R 34 Mad 12

See I O T

I L R 40 Mad 118

3 ——— Sunni schools—Injunction between co owners—Mahomedan burial grounds joint interests in. The Court will refuse to a co owner an injunction to prevent the carrying out of a necessary work by another co owner upon property held in common. According to the accepted view of the Sunni schools which comprise the followers both of Imam Abu Hanifa and Imam Shafei it is in the very conception of wakf which is the name for a grant by which mosques and similar institutions are dedicated that all proprietary rights of men should be extinguished in the property so dedicated. KUTTALAH v MAMMANA RAYUTHAN (1912)

I L R 35 Mad 681

4 ——— Subsequent failure of title of wakf—Right of mutawalli to sue on indemnity bond executed in favour of wakf as purchaser—Right of plaintiff to shift basis of claim during suit—Practice. A purchased a village the vendors giving him an indemnity bond in case he should be dispossessed. A then made a wakf of the property purchased naming himself as mutawalli and after him his son. A lost the property as the result of a suit and subsequently (A meanwhile having died) M sued as mutawalli to enforce the terms of the indemnity bond. Held that the wakf was invalid and that M could not be permitted to change the character of the suit by claiming as one of the heirs of A. Per CHAMBERLAIN J—Even if the wakf was valid the mutawalli was not entitled to maintain the suit in the absence of a transfer to him as such of the vendee's rights under the indemnity bond. MAMMUD DIN v BALLABH DAS (1912)

I L R 35 All 618

4 (a) ——— Right to worship in mosques—Every Mahomedan who has a right to use a mosque for purposes of devotion is entitled to exercise such right without hindrance and can bring a suit against anyone who interferes but if he brings it in his personal capacity and not on behalf of the community the decision will be binding only as between plaintiff and defendant. RASCHANDRA v ALI MAHOMED

I L R 25 All 197

5 ——— Dedications subject to annuities—Payable to the Members of the settlor's family—Where a waqfnama provided that about two-third of the income of the property were to be paid as allowances to the wife and children of the settlor and only about a third was to be spent for religious and charitable purposes and it was further provided that the allowances to the wife and children would have to be reduced in the event of the income of the estate being reduced but there was no provision that the amount to be spent for religious and charitable purposes was to be reduced for any reason though the amount might be increased with the increase of the income of the estate. Held that the wakf was valid under the Mahomedan Law. GHANI MIA v ADAM PATARI (1913) 17 C W N 1018

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—con d

6 ——— Shia S c'—Wakf—Mar-ul-maut —Validity of wakf made in mar-ul-maut. Under the Shia law a wakf made in death illness is valid only to the extent of one third if not ascertained to be the heirs even if possession has been delivered by the make of the wakf. Asar Hussain v Fazeel Hussain 8 All L J 1154 approved Ali Husein v Fazal Husein Khan (1914) I L P 36 All 431

7 ——— Constitution of by deed of trust—Objects charitable and religious—Validity of wakf Where with the object of dedicating a house to the service of the Imams Hasan and Hussain and for other religious purposes the settler had conveyed the house to his grand daughter and his grand son on trust for the proper observance of the objects mentioned in the deed — Held that there was a valid wakf. Delroos Danoo Begum v Ashgar Ali Khan 10 B L F 167 discussed. Phil Chand v Ablar Yar Khan I L P 19 All 211 Biba Jan v Aalo Hussain I L P 31 All 130 Maabar Hussain Khan v Abdul Hadi Khan I L R 33 All 400 referred to PAM CHAIRMAN LAW : FATIMA BEGAM (1915) I L R 42 Calc 933

8 ——— Dedication for expenses of mosque—And maintenance of family members how far valid Where a person belonging to the Hanafi School of Mahomedan Law made a wakf whereby he provided for the payment of expenses of and in connection with a mosque and for regular monthly maintenance of the members of his family. Held that the dedication in connection with the mosque was valid but not so the provision for the payment of maintenance to members of the family. RAHMUNNISSA BIBI v SHAHEH MANIK JAN (1914) 19 C W N 76

9 ——— Res judicata—Decision in previous suit between same individuals but brought by plaintiff in another capacity—Decision of High Court on legal grounds declaring a wakf invalid conclusive in later suit even when not strictly res judicata Where in a suit by a creditor or representative of the wife of the original owner of property which the latter had made wakf before his death it was declared by the High Court on appeal on legal grounds that the wakf was invalid. Held that this adjudication by the High Court of the invalidity of the wakf was binding between the parties to a subsequent suit brought against the same defendant by the same plaintiff but suing now as the heir of the owner's daughter. MOHAMED BUKTI MAJUMDAR v DEWAN AJAY RAJA (1915) 19 C W N 987

10 ——— Founder herself mutawalli if may renounce office—And appoint another—Right of next in order of succession under original wakf to sue if arises immediately or on death of predecessor—Limitation—A mutawalli cannot renounce his office except in the presence of the founder of the wakf, but whether the founder is herself the mutawalli a renunciation by her to herself would be valid and the appointment by her of another mutawalli would be valid at least during her lifetime and limitation would not begin

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

running against the person next entitled to succeed to the office under the original endowment until her death. ABDUL AFOON MIA v HAJI KHUND KAR ALTAF HOSAIN (1916) 20 C W N 605

11 ——— Died providing for charitable purposes and also for support of grantors family—And descendants—Test whether deed is valid as a wakf or whether wakf is illusory—Property substantially given to charities the surplus to support family—Mus almaras Wakf I L R 17 Cal 498 L R 17 I A 23 Abdul Faal Mahomed Isahak v Rasimja Dhur Choudhury I L R 22 Calc 619 I L R 2 I 1 70 and Majumdar v Abdul Rahim I L R 23 All 232 L J 23 I A 10 23 referred to To determine whether any particular case answers the test all the circumstances existing at the date of the deed must be taken into consideration such as the financial position of the grantor the amount of the property the nature and the needs of the charity their probable or possible expansion the priority of their claim upon the settled fund and such like. It does not follow because the share of the income going to the family which may be a dwindling sum is for a time larger than that going to the charities that the effect of the deed is to give the property in substance to the family and that it is therefore invalid as a wakf. In the present case the sum devoted to the charities was not large though for the present it was abundant for their needs but having regard to all the circumstances of the case the dominating purpose and intention of the grantors in executing the deed was to provide adequately for those charities. That was their main and paramount object. The secondary and subsidiary object was to secure for their family and descendants any surplus that might remain after the needs of the charities had been satisfied. As the gift for the charities was perpetual it was necessary and right that the provision for sustaining any possible residue should also be perpetual. The provisions of the deed carry out these objects and in their Lordships' opinion the effect of the instrument is not to give the trust property in substance to the family of the grantors but to give it substantially to the charitable purposes named in it. The deed therefore was within the authorities a good and valid deed of wakf. RAMANANDAN CHETTIAR v VAYA LEVVAI MAPAKAYAR (1916) I L R 40 Mad 116

12 ——— Muta wakf—Jurisdiction of Court to appoint guardian in respect of wakf property—Guardians and Wards Act (111 of 1890) A Mahomedan died leaving two sons and a daughter all minors and having also constituted a wakf of a partly public private character under which one of his mutawallis. Held that it was D that Judge to appoint a partly death to be the

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

the duties of the mutawalli pending either the coming of age of the minors or the institution of a regular suit by some persons interested in the endowment to contest the arrangement made by him ERAZ AHMAD : KHANU BEGAM (1916)
I L R 39 All 288

12 ——— Validity of—Determining test—Annuity to destitute illegitimate daughter of founder's husband of charitable gift Where under a waqf a certain portion of the property was to go for objects religious and charitable but the main object was the benefit of the daughter of the settler and her successors Held that in the circumstances of the case the dominating purpose and intention of the grantor which is the true test in such cases was not to provide for charities That although the deed might not be wholly good it was competent for the Court to declare the charitable trusts constituted by the document to form a valid charge on the property That the annuity to an illegitimate daughter of the founder's husband who was destitute and unprovided was a charitable gift KARIMUNESSA CHOWDHURI : EKINA BANOO (1917)
22 C W N 566

15 ——— Appointment of mutawalli by tauhlatnamah—Testamentary character and validity of—Mahomedan Endowments Committee at Chittagong—Statutory body—Regulation XIX of 1810—Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1883) s 7—Doctrine of marz ul mauit Where A mutawalli of a mosque executed a tauhlatnamah a few months prior to his death in favour of B appointing him as his successor—Held that the Mahomedan Endowments Committee at Chittagong was a statutory body and its recognition of a person as the true and rightful mutawalli was authoritative Semle that according to Mahomedan Law a tauhlatnamah was capable of being construed as a document of a testamentary character speaking as from the moment of death also that when a person had a right or power under the law to appoint a successor and if he freely executed a tauhlatnamah as a testamentary document while he was of sound mind its validity could not be questioned SAYED MUHAMMAD v FATTEH MUHAMMAD I L R 22 Cal 324 I R 20 I A 4 Sayad Abdulla Edrus v Sayad Zain Sayad Hasan Edrus I L R 13 Bom 555 referred to SULTAN AHMAD : ABDUL QANI (1918)
I L P 46 Cal 13

16 ——— Illusory dedication—Muslims—Wakf Validating Act (VI of 1913) preamble and ss 3 and 4—Act not retrospective The Muslim Wakf Validating Act 1913 is not retrospective in its operation. If therefore a wakf purporting to be created before coming into operation of that Act is to be held valid it must conform to the law as established by the decisions of the Privy Council prior to the said Act that is to say the owner of the property the subject of the wakf must divest himself of it and appropriate it to religious or charitable purposes there must be a substantial dedication to religious or charitable purposes at some time or another there must be a substantial and not merely a colourable dedication of the property the religious or charitable purpose must not be so unsubstantial or illusory as to give to the settlement merely a colour of piety the real object being the aggrandisement of the settler's family JAHANNUMA v HILAL v SHAHIL MAJID Jan 12 C W N 46 Mahomed Bulth

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

MAYMUDAR v DEWAN AJMAN REJA I L R 43 Cal 158 and AMIR BIBI v AZI BIBI I L R 39 Bom 563 referred to NAIM UL HAQ v MUHAMMAD SUBHAN ULLAH (1918) I L R 41 All 1

17 ——— Office of mutawalli devolving upon an entire family—Division of the wakf property amongst the family—Right of some members of the family to sue for the setting aside of the transactions of other members relating to the wakf property By the terms of a wakf constituted in 1846 the original mutawallis were two nephews of the wakif the sons of his brother Thereafter the office of mutawalli was to descend to the family of the brother generation after generation without a break and without any separation for ever In course of time it happened that the office of mutawalli devolved on three brothers who for their own purposes divided the wakf property amongst themselves One of these brothers entered into various transactions relating to portions of the wakf property which were inconsistent with his position as mutawalli and there after attempted to resign office in favour of his sons The sons then endeavoured to get the transaction entered into by their father set aside but failed Subsequently three of the sons of the third brother their father having died meanwhile brought the present suit to set aside the transactions referred to above Held that as on their father's death the office of mutawalli devolved upon the plaintiffs jointly with their uncle they were entitled to bring the suit ALI MUQTADA KHAN : ABDUL HAMID KHAN (1919)

I L R 41 All 412

18 ——— Shia sect—Wakf created by trust deed—Ownership in property not divested from date of execution of deed Held that a trust deed executed by a Mahomedan of the Shia sect and his wife which purported to create a wakf but did not divest the executors in present of their ownership or power of alienation in respect of the property therein dealt with could not operate to create a valid wakf ALI RAZA v SANTWAL DAS (1918)
I L R 41 All 34

19 ——— Illusory dedication—Where it was conceded that the annual value of property dedicated by way of wakf was about a thousand rupees but it appeared that the expenditure needed to carry out the stated charitable and religious purposes would amount to only a small fraction of the annual income and were in fact so insignificant or so remote as to be illusory Held applying the test laid down in Munibunnessa v Abdul Rahim I L R 23 All 233 a c 5 C W N 177 that the document was not a valid wakf MAKRAM ALI KHAN v NIZARAT ALI (1919)
23 C W N 803

20 ——— Lease by mutawalli—Sanction of Judge (Ka) how obtainable—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 90 S 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure evidently relates to suits claiming any of the reliefs specified in sub s (1) thereof An application by a mutawalli for sanction to grant a lease is not a suit under sub s (1) of s 92 The application for sanction should be made to the District Judge if the property is situated in the mofussil or to the Judge on the Original Side of the High Court if it is within a Presidency Town It is not necessary to bring a suit for obtaining such sanction it will be granted upon a proper application being made by the mutwalli. Any application made by the mutwalli will of course be enquired into by the District Judge before sanctioning a lease as Ka : FAKRUZZAMMA BEGUM v. DISTRICT JUDGE OF 21 LARGANAS (1920) I L R 47 Cal 592

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

21 ———— Illusory—Chief object of wakf to make provision in perpetuity for the family—Wakf how far valid—Court whether concluded from taking notice of illegality of wakf when illegality not disclosed in pleading In a suit for recovery of the office of mutwalli and for possession of the properties covered by a wakf the Plaintiffs proved that the first Plaintiff might be declared to be the mutwalli appointed in accordance with the long-established custom and usage of the family and in conformity with the provisions of the deed of wakf or if in the opinion of the Court the first Plaintiff had not been validly appointed mutwalli the Court might issue orders for the nomination and election of the mutwalli by the members of the family and thereafter appoint the person so nominated. The Defendant denied the claim and alleged that he had been duly nominated and appointed mutwalli by his father. The Subordinate Judge dismissed the suit holding that the Defendant had been validly appointed mutwalli and that the alleged election of the first Plaintiff had no legal effect. On appeal it was pointed out that the gift to charity was illusory and the chief object of the wakf was to create a settlement in perpetuity for the aggrandisement of the family. It was urged on behalf of the Appellant that as in the Court below the parties had proceeded on the assumed basis that the wakf was good and valid this Court was not competent to determine whether this assumption was or was not well founded. Held—That the Court was in no way bound by the assumption made by the parties as to the legality of the wakf in question and could not be invited by either of them to adjudicate upon their claim in relation thereto. Wakf of this character had been pronounced invalid by the highest judicial tribunal as contrary to public policy. If the illegality of a transaction is brought to the notice of the Court the Court will not assist the person who invokes its aid even though the Defendant has not pleaded the illegality and does not wish to raise the objection. Connolly v. Consumers Cordage Co. 2 Beauchamp P C 49 89 I T 317 (1903) Scott v. Brown [1897] 2 Q B 774 Jedge v. Royal Exchange Corporation [1900] 2 Q B 214 Poyal Exchange Assurance Corporation v. Sjoeforskring [1902] 2 K B 384 Thomas v. Day [1905] 21 T L R 272 and Luckett v. Wood [1908] 21 T L R 617 referred to. NAWABZADA KHANJAH ATIKULLA : NAWAB KHANJAH HABIBULLA 24 C W N 306

22 ———— Sunnis—Wakf—Deliver of possession essential. According to the Mahomedan Law of the Hanafi school it is essential to the validity of a wakf that the wakf should actually give himself of the property to be made wakf. Muhammad Ali ud din Ahmad v. The Local Government [1915] 1 L R 15 All 301 followed. MUHAMMAD YUNUS : MUHAMMAD ISHAQ KHAN I L R 43 All 487

23 ———— Whether a wakf can cancel the dedication subsequently—And whether a house can be dedicated for purposes of prayer—

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd.

Contingent dedication—wakf made exclusively for use of a particular sect—whether valid One Chittu a member of a peculiar sect of Muhannadans called Al : Quran or Chakrala purchased a house and on 23rd May 1903 executed a wagfnama by way of a will and declared the property wakf for the use of his sect and appointed himself as its mutwalli. The wakf was to be acted upon after his life time and after his death mutwallis were to be elected to manage the wakf. On 10th March 1905 he executed another document in which he made the wakf more complete and having given up his mutwalliship placed the property in possession of certain persons who were appointed mutwallis. In the first wagfnama there was a direction that a mosque should be erected to carry out the objects of the wakf but he consecrated the house itself for the purpose of prayers and the recitation of the Quran. The newly appointed mutwallis failed to obtain a site for the building of a mosque and so they appointed Chittu again as mutwalli of the wakf in the hope that by his influence a site might be secured. When Chittu came into the possession of the wakf property he apparently changed his mind and began to deal with the property as his own. He made transfers and leases and gifted part of the house to his wife. Thereon the other mutwallis removed him from the mutwalliship and he accepted his dismissal on 3rd June 1909. In November 1911 he died and his legal heirs took possession of a portion of the wakf property. The mutwallis then instituted the present suit against the heirs for a declaration that the property being wakf the defendants had no right to any portion of it. Held that the second wagfnama followed by possession being given to the mutwallis created a valid and binding wakf in the life time of Chittu which could not be invalidated by Chittu's subsequent acts. Held also that on a proper construction of both the wagfnamas it was not a condition of the dedication that a mosque should be built the house itself having been constituted as a wakf property in the wakf's life time and having been used as a house of prayer by the followers of the sect ever since. It could not therefore be said that the wakf never came into existence or that it was a contingent one dependent on the fulfilment of the condition of building a mosque. Held further that according to Mahomedan Law any place which is dedicated for the purposes of prayer may validly be treated as a mosque and it is not necessary that the building should have a minaret. Held lastly that the fact that Chittu in both wagfnamas expressed a wish that only the Al : Quran should perform their prayers in the house could not invalidate the wakf which was made according to the rules of Mahomedan Law and the house must be treated as having become the property of God. Where a wakf has been validly made exclusively for the use of a particular sect the wakf is good and the condition attached to it is void. Ala Ullah v. Asim Ullah (1 L R 15 All 444) (1901) F B Fer Edge C J referred to. Abdus Sultan v. Kuran Ali (1 I L R 30 Cal 901) Fatra Eili v. The Adreacat General of Pombay (1 I L R 6 Bom 47) Mahomed Pu tam Ali Khan v. Muhammad Mustaq Husain (35 Indian Cases 715) and Kuttayan v. Mamunna Rautan (18 Indian Cases 195) discussed. MATLA BAKH H R ALAM UD DIN I L R 1 Lah 317

4

1
2
3
4
5
6
7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16
17 18 19 20 21
22
23 24
25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42
43 44 45
46 47 48
49
50 51
52 53
54
55
56 57 58 59 60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70 71
72 73
74
75 76
77
78
79 80
81
82 83
84
85
86 87
88 89
90
91 92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99 100 101
102
103
104
105
106
107
108
109
110
111
112 113
114
115
116
117
118
119
120 121 122
123
124 125 126
127 128
129
130 131
132
133
134 135
136
137
138
139
140
141 142
143 144
145
146
147 148
149
150 151 152
153
154 155 156 157
158
159
160 161
162 163
164
165 166
167
168 169
170
171
172 173
174 175
176 177
178
179
180 181
182
183
184
185
186
187
188
189
190
191
192 193
194 195
196
197
198
199 200 201 202 203 204
205
206 207
208 209
210 211
212 213 214
215
216
217 218
219
220
221
222
223
224
225
226 227
228 229
230 231
232 233 234 235
236
237 238 239
240 241
242
243 244
245 246
247
248
249
250 251
252 253 254
255
256
257
258
259
260 261
262
263 264
265
266
267
268 269
270
271 272
273
274
275
276
277
278
279
280
281 282
283 284
285
286
287
288
289
290 291
292
293
294 295 296
297
298
299 300
301 302
303 304
305
306
307
308 309
310
311
312
313
314 315
316
317
318
319
320
321 322
323
324 325
326
327
328
329
330 331
332
333
334
335
336
337 338
339 340
341
342
343
344 345 346 347 348 349
350 351
352
353 354
355
356
357
358
359 360 361
362
363
364 365
366
367
368
369
370
371
372 373 374
375
376
377
378
379
380
381
382
383
384
385
386
387
388
389
390
391
392
393
394
395
396
397
398 399 400
401
402
403 404
405
406
407
408
409 410
411 412
413
414
415
416
417
418
419
420
421
422
423 424
425 426 427
428 429 430 431
432 433
434
435
436
437
438
439
440
441
442 443
444
445
446
447
448 449
450
451
452
453 454
455
456 457 458
459
460
461 462
463 464
465
466 467
468 469 470
471 472
473
474 475
476 477
478
479
480
481
482 483
484 485 486
487
488
489
490
491
492 493 494 495
496
497
498
499 500 501 502
503 504
505
506
507
508
509
510
511
512
513
514
515 516
517
518
519
520 521 522
523
524
525
526
527
528
529
530 531 532
533
534 535
536
537
538
539
540
541
542
543 544
545
546 547 548 549
550
551 552 553
554
555
556 557
558 559
560
561 562
563
564
565
566
567
568 569 570
571
572 573 574
575
576
577
578
579 580 581
582
583
584 585 586
587
588
589
590
591
592
593
594
595
596
597
598
599
600
601
602 603
604
605
606
607
608
609
610
611
612 613
614
615
616
617
618 619
620
621 622
623 624
625
626 627
628
629
630 631
632 633 634
635
636
637
638 639
640
641
642 643
644 645
646
647
648
649
650
651
652
653 654
655
656
657 658
659 660 661
662
663
664 665
666
667
668
669
670
671
672
673
674 675
676
677
678
679
680
681
682 683
684 685
686
687
688 689 690
691
692
693 694 695 696
697 698
699
700 701
702
703
704
705
706
707
708 709 710
711 712
713 714
715
716
717
718
719
720
721 722
723
724 725
726 727
728 729
730 731
732
733 734
735
736 737 738
739
740
741 742
743
744 745 746
747 748
749
750
751
752
753
754
755
756 757 758 759
760
761
762
763 764
765
766
767
768
769
770 771
772
773
774
775
776
777 778
779
780 781 782 783 784
785 786
787
788 789 790 791
792 793 794 795 796
797 798
799 800
801
802 803 804 805 806
807
808
809
810
811 812
813
814 815
816
817
818
819
820 821
822 823
824
825 826
827 828 829
830 831
832
833 834 835
836
837
838
839 840
84

11

1.

1

1

1

11

20

44 19 8

$\begin{array}{c} \text{r} \\ \text{p} \\ \text{t} \\ \text{d} \end{array}$

1

1

38

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF—contd

24 ——— Sanction to a will—Jurisdiction
Islamic On an application made by the Muawalla to a will for sanction to sell wakf property Her that there being no statute authorising such an application such sanction could only be obtained by means of a suit In re
HAFIZA KHATUN

I L R 37 Cal 870

25 ——— Muslims Islamic 1st (11 of 1913)—Continuation for support and maintenance of family—How far valid—Wakf
 —If wakf property be mortgaged at the time of disposition with the wakf estate—Whether valid in case of possession with the wakf estate —Wakf affects estate of the property—Whether valid in case of possession with the wakf estate —Question when one of fact only and when one of law and fact In a will although provision is made for the maintenance and support of the family children and descendants of the mortgagor if the ultimate benefit is reserved for the poor and for other purposes recognised by the Mahomedan law as religious pious or charitable purposes of a permanent character then the validity of the provisions of the will for the maintenance and support of the family children and descendants of the mortgagor is not affected by the fact that the property mortgaged was under a mortgage at the time of execution of the endowment and that provision was made in the will for the discharge thereof It does not render the endowment invalid under the Mahomedan law According to the Calcutta High Court a valid will is created by declaration of endowment by the owner and delivery of possession is not essential Where the mortgagor had appointed himself as the first mutawalli no formal delivery of possession from himself was a prerequisite to the validity of the will and even if transmutation of possession was necessary no formal delivery was essential A Muslim who is in Mar ul maat or death illness cannot make a valid disposition of more than one third of his property after payment of funeral expenses and debts and if he purports to make a will in such illness unless his heirs consent the will will affect only one third of his estate and will be invalid in respect of the excess notwithstanding that possession of the entire property dedicated has been delivered to the person nominated Mutawalli In order to establish the existence of death illness there must be at least three conditions with regard to the illness which has caused death (a) proximate danger of death so that there is a preponderance of apprehension of death (b) there must be some degree of subjective apprehension of death in the mind of the sick person and (c) there must be some external indicia such as inability to attend to ordinary vocations Whether or not a particular illness constitutes Mar ul maat is primarily a question of fact but may sometimes be a mixed question of law and fact for instance where the question arises whether the facts found as to the physical condition of the deceased at the date of the execution of the deed constitute the essential elements of Mar ul maat as formulated by Maho-medan jurists Bibi Jivvira KHATUN v. MOH- AMED FAKIRULLA

26 C W N 749

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

—Share property—widows power of alienation—

See WASTE

I L R 44 Bom 727

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW—contd

Claim to dower—Rights of widow in possession—lies of dower—Proof of consent of husband or heirs not necessary A Maho-medan widow to whom dower is due who enters into possession of her husband's property on his death is entitled to hold the estate against the other heirs until her claim to dower is satisfied subject to her liability to account for the profits which she may receive while so in possession It is not necessary for her to show that the deceased husband or his heirs consented to her getting into possession Amir ul un nissa v. Bashir ul nissa I I P 17
All—disented from Musamat Be'ce Barhwa
v. Sheikh Hamid Hossain 11 Moo I 4 317
Amir ul un nissa v. Mowaloon nissa 11 Moo I 1 11 and Imam Begum v. Muhammad Karim ulah
 I I P 16 (11) referred to IMAM ALI
KHAN v. A GHANI PETAM (1910)

I L P 32 All 563

Power—Right of widow to remain in possession of property of her husband—Such right heritable The right of a Mahomedan widow who has entered into possession of her husband's property peacefully and without fraud in lieu of her dower debt is a heri-table right and her heirs are entitled to remain in possession until the debt is satisfied Ali ulah
Khan v. Ahmad Ali Khan I I R 7 All 333 followed Imam ul nissa v. Bashir ul nissa I L I 17 All—doubted Musamat Be'ce
Barhwa v. Sheikh Hamid Hossain 11 Moo
 I 4 317 Mahomed ul Usud ulah Khan v.
Musamat Ghaziera Beebe 1 Agr 100 Mu- samat Kammur ul nissa Begum v. Mahomed Hussain 1 Agr 37 Musamat Halid ul nissa
v. Musamat Shulratun 6 B L R 54 Ahmad
Hossain v. Musamat Khodeja 10 W P C R
 369 Gyud Paganet Hossain v. Dooli Chand L R
 5 I 4 211 Ali Muhammad Khan v. Ali ulah
Khan I L P 6 All 50 Ayuba Begum v. Na'ir
Ahmad Ali Weekly Notes (1890) 115 Hadi Ali v.
Abbar 11 I L P 20 All 26° and Munassar Ali
Khan v. Iarabi I L R 29 All 640 referred to ALI BAKSH v. ALLAHABAD KHAN (1910)

I L P 32 All 551

In possession of husband's property in lieu of dower—Rights of widow—
Transfer by widow—What acquired by transferee— Limitation—Act No IX of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act) See I art 134 Where a Muhammadan widow is in possession of property belonging to her deceased husband in lieu of dower it is competent to her to sell it without necessarily selling her right to receive her dower Such a transfer conveys to the transferee the right to remain in possession during the widow's life time or until the widow's dower or the proportionate part thereof corresponding to the property transferred is satisfied Mohammad Hussain v. Bashiran
 12 A L J 1141 distinguished Musamat
Kammur ul nissa Begum v. Mahomed Husain 1 W P H C Rep 1866 237 and Ali Baksh
v. Allahabad Khan I L P 32 All 551 referred to ABDULLA v. SHAMS UL HAQ

I L R 43 All 127

—Share taken by as sole heir—
 Where a Mahomedan dies leaving a widow as his sole heir the widow will take one fourth of her share and the remaining 3/4 by the Government the surplus 1/4 does not escheat to the Government

I L R 44 Bom 949

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL.

See PROBATE. 15 C W N 185

See WILL. I L R 43 Bom 641

Request to a Mahomedan—Effect of—

See PROBATE IN OVERTURE ACT 190

s 16. I L R 42 All 593

1. — Probate—Will admissibility of in evidence without probate—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1851) s 4—Succession Act (1 of 1865) s 187—Hindu Wills Act (1 of 1860) s 2 here is no provision of law rendering it obligatory in the case of a Mahomedan will to take out probate. After due proof a Mahomedan will is admissible in evidence notwithstanding that grant of probate has not been obtained. Fatma v Shait Ali 1 L R 7 Bom 766 not followed. Shait Ali v Shait Ali 1 L R 8 Bom 741 followed. Kheramoney Das v Durgamoney Das 1 L R 4 Cal 400 Administrator General v Premal Mullick 1 L R 10 Cal 119. Sarat Chandra Banerjee v Bhupendra Nath Banerjee 1 L R 2 Cal 103. Bhogwanth Dharaj v Behardas Harjandas 1 L R 6 Bom 73 and Surbomungala Dabee v Mohandranath Nath 1 L R 4 Cal 508 referred to. SAEYIA BIBEE MAHOMED (1894 1910) I L R 37 Cal 879

2. — Legacy—Limitation Act (1 of 1887) Art 123—Suit to recover legacy—Legacy not as entailed by executor—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881) s 112—Shah's Will—Bequest for Gadi ul khum feast—Fattiah dinners—Lahid tequei—Cyprus Article 123 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act 1877 applies to a suit where the substantial claim is to recover a legacy even though not assented to by the executor and whether or not the suit involves the administration of the whole estate. A Shah Mahomed directed his executors by his will to spend a portion of the income of his property upon the following charitable or religious objects: (i) The Gadi ul khum feast at Mecca (ii) The Gadi feast at Rahmanpura in Surat and (iii) A Fattiah dinner on the testator's and his wife's account. The Gadi feasts were to celebrate the appointment of Ali as successor of the Prophet. Held that the first two bequests were valid but the validity of the third bequest was doubtful. Kaleoolo Sahib v Nusser udeen Sahib 1 L R 18 Mad 901. Zoolaka Bibi v Zynul Abedin 6 Bom L R 1058 and Bida Jan v Kalb Hussain 1 L R 31 All 106 followed. Where the testator has indicated a general charitable intention in the bequest made by him and if the bequests fail, the Court can devote the property to religious or charitable purposes according to the Cyprus doctrine. SALETHAI ABDUL KADER v DAI SAPIANU (1911) I L R 36 Bom 111

3. — Bhagdari property—Will in favour of widow and daughter—Suit by a residuary heir of the testator for a declaration that the will was invalid—Bhagdari custom—Testamentary capacity of the owner—Rule of Mahomedan Law to be applied—Validity of the will. A Mahomedan Bhagdar made a will by which he purported to dispose of his entire property including Bhagdari property in favour of his widow and daughter. The plaintiff who was the residuary heir of the testator never consented to this form of the will. He therefore sued for a declaration that the will was invalid under Mahomedan Law so far as the Bhag property was concerned and that he was entitled to succeed to it after the death of the widow under the Bhagdari custom. The question being raised as to what was the rule which regulated the testator's power to make the will. Held that the rule of Mahomedan Law was the only law which could be applied and according to it the will was invalid. The plaintiff was therefore the presumptive reversioner under the Bhagdari custom. AHMAD AHMAD & BAI DINI (1916) I L R 41 Bom 377

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL—contd

3(a) — Mother as de facto Guardian—If competent to alienate property of infant children—Intend of infant wife and child to set aside—Suit for recovery of property—Limitation Act (IX of 1881) s 17—A Mahomedan died leaving his widow and infant children. He had debts and to satisfy the decree obtained by one of the creditors against some of the heirs the widow acting on her own behalf and on behalf of her minor children sold a certain property and made over delivery of possession. The other creditors took no steps to enforce their debts by suits. The children on attaining majority sued jointly with the widow to recover possession of the property on declaration of title. Held that as laid down by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Imambandi v Mutuuddi 1 L R 40 J A 73 s 1 L R 45 Cal 378 23 C W N 10 (1918) a mother has not power under the Mahomedan law to alienate or charge immovable property as de facto guardian of her infant children. If such an alienation is made it is not necessary for the infants to have it set aside within three years after attainment of majority under Art 44 of the schedule to the Limitation Act because the alienation must be deemed to have been effected not by a guardian but by a wholly unauthorized person. The infant whose property has thus been alienated is consequently entitled to institute a suit for recovery of possession within twelve years from the date of sale or within three years from the attainment of majority whichever may be the later date. That the decree for possession in favour of the plaintiffs should be conditional on repayment of a proportionate share of the ancestral debts which were payable out of the assets left by the original debtor and each heir with the exception of the widow who was competent to sell her own share and could not subsequently ignore her act was liable to satisfy the debt to the extent of the assets in his share. That the suit must fail so far as the plaintiff who attained majority more than three years before the sale having taken place fourteen years before. LALOO HARIKAR v JAGAT CHANDRA SANA

25 C W N 258

4. — Bequest's to heirs and to strangers—Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXXI r 4—Legal representative—Alienation of suit in giving effect to the will of a Mahomedan which contains bequests to heirs and also to strangers the principle to be followed is that the bequests to the heirs will be invalid unless in each case they are as entailed by the other heirs but the bequests to the strangers will be valid to the extent of one third of the testator's property. Held also that an application to bring upon the record as representative of a deceased defendant a person who is not in fact such representative will be of

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL—concl'd

no avail to save the running of limitation in favour of the person who really is the legal representative MUHAMMAD JUMAID v. AULIA BIBI

I L R 42 All 497

5 ——— Construction of document. A Muhammadan lady by her will devised certain property to her two brothers enjoining them to all the same and with the proceeds erect a mosque. The will however provided further that if the devisees preferred to keep the property themselves they could do so if they devoted the value of the property (given in the will at Rs 2500) to the construction of a mosque. Held on a construction of the will that the waqf created thereby was a waqf of the value of the property and not of the property itself and would not render the property exempt from sale in execution of a decree against the devisees. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL v. MUHAMMAD ISHAQ

I L R 43 All 508

6 ——— Will in favour of minor son with gift over in case of his death—effect of consent of minor's sisters—family arrangement. One M A S on 15th December 1907 made a will and died on 30th December 1907 leaving two daughters Muhammad S B and Uul B and an infant son W A S. By the will M A S devised all his property to his son W A S and he declared that in the event of his death his nephew H A S who was married to his daughter Muhammad Uul B should succeed to the entire estate. Both the daughters attested the will in token of their consent and they also expressed their assent to the will subsequent to the death of M A S. On the 10th April 1910 the son died and Muhammad S B then sued for her share in the property. Held that the will though originally invalid under Muhammadan law was validated by the daughters' assent to the will subsequent to the death of M A S and their infant brother W A S consequently took a vested and absolute interest in the estate devised to him by his father. Held also that the bequest over after the son's death in favour of H A S the testator's nephew was repugnant to Muhammadan law and could not be given effect to. Abdul Karim Khan v. Abdul Qayum Khan (I L R 28 All 312) followed. Held further that the consent of the daughters to the will was not given as a family arrangement and plaintiff was not estopped from claiming her share. Muhammad Nuras Bibi v. Gulam Hussain Shah (20 P L R 1901) and Muhammad Umar Ali v. Amman Ali (251 I L R 1911) distinguished. NASIR ALI SHAH v. Muhammad SUMRA BIVI

I L R 1 Lah 302.

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WORSHIP

Wahf—Right of Mahomedans to worship in mosques—Suit by individual Mahomedans whose right is infringed—Civil Procedure Code 1908 O I r 8. Every Mahomedan who has a right to use a mosque for purposes of devotion is entitled to exercise such right without hindrance and is competent to maintain a suit against anyone who interferes with its exercise but if he brings his suit in his personal capacity and not on behalf of the whole Mahomedan community the decision will be binding only as between the plaintiff and the defendant and cannot be taken advantage of by or be binding on the Mahomedan community in general. Jawahar v. Altor Hussain I L R

MAHOMEDAN LAW—WORSHIP—cont'd

7 All 178 and Da ondhay v. Muhammad Abu Nasar I I I 33 All 660 followed. PAN CHANDRA v. ALI MUHAMMAD (1913)

I L R 33 All 197

MAHOMEDANS

Held that the sects known as Ahmadis or Khadims are Mahomedans. HAKIM KHAN L. AHMAD v. MALIK JAFAR

2 Pat L J 108

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Sec 1

Art 127 I L R 41 Bom 583

MAHARATTA BRAHMI

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

I L R 43 Cal 30

MAIDEY'S PROPERTY

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 38 Mad. 45

MAIDEN'S STRIDHAN

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 39 Cal 319

MAINTENANCE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 60 I L R 43 All 617

O II R. 5 I L R 35 Bom 120

O XXI R. 4 s 14 and 15

2 Pat L J 55

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (1898)

s 463 I L R 37 Mad 585

4 Pat L J 189

I L R 38 Mad. 472

I L R 43 Bom 585

See CUSTOM

I L R 2 Lah 243

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) s 37

I L R 30 Bom 182

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 39 Bom 528

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE.

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 36 Bom 383

I L R 39 Mad. 658

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MAINTENANCE.

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 36 Mad 593

I L R 38 Mad. 79

See PARSIS

I L R 38 Bom 615

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (IX of 1887) Sch II Art 41

I L R 40 All 135

See TALUKDAR RIGHTS OF

I L R 32 All 92

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 52

I L R 37 Bom 621

See WILL

15 C W N 121

—appears of—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 36 Bom 131

—by a Parai wife for arrears of—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (XV of 1882)

I L R 45 Bom 318

MAINTENANCE—contd.

— charge of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 16 (d)

I L R 40 Bom 337

— decree for against a soldier—

See ARMY ACT (44 & 45 Vic c 58) s 14 & 190

I L R 43 Bom 368

— future including allowances right to—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 60 (1) I L R 40 Mad 302

— Marumakkathayam law of—

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 36 Mad 593

— of child—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1898) s 48^a

I L R 30 Mad 957

— of daughter—

See WILL I L R 38 Calc 327

— of junior members—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I L R 30 Mad 398

— of members other than the senior male in a tarwad—

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 39 Mad 317

— on gift by widow to daughter—

See HINDU LAW—PEYERHOVER

I L R 44 Bom 255

— right to—

See MALABAR LAW I L R 38 Mad 79

— right to get from husband's estate—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I L R 38 Mad 163

— separate—

See ALIYASANTANA LAW

I L R 30 Mad 203

— separate living member when entitled to—

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 36 Mad 591

— suit for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 16 (d) I L R 40 Bom 337

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS (ACT IV of 1887) Sch II Art 38

I L R 40 All 52

1 ——— Hindu widow—Hindu Law—Maintenance allowed by will of husband to wife—Unchastity of wife after husband's death—Maintenance not affected—Unchastity—Starving maintenance—A Hindu widow was entitled to maintenance at the rate of Rs 24 a year under her husband's will. After the husband's death the widow led for some time an unchaste life and gave birth to a child but since then she remained chaste. She sued to recover maintenance allowed to her under her husband's will. It was contended in reply that the plaintiff on account of the unchaste life which she had led for some time after her husband's death had forfeited her right even to bare or starving maintenance. Held negating the contentions that though the annuity was granted by the will as maintenance that word could not be understood as imposing any condition or restriction so as to cut down or extinguish the right to Rs 24 a year given by the will. The rule that the will of a Hindu must be construed with due regard to Hindu habits and notions applies only where there is ambiguity. Caution must be used in applying that rule and it must be adopted only where a suggested construction of doubtful language leads to manifest absurdity or hardship. The general rule to be gathered from the texts is that a Hindu wife cannot be absolutely abandoned by her husband. If she is living an unchaste life he is bound to keep her in the house under restraint and provide her with food and raiment just sufficient to support life. She is not entitled to any other right. If however she repents returns to purity and performs expiatory rights she becomes entitled to all conjugal and social rights. In a case of adultery with a man of a lower caste in which case after expiation she can claim no more than bare maintenance and residence. Monamma v Timannabhat I L R 1 Bom 559 Valu v Ganga I L R 7 Bom 84 and Vishnu Shamshog v Manjamma I L R 9 Bom 108 discussed. PAKSHI v MALADEVI (1908) I L R 11 Bom 278

MAINTENANCE—contd

2 ——— Illegitimate son—Right of off spring of illegitimate son of a married woman to maintenance from the joint family property of the survivors of the putative father—Criminal intercourse effect of on right to maintenance. The offspring of the intercourse of a man with his concubine who was a married woman is entitled to maintenance against the surviving members of the joint Hindu family to which the father belonged and who have taken his share by survivorship. Cheruturya Pun Murdun Syn v Sohul Purkulad Syn 7 Moo I A 18 followed and Muthuswamy Jagatara Yellappa Naicker v Venkataswara Yellaya 12 Moo I A 203 followed. There is no distinction between the right of the illegitimate son of an unmarried woman to maintenance out of the estate of the putative father and that of the offspring of an adulterous intercourse. Venkatachella Chetty v Parvatham 8 Mad H C 134 143 followed. Varavamuthudayan v Singaratelu I L R 1 Mad 306 followed. Kuppa v Singaratelu I L R 8 Mad 320 followed. Pahi v Govinda Valad Teja I L R 1 Bom 97 followed. The offspring of a criminal intercourse should not be deprived of maintenance on the ground of the criminal origin of its being. Vedana Jaga Mudaliar v Vedammal I L R 2nd Mad 951 distinguished. SUBRAMANIAM MUDALIAR v VELU (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 86

3 ——— Future maintenance—Widow's right to transferable property—Right not one falling within s 6 Transfer of Property Act—Validity of transaction not governed conclusively by Act Civil Procedure Code s 276—Contract Act (IX of 1871) s 16—Undue influence. A right to future maintenance is not an interest in property restricted in its enjoyment to the owner personally within the meaning of paragraph (4) of s 6 of the Transfer of Property Act neither is it property the enabling that the transfer of such an interest by

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD 1 OF 1900)— —contd

§ 5 & 6—contd

Decree for ejectment—
Value for improvement ascertained and specified in the decree—Improvements effected subsequent to decree not ascertained—Application for execution by ejectment whether maintainable Where a landlord in Malabar obtained a decree for ejectment of his tenant on payment by him of an ascertained amount for compensation for value of improvements applied for execution of the decree by ejectment of the tenant after depositing into Court the amount specified in the decree for value of improvements held that the landlord was entitled to an order in execution for ejectment of the tenant from all the lands specified in the decree even though the value of improvements effected by the tenant on some of the lands subsequent to the decree had not been ascertained under s 6 (3) of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act SANKARAN VAMBADRIPAD V SANKARAN NAIR (1911) 1 L R 44 Mad 980

§ 5 & 6 to 19—Contract to claim compensation according to custom no special contract within the meaning of s 19—Tenant can claim higher rates under Act in spite of contract before Act preserving a lesser rate Where under a contract entered into in 1886 the tenant has agreed to accept compensation for improvements according to local custom such undertaking by the tenant is not a special contract within the meaning of s 19 of Madras Act I of 1900 which will debar the tenant from claiming under s 5 compensation as provided in s 6 18 Kerala Varma V Alia Rajah V Panam 3 Mal 1 J 51 referred to s 19 of Act I of 1900 deals only with contracts limiting the right to make improvements and claim compensation A mere contract regulating the rates of compensation whether before or after the 1st day of January 1886 is not touched by s 19 Where there is such a contract the tenant if the contract rates are lower than the rates provided in the Act can claim the latter rates under s 5 and if the contract rates are higher he can claim such rates notwithstanding s 6 of the Act KUNHIKOT SREEMANA A VIKRAMAN V CHUNDAYIL VANTA PATTAR (1910) 1 L R 34 Mad 61

§ 5 and 19—Compensation rate of for tenant's improvement—Compensation amount of methods of fixing—Contract made before 1st January 1886—No express reference to tenants right to make improvements—Contract less favourable to tenant than s 5 and 6 of the Act—Contract not binding—s 5 and 6 applicable? Where a contract entered into between a landlord and a tenant in Malabar before the 1st January 1886 regulated the rates of compensation claimable by the tenant for improvements or provided for the methods of fixing the amount of compensation due to him but did not expressly refer to the tenant's right to make improvements Held (by the Full Bench) that the contract is not binding on the tenant if it is less favourable to him than s 5 and 6 of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act (1 of 1900) and that the tenant is entitled to claim compensation according to the provisions of the Act Held also that there is no inconsistency between the judgment in Pandurupuril Kunhiyore v Voth Kani Kanan 1 L R 32 Mad 1 and the judgments in A. H. Sreemana

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD 1 OF 1900)— —contd

§ 5 and 19—contd

Vikraman v Madathil Anant 1 All 1 J 1 J 34 Mad 61 and Parasamma v Mothoram 2 Mad 1 J 2 J and that the two latter mentioned cases were rightly decided KUCHI LALIA V ANDRAN MAY (1913) 1 L R 38 Mad 589

§ 5 & 6 to 18 and 19—Right to compensation—Contract to the contrary made before 1886 effect of—Distinction between restriction of right to make improvements and of right to the value of improvements—Validity of each restriction Under the provisions of the Malabar Tenants Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900) a tenant is entitled to the full value of his improvements according to the rates provided in s 5 to 18 s 19 does not cut down his right under s 5 and 6 to the value of his improvements according to the rates prescribed in the Act even where a contract was entered into before 1st January 1886 limiting his right with respect to the amount of compensation claimable by him Accordingly a restrictive provision in a document limiting the amount of compensation cannot be enforced. But contracts made prior to January 1886 limiting the right to make improvements are not affected by s 19 and are valid A. H. Sreemana v Kuchil Sreemana Vithman v Chundayil Madathil Anant Patter 1 J P 34 Mad 61 followed Held on a construction of the following provision in a landlord's lease of 1881 If I make chasmayams (or buildings) thereon exceeding Rs 25 in value I shall only remove and take them at the time of surrender and I shall not demand the value of improvements therefor that the meaning of the clause was not to restrict the landlord from building but to restrict his right to the amount of compensation if he built Rs 25 if he is content to take it regard being had to the amount of any right on the landlord to require the tenant to remove any building worth more than Rs 25 Per CURRIE The provision for removing is merely a recognition of the right which a landlord has always possessed to remove any improvements made by him Arqammar v Islami Sahib 21 Mad 1 J 591 referred to PARU VIKRAMA V KUNHIRANDAN (1913) 1 L R 36 Mad 410

§ 7—Stipulation in lease to receive compensation at ordinary rate does not exclude operation of the Act—Rate of compensation claimable is that prevailing when compensation is paid The terms of a lease executed before the passing of Madras Act I of 1887 provided that the tenant at the time of surrender should receive compensation for fruit trees at the customary rate Before the surrender Madras Act I of 1887 was passed and provided a rate of compensation for fruit trees In a suit by the tenant to recover compensation under the lease Held that the stipulation aforesaid did not exclude the operation of the Act there being no such special contract as is contemplated by s 7 of the Act and that compensation must be paid at the rate provided by the Act KERALA VARMA VALLA V ONDAN RAMUNNI (1891) 1 L R 33 Mad 218

§ 19—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 90

1 L R 43 Mad 65

Claim subsequent to Act—Contract before the Act fixing rate of compensation

MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD I OF 1900)—contd

s 19—contd

Enforceability of contracts entered into between a Malabar tenant and his landlord before the 1st January 1880 according to which compensation is payable at certain rates therein specified are valid and binding whether the rates are more or less favourable to either party than the rates prescribed by the Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900) and when the question of the rate of compensation comes up for determination at a date after the introduction of the Act it is not open to either party to the contract to elect to have the rates fixed according to the Act in preference to the rates mentioned in the contract. Ko hilot Sree nana Vickraman v Modathil Ananta Potter I L R 31 Mad 61 Paru Amma v Kunhikandan I L R 36 Mad 410 and Kochu Raba v Abdurahman I L R 38 Mad 589 overruled PALARATTA ATYOTI v KALAPPA KURUP (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 594

*Lease—Stipulation for payment of fee in respect of trees cut down. A stipulation in a Malabar lease for the payment of tuksanam (customary fee) to the landlord in respect of trees cut down is not necessarily contrary to the provisions of s 19 of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act (Madras Act I of 1900). It is a question of fact to be determined in each case whether the cutting down of trees is an improvement or not and whether the fee stipulated is reasonable or so unreasonable as to be prohibitive of the cutting down of trees at all.* Semle A customary fee of eight annas per tree is not unreasonable. Lasudevan Nambudripad v Iaha Channu Achari I L R 24 Mad 17 considered RAJA of COCHIN v KUTUNNI NAIR (1916) I L R 40 Mad 603

Compensation for tenants improvements—Contracts made after Act more favourable to tenant than the Act—Contract or Act enforceable—Value whether at the time of eviction or at date of contract payable. S 19 of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act does not prevent the tenant from claiming compensation under a contract made after passing of the Act if it is more favourable to him than the Act. The value of improvements payable to a tenant is their value at the time of eviction. Kerala Varnah Vala Raja v Rimmun (1923) 3 M I J 11 (F B) followed ANNAI v ANNAI v RAMAN NAIR (1910)

I L R 43 Mad 772

MALABAR LAW

See MAPPILLAS IN NORTH MALABAR

I L R 38 Mad 1052

See MARI MANKATTAYAM LAW

I L R 34 Mad 387

I L R 35 Mad 648

See MORTGAGE

I L R 37 Mad 420

Acquisition by manager of branch tarwad of the whole tarwad—Property acquired by anandavara to be deemed property of the tarwad in the absence of evidence to show self-acquisition. The rule of Hindu Law that if nothing appears in the case except that a member of a joint family is in possession of property the burden of proving self-acquisition lies on such person applies to property in the possession of an anand ravan of a Malabar tarwad. Where such anand ravan is also the manager of a branch tarwad and was in possession of funds belonging to such branch the presumption will be that such property belongs to the branch. MARI VEETIL CHATHU NAIR v MARI VEETIL MULAMPAROL SEKARA NAIR (1909) I L R 33 Mad 250

MALABAR LAW—contd

Karamkari tenure in South Malabar—Alienation by tenure holder effect of alien in the absence of clause for re-entry. A holder of land on Karamkari or Karamkari tenure in South Malabar has only a heritable or permanent right of cultivation but not a right of alienation which event puts an end to the tenure and he is entitled to the reversion is entitled to possession thereupon even in the absence of an express provision for re-entry. Moore v Malabar Law and Custom page 304 referred to Parameshwari v Vittalappa Shandaga I L R 26 Mad 157 and Varapal Singh v Kalyan Das I L R 25 All 400 distinguished. Other A karamkari holder in North Malabar has no heritable right at all. ACHUTHA MENON v SANKARA NAIR (1913) I L R 36 Mad 380

Want of harmony among some members—Separate living of one—When entitled to separate maintenance. A junior member of a Malabar tarwad leaving the tarwad house on the ground that he or she does not feel quite comfortable there or is not able to live there in complete harmony with others so as to ensure happiness is not entitled to separate maintenance if he or she was responsible for the discomfort complained of. When a junior member will be entitled to separate maintenance considered KUPPOTI v ANANT (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 591

Maintenance—Wife living in her husband's house leaving tarwad house—Right to maintenance from her tarwad. According to Marumakkathayam law a wife living with her husband in her husband's house is entitled to maintenance from her tarwad in the absence of any waiver to claim the same as leaving the tarwad house to live with her husband is a justifiable or proper purpose. Maraude v Panikkar 22 Mad L J 99 followed Taravali v Karaman I L R 6 Mad 341 referred to Obiter. The Marumakkathayam law of maintenance is the same as the Aliyathana law prevailing in South Canara. MUTHU ANNA v GOPALAN (1917) I L R 36 Mad 593

Females self-acquisition descent of to her own heirs and not to tarwad—Tarwad meaning of. The self-acquisitions of a female member of a Marumakkathayam tarwad do not lapse on her death to her tarwad, but descend to her tarwad which will be her issue if she has any and in the absence of the issue will be her mother and her descendants. Taravathi defined Chandana Nair v Sankaran Nair I L R 39 Mad 351 distinguished Umaranga v Appadurai Palar I L R 31 Mad 38 overruled KRISHNA v RAMODARAN (1912)

I L R 38 Mad 48

Suit against managing member of tarwad—Tarwad properly in suit for maintenance.

MALABAR LAW—contd

*ance—Gift by husband to wife—Mentor of children—Interest taken by wife and her children—Right of husband to—Custody of child of gift—A member of a tavazhi is entitled to sue the managing member of the tavazhi for his maintenance if maintenance is refused by such managing member where the karnavan of the tavazhi is unable to maintain him the member out of tavazhi property. It is immaterial whether the member of the tavazhi seeking maintenance has private means sufficient to provide for him an adequate maintenance without necessity of recourse to the tavazhi property. Idrakka v. property is held by the members of the tavazhi to which he belongs with the ordinary incidents of tavazhi property. Per ANDRA RAHIM J.—In view apart from the fact whether there is sufficient property of the tavazhi to which a member of a tavazhi can look for maintenance he has a right to demand an allowance in the nature of maintenance from the tavazhi property if maintenance is not a mere subsistence allowance. It should be based on the value of the tavazhi property the position of the members and not confined to what is just sufficient to satisfy the needs of the members. A member of a tavazhi is entitled to an allowance for maintenance both from the tavazhi and tavazhi properties. Where a deed of gift in favour of a woman is clearly expressed to be to her and her children there is no argument for construing it as conferring on the donee an absolute title to the property given where the donee is the wife of the donor and a member of a Marumakkattayam tavazhi. It makes no difference that the karnavan of the tavazhi joined in the gift. In estimating the amount of the income of the tavazhi property out of which maintenance is payable the interest payable upon debts binding on the tavazhi should be deducted but not interest on debts contracted after the period for which maintenance is claimed. NAKU AMMA v. RAQHAYA MEYON (1919) I L R 38 Mad 79*

*Male sues her leaving tavazhi for her to her wife—Right of such member to separate maintenance—Special claim for settlement on a higher footing than one for maintenance. A male member of a Malabar tavazhi leaving the tavazhi house for the purpose of living with his wife is entitled to separate maintenance from the tavazhi. A claim to menchuaru is on the same footing as a claim to maintenance. GOVINDAN NAIR v. KUNJU NAIR (1911) I L R 42 Mad 656*

*Figure of a member of a tavazhi to separate maintenance—Female member arriving under Malabar Marriage Act (II of 1896)—Act which bars a claim for maintenance from a tavazhi. The right of every member of a Malabar tavazhi to be maintained out of the tavazhi property is based on his or her right as a co-proprietor in the same and a female member of the tavazhi is not deprived of such right by reason of her marriage under the provisions of the Malabar Marriage Act (II of 1896). AMMANI AMMA v. LADMANABHA MEON (1911) I L R 41 Mad 1075*

Claim by an arandrayan for services of merchandise—For his wife and his wife's ability. An arandrayan of a Malabar tavazhi is not entitled to claim maintenance from his tavazhi for his wife who belongs to another tavazhi and much less is he entitled to claim for her any pocket money for meeting expenses other than maintenance. Per RAJU v. KARNAN I L R 11 Mad 311 referred to and explained. An arandrayan is entitled to a decree from his tavazhi for arrears of his merchandise which in his hands on the same footing as arrears of maintenance. KUNJANNAH v. KUNJI KUTTI I L R 11 Mad 233 Idrakka v. Kunkil Flom Idrak v. Kunkil Flom Idrak I L R 11 Mad 233 and CORRIAN NAIR v. KUNJU NAIR 35 W L R 11 followed. RAJU v. KARNAN v. THAMERANNI (1919) I L R 42 Mad 769

MALABAR LAW—contd

*Family of a member—No liability of sons to pay the father's debts. A Namudra family differs in many respects from an ordinary joint Hindu family on account of the impartiality of its property and its close resemblance to a Hindu family. The rule of Hindu Law which imposes the duty on a son to pay his father's personal debts whether legal or immoral is not applicable to Namudras and the mere fact that there are no other members in the Namudra family does not affect the principle. Idrakka v. Madhavan I L R 10 Mad 3 and CORRIAN NAIR v. KUNJU NAIR I L R 11 Mad 233 followed. Kunkil Flom Idrak v. Kunkil Flom Idrak I L R 11 Mad 233 considered. Idrakka v. Kunkil Flom Idrak I L R 11 Mad 233 distinguished. *KUNJANNAH v. KUNJI KUTTI I L R 11 Mad 233

*Partition—Tavazhi—Division by tavazhi—Right of minor members to upset partition—Division per stirpes at not per capita—Father sues for ground—Authority in favour of division per stirpes or per capita—Tavazhi range of members of a Malabar tavazhi who are minors when a partition was made with the consent of all the adult members at the time cannot upset the partition on the ground that the division was per stirpes and not per capita. Idrakka v. Kunkil Flom Idrak I L R 11 Mad 233 and Idrakka v. Kunkil Flom Idrak I L R 11 Mad 233 referred to. Idrakka v. Kunkil Flom Idrak I L R 11 Mad 233 referred to. *Idrakka v. Kunkil Flom Idrak I L R 11 Mad 233

*Trade carried on by karnavan of a Mappila tavazhi—Dissuade by the karnavan in the trade whether binding on other members. Trade is not one of the ordinary pursuits of a Malabar tavazhi and carrying on trade is not within the ordinary scope of authority of a Malabar karnavan. Hence in the absence of evidence that a trade carried on by a karnavan has been the trade of the tavazhi as a whole or that the members of the tavazhi or at least the adult member thereof consented to the trade being carried on by the karnavan the other members of the tavazhi are not bound by the liabilities incurred by the karnavan in connection with the trade. This rule applies even in the case of a Vapirilla tavazhi where all the male members habitually follow trade as their ordinary avocation. ABDULREHMAN KUTTI NAIR v. HUSSAIN KUNJI NAIR (1919) I L R 42 Mad 761*

Gift—Pre-emption—Incident of land and property—Right of management in the senior male—Share of other member—Right to partition—Alienation of members' share—Its effect on sale execution. When properties are given by a person to his wife and children or children alone following the Marumakkattayam law the presumption is that the donees take the property with the incidents of tarwad property and the right of management of the properties forming the subject of the gift is vested in the senior male member amongst the donees. Persons subsequently born in or the tarazhi are entitled to be maintained but not to claim partition. Any one member of a tarwad or a tarazhi cannot alienate his share nor can it be attached and sold in execution of a personal decree against any of the members. See SRINIVASA AYYANGAR J.—It is not the giving of the properties by a person to his wife and children that constitutes the tarwad but if properties are given to a wife and children following the Marumakkattayam law they as tarazhi hold those properties with the incidents of tarwad property and the right of management of the properties is vested in the senior male member of the tarazhi. Kurlacha Umma v Kullu Mammi Hayer I L P 16 Mad 291 followed CRAEKEA KANNAN v KUTHE IOKKAR (1913) I L R 39 Mad 317

MALABAR LAW—contd

Gift by a husband to his wife and her children by him—Donees whether exclusively entitled as a branch tarazhi—Rights of her children vs another husband—Rights of tarwad to such property—Adverse possession by branch tarazhi against tarwad—Under the Malabar Law a separate branch of a tarazhi can be established consisting of a woman and her children by one husband to the exclusion of her children by another husband. Dictum of SADASIYA AYYAR J in Chakkra Kannan v Kunhi Pakker I L P 39 Mad 31, followed. Where a husband gives property to his wife and his children there is no presumption that he intended to benefit her children by a former or subsequent husband in the absence of any expression of such intention. Where the suit property was acquired in the name of a woman and her son by a second husband out of the income of properties given by the latter to her and her children by him and it appeared that they had dealt with the properties for forty years exclusively although there were members of the tarwad senior to them and a suit was instituted by the karnavan of the whole tarwad to redeem the properties as belonging to the entire tarwad. Held that the properties belonged in law to the branch of the tarazhi of the woman and her children by her second husband and that the branch tarazhi had also acquired title to the suit properties by adverse possession against the tarwad of which the plaintiff was the present karnavan. IMBICHI BEERU UMMA v RAMAN NAIR (1919) I L R 42 Mad 869

Karnavan—Junior members—Kanom—Fidemption suit for—Suit by junior members whether sustainable—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 91—Interest to redeem—Only under very special circumstances can junior members of a Malabar tarwad following the Marumakkattayam law maintain a suit for the redemption of a kanom granted by their karnavan. SOORI MATHEWAS (1909) I L R 43 Mad 293

Karnavan—Lease for year before expiry of a prior lease—No necessity of justification for such lease—Expiry of prior lease when grantor was karnavan effect of on subsequent lease—Lease whether valid or binding on succeeding karnavan Where a karnavan granted a lease to take effect on the expiry of a prior lease whose term was to expire four years later and it was found that there was no necessity or justification for granting the subsequent lease four years prior to the expiry of the term of the prior lease. Held that the subsequent lease was not valid or binding on the succeeding karnavan even though the prior lease expired when the grantor continued to be the karnavan. KUNHAM MADU KUTHEVARI (1920) I L R 43 Mad 715

MALABAR LAW—contd

Karnavan removal of from office—Senior arandavan—Exclusion from succession to office of karnavan—Power of Court to declare senior arandavan unfit to succeed to office—Grounds of exclusion—A Court can for good cause remove a karnavan and declare the senior arandavan to be unfit to succeed to the vacant office. Kunhan v Sankara (1891) I L R 11 Mad 78 followed Chundan Nambiar v Kunhi Paman Nambiar (1918) I L P 41 Mad 577 (S B) referred to dictum of SADASIYA AYYAR J in Cheria Pangi Achan v Unnalachan (1917) 37 M L J 333 dissented from NEELAYYA KUDRE v ACHU HENGU (19-0)

I L P 43 Mad 319

Karnavan of tarazhi making a gift—Gift not questioned even by the last surviving member of the tarazhi—No right of attaladakkam hers to question gift—An attaladakkam her succeeds only to such of the properties of a tarazhi as have not been disposed of by its last members. He cannot therefore question an alienation made by the karnavan of the tarazhi when the other members had not by any unequivocal act called it into question during their lifetime. THAYIAL MAMMAD v PURAYIL MAMMAD (1921) I L R 44 Mad 140

Right of other members to remove such karnavan by suit for misconduct—Held by the Full Bench that a person appointed as karnavan of a tarazhi by an agreement (karni) of the members of the tarazhi is liable to be removed for gross misconduct by a suit at the instance of the other members. Cheria Pangi Achan v Unnalachan (1911) Mad W N 155 explained CHINDAV NAMBIAI v KUNHI PAMAN NAMBIAI (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 577

Kanom—Lease or mortgage—Deed of taraga construction of—Attestation of deed necessary for—Transfer of Property Act s 89 and 90—Anomalous mortgage—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) O 1 r 9—Non-judicial of parts—Decree against parts on appeal—A kanom is an anomalous mortgage falling under s 98 of the Transfer of Property Act with certain well known incidents attached to it under the customary law of Malabar and a kanom deed to be valid must be attested as a mortgage deed under s 59 of the Act. The fact that the document is described as a taraga or royal grant or that the kanom amount is exceedingly insignificant does not alter the nature of the transaction. KANVA KUDRE v SANKARA NAYMA RAJAN (19-1)

I L R 44 Mad 841

Conversion of a member of Marumakkattayam tarwad to Marumakkattayam—Right of convert to partition of tarwad property—Removal of a member of Marumakkattayam tarwad does not prevent his conversion to

MALABAR LAW—concl'd

Muhammadanism acquire right to a partition of the tarwad property Observation of Wilson J in Munir v Gupta & Jam Kutton Poy (189) 1 I L J 19 Calc 59 (F B) at 291 followed in Krichchikan v Lydia Arucanden (1919) 11 W N 26 and Abraham v Abraham (1963) 9 M I A 195 explained LATHUMA & LAMAR NAMBIAR (1921) 1 I L R 44 Mad (F B) 891

Tarwad—Karnavan becoming a stani—Succeeding Karnavan incapable of business management—Karnav v tinj management in stani—Renewal of an old deed by Karnavan validity of Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J (NAPIER J dubitante)—An arrangement among the members of a Malabar tarwad by which a previous Karnavan who had become a stani was given certain specific powers of management in respect of the tarwad without any express power to obtain renewals of mortgages in favour of the tarwad does not deprive the actual Karnavan however incapable he may be of the power of renewing usufructuary mortgages in favour of the tarwad The renewal being binding on the members of the tarwad they cannot set up adverse possession but must submit to a redemption by the mortgagor The relation to the tarwad of a member who had become a stani discussed Chappan Nayor v Asen Kutti 1 I L J 12 Mad 219 doubted KRISHNA KIDAYU v RAMAN (1915) 1 I L R 39 Mad 918

Taraga Lease for reclamation and improvement by a stanomdar for twelve years with a clause for renewal for another twelve years validity of A taraga lease in Malabar given for reclaiming and improving lands contained the following clause by the lessee— I shall well improve this pambra and plant etc when the improvements have survived the period of decay and the coconut trees begin to bear their first fruits I shall take a taraga after fixing the rent in accordance with the local custom on an inspection of kuhikanoma Held that the clause entitling the lessee to a renewal of the lease for twelve years from the expiry of the first term of twelve years at an enhanced rent to be determined in accordance with it Copalan Nayor v Kunjan Menon (1907) 1 I L R 39 Mad 300 distinguished A stanomdar is entitled to grant a lease so as to last beyond his life time and to bind his successors provided the lease is beneficial to the estate KUTTIYAL & UMMAHMA (1921)

1 I L R 44 Mad 509

MALABAR MARRIAGE ACT (IV OF 1896)

See MALABAR LAW 1 I L R 41 Mad 1075

MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT
MAD I OF 1900

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT

MALE HEIRS

failure of—
See JAIGIR 1 I L R 46 Calc 683

MALE MEMBERS

rights of—
See GHATWALI TENURE

MALICE 1 I L R 46 Calc 362

See LIBEL 1 I L R 37 Calc 768
1 I L R 48 Calc 304

MALICE—cont'd

See MARRIAGE CONTRACT OF
1 I L R 39 Bom 682

absence of—
See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA
1 I L R 39 Ind 781

charge of—
See TRESPASS—SEARCH FOR ARMS
1 I L R 30 Calc 653

MALICIOUS ARREST

See IMITATION 1 I L P 40 Calc 598

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1880 s 64
1 Pat L J 149

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 107
1 I L R 41 All 503
1 I L R 43 All 402

See DAMAGES SUIT FOR
14 C W N 86

See INJUNCTION 1 I L R 42 Calc 550

statement of appeal regarding—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE s 411
23

1 I L R 44 Mad. 828

1 — Cause of action—Complaint laid but no process issued Where in a suit for malicious prosecution it was averred that a complaint had been laid by the defendant before a Magistrate who thereupon sent the case to the police for enquiry and report but there was no averment that the Magistrate had ever issued process—Held that the plaint disclosed no cause of action Laties v Jie Queen L R 14 Q B D 648 followed Clarke v Postan 6 C & P 43 and Ahmedbhai v Framji, Edulji 1 I L R 28 Bom 296 not followed Thorpe v Pritchard (1897) 1 Q B 159 referred to DEL OZARIO & GULAB CHAND ARUNDJEE (1910) 1 I L R 37 Calc 358

2 — Complaint laid but no process issued—Action on the case—Cause of action—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 202 203—Defamation—Privilege Where a complaint had been laid before a Magistrate by the defendant against the plaintiff for criminal breach of trust and the Magistrate had referred the matter to the Police under s 202 of the Criminal Procedure Code for enquiry and report and finally dismissed the complaint under s 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code without issuing process—Held that the prosecution had not commenced and no suit for malicious prosecution was maintainable Laties v The Queen L R 14 Q B D 618 and Clarke v Postan 6 C & P 493 referred to Nor would there lie any action on the case analogous to malicious prosecution Held further that the complaint even if defamatory was absolutely privileged GOLAP JAY & BHOLANATH KHETTRY (1911) 1 I L R 38 Calc 680

3 — What is to be proved—Onus on plaintiff—What amounts to malice—R cases near or what amounts to malice In a suit for damages for malicious prosecution it is not on the defendant to show that there was reasonable and probable cause but on the plaintiff to prove its absence All that the defendant has to be satisfied about is that there is reasonable and probable cause for the charge is reasonable grounds for believing that the plaintiff is guilty of the offence and not reasonable grounds for coming to the conclusion that the Court would convict him of it. Careless on the part of the defendant in deciding whether there was reasonable and probable cause would not amount to malice and both malice and absence of reasonable and probable cause have to be proved. If a man is reckless whether the charge be true or false that might amount to malice but not recklessness in coming to the conclusion that there was reasonable and probable cause. What would amount to reasonable and probable cause is a question of fact. VIDYANADIER v KRISHNA SWAMI LYER (1913) 1 L R 36 Mad 375

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION—contd

3 (a) ————— Where complaint was made in the Police Court against the Plaintiff for criminal breach of trust and the Magistrate referred the matter to the Police for enquiry under s 202 of the Criminal Procedure Code and after such enquiry refused to issue process. Held that a suit for malicious prosecution would not lie as unless process is issued the person complained against cannot be regarded as an accused person. GOLAP JANI v BHOLA NATH BHETRY 15 C W N 917

4 ————— Suit for damages for—Onus—Plaintiff if must prove innocence—Judgment of discharge by Criminal Court if conclusive The plaintiff in a suit for damages for malicious prosecution has amongst other matters to prove his innocence if only to establish that the prosecution was commenced maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause. The finding in the criminal case acquitting or discharging him is not conclusive on the matter. PER BOWEN L J in Abrah v North Eastern Railway Co 11 Q B D 440 455 approved. Gunesb Dutt Singh v Magisteram Choudry 17 H R 280 Corra v Peria (1905) 1 App Cas 643 referred to. MUCHI OSTA v BORSMILL MARWATI (1912) 13 W N 434

5 ————— Definition of offence—Criminal Procedure Code prevention of offence—provision for—Malicious proceeding under such provisions if sufficient basis for suit—Prosecution meaning of It is not that an action for damages for malicious prosecution lies only when the original proceeding was a prosecution in the sense in which the term is used in the Code of Criminal Procedure it is not essential that the original proceeding should have been of such a nature as to render the person against whom it was taken liable to be arrested, fined or imprisoned. Where there has been a deliberate abuse of the process of the Criminal Court and salutary provisions framed by the Legislature to secure the prevention of offence have been utilized maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause for the harassment of the plaintiff who has thereby suffered damage in reputation and property an action for malicious prosecution or malicious abuse of judicial process is maintainable. PER MOOREHEAD J—An action for maliciously putting the law in motion lies in all cases where there is concurrence of the following elements: (i) the commencement or continuance of a criminal proceeding (ii) its legal causation by the present defendant against the plaintiff who was injured

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION—contd

ant in the original proceeding (iii) its bona fide termination in favour of the present plaintiff (iv) the absence of probable cause for such proceeding (v) the presence of malice therein (vi) damage conforming to legal standards resulting to the plaintiff. Abrah v N E Ry Co 11 App Cas 247 Cor v Enchell Scottish and Australian Bank [1905] 1 App Cas 168 referred to. Any enforcement of the criminal law through Courts of Justice concerning a matter which will subject the accused to prosecution without regard to the technical form in which the charge has been preferred and irrespective of the grade of the criminal offence is a sufficient proceeding upon which an action for malicious prosecution may be based. Elst v Smith 2 Chitty 304 24 P R 39 Leiah v Webb 3 Esp 161 referred to. PER BEACH CROFT J—If a person sets the criminal law in motion it is no defence for him to say that the law took a direction which he did not anticipate and did not desire. The responsibility of the person begins with the presenting of the complaint but it does not end there and is not limited to the prayer contained in it. CROWLEY v L O PELLER (1912) 17 C W N 554

6 ————— Prosecution what amounts to—Magistrate sending only notice but not summons or warrant and dismissing complaint no prosecution—Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1898) s 90 Where on receiving a complaint of an offence of defamation a Magistrate issued only a notice but not a summons or a warrant to the accused which notice simply informed him that a preliminary enquiry would be held at a certain time in the matter of the complaint preferred by the complainant and the complaint was dismissed under s 202 Criminal Procedure Code after hearing counsel for both parties. Held that there was no prosecution of any offence by the complainant so as to give room for any suit for malicious prosecution. LEEL v Chhab Choud Arvind 1 P 3 Cal 461 1 Jan v Fiddall Atterly 1 J J 45 (alt 450) followed. Sending such notice and the hearing thereon are not authorized by the Criminal Procedure Code. Prosecution commences with the issue of process (summons or warrant) after the complaint has been entertained by the Magistrate and that the prior proceedings constitute at most an attempt by the complainant to prosecute the accused. SHRI BHEEPAI SHARMA v RATNAVELL MUDALI (1912) 1 L R 37 Mad 161

7 ————— Suit for damages—Prosecution what it means and when commences—Accused attended at judicial enquiry upon notice given by the prosecution on failure of prosecution The action for damages for malicious prosecution is not a creature of any statute. To determine whether such an action lies the term 'prosecution' should not be interpreted in the restricted sense in which it is used in the Code of Criminal Procedure. A proceeding maliciously taken against a person to compel him to furnish surety to keep the peace may be made the foundation of a suit for damages for malicious prosecution. A prosecution exists when a criminal charge is made before a judicial officer or tribunal and an accused person who male or is active in the matter in the making or prosecuting of such a charge is directed to prosecute it. If a person maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause sets the —Presumption of jagir by Government—Permanent settlement of specific mouzaks—Malikana allowance is liable to alteration Jagir Meherullah Khan was granted by Emperor Alamgir out of an estate belonging to the appellant's predecessors who thereupon became entitled to an allowance by way of compensation known as dastur or malikana. The East India Company on acquiring the Dewani made enquiries regarding the amount of the malikana due on account of this and other jagirs and by parwanas fixed the malikana due on this jagir at Rs 736 odd calculating it at 10 per cent of the proceeds for the year 1778. Held on construction of the parwanas that what was fixed was the amount and not a percentage varying from year to year with the proceeds. That the Government on resuming the jagir became liable to pay this malikana but when subsequently it caused Mouzah Sahu one of the mouzahs comprised in the jagir to be permanently settled it incurred no liability to pay an additional sum as malikana due in respect of the mouzah. That the fact that a specified sum of Rs 482 was entered as malikana in an account attached to the settlement did not show that the malikana as fixed previously was thereby altered but that it was merely one of the items to be taken into account in fixing the annual jumma to be paid by the person with whom the settlement was made. PANESHWAR SINGH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911)

MALIKANA—contd

15 W N 1029

—Interest in immovable property—Money charged on immovable property—Limitation Act (XIV of 1859) s 1 (IX of 1871) Art 130 Sch. II—Right not exercised for more than 12 years before Act IX of 1871 came into operation—Right barred Under Act XIV of 1859 malikana was an interest in immovable property and governed by Act XIV of 1859 s 17 and would be barred if there had been no enjoyment of the malikana for a period of 12 years. Bhoole Singh v Veemoo Behoi L R 418 G 1 and Chander Roy Choudhary v Ram Chunder Choudhary 19 W R 91 and Hira d Shoo v Oeru 31 W R 102 followed. Where there was the right to malikana was established by decree of Court in 1855 but the right was not enjoyed for more than 12 years before Act IX of 1871 came into force the right was extinguished under Act XIV of 1859 and could not be revived by any subsequent statute of limitation. Chhagan Lal v Bapubhai I L R 3 Bom 63 distinguished. MAHESHWARI PRO HAD SINGH v BAIJ NATH HAZARI (1912)

19 C W N 410

—When the malikana dars of 10 is odd here of a certain village used the proprietors and remaining *malikana*dars for recovery of arrears of their share it was held following the analogy of s 148 A of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1886 that the plaintiffs were entitled to a decree giving them a charge on the land and that the suit was governed by the 12 years rule of limitation. MAHARAJA BIR RAMPSHAR SINGH v CHAUDHARI SURAJ NATH JHA

6 Pat L J 35

MALIK QABIZ

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 55 All 44b

MAMLATDAR

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—

ss 3 115 L R 37 Bom 114

s 115 I L R 44 Bom 595

O XI R 89 I L R 44 Bom 50

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 19(1)(c)

I L P 39 Bom 310

See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (BOM ACT V OF 1876) ss 4(c) 5 AND 6

I L R 37 Bom 540

MAMLATDARS COURTS ACT (BOM ACT II OF 1906)

See BOMBAY MAMLATDARS COURTS ACT

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ART 47

I L R 45 Bom 1135

—s 19 23 (1) (2)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—Petitionary suit—Decree of the Mamlatdar dismissing the suit—Application to the Collector—Revision—Non interference with legal and regular finding of fact—Entry in Revenue Record A Collector acting under s 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) is not authorized to interfere with the finding of fact of the mamlatdar in a promissory suit the findings being on their face legal and regular and arrived after a consideration of the evidence on record. The provisions of cl (2) of s 23 of the Act which empower the Collector to interfere by way of revision when he considers any proceeding final or order in a suit to be improper must be harmonized with the provision in cl (1) that there shall be no appeal from any order passed by a Mamlatdar. Semble The word improper in cl (1) of s 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) has no different meaning from the word irregular occurring in the provision irregularity in s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). The entry of a person as owner or occupier in the books of Revenue Authorities is not in itself conclusive evidence either of title or possession. Fatma khatun Sahel v Darya Sahel 10 Bom II (187 189) and Bhagoo v Bapji I L P 13 Bom 75 referred to. KASHI RAM MALHOTRA v PARAPAM (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 457

s 23—

—Powers to revise—Collector's powers to revise—The powers can be exercised by Assistant Collector in charge of the district—Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1886) s 10 An Assistant Collector who is placed in charge of portions of a district under section 10 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1886) has the power to exercise all the powers conferred upon the Collector by section 23 of the Bombay Mamlatdar's Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906). I L R 35 Bom 123

I L P 36 Bom 123

—Suits—Order—Appeal—District District Collector—Suits—Under section 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) the Collector or the District District Collector or any officer with the revenue administration of a taluka has no jurisdiction to exercise the powers of an appellate

MAMLATDARS' COURTS ACT (BOM ACT II OF 1906)—contd

s 28—contd

Court against any order passed by a Mamlatdar under the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) HASANI RASTI (1913)

I L R 37 Bom 595

*Possessory Suit—District Deputy Collector a authority to revise—Bombay General Clauses Act (Bom Act I of 1904) s 3—The term Collector does not include District Deputy Collector—Land Revenue Code (Bom Act I of 1879) s 10 The term Collector in s 23 of the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) does not include District Deputy Collector in view of the express definition of the term in s 3 of the Bombay General Clauses Act (Bom Act I of 1904) A District Deputy Collector has therefore no authority to pass any order under the Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom Act II of 1906) Keshav Jaram I I R 36 Bom 123 dissenting from Sonu Jambardas ARJUN WALAD BARKU (1913)*

I L R 39 Bom 552

MANAGEMENT

See CHURCH I L R 79 Mad 1058

right of—

See CHURCH I L R 36 Mad 418

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWRY

I L R 43 Calc 1085

scheme of—

See TRUST I L R 41 Calc 19

transfer of—

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE

I L R 59 Mad 456

MANAGER

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—MANAGER

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

I L R 84 Bom 72

See IDOL I L R 36 Bom 135

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWRY

I L R 36 Bom 308

alienation by—

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 35 Mad 177

in a joint Hindu family—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 7 SCH I

ART 44 I L R 38 Bom 94

Employment of workmen in a textile factory after prescribed hours—

See FACTORIES ACT (VII OF 1911) ss 29

AND 41 I L R 45 Bom 220

liability of—

See COSTS I L R 43 Calc 190

Liability of for mesne profits—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 44 Bom 179

of a temple—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 466

MANAGER—contd

payment by of on behalf of minor member of Hindu joint family—

See LIMITATION ACT (VI OF 18) s 20

I L R 37 Calc 401

suit for account against—

See LIMITATION ACT (VI OF 1908) SCH I

ART 62 AND 63

I L R 45 Bom 313

MANAGER AND DIRECTOR OF NEWSPAPER COMPANY

liability of—

See CONTRACT OF COURT

I L R 45 Calc 169

MANAGER UNDER COURT OF WARDS

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—FURTHER

I L R 39 Calc 915

MANAGING AGENT

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 810

MANAGING MEMBER

See HINDU LAW—DOWRY

I L R 84 Mad 656

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 45 Calc 733

contract by—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1874)

s 1 I L R 37 Mad 387

MANDADARI TEVURE

Land held under it not transferable—Occupancy holding Held that land held under what is known in Gorakhpur chiefly as a mandadari tenure is nothing more than an occupancy holding and is not therefore transferable Such land cannot therefore be sold in execution of a decree upon a mortgage thereof KEDAR NATH BASONDHAN NAIPAL SINGH (1911) I L R 34 All 155

MANDAMUS

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 39 Calc 598

See LEADERSHIP EXAMINATION

I L R 40 Calc 588

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III OF 1904) I L R 38 Mad 41

See UNIVERSITY LEADERSHIP

I L R 41 Calc 518

Action for—

See MUNICIPAL CORPORATION

I L R 40 Calc 836

Specific Relief Act (I of 1887) ss 45 46—Mandamus writ of on the Board of Revenue—Want of necessary party—Other legal remedy being available whether the Court will interfere A mandamus will never be granted to enforce the general law of the land which may be enforced by action A having obtained a decree for recovery of possession of an estate against an infant under the Court of Wards and the Collector of the District representing that Court applied during the pendency of an appeal by the defendants to the High Court to the Members of the Board of Revenue for making the Court of Wards that the estate might be released in his favour. This application having been rejected, he obtained a Rule from the Original Side of the High Court under s 43 of the Specific Relief Act calling upon the Members of the Board only to show cause why they should not forthwith release the estate. The Rule was not served upon the infant, who's interest would be affected if the Rule were made absolute. Held that inasmuch as the petitioner had failed to comply with rule 483 of the Rules of the High Court Original Side by not serving the Rule upon the infant and that inasmuch as he had an adequate legal remedy by way of execution of the decree obtained by him, the Rule was liable to be discharged and the petitioner could not get any relief under s 46 of the Act. Held further that unless the Court was satisfied that the doing of or forbearing from an act was consonant to right and justice and such doing and forbearing was under any law for the time being in force clearly incumbent on the person against whom the order was sought, no mandamus ought to be granted and that title to property would not be tried in mandamus proceedings and the writ would not issue when it was necessary to try or decide complicated or extended questions of fact. Kesho Prasad Singh v The Board of Revenue (1911) I L R 38 Calc 553

MANDAMUS—contd

MANDATORY INJUNCTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIV r 2

I L R 38 Bom 361

See FOOTINGS I L R 38 Calc 687

See INJUNCTION I L R 46 Calc 103

MANPAN

— dispute as to—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) SCH II s 20

I L R 37 Bom 442

MANUFACTURE SALE OR POSSESSION

See EXCISEABLE ARTICLES

I L R 39 Calc 1053

MANU KYAY

— Book X IT 5 14—

See PURNIESE LAW

I L R 44 Calc 379

MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR

— Law applicable—Question of fact—Custom requires of a valid—Judicial notice—Reasonableness or legal—Question of law—Custom derogating from the Mahomedan law—Madras Civil Courts Act (III of 1853) s 16 The law applicable to the parties to a suit is the law which the parties as a matter of fact by their customs and usages have adopted, not the law which the Courts by a consideration of the historical circumstances relating to the parties or of their religious books or otherwise consider to be the law that they ought to have adopted. If that law being sufficiently certain and not opposed to public policy is of such a nature that the Courts can give effect to it then the principles underlying s 16 of the Madras Civil Courts Act require that they should give effect to it.

MAPPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR—contd

Jammja v Diuar I L R 23 Ill 10 Muhammad Ismail Khan v Lala Sheomukh Rai 17 C W N 97 and Hirbai v Sonabai Per O C 110 referred to. The question whether the particular parties are governed by the Marumakkattayam or the Mahomedan law is one of fact. George v Davies [1911] 9 A B 445 Assar v Pathumma I L R 22 Mad 494 and Kunhimbi Umma v Kandy Moithin I L R 27 Mad 77 referred to. A custom to hold good in law must be not unreasonable and must apply to matters which the written law has left undetermined and the majority at least of any given class of persons must look upon it as binding and it must be established by a series of well known concordant and on the whole continuous instances. The question whether an alleged rule of conduct can be enforced at all or whether it is uncertain or opposed to public policy or unreasonable one of law and may be considered irrespective of the question whether the custom actually exists. Moulty v Halliday [1898] 1 Q B 795 followed. S 16 of the Madras Civil Courts Act discussed. KUNHAMBI v KALANTHAR (1914) I L R 38 Mad 1052

MARFADARI RECEIPT

See ITAM I L R 47 Calc 979

MARINE INSURANCE

See INSURANCE 16 H W N 931
I L R 36 Eom 484

MARITIME NECESSARIES

See AFFRECHT SHIP I L R 42 Calc 85

MARK BY ILLITERATE EXECUTANT

See MARKSMAN

MARKET

See U P LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901) s 86

I L R 32 All 193

MARKET FRANCHISE

Contract—Procuring breach of contract—Justification—Picketing with intimidation and force of actionable—Ejectment Court discretion of in considering evidence. In Bengal there appears to be no such thing as a market franchise or a right to hold a market conferred by grant from the Crown nor can such right be acquired by prescription. The right to hold a market is treated as incident to the ownership of land and a proprietor may set up a market in proximity to his new bazaar market without infringing the existing one. Two ut al eum non laeta. The proprietor of the old market has no monopoly or privilege which is entitled to protection and no immunity from competition. He has no remedy at law merely because his profits are diminished. Talla I Adaj v Lera Sundari Jc I L R 1 Calc 55 Narda Kumar Sirdar v Emjor JJ C B 11 6 12 v Mard n a Law v 141 and Hammeron v Earl of Lyart (1916) 14 C 1 referred to. Where illegal means in the nature of intimidation and physical compulsion are employed by the agents of the owner of the new market to dissuade traders from attending the old market the owner of the old market is entitled to a civil remedy by way of a suit for damages. A Court of Appeal should be slow to differ from the Trial Court on the credibility and veracity of witnesses but where the trial Judge has approached the evidence from a wrong standpoint or has applied to that evidence wrong standards of probability or improbability it is not merely a question of credibility of witnesses and the Appeal Court is not obliged to accept the estimate of the trial Judge. According to the doctrine of the common law apart from violence, mere bo setting or watching may by itself be actionable in trade disputes. Irish v Irish Medical Association (1919) 11 D 414 Carrick v Taylor Cro Jac 567 2 L J 455 and Tardien v McGauley 1 Irace 210 3 I R 659 ribed on. Where however there is a dispute between two rival market owners in London and the question is whether such a rival owner is justified in inducing people by means of persuasion to attend his market or shop and to dissuade people from attending the market or shop of the rival owner it is doubtful whether the abovementioned doctrine of the common law applies. Haji CHANIRA FOI CHAU DHURI v KRISHNA CHANDRA SANA SADDAR (1910) 1 L R 47 Cal 10-9

MARKET FRANCHISE—contd

MARKETABLE TITLE

See SIZING PERFORMANCE

1 L P 30 Com 110

proof of—

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER

1 L R 41 Bom 300

MARKET VALUE

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 41 Cal 967

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT s 23

14 C W N 134

1 L R 38 Cal 967

MARKSMAN

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1899) s 59

1 L R 41 Bom 384

by— execution of a promissory note

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XVI of 1881) s 27

1 L R 40 M.L.A 1171

MARRIAGE

See BREACH OF CONTRACT OF MARRIAGE

1 L R 41 Bom 137

See BURMESE LAW

1 L R 39 Cal 492

See CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE ACT (XV of 1872) ss 368

1 L R 40 All 393

See CIVIL COURTS ACT s 16

1 L R 33 Mad 342

See CONTRACT ACT 18 s 23

1 L R 43 All 650

See DAMAGES

1 L R 41 Bom 17

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869)

ss 14 1 L R 41 Bom 26

s 57 1 L R 34 All 203

1 L R 38 Mad 452

See GUARDIAN WARD ACT 1890 ss 12 43 AND 47

1 L R 44 Bom 690

MARRIAGE—contd

See HINDU LAW 1 L R 38 Cal 700

1 L R 34 Mad 277

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

1 L R 32 All 575

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

See HINDU LAW—WILL

1 L R 37 Bom 18

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—BIGAMY

1 L R 39 Cal 409

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

See MARRIAGE WITH WIFE'S SISTER

See PENAL CODE (ACT XIV of 1860)

s 498 1 L R 34 All 589

1 L R 42 All 401

See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

1 L R 41 Bom 454

Asura form—

See TRUSTS ACT (II of 1882) s. 88.

1 L R 43 Bom 173

Breach of contract of—

See CONTRACT

dissolution of—

See PENAL CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIV of 1860) s 1

1 L R 39 Bom 136

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) ss 3

16 37 44 1 L R 40 Bom 109

evidence and recognition of—

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

1 L R 38 Cal 700

of coparcener—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

1 L R 39 Mad 587

presumption as to form of—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

1 L P 34 Bom 553

presumption of from acknowledgment—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

1 L R 36 Cal 259

presumption of by—continuous cohabitation—

See HINDU LAW 1 L R 2 Lah 207

Right of Hindu mother to select a bridegroom for her daughter—

See GUARDIANSHIP 1 L P 1 Lah 146 validity of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

1 L R 45 Cal 878

Marriage of a Sunni Mahomedan with a pregnant woman—Concealment of pregnancy not rendering marriage invalid—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

1 L R 45 Bom 151

Requisites to validity of Parsi marriage—

See PARSIS MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE ACT (XV of 1865) ss 3 6 8 AND 9 TO 14

1 L P 45 Bom 140

MARRIAGE—contd

marriage contract entered into by Mahomedans whether binding—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R 1 Lab 597

Breach of Contract of—Procurement of—Parent or guardian procuring breach maliciously or by false representation liable An action is maintainable against a person for inducing a party to break a contract of marriage entered into by such party. A parent or guardian inducing a child or ward to break such a contract is liable when such parent or guardian does so maliciously or by false representations. Although malice is not the gist of the action in such case it may if alleged and proved displace the protection or privilege which arises from the relation between the party procuring the breaking of the contract and the party breaking it. JENNIE FAIRY COLQUHOUN v FANNY SMITHER (1909)

I L R 33 B ad 417

Restitution of conjugal Rights—Under the Mahomedan Law a wife's conversion from Islam to Christianity effects a complete dissolution of marriage with her Mahomedan husband. The fact of such conversion is therefore a bar to a suit by the husband for restitution. AMIN BEG v SARFAY

I L R 33 All 90

Contract to pay money to a mother for giving her daughter in marriage—Public policy—Hindu Law—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 23 A contract whereby a guardian whether natural or appointed agrees to dispose of his ward in marriage for his own personal pecuniary gain is not enforceable in a Court of law. Dhadas Idwar v Ful Chand Chagan I L R 9 Bom 658. Venkata Krishnayya v Lakshmi Narayana I L R 39 Mad 185. Jam Chand Sen v Rudanto Sen I L R 10 Cal 1061 (the opinion expressed by Garth C J.) followed. Juggeswar Chuckerbutty v Pundlicore Chuckerbutty 14 W R 105. Pante Lalun Moon v Dass v Robin Molon Singh 25 W P 3. Bakshi Das v Nandu Das I C L J 261 965 distinguished. Varanathan v Samina than I L R 17 Mad 81 dis. entered from. The rule rests on the broad and general principle that where any one is in a fiduciary position with respect to a person and is bound to exercise skill care and judgment for the benefit of that person he must not take a reward from some other person for the exercise of his powers in some particular way whether the course taken is in fact beneficial or the reverse to the person whose interest he is bound to protect. Where a Hindu mother sought to recover a sum of money which the defendant had agreed to pay to her in consideration of her consenting to give her daughter in marriage to his son—Held that the suit was not maintainable the agreement being opposed to public policy. BALDEO DAS AGARWALLA v MOHAWALLA PITSAD (1911)

15 C W N 44

Legitimacy—Children of—Presumption of law in favour of legal marriage For may be rebutted—In the absence of fact to the contrary presumption of law may be rebutted. When it is proved that two persons have lived together for many years as husband and wife and their child has always been recognised as legitimate the presumption of law is that they were lawfully married. The presumption can be repelled only by conclusive evidence and is not displaced merely because the direct evidence of marriage which took place many years ago is not satisfactory. It is v Piers 2 H L C 331. Morris v Davies 5 Cl & Fin 163 and Mouy Lal v Chandrabati Kumari I L P 39 Cde 700 referred to. Where the lower Appellate Court reversed the finding of the trial Judge in favour of legitimacy without reference to the above principle and upon a mere balance of probabilities its finding was set aside on second Appeal as being contrary to law. BEVIN BEHARY DAS BAIRAGI v ATUL KRISHNA DAS BAIRAGI (1911)

MARRIAGE—contd

17 C W N 494

Procuring breach of contract of—Conspiracy—Cause of action—Malice an essential ingredient—Test The first plaintiff betrothed his son the second plaintiff to one J. Subsequently J's father married her to the first defendant. Thereupon the plaintiffs brought this action against the first defendant and his sisters the second and third defendants to recover damages alleging that they (the defendants) had plotted and conspired together wrongfully to procure the breach of the first contract of marriage. The conspiracy alleged was not proved at the trial nor was it proved that the first defendant knew at the time of his marriage with J of her previous betrothal to the second plaintiff. Hild (1) that the suit was not maintainable (ii) that no legal right inhering in the plaintiff had been violated since according to Hindu law by which the parties were governed a father was entitled to break off his daughter's engagement should a more suitable bridegroom be available. In an action of conspiracy to procure a breach of contract malice is an essential ingredient of the cause of action. Rule in Lumley v Gye 22 L J Q B 463 considered and its universal applicability doubted. KRISHNAIA SWAMI v NARAYANAN (1914)

I L P 9 Bom 682

Interference in marriage—Vaishnava The Petitioner applied for letters of administration to the estate of the deceased. He was after the death of her husband married to him in Kanti form. Hild—That marriage by Kantidol (exchange of friends) among Vaishnavas is valid and the petitioner was entitled to letters of administration. PRANOD BEHARY ADRIKARI v SHASHI BHUSHAN BHUT

24 C W N 958

MARRIAGE PROKAGE AGREEMENT

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) ss 23
(c) I L R 41 Mad 18

MARRIAGE CUSTOM

See CUSTOM 20 C W N 468
See JEWISH LAW I L R 40 Cal 266

MARRIAGE EXPENSES

— of male members—
See HINDU LAW—JURISPRUDENCE
I L R 40 P ad 23

MARRIAGE "LITTLE" FRY

See JEWISH LAW I L R 39 Cal 705

MARRIAGE WITH WIFE'S SISTER

See BUENISE LAW—MARRIAGE
I L P 20 Cal 492

MARRIED WOMAN

See ABDUCTION I L R 45 Cal 641

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 498 I L R 36 All 1MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT (III OF 1874)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1909) s 60 I L R 37 Bom 471

See LIFE INSURANCE
I L R 35 Mad 182

— s 2 4 6—Hindu effecting a policy of life insurance for benefit of wife and children—Policy money if available for his debts on death—Statute application of leading to anomaly—Interpretation A policy of life insurance effected by a Hindu for the benefit of his wife and children is not governed by the provisions of s 6 of the Married Women's Property Act of 1874 Per RICHARDSON J Although s 6 of the Act expressly provides that nothing in the Act applies to any married woman who at the time of her marriage professed the Hindu amongst other religions or whose husband at the time of such marriage professed that religion and does not expressly exempt their children from the operation of the Act the intention of the Legislature taking the Act as a whole is to exclude the children also from the benefits of s 6 of the Act If the words of an Act are so plain that no other construction is reasonably possible, the anomaly must be accepted and effect must be given to the language which the Legislature has chosen to employ But if the language is of doubtful import the most reasonable construction of which it is fairly capable ought to be adopted Held per CURRIE that the money due under the policy in question formed part of the estate of the assured and was available for payment of his debts after his death ESHANI DAS v GOPAL CHANDRA DEY (1914)

18 C W N 1335

— s 6—Applicability to Hindus—Insurance—Policy for the benefit of wife and children if creates a trust—Policy amount payable to the executors administrators and assigns of the assured—Right of beneficiary to enforce—Presumption of advancement Where a Hindu male effected a policy of insurance on his own life expressed on the face of it to be for the benefit of his wife or his wife and children or any of them but payable to his executors administrators and assigns and died leaving a daughter Held by the Full Bench that s 6 of the Married Women's Property Act (III of 1874) applied to the case and by virtue thereof a trust was created in favour of the daughter in regard to the policy amount against which the creditors of the assured have no right to proceed Oriental Government Security Life Assurance Limited v Vanteddu Ammaraju I L R 35 Mad 162 overruled Per WHITE C J (SANKARAN NAIR J concurring) Ss 4 5 6 7 8 and 9 of Act III of 1874 do not apply where either of the spouses at the time of the marriage professed the Hindu religion The primary object of s 6 is to enable a man (though a Hindu male) to make provision for his wife and children by insuring his life for their benefit without executing a separate deed of trust though the result may be that a Hindu woman derives a benefit thereby Per WHITE C J S 6 does not affect the law of contract or the law of trust as regard the persons entitled to enforce the

MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT (III OF 1874)—contd

— s 6—contd

contract under the policy The person entitled to enforce the rights of the beneficiary is the trustee if a trustee has been appointed and if no special trustee has been appointed the Official Trustee to whom the money is payable and not the daughter the beneficiary Held also that the daughter was not entitled to enforce her claim against the insurance company or as against a creditor as (i) the company was under a contractual obligation to pay the amount to the executor or administrator of the assured and (ii) the presumption of advancement of a daughter was rebutted by the words for the benefit of his wife and children the policy not being one for the benefit of such of the children as are daughters Per TRAYNOR J The daughter's right under the insurance policies is affected by s 6 of Act III of 1874 and the operation of s 6 is not prevented by s 2 For the daughter is not a married woman within the meaning of ss 2 and 6 though she may be married as the expression married woman cannot refer to any woman other than one who is married to the assured BALAMBA v KRISHNAIA (1913)

I L R 27 Mad 483

MARSHALLING

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 395

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 60 I L R 42 All 336MARTIAL LAW—

— Trial of Offences by Commissions—

See GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL
I L R 1 Lah 326MARTIAL LAW ORDINANCES (I AND IV OF 1919)See GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL
I L R 1 Lah 326

See CRIMINAL LAW I L R 1 Lah 114

— Government of India Act of 1915 s 65 cls (2) and (3) as 72 and 84—Ordinance issued by Governor General if void as affecting the unwritten law and constitution of the United Kingdom etc—Ordinance contravening s 65 (3) as to British-born subject if void altogether—Government of India Act of 1916 s 2 Sub s (2) to s 6 of the Government of India Act 1915 does not prevent the Indian Government from passing a law which may modify or affect a rule of the constitution or of the common law upon the observation of which some person may conceive or allege that his allegiance depends It refers only to laws which directly affect the allegiance of the subject to the Crown as by a transfer or qualification of the allegiance or a modification of the obligations thereby imposed In re Ameer Khan 6 B L R 399 459 (1870) The Queen v Burah I R 3 A C 889 907 s c L P 5 I A 178 I L R 4 Cal 172 (1878) and Besant v The Advocate General of Madras L R 46 I A 176 191 s c 23 C N N 896 (1919) referred to Ordinance IV of 1910 if it was repugnant to s 6 (3) of the Government of India Act so far as British born subjects were concerned was under s 2 of the Government of India Act of 1916 void to the extent of that repugnancy but not otherwise BUGGA v KING EMPEROR (P C) 24 C W N 650

MARUMAKKATTAYAM LAW

See MALABAR LAW

Tarwad = the heir to the property of a deceased member subject to the liability to discharge debts of deceased—Devolution of property acquired by or for benefit of Tarwad—Survivorship—Property acquired by a dividual member devolution of Co parcenary exists among the members of an undivided Malabar Tarwad Where therefore one of the members dies the Tarwad is the heir to the property of deceased subject to the liability to discharge the debts of the deceased member Pyrappan Nambar v Kukulurup I L R 4 Mad 150 referred to Where property is acquired for the benefit of the Tavazhi the incidents of such property will depend on the constitution of the Tavazhi If the Tavazhi forms a distinct branch from the main Tarwad with separate properties and has its own karnavan it will in law form a Tarwad and the incident of Tarwad property will attach to it None of the members will have an alienable interest in such property and it cannot be attached in execution of a decree against any of the members Kanath Pathen Ittut Tarwad v Varajan I L R 28 Mad 182 189 referred to If however the members of the Tavazhi have not separated from the main branch by taking their share of Tarwad property or renouncing their interest therein the mere acquisition of such property will not make them a separate Tarwad and the karnavan of the main Tarwad will retain all his right and obligations towards them The property will be the separate property of the Tavazhi and not Tarwad property and the incident of impartibility which attaches to Tarwad property will not attach to it The interest of each member will be the same as in an ordinary Hindu family and will be liable to be attached and sold If however any member dies without his interest being alienated in his lifetime his interest lapses to the other members and it cannot be sold Ayutachumma v Kuttimammi Hoy v I L R 6 Mad 201 referred to If property is acquired solely for the benefit of two members of a Tavazhi they must be treated as tenants in common They cannot be treated as a separate branch and on the death of one the share will pass to the heir of the deceased which according to the preponderance of authority will be the Tarwad The principle of joint tenancy is unknown to Hindu Law except in the case of the members of an undivided Hindu family Joyeswar Varain Dio v Pamchendra Dutt I L R 33 Cal 60 referred to UNMAHQA v ARPADORA PATTER (1910)

I L R 31 Mad 387

*Gift to a woman and her children enures for their benefit with the incidents of tarwad property—Members subsequently born acquire an interest by birth—karnavan power of to alienate—Right of one member of tarwad to erect buildings on tarwad property—Compensation claim to for demolition of building—Malabar Tenants Improvement Act s 5 Gift to a woman governed by the Marumakkattayam law and her children enures in favour of the donee and her children with the incidents of tarwad property As members of a tarwad acquire an interest in the tarwad property by birth children born subsequent to the gift will acquire an interest in such property A karnavan cannot make an alienation for such a long period as sixty years in the absence of special necessity or special benefit Such an*

MARUMAKKATTAYAM LAW—contd

alienation cannot be held good for a portion of the term i.e., the usual period of twelve years as it will have the effect of creating a new contract between the parties Although in the case of ordinary co parcenaries the Courts will not order the demolition of buildings erected by one co parcenary in joint property unless some substantial injury is shown the case will be different in the case of tarwad property The members of the tarwad have not like the members of an ordinary co parcenary the right of compulsory partition and it would not be fair or equitable to compel the karnavan to purchase the building erected by a junior member or to deprive the karnavan of possession of part of the property for ever The junior members cannot therefore on general principles resist recovery or demolition of the building A lessee whose lease is disputed and who is put on inquiry as to the real title of the lessor before constructing buildings on the land leased cannot after constructing buildings on a wrong view of the lessor's title claim on eviction compensation for the buildings as a bona fide tenant under s 6 of the Malabar Tenants Improvements Act KALLIANT AMMA v GOVINDA MENON (1912)
I L R 35 Mad 648

MARZ UL MAUT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 36 All 289

I L R 40 All 238

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 36 All 431

I L R 46 Cal 13

MASTER

See MASTER AND SERVANT

— authority of—

See REVISOR I L R 43 Cal 903

MASTER AND SERVANT

See ADULTERATION

I L R 30 Cal 682

See BENGAL MOTOR CAR AND CYCLE ACT

s 3 I L R 38 Cal 415

See COMPANY I L R 38 Mad 891

See OPIUM ACT (I OF 1878) ss 5 9

I L R 34 All 319

See PENAL CODE s 3 U

15 C W N 414

See SCHOOL MASTER

I L R 44 Cal 917

See TORT I L R 43 Bom 103

See DISMISSAL FOR MISCONDUCT

I L R 33 Mad 126

See TRUST I L R 41 Cal 11

See WORKMEN & BREACH OF CONTRACT

ACT (XIII OF 1890) ss 2 AND 3

I L R 41 All 390

— ground for dismissing an Editor—

See COMPANY I L R 38 Mad 991

Ganya—*Illegal possession of ganya by servant acting on his own behalf and beyond the scope of his employment—Liability of the master for the act of the servant—Bengal*

MASTER AND SERVANT—contd

Exec Act (Peng I of 1999) ss 16 (a) and 16
To support a conviction under s 16 of the Pengal Exec Act it is necessary to show not only that a servant was in the employ of the master but also that he was acting within the scope of his employment and for the benefit of the latter.
Where a servant whose duty was to remain at his master's shop and to conduct the business there was found travelling to another place with gunja in his possession in contravention of s 46
(a) of the Act. Held that the master could not be convicted under s 46 as his servant acted beyond the scope of his employment and for his own private purpose. Suffer Ali Khan v Golam Hyder Khan 6 B L Cr 60 referred to Emperor
v Haji Shawk Mahomed Shustari 1 I P 37 Bom
10 distinguished UTTAM CHAND v EMPLOYER
(1911) 1 I R 39 Calc 244

— Clerk engaged on a monthly salary—Infringement of employment without consent of master—Clerk not entitled to salary for broken portion of month in which he left his service. Held that an office clerk engaged on a monthly salary is not entitled to any salary for the broken portion of a month in the course of which he leaves his service without the consent of his employer. Judgany v Hungerford Market Company 3 A L L 171 Dinnick Ichara v Seve nooks 1 I P 13 Cal 80 and Jamsi Manor v
Little 10 Bom H C 1 57 referred to RALLI
BROTHERS v AMBICA PRASAD (1912)
1 I R 35 All 132

MATADARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1887)

— s 9 and 10— Heir next in succe
sion—Succession to Matadar property—Success ion not confined to the limits of Matadar family —Heir to be ascertained by reference to the personal law governing the parties. One R the representa tive Matadar who inherited his Mata from his mother's side having died disputes arose as to the succession to the Matadar property between B who was the daughter of a maternal cousin of A and D who was the grand nephew of P. Held that D was the preferential heir to B as in order to ascertain the heir of a deceased Matadar the Court was not confined to the limits of the Matadar family and should have in the first instance re ference to the personal law which governed the parties. DAYA KUCSAL v Bai Bhilani (1915)
1 I R 39 Bom 478

MATERIAL IRREGULARITY

See REVIEW 14 C W N 244

MATERIAL PREJUDICE

See PREVIOUS 1 I R 47 Calc 438

MATERNAL UNCLE

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
1 I R 43 Calc 1

MATE'S RECEIPTS

See CONTRACT 1 I R 41 Calc 670

MATH

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
1 I R 46 I A 204
See LIMITATION 1 I R 37 Calc 885
See MURDER

MATHIRI MAGUVU AND S/DALWAR

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s 13 CL (a)
1 I R 39 Mad 84

MATRIMONIAL CAUSES ACT 1857 (20 & 21 VICT C 85)

— s 28—

See DIVORCE 1 I R 45 Calc 525

MATWALI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKI
1 I R 47 Calc 592

MATNIS

See ACTIO PERSONALIS MORITUR CUM
PERSONA 1 I R 35 Bom 12

— 'a man cannot take advantage of his own fraud'

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
1 I R 41 Bom 93

— "generalia specialibus non derogant"

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY
1 I R 39 Mad 1

— Ut res magis valeat quam pereat'

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
1 I R 46 Calc 458

MAYUKHA

See DAUGHTERS INHERITANCE OF
1 I R 34 Bom 510

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
1 I R 33 Bom 553

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
1 I R 36 Bom 379

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
1 I R 36 Bom 424

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
1 I R 34 Bom 385
1 I R 39 Bom 87

MEASURE OF DAMAGES

See DAMAGES

MEASUREMENT OF LAND

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 91
14 C W N 231

— Excess area—Bengal
Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 52 (6) as amended by Beng Act I of 1907 s 13 The words at the time the measurement on which the claim is based was made in s 52 (6) of the Bengal Tenancy Act do not refer to the measurement upon which the excess area is found out before the institution of the suit. The section merely provides that if the landlord proves that at the time the measurement on which the claim is based was made there existed a practice of settlement being made after measurement of the land asse ed with rent it may be presumed that the area specified in the jatta kabulyat or counterfoil rent receipt was entered in it after measurement though the landlord is not able to prove that as a matter of fact the lands in the particular case were settled after measurement. Uma Singh v Rai Tarini Prasad Bahadur 19 C L J 451 referred to: KHAJEN HABIBULLAH v UMED ALI
(1919) 1 I R 47 Calc 266

MEASUREMENT OF LAND—contd

Bengal Tenancy Act
(VIII of 1885) s 52 (6) The expression at the time the measurement on which the claim is based was made in s 52 (6) of the Bengal Tenancy Act refers to the measurement upon which the area in excess or defect as the case may be is found out before the institution of the suit it does not refer to the measurement made at the time of the original settlement or the last preceding adjustment of rent Khajeh Habibullah v Umed Ali I L R 47 Calc 266 dissenting from NILMANI KAR v SATI PRASAD GARGA (1900)

I L R 48 Calc 556

MEASURE OF FIGHT

See EASEMENT I L P 39 Calc 69
I L R 42 Calc 46

MEDICAL WORKS

reference to—

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

MEDICINAL PREPARATION

See EXCUSABLE ARTICLE
I L R 40 Calc 82

MEHR

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 41 Bom 5

MELVARAM

grant of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 I L R 38 Mad 891

MELVARAMDAR

receiver of—

See LIMITATION ACT (I OF 1908) s 22
I L R 38 Mad 837

right of to trees—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Mad 155

MEMBER

See STOCK EXCHANGE
I L R 47 Calc 623

MEMONS

See SUCCESSION I L R 43 I A 35

See WILL I L R 43 Bom 641

Halai Memons and Bombay Memons—Hindu law governs Halai Memons of Kathiawar in matters of succession and inheritance—Culom—Domicile—Change of domicile of origin—Value of judgments of a foreign Court for proving a custom peculiar to a community—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 13—Value of evidence of tradition given by leading men of the community—A Halai Memon a native of Porbander in Kathiawar died intestate at Bombay leaving him surviving a widow the second defendant one son the first defendant and two married daughters one of whom had since died the survivor being the plaintiff. The estate of the deceased consisted of five immovable properties in Bombay a share in a business in Bombay and a house and land at Porbander. The plaintiff claimed to be entitled as a daughter to 7/32 of the estate as her share on the footing that the deceased as a Bombay Memon was governed by the Mahomedan law of succession and she was supported in her contention by the representatives of the deceased daughter. The first defendant contended that Hindu law applied and that under that law he was entitled to the whole estate subject to the maintenance of the deceased widow. The second defendant supported the first defendant though as widow of the deceased she would have been entitled under Mahomedan law to 4/32 of the estate. The Court of first instance decreed the plaintiff's suit holding that though the deceased belonged to a family of Halai Memons who had settled in Porbander the Halai Memons settling in Porbander did not as regards succession and inheritance retain Hindu law at the time of their conversion nor had they adopted Hindu law by immemorial custom. The first defendant appealed—Held reversing the decree of the lower Court (i) that the plaintiff was not entitled to any share in the estate of her deceased father as he was governed by Hindu law and not by Mahomedan law in matters of succession and inheritance (ii) that the evidence established that the Memons of Kathiawar of whatever group or sect followed the Hindu rule of succession and this conclusion was supported by Porbander Memons particularly by a large number of instances in which widow and daughters had been excluded from succession sons had divided the property with their father in his lifetime or equally with each other after his death and the right of predeceased brother's sons to share with their uncles had been repeatedly recognised all these results being incidental to the Hindu and not to the Mahomedan system. Per SCOTT C J—There is no principle recognised by the law administered in this country upon which a Hindu or Mahomedan's possessions may be distributed partly by one law and partly by another according to the locality of the possession. They must all fall under either the law of the religion or the customary law of the community. There is no lex loci for the purpose of distribution. Permanent residence in Bombay does not necessarily import the Mahomedan law of succession for one whose ancestors were converted from Hinduism. Severance from the domicile of origin and permanent residence in Bombay would in the case of persons falling within the purview of the Indian Succession Act effect change of domicile and with it a change of law e.g. from French to Anglo-Indian or Portuguese to Anglo-Indian but it would not change the law of succession for Hindus or Mahomedans. Kojaks and Memons case (1841) PIERCE D C 110 Has Bays v Das Santol I L R 10 Bom 53 Abdurrahim Haji I mail Hanifi v Heli mobas L P 43 I A 55 and Abdul Hussein Ali v L's Sona Dero L P 45 I A 10 referred to. MAHOMED HAJI ABU v KHATERJI (1915)

MEMONS—contd

I L R 43 Bom 647

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) s 5
I L R 38 Mad 349

MEMORANDUM OF APPEAL

See APPEAL

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 107 149 II VII R. 11
CL (c) I L P 33 Bom 41

MEMORANDUM OF APPEAL—contd

BY 116 151 O ALI R 23
I L P 42 Bom 363
Se COURT FEE I L P 39 Calc 996
Se REFUND OF COURT FEE
I L R 40 Calc 365

— order turning—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
ALI R 1 I L P 40 All 659

MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

See COMPANIES ACT, 1892 s 40 41
I L R 40 Cal 1

MENACE TO PERSON AND PROPERTY

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.
I L R 46 Calc 215

MERCHANDISE MARKS ACT (IV OF 1859)

— s 7—

See TRADE MARK I L R 40 Calc 281

MERCHANT SEAMEN ACT (I OF 1859)

— s 58 & 81—Merchant Shipping Act (57 and 58 Vic C 60) s 111 cl 3 and 2nd cl (b) and (c)—If ultra disobedience of lawful commands—Order given to transfer from one ship to another—Seaman disobeying the order—Clause about transfer in articles of agreement ultra vires The accused signed articles of agreement in London with the Master of the SS Arcadia (a steamer belonging to the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company) under which he agreed inter alia to obey the lawful commands of the Master or the superior Officers and to transfer to any other vessel of the Company when required during the period of service. These articles were initiated by an Officer of the Board of Trade. When the SS Arcadia arrived in the Bombay Harbour it was sold by the Company to an Indian Merchant. The accused was then ordered by the Marine Superintendent of the Company in the presence of the Chief Officer of the SS Arcadia to transfer him to the SS Salsette another boat belonging to the Company. For a wilful disobedience of this order the accused was convicted under s 81 cl 4 of the Merchant Seamen Act (I of 1859). The accused applied to the High Court against the conviction contending first that the article respecting transfer was ultra vires and secondly that the order as to transfer given by the Marine Superintendent of the Company was not a lawful command—Held that having regard to s 114 cl 3 of the Merchant Shipping Act (57 and 58 Vic C 60) and to the fact that the articles of agreement had been initiated by an Officer of the Board of Trade the article as to transfer was not ultra vires. Held further the order to transfer having been given by the Marine Superintendent of the Company in the presence of the Chief Officer of the SS Arcadia was a lawful command of the latter failure to obey which was punishable under s 81 cl 4 of the Merchant Seamen Act (I of 1859). EXPERIOR = A GOON NEW (1916) I L P 39 Bom 558

MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT (57 & 58 VICT C 60)

See HIGH SEAS I L R 42 Bom 234

MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT (57 & 58 VICT C 60)—contd

— s 114 cl (3) and 220 cl (B) and (C)—

See MERCHANT SEAMEN ACT (I OF 1859)
s 81 cl (4) I L R 39 Bom 558

— s 654 655—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
I L R 39 Calc 467

MERGER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 2
I L R 33 All 393

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O IX
F 13 I L R 39 All 13

See DECREE FOR POSSESSION
I L P 38 All 509

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L P 43 Calc 164

See LIMITATION ACT (I OF 1908) Sec.
I Arts 120 13^o

I L P 39 All 74

Mokurari tenure specially registered under Act XI of 1859 granted by the zemindar—Subsequent grant of pains by the zemindar—Purchase of pains and mokurari by the same person—Merger—Transfer of Property Act s 2 (c) 111 (d) 117 Where a mokurari tenure has all along been treated as a distinct sub tenure there was no merger by the acquisition of a pains tenure and the mokurari tenure by the same person apart from the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act Woomesh Chander Goopis v Paj Narain Roy 10 W R 15 Thomas Savi v Panchanan Poy 25 W R 503 Prossano Nath Roy v Jagat Chunder Pandit 3 O L P 149 referred to Siban Nath Khan v Golool Chunder Choudhury I L P 19 Calc 802 followed Surja Narain Mandal v Nanda Lal Sinha I L R 3 Calc 1212 Ujjat Hossein v Gayans Dass I L R 36 Calc 802 distinguished Where a person acquires the superior and the subordinate interests piece meal at different times but ultimately the entire interests of the lessor and the lessee are vested in the same person at any point of time there is a merger of the two interests in any case to which the provisions of a 111 (d) of the Transfer of Property Act are applicable. A mokurari was created before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act and a pains was granted of the remainder within which the mokurari was created. Afterwards in 1856 the entire pains and the entire mokurari were acquired by the same person. Held—that the provisions of a 111 (d) of the Transfer of Property Act do not apply and there was no merger of the mokurari interest in the pains interest Promotho Nath Mitter v Rah Prossano Choudhury I L P 28 Calc 744 followed Ujjat Hossein v Gayans Dass I L R 36 Calc 802 explained HIRENDRA NATH DUTT v HABIB MOHAMMAD GHOSH (1914)

18 C W N 560

— Union of superior and subordinate rights in land in mofussil taking place before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) and Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885). In case unaffected by the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act and the Bengal Tenancy Act the union of a superior and a subordinate interest did not by operation of law necessarily merge the subordinate in the superior interest. But

MERGER—contd

although in such cases the union of the superior and subordinate interests may not automatically cause a merger of the latter in the former the conduct of the party concerned may show that he did not intend to keep the two interests alive as mutually distinct rights PAN BESSEY DUTT v HARIPADA MUKERJI (1919) 20 C W N 830

*Merger doctrine of if applied in mufussil before Transfer of Property Act—Merger a question of intention—Acquisition of superior and inferior interests by joint Hindu family in the names of different individuals to indicate an intention to prevent merger. Quere—Whether prior to the Transfer of Property Act there was a law of merger applicable in the mufussil. Hindra Nath Dutt v Hari Mohan Ghosh 18 C B V 800 referred to. Merger is not a thing which supervenes upon the acquisition of what for the sake of a joint generalisation may be called the superior with the inferior right. The question to be settled in the application of the doctrine is was such a coalescence of right meant to be accomplished as to extinguish that separation of title which the records contain? The fact that acquisitions of the superior and inferior interests on behalf of a joint Hindu family have been made in the names of different members thereof may point to an intention to keep the two interests from merging. DULHIN LACHLAPATI KUMAR v BODHATHI TIWARI (PC) 26 C W N 565

MESNE PROFITS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1882) s 583
I L R 38 All 163

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1882)—
s 583 I L R 38 All 79

s 11 EXPL V O X R 12
I L R 40 All 292

s 110 J Pat L J 377
O II R R 2 AND 4

I L R 38 Mad 829
O X R 12 2; C W N 369

See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 101
S v DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

ACT (XVII of 1879) s 13
I L R 30 Bom 587

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 41 All 517

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION
I L R 39 All 61

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 30 Mad 265

See HINDU LAW—INTESTATE
I L R 44 Bom 179 621

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
15 C W N 383 859

See JURISDICTION I L R 43 Calc 850
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT

I L R 42 Mad 315
See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION

14 C W N 1001
See RESTRICTION 3 Pat L J 367

See REVENUE SALE
I L R 37 Calc 559

MESNE PROFITS—contd

See SMALL CAUSE COURT
14 C W N 1001

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 6

— application to claim whether is an executory or execution—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART
182 I L R 45 Bom 819

— claim for by plaintiff from date of disposal—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 83 I L R 39 Mad 579

— decree for—
See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 40 All 211
— Estimation of on proprietor's private land—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 2

6 Pat L J 166
— Pendente Lite—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XX
r 12 6 Pat L J 54

— right to past transfer of—
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 6 CL (s)

I L R 38 Mad 308

— suit for of a prove—
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (IX of 1837) SCH II ART 31
I L R 40 All 142

— whether a decree for mesne profits and costs in a redemption is a money decreed—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O

XVI r 63 4 Pat L J 336
1 ———— Civil Courts Act (XII of 1903) s 18 19 21—Civil Procedure Code (Act XII of 1857) s 211 212 213—Jurisdiction—Mesne profits antecedent to the suit decree for if can be executed to an amount which taken with the value of the land would exceed jurisdiction of Court passing decree—Mesne profits pendente lite exceeding the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court making the decree—Forms of application for recovery Where a plaintiff instituted his suit for possession of property and mesne profits in the Court of a Munsif and valued it so as to bring it within the jurisdiction of the Munsif and the suit was decreed—Held that he could not recover mesne profits accruing before the institution of the suit to the extent of more than the difference between the maximum pecuniary jurisdiction of the Munsif and the value of the land as stated in the plaint Goldap Singh v Indra Kumar 9 C L

J 367 s c 13 C W N 493 followed Sudaraham
v Rameshadas 7 Ind Cas 755 not followed In this respect mesne profits antecedent to the institution of the suit and mesne profits pendente lite in respect of which the cause of action had not arisen at the date of the suit and which could not at that date be approximately valued stand on a different footing Nil further that the value of the mesne profits pendente lite claimed in the application for execution of the decree being in excess of the pecuniary jurisdiction of a Munsif

MESNE PROFITS—contd

the Munsif had no jurisdiction to entertain the application Panewar v Dulu I L R 21 Calc 550 distinguished and doubted *Gulab v Abdul 8 O W 1133 s c I L R 31 Calc 565 Iya tulla v Chandra Mohan I L R 31 Calc 564 11 O W 1133 s c 6 C L J 25 Golap Singh v Indra Kumar 9 C I J 57 s c 13 O W 493 Mannal v Samanda 46 I R 1906 91 P L R 1906 referred to In so far as the application for mesne profits pendente lite was concerned the Court therefore directed its return for presentation to the proper Court. No objection as to the jurisdiction of the Court to try the original suit having been raised before the decree and the decree as to recovery of land having become final the Court refused to give effect to the contention that in view of the amount of mesne profits now claimed the Court had no jurisdiction to make the decree *Buttappa Kumar Charrabatti v Putta Chandra Bose (1910)

I L R 43 Calc 650
15 C W N 506

Execution of decree

—Immovable property suit for—Purchaser pendente lite whether legal representative of the original owner—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) OO XX r 19(2) 111 r 102 and 111 r 10 and s 2 (11) Proceedings for the assessment of mesne profits after a decree had been obtained in a suit for recovery of possession of immovable property are proceedings in continuation of the original suit. A suit for recovery of possession of immovable property was brought against A. During the pendency of the suit B and C purchased the property from A but they did not apply to have their names added as defendants in the pending suit. The suit having been decreed the decree holder applied for execution of the decree against B and C and asked for possession of land and for the assessment of mesne profits. On an objection taken by B and C that they were not the legal representatives of A and that they could not be made liable in execution proceedings for the mesne profits decreed against A. Held that although B and C were not the legal representatives of A the execution proceedings being proceedings in continuation of the original suit and they being purchasers pendente lite they were liable for the mesne profits decreed against A. Midapore Zemindari Company Ltd v Nares Narain Pot (1911)

I L R 39 Calc 220

Although a plaintiff may perhaps recover mesne profits though out of possession still in order to recover damages in a case where he was out of possession the plaintiff must show that he has a right to immediate possession. Elani Bhes Mandal v Ram Nafayan Gosw (1911)

16 C W N 288

3(a) Where a father as manager alienates joint Hindu family property without legal necessity and the sons repudiate the sale a purchaser who has no notice that the father was incompetent to sell is in equity only liable to pay mesne profits for the date of repudiation. Lithou Nath Chavre v Nar Singh Tiwari

I L R 39 All 61

4 Jurisdiction—Suit for recovery of possession with mesne profits—Mesne profits as costs in the execution proceedings—Amount assessed more than the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court. A suit for recovery of possession of certain lands with mesne profits from the date of dispossession up to the date of restoration of possession was brought in the Munsif's Court. It was decreed together with the mesne profits claimed and the Court directed that the amount of mesne profits would be determined in the execution proceedings. The decree having been affirmed on appeal the decree holder applied to the executing Court for ascertainment of mesne profits. The total amount of mesne profits ascertained by the Munsif was Rs 1630 80 including interest. On an objection taken by the judgment debtor that the executing Court being a Munsif was not entitled to award mesne profits of a higher amount than Rs 1000. Held that the executing Court had jurisdiction to award the mesne profits ascertained in the present case. Pamunni Mahlon v Dulu Mahlon I L R 21 Cal 500 followed in principle. Ehugendra Kumar Chackralarti v Purna Chandra Bose 13 C I J 137 distinguished. Panchapam Tekadap v Kivoo Haldar (1912)

MESNE PROFITS—contd

I L R 40 Calc 56

5—Suit for recovery of mesne profits or damages with suit in declaratory and whether maintainable—Symbolical possession—Bengal Tenancy Act (111 of 1885) s 157 principle laid down in. If a person who has been dispossessed from an immovable property brings a suit for recovery of mesne profits the suit is not maintainable. The proper remedy is to institute a suit for declaration of title and recovery of possession with mesne profit. Lep Singh v Amar I L R 21 Calc 214 referred to. When the title of the plaintiff is denied by the defendant he (plaintiff) ought not to obtain a decree for mesne profit till his title has been established in a Court of competent jurisdiction. Where the title of the plaintiff is established in a Court of competent jurisdiction that decision is conclusive between the parties for all time to come. The symbolical possession by the plaintiff is effective as against the judgment debtor though it may not be operative as against strangers to the suit. Where the title of the plaintiff to immovable property has been restored and he has obtained symbolical possession and allowed the defendant to continue in actual occupation of the land and successfully asserted his right to be paid a fair and reasonable amount of damages for use and occupation of the land it is not open to the defendant to question the title of the plaintiff and there is no intelligible reason why the latter should not be allowed to maintain an action for recovery of damages for use and occupation of the land. This principle is recognized by the Legislature in s 157 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Giri Narain Chatterji v Mohu Sudan Mukerji (1911)

17 C W N 324

6—Applicator to assess

Limitation—Decree for mesne profits application for execution of by assignee—Right of assignee to apply for substitution in pending suit nature of application for ascertainment of mesne profits in pending suit limitation applicable to—Lenamidar if may apply—Assignee from assignee of party to suit application for substitution by—Claim for mesne profits if can be transferred—Stranger if may question assignment—Civil Procedure Code O XX = 12 O XXI = 10—Limitation Act (1 of 1908) Art 181. A durpatis held by three brothers D P and R was sold for rent and purchased by the putnidar. One of the three brothers D brought a suit and obtained a decree for the recovery of possession of the durpuns and mesne profits. After D's death his widow got herself substituted in his place and in execution of the decree took possession of the property and subsequently a deed was executed between her and the two other brothers P and R in terms that the property belonged to the three brothers and she as the widow of the eldest was entitled to two annas and the remaining 14 annas were divided between her and the two brothers in equal shares as also the mesne profits. The durpuns was thereafter sold in execution of a money decree and ultimately passed into the hands of one A. On 21st May 1907 the two brothers P and R by a conveyance signed their share of the costs and mesne profits under the decree obtained by D to M a benamidar of A and on the 10th June 1907 D's widow by another conveyance signed her share of the mesne profits and costs to A. On 22nd February 1909 A applied for execution of the decree and the application was admitted by the Subordinate Judge but under orders of the District Judge in appeal the application was returned for amendment on 4th March 1911 and amended on the same day. On appeal the High Court directed that this application presented by A should be treated as an application under O XX r 12 and remanded the case whereupon the amended application was placed on the record to be dealt with under O XX r 12 and A was substituted on the record in place of the original plaintiff. Held that the application should be treated as having been made on the date on which it was originally presented and that date being within 3 years of the dates of the conveyances assigning mesne profits and costs to A the application was not barred even if Art 181 of the Limitation Act was applicable. That even if the application was considered as having been made on the date on which it was amended the right of the assignee to apply for substitution in a pending suit is a right which accrues from day to day and is therefore not barred by limitation. That an application in a pending suit for ascertainment of mesne profits is not barred by the three years rule of limitation contained in Art 181 corresponding to Art 178 of the old Limitation Act. The law has not been changed by the new Limitation Act or the new Code of Civil Procedure. Puran Chand v. Puri Radha Kishen 1 L R 19 Cal 13 followed. Held (as to the contention that A could not be substituted when his two assignees P and R were not parties to the suit) that the property being the joint property of the three brothers and the suit having been brought by D as the eldest member of the family he might be taken to have represented the other two brothers also. That even if I and P were considered as assignees from D's widow the position was that A was an assignee from D's widow who was a party to the suit with respect to one third of the property and an assignee from P and R who in their turn were assignees from D's widow with respect to two thirds, and O XX r 10 was applicable to an application made by a person who has not obtained an assignment directly from a party to the suit but who has obtained an assignment derivatively from a party to the suit. That a right to sue for damages cannot be transferred but in the present case the claim for mesne profits had already merged in a judgment before the assignment and the right under the judgment was assignable although the original cause of action was not. There is nothing in law to prevent a benamidar from applying to the Court for ascertainment of mesne profit. A stranger cannot take exception to an assignment on the ground of inadequacy of consideration that being a matter between the assignor and assignee. Bhagat Dayal v. Debi Dayal 1 L R 35 Cal 420 s.c. 1 L C H A 333 relied on. Prasanno Kumar Panja v. Ashutosh Ray (1913) 18 C W N 450

MESNE PROFITS—contd

MESNE PROFITS—contd

7 ————— Application for ascertainment of estimated claim higher than court's pecuniary jurisdiction—order refusing application appeal from Where the question of a court's jurisdiction is concerned it is the plaintiff alone which should be considered. Where the holder of a decree for possession of certain property with costs and mesne profits (which had not been claimed in the plaint) applied for ascertainment of the mesne profits and estimated the amount due therefore at Rs 1140 12 held that the court had jurisdiction to entertain the application although its pecuniary jurisdiction was limited to Rs 1000. An application for the ascertainment of mesne profits is an application for an order in the suit and is not an application for the execution of a decree and therefore no appeal lies from an order returning such an application for presentation to the proper Court. O VII r 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 applies only to the paper on which a suit is instituted and not to an application made in the course of a suit. Therefore an application for ascertainment of mesne profits does not fall within the provisions of that rule. Sheikh Mohammad Abdul Ghafoor v. Manab Choudhury 2 Pat L J 694

8 ————— Date of decree—appeal—Court fees—application for refund of—Code of Civil Procedure Act 1 of 1908 O XL r 1 and O XLI r 13—Court fees Act VII of 1870 s 13 Where the Privy Council on the 7th March 1913 dismissed an appeal from a decree of the High Court affirming a decree of the court of first instance dated the 29th November 1901, under which the plaintiffs were awarded mesne profits from the date of the decree to the date of recovery of possession and some of the plaintiffs obtained delivery of possession on the 9th May 1914 and others on the 14th January 1916 held that the decree to be executed was the decree of the Privy Council which affirmed the decree of the first court and that in effect the Privy Council decree awarded the plaintiffs mesne profits from the 29th November 1901 up to the date of delivery of possession and that effect would be given to the decree without contravening the provisions of O XX s 12 O XLI r 23 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 applies only where the original court has disposed of a suit on a preliminary point. A certificate for refund of court fees paid on an appeal against a preliminary decree cannot be granted under s. 13 of the Court Fees Act 1900. Nandkumar Singh v. Bilas Ram Marwari 3 Pat. L J 116

9 ————— Claims against trustees—costs of calculation and repayment Where

MESNE PROFITS—concl'd

mesne profits are claimed from a trespasser the costs of cultivation and reaping should be allowed BALDEO RAI v. RAM DEBAL SI GH

4 Pat L J 301

10 ————— Partition suit—
Relief for future mesne profits claimed in suits—Decree not referring to future profits—Relief must be deemed to have been refused—Separate suit for future profits—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11, Expt V In a suit for partition a claim was made for possession past mesne profits and future profits The decree which granted partition made no reference to future profits although past profits were awarded The plaintiff having filed a separate suit to recover future profits for three years. Held that the plaintiff having claimed future mesne profits and the Court having in its decree said nothing with regard to the future profits the claim in respect of the same must be taken to have been refused and a separate suit for that relief was not main-tainable under Expt V to s 11 Civil Procedure
Code 1908 *Dorainwami Ayyar v. Subramania
Ayyar* (1917) 41 Mad 188 and *Muhammad Isahq
Khan v. Muhammad Rustam Ali Khan* (1918)
40 All 292 not followed *ATMARAN BHASKAR v.
PANATHURAM BALLAL* (1920)

I L R 44 Bom 954

MHARKI VATAN

S = HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM. ACT
III OF 1874 AS AMENDED BY BOM. ACT
III OF 1910) ss 25 30 63 AND 64

I L R 41 Bom 23

MIADI SARBARAKARI TENUPE

See ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1913 s 3

4 Pat L J 387

MIGRATION

S = HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 40 Calc 407

See SUCCESSION

L R 43 I A 35

MILITARY OFFICER

in the Indian Staff Corps—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 60 CL E (b)

I L R 35 Bom 667

MINES AND MINERALSSee LANDLORD AND TENANT—MINERAL RIGHTS

I L R 37 Calc 723

I L R 38 Calc 696

See LEASE

1 Pat L J 441

I L R 45 Calc 87

See MINING LEASE

Income from rent and Royalties of

See INCOME TAX ACT 1918 s 5

6 Pat L J 62

rights of grantee to—

See GRANT

I L R 44 Calc 585

1 ————— Coal mine working of by lessee—suit for perpetual injunction to restrain lessee from connecting leased mine with

MINES AND MINERALS—concl'd

other mines from instroke working and from cutting or changing the thickness of supporting pillars—Suit is to fail if premature in respect of one of several reliefs—Injunction circumstances justifying the grant of—Breach of contract between lessor and lessee—Lessee is bound to leave barrier of coal to prevent communication with adjoining mine—In-stroke right of—Lessee is can be deprived of right of instroke working without express provision in lease.—Presumption of right in favour of lessee—Subordinate owner's right of support against—Circumstances under which Court should protect such right by injunction After the death of the lessee of a coal mine his sons transferred their interest in the mine to a person who had mines in the immediate vicinity The plaintiffs sued for a perpetual injunction to restrain the purchaser
(i) from connecting the disputed mine with the adjacent mines (ii) from raising the coal from the disputed mine through the pits of his mines
(iii) from ever cutting off or changing or dimining the thickness of the pillars of coal in the disputed mine The subordinate Judge granted an injunction on the first two grounds and refused an injunction on the third ground It appeared that under the lease the lessee was entitled to remove all the coal of the demised mine but he undertook to manage the work according to the prevailing practice with special care and expert-ness It was not suggested that the defendant had acted in breach of this covenant The plaintiff alleged that the transfer had been made with a view to enable the purchaser to injure the plaintiff by an improper working of the mine he further asserted that there was a conspiracy amongst the defendants who had threatened to cause him loss The defendant denied the truth of these allegations Held that it is well settled that a man who seeks the aid of the Court by an injunction must show that the act complained of is in fact a violation of his right or is at least an act which if carried into effect will necessarily result in a violation of the right The mere prospect or apprehension of injury or the mere belief that the act complained of may or will be done is not sufficient That as the defendant claimed a right to take away the entire coal the Court was competent to grant an injunction if it was established that what the defendant asserted he had a right to do would constitute a breach of contract between the lessor and lessee That as regards the mode of removal of the coal the plaintiff failed to prove that he had any ground for an injunction in this respect but the suit could not consequently be deemed premature in respect of all the reliefs claimed though the objection might hold good with regard to one of them That the principle that a lessee who removes a barrier between the demised and an adjoining mine is guilty of waste had no application to the circumstances of the present case That it was not obligatory upon the lessee to have a barrier of coal merely to prevent communication with adjoining mines and the injunction granted by the Court below restrain-ing the defendant from breaking through the existing barrier of coal could not be supported That the right of instroke is the right of conveying minerals leased to the surface through a pit or shaft in the adjoining mine it is the converse right to that of outstroke which is the right of conveying minerals from an adjoining mine to the surface-through a pit or shaft in the mine leased and a lessee is prima facie entitled to work by instroke but not by outstroke and if the lessor desires to deprive the lessee of his right of instroke working he must do so by clear and unambiguous provision. That in the present case the original lessee had no other land in the neighbourhood and could work the mine only through pits sunk therein and the original parties to the lease did not contemplate the contingency which happened and did not provide for it in the contract. There would consequently be a presumption of right in the lessee to work in the most advantageous way subject to his not committing a fraud on the lessor and no fraud on the part of the lessee having been proved the injunction to restrain the defendant from working the mine by instroke could not be sustained. That prima facie the owner of the surface has a right of support and the lessee is not entitled to work the mine so as to cause a subsidence. This right to support will be protected by an injunction if the Court is satisfied that injury is imminent and certain to result from the defendant's acts. The Court will also interfere by injunction when the defendant claims the right to do acts which must inevitably cause a subsidence. But in the present case there were no materials to show that the plaintiff had the right to the surface and till such right was established, he could have no right to claim protection against subsidence of the surface. Even assuming that the plaintiff had right in the surface there was no evidence to show that the pillars need be maintained in the present size and number to prevent subsidence and in view of the statutory rules for the working of mines it was extremely improbable that the defendant could alter the pillars in such a way as to endanger the surface and the injunction in this respect was rightly refused. RAMJAS AGARWALLA v BRAJMOHAN SINGH (1914) 19 D W N 887

MINES AND MINERALS—contd

Lessee for years or for life—Lessee in perpetuity—Intention of parties—Landlord's right. It is well settled in England that a tenant for life or for years has no right to work unopened mines. Clegg v Rowland & Co 160 and Campbell v Hardacre 4 App Cas 611 referred to Gordon Stuart & Co v Fiskitnee Seodas Kowaree (1863) 11 P 30 not followed. Prince Mahomed Bullyar Shah v Rani Dhojmani 2 C L J 90 and Titaram Mukerji v Cohen I L R 33 Cal 703 referred to. There is no difference in principle between a lessee for years and a lessee in perpetuity when nothing is known or can be inferred about the intentions of the parties at the time of the inception of the lease. The landlord continues to have a reversion in mines if covered after the inception of the lease. Kally Dass Ahiri v Monmohini Dasree I L R 4 Cal 410 referred to. Adhiram Goveani v Shjama Charan Vandi I L R of Cal 1003 followed. Sonet Koorer v Hummut Bahadur I L R 1 Cal 391 I L R 31 49 referred to. Ishwar Shjama Chand Jiu v Pan Kanan Ghose I L R 35 Cal 56 not followed. Shama Charan Vandi v Adhiram Goveani I L R 33 Cal 611 and Megh Lal Pandey v Pajkumar Thakur I L R 34 Cal 353 distinguished. Brayonath Bose v Durga Prosad Singh I L R 34 Cal 753 not followed and held to be practically overruled by Hari Narayan Singh Deo v

MINES AND MINERALS—contd

Sriram Chakravarthi I L R 37 Cal 723 I L R 37 1 A 136 Jyoti Prasad Singh v Lachipur Coal Company (1911) I L R 38 Cal 845

Moghali Brah mottar—Grant. Moghali Brah mottar grant of a mauza does not pass the minerals under it to the grantee. Hari Narayan Singh Deo v Sriram Chakravarthi I L R 37 Cal 723 and Jyoti Prasad Singh v Lachipur Coal Co I L R 38 Cal 845 followed. Sonet Koorer v Hummut Bahadur I L R 1 Cal 391 distinguished. KUNJA BEHARI SEAL v DURGA PRASAD SINGH (1914) I L R 42 Cal 346

Mining Rights— Brakmottar grant of mauza of entire maua before Permanent Settlement effect of in relation to mining rights. The effect of a grant of a rent free brakmottar of the whole of a mauza made before or after the Permanent Settlement is not to transfer any mining rights. Jyoti Prasad Singh v Lachipur Coal Co 16 C W N 241 s c I L R 38 Cal 845 and Kunja Behari Seal v Raja Durga Prasad Singh 19 C W N 203 relied on. Hari Narayan Singh Deo v Sriram Chakravarthi I L R 37 1 A 136 s c I L R 37 Cal 723 14 C W 745 followed. Nowaghur Coal Co Ltd v BASHI BHUSAN RAY (1914) 19 C W N 375

Zamindar's grant of rent free debottar by—Grantee if entitled to under ground rights. Where a zamindar grants a tenure in lands within his zamindari and it does not clearly appear by the terms of the grant that a right to the minerals is included the minerals do not pass to the grantee. The principle applies to a rent free tenure. RAGHUNATH ROY MAHARAJA v PAJJA DURGA PRASAD SINGH (1919) 23 C W N 914

Grant by zamindar of part of amindari land—Lease in perpetuity— In absence of evidence that zamindar expressly granted right to dig coal no such right passes by grant. Where a zamindar grants a tenure of lands within his zamindari and it does not clearly appear by the terms of the grant that a right to the minerals beneath the soil is included the minerals do not pass to the grantee. Hari Narayan Singh v Sriram Chakravarthi I L R 37 Cal 723 I L R 37 1 A 136 Durga Prosad Singh v Brajanath Bose I L R 39 Cal 696 I L R 39 1 A 133 and Shau Bhusan Misra v Jyoti Prasad Singh Deo I L R 41 Cal 355 I L R 41 1 A 46 followed. This principle applies as well as to rent free grants as to grants of tenure at fixed rents. A grant by the Rajah of Jheria of rent free brakmottar land part of this Raj property of which the terms were "You should enjoy it comfortably by cultivating and getting the same cultivated by others hence this pota is granted to you" was held not to pass the underground minerals to the grantee. RAGHUNATH ROY MAHARAJA v DURGA PRASAD SINGH (1919) I L R 47 Cal 353

Mineral rights in surface rights and a grant in mineral rights—Distinction between copyholders and a grant of freehold land in England—Construction of the terms of a grant as to conditions as to the exercise of the power in mining lease—Limitation—Increase of possession. Where the mineral rights were never in contemplation of the parties when the lease was granted in 1830 and the lessees never exercised any mineral rights whatsoever barring taking small quantities of coal from the outcrop for domestic purposes and burning lime and the zemindar by the lease granted a village containing 380 bighas at the abnormally low rent of Rs 17 per annum the presumption made in the absence of the original document was that only the surface rights were conveyed to the grantees. In such a case the mines and minerals and the property in the subsoil remained the property and in the possession of the zemindar. The surface rights with their incidents became vested in the grantees as tenure holders. Hari Narain Singh Deo Bahadur v Surram Chackerbatty L R 37 I A 136 s c I L R 37 Cal 723 14 C W N 46 and Durga Prasad Singh v Braja Nath Bose I L R 39 Cal 696 s c 16 C W N 48^o relied on. Kunja Behari Seal v Durga Prasad Singh I L R 42 Cal 316 s c 19 C W N 103 referred to. If the mines are presumed to be vested in and to be the property of the zemindar his rights must be just the same as those of a free simple free hold owner of land according to English Law who makes a grant with an express reservation of the mines to himself together with the incidents that follow therefrom. By reason of that presumption and by reason of the severance of the tenement and the reservation that must be deemed to rise in favour of the Raja the latter has an incident to his right of property and ownership in the mines the right by implication of law to enter upon the surface of the tenure holder's mouzah for all reasonable and necessary purposes to enable him to work the mines and exercise his mineral rights. The case of Prince Mahomed Bakhtyar Shah v Rani Dhayamoni 2 C L J 20 in so far as it decided that the owner of a limited estate in possession can prevent the grantor or his lessee to work and appropriate the mineral during the existence of such limited estate unless the grantor had expressly reserved the mineral right in his own favour was wrongly decided by the misapplication of the English Law of copyholds to the case of owners and tenants of freehold land. The distinction between freehold and copyhold law is that under the latter there is no division into strata and the tenant obtains possession of the entire surface and sub soil to the centre of the earth so that the lord of the manor cannot work the mines unless he proves a right or custom to that effect. It is under only the copyhold law and where there is no reservation of custom proved that a deadlock occurs and neither landlord or tenant can work the mines. Under the law applicable to freehold land there can be no deadlock or if the mines be excepted the grantor has an implied right to work them incidental to such exception. If there be no exception then that right is with the grantee as owner of the surface and sub soil. Where a tenement is severed the person in whose favour the reservation is made is the absolute owner of the sub soil and the rights of such a person are that he has by implication of law the power to go upon the surface and do all things reasonably necessary in order to exercise the enjoyment of his property. Batten Pool v Kennedy (1897) 1 Ch 256 and Ramsay v Blair L R 74 C 101 referred to. Held on the construction of a mining lease that under cl (3) of Part II of the lease the lessees had merely power and liberty to enter upon lands in direct possession of the Paja himself in order to exercise the mineral rights vested in them. The implied liberty to enter and work the mines subject to reasonable restrictions is not to be curtailed by the express conditions of the lease unless the intention is apparent. Part III of the lease headed 'Restrictions and conditions as to the exercise of the above liberties powers and privileges' must be construed as only restricting the liberties and privileges expressly conferred by Part II and not as any restriction upon the general right of access which is implied by law. Earl of Cardigan v Armistage 2 B & C 197 107 Eng Rep 361 referred to. Held also that the defendant acquired no title by adverse possession to the mines and minerals of the land in question. NAWABAH COAL CO LD v BEHALKAL TRIBUNAT (1916) 20 C W N 1135

MINES AND MINERALS—contd

MINES AND MINERALS—contd

Land Law in Bengal—Mokarari Lease— With all rights a mokarari lease of lands with all rights (mas hal haluk) does not carry a right to the subjacent minerals. Sahib Bhusan Misra v Jyoti Singh L R 44 I A 46 followed and applied. GIRDHARI SENOR v MEQAN LAL PANDEY (1917) L E 44 I A 246

Coal mines—Royalty received by proprietor of estate from lessees of coal mines—Liability to Cess under Bengal Cess Act (Bengal Act IX of 1880) ss 6 and 72—Return of annual net profits of coal mines—Income tax Held (upholding the decision of the High Court) that a royalty received by the appellant from person to whom he had leased a portion of his estate in Bengal for the purpose of working the coal mines situated therein was within ss 6 and 72 of the Bengal Cess Act (Ben Act IX of 1880) part of the annual net profits of the mines and that he had been properly assessed with cess on such royalty. The return required by s 27 was not with regard to the mine owner's profit but had reference to the general net profits of the property. The fact that the obligation to make the return was laid on the person most cognizant of the circumstances under which the mine was worked and of the profits derived from it did not alter the character of the royalty received by the proprietor for his share of the property of the mine. MANENDRA CHANDRA NANDI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910) I L R 38 Cal 372

Minerals under the soil right to—grant of surface to permanent tenure holder—reservation as to minerals presumption from—grantor's right to enter the surface holder's land to work minerals transferee of grantor's rights rights of The plaintiffs obtained from the Rajah of Khatras a lease of the underground mines and mineral rights in Mouzah Khamajuri dated the 2nd October 1879. They were prevented from working the mines by the defendants who claimed both the surface and sub soil rights in the Mouza under a deed from the Pajah of Khatras ancestor dated the 21st March 1830. The deed was not produced but it was said to have conferred upon the defendants a Moghuli Brahman tenure in respect of 830 bighas of land at a rent of Rs 17 per annum. In appeal the defendants asked the Court to presume a grant in their favour on the basis of a lost grant. The Court presumed a grant to the defendants as permanent tenure holders of the surface rights of the Mouzah and held that at the time of the grant there must be presumed to have been a severance of the surface rights from the property in the sub soil. The surface rights with their incidents became vested in the defendants as tenure holders and the mines and minerals in the Pajah as the owner of the property as if there had been a reservation in his favour. Held further that by reason of this presumption and by reason of the severance of the tenement and the reservation deemed to have arisen in favour of the Rajah the latter had as incidental to his right of property and ownership in the mines the right by implication of law to enter upon the tenure holder's land for all reasonable and necessary purposes to enable him to work the mines and exercise his mineral rights. A transfer of the Rajah's right to the mines and minerals would have the same right to enter the tenure holder's land as the Rajah himself had. NAWAGAR COAL CO LTD v BEHARI LALL TRIGUNAIT

MINES AND MINERALS—contd

1 Pat L J 275

Minerals—Patni

Lease whether conveys underground rights— Adha Urdha Hal Hakul meaning of in a lease—low rent—ignorance of parties to conveyance as to value of sub soil rights effect of. In the absence of express words conveying the underground rights a patni lease does not entitle the patnidar to work the minerals. The words adha urdha followed by the words hal hakul in a lease convey the underground rights. When sub soil rights are expressly transferred by the terms of a deed the fact that the rent is low or that the parties were not aware at the time of the execution of the deed that there were valuable minerals under the soil does not render the lease invalid. PAM LAL KAVIRAJ v PAJA MAHARAJA KUMAR SATYA VIKRANJAN CHAKRAVARTY

5 Pat L J 563

grant of surface

effect of—Adverse possession acquisition of title to minerals by—constructive possession—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 120—Bengal Regulation I of 1793 Art 8 (3)—Bengal Regulation XIX of 1793 cl 2 (1) A grant by a zamindar of a tenure in lands within his amindari does not pass the minerals unless it appears clearly from the terms of the grant that the minerals were included in the grant. The mere fact that such a grantee has given leases which purport to give a right to the soil and the sub soil of his tenure and that minerals have been worked by the lessees will not convey a title by adverse possession on the grantee as against the amindar from whom he acquired his grant. Although possession of a part of a certain property is constructive possession of the whole if the whole is otherwise vacant this constructive possession is an incident of ownership and results from title. The doctrine of constructive possession is not applicable to a case where the occupant defends himself on the ground of his possession only without proving any title. A wrong doer's rights by adverse possession must be confined to land of which he is in actual possession and this principle applies equally to mine. Where an owner of land sells it reserving to himself the mineral he retains possession of the minerals in the same way as if he had not sold the surface. Mere non user is not an abandonment of possession and consequently no matter how long mines remain unworked by the owner his right is not barred so long as they are not worked by some one else. There are cases in which a title by adverse possession can be made out in respect to minerals but it does not follow that by working a part of the minerals or opening up particular quarries possession over a continuous field of minerals or quarries of which the portion worked forms a part can be acquired. A fresh course of action for a declaration that the mineral rights in certain land are vested in the plaintiff arises whenever any particular portion of the minerals is removed. The mere fact that no rent is reserved in a patna does not necessarily imply that by it a revenue free estate was granted. Direct payment of cess on account of rent free lands is not conclusive that those rent free lands constitute a separate estate. KUMAR PRAMATHA NATH MALIA v A J MITTAL

MINES AND MINERALS—contd

5 Pat L J 273

MINING LEASE

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L F 41 Calc 493

I L R 48 Calc 552

L R 45 I A 275

See MINES AND MINERALSSee TENANTS IN COMMON

1 L E 39 Mad 1049

Parcels—Area stated within specified Boundaries—Alleged Deficiency—Abatement of Rent The appellant was lessor and the respondents lessees under a mining lease the terms of which were contained in a habuliyat granting the rights of cutting raising and selling coal beneath 400 bighas of land described in the schedule below in Mauza Dobari the schedule specified boundaries and added right in the coal underneath the 400 bighas of land within these boundaries. In a suit to recover arrears of rent the respondents alleged that they were in possession of less than 400 bighas and claimed to be entitled to an abatement of rent. Held (i) that the construction of the habuliyat as to the land included in the lease could not be varied by evidence of the negotiations which led to the contract or by evidence that there were not 400 bighas within the specified boundaries (ii) further that the respondents had failed to prove what was the area in fact contained within the boundaries or that of which they had been given possession. DURGAPRASAD SINGH v RAJENDRA NARAYAN BAGCHI (1913)

I L N 41 Calc 493

L R 40 I A 223

Construct on—Rule of construction—Issue raised in the pleadings but neither at the hearing nor in appeal not allowed to be raised before the Privy Council In construing the terms of a deed the question is not what the parties may have intended but what is the meaning of the words which they used. Where a grantee of underground and coal mining rights in a village which at the date of the grant had railway communication only by the East India Company stipulated to pay royalty at a certain rate on all coals de-patched by the said railway line but in view of the contemplated construction of another line by the Bengal Nagpur Railway Company agreed that if by reason of such construction the freight of coal were reduced by two annas or more

MINOR—contd

1 ——— Mortgage executed by—Money borrowed to discharge debts of father—Contract executed by minor effect of In this appeal which was one from the decision of the High Court in Maharaj Singh v Raviwant Singh 1 L P 28 All 598 their Lordships of the Judicial Committee on the evidence upheld that decision on the question whether the defendant Maharaj was a minor at the time he signed the mortgage and said Having found as a fact that Maharaj Singh was a minor at that time it is not necessary for their Lordships to consider any other issues This suit has been brought on the mortgage deed of the 23th of October 1892 by the assignee of that mortgage and as their Lordships have held that the mortgage was not made by Sheoraj Singh as the manager of the family or in any respect as representing Maharaj Singh and as Maharaj Singh was then a minor the mortgage deed as against him and his interest in the estate was not merely voidable it was void and of no effect and must be regarded as a mortgage deed to which he was not even an assenting party and as a mortgage deed which did not affect him or his interest in the estate BALWANT SINGH v R CHAND (1912)

I L R 34 All 295

2 ——— Sale—Sale in favour of minor void A sale in favour of a minor is void Mohora Bibee v Dharmadas Ghose 1 L R 30 Calc 539 followed NAYAKOTTI NARAYANA CHETTI v LOPALINGA CHETTI (1909) 1 L R 33 Mad 312

3 ——— Custody of—Determination of custody of minor—Contract of apprenticeship by minor how far enforceable—Injunction against minor for breach of such contract—When Court will take minors from custody of parents or persons selected by them A minor may bind himself by a contract of apprenticeship if it be for his benefit but such a contract cannot be specifically enforced against him either directly or by restraining him from taking service under others or by restraining others from employing him De Francesco v Barnum 43 Ch D 165 referred to If the contract is for the benefit of the minor apprentice an action will lie for enticing away such apprentice and to recover his earnings Parents and guardians cannot divest themselves of their right of guardianship by any contract A delegation of such right is revocable at any time and the parent or guardian is bound to revoke it if it is used to the detriment of the children and it is open to the Court within whose jurisdiction the children are found to exercise the same power if cause is shown for such interference The jurisdiction of the Courts to take away children from parents or from persons selected by them is a parental one and the Courts must do what a wise parent under the circumstances would or ought to do The Queen v Gynquill (1893) 2 Q B 232 218 referred to The main consideration to be acted upon is the benefit or welfare of the child the welfare of the child means not only its physical but also its moral and religious welfare A male child above the age of 14 and a female child above the age of 16 years will not ordinarily be compelled to remain in custody to which he or she objects and in the case of younger children who are still old enough to form an intelligent preference their wishes will form one of the elements for consideration The Court will remove children from the custody of one from whom cruelty or corruption is apprehended POLLARD v POUSE (1910) 1 L R 33 Mad 288

MINOR—contd

4 ——— Fraud—Misrepresentation—Minor—Estoppel—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 115—Co-sharer landlord notice to quit by valid When a person between 18 and 21 years of age executes a conveyance with the knowledge that his minority has been extended by reason of an order under s 7 of the Guardians and Wards Act in favour of vendees who are not aware of that fact there is no misrepresentation and legal fraud on his part and he is estopped from taking advantage of his minority to show that the conveyance by him is inoperative Mohun Bibi v Sarat Chand 2 C W N 18 Dhanmull v Ram Chunder 1 L R 24 Calc 265 relied on Mohora Bibee v Dharmadas Ghose 1 L R 30 Calc 539 s c 7 C W N 411 referred to SURENDRA NATH ROY v KRISHNA SAKSHI DAS (1910)

15 C W N 239

5 ——— Representation of minor—Appointment of guardian ad litem—Absence of affidavit as required by s 456 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882—Suit by minors to set aside proceedings—Civil Procedure Code 1882 s 443 Where an order was made by Court appointing a person guardian ad litem on behalf of certain minors in a suit in which a decree was duly made against them Held in a suit by the minors on attaining majority to set aside the decree and sale in execution thereunder that the absence of an affidavit such as is required by the provisions of s 456 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) at the time the application for the appointment of a guardian was made was not sufficient to render the proceedings illegal and void as against the minors on the ground that they were not properly represented therein Walia v Banke Behari Pershad Singh 1 L R 30 Calc 1021 1 L R 30 I A 182 followed The order being on the record the presumption was in the absence of evidence to the contrary that every thing was regularly and properly done MANXU LAL v GRULAM ABBAS (1910)

I L R 32 All 287

6 ——— Suit to set aside compromise of and decrees in suits to which minors were parties—Civil Procedure Code 1882 ss 443 456 and 462—Minors unrepresented owing to fraud and misrepresentation of de facto guardian whose interest conflicted with theirs—Form of decree—Civil Procedure Code 1908 s 98—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42—Question of law In this case the appellants sued for a declaration that a compromise of certain pre-emption suits and decrees based thereon made on their behalf in 1899 when they were minors were not binding on them having been obtained by the fraud and misrepresentation of the respondent (who was then their de facto guardian and manager of their property) and in proceedings in which they were practically unrepresented and they prayed that they might be restored to the position held by them prior to the date on which the compromise and decrees were made It appeared that although the appellants were described in the proceedings as under the guardianship of one H P he had never been properly appointed their guardian ad litem by the Court as required by s 443 of the Civil Pro cedure Code 1882 that no lond fde application had ever been made under s 456 to have a guardian ad litem appointed by the Court and that the leave of the Court had not been obtained to enter into the compromise on the appellants behalf as was necessary under s 462. Held that the appellants were entitled to the declaration they sought. H P had their Lordships found, been introduced into the suits of 1899 by the respondent as the guardian or next friend of the appellants to advance the interests of the respondent and to defeat the interests of the appellants which conflicted with those of the respondent he had throughout acted under the directions and on behalf of the respondent and in his interest and contrary to the interests of the appellants and the respondent had taken advantage of his position to the detriment of the appellants. There was therefore no one to protect them and they were unrepresented in the proceedings which were therefore not binding on them. Manohar Lal v Jadunath Singh 1 L R 28 All 585 L R 33 I 4 123 followed S 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) which had been applied to the case by the majority of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner was held not to be applicable. Semble The question whether on certain stated facts the relief which the appellants prayed for should be granted or refused was a question of law within the meaning of s 50 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1909) and where on a difference of opinion on that question between two Judges of the Court the case was referred under that section to a third Judge that was the only question he had jurisdiction to consider and decide. PARTAB SINGH v BHANUTI SINGH (1913)

MINOR—contd

I L R 35 All 487

7 ———— Guardian ad litem refusing to act—Mitakshara father's proper guardian in suit on mortgage of family property by him—Hindu law Mitakshara family—Debt son's liability for—Mortgage decree of litem inf son who is not represented—Equity of redemption if barred by such decree—Decree joint of—Practice—Redemption decree for ga ed In a suit on a mortgage executed by a Mitakshara father the father was proposed as guardian ad litem of his infant son by the plaintiffs but he refused to accept service of notice on him as such and entered appearance only on his own behalf and not as guardian of his son. No further step was taken by the plaintiffs to have a guardian ad litem appointed for the infant and the suit was decreed. Held that the infant was not represented in the suit and the decree was therefore not binding on him. Walia v Banke Behari 1 P 301 I 15 I L J 10 Cal 10 I distinguished Kharajmal v Diam 1 L R 3 Cal 96 9 C 11 701 referred to. In a suit by the infant for a declaration that the decree was fraudulent and not binding on him it was found that the mortgage was executed for legal necessity and that the infant son was not born at the time of the mortgage. Held that it would be unfair to drive the mortgagee or to a free suit to enforce the mortgage against the infant when the case had been decided on the merits and the mortgage found binding on the infant. But although the mortgage was binding on the plaintiff he had since his birth a bare in the equity of redemption and his right to redeem could not be shut out by a mortgagee decree in a suit to which he was not a party. Although therefore there was no prayer to be allowed to redeem in this suit decree for redemption was passed. BAL-KISSEN LAL v CHONDHURY TAPESUR SINGH (1911) 17 C W N 219

MINOR—contd

8 ———— Decree again—Effect of litem—Minor sued as major and unrepresented by guardian ad litem if party to a suit A decree against a person who is neither a party nor is properly represented on the record is a nullity and might be disregarded without any proceeding to set it aside. Kharajmal v Diam 9 C 11 N 201 I L P 3 Cal 96 referred to. Where a suit for rent was brought and an ex parte decree passed against a person who though sued as a major was found to have been a minor at that time and remained unrepresented by a guardian ad litem. Held that the minor was not a party to the suit and the decree passed against him was nullity. Rashidunne sa v Ismail Khan 13 C 11 A 1187 Narsing v Jali 15 C L J 1 followed Walia v Banke Behari 7 C 11 N 774 I L R 30 Cal 1021 distinguished. Held also that the ignorance of the plaintiff as to the minority of the defendant did not affect the rights of the minor. PURVA CHANDRA KUNWAR v BEJOI CHAND MAHATAR (1913)

17 C W N 549

9 ———— Guardian—Custody—Plaint in District Court—Transfer to High Court—Jurisdiction—Letters Patent 1865 cl 13 and 70—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) ss 9 10 and 62 The first respondent instituted a suit against the appellant in a District Court by a plaintiff claiming a declaration that he was entitled to the guardianship and custody of his two minor sons (the added respondents) and for an order that they should be handed over to him. The suit having been transferred to the High Court under the Letters Patent 1865 cl 13 that Court declared that the minors should go to wards of the Court that the first respondent was guardian of their person and ordered the appellant to hand them over to him. The minors were in England both when the suit was instituted and when the order was made. They were not made parties to the proceedings nor were they represented before the Court. Held (i) that the District Court had no jurisdiction since the minors were not ordinarily resident in the district as required by s 9 of the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 and since the suit was not instituted by petition as required by s 10 of that Act (ii) that even if the High Court had any jurisdiction with regard to minors beyond that which must have been exercised by the District Court (which was not determined) the mandator order ought not to have been made since an attempt to enforce it would expose the appellant to habes corpus proceedings in England and since the minors were not represented before the Court nor adequate steps taken to ascertain their wishes and interests. BESANT v NARAYANIAN (1914)

L R 41 I A 314

10 ———— Guardian ad litem—Appointment of procured by suppression of the evidence of near relation—Whether decree halve the sons and—Fraud In a suit for the recovery of money against a father and his minor son the father refused to act as guardian ad litem of his minor

MINOR—contd

hereupon the Court appointed its Head Clerk as guardian on the affidavit of the plaintiff that there was no fit and proper person alive to act as the guardian of the minor & held as a matter of fact the plaintiff knew that the minor was living under the protection of his maternal grandfather. The decree passed in this suit was sought to be set aside by the minor on the ground of fraud. Held that the statement in the affidavit could not be held to be deliberately false so as to constitute fraud in the absence of any allegation of collusion between the plaintiff and the Head Clerk and the decree could not be set aside unless there was no appointment of a guardian and then the appointment was induced by fraud or what the Court would regard as tantamount to fraud. Hanuman Prasad v. Muhammad Isahq I L R 23 All 137. Ram Landra Das v. Joti Prasad I L R 29 All 675 and Babaji bin Anand v. Maruti II Bom II C 187 distinguished. MARUTHAKALAI v. PALANI (1912)

I L R 37 Mad 535

11 ——— In Insolvency—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) ss 1 cl (b) (g) 16—Contract Act (I of 1872) ss 11 17 253 254—Insolvency Act of 1883 ss 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100—Insolvency of partner—Dissolution of partnership in India, as in England an infant partner of a firm cannot be so adjudicated an insolvent. Lo di v. Christmas v. Gilbert Waller v. Beauchamp (1892) A C 607 followed. The creditors of the firm are not entitled to proceed against him personally being restricted only to his interest in the property of the firm (vide s 247 of the Indian Contract Act). There is no difference in principle between the nature of the liability of an infant admitted by agreement in a partnership business and that of another (e.g. a Hindu) on whose behalf an ancestral trade was carried on by his guardian. Joukiso v. Nityanand I L R 2 Cal 783. Ram Parth v. Football I L R 20 Bom 767 referred to. It is not open to the Court to direct the receiver in insolvency to deal with assets other than those belonging to the persons who have been adjudicated insolvents. Lorell v. Christmas v. Gilbert Waller Beauchamp (1892) A C 607 explained. Whereas in England the bankruptcy of a partner works dissolution of the partnership without an order of the Court it is not so in India. vide s 253 254 of the Indian Contract Act. A receiver appointed under s 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act merely replaces the solvent partner in respect of the business of the firm. The position of a receiver is the same both with regard to a Hindu joint family partnership assets and acquisitions therefrom. SANKAR CHARAN MANDAI v. ASHUTOSH GHOSH (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 225

12 ——— Settlement accepted by—Transfer of property by husband acting as attorney—Impossibility to restore status quo ante to opening settlement—Ratification. Where by a division of property by independent arbitrators a share was allotted to an infant who after coming of age sold a valuable property not allotted at a profit and it appeared that she was throughout acting with her husband who held a power of attorney from her and of who acts as attorney she had not complained and who if the infancy had been known would have been appointed her guardian and as guardian would have acted exactly as he had acted as attorney and it was only after the greater part of what she had received had been dissipated that she sought to set aside the transaction on the ground of her infancy. Held that though there could be no ratification by an infant after coming of age of the invalid power of attorney as it was impossible for her to restore the property he had received and a general contribution of the property divided could not possibly be ordered she could not be allowed to reopen the settlement. Held also that he was bound by a transaction which was not concealed from her in any way and formed part of the settlement. CHUAN HOOT GUON NEON v. JAW SIN DEE (1914)

MINOR—contd

19 W N 767

13 ——— Representation of—Suit to set aside a decree against a minor—Minor properly represented in such suit—Fraud or collusion of guardian. A decree obtained against an infant properly made a party and properly represented in the case cannot be set aside by means of a separate suit except upon proof of fraud or collusion on the part of the guardian. BEVI PRASAD v. LAJJA PAX (1916) I L R 38 All 452

14 ——— Purchase of immovable property by or—Suit by purchaser for possession of property purchased—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 54 and 55. A minor is capable of purchasing immovable property and where such a purchase has been completed by execution and registration of a sale deed he can sue to recover possession of the property purchased upon tender of the balance of the purchase money. Such a suit is not a suit for specific performance of a contract and no question of mutualivity arises. Mir Sarwarjan v. Fakhruddin Mahomed Chowdhury I L R 39 Cal 230 and Mohori Bibee v. Dharmodar Ghose I L R 30 Cal 639 distinguished. Shib Lal v. Bhagwan Das I L R 11 All 244. Baynath Singh v. Palu I L R 30 All 125. Yelagutha Chetty v. Govindaswami Naiken I L R 30 Mad 534. Ujjai Nay v. Gauri Shankar I L R 33 All 657. Munni Kunwar v. Madan Gopal I L R 33 All 62. Bahauddin v. Rafiqat Hussain 18 Indian Cases 451. Raghunath Bakhsh v. Hayt Sheikh Mahomed 18 Oudh Cases 115 and Muniya Kanan v. Perurat Kanan 34 Mad L J 342 referred to. Davuloti Varayana Chetty v. Logalinga Chetty I L R 33 Mad 312 distinguished from NARAIN DAS v. MUSAHMAT DHANVA (1914)

I L R 38 All 154

15 ——— Mortgage in favour of minor who has advanced the whole of the mortgage money—Enforceability of by him or by any other person on his behalf—Contract Act (I of 1872) s 11—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 7. A mortgage executed in favour of a minor who has advanced the whole of the mortgage money is enforceable by him or by any other person on his behalf. Mohori Bibee v. Dharmodar Ghose I L R 30 Cal 639. 30 I A 114 explained and distinguished. Sembla. A sale to a minor under similar circumstances is equally good. Davuloti Varayana Chetty v. Logalinga Chetty I L R 33 Mad 312 overruled. English and Indian Law reviewed. PACHAYA CHARIAP v. SANTIYASA PACHAYA CHARIAP (1916) I L R 40 Mad 309

16 ——— Liability of, whenances rat trade carried on on his behalf—Contract Act (I of 1872) s 91—Interest not contracted for and whereupon the Court appointed its Head Clerk as guardian on the affidavit of the plaintiff that there was no fit and proper person alive to act as the guardian of the minor while as a matter of fact the plaintiff knew that the minor was living under the protection of his maternal grandfather. The decree passed in this suit was sought to be set aside by the minor on the ground of fraud. Held that the statement in the affidavit could not be held to be deliberately false so as to constitute fraud in the absence of any allegation of collusion between the plaintiff and the Head Clerk and the decree could not be set aside unless there was no appointment of a guardian ad litem or the appointment was induced by fraud or what the Court would regard as tantamount to fraud. Hanuman Prasad v. Muhammad Isahag I L R 29 All 137 Ramesandra Das v. Joti Prasad I L R 29 All 675 and Padosi bin Hussaf v. Maruti II Bom H C 187 distinguished. MARUTHANALAI v. LALANI (1912)

MINOR—contd

I L R 37 Mad 535

11 ——— Inolvency—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) ss 14 (b) (g) 16—Contract Act (I of 1872) ss 31, 32, 263, 264—Insolvency adjudication of an insolvent—Receiver in insolvency powers of—Hindu joint family—Bankruptcy Act 1883 (46 & 47 Vict c 52) ss 33, 102—Insolvency of partner—Dissolution of partnership In India as in England an infant partner of a firm cannot as such be adjudicated an insolvent Lord & Christmas v. Gilbert Walter Beauchamp (1894) A C 607 followed. The creditors of the firm are not entitled to proceed against him personally being restricted only to his interest in the property of the firm (vide s 247 of the Indian Contract Act). There is no difference in principle between the nature of the liability of an infant admitted by agreement in a partnership business and that of another (e.g. a Hindu) on whose behalf an ancestral trade is carried on by his guardian Jaykiso v. Nityanand I L R 3 Oudh 738 Ram Parbhai v. Fochhai I L R 20 Bom 767 referred to. It is not open to the Court to direct the receiver in insolvency to deal with assets other than those belonging to the persons who have been adjudicated insolvents Lord & Christmas v. Gilbert Walter Beauchamp (1894) A C 607 explained. Whereas in England the bankruptcy of a partner works dissolution of the partnership without an order of the Court it is not so in India vide ss 263, 264 of the Indian Contract Act. A receiver appointed under s 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act merely replaces the insolvent partner in respect of the business of the firm. The position of a receiver is the same both with regard to a Hindu joint family partnership assets and acquisitions therefrom. BAHYASI CHARAN MANDAI v. ASHUTOSH GHOSH (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 225

12 ——— Settlement accepted by—Transfer of property by husband acting as attorney—Impossibility to restore status quo ante to re-opening settlement—Ratification Where by a division of property by independent arbitrators a share was allotted to an infant who after coming of age sold a valuable property so allotted at a profit and it appeared that she was throughout acting with her husband who held a power of attorney from her and of whom she acted as attorney she had not complained while the infancy had been known would have been appointed her guardian and as guardian would have acted exactly as he had acted as attorney and it was only after the greater part of what she had received had been dissipated that she sought to set aside the transaction on the ground of her infancy. Held that though there could be no ratification by an infant after coming of age of the invalid power of attorney as it was impossible for her to restore the property he had received and a general redistribution of the property divided could not possibly be ordered she could not be allowed to reopen the settlement. Held also that he was bound by a transaction which was not concealed from her in any way and formed part of the settlement. CHIVAN HOOR GUON NZON v. HUAN SIM BEY (1914)

MINOR—contd

19 C W N 787

13 ——— Representation of—Suit to set aside a decree against a minor—Minor properly represented in such suit—Fraud or collusion of guardian A decree obtained against an infant properly made a party and properly represented in the case cannot be set aside by means of a separate suit except upon proof of fraud or collusion on the part of the guardian. BEVI PRASAD v. LAJPA PAK (1916) I L R 38 All 452

14 ——— Purchase of immovable property by or—Suit by purchaser for possession of property purchased—Transfer of property Act (IV of 1882) ss 54 and 55 A minor is capable of purchasing immovable property and where such a purchase has been completed by execution and registration of a sale deed he can sue to recover possession of the property purchased upon tender of the balance of the purchase money. Such a suit is not a suit for specific performance of a contract and no question of mutuality arises. Mir Sarvarjan v. Fakhruddin Mahomed Chowdhury I L R 39 Cal 232 and Mohori Bibee v. Dharmodar Ghos I L R 39 Cal 539 distinguished. Shid Lal v. Bhagwan Das I L R 11 All 244 Baynath Singh v. Palu I L R 30 All 125 Velayutha Chetty v. Govindaswami Nair I L R 39 Mad 594 Ulfat Rai v. Gauri Shankar I L R 33 All 657 Munni Kunwar v. Madon Gopal I L R 30 All 67 Bahauddin v. Rajagat Husain 18 Indian Cases 451 Raghunath Bokhes v. Hayy Sheikh Mahomed 18 Oudh Cases 115 and Muniya Konan v. Perumal Konan 24 Mad L J 34^d referred to. Nankoti Narayana Chetty v. Logalinga Chetty I L R 33 Mad 312 distinguished from NARAIN DAS v. MUSANNAT DHANIA (1915)

I L R 38 All 154

15 ——— Mortgage in favour of minor who has advanced the whole of the mortgage money—Enforceability of by him or by any other person on his behalf—Contract Act (I of 1872) s 11—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 7 A mortgage executed in favour of a minor who has advanced the whole of the mortgage money is enforceable by him or by any other person on his behalf. Mohori Bibee v. Dharmodar Ghos I L R 39 Cal 539, 30 I L R 114 explained and distinguished. Sembla A sale to a minor under similar circumstances is equally good. Nankoti Narayana Chetty v. Logalinga Chetty I L R 33 Mad 312 overruled. English and Indian Law reviewed. PACHAVA CHARIAR v. SHIVAYASA PACHAVA CHARIAR (1916) I L R 40 Mad 308

16 ——— Liability of when ancestral trade carried on on his behalf—Contract Act (I of 1872) s 247—Interest not contracted for and did no wish a fresh guardian to be appointed and was old enough by appearance to act for himself no fresh guardian need be appointed. After the defendant managed his own affairs and acted as a man who has attained majority would do. The plaintiff alleged that the dealings were entered into on defendant's assurance that he had become an adult. This was disputed by defendant but the High Court found on the evidence (contrary to the finding of the District Judge) that the defendant did represent himself to be of full age and that the plaintiff was misled by the false representation. Held that s 115 of the Evidence Act is applicable to the case and that the defendant's plea of minority can no be heard. Ganai Lal v Durga (I L R 21 Bom 195) Nelson v Soaker (4 de Gex and J 455) dictum of Turner L J cited in I L R 20 Cal 393 and Lereve v Brownham (Times L R 1111 s 801) followed. Dharma Das Ghose v Brahmoo Dutt (I L R 20 Cal 616) and Mohun Bibi v Dharma Das Ghose (I L R 30 Cal 539 P O) distinguished. Dharmvill v Pam Chandra Ghose (I L R 24 Cal 266 F B), Brahmo Dutt v Dharma Das Ghose (I L R 20 Cal 381 F B) Saral Chandra Mitter v Mohun Bibi (I L R 20 Cal 371 F B) and Delat Ram v Dada (6 P P 1910) no followed. WAKINDA RAM v SITA PAM I L R 1 Lab 359

MINOR—co Id

MINOR CO-PARCENER

—Purchaser from—

See PARTITION SCTR

I L R 45 Bom 983

MINOR REVERSIONER

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PRO-PERTY I L R 4 Cal 274

MINOR WIDOW

See GUARDIAN I L R 42 Cal 953

MINORITY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908—

s. 4b. I L R 39 Bom 256

O XXXIV RE. 4 5 10

I L R 41 All 473

See HINDU LAW—ALIMENT

I L R 40 Cal 866

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—

s. 1 I L R 41 All 435

See I AER 18. (6) c. "

I L R 49 All 600

See MINOR.

See TITLE, PROOF OF

I L R 45 Cal 909

—of Mahomedan when to cease—

See PENAL CODE (Act XIV of 1860)
s. 343 I L R 3 Mad 557

MIRASDAR

See KADIM ISAMBAR

I L R 42 Bom 112

—general rights of, over house-sites and waste in villages—

See MIRASI VILLAGE.

I L R 49 Mad 410

MIRASDAR—contd

—Holding under a Kadim Isambar who is a grantee of the soil as well as of the royal share of revenue—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (Box Act V of 1879) s. 217

I L R 45 Bom 61

MIRASI LEASE

See SHARJAM I L R 34 Bom 329

MIRASI LEASE AND MORTGAGE

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (Box III of 1874) ss 11 11A.

I L R 37 Bom 57

MIRASI VILLAGE.

—House-sites in—Ownership of— Local presumption of ownership in Government and not in mirasidars—Prescription of title by mirasidars effect of—General rights of mirasidars over house-sites and waste in villages The plaintiff's claim to be mirasidar of a mirasi village in the Chingleput district sued to eject certain persons from a portion of the gramastham (house-sites) which the defendants claimed to hold and enjoy under a patta granted to them by the Government. On the plea taken by the Government that the Government and not the mirasidars are the owners of house-sites in mirasi villages the following question was referred to the Full Bench: "Whether in a mirasi village the mirasidar is entitled to recover possession of a house-site held under a patta from Government?" On a review of the history of mirasi tenure in the Presidency both before and after the establishment of the British Government and on a review of several revenue and judicial records relating to the question Held by the Full Bench—In the absence of proof to the contrary the presumption is that the Government and not the mirasidars are the owners of house-sites in mirasi villages Per WALLIS C J—But where there is evidence of title by the mirasidars the presumption of their ownership readily arises Per JUDGE J—The mirasidars may show that they are the owners by proving a previous grant by Government or prescription as against the Government Per HUMAYUNSAH SASTRIGAR J—(i) In mirasi villages the rights of Government over waste (including nistam and cheri) are subject to the rights of the mirasidars (ii) The nature and extent of such rights are not uniform throughout the Presidency but vary and the onus is on the mirasidars to prove that any specified incidents attached to mirasidars in any particular district there being no presumption that gramastham is the exclusive property of the mirasidars (iii) The rights of mirasidars over waste are not extinguished by the mere fact that the Government grants pattas to transferees Dictum of C J for India v B. P. D. I L R 29 Bom 675 Sakun Dutt v Lachmana Gowda I L R 2 Mad 149 Sivarekha Venkata v Venkataswami Chari I L R 40 Mad 371 Secretary of Govt for India v M. Krishna Rao I L R 25 Mad 257 Visaya Gramani v Venkatarama Paddi I L R 40 Mad 570 and Elakurappa v The Collector

MISDIRECTION—contd

■ 21 27 30 It is a misdirection which must have misled the Jury to instruct them to take into consideration statements not amounting to confessions by an accused as against the co accused. It is a misdirection to put to the Jury and to leave it to them to determine whether a confession to a Magistrate and how much of a confession to the police are admissible. It is the duty of the Judge to determine the question of the admissibility of evidence in accordance with the law on the subject and of the Jury to estimate the value of such evidence after its admission by the Judge. The Judge should avoid the use in the charge to the Jury of interrogative expressions as imputing the guilt of the accused such as Is not this or Does not that and of slang and colloquial phrases. S 27 of the Evidence Act qualifies not only ss 25 and 26 but also s 24. Queen Empress v Babu Lal I L R 6 All 509 approved. Though the accused has himself produced the stolen articles so much of his anterior statements as led to the discovery are admissible under s 27 of the Evidence Act but not statements contemporaneous with the act of production such as I got these ornaments as my share in the dacoity. Queen Empress v Hona I L R 18 Bom 260 and Legal Member v Chema Das I L R 25 Cal 413 referred to. S 27 does not render admissible the whole history of the investigation or an account of the various steps by which the police obtained and worked up clues and finally succeeded in arresting the accused. Under the section the whole of the statement of an accused is not admissible but only so much as led directly to the discovery or related directly to the fact discovered. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J. If a single statement contains more information than is contemplated by s 27 the whole statement is not admissible but only the particular information which led to the discovery. Where an accused states to the police that he killed A with a knife and concealed the corpse at a particular place the only part of the information admissible under the section is that relating to the concealment and not the murder. Queen Empress v Babu Lal I L R 6 All 509 followed. Per TEJNOK J. Verification proceedings are not wholly illegal and may be useful in testing the truth of the confession e.g. as to the accused's knowledge of the localities he has mentioned or as furnishing clues to a further inquiry. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J. Verifications in the company of the accused lead to very great abuses and should be avoided though a verification independently of and unaided by the accused is unobjectionable. Held per CURRAM. In connection with such proceedings the Courts must ensure against the reception of evidence not strictly admissible. Statements to the verifying Magistrate when not recorded in the manner provided by s 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code are inadmissible and cannot be proved orally by such Magistrate. Emperor v Radac Hildan C II N 290 King Emperor v Pappas I L R 8 C II N 22 Queen Empress v Chaurab Chander Chakraborty C II N 709 and Queen Empress v Yaron I L R 9 Mad 241 followed. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J. Even if the statements are recorded after the verification it is difficult to hold that they are voluntary. AMIRUDDIN AHMED I L R 45 Cal 557 (1917).

MISDIRECTION—contd

Misdirection to Jury—

Prosecution duty of to produce material evidence—Circumstantial evidence—Presumption of innocence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 342—Court's power to draw inferences from answers of accused—Evidence Act s 106. The appellant and two other persons P and A were accused of having committed murder of a man travelling in a boat of which they were the boatmen. R was tried first and at this trial A was given a pardon and examined as a witness. The appellant was tried subsequently and the prosecution did not examine A. The jury by a majority returned a verdict of guilty against the appellant who was convicted by the Sessions Judge. In appeal the High Court set aside the conviction on the ground of misdirection to the jury. Held (as to the non examination of A) Per TEJNOK J—That the case of Dhannoo Ka I L R 8 Cal 191 is not an authority for the proposition that the prosecution is required to produce and examine such a witness but as he was examined as an approver at the former trial of P it would have been more satisfactory if the prosecution had at least secured his attendance and failing in this had given details of evidence of the efforts made in that direction. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J—That the omission to direct the attention of the jury to the question whether the prosecution was bound to call A as a witness and whether there was sufficient explanation why the prosecution did not call him was a defect in the charge which prejudiced the accused. That in the absence of anything to show that an effort was made to ascertain his whereabouts and to produce him in Court his absence from the village deposed to by one of the prosecution witnesses was not a sufficient explanation for his non production. Held (as to the direction of the Sessions Judge that the accused had said nothing about what had happened to the deceased and had given no explanation as to how he came by his death and this was a strong point against the accused) Per TEJNOK J—That where a prima facie case of circumstances making out or tending to support the charge against the accused is established and the accused withholds evidence in dispute or explanation available to him and not accessible to the prosecution an inference unfavourable to the accused may legitimately be drawn. Under s 342 Criminal Procedure Code it is open in the Court and jury to draw such inferences as they think just from the answers made by the accused to the necessary questions put to him by the Court. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J—That the accused is merely on the defensive and owes no duty except to himself that he is at liberty as to the whole or any part of the case against him to rely on the witness for the prosecution or to call witnesses or to meet the charge in any other way he chooses and no inference unfavourable to him can properly be drawn because he takes one course rather than the other. Where in a criminal case there is a conflict between presumption of innocence and any other presumption the presumption of innocence prevails. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J (TEJNOK J dissenting). The strength of this presumption varies according to the seriousness of the charge upon which an accused person is put on his trial. The greater the crime the stronger is the proof required for conviction. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J—That whatever force a presumption arising under s 106 of the Indian Evidence Act

MISDIRECTION—see d may have in civil cases is no criminal case in a trial for murder it is extremely weak in comparison with the direct proof of innocence. If it is to direct the jury that they must not acquit the accused simply because in their opinion he may possibly not be guilty but that they should do so if they thought the prosecution evidence was for good reason not satisfactory. PER BHANU CHANDRA J.—That the case rested on circumstantial evidence and before the jury could find the prisoner guilty they had to be satisfied not only that the circumstances were consistent with his having committed the act but that the facts were such as to be inconsistent with any other rational conclusion than that the prisoner was the guilty person. That the prosecution evidence may be quite satisfactory and yet may leave ample room for doubt regarding the complicity of the accused in the crime and it was the duty of the Judge to have given the jury clear and unambiguous direction on these points. ASHRAY ALI v. KING EMPEROR (191)*

21 C W N 1152

MISJOINDER*See* CHARITABLE TRUSTS

I L R 34 Mad 406

See COMMON CARRIER, LIABILITIES OF

L L R 35 Cal 28

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L P 37 Cal 46*

See PRELIMINARY DECREE

I L R 37 Bom 60

MISJOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION*See* ADMINISTRATOR 2 Fed L J 642*See* AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)

s 34 I L R 35 All 512

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1840 ss 13

44 I L R 35 Bom 28*

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1840—

s 47 O XXI BR 100 s 10

I L R 40 Mad 964

O I s 3 I L R 40 All 7

O II s 5 I L R 38 Bom 120

See PREEMPTION I L R 32 All 14

1 — Persons whose separate rights have been infringed by a single act of another cannot join in one suit.—Course to be adopted when there is a misjoinder of causes of action—Civil Procedure Code Act V of 1908 s 99 Where the separate right of each of several persons is affected by a single act of another person each of such persons has a separate cause of action against such other person and they cannot bring a suit jointly against such other person. Smurthwaite v. Hannay (1895) A O 491 referred to Where there has been a misjoinder of cause of action which has prejudiced the defendant on the merits and no objection to such misjoinder was taken in the written statement or at the settlement of issues the provisions of s 99 of the Civil Procedure Code Act V of 1908 will apply and the ends of justice will be sufficiently met by findings in the case of each separately instead of dismissing the suit. ATYAYU MUPPAN v. VELLAYA NADAN (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 55

MISJOINDER OF CAUSES OF ACTION—continued

Decision that a suit as framed not maintainable is a judgment and is appealable under clause 15 of the Letters Patent. LAKSHMINAATH LOY v. ROJINATHA NATH DAS (1911) 21 C W N 191

MISJOINDER OF CHARGES*See* CHARGE I L R 40 Cal 318 319

I L R 41 Cal 66 72-2

I L R 42 Cal 957

I L R 46 Cal 712

I L R 47 Cal 164

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 2 2

() 33 I L R 38 All 42

s 7 3 I L R 11 All 562

See EXCISE I L R 41 Cal 694*See* FINANCE CODE (Act VII of 1860)

s 404 I L R 40 All 565

Joint trial for offences under s 10 B of the Penal Code and ss 19 (f) 20 of the Arms Act committed in pursuance of the object of the conspiracy—Identity of transaction—Criminal Procedure Code Act V of 1898 s 99—Joint possession of arms—Mere keeping of fire arms not an offence. Fire arms whether inclusive of parts of the same—Arms Act (XII of 1885) s 3 s 11 19(a) (f)—Criminal conspiracy proof of—unintentional when act contemplated not done—Penal Code (Act VII of 1860) ss 109 116 100B—A charge of criminal conspiracy to manufacture arms under s 10 B of the Penal Code read with 19(a) of the Arms Act (XII of 1885) may be tried jointly with charges of offences under s 10 (f) and 20 of the latter Act committed in pursuance of the object of the conspiracy. As long as the conspiracy continues the transaction which began with the forming of the common intention continues and the offences under ss 19 (f) and 20 of the Arms Act are committed in the course of the same transaction. Legal Memorandum Jenral v. Mon Mohan Roy 19 C W N 62—I C J 19 followed. Where two persons rented a house and lived in it and parts of arms were found in one of the rooms—Held that both being in joint occupation of the house were in joint possession of the articles so found. The word fire arms in s 14 read with the meaning of arms in s 4 of the Arms Act includes parts of fire arms. Fire arms means only arms fired by gunpowder or other explosives. *Ahmed Hussein v. Queen Empress I L P 27 Cal 69 Emperor v. Dhan Singh & Or I J 435 3 A I J 3 followed. The offence under ss 6 and 19 (a) of the Arms Act is not a mere keeping of arms but a keeping of the same for sale. In cases of conspiracy the agreement between the conspirators cannot generally be directly proved but only inferred from the established facts of the case. Where two persons took a house in which a considerable number of pieces of fire arms was found with tools and implements and work had been actually done to some of the parts of fire arms the Court may and ought to infer a conspiracy to manufacture arms. Per CURRIE. Where there is only a conspiracy to manufacture arms without an actual manufacture the sentence should be imposed under s 10 B of the Penal Code read with s 19 (a) of the Arms Act and s 116 of the Penal Code and the maximum term of imprisonment.

MISJOINDER OF CHARGES—contd

ment awardable under these sections is 9 months rigorous imprisonment Per BEACHCROFT J The punishment awardable under s 120B of the Penal Code varies according as the offence has or has not been committed in consequence of the conspiracy. If an offence has been committed the punishment is that provided by s 109 of the Penal Code though strictly speaking there should not be a conviction in such cases of conspiracy but of abetment. If it has not been committed the punishment is governed by s 116 of the Penal Code. HARSHA NATH CHATTERJEE v EMPEROR (1914) 1 L R 42 Calc 1153

MISJOINDER OF PARTIES

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O I

R 3 1 L R 38 All 406

s 99 1 L R 1 Lab 295

See PRE EMPTION 1 L R 32 All 14

1 L R 41 All 423

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT 1863

s 7 1 Pat L J 393

Joint trial—Commission of criminal breach of trust in the same transaction as abetment of cheating and attempt to cheat and as part of a common design—Joint trial of one accused under ss 408 and 409 with another under ss 408 and 409 of the Penal Code—Legality of separate sentences—Concurrent sentences—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 239 Where A a railway ticket collector made over two used tickets which he had collected from passengers to B and instructed him to apply for a refund of the fares covered by the same as unused tickets at the place of issue and the latter proceeded there and made such an application but was discovered in the act—Held that the joint trial of A on charges under ss 408 and 409 of B under ss 408 and 409 of the Penal Code was legal under the provisions of s 239 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Parmeshwar Lal v Emperor 13 C W N 1039 distinguished Subramania Ayyar v King Emperor 1 L R 25 Mad 61 referred to. Held also that A had committed two distinct offences in the same transaction and that separate sentences were not illegal, though concurrent sentences were under the circumstances more appropriate. Re Noyan 7 Mad H C R 375 referred to. The two parts of s 239 of the Criminal Procedure are not mutually exclusive so that if A includes B to cheat and B attempts to do so they may be tried together for abetment of and attempt at cheating respectively and if in the course of the same transaction A commits the separate offence of criminal breach of trust in furtherance of the conspiracy to cheat he may be separately charged for such offence at the same trial. KALI DAS CHUCKERBUTTY v EMPEROR (1911) 1 L R 38 Calc 453

Wrongful confinement on one day—Wrongful confinement and assault of the same persons on a subsequent day—Identity of transaction—Unity of object—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 239 Where in consequence of certain persons having killed a cow on a zamindar's estate contrary to practice and eaten its flesh they were taken to the cutcherry on the 14th December fined therefor and confined till they had furnished security for the payment of the fine within three days and on their failure to do so were again taken to the cutcherry and detained there and on information given to the police one of them was beaten and all ejected—Held that the illegal confinement on the first day and the similar confinement and assault on the second day were parts of the same transaction the object of the accused on both days being the same viz to punish the persons for a breach of the rule by extorting the fine and the assault on the second day being the conclusion of the transaction and that the joint trial of the accused for offences under s 347 of the Penal Code committed on the 14th and 18th and for that under s 352 on the latter date by them was legal. Emperor v Datto Hanmant Shahapurkar 1 L R 30 Bom 49 and Emperor v Sheruful Ali Shoy 1 L R 27 Bom 135 approved. Budhai Shekh v Emperor 1 L R 33 Calc 292 and Gul Mahomed Sircar v Cheharu Vandal 10 C W N 63 distinguished. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCE v KAILASH CHANDRA GHOSE (1914) 1 L R 42 Calc 760

Parties—Appeal—causes of action—Practice—Judgment—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O I rr 1 and 3 O II r 3—Letters Patent 1865 cl 15 An appeal lies under the Letters Patent from an order of the High Court on its Original Side refusing to allow plaintiff to proceed in one suit against several defendants on the ground of misjoinder and giving him time to elect how he would proceed with his suit and which of the defendants he would retain on the record. O I r 1 and O I r 3 of the Civil Procedure Code apply to questions of joinder of parties as also of causes of action. Umaidas v Bhaui Balwant 1 L R 34 Bom 353 and Jankidas v Shrinivas Ganesh 1 L R 38 Bom 130 distinguished from. The plaintiff brought a suit against four sets of defendants for the recovery of certain documents of title and the goods covered thereby and in the alternative for damages. In his plaint he alleged that the goods in suit were his property that the defendant No 1 obtained from him the documents of title relating thereto by fraud and made them over to defendant No 2 that defendant No 2 knowing that defendant No 1 had no title either to the documents or to the goods wrongfully dealt with them and sold the goods to defendants Nos 3 and 4 that defendants Nos 3 and 4 wrongfully claimed to retain the goods and the documents of title and lastly that one of the documents of title was a railway receipt was pledged by defendant No 1 to defendant No 5 though the goods covered by it were in the possession of defendant No 3. Held that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of parties and causes of action. RAJENDRA NATH LOY v BRAJENDRA NATH DAS (1917) 1 L R 45 Calc 111

Property received by receivers separately and at different times—Joint trial of receivers—legality of—Criminal breach of trust at one place and dishonest receipt subsequently at another place—Joint trial of thief and receivers—legality of—Some of the offences charged not committed in the same transaction—Illegality vitiating whole trial—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 239 Where property is stolen and the proceeds of the estate are received by different persons separately and at different times they cannot be tried together. 135a 45 Bom 173 I L R 33 Cal 161 171. The joint trial of two receivers who had received shares of the separately and at different times was the reverse of the legal principle. When they are taken and subsequently received by them as the legal heirs of the joint trial of the trial and receiver is open when there is a trial and a receiver for the parts of the estate. 135a 45 Bom 173 I L R 33 Cal 161 171. The joint trial of the receiver for the criminal breach of trust committed by the receiver and two receivers who received the property subsequently at a joint trial is not justified. A joint trial of several persons all of whom are charged may have been committed by them in the one and the same transaction. If any of the offences so charged were not committed in the same transaction the whole trial is illegal unless. 239 of the Criminal Procedure Code for misjoinder. Om Bhawan Ashikapi v Imperi (1918) I L R 46 Cal 741

JOINDER OF PARTIES—contd

MISJOINDER OF PERSONS AND OFFENCES

See CHARGES I L R 46 Cal 712

MISREPRESENTATION

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 40 Cal 173

See CHECKING LIGHT

I L R 42 Cal 28

See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 264

MISTAKE.

See CLERICAL MISTAKE.

I L R 39 Cal 265

See CONTRACT ACT (15 of 1872) s 20

6, I L R 40 Bom 638

See DECREE I L R 40 Bom 118

3 Pat L J 465

See REGISTRATION

I L R 41 Cal 872

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877 s 17 49

I L R 34 Bom 202

See RES JUDICATA 2 Pat L J 313

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 41 Cal 590

— amendment of—

See POWER OF ATTORNEY

I L R 37 Cal 399

— in description of plaintiff—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ACT (V of 1908) O I R 10

I L R 40 Mad 743

— in drawing up of a decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 102 I L R 37 All 323

— in sale deed—

See EVIDENCE ACT (1 of 1822) s 92 cl (a) I L R 39 Mad 792

— rectification of—

See DECREE I L R 40 Bom 118

MISTAKE—contd

— Discovery of when first Court's decree was passed—

See LIMITATION ACT (1908) SCH I Art 96 I L R 45 Bom 582

— It takes evidence of—— Similar mistake in other documents—Admissibility
— Concurrent finding of fact based on no evidence
The proper description of houses in towns for the purpose of registration is by the street in which they are situated and the number which they bear in that street. Where a stranger to a mortgage decree passed in the Original Side of the High Court who had previous thereto acquired a title in property actually intended to be conveyed (all of which was outside Calcutta) proved that there was no property in Calcutta bearing the street name and number given to the only item of Calcutta property included in the mortgage and that the property in Calcutta which in fact answered the description of that property by metes and bounds given in the mortgage deed did not belong to the mortgagor. Held that the onus of proving (as it was open to him to prove) that there was a clerical or other error in the description of the property and that in fact an existing property situated in Calcutta was intended by both parties to be mortgaged was on the mortgagee decree holder. That to prove this the mortgagee should have examined himself as also his mortgagor. That as no evidence whatever was given to prove this case it was not open to the Courts in India to come to the conclusion that the entry of the property was a mistake. Evidence to show that the mortgagor had purported to mortgage with other mortgagees the same property under the same description and had been compelled by them to consent to rectification was irrelevant at the trial to prove that the entry in the document was a mistake. That the principle of concurrent findings of fact did not apply to such a case as it was a case of no evidence and it was open to the Privy Council to hold from the conduct of the mortgagee in not examining himself or his mortgagor and from other evidence in the case that the entry was intentionally fictitious. Harpendra Lal Roy Chowdhuri v Hari Das Deb (1914) I L R 41 Cal 972

— Suit to set aside previous decree on ground of mistake—Competence of compromise and decree thereon—Rectification—— Fraud A decree can be set aside by suit on the ground of fraud if of the required character. But a suit does not lie to set aside a decree in a previous suit on the ground that the Judge in passing that decree made a mistake. Jogeeswar Atha v Ganga Bishnu Ghatak 8 C W N 473 dissenting from Mahomed Gohar v Mahomed Sultman I L R 21 Cal 612 Sadha Misser v Gohar Singh 3 C W N 375 and Bhandi Singh v Doulat Ray 17 C W N 32 15 C L J 675 referred to. While in the case of a compromise as the contract is capable of being rectified for an appropriate mistake so as the necessary consequence is the decree which is merely a more formal expression given to that contract. Huddersfield Banking Co Ltd v Henry Lister and Sons Ltd (1895) 2 Ch 273 followed. Kusodhraj Bhurka v Braja Mohan Bh A (1915)

H 43 Cal 217

MISTAKE OF FACT

See EASE I L R 37 Cal 333

MISTAKE OF LAW

by arbitrator—

See ARBITRATION I L R 35 Bom 153

by Liquidator—

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY I L R 44 Bom 631

Courts order passed on—Effect of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 ss 170 AND 174 6 Pat L J 16

MITAKSHARA

See HINDU LAW

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 33 All 654
I L R 39 Cal 862

See HINDU LAW—GIFT

I L R 37 Cal 1

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 37 All 604
I L R 34 Bom 321 510
I L R 35 Bom 389

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 45 Cal 666 733
I L R 43 Cal 1031
I L R 35 All 302
I L R 40 Cal 407
I L R 32 All 183
I L R 33 All 436
I L R 39 All 437
I L R 40 All 159
I L R 41 All 235 338 361

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY I L R 43 Bom 472

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY

See HINDU LAW—MITAKSHARA

See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE

I L R 42 Cal 1068

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 34 All 505
I L R 39 Bom 373
I L R 43 Cal 459
I L R 38 All 83

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN I L R 36 Bom 424

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 37 All 545
I L R 33 All 702
I L R 39 Cal 319
I L R 34 All 663
I L R 35 Mad 152
I L R 38 Bom 438
I L R 38 All 416
I L R 43 All 228

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 40 All 96

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE

I L R 38 Cal 182

Settling of as to right by birth—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 38 Mad 556

MITAKSHARA—contd

Whether father's sister's sons are heirs—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 1 Lab 554

Ch II s 5 pl 4 and 5—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 39 Bom 17

Ch II s 5 6—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 42 Cal 384

Ch II s 8 para 2—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 39 Bom 168

Ch II s XI paras 9 11 25—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

I L R 43 Cal 944

MITAKSHARA FAMILY

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1881 ss. 105 AND 188 25 U W N 88

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

I L R 48 Cal 341

MITTADAR OR ZAMINDAR

assignment of jodi under permanent sanad—

See INAMDAR I L R 40 Mad 93

MIXED FUND

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY I L R 44 I A 201
I L R 40 All 159

MOFUSSIL MAGISTRATE

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 41 Cal 173

MOFUSSIL PROPERTY

See MORTGAGE (MIS)

I L R 47 Cal 770

MOGHALI BRAHMOTTAR

See MINES AND MINERALS

I L R 42 Cal 346

MOGULI RENT

Moguli rent meaning of Moguli is a word of doubtful meaning and at the best imports no more than that the rent assessed represents a proportion of the Government revenue NAWAGARH COAL CO LD v BEHARILAL TRIGUNNAH (1916) 20 C W N 1135

MOHUNT

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

14 C W N 191

MOKARARI

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 85

14 C W N 141

MOKARARIDARS

See PARTITION I L R 37 Cal 918

MOKARARI LEASE

See DOWRY TENURE

I L R 39 Cal 696

MOKARARI LEASE—cont^d

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (LEASE)
14 C W N 263

See LEASE, (11)
I L R 45 Calc 57

See MINERALS
L R 44 I A 246

MOMBASA, MIGRATION TO

See STOCKS 107
L R 43 I A 35

MONEY

— left with purchaser for payment to mortgagee—

See MORTGAGE (SALE OF PROPERTY)
I L R 33 All 209

— suit for—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IX OF 1857) SEC II ART 3
I L R 37 Mad. 533

MONEY DECREE.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I L R 45 Calc 520

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING
I L R 48 Calc 181

— execution of—

See LIMITATION (44) I L R 45 Calc 630

MONEY HAD AND RECEIVED

— Money deposited in usum jus habentis improperly withdrawn by a person not entitled to it. Where money is deposited in Court in usum jus habentis and it is withdrawn by a person who is declared not to have any right thereto the money so obtained may properly be held to be received for the use of the person entitled to it. Lill v Martindale 18 C B 314 referred to MAUND HUSAIN v SUEH CHAND (1911) I L R 33 All 450

MONEY LENDER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) SS 115 AND 151
I L R 38 Bom 638

MONEY ORDER

— Receipt on—

See STAMP ACT s 65
I L R 34 All 192

MONEY PAID UNDER DECREE

— suit for—

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT
I L R 40 Calc 598

MOOFU

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 44 Mad 740

MOPLA

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT
I L R 38 Mad 385

MORPHIA

— Whether included in the term "opium"—

See OPIUM ACT 1878 s 3
I L R 1 Lah 443

MORTGAGE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 33 All 463
I L R 38 Mad 97
I L R 44 Calc 425
23 C W N 815

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)

ss 19 20 I L R 32 All 383

s 20 I L R 33 All 136

I L R 37 All 278

s 21 I L R 33 All 779

See AGREEMENT AGAINST PUBLIC POLICY
I L R 40 Calc 113

See ATTESTING WITNESS
I L R 48 Calc 81

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1850 s 65
1 Pat L J 161

See BHAGDARI AND NARWADARI TENURES
ACT (BOM V OF 1862) s 3
I L R 39 Bom 358

See BOMBAY CITY LAND REVENUE ACT
(BOM II OF 1876) ss 30 35 80 AND
40 I L R 30 Bom 664

See BUNDHEKHAND ALIENATION OF LAND
ACT (II OF 1903)

s 9 I L R 30 All 376

s 16 I L R 42 All 142

s 17 I L R 38 All 351

See BUNDHEKHAND ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT (I OF 1903) s 13
I L R 33 All 138

See CENTRAL PROVINCES GOVERNMENT
WARD ACT s 18
I L R 40 Calc 784

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT
(VI OF 1899) s 45
I L R 46 Calc 70

See CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES
ACT APPLICATION OF
I L R 46 Calc 1

See CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS
I L R 35 All 464

See CIVIL COURTS ACT (XII OF 1887)
s 21 I L R 41 All 384

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882
s 13 I L R 32 All 215

ss 13 43 I L R 32 All 119

s 257A. I L R 38 Bom 219

ss 278 282 283 287
I L R 41 Bom 84

ss 366 371 I L R 40 Bom 248

s 411 I L R 34 All 223

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
s 11 I L R 40 Bom 614, 679

s II EXPL IV AND II s 2
I L R 39 Bom 138

s 11 EXPL V I L R 40 All 584

s 47 I L R 42 All 544

s 60 I L R 34 All 25

O 1, s 9 1 Pat L J 468

MORTGAGE—contd

- O 11 n 2 I L R 36 All 264
I L R 39 All 506
I L R 45 Bom 55
- O 1 v r 5 I L R 38 Bom 377
- O XVII n 10 I L R 37 All 226
- O XXIV n 1
I L R 35 All 441 484
I L R 44 Bom 698
- RR 4 5, 10 I L R 41 All 473
- RR 4 5 I L R 38 All 398
- R 5 I L R 38 All 21
I L R 39 All 641
I L R 42 All 517
- R 6 I L R 40 All 551 553
I L R 41 All 581
I L R 42 All 519
- R 8 I L R 35 All 116
I L R 43 All 25
- R 14 I L R 32 All 377
I L R 35 Bom 248
I L R 35 All 518
I L R 39 All 36
I L R 41 All 399
I L R 44 Bom 366
I L R 42 All 566
I L R 43 All 677
- See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 564
I L R 42 Bom 215
- See CONSIDERATION I L R 45 Calc 774
- See CONSTRUCTION OF DEED
I L R 39 Bom 119
I L R 40 Bom 74
- See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 35 All 122
- See CONTRACT ACT IX of 1872
s 20 65 I L R 40 Bom 638
s 39 I L R 34 All 273
s 70 I L R 40 Bom 646
s 74 I L R 32 All 448
s 120 140 I L R 42 All 70
- See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 1870)—
s 7 cl. (IX) I L R 35 All 92 94
SCH I ART I SCH II ART 11
I L R 35 All 476
- See DEKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT 1879—
s 2 I L R 34 Bom 161
I L R 44 Bom 217
s 3 (u) 12 13 I L R 40 Bom 655
s 10A I L R 45 Bom 87
s 13 I L R 41 Bom 453
I L R 43 Bom 1
s 13 15 (J) 16 I L R 39 Bom 73
s 15 I L R 44 Bom 372

MORTGAGE—contd

- See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE
- See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION
- See ESTOPPEL I L R 30 Calc 513
- See EVIDENCE I L R 35 All 194
I L R 44 Calc 345
I L R 45 Calc 320
- See EVIDENCE ACT I of 1872—
ss 53 92 I L R 42 Mad 41
s 68 I L R 35 All 254
ss 68 69
I L R 39 All 109 112 & 241
ss 69 70 I L R 35 All 364
s 92 I L R 44 Bom 55
s 94 I L R 38 All 103
- See EXPROPRIATORY TENANT
I L R 36 All 248
- See FAMILY FIRM I L R 36 Bom 515
- See FORFEITURE I L R 36 Bom 539
- See FRAUD I L R 36 Bom 185
- See HIGH COURT I L R 37 Bom 631
- See HINDU LAW—ALIVELAND
I L R 40 Calc 721
I L R 42 Calc 876
I L R 39 All 500
I L R 40 All 171
I L R 45 Bom 105
- See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
- See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE
- See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
I L R 35 All 311 326
- See INSOLVENCY I L R 41 All 481
- See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Mad 813
I L R 48 Calc 882
24 C W N 633
- See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 328
I L R 42 Calc 244 294
I L R 47 Calc 746
- See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877)
- SCH II ARTS 134 143
I L R 32 All 160
- SCH II ART 148 I L R 36 All 195
- SCH II ART 179 I L R 39 Bom 110
- See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)— ss 6 7 AND ART 144
I L R 43 Bom 487
s 20 I L R 41 All 111
I L R 44 Bom 500
s 22 I L R 39 Bom 729
s 31 I L R 35 All 167
- SCH I ARTS 91 AND 120
I L R 37 All 640
- SCH I ARTS 126 144 148
I L R 41 Mad 650
- SCH I ARTS 132
I L R 36 All 567
I L R 43 All 596

MORTGAGE—contd

- See I ART 131 I L R 37 All 660
I L R 38 All 133
I L R 44 Bom 614
- See I ARTS 131 141 and 142
I L R 43 All 164
- See I ARTS 140 141
I L R 40 Bom 239
- See I ART 141 I L R 40 All 65
- See I ART 181 I L R 40 All 235
I L R 43 All 320
- See I ARTS 181 and 182
I L R 43 Bom 659
- See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER
I L R 33 All 421
- See MAHOMEDAN LAW—JUDGMENT
I L R 37 Cal 179
I L R 47 Cal 866
- See MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS
ACT (Mad 1 of 1900) s 3 5
I L R 38 Mad 954
- See MINOR I L R 34 All 298
- See MORTGAGE BOARD
- See MORTGAGE DEBT
- See MORTGAGE DECREE
- See MORTGAGE DEED
- See MORTGAGE OR SALE
- See MORTGAGE SETT
- See MORTGAGEE
- See MORTGAGOR
- See OCCUPANCY HOLDING
14 C W N 71
I L R 43 All 81
- See OCCUPANCY RANTY
I L R 40 All 228
- See TALAS OR TURKS OF WORSHIP
I L R 42 Cal 455
- See PURDANASHIN LADY
14 C W N 165
- See PENALTY I L P 44 Cal 162
- See PRE EMPTION I L P 32 All 45
I L R 34 All 416
I L R 38 All 530
- See PROVINCIAL IN OLIVENCY ACT 1907
s 16 I L R 43 All 555
- See PREEMPTION 3 Pat L J 490
- See REGISTRATION
I L R 41 Cal 872
- See REGISTRATION ACT (III of 1877)
s 50 I L R 44 All 631
- See REGISTRATION ACT (VII of 1903)—
s 17 I L R 41 Bom 510
s 17(?) (2) I L R 44 All 528
s 50 I L R 35 All 271
s 77 I L R 2 Lah 203
- See SINGLE MORTGAGE
- See SOUTHERN PARAGANAS—
I L R 41 I A 197
- See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 34
I L R 42 Mad 20

MORTGAGE—contd

- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1880)—
s 2 (d) I L R 35 Bom 189
s 1 I L R 39 All 186
ss 18 to 11—
- See TRUSTS ACT—
s 5 I L R 36 Bom 398
- See UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS
ACT 1912 s 6 I L R 43 All 478
- See EJECTMENTARY MORTGAGE
- See VARY I L R 34 Bom 175
- See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 41 Bom 300
- anomalous—
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1880) ss 59 60 61
I L R 39 Mad 1010
- See MORTGAGE CONSTRUCTION
I L R 42 All 87
15 C W N 722
- a variation of—
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 59 I L R 44 Bom 405
- between Hindus—
- See DAMEPAT RULE OF
I L R 42 Cal 828
- See ASSIGNMENT
I L R 35 Bom 199
- by agriculturists—
- See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT (VII of 1870) s 16B
I L R 37 Bom 614
- by Directors of a Company—
- See PRESIDENCY BANKS ACT (VI of 1876) s 40 37
I L R 39 Mad 101
- by conditional sale—
- See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 33 All 37 585
I L R 38 All 570
- See SALE DEED I L R 44 Bom 961
- See PRE EMPTION I L R 39 All 544
- See REGULATION XVII of 1806 s 8
I L R 40 All 387
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1880) ss 60 and 9—
I L R 38 Mad 667
- by Executor—
See WILL I L R 44 Bom 209
- by Hindu widow—
- See PERS JUDGATA I L R 41 Cal 69
- by Karta—
- See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 39 All 500
- by minor—
- See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Mad 1071
- by Tlukdar—
- See BROACH AND KAIRA INCUMBERED
ESTATES ACT (XVI of 1881) s 28
I L R 41 Bom 546

MORTGAGE—contd

- O 11 R 2 I L R 36 All 284
I L R 39 All 506
I L R 45 Bom 85
- W V R 5 I L R 38 Bom 377
- O XXII R 10 I L R 37 All 226
- O XXIV, R 1
I L R 35 All 441 484
I L R 44 Bom 698
- RR 4 5 10 I L R 41 All 473
- RR 4, 8 I L R 38 All 398
- R 5 I L R 38 All 21
I L R 39 All 641
I L R 42 All 517
- R 6 I L R 40 All 551 553
I L R 41 All 581
I L R 42 All 519
- R 8 I L R 35 All 116
I L R 43 All 25
- R 14 I L R 32 All 377
I L R 35 Bom 248
I L R 35 All 518
I L R 39 All 36
I L R 41 All 399
I L R 44 Bom 366
I L R 42 All 566
I L R 43 All 677
- See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 564
I L R 42 Bom 215
- See CONSIDERATION I L R 45 Calc 774
- See CONSTRUCTION OF DEED I L R 39 Bom 119
I L R 40 Bom 74
- See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT I L R 32 All 123
- See CONTRACT ACT IX OF 1872
s 20 G. I L R 40 Bom 638
s 39 I L R 34 All 273
s 70 I L R 40 Bom 646
s 74 I L R 32 All 448
s 120 140 I L R 42 All 70
- See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—
s 7 CL (IX) I L R 35 All 92 94
SCH I ART I SCH II ART II
I L R 35 All 476
- See DEBHAM AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF
ACT 1879—
s 2 I L R 34 Bom 161
I L R 44 Bom 217
s 3 (w) 12 13 I L R 40 Bom 655
s 10A I L R 45 Bom 87
s 13 I L R 41 Bom 453
I L R 43 Bom 1
s 13 15 (d) 16 I L R 39 Bom 73
s 15 I L R 44 Bom 372

MORTGAGE—contd

- See EQUITABLY MORTGAGE
- See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION
- See ESTOPPEL I L R 30 Calc 513
- See EVIDENCE I L R 35 All 194
I L R 44 Calc 345
I L R 45 Calc 320
- See EVIDENCE ACT I OF 1872—
s 58 92 I L R 42 Mad 41
s 68 I L R 35 All 254
s 68 90
I L R 39 All 109 112 & 241
s 69 70 I L R 35 All 364
s 92 I L R 44 Bom 55
s 94 I L R 38 All 103
- See EXPROPRIATORY TENANT I L R 30 All 248
- See FAMILY FIRM I L R 36 Bom 515
- See FORFEITURE I L R 36 Bom 539
- See FRAUD I L R 36 Bom 185
- See HIGH COURT I L R 37 Bom 631
- See HINDU LAW—ALLOCATION
I L R 40 Calc 721
I L R 42 Calc 876
I L R 39 All 500
I L R 40 All 171
I L P 45 Bom 105
- See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
- See HINDU LAW—MORTGAGE
- See HINDU LAW—WIDOW I L R 35 All 311 326
- See INSOLVENCY I L R 41 All 481
- See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Mad 813
I L R 48 Calc 882
24 C W N 633
- See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 326
I L R 42 Calc 244 294
I L R 47 Calc 746
- See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)
SCH II ARTS 134 148
I L R 32 All 160
- SCH II ART 148 I L R 36 All 195
- SCH II ART 170 I L R 39 Bom 20
- See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—
s 6 7 AND ART 144
I L R 43 Bom 487
s 20 I L R 41 All 111
I L R 44 Bom 500
s 22 I L R 39 Bom 729
s 31 I L R 35 All 167
- SCH I ARTS 91 AND 120 I L R 37 All 640
- SCH I ARTS 126 144 148 I L R 41 Mad 650
- SCH I ARTS 132 I L R 36 All 567
I L R 43 All 596

MORTGAGE—contd

- See I ACT 134 I L R 37 All 660
 I L R 39 All 133
 I L R 44 Bom 614
- See I ACT 134 146 and 148
 I L R 43 All 164
- See I ACT 140 141
 I L R 40 Bom 239
- See I ACT 145 I L R 40 All 683
- See I ACT 151 I L R 40 All 223
 I L R 43 All 320
- See I ACT 151 and 152
 I L R 43 Bom 689
- See MANOMEDAN LAW—DOWER
 I L R 33 All 421
- See MANOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT
 I L R 37 Cal 179
 I L R 47 Cal 866
- See MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS
 ACT (Mad 1 of 1900) s 3
 I L R 38 Mad 954
- See MINOR
 I L R 41 All 296
- See MORTGAGE BOND
- See MORTGAGE DEED
- See MORTGAGE DEED
- See MORTGAGE DEED
- See MORTGAGE OR SALE
- See MORTGAGE SUE
- See MORTGAGEE
- See MORTGAGOR
- See OCCUPANCY HOLDING
 14 C W N 71
 I L R 43 All 81
- See OCCUPANCY PAYAT
 I L R 40 All 228
- See PALAS OR TURNS OF WORSHIP
 I L R 42 Cal 455
- See PURDANASHIN LADY
 14 C W N 166
- See PENALTY I L P 44 Cal 162
- See PRE EMPTION I L R 32 All 45
 I L R 34 All 418
 I L R 38 All 530
- See PROVINCIAL INDEMNITY ACT 1907,
 s 10 I L R 43 All 555
- See REDEMPTION 3 Pat L J 490
- See REGISTRATION
 I L R 41 Cal 972
- See REGISTRATION ACT (III of 1877)
 s 50 I L R 34 All 631
- See REGISTRATION ACT (VII of 1908)—
 s 17 I L R 41 Bom 510
 s 17 (2) (zi) I L R 44 All 528
 s 50 I L R 35 All 271
 s 77 I L R 2 Lah 202
- See SIMILE MORTGAGE
- See SOUTHAL PARGANAS—
 L R 41 I A 197
- See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 39
 I L R 42 Mad 20

MORTGAGE—contd

- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1884) —
 s 2 (d) I L R 35 Bom 189
 s 1 I L R 39 All 126
 ss 3 to 11
- See TRUSTS ACT—
 s 5 I L R 36 Bom 396
- See UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS
 ACT 1912 s 5 I L R 43 All 478
- See ULTIMATORY MORTGAGE
- See VATES I L R 34 Bom 175
- See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
 I L P 41 Bom 300
- anomalous—
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1884) ss 59 60 68
 I L R 39 Mad 1010
- See MORTGAGE OF CONSTRUCTION
 I L R 38 All 97
 15 C W N 722
- a testation of—
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1884
 s 63 I L R 44 Bom 405
- between Hindus—
- See DAMUDAT RULE OF
 I L R 42 Cal 828
- See ASSIGNMENT
 I L R 35 Bom 189
- by agriculturists—
- See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
 ACT (VII of 1880) s 16B
 I L R 37 Bom 614
- by Directors of a Company—
- See PRESIDENCY BANKS ACT (VI of 1876) s 30 37
 I L R 39 Mad 101
- by conditional sale—
- See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
 I L R 33 All 37 585
 I L R 38 All 570
- See SALE DEED I L R 44 Bom 981
- See PRE EMPTION I L R 39 All 544
- See REGULATION VII of 1806 s 8
 I L R 40 All 387
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1884) ss 60 and III
 I L R 38 Mad 667
- by Executor—
- See WILL I L R 34 Bom 209
- by Hindu widow—
- See LES JUDICATA I L R 41 Cal 69
- by Karta—
- See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
 I L R 40 All 500
- by minor—
- See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Mad 1071
- by Talukdar—
- See BROACH AND KAIRA INCUMBERED
 ESTATES ACT (VII of 1881) s 2a
 I L R 41 Bom 846

MORTGAGE—contd

by vatandar—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM
III OF 1874) s 5
I L R 39 Bom 587

by widow—

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION
I L R 40 Cal 721

decree absolute for sale on—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
XXIV s 5 I L R 38 All 21

decree for redemption—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ARTS
181 182 I L R 43 Bom 689

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)
s 39 I L R 42 Mad. 20

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 67 I L R 41 All 631

decree for Pood Cess—Priority of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 65
1 Pat L J 161

dispossession of mortgagee by person with better title—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 68 I L P 43 All 484

divisibility of—

See CHOTA NAAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT 6 Pat L J 328

executed by Collector—

See BUNDELKHAND ALIENATION OF LAND ACT (II OF 1903) s 17
I L R 38 All 351

extinguishment of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 60 (c)
I L R 39 Mad 959

Forfeiture—Effect of—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE ACT 1879
s 66
I L P 37 Bom 692

in fraud of creditors—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 53 I L R 36 Mad 29

money borrowed on suit to recover—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 40 Mad 402

Money decree—priority of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
1 Pat L J 449

Mortgage in possession—obligations
of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 70 5 Pat L J 492

new charge on old security—whether a new mortgage—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 77
I L R 2 Lah 202

non joined parties in Mortgage Suit—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O I R.9
1 Pat L J 468

MORTGAGE—contd

Maha Brahmins Rights—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 6 58 I L R 39 All 196

of Mukarrari interest—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 70 11 Pat L J 347

of occupancy holding—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES RENT
ACT (XII OF 1881)

I L R 37 All 444
s 9 I L R 39 All 186

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 33 All 335

of promissory note—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 130 AND 134
I L R 39 Mad 297

of stock in trade—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 37 All 390

proof of execution of—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) —
s 68 69 I L R 39 All 109 112 241
s 69 70 I L R 35 All 364

redemption of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
O XXII s 10
I L P 37 All 226

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH
II ART 148 I L R 36 All 195

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) —

SCH I ARTS 134 144
I L R 38 All 138

SCH I ART 148
I L R 40 All 683

Sale deed when may be construed as mortgage—

See DEERHAR AGRICULTURIST RELIEF
ACT 1879 s 2
I L R 44 Bom 217

suit on a—

See AMENDMENT OF PLAINT
I L R 45 Cal 305

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O V s 5
I L R 38 Bom 377

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT
VI OF 1888 AS AMENDED BY BOM ACT
II OF 1905) ss 29 29B (1) (2) (3)
AND 29C I L R 33 Bom 604

See LIMITATION I L R 41 Cal 654

Suit on a prior mortgage without impleading puisne mortgagee—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
ss 57 AND 89 I L R 43 All 204

surplus proceeds—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 69 I L R 40 Mad 767

with possession by lessee—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 108 (j)
I L R 40 Mad. 1111

MORTGAGE—contd

— — — — —	Valian mortgaged with possession
	See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 20
	CL (1) ACT 11C
	I L R 45 Bom 1206
— — — — —	Sale to mortgagee in possession — subsequent sale to a stranger—
	See NOTICE	I L R 45 Bom 910
— — — — —	Mortgagee having the option to sue for interest or for possession on mort-gagor's failure to pay interest
	See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 II II
	2. 2	I L R 1 Lah 45
— — — — —	Acquisition of equity of redemption
	by adverse possession
	See LIMITATION ACT
	I L R 1 Lah 549
	601
	643
A GEMENT		293
ATTACHMENT		243
ATTESTATION		103
CONSENT DECREE		297
CON DELATION		33
CON DELATION		293
CON DELATION		294
DEPOSIT OF TITLE DEEDS		249
DISCHARGE		249
ESTOPPEL		23
EXECUTION OF MORTGAGE DECREE		212
EXONERATION		203
FEMALES—PRESENTATION OF		253
FORECLOSURE		294
FRAUD		757
GUARDIAN—MORTGAGE BY		295
INTEREST		296
LOST DEED		296
MARSHALLING		296
MIXED		296
MOVEABLES		296
PARTIES		296
PARTITION		296
PRIORITY		296
REDEMPTION		296
REGISTRATION		296
SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY		296
SEVERANCE OF MORTGAGEES INTEREST		296
SHRINE MORTGAGE		296
SUBROGATION		296
TRANSFERRED MORTGAGEE		296
USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE		296
MISCELLANEOUS		296

ASSIGNMENT

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 55
130—139

Application of the Rule of damdupit—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882)

MORTGAGE—contdMORTGAGE—contd

s 2 (1) The fact that the person entitled to sue on a mortgage has been assigned to be a Parso cannot affect the (Hindu) mortgagor's right to claim the advantage of the rule of damdupit if it existed when the mortgage was entered into. It is not proper to infer that because it has been enacted that nothing in Chapter II of the Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) shall be deemed to affect any rule of Hindu Law the Legislature has deprived a Hindu mortgagor of the protection afforded him by the rule of damdupit. The right of a mortgagee to sue for his principal and interest arising from a contract must be taken to be made subject to the usages and customs of the contract in parties. JEWANATH v. MANOJAS (1910) I L R 35 Bom 190

Suit by assignee of mortgage bond—Set off by the defendant of a decree obtained against the assignee—Is set off allowable—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) ss 3 and 13—Actionable claim nature of the doctrine of equitable set off is always confined to unascertained sums arising out of the same transaction. Sulramanian Chelliar v. Muthuswami Aiyangar 17 Mad L J 481 dissented from. Where a mortgage is transferred without the privity of the mortgagor the transferee takes subject to the state of account between the mortgagor and mortgagee at the date of the transfer but not subject to any independent debt in no way connected with the mortgage. Turner v. Smith [1901] 1 Ch 749 followed. Chinnayya Parulhan v. Chidambaram Chetty I L R 2 Mad 210 distinguished. SUBRAMANIAM PATTAI v. SUBRAMANIAM PATTAI (1916) I L R 40 Mad 683

ATTACHMENT

Attachment—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXVIII r 5 The plaintiff in a mortgage suit after the preliminary decree and before the date appointed for payment into Court applied for attachment of certain other properties of the defendants on the ground of insufficiency of the mortgaged security. Held that as the plaintiff would ultimately have to apply for a personal decree against the defendants who had a right to get an attachment under O XXXVIII r 5 of the Civil Procedure Code. Bhambhar Salas v. Sukhdar I L R 16 All 186 and Jaiparkash Narain Singh v. Basanta Kumari Devi 15 Ind Cas 601 referred to. JOGENAYA DASSI v. BAIDYANATH PRAMANICK 1918 I L R 46 Cal 245

ATTESTATION

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 ss 68 AND 69

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 ss 53 AND 98

Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 58—Co-executant if may all at execution by others—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 68 69 70 A mortgage bond executed by several persons was sought to be proved by the evidence of one of the executants who was also the scribe of the document. Held that a party executing a document required by law to be attested cannot be an attesting witness thereof and his evidence even if he was present at and witnessed the execution of it by others cannot be accepted as that of an attesting witness in regard to such executions Jogendra Nath v. Vats Churn 7 C N 1 335 distinguished Bryan v. White 2 Robertson 315 317 Sharpe v. Birch L R 8 Q B D 111 Wright

MORTGAGE—contdATTESTATION—contd

v. Talham 1 Ad. & Ell. 3 23 Freshfield v. Peed
 9 M. & W. 404 and Seal v. Clonidge L R 7
 Q B D 516 relied on Quare Whether admission of execution by a party is not receivable in proof of execution of such document by himself PEARL MOHAN MAITI v. SREENATH CHANDRA MAITI
 (1908) 14 C W N 1046

Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s. 3—Execution of mortgage by pardanashin lady attestation of—Requirements as to identity of executant and as to witnesses—seeing actual execution of deed—Acknowledgment of her signature by executant On a question whether a mortgage sued upon had been properly attested under the provisions of s. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) the evidence showed that the attesting witnesses had not though present seen the executant (a pardanashin lady) sign the deed but had subsequently to the execution on received from her son who had been with her on the other side of the pardah an acknowledgment that the signature on the deed had been made by his mother Held (reversing the judgment of the High Court) that the requirements of s.
 59 had not been complied with and the deed was therefore invalid as a mortgage Shamu Patter
v. Abdul Kadir Barathan I L R 35 Mad 607
 L R 39 I A 35 and Podarath Holwa v. Ram
Amin Uphadia I L R 37 All 474 L R 42 I
 A 163 distinguished Ganga Pershad Singh v.
Ishtu Pershad Singh (1918) 1 L R 45 Cal 748

Attesting witness—Scribe—Execution admitted by adult executant, whether binding on minor—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss. 65 and 70 Where it is sought to prove the execution of a mortgage by the evidence of a person who signed the deed as a scribe it must be established that the latter in signing as a scribe intended to sign as a witness Where a person who has signed a deed as a scribe subsequently asserts that he signed as a witness the onus of proving this assertion lies very heavily on him NAKSHWAR
PRASAD v. BACHU SINGH

4 Pat L J 511

CONSENT DECREE

Consent decrees between mortgagors and mortgagee—Joint management—Equal division of rent and produce—Prohibition against partition—Mortgagee competent to grant mirasi lease—Mortgagors get one fourth of the na arana (present)—Rights of the mortgagors conveyed to the mortgagee—Equitable mortgage by mortgagee—Settlement by mortgagor in favour of his relations—Suit by equitable mortgagee—Decree—Execution—Auction purchase or put in possession—Suit by donees under the settlement—Donees entitled to possession—Rights of the parties to be worked out by amicable settlement or by a suit—Suit by representatives of a class of purchasers to recover one fourth share by partition—Jointiffs entitled to possession of the na arana in common—Mirasi lease by mortgagee as a valid mortgagee's consent—Lease not to be for the benefit of the assignee—The

MORTGAGE—contdCONSENT DECREE—contd owners of certain land mortgaged to S In the year 1866 consent decrees Exhibits 57 and 58 were passed between the mortgagors and the mortgagee S The consent decrees provided that both parties should jointly carry on the management of the land each being entitled to half of the produce and rent that the land itself should not be parti-tioned that S was competent to grant a mirasi lease provided the na arana (present) accepted was not less than Rs. 500 and that the said na arana should be divided between the mortgagors and S in the proportion of $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{1}{2}$, respectively The said rights of the mortgagors were subsequently conveyed by them to S for consideration Exhibit 64 Afterwards S in April 1891 deposited Exhibit 64 by way of equitable mortgage with two persons In October 1891 S settled the property which was subject to the equitable mortgage on his relatives J and M In 1892 the two equitable mortgagees sued S to recover their equitable mortgage debt and got a decree against the property equitably mortgaged and against S personally The property was put up for sale in execution and purchased by H for Rs. 542 which covered the claim of the equitable mortgagees J and M obstructed the auction purchaser H in his attempts to obtain possession and their obstruction having failed they brought a suit against H

 The final decree in the suit made a declaration that as against H J and M were entitled to the properties and their possession subject to H's right conveyed to the mortgagee S under Exhibit 64 and subsequently purchased by H and that the rights of the parties as thus declared must be worked out by amicable settlement between them or by means of a separate suit The plaintiffs as executors under the will of H deceased who was deprived of possession under the aforesaid decree having brought a suit against the signees of J and M to recover by partition $\frac{1}{2}$ share of the land the lower Courts dismissed the suit for the recovery of $\frac{1}{2}$ share by partition on the ground that the clause in the consent decrees Exhibits 57 and 58 affected to prohibit partition On second appeal by the plaintiffs Held reversing the decree that though the plaintiffs as tenants in common would be entitled to partition yet by virtue of the consent decrees they were estopped from exercising such right Held further that though the consent decrees did empower the mortgagee S to grant a mirasi lease without the mortgagor's consent yet this power did not enure for the benefit of his assignees COWASI TENDULJI
v. KISANDAS TENDULJI (1911) 1 L R 35 Bom 372

CONSIDERATION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT
 s. 34

Consideration—Factual in mortgage deed of receipt of consideration—Burden of proof Where a mortgage deed is proved to have been executed and the document contains an acknowledgment of the receipt of the consideration this is strong prima facie evidence that the consideration has been actually received and i-evidence not only against the mortgagors but also against persons claiming under them subsequent to the date of the mortgage The mere fact that a

MORTGAGE—contd

CONSIDERATION—id

COURT WAS SATISFIED WITH THE EVIDENCE WHICH THE PLAINTIFF ADDUCED IN ADMITTANCE TO THE ACKNOWLEDGMENT. WILLIAMS & L. THE DEFENDANTS FROM PRESUMING THAT THE PLAINTIFFS WERE THE ACKNOWLEDGERS IN THE DEED OF THE DEED THERE WAS NO CONSIDERATION IN FACT. BARBER & DITTA PAM (1914) I L R 48 All 478

IN MORTGAGE DEEDS THE CONSIDERATION—LEGAL DECREE—LAW OF DEEDS. Where execution of a mortgage deed has taken place as required by law an acknowledgment contained therein of receipt of consideration is evidence not only as against the mortgagor but also as against a purchaser from the mortgagor in an auction purchase at a sale held in execution of a decree on the mortgage although the value of the acknowledgment as evidence may vary and possibly it may be more weighty as against a purchaser by private contract than against an auction purchaser but it is clearly evidence as against both. Lallu v Sita Ram I L R 36 Ill 39 and Nawal Kunnar v Sukhdev Singh I L R 30 A L J 30 followed. NARAIN DAS v DILAWAR (1916)

I L R 41 All 20

Consideration failure of part of effect of. When a mortgagee has advanced a part but not the whole of the amount stipulated for in the mortgage bond he is entitled to enforce the mortgage for the amount actually advanced by him. Notwithstanding the terms of s 4 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 the provisions of s 39 of the Contract Act 1872 do not apply to the case of a transfer by way of mortgage when an interest in the mortgaged property has actually vested in the mortgagee on execution and registration of the mortgage bond. Failure on the part of the promisor to perform a promise which formed the whole or part of the consideration inducing an executed conveyance does not give the promisee a right of rescission. Where registration does not render a sale of immovable property or a mortgage operative from the time of registration if there is a condition attached to the contract that the operation of sale of mortgage is to be postponed till the actual payment of the full amount of consideration. In every case the onus is upon the person setting up such a condition. MORHAN LAL SHARMA v HANUMANT BOY

2 Pat L J 168

CONSOLIDATION

Right of does not arise when equities of red mfg on are severed—Subsequent mortgage executed by some of the descendants of original mortgagor whether in rigga or may consolidate. The right of consolidation can be exercised against successors in title to the mortgagors only so long as the equities of redemption are not severed. There cannot be a consolidation of mortgages where the first mortgage is executed by the sole owner of the land mortgaged and the subsequent mortgage is executed by some one of the successors of the original owner. There cannot be two different usufructuary mortgages on the same land at the same time. LALA LAL NARAIN LAL v LALA MURLIDHAR 5 Pat L J 644

CONSTRUCTION

1 ————Decree mortgage of—Mortgagor has a charge on amount realised in execution of

MORTGAGE—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

of decree or judgment—Civil Procedure Code Act VII of 1908 s 6—Attachment and mortgage of decree on same day—Mortgage valid unless attaching creditor shows it to have been effected during the pendency of attachment. Where a decree is mortgaged and the amount due under the decree is subsequently realised in execution the mortgagee has a charge on the amount so realised. The mortgagee is entitled to a charge on property which through no fault of his has taken the place of the mortgaged property. Singaravelu Layan v Pina Iyer 13 Mad L J 306 directed from. The receipt by one Court of a notice of attachment by another Court is not a judicial act to which the principle that judicial acts must be presumed to have been done at the earliest point of time of the date thereof would apply. Where therefore a decree is mortgaged on a certain date and notice of attachment of such decree is received by the Court on the same day it lies on the attaching creditor seeking to set aside such mortgage as made during the pendency of attachment under s 270 of the Civil Procedure Code to show that the receipt of such notice was prior to the execution of the mortgage when a decree is attached and the attachment is subsequently withdrawn by agreement the attachment does not continue against the money realised in execution of such decree in the absence of anything to that effect in the agreement. VENKATRAMA IYER v EUSUBA ROWTHNEY (1909) I L R 33 Mad 429

2 ————Mortgaged for family purposes—Liability of minor son when authority may be presumed—Alienation—Onus of proof—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 106—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s 30—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) O XXXI r 6. Where a mortgage purports to charge the entire interest in a property and the mortgage money was advanced for legitimate family purposes express or implied authority of minor coparceners may be implied and the mortgage may be enforced against the entire family interest. Suraj Bains Koor v Sheo Prasad Singh I L R 5 Cal 148 L R 6 O 1 A 88 referred to. Authority to mortgage may also according to the peculiar circumstances of a case be implied even in cases where the mortgage money was not advanced for legitimate family purposes. A mortgage is an alienation even though it is for a very particular purpose e.g. as security only for the amounts drawn or paid on account of instalments of rent. Gharib Noh v Khalak Singh I L R 25 Ill 407 L R 30 I A 165 referred to. Where on the one side it is provided that the whole of the mortgage money with the exception of a very small portion of it was advanced for legitimate family purpose and there is therefore a sufficient foundation for a decree for sale on the mortgage and on the other side it is not shown that the small portion of the debt was not for any immoral purpose the smaller item may be regarded as a debt of the father binding on the son. Il noomanpersaud Panday v Munraj Koon weere 6 Moo I 4 393 18 W R 81 n. Luchman Dass v Girdhar Choudhry I L R 5 Cal 85 Udasear D R Tewari v Anilam Singh I L R 34 Cal 184 Anshun Persad Choudhry v Tipan Iershad Singh I L R 34 Cal 135 Lala Suraj Prasad v Golab Chand I L R 38 Cal 517

MORTGAGE—*contd*CONSTRUCTION—contd

referred to BISWANATH PRASAD MAHTA v JAGDIP NARAIN SINGH (1912)

I L R 40 Cal 342

3 ———— Redemption—Covenant that the loan would be repaid within a year — Mortgagor if may redeem within a year — Unless there is an agreement to the contrary the right of foreclosure and the right of redemption must be deemed co extensive Whether there is any special provision in the contract which takes the case out of the general rule must be determined upon the terms of the contract between the parties Where the mortgage deed provided that the money would be paid principal and interest within one year Held that the case fell within the class of cases in which the mortgage is payable before a certain day and no within the class where a day is fixed for the payment of the debt and it was open to the mortgagor to redeem the mortgage within one year of the falling of the loan PURVA CHANDRA SARMA v PFARY MOHAN PAI (1912)

17 C W N 149

4 ———— Usufructuary mortgage followed by lease to mortgagor—Contemporaneous deeds—Interpretation—Lease on easy terms surrendered by mortgagor—Mortgagee if may insist on appropriation of whole profits to interest—Unregistered agreement to easy mortgage deed if admissible—Registration Act (III of 1877) ss 17 49—Evidence of preliminary negotiations if admissible—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 91 92 Where in a mortgage bond it was stipulated that the mortgagee should be in possession of the mortgaged property and take the profits in lieu of interest but by a practically contemporaneous instrument the mortgagee granted a lease to the mortgagor on easy terms reserving a rent of Rs 4 200 only when the interest worked out to Rs 9 000 but the mortgagor being unable to pay this rent gave up possession to the mortgagee Held in a suit for redemption of the mortgage that the mortgagee was entitled to appropriate the whole of the profits realised by him towards interest according to the terms of the mortgage bond That the mortgage and the lease were parts of one and the same transaction but there was no inconsistency between the two instruments It is not permissible to contradict or vary the express and unambiguous terms of a written instrument by reference to preliminary negotiations or previous conversations An unregistered agreement purporting to set out in what manner the rents and profits of the mortgaged property were to be dealt with at variance with the stipulation in that behalf contained in the registered mortgage deed was inadmissible in evidence by the provisions of the Registration Act ABDULLAH KHAN v BASHARAT HUSSAIN (1912)

I L R 30 All 43

17 C W N 233

5 ———— Anomalous mortgage—Suit for foreclosure—Limitation—Suit on Act (I of 1903) Sec 1 Art 133—Regulation No VIII of 1806 A mortgage was made on the 20th of February 1861 for a period of six years It was provided that if after six years anything remained due to the mortgagor they might forthwith enter into possession of the mortgaged property and

MORTGAGE—*contd*CONSTRUCTION—contd

realize the principal and interest It was further provided that the property would not be transferred so long as any principal or interest remained due and that if it was transferred or if the money due to the mortgagee was not paid the mortgagee without putting for the expiry of the six year might bring a suit for recovery of the principal and interest and might also get possession by completion of sale Nothing at all was paid by the mortgagor in the way of either principal or interest and in 1867 part of the mortgaged property was transferred Proceedings under a S of Regulation XVII of 1806 were not taken by the mortgagee In the year 1910 the representative of the mortgagee instituted a suit or foreclosure Held on a construction of the mortgage bond in suit that the cause of action accrued in 1867 and the suit was barred by limitation Kishori Mohan Roy v Gangri Bahu Debti I L R 23 Cal 223 distinguished, Srinath Das v Khetter Mohan Singh I L R 16 Cal 693 followed Shyam Chander Singh v Baldeo 10 All L J 52 and Pam Dewar Pai v Bhurgu Rai 10 All L J 533 referred to BANS GOPAL v SHED PAI SINGH (1915)

I L R 38 All 97

6 ———— Mortgage not validly executed if creates a charge—Personal liability to repay if to be implied from fact that document mentioned advance of money—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 59 67 100 Held on the construction of a document which purported to be a usufructuary mortgage but was not enforceable as such by reason of its not being attested as required by s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act that the mortgagor did not intend that he should be personally liable to repay the advance and the Trial Court and the High Court erred in assuming from the mention in the document that a certain sum had been advanced that it might be inferred that it was the intention of the parties that the mortgagor should be personally liable That the document did not create a charge within the meaning of s 100 Transfer of Property Act PUN NARAYAN SINGH v ADITHYAN NATH MUKHERJI (1916)

20 C W N 989

7 ———— Agreement postponing payment of interest and selling property to mortgagee if not then paid—Construction of contract—Mode of calculating the manner of payment of purchase money under the contract on execution of decree or specific performance—Delay in transfer of property to mortgagee—Usages of English Courts as to rights of Vendor and Purchaser—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 54 A mortgage deed of certain land was executed in favour of the appellant to secure repayment of Rs. 1000 with interest which the mortgagee expressly covenanted to pay on 30th December 1900, which was afterwards extended for three months from 3rd January 1906 On 4th April 1906 the mortgagee being unable to pay the interest wrote as follows to the mortgagee I write this to inform you that as I have not got the interest due on Rs. 1000 ready now I request you to give me three months more for payment to you of all interest due thereon Should I fail to do so on or before 6th July 1906 I agree to the whole land being sold to you for Papes one lakh (Rs 100 000) After deduction

MORTGAGE—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

tinguished—Transfer of Property Act s 89 construction of The question in this appeal was whether property mortgaged to the respondent on the 15th of October 1891 should when sold under a decree absolute for sale be treated as sold subject to an alleged prior right of the appellant under an earlier mortgage of the same property dated the 25th of February 1890. The appellant in 1883 acquired the title of the mortgagor and also such title as remained to the mortgagee under the earlier mortgage. In 1892 the prior mortgagor brought a suit on his mortgage and in 1895 obtained a decree absolute for sale under the Transfer of Property Act. The suit was however only against the mortgagor and the second mortgagee was not made a party to it. Neither the prior mortgagee nor his successor took any steps to execute that decree and it became barred and inoperative after the lapse of three years from the date on which it became absolute. It was admitted that the later mortgage was duly registered and that the earlier mortgagee must be taken to have had notice of it when he brought his suit and obtained a decree in 1892. Held in a suit brought on the 20th of July 1910 by the first respondent on his mortgage of the 15th of October 1891 against among others the appellant that respondent was entitled to a decree absolute under O XXXIV r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 for sale but that the sale was not subject to the prior mortgage of the appellant. The true construction of s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act is that on the making of the order absolute for sale under that section the security as well as the defendant's right to redeem were both extinguished and that for the right of the mortgagee under his security there was substituted the right to a sale conferred by the decree. HER RAM v SHAD RAM (1918) I L R 40 All 407

11 — Mortgage Bond—Rice lent—Covenant of repayment—Mortgagees to realise money in case of default by sale of mortgaged properties—Suit on mortgage bond whether a suit for recovery of money charged on mortgaged properties Where in a suit to enforce a mortgage the plaintiffs lent a certain amount of rice and there was in the bond the usual covenant of repayment and interest and the bond also provided that if default was made in the loan the mortgagees would be competent to realise the money which would be due at the rate of Rs 6 per mase by sale of the mortgaged properties belonging to the mortgagor. Held that the primary object of the suit was to recover money and what the Court would give the plaintiffs would be money and not rice if they succeeded in the suit and that that money was a charge on the mortgaged property. Held also each case must turn on the construction that the Court places on the mortgage deed in that particular case. SRI PATI LALL DEB v SARAT CHANDRA MONDAL (1918) 22 C W N 790

12 — Two Mortgages—Separate sums secured—Tenants in Common—Right of each Mortgagee—Unlawful Influence—Parol Evidence—Compromise—Independent Advice—True Test Upon a mortgage to two mortgagees to secure two separate sums the whole mortgaged property being conveyed to the mortgagees as tenants in common. It being no covenant to repay to each separately if one mortgagee desires repayment

MORTGAGE—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

his co mortgagee not consenting to proceeding his proper course is to sue for a mortgage decree in respect of the whole sum secured—joining his co mortgagee as a defendant the decree should provide for all necessary accounts and payments but no personal decree against the mortgagor in favour of the mortgagee who sues. To support an agreement by a pardanashin lady in compromise of litigation it is sufficient to show that the general result of the compromise as distinct from the details and legal technicalities involved was understood by her and that disinterested and competent persons with a fair understanding of the whole matter advised her to execute it. SUNITABALA DEBI v DHARA SUNDARI DEBI CHOWDHURAN (1919) L R 48 I A 272

13 — Mortgage of entire sixteen acres of village—Without reservation—Grove lands Where a zamindar mortgages his entire zamindari rights in a village without any reservation whatever there is no reason why the mortgage should not be held to include the mortgagor's rights in grove land purchased some time before the execution of the mortgage. HASAN ALI KHAN v AZHAP UL HASAN (1918) I L R 41 All 45

14 — Debtor executing a mortgage of his properties in favour of alleged creditor (a relation)—Soon after suspending payment—Bona fides of transaction how to be determined—Consideration of facts as a whole and in relation to each other essential C and D were related to each other and had between them numerous business dealings which it was alleged left D indebted to C to the extent of Rs 80,000. On 26th September 1899 just after D had suspended payment D purposed to execute a usufructuary mortgage of all his immovable properties in favour of C in consideration of the said alleged debt owed by D to C. Certain creditors of D who in the meanwhile had instituted suits against D attached before judgment the said properties whereupon C unsufully laid claim to the properties under s 278 of Act XIV of 1882. Held in a suit by C to set aside the attachment that the question for determination in the case was whether the mortgage was a bona fide transaction entered into with the object of securing the debt of C or whether it was a mere contrivance for defeating or delaying the just claims of the other creditors and retaining the properties for the benefit of or in trust for D. That taking the facts as a whole the mortgage was a mere device for rescuing the bulk of the available assets of D for the benefit of his family and indirectly for himself. That also Court of first instance fell into an error in taking each fact which militated against the bona fides of the mortgage separately from the rest of the facts and proceeding to demonstrate that it was quite consistent with good faith whereas in a case like the present it was essentially necessary that the facts should be considered in relation to each other and weighed as a whole as was done in the Appeal Court whose decision the Judicial Committee affirmed. CHUGHAN DAS v LAKHESHAN (1919) 23 M W N 817

15 — Mortgage of several properties—Sale of some under a farman title—Failure of mortgagee to take payment out of surplus sale proceeds of amounts to release—Mortgagee if may realise the whole debt from remain

MORTGAGE—co 1

CONSTRUCTION—contd

1 property—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1899) s 8 If properties A, B and C are mortgaged there are all equally liable in the first instance for the mortgage debt. If however during the subsistence of the mortgage they go into other hands they are still equally liable but the owners of the properties released are entitled to have the liability apportioned rateably between the properties according to their value at the date of the mortgage (s 82 of the Transfer of Property Act). This does not affect the right between the holders of the properties for A and does not affect the mortgagee's right to enforce his mortgage against all or any of the properties. If however the mortgagee releases one or more of the properties from liability under the mortgage with knowledge that there has been a change of ownership as to some or all of the properties then the properties which remain liable are only liable to such part of the mortgage debt as is proportionate to their value at the date of the mortgage. Whether a mortgagee is entitled to enforce his charge against the surplus proceeds of mortgaged properties sold under a paramount title amounts to a release of the properties from their liability to the mortgage debt is a question of fact. The Madhav Rao Wani Co. Ltd v. Abinash Chandra Mitter (1918) 23 C W N 308

16 ———— "Mukhiza—Transfer of Property Act (1899) s 53 100 A deed the basis of a suit for sale as on a mortgage opened with a recital that the executant had borrowed a sum of money followed by a promise to pay the amount with interest at 2 per cent per month within a certain time and then provided mukhiza a la o sud to yom ul wazul upar (description of the share) laqat min mugur gaim valaga liha a latirul tamas ul mukhiza jalad ka lillaya Held that this deed could not be construed as mortgage. The word mukhiza did not necessarily imply a power of a sale and there was nothing else in the deed from which an intention to give a power of a sale could be inferred. Dalit Singh v. Bahadur Ram (1912) I L R 34 All 446

17 ———— When only part of the consideration paid—Mortgagee in possession cannot press rule for high interest by asserting a larger amount as due—Limitation Act Sch II Arts 141 145 Where only a part of the consideration for a mortgage has been paid the mortgage is a good security for the amount that has validly passed. The mortgagee by retaining in possession for more than 12 years under such a mortgage cannot by merely claiming to hold for the full amount acquire by prescription a right to hold as mortgagee for such full amount. Notwithstanding the assertion by the mortgagee of a larger interest than was validly passed to him by the mortgagee article 145 of the Limitation Act will apply to a suit for redemption by the mortgagor. Article 144 will not apply as article 148 specially provides for the case. Rajah Thrusral Raju v. Pandya Mathial Nasidu (1911)

I L R 35 Mad 114
18 ———— Collateral agreement—Where a mortgage is executed but there is a collateral agreement that no obligation should attach under the instrument till payment of money on the

MORTGAGE—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

on hand and delivery to the registering officer on the day of the mortgage the condition is fulfilled (clauses 1 and 2) and attestation of the document. There is no analogy between a common law deed in this respect. Jaywant Anand Singh v. Deo Narain Singh (1911) 16 C W N 612

19 ———— Liability for deficiency in interest—Which is personal merely or a charge on the mortgage property A mortgage deed provided that the mortgagee should take possession of the mortgaged property and out of the rents and profits pay the Government revenue and appropriate 10 1/2 per annum in account of interest at the rate of 11 annas per cent per mensem. It further provided that should the amount of profits calculated on the basis of the patwaris' accounts be found insufficient to cover the whole amount payable for interest the deficiency would be made good by the mortgagor together with interest at the rate of Rs 2 per cent per mensem. Held that deficiency in the stipulated interest was realizable as well from the mortgaged property as from the mortgagor personally. Saidmadhujuman v. Chondra Shah (1911) I L R 35 C referred to Chitramay v. Dulari (1910) I L R 35 All 107

20 ———— Interest partly in kind and partly in cash—Interest when payable—Suit for arrears of interest—Words amounting in covenant to pay year by year In this case their Lordships of the Judicial Committee held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that on the true construction of the mortgage there was clearly a personal covenant to pay interest on the mortgage money from year to year and that the suit which was for arrears of interest was therefore maintainable. Madappa Hegde v. Pankrishna Narayan (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 327
21 ———— Personal decree, suit for—Mortgaged properties if must be first proceeded against Held on the construction of the mortgage bond in this case that it contained an express promise to pay the amounts secured so that the mortgagee was entitled to sue for a personal decree only. Held further that a stipulation that if the debt be not paid off by the hypothecated properties the mortgagee will be able to realize the money by sale of the mortgagor's other moveable and immovable properties did not imply that the parties agreed to postpone the remedy against the person and other properties to that against the mortgaged properties. Devi Kishore Dey v. Devedra Kishore Nandy (1911)

15 C W N 722
22 ———— Simple or anomalous mortgage—Covenant to pay—Option of mortgagee to take possession on default of payment of interest—Mortgage of usufructuary—Decree for sale if proper Held on the terms of the bond in suit that it was a simple mortgage. A simple mortgagee is entitled to a decree for sale as a matter of course, notwithstanding that under the terms of the mortgage bond he has the option on the mortgagor's default in payment of interest to take possession of the mortgaged properties and to enjoy the same as under a usufructuary mortgage. Arintha Bhupati Devu Gattu v. Sultan Bahadur of Vizianagram (1911) 15 C W N 441

MORTGAGE—*contd.*CONSTRUCTION—contd.

23 ——— Attornment clause in mortgage deed—Construction of Deed The courts in India will not in the absence of the strongest reasons give a construction to an alleged attornment clause in a mortgage deed which will have the effect of creating rights of tenancy in derogation of the rights of the mortgagee. By a deed dated the 14th August 1896 defendants 1st party mortgaged to the plaintiffs their shares in several mauzas inclusive of 200 bighas of zerai land. Out of the 200 bighas of zerai land 50 bighas was left in the possession of the mortgagors at a nominal rent. By a kabuli dated the 25th September 1902 a further area of 4 bighas 10 cottahs of jungle land was let to the defendants at a rental of Rs 14 5 6. The plaintiffs sued for arrears of rent and for possession in terms of the mortgage. Held on a construction of the mortgage deed that with regard to the 50 bighas of zerai land the real relationship between the parties was not that of landlord and tenant but mortgagor and mortgagee and that the arrears of rent claimed in the present suit were really on account of principal and interest. The plaintiff was entitled to a decree for the amount claimed as rent and for recovery of possession of the 50 bighas. Obiter dictum. As the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 does not contemplate a raiya who does not come under any of the clauses of s. 4 of that Act the mortgagor must with regard to the zerai land be held to be a non-occupancy raiya. Held further on a construction of the kabuli that with regard to the 4 bighas 10 cottahs the relationship of landlord and tenant existed and that the mortgagor was not precluded from obtaining the status of an occupancy raiya under the mortgage. The plaintiff was entitled to a decree for arrears of rent but not to recovery of possession as the mortgagor was found to have acquired occupancy rights in the holding. UDAY CHAND & SANGU BHADUR SINGH 1 Pat L J 353

24 ——— Simple mortgage—Effects of recitals in mortgage deed—Effect of mortgagee in possession acts of how far binding on mortgagee The recitals in a mortgage deed are important in considering the nature and the scope of the implied authority which arises as between the mortgagor and mortgagee when the former is allowed to remain in apparent possession and ownership of the mortgaged property. A deed which is expressly called a mortgage deed and which expressly mortgages and hypothecates the property charged as security for the mortgage debt is according to the law of India a valid simple mortgage. When a mortgagor remains in possession after the date of a mortgage he can deal with the property in the usual and customary way so as to bind the mortgagee but he must not do anything prejudicially affecting the mortgaged property as security for the debt. The fact that a mortgage deed declares itself to be executed by a Manager appointed under the Guardians and Wards Act 1890 rather limits than extends the ordinary rights of a mortgagor in possession. Where a person obtains a contractual benefit from a mortgagor in possession after the date of the mortgage the onus is upon such person to prove that it was a benefit which he might derive and retain in the usual course of the management of the property. The High Court is entitled to examine and enquire into the grounds and basis upon which an entry in the Record of Rights was made. ANANDA RAM MAWARI & DHANPAT SINGH 1 Pat L J 563

MORTGAGE—*contd.*CONSTRUCTION—contd.

25 ——— What charges may be added to mortgage debt—whether payments on account of road cess may be added A mortgagee is not entitled to add the expenses incurred for payment of road cess to the sum due on the mortgage. The payment of a public charge for which the mortgaged property may not be summarily sold cannot be constituted a charge upon the property. ■ 72 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 does not cover a case in which the right title and interest only of the mortgagor may be put up for sale. The section includes only payments made to save the security itself. RAJENDRA PRASAD & BANURIA RAYAN JOSEPH 1 Pat L J 580

CONTRIBUTION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s. 82

—Payment by co-mortgagor—Guardian and Minor—Power of de facto guardian to mortgage minor's property—Mahomedan law Held that where a joint mortgagor seeks contribution upon the ground that he has paid the whole mortgage debt and thus relieved the property of his co-mortgagor from a burden it is not necessary for him to plead that he did so under compulsion. Held also that the de facto guardian of a minor Mahomedan is competent in case of necessity and for the benefit of the minor to make a valid mortgage of the minor's property. ABID ALI & IMAM ALI (1915) 1 L R 39 All 82

—Property subject to three mortgages sold under decrees on two—Decrees not satisfied—Property sold not liable to contribute to third mortgage Where property the subject of more than one mortgage is sold in execution of a decree on a prior mortgage and that decree still remains unsatisfied it cannot thereafter be made liable to contribution under a decree on a second or third mortgage. Hari Raj Singh v Ahmad ud din Khan 1 L R 19 All 545 and Bohra Thakur Das v The Collector of Aligarh 1 L R 23 All 39 referred to. CHAUDHARI PRASAD & SHAFAT MUHAMMAD CHAUDHARI (1920) 1 L R 43 All 42 —Limitation of suit for contribution by co-mortgagor—Contribution suit by co-mortgagor paying off mortgage decree in excess of his share—period of limitation for—Limitation Act (X of 1908) Arts 60 92 120 or 132 which of them applies—A co-mortgagor redeeming a mortgage if to be treated as an assignee of the original security A B and C mortgaged their properties to H in 1858 the due date of the mortgage being September 1891. In 1903 the mortgagee brought a suit upon his mortgage and a preliminary decree was passed in June 1903. In February 1904 some of the mortgagors paid a portion of the mortgage debt to the mortgagee. In May 1903 order absolute for sale of the mortgaged properties was passed and the mortgagee thereafter put up the properties to sale. To prevent the sale two of the mortgagors satisfied the mortgage decree by depositing the decretal amount in Court on the 23rd March 1909 and one of them brought the present suit for contribution on the 7th October 1911 against his co-mort

MORTGAGE—contd

LSTOPPI L—contd

of entire property pending mortgage suit—Sale and purchase by mortgagee in presence of defendant—Defendant if estopped from proving title to the other half—Ignorance of plaintiff of real fact and mislending by defendant a conduct to be proved J who owned a half share in a property purported to mortgage the whole After a preliminary decree had been passed in favour of the mortgagee in his suit against J brought on the mortgage J purchased the interest of J and his co share and was brought on the record as the successor in interest of J The mortgage decree was thereafter made absolute and the property put up to sale and purchased by the mortgagee In a suit by the latter against J to establish his title to the entire mortgaged property held that J would not be estopped from showing that the mortgage sale passed only J's half share in the property to the plaintiffs unless it was established that the mortgagee was not aware that J had only a half share in the property which he purported to mortgage and that he was misled by some representation by conduct of J into believing that J had full title Kamal Ahmar Nandi v Kazi Miran (1911)

25 C W N 572

2 ——— Power of representatives of mortgagor to question validity of mortgage—Adverse possession—Possession adverse to mortgagor not necessarily adverse to mortgagee Held that although the representatives of a mortgagor cannot as such question the validity of the mortgage it may be open to them as mulatallis to plead that the property was wakf and that the mortgage of it was void Qul or Ali v Jida Ali I L R 6 All 25 distinguished Held also that a simple mortgage being not merely a security for a debt but a transfer of an interest in the property mortgaged a trespasser who ousts the mortgagor and holds the property adversely to him may by prescription become the owner of the limited estate which the mortgagor had in the property but such adverse possession cannot extinguish the right of the mortgagee Agency Company v Ghori L R 13 A C 793 Smith v Lloyd 9 Fz 86° Secretary of State for India v Krishnamoorti Gupta I I R 20 Calc 518 and Ismdar Khan v Ahmad Husain I L R 30 All 119 referred to Ramaswami Chetty v Panna Padayachi 21 Mad L J 397 and Pralay Bahadur Singh v Maheshwar Bakhsh Singh 12 O C 45 not approved Amar Mandal v Mahan Lal Day I L R 33 Calc 1015 and Parthasarathi Nayan v Lakshmana Nayan 21 Mad L J 467 approved and followed Karan Singh v Bakar Ali Khan I L R 5 All 1 discussed NANDAN SINGH v JUMMAN (1912)

I L R 34 All 642

3 ——— Purchase of mortgaged property by mortgagee in execution of his decree for sale—Subsequent suit for sale by a prior mortgagee—Plea of incompetence of Mortgagee raised by mortgagee—Purchaser Held that a mortgagee who in execution of a decree for sale in his favour has purchased the mortgaged property himself could not be permitted in another suit on a prior mortgage of the same property in which he was a party as defendant to set up the defence that the mortgagor was incompetent to execute the mortgage in suit Bishumbar Dayal v Parshadi Lal 10 All L J 11° Bakhshi Ram v Laladhar I I R 35 All 353 and Prayag Paj v Sidhu Prasad

MORTGAGE—contd

FSTOPPI L—contd

Tiwari I I R 30 Calc 577 referred to Radha Bai v Kamod Singh I I R 30 All 38 distinguished TOTA RAM v HAR GOVIND (1913)

I L R 34 All 141

EXECUTION OF MORTGAGE DECREE

1 ——— Order in which properties to be sold discretion of Court as to—Execution of mortgage decree—Partial execution application for if may be entertained—Two properties A and B were mortgaged by one deed by S Subsequently S sold the property A to one P The mortgagor brought a suit on the mortgage and got a decree against S and P The decree holder applied for execution against both the properties but the Court, in the exercise of its discretion ordered execution against the property B in the first instance Thereupon the decree holder had the petition for execution dismissed and made a fresh application for execution against the property A alone Held that the discretion as to the order in which the execution should issue is vested in the Court alone and the decree holder cannot be allowed to fetter the hands of the Court by petition for partial execution Held also that execution could not be ordered unless the decree holder included both the properties in his petition Amir Chand v Bakshi Akro Perahad I I R 34 Calc 13 distinguished MAHOMED SADDIC v SAUDA GAR MIY LAHARI (1910) 15 C W N 50

2 ——— Mortgage by co-partner—Hindu Law—Mitakshara—Decree directing property to be held in specific shares and charging mortgagor's share with the mortgagee a decree enforceable in execution—Separate suit to enforce lien if necessary A mortgage by a co-partner in a Mitakshara joint family was declared to be void in so far as it purported to affect the specific share of the mortgagor but the Court directed by its decree that the mortgagor and his co-sharer do hold the properties in specified shares and that the share of the mortgagor be held subject to the lien of the mortgagee for the sum advanced with interest The mortgagor or his co-sharers not having asked to redeem the share of the mortgagor by paying off the mortgage money with interest no decree for redemption was made Held that the mortgagor could bring the share to sale in execution of the decree and it was not incumbent on him to institute a separate suit to enforce the lien RAM SUNDAR DAS v NATHUNI SINGH (1911)

15 C W N 748

3 ——— Interest—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 83 84—Mortgage interest on up to what date payable—Prior incumbrancers joined in suit by puisne mortgagee if may get interest at contract rate after date fixed in preliminary decree for repayment A puisne mortgagee having joined the prior mortgagees in his suit a decree was passed fixing the period of redemption for the plaintiff but not in regard to the prior incumbrancers The decree did not also determine the amounts payable to the latter In execution the property was sold and the purchase money deposited Subsequently the mortgagor brought a suit to set aside the sale which was ultimately dismissed and the sale was then confirmed On the question up to what date the prior mortgagees would be entitled to get interest Held that interest would be payable on the principle of s 84 of the Trans fer of property Act up to the date of confirmation of sale and not up to the date fixed for payment in the decree. Although it may be open to the Court to distribute the sale proceeds amongst the claimants before the sale has been confirmed it is not obligatory on the Court to distribute it then nor is the sum distributable as a matter of course. Order for distribution ought not ordinarily to be made before the confirmation of the sale. Jogendra Nath Sarker v Chandra Chunder Siddi 1 L R 12 Cal 35. Hafiz Mahomed Ali Khan v Damodar Paramanick 1 L R 18 Cal 24 explained. The order for distribution by the Court was a decree within s. 2 read with s. 4th sub s. (1) of the Civil Procedure Code and appealable as such. BEYODE LAL BANDOPADHYA v HARISH CHANDRA TEWARI (1910) 15 C W N 783

MORTGAGE—contdEXECUTION OF MORTGAGE DECREE—contd

EXONERATION OF CERTAIN ITEMS MORTGAGED

*Suit for sale of one item exonerating other items mortgaged—Right of mortgagee in exoneration—Contribution July of which lost by exoneration—Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1908) ss 60 and 8. A mortgagee seeking to realize the amount due to him brought a suit for sale of one only of the items mortgaged impleading therein the mortgagor and the person who purchased the equity of redemption in the one item in execution of a money decree. The mortgagee exonerated from liability the other items mortgaged. Held by the FULL BENCH that a mortgagee voluntarily releasing from the suit a portion of the mortgaged property is not bound to abate a proportionate part of the debt and is entitled to recover the whole of the mortgage amount from any portion of the mortgaged property. Ionnisami Mudaliyar v Srinivasa Aiyekar 1 L R 31 Mad 333 and Suryiram Marwari v Barlamdeo Iersad 1 C I J 337 dissented from Semle. A release of certain items by the mortgagee has not the effect of releasing those items from liability for contribution under s. 82 of the Transfer of Property Act. Jugal Kishore Sahu v Achar Nath 1 L R 34 All 60th referred to. PERUMAL PILLAI v RAMAN CHETTIAR (1917) 1 L R 40 Mad 988*

FEMALES REPRESENTATION OF

Mortgage bond executed by male members of Mahomedan family—No proof of custom to exclude females as in Hindu family—Female members added as defendants in mortgage suit though not executors of bonds—Form of decree—Whether females were represented in the mortgage transaction by male members of family—Estoppel by conduct. The appellants were the female members of a Mahomedan family which had adopted the Hindu religion in matters of worship and as to which both Courts in India concurrently held that there was no custom proved excluding female members from inheritance which was the case set up by the respondent. In a suit brought by the latter to enforce a mortgage bond which has been executed only by the male members of the family in which suit the appellants were also joined as defendants the first Court made a decree against the interests of the male defendants only in the property but the High Court decreed the suit against both the male and female defendants on the grounds that because the female members had not actively interfered in the management of the property the male defendants must be taken to have represented them in the mortgage transaction. It appeared that in other transactions the male members of the family had dealt with the family property without the active concurrence of the females. Held by the Judicial Committee reversing the decision of the High Court that the evidence did not prove that the male defendants had represented the appellants. The latter were purdana ladies and naturally left the management of the property to their male relatives. There was nothing to show that the appellants had misled the respondent either by word or conduct to the belief that they had no proprietary interest in the property and he made no inquiries in the matter from them or their husbands as he might have done if he had any doubt in the matter. The decree of the High Court was therefore erroneous so far as it made the appellants liable and should have been limited to making liable only the interests in the property of the male defendants the executors of the mortgage bond. AZIMA BIBI v SHAMALACHAND (1912)

MORTGAGE—contdFEMALES REPRESENTATION OF—contd

1 L R 40 Cal 378

FORECLOSURE.

1. — Order absolute application for—Mortgage—Foreclosure—Limitation—Execution of decree application for—Revival of pending execution—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sec 11 Art 181. Previous to the passing of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and the Civil Procedure Code (V of 1903) there was no rule of limitation applicable to an application for order absolute of a decree now made under s. 86 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). Tiluck Singh v Jarootein Prashad 1 L R 92 Cal 94. Rahmat Karim v Abdul Karim 1 L R 34 Cal 672 referred to. An application for execution of a decree may be treated as one in continuation or revival of a previous application similar in scope and character the consideration of which has been interrupted by the intervention of objections and claims subsequently proved to be groundless or has been suspended by reason of an injunction or like obstruction. Qamaruddin Ahmad v Jauhar Lal 1 L R 27 All 334. 1 L R 321 A 102. Fara Narain Guria v Pachu Maity 1 L R 23 Cal 437. Narayan Gobind Manil v Sono Sado Mir 1 L R 21 Bom 345. Rahim Ali Khan v Isha Chaud 1 L R 13 All 482. Mir Aymuddin v Mathura Das 11 Bom II C 706. Surya Peddiar v Arudam Ammal 1 L R 28 Mad 50. Pura Ram v Gardner 1 L R 1 All 555 referred to. The Limitation Act (IX of 1908) does not profess to provide for all kinds of applications whatsoever. Gonnd Chunder Gourami v Kungunmoney 1 L R 6 Cal 60. Sital Prasad v Abdul Rashid 11 Oudh Cases 208 referred to. Nor does it apply to an application to a Court to do what the Court has no discretion to refuse. Kyla a Gowdan v Pama sams Ayyan 1 L R 4 Mad 12. Rajaji v Avelala 1 L R 30 Bom 415 referred to. Nor is it applicable to an application to the Court to terminate a pending proceeding the final order in which has been postponed for the benefit of the defendant or for the convenience of the Court. Puran Chand v Roy Radha Kieken 1 L R 19 Cal 130th refe

MORTGAGE—contd

I STOPPED—contd

of entire property pending mortgage suit—Sale and purchase by mortgagee in presence of defendant—Defendant if estopped from proving title to the other half—Ignorance of plaintiff of real fact and misleading by defendant's conduct to be proved J who owned a half share in a property purported to mortgage the whole After a preliminary decree had been passed in favour of the mortgagee in his suit against J brought on the mortgage A purchased the interest of J and his co share and was brought on the record as the successor in interest of J The mortgage decree was thereafter made absolute and the property put up to sale and purchased by the mortgagee In a suit by the latter against A to establish his title to the entire mortgaged property held that A would not be estopped from showing that the mortgage sale passed only J's half share in the property to the plaintiffs unless it was established that the mortgagee was not aware that J had only a half share in the property which he purported to mortgage and that he was misled by some representation by conduct of A into believing that J had full title KAMAL KUMAR SANYAL v KALI PRASAD (1911)

15 C W N 572

2 ——— Power of representatives of mortgagor to question validity of mortgage—Adverse possession—Possession adverse to mortgagor not necessarily adverse to mortgagee Held that although the representatives of a mortgagor cannot as such question the validity of the mortgage it may be open to them as mutawallis to plead that the property was wakf and that the mortgage of it was void Gul or Ali v Fida Ali I L R 6 All 24 distinguished Held also that a simple mortgage being not merely a security for a debt but a transfer of an interest in the property mortgaged a trespasser who ousts the mortgagor and holds the property adversely to him may by prescription become the owner of the limited estate which the mortgagor had in the property but such adverse possession cannot extinguish the right of the mortgagee Agency Company v Short I L R 13 A C 703 Smith v Lloyd 9 Ex 568 Secretary of State for India v Krishnamoni Gupta I L R 29 Cal 518 and Imdar Khan v Ahmad Husain I L R 30 All 119 referred to Ramaswami Chetty v Panna Padayachi 21 Mad L J 397 and Pratap Bahadur Singh v Maheswar Bakhsh Singh 12 O C 4, not approved Amadar Mandal v Mahan Lal Day I L R 33 Cal 1015 and Parthasarathi Naikan v Lalashmana Naikan 21 Mad I J 467 approved and followed Raman Singh v Bakar Ali Khan I I R 5 All 1 discussed NANDAN SINGH v JUMMAN (1912)

I L R 24 All 643

3 ——— Purchase of mortgaged property by mortgagee in execution of his decree for sale—Subsequent suit for sale by a prior mortgagee—Plea of incompetence of mortgagor raised by mortgagee—Purchaser Held that a mortgagee who in execution of a decree for sale in his favour has purchased the mortgaged property himself could not be permitted in another suit on a prior mortgage of the same property in which he was arrayed as defendant to set up the defence that the mortgagor was incompetent to execute the mortgage in suit Bishambhar Dayal v Parshad Lal 10 All L J 112 Bakhshi Ram v Laladhar I L R 25 All 37 and Prajaag Paj v Sidhu Prasad

MORTGAGE—contd

I STOPPED—contd

Tiwari I I P 30 Cal 877 referred to Radha Bai v Kamed Singh I I P 30 All 38 distinguished TOTA I AM v HAR GOVIND (1913)

I L R 36 All 141

EXECUTION OF MORTGAGE DECREE

1 ——— Order in which properties to be sold discretion of Court as to—Execution of mortgage decree—Partial execution application for if may be entertained—Two properties A and B were mortgaged by one deed I & S Subsequently S sold the property A to one P The mortgagor I brought a suit on the mortgage and got a decree against S and P The decree holder applied for execution against both the properties but the Court, in the exercise of its discretion ordered execution against the property B in the first instance Thereupon the decree holder had the petition for execution dismissed and made a fresh application for execution against the property A alone Held that the discretion as to the order in which the execution should issue is vested in the Court alone and the decree holder cannot be allowed to fetter the hands of the Court by petition for partial execution Held also that execution could not be ordered unless the decree holder included both the properties in his petition Amir Chand v Nakehi Shero Pershad I L R 31 Cal 33 distinguished MAHOMED SADDIK v SAUDA OAR MIAN LAHARI (1910) 15 C W N 80

2 ——— Mortgage by co-parceners—Hindu Law—Mutaksharn—Decree directing property to be held in specific shares and charging mortgagor a share with the mortgagee's dues if enforceable in execution—Separate suit to enforce lien if necessary A mortgage by a co-parcener in a Mutaksharn joint family was declared to be void in so far as it purported to affect the specific share of the mortgagor but the Court directed by its decree that the mortgagor and his co-sharer do hold the properties in specified shares and that the share of the mortgagor be held subject to the lien of the mortgagee for the sum advanced with interest The mortgagor or his co-sharers not having asked to redeem the share of the mortgagor by paying off the mortgage money with interest no decree for redemption was made Held that the mortgagee could bring the share to sale in execution of the decree and it was not incumbent on him to institute a separate suit to enforce the lien Rast Sundar Das v NATHUNI SIKH (1911)

15 C W N 748

3 ——— Interest—Transfer of Property Act (17 of 1882) ss 83 31—Mortgage interest on up to what date payable—Prior incumbrances joined in suit by puisne mortgagee if may get interest at contract rate after date fixed in preliminary decree for repayment A puisne mortgagee having joined the prior mortgagees in his suit a decree was passed fixing the period of redemption for the plaintiff but not in regard to the prior incumbrances The decree did not also determine the amounts payable to the latter In execution the property was sold and the purchase money deposited Subsequently the mortgagor brought a suit to set aside the sale which was ultimately dismissed and the sale was then confirmed On the question up to what date the prior mortgagees would be entitled to get interest Held that interest would be payable on the principle of s 84 of the Trans

NOT AGZ- 1

FOI EXCLUDED - that the Decree was a r an redeem the whole or half the r r r r r within one year and as he h r w l r e in part the execution of the d e H e l t h a u h a decree d e not rea a fresh m o r t a e D e l a r e l a n g L a l 6 P P 1914 d approved H e l t h a n t t e p r e n t o u n t e n e d t h m r t a r e u n d e r

the decree on failure of p r m n t h r m o r t e was that of a full owner a l a s u c h a s a d e r e t e m o d a o a n h i s u e v e r i n l a b
H A R O L D M A L R L A N Z L A I L L H 2 L a b 53

on minor mortgagor through his brother the other mortgagor as guardian of his property and for foreclosure. The plaintiff sued for possession of the property and for foreclosure. The application for foreclosure was dated 10th May 1911.
The demand was made by a written notice dated 30th August 1909 which was served upon H. L. for himself and as guardian of the other mortgagor or a minor. In application for guardianship had been dismissed on the ground that H. C. and H. L. were members of a joint Hindu family and it was found that the minor lived with his relation. Held that the service of the notice on H. C. through H. L. was under the circumstances sufficient. Pur Musa Dibia v.
Pran Kishan Das (11 Moo 11 327 309) and Lal Singh v. Gopal Das (31 P R 189) referred to Held also that there is no authority for the contention that the demand must have been made before the application for foreclosure and that the foreclosure proceedings were consequently not defective because the demand was made sometime previous to the application for foreclosure. Bhagwati v.
Yash Mal (105 P P 1997) Dal Singh v. Jaimal
Singh (134 P L R 1910) and Birkat Ali v. Ali (31 P P 1913) referred to. Nasara Singh v.
Muhammad Khan (11 P L R 1991) distinguished and in part distinguished from Cornwall Das v.
Mussamat Purnani (11 L R 1 Loh 292)

8. — Final decree application for by transferee from defendants effect of — Code of Civil Procedure (Act 1 of 1908) O XXXIV p 3 (2)—decretal amount not paid in time when defendant entitled to pay between expiry of time and passing of final decree Although an application for a final decree in a foreclosure suit should be made by the plaintiff yet where such an application was made by a transferee from the defendants in the presence of the latter Held that the defendants were not entitled subsequently to challenge the final decree on the ground that it had not been applied for by the plaintiff The proviso to O XXXIV p 3 (2) gives the Court a discretionary power to extend the time for payment of the decretal amount but a mortgagor has no absolute right to pay the money after the expiry of the specified period even though no final decree has up to the time of such payment been made PATNAKAR GOVINDA L CHANDRA SATAPATHY 4 Pat J J 347

FRAUD

Suit to recover the amount due—Defendant's plea that the mortgage was effected to defraud his creditor—Attachment of the property by the creditor—Order for sale subject to the mort

MOPTAGE - 1

 $\mathbb{E} \|\mathbf{U}\|_2 \leq \sqrt{2} \sqrt{d}$

1st—Cred or 1st of before sale—Decree for plaintiff on the ground that defendant can not plead his own fraud—Fraud not carried out—Defendant's intention not punishable. The plaintiff sued to recover from the defendant the amount due under a mortgage. The defendant pleaded that the mortgage deed was effected to protect his property from his creditor and that no consideration really paid under the deed. Previous to the suit the defendant a creditor had attached the mortgaged property and the mortgagee (present plaintiff) had made a claim on the basis of the mortgage for the release of the property from attachment. The mortgagor (present defendant) admitted the mortgage and the property was ordered to be sold subject to the mortgage. But the property was however not sold because the mortgagor paid off his creditor before the order for sale was carried into effect. Both the lower courts decreed the claim on the ground that the defendant could not be allowed to defeat the plaintiff by pleading his own fraud. On second appeal by the defendant filed setting aside the decree that as the defendant a creditor had not been defrauded there was no reason why the Court should punish his intention to defraud by passing a decree against him. Sidlingappa v Naraya I L R 31 Bom 405 explained and distinguished Pam Surun Singh v Pran Peary I L Moo I A 111 referred to GIRDHARLAL BRAYAGIATT v MANTHANMA (1913)

GUARDIAN MORTGAGE BY

Guardians and Wards
Act (VIII of 1890) as to 30—Mortgage by guardian without Judge's authority—Ward benefited—Suit to enforce mortgage—Minor's remedy—Pestitutio of benefit—Equitable obligation of defendant
 A mortgage of a minor's property executed by a certificated guardian without permission taken from the District Judge is voidable only. But it is not necessary that the person affected should sue to set aside the transaction it is sufficient if he declares his will to rescind by way of defence in an action to enforce the mortgage against him. Where it was found that the money raised by the mortgage was for the benefit of the minor the latter cannot avoid the mortgage without restoring the benefit which he had received under it this equitable doctrine being applicable as well to a defendant in an action on the mortgage as to a plaintiff seeking to avoid the mortgage. The Eastern Mortgage and Agency Co v Pabai Kumar 3 C L J 260 followed. Hem Chandra Sarkar v Lalit Mohan Kar (1912)

16 ■ W N 715
—Sanction to raise loan granted by District Judge but subsequently revoked—Money lent without notice of revocation and applied by guardian for minor's benefit—Effect of the revocation of sanction on the mortgage—Rate of interest The certificated guardian of a minor obtained the leave of the District Judge to raise a loan for a certain amount from the plaintiff. Subsequently the District Judge called upon the guardian to state whether the mortgage had been executed or not and on the guardian's failure to do so the Judge evoked the order. No notice of revocation was given either to the plaintiff

MORTGAGE—contdGUARDIAN MORTGAGE—contd

or the guardian and the plaintiff advanced the money on the mortgage which was executed by the guardian and the entire amount was applied to the benefit of the minor's estate. The rate of interest was not placed before the District Judge and was not sanctioned by him but it was stipulated in the mortgage bond was Rs 18 with annual rests. Held that even assuming that the order of the District Judge revoking the leave was effective as against the plaintiff the transaction stood in the same position as if there was no sanction by the Judge to the certificated guardian. The order was merely a voidable one under s 30 of the Guardians and Wards Act at the instance of the minor on coming of age after restoration of the benefit received by him under the order and the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for the amount advanced by him on the mortgage bond but only to interest at the rate of 12 per cent simple interest. MANASHARAM DAS v ANURADHA HOARI PRODHAN (1916) 21 C W N 63

Mortgage executed by purnadashin Bai as guardian of minor son with sanction of District Judge—Lender is justified in relying on Court's sanction and making no further enquiry—Application of money borrowed lender is bound to see to. A purnadashin lady acting as guardian of her minor son applied to the District Judge for raising a loan by mortgage and the District Judge being satisfied as to the necessity of the loan sanctioned it. In a suit on the mortgage it was pleaded inter alia that there was no necessity for a considerable portion of the loan. Held that the lender was not bound to go behind the order of the District Judge sanctioning the loan and was entitled to rely upon it and if he acted bona fide he was not bound to see to the application of the money. AKHIL CHANDRA SAHA v GIRISH CHANDRA SAHA (1917) 21 C W N 364

INTEREST

1 Preliminary decree appeal by mortgagee against dismissal—Mortgagee if may claim contract rate of interest up to date of payment fixed in final decree—Purchaser of equity of redemption is personally liable. Where the mortgagee plaintiff prefers an unsuccessful appeal against the preliminary decree made in his suit and the mortgagor does not ask for extension of time to enable him to redeem it is not open to the mortgagor to demand interest at the contract rate up to the date fixed for payment in the final decree. A purchaser of the equity of redemption is not personally liable to repay the mortgage debt. TARA CHAND MARWATI v BROJA GOPAL MOOKERJEE (1912) 17 C W N 457

2 Mortgage by conditional sale with no provision for post diem interest—Post diem interest not allowed. A mortgage executed in 1869 provided for the payment of the sum of Rs 300 with interest at Rs 18 per cent per mensem in one lump sum upon a certain specified date four years from the date of the mortgage. It further provided that if the money was not paid upon that date the property mortgaged should become the absolute property of the mortgagee. There was no stipulation of any kind as to the payment of interest after the date fixed. Held that the mortgagee was not entitled to post diem interest. Mallura Das v Paja Narindar Balalul I L R 19 All 29 distinguished. Led Cudris Koor v Mulunewari Cumar Singh I L R 19 Cal 19 and Mohi Singh v Jankarai Sin I L R 1 A Cal 699 followed. BALWANT SINGH v GAYAN SINGH (191) 1 L R 25 All 534

MORTGAGE—contdINTEREST—contd

3 Loss of part of security by acquisition of mortgaged land—Mortgagee applying to Land Acquisition Judge for return of mortgage money (out of the compensation money) within term whether entitled to interest for the whole term—Law is, position Act (I of 1884) s 15 30. If the mortgagee makes a demand for payment within the term and the mortgagee complies the mortgagee cannot insist upon payment of interest for the whole of the term. Lal v Hutelins I L R 10 Lg 16 In re Mo 31 C I D 90 Smith v Smith [1921] 3 Ch 500 referred to. Where the mortgagee has given notice requiring payment within the term he cannot withdraw it without the consent of the mortgagor. Santley v Wilde [1929] 1 C I 47 2 Ch 414 followed. Where the mortgagor agreed to keep the money for one year from 24th September 1912 on condition that the land should remain as security for the loan during the term but one of the properties given as security had been acquired (the mortgagee probably having no knowledge thereof) and on the 11th October 1911 the mortgagor applied to the Land Acquisition Deputy Collector that the moneys due under the mortgage (including one full year's interest) might be paid to him out of the compensation money and the mortgagee consented. Held that as the contract between the parties could not be performed according to its letter by reason of circumstances beyond their control the mortgagor was not bound to pay interest beyond the period of one month (as admitted by him). Balla Rao Begam v Hussaini Khanum I L R 36 All 195 explained. PROKASH CHANDRA CHOWH v HASAN BAYT BIBI (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 1140

4 Covenant of possession by the mortgagee in lieu of interest—Mortgagee wrongfully kept out of possession of mortgaged property—Interest—Charge on mortgaged property—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sec 1 Art 116 132—Transfer of Property Act (XI of 1882) s 7. A mortgage deed expressly covenanted that the mortgagee should have possession of the mortgaged property in lieu of interest and that if the mortgagors failed to pay the amount of the debt at the end of the period specified the mortgagee should be at liberty to foreclose according to law. Except for one year the mortgagee in spite of his efforts was wrongfully kept out of possession by the mortgagor. In a suit brought by the mortgagee on the mortgage deed—Held that the mortgagee was clearly entitled to some interest as a charge on the property and the interest claimed was not excessive. Paya Oodis Purlath Singh v Martindell 4 Moo I A 444 Pargan Pandey v Mahatam Maho G C L J 143 Parab Bahadur Singh v Gajodhar Bakhsh I L R 24 All 521 L P 29 I A 148 and Moti Singh v Ramolari Singh I L P 24 Cal 699 referred to. Mahadaji v Joti I L P 17 Bcm 4.5 distinguished. SITA NATH GHOSH v TAKRABDAS CHAKRAVARTY (1918) 1 I R 10 Cal 448.

MORTGAGE—*con d*INTEREST—could

5. ————— Stipulations as to payment of interest of one necessaries and binding on purdandashin executant—See sub App Hurd deprived of interest for period during which case was hung up at Rs 10 per mensem in regard to an executant's claim of interest. Where is a mortgage deed it was stipulated that the mortgagee was to remain in possession and enjoy the rent and profits and that after the expiry of thirty years at the time of redemption interest shall be paid along with the principal at the rate of 1 percent per mensem. Held—That the mortgage deed did not bind the mortgagee to pay interest from the date of the mortgage and the condition to pay interest only came into force on the expiry of the thirty years. That so interpreted the contract was not one which the executant of the mortgage a purdandashin lady could not understand. The Judicial Committee did allow interest to the mortgagee from the date of the decree of the Subordinate Judge (which had been reduced by the Judicial Commissioners but on the mortgagee's appeal the Board restored) to the date of the appeal by the Privy Council, the case having in its view been hung up by his persistence in asserting an unwarrantable claim of interest from the date of the mortgage. PADA SING MOHAMMAD ALI MOHAMMAD KHAN BANADUR v. QAZI PAMAZAN
24 C W N 977

LOST BOND

